They visited the NTPA milk plant, the Muenster Telephone Company and the Muenster Enterprise. At each place they learned about the business and were conducted around by those in charge of the establishments.

Mrs. Walterscheid was having her last visit with the troop. She has resigned as leader and Mrs. Lindsay is taking over in her place.

Mrs. Ted Gremminger Named NCCW Head At St. Anne's Meeting

Mrs. Ted Gremminger replaces Mrs. Paul Fisher as parish NCCW president, and Mrs. Leo Henschel continues as treasurer for another term. The appointments were made Sunday afternoon during the monthly meeting of the St. Anne's Society. Mrs. Fisher who declined re-election has served as local president for the past five years.

St. Anne's Society, with 79 members present for the session in the parochial grade school auditorium, discussed plans for the district meeting of the Catholic State League to be held here in May and scheduled a joint social with members of St. Joseph's Society for June selecting that month so as not to interfere with end of school activities on the calendar in May.

Father Patrick Hannon, spiritual director, continued his series of talks on virtue and at future meetings will answer questions asked by members. A question box will be provided for this purpose.

Mrs. Joe Swirczynski, parish mission chairman, said she has about 20 hospital shirts ready for shipment to St. Joseph's Mission in Hereford.

Mrs. Victor Hartman, president, conducted the meeting and Mrs. M. J. Endres won the attendance prize, a miniature religious shadow box.

Bible Class Meets With Mrs. Lindsay

Mrs. W. R. Lindsay was hostess in her home for the regular meeting of the Bible Study Class of Saint Jo Methodist church Thursday night. Rev. Dick Raines, pastor of the church, led the lesson from Genesis.

Present were Messrs. and Mmes. Charles Cunningham, D. C. Jones, Paul Tracy, Leonard Owen and Lindsay and Mrs. Charles Davidson.

Mrs. Steve Markham and sons Buddy and Basil of Houston, former residents, were here for a visit with the T. Millers and other friends Sunday through Tuesday. Mr. Markham died of a heart attack about a year ago.

Basketball Girls Get New Jackets

Smiling faces greeted the arrival of the basketball girls' jackets at Muenster High.

Nine girls including the team manager received the attractive red and white awards. Six of the girls are seniors, leaving only three returning lettermen for next year.

White leather trims the wool jackets, three inch strips diverging from the shoulder seam to the conjunction of the jacket and collar. White leather also trims the pockets. Three-dimensional styled letters highlight the front. The letter contains the bars representing the years lettered and the initials for manager and a star for captain according to the girl's accomplishments.

REGULATION GOES WITH SUBSIDIZATION

A recognized authority in his field, Roger A. Freeman, formerly Research Director of the Education Committee of the U. S. Commission on Intergovernmental Relations, refutes a number of commonly held conceptions concerning the nation's schools.

One fallacy he cites is that schools are being discriminated against in the allocation of public funds. Actually, education has for many years been the largest item of public expenditure in this country, save only for the national defense. The United States spends a larger share of its national income on schools than any other country of record.

Another fallacy is that the teacher shortage grows worse and worse. The teacher-pupil ratio in 1900 was one to 36.7, in 1930 it was one to 30.1, and in 1955 it was one to 26.9. He adds, "Much of the teacher shortage is due to inefficient use of the available teachers."

Another fallacy — and an extremely important one today — is that the states and communities lack the fiscal capacity to meet school needs. So the federal government must provide support. Mr. Freeman quotes the Education Committee with which he was associated as reporting no state is unable to support an adequate school system, and that federal aid is not necessary.

Finally, Mr. Freeman points out that if the government is going to pay for the schools, it is ultimately going to run them. As a U.S. Supreme Court decision said in 1942: "It is hardly lack of due process for the government to regulate that which it subsidizes."

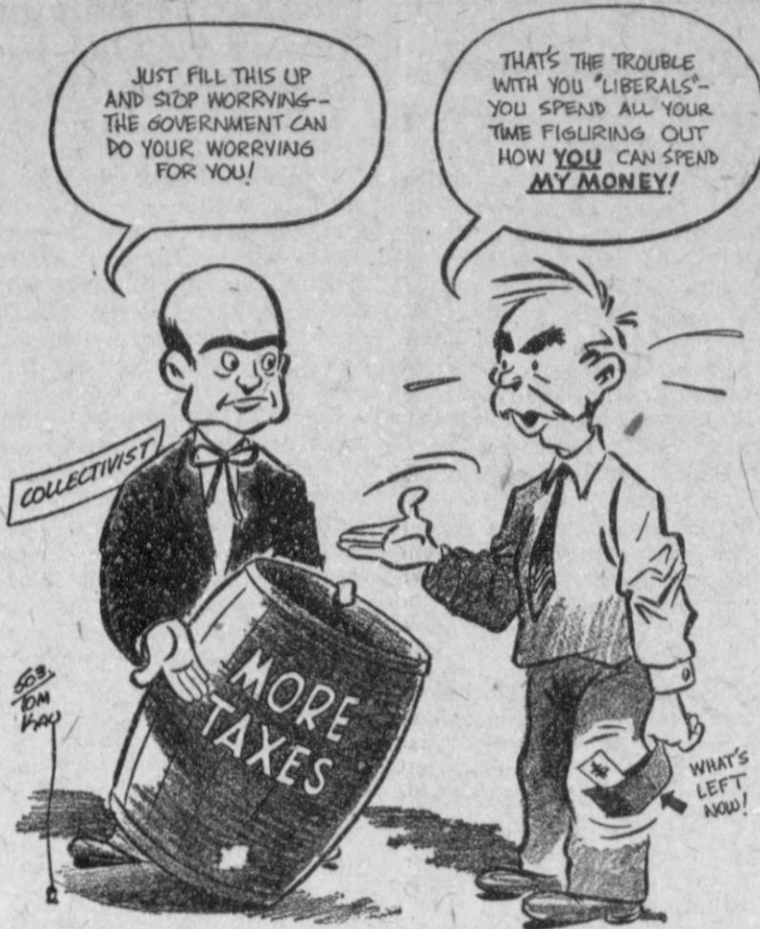

STRANGER THAN FICTION

The government has just put out a two bit pocket book with a plot as fascinating as any you'll find at your favorite news-stand. It's called "The Federal Budget in Brief" and you can get a copy by sending your quarter to the superintendent of documents, United States government printing office, Washington 25, D.C.

The story is about a supposedly rich uncle named Sam who is sort of like the man who came to dinner. Uncle Sam lives off the money earned by the poor hero, whose name is Taxpayer. And he keeps spending more and more of Taxpayer's money, all the time explaining that it is for Taxpayer's own good. Every time Taxpayer complains that he can't afford to have any more good done for him, Uncle promises to start economizing right away soon.

At one point Taxpayer asks if maybe he couldn't have just a little of his own money back in the form of a tax cut, Uncle sorrowfully says no. He would like to, he says, but things are pretty expensive now. Besides, there are all these new and wonderful projects which Taxpayer has been demanding and which have to be paid for first. —Pittsburg Press.

In 1900 U.S. boaster 8,000 cars. Today, there are over 52,000,000.

Prefers to Do His Own Worrying

BAD BUSINESS

The following is from National Review: "The New Jersey Taxpayers Association says New Jersey wants no help from the federal government for school construction. Testifying before the House Education and Labor Committee, the group pointed out that New Jersey would have to pay out $2.33 for every dollar received under one proposed bill and $1.41 under a second."

In other words, federal aid to the states of this kind is a bad financial proposition. It is also bad for a far more important reason. If the Federal government is to do everything and administer everything, the logical course is to forget state and local rights and responsibilities and accept the super-government philosophy in toto.

PEOPLE WANT TO BE PEOPLE

Joseph Alsop warns that Soviet military-industrial power is growing, and that we must not lag behind in the race.

At the same time, he finds grounds for long-range hope. Here, in his words, is why: "The Soviet failure, which has only been really proven in the last year, is the failure to produce the famous 'new Soviet man' so long envisaged by the Kremlin's masters. The moral laws have not been repealed in the Soviet Union, even although they were temporarily suspended by sheer terror. Men and women

Calvary Belongs To Everybody

By Bishop Fulton J. Sheen

THERE ARE certain things in life which are too beautiful to be forgotten, such as the love of one's mother. Hence we treasure her picture. The love of soldiers who sacrifice themselves for their country is likewise too beautiful to be forgotten, hence we revere that memory on Memorial Day.

But the greatest blessing which ever came to this earth was the visitation of the Son of God in the form of man. That life is above all lives too beautiful to be forgotten. Hence we treasure the divinity of His words in Sacred Scripture, and the charity of His deeds in our daily actions.

Sheen

UNFORTUNATELY, this is all some people remember — His words and His deeds. Important as these are, they are not the greatest characteristic of the divine Savior. The most sublime act in the history of Christ was His death.

Death is always important for it seals a destiny. Any dying man is a scene. Any dying scene is a sacred place. But of all deaths in the record of man, none was more important than the death of Christ. Everyone else who was ever born into the world, came into it to live: Our Lord came into it to die.

AND WHY did Christ die? He Himself told us that he came

"to give His life a redemption for many."

Christ's death belongs to all times and to all places. That is why, when He ascended the heights of Calvary, He was fittingly stripped of His garments: He would save the world without the trappings of the world. Adam lost his innocence and hence sought to clothe himself to hide the foulness of the temple of his body. Our Lord kept His innocence, so He had no need of clothing that covers shame.

CHRIST'S GARMENTS belonged to time, for they localized Him, and fixed Him as a dweller in Galilee. Now that He was shorn of them to be utterly dispossessed of earthly things, He belonged not to Galilee, not to a Roman province, but to the world. He became the universal poor man of the world. Henceforth He would belong to no one people, but to all men.

To express further the universality of the redemption, the cross was erected at the crossroads of civilization. It was set at a central point between the three great cultures of Jerusalem, Rome, and Athens, in whose names He was crucified.

THIS WAS placarded before the eyes of men, to arrest the careless, to appeal to the thoughtless, to arouse the worldly. It was the one inescapable fact the cultures and civilizations of His day could not resist.

It is also the one inescapable fact of our day which we cannot resist. Christ died that all men might live.

Here's what makes it a new kind of Ford

The frame is wider... wheels are lower
(Lets you ride swcat and low)

Never before has a low-priced car hugged the road so well. Partly, it's because the frame is sturdier. Partly, it's because the wheels are smaller. Partly, it's the way front and rear suspensions take tilt out of turns. Mostly, it's because there's a whole new smoother-riding quieter-going "Inner Ford."

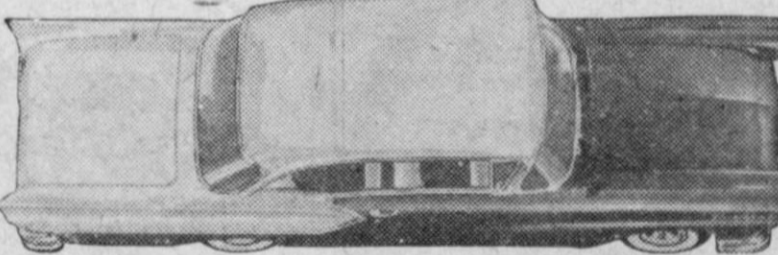

The power is bigger
(Most power in Ford's 25 years of V-8 leadership)

And what a V-8 engine! You can have the kind of Thunderbird power that smashed records at Daytona... set a new stock car mark at Indianapolis... traveled 50,000 miles in just 20 days at Bonneville, Utah!

The comfort is greater
(You've never had it so plush)

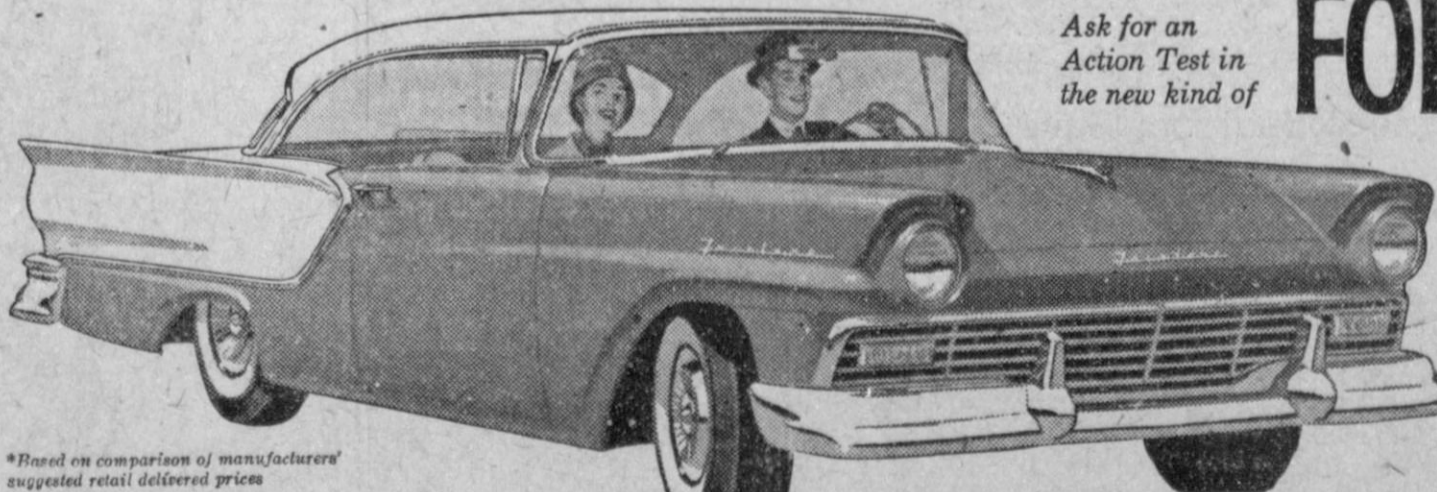

You sit in the lap of luxury. There's head room, hip room, leg room galore. And wait till you get a load of those new upholsteries and color schemes!

The body is "beefier"
(Up to 9 inches longer, 4 inches lower, with full head room, full road clearance)

From top to floor, front to rear, this body is built like a "battleship." You ride surrounded by new strength.

...and best of all it's the lowest priced of the low-price three!

GARDEN DISCOVERY CUTS WATERING, ELIMINATES WEEDS

A "magic" roll of black plastic film called Kordimulch which eliminates weeds, speeds the growth of plants and cuts down watering is now available to the home gardener. The new garden mulch may be used year after year, and a roll sufficient to cover an 18-by-18 foot garden costs $5.95. Black plastic mulch, hailed as the new "gardeners' friend" has been tested, at such prominent agricultural centers as Cornell University, the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station, Mississippi State College, Oregon State College and the University of Florida.

The black plastic film may be used with flowers, vegetables, or shrubs. Test results show an enormous increase in the yield of plants grown through the black plastic.

The user lays the Kordimulch over the spaded garden, anchors it with stones or piles of dirt, slits the plastic film with a razor blade, knife or scissors and plants through it into the dirt below. The mulch may be left on the ground after the growing season, and can be re-used again and again. The long-suffering gardener can look forward to no weeding and no watering.

Cooke DHIA Leads State Associations With Milk, BF Record

Cooke County Dairy Herd Improvement Association topped the list of Texas DHIA groups in production of both milk and butterfat when statistics for February were tabulated. Just released, the summary for the month shows the Cooke county cows leading the herds of 24 state DHIA groups.

The cows became champions by producing an average of 34 pounds of butterfat and 870 pounds of milk.

A total of 344 herds were tested and 14,892 cows were milked. The state average pounds of milk per was 680 with butterfat averaging 28 pounds.

Reports on the county association for March show the J. L. Masten herd in first place with 55 pounds of butterfat and 1580 pounds of milk.

Following the champs is the herd of Hoedebeck and Myers, second in butterfat production with 49 pounds, and tied for third place in milk production with the H. F. Schniederjan herd at 1240 pounds. Pete Prescher's cows were third in butterfat with 45 pounds and second in milk production with 1350 pounds.

Twenty-three member herds were tested and 651 cows were milked. Of these 252 produced 50 or more pounds of butterfat with average milk production at 998 pounds and butterfat at 36 pounds per cow.

Carl Kemplin and Jerry Vernon are supervisors of the association.

More Teeth Given To Hot Check Law

AUSTIN — An amendment to the Texas "hot check" law that makes employers liable for paying their employees with checks that "bounce" has been signed into law by Gov. Price Daniel.

Charles T. Lux, executive vice-president of the Retail Merchants Association of Texas, said the new amendment closes a loophole in the "hot check" law. "Until this amendment was signed, a retail business or any other place of business that accepted worthless checks presented in good faith by workers had practically no legal recourse to recover its loss," Lux said.

"Now under the new amendment employers who give checks that prove to be 'hot' are subject to criminal prosecution and may be fined up to $2,000 and sent to jail for 30 days if the amount involved is less than $50. If the amount of the worthless check is more than $50, then the penalty is from two to ten years in prison and a fine up to $10,000."

Lux said there were several hundred cases in Texas last year where employers paid off their workers with worthless checks causing the places that cashed these checks to lose many thousands of dollars.

Prosecution of these cases under the Texas "hot check" law was difficult because provisions did not cover checks given as wages or salaries for services.

Periodic Check-up Detects Ailments In Early Stages

AUSTIN — When President Teddy Roosevelt ordered periodic health examinations for all army officers in 1908, he started what has since become recognized as one of the most vital single phases of health promotion.

A "periodic check-up" is simply a careful study of a presumably healthy person. It should be performed regularly once a year, preferably by the family physician as a means of detecting disease or body malfunction in an early stage. Early treatment not only reduces suffering, but it can also prevent some diseases from becoming chronic, and perhaps incurable.

Besides detecting disease at an early stage before it becomes too painful or too deep rooted, the check-up can serve as a basis for better health practices for the patient and his family. The physician can discuss such problems as diet, exercise, rest, work and play habits, and other activities that affect health. He can make a tentative appraisal of the patient's need for psychotherapy, and educate him toward a better understanding of himself.

How often and what type examination should be given varies with the patient's age, sex, occupation, heredity, past health, place of residence, and economic status. Says the American Academy of Pediatrics:

"The normally healthy infant should be checked about every six weeks during the first year; every three months during the second year; and once a year from the sixth to the twelfth year." Most medical authorities believe that from about 12 years up to age 40 or 45, annual health check-ups are adequate. After 45 some doctors advise examinations every nine months. These time schedules, keep in mind, are suggested for normal persons without serious or chronic illness.

No single examining routine can be applied to all persons, but all check-ups include a medical history, the actual physical examination, and certain laboratory and x-ray procedures.

The medical history gives the doctor clues as to what he should be especially alert for. It will include such things as family, social and occupational habits, past illnesses, and present symptoms. Armed with this advance knowledge of his patient, the doctor can frequently detect the possibility of disease long before abnormal physical signs become apparent to the patient.

Part of the examination will include a check for birthmarks and moles with cancer potentialities, particularly on body areas subject to repeated irritation. A blood-sugar test may also be included if there is a family history of diabetes.

MEMORIAL TO MONSIGNOR GLEISSNER. The new St. Mary's Chapel at College Station, Texas, which is to be a memorial to the late Monsignor J. B. Gleissner, the Aggie Chaplain, is under construction.

The Chapel will be the fulfillment of the dream of "Father" Gleissner who spent 46 years of his priestly life as Chaplain and close friend of his "beloved Aggies." It is to be of colonial style in accordance with the wish of the Monsignor and the structure is planned to be as solid as the faith and character of the man to whom it will be dedicated. Basically, it will be of steel and masonry construction. The exterior will be a beautiful shade of red brick with tall, graceful wooden columns supporting the entry portico and flanked with a gleaming white porcelain enamel tower 90 feet tall.

A memorial plaque designating the dedication of the Chapel to Monsignor Gleissner will be placed on the front of the building. Cost of the structure will be approximately $280,000.00. R. B. Butler, Inc. of Bryan is general contractor. W. E. Kutzschbach, Co. of Bryan, mechanical and William E. Nash of Bryan, Architect.

The building is to be paid for by the many friends of the late Monsignor Gleissner, the Ex-Aggies who had the blessing of his guidance, their parents, present Aggies and their families.

Any of the past students of Aggieland, friends of Monsignor Gleissner and other interested persons may send their donations to St. Mary's Chapel Building Fund, Box 850, College Station, Texas.

Power brakes may stop a car about $100 to get the rear end on a dime — but it usually costs fixed.

would have returned China to control of our allies, the Nationalists. It would have stopped the advance of communism in the other countries that have since gone red or "neutral" in favor of the Reds.

Other conditions would have been affected also. With communism checked in the Orient, it would have made less progress in the Middle East. Most likely several or all the satellites would have broken away from the Russians by now.

The obvious fact is that MacArthur and the men of his political and moral convictions would have followed a much stronger pro-American course rather than the internationalist course followed by Ike and his advisers. Looking back we can see that many golden opportunities were fizzled away. Looking forward we wonder whether the mistake has already gone too far, and if not, whether the nation can re-organize politically for a comeback.

It's time for people to be thinking about that. It's time for the straight thinking political leaders to start organizing for the election of an administration with old time American standards. It's very important that men who think like MacArthur start working now... for changes in present policies and also in 1960 personnel.
