

MMH Board terminates CEO's contract

Janet Felderhoff
News Editor

Muenster Hospital's Board of Directors met on Tuesday, June 16. Following an executive session, the Board voted unanimously to the contract with CEO Michael Kent effective June 30. His last day at the Hospital was June 18 and he is now on vacation. They also agreed to negotiate with Kent regarding the terms of severance package.

Taking on the duties of the administrator (CEO) will be CFO James Tacker. In a telephone interview after the meeting, Board President Ronnie Weinzapfel stated that CFO James Tacker will take on the duties of the CEO until an interim administrator can be found. The interim will serve until a new CEO/administrator is hired and begins their duties.

Weinzapfel they have been interviewing people for the CEO position and he has been in contact with TORCH (Texas Organization of Rural and Community Hospitals) seeking their assistance in locating an interim CEO.

The Board also voted to have the Interview Committee develop a salary proposal for two candidates for the open leadership position.

A cost of living pay increase was discussed in executive session. Typically, up to 3% is given to each employee based on performance. That will not be the case during this coming budget year. After reconvening into open session, the Board unanimously voted to freeze any cost-of-living increase in salaries for fiscal year 2016.

Also taken under discussion in executive session was

Blame it on Bill - Tropical Depression Bill dumped over six inches of rain on the area last Wednesday, June 17, causing some flooding and more road damage. Pictured is flood water running off the old Tony Felderhoff farm just east of Muenster, funneling under Hwy. 82.

Rains still taking toll on area roads

Janet Felderhoff
News Editor

The topic of area road conditions was once again injected into the Commissioners Court meeting. The Court met in regular session on Monday, June 22.

Emergency Management Coordinator Ray Fletcher spoke regarding the County's Disaster Declaration. With tropical storm Bill dropping more rain on the area, they came close to having to close I-35 access between Oklahoma and Texas. He said, "We did have a great response from Precincts #3 and #4 sending out equipment and personnel to help out TxDOT just in case we had to do some work around that bridge."

Fletcher said the County is in the recovery process and is still assessing road damages and still finding areas that are undermined or continue to present that we haven't noticed in the past. He said, "It's that lengthy process of getting all the roads inventoried and finding out how much damage we do have."

Commissioner Al Smith said that during last week's rain, the Clear Creek watershed received a tremendous amount of rain - record levels. Smith continued, "We still have a pretty sizeable job to do." He said that they know that there is undercut damage to some of the County road bridges and perhaps some of the state bridges.

Commissioner Leon Klement said that with the addition of another 12 1/4 inches of rain in some places in precinct #4, things have not improved. "Everything we fixed is unfixed," he added.

Klement noted that FEMA tagged Precinct #4 for 4.8 million out of $5.3. "That's over three years worth of funding," he said. "Now, that could go down. Realistically, we've got to sit down and decide what we are going to do and how we are going to do it. FEMA has got to get here." He asked if anyone had heard when FEMA might get back to Cooke County.

"People are only going to listen so long as to why hadn't you bladed this all up and at least made it look nice," said Klement. He said people's patience will run out with waiting on FEMA. He added that he knows FEMA is covered up with places that need cost estimates.

County Judge Jason Brinkley said in regard to FEMA that there are 107 counties declared a disaster due to rain. The good news is that Cooke County is near the top of that list and the bad news is that it is a long list.

The Disaster Declaration remains in effect.

Commissioner Smith asked that they table approval of a three year lease agreement between Cooke County Road and Bridge Precinct #3 and John Deere Financial via RDO equipment for the lease of a 2015 John Deere 772G Motor Grader. He said that the delivery date is not finalized nor the exact configuration of the equipment determined. He noted that it is a three year lease agreement on a $270,000 machine that is a lease rental per year of about $23,000.

"My purpose for doing this is this will give me a machine which I will not have to worry about," said Smith. "It will be under warranty and I won't have to worry about repair

How locals can apply for flood assistance

County Judge Jason Brinkley sent out a press release regarding FEMA assistance to County residents. It said that Cooke County has been added to the list of counties eligible to receive individual assistance from FEMA for residents affected by the recent severe weather and flooding events.

Residents and businesses who were affected by the recent severe weather/flooding in Cooke County need to register with FEMA by calling 1-800-621-3362, or visiting www.disasterassistance.gov/. FEMA teams will be visiting the county in the coming weeks to conduct case-by-case assessments, and individual assistance may be available in the form of grants and low-interest loans.

For more information, please visit www.fema.gov/disaster/4223.

Cooke County United Way also announced that the Cooke County VOAD (Voluntary Organizations Assisting in Disasters) Flood Disaster Recovery Committee will be hosting a Farm and Ranch Flood Recovery Seminar Thursday, July 2 from 5 to 6:30 p.m. at First State Bank Conference Center, 837 E. California Street in Gainesville. They will have information on hand for recovery and possible funding opportunities for agriculture property damaged, etc.

Did you have damages to your property, home, or business from the May flooding and severe storms? Then make two phone calls. Call 940-665-1793 and register your damages with the local Flood Recovery Committee at the United Way offices. They are there to help connect you to recovery resources and to provide helpful information.

"Sweet" business purchased by local family

Janet Felderhoff
News Editor

One of the first businesses to greet visitors traveling into Muenster from the east also serves as one of the town's sweetest businesses. That is Bayer's Kolonialwaren located at 824 East Division Street.

They offer specialties such as strudel, kolaches, fried pies, and chicken peppers along with an assortment of donuts, decorated cookies, and other treats to satisfy sweet cravings. There are also more substantial foods like fried chicken, chicken strips, and egg rolls.

The Kolonialwaren recently had a change in ownership. The Louise and Hank Walterscheid family purchased the business from John and Darla Pollard. New owners are Ed and Nancy Insel, Noah Barnhill, Barbie and Gary Barnhill, Noel Barnhill, Donna and Lee Buddy, Scott and Allison Thomas, Nick and Robin Walterscheid, Jonathan Sicking, and DeeDee and Glenn Dangelmayr. They officially took ownership on April 17.

Donna Buddy manages the bakery while Scott Thomas manages the front. Both have previous experience. Donna worked at Bayer's for nine years and Scott Thomas has 13 years of experience in the retail business.

Donna said the purchase was a family decision. Scott added, "We knew that we could manage it correctly. We knew it had potential to do better than it was already doing. We

Consent Agenda items approved by the Court included:

He cited having too much to do from the floods and noted that he is part of a transportation committee, TAPPS, and several other things, and asked to resign to have more time to work on repairing flood damage. Commissioner Gary Hollowell was appointed to take Klement's place on the Facilities Committee.

- The surplus and sale of emergency equipment from the Cooke County Sheriff's Office to the City of Muenster Police Department for $1.

- Interlocal agreement between Cooke County Road and Bridge Precinct #1 and the City of Callisburg.

- Corrected FY 2014 Medicaid documents for additional 115A funds.

Donna remarked, "We look forward to working with the community." They are selling tickets for the upcoming Muenster Heritage Park Summer Concert slated for Saturday, July 18.

Bayer's began as a small convenience store opened in April 1964. It was owned by Ray and Alta Swirczynski. On July 1, 1987, the Swirczynskis' daughter Carolyn and her husband Chas Bayer purchased the business. They named it Bayer's Kolonialwaren und Backerei. Kolonialwaren means groceries and wares in German. Over time, they added to what was offered and eventually began making donuts on-site.

Bayer's is open seven days a week from 6 a.m. to 8 p.m.

whether to have employees contribute a portion of the insurance premium. The Board approved a rate increase from Blue Cross Blue Shield, but had decided to wait until the June meeting to determine if they will ask employees to pay a portion of the premiums. Currently, employees do not have to pay any of their insurance costs.

It was noted that under the Affordable Care Act, an employer cannot charge more than 9.5% of the employees' yearly W2 earnings for the insurance to be considered affordable.

Research was done on comparable businesses in the area. Employee contribution ranges from $60 to $80 a pay period for employee insurance only.

The Board voted to have the Hospital District absorb the newly increased cost of health insurance for employees of the District for FY 2016.

Active Staff Privileges were approved for Judith Graves, M.D.

Administrator Michael Kent reported that the Hospital had a Level I Trauma Inspection last month for renewal of the facility's Trauma designation. The results were just received that morning. The official findings will be used to put in place new policies and procedures.

The inspector recommended that Tiffany Lutkenhagen attend a Trauma Outcomes and Performance Improvement Course (TOPIC). She was at the class that day and the next. TOPIC focuses on the ongoing assessment of the trauma care.

Kent said it appears that most of the deficiencies are in documentation by doctors and nurses.

The prior week, the Hospital had its annual Security Risk Assessment (SRA) performed. The SRA is required early as a part of the conditions for Meaningful Use. Kent noted that during the SRA, the security of all computer systems are evaluated and tested as well as policy and procedures being reviewed.

Kent said, "For these past two months of April and May, we were in the positive overall. A lot of that has to do with our patient census." There were 349 patient days in May.

June's total of revenue over expenses was $54,933.08 and May was $49,699.79.

Board members present for the meeting were Ronnie Weinzapfel, Kenny Klement, Paul Becker, Jon Reed, Don Richardson, Mary Del Olmo, and via telephone John Aytes.

Fleitman family gathers for reunion

For the 18th time, 126 descendants of Henry and Mary Hessel Fleitman gathered between showers for a reunion in the City Park Pavilion with an abundance of good food. Hilda Fleitman Self started the gatherings in 1980. The pool was the big attraction for the children while the adults visited and played dominoes.

The family history book was updated for the last two years to list five deaths: Henry Felderhoff, Curtis Reeves, Eleanor Pelzel, William Koerner, and Janie Fleitman. There were 11 weddings and 22 babies born - including two sets of twins. There are now 15 sets of twins in the family.

Cynthia Bindel Tousek displayed an ancestry chart tracing nine generations of the Fleitman family back to 1810. John David and Patsy Fleitman celebrated 50 years in May, and Richard and Edna Mae Hermes will make 60 years next May.

Gertie Wimmer was the oldest grandchild present and her great-granddaughter Hallie Eggemeyer, daughter of Robyn and Jay Eggemeyer of Little Elm, was the youngest.

The next reunion is planned for 2017.

Piano students present recital

Music from around the world was featured in a piano recital held May 31 in First Baptist Church of Muenster. Nineteen students of Rosemary Dankesreiter performed solos and duets, playing a wide variety of musical flavors from Mexico, England, Switzerland, Italy, Germany, Poland, Argentina, Spain, Norway, France, Russia, Ireland, and the United States of America.

Beautiful large baskets of fresh flowers surrounded the grand piano and soft music created a delightful atmosphere as parents, grandparents, and friends filled the church.

The program began with a welcome by Dankesreiter who noted that the students had mastered many piano selections over the last nine months. For the recital, a considerable amount of time and effort had been made preparing the pieces to be played.

Stone Lamar offered the opening prayer.

All 19 students performed individual solos, while duets were also performed by Cassy and Reece Acayan, Avery and Emery Reiter, Alec Anne Becker and Katie Becker, Knolan and Bearett Bower, Jianne Juntado and Yanna Galando, Savannah Bohl and Alison Becker, Jackson and Braeden Mitchell, and Hannah and Stone Lamar.

All performances were received with appreciative applause. After the performances, Dankesreiter praised the students for their hard work and determination, and informed them that without their realization, they also developed poise, confidence, self reliance, and skills in time management and teamwork. Students were challenged to continue practicing during the summer months. Parents were thanked for their help throughout the year. Thanks was given to First Baptist Church for allowing the recital to be held there.

Dankesreiter presented all students with a certificate denoting the years of piano lessons and a statuette of a famous music composer. Group pictures were taken. All enjoyed refreshments in the Fellowship Hall following the program.

Pet Talk - poisons to pets

Although we may be extra-cautious when using household cleaners, automotive products, or pest control products in our homes and gardens, it may come as a surprise that the tasty morsel we just dropped while preparing dinner could endanger our best friend.

Chocolate can be found lying around the majority of households, especially during the holidays. Depending on the size and type of chocolate, it can be very dangerous to your pet's health if consumed. Make sure that your children are aware of this, as they might think they're treating Fido by sneaking him a piece of chocolate cake under the dinner table. If your dog does get a hold of some, chocolate is absorbed within about an hour, so you should call your veterinarian immediately.

"Additionally, grapes and raisins can cause renal failure in dogs if eaten," said Dr. James Barr, assistant professor at the Texas A&M College of Veterinary Medicine & Biomedical Sciences. "The exact cause of this is unknown, and the amount that needs to be consumed in order to be poisonous is unknown as well."

While the toxicity of many food items may surprise you, the assumption that rat poison will only eliminate rats is a misconception. Rat poison can be lethal to both cats and dogs when ingested. If you have pets in your home, it is best to opt for another pest control method.

One of the most common and dangerous household items that is poisonous to pets is antifreeze. "Antifreeze contains ethylene glycol, which is very toxic to animals," Barr said. "Toxicity can be treated, but only if treatment is instituted quickly."

There are many plants that cause health problems if eaten by your pets. Sago palms, for instance, can cause severe liver damage and even death if eaten.

"Lilies also have a strange effect when eaten in cats," said Barr. "It causes kidney failure that is particularly difficult to treat."

If your pet does ingest any harmful foods or household items, it is best to play it safe and contact your veterinarian or the Animal Poison Control Center; they can help you determine if your pet needs to be seen by a doctor and if they consumed a toxic dose. The Texas A&M Veterinary Medical Teaching Hospital ER is always available to advise on toxic ingestions.

"Always be aware of the dangers of the things your pets have access to. If they are unsupervised, a safe assumption is that they might eat anything they are in contact with," said Barr. "Have a discriminatory eye, and try to avoid having those items in your home."

There is no harm in being extra cautious when dealing with possible toxicities around the house. Be sure to keep these particular items out of your pet's reach at all times and to call your veterinarian or poison control center immediately if they do come into contact with them.

May MMH Rising Star shares praise

The Rising Star for May at Muenster Memorial Hospital finds it difficult to talk about his accomplishments. Instead, award recipient Steve Peckham's praise immediately shifts to his co-workers. "I believe we all do a great job and we all deserve a pat on the back," he said. "The Hospital does not run by itself; it runs because of the great staff we have here."

The tall, quiet man, who is seen with a broom or mop in his hands almost constantly, joined the housekeeping staff at Muenster Memorial as a part-time employee in November 2013. He went on to be full-time by October 2014.

"I love the Hospital and am so grateful that the housekeeping manager Johnny Bohannon and HR manager Tiffany Reed gave me the opportunity."

Peckham was born in Des Moines, IA. His family consisted of his parents, four brothers, and one sister. The family moved to California when Steve was a teen, but he found it difficult to adjust. So, on the road he went, hitchhiking and riding the rails.

After sewing those wild oats, Steve returned to California where he met his wife of nearly 26 years (July 1), Linda, and settled into a job with the California State Parks. Linda worked for Walmart for 18 years.

After a change in the parks system ended his job, Steve and his wife decided to move to Texas with their son and grandchildren. The couple resides in Saint Jo. In his spare time, Steve enjoys fishing, camping, and hunting.

Steve received three separate nominations for the Rising Star Award – the most special being from a patient – "You have an excellent worker in housekeeping. He sweeps and mops my room every day. Also, he never complains and is always helpful and nice. It's good to know there is still caring and compassionate people like him to do the work he does."

Others commented, "Steve in housekeeping is a gem! He works around people quietly and never complains. Always a 'Good Morning' or 'Good Day!' Such a positive person."

Steve also believes in teamwork and never misses a chance to help when needed.

"Steve from housekeeping had a huge load of laundry to do. We were almost completely out of linens. He jumped right on it and never complained. We appreciate his help and caring nature for our patients."

"I am very proud to receive the Rising Star Award; it's an honor and a privilege," Steve noted. "Every single person that works here are the best at what they do – they are friendly, outgoing, and courteous."

Steve seems to possess a special feel for people – he knows when someone needs a listening ear or a good story. He also knows when to be quiet.

"Our patients come first and we all try to do a great job in making their stay as comfortable as possible."

The Rising Star Award recipient is chosen from nominations from patients, families, and staff. The next Rising Star will be presented June 25.

Weather Why - Lightning

Q: Is it true that lightning never strikes twice in the same spot?

A: That's one of several big myths about lightning, said Brent McRoberts of Texas A&M University. "Lightning often strikes the same location multiple times," he reports. "Just look at the Empire State Building, which gets hit by lightning nearly 100 times on average each year, often several times in the same day. The Willis Tower (formerly known as the Sears Tower) in Chicago and Cape Canaveral in Florida also get hit by lightning dozens of times each year. In general, any tall structures, such as buildings or radio or TV transmission towers, are almost certainly going to be hit by lightning."

Be careful of heat in cars during hot summer months

The Texas Department of Public Safety (DPS) is reminding Texans that as summer temperatures increase, so does the potential for vehicular heatstroke deaths in children. Every year, children die from heatstroke after being left in a vehicle or entering a vehicle unnoticed.

"Children should never be left unattended in a vehicle regardless of the weather; however especially in warmer temperatures, the likelihood of serious injury or death increases exponentially when a child – or anyone – remains in a hot vehicle for too long," said DPS Director

Steven McCraw. "DPS urges parents, caretakers, and the public to do their part to prevent vehicular heatstroke by never leaving a child inside a vehicle without an adult present, and by notifying emergency personnel if they see a child alone in a car."

According to the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration, temperatures inside a car can rise more than 20° in only 10 minutes; and even with an outside temperature of 60°, the temperature inside a car can reach 110. Leaving windows partially rolled down does not help. In addition, young children are particularly at risk since their bodies heat up faster than an adult.

DPS offers the following tips for preventing vehicular heatstroke deaths and injuries:

- Always check the back seats of your vehicle before walking away.
- Establish reminders that help ensure you remove children from the vehicle. For example: leave your bag, lunch, or cell phone in the back seat with the child's car seat.
- Call 9-1-1 if you see a child alone in a car, and emergency personnel will instruct you what to do next.
- If a child goes missing, open the doors and trunks to every vehicle in the area. One-third of all of the deaths occur when a child accesses a parked car unnoticed.

• Teach children not to play in vehicles and make sure to place the keys out of reach when not being used.

MISD reveals 2014-15 Teachers of the Year

At Muenster ISD's end-of-year faculty and staff breakfast on June 6, campus principals announced their 2014-15 Teacher of the Year. Kay Hickey received the award for Elementary Teachers of the Year and Dana Klement received the High School Teacher of the Year award.

Kay Hickey graduated from Muenster High School in 1962 and from TWU in August of 1999. She has completed 16 years of teaching at MISD. Her first three years at Muenster Elementary were as Kindergarten teacher. Her last 13 years were as Computer teacher. Prior to teaching in Muenster, she served as an aide at Sivells Bend ISD for six years. Kay simply stated, "Teaching was my 'dream' job! I have truly been blessed to work with wonderful people!"

Her peers state that Kay shows kindness and compassion to all, loves the students with all her heart, would do anything for anyone, and has that special knack to see the "good" in each student! Lou Heers, elementary principal, reports that, "Kay has been a wonderful role model to everyone with her community efforts! She inspires us all! We will truly miss Kay's youthful spirit."

As far as retirement is concerned, Kay is looking forward to spending time with Gordon, her husband, and their "grand dog" Pippa, their Yorkie. Kay will continue with her volunteer efforts with Keep Muenster Beautiful, the Muenster City Library, and with the Muenster Museum.

Dana Klement has just completed her fourth year at Muenster High School. Her duties at the HS include Theater Arts and Special Education English. She also coached Film Making and Prose & Poetry for HS UIL academics as well as other academic events at the elementary and JH. Dana's responsibilities at the Junior High include Special Education English Inclusion (Team Teaching) and JH UIL coordinator. She also was in charge of One Act Play at the JH and HS and had a very successful year in competition.

This year, Dana was involved in Team Teaching at the JH in 7th and 8th grade English and Reading. Team Teaching was a new approach to Special Education and was accepted by Dana willingly and eagerly. She did an outstanding job with this new teaching concept.

Dana was voted as Teacher of the Year for 2014-15 by her fellow co-workers, which is a statement of how dedicated she is to her craft and how revered she is by her peers. According to her Team Teaching partner, "Mrs. Klement is a positive, motivating, enthusiastic educator who is an invaluable asset to this District."

Toxic free tips to keep kids safe from lawn maintenance

As the summer sun turns up the heat, many folks will be tending to their lawns and gardens to make sure they are the greenest on the block and pest-free. However, many are unaware of the potentially harmful toxins that may be lurking in products that are commonly applied to lawns and gardens.

As part of its Toxic Free Kids initiative, the Children's Cancer Recovery Foundation (CCRF) urges parents to become familiar with the possible dangers associated with common summertime activities, such as playing on the lawn or in the garden.

According to the United States Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), pesticides have been linked to causing a wide range of human health hazards such as cancer, reproductive harm, and damage to endocrine systems. Less seriously, pesticides have been linked to acute dangers such as nerve, skin, and eye irritation and damage, headaches, dizziness, nausea, fatigue, and systemic poisoning.

The U.S. EPA also notes that children are especially susceptible to the dangers of pesticide use. Activities such as playing in the grass expose children to potentially dangerous chemicals in some cases.

To help avoid these risks, CCRF offers the following lawn and garden maintenance tips:

Organic Fertilizers and Pesticides: Most stores that carry gardening products now carry organic fertilizers and pesticides. Although they come at a higher cost, these organic products do not contain the harsh chemicals used in traditional products, making it safer to use on your property.

Make Your Own Pesticide: Making your own natural pesticides with common household items is not only good for your garden, but also your wallet. By using 1 1/2 tablespoons of biodegradable liquid soap, a quart of water, and a couple of drops of lemon or orange juice, you have a natural pesticide that lasts approximately two months.

Make Your Garden Stronger: Did you know that by not maintaining your garden properly, you can attract more insects? Insects love to breed in dying plants as well as debris and weeds. By clearing out dead plants and other debris, you can significantly reduce the possibility of insect infestations.

Get The Kids in on The Fun: Instead of buying expensive and harmful weed killers, make a game in which your kids collect weeds from the ground. By showing them what a weed looks like, hold a competition to see who can grab the most. This is healthier for your lawn and encourages your children to be active outdoors.

It is imperative to maintain portions of the wilderness untouched so that a tree will rot where it falls, a waterfall will pour its curve without generating electricity, a trumpeter swan may float on uncontaminated water - and moderns may at least see what their ancestors knew in their nerves and blood.

MISD announces Teachers of the Year from 2013-14

"Due to unforeseen circumstances, last year's information regarding Teachers of the Year for Muenster ISD never made it in the paper. We want to correct this error," reported MISD Elementary Principal Lou Heers.

On June 4, 2014, during the end-of-year faculty and staff breakfast, campus principals announced their "2013-14 Teacher of the Year." Cheryl Presnall received the award for Elementary Teacher of the Year and Martha Koesler received the High School Teacher of the Year award.

Cheryl Presnall is a 1988 graduate of West Texas State University. Before moving to Muenster in 2000, Cheryl taught 11 years in Claude, TX. She has currently finished her 15th year as 4th grade teacher at Muenster Elementary. She and Deb Klement have taught together er the past 15 years and are quite the "dynamic duo!" Some words from her peers that describe Cheryl include, "an outstanding teacher, engages student learning through the use of technology, has high expectations for her students, and makes learning fun." Lou Heers, elementary principal, states, "Cheryl is respected by her students and her peers. She genuinely cares for her students and desires to see them all succeed! Her dedication to the teaching profession is greatly appreciated."

Cheryl and Jeff Presnall have two sons, Shane and Landon. Shane graduated in May from Boston College with a degree in Political Science. Landon will be starting his senior year this fall studying Biology.

Former Pre-AP and AP English teacher Martha Koesler has left her mark on Muenster High School as she retired last year with the honor of High School Teacher of the Year.

Koesler began teaching at Muenster High School in 1975 and taught for a total of 39 years. She says she most enjoyed teaching Pre-AP and AP English classes because students have a very practical application for their futures.

"Students learned to gradually take more control of their learning by paying attention to details which produced confidence and pride," Martha stated.

Most AP students take the AP English test in May, and they spent the majority of their junior year in Koesler's class preparing for this exam. A qualifying score on AP exams means college credit.

"Since most AP students usually get more than one college degree, the time and money saved gave them extra advantages," Martha said.

Koesler says that she will most miss talking to students about their futures, and she loved to hear what careers interested them.

"We talked a lot about which schools were good for what they wanted to do and useful strategies to get ready for those schools," Msrtha said. "Sometimes, former students came back to visit, and hearing about their successes was the best part of my job."

While Martha enjoyed helping students prepare for the future, she is also very excited for retirement.

"Retirement is awesome," Martha remarked "I most enjoy having more time to spend with my family, which now includes a new grandson."

Koesler's dedication to teaching, to the students of Muenster High School, and to her peers will be greatly missed. She positively impacted the lives of many!

"I am only content when I'm praying for sinners. The good God has made me see how much He loves that I pray for poor sinners. ... I don't know if it were really a voice I heard or a dream, but, whatever it was, it woke me up and told me that to save a soul in the state of sin is more pleasing to God than all sacrifices. For that reason, I do all my resolutions for penance."

Muenster wins Showcase

The 2015 Red River Showcase last weekend ended Sunday with one of the most exciting finishes in the varsity girls basketball team camp's four-year history.

Katie Pagel hit the game-winning shot in the final 10 seconds to give the Muenster Lady Hornets a 27-26 win over the Era Lady Hornets in the championship game.

Era and Muenster both won their pools with undefeated records to advance to the championship game, which was a back-and-forth affair throughout.

Sixteen teams and more than 200 players participated in this year's team camp, which allows high school teams to play eight games over three days. Games were two 20-minute halves with a running clock.

Muenster won Pool A with a 7-0 record. On Friday, the Lady Hornets defeated Denison 46-25, Tioga 62-8, and Gainesville 37-25. Saturday's victories were over Callisburg 49-3, Anna 45-22, and Alvord 36-16 and Sunday over Ponder 52-24 and Era. The Gainesville Lady Leopards went 6-1 to finish second in the pool. Alvord was third, Ponder was fourth, Anna was fifth, Callisburg was sixth, and Tioga was seventh. Denison went 3-3 in pool play but did not participate Sunday.

In Pool B, Era was 7-0 to finish first. Van Alstyne went 6-1 to take the second spot, Quinlan Ford was third, Nocona was fourth, Valley View was fifth, Lindsay was sixth, and Muenster JV was seventh. Pilot Point did not participate on Sunday.

The JV Lady Hornets finished 6-1 defeating Pilot Point 28-19, but coming up short against the varsity teams of Valley View 32-12, Lindsay 30-23, Van Alstyne 39-23, Era 32-12, Nocona 38-25, and Quinlan Ford 48-10.

LOST LOGOS

Hodaka was a joint Japanese and American company that manufactured motorcycles from 1964 through 1978. Close to 150,000 motorcycles were produced within that time. The name Hodaka comes from a mountain near the factory and means "to grow taller." Hodaka is credited by some with starting the trail bike craze in the United States.

Ten things you can do to help birds during summer months

The Birding Wire

As July begins, billions of birds in North America are carrying out a host of activities related to raising their young and preparing for migration - and there are many simple things the nation's 45 million birdwatchers can do to help our birds in those life-sustaining tasks.

According to American Bird Conservancy (ABC) President George Fenwick, "The next three months are critical. Some studies suggest that perhaps as many as half of all migrating birds do not make it back home, succumbing to various threats along the way. Our birds need all the help they can get."

Fenwick added: "Simple instinct is not always enough to keep the birds alive given the enormous tracts of habitat that have become suburban sprawl; the draining of waterways; the loss of biomass to pesticides; air and water contamination; and other threats such as wind turbines."

Here are American Bird Conservancy's recommended top 10 things concerned individuals can do to help birds breed successfully and prepare for fall migration.

1. Leave baby birds alone. If you find a baby bird out of its nest, don't pick it up or bring it indoors. Although people mean well by "rescuing" the baby birds they find, in almost all cases, the parents are nearby and know best how to care for their young. An exception is injured birds, which can be taken to a local wildlife rehabilitator for treatment.

2. Ensure dogs and cats stay away from young birds. Free-roaming cats kill billions of birds every year, taking an especially high toll on fledglings. Loose dogs also have an impact on nesting birds; for example, roaming dogs are suspected of recently wiping out a colony of threatened Least Terns in Florida. Keep your pets contained, and be especially cautious near beach-nesting birds.

3. Keep things fresh. Your birdbath or other water feature should be cleaned regularly and kept filled with fresh water. Hummingbird feeders also need special attention, as hummingbirds will be switching back from an insect-rich diet to nectar in preparation for flights south in the fall. Be sure to thoroughly clean hummingbird feeders and replace the sugar water before it ferments - usually within three to seven days depending on the heat and sun.

4. Maintain your land in a bird-friendly fashion. Consider letting some of your yard or other property go "wild" or garden with native plants. Even small wild areas act as sources of food and shelter for birds through the summer. Avoid or minimize tree trimming to prevent disturbance to nesting birds. Where possible, avoid mowing grass in large fields and roadsides until after July to enable ground-nesting grassland birds to safely fledge.

5. Be a good landlord. If you're lucky enough to have swallows or phoebes nesting on your porch or carport, keep the nest intact. The birds will be gone soon enough, and in the meantime, they will help you out by eating hundreds of insects each day. If you have active nest boxes, clean them out after the young have fledged. Old nesting material attracts parasites and can be a source of disease.

6. Don't spray: Stay away from pesticides. Reconsider using pesticides, since even products labeled as "safe" will likely have negative consequences on birds. For example, many home and garden products include neonicotinoids, or "neonics," which have been found to be deadly to both bees and birds in even minute amounts.

7. Celebrate good times ... without balloons. When weddings, graduations, and other parties are on your list of to-do's, put balloons on your list of don'ts. Birds can become entangled in the long ribbons; individuals have been found hanging from trees or asphyxiated. Birds may also ingest the deflated balloon itself, which can eventually block the digestive tract and cause the animal to starve.

8. Turn the outdoor lights out. Review your outdoor lighting for unnecessary disturbance to night-flying birds (as well as wasted energy). Bright artificial lights can disorient migrating birds and make collisions with windows, buildings, and other structures more likely. Consider putting steady burning lights on motion sensors. Or, if your outdoor lighting needs permit, consider blue and green LED lights as they are less distracting to night-migrating birds.

9. Be a bird-friendly boater. If you're boating, avoid disrupting birds. Boats operated in proximity to nesting birds can cause behavioral changes, even leading to nest abandonment and failure in some cases. If you notice congregations of birds, steer clear to enable them to spend their energy on gathering food and raising their young.

10. Gone fishing? Remember the birds. Discard fishing line properly in trash receptacles, since entanglement in line is a common and preventable source of bird mortality. If you accidentally hook a bird, don't cut the fishing line. Instead, net the bird, cut the barb off the hook, and push it backward to remove. Just as important, be sure to use only nonlead fishing gear. Scores of birds suffer mortal poisoning from ingesting lead weights in fishing gear.

AgriLife on fire ants: Treatment depends on mound location, situation

The recent rains have brought fire ants closer to the surface, both literally and as a matter of concern for property owners.

"Rain doesn't necessarily make fire ants more abundant," said Molly Keck, AgriLife Extension entomologist and integrated pest management program specialist for Bexar County. "They were always there; they just weren't as noticeable. When it rains, the ground becomes saturated and the fire ants move their colonies higher, giving some people the impression there are more of them than there were during dry months."

Keck said unless homeowners have been treating regularly, it's a safe assumption they already have or will be getting at least one fire ant mound in their yard.

"I have found mounds when weeding my garden, in my vegetable beds, along the sidewalk, next to my newly planted fig tree, and in the middle of the yard," Keck said. "They are huge, ugly, and look fairly ominous."

Keck said there are many options for fire ant control, but the best option for control often depends on the location of the mound. She said some of the most common situations, along with her suggestions for control, are:

— Fire ants in vegetable gardens: There are limited options for control here, so if you are treating with a pesticide, be very careful to read the label to make sure what you are using is safe for use around vegetables. Boiling water and oils will work, but depending on how close that mound is to the plants, you may kill some vegetable roots. "I suggest products containing spinosad as either a drench or bait, as it is labeled for use in vegetable gardens," Keck said.

— Fire ants without visible mounds: Keck said baits are definitely the way to go here. If you can't see the mound, you can't drench it properly. Ants take baits back into the nest and feed them to the other ants, including the queen. Baits may take up to two weeks to work, so be patient.

— Fire ants in yards: Treat individual mounds and follow up a couple of days later with a broadcast bait. You will eliminate or at least reduce the size of the mounds you treat individually, and the bait will help keep the populations down and knock out the mounds that you didn't see.

— Immediate treatment: If you're having a party or outside gathering in a few days, or need to treat quickly for some other reason, Keck suggested using broadcast granules or individual mound treatments or both. If the ant population is really dense, treat individual mounds with a liquid drench or a dust labeled for fire ants. Then use a broadcast granule treatment to provide a barrier to prevent new mounds from popping up, as well as to treat any unseen mounds.

— Long-term fire ant management: If you want to avoid "emergency" fire ant treatments, it's best to have a treatment regimen and to use baits as the preferred method. If your fire ant populations are fairly low to begin with, you can treat every six months. Treatments in the fall may result in no ants in the spring, in which case you can eventually drop back to once every 12 months. If the mounds are large and fire ant populations are dense, you may need to treat once, then again in six to eight weeks. Then you can return to an every-six-months routine.

As with all pesticide use, she said, read the label first, apply only what is recommended, and wear protective clothing during application.

"Overall, I think the most effective and lasting results come from the use of fire ant baits," she said. "Baits are food to the ants, so they are attracted to it and take it back to the mound and share it with the others. This means putting less pesticide into the environment while getting better long-term results."

Wet spring provides opportunity

Texas A&M AgriLife Research scientists learn something new every year. This year, they turned their attention from drought to wheat rust.

Dr. Jackie Rudd, an AgriLife Research wheat breeder in Amarillo, said the recent increase in moisture has allowed them to gain information on leaf rust, stripe rust, and stem rust in wheat. The environmental differences from College Station all the way north to Amarillo provide more diversity than throughout the rest of the Great Plains region, he said.

"This year, we've learned a lot, continue to learn a lot, about how our varieties respond to rust," Rudd said. "We almost always have rust somewhere in Texas, but this year there's not a field in Texas that I've experienced that has not been affected by at least one of these."

Many producers sprayed for the fungus or were growing a resistant variety, Rudd said. It's good for the breeding program, because they can see the rusts under field conditions.

"That's what has been a major value this year to the breeding program, seeing the varieties that have showed high resistance to stripe rust, such as TAM 114 here in the High Plains," Rudd said. "It remained green with leaves in many cases when varieties such as TAM 112, which we know is very susceptible to stripe rust, had leaves drying up and will certainly have a reduced yield."

Watch for new invasive bug: The bagrada bug

South Texas farmers are seeing yet another invasive pest, the bagrada bug, which can cause major crop damage, according to Texas A&M AgriLife Research and Extension Center at Weslaco in AgriLife Today.

The pest comes to South Texas from Mexico and is a native of Africa. It was first reported in the U.S. in California in 2008, then to El Paso, and from there it moved to Mexico.

Bagrada bugs feed on leaves and fruit of most brassicas—cabbage, broccoli, radishes, Brussels sprouts, kale, and others. Also, it feeds on tomatoes, figs, peppers, and nursery plants. The pest doesn't seem to be a threat to either sorghum or corn.

The insect is probably a cousin to a stink bug, the *Note: Quarterly change represents prices from Q1 2015 to Q2 2015.

Quarterly food basket increases to $47.63, according to TFB's Grocery Price Watch

Protein packs a punch in more ways than one. It's where consumers are seeing an increase in second quarter grocery prices, according to the latest Texas Farm Bureau (TFB) Grocery Price Watch survey. The total cost of the 16-item grocery bill rose about 2% to $47.63, up from $46.66 last quarter.

"Beef and poultry are a significant part of consumers' grocery bills—on the plate and at the cash register," TFB President Russell Boening said. "Cattle herds are still rebuilding after several years of drought, and poultry supplies are tight due to losses caused by avian flu."

The survey showed prices for beef sirloin rising to $7.15 per pound from $5.92 last quarter and lean ground beef rising to $4.59 per pound from $3.95. But recent rainfall and green pastures are driving beef expansion, which should eventually ease the price pressure on beef prices at the meat counter.

Boneless chicken breasts increased to $3.61 per pound, as compared to $3.19 in the first quarter of 2015. Sliced turkey also increased slightly, up to $4.86 from $4.36 last quarter.

"Price volatility is to be expected for poultry products, because of the impacts of avian flu in the Midwest," Boening said. "Texas poultry farmers, however, are taking extreme precautions to prevent an outbreak in the Lone Star State."

Grapefruit increased in the second quarter, rising to 90 cents per pound. The 13-cent increase is due in large part to the end of production season. A new crop of citrus will begin harvest in October.

Of the 16 items surveyed, eight items decreased in price from last quarter: fresh tomatoes, bread, corn flakes, long grain rice, dried pinto beans, vanilla cake mix, milk, and ice cream.

"Food budgets are of high importance to Texas consumers," Boening said. "Although prices rose again this quarter, farmers and ranchers only see a fraction of the higher prices."

The TFB Grocery Price Watch is conducted quarterly by volunteer shoppers at grocery stores across the state of Texas. The current survey data was collected by 40 shoppers from June 4-11. TFB has monitored Texas food prices through its Grocery Price Watch survey since March 2009.

harlequin, but it's smaller and less colorful. It is capable of flying and moves quickly. Farmers often notice the bugs too late after the damage to crops is done. It either totally destroys a plant or leaves it too damaged to produce a crop.

"The question is, how far it will spread from here?" said Dr. Raul Villanueva, AgriLife Extension entomologist. "That it was able to make its way out of El Paso, where we thought it was geographically isolated, tells us that it could quickly make its way to the Gulf Coast states and the Eastern U.S."

NOTICE OF RECEIPT OF APPLICATION AND INTENT TO OBTAIN AIR PERMIT RENEWAL

PERMIT NUMBER 6565

APPLICATION Muenster Milling Company, Inc. has applied to the Texas Commission on Environmental Quality (TCEQ) for renewal of Air Quality Permit Number 6565, which would authorize continued operation of a grain elevator located at 201 South Main Street, Muenster, Cooke County, Texas 76252. This link to an electronic map of the site or facility's general location is provided as a public courtesy and not part of the application or notice. For exact location, refer to application.

<http://www.tceq.texas.gov/assets/public/hb610/index.html?lat=33.646111&lng=-97.3775&zoom=13&type=r>.

The existing facility and/or related facilities are authorized to emit the following air contaminants: particulate matter including particulate matter with diameters of 10 microns or less and 2.5 microns or less.

This application was submitted to the TCEQ on June 8, 2015. The application will be available for viewing and copying at the TCEQ central office, TCEQ Dallas/Fort Worth regional office, and the Muenster City Hall, 400 North Main Street, Muenster, Cooke County, Texas, beginning the first day of publication of this notice. The facility's compliance file, if any exists, is available for public review in the Dallas/Fort Worth regional office of the TCEQ.

The executive director has determined the application is administratively complete and will conduct a technical review of the application. In addition to the renewal, this permitting action includes the incorporation of the following authorizations or changes to authorized facilities related to this permit: alterations, permits by rule, and changes in emission factors. The reasons for any changes or incorporations, to the extent they are included in the renewed permit, may include the enhancement of operational control at the plant or enforceability of the permit. For more information about this permit application or the permitting process, please call the Public Education Program toll free at 1-800-687-4040. The TCEQ may act on this application without seeking further public comment or providing an opportunity for a contested case hearing if certain criteria are met.

PUBLIC COMMENT You may submit public comments, or a request for a contested case hearing to the Office of the Chief Clerk at the address below. The TCEQ will consider all public comments in developing a final decision on the application. The deadline to submit public comments is 15 days after newspaper notice is published. After the deadline for public comments, the executive director will prepare a response to all relevant and material, or significant public comments. Issues such as property values, noise, traffic safety, and zoning are outside of the TCEQ's jurisdiction to address in the permit process.

After the technical review is complete the executive director will consider the comments and prepare a response to all relevant and material, or significant public comments. If only comments are received, the response to comments, along with the executive director's decision on the application, will then be mailed to everyone who submitted public comments or who is on the mailing list for this application, unless the application is directly referred to a contested case hearing.

OPPORTUNITY FOR A CONTESTED CASE HEARING You may request a contested case hearing. The applicant or the executive director may also request that the application be directly referred to a contested case hearing after technical review of the application. A contested case hearing is a legal proceeding similar to a civil trial in state district court. Unless a written request for a contested case hearing is filed within 15 days from this notice, the executive director may act on the application. If no hearing request is received within this 15 day period, no further opportunity for hearing will be provided. According to the Texas Clean Air Act § 382.056(o) a contested case hearing may only be granted if the applicant's compliance history is in the lowest classification under applicable compliance history requirements and if the hearing request is based on disputed issues of fact that are relevant and material to the Commission's decision on the application. Further, the Commission may only grant a hearing on those issues raised during the public comment period and not withdrawn.

A person who may be affected by emissions of air contaminants from the facility is entitled to request a hearing. If requesting a contested case hearing, you must submit the following: (1) your name (or for a group or association, an official representative), mailing address, daytime phone number, and fax number, if any; (2) applicant's name and permit number; (3) the statement "[I/we] request a contested case hearing;" (4) a specific description of how you would be adversely affected by the application and air emissions from the facility in a way not common to the general public; (5) the location and distance of your property relative to the facility; and (6) a description of how you use the property which may be impacted by the facility. If the request is made by a group or association, the one or more members who have standing to request a hearing and the interests the group or association seeks to protect must also be identified. You may also submit your proposed adjustments to the application/permit which would satisfy your concerns. Requests for a contested case hearing must be submitted in writing within 15 days following this notice to the Office of the Chief Clerk at the address below.

If any requests for a contested case hearing are timely filed, the executive director will forward the application and any requests for a contested case hearing to the Commissioners for their consideration at a scheduled Commission meeting. Unless the application is directly referred to a contested case hearing, the executive director will mail the response to comments along with notification of Commission meeting to everyone who submitted comments or is on the mailing list for this application. If a hearing is granted, the subject of a hearing will be limited to disputed issues of fact relating to relevant and material air quality concerns raised during the comment period. Issues such as property values, noise, traffic safety, and zoning are outside of the Commission's jurisdiction to address in this proceeding.

MAILING LIST In addition to submitting public comments, you may ask to be placed on a mailing list for this application by sending a request to the Office of the Chief Clerk at the address below. Those on the mailing list will receive copies of future public notices (if any) mailed by the Office of the Chief Clerk for this application.

AGENCY CONTACTS AND INFORMATION Public comments and requests must be submitted either electronically at www.tceq.texas.gov/about/comments.html, or in writing to the Texas Commission on Environmental Quality, Office of the Chief Clerk, MC-105, P.O. Box 13087, Austin, Texas 78711-3087. If you communicate with the TCEQ electronically, please be aware that your email address, like your physical mailing address, will become part of the agency's public record. For more information about this permit application or the permitting process, please call the Public Education Program toll free at 1-800-687-4040.
