New Building OKd For Ag Department At Muenster High

It's poll tax time again . . . that is, the last month of the poll tax paying period. Actually payments started in October but, true to our custom, most of us postpone it until the last few weeks.

Now the time has come to quit postponing. If it is put off just a few more times there's a strong chance that the deadline will slip past and the procrastinator will be a second class citizen for the rest of the year.

A few more thoughts in relation to the current poll tax: This is an election year, so the citizen gets more for his poll tax payment. Over age voters need not worry about that rumor a few months ago saying they will be required to get exemption certificates. The law is unchanged and oldsters in towns of under 10,000 do not need certificates. And, the bank again offers its customary accommodations to poll tax payers who want to avoid a special trip to the courthouse. Just fill in the application form and pay $1.75 and the poll tax receipt will arrive by mail a few days later.

A Gallup Poll report released a few days ago reveals an alarming trend in the thinking of people all around the world. Sampling the opinions in eleven large cities of Europe, Asia and the United States, the poll revealed that about two thirds of the persons asked favor a meeting of President Eisenhower and Nikita Khrushchev. Of the remaining third the opponents of such a meeting are slightly outnumbered by persons who expressed no opinion.

It is shocking to realize that so many people, either because of their preference for the Soviets or because of their lack of knowledge about them, could entertain such an opinion . . . especially after it has been proven so often that the reds live up only to the deals which are slanted in their favor.

At this very time there are reports of political pressure from some quarters of Europe to force the resignation of John Foster Dulles as Secretary of State. One of the lines in the campaign is that Dulles would try to obstruct negotiations with Russia.

Of all the absurd charges to hurl at anyone, that takes the prize. The man is being slandered and abused for what seems much more like a virtue.

It's high time for these idealistic dreamers to understand what happens when people of principle try to negotiate with communists . . . that is, any communists, not just the Russians. The first purpose of the reds in such meetings is to exploit them to the limit for their propaganda value, then to obstruct and insult and use any other contemptible means to obtain an advantage. And finally the reds observe only those agreements which serve their purpose.

It's hardly necessary to explain that nothing worth while can be accomplished under those conditions. It is too much like an honest person in a crooked card game. Chances are the sharpies will take him. But if he should happen to win in spite of the odds he's likely to be paid off with a hot check or maybe to get hi-jacked as he leaves the joint.

The proposals that make sense are those which recommend having nothing whatever to do with the reds anywhere or any time. That applies to the puppets as well as the top leaders, the Titoists as well as the party line faithfuls, the social or commercial agreements as well as the political p.o.w. wows, the embassy, the UN and the summit meeting.

Looking back all the way to 1933 we find history crowded with incidents to support this attitude. From the first day our country recognized the red regime the commies have heaped us with treachery, deceit, sabotage, subversion, insult, atrocity and practically every other known violation of honor and decency.

Our country, as for the past quarter century, still operates on the completely erroneous assumption that communists can be dealt with like people of principle. How much longer must that go on before our leaders realize what the score is? The big contest nowadays is not a struggle between United States and Russia but rather the struggle between atheism and the believers in God. Reds are aware of it. Why can't Christians also become aware of it? . . . and

January 19 Set for Formal Opening of New Lindsay School

Lindsay's recently completed new high school will be proudly shown on Sunday, January 19 at an open house reception marking its formal opening. Preparations for the event are under way now according to a report this week from the Lindsay school board.

The handsome new building of brick and structural tile was built by St. Peter's Parish and will be leased to the Lindsay school district. It will be used by the four high school classes and the two top elementary grades.

Measuring 130x56, the structure consists of three classrooms, a library, a science room, a home-making room, the hall, and the administrative office, storage rooms and rest rooms.

Cooperation Urged In Scholastic Count

Progress on the scholastic census for the Muenster school district is moving along nicely, Superintendent H. H. Homsley disclosed Tuesday as he noted that completed census forms are coming in every day. However, not enough had been received up to then to begin his systematic check against missing slips.

At this stage, Homsley said, all parents should have received their census blanks and any who have not received them are urged to phone in promptly. Possibly someone was overlooked. Possibly a few blanks were lost by children. Whatever the reason for not receiving their blanks parents can save time and tedious checking by asking soon for another blank so their report can be returned before official listings begin.

If such parents are already on the census roll or on the attendance roll for either local school there is no danger of their being overlooked on the final report . . . however they are urged to cooperate in getting their completed blanks back as early as possible.

As usual the group that needs special attention is that on which the district has no current records. Mostly this includes children who will reach school age in time for the next school year and who do not have older brothers or sisters in school. Parents of these children are especially urged to phone and make sure that the children are not overlooked.

Other possibilities are families who moved into the district and happen to send their children to a school outside the district. Anyone knowing of such a family is asked to notify Superintendent Homsley.

To be listed as a scholastic a child must be 6 years old on or before September 1, 1958 and must be under 18 on that date.

Homsley's Contract Extended 3 Years

H. Howard Homsley, superintendent of the Muenster public school for the past four years, has just received a three year extension on his assignment. Members of the school board Tuesday night voted unanimously to renew his present contract for three years.

In making their decision the trustees considered Homsley's effort in behalf of the community in general along with his scholastic and administrative achievements for the school. He has served two years as president of the local Lions club and has been active in all major civic events of the past four years. He was also author of a brochure on the Muenster school system which has attracted widespread attention to the community.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Rohmer, married here 50 years ago on Jan. 7, hadn't planned to celebrate their golden wedding anniversary, but their children and grandchildren from here surprised them at night with an observance at their home. They brought covered dishes for supper and spent the evening in reunion.

This is the beginning of the program for renovating the entire courthouse sometime in the future.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Cain drove to Dallas for a weekend visit with Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Soutter.

Rigler Transfers To Austin Office Of Texas Rangers

Texas Ranger Lewis C. Rigler, who has served in the Gainesville and Cooke County area during 11 of his 17 years in the Rangers, has been promoted to sergeant and transferred to Austin. The promotion and change were announced Monday by Col. Homer Garrison, director of the Texas Department of Public Safety.

Rigler's new assignment is to work directly under Col. Garrison as adjutant to the Rangers in their Austin headquarters.

In announcing the promotion Garrison said that the department is fortunate to have an outstanding citizen and investigator such as Rigler in the Department of Public Safety.

During his stay in Gainesville Rigler has been prominent not only as a peace officer but as a civic leader on the city and county levels. He has been especially active in service clubs and charity drives.

Col. Garrison did not name a Ranger to succeed Rigler in Cooke County.

24 Area Leaders Named in County's '58 March of Dimes

Twenty-four Cooke County residents have been named chairman of key committees for the forthcoming March of Dimes drive, Joe M. Leonard, Jr., campaign director, announced today. The 1958 anti-polio campaign is being conducted January 2-31.

In naming the various committee leaders, Mr. Leonard said they had been selected for outstanding achievements and interest in community welfare and improvements.

In Muenster the Ladies Auxiliary to VFW Post 6205 is in charge of the campaign, and members are arranging a well organized drive. It is the organization's seventh March on Polio of this nature.

"Those of us who are contributing our services to the March of Dimes realize we face a special challenge this year," the campaign directors said in making the announcement. "We have seen the tremendous decline of new cases, thanks to Salk vaccine, as a result, maybe there are some who think that writes finis to polio.

"But this is far from true. Old cases run into thousands. Ninety per cent of all March of Dimes funds spent on patient care in 1957 was for 'old cases,' those patients left on chapter rolls from preceding years.

"These patients are among the 300,000 living Americans who survived paralytic polio.

"We also must continue to open new doors in the field of virus research. And we must provide new trained hands and minds for research, care of patients and the education of medical personnel — as well as continue to promote the use of Salk vaccine to prevent future cases of paralytic polio."

Lions Club Plans Program to Honor Man of the Year

Muenster's second annual man-of-the-year awards dinner sponsored by the Lions Club has just entered the planning stage. Local members at their regular session Tuesday decided to have the event as a ladies' night program and to have the details worked out by a special committee.

Named on the committee by Lion President Steve Moster were J. M. Weinzapfel, R. J. Hellman, H. H. Homsley, Jerome Pagel and J. B. Klement.

As before, the identity of the man of the year will remain a secret until the program, however the method of selection will be different. This year the committee will decide rather than a community wide ballot. The committee will also decide other details such as naming the date, the menu and the type of program.

Murlin Joe Evans left this week to enroll as a student at the University of Houston. He had been working on an oil rig in Farmington, N. M., until he came home for the recent holidays.

Parochial Cagers Win 5 and Lose 3 In Week's Contests

In a busy basketball season since the holidays the two Sacred Heart basketball teams have a record of five wins out of eight games. The school divided honors with the Alumni, Era and Buckner and took both in their tussle with Pilot Point.

New Year's eve the parochial teams had two hot overtime games with the Alumni. First the Tigerettes edged out 31-30 after a 28-28 tie at the end of the regular game. Then the Tigers lost 28-27 after a 25-25 deadlock. Both games were close all the way. Top scorers of the girls game were Dolphine Knabe with 21 for the Alumni and Dorothy Zimmerman with 11 for Sacred Heart. Leading boys: Gene Hartman, 10, for Sacred Heart and Sylvan Walterscheid, 7, for the exes.

Thursday night the teams divided a pair at Era. The girls trailed in the first quarter then edged ahead 3 points at the half and finally won 43-33. Zimmerman hit 17 and Bayer 14. Next the Tigers played their hosts a tight defensive game, finally going down 29-19. Gene Hartman and Sonny Walterscheid shared scoring honors with 6 each.

At Buckner last Friday the Tigerettes had a full sized job in winning 48-41 as Zimmerman scored 28 and Bayer 15. The next was also close for three quarters but then the hosts got out of control and ran the score to 55-27. Walterscheid scored 14 for the Tigers.

St. Anne's Retains Mrs. Victor Hartman As 1958 President
Mrs. Victor Hartman was re-elected president of Saint Anne's Society and Mrs. Frank Herr was retained as vice president for another term when members of the organization held the annual officer election during Sunday afternoon's meeting.

New members of the executive committee are Mrs. Tony Gremminger, secretary, and Mrs. Leo Henscheid, treasurer. Mrs. Henscheid replaces Mrs. Lena Steng who was treasurer of the society for 32 years. She declined the office this term after accepting it at each election since 1926.

Members gave a rising vote of thanks to Mrs. Steng and presented her a spiritual bouquet in appreciation for her work.

In giving her final financial report covering the past year, Mrs. Steng listed charitable expenditures totaling $1,148 from the treasury. These included help to home and foreign missions, the church laundry, repairs at the Sisters' residence, church vestments and purchase of the rectory's home freezer.

A membership committee was named. It is composed of Mmes. Hank Walterscheid, Albert Schilling, John P. Steng and Andy Monday. Reception ceremonies for new members are planned for March.

Final plans for the society's breakfast honoring 50-year members were completed. Date for the event is January 19 and the social will follow attendance at 8 o'clock mass. In charge of the program plans are Mrs. John Kathman, Mrs. Gertrude Bayer and Mrs. John Grewing, who head the entertainment committee.

What Will I Do To Elect Fighters For Freedom

The following essay, written by Mrs. J. E. Smith of Palestine, was awarded first place in a nationwide good citizenship contest sponsored by the Farm Bureau Federation.

"I will remember that I was an American long before I was ever affiliated with any political party; also, that it is the people who run the affairs of our government and not the party itself.

"I will study all available reputable information on the person seeking office and support those who are willing to put the welfare of his country above political expediency.

"In national elections I will work for and support those who have proven by their record that they are willing to fight for the sound competitive enterprise system that has made America great, and oppose the socialistic powers destroying our economy and freedom.

"I will work in our county political committee, or any organization, in any capacity possible to try to convince others the importance of their responsibility in studying the qualification of the candidates; the issues involved; to assimilate information so they may vote intelligently. I will try to impress upon the people the importance of supporting candidates willing to fight for the rights of the individual and states as provided in our constitution, and fight the creeping power of centralized government.

"I will seek commitments from candidates on issues; support only those willing to work for sound government so important for the welfare of our country, and will not under any circumstances support any person evading the issues and seeking office on impossible promises and propaganda. I will encourage people of high integrity to seek office to fill these needs.

"From county level to national level, I will choose people, to the best of my ability whom I believe will not surrender to pressure groups; whether they be agriculture, labor, industry or any group that might be seeking special favors at the expense of our country.

"I want the people who run the affairs of our government to have strong convictions that each individual has the right to work at any vocation of his own choice and prosper in accordance to his ability.

"All these things and more I will work for to help — Elect Fighters For Freedom."

Movie Producer Mike Todd, who has spent a great deal of time in Russia, says the Communists like to exploit movies depicting America in a bad light. The movie "Grapes of Wrath," the story of depression-stricken migratory farm workers who drifted about the country in search of work in an antiquated Model "T" truck, was exhibited widely over the land as typical of American life. A Russian, after seeing the movie, confided to Todd that he doubted it was truly representative of this country. Reason for his reservations: "You can't tell me that many people in America have cars!"

False Prophets

Christ's warning of nearly 2,000 years ago — "Beware of false prophets, which come to you in sheep's clothing but inwardly they are ravening wolves" — is cited by FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover in an article appearing in the American Legion Magazine for November. He applies it to communism. For communism, he writes, despite the efforts of leaders to put on smiling new faces, has not weakened and its philosophy has not changed, nor has the danger from it lessened. In his words: "... the same old communist crowd is doing business at the same old communist stand in the same old subversive way!"

Actually, according to qualified spokesmen, the Communist Party, U.S.A., "is exulting that it has received a renewed lease on life." And it is intensifying its work in certain extremely significant directions. For one thing, it seeks to place members in heavy industry, steel mills and shipyards. For another, it is seeking to appeal to young people and to influence them through concealed members in church and civic organizations. Minority groups are also a prime target and communists are experts at exploiting and warping legitimate and honest grievances. Then, the purposeful hand of communism is turned to protesting against the continued testing of nuclear weapons and other such strategic matters.

As Mr. Hoover, out of his long and intimate experience with this danger, puts it: "Division and disunity are communist weapons... It pits race against race, worker against manager, and group against group. It muddies the waters of peace while shouting, 'Coexistence!'"

The personalities of communism change. We now see, for instance, Khrushchev in place of Stalin. But, as we have also seen, those who oppose Khrushchev are purged just as surely as were those who opposed Stalin. It is Mr. Hoover's point that "The tactics of communism do not change! Hypocrisy, guile, deceit, and subversion are the hallmarks of communism today as they were yesterday. Here in America every walk of life has been infiltrated by the fanged salesmen of subversion cloaked in the lamb's wool of glowing promise."

Then he propounds a question: "What... shall we do to insure that Americans will never eat the bitter fruit which is the dreadful lot of more than one-third of the peoples of the world?" His answer is this: "Learn what communism is and make ourselves aware of the tactics used by those who promote communism." Communism is purely materialistic in its explanation of the relationship of man to the universe and in its

Atheists Don't Think Straight

By Dr. George S. Sperti, scientist, Director of the Institutum Divi Thomae, in Cincinnati

The only people barred from our school of scientific research in Cincinnati are atheists.

THE STATEMENT has been made that atheists are barred from the Institute because they do not think straight. Strangely enough, a former atheist made this statement.

What made this man who formerly denied the very possibility of the existence of a personal God finally come to acknowledge the existence of an all-wise, intelligent First Cause?

IN THE COURSE of working in the laboratory and studying the findings of other scientists, our friend the atheist generally began to realize that he was living in a well-planned universe. Here are just a few of the facts that made him reflect.

For a long time men wondered how Eskimos, who see so little of the sun, ever got their share of sunshine vitamins. The answer that the scientist discovered was shockingly simple. The vitamins they needed were in the fish they ate, formed in sunnier seas and shipped by living express.

WE ARE ALL acquainted with the fact that practically everything contracts as it gets cold and freezes. There is an important exception to that rule—the freezing of water.

Water contracts like all other substances until it is just ready to freeze and then suddenly it expands, becomes less dense and floats upward.

That is the reason why rivers freeze on top and not from the bottom up. If they did not freeze in that way, the ice forming on the bottom would force all the water creatures up and out into the air. But in divine providence the ice forms on top and its very presence protects the aquatic life from the icy winds that caused it to form.

THESE ARE just a few of the things that made the atheist pause and reflect. As he drank in the beauties of the universe, as he looked here and there and saw purpose and plan, the doubts of a skeptical and confused mind began to disappear.

A man does not change his mind on such a subject as easily as a woman decides to wear a different hat. Where first this atheist was a law unto himself, now he must recognize the fact that he is a creature, and is subject to the laws of the Creator. Where before he considered himself a lucky combination of aimless atoms, he suddenly finds himself a part of a plan as eternal as the mind that conceived it.

BUT THIS MAN came to realize that he would not be thinking straight unless he acknowledged the existence of God.

interpretation of history. It wishes to abolish all religions and the economic system we know as free enterprise. Its code of action is based not on morals but on utility. It reasons that the end always justifies the means. Its goal is worldwide revolution culminating in a worldwide communist society. And its end result, to quote Mr. Hoover once again: "... is the reduction of man from a spiritual creature to the level of high-grade animal whose sole reason for being is to copulate and die."

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

As a new and unspoiled year unfolds it might be well to take a look backward and review what was accomplished last year by Muenster-Saint Jo area farmers and ranchers in cooperation with the Upper Elm-Red Soil Conservation district's program of soil, water and plant conservation.

In the overall picture of progress, landowners cooperating with the local district's program did a good job of applying soil and water conserving practices to their land in 1957, in spite of some record making weather conditions. Last year was one of the wettest years on record following about seven years of below normal moisture and most landowners were caught with their plans down. They had not planned on the sudden switch in moisture conditions and most of the conservation practices that were put on the land had to be done between rains.

Seven more landowners in the Muenster area signed cooperative agreements to cooperate with the Upper Elm-Red Soil Conservation district's program to save the soil. This brings the total number in the Muenster area to 585 farms covering 181,781 acres that are under the local program for soil and water and plant conservation. The SCS assists the district program by furnishing trained technicians to work with the landowners in applying conservation practices.

Last year 15,000 acres in this area were planted to soil improving and soil protecting legume cover crops such as clovers, vetch, guar and peas. The practice of leaving crop residues on or near the soil surface as a protective mulch was applied to 19,900 acres. In the program to improve the production of grasslands, a system of deferred grazing in which the grass is allowed long periods of rest was applied on 11,500 acres of native grass.

Proper stocking rates, better grazing distribution and grazing management to leave one-half of each year's growth of forage by weight on the soil for protection and improvement was practiced on nearly 10,000 acres of grassland. Rotation grazing to permit short periods of rest during the growing season was applied to 32,000 acres of pasture land.

Six miles of terracing completed last year bring the total to 539 miles of terraces which have been built on farms in this area. Farming the land with the terraces or on the contour is being practiced on some 14,965 acres.

Another 20 ponds for livestock water were built last year, making a total of 445 ponds on farms in this area. And 121 ponds were re-stocked with fish from fish hatcheries.

Six grassed waterways were planted last spring for safe outlets for terrace water and over 1,300 acres of pasture land were seeded to grasses and legumes for better grazing and soil protection.

All of these practices have been planned and applied to the soil by landowners who have a desire to protect and improve their land. Each practice is used to prevent soil and water loss by slowing down run-off and getting as much water as possible into the soil; to keep a protective cover over the soil as much as possible and to build up the fertility and water holding capacity of the soil so that it will produce better crops. It is the use of each acre of land within its capacities and the treatment of each acre of land in accordance with its needs for protection and improvement.

Landowners of this area have taken another big step forward in protecting and improving the soil. There is still much to be done. 1958 should bring even more progress toward the goal of protecting and improving the land so that this and other generations may continue to live without fear of having enough to eat. The soil is this nation's basic resource. It must be protected and improved if this country is to survive as a strong nation.

A lad started out as an unwanted child, but he overcame that handicap. By the time he was 19 he was wanted in 24 states.

Use Native Shrubs Around the Home

College Station — Native shrubs of ornamental value are found in all parts of Texas. They add interest to farm and home grounds and save dollars too.

Shrubs can be marked now and transplanted to the grounds during the winter, according to Sadie Hatfield, extension home-stead improvement specialist. It's easy to spot shrubs which have attractive berries and bright fall leaves at this time of the year. It's also easy to select the evergreen shrubs you may be looking for.

Valuable native plants are often found growing in nearby pastures, old fields, canyons and breaks. Those found near your home will be especially well adapted to the soil and climate and will usually thrive when moved to the home grounds. They may take less care than introduced plants. There are many possibilities. . . . Examples are the ceniza and agarita or algerita, which grows in the southwestern area; native hollies, bayberry, cherry laurel and Indian Cherry in East Texas. Evergreen sumac or kiniknik, mountain laurel, Texas Madrona, Texas Arbutus, cedars and Arizona Cypress are found growing wild in Central and West Texas. Shrub hunting can be fun for the whole family. . . . This is the time of the year to enjoy it.

President Joe Hundt said he planned to attend the state meeting for farm bureau presidents in Waco on Jan. 20 and 21, and announced the safety driving demonstrations that were conducted at the public schools in Valley View, Era and Muenster on Jan. 9.

Attending the meeting from Muenster were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Fisher, Glenn Hellman and Gus Lutkenhaus.

THE $64,000 QUESTION
A husband decided he would give his wife a 1957 model Cadillac convertible for Christmas. He hid the car in a neighbor's garage on Christmas eve and next morning parked it in his own driveway. He then went in the house and asked the little woman to come to the front door. When she appeared the husband pointed proudly to the parked car and asked, "How do you like it, honey?" Whereupon the wife turned to him and said, "What's the matter, stupid, couldn't you answer the $64,000 question?"

Roberts Announces For Re-Election As State Senator

Ray Roberts, State Senator from the 9th District, announced today that he would be a candidate for re-election for a second term. Roberts who has been active in Democratic Party circles had been mentioned prominently as a possible candidate for high state office.

Roberts lives in McKinney and is an automobile dealer with farming interests. He is best known for his work as a member of the Texas Water Resources Committee, which planned most of the water legislation for the 55th legislative session and the special sessions. He was the joint sponsor of 19 water measures proposed by the committee and served as Vice Chairman of the Senate Committee on Water and Conservation. He has been concerned with maintaining the water rights of agricultural interests and of small towns. One of his proposals would permit farmers to use water from small lake water for irrigation.

Roberts is active in Naval Reserve activities and will make his formal announcement after he returns from a cruise with the Navy in February.

Roberts has also been active in teacher and school legislation and was selected at the end of his first legislative session as the senator who contributed most to the vocational teaching program.

During the 55th legislative session Senator Roberts was one of the busiest members of the senate. In addition to being chairman of the military and veterans affairs committee, he was also vice chairman of the powerful water and conservation committee, vice chairman of the state departments and institutions committee, member of the finance committee and one of the five senators appointed to the finance sub-committee and to the conference committee which passed on all state appropriations, and he also served on several minor committees.

Roberts was a strong advocate of lobby control measures. He believes that no person should be allowed to practice before state agencies while a member of the legislature. He has been extremely critical of some lawyer legislators who accept large retainer fees from firms having problems with the state.

The 9th Senatorial District is composed of Collin, Cooke, Fannin, Grayson, Hunt, Rockwall and Rains Counties.

Alvord Clobbers MHS in Opener of District 37-B Race

Both Muenster High teams were completely outclassed Tuesday night as they entertained Alvord in the opening games of their District 37-B basketball schedule. Muenster girls lost the opener 45-30 and the boys were annihilated 79-19.

For the first few minutes the girls went strong jumping to an 8-1 lead, but then the slump hit. Scores ending the first three periods were 12-3, 32-14 and 41-19, Alvord leading all the way. In the final minutes they did better, finally ending at 45-30. Top scorers for MHS were Jean Wieler, 15, and Mary Dennis, 13.

The boys' game was an exhibition of two extremes in shooting accuracy. Alvord was hot while the usually cold Hornets were colder than ever. In the ball control and floorwork categories the Hornets were a better match for their visitors.

SH Basketball - - -

Pilot Point in the local gym. The first was a cinch in which the Tigerette regulars took a 37-12 lead in three periods then turned it over to the youngsters in the last quarter for a final count of 37-28. Zimmerer and Virgilla Schilling were top scorers with 13 and 10. The Tigers had a thriller. After leading 11-9, 21-17 and 25-21 for three periods they barely held out for a 30-29 win. They almost lost in the closing second as Pilot Point's last shot was in the air when time ran out. What might have been the winning score bounced off the hoop. Walterscheid led the Tiger scoring with 16.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Metzler and Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Metzler have returned from a trip to Corpus Christi, the Rio Grande Valley and Old Mexico. In Corpus Christi they visited Mr. and Mrs. Alex Flusche and Paul Flusche and on the way back stopped in San Antonio to see the Rudy Dieters.

A doctor somewhere has figured out that the human heart every 24 hours pumps 8,000 gallons of blood through 12,000 miles of veins and arteries. Think of it! That little pump the size of a fist doing a tremendous job like that all day, every day, sometimes for as much as a hundred years. Suppose we built a pump to do that job. How big would it be? How much energy would it require? How long long would it last?

How can any communist reflect on that single fact, or on a million other wonders of nature, and still remain an atheist? All of which emphasizes the fact that "the fool says there is no God."

Great minds discuss ideas, mediocre minds discuss events, small minds discuss personalities.
