NUMBER 38

City Council OKs Dental Survey by Health Department

Last week, after this column pruned the exceptionally fine turnout of voters at the South Muenster box, yours truly received a phone call from one of the election clerks saying that the bragging is appreciated but it could have been considerably stronger. The record is not 98 per cent of the number of eligible listed voters, as reported last week, but considerably better than 100 per cent.

In other words the box polled a very good percentage of its actual strength, which includes a number of unlisted over-age eligibles along with 150 listed poll tax payers and 6 listed exemptions. Since we have no record of the over-age eligibles, we cannot figure the percentage of voters actually reporting, but we know for sure that the record was good.

This column's boner resulted from adding the votes in one race and assuming that was the total of votes cast. Later information revealed, however, that some ballots were improperly marked and could not be tallied . . . so the actual number of voters was 161 rather than 153.

But that still isn't all. Records received with the election materials indicated that 7 absentee ballots had been voted for the box, making an actual total of 168. Not bad for a box with 156 listed voters.

Mighty good news for local school kids is the assurance that physics will be added to this year's curriculum of studies. That is, it's good news to alert and ambitious boys and girls who are setting their sights for opportunity in the years ahead.

More and more nowadays we hear about a shortage of science and engineering graduates. Our highly complex and technical industry is grabbing them as fast as they can grab diplomas, and at most handsome salaries. And this is only the beginning. According to estimates of the experts, based on the number of students now heading toward science and engineering degrees, the nation's industry will be about a half million short of its wants in another ten years. The sign is that a student's best bet for the future is to concentrate on science and mathematics now.

There's another consideration also. Attention to those subjects might have some bearing on the survival of this country as a free and independent nation. Reports circulate every day on the special attention given by Soviet Russia to its scientific and engineering students. From the first signs of talent in those subjects students are singled out for intensive and extensive study at the government's expense. As students they are the national favorites. As graduates they get the best jobs and the most privileges. The result is that Russia is advancing by leaps and bounds in training the personnel who are expected one day to wrest industrial supremacy from this country.

Knowing the Soviet attitude we do not have to guess about the next objective. Once able to out-produce us Russia will proceed to conquer us. This is the combination of facts which recently prompted an American industrialist to say "Our choice is brutally clear. As a society we can either learn mathematics and science . . . or RUSSIAN."

In general, the outlook seems to beg America's youth to settle down as never before in its scholastic endeavors. The stakes are big, whether considered on the basis of individual opportunity or of national welfare. There never was a better time to realize that serious study can pay off in a big way. Nor was there ever a more proper time for school faculties to resolve that modern day extra-curricular trimmings should be trimmed down in favor of plain old fashioned and rugged brain work.

Nowadays there is too much of a tendency toward the free and easy life in school. Social and athletic events, appealing to the student's emotional side, crowd out too much of the interest in scholastic work. Even as regards the studies, there is too much tendency toward the lighter subjects rather than those which require more extensive use of the gray matter.

The purpose of going to school, according to many of the old timers is "to learn to use your head." And they carry that idea further, pointing out that intel-

A dental survey to determine the benefits of city water fluoridation will begin here some time during the coming school year.

Members of the city council at their meeting Monday night voted to accept the State Health Department's offer to inspect the teeth of native born children who have lived in Muenster continuously since birth.

Records of that inspection will be filed for comparison with another inspection to be made several years later, after the fluoride has had time to show its effect on tooth development.

Plans for the survey, developed from a visit here last week by Frank P. Bertram, D.D.S., director of dental health in the state health department.

Dr. Bertram explained that this year is the proper time to make the initial inspection because, after slightly more than two years of fluoridation, children's teeth have had time to build up a resistance to decay. Defects which show up now can still be regarded as originating before fluoride was in use or before it became effective.

According to surveys conducted in other areas, the next inspection, several years from now, is expected to show a definite improvement in dental health.

Efforts will be made at both inspections to deal strictly with tooth decay and eliminate accidental injuries. Whenever a tooth is missing the child or parent will be asked whether the defect was caused by decay or injury.

After the second inspection a report will be prepared showing the average number of cavities per child in each age group as shown by each inspection. A comparison of those records will indicate the benefits derived from fluoridation.

While here the health department official complimented Superintendent Steve Moster on the efficient appearance of the city's water treatment operation. He said that as a frequent visitor to other municipal water plants he was impressed by the Muenster operation.

Remodeling, Repair Jobs in Progress At Public School

Two minor remodeling jobs plus a general overhaul and re-finishing of the building and furnishings will make the Muenster public school as bright and sturdy as new for the opening of the next school year on August 28, Superintendent H. H. Homsley disclosed this week.

Remodeling work, which is under way this week, consists of a ramp connecting the west ends of the high school and elementary wings of the building, and also wall sections to enclose the outside corridor at the north.

The ramp, consisting of a roof and open sides, is an extension of the one between the lunch room and the elementary wing. It will provide a dry passage for high school students to the lunch room or the bus loading station.

The two sections of wall will box in the open area which has the elementary wall on one side and the gymnasium wall at the other. Its principal value is that it will serve as a vestibule shutting out the cold blast that used to enter the main corridor of the school every time its north door was opened. It also serves as a protected passage for students going to and from the shop department. Another anticipated use for the enclosure is an area for concessions at baseball games.

Built to harmonize with the rest of the building, it has a double door leading to the ramp in front of elementary rooms and another double door facing west just beyond the elementary wall. The rest of the west wall and all of the north wall will consist of windows over a brick base.

Other work on the building consists of a new paint job for the entire exterior trim and also new paint and varnish for interior woodwork. The floor of the lunch room was also re-painted.

All furniture was checked over, repaired or reinforced where necessary, and re-varnished.

LIVES TO TELL ABOUT IT—Linda Morgan, who was carried away alive on death-dealing prow of the Swedish liner Stockholm after her collision with the ill-fated Andrea Doria, greets her rescuer, seaman Bernabe Polanco Garcia, as he visits her in a New York hospital. Garcia sighted Linda lying in twisted wreckage of the prow, which had shattered first class cabin which she occupied. Killed were her stepfather, correspondent Camille Cianfarra, his eight-year-old daughter and his wife, who together with Linda, occupied cabins 52 and 54 of the ill-fated liner.

City's Water Use Passes 7-Million Gallons in July

Mostly as a result of the drought, and partly as a result of a steadily increasing population, the city of Muenster topped its former water consumption record by more than a half million gallons during the past month.

Pumping records of the city water department indicate a total of 7.25 million gallons. The previous high was reached in July, 1955.

Two bright looking football fields, which have been kept well soaked, are mostly responsible for the record consumption. On days when both sprinkler systems were operating the total reached as high as 360,000 gallons. Several other days the volume fell to below 200,000 gallons.

Use of both sprinklers at the same time points up the fact that the city is well supplied with water. Even at peak loads the pumping equipment did not have to run full time.

July Rainfall Measures 1.02. Total for 10 Months is 11.11

Another month of dry weather, netting only 1.02 inches of moisture, prolonged this community's record drought through its tenth straight month. The seven months period ending July 31 brought a total of only 10.56, and the ten month total is 11.11 inches . . . an average of only 1.11 per month for the entire ten months, and somewhat less than one third of the average over the past ten years.

Mrs. H. H. Homsley, was in San Antonio Monday through Thursday for the annual 4 day session for Texas homemaking teachers and Glenn Hellman will be there for a similar period next week for agriculture teachers.

Mrs. Homsley was accompanied to San Antonio by Miss Marguerite Like and Mrs. Billie Crawford of the Jacksboro Hi homemaking department.

Pettijohn Goes to Dublin as Pastor

Rev. D. S. Pettijohn and his family left Wednesday of this week to make their home in Dublin, Texas, where he has accepted the pastorate of the Second Baptist church. There are 250 resident members in the congregation.

Rev. Pettijohn came to Muenster as pastor of the Baptist church two years ago.

At the present time the local church is without a resident pastor but efforts are being made to secure one as soon as possible.

Water Line Breaks

A water emergency in North Muenster lasted about four hours last Friday. A leak discovered near 11 o'clock just north of the parish hall was found to be gushing from a complete all-around break of the 6 inch main, and water to the line had to be cut off before men could work on it.

Rather than spend extra hours replace the pipe the city maintenance crew got a special collar with clamps from the Nocona water department. By shortly after 3 they had the line back in service.

The cause of the break is believed to be abnormal movement of the ground resulting from the drought.

Anderson Resigns Local Deputy Job

Buck Anderson, county deputy sheriff assigned to Muenster as a resident officer, notified the city council Monday that his resignation will become effective on August 15.

He explained that he has a better salary in sight elsewhere. At the same time he stated that he would prefer to remain here if the council would raise his pay accordingly. The council decided that its budget could not stand the additional strain.

Anderson became a county deputy on July 1 but, because of illness in the family, was delayed several days in reporting for duty. Before he located suitable living quarters he was thinking of resigning.

St. Anne Society Makes Plans for Sisters' Shower

Discussion of plans for the annual shower for the Benedictine Sisters was the principal business at a regular meeting of St. Anne's Society Sunday afternoon.

No date for the event has been set, the time depending on the Sisters' return to Muenster. Some will start arriving after August 15 and by the following week all are expected. Exact date will be announced then.

This year's shower will be for bed linens — 72 inch width sheets and 42 inch pillow cases — bath towels, hand towels and canned foods, it was decided. Plans are to have the affair in the Sisters' home in the recreation room. Those attending will have an opportunity to see the recent redecorating at the house, and get acquainted with the Sisters who will teach their children during the term.

This week several members of the society met in the home of Mrs. John Kathman to make draperies for the Sisters' living room.

Other proceedings at the meeting included reports on the recent State League convention in Nada. Mrs. Frank Herr and Mrs. J. W. Hess reported. Mrs. Victor Hartman, president, conducted the business session and Mrs. Albert Hess won the attendance prize.

Knabe Girl Goes To Kerrville Camp As Guest of Lions

Margaret Knabe, 13, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert A. Knabe, will report next Sunday for two weeks of fun at the Texas Lions camp for crippled children near Kerrville.

Margaret will be sponsored at the camp by the Muenster Lions Club and will be one of 120 handicapped children enjoying the facilities of the unique camp. The Camp is free to any handicapped child in Texas from 7 through 16. Applications are handled only through Local Lions Clubs.

With 13 permanent buildings and a staff of 97, the Camp will provide recreation for 720 youngsters during its six two-week sessions this summer. The camp is located three miles south of Kerrville on 504 acres of rolling Hill Country land.

Margaret's parents and a member of the Muenster Lions Club will accompany her on the drive to Kerrville.

Mother and Child Hurt, Unborn Baby Dies, in Car Crash

Mrs. Thomas Felderhoff and her four year old son, Tommy, received serious injuries and her unborn child was fatally injured in a car accident about noon Monday on the farm to market road about a half mile north of Myra.

The baby, a boy, was born dead Wednesday morning at M&S Hospital in Gainesville. He was due to arrive in about six weeks.

Another child, two year old Margie, was unhurt in the accident. She had been asleep on the front seat.

The accident occurred while Mrs. Felderhoff and the children were taking lunch to her husband who was plowing near Myra. She said that she blacked out momentarily and the car hit a culvert abutment. The impact threw Tommy into the windshield and the broken glass inflicted multiple lacerations on his head and face.

Mrs. Felderhoff did not lose consciousness during or after the accident and was not aware of her injury until she attempted to pick up the boy, intending to carry him to the nearest house. She discovered then that she could not walk. X-Rays at the hospital revealed a fractured pelvis bone.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Swirczynski, the first persons to arrive at the wreck, took Mrs. Felderhoff and Tommy to the hospital in their car.

Reports Wednesday afternoon were that both patients were recovering normally but that more X-Rays were scheduled.

Funeral services for the infant were held here Wednesday at 5:30 p.m. Father Christopher Paladino officiated at the brief rites and Nick Miller Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements. Burial was in Sacred Heart Cemetery. Survivors include the grandparents, Messrs. and Mmes. T. Miller and Hubert Felderhoff.

KC Kids Lick VFW For Second Spot in Pee Wee Standing

In a last inning thriller Tuesday night the KC Orioles snatched a win and also the second spot in the Muenster Little League from the VFW Red Sox.

The teams went into the contest with a record of 4-4 each and progress up to the seventh indicated an easy win for the Sox. But then came the explosion as the Orioles brought in 10 runs on 6 hits and 6 walks.

Up to then VFW's strong first inning for a lead of 5-1 made the difference. During the next five each team scored 4.

Each team worked two pitchers. E. Hess and Vogel for the Sox fanned 8 while allowing 12 hits and 11 walks. Miller and Harris for the Orioles fanned 8 while allowing 11 hits and 4 walks.

Leading VFW hitters were Vogel, 2 triples and a double; Yosten, a double and 2 singles; Reiter, 2 singles; and Hoenig, a triple. KC heavy hitters were Harris, a homer and 2 singles; Swirczynski, a triple and 2 singles; and V. Hess, 2 singles.

In Friday's game the jinx continued to haunt the luckless St. Joseph Dodgers as they tumbled 19-7 before the Orioles. A big factor was the 16 walks allowed by Knabe to spoil his otherwise good pitching record of 10 strikeouts. Miller for the KCs fanned only 1 but held the walks down to 5. Each pitcher allowed 8 hits.

Leading KC hitters were V. Hess, a triple and 2 singles; Pagel, a triple and a single; and Swirczynski, 2 singles. Dangelmayr and Pels with 2 singles each led St. Joseph hitters.

Mrs. Frank Schilling is convalescing at home following surgery at Gainesville Sanitarium. She was dismissed from the hospital Sunday.

SCHEDULE OF COMING EVENTS

FRIDAY, Aug. 10, Little League Lions vs St. Joseph.
TUESDAY, Aug. 14, Little League KC vs Lions.

LONG-DISTANCE HOUSEWARMING—Residents of Rollingwood housing development near San Bruno, Calif., watch as a little girl, left, adds a bathroom scale to a packingcaseful of "housewarming" presents which will accompany a full-size American home on its journey to Russia. The house and everything in it, including the kitchen sink, has been purchased by Russia in wake of a building delegation's visit to this country last fall. House has been disassembled, crated and is en route to Russia.

100 Million Times NO!

The fear grows that when the UN General Assembly meets — a week after our election — the Red carpet (call it a pun if you like) will be spread for Communist China, and that the resistance of the West — even US — will not be too spirited.

There are those in Washington who do not want to hurt the feelings of Britain, who recognized Mao six-and-a-half years ago, who is eager for an end to trade restrictions. There are those who are soft on Communism and those who are just soft.

So far as the American people are concerned, they are unalterably opposed to recognition, as President Eisenhower recently told the Canadian Premier and the Mexican President at White Sulphur Springs. American opposition has been expressed in five unanimous Congressional resolutions since 1951. A reaffirmation in recent weeks passed the Senate 86-0, the House 391-0.

The people should have an opportunity of recording their resolve also. All that is required is a plank in both party platforms rejecting the thought of seating Red China in the UN. It should bring out a record number of voters.

LOCKS THAT DON'T LOCK

One would not expect a lecture on the advantages of free enterprise to be given in a court of law and especially during the course of a murder trial. But that's exactly what happened in Tampa, Florida on July 11, 1956.

The manager of a government-owned Negro housing project testified that the locks in the apartments — which he said cost $19.50 each — can easily be opened with any table knife. This was during a murder trial in criminal court after a door from one of the project apartments had been brought into court.

Judge Grayson, presiding, observed:

"Isn't it just like the government to spend $19.50 on a lock that any boy can open with a pen-knife? This is the best argument I've ever heard for private enterprise. It would be better to buy a latch from a dime store."

The judge further told the jurors to "consider your income tax when you see this!"

The foregoing is just one more evidence that when government enters into competition with private enterprise, ridiculously high costs and inefficiency also sneak in.

A teacher friend of ours tells us she recently reprimanded a small boy who seemed to be lost in day dreams. "Sammy," she said, "do you have trouble hearing?"

"No, ma'am," replied Sammy, "just listening."

Two Are Hostesses For Club Meeting

Mrs. Ray Swirczynski and Mrs. Hank Walterscheid were hostesses and Mrs. L. J. Roberg and Mrs. Charley Hellman were the honorees at the regular monthly social of the Dizzy Dozen Birthday Club.

Husbands of members were present for the party, and along with guests brought the total present to thirty. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Brock, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Grewing and Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Fisch, visiting here from Chicago.

The American Way

THE VIRGIN ISLANDS CORP.

By Willis E. Stone
 The United State "acquired" the VIRGIN ISLANDS from Denmark, a friendly nation, in 1917, thus terminating highly successful administration of a proud and self-sufficient people. We can recognize the motives which impelled our bureaucratic empire builders to acquire this prize, but it is difficult to understand why they have so impoverished the VIRGIN ISLANDS and their 2600 inhabitants during these last forty years.

The Comptroller General of the U. S. has been unable to make an adequate audit of the government owned VIRGIN ISLANDS CORPORATION. Page 60 of the 1955 Audit Report cites a "number of deficiencies in accounting procedures and controls." Pages 6 and 7 refer to $510,886 worth of equipment "in a poor state of repair and maintenance and stored outdoors in a haphazard manner."

Page 8 asserts that "an adequate inventory of materials and supplies had not been taken in recent years." As a consequence, "warehouses include many obsolete and worthless items. Inadequate procurement procedures and the absence of maximum and minimum stock levels over the years have resulted in needless and excessive buying."

The VIRGIN ISLANDS CORP., as a landlord, "provides housing facilities to executive and supervisory employees at rentals ranging from $5 to $40 a month" (Report, page 8). Receipts from these rentals amounted to $3200 in 1955, while maintenance costs totalled $11,102.

Village homes are also rented by the Corporation at a rate of $1.30 per room, which produced a 1955 income of $10,300 while maintenance costs for the same year were $31,258.

100,000 of our tax dollars are spent each year on water and soil conservation programs, yet the soil productivity appears to diminish. An expensive land clearance program takes trees out of one area while an expensive reforestation program plants trees in another area.

Page 5 of the Report specifies

that 15 water conservation dam projects were completed or under construction during 1955, and "actual costs on 9 (dam) projects exceeded estimated costs by about 230%, including 1 project that exceeded estimates by 692%. However an exchange of official correspondence, cited by Rep. Michael J. Kirwan (D) of Ohio in the Congressional Record (June 27, 1955, page 7951) shows the water supplied by boat, by the U. S. Navy, is still the principal source of usable water.

The VIRGIN ISLANDS CORPORATION also has a "livestock development program" with a herd of 93 animals (Report, page 34-35) which managed to produce a net loss in the three years ending in 1955 of $38,895.

The whole unhappy experience with bureaucratic administration is summed up on page 74 of the Hoover Report on Business Enterprises by the statement that "The VIRGIN ISLANDS have had a sorry economic history ever since the United States acquired them in 1917 . . . and despite the $75,000,000 which the United States has expended upon them."

And IT'S YOUR TAX DOLLAR THAT PAYS THE BILL! Abolishing the bureaucratic empire is the surest way to reestablish the economic stability of the VIRGIN ISLANDS. This is made clear by the contents of page 19 of the Audit Report where it is pointed out that the VIRGIN ISLANDS CORPORATION cultivates 4000 acres of cane, producing 59,728 tons, or 15 tons per acre, which, on an interest free, rent free, tax free basis, costs $8.12 per ton to produce.

Private farmers in the same area have planted 2000 acres of cane and are producing 39,714 tons, or 20 tons per acre, upon which interest, space costs and taxes are paid, yet they profitably sell to the government owned and operated sugar factory at $7.02 per ton.

The best and surest way to stop the waste of such bureaucratic empires is to demand, and get, immediate action on the "Proposed 23rd Amendment" now pending in Congress as H. J. Res. 123. It provides that:

The government of the United States shall not engage in any business, professional, commercial, financial or industrial enterprise except as specified in the Constitution.

"You can always tell a well informed man — his views are the same as yours."

The World Was Made for You

By Ann Blyth, motion picture star

ALL OF US at some time or other have thrilled to the beauty and majesty of the mighty ocean. These things, like our whole world, are a reflection of the beauty and majesty that is God.

But if the whole world reflects the beauty and glory of God, however imperfectly then nothing in the world is a greater reflector of God than man—for man is made in the image of God and everything in the world is made for man.

EVERYTHING IN the world exists to help man get to God, for getting to God is man's destiny. But to Blyth get to God man must look for Him and he must listen for Him.

True, man can find God in the beauty of the sky and the majesty of the sea, for God is reflected in these things and in all His creation. But man is more than a creature with eyes. He has ears that hear words and even more he has a mind that understands words and the things he sees.

MAN HAS A MIND that is made for truth. He must see the truth in the creation around him and reason to the fact that God is and that He is man's support in existence. But man's mind is capable of more truth than this.

The mind of man is capable of learning something about God—what He is like; what He thinks about man—and other profound truths. But to get this truth man must listen with his mind—he must listen to the words of God's revelation to man.

EVERYONE OF us hears and sees countless billions of spoken and written words during our lifetime. We hear complimentary words and flattering words; we hear unkind and cutting words; we hear mean and even unclean words. Naturally it is not in these words that we will find God's revelation to us of what He is like and what our destiny is.

But fortunately these soothing and consoling words of God's revelation do exist. At the beginning of his gospel, St. John writes, "In the beginning was the Word." This Word was the only-begotten Son of God, having the nature of God from all eternity.

One day about 2,000 years ago that WORD of GOD, the Son of God, became a man. The WORD of GOD came to bring to all men God's words of salvation.

TODAY WE CAN hear those saving words; we can follow them and find happiness. But we must open our minds and hearts to these words, the words that contain the truth brought to the world by Jesus Christ, true God and true man.

Yes, you get bonus heat on top of the stove as well as in the oven when you cook electrically. *What is "bonus heat?" It's the heat that remains in the electric element after the switch is turned off. It's the free heat that continues to cook until the element cools off. An electric range oven is insulated on all six sides. As a result you get bonus heat every time you use your electric range because you cook with the electricity off much of the time. You also get extra dividends when you cook electrically because of the economies in cleaning materials, laundry and decorating expenses.

 "If you were my husband, I'd give you poison!"
 "Well, mum," returned the Irishman, as he puffed away at his pipe, "If you wuz me wife, I'd take it."

Gainesville College
Sets September 6
For Opening Date

Gainesville College will begin her thirty-third annual session Thursday, September 6, 1956. With the beginning of classes on that date, the college starts the final year of a third of a century of service to Gainesville, Cooke County, and the surrounding areas.

During this period of service, according to Dean J. H. Parker, Gainesville College has geared her work to be of the most service to a growing community. Beginning in 1924-1925, the college offered a course in arts and sciences designed to prepare the graduate for continuation in the four-year college or university of his choice with full accreditation. Gainesville College continues to offer an expanded liberal arts course which is of the first class as Gainesville is one of the thirty-three fully accredited junior colleges of Texas.

During the army camp days of World War II era, there came an expanded need for trained office personnel. Gainesville College met that need and continues to meet it, teaching during the two-year period some 18 courses designed to train typists, stenographers and secretarial workers.

With the return to private life of the veterans of this war came a need for night class work for the man who must earn a livelihood, but desired to acquire advanced training. The present night classes are eight in number with four teachers and an enrollment of some 200 students. Basic courses for the first two years of business, industrial arts, and liberal arts make up the curriculum offering of a fully accredited night school. Many who are not veterans avail themselves of the opportunity to gain further education and to improve their work in their present jobs. With the coming of larger industry and factories to Gainesville, employers and employees felt the need for certain industrial arts courses such as drawing, blue printing, and use of machines in shop work. These courses are being added in both day and night classes to meet the need of a growing Gainesville.

Courses offered during the 1955-1956 term have reached 75 in number.

I am humbly grateful to you. In return, I shall diligently endeavor to conduct myself, as well as the duties of my office, in such manner that the friends who voted for me will not have cause for regret.

Sincerely

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

OUR SOIL ★ OUR STRENGTH It's going to rain right at the end of this dry spell. At least it always has. Anyway, many of the landowners cooperating with the Upper Elm-Red Soil Conservation District are working to get needed jobs done to help protect their soils when the rain does start falling.

Frank Hacker has just completed 9225 feet of channel type field terraces on his farm south of Muenster. These complete the terraces on his farm and give added protection to all his sloping cropland against the washing of excess run-off water. These terraces outlet onto pasture and onto a Bermuda grass waterway that was sodded to provide a safe outlet for terrace water.

Henry Wiesman has completed 3968 feet of the broad easy-to-cross channel type terraces on his farm northwest of Muenster. The terraces empty into pasture and a Bermuda grass waterway.

Wiesman and Hacker have completed the terraces needed on their farms to give added protection against soil and water losses and have taken a big step towards their goal of installing a complete soil, water and plant conservation plan on their entire farms. The plan, when complete, will mean proper use of the land and the treatment of each acre for its protection and improvement.

Tony Walterscheid has finished building 6500 feet of terraces on the farm he operates for Dangelmayr Brothers. These terraces give added protection to some 40 acres of sloping cropland. Water will outlet onto Bermuda grass waterways which were put in for that purpose.

Many landowners cooperating with the district program are sure it's going to rain again. They are cleaning and enlarging stock ponds, and building new ones, to provide additional water storage for livestock. The current drought is making it possible to clean the silt out of tanks that have never before been dry.

Felderhoff Brothers are working overtime cleaning and enlarging water tanks in the army camp area. They have already enlarged three ponds and at present are building a new one to provide livestock water in another pasture.

J. P. Flusche is building a new pond on his farm northeast of Muenster. The pond will provide water so that grazing of the pastures can be rotated to give grasses a better chance to grow and produce.

TUBA FOR TWO—All wrapped up in his work, Murray Robinson, a New York reporter, runs through a practice session under the youthful instruction of seven-year-old Joey Alfidi. The youngster, from Yonkers, N.Y., can play a dozen instruments. He also sings and tap dances, but wants most of all to be a conductor. Having studied the proper procedure of handling a baton for only seven months, the musical genius has already led several symphony orchestras.

Senator Proposes Rain Making Effort Over Entire State

A statewide rain making effort may be launched to combat Texas' prolonged drought.

Sen. George Parkhouse of Dallas has called a September meeting of the Texas Water Resources Committee to study this possibility.

First to advance the idea publicly was O. G. McClain, Corpus Christi member of the committee. A petroleum geologist, McClain contended that rain making is the "most economical, permanent and equitable way to get more water."

Even "with complete conservation and development," he said, "the water supply still would be terribly inadequate. What we need are some good rains. We cannot legislate them. They are not coming naturally. The only alternative is to work for them."

You cannot lead anyone further than you have gone yourself.

The old mountaineer was sitting in his favorite cane-backed rocker on the porch of his cabin, slowly rocking east and west. Nearby sat his 42-year-old son, rocking north and south.

"Son," drawled the old man, "It's about time you learned not t'wear yerself out thataway. Rock the way the board runs, and save yer stren'th."

SIGNS OF THE TIMES — In an ice-cream parlor: "Teenage spoken here!" . . . In an office: "Be sure your brain is in gear before engaging your mouth!"

"Doctor, this is Mr. Smith. My wife has just dislocated her jaw. If you're out this way within the next week or two you might drop in."

DARI-KOOL
BULK MILK COOLER
Than Any Other Brand!

Eliminates MILK CANS AND CAN HANDLING

Milk is cooled to well below 40° in less than one hour — assuring a lower bacteria count and better milk. The milk cannot freeze — because the coolant is ice water. Dari-Kool tanks are easy to clean and may be sanitized with hot water without damage. Units are ready to operate — no expensive, remote compressors to install or service. Every Dari-Kool is built around a rugged 10-gauge steel frame — providing rigid support for the bulge-proof stainless steel milk tank. This assures accurate calibration and correct payment. Get the cooler that leads in sales — leads in value — and leads in performance! Meets All 3A Sanitary Standards

- ...Cools Faster
- ...Easier Cleaning
- ...Ready to Operate
- ...Milk Cannot Freeze
- ...Stainless Steel Tank
- ...Lower Bacteria Count
- ...Complete Service Available

DARI-KOOL will pay for itself in use. HERE'S HOW . . .

The cost of hauling milk in cans is 40 cent per 100 pounds as compared with 25 cents per 100 pounds for hauling tank milk, thus a saving of 15 cents per hundred.

Elimination of wastage of milk spilled or left in the can at the plant is 7 cents per 100 pounds.

Improved butterfat test gained by selling all the cream instead of leaving some of it sticking to the can and lid account for another 6 cents per hundred.

THIS GIVES A TOTAL SAVING OF 28 CENTS FOR EACH 100 POUNDS OF MILK HANDLED. THIS 28-CENT A HUNDRED SAVING WILL PAY FOR YOUR DARI-KOOL.

A producer with an average of 10 cans of milk (86 pounds each) a day will sell 25,800 pounds per month. At 28 cents per hundred saving, he will be ahead by $72.24 each month.

The approximate cost of a 250-gallon tank installed is $2,400 with interest of $216 for a total of $2,616. This can be divided into 36 monthly installments of $72.11 each. THUS YOUR SAVINGS MAKE YOUR PAYMENTS FOR YOU. This estimate is without down payment or trade-in, which would cut the principal and monthly payment substantially.

Their three children, Shelia, Hank and Marian stayed with the Andy Arendts. Johnny and Sally spent their time sight-seeing in Idaho, Wyoming and Utah.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Arendt Jr. have returned from a vacation trip. They visited relatives in Arkansas, the Joe Neus in Arcadia, Iowa, and toured Nebraska and Colorado. Their daughters Patsy and Janet stayed with the Bill Neus while they were away.

Richard Hermes was dismissed from Gainesville Sanitarium during the weekend.

Al Kuntz of Valley View accompanied his daughter and son-in-law, the Hubert Bezners, when they returned to New Orleans after being here for the funeral of his sister, Mrs. Joe Kelly. Mr. Kuntz will spend about a month with the family.

Frances Spaeth of Dallas is on vacation, visiting homefolks. Saturday she and her mother, Mrs. George Spaeth, drove to Norman, Okla., to spend the day with the Henry Strategiers. Tuesday they went to Wichita Falls to visit the Joe Spaeth family. Last week they visited the Mark Kutas in Crockett and spent a few days at Galveston.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sandmann and children spent the day in Fort Worth Sunday with her brother and family, the Carl Beyers. In the afternoon both families visited the zoo and aquarium which the children enjoyed immensely.

CARD OF THANKS
Our heartfelt thanks to all who extended comforting sympathy and help in our recent sorrow. For the flowers, the spiritual tributes, and every kindness we are deeply grateful.

Summer Weather Increases Danger Of Food Poisoning

AUSTIN — Hot weather means an increased possibility of food poisoning if foods aren't handled carefully, according to Dr. Henry A. Holle, Commissioner of Health. Bacteria grow more readily when the weather is warm and this presents the danger of food poisoning. Modern refrigeration and sanitary handling can eliminate part of the danger, but food poisoning still occurs, largely because of carelessness.

Sickness from food poisoning usually strikes quickly and violently. Those who do not eat the infected food escape. Usually in one to four hours after eating contaminated food, victims feel ill. If it is a mild case of poisoning, recovery usually begins in eight to 12 hours, but victims may feel the ill effects for several days.

Usual symptoms of food poisoning are diarrhea, nausea, vomiting, abdominal cramps and weakness. The effects of food poisoning may be mild, causing only slight weakness and discomfort, or they may be severe enough to result in death. Unfortunately, you can't always tell if food is safe by its appearance, smell or taste. A physician should be called when any of the symptoms of food poisoning are felt.

The staphylococcus organism grows best in foods which are quite fatty, such as ham, pork, salads, or sandwiches with rich dressings, cream pies, cream puffs or any food with custard fillings. When you prepare a picnic lunch, or a lunch to take to work, it is best not to include these foods in it unless they can be kept chilled until eaten. Possibly the worst feature of staphylococcus infection is the ease and speed with which it is transmitted to large numbers of persons. It can easily start from a small cut or sore on the hands or body of a careless foodhandler.

Botulism, which is about the most dangerous kind of food poisoning, may be found in home canned vegetables that have not been preserved properly. Home canned string beans seem to be one of the chief foods carrying this poison. Commercially canned food is safe. Canned food of any kind that appears foamy and smells bad should be thrown away. Never taste food which is suspected of being spoiled. A very small amount of botulinus poison may be fatal. Home canned food that is spoiled should be kept away from small children and buried, where animals cannot find it.

Ad, clipped from a small town paper: "Second-hand tombstone for sale. Wonderful bargain for family named Auchincloss."

POLITICAL LICENSE — Max Gutierrez, of San Francisco, Calif., views one of the "Ike 1956" stickers you're apt to bump into on California highways during the Republican national convention, which opens Aug. 20. The license-like bumper plasters feature black numerals on a yellow ground and are very similar to California's official auto registration tag. In place of the "56" for year designation they substitute the word "FOR," so that sticker reads: "CALIFORNIA FOR IKE 1956."

House and Senate Bow to Mt. Sinai

On the eve of adjournment, the House and Senate passed a joint resolution endorsing the Ten Commandments.

Presented by Senators Styles Bridges, New Hampshire Republican, and Earle C. Clements, Kentucky Democrat, in the Senate and by Representatives Frank J. Becker, Republican, of New York and John D. Dingell of Michigan, in the House, the text is as follows:

"Whereas the World today is divided by conflicting ideologies which cause people to live in constant fear of annihilation or enslavement, and

"Whereas the basic principles of man's ethical conduct towards his fellow man have been cast aside throughout so much of the world today, and

"Whereas a return to the precepts as expressed in the Ten Commandments never was more vital to survival and continued civilization than today; and

"We believe, the Ten Commandments, as the primary moral force behind the three great religions of today — Christianity, Judaism and Islam — should be reaffirmed as the ethical code governing the lives of men, and are the means of bringing about lasting world peace and a solution to the many problems of mankind.

"Therefore be it hereby resolved by the United State Senate with concurrence of the House of Representatives that we hereby proclaim our faith in The Word of God and thereby perpetuate renewed observance throughout the world, by nations and by individuals, of the Ten Commandments."

Constituents throughout the nation will be happy, we are sure, to think of their elected representatives faring forth to the quadrennial presidential battle with these noble words ringing in their ears. Further, if only out of respect for this pious interlude in the scramble and confusion of the closing days of this session, we might all get out the Good Book and reread the Decalog. In case you've forgotten, you'll find it in the twentieth chapter of Exodus.

The British fleet was carrying out high-speed maneuvers and on board one of the destroyers a Member of Parliament was watching the exercises with great keenness. The captain of the destroyer was pushing his ship to the limit when a sailor came to the bridge and saluted.

"I have a message for you, sir, from the admiral."

The captain beamed. "Read it aloud."

The sailor read: "Of all the blundering morons, you take the cake! You nearly rammed the flagship!"

The captain pursed his lips, glancing sideways at the M.P.

"Very well, young man," he snapped. "Have that message decoded at once."

"Horse power was much safer when only the horses had it."

lectual work-outs are as important in developing the mind as physical work-outs are in developing the body. In studies, like in athletics, development requires faithful and rugged practice.

Youngsters of spunk and ambition can well afford to ponder those ideas as they await the opening of the next school year. They are face to face with an immediate opportunity that has a tremendous bearing on the opportunity of the future. They can go in for rugged training and become first string players in the big game after graduation or they can loaf and spend their lives on the scrub team.
