Eric Hellman contracts with MMH

Janet Felderhoff
News Editor

Eric Hellman, a Muenster resident and medical student, met with the Muenster Hospital District Board of Directors on Tuesday, July 15. The Board agreed to furnish funds to cover Eric's tuition expenses while he is in medical school at Texas Tech University in exchange for his commitment to serve as a physician for the Muenster Hospital District upon completion of his residency.

The Board authorized the Board President, Vice President, and Administrator Michael Kent to finalize terms of the subject contract.

"I am really excited about it and thankful that the Hospital gave me the opportunity," remarked Eric on signing the contract with MMH.

He will be leaving for medical school next week. He should complete that in May 2017. That will be followed by three years of residency before he will return to Muenster to practice medicine.

In response to why he decided to pursue a career as a physician Eric said, "I always liked Life Sciences and being a physician seemed like the best way to use that passion to help the community I grew up in."

The vote to contract with Eric was taken following an executive session. Another vote taken at that time was to enter into a physician contract with George Zgourides, M.D. and authorized the Board President, Vice President, and Administrator Kent to finalize the terms of the subject contract with Dr. Zgourides.

The final vote after the executive session was to renew the CEO contract with Kent to extend to June 30, 2016 and to authorize payment regarding CEO incentive - 7% of potential to be paid currently and 30% upon EHR (Electronic Health Records) reimbursement.

Although the June financial report was available, the Board reviewed May's financials. Board Secretary John Aytes made note that cash on hand continues to diminish. It is anticipated that there will a reimbursement for EHR expenses in October.

During his CEO report, Kent informed the Board that progress is being made on the nurse call system. Completion should take place in August.

The Critical Access roll-over in Meditech has been tested and moved into the live system. It remains to verify the process in the Live System.

Kent reminded the Board that the next meeting will be on Aug. 19 at 7 p.m.

Linda Biddenstadt of Home Health Care updated up the Board on that department's progress. She told of plans to recover lost business and to market the District's Home Health Care.

As recommended by the Medical Staff, George Zgourides, M.D. was granted active medical staff privileges and Long Nguyen, M.D. was approved for courtesy privileges to the medical staff.

Pagers requested by fire departments

Janet Felderhoff
News Editor

Members of volunteer fire departments in Cooke County filled the Commissioners Courtroom Monday morning, July 14. With the 2014-15 budget soon to be approved, they were requesting more pagers.

Cooke County Fire Marshall Ray Fletcher gave a report on the number of pagers now in use, how many have needed repairs, and how many have become inoperable. Pagers now cost about $460 with the charger base.

Muenster VFD representative Herbie Knabe observed that not every fire department has pagers for every member. He said he feels that every fire department should have at least a pager for every member plus a couple of extras so that when a member's pager goes down there is one to replace it.

Knabe said the Muenster VFD has 33 members and 33 working pagers. There are no extras. He said, "Out of those 33 pagers, we bought 13 of them ourselves because we weren't getting any from the County. A couple of other departments have done the same, they've had to buy pagers over the last few years."

Knabe said something needed to be worked out to get each department the number of pagers they need. Some departments have more members than others. "In the contract that is signed by every department, it says that the County will furnish the departments with pagers," noted Knabe.

County Judge John Roane asked how many pagers were needed by each department. Jimmy Mosman suggested 10 pagers per department to catch everybody up. North Shore Fire Department said they have 20 members and 20 pagers. Callisburg said its department has grown by leaps and bounds and they do not have enough pagers to go around. They must rely on text messages to let members know about drills, etc. Riley Metzler of Lindsay VFD said they have only 16 serviceable pagers and 21 active members.

More discussion followed, with each department giving a different need and description of how pagers take a lot of abuse being worn while the volunteer firemen work.

Knabe added that there is now a problem with chargers for the pagers. They have all gone bad and they've had to buy batteries with chargers. These batteries must be taken out of the pagers to recharge and this is inconvenient for many.

Judge Roane suggested taking money from the Contingency Fund to purchase new pagers, and to table a decision for two weeks, giving the volunteer departments time to assess the number of pagers that they really need.

Knabe said that he'd like to see the County come up with an equitable solution for now and then set up a schedule for buying new pagers every year or two. Precinct #4 Commissioner Leon Klement added, "We need to get this settled." If all are given 10, some will use all 10 and others will have some setting in boxes not using for years, he suggested.

It was agreed to table the matter until the next meeting when all fire departments are asked to bring a count of the number of pagers they need, not want, at this time.

Claude was a life-long member of Sacred Heart Catholic Church. He was also very active in the Muenster Jaycees, becoming a JCI Senator. Claude worked at Valenite for 27 years, then Weber, and finally for Giles and Marlene Walterscheid and National Tooling. He also served on the Muenster City Council for three two-year terms.

Claude's greatest love was spending time with his family. He loved riding motorcycles with Deb and friends. He loved playing with his grandchildren. He loved working on the farm with his brothers "cattlin'."

Survivors are his wife Deb of Muenster; son Aaron and wife Polly Klement of Muenster; daughter Ashley and husband Jamie Baggs of Muenster; grandchildren Caden Klement, Carson Klement, Kinsler Klement, Brody Baggs, and Avery Baggs, all of Muenster; sisters Jeanette and husband Michael Fitzpatrick of Arlington, and Sharon Wolf of Gainesville; brothers and sisters-in-law Wayne and Doris Klement, Doyle and Carla Klement, and Mark and Carol Klement, all of Muenster.

Claude Klement

The eulogy was given by Mark Lippe. He spoke of a letter Claude's brother Doyle wrote that told of the deep friendship that has developed between Claude and all of his brothers. As "best friends," they have spent many hours on Sunday afternoons "cattlin'" at the Klement dairy barn. Many memories have been made as the brothers "fought, laughed, cried, relived Friday night football games, learned how to give and take, were taught what hard work really is."

Mark went on to tell how Claude once shared his beliefs about community, saying 'God wants us to belong to a community. Community is all about getting along, but we find out many times in our life that getting along is quite a challenge. You have to check your egos and want to get along. It takes practice, effort, and skills.' Then Mark stated that Claude possessed all of the skills of which he spoke.

Mark continued, "Polly said she will forever remember him as being humble and unselfish... He never complained outwardly and continually put others' needs before him..."

In lieu of flowers, the family requests donations be made to: Heart to Heart Foundation (600 E. Taylor, Suite 3005, Sherman, TX 75090) or a charity of your choice.

Go forth in peace, for you have followed the good road. Go forth without fear, for He who created you has made you holy, has always protected you, and loves you as a mother. Blessed be you, my God, for having created me.

Letter to the Editor

A Letter to the Editor

I have lived in this wonderful community for 14 years. And this much I know...we are rich in culture and fellowship. We are surrounded by great natural beauty that has been sighted in top motorcycle magazines as one of the top 10 places to tour. We have great meat markets that bring in people from many states. Muenster is not just a town but a destination where folks can shop for fine clothing, jewelry, flowers, antiques, garden and home décor items, and eat wonderful pastries. They can tour and taste at three wineries, dine at two great restaurants, play golf on a beautiful course, get their hair and nails manicured and a massage at spas and salons, and stay in the best bed and breakfasts in North Texas one of which is listed as the top 10 Culinary Inns in the World. It's too much to experience it all in a day... so spend a weekend. These are the words and pictures that could have been shared with a wide audience through the Good Morning Texas telecast. We missed a golden opportunity. A five minute telecast is very little time to say it all. But we could have said so much more.

Perhaps our city representatives will take a tour of all that we have to offer and get the word out that we welcome everyone to enjoy the real Muenster experience.

Kind Regards,
Sandy Bayer

Weather Whys - Alberta Clipper

Q: You sometimes hear the term "Alberta Clipper." What is it?

A: An Alberta Clipper is a winter storm that forms over regions of Canada near the province of Alberta and sweeps in a southeasterly direction over the United States, says Brent McRoberts of Texas A&M University. "It is believed the name comes from the big sailing ships of the 1800s, the ones with the huge sails that could travel quite quickly for vessels of that time period and were among the fastest ships on the seas. An Alberta Clipper storm moves quickly once it forms and usually has a greater impact in the U.S. than in Canada once it has fully developed," McRoberts explains.

There are no words that can adequately express the outpouring of love, prayers, and support shown to our family by the entire community throughout my Ocular Melanoma journey.

The recent Knights of Columbus benefit, and Muenster Jaycees dedication of the Annual Ruth Hess Golf Tournament were so humbling to our entire family. I cannot even begin to explain my emotions as I saw the events unfold. Many individuals, some I have never met, were so generous as well. Being able to hug, share prayers, and see all of the people who came out to support our family was priceless.

May God look with favor on each of you for your love, generosity, and unselfish acts as in reaching out to our family in time of need. The Muenster community is the best in the U.S.

Tres Rios buckles will be given to each event winner, with NRS Saddle Certificates given to all-around boy and girl in 8 & Under, 9-12, 13-16, 17-21, along with numerous other awards given. Coming in August -
THE 2014 NORTH CENTRAL TEXAS FOOTBALL PREVIEW

UIL State basketball tournaments moving to San Antonio Alamodome

The 2015 University Interscholastic League State Basketball Tournaments will be played at the Alamodome in San Antonio.

The change comes as a result of UIL staff seeking a solution to the difficulties with availability and affordability of hotels caused by concurrent events in Austin.

In June, UIL staff asked for guidance from the UIL Legislative Council as it related to the basketball state tournament venue. The Council authorized staff to move the basketball state tournaments to San Antonio in 2015. The Alamodome has worked with UIL staff to finalize arrangements for the upcoming state tournaments.

"The decision to move the basketball state tournaments has been a difficult one," said UIL Executive Director Dr. Charles Breithaupt. "The tournaments have enjoyed a rich tradition in Austin, but in order to provide the best experience for student-athletes, coaches, and fans, it is best to move the tournaments to another excellent venue in Texas, the San Antonio Alamodome."

The first UIL Basketball State Tournament was played in Austin in 1921. Gregory Gym on the University of Texas at Austin campus began hosting the boys tournament beginning in 1931, and the girls tournament was added in 1951. The Frank Erwin Center on the University of Texas at Austin campus has hosted the boys and girls tournaments since 1978.

"The Alamodome has a proven history of hosting high-profile championship sporting events," said Michael Sawaya, San Antonio Convention & Sports Facilities director. "We look forward to welcoming to San Antonio the many student-athletes, families, and fans to the 2015 State Championship Basketball Tournaments, and are honored to have been selected to host this great event."

The girls basketball state tournament will take place March 5-7, 2015 and the boys tournament will be March 12-14.

AT&T Stadium to host all 2014 football championship games

The 2014 University Interscholastic League Football State Championship games will be played at AT&T Stadium in Arlington the League announced Tuesday.

For only the second year, all 11-man and six-man football championship games will be played at the same location.

Prior to last year, the Conference 1A six-man football championship games were played at Shottwell Stadium in Abilene.

"Having all football championship games in one location truly makes for an amazing experience for the coaches, athletes, and fans, and last year it led to a Texas high school football attendance record," said UIL Executive Director Dr. Charles Breithaupt. "We are excited to return to AT&T Stadium and continue to improve on a world class event in the state of Texas."

The 2014 football state championship will mark the fifth year all games in all conferences will be played at pre-determined locations. The UIL has determined the site for the Conference 5A football state championship since 2006.

Develop fly control plan for healthier cattle

Controlling cattle flies has always been troublesome and difficult.

It is about reducing fly populations, not elimination. The goal is to limit the negative economic impact that flies can cause. Three main fly species can economically impact pastured cattle and those are the horn fly, the face fly, and the stable fly, according to Drovers CattleNetwork.

Horn flies are small and are blood feeders. Each fly will bite the animal 20 to 30 times per day. Losses from the horn fly are estimated at more than $800 million per year, which includes decreased grazing efficiency, blood loss, reduced weight gains, and declines in milk production.

The face fly is a non-biting fly, but feeds on secretions, nectar, and manure liquids. They cluster around the animal's eyes, mouth, and muzzle, and can cause pink-eye, tissue damage, and an open pathway for pathogens.

Stable flies give a painful bite, which lowers weight gains. Estimated loss is more than $2.4 billion each year.

The recommended control technique is horn fly ear tags, which should not be put on until flies reach the economic threshold level of 200 flies per animal.

Tags should be removed when fly levels decrease. Ear tags are also a common form of control for face flies. The best control for stable flies is dependent upon sanitation, including the cleaning of breeding and larval sites.

How to prevent soil erosion

Homeowners who spend time tending to their landscape are increasingly looking for eco-friendly ways to maintain their lawns and gardens.

Preventing soil erosion is one way to incorporate conservation into lawn and garden care. Conservation is one of many environmental practices aimed at preserving the planet's natural resources, which include soil. Preventing soil erosion is easy and can be accomplished in a number of ways.

* Don't overwater. Some may assume that keeping soil as damp as possible keeps it healthy. However, overwatering the soil can cause runoff that washes the soil away. In addition, overwatering the soil can degrade it and contribute to erosion. Instead of overwatering, keep the soil moist but don't overdo it. If you're having trouble keeping soil keep soil from washing away when warm weather arrives and the landscape must be watered on a daily basis.

* Consider leaving some grass around the garden. Tillage is the process of preparing land to grow crops. While many homeowners don't view their weekend gardening as growing crops, similar principles apply whether you're growing crops on a farm or just a few vegetables in the backyard. One such principle is conservation tillage, which means leaving a portion of vegetation in the ground instead of stripping everything away before planting. For home gardeners, consider leaving a small amount of grass around the garden to keep the soil within the garden's boundaries. It's a principle similar to installing runoff barriers, and it can be just as effective at preventing soil erosion.

* Create runoff barriers.

Runoff barriers are edges that can be made of brick, stone, or other materials that help reduce runoff. Many homeowners install runoff barriers along sidewalks and driveways to ensure the soil does not spill out onto the pavement, but these also help the soil as much as they help to keep walkways and other areas free of soil and

Texas food prices increase

Texans are paying a little bit more at the grocery store this quarter. According to Texas Farm Bureau's (TFB) latest Grocery Price Watch survey, food items like pork, beef, and turkey are costing consumers more. This rise can be attributed to the ongoing drought, a virus American hog farmers are battling, and simple supply and demand.

Global demand for milk has also prompted an uptick in the price of dairy products in the U.S.

Of the 16 items surveyed for the price watch, six saw a decrease in price this quarter. They include: tomatoes, white bread, corn flakes, long grain rice, vanilla cake mix, and vanilla ice cream.

The detailed price list and TFB's press release on the price watch can be found at: <http://bit.ly/GPW06-14>

Hong Kong reopens market to U.S. beef

Eleven years after it first implemented trade restrictions on U.S. beef, Hong Kong has removed the final barriers preventing the export of beef to its territory.

According to the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA), the U.S. and Hong Kong have agreed to new terms that allow the U.S. to export a full-range of beef and beef products to Hong Kong.

Previously, Hong Kong would only accept deboned beef from all cattle and certain bone-in beef from cattle under 30 months old.

Hong Kong is the fourth largest market for U.S. beef. In 2013, sales totaled $823 million.

Hong Kong is officially part of China; however, it maintains its own customs and quarantine administration zone with its own rules and regulations.
