Rider fulfilling dream passes through Muenster

Joe Warren

It's been a long ride on a road less traveled for artist Katie Cooper, a solo rider, on a trip she began in Mississippi and will end back at her home in Tucson, Arizona.

Cooper is riding her mule

Walter on the trip that has been a dream of hers since she was a little girl.

"I always wanted to ride across country on a horse," she said as she checked one of Walter's hooves. "It's been a dream of mine."

She says it has been over 30 years since she's even ridden a horse. Now, Cooper is riding Walter on a trip that will take her over six months to complete.

Last week, at the 550 mile mark of her journey, she was on CR 428 north of Muenster resting in front of Bill Bayer's farm.

"People have been so nice along the way," she said. "I never know where I'll stay for the night, or where I'll be the next day." She says she can make it about 18 miles a day, but that depends on how motivated she and Walter are that day.

Cooper and Walter headed out on their cross-country trek April 1, of this year, and she plans on being back in Tucson in late September or early October. She said she wanted to do this now because of how different things are in the country and how quickly things are changing in the world.

"Everything is changing in America," she said. "I wanted to do this before all the roads changed and I couldn't see the country from the back roads."

At 50 years old, Cooper said this was the right time in her life to do this trip.

"I have the freedom to do this now," she said. "I'm self employed so I didn't have the job thing to worry about."

Traveling across Texas, Cooper found out quickly that there have been some issues. It's not always easy to find food and water for Walter or a place to stay at night that is mule friendly.

"Texas has very little public land," she said. "But for the most part, once I tell people what I'm doing and

County budget hearings set

Janet Felderhoff
News Editor

Cooke County Commissioners Court soon will be in the process of setting the County's budget for 2013-14. At their Monday, June 10 meeting, Commissioners approved the FY 2014 Preliminary Budget and set departmental hearings for June 24, 25, and 26.

Departments scheduled for June 24 starting at 1:30 p.m. are Pct. 4 Justice of the Peace, Pct. 4 Constable, Extension Service, Information Technology (IT), Abigail's Arms, Noah's Ark, County Court At Law, Maintenance, Historical Commission, and Muenster Library.

Beginning at 10 a.m., the June 25 hearings include Tax Assessor Collector, Heritage Society, CASA, EMS, CPS, Commissioners Secretary, Compliance, County Clerk, Pct. 1 Constable, District Clerk, MHMR/Texoma Community Center, Environmental Health, Highway Patrol, Human Resources (HR), Courthouse Security, and Sheriff's Office/Jail.

On June 26 beginning at 10 a.m., departments are Auditor, Juvenile Probation, Treasurer, Tri-County/Meals On Wheels, Upper Elm-Red Soil, Veterans Service, Children's Advocacy Center, County Judge, EMC/Fire

Marshal, Road & Bridge 1, Road & Bridge 2, County Attorney, Road & Bridge 3, Road & Bridge 4, TCOG 911-Rural Addressing, County Library, District Attorney, Pct. 1 Justice of the Peace, and 235th District Court.

Commissioners remarked that the meetings take place on the day they are scheduled, but at times run ahead or behind schedule and are at times taken out of order. Most take less than 15 minutes and are scheduled at 15 minute increments. They are open to the public and take place in the Commissioners Courtroom on the first floor of the Courthouse.

County Treasurer Patty Brennan now has another investment option. She had requested the Court's approval to invest some of the County's funds with Local Government Investment Cooperative (LOGIC). Commissioner Al Smith said he had looked at the contract, spoken to Auditor Shelly Atteberry, to other counties that have used LOGIC, and checked other financial information regarding the company. Smith said he feels confident that it is as competent as any other investment company that the County is using.

LOGIC is a AAA rated local government investment pool created by Texas local government officials who previously worked with Tx-POOL. Commissioners approved signing the contract with LOGIC.

Searches warrants uncover drugs and pipe bombs

According to Cooke County Sheriff Terry Gilbert, on Thursday, June 6, the Cooke County Sheriff's Office Drug Enforcement Unit (DEU), assisted by Patrol Deputies and Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms and Explosives, Dallas Field Office, executed a search warrant in the 8700 block of E. Hwy. 82, Gainesville and arrested Lynn Thomas Wages, Jr., a 43 year old male.

DEU obtained an arrest and search warrant for Wages and his residence. Wages was located in Oak Ridge and placed under arrest. A glass meth pipe along with a baggie of methamphetamine was recovered from his person along with a three year old male child from the vehicle. Child Protective Service was contacted to care for the child. DEU seized the 2001 Dodge 4X4 pickup.

Law enforcement proceeded to the residence on U.S. Hwy. 82. Deputies provided security for crime scene during the arrest and assisted in the search. Deputies and ATF recovered two pipe bombs with fuses, two Molotov Cocktails, and one RG .22 caliber revolver, along with 32 hydrocodone tablets.

Wages was placed in the Cooke County Justice Center and charged with manufacture/delivery of a controlled substance (less than one gram); criminal neglect of a child; and manufacture/delivery of a controlled substance (less than 28 grams). Other charges are pending and more arrests are anticipated.

On Friday, June 7, the Cooke County Sheriff's Office Drug Enforcement Unit, assisted by the Gainesville Police Department, executed a search and arrest warrant on Eddie Brookshear, a 46 year old male, in the 300 block of Ritchey Street in Gainesville.

Brookshear was arrested and placed in the Cooke County Justice Center.

Commissioners rescinded an order to bid the DPS roof repair. County Auditor Atteberry explained that there are roofing vendors that are on State contract. By using one of them, the County can avoid the cost of bidding and publishing in a newspaper she explained.

Some of the State approved vendors were contacted and they submitted bids. The Auditor explained that one was similar to a local vendor's bid and another was significantly lower.

Maintenance Supervisor Ricky Kerr said that four contractors looked at the DPS roof, but only two gave prices. He explained the roofers' prices, products, differences, and options. The manner in which Kerr's vendor of choice applied the roofing product included the possibility of overlapping onto a neighboring wall. Before a decision is made, the Commissioners requested that Kerr clarify the cost of the project and to contact the adjacent property owner to determine if the roofing product would get on that person's property and to secure the owner's approval or disapproval.

Commissioner Gary Hollowell reported that he and Commissioner Leon Klement were on the roof of the Annex building last week and discovered that water was pooling on it. Klement said water is dripping in on some plywood. The company responsible for the roof was contacted, but it had not been repaired. They will be contacted again after Court.

Commissioner Hollowell showed a letter from Texas Department of Licensing and Regulations for ADA noting that all of the write ups on the Annex had been addressed and corrected and accepted as in compliance.

Another executive session took place to discuss security devices for County facilities. No action was taken.

In other business conducted during the June 10 session, Commissioners Court:

- Accepted auction proceeds from the sale of Road and Bridge Precinct #4 equipment in the amount of $36,382.75.
- Approved interlocal agreement with the City of Muenster for fire department services.
- Approved a cell phone allowance for Richard Roth, Investigator.
- Approved Treasurer's monthly report for May that showed cash on hand and investments of $27,028,350.17.

On Father's day celebrate all the dads out there

My father passed away at the age of 83 back in 2007. Every Father's Day I get a little sentimental remembering all the great moments he provided me and my brothers and sisters growing up in Montana.

He was my father, but more importantly he was my dad. There is a difference. And, he taught us the difference. I believe almost anyone can father a child, but it takes a special person to be a dad.

That's probably the most important lesson I learned from my dad.

I'm 50 years old now and have three children of my own. There is not a day that goes by I don't remember my dad and the influence he has in raising my children.

I know now it's not an easy task, but rewarding beyond anything he could have talked to me about.

He taught me to be patient, to love, what's right and what's wrong. He taught me to be tough, compassionate, laugh, and that it's OK to be emotional.

My dad was a hard-working man, and a great partner to my mother for over 60 years. He was a WWII veteran and also worked in the newspaper business all of his life.

He taught me how to hit a baseball, stayed home when I was sick. He taught me how to drive a car and was there to talk about the first time I crashed that car.

He helped me with my school work, helped me get my first job and made sure I worked hard and showed up on time.

He taught me manners, to be polite, and how to be a gentleman.

He was there at my wedding, and also for the births of all of my children.

The thing about Dad as I remember, he was always there for me. It's what he did. Yes, he taught me a lot of valuable things during my 44 years knowing him, but the most important thing my father taught me was to be a Dad.

So, happy Father's Day to all the dads out there.

Kathryn "Kate" Voth 1986 - 2013

Kathryn "Kate" Rohmer Sepanski Voth, 27, passed on to eternal life on June 1, 2013, in Austin, ending her long and valiant battle with melanoma. Her courage, grace, and unwavering spirit in the face of prolonged and debilitating pain were a continual source of inspiration to all who knew her.

Born on March 27, 1986, in Dallas, Kate graduated as salutatorian and Miss Sacred Heart from Sacred Heart High School in 2004. Ever active, she let her light shine in academics, track and cross country, swimming and diving, a cappella choir, musical theater, cheerleading, and leading and mentoring her peers, all the while showing love and compassion for others.

Attending St. Edward's University, she graduated summa cum laude in December 2007 with a major in English Writing and Rhetoric. She then began employment with the Austin Board of Realtors (ABOR), working in the organization's marketing department. She went on to serve as ABOR's first Social Media & Online Community Manager. She brought state and national recognition and awards to ABOR, while she became an emerging voice in Austin's social media scene. In April of this year, she was the recipient of the Women Communicators of Austin (WCA) President's Award at the organization's 40th Annual Banner Brunch. Applauded were her service to WCA, her work in communications and social media, her ability to inspire others, and her optimistic attitude.

An Emerge Program Graduate at Leadership Austin, Kate served as an Emerging Leaders Advisory Board Member at Concordia University. This past March, she was honored as the first recipient of SOS Leadership Institute's Leading Lady of Inspiration Award, paying tribute to the inspiration that Kate's leadership, strength, courage, and optimism were to many. Also honored at the event was TEAM KATE, the largest team, which also raised the most money, participating in the 2013 LIVESTRONG Marathon/Half-Marathon. With a lifelong passion for running, an activity denied her by the pain of cancer, Kate's intrepid spirit inspired 119 people, many of whom would have never considered running or walking such a distance, to participate in the event in her place. Raising approximately $60,000, TEAM KATE became the biggest team and highest money raiser in LIVESTRONG Austin's history.

Kate is survived by her loving and devoted husband, Michael Voth, of Austin. With their beautiful love story beginning during their high school days, they were married on June 14, 2008, the happiest day of their lives. In January of that year had come Kate's diagnosis of stage 4 melanoma. Mike gave Kate his unfailing love and support, and through the years was her ever-present strength and joy.

Also surviving Kate are her parents, Robert E. and Linda Sepanski of Muenster; sisters, Sara Sepanski of Washington, DC, and Lauren Ortega and husband, Lorenzo, of Austin; brothers and spouses, Robert J. and Laurie Sepanski of Grapevine, John and Laurie Se-panski of Yorktown, Virginia, Thomas and Janet Sepanski of Fort Worth, and Michael and Roni Sepanski of Richmond, Virginia; grandmother Imelda Rohmer; Mike's parents, Danny and Janet Voth, his sister, Debra Sicking, and husband, Jason, and his grandmothers Regina Pels and Lou Voth; and 16 nieces and nephews.

A Celebration of Life followed by viewing and visitation was held at 2 p.m. on Monday, June 3, at Cook-Walden Funeral Home in Austin. Speakers paying tribute to Kate were close friends, professional colleagues, her sister Lauren Ortega, and Kate's husband, Mike.

A Memorial Mass was celebrated at Sacred Heart Catholic Church in Muenster at 10 a.m. on Thursday, June 6, 2013, with interment following in Sacred Heart Cemetery. Services were officiated by Rev. Ken Robinson and directed by McCoy Funeral Home.

During the Mass, the First Reading was proclaimed by Kate's godfather, Don Rohmer. The psalm was sung by Katie Cox, and Kate's godmother, Mary Uhlig, proclaimed the Second Reading. Prayers of the Faithful were read by Debra Sicking.

Mike's godparents, Doreen and Steve Taylor, brought up the Offertory gifts. Serving as Eucharistic ministers were Julie and Marty Collins, Donnie Uhlig, Sandra Reeves, Viola Rohmer, Rita and Craig Bayer, Brenda Fuhrmann, and Carla Zwinggi. Alvin Hartman, Sylvan Walterscheid, and Chuck Bartush were altar servers.

Music ministers were former Angelic A cappella Choir members Katie Steinert and Laura Taylor, and Christy Hesse, with Pat Hennigan Jr. as pianist. Songs included "Come to Me," "The Lord Is My Light," "Only in God," "How Beautiful," "I Love You, Lord," "Songs of the Angels," and "All Creatures of Our God and King." The meditation song, "I Love You, Lord," had been the theme song of the Angelic A cappella Choir. For its singing, upon invitation from the music ministers, 10 former members of the choir came forward from the congregation, adding their voices in angelic harmony to create a beautiful and nostalgic rendition of the well-loved song.

Giving eulogies were Kate's father, Bob Sepanski, who related the heart-warming story of Kate's life and the person she was, and friend Sean Maguire of Austin, who first met Kate at a TEAM KATE fundraiser, and was greatly inspired by her. Speaking about Kate's strong passion for running and how she embodied all the attributes of a runner, Sean ended with the words, "How is it that this young woman of 27 years has had such a profound impact on our lives? She did it by showing us how to truly live. That is the legacy that Kate leaves us. In all of her actions and in the way she approached each day, she was simply showing us how to be our PERSONAL BEST."

Q: How many volts are in a lightning bolt?

A: One bolt can contain hundreds of millions of volts of electricity, McRoberts adds. "That's why lightning can be such a killer - it is extremely powerful. Between 1979 and 2008, an average of 58 U.S. residents were killed by lightning each year. Worldwide, there are about 2,000 thunderstorms at any given moment, causing 100 lightning strikes per second. It's been estimated that the Empire State Building in New York City is struck by lightning an average of 100 times each year. The building was originally designed to serve as a lightning rod for the surrounding area."

America honored at piano recital

There was no parade, sparklers, or flag waving, but nevertheless, America was honored at the 2013 piano recital by 26 young piano artists as they played patriotic renditions and tunes featuring all regions of the United States. The recital was held Sunday, June 2 at 3 p.m. in Muenster's First Baptist Church.

Piano teacher Rosemary Dankesreiter welcomed the church-filled audience. Alison Becker offered the opening prayers. Everyone remained standing as Alana Endres began the program with the "Star Spangled Banner."

Many old-time favorites were performed. A few being "The Yellow Rose of Texas," "You're A Grand Old Flag," "America," "Home on the Range," "Down in the Valley," "She'll Be Comin' Round the Mountain," "America the Beautiful," "Dixie," and "The Battle Hymn of the Republic."

Other renditions spotlighted special areas of America, like Cajun Country, Louisiana and the Mountains, while others performed American dance tunes.

Two outstanding favorites of the afternoon were duets. Brothers Braedon and Jackson Mitchell got feet moving with their presentation of "Forward March" followed by the duet "The Stars and Stripes Forever" played by Chloe and Owen Tolar.

Following the recital, Mrs. Dankesreiter praised the students for their excellent progress made during the year. Thanks was given to parents for their support and cooperation. Mrs. Dankesreiter then presented each student with a certificate noting the length of each one's piano training and a statuette of a well-known composer.

Individual and group pictures were made followed by refreshments in Fellowship Hall.

Dostart earns law degree with honors

Samuel Paul Dostart, 27, grandson of the late Mary Sicking, received his Juris Doctor law degree with academic honors from Columbia Law School in New York City on May 23. Sam is a nephew of Cliff and Kathy Sicking of Muenster, and of Bryan and Sheila Sicking, and Bill Sicking, of Myra. He is the son of Paul and Joyce Sicking Dostart of La Jolla, California.

Sam's parents and his older brother Zach Dostart were on hand for Columbia's impressive graduation ceremonies. Sam was recognized at graduation as a Harlan Fiske Stone Scholar, the honorary designation bestowed by Columbia Law School for "superior academic achievement."

During his law school years, Sam served on the executive board of the Columbia Business and Law Association, a student group dedicated to the interaction of law and business. Sam's summer employment experiences include working on the Madoff bankruptcy at a Manhattan law firm, clerking for the federal bankruptcy court with principal assignments to the General Motors and Lyondell Chemical bankruptcies, prosecuting insider trading for the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission, and assisting with corporate reorganizations for a major investment bank.

Sam's preparation for his legal studies included having graduated from the University of California at Irvine, passing the CPA exam while working for the accounting firm of PricewaterhouseCoopers, passing the Certified Fraud Examiner Exam, passing Level 2 of the Chartered Financial Analyst Exam, and receiving his MBA degree from the Yale School of Management.

The week after Columbia graduation, Sam sat for Level 3 of the CFA Exam. Following the New York Bar Exam in July, Sam will commence employment with the New York City office of the Akin Gump law firm where he will focus on corporate financial restructuring.

Fun summer storyhour events planned

Cooke County Library is hosting a variety of special storyhour events this summer. Some events will be at the library and others will be held at the Little Theater on NCTC's campus.

Special guest Kelly the Clown from the Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey Circus will be at NCTC's Little Theater on Monday, June 17, at 1 p.m. Kelly will help kick-off "Reading with Ringling Bros.!" The Library reading program is easy and fun for kids to participate. The best part is that kids can earn a free circus ticket by simply doing their library reading!

The following Tuesday, June 18, at 10:30 a.m., also at NCTC's Little Theater, there will be a special puppet show during storyhour called "Dig Up a Good Book with Paleo Maggie!"

Tuesday, June 25, at 10:30 a.m., at NCTC's Little Theater, the Library will host a play, "Gertrude McFuzzy and the Three Little Who's."

The next day, Wednesday, June 26, at 10:30 a.m., you'll want to come back to the Little Theater for "It's Book Time with Ronald McDonald." Ronald McDonald will be there to read and sing with the kids.

For more information about storyhour, directions to the Little Theater, and for a full schedule of events, visit the library website at www.cookecountylibrary.org or call 940-668-5530.

Lindsay High celebrates graduation

Janet Felderhoff
News Editor

Lindsay ISD conferred high school diplomas on 37 graduates on Friday, May 31 during a commencement program held in the Knight Gymnasium.

Class Vice President Kassidy Gum welcomed guests.

Superintendent Nora Curry revealed the recipient of the Davelyn Neidhardt Award as Carol Cook. Each year, students write essays nominating the teacher of his or her choice. The student who nominated Cook with her essay was Logan Martin. As author of the selected essay, Martin received $50 and read her essay at graduation. Cook received $450 and her name will be engraved on a plaque that is displayed on the wall in Lindsay High School.

Linus Fuhrmann introduced Chisam Reiter, class Salutatorian.

Chisam remarked that people, especially teens, often disregard the people and things that are most responsible for their success and livelihood. He said every parent, teacher, and coach played a significant role in molding the Class of 2013. He urged his fellow graduates to think about it and to thank them sincerely.

Some of the people and things that Chisam feels will be missed included "Mama Marge" and the hot school lunches and their six year long free gym membership along with their always sympathetic personal trainers.

Chisam quoted Steve Jobs who said, "Have the courage to follow your heart and intuition. They somehow already know what you truly want to become. Everything else is secondary."

Carol Luttmner introduced Valedictorian Megan Schumacher.

Megan commented that the past four years had been filled with many emotions and they had shared some hard, but truly enjoyable moments. She mentioned sports with its two-a-days in 110° heat, eight-minute miles, 5 a.m. cross country workouts, and in the classroom they survived Mr. Westbrook's all or nothing tests, dress codes, administration upheavals, and losing the senior privilege in the lunch line. They enjoyed stealing and hiding people's school supplies when they fell asleep in class, time spent listening to their very own band, filling the student section at basketball games, and cultivating lifelong friendships whether on day-long debate trips or circled around late-night fires at the campsite.

For her fellow graduates, Megan shared a quote from Ralph Waldo Emerson. "Do not go where the path may lead; go instead where there is no path and leave a trail." She added, "Let us leave a trail that others will be proud to follow. Let us dream of the future rather than relive the past. There is a universal truth we all have to face, whether we want to or not. Everything eventually ends. As much as I look forward to this day, I've always disliked endings. Last day of summer, the final chapter of a great book, parting ways with close friends. But endings are inevitable. Leaves fall, you close the book, you say goodbye. Today is one of those days for us. Today we say goodbye. With God's grace and loving presence, we are moving on."

In conclusion, Megan said, "Each and every one of us will be presented with opportunities every day to improve people's lives, if even in the smallest of ways. If we as upstanding graduates can pay it forward, that can add up to a profound contribution to humanity."

The graduates honored their parents with a special song and by presenting their mother or guardian with yellow roses.

Principal Haynes presented the Senior Class. Superintendent Curry officially certified them.

Curry and Haynes with the assistance of members of the Board of Trustees awarded the diplomas. Counselor Judy Smiley turned the rings and Robin Hess, teacher, moved the tassels.

Class President Chisam Reiter gave the closing remarks.

U.S. exports keep climbing

The U.S. Department of Agriculture released its fourth Outlook for U.S. Agriculture Trade in fiscal year 2013. USDA projects $139.5 billion in agricultural exports in FY 2013, which if realized would be a new record. Since 2009, U.S. agricultural exports have climbed from $96.3 billion in 2009 to the most-recent forecast of $139.5 billion.

Agriculture Secretary Tom Vilsack made the following statement:

"Today's report is promising news that keeps American agriculture on track to continue the strongest period of exports in our nation's history. Agricultural exports are an important part of our economy, supporting more than one million jobs – and as a part of President Obama's National Export Initiative to double U.S. exports by the end of 2014, USDA has worked hard to open new markets for quality U.S. agricultural products. We've helped achieve new trade agreements with countries around the world, helped organic producers export more products through new equivalency agreements, broken down hundreds of unfair barriers to trade, and utilized trade promotion programs that have helped more than 1,000 U.S. businesses and organizations promote agricultural products abroad. Today, we're looking ahead to the next big achievements – particularly a Trans-Pacific Partnership with Asian nations, and a Transatlantic Trade and Investment Partnership with the European Union.

"We must continue working to strengthen markets and opportunity in American agriculture. That's one reason why it is important that Congress achieve passage of a comprehensive Food, Farm and Jobs Bill as soon as possible. Trade promotion efforts provided by the current Farm Bill have been extremely valuable for U.S. producers. A long-term Food, Farm and Jobs Bill would continue these programs, enabling USDA to keep working with producers and businesses to promote their quality products around the world. This is an important step to further increase agricultural exports from the United States and create more good jobs here at home. As we continue our efforts to strengthen agricultural trade, USDA will keep working hard to help Congress pass a multiyear, comprehensive bill as soon as possible."

Americans drinking less milk

A new study from the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) reveals that Americans are drinking less milk.

According to the report on USDA Radio, per capita, milk consumption has been decreasing over the past few decades.

In 1970, the average American consumed, on average, one eight-ounce glass of milk per day.

That amount has now dropped to over half a cup per day. Study coauthor Hayden Stewart explained that Americans are drinking milk fewer times a day than in years past.

In fact, 54% of adults now don't drink milk at all, but Hayden says each American consumer on average now also consumes relatively more cheese.

Drought losses could reach $200 billion

If the current drought situation continues across the United States, the drought may become the costliest natural disaster in the U.S. in 2012 and 2013, according to a new report from Harris-Mann Climatology.

The story describing the report on DairyHerd.com states that the drought in the southwest is expected to move and expand over the central and southern Great Plains and the western Midwest.

According to the report, if the dry spell continues, the damage caused by the drought could near $200 billion. That's more than any other natural disaster in the U.S. in 2012 and 2013 including Hurricane Sandy.

Record corn crop still reachable

A new report from the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) reveals that U.S. farmers may still have a record corn crop this year despite drought in some areas and flooding in others.

According to the American Farm Bureau Federation (AFBF), the May World Agricultural Supply and Demand Estimates (WASDE) report forecasts corn yield of 158 bushels per acre in the U.S. leading to a record crop of 14.14 billion bushels. That's up 3.36 billion bushels from 2012.

This year's soybean crop could also be a record breaker. The WASDE predicts 3.39 billion bushels this year. That's up 375 million bushels from 2012.

AFBF economist Todd Davis said while the forecasts seem bright, it's also important to note that ultimately the weather is the deciding factor in how much crops yield this year.

Dierschke: Pipeline decisions prove the system works

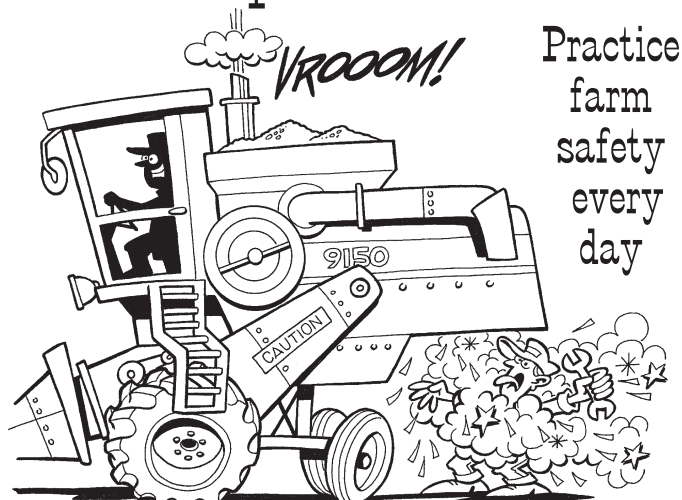

The Ninth Court of Appeals ruled recently in Crosstex v. Reins Roads Farm that private property owners have the right to challenge common carrier status and the eminent domain power that comes with it in court.

Texas Farm Bureau (TFB) President Kenneth Dierschke said TFB is very pleased with the decision.

"The decision does not mean that pipelines will be more difficult to build, because the same court also upheld the common carrier status of the TransCanada Keystone pipeline, today. These decisions mean that pipeline companies cannot have a free rein with no accountability to the landowners they affect," Dierschke said. "Bad actors will have to defend themselves in court. Those who operate in good faith and respect private property rights will continue to build Texas' energy infrastructure."

Dierschke went on to say that ill-advised legislation in this session of the Texas Legislature would have left those critical issues to the Texas Railroad Commission. He said the decision by the Ninth Court of Appeals demonstrates that the current system works.

Immigration Reform with farm provisions passes Senate Judiciary Committee

The members of the Senate Judiciary Committee approved the Border Security, Economic Opportunity and Immigration Modernization Act (S. 744) on May 21 by a bipartisan vote of 13 to 5.

The member organizations of the Agriculture Workforce Coalition (AWC) issued a statement welcoming the measure and calling on the Senate to pass the bill quickly. "The legislation includes agricultural provisions that ... are vital to ensuring that America's farmers and ranchers can find the workers they need to pick crops, prune trees, or care for animals," wrote the groups.

As a hot-button issue, the immigration reform bill drew nearly 300 amendments; however the agricultural provisions remained untouched.

The AWC brings together organizations representing the diverse needs of agricultural employers across the country. AWC serves as the unified voice of agriculture in the effort to ensure that America's farmers, ranchers, and growers have access to a stable and secure workforce.
