VOLUME XXIV

MUENSTER, COOKE COUNTY, TEXAS

JULY 15, 1960

NUMBER 34

A regrettable bit of news reporting was the story in Tuesday's Gainesville Register headed "Something for Nothing Meeting" concerning efforts of a group of Muenster people to get financial help from the county commissioners for support of a rural fire fighting program.

The headline lends itself to only one interpretation, which is a low blow seeking to discredit the merits of Muenster's position before it is stated.

Actually it reveals a pitiful lack of thought on the part of someone. Because no amount of prejudicial word contortion can alter the fact that the group had plenty of justification behind its request.

Where do they get this "something for nothing" stuff? Is it nothing to answer a dozen or more rural fire calls a year, saving thousands of dollars worth of farm property? Is it nothing that those calls account for more than ninety percent of the mileage on the local fire truck, or that the frequent demand for high speed with the heavily loaded truck over rough terrain accounts for more than ninety five percent of the truck's wear and tear?

This is the kind of fire protection service the Muenster fire department has rendered for many a year, and which it hopes to continue rendering and which is lightly brushed off as "nothing."

Incidentally, this does not include many hours of hard work by the volunteer firemen who operated the equipment and gave other valuable help on the distress calls. Those personal services are not a part of the present issue, but in light of the expressed attitude they might be regarded as more of the "nothing."

So much for a rash and insulting remark. Now let's look at the merits of Muenster's request.

Past history leaves no doubt that rendering this valuable rural service has been costly to Muenster. And fairness demands that the area receiving the benefit should help financially toward making it available. The logic of this position, as well as the county's moral responsibility in the matter, was acknowledged by the commissioners court when it agreed to Gainesville's request for $50 for each rural fire run.

It has been hinted that the same kind of deal is available to Muenster, but the local city council has decided that because of different circumstances, the deal is less adequate here. The rural area there . . . outside city limits . . . includes many suburban homes. Hence rural runs are shorter on the average and more frequent. In the long run the compensation is adequate there. But over here runs are less frequent, and on the average considerably longer . . . the net result being that the $50 payment is not only less adequate but falls far short of the amount needed to finance and maintain a fire truck.

When explaining the situation representatives of the city said they are looking for a solution which will provide a truck for the rural fire runs. Unfortunately, the commissioners court has decided to apply a strictly literal interpretation to that request.

Only a few days ago County Judge Shelby Fletcher wrote The Enterprise stating that, in fairness to the court, The Enterprise should inform the public on what the court can and cannot do, legally. He then quoted Art. 2351a of Texas law stating that the county can purchase fire equipment only on approval of voters in a special county wide election. So, he concludes, "the court is legally handicapped as to what it can do." His letter, however, failed to mention any effort at finding something that can be done.

Obviously, more progress could be made on this problem if the court concentrated more on ways to grant the request, and less on excuses to deny it. It knows as well as our city council that no one expects it to buy a truck and send it out for our use. Instead Muenster is willing and eager to render a valuable service and is asking only for sufficient compensation to provide for ownership and upkeep of the necessary equipment.

From that stand point the court has no problem. It is fully empowered to contract for a service just as it did with the city of Gainesville.

Well, the city of Muenster (Continued on page 8)

Preliminaries in Hospital Project Begin Shaping up

The long, slow process of securing a local hospital through Hill-Burton aid is gradually getting into motion.

In a meeting of Muenster Hospital Authority directors last Thursday night President J. M. Weinzapfel had a letter from the State Health Department advising that Muenster's application will be considered in September.

Meanwhile the local hospital authority will be expected to provide a file of data consisting principally of a schematic drawing, a cost estimate, an outline of specifications, and a financial statement showing that at least one third of the local authority's share of the cost is available in cash and liquid assets.

Weinzapfel pointed out that the contemplated 30 bed hospital is estimated at $500,000, with the community and the federal grant sharing equally in the cost. That makes $250,000 for the local share, of which about $85,000 should be available before the September hearing.

Accordingly the hospital board engaged its architect, James R. Killebrew, Architects and Engineers, of Wichita Falls and authorized preparation of all architectural data for the hearing. Clarence L. Martin of the architectural firm was present at the meeting.

At an early date an engineer of the State Health Department is expected here to inspect available sites and make his recommendation.

As soon as possible thereafter the local authority plans a general community meeting at which it expects to have a sketch of the proposed building and additional information on the project, and also to launch its campaign for building funds.

Pee Wees Blank Nocona and Hood

Muenster's Pee Wees turned in a near perfect game Monday night as they turned back a Nocona team 18-0 in a no-hit, no-run affair.

It was 3 up and 3 down every one of the seven innings. Three of the visiting batters reached base on two walks and an error but each was later forced out or caught trying to advance. Only 21 batters stepped up to the plate and 13 of them were fanned by Billie Reiter.

Meanwhile Muenster made its 18 runs on 13 hits, 11 walks and 1 error. Top hitters were Harold Flusche with 2 doubles and 2 singles, Allan Reiter with a double and 2 singles and Billie Reiter and Ronnie Russell with 2 singles each.

Playing Hood the previous Thursday, the boys just missed a no-hit, no-run. Hood got one single while losing 14-0. Billie Reiter struck out 15 of the 30 batters who faced him in nine innings.

Muenster kids put on a hitting spree, with a total of 21 safe blows. Leading hitters were Billie Reiter, 4, Harold Flusche, Monday, Wilson and Russell, 3 each; Allan Reiter and Gobble, 2 each.

Next games on schedule are Hood here Friday, Whitesboro there Monday, and Whitesboro here Tuesday.

Swim Class Grows To 24 Members Who Organize Club

Twenty-four girls and women reported for the organizational meeting of the swim class at the city pool Thursday morning and organized into a club.

The group elected Mrs. George Petrus president and Mrs. Willie Walters secretary-treasurer. At the same time the membership agreed on two meetings for swim sessions each week, adding Saturday to the usual Thursday.

With two sessions a week, members can select the day that suits them best or, if they prefer attend both meetings. The fifty cents a meeting dues takes care of rent for the pool, life guard service and swimming instructions.

The Saturday session gives business women, who get that day off, an opportunity to join the club.

Volunteer baby sitters are on duty both days.

The club is still open for membership. Girls over 13 years of age and women of all ages are invited to join.

14 Blocks of City Pavement to Get New Surface Job

Fourteen blocks of re-surfacing work will make up Muenster's paving project for this summer. Council members last Monday night approved the work in order to restore its pavement to a generally good condition.

The job will consist of patching all holes and repairing broken edges of pavement, then following with a single course of hot asphalt and pea gravel. This treatment is intended not only to improve the surface but to seal it against moisture leaks which cause soft spots and eventual break-throughs.

H. M. Smith and Son of Denison, who did the city's paving work last year, has contracted for the job. Work begins in a week or two.

Queen Contest Is Slated August 18 By Farm Bureau

Cooke County Farm Bureau's annual queen contest is on the calendar for August 18 at the Gainesville College Auditorium. Along with that event the Bureau will conduct two other contests, an impromptu speaking contest and a talent find.

Members of the planning committee are Mesdames L. G. Gentle, J. E. Pybas, Ila Davis, William Flusche, and Martin Bayer, and J. C. Bullard, Farm Bureau service agent.

Purpose of the queen's contest is to give recognition to farm and ranch girls of Texas. They are judged on appearance, poise and personality and all the other qualities that make up winsome future homemakers of Texas.

Single girls between the ages of 16 and 22 are eligible to compete. Ages are determined as of Sept. 1, 1960.

Eligible to participate in the impromptu speech contest are persons between the ages of 17 and 30. Four categories will be available for contestants to choose their subject.

The talent find will be held for anyone with a special talent including singing, dancing, acting, etc.

Judges for the various events will be named at a later date.

Blessed Events

Happy parents for the first time are Mr. and Mrs. Don Flusche who welcomed their daughter Sunday, July 10, 11:50 p.m. at Gainesville Sanitarium. She weighed six pounds 14 ounces. Welcoming a granddaughter are Mr. and Mrs. J. I. Taylor of Gainesville and Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Flusche of Muenster. Mr. and Mrs. Tony Otto are the great-grandparents.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Reiter have announced the birth of a son July 5 at Gainesville's M&S Hospital. He arrived 12:27 p.m. weighing 11 pounds. The new baby joins a family of nine brothers and sisters. He's the grandson of Mrs. George Spaeth of Lindsay.

MHS Band Teacher Named; Two More Teachers Needed

One of the three vacancies of the public school faculty was filled last Thursday night when board members named James Larson as director of the school band. Larson served at Era last year on a part time basis while continuing his music studies at NTSC.

Vacancies still to be filled are in homemaking and the coach-mathematics assignment.

Another new teacher is Arthur Bourdeau. He was hired earlier to teach English.

Other faculty members continue from last year. They are Superintendent L. B. Bruns, Principal Glenn Hellman, Mrs. Marie Mosman, Miss Bettye Dodds, Edgar Dyer, Emmet Walterscheid, Mrs. Bessie Miller, Mrs. Prudence Selby, Mrs. Jane Weinzapfel and Weldon Holland.

3 Scouts Leave on Tour and Jamboree

Three Muenster Boy Scouts left Thursday for two weeks of sightseeing and the national jamboree observing the 50th anniversary of the Boy Scouts of America. They are Danny Wilde, and Tommy and Roy Hartman.

The trio will be in a group leaving Dallas by train and headed for six days in national parks of Colorado and the Northwest then return to Colorado Springs for the week-long jamboree.

Council Forbids Fireworks in City

Fireworks within the Muenster city limits will be illegal in the future. Members of the city council reached that decision Monday night after considering many complaints resulting from widespread and reckless use of fireworks on or near July 4.

The council ordered immediate preparation of the ordinance so that it can be read and approved at a meeting next Monday night.

The law will forbid fireworks or any type of explosive noise makers except supervised displays which can be arranged by responsible adults on special application to the city council.

Shooting this year was described as the most boisterous ever in Muenster and seven of the offending youngsters were ordered by Deputy Sheriff Bill Pratt to appear before City Judge Steve Moster on charges of disturbing the peace. All pleaded guilty and were assessed fines of $20.70 each.

Midnight Curfew Ordered by City

A curfew ordinance adopted by the city council in this week's meeting is intended to put a stop to loitering and horse play on city streets after midnight. It applies to all persons under 21 years of age who obviously are just loafing around town, either afoot or in their cars.

The council's attitude is that, in the first place, children belong at home at those hours, and in the second place, it does not intend to tolerate disturbance which deprives other people of their sleep.

Youngsters are warned that defiance of this order may possibly result in a fine or spending the rest of the night in jail.

The Rural Fire Protection Issue

Relative to the proposition of securing fire fighting services for rural areas through and with the aid of the City of Muenster and the Fire Department of the City, and, in order to clarify the position of the City and the Muenster Fire Department, the following information is submitted.

Prior to the fall of 1959 the Fire Department had an old tank pumper that could be used for fighting fires in rural areas. While this particular piece of equipment was never adequate, it nevertheless, served a most useful purpose. However, due to the age of the equipment and its run-down condition, this old truck and its equipment finally got in a condition whereby it was rendered useless.

After considerable estimates for repairing and rebuilding this unit had been submitted to the City Council, it was concluded that it would be a good deal better to consider the purchase of a new or different type of equipment for this particular purpose, one which would serve the needs more adequately, rather than attempt to repair or rebuild the present equipment, because of the great amount of cost. Therefore, taking this into consideration, and the fact that funds of the City were not adequate to make an investment in a piece of equipment, which was not considered needed for general use to the City, it was decided by the City Council to abandon any attempt to spend money on an extra piece of equipment.

This conclusion was reached after the further consideration relative to the liability involved in the operation of the equipment outside of the limits of the City, which can revert back to the Council or the members thereof, in the event of any accidents.

Therefore, by official act of the City Council entered on the records about the 1st of the year, the local Fire Department could no longer make rural runs as a Department, because they had no equipment with which to make the runs. This, of course, did not mean that any member of the Department or any other citizens would not be willing to render what individual aid they could in case of an emergency.

Prior to the final action, the Council investigated the possibility of securing from the County some financial aid toward the purchase of a piece of equipment, the possibility of securing a contract from the County in order to eliminate the existing liability, and a possibility of securing a fee on a per run basis. After several discussions and conferences on this subject, it was learned that the County could not expend funds to purchase equipment for the use of a Municipal Corporation but, in so far as providing a fee on the per run basis, and entering into a contract to eliminate the liability, it seemed a possibility. Of course, this did not solve the problem. We were still in need of a piece of equipment, and had no funds with which to purchase it, nor did the Council feel justified to spend City taxpayers money for equipment to be used exclusively for rural fire fighting.

The premises boils down to this: The City and the Fire Department are still willing to cooperate in securing some type of aid in this regard. At a recent meeting with the County, there seems to be some tentative agreement whereby the County may be able to enter into contract on a flat lump sum amount, probably around $1,000.00, which may be paid to the City, and, in such arrangement, the City would agree to make rural fire calls for a specified term (perhaps on a one year basis) without any further compensation.

If this arrangement can be worked out, and the County will contract with the City whereby a lump payment can be made, the City may then be in position to provide some means of revising equipment to meet the rural fire needs. At any rate, for the present, the City is going ahead in trying to negotiate some workable proposition with the County. What the final results will be, remains to be seen.

NEWS OF THE SICK

Mrs. J. A. Klement entered Gainesville Sanitarium Monday preparatory to surgery the latter part of this week.

Joe Trubenbach was dismissed from Gainesville Sanitarium Wednesday after being a patient three days for a check-up and observation.

Mrs. Joe Knabe was dismissed from Gainesville Sanitarium Wednesday and is convalescing at home following surgery last Friday.

Walter Grewing is making satisfactory recovery from an emergency appendicitis operation performed at Gainesville Sanitarium Friday night.

Mrs. John Mosman was dismissed from St. Paul's Hospital in Dallas Sunday and is up and around at her home regaining her strength after back surgery July 1.

Wilfred Klement got an encouraging report following X-rays at the Dallas VA Hospital the past week. For the first time since his back operation the X-rays show the bone is fusing.

First reports reaching here Tuesday that Johnny Hacker was seriously injured in an oil field accident at Hobbs, N. M., were modified Wednesday after his mother, Mrs. Andrew Hacker, and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hacker reached his bedside and later telephoned to the family here. Hacker was unconscious after being struck on the head by a piece of drilling equipment which fell from the derrick. He was taken to a Hobbs hospital and the family was notified. The trio from here left Tuesday. X-rays Wednesday changed the first report and Hacker will probably leave the hospital the latter part of this week.

Meeting Planned Friday to Prepare For Katy Hearing

Whether or not Katy freight service is wanted, and if so, what to do in order to keep it . . . those will be the problems at a special meeting called for Friday night at 8 o'clock in the City Hall.

The meeting is intended as a fore-runner to a hearing by the Texas Railroad Commission next Thursday, July 21, at 9 o'clock in the city hall on MK&T's request for permission to close the local freight depot.

Everyone interested in the railroad's proposal is invited and urged to attend Friday night's meeting, the first purpose of which is to decide whether Muenster wants the depot to remain open. The second purpose, depending on the first, is to work together toward organizing an impressive case and good attendance at the hearing.

Council Appeals For Observance Of Traffic Laws

In an effort to establish more orderly traffic in Muenster, members of the city council Monday night instructed Deputy Sheriff Bill Pratt to begin immediate enforcement of all standard regulations on driving and parking.

They did not ask for a strict crack-down but rather a gradual process of breaking bad habits. Drivers are asked to cooperate by trying to observe regulations and Pratt is asked to start the campaign with advice and warning rather than tickets. Deliberate and habitual violators are warned, however, that they will not be excused indefinitely.

Some of the more common regulations specifically mentioned are as follows:

Speed limit is 30 miles per hour in most of town and slower in school zones.

Left turns across the street to enter a parking area are not permitted. A driver must continue to the end of the block, make a U turn and approach the parking spot properly.

Diagonal parking only is allowed where diagonal stripes are painted on the streets. In other areas parking may be diagonal or parallel, and drivers are urged to show judgment by parking parallel on narrow streets. Vertical parking or back in parking are not allowed at any time. Deputy Pratt made special mention of that it requires crossing the flow of opposite traffic both entering and leaving the parking spot. Also prohibited are double parking, parking at a fire plug or driveway, or parking at a corner so as to hinder the normal flow of traffic.

Unnecessary motor noises are also prohibited. All vehicles, even motor scooters, are expected to have mufflers.

Assistant County Agent Bo Wheeler Resigns Position

D. B. (Bo) Wheeler, assistant county agent, this week resigned the job he has had in Cooke County for the past two years. He is leaving to become county agent of Armstrong County in the Panhandle portion of Texas.

Commissioners court accepted Wheeler's resignation effective July 31, with regret and praised him for his work with the 4-H youths during his tenure as assistant agent. He came to Gainesville after a short period of training at Brenham.

Ted Martin, district agent from Denton, told the court he will look the field over to find a good man to replace Wheeler.

Agreement Near On Deal for Rural Fire Protection

An agreement between the City of Muenster and the Cooke County Commissioners to provide fire protection in rural areas was practically assured in a meeting Monday afternoon of the two official bodies with a group of farmers. About 40 persons attended.

Final details are to be worked out in a special meeting next Monday, and the principal provisions will be a contract to reimburse the Muenster fire department for its services and also an official statement assigning local firemen to rural areas and relieving both them and the city of liability in an accident occurring in line of duty.

Problems of legality accounted for most of the previous delay in working out an agreement. As explained by Judge Shelby Fletcher the county is not empowered to provide fire fighting equipment except on a majority vote in a county wide election. Judge Fletcher also explained that the county was attempting to get surplus government fire equipment under provisions of the Civil Defense act.

The solution apparently agreed on is a contract whereby the Muenster fire department receives $1000 a year for its service. That arrangement was preferred over an alternate plan allowing a fixed fee for each fire call answered because it assures a definite revenue for the equipment fund.

Mayor Herbert Meurer said the city's old tank-pumper truck will be given an early repair job so as to be available for immediate service, but the city is looking forward to a more dependable and more versatile unit as soon as possible, especially if it can get some assurance that its contract with the county can be renewed each year in the future.

WHY MR. K. IS MAD

The Conference Board has just released some most interesting statistics. They are particularly intriguing at this particular time when Mr. Khrushchev is vilifying President Eisenhower. Many reasons have been ascribed as to why Mr. K. has launched his intemperate, uncalled-for, unreasonable, vitriolic attack on our Chief Executive. The best one advanced to date, in our opinion, is that Nikita is just a nasty fellow and that he's been caught with his nastiness showing.

Now, we'd like to make a guess. Could it be that Mr. K. is just plain jealous of Ike and America? It's now 47 years since the Reds took over in Russia. Almost half a century under Communist rule has produced little or no improvement in the living standard of the Russian counterparts of Joe Doakes over that which they enjoyed (?) under the Czars. Most certainly the Russian citizen of today has no more, probably has less, freedom than he had prior to the Russian Revolution of 1917.

What Mr. K. saw on his recent trip to the U.S.A., must have convinced him that his Communist Russia has a long, long way to travel before it catches up with Capitalist America. We repeat, our guess is that Mr. K. is just plain jealous.

And now for those Conference Board statistics mentioned in the opening paragraph. Those figures compare the work times required to buy seventeen selected consumer goods in New York City and Moscow. We pass on some of these:

To earn enough money to purchase 1 round of Rib Roast Beef, a New Yorker has to work 21 minutes; his "comrade" in Moscow must toil 1 hour and 22 minutes, just 4 times as long. For a quart of milk Ivan has to work 4 times as long as Sam, 31 minutes compared with 8 minutes. For a pound of butter, it takes a Muscovite 9 times as long as a New Yorker, 3 hours and 4 minutes.

When it comes to shodding himself the Russian has to work 8 1/2 times as long to purchase a pair of men's leather oxford shoes, 61 hours compared with 7 hours. It's even worse in the case of women's leather oxfords—he works 11 times as long, 57 1/2 hours versus 5 hours and 10 minutes.

Cleanliness is general rated next in line to godliness. Nikita and his henchmen deny God to the Russian people, but apparently let them keep themselves physically clean — at a price. To obtain a cake of toilet soap, requires 10 1/2 times as much in Moscow as in New York, 32 minutes as opposed to 3 minutes.

To purchase a rayon street dress for Mrs. Ivan, a Russian worker puts in 16 times as much working time as does the American, 73 1/2 hours compared with 4 hours and 36 minutes. He is much more fortunate when it comes to buying a wool suit for himself it only takes him 11 times as long, 275 hours in Moscow versus 23 hours in New York.

But sugar is the sourest commodity that the Russian buys, that is "sourest" as to the comparative price he pays in toil for a pound of it — 21 times as much, 1 hour and 4 minutes against 3 minutes toil by an American worker.

The Conference Board has this to say about shirts: "If the Russian worker gives a friend the shirt off his back it is, indeed, a generous gesture, for a cotton shirt represents almost two eight-hour days of his labor. By contrast, the American worker earns enough in less than an hour to purchase a cotton shirt."

About the commodity that Nikita imbibes with such reckless abandon, The Conference Board makes this comment: "Even the solace offered by vodka is harder to attain in Moscow than in New York. The Muscovite spends 6 hours and 19 minutes on the job to earn a pint of the liquor; the New Yorker 1 hour and 22 minutes.

At the risk of redundancy, we say again: It just could be that inspiring Mr. K's raving and ranting against Mr. E and the U.S.A., is that green-eyed monster, Mr. Jealousy. At any rate, we can thank our lucky stars that we live in Capitalist America instead of in Communist Russia.

FRITTERING AWAY YOUR MONEY

The House of Representatives voted the National Science Foundation the sum of $160 million for this fiscal year. Shortly thereafter, the Foundation, made a grant of $50,000 to a university for a study of bird sounds.

That brought an acid and apt comment from Representative Gross of Iowa: "Is it too much to hope the day will come when some foundation richly endowed by Congress, will make a study and record for posterity the anguished sounds of taxpayers when they read how their money is being frittered away?"

Texas traffic crashes of all types have averaged over 271,000 each year for the past five years.

FEDERAL WASTE

One of the flaws in the U. S. foreign aid program has been pointed up during Congressional discussion of military aid abroad.

Far from being too little and too late, American military help too often has turned out to be too much too soon to countries unprepared to handle it.

There was, for instance, the case admitted by a defense department official in which the United States gave 421 jet planes to a Far Eastern ally whose air force boasted only 186 qualified jet pilots.

As another example, the U. S. shipped more F-84F jet planes to Germany than there are pilots there. There may have been some justification for this, since defense officials explained that storage costs for the planes are lower in Germany than in this country.

But defense planners who ask for more and more money to spend will have a hard time explaining why 255 tanks valued at almost $9 million were sent to another country which had an active tank force of only 30 men. That figured out to eight tanks per man.

These and other cases were reported by the General Accounting Office, which keeps tabs on federal waste.

Some 12,000 books are published annually in the United States, totaling 750 million copies.

INVASION CHOKED OFF

The march of the fire ants across the South and Southwest may soon be ended. Entomologists have found that, given enough poisoned peanut butter, the varmints will eat themselves to death.

The peanut butter, which the ants relish because of its high protein content, is mixed with a poison called kepone. It is then packed in soda straws, which are cut into thirds and scattered throughout the ant-infested area. In one experiment, every ant in the treated area had swallowed a lethal portion of the loaded peanut butter within two weeks.

The entomologists are to be commended for their work. It promises to rid the country of a pest that has been giving farmers and ranchers a king-size headache, and without killing other living things as the old method of dousing the ants with insecticides had done. — Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

The nation's biggest health program is overweight, in the view of Dr. E. Vincent Askey, new president of the American Medical Association. He adds that we Americans are eating more and better but exercising less — "As a result, actuarial statistics show that an alarmingly large number of persons are seriously overweight, and obesity and long life usually don't go together.

ARE POLITICS DIRTY?

By Michael J. Howlett, Vice President, Sun Steel Company

THE GREEKS had a word for those who avoided public affairs—that word was "Idiot." They also had a law that every man had to take one side or another in a public uprising. They can teach us something about politics.

To use the word "politics" as a label for something evil and dirty is extremely unwise and dangerous. Such an attitude strikes at the very roots of our country. Democratic government cannot work without people who are willing to engage in politics and in public service.

A TRAGIC Howlett viewpoint was reported by a public opinion poll a few years ago. A majority of adults interviewed said they hoped that their children would never become politicians. This presupposes that all political activity is rotten. No view could be more disastrous to America.

OUR WORLD does not tolerate a vacuum. This is as true in the affairs of men as in the realm of physics. When people start leaving politics to the other fellow, willing usurpers will easily be found to fill the gap. If we do not strive through group action to give life and vitality to our convictions, we can be sure that men with base motives will take our place and advance their own convictions.

AS INTELLIGENT citizens we have a duty to our fellow men. We must bring into the political arena our deepest and finest spiritual convictions. For when the Christian virtues are not translated into action, souls are lost and the foundations of good society crumble. If society is to be improved it must draw upon religious truths. Society can do this only if each one of us is active as an individual in political affairs.

We can influence politics in two ways: first by individual action and secondly by group action. In fact to be most effective as individuals we must learn to work with others. Just as no man is an island to himself, so can no man or group say to another, "I have no need of you." We get things done in groups, and this requires sacrifice on the part of each of us.

Both good and bad influences work on a political party. Which shall win out depends upon the numbers of high-minded individuals who join the party ranks and seek to direct its actions and policies.

We cannot justify political laziness by saying we dislike the people with whom we must associate. We may not like all the members of the human race, but can we resign from it?

To be interested in politics is a matter of survival.

A French philosopher once wrote that "As soon as public service ceases to be the chief business of the citizens so that they would rather serve with their money than with their persons, the State is not far from its fall." This is as true today as it was in the past.

THE ANSWER to our political problems is more political action—not less. Politics is an exciting adventure. It is an education. It is a sharing in the great task of improving our world.

TEXAS STATE OPTICAL

At TSO you are sure about your eye condition because you receive the two most important aspects of an eye examination. First, the interior of each eye is examined for evidence of disease with the ophthalmoscope—an instrument used by both medical doctors (MD's) and optometric doctors (OD's). Second, your eyes are examined for visual abnormalities such as astigmatism, near or farsightedness and muscle imbalance.

If needed, glasses or contact lenses are fitted for the clearest, most comfortable vision possible.

Donna Hofbauer And Donald Glover Say Vows at Mass

New Orleans, Louisiana, is the honeymoon setting for Mr. and Mrs. Donald R. Glover, married Saturday in Sacred Heart Church. After the trip, the former Miss Donna Ann Hofbauer and Mr. Glover will live in Dallas.

The Rev. Martin Fischer celebrated the nuptial high mass at 11 a.m. and performed the double ring ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Andy Hofbauer of Muenster and Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Glover of Oklahoma City.

Sacred Heart men's choir and Anthony Luke, organist, presented the nuptial music. Acolytes were cousins of the bride: Dale Hofbauer, John Paul and Ricky Endres, and Chris Walter. Yellow gladioli greenery and candles adorned the altar.

Mr. Hofbauer presented his daughter for marriage. Donna was radiant in an original gown of hand clipped Chantilly lace over bouquet taffeta, the cobwebby lace complementing the curved silhouette of the dome skirt. The tiny figurine bodice was ornamented with a taffeta bow at the waistline, embroidered scalloped edged the crescent neckline and fitted three-quarter length sleeves, and unpressed pleats at the back created the shapely chapel train. Her tiered veil of French silk illusion was shoulder length, caught to a Swedish crown of pearls and she carried a bouquet of white roses — these she placed on the Blessed Virgin's altar after the service.

Adding traditional sentiment, the bride wore a borrowed crystal necklace, given by her father to her mother on their wedding day, and for something old carried a dainty antique handkerchief belonging to her grandmother, Mrs. John Walter who, with Mr. Walter, attended the service.

The bride's three attendants were identically gowned, wearing sheaths of yellow embossed taffeta with bouffant overskirts of yellow silk organza. They had matching half hats with circular veils and carried baskets of Marguerite daisies.

Miss Virginia O'Brien of Tyler was maid of honor, and the bride's sister, Miss Jeanine Hofbauer, and a friend, Miss Peggy Lobb of Plano were bridesmaids.

Groom's attendants were the bride's brother, Larry Hofbauer of El Paso, best man, and friends, Bill Mitchell of Dallas and James Cicero of McKinney, groomsmen.

Immediately after the ceremony some 125 relatives and friends of the couple gathered in the Parish Hall for a reception and wedding banquet catered by Mrs. Joe Lehnertz. Miss Sandra Shaw of Dallas registered the guests.

Bride's table, done in white and yellow, held the large twin-hearts cake and decorations of wedding bells and daisies.

For traveling to New Orleans Mrs. Glover wore a daron suit in multi shades of blue with black accessories and a yellow carnation corsage.

She has been a staff nurse at St. Paul's Hospital in Dallas where she was graduated from nursing school and Mr. Glover is employed in Dallas since his graduation last year from the University of Oklahoma with a degree in electrical engineering.

Out of town relatives and friends attended the wedding from Dallas, Oklahoma City, Lindsay and Gainesville, the latter group including the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Walter.

An outing Monday at Lake Texoma was a birthday celebration for Patsy Streng in observance of her 14th birthday which occurred Wednesday, July 13. Enjoying the outdoor fun and a picnic dinner with Patsy were her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Streng and her brother John Henry and Mr. and Mrs. Andy Monday and children Roy, Dolores, John and Joan.

Lt. Lloyd King Is Wed in Virginia

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Harry Heatwole of Harrisonburg and Mrs. Louis Roberg of Muenster. Mr. and Mrs. Roberg attended the wedding.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of silk organza and Alencon lace and carried a cascade of Stephanotis and a white orchid. Her two attendants, one of them her sister, wore pink silk organza dresses and carried colonial bouquets of pink carnations.

Wedding reception was held at Harrisonburg's Sportswood Country Club after which the couple left on a wedding trip to Florida. They will make their home at Fort Sill, Okla. Lt. King was graduated from Gainesville High School in 1953, attended Gainesville College and Austin College and was graduated from the U. S. Military Academy at West Point this June.

Sister Theresina Reports Activity In Switzerland

Message from Switzerland penned by Sister Theresina to keep her Muenster friends informed on her sojourn reached The Enterprise this week. The travelogue, written from Neu St. Johann tells her movements from June 18 to July 4.

Frequently amid details of vacation activities she adds "I wish my friends there who, with their parting gift, are helping me see these sights, could enjoy them with me."

One thrilling experience was an expedition — no less — by a lift to the top of the Santis, a mountain over 7500 feet high. ("I climbed it once as a girl.") With her brother and others in the party — the lift carries 40 — she visited atop the mountain at a hotel, a television station, and radio and weather station, and looked far into other lands.

The grandest structure at Neu St. Johann is the church, one in a million for beauty, and a former Benedictine Abbey Church built over 300 years ago. It still contains immense cabinets that hold books hundreds of years old. And the sound of the bells ringing together, defies description.

In addition to visits with relatives and friends at their homes she visited a nun friend at a Cloistered Convent of Franciscans where they have perpetual adoration and for this visit the two were separated by a double grill.

The weather comes in for a mention too. 54 degrees. ("I wear woollen socks to bed to warm my feet".)

Amid joy there is sadness also and one day she attended a funeral, that of her spiritual mother. It was a serene service done in old world ceremony. The burial takes place before the requiem mass, the body being drawn to its resting place by a black horse, draped in black. All the mourners are dressed completely in black and closest relatives will wear black for a full year. After the mass, through which one kneels constantly (no cushioned kneeling benches either), everyone returns to the cemetery. Then there is a "Totenmahl," a banquet at a hotel. As spiritual daughter of the deceased, Sister Theresina attended and met many friends from childhood days.

While these weeks have been devoted mostly to visiting relatives, a program of coming events unfolds.

A week's tour in inner Switzerland, the World Theatre in Einsiedeln, the boarding school she attended in Menzingen, a visit to the grave of the Patron of Switzerland, Bruder Klaus at Sachseln, and Luzern ("I shall simply enjoy.")

Highlight of it all will be Rome, July 23 to 30.

Munich, Germany, is also on the schedule for five days and then comes the Passion Play in Oberammergau.

In closing: "To all my friends, my best wishes. It is simply impossible to write individual letters, also too expensive considering postage, so I hope to reach you all through the paper."

CDA Court Hears Reports for Month

Reports of activity during the past month were heard at the July meeting of the local court Catholic Daughters of America, this constituting the principal business of the evening.

Librarian Mrs. J. M. Weinzappel told that more than 200 books are being checked out each week, that some new books have been bought and that some are on loan from Sacred Heart Library for the summer. The City installed a soft drink machine in the city hall, the proceeds going to the library.

In the mission report Mrs.

Joe Swirczynski said she has 150 pounds of clothing packed for shipment. She added that St. Vincent's Store in Fort Worth is soliciting old furniture and worn electrical appliances. Store personnel repair the articles for re-sale. Contributions may be left at the Swirczynski home.

Before adjournment members made up a spiritual bouquet to send to Father Christopher Paladino as a token of appreciation to their former chaplain.

The group met at the home of Mrs. Tony Gremminger holding the meeting on the lawn, then going inside for refreshments and a sing-song with Mrs. Kenneth Dobbs playing the piano.

Wally Luttmers Host Lawn Party

Mr. and Mrs. Wally Luttmers had an outdoor party at their home Sunday evening by way of showing their appreciation to those who helped in various ways while Wally was in the hospital suffering from burns he received in an accident the latter part of May.

Those who were present were Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Haverkamp, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Zimmerer and children, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Kupper and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ramie Hesse and daughter and the hosts' neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Willis Robinson.

County Librarian To Resign Sept. 1

Mrs. Carrie Hudspeth, county librarian, turned her resignation over to the commissioners court this week, giving health as the reason. Her resignation is dated for Sept. 1.

She has been librarian for about 17 years. Members of the court expressed regret as they accepted the resignation.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Carlson and daughter Joalene have moved from Muenster to make their home at Gainesville on the Bonner place west of the city.

never have believed: that a young leopardess was to take the black lamb as her own, shielding and protecting it.

Months later the young shepherd's heart is gladdened when he sees a black woolly animal playing among a herd of deer. His grandmother refuses to believe such wild imaginations. But she sees for herself and believes even stranger things.

With deep perception, Agnes Smith has created a beautifully written story of the forest creatures and of the people who live near them and whose lives were touched with a strange selflessness through the love of animals for one another.

NOTES FROM

"An Edge of the Forest" by Agnes Smith, on the shelves at City Library, is a junior literary selection chosen as an outstanding book for children in grades four and five and up — even adults will find it absorbing.

Reviewing briefly: Near a dense wood live a shepherd and his family — his mother, his wife, his three sons and his young daughter. Hundreds of sheep live on the farm too and there are many sheep dogs, all well trained except one which had been spoiled from puppyhood by the little girl.

One day the third son is tending the first large flock entrusted entirely to his care when suddenly the sheep scatter in panic. After the old sheep dog had calmed the herd and driven them back to the fold, the shepherd missed a young ewe and her black lamb (his father's favorite) — and the pet dog, now fully grown but still hopelessly undisciplined.

The shepherd was never to know what caused the panic, or that the ewe and her lamb were driven into the forest by the dog suddenly turned mad, nor something he could

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

Several ranchers in the Muenster-Saint Jo area of the Upper Elm-Red Soil Conservation District are resting a part of their pasture grasses by removing the cattle and other livestock from one or more of their pastures.

Improvement in growth, thickness and stand and increased forage production of the better species of grasses can be obtained by resting the grass until frost. This method of taking half and leaving half during the growing season will assure a good winter pasture and more grass in following years.

Among farmers and ranchers deferring their grazing lands are Al Trubenbach, J. C. Donnell, C. A. Willis, J. A. Stovall, J. A. McCall and Marvin Mayberry. Button clover, a fall-planted pasture clover, has shown it can grow and produce well in this area, providing good grazing and a good seed crop. Seed crops are being harvested by a number of cooperators in the area this summer including J. C. Embry of Saint Jo. He is using a vacuum or suction type harvester. The buttons are blown into a screen-covered trailer, then piled in the field for combining. J. C. estimates he is getting at least a fourth more seed than would be possible by combining direct.

Weldon Dennis also has a vacuum harvester to use on his clover. And he has vetch on some old needlegrass field areas that produced a fair seed crop.

J. C. Donnell has plans to harvest button clover seed on the Howard Mays place south of Saint Jo.

Air Conditioning
On Lease Offered
By Lone Star Gas

A gas air conditioning unit lease program, believed to be one of the first of its kind in the Southwest, has been announced by Lone Star Gas Company.

Lone Star feels the program will be particularly attractive to business establishments. Certain businesses may accrue tax and conservation of working capital benefits by leasing instead of purchasing equipment. The lease plan also is available to residential customers.

The program, offering two models of Bryant gas air conditioners, gives the lessee an opportunity to obtain summer comfort for a nominal monthly charge with no further concern of such items as maintenance, routine service or capital outlay, a Lone Star of-icial said. Lone Star chose to offer the Bryant unit as it permits installation with a minimum of disturbance to the customer's property. Bryant units are available in 3- and 4 1/2-ton models and are regarded as add-on units. Add-on units are installed outside a building thus requiring no floor space.

The lease term is for a 12 month period. The monthly leasing charge includes delivery and installation of unit, installation of concrete slab, necessary coils, water piping, Thermostats and wiring. There will be no charge for service or replacement of any part on the lease equipment, the Lone Star official said.

Marlene Bezner Is Bride of J. E. Bass In Lindsay Rites

After a wedding trip to New Mexico, Mr. and Mrs. James Edward Bass, married Saturday, will make their home in Fort Worth. Mrs. Bass is the former Miss Marlene Claire Bezner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Bezner of Lindsay and the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Bass of Fort Worth.

Father Damian Wewers celebrated the nuptial high mass and directed the exchange of vows in a double ring ceremony at 4 p.m. in St. Peter's Church.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal gown of white hand clipped Chantilly lace with basque bodice, decollete neckline and long sleeves. The bouffant skirt had an aisle-wide court sweeping train. A crown of pearls held her waist-length veil and she carried a white orchid, feathered carnations and stephanotis atop a mother-of-pearl prayerbook, a gift from the groom. She also carried a blue and silver rosary, a gift from a grant-aunt, the late Mrs. Charlotte Michenfelder.

Miss Rosemary Bezner was her sister's maid of honor, and another sister Miss Bernadette Bezner, and the groom's sister, Miss Ethel Bass of Fort Worth, were bridesmaids. Their dresses of nylon chiffon were street length with elbow-length puffed sleeves and satin belts. The maid of honor wore in light blue, Bernadette wore yellow and Ethel wore mist green. They completed their costumes with open-crown picture hats and matching lace fans and carnations.

Groom's attendants were his brother David Bass of Fort Worth, best man, and the bride's brother Joe J. Bezner of Travis Air Force Base, Calif., and William A. Whitfield Jr. of Fort Worth, groomsmen. Charles Freeman of College Station and Charlie Gallagher of Fort Worth were ushers.

Serving as acolytes were the bride's brother, Michael Bezner, and Billy Schmitz, Joe Bezner Jr., and Mike and Ronnie Fuhrmann.

Nuptial music was furnished by St. Cecilia's choir with Mrs. William Schmitz at the organ. After mass, while the bride placed a bouquet of blue carnations on the Blessed Virgin's altar, Mrs. Bruno Zimmerer, a cousin, was soloist for "Mother at Your Feet."

A reception with dinner for 300 guests was held in the Lindsay Parish Hall, Mrs. Joe Lehnertz catering, and Miss Alice Voth and Miss Virginia Wolf of Fort Worth registering those attending.

For the trip to New Mexico, Mrs. Bass wore a light grey tailored silk shirtwaist dress with white accessories. She is a graduate of Lindsay High and St. Joseph's School of Nursing in Fort Worth. Mr. Bass was graduated from Lanier High, attended Arlington State College, and is employed with the Texas Highway Department.

has proposed a contract that is just as legal as the other . . . for a flat fee of $1,000 a year and no additional pay for fire runs . . . which will give the court an opportunity to show its eagerness for cooperation.

And that contract, incidentally, represents a good deal for everybody. To rural areas hereabouts it means continuation of a service which has saved many thousands of dollars worth of property every year. To the city of Muenster it means an adequate fund for finance and upkeep of necessary equipment.

Reluctantly this column is about to begin a two weeks vacation. Early Friday morning at the Nocona hospital Con is scheduled for gall stones surgery. It isn't urgent. Just an affliction that has been bothersome for some time, but professional advice is to eliminate the trouble before it becomes serious and possibly develops into an emergency. Besides, this is about the most convenient time of the year. And there is compensation, in the thought that at least some of the time will be a sort of vacation.
