BROWNWOOD, TEXAS, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 10, 1929

TEXAS COTTON CROP MILLION BALES SHORT

AUSTIN, Oct. 9.—(P)—The 47 per cent condition of Texas cotton on October 1 compares with 46 per cent a month ago and 38 per cent on October 1, 1928, according to H. H. Schultz, statistician with the United States Department of Agriculture bureau of agricultural economics. The ten year average is 51 per cent.

The probable average yield per acre of 108 pounds may be compared with 138 pounds last season and 133 pounds the ten year average, he said.

It was estimated this year's crop in Texas would amount to 3,950,000 bales, a hundred pound bale. Last year 3,106,000 bales were made.

"About three fourths of the southern half of the state had been picked and a third of that in the northern portion. Very little top crop is expected and many farmers are plowing up the stalks to stop the increase of insects. Yields this season have been most irregular. In the northwest they are comparable in a measure with 1918; in the north, northeast and south with 1925; in the center, west center and east with 1921, and in the southeast with 1919.

These five seasons—1929, 1925, 1923, 1919 and 1918—had two or three districts adversely affected by path, floods or insects. The present season was one of excessive rain followed by drought and extreme insect activity. Only 40 out of 219 cotton-growing counties are exceeding last year's production."

CITIZENS PLEDGE AID IN RETAINING DANIEL BAKER

What is said to have been the best example of coordination among all the forces of society, denominations and business in Brownwood was brought out in a mass meeting held in the Howard Payne Auditorium Friday night for the purpose of discussing the fate of Daniel Baker College.

Heads of some of the biggest business houses in the city, combined with noted educators and representatives of all religious faiths, were present in a united effort to show the Presbyterian Synod of Texas that the city is united in its appreciation of Daniel Baker College as a Brownwood institution and that it desires beyond anything to hold the college here and if a consolidation of Presbyterian schools was to be made to locate the university in this city.

Not "Last Resort"

"This is not a 'last resort' meeting," said Rev. W. R. Gray of the First Presbyterian Church, "but is just another gathering of Brownwood people to show their stand with regard to Daniel Baker, and when it comes to Christian people wanting to retain our college this meeting shows emphatically the sentiment of the population of this city."

Thomas H. Taylor, newly elected president of Howard Payne College, presided over the meeting, which was attended by several hundred local people. In his remarks, after pledging the support of his institution to the holding of Daniel Baker here, he said:

"The two colleges can and do work together as a unit, and should so plan and combine their courses and should so coordinate their efforts that together they can meet the competition of the larger schools of the state."

The gathering was brought together following a parade downtown in which the Howard Payne College followed a football victory, and included in the parade the Old Gray Mare Band. This band played a few numbers on the stage preceding the meeting.

After one speech was made a girls' pep squad of Daniel Baker, of about 35 members, dressed in their white and blue uniforms, marched onto the stage and gave a couple of the school's yells. Penn Beakley, yell leader, made a few peppy remarks about the school which were received with hearty applause by the assembled citizens.

Reviews Situation

E. Gilliam, chairman of the local committee which is presenting the Synod's commission on location, data and an invitation to locate the university in Brownwood, made a statement in which he mentioned and mentioned some of this city's claims for the location.

Mr. Gilliam's brief in favor of Brownwood as the proper location was referred to in a talk by Walter U. Early, district attorney, who said the city is ready in details, in argument and in clear deductions, to cancel all headlight test stations within your county, effective October 19. This procedure will give you the opportunity of weeding out all undesirable stations which have not been given the Headlight Division a square deal in their test.

Among the many speakers during the evening the following quotations were noted:

Several Speakers

Rev. J. S. Cook, pastor of the First Methodist Church: "The entire city is present tonight as shown by representative citizens present, and this fact should have weight with the location commission."

Fred Abney, president of the Citizens National Bank: "I hope this matter will soon be settled so that the attention of the city need not be diverted from trying to keep the college here, to that of building up the two big educational institutions."

C. Y. Early, president of the board of directors of Howard Payne College: "We are glad to place the college here, as the result of the command of Daniel Baker. The interests of the two colleges are common and we will work together."

Mrs. Irene A. Trapp, head of the education department of Daniel Baker College: "376 teachers were given certificates in the last three years as the result of schooling at Daniel Baker. Teachers and missionaries are scattered all over the world from Daniel Baker. Placing this college in a large city will be the hand writing on the wall—it will mean no more small colleges."

Dr. John Power, rector of St. John's Episcopal Church: "There will be many who will not be able to get a college education if they have to go away from home and to a larger city."

Rev. W. R. Hornburg, pastor of the Coggin Avenue Baptist Church: "You can move Daniel Baker College, but you can not move the spirit. Such a spirit as is now manifested in the college would take forty years to grow if the college is moved to another location."

Miss Carrie Reeves, social and educational leader of the city: "I preach small schools. We still need them."

Walter U. Early, district attorney: "If I had a dozen children I would send six of them to Howard Payne and six to Daniel Baker."

Dr. S. E. Chandler, president of Daniel Baker College: "It is easier for students to lead the Christian life in a smaller school than in a larger one in a large city. The smaller school is more democratic."

Cultural Advantages

The cultural advantages of the two colleges for Brownwood was emphasized in an excerpt from the reports of the City Planning Engineers Montgomery and Ward, which was read by Mr. Gilliam at the request of Chester Harrison, chairman of the

TAKING SCOUT MESSAGE TO RURAL BOYS

Carrying the message and work of Boy Scouts to the boys in the country is the present aim in the Pecan Valley area of Jack Brunberg, scout executive, who, in the following and succeeding articles takes up this problem.

BY JACK BRUNBERG

Rural scouting, or scouting for the rural boy, is not a new department in the Boy Scout program. The rural scouting program is the outgrowth of the old Lone Scout program that for many years served the boys in isolated rural districts. When the founder of the Lone Scout program realized that the demand for scouts in the rural areas was greater than his ability to meet the demands he turned the work over to the Boy Scouts of America.

It is a three-fold problem in that it gives to the boy living in rural communities the same scouting education as his fellow citizen, the boy in the towns. Further it is capable of bringing the boy in the town into closer contact with his fellows in the country. And we have in the rural boys the same possibilities for the making of greater citizens than we have in the boys in the towns and cities. We frequently are met with the statement that the boy living in the rural district does not need the hikes, camps and the "next to nature" stuff that is given to the boy in the cities. Such a statement is entirely untrue. The statement that the boys in the rural communities do not need education. And yet we find that our rural communities are more alive to the need of education than are many of our urban centers.

The scouting program leads up to a distinctive recreational program. There is not a boy any where, whether he lives in towns or rural communities, but what likes to tinker with machinery, electrical apparatus, and the like. Mere tinkering with things may eventually lead to the making of a great inventor. But in order that progress shall be made trained leadership is essential. In scouting we have a program which gives to the boy an opportunity to investigate for himself the pleasures to be found in 88 vocational subjects.

Benson the Leader

As the leader of our rural scouting program we have Mr. Oscar H. Benson, the founder and promoter of the 4-H club program. Mr. Benson's whole life has been given to the study of rural boys and girl life. Mr. Benson is intensely interested in placing the scout program before our rural boys. This program has had exceptional growth during the past year. It has grown beyond all expectations. In the states of South Dakota and Minnesota we have a 100 per cent attendance for the scouts. Mr. Benson is intensely interested in the rural scouting program than in the Scout Troop connected with city organizations. The rural scouting program uses the same books as do the Scouts connected with the city troops.

Glasscock Makes $1,500 Bond on Felony Charge

N. W. Glasscock, charged with a felony, that of taking a promissory note from S. P. Madison Friday in the Coggin National Bank, made a $1,500 bond to await action of the Grand Jury in November. This followed an examining trial in Judge E. T. Perkins' court Saturday, where Madison made the statement that the two men met at the bank to discuss a note Madison held, and that Glasscock took the note and walked away with it. There was a mention during the testimony of the defendant giving Madison at the time he took the note a paper representing a mortgage. This paper Madison said he tried to give back to Glasscock when he ran after him, but it was dropped on the street and picked up and returned to him later. Madison was heard to say that Glasscock was returned to the trial, Gib Callaway is representing the defendant.

CLARENCE GILMORE, CHAIRMAN R. R. COMMISSION, DROPS DEAD

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 10.—(P)—Clarence E. Gilmore, chairman of the Texas Railroad Commission, dropped dead just outside his room at the Gunter Hotel, at 1:40 this afternoon.

Valvular heart disease was the cause of death, according to a coroner's verdict by Justice of the Peace L. F. Boltz.

NEWS RECEIVED AT CAPITOL

AUSTIN, Oct. 10.—(P)—News of the sudden death of Clarence Gilmore, chairman of the Railroad Commission, was received at the state capitol with genuine regret. His colleagues on the commission were shocked beyond expression. He had left here Monday, apparently in good health, for the San Antonio hearing.

With other members of the Commission, he returned only two weeks ago from an extensive trip to Glacier Park, Montana, where he attended a meeting of the National Association of Utility Commissioners.

Governor Moody will have the appointment of Mr. Gilmore's successor. The other members are C. V. Terrell and Lon A. Smith.

The flag over the dome of the capitol was hauled down to half staff upon receipt of the news.

Mrs. Gilmore, accompanied by Commissioner Terrell, Mark Marshall, director of the motor bus division of the Railroad Commission, and other friends of Chairman Gilmore, left here in an automobile for San Antonio immediately on receipt of the news.

DANIEL BAKER STEADY GAIN MAKES FAVORABLE IMPRESSION ON MEMBERS OF TEXAS SYNOD

BY JAS. C. WHITE

TYLER, Oct. 9.—(P)—The commission of Texas Synod to consolidate the Presbyterian colleges will make no report during this session, other than to say that progress is being made. This report is scheduled for the last item of business on the final session of Synod Thursday evening.

Sentiment in the Synod seems to be neutral so far as Daniel Baker and Austin colleges are concerned, the ministers from over the state feeling that the whole matter is in the hands of the commission. The commission itself will meet with Austin colleges in attendance. Institutions mentioned in the consolidation plans were Austin College, Sherman; Daniel Baker College, Brownwood; and Texas Presbyterian College, Milford. It was said the commission appointed in February to effect plans for the consolidation will report Thursday night, but it was understood no definite arrangements had been made.

The commission will hold a conference in Austin in about two weeks when further proposals offered by towns interested in obtaining the consolidated institutions will be considered.

Transformer Does Emergency Duty While on Track

An emergency caused by an overloaded transformer caused the Texas Power and Light Company to cut in a larger transformer located on a truck on West Baker street just off of Center Avenue last week.

The transformer on the pole was found in a state of disrepair, the current needed Saturday night downtown and a new and larger one was installed just below it, and hooked on.

Lights and signs on the truck kept the public from touching it or cars from running into it at night. The new transformer will be installed on the pole this week, officials of the company stated.

The following committee making arrangements for the trip are wanting to know who will go and to phone them, as the possibility of getting a special train and low rates seems good: Mrs. J. L. Garnett, chairman, 1620; O. E. Winebrunner, 929J; and Denver Lee, 649R.

LEGION CANNON MOVED TUESDAY TO HOME OF 'BUDDY' JOHN GLOVER

"It takes a boy to get the gun" so ruled the American Legion several weeks ago when it was planning a tour of Brownwood for the captured German cannon that has stood in front of the American Soldiers and Sailors Memorial Hall for almost a year.

And "Buddy" John Glover now has the gun and incidentally he has the boy that it took to have the gun moved two miles to his residence at 1817 Seventh Street.

These weeks for someone to claim the gun and it began to look as though only girls were to take up permanent abode at the homes of Brownwood's many Legionnaires. First one and then another arrival would be announced and invariably the proud parents would announce the name of the newcomer as being "Mary," "Marle" or "Marianne." In all these months not a single "Bill," "Pete," "Jake" or any other "Junior" had come to make their ex-service dad's throw out his chest and announce, "It's a Boy."

W. B. Fisher Under $1,000 Bond On Liquor Charge

W. B. Fisher, who runs a store on the Bangs road, three miles west of Brownwood near the road crossing of the Santa Fe, is now under $1,000 bond awaiting the action of the grand jury in November on a charge of selling liquor.

CANNON MOVED THIS MORNING

Leg Post Commander J. J. Rosenberg, Post Adjutant, Zeno Ingram, Traffic Cop Ernie and ably assisted by a bevy of Legion boys, most of them veterans at the game of "raising" children, the man sized task of moving the big cannon was begun at 11:50 o'clock Tuesday. Dutch Noack, a Legionnaire, provided the motor power that drags the cannon to its present resting place and Tex Worsham furnished the loud speaker that told Brownwood what was taking place. And with Jack Brumbour, Al Bryce, Carl Odell, Ed Henley, Lec Seward and others taking turns at beating the big drum, the grand parade was begun.

After leaving the Soldiers and Sailors Memorial Hall, the caravan turned east on First from Baker and made a trip to the court house square, thence down Center Avenue to Seventh Street and finally to Seventh Street and the residence of John Glover, his newly arrived son and other members of the family.

HIGHWAY NO 67 PLANS COMING ALONG NICELY

Indications that a gap in the proposed Federal Highway 67 through Reagan county will be built was given by R. A. Thompson of Dallas, who has been working on this project for the Dallas Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Thompson was in Brownwood Wednesday, having come from a meeting in Big Lake Tuesday. These the county commissioners met with Judge W. R. Ely of the State Highway Commission and others in a discussion of the highway plans. Mr. Ely made that county the proposition that if they would vote a $50,000 bond issue, the state would build the highway through the county, a distance of thirty-four miles. Upton county has already voted bonds for this highway construction and a contract will be let there within the next sixty days, Mr. Thompson said. A Federal designation of that part of the proposed highway between Somervell county and Stephenville will be secured this next meeting of the commission. This will fill the only gap of this road between Dallas and San Angelo which has not been made a federal road so far. Mr. Thompson took luncheon with Hilton Burks, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, while here, and then continued on his way to Dallas.

APPEARANCE DOCKET COUNTY COURT CALLED The appearance docket at the County Court was called Tuesday morning by Judge E. M. Davis, and the case of the Mardon Company vs. W. S. McClannahan and W. S. Seward, alleging debt and desiring foreclosure, was being heard Tuesday before a jury. The appearance bond of Aubrey Mathis, charged with aggravated assault, was forfeited for non-appearance Tuesday.

HALF HOUR'S JOB LIKE A DAY'S WORK Ranger Wholesale Candy Man Says He Has Taken New Lease on Life.

"Orgatone has simply given me a new lease on life," said H. D. Searcy, who lives at 242 N. Commerce St. and is the proprietor of the Searcy Wholesale Candy Co. of Ranger, Texas, recently. "Before I commenced taking it," he continued, "I was so run-down and miserable, a half-hour job would tire me as much as a whole day's work at the office does now. I was under weight and had no strength and often suffered with indigestion. My nerves were so unstrung that I was irritable and out of sorts all the time. I would get up in the mornings and feel as tired and worn as if I hadn't gone to bed at all, and my work was an actual punishment to me. "I had reached the point where it was necessary for me to do something for myself and I bought Orgatone because I know it had helped others right here in Ranger. I now sleep sound, eat hearty and can do a hard day's work at the factory without feeling it. My stomach doesn't hurt me like it did and everything I have to do is a pleasure instead of a burden, as it was before. I recommend Orgatone to everybody with these miserable, tired, nervous feelings. If I had, it certainly has straightened me out in fine shape. Genuine Orgatone may be bought in Brownwood at the Camp-Bell and Peerless Drug Stores. (Adv.)

TO BUY OR NOT TO BUY—NOT "HOW EXPENSIVE" BUT "HOW EFFICIENT" Poultry Raisers' Equipment Need Not Be Costly to Get Results; Homemade Devices Serve Admirably.

A man fed from solid gold table service will be no better nourished than if his food were taken from dishes of the heaviest and cheapest earthenware, neither will he rest any better in a bed made of mahogany than he would in a bed made of pine. By the same token, poultry get along no better if raised with the aid of expensive devices rather than something far cheaper. As a matter of fact, homemade devices serve just as well in many cases as anything one can buy. Of course, there is ample justification for buying factory-made equipment made of such materials as galvanized iron or earthenware. As a rule, it is more sanitary and also more durable. It is often essential, however, to keep the investment for equipment as low as possible. If so, the right kind of homemade equipment will serve just as well as the most expensive factory-made article. Moreover, with but little more effort, if any, it can be kept clean and sanitary. As an example, I have some nests made from ordinary soap boxes that have given satisfactory service more than ten years continuously. Troughs, which are undoubtedly the most generally used of all feeding appliances, are also easily made by the home workman. A number of excellent factory-made troughs are also available. I wanted. The factory-made trough made entirely of wood is, I believe, the most commonly used for feeding wet mash as well as the easiest to build. It is very good, too, because feed cannot lodge in the corners. Whatever material or style of construction is used, a grating of some sort can reach it easily, but cannot roost over it or get their feet in it. All feeding troughs and water vessels should be up off the ground or floor, on platforms or racks, so the chickens cannot scratch litter and dirt into them. The reel hopper is best for dry mash feed. This can be made by making an open box 12 inches wide 7 inches high at each side, and any length required up to 12 or 14 feet. On the top of this box project up 7 or 8 inches and hang a reel in the center of these end pieces four inches square, which will prevent the chickens from roosting on it and will keep them from getting into the box or hopper with their feet and still permit them to eat the mash feed. On the top of each side have a lip project into the box at least 3-4 of an inch. This will keep the chickens from wasting the feed. It should be upon a platform where the hens can jump up and eat from each side. In addition to the various kinds of troughs and hoppers which can be of homemade construction, there are several very practical styles of homemade drinking equipment which are more or less satisfactory. Drinking vessels should be made of tin, galvanized iron, glass or crockery. A wooden vessel or trough is not easily cleaned or sterilized; therefore, should not be used for either water or milk. An ordinary pan, bucket, pail or can can be used for a drinking vessel or excellent sanitary drinking fountains can be bought from any dealer in poultry supplies. If homemade equipment is used, be sure to protect it in some way so the fowls cannot get in the water with their feet or turn it over. For watering poultry, the best plan is to build a platform 24 inches square and have it up 20 or 24 inches from the floor. Make a round hole in the center of this platform just large enough to let a tapered galvanized pail or bucket half way down in the hole, and the chickens can jump up on all sides of this platform and drink. A platform can be made 2 feet wide and 6 feet long, if desired to accommodate three pairs. Plenty of pure, fresh drinking water should be available at all times, convenient for the hens to find. Space is lacking to describe even briefly the various other accessories which may be desirable in the poultry yard. All of them may, as a rule, be made at home of simple material and at very little cost if so desired. Not only does the maker of such equipment effect a worth-while saving, but I know from personal experience that he gets a whole lot of genuine, personal enjoyment out of making his own equipment. He has the additional satisfaction of knowing his percentage of profits will be greater because his investment has been kept as low as possible. (Copyright, 1929 by Dr. L. D. LeGear, V. S.)

County To Purchase Gas From Community

A one year contract with a three year renewal clause was given the Community Natural Gas Company by the County Commissioners in session Monday for furnishing gas for the Court House and the county jail.

and Fuel Company has expired, it was learned. Sam R. McInnis' bill for $14 for testing and analyzing beer for three months was approved by the Commissioners. The court adjusted a double tax rendition on a small piece of property here. When quartz crystal is heated it expands faster sidewise than lengthwise.

WOOLWORTH'S NEW BROWNWOOD HOME

FORMAL INSPECTION OF THE NEW WOOLWORTH STORE FRIDAY EVENING

"We believe that Brownwood and Brownwood people are worth the time, effort and money we have spent to give them a better Woolworth store," said L. P. Whiting, superintendent in the F. W. Woolworth Company's organization, who is in this city to aid in the formal public inspection of the renovated and rebuilt store on Center Avenue Friday afternoon and night. At a cost of about $20,000, after taking a twenty year lease on the building, the local Woolworth company has practically torn down and rebuilt the store with steel and brick, adding a second story and making modern improvements, all this work within the past few months, and business as usual during the construction. On Friday between the hours of 3 and 5 p. m. and 7 and 8:30 p. m. the public is invited to visit the store and inspect its every department. No sales will be made on that date, but the store will open for regular business at 8:30 a. m. Saturday.

The entire front of the store has been changed, and instead of the two doors which Brownwood people have so long been used to, there now is a modern front with six display windows of the latest type and three entrances. Inside, the back portion of the building has been carried back to the building line and there are, besides the office on the first floor, a total of 525 running feet of counters. Modern light fixtures, new walls, ceilings, floors and ceiling fans complete the attractiveness of the store to a marked degree. On the second floor is found the storage rooms, where surplus stock is found and where all the incoming articles are unpacked and labeled. On this floor are found the employees rest and club rooms with all conveniences for the comfort of the fifteen salesladies and other employees of this big 5 to 15 cent store. A freight elevator and a stairway lead to this upper story, which is well lighted from big windows at either end. R. L. Gaskin, manager, has been in charge of all the work of making the change, and will remain as manager of this store which is first class in every way, and up to the requirements of the biggest stores of the company over the land. Under Mr. Gaskin is P. L. Houser, first assistant, and J. H. Hale, second assistant. One office girl completes the force. In addition to the local force there will be present to assist at the formal opening, Superintendent Whiting; F. M. Lipscomb, manager of the Sweetwater store; B. C. Strickland, manager of the San Angelo store; and J. D. Moore, manager of the Lubbock store. The contractor who made these important changes in the store was from Fort Worth, James T. Taylor. Local firms having a part in the building were: E. B. Henley and Company, which secured the twenty year lease; Lydie Roofing Company, the roof; Mills, Kofford and Peck, plumbing; Brownwood Lumber Co., most of the building materials; and brick from the Texas Brick Company and the Brownwood Tile and Marble Company laid the tile in the vestibules.

JUDGES URGE MANY CHANGES IN ROAD LAWS

A plea for the construction and maintenance of all state and federal highways to be by the state without any participation on the part of the counties, was a part of one of the fifteen resolutions passed by the members of the County Judges and Commissioners Association of Texas in a meeting held in Houston last week. Judge E. M. Davis, a member of the resolutions committee, brought back to Brownwood a copy of these, and this one he thought to be the most important of all those passed. It reads as follows: "We recommend that the Legislature be passed requiring that all State and Federal Highways be constructed and maintained by the State and Federal Authorities, without any participation on the part of the counties therein, and that the counties devote all of their funds toward the building and maintenance of County Road Systems, that the State Highway Department be furnished with adequate funds and resources to build an adequate State Highway System."

"We further recommend that all counties which have participated in the building of State Highways be reimbursed to the full extent of indebtedness now outstanding and chargeable against said Highway construction. We recommend the Legislature on the passing of the four-cent gas tax. "We further recommend that the Automobile Registration Fees be increased to at least the former weight fees, and that the said fees go to the counties for the purpose of constructing and maintaining of the County Road Systems." In another resolution the association passed it recommended that it make the State Highway Commission an elective office, casting no reflections on the present highway commissioners in so doing. Other recommendations included: A state law limiting the use of the counties' general funds which in many instances have not been zealously guarded. The state fix the salaries of the county judges and commissioners. Erecting more hospitals for the insane. A state home for needy and worthy old citizens. Fix the salaries of county school superintendents to be paid out of school funds. Endorse the efforts of rural letter carriers to procure better lateral roads. A state training school for delinquent and dependent negro girls. Adequate appropriations for state eleemosynary institutions, especially for the insane, both white and negro, and the feeble minded, both white and negro. Appropriations be made to care for the colored tubercular of the curable stage. Provide for the sterilization of the insane, idiotic, imbeciles and feeble-minded. Create hospitals for the treatment of drug addicts and the care of idiots and imbeciles.

DANIEL BAKER LOCATION NOT TO BE DECIDED DURING THE SYNOD AT TYLER THIS WEEK

Ed. B. Gilliam, general chairman of the local location committee to secure the Presbyterian University, received a message this week from Pat E. Hooks of Itasca, chairman of the local location committee, stating that the commission will not meet during the meeting of synod in Tyler this week. It had been previously suggested that this commission would have a definite report to make at this meeting of synod. In a previous communication with Mr. Hooks, Mr. Gilliam was assured that the three commissioners who have not visited Brownwood and looked over the proposition here would do so before the definite decision was made and a report given. Members of the commission who are yet to visit Brownwood are W. A. Vinson of Houston, J. A. Jarrett of San Antonio and Rhodes Baker of Dallas. Mr. Gilliam stated this morning that it is his belief that nothing will be done until after the remaining three commissioners visited Brownwood. The commission will probably meet the latter part of October, it is now said. Dr. S. E. Chandler, president of Daniel Baker College and James C. White, a member of the Board of Trustees of Daniel Baker College and commissioner from the First Presbyterian church have gone to Tyler to attend the meeting of synod, which will probably be one of the most important meetings of synod which has been held in many years. Mr. Gilliam and Harry Knox, Sr., who had previously planned to attend the Tyler meeting, will not go since the announcement that the meeting of the college commission will not be held.

SLASHED!

Watermelons look a lot alike. So do tires. But you can "plug" a watermelon to make sure it's good. You can't do that with tires. So you've got to rely on the name on the tires.

There's one name that means absolute assurance in the way of a guarantee of goodness through and through in tires. That name is GOODYEAR.

You don't need to paw over a heap of Goodyear Tires to pick out the best. If it says GOODYEAR on the sidewall, you're Ok with the first one you lay hands on.

Today: Millions More People Are Riding on

GOODYEAR

Tires and Tubes Than on Any Other Kind

The "grade" is also shown: DOUBLE EAGLE means "finest that can be made regardless of cost." ALL-WEATHER (heavy duty or regular) means "the best standard quality in the world." PATHFINDER means "good quality at a big saving."

Because years of experience have shown tire users that "GOODYEAR" means the "Most Value for the Money," Goodyear makes millions more tires than any other company. That fact is the only "plugging" which Goodyear Tires require. It says plenty!

Temperance Essential to Highest Usefulness

The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for Oct. 13, Temperance Essential to the Highest Usefulness. Daniel 1:8-20.

Text: Daniel 1:8-20

But Daniel purposed in his heart that he would not defile himself with the portion of the king's meat, nor with the wine which he drank; therefore he requested of the prince of the eunuchs that he might not defile himself.

Now God had brought Daniel into favor and tender love with the prince of the eunuchs.

And the prince of the eunuchs said unto Daniel, I fear my lord the king, who hath appointed your meat and your drink; for why should he see your faces worse looking than the children which are of your sort? then shall ye make me endanger my head to the king.

Then said Daniel to Melzar, whom the prince of the eunuchs had set over Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah:

Prove thy servants, I beseech thee, ten days; and let them give us pulse to eat, and water to drink.

Then let our countenances be looked upon before thee, and the countenance of the children that eat of the portion of the king's meat; and as thou seest, deal with thy servants.

So he consented to them in this matter, and proved them ten days. And at the end of ten days their countenances appeared fairer and fatter in flesh than all the children which did eat the portion of the king's meat.

Then Melzar took away the portion of their meat, and the wine that they should drink; and gave them pulse.

As for these four children, God gave them knowledge and skill in all learning and wisdom; and Daniel had understanding in all visions and dreams.

Now at the end of the days that the king had said he should bring them in, then the prince of the eunuchs brought them in before Nebuchadnezzar.

And the king communed with them; and among them all was found none like Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah; therefore stood they before the king.

And in all matters of wisdom and understanding, that the king inquired of them, he found them ten times better than all the magicians and astrologers that were in all his realm.

BY WM. E. GILROY, D. D., Editor of The Congregationalist

THE general title for this lesson is "Keeping Fit for the Sake of Others." The social aspect of temperance or of total abstinence is one that is very strongly emphasized at the present time. It is, in fact, that aspect which is the most important, for while whatever affects the individual is not to be disregarded, the effect of drunkenness on the drunkard himself is a smaller factor than the ruin and habit that his drunkenness may bring to the lives of others.

In these days of high-powered machines, when every automobile driver is potentially and in reality an engineer, drunkenness is altogether a relative term.

Engines Must Be Sober For many years, even before prohibition became the law of the land or before total abstinence had become a general practice, it was recognized that the driver of a locomotive engine must be virtually an abstainer. The safety of thousands of lives depending upon his efficiency and judgment and his possession of the full use of all his faculties made this so necessary that most railroad companies made a rule concerning the matter. They did not leave it to chance or to the individual's own idealism.

Lobbyist Probers Soon to Organize

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—(P)—The senate lobby investigating committee probably will meet tomorrow to organize and map out a course for its tremendous job. Senator Cawsey, Democrat, Arkansas, chairman of the committee, has announced first attention will be given to the activities of those seeking to influence the pending tariff measure.

The chairman desires to confine the inquiry to those organizations and individuals who are actually engaged in attempts to influence legislation without touching the other group for the time being, engaged solely in propaganda.

in the ordinary sense of the term "drunk" may be none the less unfitted for driving an automobile in a busy city when he has had even a little liquor. Social concern and obligation put this whole matter in a different light from that of the mere effect upon the individual himself, and Prof. Irving Fisher of Yale University has contended that a man who has had only one drink drunk.

Total abstinence for a certainty has never injured anybody. Even if an individual might claim that he has found any benefit in the moderate use of liquor, his sacrificing of that benefit by practicing total abstinence has assuredly meant no social loss.

Society in every way and manner would be far better off if the drinking of alcohol as a beverage were to become entirely wiped out from the life of humanity.

Even the one who questions the effect and influence of prohibition, or any other practical effort to curb the evils of the traffic, would hardly take the position of saying that liquor drinking and the liquor traffic should be retained if he had the choice of effectually wiping out the whole thing.

The examples of the past are instructive and inspiring, and among them all Daniel stands out as a conspicuous figure, strong, well disciplined, thoroughly equipped for life's work and for the hour of opportunity, not only an abstainer from all that might weaken and destroy his capacity and influence, but, also, temperate with regard to things in themselves not harmful. A youth thus equipped with a manly sense of independence and sufficiency for the thing that he is called to do stands in splendid contrast to the youth sowing his wild oats or "letting himself go," as the phrase is in the life of today.

What a good many of these enthusiasts for letting themselves go fail to take note of is that a strong, well disciplined young man like Daniel is quite as much expressing himself as a youth to whom liberty has become license. A young man like Daniel, also, finds something to express that is of real worth and value to the world.

Restraint Brings Freedom It is time that we searched with more drastic criticism into the pretensions of much of the careless and dissolute living of today. The sort of life that claims to be an expression of freedom is often in reality not free but characterized by slavery to appetite and habit and the results of wrong ideals. There is no real freedom for man in character apart from self-mastery.

It is easier than most young folks think to become the victim of circumstances, and to become thoroughly enmeshed in the network of wrong ideals and wrong habits, even while one is all the time assuming that he is discovering and exercising a freedom which his more restrained elders have in his judgment never had. Restraint and freedom go hand in hand.

The Library of Congress was established in 1800. Its collection is the largest in the western hemisphere at present, being composed of more than 3,500,000 books and pamphlets.

NIG MC CARVER LEADS MATES IN EASY WIN

HOWARD PAYNES Yellow Jacket football machine, the one that stepped out last Saturday and six, the touted Southern Methodist Mustangs to a 13-13 tie, flashed another distinct warning to other members of the Texas Conference Friday afternoon when they trampled the much heralded Bobcats from the Southwestern State Teachers College of San Marcos, 34 to 0. After outplaying the S. M. U. eleven last week in the 13-13 no decision battle in Dallas, the Jackets immediately rose to the place of leading contender for the championship of the Big Six, despite the common belief that the Mustangs have very little in the way of a football team this year.

But since the dubbing handed the Bobcats yesterday has been written into the 1929 record books, Texans of the Jackets may well know that Coach Joe Bailey Cheney and McAdoo Keaton have another great football team, one that is headed toward the 1929 title determined to reach that one object.

Prior to the jacket game, reports were rated highly well known having it that the Bobcats were stronger this season than in several years.

Nig Showed His Heels

Led by the indomitable Nig McCarver, the fastest football player in the Texas Conference, the Jackets opened a varied offense that was not long delayed in producing the first touchdown of the game. And after that counter was chalked up, the Jackets continued the parade through four quarters of play, scoring in all four periods. And incidentally McCarver escorted the ball across the final yard line for three of the five touchdowns made by the Jackets, one of these being on a sensational 70-yard return of punt he gathered in on his own 30 yard line. Another great run by McCarver was written from the books when a mate was penalized for use of hands on the offense. This dash was for 59 yards, taking a pass on his own 41 yard line.

However, McCarver was not alone in the rampage against the Bobcats. Jimmy Fields, veteran full back and captain, Buck Gibbs, the lad who made the 98 run against the Mustangs last week, and "Hot" Masur, a Freshman playing his first year with the Jackets, and Johnny Baker, veteran quarter, all participated in the mail "totting" of the day. Gibbs scored a rushing touchdown and Masur registered the other, his counter coming after a 30 yard crash through the line. Incidentally Masur crossed the Bobcat goal line three times but twice was called back because of some infraction of the rules by his mates.

That Midget Line

And while the backfield was performing in great style, that most formidable forward wall of the Jackets, proceeded to whip the Bobcat forwards from one end of the field to the other. As proof of their great work, the fact that San Marcos gained only 21 yards on runs and plays all afternoon, might be noted. Glasscock, Bettis and Gilger, the two guards and the pair of midget tackles, Brown and Shelton proved too much for the lighter Bobcat forwards. It would be unfair to call attention to the work of Sanderlin and Grimland, the two ends, but neither flashed any brilliant stuff, despite that both stayed in there and pitched throughout the game.

San Marcos received the initial kickoff on its own 20 yard line and elected to punt on the first down. Berry got away with a beautiful punt of 54 yards that McCarver took on the Jackets 26 yard line. Gibbs, McCarver and Fields alternated at carrying the ball for a first down on their own 40 yard line where the Bobcats' defense stiffened, forcing Baker to punt. His punt rolled 46 yards and out of bounds on the Bobcat 8 yard line. Again the Bobcats punted on first down and McCarver took the pigskin in on the San Marcos 45 yard line and returned 30 yards to the Bobcat 15 yard line. From this advantage point, the Jackets plowed away for a first down on the four yard line and one the third play, McCarver went over for the count-

BACKFIELD IS PERHAPS BEST IN DISTRICT

Sensational Run Canceled

The Jackets took the next kick-off and marched from their own 31 yard line to another touchdown without losing possession of the ball. After Gibbs and Baker had netted five yards, Captain Fields drove nine yards through the line for a first down on his own 46 yard line. On the next play the Jackets drew a five yard penalty and this was followed by a pass from Baker to McCarver, the latter receiving in the flat zone and racing 59 yards for a touchdown but this great run was cancelled by a penalty against the Jackets, an infraction having used his hands in clearing the path, the violation of the rule taking place on the Bobcat 32 yard line. The 15 yard penalty placed the ball on the Bobcat 47 yard line and Fields tripped off four yards for a first down on the line to a four yard strip.

Line plays netted a first down on the Bobcat 33 yard line and after Baker had been stopped for a one yard loss, Buck Gibbs broke through tackle on a 31 yard dash that was stopped on the Bobcat four yard line. The Bobcats elected to pass in succession to place the ball on the visitors' 6 inch line as the quarter ended. Gibbs bucked it over on the first play of the second period, Baker again added extra point with a place kick.

That ended the scoring in the first half. The Bobcats offered their most serious threat during the remainder of this quarter but were never able to get the ball inside the Jacket 40 yard line.

With the opening of the second half came the most sensational dash of the day. The Bobcats elected to receive and after being held on three plays, Berry punted to McCarver on the Jacket 30 yard line.

"Hot" Finally Made One

Early in the fourth period, Baker intercepted a Bobcat pass on the San Marcos 47 yard line and ran for four yards, a four yard gain by Dean and a 7 yard sprint by McCarver gave the Jackets a first down on the Bobcat 31 yard line. Baker netted one yard and then called on Masur to do his stuff and the big Indian came amuff with a 30 yard gain off tackle for the final touchdown of the game. Baker again converted with a place kick. This ended the scoring for the day.

A flock of substitutes and numerous passes by the Bobcats marred the remainder of the contest.

GREAT FINISH GIVES VICTORY TO DBC ELEVEN

WHAT is to be, will be, so say the Presbyterians and if this is true the powers that be offered football fans of this city a rare treat Saturday afternoon in the closing minutes of the annual grid battle between Daniel Baker and Austin College, the two leading Presbyterian schools of Texas. Regardless of the why's and wherefore's of this game, it had the most sensational and thrilling finish of any game played on a Brownwood gridiron in years. Almost certain defeat was turned into a victory as the Hill Billies, trailing by two touchdowns, opened up an attack that gave them a well earned triumph over their ancient foe men from Sherman, by a 13-12 score.

The Kangaroos had taken a two touchdown lead, scoring six point counters in the first and fourth periods and led the Hill Billies by a 12-0 score. The Kangaroos had already conceded the Australian Hoppers the game. But as the old saying goes, preachin' isn't over until the benediction is pronounced, and that final word was held back Saturday afternoon while the Brownwood eleven tried to speak a few words in their own behalf.

Kangaroo Score Early

Early in the first quarter the Kangaroos had marched down the field to score a touchdown and take a six point lead that looked like a sure thing. The Kangaroos increased in size as the game wore on. Then when Milam giant Kangaroo line captain, crashed through in the fourth quarter to pull down an attempted pass by Hunter and took a 10 yard gain for another touchdown, giving his team a 12 point lead, fans began leaving the park, thinking that all was over for the Billies.

But it was then that things began to happen. The Billies had been playing in miserable luck all afternoon but Luck became very friendly with the Brownwood team, at least this most courted dame did nothing to interrupt the desperate fight staged by the Baker boys as they fought a valiant and successful uphill battle, one that netted them a 6-0 lead.

After the Kangaroos had scored their second touchdown, the Billies elected to receive but could do nothing on three forward passes, all falling incomplete. The Billies had a punt and Austin College took the field. The Brownwood eleven laterally pass lost two yards when Mac Miller broke through to down Brice for the loss. Henderson hit the line for four yards and on the next play, Brice fumbled and the Hill Billy's ball hawker, Mac Miller, pounced on the loose hide giving his team possession of the pigskin on the Kangaroo 39 yard line. Three plays netted the first touchdown.

On the first play, Harlow passed to Johnson for 19 yards and a first down. On the second play, 20 yard stripe. On the next play, Hunter passed incomplete, to Johnson but the next pass, Hunter to Bob White, was good for 20 yards and a touchdown. Hunter added extra point with a place kick.

About four minutes playing time remained and it seemed almost impossible for the Blairmen to push over another touchdown, but as said in the beginning, what is to be, will be—so it seemed. But regardless of any philosophy, the game was not over.

"Ball Hawk" Delivers

Austin Billies elected to receive the next kick-off and took the ball on the Kangaroo 34 yard stripe. Two plays failed to gain and Brice dropped back to punt and he did with a flock of Hill Billy forwards swarmed in to block the punt and again the "Daredevil" Ball Hawk strutted his stuff, recovering the ball on the Sherman 30 yard line. By this time the fans had gone wild but the timekeeper had his gun in hand and it seemed that every play would be the last.

This last drive was started on the very first play when Hunter passed to Harry Johnson for 18 yards and a first down on the Kangaroo 12 yard line. Harlow came near getting around his own left end for a touchdown but was stopped after a five yard gain. Daniel Baker substitute was being sent in on every down, this assuring one more play. Harris had gone in for Johnson just before Harlow had made his five yard dash and Wise went in for White right after the sprint. On the next play, Hunter passed incomplete to Harris, after which the aerial game was abandoned.

Hamberlin Struts Staff

On the next play, Hamberlin, the big Freshman from San Angelo, hit center for five yards and a first down on the Austin College two yard stripe. Then on the next play, the timekeeper not to shoot that gun. Horn went in for Prescott to assure one more play. Hamberlin failed to go over on the first play and Taylor went dashing on the field to replace Weaver in the backfield. Then on the next play, Hamberlin put all he had into it and went over with plenty to spare, thus giving the Baker boys a 13-12 lead and victory. Hunter missed his try for extra point, but nothing matters then, after the game.

The Kangaroos received the next kick-off and flung one desperate pass that Harlow intercepted, returning it to the visitor's 35 yard line as the game ended.

The Billies had stuffed off several chances to score earlier in the game. Late in the second quarter, a long pass to Johnson gave the Blairmen a first down on the Kangaroo five yard line. A fumble on the second down lost the ball and the chance for a score.

Early in the third quarter, Hunter tossed a long and accurate pass to Weaver who had an open field for a touchdown, but the ball slipped through his hands. Shortly before this, Harry Johnson had been held away from a pass that had been reached, a touchdown would have been certain. And all in all it

LIONS FIGHT GREAT BATTLE WITH ABILENE

BY HOWARD BARRETT

Abilene Morning News

Abilene, Texas, Oct. 7.—A battling Brownwood high school football team, its back to the wall, gave ground grudgingly through four quarters here Saturday afternoon, only to be shoved to the edge of elimination by the Abilene Eagles, 13 to 0, from the Oil Belt grid race.

Records of the game show the Eagles outclassed their opponents in every way. They made 17 first downs while Brownwood was gathering but one and that the result of a penalty. They amassed a huge amount of yardage while Brownwood backs lost considerably more than they gained; and finally, the Lions failed to make a single threat at scoring.

From those facts one would gather that the game was a walkaway. It wasn't. In fact, for more than two quarters it looked as if the Eagles would be fortunate if they made a single touchdown, so stubborn was the game team opposing them. Opposing linemen and the secondary simply could not be pushed aside.

Here's A New Star

It was a substitute halfback who finally turned the tide for Abilene. They call him "Speedy" Williamson, and a very descriptive nickname he has. He is the speed demon of the Eagle team. He has never played in a football game until two weeks ago when, as a reserve, his broken field runs brought his team victory over the Winners Blizzards.

Williamson relieved Routh, who had made a good showing, just before the close of the second quarter. McQueen punted out of bounds on Abilene's 30-yard line and Williamson, on the first offensive play, the Eagles made after he entered the game, promptly skirted his right end for 28 yards and a first down. He picked up eight more on the next play, but the half ended before he got the opportunity to prove just what he could do.

The Eagles scored their first touchdown less than one minute before the close of the third quarter. After Williamson had crashed left tackle for six yards on the second down, Johnson plowed left guard for one yard and a touchdown. The second marker came within the last five minutes of play after the Eagles recovered Woodward's attempted pass on the Brownwood 14-yard line. Plunges made a first down and Foster gathered four yards at right tackle. Allen found a tremendous hole at center and covered the four yards to the goal line with little difficulty.

Linemen Smeer Plays

Not often does a high school team come to town with linemen as capable of smearing plays as were the Brownwood forwards. They were far from home when it came to offensive work, but they strutted their stuff when Abilene was in possession of the ball, forcing the Eagles to work for every yard they gained. It was McQueen, captain and end, who time after time rushed through to stop the driving Allen and Johnson on their plunges and to rush Allen on the several passes he attempted.

The spectacular whirlwind backfield touted by Brownwood turned out to be a gentleephyr in its drives against the Eagle line. Woodward, Harris, Gilliam and Taylor were thrown time and again for losses, by the host of substitutes centering the play late in the game probably doing a better job of smearing the plays than did the regulars. Brownwood offensive running plays garnered a total of but 37 yards, which was completely obliterated by losses totalling 38 yards—leaving the Lions 21 yards in the red on offensive play. In

JACKETS PLAY MURPHY, HILL BILLIES AWAY

WEEK'S SCHEDULE

Friday

Howard Payne vs. McMurry at Abilene. St. Edwards vs. Baylor at Waco. Austin College vs. S. M. U. at Dallas.

Saturday

Terrill vs. Trinity at Waxahatchie. Louisiana Teachers vs. San Houston at Huntsville.

Daniel Baker vs. Tech at Lubbock.

West Texas vs. A. C. C. at Abilene. South Texas vs. S'west Texas at San Marcos.

S'western vs. Rice at Houston. St. Edwards vs. Baylor at Waco.

ONLY one conference clash in the Texas Conference and T. I. A. A. billed for the current week, this being the annual battle between the Abilene Christian College Wildcats, a T. I. A. A. favorite, and the West Texas Teachers of Canyon, the team to be played in Abilene Saturday afternoon. Two conference tilts have already been decided in the T. I. A. A., these having been between S'west Texas and Stephen F. Austin. In both games the Lumberjacks came out on the small end of the final scores.

The Texas Conference has not witnessed a clash between member schools this season and this spectacle will be delayed another week. The first Big Six argument will be between the Yellow Jackets of Howard Payne and the Austin College Kangaroos in Brownwood, Friday October 18.

Billies and Jackets

Brownwood's entries in the T. I. A. A. and Texas Conference will participate in two feature games this week, both being on foreign soil. Daniel Baker, winner over Austin College, Texas Conference member 13 to 12, Saturday, will encounter the powerful Texas Tech Matadors Saturday in Lubbock. On the other hand, Howard Payne, ranked as the best in the Texas Conference, will battle the Murray Indians Friday in Abilene. The Jackets overwhelmed the San Marcos Bobcats, a T. I. A. A. team last Friday and McMurry trampled the Stephen F. Austin Lumberjacks Saturday, 35 to 0, this being a conference tilt.

The Yellow Jacket-Indian battle is sure to be a hard one, but does favor the Brownwood team. McMurry must overcome more than a fighting and powerful crew of Yellow Jackets, in that a tradition of never having won a game from a Brownwood eleven must be reckoned with. Howard Payne, and Daniel Baker enjoy a straight run of victories over the Indians with only one break; that being the 1927 tie game between the Indians and Hill Billies. Just by way of emphasis, McMurry has never scored against either the Jackets or Billies.

West Texas Classic

Daniel Baker's clash with the Matadors at Lubbock will be the classic of West Texas for the day. The Billies have never won the games at 0-0, played in 1926 and 1928. The Matadors won in 1925 and 1927, and if alternate years mean anything, the Lubbock crew is due to win again this year.

Southwest Texas Teachers meet a non-conference school this week when they stay at home to entertain the South Texas Teachers from Kingsville. San Houston needs the Louisiana Teachers in Huntsville.

Friday's schedule for Texas Conference teams finds Austin College playing S. M. U. and Trinity taking on Terrill Military College, with the Kangaroos going to Dallas and the Tigers remaining at home. Austin College is due to find the Mustangs on a let-down following the tough game with Nebraska last week, hence may hold the Ponies to a respectable score. Trinity should trim the Military outfit.

MELLON TO REMAIN THROUGHOUT HOOVER ADMINISTRATION

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—(AP)— Andrew W. Mellon will guide the fiscal affairs of the United States for the duration of the current administration.

This announcement by President Hoover is intended to lay the rumors that the 74-year-old financier, who has held the treasury portfolio longer than any of his predecessors, is planning to retire. It means that, his health and his wishes permitting, he will continue in the Cabinet until March 4th, 1933, spanning the terms of three administrations—Harding, Coolidge and Hoover.

In Asia in ancient times there was a considerable number of monumental aqueducts, the largest of which were in China and India.

Bloody Borger Hopes For An Era of Peace

After three years of turbulence, Borger, Tex., hopes the martial law invoked by Gov. Dan Moody (lower right) will be the town's last cleanup. Above is a view of the oil field in which Borger sprang; shortly after its founding, the latest investigation grew out of the death of John A. Holmes (left in set.) The troops are in charge of Brig. Gen. Jacob F. Wolters (upper right.)

BORGER, Texas (AP)—This boom town of the Texas panhandle, where blood and oil have flown freely since Borger was born three years ago, hopes to end its lawless history this year.

The substantial citizens—and there are plenty of them—are weary of the outbreak.

Baptized in a wave of crime and oil discoveries in March, 1926, Borger has reached a climax to its three-year reign of turbulence. Gov. Dan Moody, with a martial law proclamation, has moved to break up what has been termed the worst crime ring in Texas oil field history.

The immediate cause of the proclamation was the recent killing of John A. Holmes, district attorney. But violence always has been the lot of Borger.

It was born amid lawlessness, as are most oil field towns. When new oil is struck, the oil hands start toward it. They are well paid; they work hard and play hard—and rough. And close behind them trail the camp followers of crime.

Within 60 days after discovery of oil, 5,000 persons had arrived. Shootings in saloons, gambling houses and dance halls became almost nightly affairs. The town prospered, the population for a time grew 1,500 a month. Slayings were common, prosecutions were few.

The rangers stepped in and made an average of 100 arrests a day through the first period of lawlessness.

With that the town quieted some, but in October, 1926, Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson sent rangers again. In April 1927, Governor Moody ordered the rangers in a third time. Martial law was threatened but did not go into effect.

Now the state charges the town is crime ridden and must be purified. The governor's proclamation alleges that peace officers have accepted money for protection of crime; that respectable citizens have been afraid to talk, and that one peace officer is an ex-convict.

Mayor Glen A. Pace has been arrested, charged with having caused a witness in a murder case to leave town. Sam Jones, deputy constable, and Clint Melholland, policeman, have been arrested for investigation.

All other peace officers have been disarmed, and the soldiers, headed by Brig. Gen. Jacob F. Wolters, have taken over the government. The neighboring village of Stinnett, the county seat, also was put under martial law.

Meanwhile, the good citizens of Borger are hoping this cleanup will be the last. The town now has a population of 10,000. Its monthly payroll is $1,000,000 a month, consequently, law and order comprise the goal of the future.

TARIFF RATES ARE DISCUSSED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—(AP)—Remaining individual amendments delaying the start of the contest over tariff rates confronted the Senate today.

Leaders of the Democratic and independent Republican groups which have repeatedly stayed efforts of the Republican regulars to carry out President Hoover's wishes in administrative sections of the bill watched the approach of the final test of their coalition's strength with increasing optimism.

Among proposals the Senate was called upon to dispose of was that of Senator Thomas, Democrat, of Oklahoma, to have the bill sent back to the finance committee with instructions to limit revision to agricultural rates.
