Lions Club Plans Program Honoring Man of the Year

A sign outside a club near Oklahoma City cautions its customers: "Please do not bring any bottles until Cannon turns heat off." Cannon is one of the state officials currently engaged in an all out campaign to prepare people for a coming liquor election, by letting them know what condition they are actually voting for if they oppose the legalization.

The point is that for many years Oklahoma, while permitting the sale of 3.2 beer, has been legally dry as regards liquor. But that doesn't mean that it has been actually dry. There were bootleggers in practically every city and town, and people found it easy to get all the liquor they wanted at practically any time.

Faced with that situation the state officials decided to be realistic. Since the public wants liquor, why not make it legal, especially when it can bring in some mighty welcome revenue to the state treasury. So there will be a state wide vote on the issue. Meanwhile the state-wide crackdown is intended as a sample of how dry people actually will be if they vote dry. Nor is this just a matter of individual thirsts. Some hotels complain that conventions are cancelling out because of the current handicaps on hospitality. It seems that business interests are being gently reminded that they really ought to help in this cause.

Frankly, this column hopes that the present crackdown will have the desired effect. Prohibition's failure was proved years ago, and the folly of it was apparent in both moral and economic effects. It did not promote temperance in the nation, and it still does not promote temperance in areas where it applies. On the contrary, the records show, temperance is served better by legal regulation than by prohibition. And, of course, it's downright silly to pass up liquor revenues if people are going to buy it anyway.

All of which reminds us of the current beer problem in Cooke County. Experience has shown long ago that legal dryness does not keep people from getting their beer. Hundreds are going across the river every day, and thousands of others enjoy it at home. Besides, there are private clubs that find a way to keep it for their members. The law is not doing what it pretends to do. The use of beer is not being prohibited, just inconvenienced.

Actually the county is only preventing some good opportunities for business and imposing on its people to the extent of forcing them to drive a long way for their beer . . . whether they drink it in distant taverns or their own homes.

It would be ever so much better if beer were legalized and handled in a practical way. The county and its cities could derive welcome revenue from wholesale and retail business that would be established. Furthermore such business would create an increase in the general economy of the area. Profits now sent elsewhere then stay at home. Also worth considering is the money customers could save if relieved of their present long drives.

As the Oklahoma officials say, people are going to have it anyway, so why not let the local area enjoy the benefits from it. Of course there will always be people who sincerely believe it is wrong to drink anything intoxicating, hence are opposed on principle to the legalization of beer. But even they should realize that others are equally sincere in the belief that moderate drinking is not morally wrong. Their convictions, too, are entitled to consideration. To do otherwise is to impose one's own standards on others, a violation of personal liberty.

"Human values" is an expression that is being kicked around rather freely in Washington circles these days. Do-gooders and free spenders are sniping at efforts to hold down the national budget on grounds that American citizens will be deprived of certain benefits if the government does not go along with the whole long list of welfare proposals. There are people who think it is all right to go deeper and deeper in debt as long as the money is being spent on programs which are intended to help the general public.

First steps in their program to honor this year's selection as Man of the Year were taken by the Muenster Lions Club Tuesday. Members decided that the event will be a ladies night dinner on Tuesday, March 17, the time and place to be determined at the next meeting, on March 3.

Selection of the person to be honored will be left to a special committee named for that purpose and the identity of the person will be kept secret until the proper time in the program. The committee will also make plans for the program and decide on the award to be given to the honoree.

All members were invited to participate in the selection, to the extent of submitting names of their nominees along with reasons for their choice to the committee. Actual selection, however will be made by the committee.

WITH THE MEN IN SERVICE

Surprise Visit

Naval Airman Leo Hess surprised his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hess, when he arrived Sunday afternoon for a visit. He has a 30-day leave between transfer from Alameda, Calif., to San Diego. When Leo phoned home last week telling his family about the transfer he had no idea he would be given a leave. It surprised him as much as it did his folks.

Happy Reunion

It was a happy reunion Saturday for Mary Nell and C. J. Newman and a get-acquainted visit for C. J. and his nine-months-old daughter Jill, born while he was an Army Private First Class in Germany. Mrs. Newman and the baby lived here with her parents, the Clarence Hellmans. Saturday evening the Newmans went to Iowa Park to visit his parents and returned for the funeral of Gus Hellman Monday morning. They have been spending part of this week in Wichita Falls where Mr. Newman was employed before he entered the army and where they will make their home again.

New Assignment

Sgt. and Mrs. Joe Galloway and daughter Jonann are in San Diego now after being at Van Nuys, Calif. while he was taking special training. One more month of special courses and Sgt. Galloway will be settled at Vandenberg AFB at Lompoc and the family will be at home there.

Four Day Visit

Naval Airman Tommy Herr of Memphis, Tenn., accompanied by two buddies from his base, arrived Monday to visit his parents, the Frank Herrs. They ended their visit Thursday. In-between time Tommy's friends went to Dallas to visit.

NEWS OF SICK AND INJURED

Clarence Wilson is a shut-in at his home suffering considerable pain and discomfort from a severe case of shingles.

Dismissed from Gainesville Sanitarium to continue recovery at home is Mrs. Fred Hoedebeck. She was dismissed Saturday following several days of treatment for flu.

Mrs. Herman Eberhart is much more comfortable since Tuesday when her broken left leg was relieved of traction after a week of this treatment. The bones are almost in place and surgery to insert a pin is contemplated. Meanwhile eight-year-old Larry is getting around on crutches, visiting his aunt and family, the Bill Flusches at Lindsay since his dismissal from Gainesville Sanitarium Tuesday. His mother will be a patient indefinitely. Both were injured in a car wreck Feb. 7.

Mrs. Harry Dennis and her mother, Mrs. Lena Bernauer, of Gainesville were here Wednesday afternoon to visit relatives and friends. It was the first time out for Mrs. Dennis since she had a major operation about a month ago. Both said many thanks to their Muenster friends for the cards, prayers and gifts during Mary's illness.

Talk By Fenoglio Will Feature FFA Parent-Son Dinner

With State Representative Tony Fenoglio of Montague as their program headliner, the Muenster chapter of Future Farmers of America is looking forward to its big social event of the year, the Parent-Son banquet. It will be held in the Muenster High lunch room next Monday night beginning at 7:30.

Featured on the menu will be the traditional bountiful servings of chicken specially raised by the FFA boys as a project for this event.

Preceding the program the boys will have an added event this year. It is an open house in the new ag building to show the shop facilities and classrooms. Guests are invited to come at 7 so they will have ample time to see the place before going to the lunch room.

MOD Contributions Here Add to $225

The 1959 March of Dimes came to a close in Muenster Monday night with the Teens March, a porch light drive conducted by members of the parish Catholic Youth Council, assisting the Ladies VFW Auxiliary, sponsors of the campaign here. Contributions from all sources total $225.

Figures tabulated by Mrs. John Huchton, Auxiliary president and general chairman, are as follows: church door collection at Sacred Heart, $106.40; at First Baptist, $8.75; Public School student envelopes, $25.36; Sacred Heart students, $34.58; Porch Light, $17.11; containers in business houses $15.90; teen sock hop, $16.90.

Final Rites Held For Rohmer Infant

Tiny Kevin Rohmer, nine-day-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Rohmer, fighting for survival since his premature birth gave up the struggle Tuesday evening. He passed away at M&S Hospital in Gainesville where he was born Feb. 9. For days the baby amazed everyone by his endurance and the strength in his frail, two pound 14 ounce body.

Mass of the Angels was celebrated Wednesday morning at nine o'clock in Sacred Heart Church and burial directed by Nick Miller Funeral Home was in Sacred Heart Cemetery. Father Martin Fischer officiated at the mass and Father Christopher Paladino had the funeral service.

Survivors are the parents and a sister, Darlene; grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Fette and Mr. and Mrs. John Rohmer, and great-grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Otto and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Fette, all of Muenster.

Officers, Directors Of Elm Watershed Re-elected Tuesday

All officers and directors of the Elm Fork Watershed Association were re-elected Tuesday at the annual meeting of its membership in the Community Center building at Gainesville.

They are Tom Hickman, president; H. D. Fields, vice-president; and Jake Biffle, secretary; along with Directors J. M. Weinzapfel, Paul Fisher, Roy Wilson, Jack Martin and C. B. Potter.

The group also saw a series of projected color pictures with narration by Conservationist Emmitt Yoder on soil conservation work currently in progress in the watershed.

Yoder reported on the progress of detention dam construction, but added that "the ground is our cheapest and best reservoir." To accomplish that he recommended more extensive use of conservation practices in the area. Especially encouraged were more cover crops to hold the soil and legumes to improve its condition. These will condition the land to hold a larger percentage of its moisture. As regards the water that flows away, the conservation way is to keep it under control with terraces and waterways.

Mrs. John Felderhoff has returned from a two-week visit in Bushnell, Ill., with her daughter Emma and family, the Monte Elliotts. She made the trip especially to get acquainted with her grandchild, infant Carolyn Jean, third daughter of the Elliotts. Mrs. Felderhoff was glad to get back to Texas sunshine Monday. She said snow was on the ground all the time she was in Illinois.

Bruns Appointed Superintendent At Public School

Effective March 1 L. B. Bruns will succeed H. H. Homsley as Superintendent of Muenster Public School. On the same date Homsley will begin a full time schedule on the job of setting up the school district's tax records.

Arrangements for the two assignments were worked out during the past weekend in a meeting of the school board with Homsley and Bruns.

Because of Homsley's previous experience with school tax rolls the trustees were anxious to have him complete the local records before he turns his full time to other interests. Several weeks ago he resigned as superintendent, the effective date being July 1, in order to take a job as sales manager for a firm selling school books.

For superintendent the balance of the school year, the board elected L. B. Bruns, principal and instructor in industrial arts and driver training "because of his ability, his years of faithful service with the public school system, and his immediate availability." An option of renewing the contract will be available to both parties on July 1, the customary date for re-election of superintendents.

From necessity Bruns will have to assume double duty as superintendent and teacher, however, as circumstances permit him he will receive help from his predecessor. The school board accordingly asks parents, students, teachers, and any other interested persons for their special consideration while the changes are in progress.

Bruns is the only remaining member of the original faculty in the community's expanded public school system. He started in September, 1949, while the present plant was under construction and helped move into the new building during the summer of 1950. He spent the following two summers completing work for his Master's Degree in School Administration. During his ten years here he has taught history, industrial arts and driver education and has served three years as principal. The first two years he also served as assistant coach.

Muenster Begins Heart Fund Drive

Muenster's annual Heart Fund campaign got under way this week with the distribution of heart fund envelopes to school children and plastic heart banks in business houses.

Through special arrangement with Relax Theatre Manager Otto Walterscheid, students who contribute to the fund by using their envelopes will be admitted free to any picture of their choice through the rest of February, except Sunday.

Presentation of a heart fund envelope with a contribution at the box office of the Relax will serve as admission price to the show.

Using the slogan, "The heart you help may be your own," co-chairman for Cooke County launched the drive the past week. Heading the campaign are Dr. Robert L. McLeroy and Mrs. Tony Dulock. They have announced plans to buy Pace-Maker and Defibrillator machines for the two Gainesville hospitals.

A large portion of all funds raised in the county stays at home to be used locally. The balance is turned over to the American Heart Association and is automatically earmarked for research.

Membership Drive For Farm Bureau Opens Here Monday

About 100 Farm Bureau members from all areas of the county will be in Muenster Thursday night, February 19, for a kick-off dinner launching an intensive membership drive. The event will be in the public school lunch room, beginning at 7:30 o'clock.

Millard Shivers of Waco, director of the State Farm Bureau, will be guest speaker.

The county membership drive is a part of the state organization's most intensive drive to date, with hopes of surpassing last year's record of 3,351 new members, the largest gain in the nation. The drive was timed to begin during "Farm Bureau Week."

Building And Improvement Notes

A 16x16 basement under a 28x48 concrete patio completes the construction work at Dick Cain's rambling new home on Highway 82 west of town. The Cains invite the general public to come and see it next Sunday at their open house from 1:30 to 5 o'clock.

Another new home, just getting started, is a 2-bedroom house for A. B. "Mudhole" Williams on the corner of First and Hickory Streets. It will have asbestos siding, attached garage, central heating.

Southwest of town carpenters are finished and painters are getting started on the new Gene Lanier home. It is a 3-bedroom job with central heating.

A major remodeling job is under way at Alphonse Felderhoff's. It started with removal of a single garage and breezeway to make room for a den and double carport. Also in the project are brick veneering for the entire structure, a concrete patio, interior changes and complete interior refinishing.

Tom Sicking is building on a 17x30 addition consisting of a bedroom and closet, a den and a bath. In addition he is installing central heating for the entire house.

J. M. Weinzapfel has just finished installing aluminum siding on the outside of his house and has a complete interior refinishing job under way now.

Mrs. Mack Smith and Ruth are adding a bedroom and bath to their farm home.

Mrs. Bill Sicking is having a general repair and overhaul job done on a house just moved to her place north of Myra. It was formerly located on the Humble lease south of town.

Endres Motor Company has a new car shed for its used car lot, a 20x60 structure made of aluminum.

Two new farm buildings just finished are a 60x60 combined hay barn and feed shed for Ben Perryman and a 28x30 parlor type dairy barn at Erwin Fuhrmann's.

Chain link fences now surround the back yards of Michael Sloan and Rufus Henscheid.

Jack Tuggle Sells Garage Interests To Aubrey Tuggle

Effective during the past weekend Aubrey Tuggle became the sole owner of Tuggle Motor Company. He bought the interests of Jack Tuggle, who had been a partner since the business was organized in July, 1954.

At that time Henry Yesten was a third partner in the firm. Two years ago he quit the garage to go into farming.

Tuggle Motor Company, occupying the Ben Seyler building, continues the long tradition established by Seyler for that location. It is still the headquarters for Chrysler products service in Muenster. As regards sales, Tuggle has been operating as a sub-dealer, in cooperation with agencies of other North Texas Cities.

Jack Tuggle has returned to the service department of Endres Motor Co. He had spent some seven years with Endres before going into the partnership.

A career of fifty years devoted to community service ended suddenly last Saturday with the death of G. H. "Gus" Hellman. He suffered a heart attack about 9:30 a.m. while working in the yard at his farm home two miles south of Muenster. The 77-year-old civic leader was a resident here for 64 years.

Funeral services were held Monday morning at 9:30 in Sacred Heart Church. Officiating at the solemn requiem mass was Rev. Joseph Weinzapfel of Fort Worth assisted by Rev. Christopher Paladino, pastor, and Rev. Bruno Fuhrmann. Father Weinzapfel is the godchild of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Hellman. Father Christopher delivered the funeral sermon.

Nephews Charley Hellman, Clarence Hellman, Herman Hartman, R. N. Fette, Jimmy Lehnertz, and Herbert Meurer were bearers. Nick Miller Funeral home was in charge of arrangements.

Three rosary services were held at the Miller Chapel Sunday: at 4, 8 and 8:30 p.m., the final service by the Knights of Columbus Council of which he was a charter member.

Mr. Hellman was a native of St. Paul, Iowa, born August 4, 1881. He came to Muenster with his parents when he was 13 years old and had lived here continuously since.

On November 14, 1905, he and Miss Anda Fette were one of the couples in a triple wedding held in Sacred Heart Church. The other two couples were his brother, William Hellman, and Miss Katie Trachta who have since died, and Mrs. Hellman's brother, Henry Fette, and Miss Laura Endres who still makes Muenster their home.

Always active in community and parish work, Mr. Hellman did much to promote the growth and welfare of the area meanwhile taking care of his farm and livestock interests. He was only semi-retired.

At the time of his death he (Continued on Page 8)

Guest Teachers on Local Program for Public School Week

Something different in the local observance of Public School Week this year is an opportunity for interested adults to spend some time in charge of classes. The purpose is twofold: to let the visitor learn by first hand experience what goes on in a classroom and also to give the students the benefit of their temporary teacher's experience.

Good prospects for teachers are a farmer for the ag class, a carpenter for industrial arts, a housewife for homemaking, an officer for driver training. Persons who have a special interest in the academic subjects are invited to volunteer for a session with the youngsters.

In all cases the school faculty will wait for the temporary teachers to volunteer and to send out invitations for classes that have no volunteers.

The day for the special teachers has been set for Thursday, March 5. Also scheduled on that day is an open house when visitors are urged to come and see local education in action, and special arrangements for visitors to have lunch with the students. Lunch tickets will cost 35 cents, however Superintendent Bruns points out that teachers of the day will rate as faculty members and receive meals at the student price of 30 cents . . . the compensation for their efforts in the classroom.

Last on the program for Public School Week will be displays and demonstrations of classroom achievements. It is set for Friday night, March 6.

SCHEDULE OF COMING EVENTS

- FRIDAY, Feb. 20, MHS vs Alvord, here.
- MONDAY, Feb. 23, FFA Parent-Son Banquet.
- TUESDAY, Feb. 24, Tridium for Third Order begins with Mass at 8 a.m.
- TUESDAY, Feb. 24, Home-School Society meeting, 8:15 p.m.

70 Women Attend Quarterly Meeting Of Deanery NCCW

Election of officers was the principal feature of the business session and a talk by Father Alcuin Kubis of Lindsay was the highlight of the program here when Muenster members of the National Council of Catholic Women were hosts for the quarterly meeting of the Sherman Deanery NCCW.

Seventy members from eight parishes in the deanery attended the afternoon meeting which began at 1:30 with Benediction in Sacred Heart Church. The Very Rev. John Duesman of Sherman, deanery moderator, conducted the service. Afterwards the women went to the parish hall for the business session and program.

Muenster, Lindsay and Gainesville are all represented on the roster of officials elected for a two-year term.

Mrs. M. J. Reeseby of Sherman heads the deanery organization as the new president, Mrs. T. L. Anderson of Gainesville was re-elected first vice president, Mrs. Lawrence Zimmerer of Lindsay is second vice president and Mrs. Herbert McDaniel of Muenster is third vice president.

Mrs. Lawrence Brown of Sherman was retained as recording secretary, Mrs. Ed Schad of Lindsay is the new treasurer, and Mrs. Osa Alexander of Greenville is delegate at large for another term. During reports she told about her attendance at the National Convention in Saint Louis the past summer.

Other reports included Mrs. Frank Herr's on spiritual development, Mrs. Herman Schneiderjan's on rural life and Mrs. Norbert Zimmerer's on Home and School.

Father Alcuin's talk, themed on the topic of the meeting, Home and School, pointed up the fact that education does not start at school nor does it stop there. In this connection he explained the importance of home instruction, example of parents, obedience and virtues which must have their origin in the home.

Father Christopher Paladino introduced visiting clergy: Father Duesman, Father Alcuin, Father Emil Gerlich of Gainesville and Father Martin Fisher. Mrs. Ted Gremminger, local president, welcomed the visitors and Father Duesman led the opening and closing prayer.

After adjournment the ladies were served cookies and coffee in the school dining room.

Members were present from Muenster, Lindsay, Gainesville, Denison, Denton, Sherman, Valley View and Greenville.

Directors, Manager Of Electric Co-op Attend Convention

Returned from attendance at the 17th National REA Convention in Washington, D.C. are Mike Sloan, J. A. Klement and Al Wiesman of Muenster, Joe Bengfort of Lindsay, Doye Doty of Valley View and Jack Crownover of Nocona, all connected with the local Cooke County Cooperative, and their wives. The Dotys and Bengforts went on a special train, the rest of the group went by plane together.

More than 7000 persons attended the convention for which the nation's capital was headquarters for the first time. Among prominent speakers favoring the convention with addresses were President Eisenhower, Senator Lyndon Johnson of Texas, Senator John Kennedy of Massachusetts, and Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn of Texas who was honored with presentation of a plaque for his work with Rural Electrification and for being co-sponsor of the original bill in 1935.

Ladies present were entertained with sight-seeing tours while the men devoted their time to conferences. In addition, Mr. Sloan and Mr. Crownover attended a two-day short-course on salary and wages plans.

The Cooke County group visited with M. D. Kaderli who was also at the convention. Former local manager, he is now manager at Grants, N.M.

Dale Bayer Wins On Scout Essay

Dale Bayer has been named the winner in Boy Scout essay contest in which patrol leaders of the local troop participated.

The eight boys attending the recent camporee at Gainesville wrote about their activity, instructions and experiences during the weekend campout. Dale, a seventh grader at Sacred Heart, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Bayer.

Scoutmaster and Mrs. Nick Miller sponsored the contest and put up a cash award. The purpose, they said, was to encourage the boys to be observant and to remember what they saw and learned. Each boy had earlier read his composition to the troop at a meeting. Impartial judges selected the winning essay.

Former Muensterite Is 99 Years Old

A former Muenster resident, back in the early days of the colony, Mrs. Strategier, now of Norman, Okla., and the mother of Henry Strategier of that city, well known locally, recently observed her 99th birthday in the home of a daughter with whom she lives at Norman. The elder Strategiers and their four children lived west of town, almost at the exact place where the Dick Cain's new home now stands, according to old timers who still remember the family. Henry married a Sandmann girl from Lindsay and they come back regularly for visits with relatives.

CARD OF THANKS

The kindness and sympathy of neighbors and friends will always remain with us as a precious memory. Our sincere thanks for all the comforting acts. For the beautiful service, spiritual bouquets, floral offerings and every kindness, we are deeply grateful.

Mrs. Gus Hellman and Family

Blessed Events

Mr. and Mrs. Teddy Gremminger of Wichita Falls Wednesday welcomed a nine pound ten ounce son who arrived 3 p.m. at Bethania Hospital. The little boy will be celebrating birthdays with his brother Wayne who was born Feb. 18 five years ago. He also has a sister, Mary who is three. Both the children are here since Wednesday evening staying with their paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Gremminger for several days. Their maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Victor Hartman.

Services Set for Triduum Beginning Here February 24

Schedule of services for the annual triduum of the Third Order of Saint Francis has been announced by J. W. Hess, local prefect. The three days of special services for lay Franciscans will begin February 24 with an 8 a.m. mass followed by a conference in church.

The afternoon conference will start at 2:30 with the Way of the Cross in church and a conference immediately afterwards in the parish hall.

Services will be at the same times through the three days with the final service Thursday closing with the indulgence blessing.

Father Elias Koppert, provincial from Chicago, will be in charge of the three-day program. Everyone, not only members of the fraternity, is invited to attend.

In a letter to Mr. Hess this week, Father Elias stated that he was reserving Monday, Feb. 23, for visitation with the fraternities of St. Mary's Parish in Gainesville and St. Peter's Parish in Lindsay.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert A. Knabe and children joined other family members for a gathering Sunday in the home of her father August Sprengel at Pilot Point. Mr. Sprengel, recovering from illness, enjoyed dinner with the visitors. Others present were the Henry Sprengels and daughters and the Frank Sprengels and children of Fort Worth, the Murle Sprengels and family, the Ben Knabes and the Gene Theisens and children of Pilot Point.

Hornets Break Into Win Column, Nudge Callisburg 43-38

Though at the very bottom of district standing, the Hornets will have the satisfaction of ending the season without a complete blank. Tuesday night they finally got over the hump and nudged the Callisburg Wildcats by the close count of 43-38.

And their win was well earned. The lead changed five times during the second half and the game was anybody's almost to the final whistle. It was in the last 15 seconds that Harris and Myrick cinched the outcome by hitting four times on as many charity tosses.

In other respects also the performance was the Hornets' best this year. For the first time they shot better than 50 per cent, making 11 field goals out of 20 and 21 free throws out of 36.

Leading MHS scorers were Harris 18, Doug Hellman 8 and Joe Hellman 7.

The game preceding that one was a sad one, however. Callisburg's girls sewed up their district championship by clobbering Muenster 52-9.

The preceding Friday was a pair of triumphs for Era. Things started fine as the MHS girls took a 21-11 lead over Era in the first half, but then the bottom dropped out. Muenster scored only 6 more while Era piled in 31. The final tally: 42-27. Flusche and Fisher with 15 and 12 accounted for the MHS points.

Again in the boys' game Muenster started fine but weakened. At the half Muenster trailed by only 21-19 but it was annihilated in the next period. Score 71-37. Top MHS scorers were Doug and Joe Hellman with 15 and 10.

Report on Mission Work Heard by CDA

Parish mission report given at the February meeting of the local court Catholic Daughters of America revealed that four large boxes of clothing have been sent to St. Vincent's Store in Fort Worth and that the next shipment will go to a Colored orphanage in Fort Worth.

Mrs. Joe Swirczynski, in telling about parish mission work, said she had been personally asked for any kind of clothing, shoes, dishes and cooking utensils for the orphanage by its manager who was here recently soliciting help. At the time she made up two boxes of clothing and one box of shoes — all that was in the storeroom at the time. She asked for additional contributions now. The orphanage which cares for 27 children lost everything in a fire.

Father Christopher was present for the meeting in the KC Hall and addressed the group, urging attendance at discussion clubs during the Lenten season. He then explained the rules of fast and abstinence during Lent and encouraged the making of small sacrifices during the penitential season.

Gay Matrons Meet In Koesler Home

February meeting of the Gay Matrons Club was held with Mrs. Tony Koesler as hostess in her home entertaining members and three guests.

In a progressive 42 series Mrs. Ray Swirczynski, a guest, was high scorer and Mrs. Urban Endres was second high. Mrs. Pat Hennigan won the galloping award.

Guests in addition to Mrs. Swirczynski were Mrs. Clarence Hellman and Mrs. J. C. Trachta.

The hostess served a dessert plate, and members were reminded that Mrs. Ray Otto will be hostess for the meeting in March.

Abbot Michael and Father Fintin Make Visits to Parishes

The Rt. Rev. Abbot Michael Lensing and the Rev. Father Fintin of Subiaco Abbey, Ark., were in Muenster and Lindsay Monday in the interest of recruiting students. It's an annual visit.

Father Fintin, director of scholastics at Subiaco, showed a film on monastery life at student assemblies in school here and at Lindsay. And he and Father Abbot both stopped for short visits with parents who have sons in class at Subiaco.

From here the two left Monday evening for Windthorst and went from there to Scotland. Stops in Dallas and Fort Worth concluded their visits in Texas.

Elaine Otto, Seven Has Birthday Party

A Valentine baby of 1952, seven this year, had a birthday observance Sunday. Elaine Otto was the honoree and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earle Otto, were hosts for a family gathering with dinner at noon. Present from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. Billy Mayer of Pilot Point.

In the afternoon Elaine had a group of classmates over for a party with games and refreshments and party favor noise makers.

Birthday Observed

Rita Fisher was the honoree Sunday when her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Pick, who are also her godparents, entertained in their home with dinner at noon. It was Rita's 14th birthday observance. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Fisher and children Donald, David, Linda and Herbie were present as was her sister Helen Fisher, visiting here from Oklahoma City. A decorated cake and birthday gifts added a festive touch to the family gathering.

Queen of Hearts Crowned at School Valentine Festival

Queen of Hearts crowning at Muenster Public School in a Valentine program Saturday night ended a month-long contest during which 12 candidates, one from each grade, solicited votes for the honor.

La Christa Lutkenhaus of the eight grade was the winner in the elementary department and Theresa Fisher won over her school mates in high school. Other contestants were members of the royal court.

The pretty ceremony, with the girls in formals, began with a procession played by the dance band. On the stage the royalty conducted the crowning ceremony and took places of honor while other students put on an entertainment for the queens.

Appearing in a playlet "The Lost Valentine" were Chetia Tuggle, Linda Owen, Chris Cain, Leon Knabe, Debbie Russell and Terry Cason, of the third and fourth grades; a second skit "Cupid's Conspiracy" was enacted by Neola Hoover, Wayne Doughty, Bob Russell, Linda Whitt, Peggy Branch and Jimmy Robison from the fifth and sixth grades, and a third skit "My Valentine" was put on by Bobbye Tuggle, Sandra Cain, Nancy Sanner and Charlotte McElreath of the seventh and eighth grades. Becky Mosman was pianist for the program.

Escorting Queen Theresa was Donnie Trubenbach. Queen La-Christa's escort was Noble McElreath.

Princesses in the royal court and their escorts were Sandra Sloan and Sammy Sparkman, Sharon Williams and Michael Cason, Linda Wilson and William Pittman, Sherty Pittman and David Bridges, Karon Lindsay and Bub McElreath, Linda Whitt and Danny Wilson, Linda Fette and Larry Gobble, Della Wimmer and Harold Flusche, Tommy Sue Hamilton and Larry Wimmer, Pat Otto and Kenny Klement.

The program was the second part of the school's annual Valentine Festival. Friday night the classes sponsored a carnival, proceeds going into their respective treasuries.

Boy Scouts Work For Advancement

Work for advancement into first class Scouting occupied boys of the local troop Monday night at their regular weekly meeting. The Scouts are priming for a board of review to be conducted at next Monday's meeting.

In that connection the whole troop and Scoutmaster Nick Miller will leave Saturday for an overnight campout and outdoor tests Sunday. Extra work for advancement was put in by Jerry Taylor and Tommy and Roy Hartman who made an overnight hike Saturday.

Mrs. Bill Hunt is Hostess to Club

Members of Muenster's Tuesday Nite's Club were entertained for their February gathering in the home of Mrs. Bill Hunt at Myra who served refreshment plates to ten after an evening of table games. Mrs. Melton Ramsey drew the door prize.

Present were Mmes. Leonard Owen, Bill Lindsay, Leo Lawson, Charles Davidson, Jim Grooms, James Mollenkopf, Jack Tuggle, Melton Ramsey, Jim Caddell and Oscar Miller. Mrs. Lindsay will be hostess for the March social.

George Swirczynski of Garland stopped here Saturday for a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Swirczynski.

PRaiseworthy APPROACH

On the silver anniversary of Repeal, one critic summed up the social benefits of the 21st Amendment by pointing out that the Wets had accomplished what the Drys had failed to do. They have promoted a general temperance in the consumption of alcoholic beverages. Official U. S. government statistics show per capita consumption of distilled spirits has fallen off from a high of 3.25 gallons in 1860 to a record low of 1.25 gallons in 1957. In addition, the alcoholic content of the beverages being marketed today is less than it was in days of yore. Last year sales of 100-proof bourbon whiskies fell far behind their 86-proof counterparts.

What brought these changes about? To give credit where credit is due, the distillers themselves have been in the forefront of our most effective temperance advocates. During the quarter-century that has gone by since the repeal of prohibition, the industry has spent many advertising dollars in this cause. It has steadfastly refrained from urging people to drink, and it has developed whiskies that are milder, smoother and lighter.

Today, one of the leading figures of the industry, Lewis S. Rosenstiel, president of Schenley Industries, predicts that within a few years we shall see a strong national preference for US-produced potables that are even milder than the light-bodied product of the cenny Scots. Henceforth, whenever you see a domestic label marked "80 proof," you may consider it evidence that the gentleman's forecast is coming true.

The dramatic change that has already taken place, and the evolution toward lightness that continues, reflects, he thinks, a coming-of-age by American consumers and is a firm indication of the continuing trend toward national sobriety.

Here, certainly, is practical, down-to-earth encouragement for all who seek an alliance of temperance and tolerance.

Washington Was A Man Of Prayer

By George N. Kramer, Ph.D., staff writer for the TIDINGS

LAST YEAR a million visitors to Valley Forge stood in the Washington Memorial Chapel and reverently gazed at a stained-glass circular window.

There seemed to be nothing unusual about the figure of George Washington kneeling in prayer at Valley Forge camp during the crucial winter of 1777-1778.

Yet those looking up at the window remembered reading somewhere that he was "first in war, first in peace, and first in the hearts of his countrymen;" that his distinction was due to his courage on the battlefield.

Kramer

But Washington's greatness did not reside in his military genius, his executive ability or his political acumen. It was his inner spiritual strength that made him the great man we all honor.

HIS PERSONAL BRAVERY was matched by his moral fortitude; his effective management was rooted in self-discipline; and the success of his public life was the fruit of Christian virtues.

The Father of our country was never afraid to express his religious convictions. He was never ashamed of them. Yet there was nothing stilted or sentimental in their expression. Above all, they rang with utmost sincerity.

NO BETTER EXAMPLE of this can be found than on the occasion when he took the oath of office as President. It was Washington who added the invocation, since used by every President of the United States, "So help me God."

Sometimes regarded as cold and aloof, Washington frequently revealed his humility in his writings. "A humble man leans not to his own understanding," he wrote, "and trusts not in it; he is sensible of the all sufficient Power, Wisdom, and Goodness of Almighty God, and commits himself to Him for Counsel, Guidance, Direction and Strength."

It is related by his contemporaries that General Washington frequently went alone into his quarters to pray. Research scholars and writers about Washington agree that he read the Bible regularly and that he always said grace at mealtime.

One is not surprised, then, that looking up at the stained-glass window the kneeling figure seems so true to life. But one wonders, too, why more of our youth are not asked to look up to Washington.

IN THE PRAYER ROOM for members of the House and Senate in the Capitol the central figure in the stained-glass window also depicts the kneeling Washington.

Those who enter may well meditate on Washington's words:

"He who wishes to serve his country, if not influenced by higher motives, runs the risk of being miserably disappointed.

"Under such discouragements, the good citizen will look beyond the applauses and reproaches of men, persevering in his duty, stand firm in conscious rectitude and in the hope of an approving heaven."

† Paulist Feature Service, Washington 17, D. C.

AN EMBARRASSING COMPARISON

"The recent debate in the U. S. over 'right-to-work' laws, which would prohibit union-shop contracts between employers and employees, leaves Europeans a bit mystified and somewhat supercilious," says Fortune magazine in its February issue. "The reason is simply that while most European countries have thriving and powerful trade-union movements, they have largely avoided the type of labor contract that forces a worker to join a union before he gets a job (closed shop) or after he obtains one (union shop). In every country, strong pressure to join a union is, of course, applied by fellow workers, but this is something different from the kind of legal coercion that exists in the U. S."

England is a good example. There a larger percentage of total labor force is organized than in the United States. But, with a very few exceptions, all workers can join or not join a union, as they please. They have complete freedom of choice. And this, believe it or not, suits labor leaders. The ex-president of Britain's powerful Trade Union Congress has said: "... There is a fundamental issue here of the right of the individual to say whether or not he would become associated with other people ..."

To quote Fortune again, "The over-all experience of Germany, Italy, France, and England clearly indicates that open-shop conditions are compatible with a strong labor movement. This is an extremely uncomfortable fact for U. S. labor-union leaders, who argue vociferously that state right-to-work laws are simply a form of 'union busting'."

Alaska is the largest peninsula on the North American Continent.

UNFAIR AND UNNECESSARY

Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn, whose voice on tax matters is about as authoritative as they come, foresees a dim future for the proposed increases in the federal gasoline tax from its present 3-cents-a-gallon rate to 4½ cents. This idea, he told a news conference, "is going to meet a pretty cold reception out in the states. They feel they should have that field of taxation — or what's left of it." The Speaker was obviously referring to the fact that the federal government has been preempting more and more of the traditional sources of state tax income, which is one reason states are deep in financial problems today.

In the case of the gas tax, however, there is another very potent argument against the increase. We hear that the increase is necessary in order to pay for the multi-billion dollar highway program, which is now in the red. But, as many experts have pointed out, the proposed increase in the federal gasoline tax is grossly unfair, and it is totally unnecessary. If the existing federal automotive excise taxes that now are being diverted to the treasury's general fund were applied to this road program, there would be adequate money to complete it on schedule. In other words, apply all the money raised in special taxes on highway users to the place where it belongs, which is roads, and then the road financing problem will disappear.

Motorists are fed up with federal and state taxes on gasoline which amount to some 41 per cent of the retail price. Even extreme luxuries don't carry that heavy a tax, much less a necessity like gasoline.

Of the 150 major U. S. Air Force bases, 27 are located in Texas.

Writing from Berlin, Joseph Alsop says: "What the Kremlin wants is this city. Nikita Khrushchev's threats to Berlin are most emphatically not primarily intended to force the West to recognize the East German government, or to promote German confederation, or to produce another summit conference. They are primarily intended to secure the surrender of free Berlin."

A rope of spider's silk one inch thick would hold up a weight equal to 74 tons. The rope would be three times as strong as a one-inch rope made of iron.

How to Test
For Termites

Think you've got termites?
They can exist in a house unsuspected for long periods. But, according to the editors of CHANGING TIMES, there are three ways to find out if they've infested your dwelling.

1. You can tell whether a beam or a sill is infested by tapping it with a hammer and listening for a hollow sound or by probing it with an ice pick or knife blade.

2. You can search the house, particularly in crawl spaces, around foundations and at utility service entrances, for the tell-tale tubes, a quarter to a half inch wide, that they build.

3. You can be on the watch for the swarms and wing droppings that may occur soon.

Sometimes homeowners see swarming insects but are not sure whether they are seeing termites or flying ants. If the insects have pinched waists and transparent wings, the front set being much larger than the back set, they are really ants. But if the bodies are nearly the same width stem to stern with no waist, and the wings are opaque and the same size front and back, you have found termites.

Muenster Juniors Will Compete in Chico Tournament

Junior teams at the Muenster Public School will be striving next week to top off better than average seasons by taking trophies at Chico's Invitation Tournament for all junior members of the 37-B basketball conference.

Both boys and girls are matched against the Valley View teams in their opening games Tuesday. If they win they will take on winners of the Saint Jo-Chico in semifinals. Another win would advance them to the finals with the winner of the Sanger, Era, Callisburg, Alvord bracket.

Teams participating are made up of seventh, eighth and ninth grade students and they will be playing for champ or runner-up honors only. There will be no consolation bracket.

"Muenster Day" Set At Tulsa Oil Show

Muenster oil men will be honored with a special day during the fourteenth anniversary International Petroleum Exposition to be held in Tulsa, Oklahoma, May 14-23, this year.

"Muenster Day" will be held in honor of all the men and women in this area who are employed in the vast petroleum industry. It will be Saturday, May 23. Tentative special events are being planned to assure local oil men a busy schedule.

Actually, just touring the more than 30 acres of oil exhibits is a feat itself, and more than one-half million people from 50 foreign nations and practically every state in the union are expected to view the special oil equipment and techniques valued in excess of $500,000,000.

A tight-fisted old gentleman argued heatedly with his doctor over the amount of his fee, and finally offered a compromise.

The old gentleman would willingly pay for all medications; but as for the doctor's visits, he would return them.

DEFT DEFINITIONS
Camel: A horse designed by a committee.

Optimist: A ninety-year-old man who is getting married and wants to buy a home near a school.

Budget: An attempt to live below your yearnings.

A miserable gossip: Someone with no troubles to speak of.

BRIEFS

Former Muensterite John O'Connor of Bryan was here a few days this week visiting family members, the Andy O'Connors, Andy Mondays, John Schmitzes and Mrs. Bill Sicking, and Mrs. Josie Dulock at Gainesville. He also stopped by for pop calls with old friends.

Home for a weekend visit with their families were Mr. and Mrs. Don Muller of Dallas who were guests of the Matt Mullers and Joe Vogels.

Mrs. Ben Seyler is back at home after a visit in Midland where she got acquainted with her newest grandchild, infant John Seyler Adams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Adams, in whose home she visited.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Knabe and their son-in-law and daughter, all of Hereford stopped here Tuesday for an overnight visit with the J. B. Wildes, and Wednesday visited other relatives before leaving for home. They had been in Oklahoma City on business.

Owners of new 1959 Chevrolts this week include Joe Linn and Sam Nason with sedans and Felderhoff Brothers with a half-ton pickup.

Sacred Heart And Saint John's Split
In Season Finale

The 1959 basketball season at Sacred Heart High School came to a close Sunday afternoon as the two teams divided honors with visiting St. John's of Ennis. The Tigerettes coasted to a decisive 44-16 win whereas the Tigers grudgingly submitted to a 42-37 loss.

Lack of reserve strength proved disastrous for the local fellows. With Haverkamp and Grewing out on fouls they were crippled but still managed to keep pace with their guests. Then in the final minutes and trailing by a couple of points, they lost the services of Streng. That was too much and St. John's extended its margin to five points.

Wimmer and Streng hit 17 and 9 respectively for the boys. Zimmerer and Schilling made 22 and 8 for the girls.

Lindsay News

At home after finishing boot training in San Diego, Calif., is Jere Friske, visiting his parents Mr. and Mrs. Martin Friske. He's on a 14-day leave. Jere will go to Norman, Okla., for further training. Since he's at home his sister and family, the Barney Sandmanns of Dallas have been at Lindsay to see him. Sunday Jere and his parents drove to Dallas to surprise Mrs. Sandmann in observance of her birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hermes and their sons Ronnie and David were in Dallas Friday for Ronnie's regular check-up by a bone specialist. Mrs. Joe Hoenig of Muenster accompanied her daughter and family on the trip and spent her time with the Rupert Hoenigs.

Wanda Hess who is a student at Sherman Beauty School spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John J. Hess. She likes her course, expects to graduate in May, and already looks forward to serving her relatives and friends when she goes to work in Gainesville.

Mrs. Ed Blumberg of Pilot Point is spending this week with Mrs. George Spaeth.

Ignorance is so hard to conceal because people always try to hide it in a public place.

Lindsay CYC Will Provide Uniforms For Baseball Team

Members of the Lindsay Catholic Youth Council have taken over the outfitting of the high school boys' baseball team with new uniforms and are busy soliciting contributions for the project. All 70 CYC members are making personal contacts in the community to raise the required amount.

Members accepted the project at their February meeting conducted by newly elected officers. President Michael Fuhrmann, Secretary Alcuin Kubis called the roll and Treasurer Leslie Kuhn gave a financial report.

Father Alcuin Kubis met with the young people. He commended the high school boys for their success and sportsmanship during the basketball season. In a brief sermonette he urged spiritual reading, extra prayers and good works during the Lenten season. He also reminded those out of school to attend the regular meetings of the Fraternity of Christian Doctrine.

Because the meeting was held in Lent no social followed the business session.

Lindsay Group at Kin's Housewarming

A surprise housewarming greeted Mr. and Mrs. Frank Benenate in their new home at Farmers Branch Sunday. The group of relatives springing the surprise arranged to meet and arrive at the Benenate home at high noon. They brought covered dishes for dinner and gifts for the home.

Attending from Lindsay were Mrs. Joe Bezner Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bezner Jr. and children Barbara, Kathy and Joann, Mr. and Mrs. Bruno Zimmerer and children Tommy, Bobby, Joanie, Janie and Donna. Joining them from Dallas were Mr. and Mrs. Leo Cutsia and daughters Margaret and Carol, Al Bezner and Mrs. Isabel Galvan.

Bezner Child Hit by Car on Main Street; Recovers Normally

Six-year-old Rickey Bezner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Bezner of Lindsay, is reported recovering normally but still suffering pain and discomfort from injuries received on Friday, the 13th, when he was struck by a car on Main Street here.

He was taken to Gainesville Sanitarium for a compound fracture of the nose, a broken collar bone and a slight concussion. His doctor said he could go home by the end of the week.

The accident happened about 9 o'clock when Mrs. Bezner and her children were crossing the street from the Ray Wilde home to the J. B. Wilde home after a visit. The little boy broke away from the group and darted in front of a northbound car driven by Jim Myrick.

Another car, occupied by four youths from Gainesville struck the Myrick car at the scene of the accident about 30 minutes later. The collision caused about $700 damage to the stopped car and completely wrecked the second car.

Lindsay Team Wins Season's Last Game

Lindsay High School's Knights made good in their final attempt to break into the win column, returning home last Friday night with a 38 to 33 triumph over Windthorst. The game closes the Lindsay boys' first basketball season with a record of 1-5.

The first half of the game was a thriller with Lindsay taking an 8-3 first quarter lead but falling behind 15-14 at intermission. In the third period they ran up a nice lead, then held out easily for the decision. Top scorers were Sandman with 13 and Hermes with 8. Lindeman shot 16 for the Trojans.

Lindsay's girls did not get along as well and went down by a top heavy score.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruno Zimmerer accompanied the teams to Windthorst.

29 at Lindsay Take Red Cross Course

Twenty-nine persons are enrolled in a Red Cross First Aid class at Lindsay and are meeting once a week, on Thursday nights, for instructions given by Mrs. Marie Ownby, secretary of the county Red Cross chapter.

The two-hour classes begin at 7:30 in the Parish Hall where the first class was conducted this week. It's a 12-hour, six-lesson course.

During the last fiscal year, says the Public Health Service, injuries and illness cost the country 3.4 billion working days. Colds, flu and other respiratory infections led the list of disabilities.

G. H. Hellman

was vice president and chairman of the board of directors of Muenster State Bank which he helped organize in 1923. He was one of the original stockholders.

When the community realized the need of a telephone system, Mr. Hellman in 1907 helped organize Muenster Telephone Company. When it became incorporated in 1930 he was elected its first president, an office he held for 20 years until the company was sold. He likewise helped organize the Farmers Marketing Association in 1922 and became its first president serving for 12 years. He was a charter member of the local council Knights of Columbus, instituted in 1910, and is a past grand knight.

Mr. Hellman's survivors are his wife; four sons, Rudy J. and Arthur of Muenster, Paul W. of Tulsa and Dr. Hugo Hellman of Milwaukee; one daughter, Mrs. Vincent Baker of Chicago; one sister, Miss Anna Hellman of Muenster; 22 grandchildren and 11 great-grandchildren.

Among out of town relatives at the funeral were Dr. Hugo Hellman, Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Baker and two sons, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hellman and children, Mr. and Mrs. Damien Hellman and children of Irving, Mrs. John Chandler and Mrs. Eddie Hart of Dallas, Mr. and Mrs. John Hellman of Portales, N.M., Mr. and Mrs. Bill Fette of Kilgore, Leroy Stelzer of Fort Worth.

Mr. and Mrs. Giles Lehnertz of Tyler, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Jackson of Fort Worth, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hellman and son, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Otto and two daughters, Steve Otto and Mr. and Mrs. John Otto, all of Wichita Falls, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Thoele, Mrs. Katie Meurer and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Steinberger, all of Windthorst.

When Dr. Hellman and Mrs. Baker left Wednesday to return to their homes their mother accompanied them for a visit in Chicago with her daughter and family. Mr. Baker and the couples' sons returned home Monday afternoon.

er that reduces the problem to its simplest terms. "I know of nothing that could injure more the great population we have got than to allow the budgetary process to get out of control, fiscal measures going loosely, in such a way that inflation would absolutely be inevitable."

As we think it over we understand that the president was defending one of the greatest "human values" that this country has . . . financial solvency, not only of the country itself but of every person in it.

Inflation has already been a serious imposition on the American people. The value of money has been reduced by more than half. Millions of people have been robbed of that portion of their savings. Confidence in the government is so badly shaken that the public is reluctant to invest in its bonds. We are already crowding our luck, and we have no idea how little or how much more the country can stand without drifting into the kind of financial chaos that Germany had a few decades ago. And that, as we recall, resulted not only in financial ruin for millions of people but also in the rise of Hitler and his dictatorship.

While prattling about "human values" the do-gooders ought to weigh such possibilities against the fleeting values of their pet welfare schemes.

Make it a habit to keep your feet on the ground and you'll never have far to fall.

We'll make your car Run RIGHT... and SAFE!

Make it a habit to see us at the first sign of trouble.
