The junior class of 1990 is seeking new or used blue and white candles to be used at the junior-senior banquet.

If you have blue or white candles you will donate, contact Linda Tanksley by tomorrow, April 30, at 272-4174.

CLARIFICATION

Through mis-communication, it was announced that Kyle Maxwell of Sudan was the recipient of the 1990 Bailey County Chapter of the Texas Aggies Club scholarship recipient.

That information was incorrect. Maxwell will be a 'walk on' at A&M. The 1990 scholarship recipient has not as yet been determined.

Those who have application forms are encouraged to get them in to Alice Liles, chairman of the project.

***
Watson Junior High School has announced that Suzanne Wheeler, teacher assistant, is Educator of the Week.

Principal awards went to Maria Rodriguez, sixth grade; Karissa Dale, seventh grade; and David Vaughn, eighth grade.

Tanksley Family Works With Many Show Animals

(Editor's note: The following story was written exclusively for The Journals by Christine Dew Cox, a student in the Mass Communication Department at Texas Tech University, Lubbock. This and other stories are made possible by a grant from the Reader's Digest Foundation.)

Most families today find little time to do something together that everyone enjoys, but not so with the Tanksley family.

Spencer and Linda Tanksley, and their children, Colin and Courtney, spend much of their spare time raising livestock to show. Colin and Courtney, belong to 4-H, which is a youth organization sponsored by the Texas Agriculture Extension Service.

4-H has many projects, and livestock is just one part. Any youth between the ages of 8-19 is eligible. The youth is responsible for the actual care of the animal which includes feeding, training and grooming.

Spencer Tanksley has worked with many 4-H youths and became involved with them when he became the county agent for Muleshoe. He has been involved with livestock shows for many years and encouraged his family to become involved. As a result, both Colin and Courtney raise and show their own livestock.

"Training is very important," said Spencer Tanksley. "Some children start on too big of an animal and become discouraged and you have got to know which animal to buy for the right age of the youth."

Labor Housing Complex Starts Constructing 24 New Units

Construction started Monday on the second phase at the Farm Labor Housing Project on East Sixth Street.

Jim Hartline, director of the Muleshoe Housing Authority, said under construction are 24 2-bedroom units. Included in the construction will be a new workshop, an expanded laundry and new office space.

Hartline said the project is being financed through FmHA with a loan for $810,000.

According to the housing director, a deadline for completion of the new construction is January 23, 1991, but with the actual construction getting underway this spring, an earlier completion date is anticipated.

Hartline maintains a long waiting list for apartments at the Labor Housing Complex, so he says it will be easy to fill the new units when they are ready.

In 1975, Harmon Elliott, now a retired bank executive, recognized the need for the labor housing, so he spearheaded an effort that saw the first 48 units open for occupancy in 1978.

He then headed up an effort to obtain senior citizen housing and in 1981, the first phase of the Harmon Elliott Senior Citizen Housing opened. In 1983, a second unit was opened, and still there is a waiting list for residents at the senior citizen housing complex.

This week, Hartline and architect Yancey Jones started paperwork asking for more senior citizen units.

They have met with Melvin Hoover, FmHA supervisor, who has provided them with the necessary papers for a pre-application to FmHA for the new senior citizen housing units.

Working closely with the project are members of the Muleshoe Housing Authority Board. They are Tim 'Buck' Campbell, Charles Moraw, Max King, Charlie Isaac, Jim Cox and Jim Hartline.

Last week, Hartline, who also serves as a member of the board of the Rural Rental Housing Authority, and his secretary, Roseanne Gloria, participated in a training meeting for Districts II and VII at Abernathy.

TEAMS Tests Will Be Given On May 1-2

Muleshoe High School will be administering the Exit Level TEAMS Test on May 1-May 2. Students that are classified as 11th graders and have moved in from another state and students that have failed to demonstrate mastery on previous test administrations will be required to take this test.

Testing will begin at 8:40 on Tuesday and Wednesday mornings.

The TEAMS Test is not a timed test.

Individuals with questions concerning the EXIT Level TEAMS Test should contact Linda Marr at Muleshoe High School.

Hartline spoke to the group on the management plan and management agreement.

Mrs. Gloria spoke to the group about the tenant file documentation.

A large crowd was on hand in the Muleshoe High School cafeteria for the annual Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture banquet Thursday night. Starting out in the cafeteria, Blue Goose Catering provided the buffet type dinner of roast beef.

Max King was master of ceremonies and in his usual manner, quipped with the guests and greeted all the visitors. Robert Lepard provided the invocation and Muleshoe Mayor Darrell Turner welcomed all the special guests.

Following a 10-minute break, the group moved to the MHS auditorium for the 'main events' of the evening.

Immediate past president Robert Montgomery said, "We've had a great year in the Chamber. We started restructuring during the last year, and things are going great."

John Smith served temporarily as interim manager, and now, Nancy Kidd is doing a fine job as manager.

"We would be amiss if we did not recognize our greatest asset -- community spirit. Our hospital issue shows what community spirit can do. So many volunteers from so many organizations gave of their time."

"We probably have more volunteers per capita than any city, large or small, anywhere."

After Mayor Turner installed the incoming officers and board of directors for the CofC, new president Lonnie Adrian made several remarks.

He said, "We need to remember to be optimistic. An optimist, when he goes fishing, buys a stringer and tarter sauce first."

"I would like to stress unity. We need to take the 'I' out of the Chamber, and substitute 'we.'"

He called attention to the theme of this year's banquet -- Unity Lies in Pulling Together, and singled out several organizations -- MAC, Jennyslippers and the Muleshoe Area Industrial Foundation -- for praise in their actions in working for the community.

He also urged people to go to the CofC with their suggestions for various things. "We are here to serve the community, and to support Muleshoe," he concluded.

He then presented retiring president Robert Montgomery, with a large plaque.

Retiring directors Ronald Ashford and Sandi Robinson were presented plaques by Montgomery.

This was followed by the presentation of gifts to Pat King and Gayle Turner, and appreciation plaques to their husbands, Max King and Darrell Turner.

Specially recognized were the CofC ambassadorettes and ambassador present. They were Heather Hutton, Kimberly Harris, Amy Montgomery, Anna Mendoza and Cary Skaggs.

Also receiving special recognition was the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce's first secretary, Charlene Cargile. She said she served as secretary in 1952.

Ernest Ramm presented the Conservation Farmer of the Year award to Wilbur Kalbas. Ramm said Kalbas farms in the northwest corner of Bailey County, and has raised nearly every crop that will grow. At the same time, said Ramm, Kalbas has always practiced soil conservation.

The Farm Family of the Year have always lived in the Muleshoe area. Alfred Hicks was born and raised on the Muleshoe Ranch, and his wife, Peggy, is a native of the Farwell area.

Cliff Black, who made the presentation, said the Lazbuddie farm couple was married in 1957, and they are the parents of two children. They raise food corn, cotton, wheat and stocker cattle.

John Stevens and Sandi Robinson made the presentation to the 'Merchant of the Year.'

After expressing appreciation to all area merchants for their support of the community, they called Robert Hooten to the stage to accept the award for Muleshoe Motor Co.

For the third consecutive year, Ray Day presented the Outstanding Employee award.

He commented, "An Outstanding employee is one who really made their boss look good."

From the 12 1989 Employees of the Month, chosen Employee of the Year was Diane Wilson Brown, a 12 year employee at Dale Oil Co.

Merlyn Neel was asked to present the Man of the Year. He said the recipient was a friend to everyone and is the youngest of seven sons and six daughters.

He married his childhood sweetheart, and they are the parents of two daughters.

Neel also said Harvey Bass, the recipient, has had a tremendous effect on Muleshoe since moving here and opening his own business in 1948.

Bass helped organize the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce. He served as chairman of the former Business Activities Committee and helped organize the first CofC banquet in 1950.

Bass helped obtain lighting for the football field and is a former Democratic Chairman for Bailey County.

He helped organize the Hos-

HOMESTEAD EXEMPTIONS

CAN LOWER THE PROPERTY TAXES ON YOUR HOME

A homestead Exemption

lowers the property taxes on your home by lowering its taxable value. For example, if your home is valued at $50,000 and you receive a $5,000 homestead exemption, your home will be taxed as if it were worth only $45,000.

You qualify

for a homestead exemption if you owned your home on January 1 and used it as your primary residence on January 1. It doesn't matter whether your home is a house, a condominium or a mobile home.

Exemptions are available to all homeowners on their school taxes. Additional exemptions are available to homeowners who are disabled or age 65 or over. Other exemptions may be offered to homeowners by school districts, counties, cities, and special districts. All taxing units offer exemptions to disabled veterans.

Apply to your local appraisal district office at the address shown below for all exemptions you may qualify for. Application forms are available at this address.

If you received a homestead exemption on your present home in 1989 you won't need to apply again for 1990 unless the chief appraiser requires you to reapply.

However, if you passed your 65th birthday or became disabled before January 1, file a new application to receive the additional exemptions.

If you haven't received an exemption on your present home, or if you moved to a new home, make a new application for 1990.

The deadline

for applications is April 30, 1990. Contact your appraisal district before then if you need more time.

For more information, get a free copy of the pamphlet, Taxpayers' Rights, Remedies, Responsibilities, at your appraisal district office or from the State Property Tax Board in Austin.

A Day At Methodist Child Care Center

By Linda Cogliandro
The preschoolers tried hard to contain their wiggles while they listened to Frankie Carpenter read their morning Bible story. The children at the Children's Center at the First United Methodist Church in Muleshoe have an assembly every morning before going to their classes.

Frankie Carpenter is Director of the Children's Center. She takes an active role in looking after the children in her care.

The little ones stop to hug their favorite care-givers before they begin their lessons. Lessons are geared to the age group. Rooms are cheerful and organized to suit the needs of the children.

The ten children in the four-five-year-old group were busy identifying the numbers one through ten. The children did not always hear as Sandra Sutton, the Assistant Director, gave instructions for kite, coloring worksheets. Patiently and frequently she repeated the information. Gracie, Logan, Jenna, Christina, Stephen, Ashley, Belle, Bryan, Joni, Eva, and Ashley teased and helped each other.

Jingle bells, and ding dong sounds came from down the hall where the three-year-old group played after their circus lesson with Jackie Harris. Jared rolled a truck across the floor while Samantha pointed at the toy and claimed, "He took mine!" Kimberly played doctor with a doll. Kristen was the source of the bells. All nine children were content with the toys. The door was open yet the children do not venture into the hall. Ms. Harris explained that a child would occasionally escape into the hall but they are taught to stay where they belong. Due to rainy weather the children had not been able to play on the playground that day.

Eva Dell Carpenter sat with the 18-month-to-two year-old group. She is more their Grandma than their babysitter. She has worked at the Children's Center since it opened in 1976.

Little Paje recited nursery rhymes that she learned from Mrs. Carpenter. Brandon and Cody showed off their papers, lambs with cotton balls glued onto it, that they made during lessons. These babies picked up their toys without Mrs. Carpenter's help before lunch time. Fridays are sack lunch days at the Children's Center so they got ready for meals and naptime.

Three infants crawled or practiced walking in the nursery floor around Pearlie Fullen who looks after them. Soft music played to soothe the babies.

"I check diapers every 15 minutes to see who needs changed. Each baby needs to be comforted and held. I keep records on each child so I can tell their parents what new word they said or new thing they did that day. It is important," said Mrs. Fullen. Little Emily crawls across the floor while Kaitlyn got into the boy box.

The Children's Center is open week days from 7:30 a.m. to 6:15 p.m. Rates are reasonable. The Director said that openings are presently available in all age groups. The Children's Center has an after school group for elementary school children.

Frankie Carpenter said that the State of Texas requires that the children be supervised at all times by responsible adults in a safe environment.

She said they are currently enrolling children in the summer program. They are planning a special program for children in first through fifth grade this summer. Jackie Harris will be supervising the older children. Enrollment in the summer program is limited. Contact the Children's Center for more information.

The Children's Center has a drop-in service for parents who need an occasional day without their off-spring.

Meals and snacks are provided at no additional charge.

The Children's Center is located in the south section of the Muleshoe United Methodist Church at 108 W. Ave. F. Its purpose is to provide quality daytime care for children in a Christian atmosphere. It is open to all children regardless of race or religion. It is a non-profit organization.

Staff members are trained in child development, CPR and First Aid.

Other activities the children participate in includes science and nature studies, music, field trips, library trips, swimming lessons, arts and crafts and stories.

pital District Committee last year, and is currently chairman of the Muleshoe Activities Committee (MAC).

Neel also listed other accomplishments by the recipient.

Jean Allison, a Muleshoe High School teacher, was named Woman of the Year.

She was recognized by Inez Bobo, who said, "She is a lady in every sense of the word, and truly deserving."

"She took care of the needs of the whole community and has been very active, and very supportive on every level of religion on a daily basis."

Mrs. Bobo said Jean Allison is a firm believer in education and when her youngest child was in high school, she pursued her education and in 1977 earned her degree and went to work at Muleshoe High School, teaching government and economics.

"She is more than a classroom teacher," added Mrs. Bobo, "she is an inspiration to the community."

Robert Montgomery called Eva Nell Stovall and her children Sheryl Christian and Lyndal Stovall to the stage to receive a Special Award in memory of Bob Stovall.

The very active community leader died on February 3.

The plaque presented Eva Nell Stovall read as follows:

RESOLUTION

WHEREAS, this area has lost in the death of Bob Stovall on February 3rd, 1990, one of its most eminent and distinguished citizens; and

WHEREAS, Mr. Stovall served as a member of the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture for many years. He served on the Board of Directors, and was recently elected as President. During this time he served with wisdom and distinction, rendering invaluable service, and

WHEREAS, Mr. Stovall's personal attributes were such as to endear him to his friends and colleagues, having as he did an innate friendliness, an outgoing nature and a notable capacity for enjoying the days' events, their challenges and their rewards; and

WHEREAS, in his private life, Mr. Stovall was a loving husband, a devoted father, an affectionate grandfather, and a loyal friend; and now, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED by the Board of Directors of the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture that this area, has lost an outstanding citizen whose contributions to their financial educational, civic, and charitable welfare will be sorely missed; and that this chamber has lost a valued director, a trusted advisor and a faithful friend.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that this board extends its deepest sympathy to Mr. Stovall's widow, Eva Nell Stovall; his two children, Lyndal Stovall and Sheryl Christian; and his two grandchildren in their loss.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that we, the members of this board, convey to Mr. Stovall's family our conviction that the life of Bob Stovall has made this a better world in which to live, and our hope that their grief in his passing is alleviated to some degree by their knowledge of the good he accomplished, and of the esteem and affection in which he was held by his associates.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED

that this resolution be spread upon the minutes of this board, and that copies be furnished to Mrs. Sheryl Christian and Lyndal Stovall.

Nancy Kidd then introduced one of the most special entertainers to ever attend an event in Muleshoe.

Mary Marxen, who made her first appearance in a clown costume, quickly set the tone for the evening with fast-paced wit and humor, interspersed with liberal quotations that each carried a message.

She told humorous stories, sang, and kept the audience thoroughly and completely entertained.

Some of her well-known quotes, fitted in with humor, included:

"The wise man does not expect to find life worth living. He makes it that way."

"People don't plan to fail. They fail to plan!"

"Destiny is not a matter of chance -- it is a matter of choice."

"We don't stop laughing when we grow old -- we grow old when we stop laughing."

And with that last quote, she proved a lot of people got a lot 'younger' during her entertainment.

She is a former nun, a singer, an entertainer, a mother, and a dog breeder.

Mary Marxen was like a 'breath of fresh air' in Muleshoe on Thursday night.

Third Grader Writes Story About Dinosaur

(Editor's note: The following explanation was given by Jane Sanders, concerning this interesting story: "Our theme in MISD this year is "I Can, You Can, We Can." As teachers, we strive to motivate students to stretch themselves to greater heights. I have chosen this story, written by one of my 3rd grade students to share with the public. I believe it exemplifies that rare attitude of doing your best at every task. Jane Sanders, 3rd Grade teacher, De-Shazo Elementary")

ONE GREEN HEADED DINOSAUR

By Aaron Faver

If I found a dinosaur egg I would open it right away. One day I thought I saw a chicken egg roll by my house so I ran after it. As soon as I caught up with it I picked it up and went back to my front yard.

I waited and waited for it to hatch, but it wouldn't hatch. So I took it to a professor in town and he said it was a dinosaur egg. He said they take a long time to hatch. He said they better keep it at the museum.

Tanksley...

The animals are shown according to breeds, and although most people concentrate on showing and raising just one breed, the Tanksleys show and raise a mixture of breeds. They believe it is more fun to raise and show all different types.

In purchasing a new animal to train and show, the Tanksleys look for structurally sound animals with good muscle thickness, but they believe the key is how well you take care of the animal.

"You don't go in expecting to win, because usually you won't. It is important to care for all the animals equally, because you never know which one will win," said Spencer Tanksley.

The Tanksley family has won several ribbons and trophies in their years showing animals. They have had several breed champions, and reserve champions. There is a small amount of prize money that is awarded when an animal takes first place. However, it is when the animal is sold that actual money is made.

The money that is made from the sale of these animals goes into a fund that will be used to pay for Colin and Courtney's college education.

"We have been very fortunate," said Spencer Tanksley. "Many people never get the money back that they put into training and showing animals, but it is up to the individual on how well the animals are cared for. This in turn, will give you a better chance of selling the animal at a good price."

The Tanksleys believe that raising and showing livestock is a family affair and lets them do something together as a family, that everyone enjoys.

"I do look forward to the time when it will all be over because we will be able to take a much needed rest," said Linda Tanksley. "Don't get me wrong, I have enjoyed every minute of showing and caring for the animals and I wouldn't trade it for the world."

At night I thought a lot about the egg. In the morning I looked in the newspaper when something caught my eye. Yes! This was it, the big whatever you call it. I ran to the museum as fast as I can. When I got there there was a dinosaur eating all the bones. I ran and patted him on the back and he let out a big burp.

The owner of the museum said I could take him home. The next morning I looked out the window and all my grass was gone. I went to the doghouse and there he was still eating grass! Finally I made a stand and said, STOP EATING GRASS!!

The dinosaur looked up at me and nodded his head and kept on eating. I got down on my hands and knees and said, "Please stop eating grass, please before my dad gets home. I will get in big trouble if you don't stop eating grass."

As soon as I finished my sentence my dad drove up and said AARRONNN!! I ran as fast as I could over to him. He said, "Where did all of the grass go?" Uh oh, this was a tough question. I uh, I uh, "Well what?" he said again. Well the person at the museum said that I could have a dinosaur and I said yes and this morning when I woke up all the grass was gone.

Come inside and we will have a little talk. I whispered to the dinosaur, "Look what you got me in now. I don't like you, I just get so humiliated when I look at you. If you were my brother I would turn myself in for adoption."

Me and my dad walked into the living room, he said that I could keep him on one condition that he stop eating our grass. So I told the dinosaur to stop eating our grass. And he nodded and stopped eating our grass. But the next morning even more grass was gone!

Now I was sure my dad would not let me keep him. Your such a dodo dinosaur I don't like you. When my dad got up he said, That dinosaur was going to go, period, for he had been up late last night and the dinosaur had been eating the grass at night. I think he had better go back to the museum to, but there could be another way all we had to do to keep him is buy him 3 tons of grass everyday. But that would be very, very expensive.

That's why my dad will not let me keep him. It's too expensive that's what it is. I knew it from the very start. I guess it was a bad idea to say yes to that man.

We took him to Hong Kong.

TAXPAYERS' Rights, Remedies, Responsibilities

Want to learn more about the property tax system? That's possible by reading a pamphlet the State Property Tax Board has written and made available at the local appraisal district office. It's called "Taxpayers' Rights, Remedies, Responsibilities" and it may help you save money. Learn about tax relief available through

- homestead exemptions
- disabled veteran exemptions
- special productivity value for farm, ranch, and timber land
- tax deferral for over-65 homeowners

You'll learn how your property is appraised. That way, you can decide if the appraisal district's value is reasonable.

If you think it isn't, the pamphlet tells you how to prepare an appeal to the appraisal review board. You'll learn the types of protests the appraisal review board can hear and useful evidence to bring to your hearing.

Important dates in the tax year are listed. You'll know what your responsibilities are and when you are obligated to satisfy them.

"Remedies" is free to taxpayers. Ask for yours today at

Everyone Is Cordially Invited To Visit Our New Ultra-Modern Facility

Kiwanis News

By R.A. Bradley

Eighteen Kiwanians, three honorary Kiwanians, Lacy Morris, Robbie Clapp and Chad Johnson and six guests met Friday morning at the Old Corral. They were all wide awake and ready to go on this beautiful morning.

Our guests were Tom Ladd, Liberty Hernandez, Jenean Gable, Bobby Gable, Duane Lloyd and Jacque Baker.

President Jim Lutz called the meeting to order, Reggie Johnson led the club in the pledge to the flag, and James Roy Jones gave the invocation. Don Clapp remembered the friendship coin and by showing good sportmanship gave it to team No. 4, Hugh Young. Don is on team No. 1. When Jim Lutz gave the scores for all teams in the contest, there was a call for an audit. Teams 1,3 and 4 need something more than an audit. Team No. 2 will not commit because it might sound like bragging.

Scott Churchman who is on team No. 4 introduced the Mandi Golden

MICROWAVE TIPS

One can heat canned soups in three to five minutes-if using condensed soup mixed with water.

Use a four-cup bowl and microwave at High for three to five minutes, until it's obviously hot.

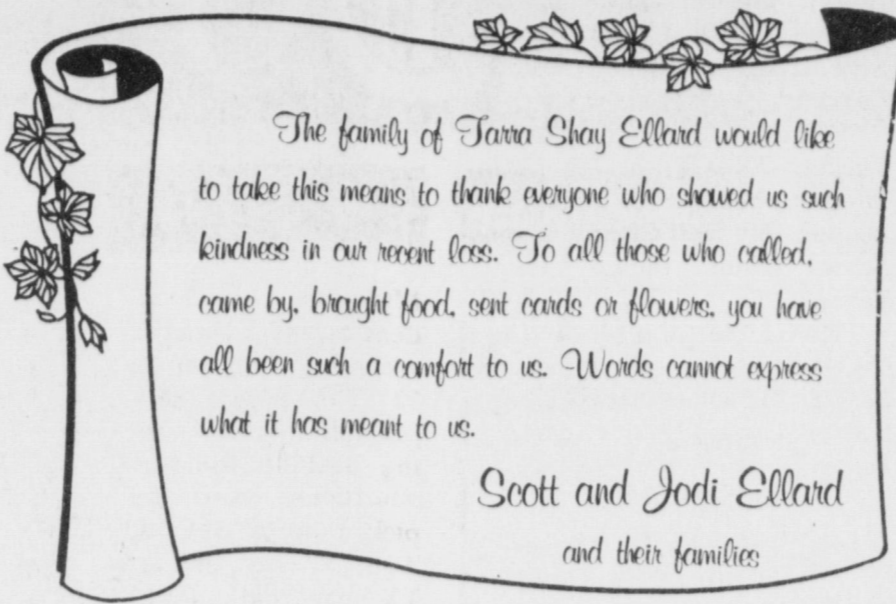

It will take longer if one uses milk rather than water because one microwaves milk at Medium. See that it doesn't boil over. Microwave time will be between six and twelve minutes-until it's obviously hot.

Using milk, it's almost as fast to use a conventional burner.

Come unto Me

The open door of this church is a fitting symbol for the heart of God, for His heart is open always to all men. The Bible records these words, "Behold, I have set before you an open door which no one is able to shut." Yes, literally no one can put any kind of block between God and us. His love surmounts every obstacle. That door is open for you today and every day.

EVERYONE IN THE CHURCH
THE CHURCH IN EVERYONE

Is something wrong with your life— an inner restless dissatisfaction? The only from God our Maker. He alone can forgive and reassure. Through the church God has committed the provision and proclamation of His forgiveness and redeeming love. Without a church relationship no one is securely related to God. Everyone should be in the Church and the Church in everyone!

Texas Arson Cases Still On The Rise

Arson in Texas increased for the fourth straight year as the number of incendiary and suspicious fires rose by more than 13 percent in 1988 compared to 1987.

Fire departments reported that 18,805 incendiary and suspicious fires killed at least 22 people, injured 449 and destroyed more than $84 million in property, according to State Fire Marshal Ernest A. Emerson.

The number of incendiary and suspicious fires reported in 1988 represents an increase of 27 percent since 1985.

"The greatest increase among incendiary and suspicious fires in 1988 over 1987 involved outdoor properties where the principle material burned was grass, trees or brush. Fire of this type are now covered under the state arson law," Emerson said.

Incendiary and suspicious fires in structures increased by 4.8 percent in 1988 over 1987, damaging or destroying at least 5,300 buildings at a cost of more than $76 million.

"Most incendiary and suspicious structure fires (63 percent) occurred in residences.
In fact, incendiary and suspicious fires ranked second among the major known causes of residential fires and destroyed more valuable property than any other known cause," Emerson continued.

More than 300 fire departments submit fire data to the Texas Fire Incident Reporting System (TEXFIRS). TEXFIRS is operated by the State Fire Marshal's Office, a division of the State Board of Insurance, to determine the number, nature and severity of fires occurring throughout the state and to communicate pertinent information about these fires to the public.

The setting of uncontrolled fires to destroy or damage vegetation, fences or structures on open space land was added to the Penal Code by the 71st Legislature. Violation of this act is a second degree felony. But if someone is injured or killed as a result of such a fire, it is a first degree felony. "Controlled burning" fires are not considered as arson when the property owner gives consent for the burning of unwanted vegetation and such fires are controlled or limited to designated areas.

The State Fire Marshal is responsible for investigating fires to determine fire causes and investigating arson crimes; inspecting public buildings to identify and correct fire hazards;
licensing certain fire protection industries and the fireworks industry; and developing materials to educate the public about fire prevention and fire safety.
