Death Claims Mrs. Sylvester Streng Tuesday at Temple

Relatives were notified by telegram Tuesday that Mrs. Sylvester Streng, formerly of this city, passed away in Temple and that funeral services would be held on Thursday. The cause of her death was not given and the news was a shock to her relatives here who were not aware that she had been ill.

Mrs. Leo Moster and son, Joe, Mr. and Mrs. John P. Streng and attend the funeral. Lawrence Streng of Gainesville accompanied them.

Mrs. Streng is survived by her husband and one son, Walter. The family moved away from here about five years ago.

PARISH GROUPS GET SET FOR TRADITIONAL THANKSGIVING EVENT

Plans for the annual observance of Thanksgiving in Muenster were formulated Sunday afternoon when members of the parish societies gathered in the parish hall to discuss the principal features of entertainment and arrange for committees to take charge.

The program will begin with a community dinner at noon and will continue during the afternoon with various games. In the evening a dance will supplement the entertainment.

Proceeds from the affair will be placed in a fund to build a new garage at the rectory, the second story of the building to be designed for living quarters, it was decided by the sponsor groups after Father Herman Laux told of the necessity of a new garage and the need of additional bedrooms at the rectory. It is not expected that the benefit will finance the building project but it will start a fund for that purpose, Father Herman said. No definite plans for the new structure have been decided.

MAIN STREET TRAFFIC LIGHT BURNS AGAIN

At last the city has a signal light at the intersection of Main and the Highway. The unit ordered about 18 months ago and delivered about six months ago and out of order since the first day it was installed, has had a complete overhaul and, at this writing is working perfectly.

A defect in manufacture was the cause of the trouble, according to Herman Swirczynski, who took the signal apart and rebuilt it. Because of faulty contacts in the automatic light changing mechanism, some signals only flickered, some failed to light and some remained lit too long.

Wednesday the signal was operating perfectly in proper sequence.

ST. MARY'S EXES TRIM MUENSTER GRADS 6-0

Muenster's Ex-Hornets were somewhat better but still not good enough when they met the Saint Mary's Alumni of Gainesville on the local field last Thursday night. After an evenly fought contest they allowed six points late in the final period.

Fumbles and wild passes were noticeable fewer than in their tilt with the local school boys, however it was one of those slips which set up the score for Saint Mary's.

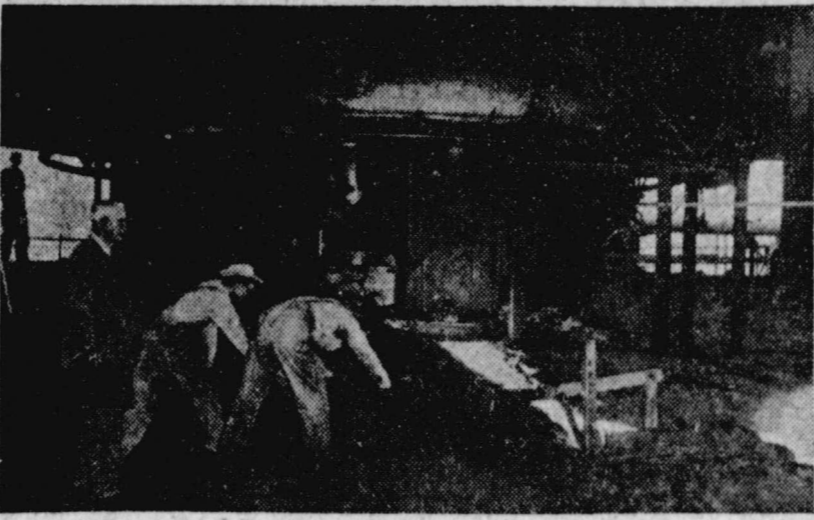

The visitors seemed off to a flying start minutes after the opening kickoff when Muenster booted high on the 30 into a strong wind which carried the ball back to the 15. Saint Mary's players advanced to the 5 where Muenster braced and took over on downs.

A drive started there by the local alumni got as far as mid-field before St. Mary's took the pigskin on downs and worked back to the 25 as the quarter ended.

All the next two periods the ball moved back and forth, with neither team making any worth while gains.

Early in the last quarter excitement picked up again. Saint Mary's exes reached the 25, lost on downs, then regained the ball on an interception on the 35. Two penalties, 15 and 5, gave them the oval within the danger zone and a pass from there netted the only touchdown.

Muenster's attempted comeback after that was interrupted by the timekeeper. After receiving the kickoff the Ex-Hornets fought their way to mid-field in four plays and then were stopped by the whistle.

Hornets Click After Thawing, and Scalp Sanger Indians 12-0

Eleven shivering Hornets spent almost a full half shaking off their chills at Sanger last Friday night, then started clicking on an offensive routine that swept the Sanger Hi Indians over by a score of 12 to 0.

Both teams had trouble getting organized in the grip of the northern. Occasional gains were futile as stiff muscles and icy fingers failed to function properly on succeeding plays.

The Indians felt the effect of that handicap early in the game. A beautiful 30 yard pass set them up on the 15, but from there it was no go and the Hornets took over to remove the only serious threat to the game.

Just before the half ended Muenster gave a hint of what was to happen later but the whistle ended their advance.

As the next half opened the Hornets carried on with the good work. After holding for three downs they received the Indians' kick in mid-field and started a series of short steady gains to the five when Sicking plunged across twice for the score. His first play was called back because of a technicality.

The next score came early in the last period after a pass, Endres to Reiter, and long gains by Hellman and Vogel again placed the ball inside the ten yard stripe. Sicking romped across on an off tackle play.

Taking over after Sanger failed to gain, the Hornets uncorked another drive that fell just short of adding another touchdown. They reached the 15, lost 20 yards on a high pass from center, then got back to the 20 on a pass Endres to Reiter. The game ended there before the team could line up for the next play.

The game was the Hornets' best of the season as a display of coordination and power. The line held consistently on defense and furnished plenty of openings for offensive plays. At the same time blocking backs gave effective help to the ball toters. Hellman and Vogel chalked up frequent long gains. Sicking was always dependable for the yardage needed in a pinch and Endres with accurate passing and several substantial gains, did a fine job as Gremminger's replacement. Gremminger, usually the mainstay of the team, left the game early with an ankle injury.

CATHOLIC DAUGHTERS WILL RECEIVE THIRTY CANDIDATES SUNDAY

A class of 30 candidates will be received into the local Catholic Daughters of America court Sunday and the program for the day includes both religious and social features. Mrs. A. J. LeBlanc, state regent, of San Antonio, will be a special guest and other guests will be here from Denison, Fort Worth, Windthorst and Wichita Falls.

The day's program will begin with members' and candidates' attendance at the six o'clock mass in Sacred Heart church and the reception of Communion in a body. At 1:30 the K of C hall will be the scene of the formal reception ceremonies, and at 4:30 a banquet will be held in the parish hall dining room. For the latter event members and candidates may bring their husbands or boy friends or any other guest.

MRS. J.W. FLETCHER FRACTURES HIP WHILE STEPPING OUT OF CAR

Mrs. J.W. Fletcher was seriously injured Sunday night at about seven o'clock when she missed her footing on the running board of the family car and fell to the highway, resulting in her left hip being broken.

She was taken to Gainesville sanitarium for examination and was moved to Methodist Hospital in Fort Worth Monday to be placed in the care of a specialist.

The accident occurred when Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher were enroute to Myra to attend church services. The lights on their car were extinguished by mechanical trouble and due to heavy traffic at the time, Mrs. Fletcher stepped from the car to the running board to hold a flashlight in order that her husband could see to drive off the road. In doing so she lost her footing, fell against the car and then on the pavement.

Mr. Fletcher who is attending her bedside stated that she was resting as well as could be expected under the circumstances.

SCOUTS BRAVE NORTHER FOR FIELD MASS AND OVER-NIGHT OUTING

Sixteen boys and Scoutmaster Nick Miller braved the wintry weather for the troops' over-night outing the past weekend. The campsite was the C.J. Fette land northeast of Marysville.

Highlighting the outing was a field mass by Rev. Herman Laux, pastor, Sunday morning at 8:30. Some 100 parents and friends of the scouts joined them for the service. Visitors to the camp on Saturday and Sunday in addition to those attending the mass were Messrs. and Mmes. Andy Hofbauer, J.M. Weinzapfel and Frank Bayer, and Sisters Eymard, Canesia and Alberta.

Outdoor activity, scout cookery and recreation took up the boys' time and they enjoyed a wiener roast Sunday afternoon before returning home.

Bowie High Bunnies Will Meet Hornets Here Friday Night

It's the Muenster Hornets vs the Bowie Bunnies here Friday night in what may be the last game on the local grid calendar. The game is scheduled to start at 7:30 o'clock.

Father John Walbe, business manager of the team, stated this week that prospects for more Hornet games this season are very poor. Tentative agreements by Saint Jo and Valley View for a return game are failing to materialize because of other engagements for the latter part of the season. Both have previous victories over the Hornets and, with everything to lose and nothing to win by the match, are not disposed to sandwich an extra game in their schedule.

It is understood, however, that Saint Mary's of Gainesville can spare another date, and the same may be true of some other teams. Responses to inquiries already made are expected this week.

Reports on Friday night's game reaching here via the grapevine route seem to indicate that the teams will be about evenly matched. The Bunnies, principally reserves on Bowie's regular team, the Jackrabbits, gave an indication of their strength in a game with Saint Jo by holding the Panthers scoreless through most of the second half after their regulars had run across a safe margin. The Hornets, in their season opener at Saint Jo, held the Panthers to six points.

Soil Conservation Group Leaders Try To Hasten Program

More cooperators and more cooperation by the cooperators was the principal objective discussed by Brushy Elm group leaders Monday night when they noted that the area is falling behind schedule in its program.

According to a report submitted by Robert Mitchell, director of the Muenster work unit of the Soil Conservation Service, only a small percentage of the goal set for July 1, 1949, is now complete.

The Brushy Elm area has 104 land owners of whom 73 are signed as cooperators. On the land under agreement the work schedule is 38 per cent complete, however even that figure is misleading because it represents achievement over five years and not since the program was adopted last July 1. A similar situation prevails in the Dry Elm-Squirrel Creek and the Big Elm areas, Mitchell stated.

Aside from direct benefits to be derived by cooperating farmers, the Brushy Elm group leaders are interested in additional benefits in the event of a federally sponsored program for building retention reservoirs. According to proposals, such reservoirs, if and when they are built, will be located in areas where farmers have shown their interest in conservation by completing at least 50 per cent of their work program. The leaders are interested in qualifying to receive the benefit of those improvements in their area.

The retention reservoirs are intended to hold both water and silt and are to be placed in creeks, branches or gullies as the need requires.

Group leaders are even more concerned with the definite and immediate benefits of soil saving and greater productivity. The sooner the work is done the more soil the farmer will save and the sooner he will reap greater productivity.

Estimating benefits in terms of money, the leaders valued a completed program as worth more than a half million dollars annually to the community. They based their figures on an official extensive survey which compared adjoining lands and reported a yield of nine dollars more per acre on conserved and improved soil. Some of those comparisons are already possible in this community, the men agreed.

Another inducement for accelerated action is the fact that the three watersheds of the community have top priority on the local work unit's service at this time. More can be accomplished now because the help is here.

Those present were H. J. Fuhrman, Paul Fisher, Al Hess, J. B. Klement, Joe Starke, W. H. Endres, Jack Biffle, R.M. Zipper, J. W. Hess, J. M. Weinzapfel and Robert Mitchell.

SCOUT ROUNDUP AND COMPASS COURSE ON EARLY SCOUT PROGRAM

Returning from a Scouters meeting at Gainesville Monday night, Scoutmaster Nick Miller reported that two events of interest to local scouts are on the program for the near future.

On December 8th a Scout Roundup will be held beginning at 7:30 in the Fair Park Community Center for all scouts of the county including scouts, cubs and senior scouts, their families and leaders. A pot luck supper will start the evening's entertainment and local persons planning to attend are asked to see Scoutmaster Miller for information on what to take to the supper as a simple menu has been prepared and each person attending is expected to contribute to the meal.

Another event, next Thursday, Nov. 20, is a compass course for Scouters. This program, for scout leaders only, will begin with a wiener roast at Gainesville at 7:30.

Mr. and Mrs. C.W. Ratliff of Lubbock are the parents of a son, their fourth boy, C.W. telephoned Mrs. John Fette Tuesday to report the baby's arrival and said that both mother and baby were doing fine. Mrs. Ratliff is the former Miss Margie Fette of this city.

John Wieler, Henry Luke, F.E. Schmitz, Ewald Berend, Jake Bezner, Walter Nortman, Nick Block and Lambert Bezner were in Wichita Falls Sunday to attend a K of C initiation and program.

Amid fanfare and publicity as only Hollywood can dish it out, the Friendship Train started last Friday night on its cross country collection of food for the hungry people of Europe. When the train reaches the East Coast its precious, life sustaining gift, which we hope will have grown sufficiently to fill several train loads, will be transferred to a ship for immediate delivery abroad. If all goes well this Friendship Train Food will constitute Christmas dinner and many more meals for thousands of unfortunates over there.

While the train is rolling, our congress is getting ready for a special session in which its principal consideration will be a program for extending even more substantial relief to Europe.

What this country is doing today and what it has done for several years during and since the war is a matter of genuine national pride to every real American. We, the descendants of people who came over from Europe a few generations ago, are doing all right by our distant cousins. We are quite pleased with the satisfaction naturally derived from lending a helping hand and we have a corresponding satisfaction in the fact that we have made good and are able to help.

On an average it was the less fortunate element of Europe that came over here. By the standards of their own country they were mostly poor people with little chance to get ahead except in that fabulous new country where the only limits to a person's success were his own limits in initiative, imagination and industry. They came, they prospered, they acquired a standard of living and an abundance such as the world has never seen before. Today, as for several years past, they are sharing their abundance with the descendants of those who remained in the old country.

All this material help, however, is a mere drop in the bucket compared with the enormous good we could do by giving Europe some of our good ideas. Our gifts should be accompanied by publicity explaining why America is able to help. Europeans should have a chance to understand that the traditional brand of American freedom... freedom to work and accumulate and improve and invest... can likewise raise them to new standards of comfort and security.

Furthermore, Europeans should be made to understand that we have no intention of continuing help to any who do not make an effort to follow what we know to be proven methods. Countries that show a preference for communism and socialism and short work-weeks don't deserve to stay on our list.

At first thought this may seem a rather harsh attitude but it's really the most practical one. Giving a down-and-out the price of a meal is less charitable than telling him how he can earn his own living. And when we consider the official help being extended from Washington we have to think along sound business lines. Our government is using our money in this deal just as a bank uses its depositors' money in making a loan. Neither citizens nor depositors complain about some degree of charity but both have a right to insist that any substantial sums are judiciously placed.

Any good banker is more than anxious to help a man who works and applies sound business methods. He is even ready to give a second and third lift if the man's efforts were frustrated by fire, storm, crop failure or some cause beyond his control. But the man who loafs and squanders his loan doesn't have much chance of getting another lift. Regardless of the banker's personal feelings in the matter, his responsibility to depositors is more than sufficient as a deciding factor.

Our government's help to Europe is essentially the same. It is using our money, and, in fairness to us, it must use the money wisely. Accordingly it has a right to lay down a few stipulations with the loan... or gift. It should insist on a productive work schedule and a sound economic standard. Europe should be made to understand that Uncle Sam is not the kind of banker who will help again after the first loan was fizzled away.

Incidentally, while we're giving advice to Europe let's favor the standards we used to follow more so than those in effect today. Let's recommend an honest day of hard work instead of a short day of the least work possible. Let's (Continued on page 10)

Prissy's Got a Man!
(Maybe)

Yesterday Sis Martin, our li-brarian, found an article cut from their file copy of the Clarion. When she compared it with another copy that I gave her she found it was my column on "How to Keep a Husband Happy."

Nothing unusual about that. Except the last person seen reading the paper was Prissy Hoskins (our town's proverbial Old Maid)!

Well, if Prissy has finally got a man, more power to her. And more tolerance to both of them . . . because that's what my column was about: Tolerance of a husband's taste for old hats, old pipes, old friends, and mellow beer. And tolerance on the husband's part of a wife's tastes and habits.

From where I sit, nobody begrudges Prissy taking that clipping from the Clarion. But I'd like to hint that if she'd just subscribe, she'd get my thoughts on tolerance firsthand. And in return I'll treat her to a glass of beer.

The American Way

By George Peck

OUT-FARMING THE RUSSIANS

Of all things! The November issue of Steelways, official organ of the American Iron and Steel Institute, in an article entitled "Steel Plow and Iron Curtain," gives the American farmer a resounding slap on the back.

But on second consideration, is it so strange? The American Iron and Steel Institute, whose membership comprises the major steel manufacturing industries of the nation, recognized that American prosperity for all segments of the population stems primarily from a healthy, efficient and prosperous agriculture.

Says Steelways in part: "As the productivity of the American farmer has expanded, other workers, no longer required to produce the basic foods and fibers, have been able to shift to producing the thousand and one other things that add up to our high standard of living, and that make our nation so strong. As a result, the standard of living of our people has increased at the rate of 2 per cent a year for the past 100 years. We have gone on to produce more autos for more people, more refrigerators, more radios, more telephones, more nylons, more eggs for breakfast than are enjoyed by any other people in the world."

What particularly intrigues me about this Steelways article are the comparisons made of the productivity of the American farmer with his fellow-agriculturist in Russia. Here are a few of these: "It takes the Russians 330 hours to raise and harvest one acre of cotton. American producers do the same thing in only 91 hours."

"Russian farmers raise and harvest an acre of wheat in about 47 hours. Our farmers take but 9 hours and get greater yield."

"One acre of potatoes can be raised and harvested by American farmers in 68 hours while Soviet farmers must work 265 hours."

"Russian farmers produce an acre of corn in 63 hours. Our Corn Belt takes but 16 hours and gets double the Russian yield."

"In Russia a cow requires 460 hours' care a year. Here, the farmer puts in only 140 hours, and gets twice as much milk per cow."

"One person cares for 500 birds on Russian poultry farms. Improved equipment enables one person to handle 1,500 birds in America."

These facts would seem to be concrete evidence that the "American way" of farming is vastly superior to that of totalitarian Russia's — that the American farmer can give the Russian "cards and spades," and still out-farm him.

And why is this? Steelways gives the answer: "It is because individuals here had freedom to work and to enjoy the fruits of labor. Under that freedom we have built an economic system that has vastly stimulated production, individually and in the mass. It is a system in which capital, in the form of tools and production facilities, has constantly increased our enormous production per man, whether on the farm or elsewhere. The farmer's incentive to use more and better machines is that through them he can make his capital work for him, and thus be able to buy more of all an expanding civilization offers. So it works through the whole society — if it is allowed to work."

Thanks, Steelways, for having said it — and for saying it so well.

THE DUTCH WAY

Up in Pennsylvania, the Lenhartsville Valley is beautiful. Frugal, fanatically clean Dutch farm the rolling hills and draws and you look hard to see a single little gully in the land or a piece of paper on the fields. Not long ago in that sector they had a little row because during a political campaign a candidate tacked one sign on somebody's barn. There isn't a billboard in sight for miles.

They say not one one-thousandth of an inch of topsoil has been lost for 200 years. Not a penny of relief ever is dispensed in that area and the farms stay in the hands of single families for generations.

They raise everything they eat. They sell the surplus and that surplus is of such high quality that the demand can not be fulfilled. Whatever implements they use are tucked away each night in a shed and oiled. Where the land slopes a barrier is built of heavy growth to prevent washing. Wildlife collects in the growths. Little ponds afford the farmers fish. Every field has livestock and all manure is returned to the soil. It is prettier than a picture and a failure is almost unknown.

That is one way to farm. Drive from Dallas to Austin and you see another way.

SAFETY TIPS

To those persons who wish to use all reasonable care to avoid death or injury in motor vehicle accidents during the coming season, the National Conservation Bureau offers the following guides:

- For drivers:
1. Have brakes properly adjusted and equalized in braking power at all times.
 2. Use chains when driving on packed snow or ice.
 3. Keep windshield wiper and defroster in good mechanical condition.
 4. Drive slower on snow or slippery pavements than you think necessary for absolute safety; ten miles an hour is frequently the maximum safe speed.
 5. Always be alert for pedestrians or for children or sleds; remember that you may be powerless to stop your car in a short distance.
 6. Avoid the need for sudden stops; you may skid.

- For pedestrians:
1. Look both ways before crossing a street or highway.
 2. Do not jaywalk. Cross streets only at designated crossing places.
 3. If walking on the highway, walk toward oncoming traffic and keep as far to the side of the road as possible. A skidding car will then be less likely to strike you, or if you should slip you will be less likely to slide into the path of a car.

Thunder which is considered the loudest common noise, has never been heard unmistakably, more than about 20 miles from the flash.

More Buyers... Higher Prices

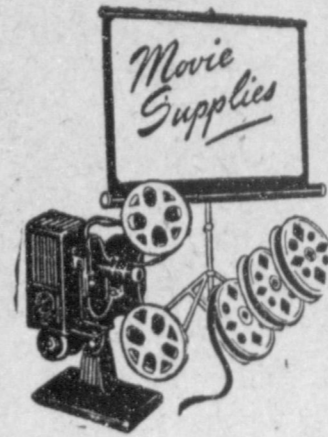

For the past two sales four more packer buyers have been in the bidding for Muester livestock, and all were determined to buy — so much determined that dozens of cattle sold as much as 2 cents above the Fort Worth market price.

OUR FRIEND, THE COW

Produced by Ernest E. Hayley in the Saint Jo Tribune is a tribute written by Judge Joe M. Hill to the cow. Judge Hill remarks that since Senator Vest of Missouri several years ago referred to the dog as "man's best friend" we are apt to overlook other animal friends and says about the cow:

"The cow is an uncrowned queen and her kingdom is all the land between the seas. Her motto is 'service,' and she always gives more than she receives. She works for all humanity without a complaint and was never known to strike for higher wages. All she asks for the myriad blessings she bestows is enough to eat and a place to lie down at night.

"The cow is a lady among the four-footed creatures; a lady that needs no fine clothes, powder puffs nor lipstick to magnify her charms. She loves home and knows where she lives and is faithful to it. She does not need strange society, but if she should have to wander far away for food, evening always finds her winding slowly o'er the lea toward the gate where she may enter again and bestow her rich burden gathered during the daylight hours."

HUSBANDS FETED BY MYRA SUNSHINE CLUB MEMBERS

Members of the Myra Sunshine Club entertained their husbands last Friday night at the school building. Hostesses were Mmes. Lon S. Varnell, Byron Sears, A.R. Andress, Fred McTaggart, Tom Pryor, Elbridge Campbell and Parker Fears, who had birthday in October.

Dominoes and 42 series were enjoyed and gifts were exchanged by all attending.

Refreshments were served to the guests and five visitors Mr. and Mrs. Jack Fletcher of Muenster, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Biffle and W.B. Hoover.

The Odds Are Against You

The reckless driver who takes a chance to save one minute of time gambles his life at seven-teen-million-to-one-odds — a bet which no sane gambler would take.

The odds, worked out by insurance actuaries and passed on by the National Conservation Bureau, accident prevention division of the Association of Casualty and Surety Companies, are based on life expectancy tables which show that the average man of 35 has 17,000,000 minutes to live. The minute saved by careless and reckless driving just isn't worth the gamble, the Bureau added.

Mrs. Orlen Edelen and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Skidmore and daughter, all of Wilson, Okla., stopped her Monday afternoon for a brief visit with Mrs. Ray Evans and other friends.

These seven young Texas exhibitors set the pace in the recent Junior Class of the American Jersey Cattle Club show in Columbus, Ohio. Roland Reese, Waco, second from the right, is shown with his Draconis Jester Countess, senior yearling that topped her class and then was judged Grand Champion Female of the show. Reese received the awards at a dinner given in Columbus by John H. Kraft of Chicago, president of the Kraft Foods Company, who sponsored the dinner for the 4-H Club and FFA showmen at the event. Presentation of the award for the senior yearling heifer championship was made to Reese at the dinner by Herman F. Heep, Austin, Texas, president of the American Jersey Cattle Club. Reese received the award for Grand Champion Female of the show from John W. Bricker, United States Senator from Ohio. The Texans, shown with the state herd entrant, are left to right: Joe Armstrong, Trent; Kenneth Holloway, Hamlin; Homer Reeves, Princeton; Jack McMahar, Princeton; Earl Edwards, Jr., Floydada; Roland Reese, Waco; and Alton Brigham, Stamford.

Lethal Secret Weapons, Not Counting Atom Bomb, Could Wipe Out All Life

New York. — Without including the atomic bomb, weapons exist today "that could wipe the last vestige of human, animal and vegetable life from the face of the earth," Rear Admiral Ellis M. Zacharias, retired, asserted.

"These weapons exist," Zacharias wrote. "They are being manufactured right now. They are not an American monopoly. Several nations are known to have them."

The admiral described the weapons — "shrouded in the closest military secrecy" — as of a biological, bacteriological and climatological nature. He added that the United States now has an atom bomb fifty times more powerful than those dropped at Nagasaki and Hiroshima.

Russia, the navy man asserted, is investigating military applications of cosmic rays, and is proceeding with rocket development; Britain is making progress in guided missiles, the United States has a secret biological weapon, "a germ proposition," sprayed from aircraft or rockets.

He said the new weapons are of such a nature that their lethal quality continues long after actual use, would jump international boundaries and oceans. Areas attacked would have to be quarantined and it might be "a thousand years before those blasted areas would again support life of any kind."

Zacharias' article was in United Nations World, a privately financed magazine.

TEXAS CATTLEMEN CAN SAVE FIVE MILLION BY SPRAYING FOR GRUBS

College Station. — A little time and trouble now, plus some rotenone, can put Texas cattle and dairymen on the road to saving $5 million.

How? By spraying for cattle grubs.

Statistics show that forty-two percent of all Texas cattle are grubby. Grubby cattle are discounted on the market at about one cent a pound. The total loss to Texans in the cattle and dairy business in terms of milk, meat and leather each comes close to five million dollars.

Most farms and ranches cause their own trouble with grubs. Extension entomologists for Texas A. and M. College point out. Heel flies are the parents of grubs, and the flies seldom migrate over half a mile. So treatment for grubs in the fall and winter will control the heel fly on the farm and ranch in the spring.

Spray the backs of the animals with a mixture of 7½ pounds of 5 percent rotenone in 100 gallons of water at about 30-day intervals in the fall and winter, the entomologists say. Rotenone dust can be used on small herds.

Control now will help to save feed next year, too, as it takes from 10 to 15 percent more feed to fatten a grubby steer than one free of grubs.

"Bridal" Has Odd Origin

Take the society page of any newspaper, daily or weekly, and you will find that one of the words most frequently used is "bridal".

Consult any dictionary and you will learn, if you do not already know, that the word originally was bride-ale. It had its origin in England when ale was the feature of almost every type of festival. Many of these festivals were for fund-raising purposes, such as tithe-ales, give-ales, and church-ales to facilitate the collection of parish dues and funds for needed repairs.

The merriest of all of them was, of course, the bridal-ale. The setting was as festive as possible. Presents filled the tables and friends of the bridal couple mingled gaily in their holiday dress while the bride herself looked her very best as she poured ale for the guests.

That on the day and year aforesaid defendants unlawfully entered upon said land and ejected the plaintiff and unlawfully withheld from her the possession thereof to the damage in the sum of $100.00.

That an affidavit, purported to be signed by plaintiff, was filed of record in Book 204 page 361 of the Deed Records of Cooke County, Texas, wherein the above described lands and premises were set out to be the community property of plaintiff and T. D. Payne, deceased. That the said affidavit is untrue and erroneous in that said land is her separate property and casts a cloud on her title.

That said lands was purchased by and paid for by plaintiff out of her separate funds and that said land is her separate property. Plaintiff further alleges she has held peaceable and adverse possession of said land for more than ten years and by reason thereof has acquired and perfected her title to said land under the ten year statute of limitation.

Plaintiff prays for title and possession of said land, rents and damages, judgment removing cloud from title and costs of suit, as is more fully shown by Plaintiff's Petition on file in this suit.

The officer executing this process shall promptly execute the same according to law, and make due return as the law directs. Issued and given under my hand and Seal of said Court, at office in Gainesville, Texas this 3rd day of November A. D. 1947.

CONSERVE, BUT DON'T ELIMINATE ESSENTIALS, SAYS HEALTH OFFICER

Austin, — Commenting on the food conservation program now being stressed throughout the nation, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer today emphasized the importance of including the proper food requisites in the daily diet, as being important to the maintenance of health.

"Food conservation is an absolute necessity and all Texans are eager to assist in this program; but, eliminating needful basic foods will only result in under-nourishment and illness, which can be avoided by observing the Texas Food Standard in daily meals," Dr. Cox said. "This food standard will enable Texans to utilize available foods, eliminate waste, cooperate in conserving food and spend their food dollar wisely."

The Texas Food Standard, recommended by Dr. Cox, provides all necessary food elements, and for each individual includes daily servings of: 1 pint to 1 quart milk; 1 egg or substitute; 1 serving meat, poultry or fish; 1 serving potatoes; 1 serving green or yellow vegetables; 1 serving citrus fruit or tomatoes; 1 serving other fruit; 1 serving whole grain products; other enriched cereals or breads; small amount butter or margarine with vitamins added; some sweets or desserts in moderate quantities.

Fit to be hog-tied over fashion's "new look" was "Miss Chicago" Joan Hiatt when she learned of plans by Paris corsetiers to lace women in tiny corsets that produce bulging hips and bosom by pinching in the waist. To show that extreme bulges are "piggish," she wrapped a whale-bone corset around a 350-pound sow at stockyards.

"Good nutrition is based upon the observance of good food habits, practiced every day," he declared. "This is important at any time, but especially now, when it will not only maintain good health but assist in the conservation of food supplies."

TEXAS INCOME

We Texans have created our share of self-delusions. This quirk in our character probably stems from the fact that Texas is first in a number of things besides land area.

Sure, we are first in petroleum production, number of cattle, pounds of mohair, railroad mileage, and so on.

Many of us have come to think that we must be pretty rich, i. e., enjoy an income as fabulous as some of our first's.

Maybe Texans will be pained — we suppose some will refuse to believe — when we quote the sober statistics of the U.S. Department of Commerce on income.

Per capita income for the State of Texas in 1946 was 36th among the 48 states and the District of Columbia.

That's right — 36th. Which means that 34 states and the District of Columbia last year on a per person basis received more income than Texas.

The Texas per capita income figure for 1945 was $954. It was $1200 for the nation.

To make our situation even worse the Texas per capita income was down 2 per cent from what it was in 1945. For the nation per capita income was up two per cent.

We Texans think of ourselves as rivals of the Californians. The Californians are ahead of us on income. Their per capita income in 1946 was $1,531 — 60 percent higher than ours in round numbers.

It's well to mention this horrible truth once in a while to keep our feet from sailing off with our heads in the clouds. Then it calms us down where we can begin thinking and planning on how to get to where we think we are at — if you'll pardon the grammar.—East Texas Magazine.

Charles Jr., 5 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tate, is recovering from an operation for the removal of his appendix at a Gainesville Sanitarium Monday.

Sunday dinner guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Schmitz were - Leonard Schmitz and Mrs. Jennie Hogan and daughter, Ann, of Dallas, Melode Bodowsky of Fort Worth, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Wilde and son of Muenster and Rufus Beznor.

Members of the Mothers' Society gathered Thursday afternoon to sew for the missions and other charitable purposes. A gratifying amount of work was done by the ladies in attendance.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Theimer have moved from Gainesville to Edmond, Okla., to make their home. Mrs. Theimer is the former Miss Celestine Schmitz.

Rev. Sylvester Schad of Scranton, Ark., who officiated at the Hermes-Schad, Hermes - Hundt double wedding ceremony here Tuesday is on a two weeks' vacation to visit his mother, Mrs. John Schad and other relatives. He also plans to visit relatives in Abilene during the time.

HERMES SISTERS ARE BRIDES IN DOUBLE NUPTIAL AT LINDSAY

A pretty double wedding ceremony was performed in Saint Peter's Church at Lindsay Tuesday morning at 8:30 when two sisters, Misses Louise and Elfrida Hermes, became the brides of Ed Schad and Joe B. Hundt, respectively.

The brides' parents are Mr. and Mrs. Clem Hermes, Mr.

Hundt's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hundt, and Mr. Schad is the son of Mrs. John Schad and the late Mr. Schad, all of Lindsay.

Rev. Sylvester Schad, Scranton, Ark., brother of one of the bridegrooms, officiated at the single ring ceremonies and at the nuptial high mass. Processional and recessional selections were played by Mrs. William Fleitman, church organist, who also assisted Saint Cecilia's choir in rendering the mass. Altar boys were the twin brothers of the brides, Clem and Joe Hermes, and their cousins, Leonard, Richard, and James Hermes.

The brides presented a lovely picture in their formal white slipper satin gowns designed with fitted bodices, long sleeves pointed over their wrists and cathedral length trains. The dress worn by the bride of Mr. Schad featured a modified bustle and a yoke of marquisette and lace, while the dress worn by the bride of Mr. Hundt had a round neckline, edged with lace. Both wore full length veils attached to Mary Stewart headpieces and carried huge bouquets of white mums.

The brides' six sisters were members of the wedding party. Attending their sister, Louise, were Miss Anna Hermes as maid of honor, and Misses Rita and Angela Hermes as bridesmaids. They wore bouffant frocks in pastel shades of peach, aqua and yellow net over taffeta, respectively. Attending their sister, Elfrida, were Miss Mary Hermes as maid of honor, and Misses Emilia and Bernice Hermes as bridesmaids. Their dresses were net over taffeta in pastel shades of green, orchid and blue, respectively. Each young lady wore a picture hat in matching color and carried bouquets of contrasting mums.

Mr. Schad was attended by his cousin, Herman Zimmerer, Jr., Amarillo, as best man, and Mr. Hundt was attended by his brother, Gregory Hundt, as best man. Ushers were Vincent Zimmerer, William Hermes, Joe Sandmann and Clem Sandmann.

Immediately after the ceremony the wedding party and the officiating minister were guests for breakfast at the home of the brides' parents, and at noon dinner was served to immediate members of the three families. At 5:30 the Lindsay hall was the scene of an informal reception for relatives and friends and a buffet supper was served. Festivities were concluded with a dance at night. Mrs. Therese Rauschuber and Mrs. Margaret Hermes, aunt of the brides, presided at the three-tiered cakes and signatures of the guests were secured for the brides' books under the direction of Misses Anna and Mary Hermes.

Mr. and Mrs. Schad left on a wedding trip not revealing their destination and will be at home on a farm two miles north of Lindsay when they return. For traveling Mrs. Schad wore a beige suit with brown accessories.

Mrs. Schad attended Lindsay school and Saint Mary's business college in Gainesville and had been employed in the commercial office of the S.W. Bell Telephone company in Gainesville for the past four years. For the past two years she has been serving as secretary for the North Texas branch of the Catholic State League. Mr. Schad attended Lindsay school and was a student at Subiaco college in Arkansas.

Mr. and Mrs. Hundt also departed on a wedding trip of unrevealed destination and will make their home on a farm three miles north of Lindsay upon returning. For traveling Mrs. Hundt wore a tan suit with brown accessories. She attended Lindsay school and for the past two years was employed at the city water and tax office in Gainesville. Mr. Hundt attended school at Lindsay and Subiaco, Ark., and served with the army air corps for three and a half years during the past war. He was stationed in Arizona.

A joint bridal shower was given Thursday afternoon by Misses Marie and Agnes Zimmerer in honor of the brides. Twenty-six guests attended.

Mrs. Schad was complimented recently by her fellow employees in the business office where she was employed. Forty persons placed gifts on the honoree's desk as a surprise.

Among out of town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. A.C. Flusche of Denison; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rauschuber and family and Ferdinand Hundt of Valley View; Mr. and Mrs. John P. Streng and daughter Patsy, and Mr. and Mrs. Al Schad and daughters, Clarice, Margaret Mary and Therese, all of Muenster; Mr. and Mrs. O.A. Freabe, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Rauschuber and Bill DeReese, all of San Antonio; Mrs. Ben Wolfe and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Wolfe, all of LaFeria.

recommend the good old law of supply and demand without artificial supports like subsidies and government buying. Let's recommend personal ambition and integrity as the surest road to personal security. Let's recommend freedom of opportunity rather than socialistic schemes which penalize initiative and effort.

After all, we must admit that America's greatest grew out of those old principals. We have the world's highest standard of living today because Americans of yesterday believed in working, saving, investing, expanding and taking care of their own troubles.
