City to Continue Maximum Credit On Fire Insurance

Muenster will continue to enjoy the maximum 25 per cent credit on its fire insurance rates, according to a report released Monday by the State Board of Insurance.

The report included a long list of Texas towns and cities which will have changes of rates effective April 1. Muenster was not included on the list.

For several years this city has received the maximum discount of 25 per cent for its low ratio of fire losses, which is determined by comparing the total annual insurance premium with the total annual payment for fire losses.

During the past year Muenster has also experienced a substantial drop in its key rate, from 48 cents to 41 cents. Most of that reduction was allowed on the city's greater fire fighting efficiency resulting from the purchase of its new fire truck. Additional reduction resulted from a survey which showed a low percentage of roofs with combustible material.

1960 Heart Fund Drive Organized In Cooke County

Cooke County's Heart Association has named Mrs. J. B. Pace and Mrs. B. M. Bryant of Gainesville to head the 1960 Heart Fund drive in the county and Mrs. J. M. Weinzapfel has been named as Muenster's chairman.

While the campaign is still in the planning stages here, its methods will follow closely those outlined for the county with the climax Friday night, Feb. 26.

In accepting her appointment as general chairman, Mrs. Pace reminded Cooke County that heart and blood vessel diseases are the nation's No. 1 health enemy, taking more lives each year than all other causes of death combined. This fund is the best defense against these diseases, she added, because it supports research, education and community service programs of the American Heart Association, its affiliates and chapters.

Through contributions to the campaign in past years the county chapter has placed two types of heart machines in each of the Gainesville hospitals.

Alumni and Choir Join as Sponsors For Sunday Party

Members of the Sacred Heart Alumni and the Church Choir have joined forces in getting ready to sponsor a benefit picnic and supper Sunday in the Parish Hall. Workers report a full program of fun and food lined up and are getting the word around that everybody's invited. They want a big crowd.

The party will be an afternoon and evening event with the usual best-liked games and concession stands. At 5 o'clock the committee in charge of supper will start serving and will continue as long as there are diners. The meal will be a barbeque plate served with accessories. Sandwiches and coffee will also be available.

Proceeds of the joint benefit will be divided between the sponsoring groups to refurbish depleted treasuries. The choir is badly in need of church music and new books and the Alumni has a project for the school.

Full Schedule of Business and Films Marks PTA Meeting

A full schedule of business at the February meeting of the Public School PTA Tuesday night cut program time in half and Mr. and Mrs. Rudy Hellman showed only half of their European travel films as the evening's entertainment feature. They will continue their travelogue at next month's meeting.

First business consisted of electing a senior vice-president to fill the vacancy created by Mrs. J. B. Golden who moved to Lubbock and Mrs. John Mosman was the membership's choice.

In other business the PTA voted to pay off the remaining indebtedness on the school's outdoor concession stand.

Announcements concerned the observance of Public School Week, Feb. 29 to March 4, with the public invited to have lunch with the students on March 1 and an open house on March 4. The open house program will begin at 7 p.m. Students displays will be exhibited in the gym and at 8 o'clock each class will present a talent demonstration in the auditorium.

Another announcement was that the junior class play, directed by Mrs. John Mosman will show to the public on Feb. 26 with curtain time set at 8 p.m. And tentative plans were made for the all-awards banquet, that date to be revealed when arrangements are made by a committee in charge.

Mrs. Paul Fisher, president, conducted the business session and Superintendent L. B. Bruns introduced Mrs. Willard Hertman, the new homemaking teacher.

The highly entertaining films and the accompanying interesting travel talk by Mr. and Mrs. Hellman brought many favorable comments but time ran out. The couple graciously consented to be back at the March meeting and show the remaining films at that time.

The night came to a close with hostesses serving coffee and cookies.

The last period they went into a slump, scoring a single point while St. John's made 16. The final count was 35-30. ## Notes on Building and Improvement

Finishing touches are under way and equipment is being moved into the new building near the east city limit which is to be occupied by a liquor store, coffee shop and lounge. It's a 50 x 100 building of heidite tile and solid glass front with central heating and air conditioning. Openings of each department depend on how soon equipment can be installed.

Both of the city's new homes are making good progress and should be turned over to painters in a few days. Ed Schneider's will have three bedrooms, bath and a half, attached garage, central heating, Albert Schilling's will have two bedroom and attached garage.

New at Myra and well advanced is a cabin size Methodist parsonage to serve as a weekend home for the minister assigned to Sunday duty there.

Near Myra Emmett Sicking has given a general repair and redecorating job to the house he recently vacated when moving to his new home. It will be a tenant house.

At Lindsay Gene Pelzel has finished his new house on Highway 82 near the golf course and expects to move in soon. It's a 3 bedroom brick job with central heat and attached garage.

Paul Endres has used an 8 x 12 offset in his house to add bathrooms to the first and second floors and has remodeled the old bathroom to provide additional down-stairs space.

A parlor type dairy barn with overhead feed storage and automatic feeders has a good start at Mrs. Ben Sicking's farm. It's a 20 x 50 building of modern design with milk piped direct to a bulk cooler.

Roy Atteberry has completed a garage adjoining his rent house in the 100 block of North Oak Street.

A recent expansion at Hofbauer's automatic laundry is the addition of 8 new washers. Next door Hofbauer has installed a stainless steel and glass cabinet type cooler for his dairy products.

A new counter with cabinet space below for storage of records and supplies has been completed at the city hall.

Work is well advanced a half mile west of town on a combination office, workshop and warehouse for Victor Koelzer Well Service. Adjoining space will be used as a parking lot for equipment.

Gene Carter Buys Decatur Newspaper

Gene Carter, a member of the Enterprise staff for about four years in the late thirties and early forties is the new owner of the Wise County Messenger of Decatur and will take charge of the operation there on March 1.

Since leaving here in 1941 Gene has been associated with the Baylor County Banner of Seymour, first as an employee and later as co-owner. Lately, when he learned of the opportunity to buy the Decatur paper he sold out his interest at Seymour in order to make the purchase.

To the Carters the move to Decatur will be almost like returning home. He is a native of Wise County and both of them spent their school days and early married life at Bowie. Gene worked on the Bowie paper before coming to Muenster.

Mrs. H. Hoffman Claimed by Death

Mrs. Hillard Hoffman, 47, a former resident of Saint Jo and Gainesville and well known in this area, died Sunday in a Vernon hospital.

Funeral services were conducted Tuesday at 2 p.m. in the First Methodist Church at Saint Jo with the Rev. Lewis Stuckey, pastor, officiating. Burial was in Mt. Park Cemetery with Scott Brothers Funeral Home directing arrangements.

They lived in Gainesville about ten years while he was with the Soil Conservation Service there. About a year ago he was transferred to Mineral Wells and they had made their home there since that time.

Mrs. Hoffman is survived by her husband; four sisters, Mrs. Allie Suston of Saint Jo, Mrs. Ollie Gibson of Bowie, Mrs. Mollie Pierce of Vernon and Mrs. Nollie Caparotti of Garden Grove, Calif.; and four brothers, W. Ashcraft of Fort Worth, and Jack and B. W. Ashcraft of Leon, Okla.

Another Election Sought on Issue Of County College

Another election on the issue of forming a county wide junior college district is being considered and it may be held in connection with the Democratic Primary on May 7.

Members of the Gainesville school board at their meeting last week voted to request the commissioners court for another election. They favored submitting the same proposition that was defeated 1220 to 1080 in a special election on December 19 of last year.

That issue was on creation of a county wide district to be supported by a tax of 20 cents on $100 of assessed valuation. The district, if approved, was to take over the administration of the present Gainesville College, which is now a part of the Gainesville school system.

The method of calling the election was not definitely determined. County Judge Shelby Fletcher said he believes that it will have to originate as a new petition to the commissioners court. He added that further dealing with the Texas Education Agency probably is not required because conditions which received TEA approval have not been changed. He also said that a new start with new approvals will be necessary in making up the list of candidates for the 7-member board of regents.

MHS Teams Lose To Alvord, Chico In 37-B Playoffs

The girls' game was almost as one sided. After leading 16-12 in the first period Chico put on the steam and zoomed to a 40-19 half time lead. After that Chico coasted to a 46-30 third period count and the 54-36 final score. The hot shot of the contest was Chico's Carlisle, who hit 30 points in three quarters. Muenster scorers were Fisher 18, Dern 12 and Hellman 6.

On Leave Before Transfer

Schedule of Coming Events

SATURDAY, SUNDAY, Feb. 20-21, District I VFW and Auxiliary convention, VFW Post Home and Public School.

WEDNESDAY, Feb. 24, City Library open in City Hall, 10 to 5.

What's wrong, what's right, with today's America? That's the big question currently claiming the attention of many of our leaders in the fields of morality and sociology and treated at considerable length in this week's issue of U. S. News and World Report.

As we recall the flood of news on TV scandals, police corruption, teen-age crime, tax dodging, and a widespread atmosphere of dishonesty and selfishness, we become aware of what has been described as an erosion of our morality. It is a dangerous thing which undermines our basic standards of right and wrong and prompts us to regard personal gain and gratification as primary motives governing our thoughts and actions.

Other factors, as recognized by historians who studied the decline of other great civilizations, are the slackness and softness resulting from welfare statism. Some of our cradle to the grave notions of security are sapping the stamina, self reliance and determination upon which our country's moral and physical greatness was built.

There are opinions also on the modern trend of bringing up children, especially the silly sentimentality and pampering which permits them to grow up with a feeling of selfish irresponsibility.

These things are serious. Together they make up a general pattern of corruption similar to that which weakened ancient Rome and made it an easy victim of the invading barbarians, the kind of corruption which red leaders confidently predict will eventually make this country fall into their hands like an over-ripe fruit.

Alarming as the signs are, we can still derive comfort from expert assurance that the situation is far from hopeless. As a leading churchman says "Americans still have all the moral stamina you want, if it's honestly required of them. There must be a consecration to a higher ideal." If more people will strive to understand their part in the Eternal plan, their dependence on God and their duty to live by the standards He has laid down, they can look for a strengthening of both physical and spiritual values.

A historian observes that "There's still more faith and bounce in people generally than there was in the last centuries of Rome." That's encouraging. And it is a condition that many of us are aware of. We are far from a general acceptance of the theory that graft, corruption, immorality and aimlessness is our way of living. We are still close enough to correct standards to be aware that these things are evils which should be rooted out.

One thing however, should be understood. Our present concern about the future of this country is not in itself a sufficient inducement to save it. Materialistic people will not quit seeking their personal gratification simply because they are told the handwriting is on the wall. Rather they will accept the eventual crash as inevitable and go on getting what they can as long as possible.

The solution must be a "consecration to a higher ideal." America's big need today is an awakening of conscience . . . the realization of right and wrong with an awareness that the Supreme Being holds each one of us accountable for his stewardship.

This doesn't consist of mere fuzzy ideas about the existence of God without relation to our every day living. As a matter of fact, laxness in the presence of professed religious belief is probably responsible for more immorality than outright materialism. There must be a revival of the old time conviction that the Eternal law is intended to be guide in every person's every day living.

Getting that idea across is usually believed to be the assignment of religious leaders. But that isn't necessarily the case. We shouldn't wait to be reluctantly sold. Rather, as intelligent beings, we have the responsibility to do some serious thinking on our own to determine whether we conscientiously live up to the standards laid down for us.

There are such matters, for instance, as cheating in our dealings. Like taking unfair advantage in a transaction, evading taxes, making unjust

$5 MILLION TO WORK LIKE 200

A qualified witness, who has travelled over and around the globe some 500,000 miles in the past 15 years in the arduous task of directing the American Catholic Bishops' world wide relief and rehabilitation agency, says that the so-called "population explosion" we have been reading about is in reality a "hunger explosion".

"The time bomb of the 20th century is the hunger explosion among millions, starving and homeless overseas," Msgr. Edward E. Swanstrom, executive director of Catholic Relief Services — Nation Catholic Welfare Conference, told diocesan directors of the 1960 Bishops' Relief Fund Appeal in recent regional meetings across the US: "The problem is not too many people, but rather their inability to help themselves. This is an explosion of people for whom we have not done enough."

By way of example, Msgr. Swanstrom refers to the 350,000 Moroccan school children his organization is helping to feed, the tragic, homeless Arab refugees of the Near East it has clothed and the medical battle it is conducting against tuberculosis and leprosy in the Far East. The newest theatres of operation are Africa, with missions in 14 countries, and South America with missions in ten countries. And in all the underdeveloped areas among the 62 countries it serves, CRS-NCWC is placing special emphasis on self-help projects.

At the meeting in New York, Cardinal Spellman noted that during his now traditional Christmas visits to American troops in the far places of the globe he had taken the opportunity of observing first-hand the grand-scale mission of mercy being conducted by this organization. And the Cardinal emphasized a point too often overlooked: that through the cooperation of the US Department of Agriculture in making grain surpluses available, the eager assistance of more than a million unpaid volunteer workers and the high degree of efficiency achieved through its 15 years of vigorous direction and cumulative know-how, CRS-NCWC makes each dollar collected in the annual Bishops' appeal do the work of 40!

The dollars that will flow into the Bishops' Relief Fund from well-fed, well-housed, well-clothed Americans in the more than 16,500 parishes across the nation on Laetare Sunday, March 27, will deal with no mysterious biological phenomenon. Rather, they will feed and clothe and house and heal uncounted multitudes of the hungry, ragged, homeless and sick who are trapped by circumstance in a world that has been out of joint for two generations.

UNCLE SAM'S PROPERTY

The following editorial is reprinted from the New York City Daily News: "The House Government Operations Committee has just taken an inventory of all the property the Federal Government owns. These holdings add up in value to the enormous figure of $265 billion — including 778 million acres of land (one-fifth of the nation's area) valued at $72 billion.

"Not only that, but in the last year the Government has acquired $2 billion worth of property that it didn't have a year ago. "If this keeps up, Uncle Sam some day may have enough property to liquidate the national debt, now standing at about $290 billion — assuming, of course, the debt doesn't increase faster than Uncle's grabbing of property."

YOUR NEXT PAY RAISE

The Pioche, Nevada, Record asks an unusual question: "How do you want your next pay raise — in more money or in lower prices?"

This was prompted by a statement made by Dr. Ralph Robey, a nationally known economist. Since World War II, he points out, almost every American worker has received a wage increase every year. He then says: "In my personal judgment the time has come to start using the entire growth in output per man-hour for a reduction of prices. This will not undermine the welfare of workers. It would mean that their present wages would buy more and more as the cost of living declined. That certainly is better than getting slightly higher wages which buy less and less."

This proposal is sure to receive the back-of-the-hand treatment from labor union officials, who seem to work on the principle that their duty is to force round after round of wage increases on the country, no matter how much inflation accompanies them. But what does the worker gain if his wage increases are canceled out, or more, by prices? What does he gain if the worth of his old-age pension and other benefits are imperilled by the endless wage-price spiral? And what happens to the millions of people who must exist in whole or large part on fixed dollar incomes?

This would be a stronger country, a more prosperous country, a more productive country, and a healthier country if Dr. Robey's plan were followed.

The law of diminishing returns can apply to taxes as well as any other exorbitant demand on the people. With the recent hike in gasoline taxes, motorists are expected to pay $5.4 billion this year — $2.3 billion to the federal government and over $3.1 billion to state and local treasuries. But as motorists turn more and more to economy cars, average car mileage is declining ominously . . . from 10,290 in 1952 to 9,620 last year . . . making the tax increase largely self-defeating.

THIS DOES IT

Obtaining convictions of drunken drivers has been a distressing problem to the guardians of law and order since the day of the horse and buggy.

But Tucson, Ariz., has developed a system that is described by American Municipal News as "almost foolproof", and which would seem to be both feasible and economical for most any community afflicted with this menace to public safety.

"The Police Department uses a movie camera to record the actions of the suspect," says the publication in describing the Tucson treatment. "The subject is asked to pronounce a number of reliable tongue-twisters. If he manages to get by that hurdle, he is asked to repeat, around the rugged rock the ragged rascal ran". He is then asked to walk a straight line, close his eyes while touching the tip of his nose with his fingers, and pick a few coins off the floor — all of those actions being recorded on film and sound-track.

"The movies cost the city about $12 each and are admissible as courtroom evidence. Under the new system, there is no record of counsel having entered an innocent plea for his client after being given a sneak preview of the film."

Each movie that saves a court trail would be an excellent investment, we would say. But, far more important, the anguish of an inebriated actor, striving to appear composed in the hard eye of the camera, to say nothing of his ensuing conviction and the official record thereof, could swiftly wipe out drunk driving in America — if the Tucson treatment could be made universal.

WHAT TO SAY TO GOD

By Frank Sheed, author of MAP OF LIFE, THEOLOGY FOR BEGINNERS, and others

Since God is everywhere, since therefore we are never out of His presence for so much as an instant, it would be strange not to talk to Him. Probably no believer would ignore Him totally; but it is not sufficient to throw an occasional remark in His direction. The more we fall into the habit of conversation with Him, the closer we approach normality.

WHAT does one say to Him? Whatever is in one's mind. That He already knows our mind more intimately than we know it ourselves — or, selves makes no at least, it makes one difference, it means that we must not omit things for fear that He might not like them. He knows all that is in our minds. Yet we should tell Him all the same. He wishes it that way. We need it that way — because we are men and speech is utterly normal to us. In daily life some of the most satisfying things we say are said to one who already knows them: it delights the other to hear them, it delights ourselves to say them.

There is no need to prepare a speech for Him: He is not a critical audience, sitting in judgment upon our eloquence. Indeed it is not strictly necessary to put our prayer into words at all. We may simply concentrate our whole mind on some particular idea or feeling. But words belong to our nature.

PRAYER is the lifting of the heart and mind to God. The mind is what we think with, the heart is what we love with. We shall tell God whatever is in our mind or heart, and over the space even of a day that can mean an extraordinary mixture of things: and the mixture will change from day to day.

But certain things we must say. Not all of them need be in every prayer, but they will form the framework of our prayer as a whole. Our conversation with God will involve our telling Him of our adoration, our gratitude and our sorrow. It will involve telling Him our needs and the needs of others and asking Him to grant them.

ADORATION is the awareness and utterance of His perfection. That He loves us and wants us to love Him does not diminish His infinity or the gap between it and our creatureliness. We cannot live continuously in a state of stricken awe, but the heart that has never missed a beat at all at the thought of God's majesty and beauty lives a miserably impoverished life.

The necessity of saying thank you to God hardly needs explaining. Neither, alas, does the necessity of uttering our sorrow for the countless ways in which mind and heart have followed their own devices in preference to His will. We cannot converse with anyone to whom we have failed in duty without telling him our sorrow, and there is no one we have failed as we have failed God.

Adoration, gratitude, and repentance are of the very essence of prayer.

Freedom of the Press, Here and Now

Everywhere that a tyrant's heel has ground most brutally, there has sprung up an "underground" movement. And its heart always is a printing press. For the urge that dwells deep in a freedom-loving people to know the truth is hard to kill. In fact it cannot be killed — not even by the best-organized despotism in history.

The many stories of underground presses that have come down through the ages of trial and error by many dictators is an inspiration to the men and women of America's press.

We know that the truth can actually be printed and circulated under the very heel of a tyrant's boot. But a far better way of keeping people informed is through their own free press which operates not in some dark cellar, but on main street, right next door to the grocer, the postoffice, the drug store. ** To preserve that freedom is the first obligation of the American people and the American Press. It is our only hope of maintaining our other cherished freedoms.

Workshop and Talk Highlight Program Of NCCW Meeting

A morning workshop, and an afternoon program on the Catholic Press, Libraries and Literature, provided a full agenda for members of the Sherman Deanery National Council of Catholic Women at their quarterly meeting Thursday with ladies of Denison's St. Patrick Parish as hostesses.

The morning discussions conducted by Deanery President Mrs. M. J. Reesby of Sherman were on Social Welfare, Communion dresses for Europe's needy so dear to the Holy Father, Apostleship of Prayer, and the Madonna Plan - lattes for the needy.

After a break for lunch which NCCW members brought with them and enjoyed together there was Benediction and then the afternoon business and program.

The guest speaker was Captain Robert Overman, Catholic Chaplain from Perrin Air Force Base who delighted his audience with a forceful and enthusiastic talk, timely themed to mark Catholic Press Month, observed throughout February. In connection with his subject he called on Mrs. J. M. Weinzapfel, Muenster City Librarian, to tell about the organization and progress of the project sponsored by the Catholic Daughters of America here.

Deanery Moderator, the Very Rev. John Duesman of Sherman, gave the opening prayer and made the closing comments. Introduction of clergy present was made by Msgr.

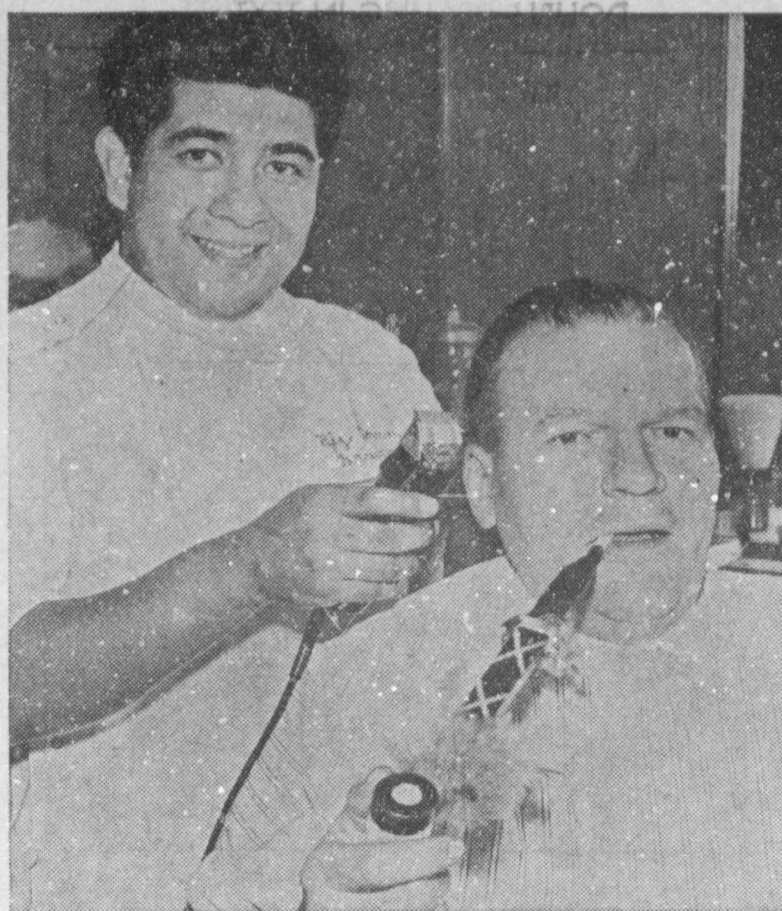

Thomas Zachry of Denison. They were Rev. Martin Fischer of Muenster, Rev. William Lane of Gainesville, Rev. John Untereiner of Pilot Point and Captain Overman.

Parish reports for the quarter were presented by parish presidents including Mrs. Herbert McDaniel of Muenster and Mrs. Gregory Hundt of Lindsay.

About 65 NCCW members were present from Denison, Muenster, Lindsay, Gainesville, Valley View and Pilot Point.

After adjournment the hostesses served coffee and cookies.

Muenster members present were Mmes. Herbert McDaniel, J. M. Weinzapfel, Frank Herr, Gary Hess, M. J. Endres, Tony Gremminger, R. R. Endres, Joe Swirczynski and Frank Bayer. From Lindsay Mmes. Prizes went to Charlotte Schilling and John David Fleitman in a contest to determine the best dancers and to Sandra Cain and Anthony Knabe who were judged the friendliest girl and boy present.

Haverkamps Host All-Family Party

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Haverkamp was the scene of a happy family reunion Sunday, the first time in two years that children and grandchildren of the couple were all together at the same time. Reason for the gathering was Robert Haverkamp who is at home from Rapid City, S. D.

About 30 family members enjoyed seeing each other and visiting and had dinner at noon.

Joining the hosts and their daughter Joyce and Robert were the Richard Schumachers and children and the Leroy Wiesmanns and children of Gainesville, the David Forgeys and daughters and the Travis Wickliffes of Dallas and the Walter Haverkamps and children of Electra. Walter and his family divided their weekend visit with his wife's folks, too, and were Saturday overnight guests with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Morris.

Gets Attention on First Visit Here

Getting all the attention meeting her mother and daddy's relatives on her first visit in Muenster is Sonda Jean Bayer, two-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Bayer who came here from Crockett during the weekend to visit family members. Mrs. Bayer and the baby are having a whole week of visiting with headquarters at the homes of Sonda Jean's grandparents, the Martin Bayers and the Joe Fettes while Donald is in Glen Rose in connection with business and his Extension Service work. He'll return this week for his wife and daughter.

Also weekending in the Bayer home was Patsy Bayer of Fort Worth. She returned to St. Joseph's School of Nursing Monday. Enroute here the Bayers stopped at the House of Studies, a part of Dallas University at Irving, to see his sister, Sister Damien.

Schedule Planned For Third Order's Tridium Services

Final arrangements for the annual tridium for members of the Third Order of St. Francis, Sacred Heart Parish, were announced at the fraternity's meeting Sunday afternoon. The business session in the parish hall followed the group's prayer service in church.

Prefect J. W. Hess, after correspondence with Father Elias Koppert, provincial of Chicago, revealed a schedule of services for the tridium March 1, 2, and 3 to include mass each morning at 8 o'clock followed by a short conference and afternoon services at 2:30 consisting of the way of the cross in church and a general conference afterwards in the Parish Hall. Father Elias will be in charge of the three-day special devotions and sermons.

Tertiaries from Lindsay and Gainesville have been invited to join in the tridium exercises.

Attend Grandson's Profession Rites

FFA Week Will Be Observed Here February 20-27

By Larry Wimmer

The Future Farmers of America is the national organization for boys studying Vocational Agriculture in the public secondary schools.

As an integral part of the program of vocational education in agriculture, the FFA has become well known in recent years. No national student organization enjoys greater freedom of self government under adult counsel and guidance than the FFA.

Organized in November 1928, it has served and offered instruction far further training in farmer-citizenship. Among other things, members learn through active participation how to conduct and take part in public meetings, to speak in public, to buy and sell cooperatively, to solve their own problems, to finance themselves and to assume civic responsibility.

FFA is 100 per cent American in its ideals and outlook and has no outside affiliations. There is no secrecy in connection with any of its activities. National conventions are held annually in Kansas City, Missouri.

National FFA Week comes every year during the last week in February, the week of the anniversary of the birth of George Washington. It is out of deep respect and admiration for George Washington, the farmer whose progressive ways Future Farmers seek to follow that National FFA Week is observed annually at the time of his birthday.

Birthday Honors Fete Elaine Otto

Eighth birthday of Elaine Otto brought two celebrations on St. Valentine's Day . . . a dinner party for the family at noon and an afternoon party for a group of second grade classmates.

Mr. and Mrs. Earle Otto entertained for their daughter. Guests for dinner were the honoree's grandmother, Mrs. Rosalie Trubenbach, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Hoffman and two children of Windthorst and Mr. and Mrs. Billy Joe Mayer of Pilot Point.

Birthday cake and ice cream were served to the children who received Valentines and balloons as favors after an afternoon of games.

Birthday Surprise

A surprise — coming a day before her 17th birthday — greeted Karen Endres Sunday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Endres. Fifteen girl classmates from Sacred Heart High brought the party to Karen with gifts and two decorated cakes and ice cream and her family shared in the afternoon's fun.

New Directories Are Here

This week the users of 809 phones on the Muenster, Myra and Forestburg exchanges are receiving their new directories.

As in years past, we proudly present this new directory as an indication of our expanding service. Many of the new numbers listed are not just changes but additions of new patrons.

At the present time we have 719 patrons, 90 of them with extension phones, in an area of some 300 square miles in Cooke and Montague Counties. Serving them are 9 operators, 2 maintenance men and 2 automatic exchanges.

New and Changed Numbers

Since the directory was printed we have had some changes of numbers and some applications for a telephone, and we also discovered two numbers that were overlooked. With a suggestion that you make the corrections in your directory, we submit the following listings.

DOUBLE DEALING IN TEXTILES

Last year Red China shipped 114,000,000 yards of cotton cloth to Hong Kong, a British crown colony. During the first three months of 1959, Hong Kong shipped the United States more than 1,400,000 yards of cotton cloth, plus garments valued at more than $8,000,000 in Hong Kong. At this rate, by the end of the year we will have imported the 114,000,000 yards of cloth Hong Kong bought from Red China.

The United States has never recognized Red China. But we permit Hong Kong to buy 114,000,000 yards of cloth in Red China and ship a large part of it into this country in the form of textiles or garments. Hong Kong tells our State Department it doesn't do this, but figures speak for themselves.

Even if the identical cloth Hong Kong buys in Red China doesn't reach this country, the end result is the same. Wage rates are so low in Hong Kong that even the Japanese complain competition is unfair. In Red China there is no wage rate. Coolie slaves live in compounds, labor under the whips of Red commissars, and are doled a meager ration of rice.

Now a foreign country can buy American cotton for 25 per cent less than U. S. textile manufacturers must pay. Those who look to the textile industry for a livelihood are being taxed to provide this subsidy to its competitors.

Traditionally a free trade country, Britain now limits this policy to her colonies and dominions but she has a quota on imports from Hong Kong. She is willing to protect Lancashire mills from a British colony, but the U. S. State Department won't protect American industry from Hong Kong or Red China.

CARD OF THANKS

We are grateful for so many favors during the past three weeks and want to say "thank you" to all who remembered us in such thoughtful and practical ways. Special thanks to blood donors, to those who sent cards and letters and to all who said a prayer for our welfare. Our parents join us in this expression of appreciation.

Local News BRIEFS

Guests Saturday and overnight with Mr. and Mrs. Joe Starke were his sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Norbert Jacobi of Electra who went on to Sherman Sunday to visit their daughters at St. Joseph's Academy. One is a nun and the other a lay teacher. Mrs. M. J. Endres accompanied them to visit her daughter, Sister Irma, and in the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Endres and children of Dallas drove to Sherman and they all had a visit together.

An enjoyable weekend visit in Shreveport, La., is reported by Mr. and Mrs. Joe Luke who were guests of their son and family, the Norman Lukes, and saw their new home for the first time.

When Dallas News readers looked through their Monday morning paper they found Muenster's Donna Hofbauer smiling at them. Donna, in registered nurse's white is pictured with Sister Dorothy of St. Paul's Hospital in connection with a new machine for patients with bleeding ulcers. The new equipment was shown and explained to the press over the weekend at St. Paul's Hospital.

Cheering Lawrence Roberg Sunday afternoon at the VA Hospital in McKinney was a family gathering in his room. Visiting him were his wife, his mother, his sister Carrie, his niece Joann Roberg and his brothers and their wives, the Louis Robergs and the Frank Robergs.

Six friends helped Janelle Reiter eat her birthday cake with ice cream after school Tuesday afternoon when they stopped in at the home of Janelle's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Reiter, to celebrate her eighth birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Kathman, and their daughter and family, the W. E. Inseles of Gainesville, drove to Lewisville Sunday to visit their other daughter and her family, the Stan Wylies and were happy to find everybody well again with the children recovered from recent illness.

CARD OF THANKS

Many thanks to neighbors and friends for many kindnesses while I was sick with flu, and thanks for the get-well wishes which helped cheer my shut-in days. My family is grateful, too.

At Grandmother's Rite in Oklahoma

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Hamilton and daughters, Tommie Sue and Mrs. Carl Walterscheid, were in Collinsville, Okla., to attend funeral services Tuesday for Mr. Hamilton's grandmother, 94, who died Saturday. She was active up to three weeks before her death.

Five generations of relatives attended the last rites. Joining the Hamiltons at the services were their other daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Walker and two children of Davenport, Okla.

Sunday visitors and dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Nig DeBorde were her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Durham of Rosston.

Some species of bamboo reach a height of 120 feet and girth of three feet.

CARD OF THANKS

We want our friends to know how much we appreciated the many kind and thoughtful deeds while Louie was in the hospital. The get-well cards and visits meant much and we are both grateful for the prayers.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Roberg

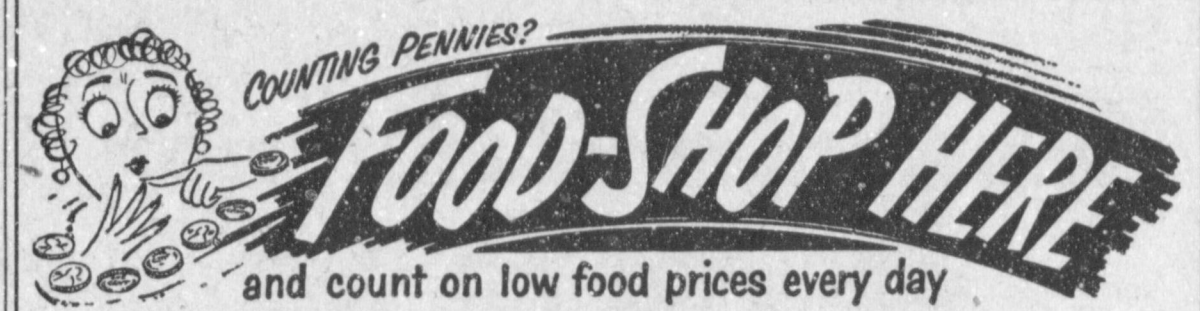

Chicagoans on their first visit here during the weekend found Muenster fascinating. Mr. and Mrs. Edd McGannon had as guests her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. George Grant. The McGannons took their company to places of interest including the area oil fields. Mr. Grant is a railroad employee and they "hopped a train" for the Saturday and Sunday trip to Texas.

You may think there is not much that any one person can do toward achieving world peace. Yet, said Dr. Albert Einstein, if every person who believed in the idea of the Golden Rule, the Sermon on the Mount, and the Ten Commandments would begin practicing them in his own small sphere, the combined effect would be world-shaking.

Half of Texas Now Lives in 20 Towns

AUSTIN. — One-half the state's population now lives in 20 cities, and three out of four Texans reside in incorporated communities, the Texas Municipal League reported Tuesday.

Director Steve Matthews predicted that the 1960 census will show that the top 20 cities, including Dallas, have grown three times faster than the state as a whole.

Matthews gave these estimates of present city populations, compared to the 1950 census:

- Houston 1,000,000 and 596,163; Dallas 875,000 and 434,163; San Antonio 555,000 and 408,442; Fort Worth 399,000 and 278,778; El Paso 290,000 and 130,485; Austin 200,000 and 132,459; Corpus Christi 175,000 and 108,287; Lubbock 148,725 and 71,747; Amarillo 147,949 and 74,216; Beaumont 122,485 and 94,014.
- Also, Waco 120,000 and 84,706; Wichita Falls 97,968 and 68,042; Odessa 83,500 and 29,495; Galveston 72,000 and 66,568; Abilene 70,000 and 45,570; San Angelo 68,000 and 52,098; Port Arthur 64,614 and 57,530; Laredo 62,000 and 51,910; Pasadena 60,000 and 22,463; and Tyler 56,000 and 38,968.

AMENDMENT TO ORDINANCE
An ordinance hereby amending certain clauses in an ordinance heretofore adopted by the City Council of the City of Muenster, dated the 1st day of February 1960. Relative to regulating the sale, handling, dispensing and distributing of intoxicating liquors etc. is hereby amended.

Section 1
The provisions prescribed in Section 2 of the original Ordinance heretofore passed and adopted by the City Council of the City of Muenster, dated the 8th day of September A.D. 1959, is hereby amended to exclude the handling of beer as a warehouse or storage from the responsibility of having to be within the originally outlined zone or zones, and allow such wholesale beer handler to have a location outside the original prescribed zone, under the following circumstances and the following procedure.

Section 2
Any person, firm or corporation, selling, handling and distributing beer as a wholesaler or local distributor, and where no such beer is to be sold upon, in or on the premises, may obtain from the City Council a special permit to have such storage facilities in locations which are not within the originally prescribed zone. The amendment applies strictly to wholesalers or distributors handling beer and making deliveries in case lots to retail establishments and does not permit sales to be made to individuals at such storage or warehouse location nor permit any consumption of beer on the premises at such locations.

Section 3
In order to secure such permit to handle beer for storage outside the prescribed zone, such person, firm or corporation shall submit to the City Council in writing, designating the correct location where such storage is to be located, the name of the individual firm or corporation in which such licenses is held or to be obtained in, and file same with the City Secretary, along with a "SPECIAL PERMIT" fee of $5.00. The City Secretary shall present such application to the City Council at their regular or any special meeting at which the City Council shall consider such application. Upon a majority vote of the City Council, favoring such application, the same shall be duly passed and the City Secretary instructed to issue a "SPECIAL PERMIT" to such applicant. The City Council reserves the right to reject, upon its own reasons, any application, or to make any further investigations relative thereto, including any special hearing of surrounding neighbors. If such application is rejected, no permit shall be issued, and the "SPECIAL PERMIT" fee returned to the applicant.

Section 4
No part of the original zoning law heretofore passed is hereby changed and the same shall remain in full force and effect in its entirety, except in relation to storing of beer as herein stipulated, and no general authority is hereby granted for such storing of beer, but each person, firm or corporation having sufficient reasons and desiring to locate outside the prescribed zone, shall submit an application, and when same is approved as herein outlined, and only then, shall a "SPECIAL PERMIT" be issued to such individual, person, firm or corporation. Such "SPECIAL PERMIT" shall be automatically revoked when the holder thereof violates the terms herein specified, and such "SPECIAL PERMIT" shall not grant any authority, permission or license to sell beer to individuals at such location, nor to sell beer in violation of a distributor's license, nor to allow beer to be consumed upon the premises, nor to handle, sell or distribute any other type of intoxicating beverages from such location.

Section 5
The fact that the sale and handling of intoxicating liquors has recently been authorized and legalized within the corporate limits of the City of Muenster, Texas, and the further fact a necessity exists to establish proper control creates an emergency to the peace and health of the citizens and this Ordinance is hereby declared to be an emergency on the grounds of urgent public need for preservation of peace, health and safety and the welfare of the citizens, and the rule requiring the reading of Ordinances of the three several days is hereby suspended, and this Ordinance shall take effect from and after its passage and approval by the City Council and after it has been published one time in the official newspaper of the City of Muenster, Texas.
Passed, approved and adopted, this 15 day of February A.D. 1960.
Herbert Meurer, Mayor, City of Muenster

Local Herds Among High Producers in DHIA for January

Muenster dairymen had cows high in production among County DHIA herds but didn't reach top spot on the list for January, according to that month's summary released this week.

Tommy Knabe's herd was third in butterfat production, tied with W. H. Frasher, H. F. Schniederjan, Hi Lo Farms and J. L. Masten's cows at 39 all.

The champions for the month were those belonging to Ben Davis who led in both milk and butterfat output with 1303 and 49 pounds, respectively. Peter Prescher's herd was second in both categories with 1103 and 42 pounds and H. H. Moody's was third in milk production with 1086 pounds. Eighteen herds totaling 689 cows were tested. Over all average production stood at 912 pounds of milk and 36 of butterfat. A total of 162 cows produced 50 or more pounds of butterfat.

Among high herds were those belonging to Jerry Hoenig, Paul Fisher, Felderhoff & Sicking, Paul Fetsch, C. A. Fisher, Ed Sicking and Paul and Mrs. Ben Sicking.

In the days before oil was discovered in western Texas, a man stopped one night at a dry ranch near a small town. As he sized up the place, he became more and more puzzled as to how the little ranch paid its way. At last he ventured to question the host.

"How in the world do you make a go of it out here?" he asked.

Pointing a finger at a man lolling on the doorstep, the host replied, "You see that feller there? He's the hired man. He works for me, but I can't pay him. In two years he gets the ranch. Then I work for him 'til I git it back."

"Hear you've been having car trouble?" said one neighbor to another.

"Yes," replied the carowner. "I bought a new carburetor that saved 30 per cent on gas, a new transmission that saved 50 per cent on gas and a new set of spark plugs that saved 40 per cent on gas."
"So what happened?"
"After I'd gone about 10 miles the gas tank overflowed."

Petty's SAFE DRIVING

Lee Petty, famed racing driver, NASCAR champion, and Daytona Beach 500 mile winner in 1959, now serving as road test manager for National Dynamics Corporation, manufacturers of the battery additive VX-6, offers these six professional SAFE DRIVING tips.

• Slow down as you approach a curve but accelerate slightly while you're on it. Power on the curves gives you better traction and stability than brakes.
• Don't use bright lights. The only excuse for brights is when you're going at high speed, all alone, with no traffic, on a completely unlit country road in order to spot curves ahead. Since this situation seldom occurs for most drivers—just don't use your brights.

• Be polite to motorists and rude to your passengers. Never take your eyes off the road while conversing and driving.
• Keep your tires hard. Inflate your tires a little more than the maximum recommended by the manufacturer. You won't get any bounce as long as your shock absorbers and springs are in good condition... and you'll get a better ride—even more mileage for your gas.

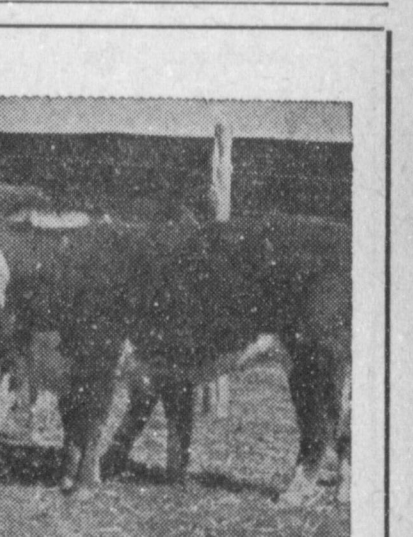

• Keep the rubber casing of your battery clean by wiping occasionally with an oil soaked rag. Also keep the leads at maximum efficiency by cleaning terminals and battery leads with steel wool.
• Learn to use the best and most scientific additives. Use a battery additive to prolong the life of your battery. Use a moisture evaporating additive for gas. Use an oil sludge solvent additive in your crankcase.

Everyone Needs Records

Back in pioneer times our forefathers found they could keep track of the family history pretty well with a few notations on the flyleaf of the family Bible. But life's not quite that simple any more. Great-grandpa wasn't covered by social security or workmen's compensation. He didn't have a bank account or safe deposit box, a car and a dozen home appliances being bought on time payment, or a half-dozen insurance policies. We have taxes great-grandpa never heard of and wouldn't have believed if he had. And had you asked him for a certificate to prove his birth, he'd have thought you'd taken leave of your senses.

The point of this is that the average American today has a good many important papers to keep track of. There are birth certificates, receipts, copies of tax returns, sales contracts, and a host of other papers. With a little tidy record-keeping, you can make life easier for yourself and your family when you are gone.

Here are some suggestions:

1. Get a heavily bound notebook folder or file folder as a central collecting point for all the records of your affairs.
2. Put your especially important papers in your safe deposit box, but make a list of those papers and a brief summary of their contents to put in your home file.
3. Get for your files copies of birth certificates for all members of the family, and add them to the file. Add your marriage license or at least a statement as to whom and where you were married and by whom.
4. Insert your will or a copy of it. If your will is kept elsewhere, include a note telling where it may be found.
5. During the year, put into the file your income tax withholding statements and receipts for expenditures which may be deductible. Then keep a copy of each year's tax in the file.
6. Make a list of all the stocks and bonds you own and where they are.
7. List all the places you have lived and worked and the names of persons there who you know. Include the schools you have attended and the dates you left or were graduated.
8. If you may have benefits coming under a profit-sharing plan where you work, make a note of that too.
9. If you're in doubt about whether an item should be included, put it in.

This takes time initially, but it will save you both time and worry in the long run.

1960 Census Will Present Longer List of Questions

The census taker is getting more personal all the time.

The ancient Romans simply counted noses and property, chiefly for the purpose of taxation, according to World Book Encyclopedia.

William the Conqueror compiled a little more information on who-owned-what when he decided to spread some payola, in the form of land, among his followers . . . at the expense of the nobility. When his officials finished adding up the English people and their possessions in 1086, they had two huge volumes called the Domesday Book.

European cities kept to the bare facts when they began to count their population in the 1400's and 1500's. The first such count was taken in Nuremberg, Germany, in 1449.

Three hundred years later Sweden compiled the first national census, based on parish records.

In 1790 the fledgling U. S. government sent out 17 marshals and a few hundred assistants to count the population in order to provide a basis for taxing the states and to determine the number of representatives they would have in Congress.

The first great invasion of privacy occurred in 1850, when census takers began to write down the names of all people in the country. They also classified the population according to age, sex, race and place of birth.

Soon the "enumerators" were poking their noses into such matters as occupation, education, income, marital status and the fertility of women. In 1950 they wanted to know about your plumbing.

This year they're going to find out whether you're really keeping up with the Joneses. A sample of the population will be asked whether they own a washing machine, a clothes dryer, a food freezer and air conditioning . . . and the number of cars in the family garage.

Many a man thinks he is patient when, in reality, he is indifferent.

Science gives us knowledge, but only philosophy can give us wisdom.

To get organized the members elected a committee headed by Mrs. Charles Taylor and Mrs. Paul Fisher whose first duty will be making a poster and erecting it in the vestibule at church for parishioners to mark their preferred day for mass attendance for this intention. It will include the whole parish.

Routine business and committee reports included Mrs. Paul Fisher's on the CDA sponsored poetry contest. She advised that she had taken material and rules to Sacred Heart School for students to get started. The court will offer prizes for winning poems here and send them on for competition in the state.

Mrs. Tony Gremminger reported on the quarterly NCCW meeting held in Denison and Mrs. Steve Mosier, grand regent, read a letter from the district CDA deputy announcing a reception-meeting in Dallas April 3. And members tentatively planned a reception here for May.

After business, Father Christopher, who was present for the meeting, addressed the membership. His lively short talk emphasized what a little effort can do and commended the court on its worth-while activities.

The meeting adjourned to meet again on March 11 at 7:30 and Mrs. John Mosman, lecturer, served coffee and sweet rolls.

TAX-MAN SAM SEZ: We sure are living in a fast age. One of the fastest things is the short time between Jan-1 and April 15. All of us old timers know that April 15 gets here as soon as March 15 used to. However, I don't guess it will bother you if you filed your tax return on January 2.
