Appliance Store Sets Saturday For Grand Opening

Good safety news for the State of Texas is last week's statement by Governor Price Daniel that he intends to get tough with drunken drivers. His idea is that the first step toward reducing traffic tragedies is to hit hard at one of their principal causes, and available statistics show that DWI cases were involved in about a fourth of the highway tragedies last year.

A very likely development toward that end is a new policy on restoration of a driver's license. The law now permits return of the license after two months, upon recommendation of the Board of Pardons and Pardon. Daniel favors talking that situation over with the board and his highway patrol chief with a view to making enforcement as strict as the law allows rather than as lenient as it allows.

The big question is how far will the governor go after he has his confab and learns of the problems which lead to the present comparatively lenient attitude. How about hardship cases, such as a trucker or a salesman who is out of a job while he's not able to drive? How about extreme inconvenience cases in which the family is afoot because one person is not permitted to drive? Such cases undoubtedly are the reason behind present leniency, and frequently the two months of suspension amounts to greater punishment than the full period of suspension goes to some other fellow. Will the governor be quite as stern when he takes the various factors into consideration?

He has quite a problem there, but we hope nevertheless that he will not take his eye off the one big objective . . . reducing highway tragedy. It is a fact that rigid enforcement will be tough on some people but it will be worth the price if it reduces those horrible statistics.

There is a chance also that rigid enforcement will have a tendency to change some people's attitudes on drinking. Knowing that the penalty is rough for DWI they may be more careful about when they drink and how much. The tougher the law gets the fewer the offenses. That's for sure.

Our great problem is that some people do not realize that personal liberty is limited by the rights of other people. They claim they have a right to drink . . . and for our purpose here we'll pass up the moral arguments on the subject. However, one thing is certain. The right cannot reasonably apply to the extent of violating another's rights or endangering his life. It's as simple as singing or going hunting. Both are all right. But a midnight song disturbing the sleep of others or firing the gun in a crowded city where lives or property are endangered are definitely out of line. The person who drinks too much likewise becomes a threat to life and property. He violates the law and also the fifth commandment of God.

Considering the hazards and Divine law, we might say that the governor's policy seeks to accomplish what common sense and conscience should accomplish anyway. From that viewpoint no one has a reason to be offended by his tough attitude. We know in the first place that DWI is wrong. We should be prepared to accept the consequence if we are guilty of it.

Voters who live in cities apparently are to be spared an inconvenience after all. The special senatorial election to select Price Daniel's successor in the U.S. Senate has been dated to coincide with municipal elections all over the state. That will be handy enough, if voters will be able to mark both ballots at the same place.

To rural people it's different, however. It still amounts to a special trip to cast a single vote which might as well have been cast in November. To taxpayers it will also make a big difference. State wide it will probably cost about $100,000. That's a lot for something which should not have been necessary.

With this coming up and a special election on an amendment still well remembered, perhaps the new state legislature will be sufficiently impressed to prevent such foolishness in the future. They can, if they will, provide for correcting a simple Muenster's newest business, Appliance Sales and Service Center, will make its debut in a location of its own with a grand opening Saturday.

Its new home is the former Variety Store building, enhanced by an extensive remodeling job, inside and outside.

The original plan was to move in early this month after a face lifting for the front and minor improvements inside. Shortly after the work started that plan was changed in favor of a more thorough job both inside and outside. The building now has lower and larger windows for better display, a front of brick and asbestos siding, a new roof over the front, new walls and ceiling and floor covering. The appearance is further improved by bright colors for walls and ceiling. The added improvements plus lay-offs for bad weather delayed the opening until this week.

Preparations are under way to make the opening a memorable event. The owners, Jerome Pagel, Rody Klement and Urban Endres, will have a big assortment of appliances on display and factory representatives to help show them. Besides they will have door prizes, individual favors, coffee and cookies.

Appliance Sales and Service originated when Community Lumber Company and Endres Motor Company decided to combine their Admiral and Westinghouse dealerships into a separate business. For several months it operated in one of the buildings at Community Lumber Co. The present move provides a better location, more adequate display space and better service facilities.

District Governor Talk Will Feature Lions Club Dinner

George E. Bushong, District Governor of Lions International in District 2 X, which includes 175 clubs in this section of the state will visit the Muenster Lions at a special ladies night dinner and program next Wednesday night in the Muenster High lunch room.

His talk is the main event on the program. Bert Davis of Gainesville will appear in a juggling act. At least two other Gainesville men will also be on the program. Cecil Newland will introduce the district governor and Elmo Faubion will assist Tail Twister Steve Moster in the general nuisance department.

The slogan of the International Association of Lions Clubs is "Liberty, Intelligence, our Nation's Safety." Its motto is "We Serve."

Polio Drive Lags In Severe Weather

The special collection in the March of Dimes campaign Sunday at Sacred Heart church amounted to $156.46. This is short of the anticipated total and members of the VFW Auxiliary, sponsors of the drive, plan another church door collection in the near future. They will set the date at their regular meeting Monday night.

There is as yet no report on the total amount contributed in this year's campaign. Polio banks are still in business houses and chairmen of other sources of revenue have not reported amounts in. The porchlight drive Friday night was almost wiped out by inclement weather. But one thing is definite: the fund is lagging and the sponsors intend to do something about it.

Watershed Group Will Meet Friday

Friday, February 1, at 1:30 p.m. is the new date and time set for the annual general meeting of the Elm Fork Watershed Association. Originally scheduled for last Monday, it was postponed because of bad weather. The meeting place is unchanged. It will be in the Gainesville Community Center Building.

In notices sent out this week, Tom Hickman, president, promised an interesting program along with reports on construction of detention reservoirs on the watershed during the past year.

All landowners of the watershed, whether or not they belong to the association, will be welcome at the meeting.

Fred Kuhn, 60 Year Lindsay Resident, Dies Tuesday at 89

Death Tuesday claimed Fred Kuhn, 89, Lindsay's oldest resident, following a prolonged illness. He died at 3 p.m. at his home where he had been bedfast since breaking his left hip in a fall in April 1955.

Funeral services were held Thursday morning at 9:30 in St. Peter's church with Rev. Conrad Herda, pastor, officiating at the requiem mass and at burial in the Lindsay cemetery. George J. Carroll and Son Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Rosary was recited at the Carroll chapel Wednesday at 7:30 p.m.

Mr. Kuhn was born Dec. 25, 1867, in Germany and came to the United States when he was 17 years old. He was married to Miss Barbara Beyer at Mexia on Nov. 13, 1892. Until his retirement from active work he engaged in farming. He had lived at Lindsay close to 60 years.

Survivors are four sons, Jake, Henry and Frank Kuhn, all of Lindsay, and Fred Kuhn Jr. of Manning, Iowa; three daughters, Mrs. Herman Zimmerman and Misses Anna and Marie Kuhn, all of Lindsay; 24 grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

Water Piped from Lagoon Ends Odor At Sewer Plant

Sewage treatment problems at the city's new plant appear to be licked. Steve Moster, superintendent of the waterworks and sewer systems, disclosed this week that the problem of odors has been solved by adding water from the second lagoon to the plant's primary tank.

Odors coming from the plant shortly after it was finished left no doubt that something was wrong. The place was supposed to be odorless. Moster and the designing engineers started studying the situation and decided that their trouble resulted from a combination of two conditions. The tank, designed to accommodate Muenster when its population reaches 2500, was too large and liquids did not get away fast enough. Also waste coming from the milk plant was very concentrated, according to sewage treatment requirements, and had more tendency to become septic.

Dilution appeared to be their

District Gains 32 In School Census; 1957 Count is 685

The scholastic population of the Muenster school district is 685, according to the census just completed by Superintendent H. H. Homsley.

This figure represents the total number of school age children enumerated this month but is likely to be somewhat higher than the official figure certified by the Texas Education Agency after its final check. Last year's local census report showed 670 but final certification by TEA reduced the number to 653.

Changes in the figures result principally from duplications when children move to or from the district during the enumeration. Such a child may be listed on reports of both his old and his new district. When TEA discovers the duplication it removes the name from one of the lists. This year several children moved away after enumeration and those listed by other enumerators will likely be deleted from the local list.

By comparison with last year's official list, the new report shows a gain of 32 in the local scholastic population. It has 101 new names, including 73 who will reach school age by September 1 and 29 older children who moved into the district. Dropped from the old list are 69 children, including 33 who are past school age and 36 who left the district.

Assuming that the number of deletions made by TEA will be about the same as before, the

Area Crippled as Ice Breaks Phone And Power Lines

This winter's most disagreeable weather to date moved into Muenster last Saturday and held the community in suspense for two days. The net result of it all was considerable inconvenience and hazardous driving but no serious damage or injury.

About the worst damage was felt by the local electric co-operative, which had about 25 line breaks in its vast three-county system, and the local telephone company, which had 18 breaks. Most of the trouble came Sunday and Monday and practically all lines were back in service late Monday. Trees and shrubbery also received their share of damage as limbs gave way under the heavy load of ice.

According to estimates of Steve Moster the thickness of accumulated ice at its worst was about a third of an inch.

In one respect the weather cooperated nicely with the lines and limbs that were straining under the load. There was practically no wind to add to the pressure and to start the swaying which so often ends in breaks. In fact many breaks on the electric co-op line resulted from contacts which caused arcs literally burning through the wire. Such breaks usually occurred over trees with limited clearance between limbs and wires. The lower neutral line would sag until it rested on a limb. Just above it the primary line also sagged until it came in contact with the lower line. The Emmet Sickings happened to

Grade B Operation At NTPA Moves to New Department

Completion of a new receiving room in the former Farmer's Store location provides separate departments as well as separate operations at the NTPA milk plant. Hereafter all Grade B milk will be handled in that space and Grade A will be handled in the remaining area of the plant.

The new department went into operation last Friday. Before that both grades of milk were received in the main part of the plant but were handled separately.

Receipts there consist of two kinds of milk. One is Grade B, the other is Grade A surplus from plants which are not certified by the Dallas Health Department under which this plant operates.

Total receipts from those sources add to about 15,000 pounds a day. As it arrives it is cooled and pumped into storage tanks. When a truck load of it accumulates, about every second day, it is hauled away for processing into cheese, usually at Bonham, Sulphur, Okla., or Chickasha, Okla. Of more than two dozen cheese plants in operation in the southwest fifteen years ago those are the only ones still in operation. No Grade B milk is processed locally.

The volume of Grade B milk now received here is about the same as when the Farmers Marketing Association sold the plant

Color Change Gives New Look to 1957 Texas Auto Tags

February 1 is the date the new 1957 auto license plates go on sale in Cooke county and April 1 is the final day for operating a motor vehicle without 1957 registration.

County Tax Assessor Collector Rafe Piper reminds motorists to bring their 1956 registration receipts and their car titles to his office when applying for new tags.

The 1957 plates are white with black letters and numerals similar to those in use in Oklahoma last year and present a new look to Texans who have become accustomed to the traditional black and gold color combination.

Cooke County's passenger car tags will begin with EV series—No. 5050 through 9999. After that the series will be EW-10 through EW-5149. There are 10,090 plates in this group on hand.

Commercial licenses assigned to Cooke county total 1900 sets beginning with IV-1100; and farm truck numbers—1400 of them—start with 5K-2325.

Muenster Juniors Win at Gainesville

Juniors of the Muenster Public School posted their second win in three games Monday night by dumping the Gainesville kids 38-22. Top scorers for the local youngsters were Hellman with 15 and Harris with 14.

In previous games the Muenster lads beat Rad Ware and lost to Callisburg.

The junior girls have not done as well. They lost both of the games played so far, to Callisburg and Rad Ware.

Kaderli, City Secretary Anthony Luke, City Treasurer Mrs. Steve Moser, Tax Assessor-Collector Mrs. Nick Miller, Waterworks Superintendent Steve Moser and Assistant Joe Moser, City Health Officer Dr. T. S. Myrick, and City Deputy Buck Wilson.

Mrs. Nick Miller was in charge of decorations for the event. She used the Valentine theme with red and white carnations and red candles.

Elm-Red District To Sponsor Land Judging Contest

A land judging contest sponsored by the Upper Elm-Red Soil Conservation District is scheduled for March 9, according to Tony Walterscheid, supervisor for zone 3, who released the information this week.

The contest is for all 4-H club and FFA chapter members of the district and will offer awards for winners. The judging will take place in Gainesville.

In planning the contest, the board of supervisors of the district said its purpose is to increase interest in the importance of land as the basis of all agricultural activity. All who participate will become aware of the basic difference in soils, how soil properties affect crop growth, why different soils require different management, and how land features affect production.

Points to be studied and judged in the contest include soil texture, permeability, depth of top soil and sub-soil, slope, erosion and drainage. These points are taken into consideration to determine vegetative and mechanical practices essential to treat the land according to its needs for protection and improvement.

Sewer Plant - - -

answer. Plain water would probably work but a 4-acre lagoon full of treated water flowing over into the creek was convenient and free. So they laid a temporary line and pumped water into the sewer main to dilute the flow into the plant.

It worked. The increased volume speeded turnover in the tank to about half the previous time and the less concentrated solution was less subject to becoming septic. It seemed likely also that the lagoon water was actually better for the job than pure water. It is loaded with algae, the microscopic organisms used by nature for sewage treatment. Actually the algae and plant life in the lagoons do the complete job of treating liquids which come from the primary tank. The net result was that odors disappeared in a few hours.

Now the city crew is installing a permanent line to dilute the sewage. With the lagoon at a higher level than the man-hole to which the pipe leads, the operation is a cinch. Gravity assures a constant flow and a valve in the line controls the volume of flow.

Three small boys were brought before the judge for questioning. The first said that his offense was throwing peanuts in the lake. The second little boy said that he was also guilty of throwing peanuts in the lake. The third little boy said, "I'm Peanuts."

The following is the list of boys and girls in each age group as shown on the new census report. The total is 347 boys and 338 girls.

Billy Whitt Weds Frieda Huckabee in Stephenville Rite

Rev. and Mrs. Billy Whitt are making their home in Decatur following their marriage on Jan. 18 in Stephenville, home of the bride's parents. Mrs. Whitt is the former Frieda Huckabee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Huckabee. Rev. Whitt is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Whitt of Muenster.

The double ring ceremony was performed in the Stephenville Baptist church with the pastor officiating. James Whitt and John Marshall Huckabee, brothers of the couple, were candle lighters. Donnie Whitt was his brother's best man.

"PAT ON THE BACK"

Vice President Nixon got to work a little late the morning after Washington's first snowstorm — but so did about half a million others. In the Vice President's case, it was because he stopped his big limousine to pick up a carful of the stranded along the way, and departed from the direct route to the Capitol to drop them near their work.

Mary Alice Maraz, one of the Veep's guests, told the Washington Post how it was. They talked about "how a snow like this buffaloes Washington" and then about their work. Miss Maraz said she was a writer for the Catholic Standard, weekly newspaper of the Washington archdiocese.

"When he found this out, he commented on the work done by the Catholic War Relief aiding Hungarian refugees," said Miss Maraz. "He gave them a tremendous pat on the back."

And well he might. For, in addition to the great task of feeding, sheltering, clothing and rendering medical aid to the escapees, which Mr. Nixon witnessed personally in Austria, the work of the Catholic Relief Services — National Catholic Welfare Conference in this country has been equally impressive. As of January 11th, when Francis Cardinal Spellman visited the Camp Kilmer Reception Center in New Jersey, 248 aircraft and two transports had brought a total of 19,674 refugees to the Center — and that day, the stork brought another. Of this total, the Catholic Relief Services had found homes and jobs for 7,661 in cities and towns throughout the U.S. Resettlement by the seven other agencies engaged in this work totaled 6,330.

Since then, as the figures indicate, the pace of this great humanitarian work under the direction of the President's Committee for Hungarian Refugees has been stepped up still further. Four days later, the total received at Kilmer had risen to 20,393, and 16,081 had been resettled. Catholic Relief Services had established 9,094 in their new homes, and was in the process of resettling 2,983 more — for a total of 60 percent of all who had been brought to our shores. In a single day, CRS dispatched 534 of these prospective Americans from Kilmer to their new homes!

The Vice President's "well done" is richly deserved.

CHRISTIANITY VS. THE WELFARE STATE

Thurman Sensing, of the Southern States Industrial Council, makes this important observation: "The thinking of many people seems to have been misled in recent years by the fallacious belief that the philosophies of Christianity and the welfare state are one and the same . . . The fact is that they are just the opposite."

"Under Christianity, a man must work out his own salvation, the individual is supreme. Under the welfare state, a man's needs are taken care of through the planned economy of a bureaucratic government, the state is supreme."

It should be added that when the supreme state reaches its extreme and logical development — as under communism — Christianity is always one of the objects of oppression and destruction, and the care the individual gets is at the subsistence level only. Under the welfare state the bureaucrats are the only ones who get the gravy.

To "Give" One Group Anything, Government Must First Take It Away From Others

WEEK DOWN; WORK UP

When our patriots of 1789 put away their guns and turned to production, the average work week was 65 hours. At the outbreak of the Civil War, it dropped to 60 hours. In the early 1940's, the 40-hour week was conceived . . . and in the last 50 years, output per man has increased 200 per cent.

HEAR THIS!

"In times like these we don't usually cut budgets very much," said Speaker Sam Rayburn, with reference, of course, to the record-breaking $71,807,000,000 budget sent up to the Capitol by President Eisenhower.

But we hope that Mr. Sam's conferees in both houses of Congress are less cavalier in their consideration of a budget that is premised on a prosperity for the next 18 months even greater than that of 1956, a budget that the Secretary of the Treasury views with alarm.

Further, we would like to remind the scions of the words of that free-wheeling new National Commander of The American Legion, Dan Daniel, of Danville, Va., on "the issue of national solvency." He said:

"... A bankrupt America could not possibly stop the spread of Communism. New schools and highways can serve no useful purpose if there is not sufficient private capital to maintain them. And the finest armed forces in the world will be helpless if the economy that supports them is enfeebled."

And again, "I think we all subscribe to the rule that it is better to give than to receive. By that measure the United States is far and away the best of nations in all history. But the Government of the United States is not primarily a charitable institution and benevolence becomes a vice when carried to the point where it is neither appreciated nor prudent."

Commander Daniel was speaking of "times like these."

has the highest octane rating of any gasoline.

Modern cars, especially the 1957 models, have engines with very high compression ratios (9 to 1, and higher!).

These engines require a gasoline that's better than the best of "premium" gasolines, better than the "supers."

The one gasoline — the only one — that permits every high compression engine to deliver its full power output is Humble's Golden Esso Extra.

It is the world's finest automotive fuel . . . with the highest octane rating of any gasoline.

Protect the value of your automobile investment — use the gasoline that gives you added value from full performance. Fill up at the golden pump under your neighbor's Humble sign.

If you answer yes to any one of these questions, you should try Golden Esso Extra — world's finest gasoline.

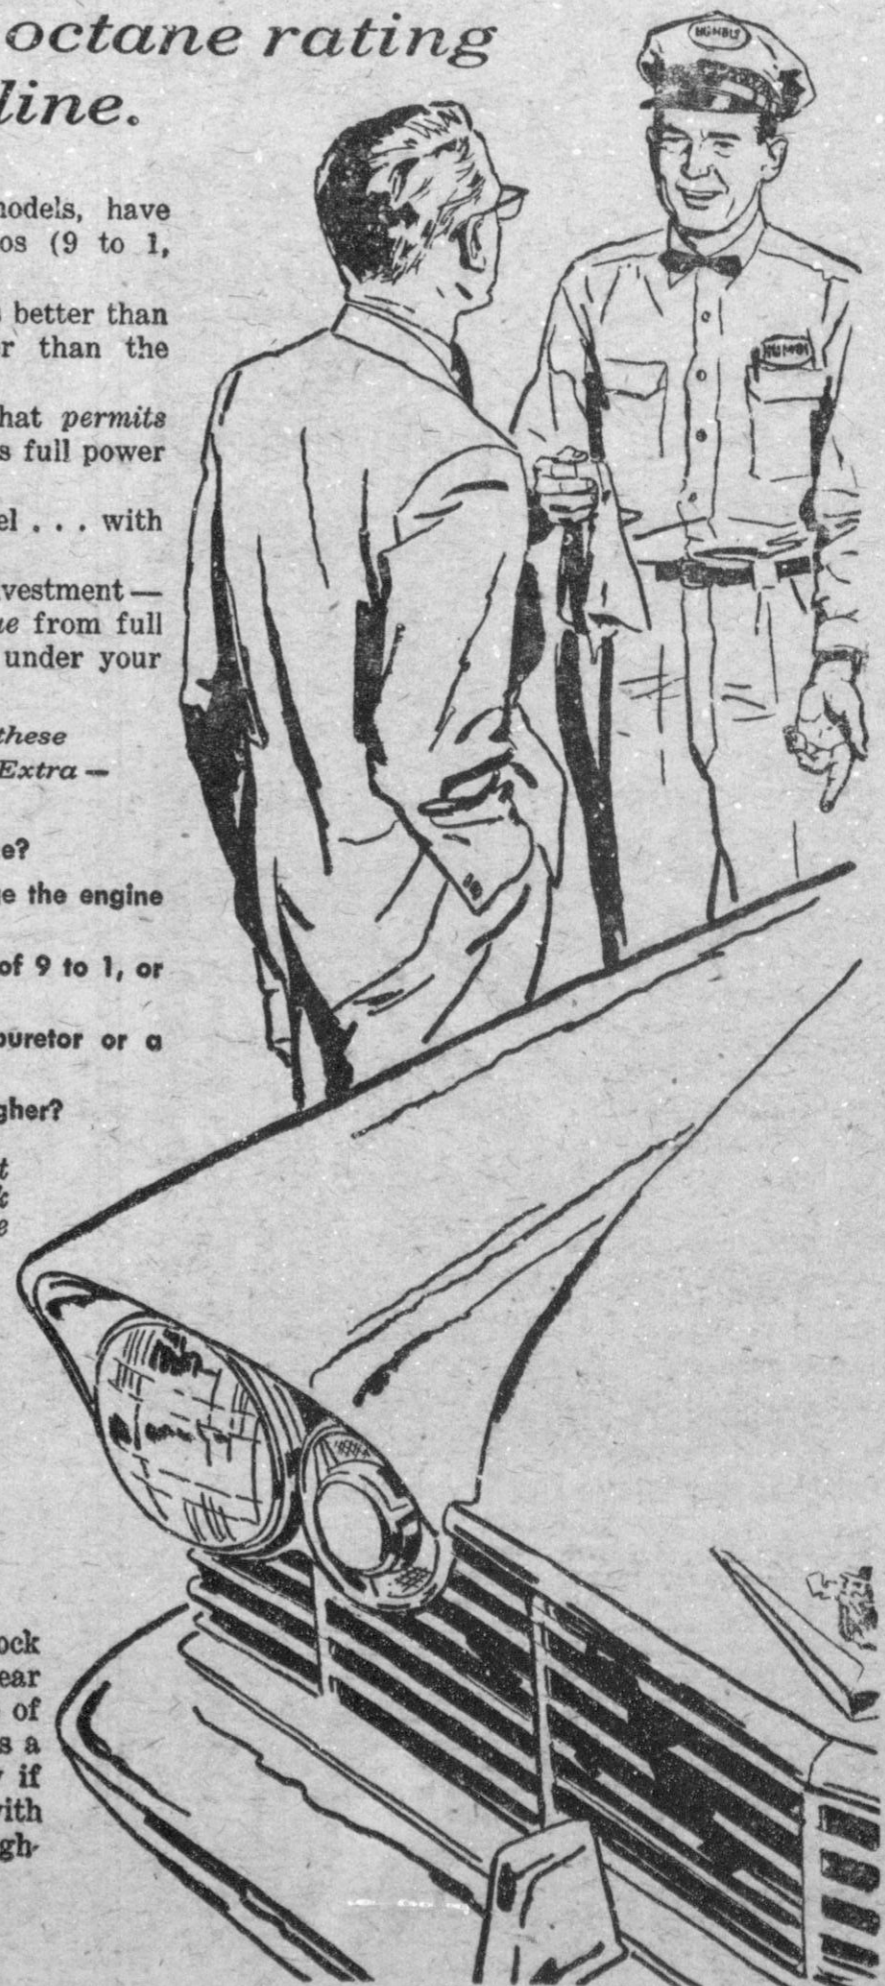

- Does your car knock on "premium" gasoline?
- Is your car air-conditioned? (On an average the engine pulls a 3-ton air conditioner.)
- Does the engine have a compression ratio of 9 to 1, or higher?
- Does your car have more than one carburetor or a "Power-Pack?"
- Is the engine rated at 200 horsepower or higher?

(These points become even more important as you add miles to a new car. Anti-knock requirements increase when you pass the break-in period.)

Don't let a "knock you can't hear" rob your car of power!

Engineers call it "trace knock," a knock so faint that only a trained technician can hear it. But like all knocks, it robs your engine of power, forecasts engine damage. If yours is a modern car in any price class — especially if it's a 1957 model — prevent "trace knock" with Golden Esso Extra, the gasoline with the highest octane rating ever.

Throat Scratchy?

Right about now, twenty million Americans are catching cold every day — as they did in the early fall — and will again in the spring. The "common cold" still launches half a billion attacks annually, causes one third of all school absences, costs the average American two-and-a-half working days a year. The over-all cost of the common cold in lost wages and production and medical expense has been estimated at five billion dollars a year. The reader can estimate for himself what it costs in human misery and risk of more dangerous complications.

But, for those whose common colds usually start with a sore throat, something HAS been done about this persistent plague. Our latest bulletin from the pharmaceutical front advises that Isodine, the most remarkable antiseptic of modern times, is now available in the form of a gargle. Isodine, as you may recall, is a combination of iodine — the most effective germ-killer known to science — and PVP full name, polyvinylpyrrolidone, which was developed during World War II as a blood plasma extender. The result of this combination has been to tame iodine without the loss of any of its antiseptic power.

This newest iodine preparation — Concentrated Isodine Gargle — eases the pain of sore throat and destroys viruses, bacteria and other disease organisms on contact. Yet, it is so gentle that it is used to treat mouth and throat infections in newborn infants. In fact, a year of clinical testing in the nursery of a leading New York hospital proved Isodine to be the most effective preventive and treatment for Thrush, that hitherto baffling fungus disease that attacks newborn babies.

So, if you've got an itchy throat, now you know what to do.

Local News BRIEFS

Elmer Brackett, remembered as the superintendent of construction at the Sacred Heart High school, was in town Tuesday afternoon saying hello to old friends. He lives in Oklahoma City now, is still working for Walter Nashert and was enroute to Dallas on business.

The Walter Rawley family moved Saturday, in spite of the icy weather, and are at home at Farmers Branch. They sold their property here to the Herbert Cunninghams who will move as soon as minor remodeling is complete. Before they left the Rawleys were dinner guests in the Arnold-Rohmer home.

Lawrence Milner of Texas A&M College is here since Sunday for the mid-term recess. During the weekend, before coming to Muenster, he visited his father, M. F. Milner, at Baylor Hospital in Dallas.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Herr and daughter returned to Lubbock Monday afternoon following a visit here since Thursday with their parents, the Albert Henscheids and Frank Herrs. Ronnie has finished his college work at Texas Tech and is working at a new job. He ended his college career at mid-term and will receive his diploma in the school's formal graduation exercises in the spring.

Jimmy Fisher of Arlington State College is spending the mid-term recess with his family.

Mrs. Frank Kathman left Friday for Corsicana to be at the bedside of her daughter, Mrs. Pete Hawthorne, who was a hospital patient.

Mrs. C. W. Ratliff was here Wednesday, Thursday and Friday visiting her parents, the John Fettes, and other relatives.

Sacred Heart's Home-School Society meeting was cancelled Monday night on account of the weather. Meeting date has been reset for next Monday night.

Charles Felderhoff and Basil Reiter will arrive this weekend for a visit with their parents, the Tony Felderhoffs and Clem Reiters, during the mid-term recess at Dallas University where they are students.

Lloyd Trubenbach returned to Ranger Jr. College Wednesday after a mid-term visit with his family, the Alois Trubenbachs.

Ronnie Dean, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Weinzapfel, was christened here Monday in ceremonies at Sacred Heart church with his uncle, the Rev. Joseph Weinzapfel of Dallas, officiating. Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Weinzapfel were sponsors for their grandson, Henry, Janie and the baby visited here Monday and overnight with their families, the Weinzapfels and the Arthur Hellmans, returning to Whitesboro Tuesday morning. Janie has a leave of absence from her teaching duties at Southmayd High school. She plans to resume her work in about a month.

AT COUSIN'S FUNERAL

Arnold and Gary Hess and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Haverkamp left Monday to attend funeral services for their cousin, Frank Tobbe, in Louisville, Ky. Services were conducted Wednesday at 9 a.m. in St. Rita's church. Tobbe, in his late fifties, died Sunday morning following an emergency operation for appendicitis on Friday. He was a cousin of all the Haverkamp, Hess and Walterscheid families in Cooke county.

Local CYC Group Attends Ft. Worth Diocesan Council

Eight members of the Muenster Catholic Youth Council were in Fort Worth during the week-end to attend the fourth annual diocesan council. Also present was Rev. Christopher Paladino, spiritual director of the local organization and deanery moderator for CYC.

Making up the local party were Kathy Pagel, Lorraine and Betty Sicking, LuRena Wolf, Janice Klement, Pat Horn, Mary Pick, and Helen Fisher.

A surprise visit from Texas' Governor Price Daniel Saturday morning, an address by the Most Rev. Thomas K. Gorman in the evening and a talk by a Hungarian refugee Sunday morning were standouts among convention highlights.

The program got under way Friday with registrations and a social mixer in Laneri High school gym. A square dance contest, won by Laneri, singing by the Gardenias, a quartet of Fort Worth boys who compose their own songs, and dancing were part of the mixer.

Mass at St. Patrick's Co-cathedral was the first thing on the agenda Saturday. Breakfast, opening meeting, reports, private luncheons for deanery officers, parish presidents and adult sponsors, a talent show, panels made up of students from Fort Worth and Dallas schools, and the Kinopodium — a game with a spiritual background — kept delegates busy during the day at the Texas Hotel.

The Bishop's Banquet was held in the evening with an address by Bishop Gorman and presentation of national awards. The Collation followed.

Pontifical Mass followed by a Communion breakfast was Sunday morning's opener and then came the business meeting with election of officers, demonstrations, caucuses and parish signs similar to the national presidential convention, to end the conclave.

LuRena, Janice and Mary stayed with their friend Barbara Phillips. Kathy, Betty, Lorraine and Pat stayed at St. Joseph's

School of Nursing where they saw LuRose Henscheid, Clara and Mildred Fisher, Ginger Wolf, Mary Trubenbach and several Lindsay girls. Helen stayed at St. Anne's club.

Mrs. Denny Cited By Alamo Register

Mrs. Charles Denny of San Antonio, the former Miss Dorothy Mae Luke of Muenster, was the Alamo Register's selection for its regular feature "Personality of the Week" in its issue of January 11. The Alamo Register is the official weekly paper of the San Antonio Diocese.

Mrs. Denny was chosen especially for her work and leadership last year as president of the Parent-Teacher Club of St. Gerard's parochial school in San Antonio. Achievements listed were organization of regular communion breakfast for children and a book exchange service along with social and fund raising affairs.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

OUR SOIL ★ OUR STRENGTH

Landowners in the Muenster-Saint Jo area of the Upper Elm-Red Soil Conservation District moved steadily toward their goal of improving and protecting each acre of agricultural land last year in spite of a record breaking drought.

Many farmers and ranchers realized that if soil and water are to be kept at home to produce crops certain measures must be taken on the land. These landowners took the opportunity to prepare their soils to use moisture to the best advantage when the rains do come.

The soil is the only place to store water and fertility to grow crops. It is a wonderful storehouse. But like all store houses it can furnish only those things that have been put into it. It is the responsibility of the landowners to make sure that fertility is added to the soil through legumes, crop residues and fertilizers and that the ground is kept in good condition with enough surface mulch to catch and hold the maximum amount of rainfall.

Soil improving and soil conserving practices carried out on farms and ranches in the Muenster-Saint Jo area last year were below average, but indicate good progress considering the lack of moisture.

A glance back shows that in this area alone over 11,000 acres of land were planted to soil building legume crops such as sweet clover, vetch, alfalfa, and peas to build up soil fertility, increase the water holding capacity of the soil and provide a cover for protection against soil erosion.

Twenty grassed strips were established the past year to provide a safe outlet for terrace water. This makes a total of 270 waterways established in this area to halt erosion. These strips also serve as additional improved pasture.

Eighteen miles of terraces were constructed in 1956 by landowners. These broad, easy-to-cross terraces break up long slopes and channel excess water safely from sloping cropland, moving the water slowly to a protected outlet. There are now over 500 miles of terraces protecting croplands of the Muenster work unit area. Additional protection is given to sloping fields when farm operations are carried out on the contour. Some 14,245 acres are being contoured using terraces as guide lines.

Forty ponds were built to catch and hold livestock water last year to make a total of 420 ponds in the Muenster-Saint Jo area to provide water for livestock so that better grass management practices can be carried out on grassland.

These ponds also provide recreational areas for fishing, swimming and camping. Grass improving practices such as rotation grazing, proper stocking to leave part of the grass, and deferred grazing were carried out on nearly 9000 acres the past year.

Each of these accomplishments means that some landowner has improved his farm or ranch to some extent and has moved closer to his goal of protecting and improving each acre of his land. It also means that his soil will produce more next year.

There are now 583 farmers and ranchers in the Muenster work unit area cooperating with the Upper Elm-Red Soil Conservation District. Soil conservation technicians assist each of these landowners in preparing a soil, water and plant conservation plan. They also give needed assistance in applying soil conserving practices.

Benefits of conservation practices cannot be realized until they are applied to the land. "Resolve now to apply at least one soil and water conserving practice to your land each year," is the advice from the personnel of the local work unit. "Conservation doesn't cost — it pays," they conclude.

200 Attend Farm Bureau Kick-off For New Members

Over 200 attended the county-wide kick-off meeting of the Farm Bureau's membership drive in the Community Center building.

Norma Jean Walterscheid, the Farm Bureau queen, and her brother, Sonny Walterscheid furnished music as the crowd was gathering for the program. Bert Davis then gave his juggling act with the Walterscheids furnishing the background music.

Joe B. Hundt presided and introduced the first guest speaker, A. N. Arveson, president of the Montague County bureau. He talked on "Why Farm Bureau." Arveson stated that farmers must have a voice in legislation and the only way is through organization. The Farm Bureau is the largest organized group that represents the farmers.

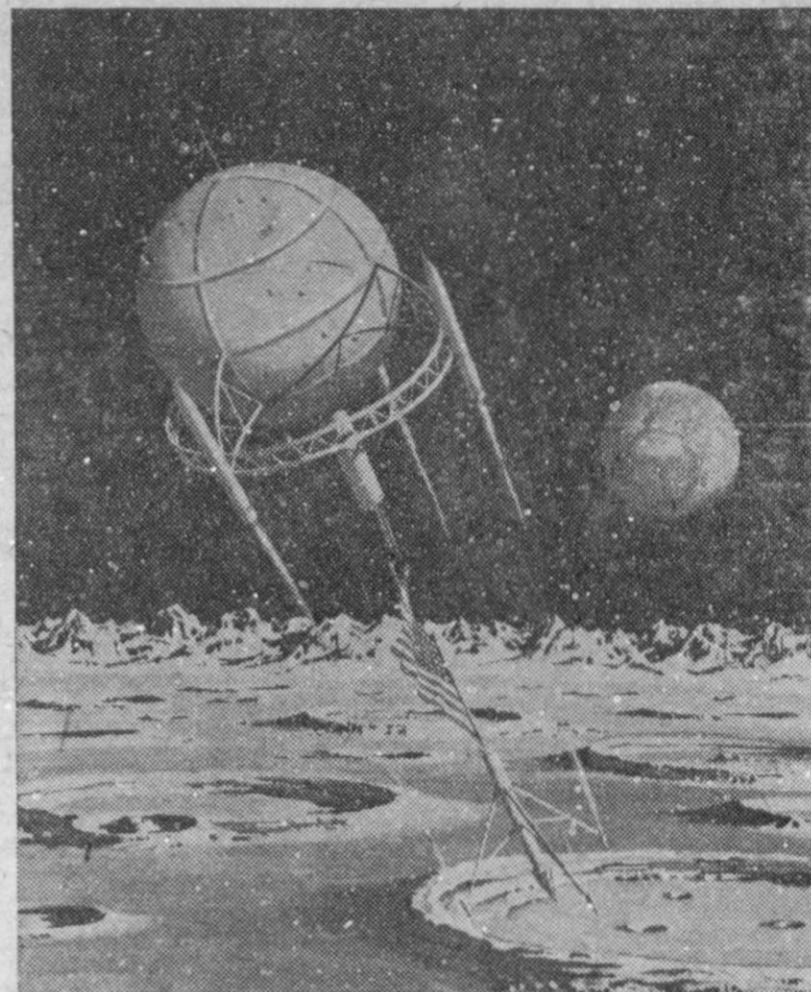

Jerry Thompson, enrollment representative of the Blue Cross explained improved coverage agreements that the company has for the Farm Bureau members.

Glen Mahaffey, Sulphur Springs field supervisor for the Farm Bureau Casualty and Life Insurance company, talked on benefits of that group.

Hundt then told the proposed legislation and outlined bills that have been introduced in the Texas legislature. The bureau has a legislative chairman, Gene Leach, in its Austin office.

Ben Davis, membership chairman, introduced captains assisting with the membership drive: Walter Nortman, Lindsay; Norbert Koessler, Muenster; Rueben Hassenpflug, Valley View and Hollis Berry of Rosston.

Doughnuts and drinks were served by the refreshment committee composed of Mrs. Ben Davis, L. G. Gentle, Bruno Zimmerer and Gus Lutkenhaus, after which table games were enjoyed.

IT'S UP FOR GRABS—When you and your girl are staring at that romantic moon some night, look carefully; somebody may be establishing a beachhead up there. This sketch by artist Ken Fagg shows the American flag being planted on the lunar landscape from a space ship. Proponents advocate this move before the Russians can claim the moon with radio-controlled rockets. They say the U.S. has a prior claim by virtue of radar contact with the moon in 1946. Sketch is from Mechanix Illustrated magazine.

Basketball teams of Sacred Heart divided honors with Thackerville High School Tuesday night in a double header on the parochial court. Local girls took the opener by a count of 35-27 and the boys lost 52-23.

Competition was keen in the first period of the first game and the quarter ended at 6-6. After that Sacred Heart gradually pulled ahead for scores of 16-12, 27-20 and 35-27 for the remaining quarters. High scorers were Eayer 10, Derichsweiler 9 and Zimmerman 8.

Sacred Heart boys were no match for the Sooners and the game was one sided all the way. Counts by periods were 14-2, 30-6, 40-16 and 52-23. Top scorers for the Tigers were Mollenkopf 7, Haverkamp 5 and Wimmer 3.

In their next games the Tigers will complete their '57 SAL schedule, playing Buckner there Friday and Laneri here next Tuesday. As preliminaries to those games the Tigerettes will play the Buckner girls and OLV Academy.

MHS Cagers Split Pair at Callisburg, Lose Both at Era

Basketball teams of Muenster High split with Callisburg and lost two to Era in their games of the past week.

At Callisburg the boys rambled to an easy win of 75-46 and the girls fell short by the close count of 47-43. At Era both losses were decisive, by scores of 72-52 in the boys' game and 42-19 in the girls' game.

Playing Callisburg last Friday Muenster girls ended the opening quarter 10-10 and led 22-20 at the half. However a weak third period was disastrous and ended with Callisburg leading 35-23. Muenster's final quarter comeback was better but not good enough. Top scorers were Haverkamp 29, Pick 8 and Cain 4.

Muenster boys gained steadily all through their game. Scores ending the periods were 16-9, 35-23, 59-35 and 75-46. Cain hit 37, Richey 18 and Kaderli 8.

Tuesday night the girls encountered too much defense at Era and had to settle for little more than they made at the foul line. Three field goals was all they could get in action. Scores by periods, with Era ahead all the way, were 9-5, 16-8, 26-13 and 42-19. Pick scored 7, Haverkamp-6 and Cain 4.

The boys game had lots of action with the host team enjoying a comfortable margin all the way. The periods ended 22-15, 44-31, 57-46 and 72-52. Cain was top scorer with 27. Richey made 12 and Kaderli 8.

Only one contest is on schedule for the teams during the coming week. They play Saint Jo here Friday night and come to their open date next Tuesday.

Baby chicks have a very small capacity for feed but when growing normally they attain 20 times their hatching weight in eight weeks. This means that the feed you give them must be high in nutrient levels... and every particle of feed must contain the right quota of the various ingredients. Only by using the most modern weighing, blending and mixing machinery can this be assured. For example, when 10 grams of antibiotics is provided in a ton of feed each 100 pounds of finished feed must contain 1/2 gram. This is equivalent to 1/2 teaspoon of antibiotics. Very small amounts of vitamins and minerals are also needed... but these amounts also must be present for fast, healthy growth.

When you feed your chicks RED CHAIN Chick Starter you provide them with the very best feed we know how to make. SEE YOUR RED CHAIN DEALER TODAY.

Lindsay News

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Zimmerman were in Muenster Sunday to be godparents at the baptism of their nephew, infant Garry Lawrence Fetsch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Fetsch. The little boy is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Ferdinand Fetsch of Munday and Joseph Flusche of Lindsay.

Mrs. George Spaeth is post-carding to relatives and friends from California, telling that she's enjoying her visit with her daughter and family, the Walt Barrys at Riverside, and that she'll be there for some time yet.

Mrs. Joe Bezner is great-grandmother again. The new arrival is the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Corcoran of Sorrance, Calif. She has been named Kathrine Mary and is the couple's third girl. Mr. and Mrs. Ed Corcoran are the grandparents.

Mrs. Anton Dieter, writing from San Francisco, tells of having snow, the first since they moved to California. She also wrote that their second daughter, Donna, married recently and lives below San Diego where her husband who is in the service is stationed at 29 Palms. Uneida, their older daughter, has four children now, a girl and three boys. Lanette, the youngest daughter will be 12 in July. The family sends best regards to all their friends.

Mrs. Anna Wiese, 87 Observes Birthday

Thursday was a happy day for Mrs. Anna Wiese, one of Lindsay's oldest and best loved citizens. On that day she celebrated her 87th birthday surrounded by family members and friends who joined her at her home for the occasion.

Among those attending an afternoon party were her three daughters, Mrs. Jake Bezner, Mrs. Val Dieter and Mrs. William Schmitz, all of Lindsay. Mrs. H. J. Fuhrman of Muenster was an out of town guest.

After showering the honoree with gifts, the group enjoyed visiting and refreshments.

A native of Germany, Mrs. Wiese came to America with her parents when she was 17 years old settling with them at Westphalia, Iowa. She taught school there until her marriage to Paul Wiese in that town on May 10, 1892.

Three years later she and her husband, along with her parents, moved to Lindsay. She has lived there continuously for 62 years.

While Mr. Wiese lived they resided on a farm and he also operated a general merchandise store in town. After his death in 1926 Mrs. Wiese moved to her present home in the city. She lives alone except for a granddaughter, Julia Schmitz, who stays with her at night, enjoys doing her house work and attends Mass at St. Peter's church. Still active in the parish Mothers' Society, she last year rounded out a half century as a member.

In addition to the three daughters, Mrs. Wiese has five sons, Frank of Gainesville, Vincent of Fort Worth, William, Leo and Paul of Detroit, Mich.

Albert Moser, 61, Native of Lindsay Claimed by Death

Albert W. Mosser, 61, of Gainesville, died Friday in Veterans Hospital at Dallas where he had been receiving treatment for about a month. A native of Lindsay, he had spent all his life except the past seven years in that community.

Funeral services were held Monday morning at 9 o'clock with the Rev. E. J. Gerlich officiating at the requiem mass in St. Mary's church and at burial in the Lindsay cemetery. George J. Carroll and Son Funeral Home directed arrangements.

Mosser, a veteran of World War I, was born Sept. 12, 1895. He farmed north of Lindsay until he moved to Gainesville and was employed as a carpenter in the shop at Joe Walter Lumber company until illness sent him to the hospital.

Surviving are his wife the former Cecilia Albers; two daughters, Mrs. Freddie Dulock and Mrs. Leroy Case; two sons, Norbert and Lee Mosser; and a brother, Leo Mosser, all of Gainesville; a sister, Sister Frances Helen of West; a half-brother, Joe Mosser of Durant, Okla., and five grandchildren.

be looking when such a break occurred near their home. There was a sudden intensely bright flash followed by a break.

Some breaks of a similar nature resulted after the ice started thawing. A lower line, suddenly relieved of its load, snapped up and came in contact with the upper line. One of those occurred in the west part of the city about noon Monday, when thawing was well under way.

A variety of inconveniences followed the power failures. Most common were the uselessness of home appliances and lights, especially in homes with electric ranges or thermostatically controlled heaters. Some dairymen had to return to manual milking, with kerosene lanterns for light. Some, with the new model milk coolers were hit by the power failure after milking and had no current to pump milk out of the coolers.

Roads were treacherous most of the time, yet, despite lots of skidding and stalled cars, no accidents were reported. The only car accident of the week happened Monday night after ice had all melted. Four lads in a dense fog suddenly came up behind a truck and darted to the right to avoid a crash . . . and crashed into a ditch. Donny Wilson and Roy Swirczynski went to the hospital for treatment of cuts and bruises. Herbie Walterscheid and Leo Hess escaped injury.

Because of hazardous driving both local schools had a holiday on Monday. Practically all rural schools of the county were closed.

A redeeming factor, which probably compensates for most of the inconvenience and damage, is the addition of .59 inch to the soil's moisture content. Along with last week's rain, this further improves crop prospects and also helps toward thinning out the infestation of red spiders which have been doing a great deal of damage in some areas.

Prejudice is a great timesaver; it enables us to form opinions without bothering to get the facts.

Weather Fails to Dampen KC Golden Anniversary Party

Icy roads and freezing mist Saturday night didn't keep 130 members of the Gainesville-Lindsay council Knights of Columbus from attending a banquet and program in the K of C Hall. The event commemorated the golden anniversary of the council and honored charter members.

Anniversary honorees received 50 year pins. Five charter members are living and three of them were present: Joseph W. Schad, Henry J. Schad and C. W. Pulte. Recognized for the honor but not able to attend because of illness were Joe Gieb and Will Schafer.

Joe Schad was also recognized for having served as a grand knight two terms and Will Schafer for one term.

Other receiving past grand knight certificates were H. P. Schad, Paul Schad, F. E. Schmitz, Joe Walter, Ewald Berend, Jake Bezner, Lawrence Gieb, Gregory Hundt and William Pulte.

Grand Knight Paul Wiese made the presentations and Joe Bezner was master of ceremonies.

District Deputy Doug Hobbs addressed the group congratulating charter members. Rev. E. J. Gerlich, pastor of St. Mary's church and council chaplain, was guest speaker. He traced the history of the Knights of Columbus in general and the progress made by Council 1167. It was organized in 1906 with 37 members. Present membership totals 227.

The hall and tables stressed a color theme of gold with white and Mrs. Joe Lehnertz catered the meal.

to North Texas Producers. Local deliveries decreased since then, however other Grade B milk has come here since a cheese plant closed at Denton. Present volume of Grade B is far below that of 12 to 15 years ago, before many dairymen switched to Grade A operation. Peak receipts then were about 60,000 pounds daily.

More than 95 per cent of the plant's present operation is Grade A. Daily receipts average about 350,000 pounds a day. During the Christmas holidays they averaged over a half million.

About 150,000 pounds of that milk is hauled away daily to supply the needs of bottling plants, ice cream plants and cottage cheese plants. The remainder, classified as Grade A surplus, is processed here.

At the present time the surplus is condensed. Cream is separated and the skim is condensed to 36 per cent solids. The condensed milk is then delivered for various uses to milk processing plants all over the Southwest. Principal uses for the cream are for bottling and churning into butter.

Whenever the demand for condensed milk falls behind the supply, the surplus is further condensed into powder. This solves a storage problem. The powder requires less space, no refrigeration, and can be stacked away in bags. The powder, like the condense, is used in a large variety of dairy processing operations.

mistake in a bill or preventing a vacancy in any office after an election.

The special election also brings on a situation that the state's Democratic party does not relish. It provides about the best opportunity ever for election of a Republican in this traditionally Democratic state. There will be no party primaries. Just one election with as many candidates as wish to run, and the high man will be the winner.

As it shapes up now there will be one Republican candidate and a half dozen or more Democrats. The Republican is a worthy and capable man, conceded as a strong candidate, with President Eisenhower's blessing to boot. Suppose he gets the Republican votes plus some Eisenhower Democrat votes. And suppose that Democratic votes are divided among their several candidates. He could be the high man.

And that's not all. If elected he would be in position to swing control of the senate back to the Republican party. The count then would be 48 of each party and Vice President Nixon could cast the deciding vote. It's a strange possibility, but very possible. The Democratic state of Texas may put Republicans in control and depose their other senator from his position of majority leader.
