VOLUME XXIII

MUENSTER, COOKE COUNTY, TEXAS

JUNE 12, 1959

NUMBER 29

Grain Flood Gluts Local Elevators At Harvest Peak

After these many years the Texas Supreme Court has finally got around to ruling that the rights of a precinct or incorporated city in relation to the state's prohibition law can be applied either way. Its interpretation agrees with what many of us have contended all along . . . that it should be possible to have a wet political subdivision in a dry county as well as a dry one in a wet county.

It has been taken for granted that people in a dry area of a wet county are not required to abide by the preference of the county as a whole. They are permitted to hold an election legally establishing prohibition in their own area. Meanwhile people have wondered why the law did not apply both ways, allowing people of a wet area the same right of not being imposed upon by the majority wish of the entire county.

Many of us recall an effort by the Texas legislature to eliminate this double standard policy during the administration of Governor Buford Jester. Both houses passed a bill allowing wet areas to determine their own status, but it was killed by the governor's veto. Now the Supreme Court tells us that the right has existed all along, just has not been correctly interpreted.

To people hereabouts this decision comes as welcome news. In all local option elections of the past the city and precinct have strongly favored legalizing the sale of alcoholic beverages but their preference was over ruled by the majority vote of the county. Now they no longer need to be governed by the wishes of people outside their own area.

There has been a great deal of talk on the subject during the week since the Supreme Court's decision was handed down, and indications are that people here are as anxious as ever to get rid of prohibition. Also apparent is concern over the measures to be established for assuring orderly sale and use of the alcoholic drinks.

The first thought is to make the beverages available for home consumption . . . retail outlets for beer and wine in the stores and possibly also a package store selling liquors. These facilities would provide a long awaited convenience for people who have been getting their supply many miles away from home. At the same time they would open new business opportunities and more possibilities for tax revenue.

Providing beer by the drink is taken for granted but along with it is an opinion that drunkenness and disorderly conduct will not be taken for granted. The main objective is to avoid the honky tonk atmosphere in both appearance and policy, catering to those who are moderate in consumption and behavior.

The whole idea in a nutshell is to respect the right of a vast majority of people who can and do drink without getting out of line. Making drinks available here should be for their pleasure, not for the drunks. At the same time there should be rigid standards to keep the rowdies from spoiling things for them.

There are ways to keep control. The first is to demand order as the first requirement for keeping a license. The next is to secure the cooperation of peace officers, who, incidentally, claim they can get better results when the drunks are legal. Under prohibition it's hard for them to enforce the law as applying to drunks and ruffians but ignore the moderate drinkers who are equally guilty before the law.

Obviously lots of details will have to be worked out before the community can get down to the real business of voting itself wet. People of Muenster want their drinks, as they always did, but they also want law and order. We can be confident that they'll work out a way to have both.

As of Wednesday morning prospects are gloomy at the Geneva conference. Just as predicted, the Russians are showing that they have no intention to respect former agreements or the rights of German people. Their one all-important purpose is to chase out freedom and free enterprise which has so effectively exposed communism for the shabby and oppressive system it really is.

The conference shows, as always, that the reds attend conferences only to spew propaganda and impose their wishes on other people. If blocked in that effort they are quick to resume their ugly and sullen attitude.

Intensive harvesting in the Muenster area caused a temporary glut in the local wheat market Wednesday afternoon. For about two hours farmers took it easy while the two elevators, filled to the brim, awaited trucks to carry the grain away to big storage bins.

Partial relief for the bottleneck was provided at the three special storage bins recently erected by Stockmen's Feed Store, but grain moving facilities there were far from adequate for the flood of wheat.

The situation resulted mostly from similar rushes in other parts of the state, delaying the trucks that were hauling out the local grain.

Muenster, like the other areas, is going full speed on its wheat harvest. Delayed by last week's rains, farmers found practically their entire crops ready to go by the time they could get back to work. So all are busy now, eager to get the stuff in while the getting is good.

Up to now it is estimated that the job is 30 to 40 per cent finished. If good weather holds out there will be little left by the end of the week.

Reports on yields vary from 15 to 25 bushels per acre, indicating a community average of about 20.

NEWS OF SICK AND INJURED

An acute attack of appendicitis sent Ervin Hamric to the hospital Monday night about 9 o'clock and he parted with his appendix shortly afterwards at Gainesville Sanitarium. Mrs. Hamric is staying with her husband, their son Dan is running his mail route and Juanita Wieler is helping out at Hamric's store.

Mrs. Wilfred Luttmner has been dismissed from a Sherman hospital following medical care and is convalescing at her home.

Mrs. John Knabe is out and around again after being a shut-in over two months on account of an injury to her leg. A misstep and fall caused a cracked bone and bruised tendons and muscles.

Miss Mary Becker has been dismissed from Gainesville Sanitarium following medical care but is still a shut-in at her home.

Mrs. Tony Wiesman of Gainesville is back at her home after a few days at the Sanitarium for a check-up and X-rays.

After several days of illness at home, Miss Lizzie Koelzer was taken to Gainesville Sanitarium for X-Rays and medical care.

Mrs. James Mollenkopf entered Gainesville Sanitarium Tuesday for medical care and observation.

A fall at her home Saturday evening gave Mrs. William Bergman, 81, a broken right arm at the wrist. She had the injury placed in a cast at Muenster Clinic.

Word to relatives here tells that two of the four Flusche Sisters who are in the convent at San Antonio are presently in the hospital. Sister Josephine, 81, oldest of the quartet, broke a hip in a fall and is a patient at Santa Rose Hospital. Sister Emerita, youngest of the four, has had surgery and is at Our Lady of the Lake Convent Hospital in San Antonio. They have relatives and friends in Muenster and Lindsay and have, through the years, visited here regularly.

Rainard Walterscheid who works for an oil company in Farmington, N. M., is here for a visit with his family, the Harold Waltersheids. He has his right leg in a cast . . . broke the bone in an accident . . . gets around fine on crutches. Rainard is vacationing now while he is off from work on account of the injury.

Former Muensterite Mrs. Douglas Robison of Spur will be dismissed from the hospital there the latter part of this week following an operation. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Hammer and her sisters Linda and Nancy visited in Spur during the week-end and the two girls remained there for a longer visit with the family.

Adult Classes in Upholstery Offered At Public School

An adult homemaking course, a workshop on furniture upholstery and simple furniture instructions, will be available for women of the community beginning Wednesday of next week, Mrs. H. H. Homsely has announced.

Class will begin at 2 o'clock on the first day and those present then can decide on a regular meeting time most convenient for themselves.

Some have already enrolled, and all who are interested in the course are invited to be at the Public School next Wednesday afternoon. There will be no enrollment charge, the only cost will be for supplies and materials used in refinishing furniture or in making new pieces.

Parish Contributes $297 for Cemetery

Members of the Sacred Heart parish donated $297.77 to the cemetery fund in special collections, taken up last Sunday at church services by ladies of the Civic League and Garden Club.

Mrs. Tony Gremminger, co-chairman of the club's cemetery committee announced the amount at Monday night's Garden Club meeting, adding that it was the best Memorial collection taken so far. The club sponsors two collections a year, one at or near Memorial Day the other in November.

Purpose of the fund is to finance general maintenance and replacement of shrubs in the cemetery at a cost of about $600 a year. Other projects planned are a renovation job on the crucifixion group at the center and replacement of old wooden crosses on abandoned and unidentified graves. When the time comes the Garden Club will invite the help of anyone who can identify some of the presently unmarked graves. The intention is to have a permanent stone on every grave and identification wherever possible.

5 New Students of Parish Enroll at Jonesboro Convent

The annual departure of local girls for schooling at Holy Angels Convent in Jonesboro took place this week with three returning to the juniorate after a ten-day vacation, and five going as new candidates for the juniorate. Two others plan to enter in August.

The new enrollees will bring the total from Sacred Heart Parish in Jonesboro, either as nuns or in the various stages of preparation, to 49. It will add up to 33 sisters, one novice, five postulants and 10 juniorates.

Returning after a vacation with family members were Kay Fette, Carol Fette and Cynthia Wimmer. Mrs. Joe Voth and Mrs. Paul Fisher took them by car along with Kathy Voth, Mildred Starke and Shariene Sicking. They left Thursday.

The other new juniorates at Jonesboro are Bernadette Yosten and Carol Hess. Their mothers, Mrs. Felix Yosten and Mrs. Ed Hess and daughter Evelyn took them, leaving early Tuesday with a stop-over in Hot Springs for a visit.

Planning to leave in August are Joyce Reiter and Ruth Bayer.

A farewell gathering, with parting gifts, honored those leaving. Patsy Klement and Mary Pels were hostesses assisted by Mrs. Anthony Klement. It was a swim party and wiener roast at the city park for all of last year's eighth grade girls at Sacred Heart School.

Maximum Smoke Minimum Damage

A fire in a stack of old tires at J. P. Flusche's salvage yard shortly after noon Tuesday was one of the most spectacular ever for Muenster, but still one of the least damaging.

Said to have been started by a nearby trash fire, it was sending up dense clouds of black smoke hundreds of feet before the fire department was notified. After that the firemen just stood by and prevented spreading while the tires burned themselves out.

STAYS ON HONOR ROLL

A report from the University of Dallas advises that Basil Reiter again qualified for the honor roll during the final period of the term, making him an honor student during the entire school year.

Wet Vote Expected Soon as Result of New Court Ruling

Muenster's response to the State Supreme Court's recent ruling that a wet precinct or town can be legally established in a dry county is practically certain, but the method of procedure still remains to be decided.

Mayor Herbert Meurer said Wednesday that an election and its result can both be confidently predicted, however, before the election, even before the petition asking for the election, some persons will have to decide just what conditions are wanted here.

It isn't a matter of just voting wet and deciding later what to do about it, Meurer said. The election ballot will have to specify the method of operation which is to be approved. So there will have to be discussions and plans before the matter comes to a vote.

The mayor said that first steps toward the election will probably be taken at the next meeting of the city council. He also pointed out that anything undertaken relative to the subject will probably have to come under the city's jurisdiction . . . because the local justice precinct does not function as a governing body.

City control was also described as more desirable because it offers opportunity for supervision as well as another source of city tax revenue.

Most likely, Meurer said, there will be efforts to go as far as the law allows in setting up the city's wet status. There has been talk of beer by the drinks, beer by the package and liquor by the package. If petitioned all of those proposals will be submitted to the voters.

Beginners' Class At Muenster Pool To Begin June 22

Swimming courses here for beginners and intermediate swimmers will begin on Monday, June 22.

Ruth Endres and George Petrus, who will have charge of the classes, announced this week that all prospective students will report at 8 o'clock that day for skill tests, which will be followed by registration and assignment of the students to classes and periods. For the rest of that week and the next each youngster will be expected to attend class an hour a day.

According to the instructors' estimates the enrollment will probably be large enough to justify two classes for beginners and two for the intermediates.

As in previous years eligibility is limited to children who meet the first Red Cross requirement, that is, who have completed at least one year in school. Age is not a factor.

Another requirement for registration is the standard Red Cross application signed by a parent and a doctor. The first signature indicates that the child has permission and the other indicates that the child is physically able to take the course.

This application form is printed elsewhere in the Enterprise this children who wish to clip and use week for the convenience of it.

The application must be filled out, ready for presentation at the time a child registers for the class on June 22. At that time also each applicant must be wearing a swim suit and carrying a towel.

Adults as well as children may register for a swimming class. Those who wish to are also expected to fill out an application slip, that is, the part of it with the doctor's signature, indicating their fitness to take the classes.

Sacred Heart 4-H Team is Third in A&M State Contest

Patsy Endres and Kathleen McGannon, competing in state contests at the annual 4-H Roundup at A&M College, have won third place honors on their demonstration of vegetable preparation and use. The top three winners are listed in state contests.

Wiring the news Wednesday after the morning's contest, Mrs. Yvonne Jenkins added that competition was stiff against 23 teams and that Muenster's duo was among the youngest 4-H clubbers at the meet.

Open Heart Surgery Corrects Affliction For Timothy Hess

Reports are fine on the open heart operation for 7 year old Timothy Hess, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. J. Hess of Ardmore. His surgery was performed as scheduled on June 3 in an Oklahoma City hospital with 23 blood donors on hand and assisting by donating blood during the operation.

His grandfather, J. W. Hess, described the affliction as a narrowing of a valve in the heart causing a very high blood pressure. To correct it two incisions were made in the valve allowing the blood to flow more freely. While the delicate surgery was under way the heart's normal work was taken over by a machine.

Among the 23 donors were Len Hermes of Lindsay and Johnie Schmitz of Gainesville.

Clothing Factory Awaits Survey on Available Labor

A Want Ad in the Enterprise this week may be the first step toward establishing a new industry in Muenster.

The ad, inviting people to apply for employment in a ladies wear factory in this city, is intended to find out first of all how many are interested in such a job. If the response is good enough additional steps will be taken toward organizing the business here.

Parties interested in this venture are reluctant to reveal their identity at this time. By remaining unknown they hope to avoid the usual many visits and calls made by promoters trying to bring factories to their towns. Another reason is to avoid disturbing the factory's routine in its present location.

The type of employment offered at the factory is operation of a single needle sewing machine for making women's wear. Applicants need not be experienced in this kind of work, however, familiarity with a home sewing machine can be helpful. Even those who have never sewed are welcome to apply. The firm has its own training program and is able to start employees at the very beginning.

It was pointed out also that for the present, the call for applicants is actually a survey of the local labor supply rather than an offer of jobs. Nevertheless, interested persons are reminded of the importance of writing in. Unless available workers submit their names the firm's management will have no information on which to proceed. Also mentioned is the fact that these applications will go on file for consideration if the factory is moved here.

For the sake of convenience in filing, it is suggested that applications be submitted on Postal cards. They are to be sent to P. O. Box 367, Muenster.

Trustees Announce Five Assignments, Three More Needed

Five of seven vacancies at the Muenster Public School have been filled, but another has been created, according to a report this week from Superintendent L. B. Bruns.

Heading the list of new assignments is Glenn Hellman, who leaves the vocational agriculture department to become principal and history teacher. According to Smith-Hughes regulations, the source of federal help to agriculture classes, Hellman was not permitted to accept the job of principal or any other administrative post, while teaching agriculture. So he quit the ag class.

Two more new appointees of the faculty are natives of Muenster and former graduates of MHS. Mrs. Jane Weinzapfel will teach grades 3 and 4 and Emmett Walterscheid will take up the vacancy left by Bruns in order to become superintendent. He will teach shop and driver training.

The teacher for grades 5 and 6 is Mrs. Prudence Selby, who has taught 9 years at Era. Her husband has recently been appointed resident representative for TP&L in this area and the family will move here before school starts.

Another new member of the staff is G. J. Huff of Henderson, who is just starting in the teaching field. He will direct the band and take charge of the library.

Three more vacancies remain to be filled on the school's faculty. They are the coach and math teacher, the ag teacher and the teacher for grades 7 and 8.

Planning for the surprise was done by his daughter Mary, home from Denton for the weekend, assisted by Mrs. Weinzapfel. Another surprise came in a shower of gifts.

The two dozen or more guests included Father Thomas Weinzapfel of Dallas, Father Joe Weinzapfel and Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Jackson of Fort Worth, Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Hellman of Tulsa and Father Martin and Father Bruno.

Mrs. T. S. Myrick, retiring president, opened the meeting and Mrs. L. B. Bruns, new president, closed.

Reports during business included the cemetery report by Mrs. Tony Gremminger, co-chairman, who listed receipts in the semi-annual cemetery collection the previous Sunday as totaling $297.77.

Park committee reported Memorial Park cleaned and mowed before Memorial Day and members complimented Mrs. Nick Miller on the handsome wreath of greenery and buddy poppies she made and placed on the bronze marker at the park for Memorial Day.

Refreshments of decorated cake squares, ice cream, punch and mints carried out a pink and white color scheme and were served to 16 members and three guests, Mrs. A. B. Williams, Mrs. A. H. Rebertish and Mrs. John Fisch of Okmulgee, Okla., visiting with Mrs. M. J. Endres.

Music by Paul Brewer and His Texas Swingsters

Double ring ceremony at nuptial high mass in Sacred Heart Church united Jeanette Haverkamp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Haverkamp of Muenster and Travis Neal Wickliffe, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Wickliffe of Dallas.

Rev. Christopher Paladino officiated at the service Saturday afternoon at four o'clock. The couple pledged vows before the altar adorned with pink gladioli. Baskets of Shasta daisies and Queen Ann lace held vantage spots in the sanctuary.

For her wedding Jeanette wore a lovely white floor length dress of silk organza over taffeta. The fitted bodice of embroidered organza had a square neckline and petal point sleeves and the voluminous skirt was accented at the hemline with shirring on the billowing overskirt. Her tiered veil of illusion was attached to a pleated headpiece studded with bridal jewels and she carried a purple orchid and stephanotis atop a white prayerbook. Her father escorted her to the altar and gave her in marriage.

The bride's three attendants were identically gowned in pink organza bouffants over taffeta with matching half hats and mitts and carried nosegays of pink and white carnations. Mrs. Elton Wickliffe of Dallas, sister-in-law of the groom, was matron of honor and Joyce Haverkamp, Muenster, and Mrs. Cecil McCoy of Grand Prairie, sisters of the couple were bridesmaids.

Elton Wickliffe was best man for his brother and Walter Haverkamp of Electra, brother of the bride, and Dayton Price of Dallas were groomsmen. David Forgey of Dallas and Richard Schumacher of Gainesville ushered.

The church choir sang the mass with Anthony Luke at the organ and Mrs. Norbert Walterscheid gave a post-nuptial solo when the bride placed a bouquet of white carnations on the Blessed Virgin's altar.

Ann Luke of Dallas and Joanie Herr registered guests at the reception in the Parish Hall where some 300 relatives and friends gathered and were served a buffet dinner catered by Mrs. Joe Lehnertz. The beautiful four-tier wedding cake on a mirror reflector was surrounded by Shasta daisies and greenery and after being cut by the newlyweds was served by Margie Walterscheid and Alma Haverkamp of Lindsay.

EVASION IMMORAL

Failure to make payment on the national debt in prosperous times was branded by Secretary of the Treasury Anderson, in his speech to the annual meeting of the Associated Press in New York, as immoral.

Neglect in meeting our obligation incurred by the federal government in war and peace is sheer evasion of responsibility since every dollar borrowed carries a pledge of repayment with interest, but, instead, further borrowing are pyramided on the colossal debt. This improvident expediency, increasing each day the obligation for posterity, amounts to national capital depletion which results from inflation.

The necessity for constant re-financing portions of the federal debt does not signify official condonation of moral irresponsibility toward that record obligation, but is only an enforced course consequent to continued default in debt reduction. No manner of fiscal rationalization or economic sophistry can hide the unethical nature of debt evasion.

What, indeed, can happen to a nation of free people which runs from its financial responsibilities in that way? The long chain of cause and effect should not conceal the true nature of this evasion. Deficit financing year upon year is due to the pressure groups which force unwise spending on a pliant government, to officials and legislators who play politics by being subservient to such influences, and to both government and the people who fail to provide enough margin between income and outgo to permit payment on the debt in prosperous years.

The debt is a colossal monument to our cowardly evasion that is nothing less than dishonesty, as Mr. Anderson declared. Deficit financing and its effect of inflation amount to robbery of millions with fixed incomes, including those small investors in government bonds. To fail to see that our debt policy is undermining the strength and fiber of our government and our freedoms is only the blindness that destroys. This moral decay from within is all that Communist Russia could hope for. It is toward fulfillment of the Communist belief that our own excesses will spell our doom.

FOREIGN COMPETITION GETTING SERIOUS

Over in England some master machinists are at work on a generator for TVA, while similar workmen here at home are idle. Yet American tax money is paying for the huge machine. Why? The English agreed to build the generator for several millions less.

Much of the barbed wire now used in this country comes from Germany—Why?—it is $40 a ton cheaper.

The British build most of the bicycles, ship them here cheaper than the American plants produce the bikes.

Four out of five watches sold in America are made in Switzerland, and Germany produces portable typewriters delivered in this country at $10 less than domestic plants can produce them. Five American firms making steel flatware closed their doors when the Japanese lines hit the American market — all because of prices.

One Illinois nail manufacturer has found he can buy Japan made nails at $1.18 per 100 pounds less than he can produce them. The same is true of a plywood plant in South Carolina, where it cost the plant 17½ cents a square foot to produce the product, while Japan is eager to sell the goods at seven cents a foot.

The cut-price on dinnerware from Japan sent owners of 12 American plants scurrying to padlock their factory doors.

Our foreign markets—mostly built up by U. S. loans or grants—are gradually eating the heart out of the industrial life of America.

The Bitter Truth

It is a sad state of affairs. To meet overseas competition, industrialists will have to step up automation, or as some have already done, open plants overseas.

All this proves one thing — America does not have a monopoly on manufacturing.

A classic example is to look carefully on the average souvenir of the Great Smokies — 99 times out of 100 you'll find on them in small print "made in Japan."

One of the several sad angles to this plight of affairs is that Congress does not seem to care enough to do anything about it. It would appear from the facts that they have let things go to the extreme, and now we find ourselves with a Frankenstein that we are unable to control.

The picture is certainly not a pretty one. We wonder when Congress will do something to change the trend and the scene? Waynesville (N.C.) Mountaineer

Since 1900, life expectancy has risen from 47 years to nearly 70 years. During the same period, the nation's population has doubled. But the number of Americans 65 years old and over has more than quadrupled—from 3,000,000 to 14,000,000.

YOU MAY BE NEXT . . .

Stanley Yankus has auctioned off his farm in the Midwest and is moving to Australia. Evetts Haley Jr., a Texas is threatening to do the same.

Stanley, your remember, was not allowed to raise his own feed for his own chickens? Haley was heavily fined for growing wheat he wasn't supposed to.

One or two unimportant men—so, you ask, what of it?

But is injustice ever unimportant: Injustice to Stanley Yankus? Injustice to Evetts Haley Jr.? These today—you tomorrow. And if you study your own situation today, are you quite sure about yourself today?

But it is the law, you say—law—yes. But justice?

What happened to these two men is tyranny of the worst sort.

It was, you say, the will of the people. Was it? Have the people ever been consulted? Have they been asked to vote on such a law and told how it can apply in their own cases?

In 1776 this country's colonial forbears signed a Declaration of Independence. The primary cause

WHAT'S HAPPENED TO DAD?

by J. Edgar Hoover, Director, Federal Bureau of Investigation

In a large Southwestern city not long ago an 8-year-old boy was arrested repeatedly over a period of 18 months for theft, burglary, and arson. Time and again local authorities tried to prevail upon his father—who earned a good income but was a heavy drinker—to provide closer supervision over the boy. The man failed to cooperate, and so another youngster was well on his way to joining the ranks of hardened criminals.

SIMILAR tragedies are on the increase in America today, and one of the major causes for the rise in the juvenile crime rate is the decline of Dad as head of the household. Under our present social conditions, the pressures of business have estranged thousands of youngsters from their fathers. In many families, children are in bed before Dad gets home from work. Under such circumstances, mothers have been forced into a role of greater authority and responsibility. The result is that the man of the house tends to be looked upon as merely a weekend handy man—a tired, silent partner.

In a normal child, the stamp of character is imprinted firmly and deeply at an early age. Youngsters learn quickly from the example of their parents, and it is in his capacity as head of the house that the father can teach his children what is right and wrong and instill in them a fine sense of discipline.

YOUNGSTERS ask to be taught the boundaries of acceptable behavior. Discipline, fairly and consistently invoked, breeds pride and respect. And children want—desperately—to be disciplined. Superficially, they may rebel. But on a deeper level, where character is formed, a child wants to be told what he can and cannot do. He needs guideposts to help him orientate himself to the world.

There are, of course, those misguided individuals who cry out that children should be free to develop without authority. But freedom, divorced from authority and discipline, is a frightening thing and is the first step toward total moral degeneration. In a democracy, restraint and self-control are essential in all phases of life.

In exercising his authority as man of the house, Dad is only acting in accordance with his nature, with the God-given role of provider and protector of his children. His authority comes directly from God Himself, and so he must never discipline his children in the manner of a tyrant but always as a kind and understanding father.

MUCH of our juvenile crime today is due to the fact that we as a nation have failed in maintaining family restraint and family discipline. We can eliminate many of our current headaches and heartaches by restoring Dad to his proper role in the home. Our present juvenile jungle has resulted from a lack of spiritual and moral training. Until parents instill in their children a deep respect for the teachings of Almighty God and for lawful authority, we can never expect them to obey civil law or the laws of society.

is generally accepted as the Stamp Act. Do you know the basic reasoning behind the Stamp Act? It was a tax imposed on colonial trade to finance the cost of colonial defense. It seemed entirely reasonable to the British Government. Why should the British taxpayer bear the expense? But the colonial folks thought it tyranny and the revolution began.

Governments are not all-wise. Majorities are not always right, but in the Yankus and Haley cases, the majorities have not even been consulted. They have been told. Slice it any way you please and it still looks, smells and tastes like tyranny.

Remember—Stanley Yankus and Evetts Haley today. You tomorrow!

Special Caution Urged in Operation Of Power Mowers

The discarded nail was hidden in tall grass. The mower blade hit it and suddenly it was buried an inch deep alongside the shinbone of the 23-year-old Williamson County secretary.

Accidents of this type will be on the increase now — this is lawn-mowing time, you know — until fall weather brings a welcome respite from the weekly chore.

The State Department of Health does not keep statistics on non-fatal accidents, so the extent of injuries from carelessly handled power mowers is unknown. But a random check of private physicians and an emergency hospital confirms the fact that the number is considerable.

Like the man who stopped his car at the curb, intending to say hello to his perspiring neighbor busily mowing the grass. Neighbor wheels up with mower to return the greeting. Man in car — elbow resting on window — finds his forearm pinned to bicep with a five-inch piece of wire flung at him by the whirling blade.

Power equipment is a tremendous boon to the man who likes to keep his yard neat with a minimum of effort. But it takes constant concentration to do the job safely. Even experience is no substitute for concentration.

A garden club member in a major Texas city used to pride himself on his safe and sane use of power tools that helped him maintain the sharpest yard in the block.

But no more. One afternoon recently, while trimming his driveway with a power trimmer, he reached down to lift a bloom-laden branch of a rose bush out of the way.

When he withdrew his hand two fingers were missing. "I wasn't alert," he wryly explained.

One of the most frequent mower accidents has this sequence:

A stick or wire or rock jams between cutting bar and blade. The operator attempts to clear the jam without going to the trouble of killing the motor. Result: Badly cut or severed fingers when the surge of power spins the freed blade.

Most power mowers come equipped with safety guards. Trouble is that guards are removed by owners for one reason or another and never replaced.

But use one carelessly and you're liable to become a candidate for a quick trip to the emergency ward of City Hospital. (A weekly feature of the Health Education Division, Texas State Department of Health.)

Safety Department Points to Alarming Accident Increase

Austin — The Texas Department of Public Safety reported today 50 more persons have been killed in Texas traffic accidents during the first quarter of 1959 than in the same period last year.

Col. Homer Garrison Jr., Director, said this means motorists apparently have reversed the trend which resulted in the lowest traffic death rate in the State's history in 1958.

The Department reported 551 persons have died in traffic accidents during the first three months of this year, including reports received up to April 18. This total compares with a death toll of 501 during the comparable period of last year.

"This 10 percent increase in traffic fatalities indicates we are off to a bad start which could completely wipe out the 8 percent decrease in motoricides for the whole of 1958," Garrison said.

"Equally alarming is the fact that the total number of accidents has increased 24 percent over last year, indicating an urgent need for every motorist to take stock of his driving habits and join in a campaign to save lives and restore our improved record of last year."

Garrison's statement was issued with the release of a booklet containing an analysis of 1958 motor vehicle traffic accidents, prepared by the Statistical Services Division. This showed that the 2,342 traffic deaths was the lowest since 1949 when 1,947 were killed, and that the death rate of 5.3 persons killed for each hundred million miles travelled was the lowest in history. The low rate was achieved through a reduction of 197 deaths in 1958 in spite of a three percent increase in travel.

Official 1959 Map Of Texas Highways Released by State

AUSTIN TEXAS — The new and improved Official Highway Travel Map is now available for distribution by the Texas Highway Department. Copies of the "travel encyclopedia" of Texas, as it has been called, may be obtained by writing the Texas Highway Department, Austin 14, or at the highway district offices and travel information bureaus. County tax offices have map cards available for requesting copies of the map.

The new map is the answer to today's demand for more and steady growth of Texas from a state with a population of slightly over seven million just ten years ago to its present estimated population of more than nine million is reflected by the information appearing on the 1959 map.

Nine more cities and town are shown than on last year's map, making a total of 1,821. The increased mileage in U. S., state, and farm-to-market roads is much in evidence. The map reflects some 1,600 miles of multi-lane divided highway now completed in Texas, including the completed sections of the National System of Interstate and Defense highways located in the state.

The map now shows approximately 61 major lakes and reservoirs, and includes countless rivers, creeks, and streams. Roadside parks, long cherished as rest stops and picnic areas by Texans and tourists alike, now number 1,046 as compared to the 1,026 shown on last year's map.

City route maps are provided of the state's 12 largest cities—Amarillo, Austin, Beaumont, Corpus Christi, Dallas, El Paso, Fort Worth, Houston, Lubbock, San Antonio, Waco, and Wichita Falls.

The reverse side of the map, with a theme of "Texas, Land of Contrasts," reflects, in 20 full-color pictures, some of the outstanding scenic, historical, and recreational attractions in Texas. A section entitled "Facts About Texas" gives facts and figures on Texas' natural resources, recreational opportunities, state and national parks, historic points of interest, flora, farming and ranching, terrain features, and climate.

The Official Highway Travel Map is used by all state and governmental agencies in the state for determining highway distances, mileages, zones, and like information. The same map is equally as useful to tourists seeking roads leading to good times in Texas.

More car than this Impala Sport Coupe is hard to find at any price.

clings to curves like a cat on a carpet!
the travel-lovin' Chevrolet

Nothing else but a dyed-in-the-wool sports car like the Corvette can take a turn with such solid assurance!

It's easy to see where Chevrolet gets its road sense. With big coil springs at every wheel, a firm, wider stance and all of its pounds distributed with painstaking care, Chevy's born with it.

The only thing that may be hard to understand is how it can offer the ride it does, along with so many other luxury-car virtues, and still compete in the low-price field.

We use the word compete only in the sense of price. For with a ride as special as Chevy's, real competitors are hard to come by. There's a world of difference between Chevrolet's coil springs at all four wheels and the leaf springs that most other cars still use. Take a Chevy down a snaky back road and you'll feel the difference in the sure way it holds through curves and shoots over rough spots with hardly a ripple.

This one's really made to travel and loves every minute of it.

Stop by your local authorized Chevrolet dealer's and sample Chevy's road sense!

"Look here," said the worried householder to the new maid, "why did you tell your mistress what time I came home last night when I asked you not to?" "I didn't," replied the maid. "She asked me what time you got in, and I told her I was too busy cooking the breakfast to look at the clock."

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

OUR SOIL ★ OUR STRENGTH

Bermuda grass clippings taken on the grassed waterway at the H. N. Fuhrmann farm east of Muenster weighed out 4000 pounds of forage per acre. It is estimated that about 30 pounds of the grass would produce a pound of beef or 133 pounds of beef per acre.

At 30 cents a pound this could mean $39.90 an acre in beef production to the landowner in addition to providing a safe outlet area for the terracing system which protects sloping fields and prevents soil and water losses in heavy rainfall periods.

Grazing on the Bermuda grass has been properly managed so that a high stubble of the grass is left at all times to maintain vigor of the plants and provide protection from heat, cold, evaporation and water and soil loss. Proper use of the grass is paying off in increased grass production. The 4000 pounds of forage now represents only a part of the annual production expected this year. "Now is the time to get cattle off that part of native grass pastures that is to be improved by resting this year" according to local Soil Conservation Service personnel. Rest from June until frost gives the tall grasses a chance to make growth, produce seed to thicken the stand and improve the vigor of the plants by building root reserves of plant food. Deferred grazing for long periods develops stronger and deeper root systems in grasses making them more drought resistant. The deferred portion of the range grasses makes an ideal pasture for wintering livestock. Rest grass this year to produce more grass. It takes grass leaves to produce grass roots to produce more grass. It is also time to mow or spray all grass plantings to remove weeds and other competing plants that sap the ground for food and moisture and crowd out the younger weaker grass plants. Waterway strips especially need special care to remove weeds so that the Bermuda grass can grow and spread rapidly.

Mrs. Kenneth Wiesman returns to Houston Friday after spending since Monday with her parents, the Herbert Meurers and other relatives.

Victor Koelzer has bought Cecil Rathburn's well servicing units, adding two rigs to his previous equipment for a total of four rigs in operation.

Lindsay News

Children of the Andy Arendts and the Gene Hoedebecks "swapped" homes several days last week. Paul and Linda Hoedebeck visited here and Butch, David, Kathy and Janie Arendt visited in Muenster.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Strategier of Norman, Okla.; who were among relatives at the Haverkamp-Wickliffe wedding in Muenster Saturday remained to visit a few days with relatives here before returning home. Mr. Strategier is getting around without any apparent after effects of a broken hip he sustained in a fall about a year ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Kuta and children Kathy Ann and Mark Jr. left Monday morning to return to their home in Crockett after a visit with her mother.

Lindsay, Muenster and Gainesville CYC units were well represented at the deanery holy hour here in St. Peter's Church on June 3. Father Alcuin led the prayers. Afterwards the young people went to the Parish Hall for a social hour and refreshments. Father Bruno Fuhrmann attended with the group from Sacret Heart Parish.

Mrs. John Bezner, dismissed from Gainesville Sanitarium Tuesday, is convalescing at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Bomar Woods.

FHA Girls Conduct Kids' Play School

New for Muenster this year is a play school for children, aged one to five, to open Monday, June 15, at the Public School.

In making the announcement this week, Mrs. H. H. Homsley said she and her Future Homemaker Chapter girls will conduct the play school for the kiddies from 9 to 11 a.m. for ten days. There will be no charge.

It's strictly play school she said and is arranged principally as the final touches to a course relating to the subject which the past year's freshman girls had near the end of the term. It is designed to help pre-school children learn to play with one another, share their toys and remove some of the shyness little folks often have in a group. It also gives their mothers a welcome two-hour morning break without the youngsters underfoot during the household chores.

Mothers wishing to enroll their children may do so by notifying Sharon Schumacher or Martha Sue Meurer — since Mrs. Homsley is away this weekend in Mineral Wells at an in-service training course, heading a workshop on furniture upholstery. Those who fail to make a contact for enrollment before Monday are invited to take their children to school Monday morning.

Auctioneers Extend County Loop Lead; Edge Grocers 4-3

Muenster's hustling Auctioneers came from behind Tuesday night to tighten their grip on the lead position of the Cooke County softball league. After allowing their top rivals, Tom Thumb, a big, 3-run first inning, they hammered away for the rest of the game and finally edged out their scanty 4-3 win in the last inning.

It was the first contest after a 10-day intermission in the season, and the outcome was all important. Had the Grocers triumphed the records would have been 6-3 each. Instead Muenster now stands at 7-2 and Tom Thumb at 5-4.

Cecil Cain, hurling for Muenster, racked up another nice record but almost lost in spite of it. The only hit he allowed followed two errors and drove in two runs. Next McCorkle, the hitter breezed home on a passed ball.

Straining to overcome the lead Muenster cracked out 9 singles. Grouping was not so fortunate, however, and the runs were brought in the hard way, one each in the first, third, fourth and seventh. Harris, Walterscheid and Speedy Reiter got 2 hits each while Petrus, Reynold Reiter and Dickie Cain got one each.

Next games on schedule for the Auctioneers are Lindsay Friday, PGAC Tuesday and Tom Thumb Thursday.

Parish Streamlines Lawn Mowing Job

Lawns as well as the caretaker on the Sacred Heart Parish grounds will be better kept in the future as the result of a new lawn mower provided by St. Joseph's Society.

It is a riding mower, allowing the operator, Buck Knabe, to work the easier and faster way instead of walking . . . and pushing . . . the machine. It is a rotary type power mower with 30 inch cutting width.

CDA Meeting Friday

Members of the local court Catholic Daughters of America are reminded of their June meeting Friday night and the installation of recently elected officers as a feature of the session. Mrs. Gladys Polanski of Dallas, district deputy, will be here to preside at the installation ritual.
