Gainesville Cubs' Rally Falls Short; Tigers Win 20-14

In the history of Muenster's 67 years of progress this week deserves listing with the most significant of them all. We have the unique distinction of opening three new, modern and good looking stores the same week-end.

By financial measure some single events here have been bigger. Sacred Heart Church either of the two new high schools, and the Electric Co-operative building are all larger projects than these stores combined. Nevertheless, there is something grand about introducing three notable improvements during the same week.

People of the community are indebted to Anthony Luke and J. M. Weinzapfel for providing these new and good looking buildings. Despite the obvious fact that they expect to derive real benefits from their investments it is still true that the rest of us will enjoy the added facilities and comforts. Likewise the three occupants of the buildings, while improving their own business prospects, are also increasing our buying pleasures and opportunities. The Variety Store, The Charm Shop and Hamric's have stepped up considerably in their rating as community benefactors.

It might be said also that this triple opening event is no more significant than the year in which it occurs. We have already seen the opening of two outstanding new buildings, Hofbauer's and the Electric Co-op, and a big expansion program at the Muenster Mill is due for completion in a few more weeks. Besides, the appearance and prestige of the town have been further advanced by the completion of new four lane pavement leading into town.

There's no doubt about it, progress is on the march here. Muenster keeps improving as a place in which to live and to make a living. The outlook is most gratifying to all who have set their stakes here. It's also good enough to appeal to others who might be looking for a place to set their stakes.

During times when most small towns are either fading away or barely holding on, the record here is most gratifying. The increase in population is steady. Schools, churches, business houses, and civic facilities are all more than adequate for the numbers they serve. We've done a lot of growing and we have room for lots more growth.

The more we think it over the more we have reason to be proud of our community.

The decision of Superintendent Homsley and Coach Hosea to have a movie made of last Friday's Muenster-Alvord football game was nothing less than an inspiration, especially in relation to one incident in the contest.

The film completely exonerates one player who was sent out of the game for "slugging." A careful study of each of the several individual pictures in that play shows definitely that the official was wrong in his decision... that no movement in the play could reasonably be judged as a foul.

Needless to say, conclusive evidence of this kind lifts a heavy load off a young man's mind. Though convinced in his own mind that he was not guilty of the charge, he was nevertheless aware that he could not do or say anything to prove that the decision was wrong. Besides, he was handicapped, insofar as the judgment of a disinterested official should be more dependable than the defense of the accused. Fortunately, he has the proof, and all of us have reason to be glad with him.

The same applies, to only a slightly smaller extent, to every other member of the team. It's a blemish on the honor of all to have any one sent off the field. So, it's worth something to the spirit of all to have the proof that the decision was a mistake.

Bringing up the subject here is by no means an attempt to claim that "we was robbed." We prefer to think that the official was completely honest and called the game as he saw it. However, since the issue in this case involved the honor of the players rather than the breaks of the game, we're mighty grateful for real evidence to contradict the official's decision.

As regards the decision's effect on the rest of the game, we agree

Fans at the Sacred Heart-Gainesville B game got some unexpected excitement Thursday night as the Gainesville Cubs, in the closing minutes, threatened to tie, and perhaps to win after trailing 20-0 at the half.

Coach Jerry Vernon sent his reserves in after the rest period, and they did a fine job, holding the visitors scoreless until deep into the fourth quarter. However the TD and extra point at that time was followed promptly by a lucky break and another seven points, setting the score at 20-14.

Regulars went back into action but another break had them fighting with their backs to the line to hold back another score. They came through okay, but not until fans, as well as coaches had done a lot of sweating.

The Cubs were clearly out-classed by the Tiger first stringers, as indicated by the record of gains in the first half. Sacred Heart made 5 first downs, gained 144 yards on running plays and 38 yards on passes.

Battle at Buckner Looms as Toughie For Tiger Gridders

Because of one tiny bit of information the Sacred Heart Tigers have profound respect for Buckner's Home and the game that will be played Saturday night on the Buckner field in Dallas.

Word has reached Coach Jerry Vernon that his foes will be as strong as usual, maybe stronger. That was enough to convince the Tigers that they are heading for a real test. Games with the orphans have always been tough.

The encounter is the first of the Tigers' two in Southwest Academic League district play this year. The other will be played here next week, with Laneri of Fort Worth.

Another game has been added to the Tiger schedule. On November 9 they will go to New Diana for another try at the team which nosed them out 19-18 here on Sept. 28.

NEWS OF SICK AND INJURED

Mrs. John Eberhart is confined to bed since Sunday when she fell at her home and broke several ribs.

Mrs. Joe Otto was dismissed from M&S Hospital last Friday and is convalescing at home from surgery performed Oct. 2. She says many thanks for the cards, visits, prayers and many kindnesses during her illness. Her daughter, Lorraine Otto, of Amarillo was here to visit her and the family during the week-end.

Louie Lutkenhaus has been dismissed from Gainesville Sanitarium following medical care and is back at his home.

Mrs. C. M. Flusche is convalescing in her home at Decatur following surgery performed at St. Joseph's Hospital in Fort Worth.

Cecil Wolf has been a patient at Gainesville's M&S Hospital since Friday of last week. He was injured in last Thursday night's football game but was not aware he was hurt until the next morning. X-rays showed a back-hip injury and he was hospitalized for it to heal. It is not a permanent injury. Cecil is a junior at Sacred Heart High and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wolf.

Larry Gobble, 9, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Gobble, was a patient at Gainesville Sanitarium the latter part of last week for observation and x-rays. He was suffering from a stomach ailment.

Since Sunday Sister Theresia is out of danger, responding favorably to treatment after being critically ill Friday and Saturday with pneumonia following surgery performed on Sept. 25. She was moved Wednesday from Gainesville Sanitarium to St. Bernard's Hospital in Jonesboro, Ark., for further treatment and later, major surgery which had to be postponed on account of her weakened condition.

Lofty Installations Over Mill Attract Town's Attention

The big show which drew the attention of dozens of people toward the Muenster Mill shortly after noon Wednesday was the erection of a feed collector bin and the top of a bucket elevator frame above the recently finished grain bins.

It is part of the expansion program, due to be finished in about three weeks, which includes grain bins, additional warehouse space and new equipment, all coordinated for more efficiency and greater volume in feed processing.

Raising the elevator top and feed collector to their lofty positions above the mill required a special crane, hired from Fort Worth. With its 105 foot reach it easily lifted the two pieces of equipment to their places 70 feet up. The feed collector was secured in a specially built tower. The elevator top rests on the rest of the elevator frame, which extends down to 6 feet below ground level. It is secured by guy wires.

J. Travelstead, 84, Former Resident, Passes Tuesday

James Franklin Travelstead, 84, long time resident of Cooke County and formerly of Muenster, died Tuesday in a Gainesville hospital at about 1 p.m. A retired farmer, he resided at 1224 South Howeth Street. He farmed south of town while he lived here before moving to Gainesville.

Arrangements are pending at George J. Carroll and Son Funeral Home. Burial will be in Oak Grove cemetery near Woodbine.

Mrs. Travelstead was born Jan. 1, 1872 in Illinois.

He is survived by his wife; four sons, Cecil and Burl of Gainesville and Alty and Jack of Los Angeles, a daughter, Mrs. Jerry Beckner of Kuwait, Arabia, and 10 grandchildren.

Kiddies Play Hand Made Music Makers In Rhythm Festival

Sister Genevieve's third grade students of Sacred Heart school are working hard this week putting the finishing touches on a Rhythm Festival they'll present for the public Sunday night in the Muenster High auditorium. Curtain time is 8 o'clock.

An outstanding feature of the original program is that band instruments played by the little musicians have been hand made by the children themselves. Those who have had a sneak preview of rehearsals say it's remarkable — the melody that comes out of these quaint instruments.

The program presents the entire class in several numbers, includes addresses, action songs, a Skaters Waltz, a Virginia Reel, a Square Dance and a ballet number.

Each of the 45 students has a part in the program and some appear in more than one number.

Carol Henscheid plays piano accompaniment for the vocal selections. The program is a benefit for the third grade class.

Tiger Cubs Lick Saint Mary's 13-6

Father Patrick Hannon's Sacred Heart Cubs broke into the win column Sunday afternoon on the Tiger field nudging the kids of St. Mary's, Gainesville, by a one touchdown margin.

Both of the Cub scores were made in the first half. Paul Danglemyer hit the line to end a steady push down the field and Earl Hess got away on a neat 60 yard gallop. Theo Miller followed the second TD with a quarterback sneak to notch the extra point.

The Gainesville kids made their score on a sustained drive of 60 yards on about twelve plays. A plunge from the 2 completed the push.

Next for the Cubs is a game with Windthorst on the local field next Sunday afternoon at 2. It is due to be a tight contest, and later, major surgery which had to be postponed on account of her weakened condition.

Alvord Bulldogs Edge Hornets 14-12 In District Opener

District ambitions of Muenster High took a severe jolt Friday night as the Hornets lost their loop opening encounter to Alvord's Bulldogs by the margin of two points. The Hornets failed on both of their chances after touchdown and the final score was 14-12.

In spite of those two misses the loss might more properly be charged to fumbles. Four times the Muenster boys fizzled away their chance to keep going, and two of the fumbles were promptly followed by Alvord scores.

For what satisfaction they can derive from it, the Hornets have the better record of gains. They led 9 to 8 in first downs, 154 to 131 in yards rushing and 81 to 45 in yards passing.

The first half was one sided in Muenster's favor in spite of three fumbles, and the Hornets led 12-7 at intermission. The next half however was almost as one sided the other way with Alvord in possession considerably more than two thirds of the time. In that period Alvord led 7 to 2 in first downs and 99 to 40 in yardage.

The game opened with Muenster fumbling on the first series and Alvord losing the ball on downs after a 5 yard gain.

Next Muenster was hit with a rather disappointing 30 yard gain was called back and penalized for a 5 yard loss. Then another fumble giving Alvord the ball on the 24. Two runs made 8 and Peyton got loose for the remaining 16.

Hornets Need Win Over Valley View To Remain in Race

With a loss in the 10-B district race the Hornets will be out this week to start working their way up in the league standing, hoping eventually to be in line for the title if others also fail to pull through with a perfect record.

Intended victims in their comeback start are the Valley View Eagles, who also lost their first district game last week. They were walloped 27-13 by the Wildcats of Callisburg.

On paper the Hornets probably rate as favorites. With wins in their first three games and statistics that should have been accompanied by a win last week, they have a somewhat better record than the Eagles 2-2 standing.

Since, however, the teams have not met a common foe the comparison may be considerably less one sided. Another factor is that Valley View is traditionally set for the Hornets and can be expected to be at their best Friday night... on their home field. Hosea's boys will have to hustle to take that one.

Tops in district activity for the week will be the encounter of two winners, Alvord and Callisburg, on the Wildcat field. Another is the Sanger-Saint Jo game on the Panther field, with the Panthers rated as favorites. Era has an open date.

In the three conference games last week Alvord edged Muenster 14-12, Callisburg beat Valley View 27-13 and Era beat Sanger 12-6. Saint Jo did not play.

Pee Wees Tie Alvord In Junior Tussle

Weldon Holland's Public School Pee Wees continued their .500 standing in the 10-B Junior conference Tuesday night by tying Alvord's kids 6-6. In previous games they had beat Sanger and lost to Saint Jo.

All scoring of the contest was done in the first half. Alvord crossed the line first on a neat 30 yard pass play. Muenster followed up with a persistent drive down the field ending with Hudspeth's plunge for the score.

The second half was Muenster's statistically, but it did not pay off in points. Three drives ended short of the goal. One bogged down before it got there, another ended in a fumble, and another ran out of time. Moments before the final whistle they reached the 6 and two offside penalties set them back. They were still in possession and digging when the game ended.

Next on the Pee Wee calendar is a game with Valley View here on Oct. 23. Next Tuesday is an open date.

3 Firms Show New Stores at Formal Openings This Week

Retail business in Muenster receives a big face lifting this week as three stores begin operating in new and modern locations.

The Variety Store, owned and operated by Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Luke, introduced its new set up to the community Thursday with a big opening sale.

The Charm Shop, owned and operated by Mr. and Mrs. Ray Evans, and Hamric's, owned and operated by Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Hamric, will have the formal opening of their adjoining stores on Saturday.

The three firms are located in two brand new buildings which have been under construction since last spring. Anthony Luke built for his store and J. M. Weinzapfel built for Hamric's and The Charm Shop.

Both buildings were designed by M. C. Kleuser, Architect, of Dallas, both were built by the Lift-Slab method of construction, and they are very similar in appearance. By the Lift-Slab process the concrete roof is poured at the floor level and elevated mechanically to its proper position, then the side walls are built. Both buildings have brick walls at the sides and back and plate glass across the entire front. Both roofs extend forward to cover the front entrances.

Charm Shop and Hamric's Share Weinzapfel Place

Hamric's and The Charm Shop, which have a common entrance and are separated only by a partition topped by a long planter box, are combining their joint formal openings with anniversary observances.

This is the tenth anniversary for the Charm Shop, purchased on October 7, 1946, and the second for Hamric's, established on October 1, 1954. It also renews an arrangement that was in effect for several months after Hamric's was opened. Mrs. Hamric, a former employee in the ladies' wear store, started her men's wear business with a few racks and cases in the Charm Shop and moved later to the location north of the post office.

A double door entrance serves the two clothing stores, however each also has a single door entrance at the front. The partition, which divides the interior space evenly, extends from the back and stops about ten feet from the main entrance. The Charm Shop occupies the north half, Hamric's the south half.

Interior finishing in the two stores is identical except that the back two thirds of the Charm Shop floor is covered with rose carpeting. The front portion and all of Hamric's floor is covered with brown and buff asphalt tile. Rear walls above the partition level and pillar enclosures above the partition are painted chartreuse. Sides and the rest of the back are old rose. A sound system, with radio, phonograph and speaker connections accommodates both stores. Each has its separate com-

Death Wednesday Ends Long Illness Of Mrs. Waggoner

Mrs. J. O. Waggoner, former Muenster resident, passed away Wednesday morning at 6 o'clock in a Gainesville hospital following several years of illness. She was 71.

Funeral services were held Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the Broadway Street Church of Christ and burial was at Era. George J. Carroll and Son Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Waggoner, the former Pearl McKinney, was born in Hunt county and was married to Mr. Waggoner Aug. 2, 1905, at Era. She had resided in Cooke county 66 years, much of that time north of Muenster before moving to Gainesville seven years ago.

In addition to her husband she is survived by six sons, Seymour Waggoner of Longview, Hulen Waggoner of Saginaw, Vincent Waggoner of Sanger, Kyle Waggoner of Saint Jo, Vernon and J. O. Waggoner Jr. of Fort Worth; five daughters, Mmes. V. L. Rowe of Ranger, Roxie Reeves of Denton, T. W. Beall of Abilene, B. G. Martin of McGregor, and Billie Morrow of Ponca City, Okla.; 19 grandchildren, one brother and one sister.

Tony Luke Moves Variety Store Into His New Building

A dream of almost eleven years was realized Thursday morning when Anthony and Leona Luke opened the Variety Store in their bright new building.

The business, established in December 1945, had long outgrown the limited space of its former location. Now, with about twice as much floor space and better arrangement, the store presents a vast array of variety items, all well displayed and easily accessible... all except some larger items.

Lack of space for those larger items indicates that the store may have outgrown also the space allotted for it in the new building. Space occupied is the north 38 feet of the building. The remaining 28 feet was provided for the possible use of a tenant or the store's expansion, as circumstances should decide. Now, since no tenant has taken the space, it will be used for Christmas wheel-toys and some other more bulky items. That arrangement will probably continue through the holidays, after which Luke will decide whether to use the space permanently or rearrange to provide space with the other merchandise.

The south room will also have another special use in the near future. A special clearance sale for discontinued lines, odds and ends, and surplus items will be held there instead of in the old store as previously planned. A completely modern atmosphere features the new Variety Store. Bright walls are finished in yellow at the sides and light green at the back. Four double rows of slim line tubes furnish the light. A combination heater and air conditioner controls the temperature. A sound system is equipped for radio or phonograph connections. Floors are of

Fast Action Checks Grass Fire Spread

An early call and prompt response by the city fire truck last Saturday night stopped a grass fire while it was still comparatively small. The blaze, in Frank Trubenbach's pasture burned off five acres.

The fire started in the city trash dump and apparently was spread to the pasture by scraps of paper or rubbish carried over in the wind.

brown and buff asphalt tile. Three rows of new oak counters with glass partitions extend almost the full length of the store, leaving aisle space at either end. More such counters with racks and shelves above extend along the three walls.

A store room in the back has a wrapping counter, generous rack space for lay-away accommodation and space for stock storage.

Conspicuous in the new store are signs identifying it as a member in the Ben Franklin association of privately owned stores. The association has over 2400 members in the United States, Hawaii and Alaska, and the Variety Store has been a member for about five years.

The benefit of membership, Luke explained, is that it offers the advantage of consolidated purchasing power for larger variety and better price. It enables the independent merchant to compete with chain stores.

Muenster Group at NCCM Meeting with Sherman Men Hosts

Rev. Louis Deuster and Herbert McDaniel, Joe Hess and Frank Bayer, accompanied by James Bayer of Valley View, went to Sherman Sunday afternoon to attend the deanery meeting of the National Council of Catholic men in St. Mary's parish hall.

The general assembly workshop presented Father John G. O'Rourke, deanery moderator from Greenville. His subject was "The Challenge of Today." After his address he answered questions from the floor.

T. P. Flahive, Dallas attorney and chairman of the diocesan committee on legislation, spoke on "Responsibility of Catholics as Citizens to Vote," and James R. Parker, diocesan chairman of the communications committee, addressed the audience on the subject "Use of Local Media and Approach for Positive Action." His leadership and interest with cooperation of deanery chairmen resulted in the diocesan council being the winner in the national competition for the 1956 Catholic Action award.

"Importance of Public Relations and How to Develop Them" was the subject discussed by H. Seelington, "Completed Projects and Future Program Plans" was the topic of the talk given by Sam Wing Jr., and "Sponsoring Selected Programs — How to Secure Community Action" was the theme of C. Johnson's address. The three men are diocesan committee chairmen. A question and answer period followed each talk.

Father Henry McGill of Denton, diocesan moderator, and visiting clergy made comments and the Very Rev. John B. Duesman, pastor of the host parish who called the meeting to order, gave the closing prayer.

Among announcements was the forthcoming address by Bishop Fulton J. Sheen to be given over WBAP-TV on Oct. 28 at 9:30 a.m.

Mrs. Walterscheid Is Club Hostess

All 13 members of the Get-Together Club were present for the October meeting of the organization on the first Wednesday of the month when Mrs. C. M. Walterscheid was hostess in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Leo Lawson.

Birthday honorees for October, Mrs. Joe Luke and Mrs. John Wieler, received gifts from their Sunshine Pals.

In the progressive 42 series Mrs. J. B. Wilde won the high score award and Mrs. John Hartman received the consolation favor. Mrs. Jake Pagel drew the door prize.

Mrs. Walterscheid, assisted by Mrs. Lawson and Mrs. James Mollenkopf, served cherry pie with ice cream and coffee after the games.

CONDUCT PAPER DRIVE

Sophomore students of Sacred Heart High are conducting a paper drive this week as a class benefit. They're soliciting old newspapers, magazines, catalogues, etc. Anthony Klement's home is the collection depot. Persons unable to deliver their contributions there are asked to call the high school, through Friday, and someone will stop at the donor's home or place of business to pick up the bundles.

Garden Club Hears Mrs. Homsley Talk On Indoor Bulbs

Mrs. H. H. Homsley, speaker on the program hour at the Civic League and Garden Club meeting Monday night, presented an informative discussion on "Indoor Bulbs." Her talk on the club's horticultural project for this year gave many hints and helps on the planting and care of bulbs.

The speaker displayed a container of hyacinths showing correct arrangement, explained other details and stressed the use of large bulbs, the largest available for forcing. Smaller bulbs do well outdoors, she said, but for indoor forcing the big, plump, firm bulbs are far superior.

During the business session Mrs. Tony Gremminger, president, presided and committee chairmen gave their reports.

Members voted to enter a decorated float in the Christmas parade and named Mrs. Dan Luke chairman of the project. She will have a working committee to assist with the details.

Members also discussed the semi-annual collection for the cemetery and made arrangements to solicit funds at the church doors on November 1.

Nineteen members attended the meeting in the home of Mrs. Tony Gremminger with Mrs. Ted Gremminger as co-hostess. Mrs. Jim Cook, a former member visiting here from Mexia, was a guest for the evening and Mrs. Jake Pagel was welcomed as a new member.

The hostesses served fruit plates and coffee during the social hour following adjournment of the business session.

Class Benefit is Successful Event

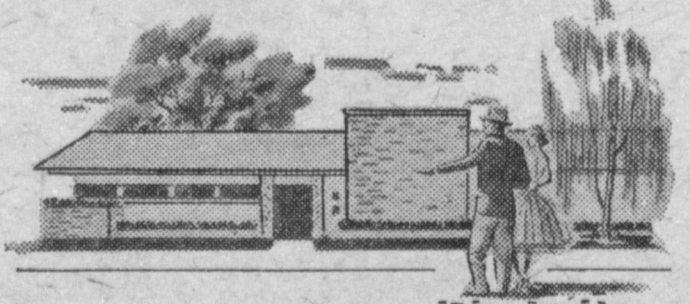

Junior students of Sacred Heart High and all those connected with the class barbecue supper Sunday night are pleased over the attendance at the benefit affair and want to thank those who were present to make it such a successful event.

Two hundred supper plates and 200 sandwiches, along with coffee and cold drinks, were served during the evening. Mrs. Joe Lehnertz catered the meal. Students assisted with serving. Proceeds have gone into the class treasury.

"...just remember, I want my kitchen to be ALL-ELECTRIC!..."

Somewhere in the blueprint stage . . . this is a statement that's being made more and more often. There's wisdom behind it, too. Building a new home without an electric kitchen is somewhat like building a 1940 model automobile! So, if you're planning a new home, build it to modern standards . . . be sure your architect's specifications provide for an all-electric kitchen including the latest in electrical cooking, dishwashing and other conveniences . . . and really get your money's worth of modern living.

Reddy Kilowatt says: The heart of the home is the kitchen. Make it modern . . . insist on electric appliances . . . live better, electrically!

BIG JOB

"Like a snowball rolling downhill, gathering momentum and size, Oil Progress Week gets bigger and bigger and bigger with each passing year," reports the American Petroleum Institute. The 1956 observance—October 14-20—will outdistance its predecessor in scope, size, and impact.

The Week is not designed to sell a material commodity. It is designed to sell an idea — by showing the American people how the oil industry operates, all the way from the fields where the crude oil is produced to the corner service station, and by giving them a better idea of the benefits that flow from free, competitive enterprise.

Leaders of the industry will take to the stump, and talk about oil and oil progress. Displays, special events and exhibits will reach virtually every community in this vast country — these activities will be carried out by local oil men in their own towns and counties. A full color motion picture will be shown in theatres, schools, on TV, and at various public gatherings. In many communities service station dealers will be saluted as "Ambassadors of good will" by community organizations. There'll also be such attractions as parades, beauty queens, open houses, speeches and rallies, and so on and so on.

This is a big job. It has to be, for it deals with one of the richest and most important resources of our country—oil.

Under the leadership of its new National Commander, W. C. ("Dan") Daniel, of Danville, Va., The American Legion may be expected to execute a right-oblique back to the side of the road that Americans traditionally travel. For certainly, we find nothing in Daniel's speech accepting his new responsibility that will comfort the faction that contends that Uncle Sam owes a living to every hale and hearty citizen who once wore an armed forces uniform.

In Daniel's view, "the cause which claims the first allegiance of all Legionnaires" is that of "preserving and strengthening the America we all love." He reminds us that America, more than a bit of geography, "is a way of life, a haven of liberty and freedom . . . the embodiment of certain political convictions and fundamental principles."

He reminds The Legion and all the rest of us that the heritage "secured for us by sacrifice and hard work is not self-perpetuating" and that it is constantly under attack by subversives. Our traditional principles, he says, have been scrapped by millions in favor of "A new philosophy . . . conceived in the womb of socialism, born in an era of social and economic conflict, and nursed in the lap of Communism." In contrast he offered "the creed that true Americans live by"—as enunciated by Commentator Paul Harvey—"I believe in my God, and in my country, and in myself, and in that order."

Commander Daniel, the Virginia boy who, on the fifth try, persuaded the Navy to accept him in World War II despite his TB history, and who—without a college degree—has fought his own way up in the world from mill hand to executive, lays it on the line this way:

"When the pioneers settled this wilderness and began to look toward the west . . . there was a philosophy that a man was supposed to provide for his own—and for his own future. He didn't demand that somebody else give him a rocking chair at eventide. He didn't insist that someone else take care of him . . . He just looked out at the rolling plains stretching away to the tall, green mountains, lifted his eyes to the blue skies and said: "Thank you, God, I can take it from here."

"Somewhere along the way this spirit has been lost, and it must be recaptured."

These are the marching orders, we believe, for which the vast majority of Legionnaires, and of Americans-at-large, have been waiting.

Pause For Reflection

. . . with James C. Ingebretsen President, Spiritual Mobilization
 A recent Associated Press dispatch from Albuquerque, N.M., said:

"There is nothing like following military regulations to a T. Regulations say every government building must have a door and a means to lock it.

"At Kirtland Air Force Base here, there is a 20x40 foot building with only two sides — the ends being open. The building houses a truck.

"In one of the sides there is a door — as the regulations require. Furthermore, it has a hasp on it so it can be locked — as the regulations require."

Well, isn't that about what we have come to as a constitutional republic? The locked door of the Constitution is still there. But what does it signify when both ends of the building have been knocked out by recent Supreme Court decisions?

. . . . Adlai says Ike's a good general but no statesman. He the product of the Cook County machine is qualified to judge statesmanship is mighty questionable, and one is inclined to agree with Harry Truman's August estimate of Adlai as incapable of filling the President's chair. Harry wobbled around in it like a peanut in a pumpkin shell and he ought to know it takes a bigger man to fill it than Adlai or himself.

"But I Don't Need To Go To Church . . ."

By Rev. Joseph Manton, Author and Lecturer

I SUPPOSE we have all met the person who insists he can worship God far better high on a windswept hill than squeezed in the stale pews of a stuffy church. I am always tempted to ask such a person, "Tell me, do you do much mountaineering?"

Would such a person climb to the cathedral of nature in a roaring blizzard or in the dismal rain? After all, God is in the sleet or the heat or the fog as well as in the technicolor sunset. Those who protest they adore God best without benefit of steeple often are merely enthusiastic over fair weather and a pretty landscape, and God gets a nod as the stage manager.

Manton

WE LIVE in an orderly world where there is a special place for everything. We have books in libraries, money in banks, operating rooms in hospitals, and altars in churches. God Himself favored the fixed and definite place. He had His Mount Sinai, crowned with fearful smoke and bright flame. Bethlehem itself was pin-pointed on the map, and in it, one certain stable where the altar was a manger.

Church is the special place for the adoration of God and the practice of religion. Church is the meeting place of man with God and God with man. We know this truth not only from the Bible and the teachings of Jesus Christ, but man's natural instinct suggests that there should be a special spot, a definite place for the practice of religion. A church no more stands between man and his God than a cup stands between a man and his coffee.

THIS DOESN'T mean nature can have no religious importance. A second, but definitely secondary way, of honoring God, is appreciating His work in creation. Nature is a fascinating book and on every page there flourishes the signature of God—whether you stare up through a telescope or squint through a microscope, you catch your breath in wonder.

Under the power of a microscope, for instance, a tiny drop of water siphoned from a slimy puddle appears to be a lake darting with fantastic creatures.

TOO OFTEN we relish the beauty of a rose or a rainbow, but because God never gives a commercial, we never think of the sponsor. Actually, as long as we first honor God in His official place, the church, on His official day, Sunday, we can also honor Him Monday at sunset or Thursday at dawn—on a snowy spike of a mountain or a dimpled blue lake. But the big thing is to do it God's way first—in the way He established, on the day He appointed.

Happy Swap

More and more farmers—who badly need hired help sometimes, but can't afford a full-time hand—are making deals with young town workers and the employers they work for.

For instance, young Hap Hooper now lives rent-free on Easy Roberts' farm. In return he works about 100 days a year for Easy—for a farmhand's pay.

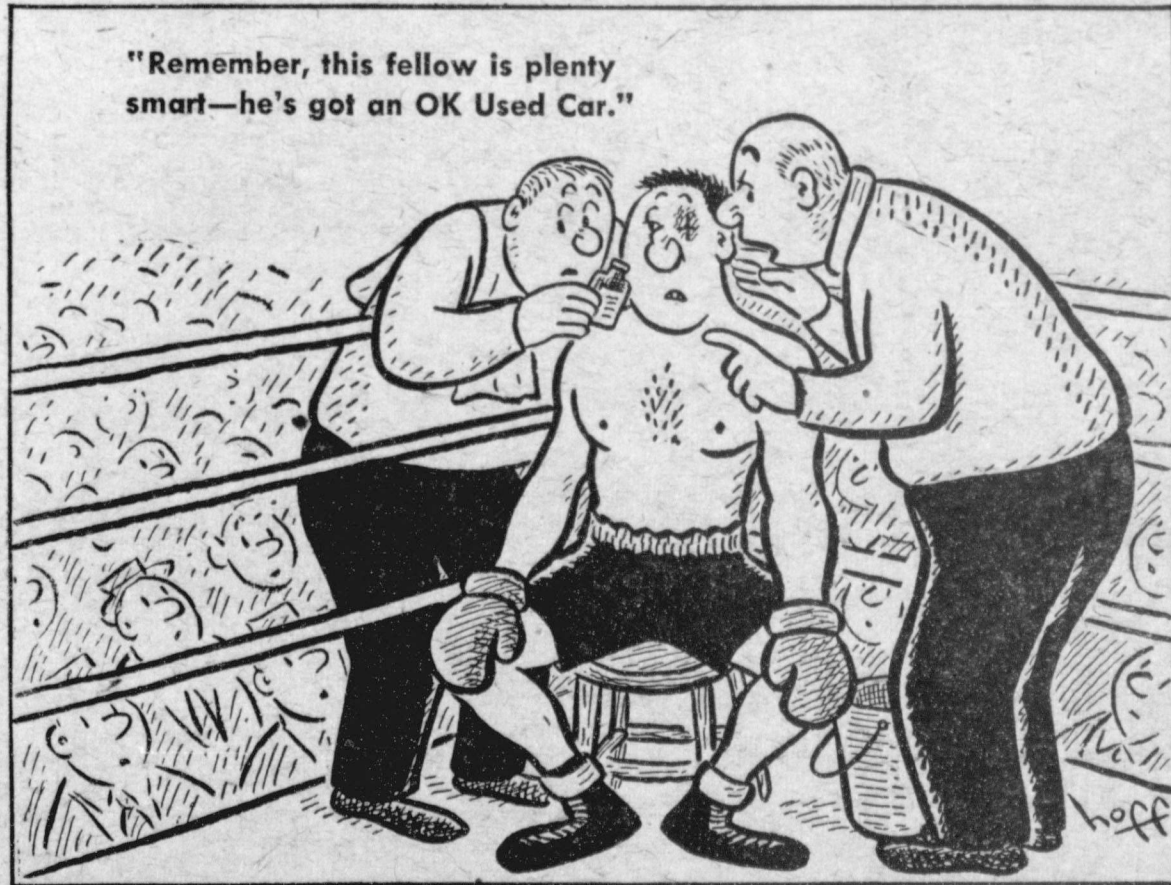

The rest of the year Hap works for his "regular" boss . . . Buzz Ellis, the electrician. Buzz just speeds up his business when Hap's on hand—slows it down when he isn't—and, like Easy, pockets healthy savings in wages.

From where I sit, it's great how people with different backgrounds—and different viewpoints—can co-operate. How about more of us trying that? I live in a town—maybe you're a farmer. I'm partial to a good glass of beer—you may prefer coffee or milk. But we can make things pleasanter by ignoring differences and giving each other a "hand."

DARI-KOOL will pay for itself in use.

HERE'S HOW...

The cost of hauling milk in cans is 40 cent per 100 pounds as compared with 25 cents per 100 pounds for hauling tank milk, thus a saving of 15 cents per hundred.

Elimination of wastage of milk spilled or left in the can at the plant is 7 cents per 100 pounds.

Improved butterfat test gained by selling all the cream instead of leaving some of it sticking to the can and lid account for another 6 cents per hundred.

THIS GIVES A TOTAL SAVING OF 28 CENTS FOR EACH 100 POUNDS OF MILK HANDLED. THIS 28-CENT A HUNDRED SAVING WILL PAY FOR YOUR DARI-KOOL.

A producer with an average of 10 cans of milk (36 pounds each) a day will sell 25,800 pounds per month. At 28 cents per hundred saving, he will be ahead by $72.24 each month.

The approximate cost of a 250-gallon tank installed is $2,400 with interest of $216 for a total of $2,616. This can be divided into 36 monthly installments of $72.11 each. THUS YOUR SAVINGS MAKE YOUR PAYMENTS FOR YOU. This estimate is without down payment or trade-in, which would cut the principal and monthly payment substantially.

Early Treatment Can Cure Cancer

AUSTIN — Fear of cancer cannot help its victim, and unreasonable fear should be replaced by intelligent action concerning this disease, is the opinion of Dr. Henry A. Holle, Commissioner of Health.

The commissioner said that cancer can usually be cured in its earlier stages, before it spreads to other areas of the body. This has been demonstrated by the fact that many persons have been treated successfully by surgery, radium or x-ray and are living now, many years after a definite diagnosis of early cancer was made. Many people postpone diagnosis when they suspect cancer either because they dread to hear the truth or because they believe that a cure is impossible.

In the treatment of cancer, time is the most important factor, according to Dr. Holle. To produce satisfactory results, treatment must begin early in the course of the disease while the cancer is confined to a small area.

Persons suspecting cancer should consult their physician as soon as they notice any unexplainable lump, unusual discharge, a persistent sore on any part of the body, or any change in the appearance of a mole or wart. It is disastrous to wait for pain, as this is a late symptom that usually doesn't occur until the malignant growth has made considerable advance.

Two main rules should be followed in combatting cancer. First, have an annual physical examination by a reputable physician. In this way incipient cancerous conditions can be discovered and by proper treatment the disease can be conquered. The second rule is to mistrust high promising statements of "amazing new discoveries."

The value of early diagnosis cannot be stressed too strongly. For that reason all persons, especially those of middle age or older should have regular periodic physical examinations at least once a year.

SH School Society Has First Meeting

The Home-School Society, of Sacred Heart School, now in the process of organization, has held its initial meeting, elected its officers and set the last Monday of each month as its regular meeting date.

Andrew Schoech heads the group as president; Mrs. Eddie Schmitt is vice president; Mrs. Edd McGannon, secretary; Mrs. Richard Trachta, treasurer; and Rev. Christopher Paladino, counselor. Chairmen and members of several committees are still to be named.

Among objectives of the society are promotion of the welfare of the child by establishing better relationship among parents, teachers and pastors, and the promotion of activities for the benefit of students and the school under the guidance of the pastor.

About 90 parents, members of the school faculty and the pastors attended the organizational meeting.

CDA Court Meets Monday, October 15

Catholic Daughters of America will hold their regular October meeting next Monday, the fifteenth, instead of the usual Friday so as not to conflict with other activity.

Mrs. Dan Luke, lecturer, has an interesting program planned with Father Christopher as a guest speaker. After the meeting there will be a social hour with refreshments of pie and coffee.

1957 License Tags Are Black on White

Automobile license tags in Texas for 1957 will be black and white and will feature a "Lone Star" between the prefix letters and numbers, the Highway Department has announced.

The new color combination which hasn't been used since 1923 will show black numbers and letters on a white background. The size remains the same, 6 by 12 inches.

This year's tags are black with gold numerals. These colors have been used since 1940. In 1937 and 1938 the combination was black and ivory, somewhat similar to next year's color scheme.

Local News BRIEFS

Mrs. Henry Streng talked by phone Sunday night to her son Bill Streng in Modesto, Calif., and learned that her son Joe, seriously hurt in an accident recently, is much improved and, barring complications, is on the road to complete recovery.

Jerry Reiter, a senior, and Kenny Fette, William Fisher and Lloyd Klement, freshmen, students at St. John's Seminary in San Antonio began classes Monday. The school's opening had been delayed on account of a building program. The four boys left Saturday night by train from Denton. Mr. and Mrs. Alfons Reiter and Mrs. Herman Fette were there to see them off.

The Ray Sicking were hosts in their home Sunday for a birthday dinner honoring Mrs. Bill Flusche. Centerpiece for the table was a large decorated cake made by Mrs. Sicking.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Swirczynski and children Sonja, Jill and Kevin of Ardmore visited here Sunday with homefolks and attended the barbecue supper in the parish hall where they greeted many of their old friends.

Rev. Anthony Schroeder of Little Rock, Ark., was here Sunday afternoon and overnight as a guest of the local pastors and in the evening visited with former parishioners at the parish hall supper. He was enroute to Windthorst to see his father who is in ill health. It is five years ago this week that Father Anthony left Muenster to be pastor at Altus, Ark., after serving as pastor of Sacred Heart parish.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hermes moved during the weekend to occupy the Fisher house, 713 N. Main. They had been living in Andy Yosten's house. The James Hammers who lived in the Fisher house have rented the Yosten place — the two couples just exchanged houses — but the Hammers won't move to their new location for some time. They will be living with her sister and family, the Johnny Bartholds, until Mrs. Barthold is able to walk and do her own housework. She is recovering from injuries received in a Labor Day car accident.

Rev. John Walbe of Rhineland spent Monday here, with the local pastors after being an overnight guest of Father Conrad in Lindsay. He brought the Rhineland teachers, Sister Christopher and Sister Hildegard, to Muenster to be overnight guests of the local Sisters and to accompany them to Fort Worth Monday to attend the Teachers Institute.

Martha Rohmer of Los Angeles, Calif., is spending a two-week vacation here with her parents, the Leo Rohmers, and other family members. Thursday night Mr. and Mrs. Alois Rohmer entertained with a supper party for his sister, and Sunday there was a family gathering at the Rohmer home. Friday Mr. and Mrs. Urban Rohmer, Leo Rohmer, and Mary Rohmer accompanied Martha to Wichita Falls where they all spent the day with Mr. and Mrs. Gary Wooten and family. Mrs. Wooten is the former Bertha Rohmer. Other family get-togethers are planned for Martha while she is here.

Mrs. Ronnie Herr arrived Friday from Lubbock to spend this week here with her parents, the Albert Henscheids and family.

Weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Linn were his sister and brother-in-law, the W. B. Parkers of Dallas. Other guests in the Linn home during the week were her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Clark of Bonham.

Mrs. Earle Otto and daughter Elaine, Mrs. Billy Mayer of Pilot Point and their mother, Mrs. John Hoffman, were Wichita Falls visitors Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wolf have returned from their wedding trip and are settled in their home at Gainesville. They honeymooned in the Ozarks and stopped in Little Rock, Ark., for a visit with his uncle, Rev. Anthony Schroeder. They also saw Father Herman Laux there.

Mr. and Mrs. Teddy Gremminger and children Dwayne and Mary moved during the weekend to make their home in Fort Worth. Teddy is employed as a salesman for Kraft Foods Co.

AWAY ALL SCOOTERS—Two adventurous ladies plan to cross the English Channel the "easy" way—on a water scooter. The show girls, Kay Harris, front, and Una Denton, will scoot from Calais to Dover—they hope. The machine has a speed of 20 knots, and will automatically slow and circle back if the riders fall off. The pair is shown, above, on practice run at Folkestone, England.

Ike Can't Make It Rain, But He's Still Best Man

The other day I asked a farmer if it was dry out his way. He said it sure was. "Looks like we just can't get any rain," he said. "Why, when Noah had his 40-day flood, we didn't get over half an inch."

There's no mistake about it, Texas is having itself a real drouth. Some of the farmers and ranchers in our county are in such bad shape that they may vote for Stevenson.

Old Man Jones, from across the river, said he wasn't going to go to any such extreme. He said he needed rain as bad as anybody else. He claimed water was so scarce in his community that the preacher was baptizing new members with a wet handkerchief. But he was holding out awhile longer, anyway.

"I may be stubborn," said Old Man Jones, "but I just ain't been convinced that President Eisenhower is keeping it from raining."

He said he knew that Stevenson and Kefauver acted like they thought so, and they had a right to their opinion. Lyndon Johnson, he figured, knew better, but he was sticking with Adlai and Estes for the sake of unity. He said he didn't figure Mr. Sam Rayburn had known whether it was raining or not for the last 25 years.

"I hate not to go along with such a widely known crowd of weather observers," Old Man Jones said. "If there's anybody who keeps up with which way the wind is blowing, generally speaking, it's Stevenson, Kefauver and Johnson."

Then he went on to say that he realized the national farm program hadn't pleased everybody—including him. If he was in the White House, he would do things different, at least in our county. He allowed that the $61,000,000 spent by the Eisenhower administration for drought relief in Texas could have been doubled and still not made all the farmers happy and prosperous.

"But," said Old Man Jones, "I keep remembering that the main reason for our troubles, besides the drouth, is the fact that we are not at war. Now, if Adlai and Estes really want to jump on President Eisenhower, there is a real issue. They've sure got the goods on Ike in that respect. If he hadn't stopped that Korean War, farm prices would be higher, no doubt. I wonder why they never mention that."

Old Man Jones was kidding a little, of course, in his usual way, but I think he had something there. We have got to adjust to peace-time, which is taking awhile but President Eisenhower is working at it. And meanwhile our boys aren't fighting and dying on foreign soil. It's worth thinking about.

Yours truly,
Jex

LIFE RAFT FOR NEAR-SPACE VOYAGERS—Pilot of this near-space craft watches body of his ship begin the long, incinerating fall toward earth as he drifts free in the control portion of the vehicle. Drag of the parachute will become effective as the almost nonexistent atmosphere thickens on the long fall toward earth. It will slow him sufficiently to allow him to survive re-entry into the sea of air which is our atmosphere. Main fuselage of the craft will flame across the sky as friction at supersonic speed destroys it. The sketch, above, is one artist's conception of how man will return to earth after first reaching into space toward the stars. This possible solution was offered by A. M. Mayo, Douglas Aircraft engineer, in an address made before the Aero Medical Assn. at Chicago, Ill.

Kids Have Holiday; Teachers at Class

Sacred Heart school, like other Catholic schools of the Dallas-Fort Worth diocese, was closed Monday and student had a holiday while their teachers attended classes. The occasion was the 20th annual diocesan teachers' institute held in Fort Worth.

Sessions at Our Lady of Victory were directed by Rev. Edward R. Maher, diocesan director of schools. The opening talk, "Public Relations in Catholic Schools," was given by Msgr. Henry C. Bezou, superintendent of schools of the archdiocese of New Orleans.

Special sessions were held for elementary and high school teachers. Sister Patrine of New Orleans gave a lecture and demonstration on the teaching of reading, using a group of OLV eighth graders. Rev. Jacques Weber, S. J., of Dallas demonstrated the teaching of languages in high school with a group of 28 boys from Jesuit High of Dallas. Dr. F. Kenneth Brasted, president of the University of Dallas addressed the high school teachers' section at the closing session.

Priests, brothers, nuns and lay teachers representing more than 75 Catholic schools of the diocese were at the meeting. They were served luncheon by the OLV Home and School Association. A text book exhibit was open during the day in the campus house.

Students of the Münster Public school likewise enjoyed a holiday Monday. Because the schools share a common bus system the day was figured as a holiday for both schools when superintendents of the schools set the number of class days and the number of holidays before the term opened.

Auxiliary to VFW Slates Membership Rally November 1

Plans for a membership rally were completed by members of the VFW Auxiliary at their meeting Monday night and the date for the event was set as Thursday, November 1.

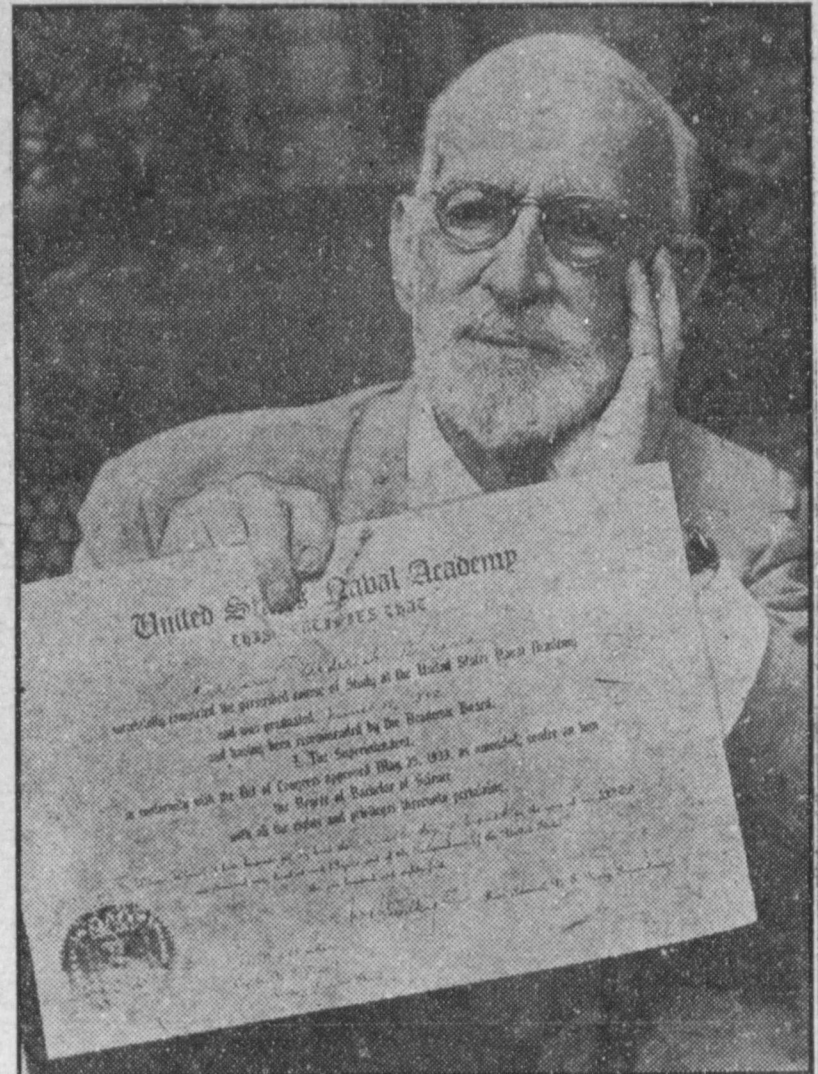

The night's program will feature a chili supper for members in the VFW Hall. Mrs. L. J. Roberg heads the committee on memberships and Mrs. Joe Lehnertz will cater the meal. Assisting on the committee are Mrs. Steve Moser, Mrs. David Trachta, Mrs. Dick Trachta and Mrs. John Huchton.

Members agreed to take charge of registrations when the chest x-ray unit locates here the latter part of this month and voted to donate a flag to the Girl Scout troop. They also decided to enter a decorated float in the Christmas parade.

Other business during the session conducted by Mrs. Richard Grewing, president, was compliance with honor roll requirements for the month. These are giving a contribution to the National Home for Christmas cheer and collection of ten percent of membership dues.

Mrs. Fred Savage was accepted as a new member and was received in the usual ritual conducted by officers. Mrs. Charles Cunningham was accepted as a candidate for membership.

After adjournment Mrs. L. J. Roberg, hostess for the social hour, served refreshments and Mrs. Al Walter won the attendance prize.

BETTER LATE THAN NEVER—Dr. William Frederick Durand, oldest living graduate of the Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md., displays evidence of the honor he has been awaiting for 76 years—his diploma. When he graduated second in his class in 1880, Dr. Durand received no diploma, as the Academy at that time did not present them to the graduating classes. The custom has since changed, and the 97-year-old doctor of engineering finally received his degree in appropriate ceremonies at his home in New York City.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

OUR SOIL * OUR STRENGTH

The Conservation Reserve Program of the Soil Bank Act offers landowners an opportunity to obtain increased financial assistance in getting land established to grasses.

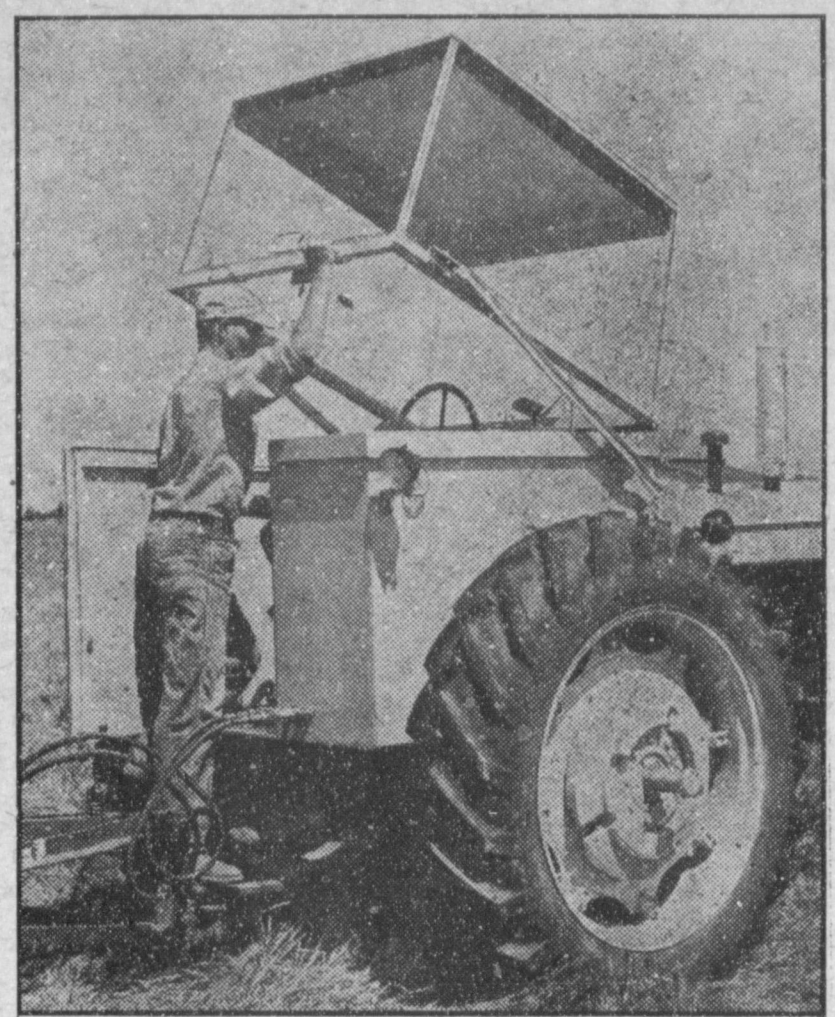

Under the Soil Bank Act land that should be planted to grasses can be rented to the government for a period of five years on an acre basis under the Reserve Program. In addition to the annual rent on the land the Soil Bank Act provides for assistance up to 80 per cent of the cost of the seed and fertilizer to plant the conservation reserve acres to adapted grasses. Land put into the conservation reserve cannot be grazed or cut for hay during the contracted time.

It is a good opportunity to get those acres that are subject to erosion planted to grass so that they will be protected and will be productive acres in the future.

Application for putting land into the Conservation Reserve Program can be made at the ASC office in Gainesville. The local Soil Conservation Service personnel will assist in land selection and in the selection and establishment of grasses.

Ponds
Cooperators of the Upper Elm-Red Soil Conservation District have taken advantage of the prolonged drought to clean out and enlarge many ponds for livestock water.

Felderhoff Brothers have enlarged five tanks and cleaned out others on the Army Camp Ranch. One of the enlargements is among the largest ever built for livestock water in this area. The dam contains 7220 cubic yards. The water will be more than 20 feet deep and will cover over three acres. A 60 foot spillway was shaped to take care of excess run-off and to protect the dam.

Other landowners who have enlarged tanks include August Lutkenhaus, Ed Eberhart, Frank Solomon, Albert Knabe and Joe Wyatt.

Flood Retarding Structures
Work of clearing the dam site and barrow area is underway on the Joe Fisher farm operated by Henry Pick. Construction of the flood prevention dam is expected to begin soon.

Construction of five flood prevention reservoirs on Elm Creek south of Muenster has been brought to a stand still by the drought. Lack of moisture in the soil makes soil compaction very difficult and the expense of hauling enough water to keep the fill dirt moist is so great the contractors have decided to wait for rain.

Tigers Win - - -

The Cubs made 1 first down, a net of 7 on ground plays and completed one pass for 20 yards. The first score came late in the first quarter as Fleitman snared Henscheid's jump pass and headed for the goal. It was a 35 yard gainer to complete a 48 yard scoring push.

About midway in the next quarter Sacred Heart recovered a fumble 26 yards out and Fleitman hauled the leather on an end-around play to the 6. Two line bucks advanced 3 and Fleitman took Henscheid's pitch over the line for the second counter. The same passing combination added a point.

Near the end of the half a Cub kick was partially blocked and went straight up, coming down on the Cub 7. In three attempts the Tigers made the distance, Wolf totting for 3 on the pay-off play. Fleitman kicked true for another point.

After intermission the game was no less one-sided, but in Gainesville's favor. The Cubs gained 130 yards and made 8 first downs whereas the Tiger second stringers made no first downs and gained only 29 yards.

Starting the second half the Cubs advanced 25 yards—before losing possession on a fourth down gamble. The Tigers gained 10 but fumbled. Gainesville gained 26 and lost on a fumble. The Tigers kicked, the Cubs kicked and the Tigers kicked again. Then the Cubs advanced 51 before losing the ball on the 9. The Tigers got off a short kick ending their futile series of downs and Gainesville was in possession again with 20 yards to go. On the sixth play after that Williams plunged the last six inches for the first Cub TD. Another plunge added a point.

The next counter required less than a minute. A fumble on the kickoff set up the Cubs on the 4 and Bush went over on the next play. Again a run added a point and the tally was 20-14.

Reserves went back but they failed to click on the first series . . . and their strain became serious when their attempted kick was blocked. The Cubs were on the 15. Three line plays added 9 and a penalty gave them a first down on the 2. However another penalty on the next play pushed the ball back 5 yards and Tiger defenders pushed it back 6 more yards on the next three plays. The Cubs were back on their 14 as time ran out.

Big League Homers
Net Spike Yosten
$750 in Drawing

Leonard J. Yosten of Muenster, has won $750, thanks to the home run power of Mickey Mantle, Willie Mays, Ted Kluszewski and Al Kaline.

Yosten was the fourth place winner in the Wheaties Home Run Sweepstakes sponsored by General Mills which awarded $33,750 to sports fans around the nation, the total based on the number of home runs hit by the four major league stars during the league season.

Mr. Yosten's award accumulated at the rate of $5 for each of the 150 home runs hit by the stars — 52 by Mantle, 36 by Mays, 35 by Kluszewski and 27 by Kaline.

This unique home run event was open to anyone in United States—except residents of Nebraska and New Jersey. Contestants entered merely by sending in their names on post cards to General Mills.

There were 13 cash prizes, the winners' entries drawn from the total submitted. A 58-year-old grandmother, Mrs. John J. Russell of Chillicothe, Ill., was the first place winner. She received $100 for each circuit clout or a total of $15,000.

The Yostens received word of their good fortune from the company last Thursday. Tuesday two representatives of General Mills were here to make formal presentation of the check and to take pictures.

Andy Hofbauer handed the check to Mrs. Yosten while Woodie Scales, sales representative for General Mills for Northeast Texas looked on. Photos were flashed by Bill Brook, sales supervisor from Garland. Hofbauer, the sponsoring grocer, was listed as the Yostens' grocer on the entry blank.

Hornets Lose - - -

Bailey bulled over for an extra point.

Following the kickoff the Hornets started clicking. Richey and Wimmer shared in gaining 51 yards on seven plays and Richey passed to Kaderli for the last 26 yards.

Alvord came back with a beautiful 41 yard pass play but that was all. Muenster held on the next series and Alvord kicked. In the mixup Muenster drew a clipping penalty and was set back to its 1 yard line. On the next play Richey got well out of danger with a 33 yard sprint but another fumble spoiled the chance to go on.

Alvord gained 5 on four tries and Muenster had possession again on the 28. Two passes were the big gainers in covering the needed 72 yards. Kaderli took both, one from Hamric for 24 and the pay off from Richey for 31.

The third quarter was Alvord's, all but two plays. The Bulldogs took the kickoff and maintained a persistent push down the field. From their 20 they made six first downs advancing the ball to the Hornet 5. Finally the Hornets held and the next four tries netted a loss of 6.

Muenster picked up 7 on the first play and fumbled on the next and Alvord had another chance, from the 16. Three plays moved it to the 4 and three more finished the job, Bailey scoring from the 1. Neighbors ran it for the extra point. The TD was on the second play of the fourth period.

For the rest of the game the Hornets stopped Alvord cold but their own efforts also fell short. They made a first down and kicked on the next series. Alvord kicked on the first series. Then Muenster made another first down and fell short by a yard on its next series. Alvord ran one more play as time ran out.

Yes, They Examine Those Tax Returns

Chances that your tax form — one of 60,000,000 — would be picked for checking might seem low, yet the government does a surprisingly extensive job of scrutinizing, say the editors of CHANGING TIMES.

Not all returns get the same attention although every one is checked for arithmetic. Some 40,000,000 small wage and salary earners' returns have little more on them than notations of total income, tax withheld and dependents. These are subject to only cursory examination.

But about 20,000,000 returns receive greater attention. If you earn between $5,000 and $50,000 or have a business that doesn't gross over $30,000, it's likely your form will be reviewed. The probability is increased if you list unusually large medical deductions, interest payments or contributions. And, if you request a large refund, you can be sure that your return will be audited. Even in the case of smaller refunds, increasingly greater care is being exercised in making payments.

Names Make the Man

The young Indian stood before the judge and reaffirmed his desire to have his name changed.

"What is your name now?" the judge asked.

"Shrieking Loud Train Whistle," the Indian replied.

"And what do you wish your new name to be?"

"Toot," the Indian said.

Confetti - - -

prefer not to be resentful. Things might have been different if the team's morale had not received a hard blow and if a valuable player had not been pulled. However, we can accept such breaks as long as the other and more important question is definitely determined. Winning or losing counts less than the manner of playing, and we are glad that the picture leaves no doubt in that respect.

Don't let your pride get inflated; you may have to swallow it someday.
