

Diggin' up dirt in Muenster

Rates raised for City services

By Janet Felderhoff

Residents and businesses in Muenster will pay slightly more for City services. During the Monday, Oct. 1 meeting, the City Council agreed to increase fees for waste disposal and water and sewer.

Last month, Progressive Waste Solution (formerly IESI) requested a 3.11% increase in its fees. The Council approved the request. In recent years, the City increased fees to customers to cover the difference. City Administrator Stan Endres suggested that they make another increase to cover the increase.

Mayor Joey Anderson commented, "We had the discussion about the tax rate last month, and Tim (Felderhoff) and Jack (Flusche) both had feedback on the tax rate. One thing we discussed was the ability to increase fees as a use component where the more you use, the more you pay. It particularly comes into play with the water and sewer."

Endres suggested an increase of 10% which would give the City an additional revenue of about 7%. "That would help cover some of these future expenses that we know we are going to have," he said.

That would be $17.88 plus sales tax and added fuel surcharge per month and would be an increase of $1.63 per household. Anderson said last year's rate was $16.25 and IESI charged the City $14.68 to give the City $1.57 from that charge. With a 10% increase, the City would get $2.74 out of the new rate of $17.88.

Larger commercial and industrial accounts will be charged per month: three cubic yards once weekly pickup $98.62 and twice weekly $197.18; four cubic yards once weekly $115.50 and twice weekly $230.89.

The Council voted unanimously in favor of Ordinance #332 with the 10% increase.

Endres also suggested raising the water and sewer rates. Muenster's rates are considerably less than most neighboring communities. He pointed out an article on Blue Mound, a small city northwest of Fort Worth. Currently, the average Blue Mound resident pays $146 water and sewer while using an average of 5,000 gallons of water a month. Muenster's current rate for the same amount is $48. With the suggested 10% increase they would pay $54.60.

Alderman Greg Bohl inquired about last year's increase. Anderson said that in 2010, the charge for 5,000 gallons was about $19 and in 2011 it was raised to $26. With a 10% increase, that would go to $28.60 or an increase of $2.60 per month on 5,000 gallons.

The vote to approve Ordinance #331 to increase the water and sewer rates by 10% passed 4-1. Alderman Bohl cast the nay vote. He stated, "I think it's the wrong time to raise it. Raising our trash rates and water at the same time - I don't like that. Though I understand the long-term vision."

Mayor Anderson and City Administrator Endres met with City Planner Karen Mitchell on Sept. 19 to discuss the City's Zoning Ordinance. She presented a proposal to redo the City's outdated Zoning Ordinance.

Anderson said that she suggested starting fresh with a new up-to-date ordinance and bring in elements of the old one. It is expected to cost $9,500. That includes a workshop with the City Council to review the new ordinance and one meeting to hold a public hearing to receive public comments.

Sacred Heart in national top 50

Sacred Heart Catholic School in Muenster has once again been named one of the nation's top 50 Catholic schools. The school was recognized for excellence in Catholic identity, academics, and civic education.

"This honor is first a recognition that we are a ministry of the church and remain faithful to the church and its teachings. It is an affirmation of our belief that we offer a strong and quality Catholic college preparatory education," said Dr. Ralf Rondon, principal.

The top 50 schools are located in 21 states, with six in Texas, and are diverse: large and small, new and long-established, both highly selective and open enrollment admissions, and high and low tuition rates. The common trait is a commitment to providing a truly integrated and

LOCAL RESIDENT REPORTS THEFT BY SCAM

By Janet Felderhoff

During his monthly report to the Muenster City Council, Muenster Police Chief Mark Blankenship told of a scam that cost a local resident several thousand dollars. He said it is similar to a scam from last year when an individual called to say, "Grandma, I'm in Mexico. I've had a wreck and I need $5,000 to get my car fixed so I can get back home." They are told to Fed Ex or Western Union the money to an attorney in Mexico City. And Grandma does it. He noted, "There is nothing, absolutely nothing that law enforcement can do about that. If we knew exactly who it was and exactly where they were and they're in Mexico City, there is nothing we can do."

The Police Chief stressed, "Each and every one of us who have elderly family members and friends we need to just drive it into their heads - don't give anybody any money without talking to someone, either your family or your banker or someone. They are just making very poor decisions."

There is no way to stop the phone calls, but when the calls come, they need to talk to someone before sending any money. "We'll be glad to talk to them. If someone gets a call, we will walk them through it. If it's a real deal, we'll walk them through it and if it's not a real deal we'll put the brakes on it."

Alderman Greg Bohl added, "It's real easy. There's no cost. A criminal can find somebody's grandchildren's names. It is very easy on the Internet." Blankenship said that Facebook is a source of information that everyone who wants to has access to and the criminals just start digging to find their victims.

City Administrator Stan Endres said that in the same time frame, two people in town were called and another in Valley View.

Chief Blankenship issued the following statement for residents:

"As always, scammers are busy trying to get your $Money$. Most of the time, their attempt is by phone. However, the method their motive is the same. Senior citizens are the most likely targets. So, if you or anyone you know is contacted by someone unknown to them or by someone claiming to be a relative, before you hand out your money, verify the caller by some type of information known only to you or contact another family member, bank official, or the police department to help in the verification. Remember, once your money is gone, IT'S GONE. Most of the scams originate out of the country, so trying to investigate and prosecute is impractical if not impossible."

Bartush chosen to chair County Republican Party

On Sept. 10, at a special meeting of the Cooke County Republican Executive Committee, long-time Cooke County Republican Robert "Bob" Eggleston tendered his resignation as chairman to the Committee.

The Executive Committee voted to have local attorney Chuck Bartush of Muenster serve as Cooke County Republican chairman. Bartush appointed Pauline Lesch of Valley View to serve as vice chairman. Pat Peale of Lake Kiowa served in every elected position in Cooke County government.

Bartush thanked the Committee for their confidence and said he would be calling on Bob for advice and support.

The Cooke County Republican Party wishes to remind everyone that they can still register to vote in the November election until Oct. 9. A registration form can be obtained at the office of Cooke County Tax Assessor-Collector Billie Jean Knight at 212 East California Street in Gainesville; the Cooke County Republican Headquarters at 701 East California, Suite 304 in Gainesville; and the office of Chuck Bartush at 408 North Main Street in Muenster. Just mail the registration in or bring by Knight's office in Gainesville.

United Way's legacy in Muenster

Cooke County United Way has strong roots throughout Cooke County, especially in Muenster. Muenster businessman J. M. Weinzapfel was one of its first visionaries who helped to create an opportunity in which concerned citizens could come together and work for the common good of all. In October 1985, it became known as Cooke County United Way. Cooke County's giving spirit grew with the years. In 1976, the community goal was $75,000, in 1987 the goal was $147,500, in 1996 the goal climbed to $260,000, and today, their goal is $398,000, funding 18 agencies serving Cooke County citizens.

It is now time to start finalizing this year's campaign. On Thursday, Oct. 11 from 9:30 a.m. to noon, dozens of volunteers will "Blitz" Muenster gathering in the pledges and donations. KGAF will announce the names of all those who donate/pledge on Blitz Day. United Way Executive Director Angie Hare remarked, "We ask for businesses to show their community spirit by joining United Way, and it's a great opportunity for free publicity!"

This year's Campaign division leader for Muenster is United Way Board member Debbie Hess of Turtle Hill Golf & Conference Center. Debbie has donated countless hours to the campaign over the last several years. The Blitz will assist Debbie in finalizing her campaign efforts, but she needs the community's support once again.

Blitz headquarters will be located in front of Muenster State Bank. The public is invited to join them for free hot dogs and drinks starting at 11:30 a.m. This year's Blitz sponsors are: American Bank of Texas, First State Bank, Hometown Radio 1580 KGAF, Muenster State Bank, Nascoga Federal Credit Union, Prosperity Bank, Turtle Hill Golf & Conference Center, and Zodia Seats US LLC.

Of the eight United Way Pacesetter Companies this year, three Muenster businesses have once again stepped up to the plate with strong support. Through employee and corporate giving; First State Bank, Muenster State Bank, and Nortex Communications along with other County Pacesetter companies helped raised 26% of the campaign goal. This truly "set the pace" for the community campaign.

United Way has chosen to continue with its theme of LIVE UNITED - Give, Advocate, and Volunteer. It is a commitment to make Cooke County a better place to live and work by helping others every day. It is giving back to the community around you and making it a better place to live, work, and grow. Money raised here, stays here! To learn more about the cam-

Letter to the Editor

To the Editor,
 For decades I've voted "religiously," to no avail. No one has ever asked my opinion or if I agree. Like many non-political voters, I've yearned for a "None of the Above" option. So much has gone awry that this country really needs a Common Sense Government NOW! While simplistic on the surface, these are my ideas to help put the American train back on the right track:
 1. Dissolve the national parties, especially the DNC/RNC and toss all "platforms." Who voted them to be in charge? No national committees, no national conventions -- so pointless and mega-expensive. Parties are counter-productive to governing as Congress proves daily, so partisanship and constant campaigning would stop. Six months before an election is plenty time for "show & tell." If Great Britain can call an election in three months flat, why do Americans endure such torture? And term limits for any office take effect Jan. 1, 2013.
 2. The Electoral College, written into the Constitution by our Founders, was meant to protect rural states but is now redundant. Individual votes no longer count. The only winners are in "swing states" with a two-party system. The playing field should be leveled wherever it's uneven. Make it possible for every citizen's vote to count - every election. Texas has been totally locked out the last several years.
 3. Initiate a National Primary Day. Candidates who meet petition signature requirements become eligible to submit their birth certificates, educational qualifications and grades, personal dossier, and a clear criminal record can get on the ballot. The people vote, and the top three vote getters are in the run-off, whether left, right, or middle of the road. No parties - no problem!
 4. Political Action Committees are banished. Candidates may spend only a set amount per election or state. Buying an election via media is evil!
 5. Lobbying and lobbyists are banned. If an elected person can't decide what's right, we need a smarter one. Paid lobbyists can resign and run their own race to see if voters agree.
 6. National candidates should post a list of potential subordinates (vice president for instance), Cabinet picks, and staff members before the election. Think of all those winners who have crews running their office who were never mentioned earlier.

 7. Pollsters are limited in the amount of data they can distribute until a month before the election. Robo-calls are illegal. Wake up, folks! Big Brother IS watching us all.
 8. Ah, the Money. First write a Constitutional Amendment requiring a balanced budget, then let us vote ASAP. Dissolve the IRS and eliminate all deductions. Create a Fair Tax, whether sales or income, that applies to all. Watch billions flow in to pay down the debt. Close inept Cabinet Departments and put those bureaucrats to work in the private sector or send 'em home. Foreign aid is denied to any who shoot at us or who have dictators in power. You can't buy friends, so use the money for our health insurance. Forbid legislators from transferring any designated funds into the "general" treasury, i.e. Social Security.
 9. Give the President the line item veto and demand it be used. (A mid-term Vote of Confidence is another thought.) Let States elect a Citizens Advisory Board to read legislation that affects us all and give them veto power. Every proposed bill or law must pass a Constitutionality test before being implemented.
 10. Congress (and all staffers) are subject to the same rules as citizens: same Social Security plan, insurance benefits, pensions pegged to tenure (not lifetime). Raises must be ratified by 60% of State Legislatures to take effect. If media polls can call a race 10 minutes before polls close in California, why not let State Common Sense Committees vote electronically on issues of Common Good?
 11. For States, outlaw gerrymandering. Square up every district across the land by erasing jigs and jags on the map that squeeze in another percent of any minority. Let the chips fall where they may. Every citizen is some kind of minority. Eventually candidates will move into the "square" district and mirror the populace there.
 12. There's plenty to fix, but transparency and accountability is mandatory. Dishonesty is NOT okay. Fire those who have an "oops" moment, and make recall elections common until morality sinks in. "We" are the boss, and they're stealing our money!

 Citizens have been victims too long! "Change" isn't always bad. With a totally new Congress tested for IQ, the ability to READ and ADD in their heads, this nation would soar. While this list is my pipedream, the ideas are FAIR. Citizens (us) get the advantage, not "them."
 The U.S.A. is the best democracy on the globe. Tuesday, Nov. 6, is your chance to vote your conscience and your opinion. Just do it, whether it counts this time or not. Whatever the results, we all must unite under a Common Sense banner and demand change for that which we find unacceptable. Call me if you know how to start a national Common Sense movement.

Lindsay Oktoberfest this Sunday

By Austin Lewter
 A Lindsay tradition will take shape for the 40th time on Sunday afternoon as it is time again to celebrate Oktoberfest at Lindsay City Park.
 "Depending on how you count it, this is the 40th Oktoberfest Lindsay has had," said event organizer Jerry Metzler. "It originated with the old Lindsay Jaycees Club some years ago. The Knights of Columbus took it over when we chartered in 1997."
 The event is free to the public, includes free parking, and is a BYOB affair. Tickets are available for a plate of homemade German food prepared by the KCs that includes German sausage, kraut, and German potato salad.

The St. Peter's Catholic Church Youth Group will sponsor all kinds of games, with bingo, bounces, and slides, just to name a few. The ladies of the church will also be selling baked goods.
 Metzler said, 100% of the proceeds this year will benefit the upkeep of Conrad Hall.
 Local trio Willy Kickit will take the stage at 3 p.m., and NFL football will be available all day long under the park pavilions.
 The annual horseshoe tournament will get underway that afternoon, and an auction benefiting the Lindsay Volunteer Fire Department will commence at 5:30 p.m.
 According to LVFD Chief Jeff Arendt, the auction will contain more than 75 items including a late model Ford pick-up donated by the Metzler family, a 12 gauge shotgun donated by Klement Ford, and a steak cookout for 30 people provided by an anonymous donor.
 The event will culminate that evening with the annual raffle drawing at 8:30 p.m.

Raffle items this year include a $1000 savings bond donated by Phil's Collision, another $1000 savings bond donated by Huchton Construction, a $500 Visa gift card from First State Bank, a $500 savings bond from Kenny and Susan Bezner, a $500 savings bond from Schumacher and Krahl PC, a $250 Visa gift card from Klement Investments, a $200 gift certificate to Acme Cleaners, a $150 gift certificate to Dieter Brothers Restaurant, a $100 Visa gift card donated by Chris and Gina Craigie, a $100 Visa gift card from Jim and Gina Ott, and a $100 Visa gift card from Lone Star Car Wash.
 All the fun starts at 11 a.m. Sunday morning at Lindsay City Park.
 For more information about any of the day's events, contact Metzler at (940) 736.4189.

Obituaries

Jean Newbill 1940 - 2012

Jean Wieler Newbill died Saturday, Sept. 29, 2012, after a lengthy battle with liver disease.

A visitation was held from 6 to 8 p.m., Thursday, Oct. 4 at Robertson Mueller Harper Funeral Directors, 1500 Eighth Avenue, Fort Worth. Funeral will be held at 1 p.m., Friday, at St. Rita's Catholic Church, 5550 E. Lancaster Ave., followed by a private entombment in the mausoleum at Greenwood Memorial Park.

Jean was born Aug. 29, 1940 in Muenster to John J. and Susanne Walterscheid Wieler. She graduated from Muenster High School, where she was a majorette, played in the concert band, was co-captain of the basketball team, and was honored as Homecoming queen.

She attended North Texas State, where she met and married her husband Mike; they recently celebrated their 52nd anniversary. After a few years in Florida, they returned to Texas and fell in love with Fort Worth. Jean was active in several organizations, including the Junior Woman's Club. She served as president of both the Jaycee Wives Club and Woodhaven Woman's Club.

Jean loved her job as a teachers' aide at Eastern Hills Elementary, but began another career as partner and office manager at

Bobby Paul Presley 1957 - 2012

A memorial service for Bobby Paul Presley of Forestburg is scheduled for 4 p.m., Saturday, Oct. 6, at Geo. J. Carroll & Son Chapel with Ronnie Blankenship officiating. Services are under the direction of Geo. J. Carroll & Son Funeral Home.

Mr. Presley died at the age of 55 on Sept. 26, 2012 in Muenster. He was born Aug. 5, 1957 in Loma Linda, California to Bob and Callie Presley.

Survivors are son Zac Presley of Lewisville; daughter Rebecca Presley Lyons of Lake Kiowa; two grandsons; and sister Georgette Whitaker of Forestburg.

Mr. Presley was preceded in death by wife Tina Robinson Presley; his parents; and brothers Randy Presley and Ricky Presley.

Alfred Bayer dies

Mass of Christian Burial for Alfred Bayer of Muenster was held Wednesday, Oct. 3 at Sacred Heart Catholic Church. Alfred died at the age of 87 on Sunday, Sept. 30, 2012 in Muenster Memorial Hospital. His complete obituary will be in next week's Enterprise.

RATES

"Our goal right now is to get this into this century and move forward," said the Mayor.

Endres noted that Mitchell feels it would be best to keep the zoning map as it is now with no changes.

The Council voted unanimously to accept her proposal to do the update.

There was no opposition to renewing the City contract with Friends of the Muenster Library for the operation of the Library. The Council approved a three-year contract that leases to the library building for $1 a year. The City pays an annual fee of $18,000 a year from its General Fund to Friends of the Muenster Public Library. The funds are used to pay operating expenses. The City also provides use of the City fax machine when needed and yard maintenance. The Friends of the Library agree to provide minor maintenance of the building, provide for a supervisor to oversee the Library, and set up a fiscal operation which uses sound fiscal management and internal controls, among other things.

said that the part-time officer resigned due to family matters, making the citation total down some.

The Council discussed the drainage ditch that runs in the alley on the north side of Block 38. The alley is between Bobby Dale Walterscheid's shop and Schilling Tire, south of West Third Street between Elm and Main streets. Storm water from Main Street collects in the ditch. It usually has standing water that attracts mosquitoes and makes it difficult to mow.

A solution would be to bury a tinhorn, connect it to an existing culvert, and cover the ditch. The tinhorn would have to be about 155 feet long and would cost more than $4,000. It is a very rocky area that would require a jackhammer. Also a gas line and a fiber optic line are buried there.

Schilling Tire owners plan to add on to their building and would like to see the ditch fixed. They want to build up to their property line and the repaired ditch would provide a more stable foundation. Jon Schilling told Endres that they would consider assisting the City with the project.

Since there were no definite cost estimates, a decision was tabled.

During public comments, resident Bob Knauf requested that the City consider an agenda item for November. He suggested that they think about putting a load limit on traffic traveling Ash Street. "You've spent the money to repair it and you've got oil trucks running up and down that road," he explained. "I don't mind them going down the road empty, but when they are going up towards the north loaded, they are the ones playing hell on that road. It's not designed for a heavy load. If you don't do something with Ash on the load limit, in six months you will have to spend the money again."

Street Commissioner Greg Bohl said he would look into what the City could legally

No one is ever so lost that he ceases to be missed by the One who loves him most.

Only those who will risk going too far possibly find out how far one can go.

Leo Lutkenhaus reported that he and Fire Chief Herbie Knabe tested the fire plug in the Sicking addition. When the Water System Improvement Project began, they could run a 2 1/2 inch fire hose with a 5,000 residual on the fire hose. This time they ran two 2 1/2 inch lines and a 3 inch line and maintained 23 pounds of pressure at the fire plugs which is three pounds above the minimum. "It was a successful project without the pump station like Kimberly-Horn wanted to do," observed Lutkenhaus. "John's (Bezner) engineering came out right at target like he said it would do."

In other business, the City Council:

- Approved payment of bills totaling $147,380.70.
- Following an executive session, approved hiring a full-time police officer to replace the part-time officer who resigned. It is difficult to hire an officer willing to work part-time hours.

Police Notes

from Muenster Chief of Police
Mark Blankenship

During the month of September the officers of the Muenster Police Department responded to 46 CALLS FOR SERVICE, with seven INCIDENTS REPORTS recorded. There were five ARRESTS/BOOKIN procedures. 24 CITATIONS were issued and one vehicle accident reported. Officers were on duty 592.5 hours and patrol vehicles were driven 2,556 miles.

August had 39 CALLS FOR SERVICE with five INCIDENT REPORTS. 31 CITATIONS were issued.

July had 52 CALLS FOR SERVICE with four INCIDENTS REPORTS. 43 CITATIONS were issued.

June had 33 CALLS FOR SERVICE with six INCIDENTS REPORTS. 67 CITATIONS were issued.

An ongoing question about GOLF CARTS and ATVs being used on public streets continues to come up. The Police Department has been very lenient in this matter but a person in violation may receive a Citation.

A governing body of a municipality may allow an operator of a golf cart on all or part of a public highway, however the speed limit must be 35 MPH or less, and the cart must have the following equipment: 1. Headlamps 2. Tail lamps 3. Reflectors 4. Parking brakes 5. Mirrors."

It is recommended that a reflective SLOW MOVING VEHICLE placard be placed in clear view on the rear of the cart.

At this time, the City of Muenster has no such ordinance.

ATVs may not be driven on public roads unless the driver is:

- a farmer or a rancher with drivers license traveling no more than 25 miles, with related tasks
- with proper equipment
- a public utility worker, or
- a law enforcement officer or firefighter.

New volunteers were sworn in as Court Appointed Special Advocates for abused and neglected children. Pictured are, from left, Shelley Head, Ann Hughes, Sharon Tawater, District Judge Janelle Haverkamp, Shirley Meece, Jordan Eberhart, and Richard Lira. These new advocates will be assigned to look out for the interests of abused and neglected children who have been waiting for a volunteer advocate. More advocates are needed, as the number of children in foster care has risen since August when 18 children needed an advocate.

Teleconference to address end-of-life issues

Home Hospice of Grayson, Cooke, and Fannin counties and North Texas Medical Center are sponsoring the Hospice Foundation of America's annual educational teleconference on Oct. 15. The teleconference will address Artificial Nutrition & Hydration at the End of Life.

Artificial nutrition and hydration (ANH) causes many ethical dilemmas and issues to arise during end-of-life care. It is often a difficult topic for families who are not only facing the loss of their loved one through death, but also struggling with the idea of withholding or withdrawing hydration and nutrition from their loved one. Traditionally, providing food and water symbolizes a basic way of caring for someone, and it is often hard for caregivers to understand ANH.

This program will explore medical, legal, and ethical issues as well as communication barriers that arise from the controversy of ANH. It will emphasize the need for families and the professionals who provide end-of-life care to have an understanding of what the patient wants and how to ease distress and anguish surrounding this topic.

"At some point in our lives, we will be faced with the question of artificial nutrition or hydration for ourselves or our loved ones," said Jolene Senek, bereavement coordinator for Home Hospice of Grayson, Cooke, and Fannin counties. This is an opportunity to gather information from professionals in field that will allow families faced with difficult decisions such as this to approach it with a better understanding and hopefully alleviating some of the stress involved where their loved one is concerned."

Franks to talk Medicare at COOKE meeting

Medicare Part A, Medicare Part B, Medicare replacement plans, Medicare supplement plans, Medicare Part D drug coverage – if you have questions about Medicare, the October session of COOKE (Cooke in Education) is one you do not want to miss.

Senior Healthcare Consultant Roy Franks, back by popular demand, will be the speaker for the session, scheduled for 2 p.m., Wednesday, Oct. 10, at North Texas Medical Center in Gainesville.

Franks, a specialist in Medicare, will address the changes in the program, with special emphasis on Medicare Part D drug coverage. He will talk about the upcoming open enrollment dates for Medicare D (Oct. 15 – Dec. 7) and advise what can be done during that period regarding Part D coverage.

Benelle Fitts and Jennifer Ware of the Area Agency on Aging, Texoma Council of Governments, will also be on hand to answer questions and assist individuals.

COOKE is sponsored by Texas AgriLife Extension Service - Cooke County, Area Agency on Aging - Texoma Council of Governments, Home Hospice of Cooke County, and North Texas Medical Center. Programs are offered monthly and are free of charge. Topics cover a wide range of subjects.

Refreshments of homemade cookies and drinks will be served.

The COOKE program will wrap up for the year on Nov. 14 with a holiday program. There will not be a program in December.

For more information on the COOKE series, contact Benelle Fitts or Jennifer Ware at (940) 668-1858, or Gayla Blanton, (940) 612-8373.

Rolling History Tour planned for Oct. 27

If you have a spirit of adventure, love local history, and enjoy scenic beauty, then your Montague County Historical Commission really has a tour for you coming Saturday, Oct. 27 as they host the North East Montague County Rolling History Tour.

They will load up in Saint Jo at 9:30 a.m. that morning, going south to Dye Mound for a visit at the historic church, now community center, then on to a near bird's eye view from Jim Ned Lookout. A loop back to Saint Jo will introduce visitors to the reviving original Saint Jo Square and several interesting historical points along Main Street.

Lunch will be provided in town as guests enjoy a rest break. The afternoon ride descends a spectacular bluff into the Red River Valley. There are numerous points of interest along this way as the route proceeds to Illinois Bend for a rest stop before heading west to Bonita, along the "Deep Draw" bottoms of Chisholm Trail fame with the Duxbury Cemetery marker post standing like a sentinel over the valley. Turning east, they expect to cross the divide between the Red and the Trinity watersheds and follow Head of Elm "home" by about 4 p.m.

Docents are still being lined up and details are being worked out. Tour booklets are being prepared. As on the two previous tours, they ask a $10 donation to defray expenses for your "all inclusive" tour.

For more information or to make a reservation, call Tobie or Johnell Thompson at (940) 995-2184 or for information, Janis Sneed, 940-995-7193.

Blessed the man who trusts in the Lord, whose confidence is in Him, he will be like a tree planted by the water that sends out its roots by the stream. It does not fear when heat comes; its leaves are always green. It has no worries in a year of drought and never fails to bear fruit.

Area cancer support group will be forming this month

A new support group for individuals battling cancer is forming in Cooke County.

The Gainesville Cancer Center Support Group will be holding an organizational meeting at 1 p.m., Tuesday, Oct. 9, at the Gainesville Cancer Center, 1615 Hospital Boulevard, Suite C, in Gainesville. The Center is located within the Professional Office Building on the North Texas Medical Center campus.

The group is for survivors, patients, caregivers, and other interested persons.

Medical oncologist Mohammed Quasim, M.D. will be the speaker for this meeting. The doctor will discuss survivorship and caregivers.

Mike Karns is the group facilitator. He can be reached for additional information at (940) 612-1990 or (505) 670-8338.

GAVA opens annual Depot Day exhibit, sale

Gainesville Area Visual Arts Group or GAVA will hold their annual Depot Days exhibit at the Depot with the theme of "My Town." The Cooke County Garden Club will also be showing floral arrangements in conjunction with the art work at the Santa Fe Depot in Gainesville through Oct. 17 on Wednesdays to Saturdays from 10:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. Several GAVA members have provided paintings for a silent auction on which art lovers may bid. In addition, greeting cards will be available for sale at this event.

youngsters will be available on Depot Day to create their own Halloween-themed art. Face painting will be provided for free and a "Halloween Tree" will be displayed for all children to decorate with their creative drawings. There is no charge for this children's event.

At the Depot Day celebration on Oct. 13, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., GAVA will serve hot cider and other treats. GAVA invites all to enjoy the art, flowers, and free children's craft table on that day.

Theater patrons ready to head 'around the world'

Stampeding elephants. Raging typhoons. Runaway trains. Hold onto your seats for the original amazing race as the North Central Texas College Drama department presents "Around the World in 80 Days" on the stage of the First State Bank Center for the Performing Arts in October.

Public performances are set for Oct. 6 at 7:30 p.m., and Oct. 7 at 2:30 p.m. There were also special field-trip performances for area schools on Oct. 4-5.

The play tells the story of fearless adventurer Phileas Fogg and his faithful manservant Passepartout as the race to beat the clock. Fogg has agreed to an outrageous wager that puts his fortune and his life at risk. Along with his manservant, Fogg sets out to circle the globe in an unheard-of 80 days. But his every step is dogged by a detective who thinks he's a robber on the run.

Danger, romance, and comic surprises abound in this whirlwind of a show as six actors portraying 39 characters traverse seven continents in Mark Brown's new adaptation of one of the great adventures of all time. The ensemble cast includes Nathan Harmon, Kathryn McGinness, Josh Phillips, Ian Spalding, Jacob Wofford, and Stephanie Zwinggi. Ashley Elliott is serving as a technical assistant.

Craig Hertel, who is serving as director of the show, says the appeal of this particular play is two-fold.

"First, it tells a great story. The travels of Phileas Fogg are exciting and also show us a great deal about the mind set in England during the Industrial Revolution," Hertel said. "Second, the way this particular version is written makes for a great deal of fun. The adapter has made it theatrical and fun, and tied things together in a way so that the story flies along. These two things together have made the rehearsal process challenging, but really enjoyable. "Also, I think this story has a bit of everything. There's the excitement of the travel, the interest of exotic locations and cultures, there is romance, and there is (especially in this adaptation) bunches of humor. This combination of things has made this show really exciting to work on.

"They are extremely supportive and you know you are working both with great people around you, but also wonderful facilities," he said. "In addition, I also appreciate a spirit of creativity that resides here. NCTC Theatre has an atmosphere where students and teachers are free to think and experiment, then make the work as strong as we can."

Hertel admits that a director is only as good as his cast, and he feels fortunate with the group of students who are in this show.

"The style of this play is so interesting and is a fun challenge for a director," he said. "However, without the right group of actors and technicians, it could fall through. After auditions, I was really relieved because I felt like we had a really strong group of actors to choose from. Since then, the rehearsals have made me feel the same way—I'm glad that they have been not only talented, but dedicated to the needs of the show."

Tickets can be purchased by calling (940) 668-3355 Monday through Friday from 1-6 p.m. Tickets can also be purchased at the door before each performance.

The NCTC Performing Arts 2012-13 season is sponsored by First State Bank.

Texas A&M Weather Whys

Q: We know it's not possible to rain cats and dogs, but sometimes you hear about frogs and other animals coming down from the sky. Is this possible?

A: It is, and it's happened many times throughout history, says Brent McRoberts of Texas A&M University. "There are reports of it raining frogs, fishes, and even snakes going back almost 2,000 years," McRoberts says. "In the past 300 years, many of these have been carefully documented and witnessed by hundreds of people. Most of these have involved frogs and fish, but others have seen such things as corn, snakes, flowers, and other materials. In 1873, it was reported that parts of Kansas City were covered with frogs that had dropped from the sky. In 1997, a Japanese fishing vessel was sunk by one of several cows falling from the sky, in an almost unbelievable tale that was later verified by the Russian Air Force."

Q: What causes these things to fall from the sky?

A: The most generally accepted answer is that small creatures, such as fish or frogs, are sucked up high into the air by either very strong thunderstorms or tornadoes, McRoberts explains. "Over the ocean, a waterspout—a tornado that forms over water—can produce strong enough winds to carry small fish into the air. There are instances of some of these creatures being carried long distances because there was no water nearby. Maybe one of the strangest occurred in 1877 when The New York Times reported that several small alligators had fallen from the sky onto a South Carolina farm, and in August of 2001, the Wichita, Kansas, area experienced rain mixed with cornhusks, some of them 30 inches long."

Weather Whys is a service of the Department of Atmospheric Sciences at Texas A&M University.

Happiness is like a butterfly. The more you chase it, the more it eludes you. But if you turn your attention to other things, it comes and sits softly on your shoulder.

The Duke University Talent Identification Program has been a national leader in identifying academically talented students and providing innovative programs to support the development of their optimal educational potential.

For Texas seventh grade students, the invitation to participate in the program is mainly based on the scores from the Texas Assessment of Knowledge and Skills (TAKS). This year, the students must have scored in the 95th percentile or higher to participate.

This year, 40% of Muenster ISD 7th graders are eligible and invited to participate in the 2012-13 Seventh Grade Talent Search. Benefits of participating in the program are gaining the knowledge and experience of taking an above-level test like the SAT or ACT, receiving resources that provide guidance in test-taking skills, strategies on working with schools, and information about the college process. Students also will be informed about summer and academic year programs across the United States. Additional information is available at tip.duke.edu/7benefits.

Members of SHY Jr. High served at Muenster Health and Rehab, and SHY Jr. High and High School youth collected items for the homeless - Give It Away - Shelter the Homeless Project. All items collected were distributed to local and Diocese shelters to include SH Outreach and St. Benedict's Mission in Fort Worth run by the Franciscan Friars of the Renewal (CFR's). Both the Jr. High and High School Youth (SHY ALIVE & LIFE TEEN) this semester are learning and experiencing how to see and fill the needs of the greater human family and how their faith connects them to their brothers and sisters in need - seeing the dignity of every human person as created by God in His image and likeness (Gen 1:27). Pay attention to concussion signs

If your high school athlete is heading out to the practice field this month, UT Southwestern Medical Center sports medicine doctors urge parents to review guidelines about concussions.

Look over the equipment and make sure it fits properly, particularly the helmet. Make sure your athlete knows how to wear it properly and does so even in practice.

"Parents, coaches, and student athletes should know what symptoms to pay attention to," notes Dr. Robert Dimeff, director of primary care sports medicine at UT Southwestern. "The signs and symptoms can come immediately after the impact or even days later."

Athletes need to let a parent, coach, or other adult know if they are feeling signs such as headache or "pressure" in their head, nausea or vomiting, balance problems or dizziness, blurry vision, sensitivity to light or noise, drowsiness or fatigue, and concentration problems or confusion, Dr. Dimeff says.

Parents should note mood or behavioral changes, including athletes appearing stunned, dazed or confused about homework, particularly work that was not difficult before.

"Those symptoms justify a doctor's visit so a concussion isn't overlooked," Dr. Dimeff adds.

Sacred Heart Machinators plan and design robot and booth

Keep trying to do what is necessary, then what's possible, and suddenly you're doing the impossible. St. Francis of Assisi

The Sacred Heart Machinators started their second week of BEST Robotics. During the second week, the Build Team started to build the gears for the robot. They also began to test various prototypes for the different ways the robot is going to move up and down and pick things up. This year, the robot will have to ascend a distance of 10 feet.

The Booth Team also started designing how the Booth is going to look. They started working on the posters, gathering information and history about BEST robotics, as well as researching the history of the Sacred Heart Machinators. The Sacred Heart Machinators have several busy weeks ahead as they continue to prepare for competition.

Walterscheid commended as National Merit Scholarship Student

Muenster High School Principal Sharon Browning has announced that Brooke Walterscheid, daughter of Bret and Kim Walterscheid, has been named a Commended Student in the 2013 National Merit Scholarship Program. A letter of Commendation from the school and National Merit Scholarship Corporation (NMSC), which conducts the program, has been presented by the principal to this scholastically talented senior.

About 34,000 Commended Students throughout the nation are being recognized for their exceptional academic promise. Although they will not continue in the 2013 competition for National Merit Scholarships, Commended Students placed among the top 5% of more than 1.5 million students who entered the 2013 competition by taking the 2011 Preliminary SAT/National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test (PSAT/NMSQT). "Recognizing academically talented students plays a fundamental role in the advancement of educational excellence within our nation," commented a spokesperson for NMSC. "The young people recognized as Commended Students represent some of the best and brightest minds in the country as demonstrated by their outstanding performance in our highly competitive program. We sincerely hope this recognition will provide them with additional educational outlets and motivate them in their pursuit of academic achievement."

Brooke plans to attend Texas Tech University in the fall of 2013 with a major in Biology and then enter medical school.

"We are very proud of Brooke. She is an outstanding student that strives to exceed in any challenge that she attempts. This recognition is a great honor due to the number of talented students that compete," remarked Principal Browning

Verizon recognizes Hesse

Verizon recently announced that they have recognized John Paul Hesse of Sacred Heart Catholic School as a Verizon Community Leader Award recipient. A top student academically, John also serves as class vice president and plays varsity football, track & field, cross country, and basketball. He is the son of Bert and Christy Hesse of Muenster. Verizon will donate $1,000 in the winner's name to a school booster club, PTA, or other 501c non-profit organization. Verizon's Community Leader Award recognizes Class of 2013 graduating seniors in the high school sports family.

Candidate Craddick speaks at Oct. 4 CCRW meeting

Christi Craddick, Republican candidate for Texas Railroad Commission, was the speaker at the Thursday, Oct. 4 meeting of the Cooke County Republican Women. Craddick spoke about oil and gas issues and policies, and about the importance of engaging young people in the political process. The program started at 7 p.m. at the Fellowship Hall of First Christian Church.

On her website, Craddick stated, "The solution to American energy security begins in Texas and the example we set with pro-growth energy policies."

Regarding her qualifications, she writes, "My experience and knowledge of the energy industry coupled with my conservative principles make me uniquely qualified to serve as Texas Railroad Commissioner. Through years of first-hand experience, I know and understand this industry, its people, and their issues. I know that history has shown us that limited government frees unlimited innovation and growth."

A native of Midland and long-time conservative activist, Craddick is a member of the State Bar of Texas and earned her undergraduate and law degrees from the University of Texas at Austin.

Guests were welcomed. For information, contact CCRW President Susan Hughes, (940) 727-4468, or Vice President-Programs Janice Warder, (940) 612-3306.

Tigers humble Hornets

The Sacred Heart Tigers out-scored the Hornets of Era 27-6 last Friday night on the road. All points were made in the first half of the game. The Tigers got on track after a week off, with the Hornets buzzing after a big 52-14 victory over Bells.

"I was real pleased with our intensity at the start of the game," noted Tiger Coach Dale Schilling. "Defensively, it was the best game we played all year, shutting down Era's running game. Offensively, the O-line gave Kason (Reeves) time to throw over 270 yards."

Era took the opening kick, getting in six plays before punting. The Tigers' first drive began on their 28 yard line. The first two plays were non-productive, but on 3rd and 16, Kason Reeves connected with Justin Brown for a 66 yard gain to the Hornet 13. The next play, a Reeves quarterback keeper was good for 6 points. Reeves added the extra point for a 7-0 score with 8:18 on the clock.

The Hornets again punted after six plays kept them in Era territory. Short runs by Juan Salinas and Reeves, and a Reeves to Isac Walterscheid pass took the Tigers to the Era 28. Keith Metzler gained 8, followed by a Reeves to Walterscheid completion for the Tigers' second touchdown. With 2:40 remaining in the 1st period, the scoreboard read 14-0 after Reeves' PAT.

Era bounced back two plays later, scoring on a 65 yard pass play. The PAT failed, 14-6.

John Paul Hesse then returned the Hornet kick 87 yards to extend Sacred Heart's lead. Reeves' PAT gave the Tigers a 21-6 upper hand with 35 seconds remaining in the 1st quarter.

The teams exchanged ownership of the ball throughout the 2nd quarter, with the Tigers and Hornets each taking a dozen snaps, before John Paul Hesse picked off a buzz ball and returned it to the Tiger 45 yard line. Three throws later, Reeves found Walterscheid for a 51 yard touchdown play, good for a 27-6 halftime Tiger lead.

The Tigers threatened to score three times in the 3rd quarter, but couldn't find the end zone: getting to the 15, but throwing an interception; getting to the 25 and punting; and getting to the 8 yard line, but running out of downs.

In the final period, the Tigers ran 15 plays, to Era's 10, working on running out the clock, and taking a knee to end the contest.

 It's Homecoming night in the Tiger Den this Friday as Sacred Heart plays host to the Fort Worth Temple Christian Eagles to begin District play.

These two teams should be evenly matched, as they both lost to Frisco Legacy. Sacred Heart came up short in that match 35-14, while Temple lost 40-20.

"Temple will want to establish the run with two big, fast running backs," commented Coach Schilling. "We want to put them in 3rd and long situations."

Temple is 3-2 on the season, with a District victory on the record last week over Arlington Fellowship.

The Muenster defense swarms in on a Whitewright ball carrier in the Hornets' big win over the Tigers last week. Janie Hartman photo

Hornets mangle Tigers

The Whitewright Tigers came to town last Friday night to challenge the Muenster Hornets in a non-conference scuffle. Muenster Coach Brady Carney had high hopes that the Hornets would be challenged by future University of Texas Longhorn Tyron Swoopes, who has been side-lined with injury the last four Tiger losses. But Swoopes' performance at Hornet Stadium was non-productive, as Muenster slaughtered Whitewright 51-8.

"I felt like we played well from the offensive standpoint. Blocking was a lot better from the line to the running backs," noted Hornet Coach Brady Carney. "We kept ourselves out of 4th and long situations." The Coach added that the defense did a really good job containing quarterback Swoopes, except for one breaking play. "Great job tackling and getting 10 guys to the balls," Carney said.

Muenster's defense held the Tigers to only three 1st downs, 85 yards rushing, and 38 yards passing. The Hornets, on the other hand, had 19 1st downs, 468 yards rushing, and 82 passing yards.

Carney was also pleased with the special teams, including Hunter Klement's 40 yard field goal.

The Hornets were quick to put numbers on the board. A 32 yard opening kick return by Mason Binder placed Muenster on the Tiger 38. Trevor Hess gained 5 and Clint Sidwell 6, followed by a 27 yard scoring run by Binder. Binder then ran in the PAT for an 8-0 score with 10:33 on the clock.

Muenster's defense held Whitewright to a minus 6 yards in three plays. On 4th down, Swoopes was caught in the backfield, giving the Hornets possession 3 yards from paydirt. The next play, a quarterback keeper by Binder added 6 more points to the board. The PAT kick failed for a 14-0 score at the 8:37 mark.

The defense of the Hornets again stopped the Tigers, forcing another punt. A Muenster penalty put the Hornets on their 11 yard line. Binder made a 22 yard run, followed by completed passes to Andy Flusche and Hess, and a Hess run to take the pigskin to the Whitewright 39. Steven Flusche gained 14, but a flag lost 15. With a 1st and 25, Binder gained 7, with a pass to A. Flusche picking up 10 more to the 23. On 4th and 8, Hunter Klement booted a 40 yard field goal to extend Muenster's lead to 17-0 with 2:07 still remaining in the 1st period of play.

It was three snaps and punt for the Tigers, giving Muenster possession on their own 38 yard line. Runs by Sidwell and S. Flusche carried the ball into the next quarter and to the Tiger 36. S. Flusche carried to the 27, followed by a Klement to Hess pass and a Hess run to the 14. With 11:03 on the clock, Klement connected with Cole Walterscheid for another 6 points. The PAT failed for a 23-0 score.

The Tigers were again forced to punt after no gain. Two plays later, Tavi Saldana took off down field for a 54 yard scoring run. Klement added the PAT kick for a 30-0 score with 8:57 still on the clock.

Three unsuccessful pass attempts were followed by a punt. The next play, Sidwell ran for 59 yards for another Hornet touchdown. Klement's kick added to the score, 37-0.

Whitewright's offense continued to struggle, losing 12 yards to Muenster's defense and punting again. The Hornets started their seventh drive at midfield. Runs by Trevor Muller and Austin Hennigan gained 9 and Muenster punted for the first time this game. The next play, Swoopes found a hole in the Hornet defense and ran 90 yards to get the Tigers on the scoreboard with 3:31 remaining in the 1st half. The PAT play was good for a 37-8 score.

The next Hornet snap was fumbled and recovered by the Tigers. Whitewright got in eight plays before losing the ball on downs. Three plays later, Muenster threw an interception as time ticked off the clock for the long awaited halftime break.

The Tigers got into the game, a little, as the 2nd half of play got underway. But Muenster soon scored on a 29 yard run by S. Flusche. Klement added the PAT and the Hornets extended their lead to 44-8 with 7:38 on the clock.

After another Tiger punt, Muenster drove to the 16 yard line and attempted a field goal that missed the uprights. The visitors booted the ball to begin the final period.

From the Tiger 36, the Hornets worked the clock, allowing as much time to tick away, while moving the ball downfield. S. Flusche gained 19, Hess 8, Sidwell 4, Klement 5, and Sidwell 24 more yards to the 4 yard line. With 8:07 remaining in the game, A. Flusche scored. Klement's PAT upped the score to 51-8.

Whitewright punted on 4th and 10, and Muenster ran down the clock with runs by Hennigan, Muller, and Jace Fredrick.

Monday night, the Sacred Heart Lady Cubs Volleyball teams lost to Texoma Christian. Team "B" lost in the third set. Scores were 18-25, 25-22, 22-25. Sofia Jones went all three sets without missing a server - 17 serves in all resulting in 11 points off serve. Two kills were awarded to Samantha Muller and one to Kate Springer, with all three assists going to Danielle Hess. Their record now stands at 2-2 for the season.

Team "A" lost in two sets. Scores were 15-25 and 20-25. Serving percentages were high across all players, but Rylee Reiter and Leah Knabe led the team with no service errors. Two kills were awarded to Rylee Reiter and one to Amanda Aldridge, with assists from Alane Bartush, Avery Truelsenbach, and Rylee Reiter. Their record now stands at 2-4 for the season.

Era buzzes Junior Varsity Tigers

The Junior Varsity Tigers of Sacred Heart were handed a 14-8 loss by the young Hornets of Era last week Thursday. On Era's first play, the Hornets scored on a 65 yard run. The extra run gave the visitors an 8-0 early lead. The Tigers' first drive included two runs by Tyler Spruill and two big penalties that forced Sacred Heart to punt. The teams exchanged possessions, with Aaron Davis covering a loose Era ball on the Era 23 yard line. Daniel Hesse made a short gain, then caught a pass from Spruill to move the ball to the 11 yard line. Davis and Spruill took the ball to the 4, where Spruill scored with 7:58 on the 2nd quarter clock. Spruill ran in the extra points to tie the game 8-8. Tackles by Spruill, Grant Springer, Jason Knabe, Stephen Kessler, and Darian Peters forced two Hornet punts. The 1st half ended with Era intercepting a pass. The 2nd half opened with runs by Ethan Henry, Spruill, and Davis gaining 30 yards, but another interception stopped the Tigers. The teams exchanged the ball a couple more times before Era scored from 3 yards out to take a 14-8 lead with 3:51 remaining in the game. The Tigers' offense controlled the remainder of the game, having 10 plays. Four consecutive runs by Spruill gained 14 yards. A Spruill to Hesse pass picked up 26 more. From the Hornet 25, Davis and Spruill took five runs to the 10 yard line, but time ran out and the game ended.

GAME WARDENS REPORTS

Oops, we did it again
A Red River County game Warden and two Bowie County game wardens received information about a possible road hunting incident near a residence. The property owner and his wife were outside at the time and after hearing shots, the husband, who had been drinking, jumped into his vehicle and began to chase the hunters. While in pursuit, in an attempt to stop the hunters, the man began shooting a pistol out of his window. The man rammed the hunters' vehicle and in the process flipped his vehicle over and suffered serious injuries. The hunters had called 911 to report they were being shot at. When wardens contacted the suspected road hunters, they denied having weapons and shooting at anything. Unaware that their 911 call had not been dropped as they believed, in the background officials could clearly hear someone say, "hide the gun in them woods," and "not that far, we're gonna come back and get it tonight." After hearing the 911 tape, the three hunters gave statements admitting to shooting from the road that day as well as committing multiple burglaries of habitations and storage buildings in the Dekalb area. Wardens also interviewed the hunters about a year-long investigation regarding the slaying of an 8-point buck last August in Red River County. The hunters admitted to being on the ranch illegally and shooting the buck leaving it to waste. A total of 24 cases were filed on the three individuals. Meanwhile, the overzealous property owner was filed on for DWI and deadly conduct.

Facebook helps tag illegal hunters

Newton County wardens executed a search warrant on a Louisiana resident. The warrant came after a four-month investigation, with warrants also being served on the subject's Facebook account for e-mails and photos. As the interview was taking place, Louisiana game wardens were interviewing other subjects implicated by the man's Facebook account. The subject admitted killing eight deer in the last few months and named several other subjects with numerous deer kills. None of the four main subjects have had a hunting license since 2004, with no deer taken in daylight hours during that time.

I don't need to advertise!

You're right ... there is a time NOT to advertise.

Ten reasons not to advertise

1. You have all the business in town!
2. Everybody loves you so much they just can't trade elsewhere!
3. There are no new people moving into your area!
4. You have more business than you can handle!
5. The economy is so healthy, anybody could make money in business!
6. You want to keep your large inventory!
7. You have no competition!
8. You don't really want to work very hard anyhow!
9. You have netted your first $million!
10. You have to hire more help to handle business!

The time to START advertising is if ...

1. You do not agree with all of the above statements.

The place to advertise is with

1. The media that will get your message to the most families in your customer area!
2. The media that is most reasonable in cost.

Advertise in the media that meets all the qualifications... the
