500 Person Attend Formal Opening of Miller Buildings

In spite of occasional drizzles Nick and Adelina Miller had a steady stream of visitors from 3 to 6 Sunday for the formal opening of their new cleaning, pressing and shoe repair building and their enlarged funeral home. About 500 persons called and all received souvenirs of the event.

Several dozen others had to be turned away after 6 because of the death of Mrs. Lutkenhaus, which made it necessary to change original plans and get the funeral home ready for use at 7:30.

Along with the congratulations and good wishes of their many visitors the Millers also had about two dozen floral tributes on display in the two buildings.

Mrs. Miller was hostess at the funeral home, meeting guests and showing and explaining the improvements in space and facilities. As now arranged the funeral home has more than twice as much available space as before. Also it can accommodate two separate groups. Assisting Mrs. Miller as hostess was Miss Mary Becker. She was in charge of the guest book and gave potted ivy plants to all the ladies.

At the new building Mr. Miller was the host. Besides showing the new set up he had charge of registrations for two door prizes, a lady's shoulder bag and a man's hand tooled billfold. Winners of those prizes were C. J. Rucker of Fort Worth and Mrs. Arthur Endres.

Out of town visitors attending were G. D. Cooper of Waco, sales manager of the Texas Coffin Co., and his wife; John Rodman of Fort Worth, salesman for the Texas Coffin Co.; N. S. Gentry of the Denton Monument Co. and his wife; Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Rucker and daughters of Fort Worth, Carl Chandler of Geo. J. Carroll and Son, Gainesville; and Carl Kaden of Kaden the Florist, Gainesville.

Assisting Nick as the host was his nephew, Arnold Muller, who gave a souvenir to every visitor. Ladies got clothes hangers with foam dress shields and plastic covers, men got hangers with pants guards and plastic covers. Kiddies received chewing gum.

Outside members of the Muenster Boy Scout troop completed the entertaining, serving bottled drinks and cookies.

GET NURSING DEGREES

Two Muenster girls received their nursing diplomas and RN titles Sunday in graduation exercises at John Peter Smith Hospital School of Nursing in Fort Worth. They are Corina Vogel, daughter of the Joe Vogels and Joyce Wiesman Guthrie, daughter of the Al Wiesmans. Members of both families attended the commencement program.

Local News BRIEFS

The Clarence Owen family moved Tuesday to Fort Worth, where he has accepted employment as caretaker for buildings and grounds of St. Mary's Parish. He will be working for Father Patrick Hannon, former assistant of the Muenster parish.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Cain returned home Tuesday after several days visit in Houston, just in time to organize a family picnic on Lake Texoma observing the birthdays of Chris Michael and his daddy. Dick drove to Houston early last week on a business trip. On Thursday Mrs. Cain, taking her first airliner ride, flew in from Dallas. Their hosts for the visit were Mr. and Mrs. David McCollum.

Sonny Walterscheid, in Dallas, writes home that he has just started working for the Mercantile National Bank. Meanwhile he continues his business course, as a night student at Oak Cliff Business College.

Raymond Hoenig was back in Muenster the past weekend after two months of work and vacation travel to the Pacific Northwest. He spent most of the time in the harvest fields in Washington and took a short sight-seeing trip into Canada before coming back.

William Fulton, 87, Formerly of Myra, Claimed by Death

William S. Fulton, 87, of Dallas, for many years a farmer in the Myra community, died early Sunday in a Dallas hospital. He had been living in Dallas County about 30 years.

Funeral services were held at 3 o'clock Monday in the Myra Baptist Church with the pastor, Rev. Guy Stump officiating. Burial was in the Myra Cemetery under direction of Geo. J. Carroll and Son Funeral Home.

Mr. Fulton was born in North Carolina on March 22, 1871. He is survived by four sons, Ike of Myra, Hightower of Dallas, Hilbert of Oklahoma City and Maurice of Jennings, La.; two daughters, Mrs. Lola Brooks and Mrs. Fern Edward of Dallas; and two sisters, Mrs. Lizzie Patrick and Mrs. Fern Saronica of Celina.

NEWS OF SICK AND INJURED

Don Vogel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Vogel, has been slowed down considerably by a broken collar bone, which was sustained last Sunday in a fall from a horse. He is getting around as well as brace and bandage will allow.

A broken rib was the cause of a persistent sharp pain that hung on several days after Mrs. Lena Bernauer hurt her right side in a fall at home last week. A belated X-Ray revealed the fracture. She's up now, and well wrapped in bandages.

Paul Tempel was home for a weekend leave from Veterans' Hospital of Lisbon. He says the only reason to remain there now is treatment to improve muscle use in his left arm and hand.

Gloria Yosten, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Felix Yosten has practically recovered from an ankle injury received in a motor scooter accident July 4. She quit using her crutches last week.

Little Jerry Fleitman, accompanied by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bruno Fleitman was in Dallas Friday for special dental work.

Kenny, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Luke, is back home convalescing from minor surgery last Saturday in Gainesville Sanitarium.

Herman Stoffels is reported as making a good start toward recovery from a serious lung operation at the VA Hospital in Lisbon. His wife, returning home after five days with him last week, said he is due to remain there for an indefinite time and will welcome cards and letters. He's in Ward C, Fourth Floor. Mrs. Stoffels was back at the hospital Sunday for another visit.

Mrs. J. H. Wimmer is back in circulation again but still suffering from a leg infection that kept her home for several days.

Mrs. G. H. Hellman returned home last Friday after three days of observation and tests at St. Joseph's hospital in Fort Worth. She was assured that a simple diet is all she needs to keep fit.

Mrs. Conrad Jostwerner is back home since Monday convalescing from two operations last Friday in Gainesville Sanitarium. She had a growth removed from her eyelid and another growth from the back of her neck.

Richard Grewing Is Only Candidate For Special Election

Apparently the special city election scheduled for Saturday, the 23rd, will be a mere formality. Richard Grewing is the only person to announce his candidacy before last Saturday's filing deadline, so his will be the only name to appear on the ballot.

The new alderman is being elected to fill the vacancy left by M. D. Kaderli when he moved to New Mexico.

Arnold Ray is the name given to the new son of the Buddy Yostens at his baptism last Wednesday. Father Christopher officiated and his uncle and aunt, the Raymond Walterscheid's were godparents. He was born Monday the 4th.

Henry Henscheid Returns to Europe For Vacation Visit

The long awaited reunion of Henry Henscheid with his family was finally realized Wednesday when, according to schedule, he was due to arrive at the airport at Cologne Germany.

Henry is back home after an absence of 34 years but his visit is saddened by the death of his only brother ten days before his arrival. A message received last week told of the man's death on Monday and plans for his funeral on Thursday. He was the person with whom Henry had been corresponding and planning. He was going with Henry to the Lourdes Shrine, the Brussels World's Fair and several other places, but plans now may be changed to fit the convenience of his other relatives. Included in that group are two sisters, three nephews and two nieces.

Another disappointment was the illness of his daughter Florence, which kept her from joining him on the trip. Last week she had to cancel her reservation and submit to an operation instead.

One of the big thrills of the trip was the flight there by plane. Mr. Henscheid left the Dallas airport at 8:30 Tuesday, arrived in New York at noon and headed over the Atlantic an hour later. Fifteen hours after that at 4 a.m. by our time, he was due to land at Cologne, about 30 miles from his home town of Neunkirchen.

The length of Henry's stay in the old home town is indefinite. He expects to stay something more than a month, the exact time to be determined as plans develop.

Muenster Knights To Sponsor Parties For Teen-age Set

Sponsorship of a monthly teen party for young people of the community was adopted by the Muenster K of C council at its regular meeting last Wednesday night.

The events, to be held on Sunday nights, will be similar to those now conducted by the VFW Auxiliary and will give the youngsters two parties a month.

Special preparations are already under way for it. Rest rooms are being installed upstairs in the KC hall, so that separate crowds can be accommodated both upstairs and in the basement.

The party project fits in with the more general six point program which is being encouraged by the national organization for the welfare of the Church and the order. Youth activity is one of the six points.

John Mosman is general chairman of the six point program and committee heads working with him are as follows: Charles Taylor, Catholic Activity; Earle Otto, Council Activity; J. W. Fisher, Fraternal Activity; Francis Wiese, Membership and Insurance; Ray Wilde, Public Relations; and Martin Trubenbach, Youth Activity.

Parochial Teachers Start Arriving for Next School Year

Sisters Celine Trubenbach and Frances Hofbauer, two of the Benedictine Sisters on the Sacred Heart School staff for next year, arrived here last Friday. Saturday of this week the other sisters will start coming in, following the annual ceremonies for the feast of the Assumption at Holy Angels' Convent, Jonesboro, Ark.

A pleasant surprise awaited them on their arrival. The job of cleaning up, stocking up and connecting utilities in their house, which was vacant since the last school year, had been done in advance for them by Miss Marie Trubenbach and Mrs. Andy Trubenbach, who knew of their coming.

The next project in getting the sisters settled, the annual Sisters' shower, was approved by St. Anne's Society in its August meeting. A date convenient to the Sisters will be set after their arrival.

The Charles Taylors returned last Saturday after a week of fishing and sight-seeing as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clem Fladung at Longmont, Colo. Mrs. Fladung is the former Ida Fisher.

Mrs. J. Lutkenhaus, 54 Year Resident Of Muenster, Dies

Mrs. Joe Lutkenhaus, 80, a resident of Muenster for 54 years, died suddenly last Saturday morning at 9:20 in Baylor Hospital, Dallas.

The cause of her death was diagnosed as leukemia complicated by a kidney infection. She had been afflicted with leukemia since January 1955. From then until January of this year her sickness was in the chronic stage and she received treatments at the Wadley Research Center of Dallas.

At first the treatments were infrequent but they gradually became more frequent as the disease got worse. In January her condition was classed as acute. Treatments became still more frequent and were often accompanied by blood transfusions.

During those three and a half years she remained active and suffered very little pain. She would go for treatment when she felt the need of their bracing effect on her system.

Reporting again for treatment last Thursday she was advised that her condition was critical and was transferred to Baylor Hospital. On her second day there she quietly passed away.

Funeral services for Mrs. Lutkenhaus were held Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock in Sacred Heart Church with Father Christopher Paladino officiating at the Requiem Mass and delivering the funeral sermon. Father Christopher also officiated at grave side services which were directed by Miller Funeral Home.

Bearers were four grandsons of the deceased: Sheldon Lutkenhaus, Jimmy Lutkenhaus, Melvin Wilde and Billy Detten; and two grand-nephews, Charles Felderhoff and Billy Joe Danglmayr.

Prior to the funeral three rosary services were held at Miller Funeral home, at 8:30 Sunday and Monday nights and at 4 Monday afternoon.

Rev. Alcuin Kubis Appointed Pastor Of Lindsay Parish

Father Alcuin Kubis, a native son of Lindsay, is the new pastor of its St. Peter's parish, succeeding the aging Father Conrad Herda who has been transferred to less strenuous duty as chaplain of St. Hildegard's Hospital in Clarksville, Ark.

The change of assignments was officially announced by Bishop Gorman last week and Father Alcuin was at Lindsay Sunday to conduct his first services as pastor of his home parish.

Father Conrad leaves Lindsay with a long record of service during two pastorates for a total of 22 years. He first came to the parish in 1923 and was transferred two years later. Next he came in 1938 and remained until now. During that time the parish plant added three of its buildings, the modern high school completed last year and the parish hall and rectory built several years ago. He was born in Silesia on September 3, 1885 and was ordained at Subiaco in 1916. Two years ago the Lindsay parish had a community wide celebration honoring him on the fortieth anniversary of his ordination.

Father Alcuin was born in Lindsay on September 9, 1908, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Adalbert Kubis. His mother is still a member of the parish. After finishing school at Lindsay he transferred to Subiaco Abbey and was ordained on May 26, 1932. Since then he has had three assignments, as teacher at Subiaco until 1941, as teacher and director of athletics at Corpus Christi Academy until 1954 and as pastor at Scranton, Ark. until now.

Want to Avoid Hard Water? Don't Use Yard Sprinklers During Peak Period

From the looks of things now the city of Muenster will have to do a lot of growing, or its water facilities will have to develop serious trouble, before a call for water rationing will ever be necessary. Nor will it be necessary to demand controlled use of the water to avoid an emergency.

But the time is already here when a few changes are needed to avoid running hard water into the line. In the opinion of Water Superintendent Steve Mosier practically every lady in town will gladly cooperate in order to keep out the hard water.

All that's necessary is for more people to water lawns and gardens earlier in the day. Already the two heaviest users in town, the schools, have agreed to change their schedule, and a few more changes will drop the peak time rate of consumption to a much safer figure.

A log on city water consumption used to run something like this. From 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the rate of 10,000 gallons an hour. From 5 to 7:30 at a rate of 30,000 gallons an hour. From 7:30 to 9:30 at a rate of 32,500 gallons an hour. From 9:30 to 11 at 20,000 gallons an hour. Finally from 11 to 8 at less than 7,000 gallons an hour.

It's easy to see that the period of heavy usage is the early night, from 5 to 9:30, when the water was being used at a rate of over 500 gallons a minute. That's more than the city's soft water sources can provide, so, to supply more water and also avert a possible emergency, the hard water has to be turned into the lines.

In figures the situation looks something like this. The downtown reservoir pump delivers slightly over 450 gallons a minute. Meanwhile the two wells deliver about 250 gallons a minute to the reservoir. So, when demand is heavy enough to keep the booster pump going, the reservoir level falls at a rate of about 200 gallons a minute. That's 12,000 gallons per hour, meaning that the 50,000 gallon reservoir would be emptied in just more than four hours.

That must never be allowed to happen. A reserve must be kept at all times in case of fire. To keep that reserve the city kicks in its up town pump and sends in its hard water. There's no danger, no emergency, but plenty of gripes about hard water.

Another little detail about the heavy consumption is the drop of water level in the tower. When water is used at 500 gallons a minute and pumped in at 450 the supply depletes at a rate of 50 gallons a minute. If suddenly the usage jumps to over 600 gallons a minute, which has happened when 200 gallons per minute were going to the football fields alone, the reserve in the tower falls alarmingly.

To relieve the situation officials at both schools have already agreed not to water their football fields from 6 to 10. Instead they'll use the slack morning hours when the system can easily handle the load.

Now if some other people will agree to change their watering time the peak load can be further reduced. The result will be to spread the total volume more evenly through the day, thereby keeping an adequate supply in the reservoir and tower at all times. The town can be kept well supplied and safe without using its hard water.

The American Way

EMULATING ROME
 By George Peck

Edward Gibbon (1737-1794), the noted English historian, in his 5-volume work, "The History of the Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire," listed the five principal causes that were responsible for the decay of that once great empire.

An examination of those five causes cited by Gibbon should give every thinking American pause to think and be disturbed. The United States of America definitely is nursing within its bosom the seeds of those things that brought about the decline and fall of the Roman Empire. Let's examine them one by one and see what a deadly comparison there is between what transpired in Rome so many centuries ago and what is now going on today in the U. S. A.

Gibbon listed as the first of the five principal causes, the rapid increase of divorce and the undermining of the sanctity of the home.

Well, we don't have to stretch our imaginations to realize that divorce has become a serious menace to our American society. Our divorce laws are making it easier and less costly to obtain a divorce, and as one observer has described the process, "divorce has made of marriage almost a mockery and a license for legal prostitution."

The prevalence of divorces has led to the breaking up of millions of our American homes — and is in large degree responsible for the growth of juvenile delinquency.

As his second of the principal causes for the Fall of Rome, Gibbon named the spiraling rise of taxes and extravagant governmental spending.

Here again we are emulating Rome. We've reached and passed the limit of taxation here in the U. S. A. that any economy can take and long survive. Even as this is being written President Eisenhower is asking the Congress to up the national debt limit by $8 billion. This piles on top of an already staggering debt that most economists are agreed can never be paid off. We are making the Romans look like pikers when it comes to exorbitant taxes and wild, extravagant spending.

Number three on the Gibbon list was the mounting craze for pleasure and the brutalization of sports.

America qualifies on the first part of this. There can be no denying that all too many Americans are pleasure mad. We haven't got around as yet to "the brutalization of sports," but we will unless we reverse ourselves. We'll become pleasures and sooner or later, to satisfy the pleasure appetite resort to brutality in sport.

The Awful Truth

Number four given by Gibbon as a cause for the degeneration of Rome is the most disturbing of all — the building of gigantic armaments and the failure to realize that the real enemy lay within the gates of Rome in the moral decay of its people.

We know that here in America today we are building gigantic armaments. That is just good common sense — we must keep our military power at a peak — we must match or outmatch the military strength of another nation that believes that "might is right." But let's face it — we are losing the battle to that other nation right here at home — even our Supreme Court, supposed to be our bulwark and protector, has made and is making decisions that are enabling this other nation, its friends and supporters to undermine our safety right here at home. This is more to be feared than any bombs they might drop on us. It is a further evidence of our moral decay that we have not been more vociferous in our demands that Congress enact laws to restrain our Supreme Court from making laws and get back to its constitutional function of making rulings on laws.

As the fifth and final principal reason for the fading of Rome from its place in the sun, Gibbon ascribed the decay of religion, the deterioration of faith into a mere form, leaving the Romans without any spiritual guide.

Here, we still seem to be on safe ground. There are many evidences that there is a resurgence of religion in the U. S. A. But even here we can fail unless we begin to straighten ourselves out on divorce, exorbitant taxes, extravagant governmental spending, our mad rush for pleasure and our failure to set up guards against the enemy within our gates. It is inevitable that unless we do an about-face on those important things, even America's religious faith will be contaminated and destroyed.

Yes, Gibbon has given us something to think about and be disturbed.

More than 8½ million Americans today own shares in some 534,000 plants and businesses; 64 per cent of all persons who have invested their savings in industrial shares are within the $3000-$7500 annual wage brackets.

MA PUNCHES A TIME-CLOCK

By Bob Senser, Editor of WORK

HAVE YOU ever heard of "door key kids"? A leaflet of the New York Board of Education describes them: "Door key kids leave home in the morning with the door key hung around their necks on a string. After school they let themselves into empty apartments."

The string and key around the neck form the symbol of the young student whose mother works. In some neighborhoods there are so many "door-key kids" that schools have extended their classes till five to keep them out of mischief.

THIS IS just one of the symptoms of the most revolutionary change in woman's status. The hand that rocks the cradle often punches a typewriter a year or two later. In the past, social reformers almost unanimously rose in protest against social conditions that compelled mothers to leave their infants in favor of a job. According to a modern school of thought, however, it is good for the family to have mother trot off to a factory or office, even where there is no economic necessity.

I have heard some women leaders express their feelings somewhat like this: "Since the husband has a choice of jobs, why can't the wife? She may want to make the home and children a full-time career, but the choice is up to her."

OF COURSE, the husband has a choice of jobs. But that's not the point. Does he have the choice about whether he will be a breadwinner? Imagine the oak who would dare tell his wife he did.

The fact that the wife has a special role in the family, different from the husband's, is too often overlooked. You might say that as the father is the head of the family, so the mother is the heart. Together they form a unit working toward a common goal—heaven. But the mother's role is not in the office or factory.

THE WOMAN who "tries to span two worlds" (of the home and job) is unfair to her children, argues Dr. Leo Bartemeier, medical director of Seton Institute in Baltimore. He points out that while many a mother works for luxuries, she deprives her children of the greatest "luxury" they can have—her attention. She must give her attention not only to feeding and clothing her family but also to the spiritual and moral training of her children. The home and good example are the first schools of religious training.

There are, of course, some cases where the mother must work. With God's help a woman may successfully combine the roles of wife, mother, and breadwinner. But such cases are rare, and the Christian ideal is still the home in which mother doesn't have to punch a time-clock.

INANE INCONSISTENCY

The Tennessee Valley Authority is having a birthday this year — its 25th.

To mark the 25th milestone of the "Great Yard-Stick," it has prepared a 25,000-word news-kit for newspapers published in the area it serves — a considerable proportion of which is devoted to extolling the virtue of public power. It is estimated that this 25,000-word document has cost the American taxpayers at least $100,000.

The public power zealots regard this vast outlay of tax money as being perfectly legitimate. "The people must be told just how fortunate they are in having made available to them the public power developed by TVA," they argue.

But, these same ardent proponents of public power, with an inconsistency that borders on the ludicrous, applaud and approve a recent ruling of the Internal Revenue Service that privately owned utilities cannot deduct the cost of their advertising as a legitimate business expense, when that advertising points out the advantage of private over government ownership of utilities.

Just how long are the long-suffering taxpayers going to put up with this ridiculous nonsense that makes fish of one and fowl of another? They can put an end to it, but quickly, if they will do two things: Write the Internal Revenue Service, 12th and Constitution Ave., Washington, D.C., registering a protest against the ruling; and send copies of the letter to their Congressman and two United States Senators. That will entail a cost of 16c postage (at the new rate just gone into effect) per taxpayer. It looks to this "Viewer of the American Way" that this would be a 16c well spent.

Registrations at Gainesville College Set September 3-5

Gainesville College will open its thirty-fifth fall session Monday, September 8.

Registration on September 3, 4, and 5 at the College office and library both day and night will follow a faculty workshop to be directed by Dean J. H. Parker on September 2.

Students registering will find the same transfer courses usually taught in the first two years of the average college and university: English, social studies, technical and non-technical sciences and mathematics and arts.

In addition the adult student will find such vocational courses as accounting, secretarial training, typing and shorthand, drafting, wood and metal shop, report writing and business English, and business law.

The entire faculty of the College will make up the counseling and guidance services with each student assigned to a trained teacher in the field of his interest.

This guidance began in July and August with the pre-testing for vocational interests. It will continue throughout the year as the student is urged to carry both his scholastic and personal problems to this friendly, and interested advisor.

The student will find Gainesville College a community college gearing its offerings to meet community life and student needs, whether the student is a young high school graduate, an adult student, or a G.I.

Its courses are accredited; its costs are reasonable.

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT TO BE VOTED ON AT THE GENERAL ELECTION ON NOVEMBER 4, 1958.

HJR #17—Number Six on the Ballot.

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT TO BE VOTED ON AT AN ELECTION TO BE HELD ON NOVEMBER 4, 1958.

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 17 proposing an amendment to Article XVI of the Constitution of the State of Texas, by adding thereto a new section to be known as Section 66, to provide that the Legislature shall have authority to provide a system of retirement and disability pensions to certain retiring Texas Rangers and their widows; stating the maximum of such pension; and providing a fund from which such pensions may be paid.

AS RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. Article XVI of the Constitution of the State of Texas, shall be amended by adding thereto a new Section 66, to read as follows: "Section 66. The Legislature shall have authority to provide for a system of retirement and disability pensions for retiring Texas Rangers who have not been eligible at any time for membership in the Employees Retirement System of Texas as that retirement system was established by Chapter 352, Acts of the Fiftieth Legislature, Regular Session, 1947, and who have had as much as two (2) years service as a Texas Ranger, and to their widows; providing that no pension shall exceed Eighty Dollars ($80) per month to any such Texas Ranger or his widow, provided that such widow was legally married prior to January 1, 1957, to a Texas Ranger qualifying for such pension."

"These pensions may be paid only from the special fund created by Section 17, Article VII for a payment of pensions for services in the Confederate army and navy, frontier organizations, and the militia of the State of Texas, and for widows of such soldiers serving in said armies, navies, organizations or militia."

Sec. 2. The foregoing constitutional amendment shall be submitted to the vote of the qualified electors of this State at an election to be held throughout the State on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1958, at which election all ballots shall have printed thereon:

The Market
Is Still Good

Good times for the cattlemen are still with us. High prices that have prevailed for several weeks still show no sign of weakening.

The big question is how much longer this will last. Can you depend on the market to hang on while you put more weight on your cattle? We hope you will guess right and cash in on a good combination of weight and price.

Remember, though: no matter how you guess the market, this is where you get more and save more.

147 Persons Attend Neu Family Reunion At Lindsay Sunday

All living children of the late Mr. and Mrs. Bill Neu of Lindsay, with most of their wives, husbands, children and grandchildren, got together in the Lindsay parish hall last Sunday for a huge family reunion, the first held by the family in 23 years.

It was a tremendous gathering with a total of 147 persons present. Most of them were from Cooke County but many came from points as far distant as West Texas, the Rio Grande Valley, Iowa and Oklahoma.

The event started at 11:30 with a huge picnic dinner, food for which was brought in covered dishes by the separate families, and lasted until 5:30. Scores of pictures taken there will preserve memories of the remarkable occasion for generations to come.

Most remarkable about it was the 100 per cent attendance of all living children of the original couple. The only deceased child, Pete Neu, was represented by his widow. Pete Neu died in 1943.

The original family members attending were Mrs. Paul Arendt and Matt, Bill and John Neu of Lindsay; Mrs. Mary Bierschenk of Valley View; Nick Neu of Slaton, John Neu of Arcadia, Iowa; Henry Neu of Marion, Iowa; and Mrs. G. A. Schmitt of Alice.

Family groups and individuals at the party were Mrs. G. A. Schmitt, Mrs. Walter Fischer and the Joe Schmitt family of Alice; the Joe Neus of Arcadia, Ia.; the Henry Neu family of Marion, Ia.; the Leon Utley and Henry Cartwright families and Jim Herrick of Fort Worth; the Nick Neu family of Slaton; the Melvin Rauschuber, Alvin Rauschuber and Mary Bierschenk families of Valley View; the Martha Neu, Rudy Dieter, Freddy Neu and Pete Droze families of Gainesville; the Rufus Henschel, Chas. Wimmer, Emmet Fette, Ray Voth, Earl Walterscheid and Albert Herr families of Muenster; the John Hoberer family of Hood; the Ernest Arendt family of Lawton, Okla.; and the Paul Neu, Paul Arendt Jr., John Arendt and Andy Arendt families at Lindsay.
