

Bishop appointed for Diocese

His Holiness Pope Francis on Tuesday named Rev. Msgr. Michael F. Olson, S.T.D., M.A., a priest of the Diocese of Fort Worth and currently the rector of Irving-based Holy Trinity Seminary, the fourth bishop of the Catholic Diocese of Fort Worth.

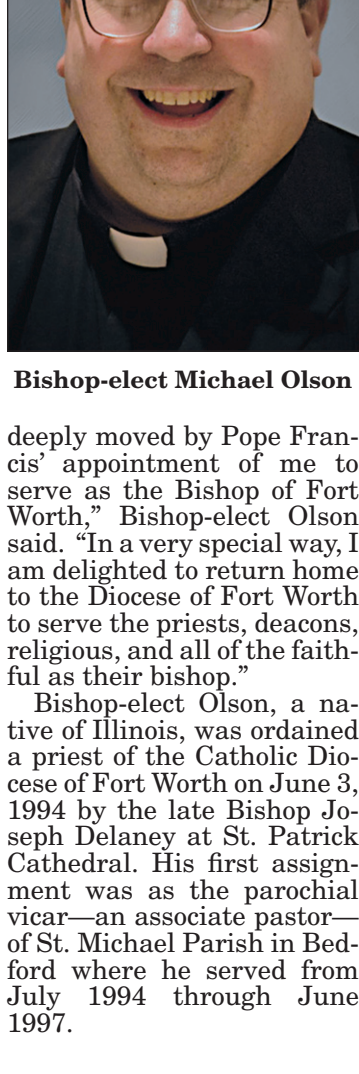

The announcement of the appointment was made by Archbishop Carlo Maria Viganò, the Apostolic Nuncio to the United States—the Vatican's ambassador to the U.S.

Bishop-elect Olson will be ordained bishop and installed as Bishop of Fort Worth in January. He is 47 years of age and will become the second youngest bishop in the United States to lead a diocese. The youngest bishop is fellow seminary classmate Bishop Oscar Cantú of the Diocese of Las Cruces, New Mexico. Both are graduates of St. Mary Seminary in Houston.

Bishop-elect Olson is the first priest of the Diocese of Fort Worth to be named a bishop. He will lead a fast-growing diocese of an estimated 710,000 Catholics in 90 parishes in the 28-county North Texas region.

He succeeds Bishop Kevin Vann who was appointed Bishop of Orange, California in September 2012 by Pope Benedict XVI.

Bishop-elect Olson has experience in parish service, seminarian formation, and diocesan administration. "I am very humbled and deeply moved by Pope Francis' appointment of me to serve as the Bishop of Fort Worth," Bishop-elect Olson said. "In a very special way, I am delighted to return home to the Diocese of Fort Worth to serve the priests, deacons, religious, and all of the faithful as their bishop."

Bishop-elect Olson, a native of Illinois, was ordained a priest of the Catholic Diocese of Fort Worth on June 3, 1994 by the late Bishop Joseph Delaney at St. Patrick Cathedral. His first assignment was as the parochial vicar—an associate pastor—of St. Michael Parish in Bedford where he served from July 1994 through June 1997.

Bishop-elect Olson was recipient of the Basselin Scholarship at the Catholic University of America where he earned his Bachelor and Master degrees in Philosophy in 1988 and 1989, respectively. In 1997, he entered St. Louis University Center for Health Care Ethics for doctoral studies and continued his studies there through June 2001. From July 2001 to May 2006, he served as formation adviser at St. Mary's Seminary in Houston. In July 2006, he became pastor of St. Peter the Apostle Parish in Fort Worth where he served until June 2008. Concurrently, he served as the Vicar General in the administration of Bishop Vann. In July 2008, he was assigned as the rector of Holy Trinity Seminary in Irving where he currently serves. While rector, Bishop-elect Olson earned his doctorate in Moral Theology at Academia Alfonsiana in Rome. On May 6, 2010, Pope Benedict XVI granted him the Papal Honor of Chaplain to His Holiness with the title of "monsignor." He has served as the community representative to the Houston-based University of Texas Medical Center's Ethics Committee for Research Involving Human Subjects.

Bishop-elect Olson was born on June 29, 1966 in Park Ridge, Illinois, the son of Ronald G. and Janice Fetzer Olson. He has three

MISD gets audit report

Janet Felderhoff
News Editor

Ted Neeb of Freeman, Shapard, and Story presented Muenster ISD's annual audit report at the Wednesday, Nov. 13 regular Board meeting. The District received a "Clean Opinion," which meant that no issues or discrepancies were found.

After reviewing the District's financial changes, Neeb stated, "You are where you want to be at this time. You need about three and a half to four months cash flow in your fund balance because you are operating on property taxes and they don't come in until the end of the year. So, you have to operate from June 30 all the way to December before those come in. So you have to have a fund balance of $1.6 to $1.7 to cover your cash flow until those (taxes) come in."

The Board unanimously (7-0) approved the audit report as presented.

Construction Management Agent Charlie Price updated the Board on construction projects. "It's looking great," he said. "The painting is just about completed and they are laying carpet in a lot of the classrooms. It's getting really close."

Although it had been cleared with the Muenster City Council to close a portion of Seventh Street during the tearing down of the junior high building, Price said that after speaking with City officials, he feels it will be possible to use only one lane of the street, come in, take a loop, and go back out. He said they would work around the peak times for student traffic, using a flagman, when necessary, for safety.

Price described plans for the asbestos abatement of the old ag building and junior high. Due to conflicting reports on the District's asbestos situation, Price was allowed to hire an environmentalist consultant, Gary Hackney of Bowie. "I think that was money well spent because there have been a lot of things uncovered that even those two reports didn't have," Price remarked. "Had we not uncovered it, when we awarded the contract the abatement contractor would have and we would have been at their mercy."

Four bids were submitted for the asbestos abatement. The budget was for $75,000. The high bid was for $211,000. North Star Specialty bid $68,500. The other two bids were $133,369 and $166,560. The consultant had worked with all the companies. The bid was checked to be sure everything was included in the low bid and it was. The Board then voted 7-0 to approve the low bid from North Star Specialties. The bid covers the old elementary, junior high, old cafeteria, and afterwards, the campus should be asbestos free.

Bids on blinds were then discussed. The bid for the elementary blinds of $2,510 was approved 7-0.

Nathan Vajdos of OwnEnergy spoke to the Board about a proposed community scale wind farm, utility scale in size, for the area north of Muenster, all with Muenster ISD's area. "We develop them with a local partner. Our local partner is actually from the Dallas-Fort Worth area and has connections with Muenster," Vajdos.

According to Vajdos, there are two test towers installed on the project. One is on the western edge of the project near Wayne Klement's property north of CR 424 and the second test tower has recently been installed on Babe Schilling's property on the eastern edge of the project.

Vajdos said they were requesting that the Board consider the project for eventual Chapter 313 Agreement.

Dan Casey of Moak and Casey, the group that represented the District for the first wind farm project, explained that under the law at the time of the first project, the District received 40% payment in lieu of taxes. The State Legislature has since enacted new regulations that limit school district benefits. It is now $100 per ADA per year for 14 years. "We are not looking at anything near the benefit from it," he noted.

The Board would not take action on this project until the Spring because it must first be studied by the State Comptroller who then would make a recommendation to the Board.

Casey answered numerous questions from the Board.

The Board approved accepting Muenster Wind

Charlotte celebrates 50 years of dance instructing

Janet Felderhoff
News Editor

Five, six, seven, eight... and shuffle off to buffalo, maxi ford, flap ball change, wing and a toe chants dance instructor and Muenster native Charlotte Baron-Jones as she instructs students. Teaching dance steps to young dancers has been a way of life for Charlotte for the past 50 years.

"I have always loved the entertainment field. My first singing engagement was on radio station KGAF in Gainesville at the age of three. I continued taking voice and piano lessons from the nuns in Muenster (Sr. Dolores and Sr. Leonardo) and at the age of eight joined Red Gordon's band traveling all over Cooke County raising money for the March of Dimes. When a dance teacher from Gainesville started giving dance classes in the basement of Sacred Heart School, I started taking dance. I was 13 years of age and knew immediately that dance was going to be my love." And that new passion has remained with Charlotte to this day.

Charlotte's dance instructor was Joyce LiCausi who owned Children's Professional Arts School of Dancing in Gainesville. LiCausi also taught dance classes on Saturdays in Muenster. When Charlotte graduated from high school, LiCausi gave her the Muenster classes to teach. Charlotte opened Charlotte's School of Dance in September 1963. She enrolled in Cooke County Junior College, taught dance classes in Gainesville for Ms. Joyce during the week, and taught her own Muenster classes on Saturdays in the basement of Sacred Heart School and at times in the "Tin University," the former high school.

Classes taught by Miss Charlotte, as her students affectionately call her, included ballet, tap, jazz, and ballroom. That first year, she had eight students: Elaine Otto Bruns, Kimberly and Tracey Klement, Cheryl Ollo Felderhoff, Danny Endres, Marlene Herr Fisher, Donna Endres Schmitt, and Donna Pedigo from Saint Jo. Her first recital took place in May 1964 in the Muenster High School auditorium. There were other dancers in the recital from Ms.

Joyce's studio in Gainesville. Charlotte noted, "After that first year, I had a lot more students. I also taught ballroom to a lot of Muenster junior high students, both boys and girls, on Saturday evenings in the basement. Classes were $1 for an hour of instruction; and I started a new class every six weeks."

The year 1964 proved to be a very memorable one for Charlotte. She proudly shared that she was crowned Miss Muenster that year. In its first year of organization, the Muenster Jaycees sponsored the Miss Muenster Pageant as a part of the Miss America Pageant. "I went on and participated in the Miss Texas Pageant held in Fort Worth. This was the first and only time Miss Muenster participated in the Miss Texas Pageant. It was quite an honor for me to represent Muenster, and, of course, my talent was dancing," remarked Charlotte.

Ms. Joyce retired in 1965, so Charlotte began Charlotte's School of Dance in Gainesville. She operated that business until 1973 when she relocated to Georgia where she opened Charlotte's School of Dance in Winder, Georgia.

Charlotte lives in Winder with her husband Carl. Her daughter, Marie, whom she adopted at the age of three, is co-director of their studios. They have studios in Winder and Loganville, Georgia (opened in 1985).

"We have received many awards through the years, and twice our dancers have participated in the Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade in New York City," noted Charlotte.

Asked what is her philosophy of teaching dance, Charlotte said, "A good teacher knows her subject matter and knows how to teach. I was always told that 'a good dancer does not necessarily make the best teacher,' and 'a good teacher does not necessarily make the best dancer.' A good teacher should have a lot of patience and love children. I instill in my students an appreciation for dance and a work ethic to last a lifetime. Dancing is a by-product of what we really teach. What we really teach is discipline, self esteem, pride, confidence, respect, and compassion; qualities that carry on sisters, Mary Elizabeth Rogers, Patricia Tucker, and Elizabeth Schweitzer. He was reared in Des Plaines, Illinois where his family was a member of St. Mary Parish. He received his high school diploma from Quigley Preparatory Seminary North in 1984 and became a seminarian the same year for the Archdiocese of Chicago. When Bishop-elect Olson's family moved to Fort Worth as part of the corporate relocation of GTE/DC, seminarian Olson transferred to the Catholic Diocese of Fort Worth.

The new bishop will be ordained and installed Wednesday, Jan. 29 at a 2 p.m. Mass in the Fort Worth Convention Center. Bishop-elect Olson will be ordained by Archbishop Gustavo Garcia-Siller. Archbishop Viganò, representing His Holiness Pope Francis, will participate in the ordination.

Farm, LLS's application for an Appraised Value Limitation on Qualified Property and authorized the superintendent to review it for completeness and submit to the Comptroller. The vote was 5-0-2 with Neil Flusche and Doug Hermes abstaining. The vote to accept or decline would come later if it receives the Comptroller's recommendation.

The Board had no objection to Jerry Fleitman being appointed to the Cooke County Appraisal District Board of Directors.

Election results from the Nov. 5 Chapter 41 election were canvassed by the Board and officially certified as for 316 and against 124. The approval of the Board was unanimous.

Recognition was given to Cross Country Coach Lynn Cook and high school cross country runner Trey Anderle by the Board. Anderle qualified at District to run at the Regional Meet. At Regional he finished in the low 50s out of about 175 runners. Coach Cook said Anderle represented Muenster very well and ran his best time of the year despite an earlier injury to his foot. Superintendent Richerson added that he watched Trey run that day. There were many good runners and he did very well, and the school appreciates his efforts.

In other business, the Board of Trustees:

- Approved bids for items in the Elementary building at $10,469.41 for bulletin boards, furniture for the Science classroom, speech room, and reading room, and filing cabinets, all to be purchased from the construction fund budget.
- Heard delinquent taxes paid in October totaled $4,353.25.

through adulthood."

Asked what it is that keeps her going as a dance teacher, Charlotte responded, "My love for children and my love for dance and the dancing profession. Being a dance educator has given me an opportunity to teach thousands of children and it is amazing how big an impact I have made on their lives."

Charlotte noted that through the years, there have been many professional dance teachers who were a great inspiration to her. One of those was her first dance teacher Ms. Joyce who was her mentor and idol at an early age.

Some of Charlotte's students have gone on to pursue dancing related careers. She said, "I have had one student to dance on Broadway and many students have pursued a dance career in college, majoring in dance and going on to teach dance at the high school level. I also have students who have danced with me for over 20 years and are still dancing."

This past summer, Charlotte and her daughter Marie Barron-Plymail put on a Golden Jubilee production celebrating 50 years of dance for Charlotte's School of Dance. The theme centered around the best of the best dances which were performed throughout the many recitals presented over the past half century.

The July 17 issue of the Barrow Journal featured Charlotte and her School of Dance. In that article, she stated that she has no plans to retire any time soon. Other newspaper articles featured the Golden Jubilee production.

"Fifty years ago when I started Charlotte's School of Dance in Muenster, things were simple. Dancing has gotten much more difficult and challenging. A teacher has to constantly learn, as dancing involves a lot more and much more is required of a dancer," stated Charlotte.

Both Charlotte and her daughter are members of Dance Educators of America, a testing organization for dance teachers.

Charlotte concluded, "I was quite fortunate to have grown up in Muenster and to have had great parents. My parents, the late Lou and Regina Wolf, instilled in me great work ethics and allowed me to follow my dreams. I also feel very blessed that I have been able to do what I love all these years!"

Thelma Trubenbach
1914 - 2013

Mass of Christian Burial for Thelma Margaret Trubenbach, age 99 of Muenster, was held at 10 a.m. on Monday, Nov. 18. Rosary/vigil was held at 6 p.m. on Sunday. All services were at Sacred Heart Catholic Church in Muenster. Burial was in Sacred Heart Cemetery. Services were officiated by Rev. Ken Robinson and directed by McCoy Funeral Home of Muenster.

Mrs. Trubenbach died Friday morning, Nov. 15, 2013 in her home.

Born Aug. 4, 1914 in Muenster, Thelma was one of the four daughters of Conrad and Erna Huchton Fette. She was born in Muenster and lived there all her life. She attended Sacred Heart through the 10th grade and graduated from Our Lady of Victory in Fort Worth.

Thelma married Tony Trubenbach on Oct. 6, 1936 in Sacred Heart Catholic Church. A lifetime member of Sacred Heart, Thelma was also a long-time member of Catholic Daughters.

Thelma and Tony enjoyed their life together. They liked nature in general, taking drives in the country, viewing the wildflowers and the countryside to see the baby calves. They loved traveling, for enjoyment as well as for business. Thelma loved baking, sewing, and family and friends. She and Tony were involved in farming and ranching. They were owners of Tony's Seed and Feed for many years. There, she busied herself as bookkeeper.

Thelma and Tony celebrated their 77th wedding anniversary on Oct. 6, 2013.

She is survived by her husband Tony, sister Agnes Stormer, and several nieces, nephews, cousins, and friends.

She was preceded in death by her parents, and sisters Della Hartman, Sr. Annette Fette, and Isabell Fette.

A family Rosary was led by Gloria Becker and Ella Mae Rohmer on the day of the funeral.

Assisting during Mass were altar servers Thomas Hennigan, Steve Hennigan, and Grant Hartman. The First Reading was given by Liz Hartman. Cindy Stormer gave the Second Reading. Linda Bradshaw read the Prayers of the Faithful. Carrying the Offertory gifts to the altar were Lacey Trubenbach, River Stewart, Lane Trubenbach, Ty Trubenbach.

Eucharistic ministers were Terri Luke, Doris Klement, Toni Deweber, Ammie Hennigan, Pat Wimmer, Della Hellman, Ricky Hennigan, and Kathy Vogel.

Music ministers were Pat Hennigan, Laurie Valliere, Jacqueline Bauer, Joe Hartman, Ashley Hartman, and Christy Hesse. Songs included "Softly and Tenderly," "Amazing Grace," "Sanctuary," "How Great Thou Art," "Songs of the Angels," and "On Eagle's Wings." Christy Hesse sang "Ave Maria" for meditation.

Programs were handed out at church by Kathy Hartman, Karen Partridge, Mary Lee Hennigan, and Gwen Trubenbach.

The eulogy was given by Levi Trubenbach, who said, "Thelma Margaret Fette was born in the home of parents Conrad and Erna Huchton Fette on Aug. 4, 1914. She was raised south of Muenster in a home built by her father, where the family lived and worked together on their farms and ranches.

"Thelma was preceded in death by sisters Sr. Antoinette Fette, Della Fette Hartman, and Isabelle Fette. She is survived by her husband Tony, sister Agnes Fette Stormer, many nieces, nephews, and cousins, and countless friends.

"After attending school through the 10th grade at Muenster Sacred Heart, Thelma completed grades 11 and 12 at Our Lady of Victory Catholic Academy in Fort Worth.

"Every morning before grade school, Thelma and her sisters would all climb on their childhood horse - a mare named Bailey - and begin the four-mile ride to town.

"One of Thelma's favorite stories took place at the school horse barn. She would often laugh as she talked about all the times she would catch Bailey robbing oats from another horse - a horse ridden by a young boy named Tony Trubenbach. Once Tony was able to get over the oat raids, he was eventually able to persuade Thelma to accompany him on a date. Thelma's father, known as 'Coonie,' was less than pleased when Tony came to pick her up for the first time on his Harley motorcycle.

"Nevertheless, the two became best friends, and were married at 8 a.m., Tuesday, Oct. 6, 1936, the day after Tony's 21st birthday. Tony and Thelma worked side-by-side as they took care of their own farming and ranching operations. In 1950, they bought some property in town where they built a home, along with a barn and a set of pens to hold their milk cow and a few good horses.

"In 1955, Tony and Thelma opened a feed store in town, Tony's Seed and Feed. Thelma could often be found in the store, where she spent a little time taking care of bookwork, but dedicated a large portion of her time to socializing with the customers. Together, they dedicated themselves to life in agriculture, creating legacies in both of their businesses that are still based on work ethic, honesty, and loyalty.

Thelma Trubenbach

"Thelma will forever be known as a kindhearted woman, who always had something witty to say. She enjoyed spending her evenings on the back porch, usually smiling at a passel of kids playing baseball in the back lot. Although she may be best known for her 'cold cookies,' Thelma had a passion for animals, and spending time outdoors. In fact, on her 90th birthday, she took a short ride on 'Dollar,' one of the ranch's geldings. She could often be found at the shipping pens, with coffee in hand, a smile on her face, and a joke on her tongue. Among many other things, she loved wildflowers in the spring and baby calves in the fall.

"But, perhaps Thelma's most notable legacy is her marriage to Tony. Just over a month ago, the couple celebrated their 77th wedding anniversary; 77 years of living together, and not a single quarrel arisen; 77 years of marriage, and he was there, holding her hand, as she went to be with the Lord.

"I would like to end with a verse from Mark, chapter 10. Jesus said, 'But at the beginning of creation God made them male and female. For this reason a man will leave his father and mother and be united to his wife, and the two will become one flesh. So they are no longer two, but one. Therefore, what God has joined together, let man not separate.'

"People have often asked Tony and Thelma, 'How do you make a marriage work for 77 years?' Their never-failing response: 'You just have to pick the right one the first time.'

Kay Hickey read the poem Should You Go First.

At the cemetery, Ashley Hartman sang "Peace in the Valley."

Pallbearers were Don Hartman, Wayne Trubenbach, Tom Hartman, Loyd Trubenbach, Roy Hartman, and Mike Trubenbach. Honorary pallbearers were Joe Hellman, Larry Hennigan, Jimmy Jack Biffle, and Spunky Adams.

The family requests memorials be made to Cal Farley's Boys Ranch, P.O. Box 1890, Amarillo, TX 79174.

Klement weds Strom in ceremony by Sea of Abaco

Mr. and Mrs. Brandon Gene Strom
... 'nee Courtney Joe Klement ...

Miss Courtney Joe Klement and Mr. Brandon Gene Strom were united in marriage on June 22, 2013 at five o'clock in the evening at Treasure Sands Club in Treasure Cay, Abaco Bahamas.

The bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Karl and Kim Klement, hosted an intimate five-day celebratory affair honoring the couple where local fare and tradition were infused into the events, giving guests a full Bahamian experience. Beginning on Wednesday before the ceremony, an island-themed dinner of barbeque and peas'n'rice were served at The Burner restaurant. On Thursday, all guests were greeted to a Welcome Reception at Coco Beach Bar. The menu was pizza with a specialty on the side of fresh conch salad made by Kirk "The Conch Man." With the Sea of Abaco as the backdrop, guests enjoyed a beach bonfire and special performance from a local Junkanoo marching band. The Junkanoo parade lasted for a half hour, engaging guests in the traditional dance. The rehearsal dinner on Friday was hosted by the groom. Dinner was served at The Spinnaker restaurant with a menu consisting of minced lobster and baked chicken along with various starters, sides, and desserts.

On Saturday, the ceremony was officiated by Rev. Stafford Symonette and was held beachside under a covered canopy. The bride was escorted down the aisle by her father to the traditional "Wedding March in C Major" played by violinist Jennifer Hudson. Later, Mrs. Hudson played "Ave Maria" during the unity sand custom.

Kody Klement, brother of the bride, and Ryan Strom, brother of the groom, served as witnesses for the couple.

The bride's parents hosted a cocktail hour and seated dinner reception at Treasure Sands Club following the ceremony. The dinner was a six course meal prepared by Chef Antonio Huyler which consisted of citrus poached shrimp, mushroom bisque, garden salad, mango sorbet intermezzo, hog fish, grass-fed Argentinian filet with chocolate mousse and a three-tiered, Italian, buttercream wedding cake for dessert.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Karl Klement of Decatur. She is the granddaughter of Mrs. Mildred Tredenick of Gainesville and the late Mr. Robert Tredenick and Mrs. Edna Tredenick of Muenster and the late Mr. Martin Klement. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan and Athena Strom of Lake Dallas. He is the grandson of Mrs. Jimmie Hammond of Dallas and the late Mr. Gene Hammond and the late Mr. and Mrs. Ervin and Myra Strom.

Given in marriage by her parents, the bride wore an ivory silk organza Jim Helm gown. The gown featured a sleeveless, alencon lace bodice with a v-neckline and open back and was accompanied by a blusher. The bride carried a hand-tied bouquet of calla-lilies, while the groom wore a calla-lily boutonniere. The bride wore an antique diamond set in a rose gold band custom designed by the groom. The groom wore a family heirloom ring which belonged to his late grandfather Gene Hammond.

A fireworks display was held immediately following the dinner. The five and a half minute fireworks show was choreographed to Elton John's "Don't Let the Sun Go Down on Me." The bride and groom danced to Adele's cover of "The Cure's 'Lovesong.'" The father of the bride and the bride danced to "What a Wonderful World" by Louis Armstrong.

Sunday, guests were ferried to a neighboring island, Guana Cay, for a day of fun at Nipper's Bar and Grill.

The bride is a graduate of Decatur High School in Decatur. She graduated from Southern Methodist University in Dallas with a Bachelor of Business Administration in Finance and a minor in Psychology. The groom is a graduate of Liberty Christian in Argyle. He graduated from the University of North Texas with a Bachelor of Science in Economics.

Following their week-long honeymoon in St. Kitts and Nevis, the bride and groom reside in Fort Worth.

Open Haus has great turnout

Smiles by German Design held their open haus on Saturday, Nov. 16. The event catered around 200 people. All were welcomed by "Heidi," a porcelain doll nestled in the oak tree overlooking the coffee bar.

Kolaches, pastries, and decorated cookies baked by Bayer's Kolonialwaren were served in the reception room.

Staff members greeted, visited, and helped with tours of the dental office. The heat/massage chair in room #4 was a highlight for many. Prosthodontist Dr. Dana Fuhrmann demonstrated the new 3-D Sirona machine.

Present to meet and greet the people were Dr. Jacob, orthodontist, Dr. Patel, endodontist, Dr. Ezzo, periodontist, Dr. Draper, oral surgeon, and Dr. Schilling, prosthodontist.

Beer steins, cuckoo clocks, and two paintings depicting Edinburgh and Rothenburg, Germany decorate the counter spaces and walls of the new office.

As the crowd exited the west side of the building, a lunch of German sausage and kraut, chicken peppers, and drinks awaited them. One hundred apple, apricot, and cherry strudels from Bayer's Kolonialwaren were given away as departing gifts.

A harvest bounce house, balloon artist, and face painter helped entertain the many children attending the event.

Dale and Dr. Elaine Schilling opened their upstairs apartment for a sneak preview of what is to come in the near future - "Schillinghaus."

Door prizes winners for the Smiles by German Design Open Haus were: Paul Liscom, Urban Endres, Timothy Flusche, Roy and Shannon Bryan, Dan Hamric, Don and Barbara Rohmer, Dale and Dolores Hofbauer, Larry and Mary Lee Hennigan, and Cecilia Wimmer.

Georgia, Suessmann exchange vows in Dallas

Kristen Mary Georgia and Paul Albert Patrick Suessmann, both of Dallas, were united in Holy Matrimony on Saturday, April 20 at 2 p.m. at Christ the King Catholic Church of Dallas.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Georgia of Dallas are parents of the bride. Mrs. Helen Suessmann of Dallas and the late Mr. Werner Suessmann are parents of the groom.

The bride's grandparents are the late Mr. and Mrs. Meinrad Hesse, and Mrs. Justine Georgia of Green Bay, WI and the late Mr. Carmon Georgia. The groom's grandparents are the late Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Hogan, and the late Mr. and Mrs. Albert Suessmann.

Candelabra with white candles flanked the altar and large, gold containers of white peace lily plants were placed high up behind the main altar. Every other pew was tied with large, white satin bows and long streamers made by the bride's mother.

Trumpet, organ, and flute music was performed by the music ministry of Christ the King Church. Matt Glass was soloist and cantor. Selections were "Air from Suite No. 3 in D Major," "Panis Angelicus," "Largo from The Four Seasons," "Le Rejoissance," "Canon in D Major," "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring," "Hornpipe from Water Music," "Allegro," "I Danced in the Morning," "Anthem," "Notre Dame, Our Mother," "Hail Mary, Gentle Woman," "Joyful, Joyful, We Adore Thee," and "Allegro from The Four Seasons."

Joanna Chabot, Farmers Branch, was matron of honor, bride's high school friend. Joshua Funk, Denver, CO, was best man, groom's childhood friend.

Bridesmaids were Rebecca Lunn Wicklein, San Jose, CA, bride's friend, Laura Browning, Chicago, IL, bride's friend and daughter of former Muensterite Janice Vogel Browning, and Stacy Horan, Chicago, IL, bride's friend.

Groomsmen were Will Buchanan, Arlington, groom's friend, and bride's brothers William Georgia, Washington, D.C. and Grant Georgia, Houston.

Ushers were Nathan Georgia, De Pere, WI, bride's cousin, Conor McKeogh and Cian McKeogh, Dublin, Ireland, groom's twin cousins, and Sebastian Wicklein, San Jose, CA, couple's friend.

Flower girls were Erin Hesse, Muenster, bride's cousin, Justine Ostransky and Georgia Ostransky, bride's cousins, Fort Worth, Merrilee Guyotte, bride's friend, Dallas, Ruby Chabot and Lola Chabot, Farmers Branch, bride's friends, and Christine Baumgartner, Rhome, bride's cousin.

Escorted by her father, the bride's gown was designed with a fit and flare silhouette, the long sleeves were sheer with lace applique ending in tiny covered buttons and pointed at the wrists. The white satin gown had an overlay of soft net and re-embroidered lace with metallic accents and crystal beading. The back had a V-shape neckline with tiny, covered buttons down the back flowing into a semi-cathedral train. She wore blue topaz earrings, engagement gift from her parents. She also wore an amethyst ring, given by her Mom to her Grandma Ida in 1973, and then given to her in 2003 after her grandma died in 2001. Friend of the groom, Diane Funk, gave her a handkerchief to carry and a sixpence to wear in her turquoise, satin wedding pumps. Both were from Diane's homeland of Wales. She wore a garter of white lace, aqua, and white satin ribbons made by her Aunt Suzanne Williams of Fort Worth.

Kristen carried a hand-tied white bouquet of hydrangeas, enchantment lilies, spider lilies, carnations, stock, bells of Ireland with spikey purple iimonium/misty. She wore three white dendrobium orchids in her hair.

The matron of honor and bridesmaids wore floor-length, satin dresses in pool blue. The ruffled waists were accented with rhinestone brooches, gifts from the bride. They carried bouquets of white limonium, white stock, and aqua-tipped white mini carnations tied with streamers of turquoise sheer organza.

The flower girls were in long, white dresses with high-waisted bodices and five layers of tulle netting fabric. They were tied with turquoise organza sashes in the back. They walked with bare feet and turquoise, polished pedicures. Their hair held two white dendrobium blossoms. They wore rhinestone pendants on silver chains, gifts from the bride. Each carried long-stemmed, white bachelor buttons tied with aqua satin streamers.

The groom, groomsmen, and ushers wore traditional black tuxedos with the groom wearing a white bowtie while the best man, groomsmen, and bride's father wore black bowties. The ushers wore aqua neckties.

The groom's mother, escorted by her nephews to light the groom's Unity candle, chose a tea-length dress in deep, sea blue. She wore a matching fascinator hat. Her corsage was white dendrobium orchids and bells of Ireland.

The bride's mother, escort-

ed by her sons to light the bride's Unity candle, wore a turquoise blue, floor-length, sequined dress with scalloped edging at the neckline, wrists, and sweeping hemline. She carried one long-stemmed enchantment lily.

Giftbearers were Carol and Bryce Chapman, Corinth, bride's cousins (standing in for Godparents Janis and Richard Hesse, not there due to illness) and Nuala and David McKeogh, Dublin, Ireland, groom's Godparents.

Hostesses were Kendy Reed, Irving, bride's cousin, and Natalie Suessmann, Munich, Germany, groom's niece.

RECEPTION

The reception continued at CityPlace, Dallas, on the Loft, 42nd floor overlooking the city. Guests signed a turquoise wedding poster, with blank, fish-shaped spaces, to be later framed by the couple. The meal was prepared by Andrew Ornsby Catering. The white, clothed tabletops with aqua blue napkins were centered with sand-filled, glass cylinders holding lighted tea lights surrounded by containers of aqua blue tipped hydrangeas.

The four-tier wedding cake had layers of carrot, strawberry cream, Italian cream, and chocolate hazelnut flavors with ocean blue frosting. Atop the cake stood a penguin bride and groom. The groom's cake was chocolate covered with chocolate and cream frosting and chocolate-covered strawberries.

The couple sipped their champagne toast from special crystal flutes that Kristen found in Prague, Czech Republic. A turquoise decorative piece with six sequined fish hung from the ceiling over the wedding cakes.

Music for the evening, from the '50s to the present, was provided by Jordan Bell. The couple selected Johnny Cash's "Rose of My Heart" for their first dance.

The rehearsal dinner was held at Maggiano's Italy, Dallas, and was hosted by the groom's mother the evening before.

Kristen is a graduate of Ursuline Academy, Dallas, the University of Notre Dame with a Science/Business degree, and an Executive Masters degree in Business from the University of Texas, Austin. She is a commercial advisor with GE Healthcare.

Paul graduated from Cistercian Preparatory, Irving, the University of Texas, Austin with a Solar Physics degree, and a Masters degree in Physics and Astronomy from Alabama A&M University, Huntsville, AL. He is a Physics and Astronomy instructor with the Collin County Community College

Tigers take tumble

The Sacred Heart Tigers, District Runner-up, met the Colleyville Covenant Cougars last Friday night at Leopard Stadium in Gainesville for the Bi-District round of TAPPS Division III playoffs.

The loss of two fumbled balls, two interceptions, and too many costly penalties plagued the Tigers in a tough 21-14 defeat. Sacred Heart had several big breaks but couldn't benefit from the Cougars' mistakes.

"We had too many mistakes the 1st half and put ourselves in a hole," noted Coach Dale Schilling. "We came out playing a good 3rd quarter, but again made mental mistakes in the 4th. I have to credit Covenant for making the plays when they had to."

The Tiger defense, led by Hayden Schilling, Garrett Wheeler, Isac Walterscheid, and Tyler Spruill, forced the Cougars to punt after three plays. On their first snap of the game, Sacred Heart fumbled the ball on their own 25. Covenant moved to the 2 yard line where the drive ended.

The Tigers moved out to the 21, but soon ran out of downs and punted. Eight plays later, the Cougars crossed into the end zone, but a flag called the play back. The next play found the Cougars crossing the goal line for a touchdown. The PAT made the score 7-0 with 1:06 on the clock.

Sacred Heart carried the ball into the 2nd quarter, but not into Cougar territory, punting on 4th and 13.

From their 16 yard line, it took Covenant only four plays to again find the end zone. But again a flag cancelled the play and the Tiger defense held, forcing a punt.

The next play was another Tiger fumble, giving the Cougars the ball 21 yards from paydirt. Two plays later, 14-0.

The Tiger offense struggled, punting after three plays. A Cougar fumble covered by Wheeler and a pass interference flag the next play placed the Tiger ball near midfield. But three unsuccessful plays forced a Tiger punt. The Cougars worked the 2 minute clock, getting in a dozen plays before the halftime break.

Sacred Heart's offense opened the 2nd half, gaining 6 and punting. An interception by Schilling returned the ball to the Tigers on the Cougar 29 yard line. Schilling gained 7, with a flag giving Sacred Heart a 1st down on the 17 yard line. A Brady Endres pass to Walterscheid put the Tigers on the board. Kason Reeves booted the extra point for a 14-7 score with 8:13 on the clock.

The Cougars were allowed only three plays and punted.

From their own 8 yard line, Sacred Heart got in 16 plays before the start of the final period. Short runs by Walterscheid, Schilling, Spruill, Endres, Metzler, and Will Boyd, and Endres passes to Metzler and Walterscheid took the Tigers to the 1 yard line. A quarterback keeper by Endres with 11:57 on the clock was good for 6 points. Reeves' extra point kick tied the game 14-14 to start the 4th quarter.

Grant Springer, Schilling, Walterscheid, and Spruill got in tackles, forcing the Cougars to punt. The Tiger offense got to the 3 yard line, but a flag followed by a sack returned the ball to Covenant near midfield.

The Cougars threatened the Tigers' goal. Unable to get any further than the 17, Covenant attempted a field goal. But a roughing the kicker flag moved the ball to the 4. The next play, Covenant took a 21-14 lead with 5:28 remaining in the game.

Sacred Heart got in one play before throwing an interception. A Cougar good run to the 12 yard line ended with Aaron Davis covering a loose ball. A face mask flag helped move the Tigers to midfield. Covenant picked off another Tiger pass, but a roughing the passer flag kept the ball in Sacred Heart's control. Two plays later, the Cougars intercepted another Tiger pass. Covenant's offense then ran the last 2 1/2 minutes off the clock to take the win.

Play-off results

In the Bi-District round of the Texas High School playoffs last week, Cooke County had six teams advancing. After Friday night, we're down to three.

Muenster and Lindsay, both champions of their district, received a bye and didn't play, advancing to the Area round this week. The Gainesville Leopards squeezed past Celina last week 55-49, while the Sacred Heart Tigers lost to Colleyville Covenant 21-14, the Era Hornets fell to Hamlin 47-22, and the Valley View Eagles came up short 22-20 against Simms-Bowie.

Hess signs with Cameron University

Erin Hess, senior at Muenster High School, signed her National Letter of Intent Nov. 15 to play golf for Cameron University in Lawton, Oklahoma, beginning in the fall of 2014. Cameron University is under NCAA Division II, and a member of the Lone Star Conference. Pictured are her parents, Brian and Danna Hess, little sister Halle, Athletic Director Brady Carney, and former coach Jason Atcheson.

Hornets to face Wildcats in playoff contest Friday night

The undefeated District Champion Muenster Hornets will begin playoff action this Friday night against the District Runner-up, Bi-District Champion Wink Wildcats. After a bye through Bi-District, the 10-0 Hornets will travel to Tuscola, south of Abilene, to tangle with the 8-3 'Cats.

Of Wink's three losses, two come from District opponent undefeated Iraan, losing only by a touchdown.

"Wink has a good team. They like to throw the ball. We'll have to do a good job on pass defense," noted Coach Brady Carney. "Offensively we need to establish a good running game so we can open up our passing game."

Wink defeated Eldorado 36-13 in last week's Bi-District match.

The Muenster vs Wink contest will be held at Jim Need High School Stadium in Tuscola. Game time is 7:30 p.m. Muenster will be the home team. Admission is $5 for adults, $3 for students.

Last weekend, the Tigerettes brought home the Bethesda Tip-Off Classic Tournament Championship, winning all three games for a winning three-game score of 162-70. Named to the BCS Tip-Off Classic All-Tournament Team were Peyton Reiter as Most Valuable Player, and Karleigh Reeves and Bailey Walterscheid as All-Tournament.

Action began Thursday with a one-sided 57-17 win over Covenant JV. Peyton Reiter and Alane Bartush were high point makers with 13 and 10 points. Katie Davidson scored 8, Bailey Walterscheid and Michelle Zimmerman each added 7, with Kylie Hess and Kinzie Hess both getting 6. Zimmerman also had 17 rebounds.

The Tigerettes improved to 5-2 Tuesday night with a big 65-34 win over Colleyville Covenant.

"This was a nice win. We had a great 2nd period," noted Coach Jon.

Reiter was high scorer with 19 points. Walterscheid added 16 and Ky. Hess 14. Reeves and Bartush each scored 5, with Zimmerman, Fleitman, and Ki. Hess getting 2 apiece.

Lady Hornets split victories

The Muenster Lady Hornets met a very physical and athletic Paradise team last week, falling 62-48.

"We didn't make enough shots down the stretch," commented Coach Griffin Fields. "This was a good game for us to see where we are at in our development as a team."

Kristen Reiter led the scoring with 20 points. Hannah Bayer added 7, Allie Walterscheid and Katie Pagel 5 each, Sydney Huchton and Kassie Dangelmayr 3 apiece, 2 each by Claire Schneider and Morgan Flusche, and Kendi Bayer 1.

There were 77 free shots taken between the two teams. "Our kids are fairly inexperienced at the varsity level. Every night, we throw them in the fire and I feel we are getting better with every game," Coach Fields concluded.

"We took a step back tonight I thought," noted Coach Fields. "We came out flat and didn't play with much energy. We found enough to win the game." Muenster brought home a 44-29 victory.

"Our inexperience didn't handled our first road game very well, but it is to be expected at times with a young team. We just need to take three steps forward next time out," the Coach added.

Scoring was spread out among nine Muenster players, with Hannah Bayer leading with 12. Kristen Reiter added 8, Mady Burnett 7, Kendi Bayer and Katie Pagel 5 each, Allie Walterscheid 3, Sydney Huchton 2, and a free throw point each by Morgan Flusche and Abby Pagel.

Agricultural market summary

For the week ending Nov. 16, Texas auctions reported feeder cattle prices were mostly steady with a few as much as $4 higher per hundred-weight (cwt), but some as much as $6 lower. Texas direct feeder cattle sales were mostly steady. Tight cattle supplies and grain prices, which were much lower than a year ago, continued to support the market. Fed cattle cash prices were $1 per cwt higher compared to the previous week. Wholesale beef values were lower. Weekly beef export sales totaled 11,800 metric tons, well above the prior four-week average. For the year, sales are running 16 percent below last year's pace. Cotton prices were lower due to the advancing harvest and concerns that China will soon begin selling cotton from its massive reserves. Cotton export sales for the week were 472,700 bales, the highest weekly total since June 2012 and more than three times higher than the weekly average needed to meet USDA projections for the marketing year. Grain sorghum prices were higher, but corn was lower, as the record-large U.S. crop continues to weigh on the market. Prices came under additional pressure at the end of the week after the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) announced a proposal to lower the renewable fuel standard for 2015, which could reduce the amount of corn needed for ethanol production. Weekly corn export sales totaled in the 1.2 million metric tons, higher than expected and about four times higher than the weekly average needed to meet USDA projections for the marketing year. Wheat prices were lower due to large world supplies, continued favorable weather in the U.S. and lower than expected weekly export sales. Futures markets were higher for feeder cattle, fed cattle, cotton and lumber, but lower for corn and wheat. Very little rain fell statewide last week with totals of one-quarter inch or less in scattered locations. More details on agricultural weather and crop conditions are available in the weekly USDA NASS "Texas Crop Progress and Condition" report at www.texasagriculture.gov/Home/ProductionAgriculture/MarketNews.aspx

Antarctic ice sets new record

Amid ongoing warnings about the perils of global warming and rising sea levels comes the news that the extent of sea ice surrounding Antarctica set a new record in September — for the second year in a row.

On Sept. 22, sea ice extended over 7.51 million square miles of the Southern Ocean, the largest extent in the satellite record, NASA reported. The previous record, set in September 2012, was 7.50 million square miles.

The overall trend shows growth in the extent of sea ice of about 1.5% per decade, NASA disclosed.

The Climate Policy Initiative's "Global Landscape of Climate Finance 2013" report, issued in October, disclosed that governments and private entities around the world spent $359 billion to fight global warming in 2012.

Of that total, 94% was spent to support "greenhouse gas mitigation," according to the report, including more than 2,000 large-scale projects involving renewable energy in 19 countries.

When Roosters Crowed

From the Muenster Historical Commission Preserving the Past for the Future

Shut off joke

Boys learned how to turn the gas off on the Model T Ford, and would do it as a prank to the operator.

One day a salesman stopped in town. When he returned to his car, it wouldn't start. A farmer unhitched the tractor from the disc and attempted to pull start the car, but it wouldn't start. Finally someone came by and checked to see if the gas was shut off.

It seems, as some boys were walking home from school, one must have dropped down by the car, rolled over once, tuned off the gas, rolled back over, jumped up, and walked along with his friends with hardly a break in his stride — while the owner of the car, standing nearby, noticed nothing. This was a good joke.

At the Schoolhouse

Teachers often helped the younger students get their coats and overshoes on and off. On one occasion, a teacher had quite a struggle getting a little boy's overshoes on. After she finally succeeded, he said, "These ain't my shoes."

Quickly she grabbed him and with less patience, proceeded to yank the overshoes off. Then the lad commented, "They're my brother's shoes, but I have to wear them."

Occasionally the schoolteacher had to inspect the boys outhouse, and would find writing on the wall that should not be there. This act of vandalism was not taken lightly. Teachers would point out "all fools names are like fools' faces, always seen in public places."

$$ Tax Foundation report $$

The Tax Foundation has released a report providing an eye-opening look at many facets of the federal tax system.

Today, individual income taxes are the top source of revenue. It is estimated that in 2014, individual income taxes on wages, capital gains, dividends, and other income sources will provide $1.38 trillion. Social insurance taxes, which fund Social Security and Medicare, will bring in $1.02 trillion.

Corporate income taxes will provide $380 billion, and excise taxes just $93 billion. Another $169 billion will come from estate and gift taxes and other sources.

Some highlights of the Tax Foundation's report:

The median taxpayer earns about $33,000 a year, so half of the 145 million tax filers earn less than that, and 47% of filers earn less than $30,000. Three percent make from $200,000 to $499,999, and 1% earn $500,000 or more.

Taxpayers who make less than $100,000 annually pay 18% of all income taxes, while those who make more pay over 80%. Those earning 1 million or more account for 11% of all income, but 23% of all income taxes paid.

In 1985, the top 10% of taxpayers accounted for 54.7% of total income taxes. Today they account for 70.6%. The bottom 50% of taxpayers pay 2.4% of all income taxes.

The average tax rate for the top 1% of earners is 23%, and the average for the bottom

99% is 9%. The average for all filers is 12%.

The bottom 20% of earners receive an average of $24,125 in federal spending while paying $2,967 a year. At the other end of the scale, the top 20% — earning about $119,600 or above — pay $86,975 in federal taxes and receive $21,402 in federal spending.

Another way to look at it: The bottom 20% receive $8.13 for each dollar they spend in federal taxes, and the top 20% receive $0.25.

"Tax reform is in the air in Washington these days," the report states. "There is growing bipartisan agreement that the tax code is too complicated, burdensome, and uncompetitive, and is undermining our economic potential."

Government workers absent more than others

According to the Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS), in 2012, 4.1% of federal government employees reported an absence from work in the typical reference week, as did 4.4% of state workers and 3.7% of local government employees.

For government workers at all levels, the average was 4%, compared to just 2.9% for private-sector employees. So a government worker was 38% more likely to be absent from work than a private-sector worker.

AG BRIEFS

Cattle are trespassing at the 18,000 acre Chino Hills State Park in the Santa Ana Mountains east of Los Angeles, California. The claimed-to-be feral cows are scaring hikers and campers. Cowboys have been hired to round up the strays, but with limited success. Even though cattle have been around these parts long before the park, they are not permitted. They are trespassing.

Tyson Foods, Inc. has stopped buying Canadian cattle for slaughter and processing in the U.S. The are blaming COOL (country-of-origin labeling), which forces additional costs on the company, without providing any value to the customer.

In Texas, there are 245,000 farms. Farm land totals 130,000,000 acres with the average size being 531 acres.

SH High takes 3rd in One Act Play

By Daniel Hesse and Tyler Walterscheid

On Monday, Oct. 28, Sacred Heart High School participated in the One Act Play competition at the Gainesville State Theatre. They performed The Last Leaf.

The cast members were: Sue played by Alana Endres; Johnny played by Samantha Palmer; Behrman played by Jacob Miller; and Doctor played by Juan Orocio. The stage manager was Brook Devers, the lights were run by James Dangelmayr, the sound was run by Aaron Colmenero, tech support was run by Keith Metzler, and the stage hands were Randall Reizinger and Jason Knabe.

Sacred Heart won 3rd place overall, with James Dangelmayr receiving an award for Outstanding Tech. Juan Orocio and Alana Endres received Honorable Mention Actor awards, and Jacob Miller and Samantha Palmer received All Star Cast awards.

The judges complimented the act by saying, "The Last Leaf was a revival of true minimalist theatre," and, "a rendition both true and sincere to the author's intent."

Regional will be taking place at Argyle Liberty, but Sacred Heart will not be participating; however, they will be the alternate participants in case another team is not able to participate.

Bella wins Carve a Pumpkin Contest

By Katie Davidson

Recently, the Sacred Heart Kindergarten class had a simulated pumpkin-decorating contest. Each contestant was provided a drawing of a pumpkin to decorate. After all the kids had decorated their pumpkins, the contest began. They got to vote on which of their classmates decorated the best pumpkin. The winner of the contest would get to carve a pumpkin on Tuesday morning.

The winner was Bella Walterscheid. Bella's mom Jayna Walterscheid came to school and the two carved a pumpkin together while her brother Barrett looked on.

Leadership Day with the Mavs enjoyed by students

Muenster High School National Honor Society and Student Council members and sponsors attended the 4th annual Leadership Day with the Dallas Mavericks on Oct. 30. This event is an educational workshop sponsored by the Dallas Mavericks, the Texas Association of Student Councils (TASC), the National Honor Society (NHS), and the National Junior Honor Society (NJHS). It provided insight into aspects of leadership, as well as discussions in developing leadership skills and strategies.

Among the speakers was former Mavs player Rolando Blackman. He talked to the students about leadership traits, skills, and issues which all play an intricate role in developing our communities. Following the guest speakers, the students and sponsors remained at the American Airlines Center and cheered the Mavericks on to a victory over the Atlanta Hawks in their first home game of the season.

MISD students win District at UIL contest

Austin Creswell, Lyndon Cook, and Jay Patel were participants in the first UIL Student Congress Contest on Nov. 14. They were accompanied to Arlington by their coach Lisa Walterscheid.

Austin placed first, Lyndon second, and Jay third. They were the first place team in 1A and will be going to the State competition in Austin on Jan. 7-8.

UIL Pilot Contest is an individual contest in a large group setting. It models the legislative process of democracy, specifically, the United States Congress.

Within this mock legislative assembly competition, contestants draft legislation (proposed laws and position statements) submitted to the tournament, and they research the docket of bills and resolutions dealing with real-world social and political policies prior to the contest to prepare their speeches.

At the tournament, students caucus in committees, deliver formal discourse on the merits and disadvantages of each piece of legislation, and vote to pass or defeat the measures they have examined. Parliamentary procedure forms structure for the discourse, and students extemporaneously respond to others' arguments over the course of a session.

Judges evaluate contestants for their research and analysis of issues, argumentation, skill in asking and answering questions, use of parliamentary procedure, and clarity and fluency of speaking.

Each Congress session is approximately three hours. A student presiding officer (PO) runs the session. The PO's job includes four things: recognizing speakers; giving time signals; conducting votes; and keeping order.

A congress tournament begins with the establishment of an agenda, or order of legislation selected to be debated from the complete docket.

The speech introducing legislation is called an authorship speech if the student who wrote the legislation delivers it before the assembly, or if delivered by a teammate of the student. It is called a sponsorship speech if given by another student in the chamber. The author or sponsor may speak for up to three minutes, followed by two minutes of continuous questioning by other delegates in the chamber.

The first opposing speech is also three minutes, followed by two minutes of questioning.

Each speech afterwards on the same legislation is three minutes followed by one minute of questioning.

Each judge (also called a "scorer") evaluates each speech every student in the chamber delivers. Judges also take answers to questions into account. Students are awarded 1 (low) to 6 (high) points per speech. The official parliamentary also scores. Top scorers advance to a "super" final congress.

SHCS succeeds at Texas BEST Robotics

The Sacred Heart Machinators robotics team brought honor and recognition to their school and community as they competed among 60 other schools at the Texas BEST Regional Robotics Competition in the Garland Events Center in Dallas on Saturday, Nov. 9. The team not only received the 3rd place award for the Game competition, they also received the 1st place Most Robust Award, and the 2nd place Founder's Award. The Most Robust Award is given to the team whose robot needs the fewest repairs and is the most reliable machine throughout the competition. The Founder's Award is given to the robot that exhibits a very unique and functional design.

Sacred Heart students began the robot competition in September, when they were given the details of the competition, and the tasks the robot would be required to do. Under the direction of Darrell Walterscheid, the team worked countless hours designing and building their robot. The team members would usually meet each evening at JAWS Construction, along Hwy. 82, to work on the project until late in the evening.

Previous to the competition, Walterscheid worked with many of the team members to teach them CAD, a computer aided design program the team uses to design and build many of the components for the robot. The CAD program, along with the machines and tools at Walterscheid's shop, were vital in the designing and building of their robot.

In order to compete at the State competition, Sacred Heart Machinators' robot first competed and won their District competition, the Cowtown BEST. This competition was held in Fort Worth at Nolan High School in October. There, Sacred Heart competed among 19 other schools and won 1st place in the Game competition.

Following the District competition, countless more hours were spent driving and refining the robot, with the Machinators hoping to win the game competition at the Texas BEST.

During the Texas BEST Regional Robotics competition, Sacred Heart Machinators' robot continually ran near the top of the field, with the top spots being heavily contested by Sacred Heart and Marcus High School throughout the day. During the game, the top 16 teams were taken into the semi-finals for competition. Of these, two were chosen by a Wild Card match.

Afterwards, the top four teams, which included Sacred Heart, were taken into the final three rounds of the contest. Sacred Heart was sorely disappointed when in their final run, the hangers, which had to be moved by the robot, tangled, and the robot was unable to score a large number of points. Despite this literal "hang-up," the Sacred Heart Machinators went on to win 3rd place in the Game competition with Marcus High School coming in 1st place and Martins Mill High School coming in 2nd.

Leading the design team for the robot were Aaron Davis, Devin Sicking, Michael Fleitman, Mark Davis, and Nick Turner. Drivers for the robot were Aaron Davis, Mark Davis, Nick Turner, Keith Metzler, and Grant Springer.
