

Sheriff Gilbert guides his Department to proactive roll

Cooke County Sheriff Terry Gilbert stops by Muenster City Hall, one of several business visits that he made in Muenster this week.

With the turning of the calendar page to September, Terry Gilbert moves into his ninth month serving as Sheriff of Cooke County. He has made a number of changes in the Sheriff's Office to make it more proactive than in the past. "We changed a few things around - changed some shifts around, moved some people around to where I think that we are better able to serve the public," remarked Cooke County's new sheriff. "And that's what it's all about. Every day when we come to work, we try to figure out how we can better serve the public and the citizens of Cooke County. That's what the Sheriff's Office is charged with doing, and my job is to see that it gets done in a proper way."

Sheriff Gilbert noted that his goal is to better serve the public. He aims to accomplish that by seeking a better way every day "through training, through contacts with the public asking people what they need, what they want, and doing our best to see that those needs are met."

"We've gone into training mode that we want all our guys to have as much training as we can. We want the Sheriff's Office to be the center hub for training in the County. We've opened our doors to all the smaller agencies. Every time that we have a training session, the smaller communities are asked to come. Muenster, Valley View, Lindsay, Oak Ridge, Gainesville - it's a co-op where everybody is helping everybody and we want to increase that concept and want the smaller departments that if they need assistance, all they have to do is contact us. We'll help them do anything that we can whether it be manpower, training, whatever they need, we're there to help them."

People express their concerns to Sheriff Gilbert when he visits with residents. There are two main concerns that he heard and is working to address. Those are narcotics and patrol. "I think with the narcotic unit that we have, I hope that the people are realizing that we're doing a good job there. We'll never catch them all, but we are doing what we can to catch as many as we can. Patrol wise - patrol deputies are out in the County more where I get compliments through the course of time that they are seeing patrol cars where they have not seen patrol cars in a while. We want the citizens to know that we are patrolling the County. A lot of times it's at night and they don't get to see where we're at, but in the daytime, we want them to know we are out there.

"Again, it's communications. The public is our eyes and ears. If they see something that they think we need to know about, please call and tell us and we can come look and see." That number to call is 665-3471.

Cooke County Commissioners Court also apparently took note of the positive efforts of the Sheriff's Office. At the request of Sheriff Gilbert, they allowed a sizeable increase in the Sheriff's budget for FY2013-14. He said that he requested over $1 million dollars over last year and Commissioners approved about $800,000 of the requested amount.

"I'm thankful to the Commissioners for having faith in our Department to give us the things that we needed. They are tools of the trade. The increase in manpower will allow us to patrol more. Also, with the boost in the CID (Criminal Investigations Division) division, it will allow us to put more investigators on the crimes that do occur so that, hopefully, we can come to a resolution and catch the bad guys and put them in jail."

The funds will be used to hire more deputies and to equip them. Gilbert explained, "For every new hire, you have to buy the equipment so he can work. That includes vehicles, weapons, uniforms, radios, everything that you see a deputy wear in Cooke County belongs to the County except his gun belt and his weapon (handgun)."

Added to the Sheriff's Office will be a patrol deputy and three in CID. One of the CID crew will be assigned to evidence. This is a new position in Cooke County. That person will take care of the evidence room. He or she will eventually be cross-trained to collect and catalogue evidence at major crime scenes. Gilbert stated, "There's a lot to evidence. It has to be properly done under the chain of custody and everything has to be letter by letter by letter. Nearly all of our evidence will go to the crime lab in Garland." That person will also go to court with the evidence when necessary. There will only be the one person handling the evidence. The evidence person will be in charge of disposing of evidence once the case is adjudicated. The property is either

Mark your calendars for community garage sales

Janet Felderhoff

News Editor

It's almost time for the Muenster Chamber of Commerce sponsored Community Wide Garage Sale. Held on the second Saturday of September every year, this event provides an opportunity for residents to make some cash while eliminating items that they no longer need or use.

This year, there is no charge to have your garage sale location printed on the map that will be distributed to guide shoppers to all garage sales that are listed with the Muenster Chamber. To be included, the Chamber must be contacted by 5 p.m. on Wednesday, Sept. 11. This can be done by calling the Chamber at 759-2227. If nobody answers, leave a message that includes your name and physical address or by emailing john.chamber@ntin.net and giving that same information.

Chamber Executive Director John Broyles reports that he anticipates a good participation. There were already 20 sites registered by Thursday, Aug. 29.

Broyles encourages everyone attending the sale to stop and visit the local stores and shops. He added that maps with the garage sale locations will be available at all retail stores and service stations.

"This is a great opportunity for the community to put on a garage sale either for themselves or organizations and give a boost to our local businesses as well."

Myra VFD BBQ this Saturday

Myra will be a busy place this weekend as the Myra Volunteer Fire Department holds its 35th Annual Bar-B-Que Cookout. The event helps raise funds to operate and equip the Fire Department.

On Saturday evening's menu are BBQ beef, Susie Qs, beans, trimmings, tea or Kool-Aid, and pies and cakes. Food will be served from 5-9 p.m. At 7 p.m., the auction begins.

Raffle tickets are also being sold. Items on the raffle include a Browning pump 12 gauge shotgun, Brinkman 4 burner gas grill, cash, savings bonds, and gift certificates.

Doug Martin and The Rustlers will provide live entertainment for the evening.

Some of the money raised from this year's event will be used to add on to the fire station.

The Myra Fire Department has a roster of 16 firefighters. These men and women sacrifice their time and risk their lives to serve and protect the residents of the Myra area and other areas of the County when their assistance is required.

Members of the Myra VFD are Chief Billy Felderhoff, Assistant Chief Daniel

Proffer, Secretary/Treasurer Ronnie Bayer, Computer Reporter Scot Vogel, Denise Jones, Kenneth Sicking, Bobby Sicking, Leon Fuhrmann, Robert Proffer, Randy Proffer, James Whitt, Katie Felderhoff, Robert Powell, Chris Shurbert, Leroy Schmidtkofer, and Sammy York.

Myra VFD Chief Billy Felderhoff commented that he appreciates all who call in when they plan to do a control burn. This cuts down on unnecessary fire calls, he said.

Plan on a fun evening in Myra to help the Myra VFD to continue work as firefighters and first responders.

Balloon Spectacular set for Gainesville Sept. 13-15

The second weekend in September 2013 will be a truly "spectacular" one in North Texas as 27 hot air balloons take to the sky, and Texas country singer/songwriter Pat Green takes to the stage as part of North Texas Medical Center Foundation's 'The Sky's the Limit' Balloon Spectacular Sept. 13-15 in Gainesville.

Now in its second year, the event has been expanded to provide additional activities during the day, filling the time between scheduled hot air balloon events, which take place in the early morning and early evening.

Sparkling live entertainment, a wine tasting event, a super-sized Kidz Zone, and a two-hour air show Saturday and Sunday afternoon are just some of the activities added to this year's festival.

Friday, Sept. 13

The family-friendly weekend event begins Friday afternoon at the Gainesville

Municipal Airport with gates opening at 4 p.m. There will be live music on the Budweiser Sky Stage with performances at 5, 6:45 and 8 p.m. At 6:30 p.m., hot air balloons will rise from airport grounds in a mass ascension as they begin the first of three competition flights.

They will return to the field at 7:30 p.m. for a traditional balloon glow. This event features the balloons tethering on the field and lighting their burners to create a beautiful, sparkling spectacle of color on the ground - a photographer's dream.

If conditions are favorable and officials deem it safe, spectators will be invited to walk among the balloons and view the beautiful creations up close.

New to the Spectacular this year is a Wine Tasting Event on Friday evening, Sept. 13, hosted by the award-winning Blue Ostrich Winery of Saint Jo. The tasting will include samples of five wines paired with fabulous foods prepared by professional chefs from Morrison's Food Services, a leading health care food provider. Blue Ostrich will be spotlighting their best-sellers along with new wines to be debuted at this event.

Tickets are $20 per person and include a souvenir wine glass for the first 125 participants. The tasting will take place in the Tomlinson Hangar at the airport from 6-8 p.m. This is a separately ticketed event. For information and reservations, call 940.612.8607.

Balloon Rides

Also featured during the Balloon Spectacular are tethered hot air balloon rides at $20 each. The tethers take riders approximately 40 feet in the air, while still tied securely to the ground.

Prior to and during the event, free-flight hot air balloon rides can be booked for $200 per person. Pre-book at www.theskysthelimit.org.

Other activities include a multitude of merchandise and information booths, an interactive children's inflatable play zone, displays and plenty of delectable festival foods. Grab some chairs and a blanket and stake your spot. Gates close at 10 p.m.

Some of the additional funds will go towards upgrading communications. They plan to install computerized radio consoles. According to Sheriff Gilbert, it should make the dispatchers' jobs easier. The new system will be touch screen. The current system was installed in 2005 or 2006, but technology has progressed a great deal in that time.

Gilbert said the new system will help dispatch patrols, EMS, and fire departments, all at the touch of a finger. "It's new era stuff and it's time that we update," he added. "It's not the Cadillac. We can't afford Cadillacs." He said the dispatchers are pleased and anxious to work with the new system. He feels that the fire departments will also be pleased with it once they start using it.

A part of the update is to the CAD system. "That is our in-house tracking software. We are able to complete, with the monies Commissioners Court gave us, the CAD system which is in five sections. When they bought it, they only put two sections in. It will help dispatch. It will enhance the whole Department by going to the CAD system just by data. It will be a difference of night and day. Data and stats will be just clicks away." They hope to have the system installed and employees trained by the first of the year.

Asked what his philosophy of law enforcement is, Gilbert remarked that it is simple - to protect and serve. "We have the concept at the Sheriff's Office that it's all about public service," he said. "I want people to feel free to call us whenever they need something. Let us help you when we can. I think our calls for service are way up since January 1 and I want the people to continue to call. We can't solve all the problems, but unless they call and talk to us, there is no way we can solve it for them. We're there. We're a phone call away. Please, call us."

In working with residents, Sheriff Gilbert said that they are looking into bringing back the Crime Stoppers program. Cooke County had that program years ago. "We would love to have a citizens group like the Gainesville PD does the Citizens Academy where people come in and see how the Sheriff's Office works," continued the Sheriff. "We just can't get it all done the first year. We are looking at involving the public more. We're looking at increasing the reserve division. Getting qualified people to be in the reserve division is hard because they have to be certified police officers. They have to have all of the accreditation that a full-time officer has and we're looking for people who have that, but we can't pay them. They're a little bit tough to come by."

Do you want to help the Sheriff's Department? If so, be their eyes and ears. Sheriff Gilbert said that nobody knows a neighborhood as well as those who live there. They know which vehicles belong and notice strange vehicles and odd behavior. He encourages residents to take down license plate numbers of suspicious vehicles. Or even better, take a picture. He noted that almost everyone has a cell phone with a camera. Then, if a deputy needs information, you can share the picture with them.

"Public involvement is necessary. We can't do our job without them," stressed Gilbert. "We just want everyone to understand that we are a friendly-based department. We're there to help and if they'll call us, we'll do what we can do help." He laughed, noting that they have even been called to get a few snakes out of houses.

In conclusion Sheriff Gilbert remarked, "I'm proud to be the Sheriff of Cooke County and I'm happy to serve the citizens. I have a very good crew that we're working with and everybody comes to work every day eager and ready to serve the public. We want to make sure that's the way it stays. We take the good with the bad. If somebody sees something that they think we need to know about, they need to call us and talk to us.

"I'm looking forward to serving. This has been a long-time goal of mine to become the sheriff of Cooke County. I'm going to do everything that I can to protect that goal and see that the citizens are satisfied in doing it."

Sheriff Gilbert said that his gauge of how things are going comes from comments he hears from people. When someone thanks him and says he's doing a good job, he is quick to thank them and let them know he has a good crew and can't do the job alone.

"I'd like to be leaps and bounds down the road, but it takes time," he said. "It's not going to happen overnight. We're building a foundation. We'll do it a brick at a time. That is not a problem."

I look forward to a great future for America - a future in which our country will match its military strength with our moral restraint, its wealth with our wisdom, its power with our purpose. - John F. Kennedy

The air show is being presented by the Cavanaugh Flight Museum in Addison and will feature two hours of aerial stunts performed by Warbird pilots in war-era fighters, bi-planes and other winged craft.

The Cavanaugh, with over 60 total aircraft, from World War I fabric airplanes through the start of the jet age and supersonic flight, will be bringing to Gainesville the most famous warbird fighter in history, the P-51 Mustang. Known as the aircraft that won the war, the P-51 was the fastest single engine fighter of WWII with speeds over 400 mph. In addition, pilots will be flying the Douglas AD-5 Skyraider, a Vietnam fighter bomber; a 1928 Travel Air vintage bi-plane; and the helicopter made famous by the OH13 or Bell 47, among others.

Pairing perfectly with the Warbird Air Shows will be a display of classic military vehicles, presented by the Camp Howze Military Vehicle Preservation Association. The local group will have military vehicles of all types, perfectly restored and ready for appreciation by the public.

Rosary and vigil service led by Fr. Ken was held at 7 p.m. Sunday at Sacred Heart Catholic Church.

Henry was born Feb. 7, 1924, the sixth of 12 children of John and Helena Hesse Felderhoff. He grew up on the family farm north of Muenster and attended Muenster schools through the 10th grade when he went to work full-time on the family farm. He grew up speaking German at home, learning to speak English only when he went to school. He enjoyed greeting friends in German his whole life.

He worked in the oil field for over 50 years, serving as tool pusher for Felderhoff Brothers Drilling Company until his retirement in 1996. After his retirement from Felderhoff Brothers, Henry worked for Klement, Ford as a driver for many years.

Henry married Betty Fleitman on June 17, 1952 and they celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary in 2012. Henry and Betty raised six children, supporting them and their families in all of their activities. Henry enjoyed going to his children's and grandchildren's high school and college ball games. Until the end, he always wanted to hold and play with his small great-grandchildren.

Henry Felderhoff

Hesse sang "Ave Maria" accompanied by Frank Luke on the piano.

The eulogy was composed by son Kevin Felderhoff and granddaughter Christy Clary. Kevin gave the eulogy, saying, "My Dad was often described in four adjectives - gentle, brief, unassuming, and soft spoken. But turn the conversation around to his family, and you see an energetic and talkative personality come to the foreground, for his life revolved around them."

Kevin spoke of his father's oil field work. "For almost 50 years, my Dad played an important role in mentoring hundreds of men; not only by showing them the value of hard work; but by serving as a role model and showing them how to be a man full of love for family, while maintaining a hard work ethic..."

"We all knew how much he loved children! He would come to life every time any one of his grandchildren or great-grandchildren would come to see him... (they) always gave him so much joy!"

Following the eulogy, granddaughter Christy Clary read a poem she wrote about her grandpa.

Pallbearers were Brandon Felderhoff, Justin Felderhoff, Kenny Felderhoff, Tim Felderhoff, Allen Fleitman, and Steven Krebs.

Police
from Muenster Chief of Police
Mark Blankenship

The laptop computers supplied by Tarleton State University to the Police Department have been installed in the police vehicles. Internet service will be supplied by Nortex Communications and our records keeping system, CRIME STAR, will be activated this month with the assistance of West Texas IT Service of Muenster. This will allow officers to work on reports, input data, and look up records within our system. Later, we hope to gain access to state records and information.

The Department has noticed an increase in thefts locally and criminal mischief as well over the last 90 days. We continue to urge everyone to secure your property by locking doors and windows, pulling keys, locking trailers, boats, and other outdoor equipment. Don't make it easy for thieves to take your property. And, as always, report suspicious actions and persons to the police.

SCHOOL HAS STARTED, SCHOOL ZONES on N. Main, N. Oak, N. Walnut, Seventh, and Sixth are in effect during certain hours. Extra caution should be taken near CROSS WALKS. The Police Officers are patrolling these areas, so DRIVE WITHIN THE LIMITS.

Remember, this is dove hunting season and local hunters can be heard blasting away in our area. Let's make extra careful if you are one of those hunters.

Walterscheid and Skelton exchange vows in Sacred Heart Church

Anne Elizabeth Walterscheid and Zachary Andrew Skelton, both of Wichita Falls, were married Saturday, Aug. 17, 2013 with a 2 p.m. service at Sacred Heart Church in Muenster. Rev. Ken Robinson celebrated the Mass and performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of John and Dana Walterscheid and the granddaughter of Thomas and Rosemary Dankesreiter and Gerald and Betty Walterscheid, all of Muenster.

The groom is the son of Ty Skelton of Fort Worth and Teresa Skelton of Richardson.

Music selections were provided by Christi Klement, Diane Grewing, Linda Flusche, and Doug Yosten on guitars and vocals. Pat Hennigan accompanied on piano. Seating music included "The Rose" and "The Wedding Song." Grandmothers were escorted in with "Beginning Today" and mothers followed in with "Sunrise, Sunset."

Ushers were Tommy Joe Dankesreiter, uncle of the bride, and Charles Kleineck, special friend of the bride's sister Sara. "Canon in D" (Adaptation) was played for the bridal party entrance. Bridesmaid Lora Walterscheid, sister of bride, was escorted by Matt Leclair, brother-in-law of the groom. Bridesmaid Sara Walterscheid, sister of the bride, was escorted by Joel Watson, friend of the groom.

Each bridesmaid wore a flowy and chic Malibu blue, crinkle chiffon, knee-length dress with a sleeveless bodice featuring a high neckline with a keyhole detail and dazzling beaded straps.

Maid of honor Abby Walterscheid, sister of the bride, was escorted by the best man Michael Hughes, friend of the groom.

Abby wore a sassy and fabulous Malibu blue, crinkle chiffon, knee-length dress featuring a one shoulder bodice with a chiffon petal detail on the shoulder and an empire waistline to create a stunning silhouette.

Each sister wore a special cross necklace given by the bride and carried a flower bouquet of blue and green daisies and white lilies.

Jadyn Struxness, bride's cousin, was the flower girl. She wore a long white chiffon dress with lace overlay and a wreath of baby's breath accented with blue ribbon in her hair. She carried a basket of varied mini-blue and white flowers. Jadyn was escorted by Nathan Dankesreiter, bride's cousin, as the ringbearer matching the groomsmen with black pants, white long-sleeve shirt, and green tie accented with a blue and white boutonniere and carrying a traditional ring pillow.

A "Festival Bridal Chorus" rang out as the bride was given in marriage by her father. Anne wore her mother's wedding gown which was an original Mara Lee designed formal gown of white. The gown featured a fitted bodice of sheer organza illusion, high lace scalloped neckline, and straight lace sleeves accented with re-embroidered appliques and bridal pearls. The skirt of iridescent embroidered Alencon lace flowed into an attached cathedral train with cloud ruffles beginning at the back and edging the hemline. Anne wore a waist-length pearl seeded veil made by the groom's mother.

Adding traditional wedding sentiment, the bride wore an antique gold cross and chain that her great-great-grandmother Mrs. Alfons Koesler wore at her wedding in 1911 after receiving it from her bridegroom. Anne carried a bouquet of blue and green daisies and white lilies inlaid with a blue blessed rosary which she received during a past trip to Rome.

Altar servers were Benjamin and Matthew Dankesreiter and Logan Struxness, all cousins of the bride. Reading from the Book of Tobit 8:4b-8 was Rachel Leclair, groom's sister, and reading from the First Letter of John 3:18-24 was Eric Dankesreiter, uncle of the bride. Prayers of the Faithful were given by Leigh Walterscheid, aunt of the bride. Eucharistic gifts were carried by the bride's Godparents Rosemary Dankesreiter and Gerald Walterscheid. Eucharistic ministers were Jon Grime, Roger and Janie Taylor, and Neil and Anne Hesse, all friends of the bride's family.

Mass songs included "Edelweiss Alleluia," "Bread of Life," "How Great Thou Art," and "Seek Ye First." "On This Day, O Beautiful Mother" was sung by the music group as the couple visited and placed a long stem white daisy with a blue ribbon on the Blessed Virgin's altar. Purcell's "Trumpet Air" concluded the ceremony as Mr. and Mrs. Zach Skelton took their first steps together as a married couple.

RECEPTION

A reception followed in the Muenster VFW hall decorated in the theme of puzzles "A Perfect Match from A-Z" (Anne - Zach). Candelabras draped with blue satin material and ordained with colored puzzle pieces and ivy bowls with daisies sitting on beveled mirrors with votives decorated the guest tables. Teresa Miles of Wichita Falls, friend of the bride, attended the registry table.

The cake table held a three-tier white cake ornate with blue daisies and topped with hand-made bride and groom puzzle figurines made by the bride's parents. The groom's cake was strawberry with chocolate icing and decorated with a Steelers' football logo, Zach's lifelong favorite team. Both cakes were made by the bride's Grandmother Betty. Cake servers for the guests were the bride's cousins Erin Struxness, Kathryn Dankesreiter, and Alyson Dankesreiter.

The catered meal of roast beef and trimmings was homemade by Joanie Wyrick and family. A snack table and candy table were also present with a multitude of homemade sandwiches, desserts, and treats made by Betty Walterscheid and served by Deann Walterscheid.

All present enjoyed a slide show presentation of pictures from Anne and Zach's youth and engagement created by Anne's mother with a video of their proposal arranged by Zach. The D.J., Corey Neu, provided music for the evening of dancing.

The couple left on a trip to Cancun and will reside in Wichita Falls upon their return.

Zach is a mechanical engineer and is employed by Wichita Clutch in Wichita Falls. Anne is completing studies in Sociology and has an internship at the Wichita Falls State School.

Camp Dragonfly helps children heal

Children grieve differently than adults. Some children have behavior problems, some struggle with school work, some become argumentative or fearful, some hesitate to be away from a parent, and many don't like to be alone. There is a great need for these kids to find support and guidance through their grief process. The Hope Center of Texoma, an outreach program of Home Hospice of Grayson, Cooke, and Fannin counties, is inviting kids who have lost a loved one to attend Camp Dragonfly on Oct. 4-6.

Camp Dragonfly is a weekend retreat, led by professional clinicians and trained staff, for children ages 8-12 who have suffered the death of a loved one. All activities at Camp Dragonfly are designed to help children heal. Kids will participate in art activities, games, nature hikes, discussions, and a camp fire with s'mores.

"It's amazing that kids can be serious and very focused while working on remembering exercises, and then be ready to play in an instant as activities shift," said Camp Director Jolene Senek, LBSW, CT, GC-C. "Campers find ways to process feelings and treasure memories."

Children dealing with grief often feel isolated as well, feeling that no one understands. One of the goals of Camp Dragonfly is to give the campers a chance to be with others who can relate to their feelings of grief and sadness and to help them realize that they are not alone. The campers often report feeling better after attending camp.

Before picking up their children on Sunday, parents will receive a packet of materials and a chance to talk with a counselor about how to support their child in the grief process.

"My child very much enjoyed camp," said a parent whose daughter attended an earlier session of camp. "She has always felt different from other children and camp seemed to make her feel like she belonged. She even wanted to go to summer camp when she thought it was a week-long Camp Dragonfly! The grief counselor I talked to was awesome! She was very honest and straight forward with me. She even asked me how I was handling everything."

The last session of Camp Dragonfly for 2013 is scheduled for Oct. 4-6 at All Saints Camp on Lake Texoma, 418 Stanton Way in Pottsboro. If you know a child who might benefit from participating, contact Jolene Senek at 903-868-9315 or jolene.senek@homehospice.org. You can also download the application and learn more about this camp at www.homehospice.org/events/camp-dragonfly/. The application deadline for the October session is Sept. 13.

"Camp is not about forgetting," said Senek. "It is about healing."

Library launches 1,000 Books program

The Cooke County Library is starting an exciting new reading program called "1,000 Books before Kindergarten." The program seeks to promote reading and literacy by having parents read over 1,000 books to their children before entering Kindergarten.

Parents will sign their children up at the Library's weekly storyhour, which is held every Tuesday at 10:30 a.m. Once signed up for the program, your child will receive their reading log for their first 100 books.

Every 100 books, children will turn in their reading logs to get special prizes. Children will also get a flower to put on the bulletin board in the storyhour room. This will give the kids something to look at every week and see their progress.

Kimberly Reiter, the children's librarian, is in charge of the weekly storyhour and will also be heading up this new program.

"I think this program will be a great way to promote not only reading and literacy," said Reiter, "but also quality family time for parents and their children."

Children can count books read to them during the weekly storyhour and parents are encouraged to read books to them at home. Children should also count books read by babysitters, grandparents, older siblings, and others.

Sign-ups will start at the first September storyhour, Sept. 3, at 10:30 a.m. You can sign up at any time during the year, and this program is free to children ages zero to five who have not started Kindergarten. Call 940-668-5530 with any questions.

NCTC unveils new training programs

Lifelong Learning, the non-credit division of North Central Texas College, is introducing two new training programs for the Fall 2013 semester: Machining and Industrial Mechanics. Both programs will be held at the Career Technology Center on the Gainesville campus.

The Machining Technology program consists of three tracks that are taken sequentially. Students will learn Machine Shop, Blueprint Reading, and Computer Numerical Controls in class and also online. Each track costs less than $2,000 and includes textbooks and materials. The Industrial Mechanics program teaches students how to maintain and repair electrical, mechanical, pneumatic, hydraulic, and pump systems. The course, which includes in-class and online lectures, costs $2,750.

Students who successfully complete these programs receive Marketable Skills Achievement Awards and can start working in machine shops, industrial and institutional power plants, the oil industry, and in manufacturing facilities.

"Jobs in these fields are in high-demand," explains Kenney Smith, coordinator of vocational programs for Lifelong Learning. "The Department of Labor indicates that job openings will far outpace the supply of qualified workers, and we want to make sure that our training is quick, and our students are well-prepared."

Classes will start at the beginning of October. To enroll, potential students must be 18 years or older, possess a high school diploma or GED, and must take a math assessment. Admissions sessions take place at the Gainesville Campus, CTC 2100 every Thursday at 10 a.m., and at the Corinth Campus, Pinnell Square #307, Tuesdays at 10 a.m. or 6 p.m., or Saturdays at 10 a.m. Questions should be directed to Djuna Forrester, dean of Lifelong Learning, at 940-668-4272 ext. 4405.

New traffic, criminal laws took effect Sept. 1

The Texas Department of Public Safety (DPS) highlighted notable traffic and criminal laws that went into effect on Sept. 1.

"As a result of these new provisions, Texans now have additional protection while traveling our roadways, and individuals who disregard our laws will face tougher penalties for a variety of crimes," said DPS Director Steven McCraw. "DPS encourages all residents to educate themselves about the laws affecting their lives and to do their part in keeping Texas safe."

Please note that the following is not a comprehensive list of all new laws passed by the Texas Legislature.

HB 347 expands the current limitations on wireless communication device (cell phone) use in an active school crossing zone to include the property of a public elementary, middle, or junior high school for which a local authority has designated a school crossing zone. The use will only be restricted during the time a reduced speed limit is in effect for the school crossing zone. Further, it will not apply to vehicles that are stopped, or drivers using a hands-free device or making an emergency call.

HB 1174 amends current statute to increase the minimum fines for the misdemeanor offense of passing a stopped school bus loading or unloading children. The minimum fine increases from $200 to $500, and the maximum fine for such an offense increases from $1,000 to $1,250. The bill also enhances the penalty for a second or subsequent conviction of that offense committed within five years to a misdemeanor punishable by a minimum fine of $1,000 and a maximum fine of $2,000.

SB 181 allows a motor vehicle operator the option of using a wireless communication device (such as a cell phone) to display motor vehicle financial responsibility (proof of insurance) information as evidence of financial responsibility. The display does not constitute effective consent for a law enforcement officer, or any other person, to access the contents of the wireless communication device except to view the financial responsibility information. This bill is effective immediately.

SB 510 requires drivers to move over or slow down (as required depending on the roadway) when approaching a stationary Texas Department of Transportation vehicle with its lights activated and not separated from the roadway by a traffic-control device. This provision expands the state's Move Over/Slow Down law, which already requires drivers to yield to tow trucks, police, fire, and emergency vehicles. Violators would commit a misdemeanor offense punishable by a fine of up to $200; punishable by a fine of $500 if property damage occurs; or a Class B misdemeanor if the violation results in bodily damage.

HB 2304 lowers the population requirement from 2.2 million to one million for counties where sheriffs or deputy sheriffs can be certified by DPS to enforce federal commercial motor vehicle regulations. This will open the opportunity to Bexar, Tarrant, and Travis counties.

HB 625 clarifies that the penalty for operating a vehicle on a public highway without displaying the two license plates assigned to the vehicle is a misdemeanor offense punishable by a fine not to exceed $200.

HB 3668 amends current statute to require the operator of a vehicle involved in an accident that results or is reasonably likely to result in the injury or death of a person to immediately determine whether a person is involved in the accident, and if so, whether the person requires aid, in addition to other existing statutory requirements.

SB 275 increases the penalty for leaving the scene of a motor vehicle accident resulting in the death of a person and failing to render aid from a third-degree felony to a second-degree felony. A second-degree felony carries a punishment of two to 20 years in prison and an optional fine not to exceed $10,000, whereas a third-degree felony carries a penalty of two to 10 years in prison and an optional fine not to exceed $10,000.

HB 1284 increases the penalty for the offense of initiating, communicating, or circulating a false report of an emergency (such as a bomb threat) involving an institution of higher education from a Class A misdemeanor to a state jail felony. This bill is effective immediately.

HB 124 adds Salvia divinorum (unless unharvested and growing in its natural state) - including all parts of the plant, seeds, and extracts from a part of the plant - to Penalty Group 3 of the Texas Controlled Substances Act.

HB 2637 provides that an individual fraudulently using identifying information to avoid registering as a sex offender to be punished at the next highest degree felony.

The art work should be limited to 11 x 14 inches or smaller and it need not be framed or matted.

A blue box for collecting the art for the show will be at the Gainesville Depot, starting Sept. 1 at 605 E. California Street in Gainesville. Another will be at the Gainesville Library under the information table in the lobby. Art work will be periodically collected from these two locations, starting on Sept. 1 through Friday, Sept. 20.

Children should place their art work in the collection box at the Depot and Library or at their school in their art rooms and make sure that their name, school, and phone number and/or e-mail is written on the back of the work and school. No work will be hung unless this information is included.

The young artists will be awarded a certificate for their accomplishments and are offered a free face painting on Depot Day at the GAVA booth on the square. Muenster pounds Ponder 35-6

Thomas Otto

Sports Editor

On Friday, August 30 the Muenster Hornets football squad scored 35 points and limited the visiting Ponder Lions to just 6 points.

The Hornets were able to produce 265 yards of total offense and held onto the ball 25 of the 48 minutes of play with 14 first downs. The bulk of the offense came from rushing with 39 rushes on 178 yards.

Clint Sidwell led rushing for the Hornets with 75 yards and two touchdowns on 14 carries. Trace Klement led passing for the Hornets after he went 8-15 with 87 yards passing, and 28 yards rushing with one touchdown in each category. Klement found Cole Walterscheid as the main target receiving with five receptions and 44 total yards gained.

The Hornets kicked off to Ponder and the Lions made negative progress on their first drive before Sidwell intercepted the pass with 11:11 left on the clock.

Muenster took possession of the ball at the 28 yard line and made quick work of the Lions after Klement passed to Tavi Saldana 14 yards to paydirt. Chance Herr kicked in the extra point for a 7-0 lead with 8:27 left to go in the first quarter.

Ponder received the ensuing kickoff and put together their only successful drive of the game after the Lions' Trey Dunlap broke loose for a 60 yard touchdown rumble. The PAT was no good for a 6-6 score and neither team was able to produce any more points after the end of one quarter.

In the second quarter, the possession changed hands one time and after a Muenster punt, Ponder was put deep into their own territory. Ponder went three and out and their poor punt was returned 18 yards by Saldana to the two yard line. The Hornets took advantage of this excellent field position with Sidwell punching it in on the second play of the drive. Walterscheid caught a two point conversion pass for a 14-6 lead with 8:19 to go.

On another Ponder drive with 3:34 left in the half, the Lions coughed up the ball where Hornets defender Jonathan Pierce recovered the ball for Muenster.

The Hornets stung quick with a Klement to Saldana pass for 33 yards to set up another Sidwell run for three yards. Herr tapped in the PAT for 21-6 score which remained the same at the end of the half.

In the third quarter, the Hornets were able to put together a successful five play drive with Dalton Bartel, Clayton Hess, and Mason Binder each gaining positive yards before Hornets quarterback Klement punched it into the end zone for Muenster with 3:09 left to go for a 28-6 lead.

The Hornets shut down Ponder totally in the second half, and put together another successful drive between the third and fourth quarters with Walterscheid catching a pass for 13 yards. Running back Binder capped off the drive with a four yard rumble into the end zone. Herr's PAT was good for the game totaling 35-6 lead.

The Hornets now possess a 1-0 record. Muenster will host 2A Nocona on Friday, September 6. Muenster will play an Indians squad who are coming off a 43-7 win over the Whitewright Tigers last week.

Sacred Heart falls short in opener against Collinsville

Thomas Otto
Sports Editor

The Collinsville Pirates ending stamina sailed past the Sacred Heart Tigers of Muenster with 358 yards rushing and 149 passing in the air for a total of 507 yards in the 62-34 victory.

The ending score did not show the early drama that the Pirates went through. The Pirates were first to score on a John Lewis to Tanner Petska pass. The Tigers of Muenster blocked Collinsville's first PAT.

From there, Sacred Heart came right back from a Kason Reeves pass to Keith Metzler, 7-6, one play wonder after the ensuing kickoff.

Pirates punted the ball away and it was able to get to the 1 yard line. The Tigers were deep in their own territory and were forced to a safety for a 8-7 Pirate lead with 6:33 left to go.

The Pirates defensive effort was thwarted after Keith Metzler picked up a forced fumble and brought it to the 50 yard line with 4:57 to go in the first quarter. The Tigers were on the move as Will Boyd ran it 37 yards down to the 13 yard line with 4:44 to go in the first quarter after a safety call put the Pirates up 8-7.

The Tigers owned the second quarter. They started to make their way down the field and Endres caught a pass and ran past the first down marker, was initially called for a touchdown but then ruled down at the two yard line, which was a good call from the officials. Hayden Schilling was able to catch a pass from Kason Reeves for a touchdown with 2:50 to go to put them up 14-8.

The Tigers earned the ball back from the Pirates and Reeves moved the Tigers forward to the 1 yard line, but a fumble and a defensive play by the Pirates closed out the first quarter 14-8.

On third and eight, the Tigers were able to score on a trick play after Reeves to Brady Endres, flea flicker, then Endres passed to Isac Walterscheid who then dove for the end zone to boost the Tigers up to a 21-8 score right off the bat on the first play of the second quarter.

Pirates were able to control the ball and finish their drive out 21-15 with 6:33 left to go in the second quarter.

Will Boyd scored for the Tigers to make it 28-15, which was their biggest lead of the game with 5:25 left to go in the second quarter.

After the Tiger's score, Hayden Smith ran his way down to Tiger territory on a kickoff after a 51 yard kickoff reception. Connor Daley capped off the drive after he scored with 4:18 left in the second quarter, Pirates were now down by 6, 28-22.

Lewis was able to break free from three tackles and spun his way from the opposite 21 yard line to the end zone. His 79 yard trip to pay dirt tied up the game at 28-28 with 2:58 to go.

The Tigers stalled on offense late in the second quarter and gave the ball back to the Pirates.

Connor Daley threw to Jace Claytor and Claytor made it to the 20 yard line, in hopes to get ahead of the Tigers for the first time. The Tigers put up a defensive stand after Isac Walterscheid picked off Collinsville quarterback Daley who was aiming for Lewis in the end zone at the end of the second quarter to end the Pirate threat. Both teams were knotted up at 28 each.

In the third quarter, the Pirates untied that knot and released the sails. The Pirates dominated from the outset. Collinsville played at their pace and went to run their way down the field. The successful first drive of the second half ended with Lewis who scored from two yards out after cutting back the other way of his blockers to make it 34-28 with 6:52 left to go, PAT for two no good.

Hayden Smith went the whole way after a pass from John Lewis. Smith's 66 yard reception and run put Collinsville up 48-28. Smith finished with 74 yards running, 62 yards on special teams and 80 yards receiving for 216 all purpose yards on the day.

The Tigers were able to score in the third quarter from a Reeves pass to Walterscheid but missed on their PAT. The Tigers improved to 49-34 with 1:18 to go in the third quarter. Muenster Sacred Heart was shut out otherwise in the second half.

In the third quarter, 49-34, Tigers were down and did not have an answer. Hayden Schilling went out in the second quarter early on with a strained hamstring and the tone of the game was set for the Pirate's comeback from then on.

John Lewis escaped the safety of the Tigers Metzler for another Pirate score, 55-34.

SH was shut down on their final drive three and out with 4:25 left to go. The Pirates held on to the ball for the final duration.

After week one, the Pirates took loot with a final score of 62-34. The Tigers have a chance to rebound against Covenant at home. Kickoff is set for 7:30 p.m.

'Get it in writing': AgriLife expert advises beef producers to have lease agreement

Beef producers entering into a lease contract for grazing, use of breeding bulls, or other business activities are advised to have a written agreement, according to a Texas A&M AgriLife Extension Service agricultural law specialist.

Tiffany Dowell, an assistant professor and agricultural law specialist with AgriLife Extension in College Station, told beef producers at the recent Texas A&M Beef Cattle Short Course, a written lease provides protection to both parties.

"Some of you may not think you need a written lease, but you will wish you had one if there is ever a problem," she said. "Additionally, in order to be legally enforceable, any real estate lease for a year or more has to be in writing."

Dowell advised to have limits in a lease. For example, if you lease property, Dowell said to be clear on what you are leasing.

"If the lease is for grazing and you want to reserve hunting rights, you need to have that spelled out," she said. "If the landowner wants to reserve the right to go in and inspect anything, then the landowner has to specify that in the agreement."

Additionally, a pasture lease should specify which tracts are included in the agreement.

"A legal description is good, but you may want to include additional information as well," she said. "For example, if you want to lease a specific pasture, but not the peach orchard in the back of the property, you need to spell that out."

The lease should also include provisions specifying who is responsible for maintenance items such as pasture shredding, fence repair, barn maintenance, and other items that could become issues.

For cattle producers leasing bulls, Dowell advised to include liability issues in the agreement. For example, if a bull is injured during the time that he is being leased, it is a good idea to have provisions in the agreement to handle that situation.

"One term to consider when leasing out a bull is whether it might be prudent to require a monetary deposit from the lessee that will be returned upon the bull's safe return at the end of the lease." Finally, Dowell said there should be inclusion of penalties and consequences for late payment in the lease agreement. "There should be a set penalty for late payment," she said. "These provisions can be drafted in a variety of ways. For example, you could have a set late fee of so much for each day, and once the fees add up to a certain amount, the lease will terminate."

Overall, Dowell said it's a good idea to have a lawyer review the agreement.

"Prior to taking it to your lawyer, you can do some things that will save you some money," she said. "For example, if you go online, there are sample leases that will help you draft an agreement. Once you have taken a first crack at it, then take it to a lawyer for review. The lawyer will not have to start from scratch and will likely bill less hours to simply review and revise."

USDA report: meat production up

Beef, pork, and lamb production across the United States is up according to a new report from the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA).

An article in Brownfield Ag News outlines the increases over the past year. Commercial meat production for July was up 5% over the 2012 number to 4.158 billion pounds.

Beef production and beef slaughter were both up 4% over the year while pork production was up 7% over the year. Pork slaughter was up 6%.

Lamb and mutton saw the highest jump in production numbers with 13%. Lamb and mutton slaughter increased 19%.

When Roosters Crowed

Muddy road

There were no paved or even graveled roads back in Muenster's early years. Some roads were clay and they would get real sticky. Cars could drive the sloppy roads with chains over the rear tires, but it wasn't as easy after the roads dried a little and they got very sticky. Then the mud would roll up in chunks a foot wide on each wheel. If one could keep up a good speed, the mud was thrown off, but on some occasions, even the Model T got stuck.

Country roads

Country roads were "graded" every few years. A big tractor, like an Oil Pull Hart Parr, pulled a grader. The ditches were cleared out and the grade rose. Without any gravel, this made a muddy mess when it rained, but in a year, the roads drained better and were much improved.

After rains, a farmer was hired to pull a road drag with his 4-horse team to fill in ruts and make the road smooth until the next rain. The farmer would have three to five miles to maintain. This method of roadwork continued until later years when the county took over all road maintenance and used crawler tractors to pull large graders.

Duesman's Hill

Duesman's Hill, located southwest of Muenster, has always been a sharp hill. The "dip" at the bottom used to be sharper, so sharp that a driver of a Model T car could not hit the bottom of the hill too fast before attempting to go up the other side. Some of the early cars did not have enough power to make the hill with a load of people. When the engine pulled down, the passengers jumped out and put rocks behind the wheels (emergency break). Everyone then pushed as the driver slipped his clutch and tried again. The driver would finally find the top of the hill and wait for his tired passengers to reload.

Most fuel tanks were under the front seat and the gasoline flowed by gravity to the carburetor. The tanks needed to be over half full for Duesman's Hill. If the car ran low going up the hill, with enough manpower, you would simply turn the car around and go up backwards.

Tires

The first car tires were clinchers and would roll off at a high speed on a curve. The last Model T's had the demountable rim, which allowed for a spare tire and rim. The bead of the clincher tire had very few wires in it and could be stretched enough to get the tire off the wheel. The outside of the bead pushed back (outward) under the V shaped place in the rim.

About 1922, tires contained more wire and would not stretch. They were mounted on the drop center rim. The rim was bolted to the wheel. The next wheels were also drop center, but all one piece for better balance. Back country roads caused lots of blowouts. People often drove to town or home on a steel rim.

TxDOT to convert certain FM roads to gravel

The Texas Department of Transportation (TxDOT) last week began its conversion of over 80 miles of Farm-to-Market roads in South and West Texas to gravel. According to the Texas Tribune, TxDOT is converting FM roads to gravel in Live Oak, Dimmit, La Salle, Zavala, Reeves, and Culberson counties due to funding concerns.

According to the article, the roads were chosen by TxDOT for the conversion, in part, because they're rural roads ineligible for federal funds.

TxDOT's announcement of the conversions was met with some criticism from lawmakers, farmers, and homeowners.

Texas Farm Bureau (TFB) sent a letter to Gov. Rick Perry urging him to intervene because FM roads and state highways are vital to rural communities.

Plainview still recovering after Cargill closure

Eight months after the Cargill plant in Plainview temporarily closed its doors due to the drought and a decreased number of cattle in the state, the city of Plainview is still working to recover.

According to WFAA, the city is working to attract businesses and jobs to the community that lost approximately 2,300 jobs when the Cargill plant went idle.

Plant officials helped their employees to find employment at other Cargill plants across the nation. About 180 employees transferred from Plainview to other Cargill locations following the plant's temporary closure.

According to WFAA, Plainview city leaders are discussing construction of a new business park and are working to recruit new companies to the region to help the city recover.
