

Local News BRIEFS

Ed Hess is the owner of this community's first 1958 Chevrolet pickup.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Lawson entertained with a dinner party Monday night honoring Mr. and Mrs. Tony Kleiss, visiting here from Villa Grove, Ill., and Ike Cler of Terre Haute, Ind. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Miller and Jackie and Mrs. C. M. Walterscheid.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Weber and daughter Leola of Gainesville and his brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Weber of Wharton, were Monday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Gremminger. The men are cousins. Mrs. Tony Gremminger joined them for the evening.

David Stockman of Dallas is spending this week with his grandparents Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Zipper.

Matt Stelzer of Post was here Wednesday to see relatives and friends enroute to Dallas.

Joe Henry and Clyde Edward Streng left Thursday to return to Modesto, Calif., and classes in high school there. They went by bus. The boys' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Streng are remaining for a longer visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Streng.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Adamson of Dallas spent Sunday with their aunt, Mrs. Frank Needham and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Krahl and son David and Mrs. Herman Eberhart, accompanied by Mrs. Bill Flusche of Lindsay, were Dallas visitors Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul R. Nieball of Odessa visited here Sunday morning with his mother and his brother Billy. They were spending the weekend in Dallas at the Fair and spent "inbetween time" here, returning to see My Fair Lady in the afternoon. Paul was recently promoted to assistant store manager for National Supply in Odessa. His wife is assistant librarian for the city.

The E. S. Lawsons Are Honorees at Farewell Courtesy

A farewell party and miscellaneous gift shower honored Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Lawson Tuesday night. The couple left Muenster Thursday to live in Gainesville and are residing there at 423 N. Cunningham street. They had lived here 20 years.

The party was held at the First Baptist church with members of the congregation as hosts and hostesses.

Shower gifts were opened and displayed, coffee, punch and cookies were served, and the group joined in singing hymns and popular ballads. Mrs. M. F. Milner played the piano. Mrs. J. A. Travis registered those attending and those who sent gifts.

The honorees opened gifts from Messrs. and Mmes. Don Cooke, J. W. Morrison, J. A. Travis, J. W. Fisher, John Fisher and Earl Cole, Cindy Cain, J. B. Cason, Mrs. John Steele, Mrs. Milner and Mr. and Mrs. Leo Lawson and children who were present and from Messrs. and Mmes. Weldon Holland, S. A. Tuggle, A. T. Tuggle, B. I. Dern, M. D. Kaderli, Anthony Luke, Ray Evans, R. P. Cain, Clarence Hudspeth, Johnny Bartold and James Hammer who sent gifts.

During most of the time Mr. and Mrs. Lawson lived here he was active in work of the First Baptist church and in civic projects. He was a song leader for church services, supervised the building of the church and spent many hours working on its construction, was local Red Cross chairman three years and a member of the local school board nine years, serving three elective terms. Only in recent years failing health forced him to lead a less active life.

The couple will be living with Mrs. Lawson's mother Mrs. S. E. Bateman whose advanced years and impaired health make it necessary for her daughter to live with her and care for her. Mr. and Mrs. M. L. McGowan and children of Wynne Wood, Okla., were here Wednesday and Thursday to help her parents move.

Dean Leo is the name of the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Sicking. Father Bruno officiated at the christening ceremony and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Sicking were sponsors.

TRADITIONAL—A procedure used by early Arctic explorers to plow through heavy ice is utilized by crewmen of the U.S. Coast Guard cutter Spar as the ship steams along the route of the famed "Northwest Passage" across the top of North America. The men are lowered with axes on concrete blocks which serve a double purpose: weights to warp the ship free from ice and crushers to pound the ice to powder.

Dallas and Margaret Mary Schad of Muenster; and two grandmothers, Mrs. J. S. Horn of Muenster and Mrs. John Schad of Lindsay.

Among out of town people at the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. Al Swirczynski, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Swirczynski and son David, and Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Doty, all of Mesquite; Mr. and Mrs. Jake Horn and family of Windthorst; Joe Voth of Justin; Mrs. Charlotte Gelber, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Poor, Pat Eder, Loretta Ostmann, Dorothy Logan and Mrs. Marie Kappas, all of Dallas.

SH Cubs Lose 7-6 To AMI, Wichita

By the margin of an extra point the Sacred Heart Cubs were nosed out of the top spot in the North Texas Parochial League when they encountered the Academy of Mary Immaculate on the local field last Sunday.

The final score was 7-6 favoring the Wichita Falls kids and giving them a 2-1 record for the season to date.

Meanwhile St. Mary's of Gainesville walloped the Windthorst juniors 18-6 and joined Sacred Heart in a 2-2 standing for the season to date. Windthorst is trailing with a 1-2 record.

In the Cubs' game with AMI all important action was crowded into the few minutes preceding intermission. AMI, apparently stopped after a nice drive cashed in on two hot plays, a 15 yard ramble to the 5 then a completed pass over the line. Another pass was good for the extra point.

Back on offense the Cubs lost little time in getting a TD of their own. The pay off was a screen pass from Paul Dangelmayr to Earl Hess who drifted to the left side lines and scooted about 60 yards for the score.

During the second half the Cubs made the better showing but lacked the punch to put over a winning TD. One drive fouled up at about the 15 and another was going nicely when the final whistle stopped it inside the 10. AMI made little headway the second half.

Beware of Acid In Johnson Grass Following Frost

College Station — The time of the year is approaching when cattle owners should be warned that Johnson grass or sorghum after a frost is sometimes extremely high in prussic acid content and is very dangerous to livestock.

When wilted by frost or drouth, certain chemical changes sometimes occur in the plant and it develops a content of prussic acid, or hydrocyanic acid, says Dr. C. M. Patterson, extension veterinarian. The poison acts quickly, and can kill an animal within a short time after the damaged plant has been eaten.

Symptoms described by the veterinarian include an appearance of nervousness, difficult breathing, and difficulty in standing. Whether a poisoned animal can be saved depends upon how quickly a veterinarian can get to it. Treatment involves injecting antidotes directly into the blood stream.

Young plants will develop more prussic acid than those approaching maturity, points out Patterson. The leaves will contain from three to 25 times more acid than corresponding portions of the stalk in plants in the boot stage. The upper, younger leaves will contain more acid than the lower leaves.

Frosted or drouth stricken Johnson grass or sorghum should not be grazed until it is completely dry, advises the veterinarian. If Johnson grass or sorghum is ready to cut before a frost, it may be cut during the first day after the frost and used for hay if care is taken to see that it is completely cured before baling.

Average Worker on Farm Is Covered By Social Security

All farm operators in this area are reminded that their farm workers are covered by the social security program if either of two requirements are met. Marion Harkey, Manager of the Sherman Social Security District Office announced that any farm worker who is paid $150 or more cash wages during the year by a single farm operator is covered and his wages must be reported for social security purposes at the end of the year. Even though the worker is paid less than the $150, his wages are still covered under the second test if he worked on 20 or more days during the year and his pay was figured on a time basis; that is, by the hour, day, week, or month. Mr. Harkey emphasized that only one of the tests need be met and if either one is met, the employer is required to file a social security tax report on the 1957 wages next January.

Mr. Harkey pointed out that these two requirements are new. Before 1957, agricultural wages were covered if the worker was paid at least $100 cash wages by a single farm employer. The new tests went into effect this year and were a part of the 1956 amendments to the Social Security Act.

The social security wage reports are to be made to the District Director of Internal Revenue. Farmers who will pay taxable wages this year should contact the Internal Revenue Service for the necessary forms and instructions for filing. They should also apply for an agricultural employer's identification number if they do not already have one.

GASOLINE OR VODKA?—Puzzling out the ills that strike autos is tough enough when it's an American make but Vern Schield of Waverly, Iowa, right, and Edward F. Obert, science magazine engineering consultant, have even a harder job. They're trying to interpret a Russian-language manual for the M-20 Pobeda, a 1957 Soviet car. Schield purchased the car in Finland for $1,890 and now has it on display in Chicago.

Spook Party Plans Dropped This Year At Public School

The traditional Halloween Carnival at Muenster Public School will not be held this year.

In lieu of the annual October celebration the school will have a Valentine Carnival on February 14.

At least two things make the change feasible, Superintendent H. H. Homsley said. At present classes, especially the high school, are busy with preparations for the annual homecoming ceremonies and quite a number of students and teachers are sick with the flu or still weak after it. Parents and school patrons have also been hit by the flu and would cut down on attendance at the usual festivities.

TWO NEW FAMILIES

Two new families moved to Muenster and one family left during the weekend. The new residents are Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Doughty and three small children who came here from Fort Worth and are occupying the lease house north-east of town where the R. P. Cains formerly lived. Weldon will work for Tuggle and Yosten. Mr. and Mrs. Tom Hamilton and their teen-age daughters Tommy Sue and Pat came here from Davenport, Okla., and are at home in one of Joe Trachta's houses on North Main Street. Hamilton replaces Don Williams as an employee for J. A. Sanders. Mr. and Mrs. Williams and their two daughters moved to Olney.

Jerome Voth of Texas A&M College was here during the weekend to visit his family, the Joe Voths.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Walter spent the weekend in Houston with her sister and family, the Ed Masons, and were sponsors Sunday at the christening of infant Nancy Ann Mason. Going, they were accompanied by Mrs. John Schilling who went home after a visit here and returning they were joined by Mrs. John Hartman who came back to Muenster after a two week visit with her daughter in Houston.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Wiesman are returning to Farmington, N. M., this weekend after a vacation visit in Gainesville with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tony Wiesman and Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Henderson. On their way to Gainesville they visited cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Troy Cooper at Crane, formerly of Muenster. Don Wiesman and his brother Louis Wiesman are drillers for the Rutledge Company.

SH Students Seek Cancelled Stamps In Mission Work

Every good cancelled stamp counts and students of the sophomore class of Sacred Heart High are making special efforts to bring in every stamp available.

A stamp contest is in progress in all parochial schools in the United States and the five schools leading in points at the close of the stamp campaign will receive religious statues carved in ivory or rosewood by Catholic artists in India and Ceylon.

But the prize is not the object of the stamp hunt. This is mission work and its benefits are far reaching. Money from the sale of the stamps to stamp collectors will bring medical aid, food, clothing and religious instructions to mission posts the world over.

The Ceylon Mission Stamp Bureau is conducting the contest and will sort, assemble and package the stamps for sale.

Everyone is invited to save all stamps now coming in and to gather up those they have at home. To simplify matters for stamp donors, the sponsoring sophomores say they will pick up envelopes and post cards on call to the high school. Phone 72-W. Business houses are asked to save all envelopes and cards and when a sizeable amount has accumulated call the school. Families in the parish can send their stamps in with their school children.

All stamps are good, but foreign, high value U.S., commemorative and pre-cancel stamps have special value. Duck stamps (hunters' permits) are especially valuable. The contest will end May 1, 1958.

If a stamp is torn from a letter it must have plenty of all-around border, so to keep folks from being confused and to save them time, students are asking them to save the entire envelope or post card.

Koelzer Kin Gets Together at Supper

Members of Mrs. John Koelzer's family who were here to attend her funeral Thursday morning got together for a visit with other family members Thursday afternoon in the parish hall before the out of town kinfolks started their homeward trips. The gathering was held especially so the Very Rev. Bonaventure Koelzer, S.A., vicar general of the Franciscan Monastery in Graymoor, N.Y., could see cousins, nieces and nephews he hadn't seen in years, and some he was meeting for the first time. Very Rev. Michael Sugrue, S.A., of Hereford was also a guest.

Present from out of town for the funeral and for the covered dish supper were Miss Theresia Koelzer of Hereford, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Koelzer and son Daniel of Friona, Messrs. and Mmes. Ted Noggler, Joe J. Neu, Lawrence Moster, John Moster and Leonard Bengfort and Mmes. Charles Neu, Ed Moster and Leo Neusch, all of Lindsay; Lawrence Flusche of Decatur, Hilda Moster, Genevieve Noggler and Joe Hellinger of Gainesville; Mr. and Mrs. Pete Koelzer and family of Madill, Okla., Pvt. Wilfred Koelzer of Fort Hood, Mrs. Bob Brewer of Abilene, and Ben Huls and son Leo of Denver, Colo. Mr. Huls is a brother of Mrs. Koelzer.

Gay Matrons Meet In Felderhoff Home

Members of the Gay Matrons Club gathered at the home of Mrs. Arthur Felderhoff for their October social. The hostess arranged three tables for a progressive 42 series and after the games served coffee and apple pie a la mode.

Award winners in the games were Mrs. Val Fuhrman for high score and Mrs. Ray Wilde for low tally. Mrs. Felderhoff secured the galloping award.

Ten members and two guests, Mrs. Andy Schoech and Mrs. Norbert Walterscheid, attended.

Mrs. Endres Hostess To Neighbors Club

Friendly Neighbors 42 Club met in the home of Mrs. Urban Endres Wednesday night for its October meeting. After the games the hostess served Dutch apple pie and coffee to 12 members and guests.

Mrs. Urban Endres made high score in the games, Mrs. Arthur Endres was second high and secured the galloping award and Mrs. M. D. Kaderli was the consolation favor winner.

Others present were Mmes. M. H. King, L. B. Bruns, J. C. Trachta, Richard Grewing, Tony Koesler, Earle Otto, Al Wiesman and Al Walter.

Mrs. Joe Kathman Is Club Hostess

Members of the Idle Eight Club held their October social Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Joe Kathman as hostess in her home. After a progressive 42 series she served pecan pie and coffee to members and two guests, Mrs. Frank Kaiser and Mrs. Paul Nieball.

In the games Mrs. Kathman won high score, Mrs. J. B. Wilde was second high and Mrs. Nieball was consolation winner.

Mrs. Joe Luke will be hostess for the next social.

Patricia Green and James Fette Pledge Vows During Mass

Patricia Green of Gainesville became the bride of James Fette Saturday morning during nuptial mass in St. Mary's church at 8 o'clock. The Rev. Frank Morgan was celebrant and directed the exchange of wedding vows in a double ring ceremony.

The bride wore a ballerina length dress of white taffeta styled on princess lines with a full flared skirt. Her veil was elbow length and she carried white carnations. Her father James Green gave her in marriage.

Mary Jo Howard of Gainesville close friend of the bride, was a maid of honor wearing a blue princess dress with white accessories. Her flowers were pink carnations. David Klement, cousin of the groom, was best man.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Green wore a pink suit with black accessories and the groom's mother, Mrs. Isabel Fette, wore a black ensemble with black accessories. Both had corsages of white carnations.

Miss Ann Gallagher, organist, provided nuptial music. White carnations and greenery adorned the altar.

After the services, a wedding breakfast for immediate members of both families was held here in the home of the groom's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Otto. The table centerpiece was an arrangement of pink rose buds. Mrs. Joe Lehnertz was in charge of preparing the meal and Mrs. Leonard Hartman and Mrs. Dan Haverkamp assisted in serving. There were about 20 guests.

Present from Gainesville were the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Green and two sons, Mary Jo Howard and her mother Mrs. Jack Howard and Father Morgan.

Since their return from a short wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Fette are making their home in Gainesville at 1323 Cherry Street. He was graduated from Muenster High and is employed here at Andres Motor Company. His bride attended Gainesville High.

Look out for the driver who doesn't look out for you.

Sandra Sicking is Birthday Honoree

Repeal that 16th Amendment

With all the beefing about the supergovernment in Washington, very few realize how it got started and what keeps it growing; but it's the old story of the little acorn and the mighty oak all over again. Or, better still, the old gag about the camel which got its head under the tent.

In 1913, the 16th amendment to the constitution was passed legalizing a federal income tax. It all started with an amendment to a bill reducing tariffs on imports, so poor old Uncle Sam could take a tiny bite out of big incomes to make up for the lost import duty receipts. Nobody kicked then because incomes up to $4,000 were exempt, the bite on $4,000 to $20,000 was only one per cent — and hardly anybody was making $4,000 — if he was it was equivalent to $10,000 today. On $100,000 income the federal take was 4 per cent, and if you made half a million you dug up six per cent. Very few, even the big rich, made objections, and the little income fellow laughed and said it'll never catch me. But today he's kicking in 20 per cent on a measly $600 a year.

Things weren't too bad till we got the New Deal with its tax and spend and elect racket. Since then the New Deal, the Fair Deal and the Modern Republicans have been making what amounts to a campaign fund out of your withholding tax dollars — dollars you never see. Smells a lot like the Union Labor Racketeers' handling of "members' dues."

The only way we'll keep from going to an all-out socialistic dictatorship is to repeal the 16th Amendment. It's not any more sacred than was the 18th Amendment. The 18th took away our booze only, the 16th is taking our money and our rights as sovereign states and individual citizens. —Kingsville Record.

World's Biggest 5-Dollar Bill

Bishop Harold Henry, who began his work with the Korean people as a Columban Father 24 years ago, and comes from Minneapolis, is concluding a visit to his homeland following his consecration in Boston as bishop. On the eve of his return to his post as Vicar Apostolic of Kwangju, in Southwest Korea, he visited the New York headquarters of Catholic Relief Services — N.C.W.C. to leave thanks and praise for the work of Catholic women's organizations and a message of gratitude to all Americans who have helped in keeping Korean bodies and souls together over the post-war years.

"The ordinary Korean in my area does not see more than a pound of meat a year," Bishop Henry declared, and went on to explain that in the "hunger season" that precedes every harvest, the supplementary food rations channelled through his hundreds of welfare stations are the principal protection against the diseases of malnutrition, especially tuberculosis. Two trucks, almost constantly on the road, carry American surplus food supplies to the farthest villages so that food comes regularly to about 100,000 of the very poorest people of the Southern provinces. During the past winter, he said, 4,000 were saved from actual starvation by boatloads of these surplus foods dispatched to the offshore island of Huksan.

Bishop Henry paid special tribute to the "Feed-a-Family" programs of Catholic Daughters of America, who "adopted" the Kwangju area where so many families had lost their breadwinner in the war, and of other affiliates of The National Council of Catholic Women in Seoul, Pusan and Taegu. "In many cases," he said, "the families would have had to release some of the children to orphanages if the five-dollar gift had not reached them every month from the Catholic Daughters of America."

"This personalized program," the Bishop continued, "... is a major factor in obtaining good will for the United States of America. It is generally agreed that the direct impact of such individualized programs is far greater than that of the official aid program which must be impersonal. Koreans have said to me many times: 'You Americans have so much, yet you do not despise those who have so little, and want everybody to be as well off as yourselves.'"

In assuring us of the intense loyalty of the Korean people to the US and their unwavering opposition to Communism, Bishop Henry has suggested the best reasons in the world for continuance and widening support for the five-dollar-a-month "Feed-a-Family" program.

Pause For Reflection

... with James C. Ingebreten, President, Spiritual Mobilization

In a recent issue of The Wall Street Journal I saw one of the most revealing paragraphs — and what should be one of the most disturbing to all thoughtful Americans — that I have seen in a long time.

Writing from Little Rock, Arkansas, on the school integration crisis, Henry Gemmill and Joseph Guilfoyle said:

"There is one other factor in this political equation, and to a reporter who arrives here from a big city it can be somewhat surprising. That in Christianity. In Arkansas it is taken seriously. Time and again people trying to explain why they feel as they do end up speaking in terms of religion."

"Surprising" to find that there is still one spot in the United States where Christianity "is taken seriously?" What more candid admission than this could there be that "big city" America is all but completely pagan?

The more you reread the above statement, the more appalling it reveals itself to be. If for Christianity to be "taken seriously" has become such a rare phenomenon in this country that encountering it occasions surprise to such well-traveled reporters as Gemmill and Guilfoyle, it looks like it is either sackcloth and ashes for us or the shambles of atomic destruction.

The 25 companies listed on the New York Stock Exchange with the largest federal income tax bills in 1956 paid out in taxes the equivalent of nearly $25 for every man, woman and child in this country. Only three of the 25 paid more money in dividends to their stockholders than in taxes to the government.

YOUR JOB IN LIFE

By Bob Senzer, assistant editor of WORK

"Oh, for a life of luxury where I wouldn't have to do a stitch of work!"

THE CHANCES ARE that most of us at one time or other have wishfully thought how wonderful it would be to have enough money to stop working and enjoy life. Now a certain amount of this daydreaming is quite normal and there's nothing wrong in joking about work once in a while.

But what about the person whose whole idea of work revolves around how to escape it? If this attitude is really a part of him, then we can say his life is unhappy. In fact, his life has to be unhappy! Why? Because working is as much a part of man's nature as thinking and breathing.

GOD DIDN'T create fresh loaves of bread, all sliced and ready for the dinner table. He gave man the intelligence and the physical strength to turn grain into food. Without work we'd all starve to death.

Nor is man himself placed in this world as a full-grown person. He develops his mind and body with the aid of his parents, his teachers, etc. ... by work.

WHETHER IT'S done mostly by muscles or mostly by brains, work is the general vocation of man. It unites us to God in a way that most of us don't think about. (And it's important that we do think about it to understand its true meaning.)

By doing our job in life we are participating in God's plan for our salvation and that of our neighbor. The size, importance, or prestige of the job doesn't matter. It's the right motive—doing the will of God—and the effort to do the job well, whatever it is, that counts.

UNFORTUNATELY too many people today consider work a necessary evil. Their whole outlook on life is centered around good times and no worries. No wonder they're such an unhappy lot. They seek to escape the very thing which should be a vital part of their every day living. They fail to see that their happiness in this world and in the next depends to a large extent on their work—and how well they do it.

Christ, Himself, spent most of His life at a carpenter's bench. His Apostles and disciples were workers of various trades and skills. In God's plan, then, all work has dignity, value, and merit.

UNDERSTANDING the nature and purpose of work and living according to that understanding will help to bring us happiness in this life and everlasting peace hereafter.

Cows to Pasture, Pasture to Cows, Which is Better

College Station — Does it pay to send the cows to pasture, or is it better to bring the pasture to the cows? Dairy farmers everywhere have been much interested in recent studies designed to measure the comparative advantages of feeding freshly cut, chopped green forage to animals confined in pens, as compared to grazing the animals.

A recent study indicated that on many dairy farms green-chop feeding may be more profitable than grazing, according to A. M. Meekma, extension dairy husbandman.

For one thing, he says, grassland feed is used more efficiently when it is green-chopped and fed, according to the study made on a typical dairy farm. Cows, it was found, trample and waste up to 40 percent of the available feed while grazing on lush growth.

Field choppers were used to convert heavy grass crops into feed. Using the chopper thus daily during the summer, rather than a few days a year to make silage, cuts the hourly overhead expense of the chopper, points out Meekma.

Self-unloading wagons and feed bunks are required for green-chop feeding. But the cost of these is partially offset by less travel in taking cows to and from pasture, need for less fencing, and elimination of extensive watering systems in distant pastures, the study showed.

Before changing to a green-chop feeding system, the husbandman says that a dairy operator would need to consider advantages and disadvantages as they would apply to his particular farm resources.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

OUR SOIL ★ OUR STRENGTH

Plans for sodding waterways to grass next spring are being made now by farmers in the Muenster-Saint Jo area. Landowners cooperating with the Upper Elm-Red Soil Conservation District to protect and improve their soil are getting waterways marked off and land prepared for sodding or seeding grass. The waterways or pasture strips will serve as safe disposal areas for terrace water when grass has made a good protective cover over the soil to prevent erosion from run-off water.

Werner Becker has a wide waterway already marked off on his farm at Hood and is getting the land ready for sodding operations next spring. Emmett Sicking and Mrs. Will Sicking have marked waterway strips on their farms near Myra. Frank Needham, Frank Bindel and Alfons Luke also have wide strips of land marked for waterway planting next spring on their farms near Muenster.

These waterways are another step forward in the completion of a complete soil, water and plant conservation plan that these district cooperators have worked out on their farms with the assistance of local Soil Conservation Service personnel. The farm plans, when applied, will improve production and protect the land from soil and water loss.

The Arendt brothers recently signed a cooperative agreement with the Upper Elm-Red SCD on their farm near Myra. They worked out a soil and water conservation plan with a SCS technician and immediately began applying the recommended practices. Last spring they shaped and sodded a wide waterway to Coastal Bermuda. This fall they built a diversion terrace to protect a bottomland field from over 100 acres of hill water. The terrace empties onto the grassed waterway.

By cutting off the hill water, two ditches through the field can be closed and more acres put into cultivation. Land along the creek is being cleared and planted to grass; and fences are being changed to include the grass in the pasture.

Another outlet for another diversion terrace was shaped recently by the Arendt brothers and they'll put it into grass next spring. The brothers are well on their way in improving and protecting each acre of land on the farm they have owned less than a year.

From Editor & Publisher: "Three hundred employes — about 5% of the total working force — succeeded in blacking out Boston newspapers for about three weeks. About half that number — 2 1/2% of the working force — blacked out all the Detroit newspapers for a week. There is something radically wrong with a system that permits a handful of people to decide that millions of people cannot read their daily newspapers until their own conditions are satisfied."

MARYSVILLE — Mr. and Mrs. Edd Matthews and daughter Sandra of Dallas spent the weekend with her parents the Jim Shiftlets.

Mrs. Janie Craddock has returned to her home in Gainesville after a week's visit with her daughter, Mrs. Lawton Moon.

Mrs. W. F. Davidson was in Gainesville Monday of the past week for medical treatment. Other sick folks the past week were Mrs. Earl Robison and son Jimmie, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Moon and Mrs. John Richey.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom J. Gregory of Long Beach, Calif., who visited her sister Mrs. Bill Moon two weeks ago were back again for a weekend visit after visits elsewhere including Arkansas. They'll do some more visiting in West Texas before they return home.

Mr. and Mrs. Rafe McElreath were Sunday guests of his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Ramsey in Gainesville and visited Mrs. Effie Doty and others in Gainesville Sanitarium in the afternoon.

Rev. J. I. Clinton, Baptist county missionary, conducted services in the Baptist church Sunday morning. A young minister from Valley View was in charge of evening services. Both preachers were dinner guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Whitt.

Mrs. B. G. Lyons spent several days in Gainesville with her daughter, Mrs. W. C. Stiles and family. Mr. Stiles suffered a heart attack two weeks ago and is recovering but is still not back at work in his service station. Mrs. Stiles has taken over the job there until her husband is well enough to return.

by Hugh Williamson

Survey takers, out gathering figures on hunting and fishing, have come up with some rather amazing statistics.

For example: More people hunt and fish than take part in all spectator sports combined. And anglers and hunters outnumber golfers nine to one.

Texans spend twice as much money to hunt and fish than they do for admission to all football, baseball, and basketball games, plus all other spectator sports, plus all movies and all other theatrical attractions combined.

The hunting and fishing bill of Texans is greater than that spent on medical care, dental work, and hospitalization insurance.

And the money spent for outdoor pursuits is rapidly increasing. That's because the population is growing and folks nowadays have more leisure time.

These are cold facts, based on accurate, scientific surveys, conducted for the Texas Game and Fish Commission.

Plenty for All

Fortunately there is going to be a bountiful supply of fish and game for all these anglers and shooters. Building of many new lakes, stocking them, and good rains this year will mean many fish.

Deer and turkey, along with antelope, once faced extinction in Texas. Game management programs and favorable conditions afield have brought back the deer and the turkey populations and put them in proper balance.

Viewers of the situation are pleased. But they see a need for more and better facilities and accommodations for the hunter and fisherman.

Trend in Motors

Another indication of change, is the trend toward bigger outboard motors. A decade ago most of these were five horsepower and under. But this year, a major manufacturer predicts that 48 per cent of the motors will be in the 30-horsepower class or larger.

This big stuff is for the speed boat people and those who tow the water skiers. It's not so much for fishermen. A Mercury-6 is plenty of motor for me.

You can stir around and get up an argument between the speed boat boys and the fishermen. But I don't think it's necessary. There's plenty of water for all.

Mostly the conflict comes about when the lakes are crowded on weekends and holidays. At those times I fish where the big boat boys don't go. Below a certain dam, for instance, it's too shallow for the heavier craft. I chug strategy paid off.

It was a great day and a great place for bass fishing. The weather was cool enough, except just in the middle of the day. We drifted around, among the old mossy trees, casting into the shade where bass were hiding. Very often, after a twitch of the lure, a bass hit. Before the end of the day, we had our limit of blacks.

That kind of fishing is rare, but there will be more of it during the coming months, as this year's fine crop of young bass reaches maturity.

If you hanker for bass, plan to be in your best fishing spot during February and March.

Whoopers Moving

The big whooping cranes are in process of moving from their breeding grounds in Canada to their winter home. Eight adult and two young birds have been sighted on the wing.

Whoopers move along by easy stages. Usually they begin arriving at their Texas refuge about the middle of October or later. Laggards will trail along at intervals.

There are only about 30 whooping cranes alive now. In flight, they appear as huge, white birds, with jet-black wing tips, red-crowned heads and long legs trailing. Please don't shoot them!

Winter Increases Destruction By Rats and Mice

RODENTS ARE A COMMUNITY PROBLEM, both rural and urban, and winter is the time they strike in greatest numbers. Cold weather and lack of food drive them into barns, granaries and even homes.

A single rat on a farm can cost the farmer $20 a year! A pair of rats can eat 54 pounds of food in a year and will destroy ten times the amount they eat! Rats annually destroy as much food in the United States as one out of every 25 farms produce. Contamination of grain by rodent droppings, hairs and urine has cost the farmer thousands of dollars through down-grading from grain suitable for human food to that usable only as animal feed. Mouse contamination of grain is increasingly becoming important in many areas where rat populations have been drastically reduced and the mouse population is growing. Such are the alarming, but true statistics furnished by the United States Fish and Wildlife Service and compiled in a brochure published by the Wisconsin Alumni Research Foundation.

Warfarin kills rodents by thinning their blood until they die of internal hemorrhage, over a period of 5 to 14 days. It is not a "quick kill" poison and there is no bait shyness. The rodents simply eat warfarin containing baits until they die.

Warfarin is comparatively safe when there are children about, because it is slow acting and usually mixed with unappetizing cereal baits to be fed to the rats and mice.

The entire community, working together, can win the war against rodents, a campaign that is bound to add up to a cleaner neighborhood, a safer community and the prevention of waste.

A few basic steps to remember in personally fighting this enemy are to keep garbage and refuse containers tightly covered, rat-proof buildings by closing all holes in exterior walls, and make use of any of the rodenticides containing warfarin, available under various trade names in stores throughout the country.

Additional information may be secured by calling your county agricultural agent or local health officer.

THE AMERICAN'S CREED

I believe in the United States of America as a government of the people, by the people, for the people; whose just powers are derived from the consent of the governed; a democracy in a republic; a sovereign nation of many sovereign states; a perfect union, one and inseparable; established upon those principles of freedom, equality, justice and humanity, for which American patriots sacrificed their lives and fortunes.

I therefore believe it is my duty to my Country to love it, to support its constitution; to obey its laws; to respect its Flag, and to defend it against all enemies. —William Tyler Page.

Junior 4-H Club Meets at Lindsay

Members of the Lindsay 4-H junior girls' club held their first meeting of the year on Oct. 16 with Miss Yvonne Allen, assistant home demonstration agent, present. She distributed enrollment cards for the group to fill out and explained the 4-H year-book.

Margery Fuhrmann, president, conducted the meeting. Patty Block is secretary and Judy Bezner is reporter. Patricia Zimmerer led the members in a song and Dolores Voth and Marcella Neu entertained by telling jokes.

Clara Fleitman has returned to Dearborn, Mich., after a two-week vacation visit with her parents, the William Fleitmans and other relatives. She made the trip by plane. Clara is an anesthetist on the staff at Oakwood Hospital in Dearborn.

Lindsay 4-H Senior Club Plans Program

Senior 4-H girls of Lindsay met Thursday at the Lindsay school with Miss Yvonne Allen, assistant home demonstration agent, conducting the meeting.

Linda Kuehn led the opening prayer and club pledge. Alma Haverkamp gave the secretary's report, and 4-H club yearbooks were distributed. The group filled out enrollment cards.

Dates for the Achievement week were announced for Nov. 11-16, and the group was reminded of the radio program in connection with the observance. Wanda Hess led the girls in a sing-song.

Lindsay PT Club Schedules Party

Members of the Lindsay Parent-Teacher Club met Tuesday night to make plans for the school's annual Halloween observance. This year's party will be held Wednesday night, Oct. 30, in the parish hall and will be for all students and their parents and families.

Children who want to come costumed may do so, but costumes are not a requirement. Games and entertainment for all age groups will be on the program with eats and drinks. A door prize will be given. Mrs. Albert Hoelker and Mrs. Bruno Zimmerer are co-chairmen for the event.

Joe Bezner Jr., club president conducted the meeting and after the business Mrs. Lambert Bezner showed pictures and slides of her recent trip to Europe. Sixty-five parents were in attendance.

The sixth grade was again winner for having the most parents present. It also led last month. The attendance prize for the winning class is an hour of recess.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Henschel and two sons of Amarillo returned home Monday after a visit since Thursday evening with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Matt Neu at Lindsay and Bill Henschel in Münster. They also visited other family members in both towns.

United Fund - - -

United Fund's method of soliciting funds. The first step is to contact business firms and their employees. On these calls solicitors are urged to seek authority for pay roll deductions or monthly bank drafts if persons do not feel able to donate an adequate amount at the time.

Those two methods are growing in popularity, Blanton said. Thousands of employees are authorizing their companies to deduct a dollar or more a month from their payroll. Others are authorizing their banks to draw on their accounts once a month. By that system they never miss the money.

The next step in soliciting is to call on homes . . . to see people who are not connected with business firms.

Finally, small penny banks are located in the schools to get the small donations of children.

Maxfield talked briefly on the organization and methods of the United Fund and Sharkey stressed the advisability of being thoroughly familiar with the county unit's program.

Tigers Lose - - -

Haverkamp in the end zone. The game puts Waco Catholic out in front in the current North Texas district race in the Southwest Academic League. Laneri of Fort Worth is the only team still standing in the way.

Another new development in the SAL district is its sudden drop in membership to three teams. An official report from the Texas Interscholastic League reveals that Buckner Home will operate in the future as a public school. At the same time the school has notified SAL opponents that it will complete its current SAL schedule but no longer considers itself eligible for district title.

Football Review

The most interesting plays from the A&M-Baylor and Rice-Texas football games will be featured next week on The Humble Company's Football Review. Veteran sportscaster Kern Tips will be on hand to describe the action.

Other features on the program will show Arkansas' key play, how Texas high schools prepare players to be college stars and then Dutch Meyer of TCU will recall his long and spectacular career.

"Football Review" can be seen Monday (Oct. 28) over KRLD-TV, Dallas, 7:30 p.m.

Hornets Lose - - -

tempted a fourth down kick on its 28. A bad pass to the kicker along with the fumbling that followed lost ground back to the 6 where Valley View took over. Four plays did the job, Wilkerson going over from the 2.

The next score was not far behind. Held for three downs Muenster booted on the fourth and the Eagles were moving again. Five plays made 65 yards, the big gainers being a 23 yard pass and Christian's 32 yard scoring scamper. Fortenberry's plunge added a point.

Shortly after the second quarter opened Muenster seemed to be hitting its stride. Six plays advanced the ball 37 yards to the Eagle 24 when an apparent scoring drive turned into a heartbreaker. McFarlin snared Hamric's pass near the 10 and dodged and squirmed back to the Hornet 36 before he was finally hauled down.

For the rest of the quarter and through the third the teams were deadlocked with Muenster showing up to a slight advantage. As the second half opened the Hornets promptly moved 41 yards to the Eagle 20 before losing the ball on downs. Later in the period they were moving again when Valley View intercepted in mid field.

After that the Eagles were in charge. Four plays moved to the 10 and four more overcame the Hornets last stand. A pass from McFarlin to Young for 1 yard was the pay off and McFarlin sneaked over for another point.

The next score added insult to injury. On the Hornets' first offensive play Witherspoon intercepted and raced some 30 yards to the line. Again McFarlin went over for a point.

In the closing minutes the Eagles put over a final TD against the Hornet rookies. McFarlin did it on a 36 yard run and crashed over again for the 34th point.

that end is to choose the kind of masks that do not impair vision. Another way is to use no mask at all and instead to strive for the spooky effect by using grease paint, eyebrow pencil, lipstick, etc. That precaution will enable kids to see what they are doing and possibly avoid stepping off the edge of a porch or into the path of a car.

Being seen is just as urgent. Dark costumes are hard to see in the dark, and kids roaming the street on their trick or treat routes might easily be hit by an unsuspecting driver. So, here the advice is to be sure costumes will show up in the dark. Light materials are safer even though slightly less spooky. Another good idea is to use some of the new luminous cloth or paper or plastic strips.

Best advice of all, the association says, is to avoid traffic dangers by entertaining the kiddies inside.
