Chris Hess, owner of the birds, noted that the "dad" is showing the instincts of motherhood, watching over and protecting the chicks. Can pheasants swim? It will be interesting to see what "mom" does when these ducklings decide to go for a swim.

Water leaks jeopardize pool use this summer

By Janet Felderhoff
Muenster City Council faced a tough decision Monday night as they heard of the grim condition of the Muenster swimming pool and the estimated costs to repair or replace it. The pool is not holding water. Apparently more pipes have deteriorated. Two years ago, leaky pipes received repairs at considerable cost and these may be worse.

City Administrator Stan Endres reported that after it was filled for the season, they noticed after the first night that a considerable amount of water had been lost. Darrell Charles, owner of Absolute Pools, was contacted. He put them in touch with Mark Lewis of Leak Professionals, a company specializing in locating pool leaks. The company's tests indicated that the pool was leaking down the middle and in other areas scattered out in the pool.

Of the cast iron pipes dug up two years ago, Endres said, "Those pipes were in terrible shape. Those lines that are still in the pool are just as old as the ones we took out two years ago and those were corroded and completely gone. There is no reason to think the ones that are still there are any better than the ones we took out."

A pool company specializing in that type of repairs said the best thing would be to put in a new pool. Muenster can't afford that option, so his second suggestion was to put new plumbing on top of the floor that now exists, then cover that with a new layer of gunite. It is thought that the beds with the sand filters are leaking and need to be replaced. The project would take at least six weeks or longer.

Endres observed, "We are looking at the question of whether we want to continue operating and losing a lot of water, and then at the end of the year, if we come up with the money, spend the money to repair it then, or to close the pool because we're losing water. Maybe just leave it open until after the Fourth of July."

Since the ground has become very saturated, the leak has slowed down to 16,000 gallons a day from 24,000 per day. The City estimates a loss of 1,000,000 gallons of water with the previous leak.

Estimated cost for repair was $60,000 to $80,000. They thought a new pool would cost $200,000 to $250,000.

Alderman Jewel Otto spoke against closing the pool, especially before the annual swimming lessons are held.

Council to rule on portable carports

By Janet Felderhoff
A number of prefabricated carports have been added to property in the City recently, causing some concern among some citizens as far as safety in high winds. Another concern was if the carports are in compliance with the setback rule (how far a building must be from the street).

City Administrator Stan Endres spoke with the City's building inspector Mike Doughty who said that carports fall under the regulations of Accessory Buildings and the City's code does address them.

Carports that are attached to the house and built as an extension to the house are allowed as long as they are built behind the original building setback line for that location. A building permit is required before construction.

Endres recommended that the portable prefabricated carports not be allowed unless they are behind the main building and are cemented into the ground and meet all setback regulations. The Council agreed to write an ordinance regarding the prefabricated carports and add it to the building code at the July meeting.

During a special meeting in May, five bids for street paving were opened and reviewed. Calvert Paving submitted the low bid of $176,044.12. The company did work for the City two years ago and according to City Administrator Stan Endres, there were no problems.

Mayor Joey Anderson noted that there was $147,000 budgeted for street repairs, and of that amount $142,000 remains. That means about $34,000 would have to be amended to the budget or taken from another area of the budget.

"Our discussion before was all these things need to be done whether they're done now or in the future," said the Mayor. "If you've been to those places, it's time to do them for sure."

Areas targeted to be repaved are Cedar Street Eighth to Ninth; Sixth Street from Elm to Maple; Seventh Street from Main to Elm; Maple Street from Hwy. 82 to Fourth Street; and 16 areas for patching.

Street Commissioner Greg Bohl remarked, "We are go-

Patel urges Muenster High graduates to earn success

By Janet Felderhoff
Many years of work, study, and bonding brought fruition to the goals of 31 seniors of Muenster High School on Thursday, June 2 as they formally graduated. Commencement took place at 7 p.m. in the Muenster Hornet Gymnasium.

Catherine Aston offered the invocation. Counselor Kristi Schneider introduced members of the Board of Trustees and Administration.

Michelle Henscheid introduced the Class Salutatorian

Briana Bindel.

Briana noted, "We have to stop and remember that what makes us who we are would be nothing without our pasts and experiences." She then recalled some of the class experiences from kindergarten commencement to their love-hate relationship with each other to adventures at recess to Student Council, TMSCA, and UIL experiences to the new world of high school.

In high school, Briana said they quickly found their niches. The class experienced ups and downs and had experiences that left fond memories. The last year especially was remarkable, she said. She thanked their parents and teachers who "have been our support system and backbone throughout the years."

Briana imparted this advice to her classmates, "Go out into the world and try everything. Let nothing stop you and always live life without regrets. Do not be afraid to take risks in order to become the person you want to be."

Calvin Wimmer introduced Valedictorian Shane Presnall.

Shane spoke of a fusion of two words by his classmate Aaron Grewing and promoted by another classmate Jason Luke. Yer is a combination of yes and sure. He called the word young, annoying, but catchy, and it became the class motto.

"Our fictitious language means more to us than mere words," remarked Shane. "It is the distinct link between us 31 students, other people around us, and the rest of the world." He hopes that the word will be taken with the graduates as a small piece of Muenster culture.

In conclusion, Shane said, "So let us all go off and study and be the best individual we can be. Let us explore the real world outside these walls. Let us go out and meet new and important people. Let us find happiness in all that we do. But when the moment comes when each and every one of us sits down and reflects the times we had in high school, let us never forget the bonds that will forever connect all of us here today. Let us all take our place in the world and savor our high school memories for the years to come. Let us walk out of these doors, with diploma in hand, and give a yer one last time."

Counselor Schneider introduced the guest speaker Mrs. Dolly Patel, who was Muenster High School's 1999 Salutatorian. She received a Bachelor of Science Degree and a Master of Science degree in Accounting with specialties in the areas of Audit & Assurance from Southern Methodist University. She also studied at University College at Oxford University in London, England.

Schneider commented, "In 2002, she worked at one of the Big 4 accounting firms, Deloitte & Touche. Two years later, she and her husband moved to South Padre Island to pursue their dream of entrepreneurship in the hotel/hospitality business. With one goal achieved, they had their hearts set on yet a bigger dream. In 2008, Dolly, her husband, and their daughter moved to San Antonio, where they built, own, and operate a La Quinta Hotel."

The graduates were told by Patel, "You have tasted your first big success! Let there be much, much more to follow."

Patel said one purpose of the evening was looking forward to a successful life backed by further learning.

"In my opinion, you are capable of learning anything," she stated. "There is, how-

Louis Sicking 1918 - 2011

Funeral services for Louis Bernard Sicking of Muenster were held at 10 a.m., Monday, June 6 at First Baptist Church in Muenster, with Rev. Ralph Gourley officiating. Visitation was Sunday evening at McCoy Funeral Home. Burial was in Hardy Cemetery.

Louis died at the age of 92 at his home on Friday, June 3, 2011.

Born Nov. 23, 1918 on his home place southwest of Muenster, Louis worked with his parents and siblings until he was inducted into the U.S. Army on Oct. 10, 1942. He served in the Pacific Campaign until discharged on Jan. 14, 1946. He then returned to Muenster, purchased the home place and continued with farming.

He, in 1947, purchased several modern milk trucks and hauled milk in cans to Sherman. This was a first in Muenster. Later, he purchased other trucks and hauled bulk milk to Dallas. He encouraged other Cooke County dairy farmers to send their milk to Dallas where a better price could be had. Louis continued his dairy business for many years and then began raising calves and chickens and continued farming. He enjoyed watching his children and grandchildren on the farm. They all enjoyed being there with him.

Louis married Pauline Lutkenhaus on April 30, 1953. They were proud parents of six children. Both Louis and Pauline enjoyed lengthy lives on the farm.

Survivors include daughters and sons-in-law Mary Jo and Kelly West of Valley View, Carol Ann and Rod Wilson of Thackerville, Oklahoma, and Rita and Tony Mosenbocker of Callisburg; sons and daughters-in-law Weldon and Ronda Sicking, Wesley and Molly Sicking, and Warren and Shelly Sicking, all of Muenster; 18 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren; sisters Hilda Prescher of Valley View and Dorothy Buttrill

He was preceded in death by his wife; parents August and Augusta Flies Sicking; sisters Annie Hacker, Gertrude Koelzer, Hattie Jetzberger, Margaret Rainwater, Marie Ford, Cicilia Perryman, and Anges Prescher; and brother Thomas Sicking.

Louis was buried with Military honor, with his grandson Jonathan Klement, who is now in the service, participating in the ritual. Jonathan was honored by presenting the U.S. flag at the burial ceremony. The Patriot Riders also provided honors at the cemetery.

Pallbearers were Josh, Shane, and Travis Sicking, Danny and David West, Kyle and Daryl Mosenbocker, Jonathan Sicking, and Jacob Klement.

more. After the ride, there will be prizes awarded at Tony's, a raffle drawing, and bar-b-que to sample cooked by contestants in Tony's cook-off contest. Karaoke and a live band are plans for later that day.

Also part of the Red River Rumble are motorcycle skills competitions and a gravity roll. The gravity roll starts on Main and First Streets by Muenster State Bank onto Elm Street. Chamber Director John Broyles noted that each contestant will have two footfalls to get their motorcycle rolling.

Skills competition winners and first, second, and third place ride winners receive prizes. Each entrant receives a free T-shirt and Red River Rumble patch.

Registration may be done on-line by going to the Muenster Chamber of Commerce website.

POOL

Mayor Joey Anderson suggested waiting a month while seeking prices, with a goal of making it through the swim season. Pool Manager Kim Hess reported that there are pool parties booked through the 15th of August.

In favor of keeping the pool open, Hess added that she has five life guards who just got certified this year at a cost of $150. Some have not had the opportunity to work and if the pool is closed they will not have the opportunity to recoup the certification fees and their life-guard suits. She added that the Boy Scouts use the pool for their camp and for their swim tests, it is used for two weeks of swim classes, the local day care uses it weekly, in August, it is used for MISD's cross country workouts, and she, as the manager, purchased over $900 in concession items.

"I just turned in for the last week $1,100," noted Hess. "We had over 100 people on Sunday."

Anderson commented, "The only way I think we would seriously be faced with that (closing) is if the magnitude is so great that we just can't stand it." Alderman Tim Felderhoff said closing is the last thing he'd want to do, but in the event of a drought, it would be something to think about.

"Traditionally, the pool has lost money. It is also a community good that we provide," said Anderson.

Alderman Pat Stelzer and Bohl agreed it is a big asset to Muenster.

The other members of the Council agreed that the pool should remain open for the time. Options will be explored.

Muenster's pool is 56 years old. Digging for it began in March 1955. There were several delays including a cement shortage and rain. It did not open until Sunday, Aug. 21. There were 300 kids and parents swimming that day. When it opened, the facility was not yet completed. The bath house and other features were still under construction. The grand opening took place in June of 1956.

Serving on the City Council at the time of the pool construction were Mayor Urban Endres, Aldermen Rudy Hellman, Herbert Meurer, John Fisher, John Wheeler, and George Mollenkopf. Jerome Pagel was appointed as supervisor of the project and Steve Moster as foreman. The cost of the pool alone was $15,000 to $17,000. That did not include the bath house, diving board, fencing, etc.

Many a child from Muenster and the surrounding area has memories of swimming in the Muenster pool and many learned how to swim there. Its closing would be a great loss to the City and its residents.

ing ahead and putting down base where we can and it is a huge improvement in stabilizing the road where we've done that. It holds up real well and I think we need to continue to do that even though it's a little bit more expensive."

Anderson noted that sales tax are tracking ahead of what was budgeted and he feels the income will be higher than expected.

Alderman Bohl recommended that the Council contract with Calvert and go ahead with scheduled repairs. The Council approved his recommendation.

Last month, the Council discussed purchasing an emergency generator for use between the City and Muenster VFD in emergencies. There is a $10,000 government grant that would help pay for the purchase of one. Endres got a proposal to get an idea of the cost, which was $28,125. Endres thinks he might get a better price elsewhere or for a simpler version. The County is getting the grant application together for all entities in the County.

The Council was unanimous in their approval for Endres to advertise for bids.

Mayor Anderson said he feels that there is quite a bit that the City can do in the emergency preparedness area and they need to hold a discussion on it at some point. "We're the one's responsible for the water supply and the infrastructure. We need to make sure we've done our due diligence in preparing," said Anderson.

The Administrator's report included an update on the progress of hiring a new police chief to replace Chief Bob Stovall who is retiring in August. Endres said that they have placed an ad in the Gainesville Register and on the Texas Municipal League (TML). There have been numerous calls and email requests for information on the position. After more applications are received, a committee of Mayor Anderson, Police Commissioner Pat Stelzer, and Endres will review applications. They hope to have a new chief hired in July to allow a transition period, said Stelzer.

Administrator Endres said that a contractor for the Water District is currently doing the cementing of the parking lot for the Muenster Lake. It should be completed soon.

In other business, the City Council:

- Approved changing the date of the July 4 Council meeting to Tuesday, July 5 to allow everyone to observe Independence Day.
- Approved the payment of bills totaling $118,935.69.

MMH starts new program

If you visit Muenster Memorial Hospital, you will now notice something new. Beginning this week, members of the community have begun to volunteer their time to help better everyone's experience at the Hospital. The volunteer program is something that patients and visitors have never experienced at MMH.

Patients are encouraged to check in with the volunteer on duty rather than entering directly into the business office as they have been doing in the past. The volunteers' main duty will be to greet patients and visitors. Depending on how well the program takes off, more duties may eventually be handed to the new volunteers. Volunteers will be wearing a red uniform top to help everyone more easily identify them.

When asked why they wanted to volunteer for MMH, most just want to serve their community and are thankful that we still have a local hospital. Some had family members who were patients at one time, and are grateful for the care they were given. They feel this is a way they can show their appreciation to the Hospital. Harriet Scoggins has done a great job leading the volunteer program and preparing the volunteers' schedule. If you're interested in serving as a volunteer and would like more information, contact Harriet at 940-759-4303. Applications are available at the MMH business office.

Appreciation event offered by SH Alumni & Supporters

Sacred Heart Alumni & Supporters want to thank everyone who has volunteered to help the Alumni over the past years with a day of golf followed by an evening of fun at the Knights of Columbus Hall on Saturday, June 18. Any and all Alumni & Supporters (not just golfers) are welcome to attend. They plan to award prizes and provide food and drinks.

Co-chairman John Bartush explained that two years ago, the Alumni & Supporters began the Homecoming Classic in the Fall as a golf tournament to raise large sums of money for the benefit of Sacred Heart Catholic School. This year, they considered canceling the tournament because according to Bartush, "Even though we were the first organization to host a golf tourney in our community as a fundraising event over 30 years ago, we now have to compete with multiple organizations each year for scholarships." Instead of canceling the event, they decided to host the tournament as an appreciation for all supporters. Golfers will still compete for prizes, but all supporters are welcome to attend the party after the tournament.

The party after the tournament will be in the Muenster KC Hall beginning at 7:30 p.m. The evening offers free food and refreshments, numerous door prizes, card games, fellowship, and fun.

The four-person scramble takes place at Turtle Hill with a 1:30 p.m. tee off. There is a $280 entry fee per team.

To register, contact Bartush at 736-3633 or Rhonda Hartman at 736-6256.

Bartush concluded, "Oh yes, donations are still welcome!" All proceeds benefit Sacred Heart Catholic School.

Muenster Library welcomes participants in programs

Muenster Public Library has two summer reading programs: "Dig Up a Good Book" for kids ages two to 12, and "Going Global" for teens 13 and up. The summer reading programs started June 1 and end on July 30. Kids can earn a free ice cream coupon from Sonic and Dairy Inn when they complete their reading logs.

Muenster Public Library has a free Story and Craft hour each Tuesday from 10:30 - 11:30 a.m. for preschool and early elementary age children.

For more information about either program, contact Muenster Public Library at 759-4291. They are located at 418 North Elm Street. Library hours are Tuesday and Thursday 10 a.m. to 6:30 p.m., Wednesday 1:30-5:30 p.m., and Saturday 10:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m.

Sacred Heart Catholic School Montessori Classes of 2010-11

SHCS holds Montessori Moving Up Ceremony

The Sacred Heart Catholic School Primary Montessori students entertained their proud families, friends, and teachers at their Moving Up Ceremony on May 19 to mark the end of another very successful year of learning and fun. As guests arrived, they were entertained with a slide show of pictures that captured the students' school year. The children were shown engaged in their work and projects, on field trips, celebrating their birthdays, as well as enjoying class parties and special days. The students opened their program by welcoming the audience. They then led them in prayer, followed by the Pledge of Allegiance, "My Country Tis of Thee," and the Texas Pledge. The Montessori students entertained the overflowing audience in the Community Center with an enthusiastic performance of favorite songs, complete with hand and body motions.

The Catechesis of the Good Shepherd lessons, Sister Lillian's Religion classes, and Father Ken's Masses were reflected as the students celebrated their spiritual growth in the songs "This Is the Day," "This Little Light of Mine," and "Everything Grows." The students told of continents in Tell Me the Continents and sang that friendship is the motto of Texas in the "Texas Song." They were enthusiastic in singing "Nursery Rhyme Rap," and the audience got to hear and watch them rock in "ABC Rock."

Following this part of the program, Mrs. Dangelmayr, Montessori teacher, announced the names of the Montessori Pre-K students. Ms. Davidson, Montessori teacher, assisted Dr. Rafael Rondon, SHCS principal, in presenting attendance certificates to the students.

The students moving up for four year olds are: Logan Flusche, Landon Hacker, Colby Hess, Garrett Muller, Marli Nasche, Carter Sicking, and Faith Sicking. The students who will be kindergartners in the fall are: Joshua Akin, Andy Bayer, Macy Bayer, Clint Bezner, Tyler Felderhoff, Alisha Fleitman, Natalie Fuhrmann, Joe Gehrig, Macy Hess, Shooter Hess, Sophie Huchton, Trevor Walter, and Isabella Walterscheid.

The kindergartners remained on stage and performed the final song, "First Grade, First Grade." A special guest in the audience was Mrs. Putnam, their First Grade teacher.

The Kindergarten students who were presented Moving Up Certificates by their teachers and Dr. Rondon are: Anna Marie Becker, Braden Berkley, Madeleine Fisher, Elise Flusche, Parker Forshee, Laney Haley, Trinity Hess, Mara Juntado, Jackson Knabe, Michael Koesler, Lorelei Nottingham, Charlotte Rondon, Isaac Schilling, and Matthew Walter.

Special recognition and certificates were given to three students who had perfect attendance all year: Carter Sicking, Faith Sicking, and Madeleine Fisher.

Dr. Rondon offered words of congratulations and thanks to the children, parents, and entire Montessori staff. The students concluded the program with a prayer. Visiting and picture taking followed.

Extremely proud of these children and their accomplishments this year are: Ms. Barbara Davidson and Mrs. Pam Dangelmayr, Montessori teachers; Mrs. Kathy Berres and Mrs. Susan Yosten, classroom aides; Sister Lillian Marie Reiter, Kindergarten Religion; Ms. Angela Proto Hess, Spanish; Mr. Clint Kelley, music; Mrs. Laura Marshall, art; and Coach Jon LeBrasseur, play time supervisor.

No coverage!

What if you lend your vehicle to another person? What if you drive a vehicle not on your policy? Do you have insurance coverage?

Since 2005 Texas has allowed insurance carriers to file and use policy wording designed by the carriers. Some carriers sell policies that cover only listed vehicles and listed drivers. They do so to advertise the lowest prices, leaving it up to the consumer to know the policy. Buying one of these policies leaves dangerous gaps in coverage for the normal person. After years pass, how does consumer remember or know what type policy they have?

Having a reliable insurance agent to discuss your insurance needs is more important than ever. Call Gary Fisher, Paula Kerr, or Anna Brazier at 940-759-4644. FMW Insurance Agency at 206 N Main has been continually licensed since 1923 and can provide experience you need.

Sacred Heart 2nd Grade students enjoyed learning about Loyalty Day. Muenster VFW Auxiliary President Frances Bayer brought pamphlets that explained the May 1 special day that is set aside each year to reaffirm loyalty to the United States of America. The students posed for this picture with Frances, who also brought several patriotic activities for them to do. Courtesy photo

Math students recognized at Muenster High School

The school year at Muenster High School has come to an end and many students were recognized for their accomplishments. Mrs. Carolyn Lutkenhaus' third period Geometry class of Steven Flusche, Tommy Harrison, Trevor Hess, Paul Mouring, Trevor Muller, and Blayne Styles was honored as being the class with the most consecutive and total days of all homework completed. Classes were encouraged to be consistent in completing and turning in work by records posted on the wall each day. If everyone in the class turned in homework with the required minimum grade, the class received a mark on the poster. A running total was posted with consecutive days of completed homework. If anyone in the class missed the requirement, the class total became zero again. When a class achieved 10 days in a row, the class members each received a small snack as a reward.

The third period Geometry class had 42 consecutive days of all work turned in with the minimum grade requirement. They had a cumulative total of 123 days of completed work from all students. They were treated to a special breakfast during their last class on Thursday.

Students also were encouraged to excel in math through the posting of "Math Stars" with student names on the wall. The stars were awarded each six weeks to those with a 90 or above average, or to those who had raised their average five or more points. Forty-six students accomplished this, some every six weeks. A total of 113 stars were given.

The following are students and their number of stars: six stars - Hannah Bayer, Austin Creswell, Clayton Hess, Sydney Huchton, Adrien Rohmer, and Audrey Taylor Saavaedra; five stars - Trevor Hess, Jori Magee, and Jay Patel; four stars - Jared Endres, Shelby Klement, and Shelbi Sicking; three stars - Jamie Magee, Tori Dyess, Miranda Pagel, and Paige Morgan; two stars - Kendi Bayer, Mason Binder, Steven Flusche, Colton Moseley, Rachel Mouring, Makayla Pumphrey, Alyssa Schinigo, and Shelby Simpson; one star - C.T. Beecham, Sean Chism, Destin Fleitman, Jace Fredrick, Eland Green, Ashley Hammer, Darrell Hermes, David Hutson, Jamie Mandrell, Garrett Miller, Joe Monday, Trevor Muller, Abby Pagel, Nicole Pagel, Jonathan Pierce, Corey Richey, Clayton Rohmer, Andrew Rosenbaum, Mariah Rocha, Austin Schroeder, Clint Sidwell, and Cole Walterscheid.

Each of the math stars received a certificate and a doughnut courtesy of Mrs. Lutkenhaus.

ever, a price to be paid to be great at something.... The price will be your time. That means sacrificing, choosing study ahead of other things.

"The price will be relentless dedication, it will consume your thoughts."

"The price will be failure. At times, things will not go well."

Another word of advice from Patel was to surround yourself with inspiring people with a positive mind set, who deal with problems and tackle new subjects in a good manner, to observe how they stay on top and how hard they work.

"Dig in and get the snowball started down the hill," encouraged Patel. "Each success will bring improved enthusiasm, a new energy, and things will just keep getting better."

Patel told the graduates that starting now, they will create their own paths and she hoped that each of them would go about it positively.

"There is a saying that attitude determines altitude," Patel noted. "No matter what you plan to do... I hope you are able to go about it positively, with a smile on your face."

Principal Sharon Browning and Board of Trustees President Steve Trubenbach presented diplomas. Coach Courtney Christenson performed the traditional turning of the rings and Counselor Schneider turned the tassels.

Superintendent Clay Richerson presented the Class of 2011. Garrett Walterscheid then offered closing remarks and the benediction.

Lindsay Lady Knights fall at State

The Lindsay Lady Knights lost the State Semi-Final game to the now State Champion Shiner Comanches by a score of 16-4. "We struggled defensively, charting seven errors in the game. Our pitcher Taylor Atkins also struggled in the circle," noted Coach Robin Hess. "Ranee Morrison came in and did a great job. I am very proud of the girls. We had to fight through some adversity and we still managed to score 4 runs." Hess added that when you only have two hits and seven errors, you are not going to win many ball games. "It just wasn't our day and I guess it just wasn't meant to be. We had a great season, and I already am looking forward ward to next year," the coach commented. The Lady Knights finished their season with a 31-12 record. For Lindsay, Alyx Ethington had a run, a single, and an RBI; Erin Copeland, 1 run; Rane Morrison, 2 runs and 2 RBIs; and Taylor Atkins a double and an RBI.

Game Warden Reports

Fishermen not sheepish about sheepshead
Matagorda County game wardens David Janssen and Aaron Koenig, along with Fort Bend County game warden Barry Eversole were patrolling West Matagorda Bay March 27 when they made contact with a commercial shrimp boat coming in from the Gulf of Mexico. While inspecting the boat's cargo, the wardens discovered seven sacks of sheepshead buried under a large quantity of shrimp. One hundred five fish were seized and sold to the highest bidder. Charges for exceeding the possession limit of sheepshead are pending.

Not quite "Jaws," but close
Brazoria County game warden Scott Jennings received notification on March 29 that a commercial fishing vessel had arrived at Freeport with an eight-foot short-fin mako shark. The crew said the shark leaped into the stern of their boat while they were weighing anchor. Once on board, the fish flipped over their heads, landing forward beside the center console. The crew told Jennings that at one point they had considered abandoning the boat to the shark. Since they couldn't safely remove the shark from the boat without harming it, they telephoned National Marine Fisheries Service agent Charles Tyer and arranged to purchase a federal highly migratory species permit so that they could legally land the shark.

Drought third-worst in Texas history

Is this the worst Texas drought ever?

The answer is no, but it certainly is one of the worst, according to Dr. John Nielsen-Gammon, Texas A&M University professor and Texas state climatologist.

"Based on Palmer Drought Severity Index values, this is the third-worst drought Texas has ever seen in the month of May," Nielsen-Gammon writes in his blog, the Climate Abyss. "Records go back to 1895. May also marks the end of the driest eight-month period on record."

The worst droughts remain those in 1918 and 1956, according to Nielsen-Gammon.

Nielsen-Gammon's blog is hosted by the Houston Chronicle and can be found at <http://blog.chron.com/climateabyss/>.

According to the U.S. Drought Monitor, nearly 30% of the state remained in what is termed an "exceptional" drought, which means a once in 50-year occurrence. Half the state was experiencing either a severe or exceptional drought. Only parts of north central and northeast Texas were not at least abnormally dry as of May 31.

It may not be the worst drought ever, but lifelong farmers throughout the state are telling Texas AgriLife Extension Service agents this is the driest they've ever experienced.

"Weather continued to be hot and dry," said Mark Brown, AgriLife Extension agent for Lubbock County. "Blowing dust from gusting winds occurred on several days. Irrigation continues where feasible. May ended with 0.26 inches of moisture recorded, making this year the driest five-month period on record for Lubbock."

And while a few weeks ago, rains may have greened things up in East Texas, the region remains in a drought, according to AgriLife Extension agent reports.

"We are in bad need of rain," said Clint Perkins, AgriLife Extension agent for Wood County, about 100 miles east of Dallas. "Hay production is starting with drastically decreased yields. I have reports that the first cutting is one-quarter to half of normal."

"Corn, milo and cotton are under severe drought-like conditions and stressing," said Pasquale Swamer, AgriLife Extension agent for Falls County, near Temple. "Stocker cattle producers have shipped cattle to feedlots. Pasture conditions are severe, with little hay production across the county."

More information on the current Texas drought and wildfire alerts can be found on the AgriLife Extension Agricultural Drought Task Force website at <http://agrilife.tamu.edu/drought/>.

AgriLife Extension district reporters compiled the including summaries:

North (Cooke County, east and three counties south): Lack of rain, increased temperatures, and winds of 15 mph and higher dried out soils and hammered forage growth. Soil-moisture levels were from very short to adequate. The wheat harvest was 40% to 50% finished. From early reports, yields were a little above average; some farmers reported yields of 60 to 70 bushels per acre. Some farmers have unharvested wheat in low-lying fields that were still wet from the previous rains. Corn was in fair to good condition and beginning to tassel. Grain sorghum and soybeans were in fair to good condition. Ranchers were harvesting early season hay, with yields reported as being slightly below average. Cotton farmers were nearly finished planting, as were sunflower growers. The oat harvest was completed. Peanuts and rice were both in very poor condition. Rangeland and pastures were in fair to good condition. Livestock were in fair to good condition.

Rolling Plains (Montague County, west, three counties south and seven west): The region was dry, windy, and with highs above 100 degrees. Cotton producers were planting on irrigated fields, but even applying enough water to plant has proven to be a challenge. In the areas that received rain, producers were fighting blowing sand and soil erosion. In some cases they were performing a light tillage operation called "scratching" to loosen up caked soil and allow cotton plants to break the surface. Some cotton farmers had to replant. Only limited dryland cotton acreage was planted. Stock-tanks water evaporated because of wind and high temperatures. Cattle were suffering. Producers were bringing in hay and further culling their herds.

Vilsack, First Lady unveil replacement for Food Pyramid

Acknowledging that the Food Pyramid was confusing for most people, First Lady Michelle Obama and Secretary of Agriculture Tom Vilsack announced a new symbol to represent the Dietary Guidelines called "My Plate." It takes the place of the food pyramid, which the government has used in various forms since 1992.

"My Plate" is a circle divided into four sections that contain fruits, vegetables, protein, and grains; it is designed to emphasize that fruits and vegetables should make up half the plate.

The Dietary Guidelines are jointly issued and updated every five years by the Departments of Agriculture (USDA) and Health and Human Services (HHS); the most recent version was released in January, and for the first time included two references to soy products in the Executive Summary.

The recommendations include increasing the intake of soy products and fortified soy beverages. Vegetarian and vegan meal patterns, that include soyfoods, also make their Dietary Guidelines debut as adaptations to the USDA Food Patterns.

County Agent's Report

Lawn watering 101

To keep your lawn healthy, water it only when the grass needs it. Often, automatic watering systems are set with very short watering intervals and they run almost every day. This does two things: promotes diseases caused by fungi and wastes most of your water because more evaporates than soaks into the soil.

When you do water, wet the soil to a depth of six inches. Don't water again until the grass shows symptoms of drought stress—a dull bluish color, rolled or folded leaves, and persistent footprints. This usually occurs in five to 10 days, depending on the weather.

Follow these steps to determine how long to water in order to apply the right amount.

1. Set out five or six open-top cans randomly around the lawn (tuna or cat food cans work best).
2. Turn on the sprinklers or irrigation system for 30 minutes.
3. Using a ruler, measure the depth of water in each individual can, and record the depths.
4. Calculate the average depth of water from all of the cans.
5. Use a garden spade or a soil probe to find out how deeply the soil was wet during the 30-minute period. The probe will push through wet soil easily, but it will be more difficult to push through dry soil. When you know how much water was applied in 30 minutes and how deeply that volume of water wet the soil, determine how long you must water to wet the soil to a depth of six inches.

Example: If the sprinklers sprayed 0.5 inch of water in 30 minutes and wet the soil to a depth of three inches, you would need to apply one inch of water to wet the soil to a depth of six inches. To do so you must water for one hour.

Run-off from watering a lawn can waste a significant amount of water, which is costly and a poor use of a limited natural resource. The factors determining how quickly run-off occurs are the type of soil and the application rate of the sprinkler system. Do not apply water faster than the soil can absorb it.

1. Check the lawn while watering. If water begins running into the streets or gutters, note how long it took before run-off occurred. This is the maximum amount of time you should water at one time.

2. Stop watering and allow the soil surface to dry (30 minutes to one hour).

3. Begin watering again and continue for the amount of time you've determined. With an automatic irrigation system, change the timer to the new, shorter time.

4. Continue this cycle until the appropriate amount of water has been applied to wet the soil to a depth of six inches. New-style irrigation controllers allow you to water several times a day, so that you can program them to prevent run-off.

USA TODAY analyzes U.S. tax burden

Americans are paying the smallest share of their income for taxes since 1958, a reflection of tax cuts and a weak economy, a USA TODAY analysis finds.

The total tax burden - for all federal, state, and local taxes - dropped to 23.6% of income in the first quarter, according to Bureau of Economic Analysis data.

By contrast, individuals spent roughly 27% of income on taxes in the 1970s, 1980s, and the 1990s.
