

Of all the dumb stunts which have been passed off as pranks in this community, the worst yet is the one reported a few days ago by Deputy Sheriff Buck Wilson. This is one which could very possibly have caused a car load of people to plunge to their death in the bottom of a creek.

Someone with the mind of either an imbecile or a criminal moved the barricade and the flares at the bridge construction job south of town, blocking the temporary road beside the site and leaving the way wide open for a motorist to drive without warning off the edge of the pavement into the bottom of the creek. And, believe it or not, that was done not once but four times. The person who did it set the same murderous trap four times apparently without ever being influenced by reason or conscience. And each time tragedy was prevented by the fact that the next person to arrive knew what road to use. The death trap turned out to be nothing but a nuisance as motorists or workers returned the barricades to their proper place.

We prefer to think that the person or persons who did it were thinking of mere mischief instead of crime. And if such is the case we sincerely hope that the horrible thought of what they might have caused will shock them permanently out of their stupor.

If this was more than mischief we hope the offenders will be discovered and prosecuted to the limit of the law. Anyone who would do such a thing with full consciousness of the death or injury, or just the property damage, that might result is not a safe risk in society. He is a criminal or a lunatic, and belongs in the proper institution.

Another incident that ought to provoke some serious thought around here is the injury last week caused by a fire cracker thrown into a passing car. As told by the people concerned, out of state tourists who must have a wonderful impression of our town, a local kid tossed the lighted explosive into their car as they approached the intersection from the overpass. As it went off it seared the daylight out of every occupant in the car and caused a severe burn to a baby.

The culprit scooted and no one has an idea who he is. He's lucky in that he does not have to face the contempt of others but we hope he's enduring a proper measure of self contempt. Perhaps he realizes by now that it isn't smart nor funny to scare the wits out of a car of unsuspecting people, and especially not to inflict injury on a helpless baby.

Perhaps he will also think farther and realize that his folly could have caused a far more serious tragedy, like that which broke into the news on July 4. That time the firecracker caused the driver to lose control of his car and crash into another car. Net result of the one firecracker was a horrible mixup of flesh and steel in death, injury and car damage.

Thinking of what was done and what might have been done, the lad doubtless is quite miserable now. He's learned the hard way that the grief caused by fireworks far outweighs the fun derived from it.

Our only trouble is that the public still does not have the proper attitude toward fireworks. In the last analysis the smart alecs who cause the nuisance and the hazard are no more guilty than the lax adults who make no effort to prevent it... who even ignore existing laws while kids buy and fire the explosives under their very noses. This column is not attempting to imply that fireworks are all

34 Kids Complete Swimming Class

Thirty four children received Red Cross beginners swimming buttons last Saturday indicating that they have completed the ten stages of instruction specified for beginners in the Red Cross course. The class, which got under way two weeks earlier, consisted of 137 pupils.

In addition to those who finished the course there was about an equal number who advanced far enough to continue making progress on their own and to qualify for an intermediate class when it is offered next year. L. B. Brunns, head instructor said the 34 who passed are ready for the intermediate class now.

Those who did not pass nor go far enough to develop on their own will likely be back in the beginners class next year.

Charlotte Wolf and Sandra Walter are spending this week at Camp Letoli.

Swimming Pool's Profit is Small On June Operation

In spite of poor swimming weather during most of the month of June, the Muenster pool operated at a small profit. A report submitted to the city council by L. E. Brunns, pool supervisor, indicates a cash balance of $106.52 on the operation. Brunns points out, however, that about $100 worth of bromine used for treating the water does not show on the report, and the actual profit would be just a few dollars.

Total receipts for the month, for both admissions and concessions amounted to $732.92. Records also show that attendance was very poor during the early part of the month because of chilly or rainy weather. Twice the pool was not opened and fourteen times it was closed early.

Under the circumstances the small profit shows up as an indication that the pool is apparently headed for a good 1957 season. Receipts have been consistently better in July and better crowds are expected to continue through the rest of the month and August.

NEWS OF SICK AND INJURED

Charlie Fisher is using crutches for the little he gets around these days. He sustained a badly sprained left ankle Friday in a misstep as he was getting off of a hay trailer.

R. M. Felty of Hood was dismissed from Gainesville Sanitarium Saturday following major surgery and is here this week at the home of his daughter and son-in-law, the M. H. Kings. Mrs. Felty is also here. They plan to return to their home the latter part of the week. Mr. Felty is regaining his strength nicely and is up and around the house.

Mrs. Dick Cain has been favoring her right foot this week and staying off of it as much as possible since the doctor discovered an infected corn Sunday. The foot had been sore and tender for several days before severe pain compelled her to seek medical aid. She barely averted blood poisoning.

Mrs. Hubert Wilde has been dismissed from Gainesville Sanitarium but will be a bed patient at her home, 801 N. Commerce in that city, for three more weeks. She is said to be recovering normally from delicate surgery for a detached retina on her right eye. The Wildes' daughter Bernardine is visiting them.

Roy Atteberry sustained a fractured rib Saturday evening in an accident at his farm home while he was unloading oats. He received treatment at Gainesville Sanitarium.

Albert Shaw of Marysville is a patient at Gainesville Sanitarium since falling from a building he was painting in Gainesville last Thursday.

Telephone Service Returns to Rosston And Prairie Point After 27 Years

Twenty seven years of isolation came to an end at Rosston last Saturday when a telephone connection was completed between the George Berry Store and the Muenster Exchange.

This is the first time Rosston people have been able to reach outside their community since a phone was removed from the Hill Christian home in 1930. That phone, on a line from Hood, was a part of the Bell system in Gainesville.

The connection at Berry's store serves to give the communities of Rosston and Prairie Point an emergency connection to the outside while they await completion of their regular service, probably early in August.

As regards phone communication with each other, people of the area are about to get their first service in 35 years. Until 1922 Rosston and Prairie Point had a local telephone system with an exchange at Rosston. At its peak it served about 100 subscribers. As population dwindled revenue decreased and the system deteriorated until it was finally given up. Since then Rosston or Prairie Point people have not spoken to their neighbors over a telephone.

Lines are built and 30 phones are installed in the two communities, however regular service will not be available until "carrier terminals" are installed to allow the use of several frequencies on the single line leading from here to Rosston.

The 30 new phones are served by four lines each of which will have its own terminal to convert electrical impulses to its own wave length before sending them over the single line leading to the Muenster Exchange.

Actually, the one line serves as five separate party lines. It has the four wave lengths determined by the four terminals plus the normal service of six connections between here and Rosston. The method of operation can be compared with radio or TV operation. Stations send out programs on their allotted frequencies. The several frequencies travel through the same atmosphere, and each is received by a set tuned to that frequency.

By the carrier system four frequencies of messages come over the line. Arriving here each is received by the terminal tuned to the proper frequency and the message then goes to the switchboard like any other. Until the terminals are in operation George Berry will have a normal connection, like the other six subscribers between here and Rosston. After that his phone will be one of the 30 controlled by terminals.

The carrier system for the two communities was adopted as an alternate to the separate automatic exchange like those used in Myra and Forestburg. By this system all calls of the two communities are handled through the Muenster exchange just like a local call. At Myra or Forestburg each subscriber can reach each other subscriber on the exchange without calling the Muenster operator. The two methods serve the same purpose, providing local service without requiring a local operator.

Since they are a part of the far flung Muenster system the Rosston and Prairie Point subscribers can enjoy the advantage of considerable distance without long distance rates. Anything on the system goes as a local call hence the new subscribers can talk to Muenster, Myra, Forestburg or Marysville without paying a toll.

Winless KCs Lose To Lions and Joes In Pee Wee Loop

The luckless KCs were the victims twice during the past week as the Lions' and St. Joseph's kids fattened their percentages in the Little League loop. The Lions won 17-4 and the Joes 14-3.

In last Friday night's tussle the Lions took a 9 run lead in the first inning and extended their margin beyond 10 runs by the end of the fifth. Mullins, the winning hurler, fanned 7 and walked 3 while allowing 5 hits. Huchtons for the KCs got 8 strikeouts while giving up 7 walks and 12 hits. Leading hitters for the Lions were: Flusche 3 singles, Monday a single and a triple, and Otto a single and a double. Leading KC hitters were Virgil and Dennis Hess with 2 singles each.

The St. Joseph's kids, playing the KCs Tuesday night, had he game sewed up, then brought it to a sudden and dramatic close with a 3-run homer by Donny Hess in the sixth. With the score standing at 14-3, the game automatically came to an end there. Virgil Hess pitched for the KCs giving up 7 walks and 5 hits and fanning 9. Pat Knabe for St. Joseph's struck out 11, walked one and allowed 3 hits. Hits for St. Joseph's were the homer by Hess, a double by Reiter and singles by Danglmayr, Knabe and Wilson. Hits for the KCs were singles by Huchtons, Wimmer and Dale Hess.

Next on the Pee Wee schedule are VFW and Lions Friday night and Lions and VFW Tuesday.

State Payments to Disabled Persons Are Expected Soon

Complete and permanent invalids or persons in the community so mentally deranged that they require continuous oversight to keep from harming themselves or others may soon be able to receive small monthly checks from their State Department of Public Welfare through the new state-federal program of Aid to the Permanently and Totally Disabled. The Constitutional Amendment, which was adopted by the voters in November 1956, limiting the amount of money that can be appropriated for this program to 1.5 million dollars per year, makes aid possible only to those who are helpless and have no relatives able to support them.

Joe H. Bowers, Welfare Supervisor for this area, pointed out this is the only welfare program which requires consideration of the ability of relatives to support. This law defines "responsible relatives" as children, parents, stepchildren, stepparents, brothers and sisters. Mr. Bowers said that for the first time in nearly 20 years the Department's Field Workers will be required by law to determine the resources of relatives of persons who apply for aid.

The "permanency" and "totality" of the disability will be determined by a State Reviewing Physician after study of complete physical or mental examination by the person's own private physician. Complete helplessness from a medical standpoint, rather than an inability to work, is the criteria. The state will pay the private physician for his examination.

Funds for assistance payments will not be available until September 1, 1957, but applications will be taken July 15. While the helpless individual will not be able to leave home, the persons responsible for his care may come to the local welfare office and acquaint the Department with his situation. A Field Worker will then call, as soon as possible, at the home to take the application.

The offices serving the residents of Cooke County are located in the southwest corner of the basement of the County Courthouse, Gainesville, Texas.

RETURN FROM TRIP

Mr. and Mrs. Emmet Fette have returned from a trip to California where they attended the annual convention of production leaders in the Franklin Life Insurance company at Coronado Beach. They went sight-seeing in several cities and visited places of tourist interest going and returning.

The convention program included many interesting features of entertainment such as a harbor cruise and a visit to Disney Land. In Montebello the couple visited his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Len Morris, in San Diego they were guests of the Joe Hoedebecks and went sight-seeing with them, at Alhambra they visited the Bob Hefners—Mrs. Hefner is the former Hulda Kuntz of Lindsay—a tour of Hollywood pointed out the homes of movie stars, and they saw the Forest Lawn Mausoleum at Glendale. In Albuquerque they exchanged greetings with the Frank Hennigans and other friends, in Seymour they stopped for a visit with the Gene Carters and in Douglas, Ariz., they were guests of friends and former neighbors. They were gone two weeks on the 3000 mile trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene LaGesse and daughter of Fort Worth were weekend visitors with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Endres.

Feet of Clay

A gentleman from the Pacific Coast who had to spend some time in Washington, D. C. recently, trying to get consideration of needed harbor improvements for his community, came home a disillusioned man. He said:

"Every move made in Washington is based on politics first—facts second." That is a pretty rough statement but the evidence leads one to believe that it is not too much exaggerated.

A late and glaring example is the very evident swapping of votes by the "Civil Rights"—"Hell's Canyon" Senator to pass their pet bills. Apparently principles involved in both issues were of secondary consideration—lawmakers on either side could change their votes as easily as a snake shed its skin.

It is a sad experience for a citizen to see the feet of his public servants whom he has considered a cut above ward politicians, suddenly turn to clay. Who would knowingly have dealings with a man, who followed these tactics in private business transactions?

Contented Cows

The constant aim of collectivism is to reduce the human species to the status of contented cows—that can be milked for all they are worth. And, to a limited extent, collectivism seems to be successful in this—as long as the fodder is better than that aforesaid and is liberally sprinkled with promises of still better silage to come.

There are, of course, two things wrong with this setup. The provender more and more fails to come up to the promises. And there are always at least a few people who refuse to be cowed into being cows—and who keep reminding their fellow humans that they are people, not cattle.

Basically, of course, few, if any, human beings are, for long, content to be cows—regardless of how modern the barns or how good the food. Ultimately, practically all of them rebel and declare, "I'd rather be a discontented human than a contented cow." That is why collectivism, in the end, always collapses and Liberty Enlightening the World continues to shine through the darkest night until the daystar dawns.

Our acreage of productive farm land is declining by about 4,000 acres a day. This means that while we are each year adding to our population a figure equivalent to the population of Los Angeles, we are taking out of production an amount of land equivalent to the state of Delaware.

The Tax on Bread

If you are the sort of reader who props his paper up against something at the table so that you can manage your toast and eggs while you read, consider this as you bite into the toast:

Taxes bit your bread before you did. Tax Foundation, private research organization, started with a loaf of bread. It was decided to limit the count to federal, state and local taxes paid by the ingredients and railroads which hauled these materials. The survey turned up 151 identifiable direct taxes. And you paid them all when you bought the bread.

Nor is that all. The farmer pays taxes and receives tax money indirectly through price support and soil bank contracts. His machinery involves more taxes. So does the machinery that made that machinery and so on. One economist figures that a single loaf of bread contains in its price a load of more than 10,000 to 50,000 hidden taxes.

Let us hope your loaf still tastes good. —Dallas News.

"It's better to give than to lend—and it costs about the same." —Tennessee Ernie.

"When a girl looks at a guy and says, 'O, brother!', you can be sure he isn't." —Ima Washout.

If more city folks would eat a good "farmer's breakfast" of fruit, cereal, meat, eggs, toast and milk instead of the commuter's special of a roll and coffee, we would be well on our way toward solving our surplus problem. —Charles B. Shuman, Pres., American Farm Bureau Federation.

Fear Tornados? Highway Is Worse

AUSTIN — "If you're afraid of being killed by a tornado, then you'd better stay off the highways," warns James H. Garner, Deputy Coordinator Division of Defense and Disaster Relief. "Statistics," Garner points out, "prove that the automobile is 187 times more dangerous than a tornado. In the 41 years that records have been kept by the Weather Bureau, tornadoes are credited with killing 8,984 people. Last year alone, 40,200 lost their lives in the slaughter on our highways."

The trademark is almost as old as trade itself. It was known in Crete, scene of Europe's most ancient civilization. And thousands of years ago Egyptian law required that every brick be marked so that the brickyard worker and even the individual slave brickmaker could be readily identified and held responsible for the product.

Appeal To A Higher Court

By James Saxon Childers, former editor of THE ATLANTA JOURNAL

On October 14, 1949, one of the longest and most bitterly contested trials in the annals of U. S. judicial history was concluded.

IN THE U. S. District Court for the Southern District of New York, after several hours of deliberation, a jury of eight women and four men found eleven members of the Communist Party in the U. S. guilty under the Smith Act of 1940.

The story of those harrowing months of trial has been told many times. Clever defense attorneys pulled every trick in the books to delay the trial and harass the judge. But recently Judge Harold R. Medina, the judge who presided at the celebrated trial, has added to the story.

Childers

"DURING THE TRIAL," Judge Medina said, "every effort was made to break my spirit and break my mind. The time came, one afternoon, when I weakened. Sitting there on the bench, I felt I couldn't go on. I was sick and exhausted. I admitted that I was unwell and I recessed court for a short time. "It was easy to see how the Communists and their lawyers received the news. I could almost hear them say: 'Now, at last, we've broken him. We've got him.'"

"AND MAYBE they did have me, so long as I was alone. But I went into my small room and I took my case to a higher court. I made my plea, asking for strength beyond my strength, for wisdom beyond my own."

"And my prayer was answered. I went back into the courtroom with certainty that I could do my job. Neither the Communists nor their lawyers disturbed me; only the law and justice were my concern."

JUDGE MEDINA said that he told this story a time or two, and it became well known. "Then," he said, "I traveled over the country, and, repeatedly, judges came to me and told of praying before they went into court. Other judges told of entering their courtrooms with prayer on their lips. All were asking for courage and clarity."

"And, I say to you, that wherever the spirit of God is in our courtrooms, we need have no doubt that there, too, are justice and persistent mercy."

The consumer's Index indicates that in 1939 the purchasing power of the American dollar was slightly more than 100 cents. All during World War II it dropped until by January 1953 it had reached a low of 52 cents. There it stopped and for three years was stable at that point, but then it discouragingly began to drop again and has steadily gone downward and by March of this year had reached 50.1 cents. The big question is where will it finally level off? Some of the currencies of Europe have decreased in value to where it virtually takes a wheel-barrow load of money to purchase a copy of the morning paper.

Viola Mae Flusche Joe Schmidkofer Marry in Decatur

Viola Mae Flusche and Joseph Lawrence Schmidkofer exchanged marriage vows during a nuptial high mass in Assumption church in Decatur Saturday morning, July 13, at 9 o'clock with Father C. Glogowski officiating at the mass and double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Flusche of Decatur, formerly of Muenster, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Schmidkofer of Lindsay.

Della Flusche, the bride's cousin, organist, and the church choir furnished the wedding music. White gladioli and greenery adorned the candle lighted altar. After mass the couple went to the Blessed Virgin's shrine where the bride placed a bouquet of yellow carnations on the altar.

Given in marriage by her father, Viola wore an original Chantilly lace and tulle gown over satin. The figurine bodice with its Peter Pan collar and long petal point sleeves was detailed with seed pearls and iridescent paillettes. The full circular skirt fell gracefully to waltz length.

The bride's circular veil of illusion was shoulder length and was attached to a tiara of seed pearls and iridescent paillettes. She carried a purple orchid on a pearl prayer book, a gift from the groom. Her pearl necklace was also a gift from the groom, presented at her graduation from Decatur High school in May.

Carrying out traditional wedding sentiment she wore an antique ring which the groom's grandmother wore at her wedding in 1892, borrowed a blue rosary from the groom's mother, and wore a sixpence in her shoe.

Mrs. James Flusche of Decatur, the bride's sister-in-law, was matron of honor; Evelyn Flusche, the bride's sister, and Rosina Hess of Muenster and Alice Voht

Saint Henry's Day Reunion Draws 250 Of Fuhrmann Kin

St. Henry's Day, Monday, again brought together members of the Fuhrmann families for their annual reunion. It was the 49th year of the traditional observance and more than 250 kinfolks were present. They brought covered dishes for the evening meal. The get-together took place in the Lindsay Hall.

Since 1908 this gathering has been a festive occasion every year — with the exception of a very few times — on or as near as possible July 15, St. Henry's Day. It originated as a homecoming for family members and was held in earlier years in the home of Henry Fuhrmann. Although Mr. Fuhrmann died 23 years ago, his children and grandchildren have kept the tradition alive.

Eleven of the Fuhrmann children are living and ten of them attended the reunion, along with their children and grandchildren. Only Mrs. Max Koessler of Vinita, Okla., was prevented from being there.

In attendance were Rev. Joseph Fuhrmann of Fort Worth, Matt, Mike, Joe, Tony, Henry S. and Willie Fuhrmann and Mrs. Charles Loerwald, all of Lindsay, Mrs. Alfons Koessler of Muenster and Mrs. A. C. Flusche of Denison.

Joining the relationship from a wide area were the following priests: Rev. Alois Fuhrmann of Subiaco, Rev. Fred Mosman of Dallas, Rev. Bruno Fuhrmann of Altus, Ark., Rev. Mark Burger and Rev. Ignatius Bodmeyer of Fort Worth, Rev. Andrew Wewer of Clarksville, Ark., and Rev. Conrad Herda of Lindsay.

During a short business session the group discussed plans for next year's observance which will be the golden anniversary of the event. Plans for that celebration include a solemn high mass in the morning.

of Lindsay, close friends of the bride, were bridesmaids. Mrs. Flusche wore a ballerina bouffant of crystalline over taffeta in French blue and the three other attendants had identical frocks in copen blue. Their mitts matched their dresses and their headpieces were bands of yellow flowers. They carried fan shaped bouquets of yellow gladioli. Their rhinestone necklaces and earrings were gifts from the bride.

James Flusche was best man and groomsmen were Leroy Schmidkofer, the groom's brother who is a seaman in the Navy, and Lambert Hess and Leroy Neu of Lindsay, cousins of the couple.

Herbert Schmidkofer and Albert Zimmerer of Lindsay were ushers.

Jerry Flusche, their bride's young brother, and Charles Flusche, her cousin, were mass servers.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Flusche wore a navy two piece silk shantung dress with navy and white accessories. Mrs. Schmidkofer, mother of the groom, wore a grey printed dress with white accessories. Both had corsages of white pom pom mums.

Immediately after the church service the bride's parents were hosts for a reception in the Lions Hall. Mrs. Herbert Schmidkofer of Lindsay presided at the cake. Glenda Jones and Betty Mosley served the punch. Rosalie Schmidkofer, sister of the groom, and Dorothy Pennartz registered the guests.

At noon dinner was served to immediate members of both families and a wedding dance in the Muenster VFW hall concluded the day's festivities. When the newlyweds left on a wedding trip along the Gulf of Mexico she was wearing a navy princess dress with pink and white accessories and the orchid she carried at the ceremony.

After they return they will make their home at 406 West Garnett in Gainesville. He is employed by National Supply company. He attended Lindsay school and was in the Marines three years serving with the First Marine Division in Korea.

Above all, let's see that they are no longer available to kids.

Helper Starts at Wolf Barber Shop

Two barbers are on duty now at Lou Wolf's barber shop. The newcomer is Troy Mitchell, a native of Gainesville, who started at Lou's Monday morning.

The new arrangement is a permanent one, and Mitchell plans to move his wife and six children here within a few weeks . . . at least before the next school term opens.

Because of the addition, patrons of the shop can expect better service in at least two ways, Lou said. At crowded times both barbers will be on duty. In slack periods the men will alternate in order to open earlier and close later. New hours at the shop are 7 to 7, and it will remain open during the noon hour.

Alfons Schmitz and his mother Mrs. Mary Schmitz of Valley View and her sister Mrs. Louise Dagnan and her daughter and husband of Dorchester visited Mr. and Mrs. John Schmitz Sunday.

Alvin Fleitman, Herbie Fleitman and Gilbert Bindel are leaving Friday for Oregon where they will be employed.
