Charles J. Bernauer, 62, Dies Of Heart Ailment; Funeral Service Is Held Saturday

Charles J. Bernauer, 62, well known retired lumberman, succumbed to a heart attack at 2:30 Thursday afternoon Sept. 4 in his home here following a two weeks' illness. He had been afflicted with heart trouble for four years. Funeral services were held Saturday at 8:30 a.m. in Sacred Heart church with Rev. John Walbe officiating at the requiem high mass and at the burial in Sacred Heart cemetery. Pallbearers were Jacob Pagel, William Kathman, J.P. Flusche, Herbert Meurer, Ralph Esker and J.W. Fisher.

Mr. Bernauer was born April 17, 1885, in Saint Joseph, Tenn., a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Bernauer. He attended school there and when he was 17 years old went to Nashville to learn the lumber trade. He was active in that business until ill health forced him to retire four years ago.

In 1908 he moved to Muenster with his parents and assisted his father, as a wagon maker, in his blacksmith shop here. Eight years later, in January, 1916, he went to Mounds, Ill., to be employed with the George F. Kerns Lumber Co., and after seven years became a partner in the business and established a yard in Memphis, Tenn. On May 2, 1916, he was married there to Miss Lena Seyler of this city.

In 1923 he established a business in New Madrid, Mo., and went from there to Lauderdale, Miss., where in 1927 he incorporated the Missabama Hardwood company. Two years later he sold out and spent a year traveling looking for virgin timber to open a saw mill, then opened a business in Madison, Ark., and was there 14 years, selling out in November, 1943, when his doctor advised him to retire following his first heart attack in September, and he moved to Muenster.

The illness that caused his death afflicted him on August 20 and he spent two weeks in Gainesville Sanitarium. His condition was improved to such an extent that he was permitted to return home on Wednesday. The following day he had a relapse and passed away. While relatives and friends knew that he was afflicted with heart trouble and had been seriously ill, his relapse and death followed so quickly upon his apparent improvement and return home from the hospital that it was a shock to all who knew him. He was of a quiet, retiring, congenial nature and had many friends.

Survivors are his wife and one daughter, Miss Mary Faith Bernauer, Muenster, and a foster daughter, Mrs. Frances Nolte of Memphis, Tenn., two brothers, L. A. Bernauer, Muenster, and Joe Bernauer, Panhandle; and three sisters, Miss Frances Bernauer, Memphis, Tenn., Mrs. L.W. Flusche, Decatur; and Mrs. Josephine Wernet of Waco.

Among out of town relatives at the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Seyler, Valley View; Mrs. F. A. Bone, Wichita Falls; Mr. and Mrs. Steve Otto, Wichita Falls; Mrs. Josephine Wernet, Rupert Wernet, Mrs. Roderick Mitchell and Mrs. Charles Smaistria, all of Waco, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin McKeska, Taylor; Mr. and Mrs. L.W. Flusche and family, Decatur; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bernauer; Panhandle; Mr. and Mrs. John Mosman, Saint Jo; Mrs. Elwyn Hope & son, & Mrs. C.A. Stelzer, Fort Worth; Mr. and Mrs. A.H. Rebentish of Dallas; Mr. and Mrs. T.L. Anderson and family and Mr. and Mrs. Alex Lutkenhaus of Gainesville.

T.P. Frost and J.B. Wilde Start Drilling Business

Another local oil development business started here this week when T.P. Frost and J.B. Wilde formed a partnership and purchased a drilling rig. They will operate independently on their own leases and also do contract drilling. Their rig is a new model portable rotary capable of drilling to a depth of 4,500 feet and is considered more than ample in this area where wells seldom reach 2,000 feet. Their first location is on the Flusche Johnson lease northeast of town. They expect to begin work this weekend.

Absence of Veterans Felt as '47 Hornet Team Starts Training

Though feeling the absence of a half dozen old reliables from last year's squad, the Muenster Hornets started training Tuesday determined to continue the good work chalked up last year in their first season of competitive football.

As an opening workout Coach Frank Hennigan put the lads through an hour of snappy blocking and chasing passes and a couple of double time trips around the field. Faced with the task of developing a coordinated team out of a few seasoned players and a crowd of former reserves, Hennigan has decided on a training program that calls for lots of work. From the thirty four that reported for first practice he hopes to build a team that will give a good account of itself.

Meanwhile, Father John Walbe, business manager of the team, is busy looking for a few more games to fill out the boy's season. Five tilts are scheduled now and four or five more are wanted.

The first, a night game at Valley View on Sept. 25, is due to be a tough test. Playing at home and remembering Muenster's win last year, the Eagles will definitely be out to win.

Other games scheduled are with St. Xavier's Academy of Denison here on Sept. 28, Marietta there on Oct. 10, Lanier H. of Fort Worth here on Oct. 19, and a return game with Valley View here on Nov. 19.

Another of Father John's problems is to grow a suitable sod on the football field. Weeks ago it was plowed in preparation for sodding but, because of dry weather it remains just a plowed field.

Despite a general shortage of veterans the backfield situation seems to be fairly well under control. Ted Gremminger, last year's kicker and passer, and line busting Ernest Sicking are both back on the job along with Monte Hellman who saw lots of action last year, and Wilbert Vogel who played a bang up season at end.

In the line only Julian Walterscheid, Leonard Walterscheid and Reynold Reiter rate as former regulars. However, reserves like Rupert Hoenig, Glen Hellman, Henry Pels, Junior Hammer, Michael Luke, Stanley Wylie and Harold Reeves, have all developed weight and stamina. Some of them at least are due to have a big season.

Movies Become Part of Instruction Program in GI Agriculture Course

Just like in the army, members of the Muenster vocational agriculture class will be seeing movies as a part of their training schedule.

Instructor Hugh Barnhart disclosed this week that approximately $700 worth of visual aid equipment, including a movie projector, a lantern slide and an opaque projector, has been made available to the class. The equipment will be used in connection with regular instruction when related films or slides can be secured.

It's first use will be Thursday night on the subject of hybrid seed corn production.

At Monday's meeting, when the group resumed work after 2 weeks' vacation, County Home Demonstration Agent Mildred Chapman discussed foods and nutrition. Wives of the members and several other visitors attended.

Bill Fuhrmann left Sunday to enter St. John's Seminary in San Antonio. He was accompanied to that city by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H.J. Fuhrmann and his sister, Miss Elsie Fuhrmann, who returned home Tuesday night.

Touch-up And Connection Of New City Water Tank Delayed By Hot Weather

A report at the city council meeting Monday night officially advised that the city's new water tank is in place and awaiting connections as soon as cooler weather permits preliminary work inside the tank. With a capacity of 105,000 gallons the tank will double the city's present storage and is expected to keep the city amply supplied in any but a serious emergency.

Before connections are made, Mayor Weinzappel stated, all scale and dirt will be removed from the inside by a sand blast and the entire tank, inside and outside will be painted with white lead.

Moving the tank from the refinery to its present location resulted in a sizeable job. Mounted on house moving trucks it was pulled underneath the overpass, then north just beyond the west residential limits and east to its present site. The roundabout route was chosen to avoid tearing down power and telephone lines crossing Main. To get under the overpass bulldozers had to dig a four foot trench to lower the 22 feet high to clear level. Steve Fette's trucking company handled the job.

News Of Sick And Injured

John Wimmer is still confined to his home on account of illness. For the past several weeks he has been spending most of the time in bed.

Frank Schilling was in Sherman Thursday for a check-up on his right eye which was operated on at St. Vincent's hospital recently when he had a growth removed from the eyeball. It is healing normally.

Kyle Waggoner who spent three days of last week in Gainesville Sanitarium as a patient for treatment and observation was released Saturday and is improving nicely. He expects to be back at his duties at Ben Seyler Motor company next Monday. This week he is taking it easy at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J.O. Waggoner.

George Jetzberger sustained a broken middle right finger in an oil field accident Saturday.

Paul Hacker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Hacker, underwent an operation for acute appendicitis Saturday night in Gainesville Sanitarium and is recovering normally.

Since Sunday Mrs. Herbert McDaniel is at Glen Rose taking treatments for her eyes.

K-C'S HEAR MISSIONARY DESCRIBE BLEAK LIVING CONDITIONS IN CHINA

Just settled in this country after spending 17 years as a missionary in Mongolia, Father Joseph Goedertier of Gainesville entertained Muenster Knights of Columbus Wednesday night with an interesting discussion on conditions in China. A land of hard ship and poverty, the country presents even more problems for a man of his calling.

The first task is to learn the extremely difficult Chinese language which consists of several thousand monosyllables with a variety of inflections for each. The second is to become sufficiently familiar with the rites and beliefs of traditional religions to discuss them intelligently with prospective converts.

During the war Father Joseph was a prisoner of the Japanese, however his most harrowing experiences were with Chinese communist bandits and their monotonously frequent plundering raids. To guard against them, he said cities have to build protective walls and maintain their own armed forces. Christians get especially harsh treatment from the red bandits. Anyone known or suspected to be a Christian is shot down in cold blood.

A native of Belgium, Father Joseph is currently assistant pastor at Saint Mary's church, Gainesville, and pastor of the recently organized Catholic Colored parish. When his health permits he will return to Mongolia to continue his missionary work.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Tischler and their daughter, Mrs. Al Yeaten and children visited in Dallas last Wednesday and were accompanied home by their daughter & sister, Mrs. Sue Britt, who remained here to spend the weekend with her parents.

518 Children Enroll On Opening Day at Muenster Schools

Five hundred and eighteen students answered registration call at the two Muenster schools Monday morning.

Enrollment at the Sacred Heart parochial school is the largest in its history with 338 in the grades and 102 in the high school for a total of 440. Last year's figures listed 322 in the grades and 89 in high.

The opening day figure shows a decrease in the enrollment at the public school, 78 as compared with 95 on opening day last year. 61 are in the grades and 17 in high school. This decrease is occasioned by the fact that a number of upper grade students transferred to Gainesville schools. Superintendent John Hoffman said. However, enrollment will be boosted shortly when several who have not yet registered begin the school term. About a dozen more are expected.

The parochial school has a teacher for each of the eight elementary grades, three teachers in the high school, a librarian who is also the study hall supervisor, and a music teacher.

Six teachers are on the faculty at the public school. One teaches the primary grades, one the intermediate grades and one the upper grades in the elementary department and three teach the high school subjects.

Notes On Soil Conservation

"I phosphated and prepared a bed for 200 acres of vetch and rye this week. When it rains, I am ready to sow my vetch and rye without unnecessary loss of Fall growth. My best results with vetch for winter pasture, cover crop, and seed production, has been by early planting, inoculation, and application of phosphate", states V.W. Redman, Supervisor, Upper Elm-Red Conservation District, whose farm is located in the Katy Conservation Group, one mile north of Saint Jo. "In preparing a seed bed for vetch this fall, the ground where vetch was planted last year plowed faster than it ever has in spite of dry weather. The ground did not break in big clods as usual but made an even seed bed," Redman added. He is one of the biggest vetch growers in the district and averaged 300 pounds of vetch seed yield per acre this summer.

Twenty-one district co-operators in the Muenster Work Unit have already ordered and purchased hairy vetch, Abruzzi Rye, and phosphate. Many already have phosphate applied and seed bed prepared to enable earlier sowing after rain.

A Group Planning Meeting was held at Thomas Sicking's home last Thursday. Twelve persons attended the meeting and applications for planning were received on the John Schmitz, H.V. Milligan, Tom, Gus and Ed Sicking farms. Monday night, Tony Trubebach called a Group Planning Meeting that was held at his home. Mr. Trubebach, Alois Trubebach, Martin Trubebach, Henry Fette, Joe Fette, Frank Hacker, Joe Bergman, and Herman Hartman attended the meeting. R.S. Mitchell, Work Unit Conservationist, discussed the Soil Conservation District and the organization of a conservation group. Six applications covering 1200 acres were made to the Upper Elm-Red Soil Conservation District.

Paul Luke left Friday for Muskogee, Okla., where he will study and work with his uncle, Henry Pagel, for the Katy.

Joe Fisher has returned from a month's tour of the east coast states and Canada. He enjoyed visits with relatives and friends and sight-seeing.

Death Friday, September 5, claimed Henry Trachta, 66, a pioneer resident of this community and well known retired farmer and cafe owner. He passed away in Saint Vincent's hospital, Sherman, where he had undergone major surgery on August 28, and from which he was reported to be recovering normally. Complications set in Friday morning and he suffered a heart attack which took his life at 6 p.m. The community was shocked at the news of his death, since reports only the day before indicated that he was making normal progress toward recovery and would be permitted to return home during the weekend.

Funeral services were held Monday morning at Sacred Heart church with Rev. Herman Laux officiating at the requiem high mass and at burial in the local cemetery. Serving as pallbearers were Roman Trachta, Charley Hellman, F.A. Kathman, Jerome and Maurice Pagel and Andrew Schoech. Mrs. Nick Miller was in charge of funeral arrangements.

Mr. Trachta was born in Saint Paul, Minn., on Feb. 20, 1881, and came to Muenster with his parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. Herman Trachta, when he was 9 years old. He attended school here and when his father died four years later assisted his mother in farming. She moved to town a few years later and he and his brother, J.C. Trachta, continued working the family farm for several years. He later went to Minnesota where he farmed for a short time, then returned to Texas to farm in Nazareth. He returned to Muenster to engage in the cafe business and continued in this activity for 24 years retiring about 6 years ago.

He married Ida Burkhardt Fette in 1914. She passed away in 1944. Mr. Trachta sold his city home to his son, Richard Trachta, about a year ago and had supervised construction of a new home for himself. It was completed a few days before he went to the hospital and his intention had been to move into it the weekend that he became ill.

Survivors are two sons, Richard and David Trachta of Muenster; a step-son, Capt. Christopher Fette of Langley Field, Va., and one grandson, one brother, J.C. Trachta, Muenster, and six sisters, Mesdames Jacob Pagel, I. A. Schoech and John Walter, Muenster; Tom Donohoe, Springfield, Mo., and John Fisch, Okmulgee, Okla.

Out of town relatives at the funeral included Mr. and Mrs. Roman Trachta and son of Fort Worth, Capt. and Mrs. Christopher Fette of Virginia; Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Cier of Valley View and Mr. and Mrs. Orris Russell of Gainesville.

OWENS ADDS GROCERY DEPARTMENT TO CAFE; WILL OPEN SATURDAY

Saturday morning the Owens Grocery and Market, this city's newest business venture, will officially welcome its first customer. It will share space with the Hotel Coffee Shop in the Wolf Hotel building with Smyrel Owens as owner and manager.

The opening follows a two weeks' shut down for painting, rearranging, building shelves, installing counters and fixtures, and stocking merchandise. To make room for the grocery department, cafe tables were removed and the counter previously extending to the front was moved to the back. Mrs. Smyrel Owens continues to manage the coffee shop.

GAME WARDEN MAY GET YOU IF YOU'RE A ROADSIDE HUNTER

J. W. Hudson, game warden for this area, Monday warned hunters against the practice of shooting at birds from automobiles or from automobile fenders, which is a violation of the game laws.

He also pointed out that the hunting period is from 30 minutes before sunrise to sunset.

The report is that highway cops have strict instructions to crack down on violators of the uniform traffic code, and more cops will be added as soon as possible to enforce a more general observance. In plain words that means that dumb driving will begin costing money.

Probably the most attractive feature about the new regulations is that they require us to do just what common sense prompted us to do all along. People who violate those standards used to be only discourteous. From now on they are illegal.

Major offenses such as recklessness and drunken driving still rate the heavy penalties, of course, but from now on people will not be excused from some of the minor offenses which come under the general heading of sloppy driving habits. Some of those are failure to dim lights or to give hand signals or to turn right or left from the proper lane of the road. All are common sense rules, but it's surprising how many were violated because people just did not stop to think them out. Now that violation constitutes a double hazard — the possibility of crashing and of being pinched — perhaps more people will stop to think.

In normal every day driving a person can be fairly sure to avoid both kinds of trouble by following these few simple rules.

Always use the low beam when meeting a car at night. It gives both drivers a better chance — by reducing glare and defining road limits more clearly.

Use signals a hundred feet before making stops or turns — the left hand up for a right turn, straight out for a left turn and down for a stop.

And don't pass on hills, curves or any place where sufficient clear distance is not visible ahead.

Farmers, here's a new theory on those big jumbo grasshoppers. In one South Texas county recently — and maybe still — swarming with the things, the county agent has just issued a report indicating that perhaps the jumbo hoppers are really the farmer's friend.

The man went on to explain that the jumbos don't seem to be eating anything but poisonous bitterweeds. The swarms are confined to areas infested with bitterweed and, though they aren't killing the plants they are preventing a crop of bitterweed seed.

One of the most welcome bits of news in recent weeks is that concerning the chummy visit paid by Rev. Frank Norris and three other prominent Baptist ministers to Pope Pius. The comments they have made since then have already done much toward offsetting the ill advised report brought back from Yugoslavia a few weeks earlier by another group of Protestant ministers.

Rev. Norris and his colleagues consider the pope as the most powerful anti-communist influence in the world today and advise Protestants of all denominations to cooperate with him in the struggle against godlessness and inhumanity.

The really important point is that they recognize the seriousness of the menace to Christian civilization and recommend positive defense action. Their attitude stands out in sharp contrast with the attitude of the other ministers who came back not with a real report but a propaganda sheet issued by Tito himself.

To say the least, this is a gratifying incident. It is a small beginning of what can possibly develop into an alliance of all Christian religions.

Too long the various denominations have wasted their energy in futile bickering with one another when they should have been pulling together for the common good of all. The real truth is that many have fallen for a favorite communist trick, working themselves into a frenzy over issues that are magnified by the reds themselves to spread hostility among the creeds.

Divide and conquer is one of the principal red campaign methods. Their purpose is to divide Christians of various denominations and get them to sniping at one another while the forces of godlessness maneuver to wipe them both out of existence.

Anyone who gives the subject a little thought must realize that (Continued on page 10)

MÜNSTER TO BENEFIT FROM GAS COMPANY'S EXPANSION PROGRAM

An optimistic outlook for the growth and development of Lone Star Gas Company's territory was voiced last Saturday by President D.A. Hulcy of Dallas in announcing a five-year, $40,000,000 program of extensions and additions to physical properties on the company's system. This amount has been allocated for construction and equipment to support national gas service over a system comprising 325 towns and cities in Texas and Oklahoma, one of which is Muenster.

Among reasons for these huge expenditures, Mr. Hulcy explained, are construction of new distribution plants, extensions to established distribution systems, purchasing of new equipment, building of transmission lines to bring new sources of gas supply, construction of compressor stations and expansion of other facilities to meet demands for service in a rapidly growing territory.

"Lone Star Gas Company operates in a territory that is showing a remarkable growth," he said, "and our company is

Temporary Silos Save Heat Damaged Crops

Corn and sorghum crops beginning to suffer from hot, dry weather may be put up in temporary silos to insure adequate dairy herd roughage this fall and winter. Shown here is a demonstration silo filled on the farm of Oscar Adams, near Commerce, Texas.

Farmers facing the prospects of scarce, high-priced corn and other feeds next winter because of this summer's prolonged heat wave and late planting dates in the Corn Belt this spring, are saving row crops by building and filling temporary silos.

In many areas in Texas, Oklahoma, Missouri, Arkansas and Kansas, crops that are fired by heat and drought are going into the low-cost, easy-to-build temporary silos. Principal materials used are slat fencing or welded wire fencing and special reinforced lining paper, Sisalkraft.

Typical of the work being done is on the farm of Oscar Adams, a Grade A milk producer of near Commerce, Texas. This demonstration of temporary silos was arranged by T. R. Holder, fieldman for the Kraft Foods Company's Sulphur Springs, Texas, plant.

In other demonstrations in the Southwest, such crops as corn that is beginning to fire, sorghums including Sudan grass, and Johnson grass are going into the temporary silos. One farmer even used surplus potatoes obtained through the Commodity Credit Corporation to make silage for his dairy herd. County agricultural extension agents can advise on correct methods of making temporary silos and filling them. Dairy specialists are urging that quick action on storing forage be taken to help relieve probable feed shortages this winter.

supporting that growth by going ahead with a long-range program of expanding and improving facilities to meet increasing needs of natural gas service by domestic, industrial, and commercial users. Even without such growth it is necessary for a gas utility to constantly reinforce its facilities to meet the fuel requirements of established customers under normal conditions."

Oil Provides 23 Per Cent Of Texas Income And Pays 53 Per Cent Of State Tax

Dallas, Tex., — One out of every eight Texans gets his living out of the petroleum industry which provides $1½ billion, or 23 per cent, of the state's income, a survey by the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association revealed.

The industry's 46-page annual report, "Texas Oil and Gas, 1947," a source book of official figures on the petroleum activity of the state, emphasizes the scope of oil and gas production, refining, and marketing and its effect on the economy of Texas.

Sitting atop 11-½ billion barrels of crude oil in underground formations (55.8% of the nation's known reserves), Texas in 1946 produced more than three quarters of a billion barrels which was more than the combined output from four leading foreign producing countries — Venezuela, Russia, Iran and Saudi Arabia.

The oil and gas industry spent $1,524,104,000 in Texas in 1946 the Association report showed. Out of each dollar spent 31.5¢ went for wages and salaries, 16.3¢ for leases and royalties, which added together meant that Texas workers, farmers, ranchers and other landowners received nearly half of each part of each dollar spent. Most of the other part of each dollar spent remained in the state for taxes, and as a payment for drilling, prospecting, supplies, and miscellaneous costs, such as interest to Texas banks.

"Furnishing 23 per cent of the total Texas income, petroleum might properly be expected to pay an equal share of governmental income. Actually, this one industry now pays 53 per cent of all state property and business taxes, while all other Texas industries and taxpayers combined pay only 47 per cent," the publication stated.

State and local tax records summarized in the publication showed that 10.2¢ in taxes were paid on each barrel of oil produced, exclusive of any federal levies. Gasoline sales taxes, which the industry collects for the state, are not included in this tabulation.

A FREE RIDE?

By Maurice R. Franks

(Editor's Note: Maurice R. Franks is National Business Agent of the Railroad Yardmasters of North America, Inc., and Editor of that Union's official publication, the Railroad Workers Journal.)

The question of the Closed Shop has been argued pro and con for many years, and not without good reason have its professional advocates gone all out in its favor, considering how it elevates the labor leader to a position of supreme power over the workers. Under the Closed Shop they must obey his autocratic commands, or starve to death.

One of the chief arguments advanced by the promoters of the un-American system is that "workers cannot be half-free and half-slave." Well, I, for one, would rather see workers half-free than all-slave, which latter is exactly what a worker is under the system of the Closed Shop.

Another argument put forth is that "when all workers are compelled to join a union, it is much easier to negotiate good working conditions; since only then is collective bargaining in a position to function with full effectiveness." This claim is just so much hog-wash, unless all the members within a union voluntarily have accepted the doctrine of unionism on its merits rather than by coercion and intimidation.

The argument most often advanced in favor of the Closed Shop is that "a worker not desiring to belong to a union is an ingrate because, in such position, he does not contribute to the maintenance of the union and is nothing more than a free rider." Now, let's examine this free rider for a moment. How can any person be dubbed a free rider if he is riding on a vehicle going in a direction opposite to that of the one he wishes to travel?

For instance, take the case of the bricklayer working under the system of the Closed Shop. He may be able and willing to lay 1-200 bricks per day, for which he deserves full compensation. But under the Closed Shop a workman of his capability and energy is compelled to slow down to the level of the bricklayer unable to lay more than 600 bricks. The net result is that a good workman's earning power is set by that of his inferior.

Is this taking a free ride? Indeed, it is no such thing. As a matter of fact, the capable worker is being "taken for a ride," because he is not permitted to exercise his superior skill on his own behalf. His incentive is cut off at the root and, thus deprived, he no longer has the desire to render a full day's pay.

Workers, don't be fooled by the lamentations of certain labor leaders over the passage of the Taft-Hartley Bill. That legislation hits no one but the labor leader who has lorded it over his members, the employer, Uncle Sam and the general public.

The Eleventh Commandment

"Thou shalt inherit the Holy Earth as a faithful Steward. Conserving its Resources and Productivity from Generation to Generation. Thou shalt safeguard the fields from soil erosion, thy living Waters from drying up, thy Forest from Desolation. And protect thy Hills from overgrazing by the Herds. So that thy Descendants may have abundance forever. If thou shalt fail in this Stewardship of the land, His fruitful Fields shall become sterile, stony Ground And wasting Gullies, and his Descendants shall decrease And live in Poverty or perish from the Face of the Earth."

"Doc," said the old mountaineer, leading a gangling youth into the presence of the village medico, "I want you should fix up my son-in-law. I shot him in the leg yesterday and lamed him up a mite."

"Tut, tut," clucked the doctor disapprovingly. "Shame on you for shooting your own son-in-law."

"Wal, doc," replied the mountaineer, "he warn't my son-in-law when I shot him!"

CARD OF THANKS

The Sisters take this opportunity to thank the people of Muenster, individually and collectively, for the generous shower which supplied locker, pantry, and frigidaire with commodities.

The delicious meal, and especially, the enthusiastic and pleasant visits with the Mothers and friends of the school are proofs of cooperation which Sisters are getting from parents. These get-togethers will insure justice and understanding on both sides, and put Sacred Heart School on a higher plane of educational efficiency.

Recompense for these gestures of appreciation to the Sisters will be returned in the way that religious do return gifts: namely, by earnest and frequent prayer for the blessing of God on all the people. May the Giver of all good gifts be your reward exceeding great.

Signed: Sister M. Anastasia, Superior, and Olivetan Benedictine Sisters

SYNTHETIC YARN

Chemical research in the field of synthetics has resulted in a new vinyl yarn that shows promise in an unlimited number of textile applications. It will soon be available in semi-commercial quantities.

The yarn won't shrink in boiling water, and can be readily dyed dark and brilliant shades. It also has high strength and good resistance to chemical attack, is water resistant and completely unaffected by bacteria or insects. It is basically different from other vinyl materials.

Unlike the majority of synthetics, fabrics based on the new yarn have a "hand" very much like silk and feel warm to the touch. These characteristics, it is believed, will prove advantageous in bathing suits, foundation garments, rainwear and dress goods.

SOUND RELIGION

Several years ago in my column an attempt was made to give a definition of sound, ethical religion, to which adherents of all religious faiths could subscribe. From the letters received from people of many different religions, located in all parts of the country, it was evident that I had at long last penned something so un-

'ABSTRACT'—IS RIGHT!

By MACKENZIE

controversial that no one could quarrel with it.

The responses served further to prove that while religions may differ as to dogmas and tenets, fundamentally they are very much alike in that they all point to the safe goal. It also proved that the petty bickerings between those of different religions are unnecessary and futile.

The definition, with which not one single person of any religious faith quarreled, went as follows: "Sound, ethical religion is any code of principles and rules of conduct based on man's recognition of God as the Supreme Being, the Author of Life and Creator of all things — of a God to whom we are accountable for the constructive use or destructive abuse we make of our lives — of a God with whom we finally hope to be united in Eternity as a reward for proper use of our lives — of a God from whom we may be forever separated as punishment for failure to exploit our opportunities."

Men and women of all religious faiths should stoutly resist every attempt of the left-wingers to make America a collectivist state. For with collectivism inevitably comes dictatorship and when the dictator comes through the door religion flies out the window. Some claim this process is reversed, that when religion flies out the window the dictator comes through the roof. This is reminiscent of the old wheeze, "Which came first the chicken or the egg?"

At any rate, whether religion leaves first, thus opening the door for the dictator, or whether the dictator ousts religion, we do know that communism and religion cannot breathe in the same atmosphere. Dictators cannot afford to brook any interference; their subjects must have no other gods before the dictators themselves. There can be no free religion, no free press, no free radio, which might deign to criticize; there can be no freedom of discussion, of thought, of action, of opportunity, nor can there be any freedom of enterprise.

At first blush it may seem to border on the irreverent, to inject the thought that there is a definite affinity between religion and free enterprise. But there is, else why are both automatically banished when dictators come to power? The reason for that is simple, dictators cannot survive if they permit either to exist.

As a matter of fact, Jesus Christ, Himself, repeatedly was an ardent advocate of freedom of enterprise. His parable of the talents in an eloquent testimonial to that effect. He who put his talents to work so that they would increase and multiply, Christ commended; he who did not do so, He admonished.

We can be mighty thankful that America's churches of all creeds are still open, free and untrammelled, where Americans are at liberty to worship when they please and how they please. Let's please to use them regularly again. Because if there is one outstanding lesson to have been learned from the tragic events of the past few years, it is that dictators cannot work their black magic in a nation, the citizens of which are God-loving and God-respecting.

CHILDREN UNDER 15 NEED COURT PERMIT TO WORK AFTER SEPT. 1

Texas law requires all children under 15 years of age to hold a court permit in order to work after September 1. Child Labor Supervisor Polly Harvey reminds employers and parents.

In addition to the court order which is issued by the county judge the minor must have a signed affidavit proving that his earnings are necessary for the support of himself or his mother who is widowed, or in needy circumstances; an invalid father or other children younger than himself for whom the permit is sought.

Anyone under 15 years of age desiring employment after Sept. 1, must make application for the court order and must personally appear with a parent or guardian, the law states.

No child under 15 shall be permitted to work between the hours of 10 p.m. and 5 a.m., nor more than 8 hours a day, or 48 hours a week.

Violation of these provisions by the employer carries a penalty of not less than $25 nor more than $200, or imprisonment in jail for not more than 60 days.

Personal needs may require some boys and girls to work during the coming year and some work experience may have significant educational value for some young people. School, however, provides the greatest opportunity for development, and school should be placed first, the child supervisor said.

Work permits are not authorized for children under 12 or who have not completed the fifth grade.

ONE-SHIRT PROFIT

What do you think you could buy with the profit on a ton of steel? A new automobile? A shirt? A radio?

The answer is — "a shirt if it costs less than $4."

From 1939 through 1946, the average profit of the steel industry was 4.4 cents on the sales dollar. Average profit per ton of steel shipped during the four war years in that period was less than $4 per ton.

STATE'S DIPHTHERIA CONTROL BETTER, BUT NOT SATISFACTORY

Austin — Education of the public to the value of diphtheria immunization has resulted in lowering the incidence of this dread disease, but Texas still had over 1500 cases of this preventable disease last year according to records in the Texas State Department of Health.

"It is a generally accepted fact among public health authorities," Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, said, "that any community may control its death rate from diphtheria. Immunization has been proved a safe and effective preventive measure. Wherever immunizing treatment has been extensively used, diphtheria has steadily decreased."

"The most forceful weapon in the control of diphtheria is prevention through immunization, rather than cure of the disease after it has developed. Children can be protected against diphtheria by the use of what is known as toxoid. Young children are particularly susceptible to the disease. Accordingly, as soon as a baby is six months old, the parents are advised to take it to the family physician and have it immunized — protected, by the use of toxoid. Older children in the family who have not had the protective treatment, should be attended to now before the school season begins. This immunizing agent is absolutely safe to administer; there is only a slight local reaction, and practically no constitutional or troublesome after effects. It confers a life time immunity in the majority of cases. To be certain that immunization is complete, however, the child should be taken back to the physician six months after the toxoid was administered, and given the Schick Test.

Remember that your wife still enjoys candy and flowers. Let her know that you remember—speak of them occasionally.

Don Herold Says:

If we paid our taxes in time instead of money, we'd howl more. But the fact is, we do pay them in time.

There is not one of us who isn't "doing time" for from one to five days a week to pay taxes.

If you pay 20% of your income in taxes, and you are a five-day worker you're sweating one day a week for taxes. On top of that you are working some more of the time to pay cigarette, amusement, and dozens of other taxes.

Also, part of the price of every thing you buy and of the rent you pay is to help the other fellow pay his taxes.

If we actually had to quit our job and had to go to a work-house several days a week to "work out" our taxes, we'd give a lot more thought to the people we elect to office and to the way they waste our "time."

Big engines... long trains mean lower cost to you!

But union leaders want "half-trains"—double crews!

Big locomotives are built to do a big job in the big country which is America—a big job in peacetime as in wartime. They are built to pull long trains.

Long freight trains can handle more goods at less cost—to you—than short trains.

Long trains mean fewer trains—fewer chances for accidents—fewer interruptions to traffic.

But a few railroad union leaders oppose long trains—among their current 44 demands for changes in rules is one limiting the length of freight trains to 57 average cars. Why do they demand this?

For "safety," they say. But is it? Government figures show definitely that long trains mean greater safety to railroad employes and public alike.

Then, if safety is not the real reason—what is the reason behind this demand? It is to make more jobs which are not needed—to get more pay! This "made work" would be sheer waste. Think of big, modern locomotives using only half their power.

For this waste, you—the public—would have to pay. Higher costs mean a lower standard of living for everybody. Nobody wants that!

Here's the record...

In the quarter century... 1921-1946...

Average length of freight trains has gone up.....	39%
Average speed of freight trains has gone up..	39%
The rate of injuries to railroad employes has gone down.....	60%
Average wages paid railroad workers have gone up.....	84%
Price of railroad materials and supplies has gone up.....	58%
Railroad taxes have gone up.....	76%
But the average charge by railroads for hauling a ton of freight one mile has gone down.....	23%

EVELYN WIESMAN AND GALVESTON MAN WED AT SUBIACO, AUG. 30

The marriage of Miss Evelyn Ann Wiesman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wiesman of this city, and Raymond Arthur Stewart, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond A. Stewart of Galveston, was solemnized Saturday morning, August 30, in the abbey chapel of St. Benedict's monastery, Subiaco, Ark.

Rev. Benedict Boergerding, great-uncle of the bride, officiated at the double ring ceremony and as celebrant of the nuptial high mass. The Fraters' choir sang.

The bride wore a blue crepe dress with a silver tiara and blue shoulder length veil. Her flowers were an arm bouquet of tuberose and for something old and borrowed she carried a blue lace handkerchief belonging to her maternal grandmother, Mrs. Frances Binz.

Mrs. Leonard Yosten, sister of the bride, was matron of honor wearing a gray crepe dress, a silver tiara with a black shoulder-length veil and corsage of tuberoses. Leonard Yosten was best man.

Breakfast was served to the bridal party and immediate members of the two families in the monastery.

On Wednesday evening, Sept. 3, the home of the bride's parents here was the scene of an informal reception honoring the couple and dinner was served to some 25 relatives. The bride's table, laid with lace, was beautifully appointed and held a decorated wedding cake which was cut by the newlyweds. The home was decorated with summer flowers.

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart left Saturday to make their home in Houston where he is attending the University of Houston. For traveling the bride wore a beige-gray two-piece suit with black accessories.

The bride is a graduate of Sacred Heart High school, Muenster, attended St. Joseph's School of Nursing in Fort Worth, and graduated from Sealy School of Nursing in Galveston.

Mr. Stewart is a graduate of Kirwin High School in Galveston and attended A & M College before serving with the Army Air forces as a fighter pilot in Europe.

Guests at the wedding in Subiaco were Mrs. Frances Binz, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Yosten, Mr. and Mrs. Alois Wiesman, Miss Mildred Wiesman and Henry Yosten, all of this city, and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond A. Stewart and daughter, Lynn, of Galveston.

FISHERMAN'S SYSTEM CATCHES EGG THIEF

Winnsboro. — Disappearance of from one to two dozen eggs a day from hen nests in the H.W. Tinney barn just off the highway in the Webster community resulted in the greatest catch in the fishing history of Wood County.

When it was proven that dogs were not sucking the eggs, Mrs. Earl Dodson, a neighbor of the Tinneys, said she thought she could put a stop to the egg thefts. Mrs. Dodson is renowned to her neighborhood as a fisherwoman.

She applied tactics she used to pull catfish up out of Sandy Creek and Sabine River to catch the varmint that was stealing the eggs. One night recently she sunk a good strong fish hook in a hard boiled egg, put the egg in an otherwise empty nest and fastened the fishing line securely to a rafter.

The next morning they found a six-foot chicken snake at the end of the line. Similar bait and fishing tackle was set the following night. The catch the next morning was a five-foot chicken snake, thinner than the first one, caught.

Nearly 300 Reasons Why Fido Leads A Dog's Life

Chicago — Fido, it appears, has lots of reason for scratching.

The Journal of the American Veterinary Medical Association says there are nearly 300 different kinds of fleas.

The "flea census" listed 230 types in the western section of the country and 55 in the eastern states. Cats, chickens, livestock and even humans are subject to the miseries brought by the insects, the Journal says.

Majority Wins

Some years ago, Mrs. Sidney Webb was present at a dinner party when the young man seated next to her said: "All this talk about feminism is utter rot. There isn't a woman alive who wouldn't rather be beautiful than clever."

"Quite true," Mrs. Webb agreed, "but the reason for that, you see, is that so many men are stupid and so few are blind."

The following notice was in the columns of a country weekly: "Anyone found near my chicken house at night will be found there in the morning."

It's Your Turn, Kids, See That Dad And Mom Drink All of Their Milk

College Station. — A pint of milk a day is a must if older people are to keep health and active say foods specialists of Texas A. and M. College Extension Service. Men and women in their fifties, sixties, and seventies often overlook milk in their diets, a neglect that deprives bones of necessary minerals.

To help furnish enough calcium, protein and phosphorus for the proper upkeep of their bodies a daily pint of milk is the minimum, say the specialists. A condition of demineralization of the skeleton may come from too little calcium in the diet and often leads to broken bones in later years. Some investigators have suggested that many a fall, which supposedly results in a bone break, is actually due to weakened bones which break and cause the person to fall.

Relatively little is known of the nutritional needs of the older age group, the specialists report, and state experiment stations are making studies aimed at correct dietary recommendations. Recent studies do show that older people have not lost their ability to store calcium and other minerals and that their diets should include milk.

INVENTOR CLAIMS HIS MECHANICAL NO-CLERK STORE IS FOOL PROOF

Memphis, Tenn. — Sam Esgro, Memphis inventor, has come up with the latest in sales ideas — the mechanical grocery store.

Another Memphis inventor, Clarence Saunders, developed the "keedoozle" — an electricallyoperated grocery store. Before that, someone invented the nickel-in-the-slot automat.

Now Esgro has topped them all with his patented plan to eliminate clerks, checkers and cash registers at the grocer's.

Esgro, a slight, graying Italian, spent several years developing his idea. He tried and discarded various electrical and mechanical models before experimenting successfully with the present device which he said will "revolutionize" the food store business.

The key to the plan is a handsized "register," which is in effect, a miniature adding machine. The customer picks it up at the door and carries it around with him.
Food in cans and packages lines the store shelves, with prices set in a mechanical attachment.
When he buys an article, the customer inserts his register into the attachment. That releases a single article and automatically records the price on the register.

As each purchase is made, the price is added and the total listed immediately. When the shopping tour is completed, the cashier fits the hand-sized machine into a master register. There it is recorded on a master list and the customer pays his bill.

Esgro, who formerly operated grocery stores in Clarksdale, Byhalla and Greenwood, Miss., got to work on the new device after he lost his business and fortune through illness.

The pilot model has worked successfully, he said, and he is now set to go into production. He said he was negotiating with a large engineering concern for the manufacture of the device.

The inventor said his brainchild should make it possible for grocers and other storekeepers to operate on a 5 percent profit margin and still make more money than on present price mark-ups.

Esgro said he based his estimates on the facts that increased speed and the elimination of checking and sacking would result in added sales volume.

The device, he said, is foolproof. The customer won't be overcharged and the store owner won't be defrauded. In addition, the shelf attachment will show at a glance a permanent inventory of sales and stock on hand, while the master register gives an instant record of sales in any given day, month or year.

Texas has 25,734 Miles Of Paved Road; More Than 300% Increase Since '29

Austin, — Reviewing the activities of the Texas Highway Department now entering its 30th year as the state's road building agency, Commission Chairman John S. Redditt reported paved mileage on the state system had more than quadrupled since it was first accurately measured in 1929.

The endless struggle to build new roads as fast as traffic demand increased has shoved the 1929 paved mileage of 6,061 up to 25,734 miles on July 1, with more being added every day.

"This still isn't enough," Redditt declared. "The blight of congestion and hazards to safety on many sections of these paved roads render them inadequate to handle the heavy traffic using them."

He expressed confidence that the Commission's recent expanded policy building farm-to-market roads on a cooperative basis with counties, together with the current federal aid program, would result in substantial improvements to the state's farm transportation problem.

The total investment in the state road network stood at $934,197,- $11.55 on July 1, Redditt announced. This includes all expenditures made under the supervision of the Texas Highway Department since it was created thirty years ago.

"It has been a good investment," he said. "I doubt if any other similar expenditure of public funds has done so much good for as many people."

A Contingent Fee

A New Yorker asked Wm. M.
Evants what he would charge for managing a certain law case.

"Well," said Mr. Evants, "I will take your case on a contingent fee."

"And what is a contingent fee?"

"My dear sir," said Mr. Evants, mellifluously, "I will tell you what a contingent fee to a lawyer means.
If I don't win your suit I get nothing. If I do win it you get nothing.
See?"

That's one way, Bub,

— But the SURE WAY to make your grade is to keep up with your work.

VETO LOVER

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y.—(Sound-photo). Soviet Delegate Andrei Gromyko indicates his 11th use of the veto as he turns down the American plan for a United Nations border commission in Greece aimed at curbing repeated Balkan "threats to peace and security." His action, a common occurrence at meetings here, signifies Russia's great power of veto, which killed the plan.

A passenger aboard a steamboat asked the captain why they had stopped in midstream.

"The fog is so thick that we can't see to proceed, up river," the captain replied.

"But, captain," the passenger persisted, looking skyward, "I can see stars."

"Yes, madam," he replied patiently, "but unless the boilers bust, that ain't the way we're goin'."

CARD OF THANKS

DODGE Job Rated TRUCKS

Contest Winner "Brands" His Prize

A pioneer of the auto industry, hunted throughout the nation in a contest to discover the oldest Chevrolet truck in America, turned up, appropriately, in the possession of a Montana homesteader. The venerable vehicle, vintage of 1918, was still serving Rancher Leslie A. Storey, of Jordan, Mont., whose ranch lies 18 miles from a typical "last frontier" town. The award for owning the oldest licensed and operating truck was a new Chevrolet "advance-design" model, which Storey "brands" here with his distinctive Circle-Heart brand. It was presented to him by J. W. Burke, manager of Chevrolet's truck department, as Mrs. Storey and Montana cowgirl Merle Spears (right) look on. Nearly 7,000 old-time Chevrolet trucks were entered in the contest won by this vehicle, which was one of 384 built by the division in 1918, its first year of truck production.

Labor Costs Popularizing "Fix-It-Yourself" System

Speaking of the high cost of home-living, who and what are responsible, and what who is doing about it —

An eastern Newspaper, surveying conditions, reports that:

Outside Philadelphia, the owner of a summer cottage hired a bricklayer to help erect a five-foot chimney. The owner supplied materials; job finished in two days. The bricklayer's bill — $97.

In Portland, Ore., a house-wife paid $42.50 for a 1½-hour job — covering the draining board of sink with inlaid linoleum.

In Pittsburg, a house-owner paid $80 to have 16 pieces of slate put on his roof, which still leaks. In Detroit it cost $55 to get a front door painted.

In Los Angeles, a 25-minute plastering job cost $25, and stringing a wire from house to garage — 30 feet — cost $51.

In Washington, a government official decided to do his own digging when a ditch-digger arrived in a new high-priced car. Householders everywhere are adopting this fix-it-yourself tactic, as follows:

In Cleveland, an 85-year-old man bought $25 worth of paint and painted his own house when a contractor asked $375.

In Germantown, Pa., a woman redecorated her house — cost $39.50 — a contractor asked $190. The odd half dollar of expense was for liniment to treat a strain.

In Burlingame, Cal., an owner built a bathroom for $200 to escape an $800 charge. A lawyer built a barbecue pit for $1.25, saving $33.75; a garage man saved $27.66 by fixing a downspout for $2.40.

Proof Positive

"And you say that you are innocent of the charge of stealing a rooster from Mr. Jones?" asked an Arkansas judge of a meek-looking prisoner.

"Yes, sir, I am innocent — as innocent as a child."

"You are confident that you did not steal the rooster from Mr. Jones?"

"Yes, sir; and I can prove it."

"How can you prove it?"

"I can prove that I didn't steal Mr. Jones' rooster. Judge, because I stole two hens from Mr. Graston the same night, and Jones lives five miles from Graston."

"The proof is conclusive," said the judge. "Discharge the prisoner."

A Lisp Changes All

Here's a story about a reporter who saw on the police blotter that a farmer had lost 2,025 pigs. The size of the loss seemed very heavy for such a small farm so the reporter drove out to investigate.

"Is it true that you lost 2,025 pigs?" he asked.

"Yeth," lisped the farmer.

The wise reporter made a note on his copy paper: "Lost, 2 sows and 25 pigs."

The heat necessary to melt one gallon of ice would, if converted into pumping power, lift more than 200 gallons of water to a height of 100 feet.

Due to installation of new machinery at the Lindsay gin the bale was not ginned until Friday.

Confetti---

neither Catholic nor Protestant ideals are compatible with communism. Both pay allegiance to God whereas reds deny His existence. Both strive to preserve human rights whereas reds reduce individuals to mere slaves of the state. Catholics and Protestants are headed on separate ways in the same direction. They have no reason to quarrel with each other but they have every reason to join forces for defense against their common enemy.

There is more than passing significance in the fact that Rev. Frank Norris happens to be one of the ministers joining in the papal alliance against communism. We of the Southwest are well aware of his reputation as one of the bitterest critics of the pope and the Catholic church. He has sounded off on dozens of issues and has had many occasions to realize that his attacks were not justified by the facts. Like so many others he was tricked into wasting his talent and sincerity on a smoke screen. To realize that does things to a sincere man. He starts thinking, and in a case like this he has lots of opportunity to see that his ideals really aren't so different from those of the organization he was fighting. If Frank Norris will apply as much enthusiasm fighting communism as he used to apply fighting the pope he will prove himself a valuable man to the Southwest.
