

BROWNWOOD, TEXAS, THURSDAY, AUGUST 22, 1929

BROWNWOOD MANUFACTURERS HAVE ATTRACTIVE EXHIBITS

A new kind of exhibition and display at the Brown County Fair this year is a special department of the main building devoted to space used by various members of the Brownwood Manufacturers' Association. This association is a newly organized Brownwood association made up of representatives of all the Brownwood manufacturers.

Dr. Pepper display, in a booth taken by the Dr. Pepper Bottling Works here, contains samples of Dr. Pepper's fruit punch and grape juice. The booth is decorated in red and white colors and is one of the outstanding booths in this department.

The Leach Seed Grader Company for the past year has manufactured graders in their plant here, have on display one of their small model seed graders.

PORT ARTHUR GETTING READY FOR BIG STATE AMERICAN LEGION MEET

AUSTIN, Texas, August 22.—"The Annual State Convention of the American Legion to be held this year in Port Arthur, August 26 to 28 bids fair to be the best attended and most interesting of any yet held in Texas," said Ross R. Cole, State Adjutant of the Legion who has just returned from Port Arthur after a final check-up of Convention plans and entertainments.

"The city of Port Arthur is making elaborate plans to entertain the World War Veterans," said Mr. Cole. Two magnificent new hotels have just been completed, which guarantee comfortable housing. The U. S. Cruiser, Cleveland, will be one of the attractions. Fish fries, motor boat races, dances, special free attractions at the theatres and many other entertainments have been provided which will keep the veterans busy day and night.

The annual parade will be held this year at 6:00 p. m. on Tuesday, August 27, and with the personnel of the Cruiser Cleveland and the numerous bands and Drum Corps attending, together with thousands of Veterans and Ladies of the Auxiliary it promises to be a colorful and interesting affair.

One of the outstanding entertainment features of the Convention will be "The Battle of the Argonne," a gigantic sham battle and pyrotechnic display with a cast of over three hundred people and costing $3,000.00 to present, following the parade Tuesday.

"Our Legionnaire Governor Dan Moody and many other distinguished guests have already accepted the invitation to address the Veterans," said Mr. Cole. "Early reservations indicate a record crowd of veterans are taking advantage of the rate of one fare for the round trip," said Cole.

Legion members and their families and members of the Auxiliary can secure reduced fare certificates from their local Legion Adjutant and must have these to get the reduced rates.

BIGGER, BETTER LIVESTOCK AND POULTRY SHOWS

"Bigger and Better than Ever Before," is the expression common among visitors at the Brown County Fair as they view the livestock and poultry exhibits at the 1929 Fair. With about 100 head of cattle, a large number of sheep and goats, as well as the numerous pens of poultry, there is little wonder that fair visitors are pleased with this part of the fair. These exhibits are housed in three separate buildings, thus affording ample room for visitors to closely inspect each animal shown.

In the livestock building visitors will find a beautiful herd of Hereford owned and exhibited by J. C. Dibrell and Sons of Coleman. This herd includes about 10 head of registered stock. Across the aisle from the Debreil herd, is seen a large number of registered Durhams, all dressed up for showing. These are owned by various exhibitors from this section of the state.

Among the dairy cattle exhibits visitors will find two attractive herds entered by Dublin exhibitors, each with about 15 head of registered Jerseys. Leonard Hancock & Sons, of Dublin, have a nice herd, all offspring of Voltaire's Rose Bay Lad, herd sire.

E. C. & H. B. Kay, who for several years have exhibited their products at the Brown County Fair, have a nice exhibit, all featuring the Get of Sultan's Noble Fox, a champion sire. Sheldon Butlers of Brownwood and R. O. Sheffield also have nice herds of Jerseys on exhibit.

In the building set aside for goats and sheep, visitors find several most attractive animals. J. E. Sewell, of Kemper, Texas, has a fine flock of goats and many other distinguished exhibitors will find many ribbons that have been won throughout the state by the various animals. J. H. Luckie, of Cherokee, Texas, also has a most attractive lot of goats. He too has many ribbons that have been won at other exhibitions.

Attractive Sheep

Dr. R. L. Coble, of Dublin, has several attractive pens of Delaine, Merino and Rambouillet sheep and C. A. Lindsay, of Brownwood, has two pens of milk goats on exhibit. Poultry exhibits include many pens of chickens, turkeys, etc., all high class birds. Most of these are being exhibited by Brownwood and Brown county poultry farms.

To have visited the fair and not have seen the livestock, and poultry exhibits is like leaving before the dessert is served.

MAY WINNER OF FIRST PLACE ON AGRICULTURAL EXHIBITS AT FAIR OFFICERS OF FARMERS ASSOCIATION TO BE CARRIED ANOTHER YEAR

May community won first in agricultural exhibits at the Brown County Fair this season with a total of 899 points as against 875 of Woodland Heights which won second place.

May will receive $100 award for this score; Woodland Heights $75; Zephyr, which made third place with a score of 866, will receive $50; and Blanket, with 854 points, will receive $25.

Four other communities made score all above 800, while Angel, which got in late, was not scored this season.

G. G. Goss of Angel, in charge of the exhibit of that community, had trouble with his transportation, and as a result got into the fair and put up his exhibit too late for judging.

Angel however has a fine display and this booth, on the south side of the building, on the left as one enters, creates considerable attention with its showings principally of grains.

T. B. Wood, district farm agent and representative of the extension service department of A. & M. College, arrived in Brownwood Tuesday to judge these exhibits.

Miss Helen F. Swift, district home demonstration agent is scoring the exhibits of women's work at the fair.

Officials of the fair consider the agricultural exhibits this season among the best ever shown here, even in the face of the long drought, and all classes mentioned on the score card are shown in abundance with other things being shown not mentioned.

PLAN FOR FINE RACE PROGRAM 3RD DAY FAIR

Brownwood Day at the 1929 Brown County Fair promises to afford horse race fans in this section of the state a rare treat in the way of racing. Friday's racing program reveals. The day will close with a one mile run, the Brownwood Derby, and although only four horses have been entered in this feature race, those entering are easily the outstanding horses participating in this week's program.

Runmore, owned by D. Gray; Pat Cleburn, owned by J. A. Eldson; Winnie May, owned by C. A. Pennell, and Wilmer the Wizard, owned by F. C. Griggs, are the horses entered in this race and will battle for the $250 purse offered. This race will start and end in front of the grandstand, the horses making one complete circuit of the mile track.

The day's program opens with a 3-1-2 furlong race, in which eleven horses have been entered. The purse is $100. The second race is a five eighths mile heat with a purse of $135.00 and there are five entries.

Another feature of the third day's racing program is the 3-4 mile race for saddle ponies with women riders. Seven horses have entered this race, the list including Bigan, winner of the woman's race on opening day. Another very interesting race will be the three quarter mile affair for a purse of $50. Nine horses, all good ones, have been entered in this race.

FAIR GETS UNDERWAY WITH FORMAL OPENING AT NOON WEDNESDAY

Fine weather, good morning crowds and much last minute preparations on the day of the opening gave promise of an unusually successful Brown County Fair this season.

Cars by the hundreds raced back and forth from the city all Wednesday morning with load and more loads of exhibits and decorations making a try for a record of everything in place by the time of the formal opening at noon.

Opening Address.

"If you are here with a grog, get off the grounds and let those who came to enjoy this fair have plenty of room," said Judge E. M. Davis in the opening address in the grandstand at noon, where a large crowd gathered to witness the formal opening of the 1929 Brown County Fair.

The judge's address was brief and to the point, and praised the county farmers for their industry in aiding to make this fair one of the best in the state. He was introduced by J. J. Timmins, a member of the board of directors of the fair association. The Colts Band, led by Merle Baker, played a concert during these exercises.

Practically all space in all of the allotted space for exhibits, fun making appliances, concessions and animals was taken up early in the day and there is hardly room on one section of the grounds left for a car to turn around in.

C. A. Johnson, in charge of the sale of tickets, with his twenty-six men under him, was busy assigning them their posts. He reported by noon that a greater number of admissions at twenty-five cents had been sold for the morning of the opening day than was expected.

Cars having business on the ground are routed in this activity, being sent to a point about a block from where the people go in.

Good Parking Space

The twelve acre field opposite the main entrance is open free for the parking of all cars and men on hand to assist in this activity. There are two entrances to this field, one of them about two blocks nearer town than the main entrance.

All exhibits were completely up by noon and the giving away of souvenirs and taking of names, as is usual in such places, began early.

The Colts band started a concert at 1:30 p. m. in the grandstand and played through the races which began promptly at 2:00 p. m. The Lewis Players Revue gave a number of acts between races also.

The grandstand was filled at the opening of the races when some of the best horse flesh in Texas opened the fair with a number of fast runs.

Racing Tournament

The midway with its many concessions and entertainments, Friday night Aug. 23, the Austin Avenue Presbyterian Church, at 8:15. These children, from the 125 in the Home, are making a State Tour with several adults of the Dallas Home.

Friday afternoon the children will take a free swim in Lakewood Swimming Pool, the swim being furnished through the courtesy of Lakewood officials. The children will be entertained in several Brownwood homes during their stay in the city.

Wright was killed instantly by a bullet through his chest after he had been felled by a blow on the head from a heavy iron instrument. Smith was stunned by two blows over the head from the instrument. Both were plain clothes men.

The games attracted boys, who, under the legion rules, must be under 17 years of age. "Every state and the District of Columbia is represented in the legion program, and the thousands of boys are well and evenly distributed according to population."

"The atmosphere pressure on the body of the average man is 32,400 pounds,

Judging Textiles Under Way Today

With about six thousand people on the grounds for the entire day Wednesday the Brown County Fair opened the 1929 season with the biggest crowd on opening day in the history of the organization, officials of the association state.

The paid admissions came to 2,684, over a fourth greater in number than any previous first day. In addition to these the many people connected with the exhibits, concessions and the races, made up a big total.

All during the day and evening the two exhibit buildings and the other exhibits swarmed with sightseers, all having a look at the greatest aggregation of agricultural products this county has known.

The grandstand was packed with humanity at the opening of the races in the afternoon, and they all stayed until the event following the races was completed at 5:30 p. m.

The Hames Carnival shows, rides and all concessions were well patronized from when most of them opened in the afternoon until about midnight.

Possibly more interest was shown in the races than any one thing, the five being held Wednesday getting nearly the entire crowd at the fair from 2 p. m. on. With the grandstand filling up early Thursday afternoon the crowd will probably be greater than on the opening day.

Free Water Booth

All places where cold drinks are sold received much trade Wednesday and the free water booth was patronized from early to late. This is a huge tank conveniently placed and furnished the fair patrons through the courtesy of Mills, McHorse and Peck plumbing concern, and the ice through the kindness of the Weakley-Watson Hardware company.

The Colts Band is playing two concerts daily in the grandstand with Merle Baker leading. The boys are all togged out in their new uniforms of black caps with white bands, black shirts and ties and black trousers with white stripes down the sides. They play through the tournament races in the morning and through the regular races during the entire afternoon.

Between the races in the afternoon the Happy Ray Revue, with twenty actors give vaudeville numbers and each night at 8 p. m. they put on an hour and a half program of snappy vaudeville numbers of singing and dancing, with some good comedy numbers interspersed. Happy Ray Lewis himself is accounted one of the best comedians which have come to Brownwood in a long time. This company changes its program each night.

Crowds Watch Judging

All morning, in addition to the tournament races, the crowd watches the judging in the various departments of the fair. Usually when a judge is busy he is surrounded by the persons who are competing and a swarm of the curious.

They all report a higher grade of exhibits and more of them this year in all departments.

While but a few concessions are open in the morning there is found a few which are ever busy. Among them is the man who takes tinsy-tinsy. He seems to get business at any time of day, but quits work at night.

Then there are several of the eating concessions from which savory orders and the smell of wood from barbecue, the tempter of the hungry human. Of all the games of skill on the grounds possibly the one which keeps open the longest, opening earlier than the others, is the one where hoops are thrown over pegs. "You get what you ring." Drink importations are ever open.

Lake Charles Men Buy Texas Town

ORANGE, Texas, Aug. 22.—(P)—The entire town of Texas, 14 miles north of Orange, and in Orange county, has been purchased by H. H. Abraham and George Kay, of Lake Charles.

The town, which served several hundred employes of the Peavy-Moore Lumber company, consists of about 140 residences and a negro church.

The town has been practically deserted since the mill ceased to operate, though a few scattered families continued to live there. They are allowed to remain, rent free, for the protection they afford the property.

The houses will be hauled on motor trucks to sections where houses are in demand. This is the sixth sawmill town bought by Abraham and resold.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Aug. 22.—(P)—Reception tests conducted in Mammoth cave showed that broadcast signals from WHAS, WLW and WSM could be heard at some places in the cave and not in others, apparently depending on the thickness of the roof. A six-tube superheterodyne was used in the tests.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 22.—(P)—Belief that the radio industry "is in its most optimistic period since the first home made set was constructed years ago" was expressed by J. M. Skinner, general manager of a large local radio factory.

RUPTURE EXPERT HERE

C. F. Redlich, Minneapolis, Minn., nationally famous Rupture Appliance Expert, will demonstrate without charge his unequalled method at the Southern Hotel, Brownwood, Saturday, August 24th, from 10 A. M. to 4 P. M.

Mr. C. F. Redlich says: "The 'Perfect Retention Shields' hold the rupture perfectly, no matter what position the body assumes or how heavy a weight you lift. They give instant relief and contract the opening in a remarkably short time. The secret of their success is in their simplicity. An expertly adjusted device seals the opening without discomfort or retention from work. It is practically everlasting, sanitary, comfortable and actually holds ruptures which heretofore were considered uncontrollable."

"IF YOU WANT TO HAVE IT DONE RIGHT—SEE REDLICH." Doctor J. W. Weaver, for many years in charge of the Physical Education of the students of Yale College, has recorded 75% cures with this system. COMMUNITY EXHIBITS SHOW MUCH PROMISE THIS YEAR

Men and women of eight well defined communities in Brown County have been working for several weeks making preparations for one of the best farm exhibits ever seen at the county fair.

All grains, fruits and vegetables were carefully watched as gathered and the best on each farm was kept, with the result that at the recent community fairs only the top notch agricultural products appeared and were judged.

From these community fairs the best in each line was chosen to represent each community at the county fair, and as a result there is seen in each of the nine booths in the agricultural building an array of the best Brown county affords in agricultural products.

These include all on the score card and more besides. Each of the communities making an exhibit will receive $15. The one scoring high will receive $100; second, $75; third $50, and fourth, $25.

The corn and grain sorghum exhibits consist of corn, ten exhibits of ten ears each, or ten exhibits of ten heads each of grain sorghums.

Cotton and wheat are shown, the cotton in open bolls and the wheat in bundles and in gallon samples of the grain.

Oats and barley are also shown in bundles and the grain in gallon samples.

Alfalfa, sweet clover, soy beans, velvet beans and mung beans are exhibited in bundles.

Peasants and cowpeas are shown on the vine and in gallon samples. Annual forage crops are in bundles. The fruits include everything native or cultivated in the county, but are mostly apples, pears and peaches.

In the vegetable class are found a big variety, potatoes, tomatoes, and melons predominating.

These community exhibits also include eggs and honey, the latter both in the comb and strained.

The booths are attractively decorated, each one being almost as large as the county exhibits at the State Fair of Texas at Dallas. The backgrounds are very neat with designs and printing done in grains or cotton seed. Some of the booths use a hedge of standing grain tacked along the fence.

On the right side of the building as one enters, the north, the first community booth encountered is that of Woodland Heights with Mrs. C. A. Cavel and son, Vernon in charge. A legend, made of small grains, "Down on the Farm" is attractively spread across the background.

Death in Plunge from Sixth Story Another Mystery SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 22.—(AP)—The breath of mystery which has haunted the paths of actors in the racy French farce "Easy for Zee Zee" since its opening in a theatre of the Latin quarter here a year ago drew the attention of police today as they investigated the death plunge of Robert Chapman, 28, leading man in the comedy.

Chapman, son of a prominent Piedmont, Calif., attorney, either jumped fell or was thrown to his death from the sixth story window of the apartment of his friend, Allen Hoffman, playwright and author, early yesterday. Displaying a bruised face and other marks of violence, Hoffman told police Chapman had been just returned from a party in the home of another member of the cast. The doorbell rang and Hoffman found two strange men at the door. Hoffman said he told them he had no liquor whereupon they beat him into unconsciousness. When he came to his senses, he said, the window was open and the crushed body of Chapman lay at the bottom of the Lightwell with police grouped around it. His death recalled other mysterious happenings involving Naama Wortova, leading lady, and others in the cast.

The Harris county crime record for the first seven months of this year showed that 34 persons were killed. The slayers of eight of the victims remain at large. Of the 25 victims whose killers have not been caught, 22 were slain in Houston and three in other parts of the county. Thirteen were white and twelve were negroes. In some instances the murderers are known but have eluded officers. In others the crimes are still shrouded in mystery.

The case of the baby whose body was severed and stuffed in a lard can in White Oak Bayou, the double murder of Olena Wansche, 18, and Edward Stone, 21, victim of shotgun wounds who were last seen alive at Spring and whose bodies were found three miles apart, the killing of Howard Gouge, 30, and serious wounding of his girl companion, Lillian Bissitt, as they sat on the cushion in front of their automobile at the bayshore probably are the most noted of the unsolved crimes.

New Record For Ginning Expected

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas, Aug. 22.—(AP)—This section probably will set a new record for ginning this week with gins and compresses handling the peak load of the South Texas cotton crop. More than 500,000 bales are likely to be handled through this port. Shipping agents already have 35 sailings booked for the month, and from now on until the end of the month there will be from eight to 10 cotton boats in port every day. It is predicted that 30,000 bales of cotton will be ginned in Nueces county alone this week. The previous record was 21,472 bales for the week ending August 7, 1927. In slightly more than three weeks that year there were 70,000 bales ginned.

In Porto Rico an old custom says that barbers shall shave each voter on the back of the hand or behind the ear as he leaves the polling booth. This is a precaution to prevent electors voting twice. An average watch contains about 150 separate parts.

Death in Plunge from Sixth Story Another Mystery

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 22.—(P)—The breath of mystery which has haunted the pages of actors in the racy French farce "Easy for Zee Zee" since its opening in a theatre of the Latin quarter here a year ago drew the attention of police today as they investigated the death plunge of Robert Chapman, 28, leading man in the comedy.

The Harris county crime record for the first seven months of this year showed that 34 persons were killed. The slayers of eight of the victims remain at large.

Of the 25 victims whose killers have not been caught, 22 were slain in Houston and three in other parts of the county. Thirteen were white and twelve were negroes. In some instances the murderers are known but have eluded officers. In others the crimes are still shrouded in mystery.

The case of the baby whose body was severed and stuffed in a hard can in White Oak Bayou, the double murder of Olena Wansche, 18, and Edward Stone, 21, victim of shotgun wounds, who were last seen alive at Spring and whose bodies were found three miles apart, the killing of Howard Gouge, 20, and serious wounding of his girl companion, Lillian Bissitt, as they sat on the cushion in front of their automobile at the bayshore probably are the most noted of the unsolved crimes.

Rev. M. E. Cunningham, who has been doing the preaching in the revival for almost two weeks has been fighting sin in every form, trying to lead the sinners, church members and Christians all to love God, more than sin, and the Christians to love God so much that they will not be ashamed to go to him, at any and all times and expect him to grant unto them what so ever is best, that the will of God be done in their lives. He is a man that loves God preeminently, and is not afraid to warn people of the Devil's traits to ensure their lives. He warns men and women, boys and girls of their wickedness and to turn and give God the pre-eminence in their lives that when the books are opened, and God shall reveal the secret thoughts of their hearts, that we shall appear in the judgment to give an account unto God whether we accept him or reject him, whether we surrender our will to his will or reject it. Who can measure the influence of the Holy Spirit upon the surrendered life of this messenger of God? People are being drawn to Christ by the spirit of God working in their hearts, and manifesting his love for us, in that he died to save those who will accept his love and follow him. The church covenant has been distributed and being read probably by more people than in the history of the church. Gods will be done in this meeting and may our town and church be benefited for the years to come.

TARIFF RATES CRITICISED BY BOTH PARTIES

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—(P)—Chairman Smoot of the Senate Finance Committee today estimated the total revenue likely to be derived from the tariff rates proposed by that committee was $605,498,469 as compared with $646,014,545 under the house bill and $515,112,936 under existing law. This would be a reduction of approximately $40,500,000 compared with the House Bill but an increase of about $90,000,000 over customs receipts from the present Fordney-McCumber Act. WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—(P)—Rate schedules tentatively approved by the Republican Tariff Framers of the Senate Finance Committee were out in the open for the first time today and were promptly made the subject of sharp criticism from both Democratic and Republican independent quarters. Showing about 260 changes written into the schedule voted by the house, the schedules were turned over to Democratic members of the committee to enable them to make their preliminary study of the measure in preparation for the lengthy debate to begin in the Senate after it is reported September 4. Republican committeemen, meanwhile, turned their attention to the controversial administrative provisions of the house bill, which contain the flexible tariff and other clauses likely to encounter severe opposition in the Senate.

The changes disclosed in the rate schedules include both increases and reductions in comparison with the imposts voted by the House. The greatest number of reductions in any schedule is proposed in that affecting chemicals, oils, and paints, and the greatest number of increases in the agricultural schedule. In the chemical schedule, the Senate committeemen Republicans favor 67 changes, including some increase and in the agricultural schedule, including a few reductions. Reductions include the 2.20 cents a pound rate on Cuban raw sugar which the House voted 2.40 cents, and the Fordney-McCumber Law provides 1.67—a subject likely to occupy the Senate through many days of bitter controversy. The proposed increase to $1.50 from $1.12 1-2 a ton in the rate on pig iron is another item likely to arouse considerable discussion, together with the 3-cent reduction in the house rate on raw wool, restoring it to the present duty of 31 cents a pound.

will be to turn over the Leavenworth Military Prison to the Department of Justice. This arrangement, it is believed, will relieve conditions in the Leavenworth and Atlantic General Penitentiaries, both of which now have nearly twice as many prisoners as they were designed to accommodate. The army also has prisons at various major barracks it was agreed to turn over to the Department of Justice until Congress has had time to study the prison situation. President Hoover's interest was directed to the prison situation recently by an outbreak at the Leavenworth penitentiary where one prisoner was killed after a riot.

PRECINCT LINES TO BE CHANGED COURT DECIDES

With the County Commissioners voting two to two Judge E. M. Davis had to settle the question of changing the Brown county precinct lines himself and voted in favor of the change following a heated discussion late Friday afternoon in the county court room. The recessed session of the court started at 2 p. m. with about three hundred men trying to crowd into the commissioners' room and the session was transferred to the county court room where all the seats were about taken. There has been much interest lately about the county when it was learned that the court was talking about changing the precinct lines for the declared purpose of equalizing the voting strength and taxable values among the four precincts and for giving each commissioner entire roads to work instead of sections. Some of the outlying sections of the county were up in arms over the matter thinking it was said, that bringing the four precincts into the city of Brownwood would mean Brownwood domination, and they circulated petitions asking the court not to act on this change. A group appeared at the Monday session armed with a petition against the move over 900 signatures, and to further deliberate the court recessed the session until Friday. The same group came back at the Friday meeting with additional signatures making up a total of about 1,250. At the same time those who were in favor of making the change appeared with a list of signatures which they said totalled 2,466. Proposition Discussed These were presented by Fred S. Abney who made several talks in favor of the project, while W. R. Chambers of May representing the opposition, spoke against it. Mr. Chambers wanted the commissioners against changing the ancient land lines. He said that the people in the rural districts were satisfied and settled in their ways and did not consider a change as important. He further said that by changing in the way proposed that all four commissioners could live within a mile of one another, all of them in the city. Mr. Chambers further said that he thought the matter all settled last Monday and was surprised at the rapidity with which the signatures were gotten by those in favor. In reply Mr. Abney said that the people here interested themselves in the matter, because of the fact that those who opposed it brought in the first petitions. He said that the proposed changes do not in any way change the roads, but just the management of some of them making it more efficient in their care and maintenance and that it is an economic proposition to equalize the vote and the taxable values.

Democratic Attack The Democratic attack on the Republican committee's rates began promptly. Senator King of Utah, said they were "unsatisfactory as the House Bill," while J. J. S. Smith, Chairman of the Democratic National Committee's executive committee, declared they showed the "Motivating Principle" behind them as a "simple determination to enable special groups of industrialists to cash in on their last year's campaign contributions." The movement to confine the tariff revision chiefly to agricultural products was emphasized by Senator Thomas, Democrat, Oklahoma and Borah, Republican, Idaho. Thomas announced plans to offer a resolution to eliminate all schedules in the committee but not relating to agriculture which, if adopted, would require the sponsors of changes in other sections to propose specific amendments and "make a case" for them on the floor. Borah, Republican Independent who has expressed his dissatisfaction with the revision proposed by the House, said he would either support the Thomas Resolution or introduce one of his own along similar lines. A resolution he introduced prior to the summer recess aimed at the same objective, was defeated by only one vote.

PRISON PLAN IS AGREED UPON WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—(P)—A plan to solve in part the overcrowding in Federal penitentiaries has been agreed upon between President Hoover, Secretary of War, Good and Attorney General Mitchell. SCOUTS BACK FROM CAMPING AT BARKSDALE

About 50 Boy Scouts of the Pecan Valley Council of Boy Scouts of America, returned late Saturday afternoon from Barksdale, on the Nueces River, where for the past week they, with their Scout masters, were guests of the Southwestern Texas Council of Boy Scouts at Camp Faucett. In telling of activity at the camp, Jack Brunberg, scout executive of the Pecan Valley Area, stated the Pecan Valley Council of representatives to the camp were high admiration and recognition from the other more than 250 scouts in camp. On camp inspection night of the camp, six boys from the Pecan Valley area won a total of 22 merit badges. Of this number G. W. Asher and J. V. Hammett, of the Lampasas troop, became Star Scouts. Jeff Thomas Wilkes of the Brownwood troop No. 7 became an Eagle Scout. The remainder of the boys winning high places in the awarding of merit badges were Stewart Painter, Jack Schlieter and Scoutmaster Taliaferro. The last five days of the camp, the Pecan Valley Council made a 100 percent perfect average in camp inspection and 97 percent average in personal inspection. The boys from this district left Brownwood in two large motor buses Saturday morning, August 10th. Baggage and camp equipment were transferred to the scene of the camp by a special truck. Hext, London, Junction, and Rock Springs, arriving in Barksdale about 6 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

enjoyable programs given during the progress of the encampment. The camp was honored by the visit of Captain E. C. Murphy of Fort Craddock at Galveston. Accompanying him was Lieut. Harry Fowler of Love Field. They arrived in a large 12 cylinder Douglas Pursuit plane with a Liberty motor. They were greeted formally by the Pecan Valley Council boys upon landing at the field maintained by the Faucett Camp. They commended the local troop of scouts upon the manner in which their portion of the camp was conducted. Camp was broken Saturday morning and the boys started for home, arriving in Brownwood the latter part of Saturday afternoon. In speaking of the fine work done in the camp, Mr. Brunberg stated he wanted to especially make acknowledgements to J. H. Ragsdale, A. T. Bryce, C. L. Pouncey, J. D. Hintner, John Boatright, W. M. Taliaferro, and J. D. Barnett, local Scout leaders, for their work done during the progress of the encampment in which the local camp was honored.

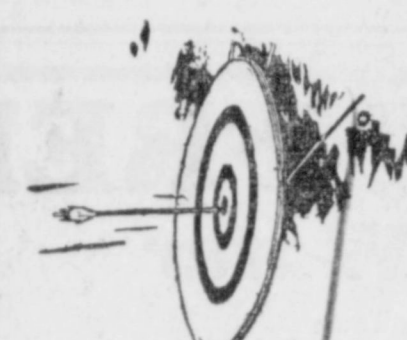

Council of Boy Scouts of America, contains about 300 acres of land rich in history and Indian legend. It is located one mile northeast of Barksdale and is considered one of the most interesting and original camp sites in this part of the country. One half of the acreage runs along the Nueces River with more than a mile of land running back into the mountains on either side of the river. Especially did the boys enjoy swimming in the swimming pool of clear cool water. They studied scoutcraft, routine duties, and engaged in hikes and fishing. Several of the boys, during their visits in the mountains, saw wild turkeys and deer. The first night of camp, the representatives from the Pecan Valley Council experienced sleeping on the ground without cover. The baggage truck was delayed and did not arrive until 48 hours after the camp opened. Some of the boys reported it must have been like sleeping at the North Pole with only two blankets.

An Interesting Tour. According to reports from those who attended the camp from this council, the trip to the camp site was very interesting and instructive. This, for some of the boys, was the first chance they had ever had to really observe and study this sort of natural scenery and beauty. Especially did the boys take an interest in the beauty of the Llano river. About 1:30 Saturday afternoon on the way to the camp, the group stopped at the Seven Hundred Springs about 20 miles south of Junction on the South Fork of the Llano River. Here they prepared the noonday meal and after about an hour spent in that vicinity, they moved on towards their days' goal. The boys enjoyed fording the Llano river several times. It is estimated they crossed the river once every eight miles during the last stretch of road from Rock Springs on to Barksdale. The group also stopped at intervals in the Nueces Canyon and observed the historic mountains. Camp Faucett, owned and protected by the Southwestern Texas

Kept Good Camp. The manner in which the local council boys conducted their camp was highly commended by authorities of the encampment. It was considered the best kept section of the entire camp site. Wednesday night of the camp boys from this district had charge of the entertainment program. Songs, talks, and Indian demonstrations occupied the major part of the program which was declared to be one of the best and most

Pinson Moved Change

N. A. Pinson, Precinct 1, moved that the change be made, and that this was seconded by L. F. Bird, Precinct 3. When the question was put these two commissioners voted in favor of it, while C. D. Morrison, Precinct 2, and W. M. Metcalf, Precinct 4, voted against it. All four commissioners made talks with regard to their stand as did Judge Davis. Mr. Morrison said that while he was wholeheartedly in favor of the change he would have to vote against it because his people were not in favor of it. An order was passed by the commissioners changing a few of the boxes in the county both to agree with the new boundary lines of commissioners precincts and also to consolidate some of the boxes which are too close to one another. The Gitcher and Hog Valley boxes were merged, as were the Mt. Zion and Upper Indian boxes. Announcement of other changes will be made later. The exact lines of the new boundaries will be tentatively worked out by Engineer Mark Ragsdale, and the commissioners will approve lines which will run in as equitable a manner as possible. This will be done in the near future.

'Hants' Bring on a Labor Problem

TEXARKANA, Tex., Aug. 20.—(AP)—"Hants" are creating a serious labor problem for J. Q. Mahaffey, Texarkana attorney who operated a large farm as a sideline.

When one or two of his negroes decided to quit, Mahaffey thought little of it, but when nearly every one of his employees decided to leave, he made an investigation. Then each of his employees tried to tell a story of buried treasure, spoofs, ghosts and "hants."

According to the story of the negroes, Gabriel Tucker, direct descendant of the blacks who inhabited the east coast of Africa, owned the farm years ago. He amassed a small fortune, but placed no trust in banks so buried his wealth in various spots on his large farm.

Recently, someone has been digging for the buried treasure, the negroes told Mahaffey, and their statement was borne out by many large excavations found on the farm.

"Ole Gabe," as the negroes term the former owner of the farm now dead for many years, is incensed by the digging activities of persons who would steal his hard-earned wealth, and is "hanting" the place the negro tenants declare. As soon as night falls, "Ole Gabe" stalks over the farm attired in a suit of old overalls and a large straw hat, the four-stricken negroes declare.

"Dis farm ain't no place for a nigger wid sense," specially after dark," declared the perturbed negroes. And most of them flatly refused to stay on the farm any longer.

TWO INJURED AND ONE JAILED WHEN AUTO IS WRECKED

DENTON, Tex., Aug. 20.—(AP)—Frank Gains was near death in a hospital here, Mrs. Nell McQuiddy was in the same hospital for treatment of deep cuts and bruises, and R. L. McQuiddy was in jail charged with transporting liquor and driving while intoxicated as the result of an automobile accident on the Denton-Gainesville highway near here last night. All three gave Maude, Okla., as their home.

State Aid For Rural High School Pupils Received Monday

State aid for high school pupils in the county to the extent of $2,000 was received by J. Oscar Swindle, county superintendent, Monday. This money, for which application was made last year, is for the purpose of paying last year's tuition for pupils in the rural districts who finished the grades taught in their local schools and attended high schools in other localities.

APPROVE PLAN FOR BUILDING AT UNIVERSITY

AUSTIN, Aug. 20.—(AP)—Architect's plans for a chemistry building which will cost approximately $1,000,000 when equipped were approved today by the Board of Regents of the University of Texas. The contract for the building will be let October 14.

Appointment of Dr. H. J. Ettlinger, acting director of athletics at the University, as head of intercollegiate athletics, was another feature of the meeting.

All present members of the present coaching staff were retained. H. Y. Benedict, President of the institution, said Fred Walker will remain as basketball mentor, Marty Karow and Bill James as assistant football coaches, and C. J. Alderson as Freshman coach. Selection of Clyde Littlefield, head football coach, and William J. Dieck, baseball coach, were previously affirmed.

The physical training department which was divorced from intercollegiate athletics, will operate under supervision of L. Theodore Belmont, whose aides will be Berry Whitaker, S. N. Eldard, Roy S. McLean and Wiley Glaze, the latter formerly business manager of athletics.

The salary budget for athletics during the year will be approximately $30,000, the Board decided, of which $35,000 will be devoted to intercollegiate sports.

SWEET GIVEN CONTRACT TO COLLECT TAXES

Frank H. Sweet was given a contract Tuesday night by the city council for the purpose of making collection on delinquent city taxes, his contract calling for a fee of ten percent for his services. The deal with the city was very similar to the one which has been in effect for several months between the county and the law firm of Woodruff and Holloway for the collection of delinquent county taxes.

Filling Station Permit.
A permit was issued to Lee and Chandler, J. Grider Lee as agent, for the erection of an $8,500 brick and concrete filling station at the corner of Fisk and Austin Avenues on the present site of the Lindbergh Sandwich Shop.

Another permit was granted for the erection of a filling station to belong to Mrs. Jewel Johnson out on the Comanche road.

Only two bids were received by the council for the removal of trash and garbage for a year in the city, and only one bid for clearing the brush on seventy-five acres on the bayou. In both cases no bid was accepted and both matters were deferred to a future date.

It was decided to send a pumper to the county fair grounds for fire protection during the four days of the meet there this week. The truck from station number 2 will be stationed there.

The council decided to pave the alley back of the city hall at the request of the fire department.

Gus Hoffman appeared before the council asking for the permission of that body for the firemen to sponsor a tent show, at present a thing against the city ordinance. The proposal brought up considerable discussion as to the merits of a paid or a volunteer department, some of the councilmen being in favor of a strictly paid department. The question of permitting a tent show was thought to be all right with the exception that allowing the firemen to bring one in would open the city to all others, and the matter was deferred to a future date.

BROWNWOOD YOUTH OVERCOME IN FIRE ON NAVAL VESSEL

In a recent issue of a Charleston, South Carolina, newspaper appeared an account of a fire on board the U. S. S. mine-layer Oflala in the Charleston Navy Yard in which four men were overcome by smoke but recovered quickly. Accompanying the account of the blaze was a picture of the four men, one of whom is Maxwell Curry, son of Mrs. Ella

Curry of Brownwood. Maxwell has been in the U. S. Navy for two years, this being the first serious accident involving him.

According to the article in the Charleston newspaper, the fire started in the ventilating blower on the second deck of the layer. Smoke was carried all over the craft through the ventilating apparatus, causing four of the crew to be overcome by smoke.

DIRECT AIR ROUTES TO PACIFIC COAST BEING CONSIDERED

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 20.—(AP)—Direct air mail routes from New York to St. Louis and from New York to Atlanta and by way of Dallas, Fort Worth and Arizona to the Pacific Coast were proposed here last night by William G. McAdoo, former Secretary of the Treasury, who with several St. Louisans has organized a new air transportation company.

McAdoo, who flew to St. Louis from Amarillo, Texas, declared if the Postoffice Department authorized a direct St. Louis-New York air mail route, his company as well as other transport companies would bid for the mail contract.

MASS FARMING
Striking evidence that large-scale farming is subject to the same vicissitudes and the same variations that are characteristic of agriculture generally is contained in a report on Large-Scale Farming issued by the Agricultural Service Department of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

In the first place the report discloses that large-scale farming is an established industry of considerable magnitude. In 1926 over 9,000 corporations engaged in farming filed income tax reports. Their gross income exceeded $709,000,000.

After analyzing the organization and operation of a group of seventy-four representative large farms, averaging 11,687 acres in area, the Department concludes:

"Taken as a group the large-scale farms have been no more, nor any less, successful than the average of the family-size farms. Furthermore, there are fully as great variations in efficiency among the large farms as has been found in numerous surveys of family farms. It appears, then, that more incorporations or organization of farming enterprises on a large scale will not automatically solve the problems of the agricultural industry. In order to secure greater net returns than are secured from the family type of farming large-scale farms must achieve an efficiency considerable greater than the average of such farms now in operation."

PIONEER INVENTOR AND PECAN MAN VISITS HERE; TALKS OF INDUSTRY'S FUTURE LOCALLY

Robert E. Woodson of St. Louis, pioneer all round pecan man and inventor of the first power machine for cracking pecans, spent Monday in Brownwood and while here discussed briefly the pecan situation in Texas and other parts of the country. He stopped over here to pay a short visit to the Ransley plant where some of his cracking machinery has been used for several years.

It is more than thirty years ago that the first Woodson cracking machine was demonstrated and the line is still going strong, as is the inventor who is sprightly as a first voter, despite his seventy-five years. His original power cracker had to be fed by hand, yet in spite of this handicap it gained favor rapidly. For several years Mr. Woodson had a standing offer of $1,000 to be given anyone who would supply his machine with an automatic feed but as nobody responded to the need he whirled in and invented one. Constant improvements have been made and the use has increased until at present Woodson "crackers" are in use in all the pecan districts of the South and most of the large cities of the North where the bulk of Texas pecans are cracked.

Latest Achievement.

The latest achievement of this "youthful" genius has been the development of a machine for extracting the kernels from the pecans after the cracker has done its work. This is something for which men have striven these many years, so it is fitting that the credit for a practical machine of this kind should go to the man who originated the machine for cracking the nuts. The "pickout" machine is operated in connection with the cracker as a unit, the entire combination of picker and cracker occupying a floor space of but 18x34 inches, by 50 inches in height. The "combine" has a daily capacity of between 400 and 600 pounds, and is automatic, in so far as any machine can be automatic. The whole nuts are poured into a hopper at the top and the picked out kernels are delivered from the picker at the bottom. About 80 percent of the kernels are extracted in this way, while the remainder are "processed" during the operation so that the necessary handwork is easy.

Successful Pecan Grower.

Along with his success in the pecan machinery line, Mr. Woodson is a practical and successful pecan grower. He owns a tract of somewhat more than 500 acres, about five miles from Albany, Georgia, of which 500 acres are set to paper-shell pecans, 20 trees to the acre. The average returns from this orchard are about a quarter million pounds per year which, at our lot prices, bring in the neat sum of nearly $100,000 per year.

In speaking of the pecan industry Mr. Woodson said: "As I look back to the early days and follow development along to the present, in which development I have had an active part for more than a generation, it is amazing to see what strides have been made even though today most people do not realize that there is such a thing as a regular pecan industry. Georgia, of course, leads in paper-shell production, but other southern states are coming along so fast that Georgia is likely to be out distanced.

Oklahoma, for example, is almost exceeding the speed limit, and passed Texas last year in the volume of paper-shells produced; but Texas is waking up and some day will lead the world—especially Central and West Texas. Out here the pecan idea is only in its infancy, but you will wake up in time and get busy.

Basis Great Industry.

One reason the pecan will supply the basis for a great industry is that it, primarily, a food—and a mighty fine food at that. In this connection I am often reminded of the reply made by the late P. D. Armour, of packing house fame, to a reporter who asked him what he thought the best line of business for a young man to enter.

"Produce something that people will eat," he said.

"In making a study, as I do, of pecan conditions all over the country, it is somewhat astonishing to note how the pecan idea is growing, not only in the South but in the North as well. Paper-shell pecans are being grown successfully in Indiana, Iowa, Kansas and other states which are regarded as northern, and they are good pecans too. "I am often asked whether there will be over-production when a lot more people grow pecans. There is but one answer; as long as population is increasing faster than pecan production in this country there can be no danger of over-production and this will be the case, probably, for a hundred years to come; also you must remember that the rest of the world does not eat pecans for the simple reason that they cannot get them. If there were sufficient production to make shipments possible in large quantities, there would be a big export business, because we are now importing some twenty million dollars worth of nuts, of various kinds, into this country each year.

"I am informed that you have an irrigation project in the making here at Brownwood. If that is carried through successfully it will mean the growth and development of thousands of acres of pecan orchards in this vicinity. In your climate water is indispensable for the proper growth of pecans, but with plenty of water success is assured anyone who will plant paper-shells—and then take care of them after they are planted. The failures come mostly because of lack of care. Too many people get steamed up with the idea of planting trees; then after the trees are planted Providence is expected to supply the care to bring them along and make them produce. The after care of the trees is of equal or greater importance than the planting, because without proper care the trees will die and then all the time and money have been thrown away.

"As I have been coming to this section annually—and sometimes oftener—for the past twenty-five years, I think I am in position to say something about the possibilities in pecan culture here. You need only an abundance of water for irrigation, along with the will to make a start and then take care of what you have started. Don't expect the Lord to take care of your trees—He is too busy trying to take care of erring mortals. In driving about Brownwood and vicinity today I noted quite a number of trees that are "rosseted," which means they are being neglected. This section has wonderful pecan possibilities, if the people will wake up and develop them."

Mr. Woodson left Monday night for San Antonio where a number of his combined cracking-picking machines are being installed—the first to be used in Texas.

SNOOK TO DIE NOVEMBER 29

COURTHOUSE, COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 20—(AP)—Dr. James H. Snook was sentenced to be electrocuted on November 29 for the killing of his co-ed sweetheart, Theora Hix, by Judge Henry L. Scarlett today after a motion for a new trial had been overruled.

Looking the judge squarely in the eye, the former professor heard the pronouncement of death without a tremor. A bailiff laid his hand on the doctor's arm as if to support him, but it was unnecessary.

Taken to Penitentiary

Dr. Snook never returned to the chair from which he had written to receive the sentence. As he turned away from the judge's bench, a sheriff was waiting, and he was taken to a waiting automobile and whisked to the penitentiary where he was lodged in a cell in death row.

Judge Scarlett passed sentence after he had overruled a defense motion for a new trial given an extra day in which to obtain affidavits to support a charge of perjury on the part of "one or more" members of the jury when the original hearing on the motion came up yesterday. F. O. Ricketts of defense counsel announced today the affidavits were not yet in hand. Ricketts indicated the defense desired to make no arguments, and the court, with an announcement that no more time would be given, promptly overruled the motion. Ricketts recorded an exception.

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 20—(AP)—

Efforts to throw some light on the death of W. H. Douglas, whose body was found at the Gulf tank farm at Wink yesterday, were fruitless today.

Body of Man Is Found in Tank

WINK, Tex., Aug. 20—(AP)—Authorities here are seeking to identify the body of a man found in the Gulf tank farm yesterday by boys hunting rabbits.

A bankbook in one of the man's pockets was made out to W. H. Douglas by a Big Spring Bank.

The throat was slashed three times and a razor, closed and in its case, lay about four feet from the body.

Death apparently occurred Friday or Saturday.

BIG SPRING, Tex., Aug. 20—(AP)—

Efforts to throw some light on the death of W. H. Douglas, whose body was found at the Gulf tank farm at Wink yesterday, were fruitless today.

Files Complaint of Forging Checks Against Himself

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 20—(AP)—Walking into the main police station last night a 19-year-old boy nervously asked to see the sergeant.

"I want to complain against a guy who has been forging checks," he said. "His name is Ben Kattul. He's passed out about a dozen bad checks for around $150 altogether."

"Any idea where he is?" the sergeant asked.

"Right here," answered the youth. "I'm the guy."

AN ALTITUDE RECORD MADE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20—(AP)—Bureau of Standards, California today showed that Weidie Waterman, test pilot at Metropolitan Airport in Los Angeles, made an American record altitude of 20,220 feet for commercial type planes on July 27.

Waterman's record will not be official until it is confirmed by the Federation Aeronautique Internationale at Paris.

The previous American record of 16,722 feet for this type of plane was made by Harold Gifford.

The world record of 25,941 feet is held by Regina Selinger, a German.

NUMBER 41

COLLEGS TO OPEN NEW TERM SEPTEMBER 9

HOWARD PAYNE FACES PROSPECT OF ESPECIALLY FINE SESSION

Howard Payne College of Brownwood will open her forty-first year of session September 9, with classification beginning promptly at 8 o'clock. The little college which forty years ago opened with a very small enrollment has grown to be one of the biggest colleges of the south and this year it has a right to expect a greater number of students than have ever before been recorded in the annals of its history. Howard Payne is a Christian College and is noted for the character of students who go out from its portals of graduation. Howard Payne is a standard grade A college and its credits are recognized by the larger universities of the country.

The main campus contains 11 acres of land in the southern-central part of Brownwood. The campus borders on Fisk and Center avenues and is partly covered with native oak trees. Grass on nearly every portion of the campus makes the college one of the most beautiful and attractive places in the city. On the campus are located the following buildings:

The Administration building is a stone structure, three stories high, of modern architecture, and classic appearance. The class rooms are large, well lighted and ventilated, and equipped with modern, well-kept school furniture. This building contains the library, laboratories, and class rooms for college work. The building is steam heated.

Howard Payne Hall is an elegant and stately building with three stories and a basement. In the basement are provided the kitchen, pantry, store and servant rooms, with a dining room large enough to seat with comfort two hundred and fifty persons. The first story contains apartments for the dean of women, hall, parlors, and twelve rooms for young ladies. The second and third floors have twenty rooms, each arranged conveniently for two young ladies. There are four modern bath rooms on each floor and the building is heated with steam.

During the war the city of Brownwood contributed funds for the construction of two barracks, each two stories high. One of these barracks has been rebuilt as a boys' dormitory, containing twenty-eight rooms. A competent instructor has charge of this dormitory building. Besides the dormitory, there has been built a modern bath house, which is at the disposal of the boys.

The Academy Hall has recently been purchased from the city schools. This structure contains three stories and a basement with eleven large class rooms and three offices. The work in the dormitory building, one of the leading high school instructors of the state. High school work is offered here.

The Mims Auditorium and Fine Arts Building is one of the most beautiful buildings on the campus. On the first floor is the president's office, the business office, and the chapel in which students gather for daily chapel services. On the second floor, there are several large class rooms and a balcony to the main chapel. On the third floor, there are a number of practice rooms for piano students.

The west barracks have been remodeled since the war and have been made into a vast gymnasium with splendid appointments. It is well lighted and ventilated and has a playing floor sixty feet wide and feet long. The gym will seat about 1000 spectators.

The college library is situated on the first floor of the Administration building and is the largest library in the city. In connection with the library is a large reading room equipped with tables and comfortable chairs. More than a thousand volumes have been added to the library within the last year and the prospects are bright for the library becoming one of the best in the state.

Howard Payne College publishes the Yellow Jacket, the weekly newspaper, and The Lasso, which is the year book. These publications serve as a medium for expression of literary talent and afford unlimited opportunities for experience to those desiring to follow newspaper work. The editor of the Yellow Jacket for the coming year is George Smith, with Lamar Floyd of Dallas as business manager.

The nucleus of government in the college is the Students' Association which is a voluntary organization of students, having as its purpose, the maintenance of ideals in scholarship, character, and conduct. It reinforces the discipline of the faculty and gives training in student self-government.

The obligations of the students of Howard Payne College are divided into three classes. First: Student organizations. In these cases, the student body exercises complete autonomy. Second: Student conduct in building and on campus. Here the Student Association, through its proper authorities and the faculty, meet together for the welfare of the institution. Third: Classes, standing, credits, curriculum, etc. In these strictly scholastic matters, the Students Association assumes no responsibility except to help and encourage the building of a better college spirit.

Christian Education
Howard Payne College is pre-

TRIAL WITHIN 9 DAYS OF DATE OF EXECUTION

EASTLAND, Tex., Aug. 29.—(P)—The jury in the Helms sanity trial here was completed today. A recess was ordered until 2 P. M., at which time the taking of testimony was expected to start. The last juror chosen was Lon Graham of Eastland, a gas plant worker and married. During the morning session of court two jurors were added to the nine selected yesterday, the first day of the trial. Helms, sentenced to be executed Sept. 6 for his participation in the famous "Sania Claus" bank robbery at Cisco in 1927, was granted a sanity trial at several relatives had filed affidavits that Helms was insane.

During the selection of the jury the condemned man has paid little or no attention to proceedings. He has sat between deputy sheriffs, one of whom is a monotonous tone of reading paper into small bits. Two jurors were accepted by both the State and Defense this morning, nine having been chosen yesterday, the first day of the trial. When the noon recess was ordered, the defense exercised 11 of its 15 preemptory challenges and the state had used only six of the 15 allowed.

Only seven of the 30 veniremen summoned today were questioned in selecting the last two jurors chosen. Examined by Alliance attorneys, a number of attorneys for both the state and defense examined Helms in his cell before he was brought into court today. They had given him a preliminary examination yesterday.

Singing the same tune he sang in court yesterday, Helms was brought into court this morning after a breakfast of a ham and egg sandwich and coffee. He looked haggard, and sat between two deputy sheriffs and two pieces of cigarette paper into small bits.

Jurors selected were: J. T. Graves, Cisco, farmer, married; J. W. Vaughn, Carbon, farmer and minister, married; J. F. White, Carbon, farmer, married; J. A. Layton, Gorman, automobile salesman single; R. M. Burns, Gorman, farmer, married; R. F. Wynne, Eastland, garage owner, married; J. B. Connelly, Ranger, oil man, married; A. W. Wright, Eastland, automobile mechanic, married; W. H. Snell, Cheney, farmer, married; Claude Crowner, Rising Star, tailor, married, and T. H. Hagood, Rising Star, automobile salesman, married.

Level and Rolling Land
The geological survey states that when land is surveyed for division it is treated as a plane surface. Therefore, a quarter of a section of level land contains the same amount of land as a quarter of a section of rolling land, but there may be actually more surface or earth in the rolling section than in the level section.

Daniel Baker Looking Forward To Best Year In Its History

Out on Hill Billie Hill, September 9, Daniel Baker College will open its forty-first year with an enrollment which is expected to be far exceed that of any year preceding in the history of the college. No change either in the rating or standards of the college will be made during the coming year and students may be assured that credits received this year will claim the same high recognition from other colleges and universities as they have in the past.

Daniel Baker College is located on the highest point in the city, which is very near the geographical center of the state, and is easily reached by the Santa Fe and Frisco railroads. The campus is located in the southern part of the city on a tract of eight acres of land on which there has been built an administration building, science hall, girls' dormitory, Coggin Memorial Hall, and a new gym, recently completed.

Administration Building
Most of the class rooms, the library, and the president's office are located in the Administration building. This is a three-story structure of attractive architectural design. The rooms are well ventilated and lighted and heated by a gas stove in the winter. The Science Department occupies the building that was formerly used for a boys' dormitory. This building has been fitted with a modern laboratory and is one of the most modern science halls in this district. The girls' dormitory is a three-story with basement structure of concrete and brick. The building is heated with gas and lighted with electricity; it has bath and toilet rooms, with hot and cold water on each floor; each room also has a laboratory with running water. Also in this building is located the college dining hall in which about 100 students are served meals cooked home style.

Large Library
The college library is located in rooms, seven and eight on the second floor of the Administration building. It contains over 8,000 well selected volumes. Every department of the college has its section, and the library is equipped and supplied with the latest periodicals.

The Athletic Park is located north of the college, nearer the business center of the city, and is bounded by two blocks. It comprises 20 acres for football gridiron and baseball diamond. Here during the past year, the Hill Billies won two of their three T. I. A. A. championships in athletics.

The system of government in Daniel Baker is a very outstanding feature of the college. The college believes in training students to act from principle, and the few regulations of the college are directed toward that end. Those unwilling to respond to this method of government are excluded from the student body which is made up of students who live in the light of ideals. The faculty encourages student self-government, based on the honor system. During the past year, many American citizens have done away with the honor system because they believe American youth are not capable of being put on their honor, but Daniel Baker's faith in the honor system of government has remained unshaken through the forty years of its existence.

A Christian College
Daniel Baker is a Christian College and tries to throw about the student body a wholesome Christian influence. Two years of Bible study are required for graduation, and several other courses of religious instruction are given in the institution. Students are permitted to attend the church of their choice, but are required to attend some church each Sunday.

Daniel Baker has two official publications. The Daniel Baker Collegian is the weekly newspaper and is published by an editor elected annually by the student body. Also The Trail, the annual year book, is published by a staff of editors elected annually by the student body. These publications are literary in nature and are clean and moral in every respect. Also there are a number of clubs in the college which serve to personify the spirit of education.

Officers and Faculty
The faculty and officers of the college for the coming year are as follows:
Dr. S. E. Chandler, President of the college and head of the Bible Department.
Thomas H. Hart, Senior Dean, head of the Philosophy Department.
C. W. McClelland, Dean of Classification, Mathematics and Physics.
Robert E. McKay, Secretary of the Faculty, French and Spanish.
John Post, Latin and Greek.

Sam R. McInnis, Chemistry and Biology.
Janie Peavy, Home Economics.
Willie Maege McGehee, English, Librarian.
Dewey Youngblood, History and Social Sciences.
Kate Allen Horn, assistant in Spanish.
Katherine C. Watson, Oratory and Physical Training.
Carmen Anderson, Piano, Theory, Harmony.

Prosperous Texas Man Had A Small Financial Start
LIVINGSTON, Tex., Aug. 29.—(P)—The $157 which he borrowed from his grandfather 49 years ago has been multiplied many times over by John W. Cochran, who recently paused amid his many business pursuits to receive from all over the state congratulations on his seven-tieth birthday.

The Cochran family has been intimately connected with the business and religious life of Polk county for 77 years. Cochran's mother, now 94, is the oldest living graduate of Baylor University.

At 21, John Cochran borrowed the money from his grandfather and started his first business venture, a general merchandise store at Moscow, then the educational center of East Texas. His estate, that time consisted of a horse and saddle. From this modest start grew a line of establishments, including sawmills, banks, cattle, timber, land and merchandising enterprises.

During the panic of 1907, Cochran's bank, the First National of Livingston, had not adopted the policy of limiting loans. The vice president, who went in Houston, brought up a satchel full of pilfered securities—his own personal holdings—to leave as a guarantee to the depositors.

"I told him that the customers were not afraid of us and to take the securities back to Houston," Cochran said.

Besides the First National, Cochran is in interest in the Trinity National Bank of Trinity, the Farmers' State Bank of Leggett and the First National of Lovelock. His estate of all his varied business activities, Cochran seems to enjoy farming most. His 3,000 acre Trinity farm is one of the finest plantations in East Texas. Although it is under management of his son, Cochran still takes an active part.
