VOLUME XI

MUENSTER, COOKE COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY, AUGUST 29, 1947

NUMBER 40

Now we have straight dope on the high cost of living. A comprehensive survey conducted by Associated Press reveals that a dollar today goes just half as far as it did in 1939.

For most of us that doesn't make a great deal of difference. Wages and salaries on the average have doubled also, and the normal person has about the same problems balancing his budget that he always did. Things are about the same for the fellow who's moving with the upward spiral.

But it isn't by any means the same for people who put aside some savings in those normal years. Take the man who paid on a life insurance policy, for instance. He paid in full value dollars and his beneficiaries get half value dollars now. His intention was to provide security but his dependents get only half security. The loyal citizen who put his savings into bonds faces the same predicament. The few hundred or few thousand dollars he will get back will buy only half of what they did when invested. Then there are older people who saved and sacrificed for 20, 30 or 40 years to have security in their old age. They don't have security after all. Half their savings have been swept away by a silly and cruel economic nightmare that could have been prevented by a little serious thinking.

We can't help wondering how the responsible persons feel now about this Frankenstein they have created. Do they experience any sense of guilt? Does their conscience hurt at all for destroying half the negotiable savings of millions of people? Getting down to strict theological principles, is it less wrong to burn half of a man's money than to steal it outright? As far as the victim is concerned the result is equally tragic one way or the other.

Is it possible that the people who control this situation haven't considered that angle? If they have how can they possibly justify their conduct?

Honesty and fairness as much as common horse sense demand that something be done, and soon. Conditions are bad enough already but they'll get progressively worse if we permit this economic monster to go on. Germany of the 20's is a concrete example of that.

The Associated Press report is a milestone on our way to confusion. It simply stated "Here your dollar is worth 50 cents," but to the person who looks closely it says a lot more. In fine print, beyond the notice of selfish, short sighted people it states "You are no better off than you were before." In fact you are worse off because your savings are down to half value, and meanwhile you are reducing some people to destitution.

What we need is men of judgment and influence to stand at this post and urge the whole nation to turn back. We're far enough now to realize that our course leads only to chaos, and the going will get steadily rougher if we continue. But we can retrace our steps — to lower price and lower wage, then to still lower price and still lower wage until we return to firm footing again.

Labor bosses and industrial giants who claim to be so all fired concerned about the nation's welfare can work out such a program if they only want to. And they needn't worry about opposition from the common man. He'll be glad to cooperate if he has bonds, insurance or cash savings.

According to columnist Dorothy Thompson the group of Protestant clergymen who returned from Yugoslavia with Tito's tailor made report on freedom of religion must have been somewhat sluggish in the exercise of their gray matter.

Boner No. 1 was their acceptance of a government official's report on the situation without ever consulting representatives of the Catholic or Orthodox churches. By American standards an investigation calls for considering both sides of a controversy.

Boner No. 2 was to accept Tito's version of religious freedom which is that "the church should not interfere in political affairs but should carry out religious rites and act toward strengthening morals and helping the state in general." By American church standards that theory is all wet. Our churchmen of all creeds claim to be independent of the state, not subservient to it, and they claim the right to speak up on any question of morals even to the extent of opposing state politics. But even in accepting the warped Tito premise they failed to apply it logically to speci-

Patrons at Benefit Picnic Can See Where Their 'Benefit' Goes

When the community gathers at the parish hall next Monday afternoon and night for the Alumni Association benefit picnic and dance it will have the opportunity of seeing just where its money is going. The football team's shower building, which will be financed by the proceeds of the party, is now under construction some 25 or 30 yards southeast of the hall.

Wall construction on the 26 x 44 building was started Tuesday and should be completed before the weekend. Work on the roof, floor and plumbing will follow directly thereafter.

The benefit party, which begins at 3 o'clock Monday afternoon and continues until 11:30, will feature bingo, dancing, eats and drinks.

Local Firemen Set to Take Second Donkey Game From Saint Jo

Next Tuesday night at the Muenster softball diamond Muenster's donkey wrangling firemen will be all set to take their Saint Jo rivals for another ride. Meanwhile the visiting firemen will be equally determined to avenge the 2 to 1 defeat sustained two weeks ago on their home grounds.

Hailed as better than a rodeo and funnier than a circus, donkey ball is anything but a baseball game. A player's ability doesn't mean a thing. The outcome depends entirely on the changing whims of the donkeys — except in rare cases when especially talented donkey persuaders like Leo Sicking happen to coax the little beasts into a responsive mood.

The game is a benefit affair to make up a party purse for the local volunteer firemen, who receive no regular compensation for their services.

Notes On Soil Conservation

Charles Cler signed an agreement cooperating with the Upper Elm-Red Soil Conservation District and plans a complete soil and water conservation program on his farm about three miles west of Muenster. One of Mr. Cler's main objectives is to retire some cultivated land and prepare it for grass seeding through the use of Hairy Vetch as a soil building crop.

An agreement was also completed with Gus Lutkenhaus in cooperation with the Upper Elm-Red Conservation District, through the assistance of Soil Conservation Service technicians. Mr. Lutkenhaus also plans to retire some cultivated land and intends to build it up for grass by using Hubam clover as a soil improving crop.

Group application meetings were held during the week in the Bruno Fleitman and Paul Fisher Groups.

Besides the groups leaders, members attending included: Paul Fisher, Harry Fisher, Charles Fisher, Clem Hoffbauer, Joe Swirczynski, R.M. Zipper, Tony Felderhoff and Martin Bayer. At these meetings Soil Conservation Service technicians stressed the importance of securing seed and fertilizer needs early before prices rise and material is scarce. Other topics discussed included pasture establishment, waterway construction, and the use of vetch and rye for a soil building crop, as well as for winter pasture.

Bruno Fleitman, Conservation Group Leader, recently harvested 20 acres of Hubam clover and it yielded 2500 pounds of seed. This crop was overseeded in Fall oats and the oats was cut with a binder earlier this summer. In view of the drought which followed grain harvest, the yield is considered good.

Ida Fisher and her niece and nephew, Mildred Fisher and Roger Taylor, returned Sunday from a several day's visit with Miss Fisher's sister, Mrs. Leo Appel and family at Galena Park. Miss Fisher is visiting here from San Pedro, Calif.

Parish Mothers Sponsor Kitchen Shower Sept. 2 For Benedictine Sisters

The annual community-wide pantry and kitchen shower for the local Benedictine Sisters will be held in the parish hall on the afternoon of Tuesday, September 2, it has been announced by the Saint Anne's Society, the sponsor group. It will begin at 2 o'clock.

Every lady in the community is invited to attend, the sponsor group emphasized. Shower gifts may be items for the kitchen or pantry and may also include cash for the purchase of cooking utensils needed by the Sisters. All attending are also reminded to bring refreshments which will be served after a social hour.

The meal will be served buffet style, the committee in charge advised, and will consist of chicken and other meats, relishes, salads, pie, cake and coffee.

To avoid a duplication of food the committee on refreshments has prepared a list of items for the women to bring, using the alphabet as a guide, as follows: those whose surnames begin with A through F, cake or pie; G through I, potato salad; J through S, meats; T through V, coffee; W through Z, relishes and green salads.

Anyone desiring further information is asked to get in touch with Mrs. Ben Seyler, president of the sponsor group.

This affair has become an annual event and in addition to being deeply appreciated by the Sisters, offers and afternoon in which parents and teachers can get acquainted and ladies of the community can visit.

Muenster Rejects School Measure In Light Ballot

Muenster and Cooke county cast their votes with the losers in last Saturday's referendum on the amendment to shift a portion of the state Confederate veterans' pension fund to a college building fund. The two local boxes polled a total of three votes for the measure and 43 against it. The county's total was 264 to 250 against ratification.

According to reports late Tuesday the total state vote indicates a passage of the amendment by a small majority.

Voting here as all over the state was very light. Only about ten per cent of the qualified voters of this community reported to the polls.

Kiddies Events Get Big Cheers At Sunday Rodeo

The kiddies' events rated the big cheers again at last Sunday night's rodeo. In regular competition as calf riders and in exhibitions as calf ropers, they all gave a good account of themselves and made a bigger hit with the crowd than the seasoned senior performers. Special applause went to the little 12 year old Anna Grace Fette, the first girl performer to appear at the rodeo this season.

Winners are as follows: Junior steer riding: Joe Dennis, W.C. Dennis, Joe Boyet. Steer riding: Buster Robertson, Jack Dennis, Doc Moseley.

Bronc riding: Doc Moseley, Clifford Boydston, Bud Gainer. Tie-down roping: Mack Fuller, Doc Greene, Otis Cobb. Ribbon roping: Bill Lacy, Mutt Lacy, Frank Vincent.

Miss Willie Sowder had as guests during the week Mr. and Mrs. E. Stump of Los Angeles, Calif. He formerly resided here with his parents on the old Loring Ranch and moved from the community about 50 years ago. It was his first return visit and he was amazed at the progress and growth of Muenster.

Mrs. Emma Morrison And Sister In California Reunited After 60 Years

Seeing each other for the first time in sixty years was an exciting experience for two sisters, Mrs. Emma Morrison of this city and Mrs. Belle Bertram of Los Angeles, Calif., when they met recently in the latter's home. Mrs. Morrison returned Saturday from a three-week visit with her sister.

Mrs. Morrison, 64, and Mrs. Bertram, 71, were separated 60 years ago when their parents died and relatives took the children to rear. The sisters lost all trace of each other during the intervening years and a number of attempts to learn each others' whereabouts were unsuccessful.

Four years ago, however, Mrs. Morrison located her sister through an advertisement placed in a Dallas farm paper. At the same time she found her brother from whom she had not heard since their separation as children. His home is in Louisiana. They have corresponded since but the recent visit was the first opportunity the sisters had to get together.

DENISON WILL FEATURE BEARDS AND BUSTLES AT DIAMOND JUBILEE

Denison, Texas. — They have turned back the calendar 75 years in this North Texas city of 25,000.

Every male in town old enough to shave has either a full-grown beard, or at least a handle-bar mustache. Housewives wear bustles and long taffeta dresses on downtown shopping tours, and everybody who owns a horse and can borrow a buggy has put the family car in the garage for the duration.

Denison will be 75 years old next September 23, and from September 1-6 there will be a week long Diamond Jubilee celebration.

There will be parades and pageants, street dances and a rodeo; Old Fiddlers' contests, sidewalk cluck wagons and street carnivals. The entire business district will be closed to traffic for the whole week and transformed into a midway for the recreation of a bustling frontier city. On Saturday, September 6, the closing day of the Jubilee, a tiny wood-burning Katy locomotive, pulling five ancient cars will wheeze down from Oklahoma, cross the Red River and enter Denison, to re-enact the arrival of the first train to arrive in Texas from the North. The event actually occurred on December 25, 1872, and some of the children, who were on the platform that day with their pioneer parents will be honored guests for the re-enactment.

This will be the highlight of the celebration, which has been planned by the city and the Missouri-Kansas-Texas Railroad. Denison was built by the Katy as its Southern terminal. It has remained one of its most important points during the past 75 years.

The regular monthly city council meeting scheduled for Monday night, Sept. 1, has been postponed to the following Monday, Sept. 8, it was announced this week. Date of the meeting was changed so as not to conflict with events scheduled for Labor Day and other evening of the week.

AGNELLA PELS AND LAWRENCE MARTIN MARRY WEDNESDAY

Miss Agnella Pels and Lawrence Martin were united in a pretty ceremony performed Wednesday morning at 6:30 in Sacred Heart church with the Rev. John Walbe officiating at the double ring ceremony and at the nuptial high mass.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Pels and the groom is the son of Frank Martin, all of Muenster.

Anthony Luke, church organist, played the wedding marches and presided at the console to assist the choir in singing the mass.

The bride was attired in a lovely gown of white chiffon bemberg designed with a high round neckline and off-shoulder bertha effect of Venise lace. The fitted mid-riff was of the same lace and the skirt was extremely full. Her finger-tip length veil fell from a halo trimmed with Venise lace and she carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations. Her only jewelry was a gold cross and chain, a gift from the bridegroom, and she carried a rosary, a gift from her mother.

Miss Theresa Mae Pels was her sister's maid of honor wearing a Madonna blue frock of marquisette over taffeta. It was fashioned with fitted bodice, short puffed sleeves, sweetheart neckline outlined with silver sequins and a bouffant skirt ornamented with tiny sequin bows. She wore a matching halo hat and a corsage of white gladiolus.

Alfred Kuhn of Lindsay was best man.

The bride's mother wore a black and white jersey ensemble with black accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

After the services the bridal party had breakfast at the home of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Walterscheid, and at noon the couple was honored with a dinner in the home of the bride's parents for which immediate members of both families were guests. The dining room carried out the bride's color scheme of white and blue and summer flowers decorated the home. The bride's table was centered with a wedding cake, flanked with candles in crystal candelabra.

The cutting and serving of the cake preceded the couple's departure at 4 o'clock. The destination of their wedding trip was not revealed. For traveling the bride wore an ice blue dress with white accessories and a carnation corsage. When they return they will make their home on a farm seven miles northwest of the city.

MARIE FELDERHOFF AND HENRY SPAETH ARE UNITED TUESDAY

Miss Marie Felderhoff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Felderhoff, Muenster, became the bride of Henry W. Spaeth, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Spaeth, Lindsay, at 8:30 Tuesday morning. The bride's uncle, the Most Rev. Augustine Danglmayr, auxiliary bishop of Dallas, performed the ring ceremony and officiated at the nuptial mass in Sacred Heart church. Rev. John Walbe, Muenster, and Rev. William Botik, Valley View, were chaplains to His Excellency.

The altar before which the vows were exchanged was adorned with potted genaniums and begonias.

Anthony Luke, organist played the wedding processional and recessional and presented muted strains of the "Ave Maria" at the offertory of the mass.

The bride wore a lovely gown of white satin designed with sweetheart neckline, fitted bodice and full hooped skirt extending into a chapel length train. Her finger-tip length veil was of imported illusion attached to a headdress of pearlized orange blossoms. For "something old and blue" she carried a silk embroidered handkerchief which was sent by her father to her mother during World War I while he was on duty in France. "Something borrowed" was a diamond lavalier worn by her mother at her wedding twenty-eight years ago on the same day. The bridal bouquet was an arrangement of tuberoses centered with a single white orchid.

Miss Georgia Spaeth of Dallas sister of the groom, was the bride's only attendant. She wore a frock of pale blue taffeta with off-shoulder effect neckline, short puffed sleeves and hooped skirt and completed her costume with lace mitts and a lace picture hat. Her flowers were a nosegay of split white carnations.

August Felderhoff, brother of the bride, was best man, and ushers were Norbert Felderhoff, Joe Danglmayr and Andrew Schoech.

Mrs. Felderhoff, mother of the bride, wore a two piece dress of black crepe with black and white accessories, and the groom's mother wore a black dress offset with pale blue and accessories in black. Both wore corsages of Vanda orchids.

Brunch was served in the home of the bride's parents at 10:30 to members of the bridal party, the parents of the couple and the clergy. At 3 o'clock Mr. and Mrs. Felderhoff received some 75 relatives and friends in their home for an informal reception followed by a buffet supper at 5. The bride's table was appointed with crystal and sterling silver on white linen and was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake flanked with tall tapers. Carnations and fern adorned the board and the home was decorated throughout with carnations, snapdragons and fern. Miss Louise Felderhoff, sister of the bride, presided at the bride's book.

After the reception Mr. and

Mrs. Spaeth left by car on a wedding trip not revealing their destination. For traveling the bride wore a dusty rose 2-piece dressmaker suit of wool crepe with brown accessories and an orchid corsage. When they return they will make their home south of Gainesville, near Valley View, where Mr. Spaeth is engaged in farming.

Mrs. Spaeth is a native of this city and a graduate of Sacred Heart High school with the class of 1943. Mr. Spaeth was born and reared in Lindsay and graduated from high school there.

Out of town guests at the wedding included Rev. Leo Koessler of Subiaco, Ark., Mr. and Mrs. Henry Strategier of Norman, Okla., Misses Georgia, Evelyn and Frances Spaeth of Dallas, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sandmann of Valley View and LeRoy Metzler of Tishomingo, Okla.

BRIDE OF THIS WEEK IS HONORED WITH PARTY

Miss Marie Felderhoff, whose marriage to Henry Spaeth was solemnized Tuesday, was honor guest at a party and miscellaneous shower given as a pre-nuptial courtesy last Wednesday night. Hostesses for the affair were Mrs. Arnold Rohmer, Miss Rose Sicking and Miss Helen Hess entertaining in Mrs. Rohmer's home.

The party rooms were decorated with summer flowers to carry out a color scheme of white and blue, the colors chosen by Miss Felderhoff for her wedding, and the gift table was centered with two large dolls, one dressed as a bride in white satin, the other in blue as maid of honor.

Appropriate paper and pencil games were enjoyed and after the gift inspection refreshments were served to 35 guests.

ORGANIC MATTER

Organic matter is the sponge of the soil. It will take up and hold large quantities of water. It also contains considerable minerals so necessary to plant growth. For this reason a soil containing plenty of organic matter is considered a fertile soil.

To keep a lot of organic matter in the soil means a lot of plant growth on the land. If it's all taken off the soil will soon start holding less water and more will run off. Result is erosion and floods fic cases. People like Mikhailovich and Archbishop Stepinac were not at fault even according to Tito's doctrine, if they remained loyal to the government which preceded him.

Boner No. 3 was in believing Tito in the first place when our own state department found it necessary on five separate counts to denounce Tito and company as brazen liars. If the American churchmen admit that clerics should be subservient to the state, their present attitude places them in the embarrassing position of being loyal to a foreign state.

It seems as though Tito succeeded in a clever scheme to get some favorable publicity while making several big men look rather ridiculous.

If David Lawrence guesses correctly the future of the Taft-Hartley Act isn't nearly as shaky as some of the labor radicals would have us believe. Lawrence says the real trouble to date is that workers have had so much union boss propaganda drilled into them that they don't know what benefits the act has to offer. As the truth becomes better known workers will become better pleased and we'll see an improvement in labor relations.

Briefly stated the Taft-Hartley act reaffirms all the rights that workers had and adds many other rights besides. It used to be that employers could not push the workers around. The new law decrees that union bosses are no longer permitted to push workers around. In other words workers are free. The law is actually an emancipation proclamation for labor. As time goes on the public will be more and more grateful to congress for passing it.
