JAPAN BOMBED

Mrs. Bettie Michels Dies In Rhineland Friday Morning

Mother of Mrs. August Friske; Spent Past Twelve Summers Here

Mrs. Bettie Michels, 85, mother of Mrs. August Friske of this city, died at Rhineland, Texas, last Friday morning at 4 o'clock following an illness of several weeks. Funeral services were held from the Catholic church of that community on Saturday morning at 10 o'clock with the pastor, Rev. Herman Laux, officiating at the requiem mass and at the burial.

Relatives from this city attending the funeral were Mrs. Friske, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Luke and daughter, Alma Marie, and Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Friske and daughter, Norman Luke of the U. S. Naval Air Base, Dallas, came in Friday evening to accompany his parents to Rhineland for the service.

Mrs. Michels was well known in this community. She spent the past twelve summers here with her daughter.

She was born in Bastrop county on August 11, 1856 and was Miss Bettie Nink before her marriage to John Michels in 1876. She spent her entire lifetime in Texas. Her husband died some thirty years ago.

She was the mother of five children, four of whom survive: Mrs. Friske, Mrs. Walter Eschberger and Mrs. Henry Matzka of Robstown, and Henry Michels of Munday. In addition to rearing her own children she reared two grandsons, John and Eugene Michels, whose mother died when they were small boys. Her time was divided in making her home with her children and the two grandsons for the past twelve years. It was at the home of John Michels that she passed away.

She is also survived by 17 grandchildren and 28 great-grandchildren. Except for the past year, following an illness, Mrs. Michels was active and delighted in helping her family and neighbors whenever the occasion presented itself. She was particularly fond of knitting and crocheting and pieced many quilts during her leisure hours. She lived to see the United States engaged in four wars, the Civil, the Spanish-American, World War I, and the present conflict.

Richard Wilde Opens Service Station In Former Luke Building

During the weekend Richard Wilde opened a garage and service station in the building on the corner of Main and Highway 82, where Anthony Luke formerly had his service station. Wilde is assisted by Herbert McDaniel as mechanic in the shop department. The place of business is called the R-W Service Station.

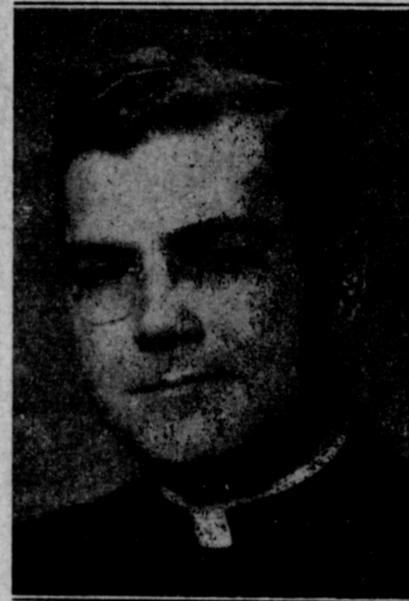

Mr. Wilde stated that the shop is equipped to handle all types of automobile repair work. He handles a full line of popular makes of automobile parts and Texaco and Bell products. He invites the public to visit him.

PHOTO LETTERS

The British have inaugurated a photo-letter service to speed delivery of mail from soldiers in Middle East. Messages are written on a standard letter form, photographed on small film and delivered to England by air. In London the film is printed on paper four by five and a half inches, and mailed to addresses indicated. Some 4,500 "airgraphs" weigh only a pound. The same number of ordinary letters weighing 150 pounds would have to be delivered by sea.

Fire kills skilled workers, endangers morale, halts production, consumes irreplaceable goods.

SPEAKER

—Rev. Francis Zimmerer, pastor of St. Mary's church, Windthorst, will deliver the commencement address at the graduation exercises of the Sacred Heart High School on the evening of May 1.

Contributions Being Solicited For Navy Relief

This week, beginning last Sunday and continuing until next Sunday, has been proclaimed Navy Relief week. Cooke county's quota set by Attorney General Gerald C. Mann, state chairman, is $600.00. No special quota was set for Muenster but according to calculations based on population, this community's share in the drive would be approximately $60.

Joe M. Leonard of Gainesville is county chairman, and Muenster contributions should be brought or mailed to the Muenster State Bank.

"In contributing to the Navy Relief Society, you are contributing greatly to the winning of the war, not to mention the gratification which must come from the knowledge that you are helping those who are risking their lives for you", said Admiral Harold R. Stark.

The money goes to widows, orphans and other members of the Navy man's family in times of suffering and hardship. The Society gives immediate aid when necessary after a Navy man dies from any cause, gives help in emergency operations and medical treatment in the family, provides aid to the Navy man's dependents who need care and help in the education of dependent young.

A gift to this fund is a tribute to the fighting American fleet, its men and their families. A whole-hearted response is expected from Muenster citizens.

Public school children of the county will contribute their mite to this fund. Solicitations are being made at Gainesville, Muenster, Valley View, Lindsay and Dexter by volunteer workers. All local donations will be handled by the Muenster State Bank and turned over to the county chairman at the end of the week.

Muenster Women Busy Sewing For Red Cross

A group of Muenster women were busy on Tuesday and Wednesday cutting garments for the Red Cross. The assignment for the current project is woolen skirts for girls. Sixty-nine were cut out and are being distributed to women of the community for completing.

For those who have not taken out a garment, it was mentioned that they can be obtained at the home of Mrs. Jim Cook. Finished skirts are to be left at the Cook home also. Mrs. G. H. Hellman is chairman of the local sewing room.

Mrs. T. P. Frost this week received Mrs. Hellman of some of the details connected with the sewing room by taking over the knitting department. She has distributed wool and other yarns to another group of women.

CORRECTION

It's the North Texas District meeting of the Catholic State League that will be held at Windthorst on May 5, and not the annual general convention, as was mentioned in this paper last week. The Enterprise is glad to make this correction.

The commencement address, a highlight of graduation week, will be given by Rev. Francis Zimmerer, O. S. B., pastor of Saint Mary's church, Windthorst, and former assistant pastor here.

The presentation of diplomas will be made by Rev. Frowin Koerd, O. S. B., pastor.

The program will open with the processional, "Freedom", by the Muenster Youth Band, under the direction of Rev. Richard Ewald, O. S. B., assistant pastor, and the welcome address by Miss Celia Walterscheid. The next number will be a recitation, "Here Etdeth, Here Beginneeth", by the senior boys. This will be followed by the class song and the address by Rev. Zimmerer.

A selection by the Youth Band, "Pledge of the Graduates", a recitation by Miss Beatrice Reiter, and the class poem by Miss Florene Endres, will precede the presentation of diplomas. A recitation "Our Flag" by Miss Miriam Koesler, and a flag salute by the seniors, followed by a vocal duet by Misses Rose and Mary Nell Hennigan, will close the program. The recessional, "Auld Lang Syne", will be played by the Youth Band.

The graduating class this year is composed of Misses Florene Endres, Miriam Koesler, Rose Hennigan, Beatrice Reiter and Celia Walterscheid, and Alfred Beyer, Leo Becker, Martin Becker and Joe Starke.

The public is cordially invited to attend the exercises.

On the evening of April 27 Class Night will be held for the students, their parents and friends.

WINDTHORST WILL OBSERVE MAY 5th AS JUBILEE DAY

Rev. Francis Zimmerer, pastor of Saint Mary's church, Windthorst, and general chairman of the Golden Jubilee celebration of that parish, which will take place on May 5, has this week extended an invitation to all citizens of Muenster to attend the services and program on that day.

The program begins at 9:30 with a band concert followed at 10 o'clock by a pontifical high mass with Rt. Rev. Paul M. Nahlon, O. S. B., abbot of New Subiaco abbey, officiating in the presence of the Most Rev. Joseph P. Lynch, bishop of the diocese of Dallas. The jubilee sermon will be delivered by Rev. Albert Schreiber, O. S. B., of Corpus Christi College-Academy.

At one o'clock dinner will be served in the K of C hall and during the afternoon there will be a general get-together with homecoming celebrations. From 3 to 5 p. m. a meeting of the North Texas District of the Catholic State League will take place.

At 8 o'clock p. m., an entertainment program will be presented in the school auditorium. For those who arrive a day ahead of time there will be a program in the school on the evening of the 4th.

More Water Leaks In City Mains Repaired

During the week more leaks in the city water mains have been repaired under the supervision of Water Superintendent Frank Hoedebeck.

Hoedebeck stated that water loss, estimated at near 200 per cent two months ago is now only 28 per cent since the leaks have been repaired. By the end of this week he hopes to have all breaks mended and the loss down to a minimum.

Owen Harrison, a member of the graduating class of the Era High School, has sent invitations to friends to attend commencement exercises on the evening of May 8 at 8:30 in the school auditorium. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Alford Harrison.

A pledge campaign through which all residents of the Muenster community will be given an opportunity to subscribe for the regular purchase of war savings bonds and stamps is now underway.

H. P. Hennigan has accepted the chairmanship for the local American Legion, working in cooperation with the community committee of which J. M. Weinzapfel is general chairman.

Muenster has been divided into districts and local workers will canvass every home in the city and districts.

It is the purpose of each canvasser to contact all citizens with an income and provide them with an opportunity to sign a pledge card. This system of pledging aims to encourage systematic saving through the repeated purchase of bonds and stamps out of current incomes rather than the sale of a specified amount within a given time. The pledge is a voluntary, confidential statement which will give the Government an opportunity to estimate its income as it does its fighting forces and productive powers. It should be understood that the pledge is not an order form, but a definite moral obligation on the part of the pledger.

Everyone should sign, no matter how small the amount may be. A 100 per cent response is expected from the citizens of Muenster. These pledges will be the only record which the United States Treasury Department will have. By these pledges alone our government estimate the amount to be realized from the sale of bonds and stamps.

There is no set quota for each individual like in the last war, but the government anticipates it will require from five to ten per cent of the gross income during the year to keep the war program going.

The bonds offer a sound investment at a fair rate of interest and a great many citizens are already budgeting their incomes to include the purchase of bonds at regular periods.

When one considers the purpose of the bonds purchase, the pain is not nearly so great. Thousands of American boys today, at this very moment, are facing Japanese and Nazi guns and thousands of them are laying their very lives on the altar of American liberty and freedom.

The government does not ask citizens to cash postal certificates or government bonds or other types of investment to buy bonds. However, it does want a certain portion of the gross income used to buy bonds.

Pledge cards for the duration will be offered every person. These cards are not binding if the donor finds later that he or she is unable to continue purchases due to illness or reduced income.

As no individual quota has been fixed, it is taken for granted that the majority of Muenster citizens will fix a higher quota for themselves than one that would have been suggested. It is also taken for granted that Muenster citizens will respond one hundred per cent in the Bond Pledge Campaign.

MINOR FAULTS IN DRIVING TAKE THEIR TOLL OF CAR LIFE

DETROIT, April 16.—Maximum mileage from your motor car is linked in exact ratio to the manner in which you drive it, for storing a car will not necessarily increase either its life span or the miles you will get from it, advises Ed Hedner, national director of service for Chevrolet.

While the condition of your tires may very directly indicate the number of miles you can expect from your automobile, he points out, they deteriorate faster in storage than in use, and the same can be said of other vital parts of the car.

But even today, most motorists are guilty, unconsciously as a rule, of minor driving faults that take their toll of car life, increase repair bills, and waste gas and oil. Among these habits are the following:

Pumping gas at traffic stops. "Fidget-footed" drivers who pump the accelerator like an old-fashioned organ waste many gallons of gasoline each year. Because of nervousness or simply from a habituated mis-use of their car, these motorists increase their fuel bills and waste precious resources. Driving experts advise that you let the motor idle at stop lights or other traffic halts, and let yourself "idle" along with it.

Mis-use of brakes. Braking a car simply means converting "speed energy" to heat energy. Once the forward progress of the car has been transferred into heat energy and thrown off by the brakes, the car comes to a stop. Obviously, the heat is a result of friction, which in turn, means brake wear. Stopping your car in such a way as to minimize wear means longer brake life. Although brakes will stop a car in 50 feet or less at 30 miles per hour, the wise motorist allows at least 100 feet in which to come to a gentle stop, letting the car's deceleration take some of the stopping load from the brakes.

Sudden starts — "Jack-rabbiting" — are expensive. A gradual application of power insures you full value from every drop of gasoline fed into the engine. Conversely, flashing away from the traffic lights is almost certain to feed more fuel to the motor than it can handle, with a consequent waste. Most motorists realize that this is no time for waste.

Weaving through traffic. In a city at peak traffic hours, virtually every driver has the same thought in mind — getting home in the minimum time. Since drivers are in accord, in general, at these peak hours, little is to be gained by weaving in and out of traffic in an attempt to beat your neighbor home. The irony in the situation is that no matter how you dodge mid-block, the car you strove so hard to pass invariably rolls alongside at the next traffic light.

Mis-use of low gear. The lower the gear, the greater the power at the expense of speed. Drivers who habitually try to flash away at the traffic light and "gun" up to the speed limit in first or second gears, waste gas. By shifting to the next highest gear as soon as practical, maximum operating economy is attained.

Finally, a driving habit probably well established but always worthy of emphasis, is the sound plan of "engineering" your motor car operation. Since your automobile is your own private transportation system, it deserves the same careful checking and attention any bus or plane receives. Periodic inspections, regular lubrications (always cheaper than repair bills), and consistent attention to the air pressure in your tires will pay real motoring dividends.

HOME ACCIDENTS ARE RESPONSIBLE FOR MANY DEATHS

College Station, April 20.—Recent increases in home accident deaths prompt Mrs. Bernice Clayton, Extension Service specialist in home improvement, to urge more accident prevention work in wartime. At a time when every citizen must contribute his maximum to the nation's victory effort, home accidents slow down production, rob the nation of essential manpower, and are costly in money and morale, she says.

Remedies for home accidents are more difficult to effect than remedies for industrial accidents, since there is no direct control over family life. Mrs. Clayton says that means the responsibility for accident prevention lies with every family. She says homemakers can make their homes safer by doing these things:

- Use care in waxing floors and placing rugs.
- Light stairways.
- Keep matches and poison out of the reach of children.
- Dispose of can-openers which are dull or broken.
- Keep knives and other pointed instruments in their proper place and teach children to avoid them or to use them carefully.
- See that clothing and curtains are hung where they cannot be ignited by an open flame.
- Keep a short step-ladder handy, and avoid standing on chairs.
- Promptly wipe up grease or water spilled on the floor.
- Don't allow kettles to boil over, for water will extinguish a gas burner. If you notice a gas leak, extinguish all flame, ventilate the room, and call your gas company.
- "The biggest help is to take your time," the specialist says. "Hurrying results in many accidents."

State Health Officer, said that America has no better safe-guard for her future than the promotion of good health in the youth of today.

"Americans have done a great deal in the past to make the United States a better and safer place in which to live the all-important years of childhood," Dr. Cox said, "but in spite of all of this, American childhood has not yet been made as safe as it can be."

Dr. Cox pointed out that the national emergency naturally adds to the health hazards that already exist and urged parents of every child in Texas to make sure that their children have been immunized against such preventable diseases as diphtheria and smallpox.

Dr. Cox stressed the fact that although most babies are born physically sound, the foundation for future health is laid in the first six years of life. All parents must realize that raising child health standards is a job for them especially, Dr. Cox said, and added that it is better to keep them from getting sick than to try to save their lives when they are ill.

Vital in Peace — Crucial in War...

Gas shoulders arms for Victory!

TO ARM AND EQUIP our fighting men on land, on sea and in the air—GAS long ago assumed its vital role in production for war. Because it is industry's fastest fuel... quick-heating... clean... flexible... and accurately controllable—GAS is the preferred fuel in scores of industrial processes requiring high-speed precision heat. Throughout the nation as factories speed up the building of guns, tanks, ships, planes, bombs, shells and countless other implements of war—GAS concentrates on the job of meeting the special requirements of wartime production.

and on the home front GAS continues its brilliant, prestige-building record

PREPAREDNESS IN THE KITCHEN is second only to preparedness in the factories and on the war fronts. In these days when meal-planning, food economy and vitamin-saving cooking methods are so important—GAS meets the rigid specifications of wartime meal preparation.

A SPLENDID OPPORTUNITY

The proposed school consolidation election affords Muenster and the surrounding districts a splendid opportunity of developing their school into one of which they may be justly proud.

Consolidation always finds those who are opposed to any changes in the present status of their schools. Some individuals are content with their schools as they are, even though they are gradually serving fewer pupils from year to year. These people object to any changes because they would not wish to see their school moved from its old boundaries and their community center. If a school is adequately meeting the needs of a community it should not be moved. There should be as many community centers and interests as possible. This makes for unity.

Present school districts were formed and laid out in the days of horses and buggies and muddy roads. Schools were usually centrally located, within walking distance of all the pupils. These schools have served their purpose admirably, and in many cases are even yet giving excellent service to the community in educating its children. But no one could justly really object to a better school system for their boys and girls at a reasonable cost.

At present there are only four affiliated high schools in Cooke county. Two of these are located in Gainesville, and one each in Era and Valley View. Many rural districts are sending their high school students to Gainesville and the other two schools. The western and northwestern part of Cooke county could well use an affiliated high school. Muenster's school could be affiliated with the cooperation and efforts of parents and citizens who are genuinely interested in the children's education.

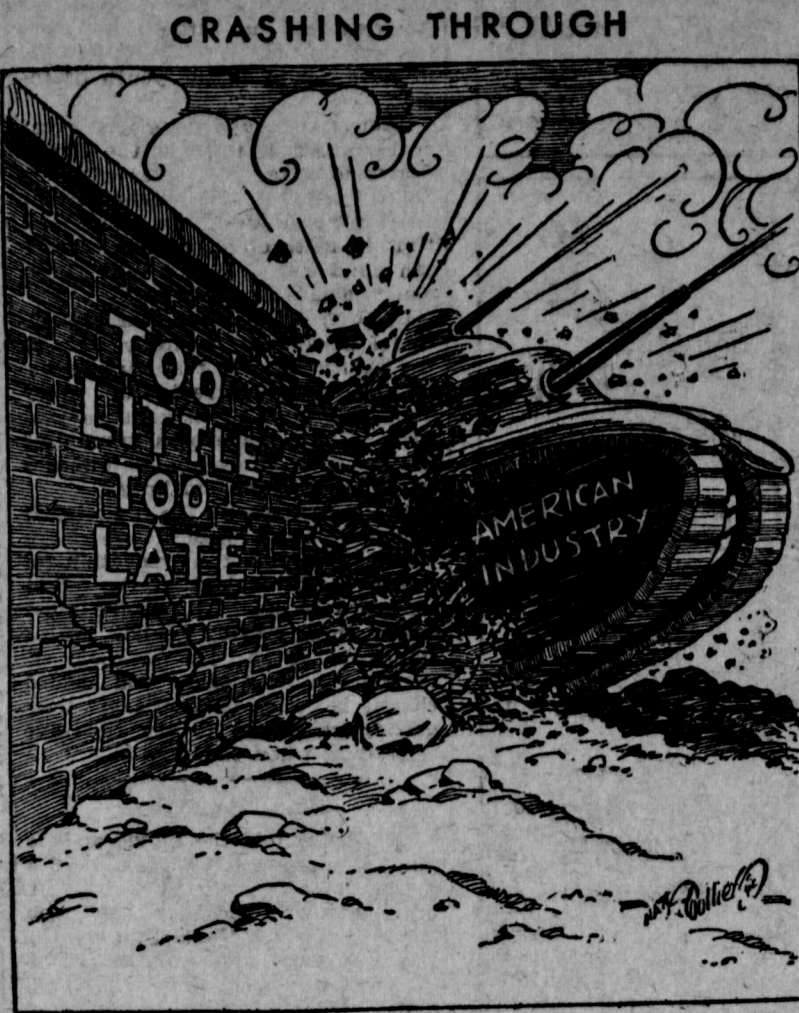

Parents naturally like to keep their children as close to home as possible. Especially now during the shortage of tires are shorter bus routes and hauls recommended. All unnecessary expenses in schools and public offices must be eliminated in order to meet the increasing cost of war production and taxation. There will be many changes made.

The approaching consolidation will afford this section of the county an opportunity to eventually establish an affiliated high school which is well located as to roads and as to a trading center. The district would have an evaluation of two million dollars or better with no special school tax. There would be no need for an extensive building program. There are few districts in the county that have such opportunities.

In these times of stress and danger we hear pleas for unity. If we listen close enough we may also hear those unfounded rumors and prejudices which make for confusion and distrust. Fortunately the roar of the voice of unity in our nation has drowned out those pitifully futile attempts of division. The policy of "divide and conquer" has been the policy used in conquering many strong nations.

When deciding upon issues that vitally concern the welfare of our children we must be governed by this thought: Considering all factors equal, how can I give my children and those of my neighbor the best possible educational advantages for the amount of money available for such purposes?

Next Thursday's election should be studied by intelligent, broad-minded men and women who consider themselves members of the same great nation trying to give their children the best possible educational advantages at the most reasonable cost with the ultimate view in mind of producing more intelligent taxpayers, voters and loyal citizens of the same nation.

Economic Highlights

United Nations' grand strategy calls for maximum aid to the Soviet Union. As high American Navy and Army authorities have said, arms and other supplies for the Russians hold a top place on the lend-lease schedule.

There are many good reasons why this should be so. Here are some of them:

1. The Russians have proven themselves miraculously good as fighters. That goes for the civilians who are carrying on guerrilla warfare against the Nazis as well as for regular Red army troops. Russian morale, despite the casualties she has suffered, is said by all to be exceedingly high. The Russian people's primary emotion is one of implacable hatred for the Germans—coupled with a grim determination to crush and destroy them.
2. It is likely that Hitler will attempt a gigantic new attack on Russia this summer—an attack whose objective will be to knock out Russia as a military power, and free the Nazi legions for service elsewhere. Russia's ability to withstand such an attack will be largely dependent upon the amount of American equipment she receives.
3. Some experts are convinced that Hitler has the resources—men and material both—for only one more really big offensive. If that offensive can be broken, they reason, the Nazi regime will really be on the way to defeat.
4. The bulk of authorities still think that the number one job of the United Nations is the defeat of Germany—and that other objectives must be considered secondary. They feel that once Germany is beaten, or is so weakened that she will no longer be able to fight an offensive war, we can take care of our other enemies with far greater certainty of swift victory.

There are, of course, many opposed arguments. Some think that Japan is at the moment our number one enemy, and that aid to Russia should be abandoned or greatly lessened in order to give everything we can produce and transport to United Nations' forces in the Pacific. But those who believe that are in the minority so far as Allied war councils are concerned. The men whose terrible responsibility is to make fateful decisions of grand strategy aren't minimizing Japan—but in their minds, Germany is still the greater danger.

Can Russia keep on giving Hitler better than he sends? Men who are in a position to form accurate judgments think she can. The Russian commanders have proven their abilities. Stalin has proven himself a man of extraordinary vision and military judgment. The Russian scorched-earth policy has paid dividends—much of the Russian territory in German possession is as non-productive as so much sand. There seems little question but that a considerable part of the flower of the German army has perished in the bleak Russian earth. Good soldiers, unlike tanks and planes and ships, cannot be swiftly replaced. The Russians claim that they have destroyed whole generations of young German men.

As Churchill, Roosevelt and other leaders forecast months ago, Japan continues to win successes in the Pacific. The fall of Bataan was a blow to the United Nations. It will release great numbers of veteran Jap troops for fighting in other theatres. The magnificent American-Filipino defenders did far more than could be expected. They were terribly short of food, medicines, and other certain types of ammunition. Flesh and blood could only do so much. The end was foredoomed from the beginning, and it is to their eternal glory that they made the enemy pay a tremendous price for his victory.

The recent British ship losses in the Indian Ocean, may in the long run, prove even more serious than the loss of Bataan. They help pave the way for a Japanese drive on India. And it is very doubtful if the British will be able to master a first-class force for India's defense.

There is news, however, on the other side. The Japs have taken some severe blows from the United Nations' air force in the Australian and Burma theatres. The American Navy is constantly picking off Jap troop and supply and fighting ships. Action such as this, steadily, if slowly, brings nearer the day when final victory will be in sight.

Some still look for a Jap attack on Alaska, from the Aleutians. It is known that we are sending heavy reinforcements to Alaska, though their precise extent is, of course, a closely-guarded military secret. If Japan could seize Alaskan bases she would be in a position to carry the war directly to the continental United States. She must be prevented from doing that at all costs. You can be certain that, come what may, Alaska will not be another Pearl Harbor.

At a luncheon party an actress, noted for her sarcasm, looked significantly at Rosalind Russell and said: "I dread to think of life at 45."

"Why" asked quick-witted Miss Russell, "What happened then?"

When bread slicing machines were introduced, a bakery in a small Western town decided to canvass the housewives and ascertain their opinions pro and con the innovation. A dapper young man was hired and equipped with notebook and pencil, he sallied forth. He found one woman who was positively enthusiastic about the new machine. "And why, madam," he asked curiously, "do you favor the machine-slicing so strongly?" "Well," she replied candidly, "we ain't got no knife."

Contest:
Last Monday the high school students were busy writing essays for the contest they entered. It is being sponsored by the Catholic Daughters of America and the subject is "What the Bill of Rights Means to Me". The papers were handed to Sister Angelina on Wednesday morning and she and her committee chose the ones they considered the best. Then all the essays were turned over to Mrs. John Mosman, grand regent of the local court. The Daughters will select the essay, which, in their opinion is best and forward it to the district contest. Pupils whose essays were picked by Sister Angelina and her committee will receive recognition for their efforts on graduation night.

Picnic:
The parish hall was the scene of a picnic and bazaar Tuesday. It was sponsored by the seniors to defray the cost of their memorial gift to the school. Both boys and girls helped prepare and serve hamburgers with all the trimmings, ice cream and so forth and also presided at the fish pond finding it most amusing to see the little tots haul

COLOR HARMONY MAKES BETTER NEIGHBORS

Paint Styles Should Harmonize With Other Homes In Neighborhood

Your house must be considered in relation to other homes in your neighborhood if you want to get the best effect in color harmony. The "guide" below tells you which colors to use and which to avoid in order to make your home a "good neighbor."

YELLOW

Never use next to red, yellow, dark grey. Yellow kills dark grey and only favors yellow itself. This also means don't paint grey if your neighbor paints yellow.

WHITE

If all adjacent homes are in color and your neighbor's is white, don't repeat. It emphasizes the larger and belittles the smaller. If all are white, keep yours white too. One in color is just as offensive.

RED

Avoid red if your neighbors' houses are green or yellow. If many others on the street are red use red too as one odd colored house will not complement the others.

BROWN

Your house in brown is safe in all cases. Of course the trim should be carefully considered. Repeating the trim of your neighbor's home is particularly offensive.

GREEN

Watch out for adjacent red houses! The charm of green is not to be underestimated. It is beautiful when surrounded by "Aspen" or other light green trees or foliage.

TAN

Tan is safe everywhere except next to yellow. Yellow gives even rich tan a greyed effect. Exteriors of houses should always appear freshly painted even when rustic effect is called for.

First Aid:

Mr. Keel announced at the first aid lesson Monday that on next Tuesday examinations will take place. The pupils have enjoyed the course and hope to put the instructions into practice should the occasion ever arise in which first aid is needed.

How Did Students of Sacred Heart High Spend Sunday?

Juanita Weinzapfel was with a friend in the country. In other words, Dolly Endres was honored with a visit.

Seniors and juniors practiced the graduation exercises. David Lehnertz went to Windthorst to visit with Father Francis. Johnny Ann Seyler and Gladys Wilde were seen trying to get their car very muddy.

Frank Hennigan was seen riding his Model A.

Justin Hess took his beauty nap. He must have slept all afternoon for his eyes were still heavy on Monday morning.

Alma Marie Luke was seen with a man in uniform. (Her brother) Geneva Gremminger dined certain friends. She was ill for the rest of the week.

Leo Felderhoff and Harold Sickling went hunting. Or did they.

Werner Henschel was seen dashing home during an April shower.

Graduation:

How sweetly falls that word on ears of seniors! Yes, the time is drawing near, very near indeed. One week more and the seniors of Sacred Heart High face the world under new aspects. Graduation night will certainly be a great occasion, for we will have the great privilege of the presence of Reverend Father Francis, O. S. B., whom we are all most glad to see again. The faculty and the seniors extend a most cordial invitation to each and all to be present at this great occasion and share our joy, at nine p. m., May 1st, 1942, in the Parish Hall.

We also extend our invitation to our parents and friends to be with us on Class Night, April 27, at nine p. m. On this occasion each member of the high school will be mentioned.

Our class picnic is to be held on April 23, if weather permits, at the park at Gainesville. For this games and refreshments are planned. Another feature honoring the juniors is a party held on Wednesday.

day. The senior party was sponsored by the juniors in the home of Marie Felderhoff. This was indeed a grand festivity, the food was delicious, and the time spent was most enjoyable.

We take this occasion to thank our parents, teachers, and all others who sacrificed their time and made efforts in any way that helped us seniors secure the goal in high school education. We know that our feeble thanks are very little which we give in return for such generous labor and so many sacrifices, but we ask that God may reward them with his abundant graces and blessings.

Again we hope that every member of the parish of Muenster will be with us on our night of graduation, May first, 1942, at nine p. m., at the parish hall.

Public School attended the District School Administrators' Conference and the Exchange and Schoolmen's Club which met at Gainesville Monday evening.

The main speaker of the evening was Dr. Bonney from North Texas State Teachers' College. His topic was "Emotional Stability During the War."

Principals and teachers from four counties: Cooke, Denton, Grayson and Collin were present.

We are all looking forward to next year, for instead of Interscholastic League there has been designated as the agency to organize and sponsor a "Physical Fitness Club" in the Elementary and Secondary Schools.

The 4-H Boys are planning to go to the Stock Show in Gainesville on Friday, April the twenty-fourth.

Well Muenster HI has one less pupil, Leo Lawson has withdrawn from school. He is now employed in Gainesville. We wish you luck, Leo, in your new profession.

We found out that the girls did quite a bit of cooking last Thursday. It so happened to be for the School Trustee Banquet. Most of us were left out on the eats but a few managed to turn the freezers and get results, others appeared at the back door and managed a hand out. The rest of us are waiting our turn next year.

A man noticed a woman whom he disliked coming up his front steps. Taking refuge in his study, he left his wife to entertain the caller. Half an hour later he merged from his retreat, listened carefully on the landing and hearing nothing below, called down to his wife: "Has that horrible old hen gone?"

The objectionable woman was still in the drawing room, but his wife was equal to the occasion. "Yes, dear," she called back, "she went long ago. Mrs. Parker is here now."

Enlightenment seldom comes from a person who it lit.

"That terrible woman over at the Gully said I was just a simple-minded provincial," declared the outraged wife.

"Cheer up, don't pay any attention to her," sighed the husband. "She only repeats all the silly stuff she hears her neighbors say."

us are guilty—to major crimes. Our killings are no less cold blooded than Nazi purges. We have had labor situations that compare with Nazi industrial slavery and we have seen the opposite extreme in which industrialists had little more authority in their own plants than their German contemporaries. Germany's promiscuous and bestial policy of increasing the population is matched by our policy of race suicide. There is a question as to which is more immoral. And when it comes to murder, our disposal of unborn children compares with their disposal of weaklings.

Getting down to brass tacks, we have to admit that Hitler and the Nazis and the Japs have no monopoly on wickedness. Americans, Britons, Russians and all the rest can share the guilt. Russia's record, in fact, is quite similar to Germany's. Christian countries differ only in that most vice does not have official sanction.

That is the basic difference. We are still Christian even though our Christianity has been tainted some-

School Board, Faculty Honored With Dinner

Annually in the spring students of the Home Economics class of the Muenster High school, under the supervision of their instructor, prepare and serve a meal for members of the school board and the faculty.

The service table was laid with an arrangement of white iris and bridal wreath. Miss Bradshaw and girls of the class were hostesses and assisted in serving the guests after which they were seated at quartet tables.

The menu was as follows: Baked ham, barbecued beef, creamed celery, candied sweet potatoes, Irish potato salad, English peas, hot rolls, apple pie a-la-mode and tea or coffee.

Guests for the affair included Messrs. and Mesdames Herbert Meurer, Albert Henscheld, Bill Becker, John Klement, E. S. Lawson, Herman Pierce, Virgil Welch and J. E. Gray, Frank Yosten, Misses Mary Wiedeman and Eilfrieda Luke and Dr. and Mrs. Myrick.

With the Men In Uniform

Lt. M. J. Endres, Jr., came in Sunday morning for a three-day visit with relatives and friends in this city. He had been in California and was on his way back to West Palm Beach, Fla.

Private Harry Fisher this week wrote to relatives here that he is being moved from San Luis Obispo, Calif. He said he did not know where he was going but that he'd send a new address as soon as he is stationed.
