FmHA Now Accepting Emergency Loan Applications

Applications for emergency farm loan for losses caused by excessive rain and hail are being accepted at the Farmers Home Administration office located on 115 E Ave D. Muleshoe, FmHA County Supervisor Joyce M. Thompson.

Bailey County is one of 47 in Texas recently named by Secretary of Agriculture Edward Madigan as eligible for loans to cover part of actual production losses resulting from the rain and hail.

Ms. Thompson said farmers may be eligible for loans of up to 80 percent of their actual losses or the operating loan needed to continue in business or $500,000, whichever is less. For farmers unable to obtain credit from private commercial lenders, the interest is 4.5 percent.

"As a general rule, a farmer must have suffered at least a 30 percent loss of production to be eligible for an FmHA emergency loan,"

Ms. Thompson said. Farmers participating in the PIK or Federal Crop insurance program will have to figure in proceeds from those programs in determining their loss.

Applications for loans under this emergency designation will be accepted until June 28, 1993 but farmers should apply as soon as possible. Delays in applying could create backlogs in processing and possibly over into the new farming season," Ms. Thompson said.

FmHA is a credit agency of the U.S. Department of Agriculture. It is authorized to provide disaster emergency loans to recognize farmers who work at and rely on Cont. Page 6, Col. 1

'Old Time Christmas' Community Caroling

Santa has arrived in Muleshoe, and Christmas is in the air. Moonlight Madness Sales are being held, with people scurrying around doing their Christmas shopping and the Muleshoe Heritage Foundation are busy planning an "Old Time Christmas."

Members of the Heritage Foundation are asking the entire community to take time out of their busy schedule and attend this unique event, which they hope will start a tradition for Muleshoe...and community wide.

They have scheduled the "Old Time Christmas and Carol of Lights for Thursday, December 17 at 6:30 p.m.

Lights have been strung, completely framing all of the buildings presently located at the Heritage Complex.

With the help of the SCAC Organization, they are decorating the inside of the old Janes Ranch House in vintage holiday finery bringing the spirit of Christmas Past to the present.

The directors didn't stop there; however. They know that an old fashioned Christmas is not complete without the aroma of vanilla and butter oozing from the fresh baked holiday treats.

The public will enjoy their old family favorites of tea cakes and gingerbread as they sip on a beverage guaranteed to bring back wonderful sweet memories of Christmases that used to be.

The program will include tours of the Ranch House and the community-wide caroling.

Highlighting the evening will be the throwing of the switch, at 7 p.m., that turns the Heritage Complex into a Wonderland of Christmas lights.

Following the caroling, everyone is welcome to go into the depot for homebaked cookies and wassail.

It was reported to the Journal that the Heritage Foundation is thrilled to plan this evening at no charge to promote community spirit and wholesome family fun. With so much news today about Cont. Page 6, Col. 1

Christmas Sacks To Be Distributed

The holiday season is upon us and for most, this is a special time of closeness to spend with family and friends. A time to be thankful for what we have. A time of celebration, of course, this is not true of everyone's situation.

Especially when it comes to the needy, elderly and disabled. All to often this part of our community spends Christmas alone, with very little celebration. Yet, there are some individuals who are trying to make this holiday season brighter for some of these people in our community.

Debbie White, a community services case worker for the aged and disabled, and Sharon Plott, Community Services advisor at Bailey County Courthouse, are putting together Christmas sacks for forty needy elderly and disabled clients of the Texas Department of Human Services.

The sacks will contain personal care and household items and will be delivered shortly before Christmas. However, in order to make these sacks possible, donations will be needed from the Muleshoe Community.

Items needed are: hand lotion,

Rotary Club Views Film On Rotary International's Work

A film showing what the Rotary Foundation does with their money was shown at the Rotary meeting at noon Tuesday. The film showed the different ways Rotary international helps the needy in Mexico.

"Due to their help in eye care and treatment, some of the women can now see to thread a needle, where they never could before. The people are very appreciative of the foundation for the medical and eye care they are given.

"They are taking out four and five year old's teeth and doing eye surgery. The foundation provides $300,000 in medical care."

"This is why the Rotary Association is so important," said David Tipps, president. "It's incredible to see the Rotarians and Mexico working together." Tipps recently attended one of the association's meetings.

Tipps called the Rotary meeting to order and Terry Hutto led the group Cont. Page 6, Col. 2

Measles Increase Among Hispanics

Lack of adequate immunization is the primary cause for an unusually high rate of measles cases among Hispanics. Statistics from the Centers for Disease Control in Atlanta show rate of measles among Hispanics for the past two years is more than double that of blacks and five times greater than that of whites.

Many poor families in metropolitan areas can be immunized at community health centers, but it is often more difficult for those in rural areas to find a clinic or center offering low-cost or free immunizations, said Dr. Michael Tristan of Baylor College of Medicine in Houston.

"It is important for people in rural areas to call a county or state health department office to find out where they can receive free or low-cost immunizations," Tristan said.

MICROWAVE TIPS

There are several good reasons to microwave bacon. It shrinks less. It doesn't curl and spatter. It needs less attention and cleanup after cooking is easier.

Bacon can be microwaved on several paper towels and covered by one, after which it should stand 5 minutes.

It can be cooked on a roasting rack, to save drippings--cover with paper towel. Let stand a minute or two. From the rack strips will not be as crisp as those cooked on paper towel.

In Fashion

Jewelry stores are displaying quite an array for holiday shoppers. Diamonds, as usual, are favorites and exquisitely set in gold as solitaires or clusters. Stones representing every month of the year are dazzling when highlighted or circled with diamonds. Striking are sapphires and onyx rings combined with the brilliance of diamonds. However, there is nothing so elegant as single or multiple strands of pearls.

Rebekah News

Tuesday, November 24, 1992, it was so very cold, with snow and ice-no meeting was held.

December 1, 1992, we had a very good meeting. A memorial service was held for Lena Hawkins. She passed away November 14, 1992 in Oregon. Refreshments were served by Ona Berry, and Thursie Reid brought a cake.

N.G., Doris Lambert opened lodge. June Green, Secretary, read the records of the last session, which were approved, and roll was called with twenty members present. So wonderful to have several members present that were ill or missed for some other reason. Ruby Green, District Deputy President held a School of Instructions.

Nominations were open for officers again tonight. After voting, officers for the next session are: Noble Grand-Louise Allen; Vice Grand-Micky Montgomery; Secretary-June Green; Treasurer-Ina Wilemon; Lodge Representative to Rebekah Assembly-Joyeline Costen and Alternate-Ina Wilemon; Lodge Team Captain-Mary Ann Ramirez. Installation of these officers and other members to fill the chairs will be held in January.

Our December birthdays are Tennie Lambert, Frank Snyder, Louise Allen and June Green. Bring a toy and a canned good! So good to hear from you that live so far away.

Muleshoe And DECA Designate Civic Consciousness Week

Muleshoe Mayor Robert Montgomery and the Muleshoe High School Chapter of DECA have declared the week of December 6 - 12 as Civic Consciousness Week in Muleshoe.

DECA students, as future business owners and managers, are encouraging everyone to support their favorite civic organization or project especially during this week.

DECA students have been canvassing the city selling advertisement spots in preparation for their KMUL/DECA Radio Show, which will be aired on Thursday evening from 7:00-10:00 p.m. The profits from the ad sales are to be given to the local

M.A.S.H. organization to assist with the Meals on Wheels in our community. DECA students are selling the ads, writing them and presenting them on the air.

This project is part of DECA's Civic Consciousness Project this year and is chaired by senior DECA student, Virginia Lira. She will be submitting this project as well as other civic consciousness efforts in a manual for district state and national competition. DECA students wish to thank the businesses of our community for their support and encouragement.

Shin Splint Prevention

Proper stretching and cross-training can prevent shin splints, a common leg injury among joggers. The most common pain associated with shin splints often results from a series of small fractures and muscle pulling away from the tibia because of overuse.

Although people are able to continue working out the pain, Dr. Donald Baxter, an orthopedic surgeon at Baylor College of Medicine in Houston, recommends cross-training as an alternative.

"Cross-training allows you to continue exercising while giving the injury time to heal," Baxter said. "Cycling or swimming can maintain aerobic fitness without putting stress on the affected leg muscles."

If a person is already carrying more weight than his or her frame should support, sudden running or jumping will stress the leg muscles, according to Baxter.

"Careful stretching of the legs before exercise will prepare the muscles for the strain," he said.

There's usually a brighter side to any bleak situation.

Enlightening Tips

You can tell it's December, cold is nipping at your nose and people are bustling around doing their Christmas shopping. It's nice to see people in good cheer again.

I miss the month of December during the remaining months of the year. A lot of people seem to forget that the meaning of Christmas should really be carried on throughout the rest of the year, not only during the holidays.

I love people; I wish we could continually see people smiling and in the best of spirits.

From the beginning, we teach our children to "Be happy and good, or Santa Claus won't come to see them". Why not teach them to be happy and good all the time, just for the sake of having a happy and rewarding life! Maybe when they grow up, they would know the meaning of happiness all the time, instead of only once a year.

Happiness comes from within. It comes from the heart, and is only what you make of it.

Let us all make an effort to spread happiness, not only now, but let's carry it on with us. Let it explode on everyone we meet!

Texas Farm Bureau Committee Meets

The Texas Farm Bureau Resolutions Committee has completed its work and now its the voting delegates' turn to give final approval to the state resolutions and national recommendations at the 59th annual TFB convention in Corpus Christi according to Allen Smyer, president of Bailey County Farm Bureau.

"As always, the 41-member Resolutions Committee has done an excellent job of taking the vast number of proposals (more than 600 from 105 county Farm Bureaus) and preparing them in a concise manner for our delegates to consider in the two days we will have at our Corpus Christi Convention," Smyer stated.

Smyer noted that county Farm Bureaus are becoming more involved in governmental affairs as seen through the large number of issues surfaced recently at the Committee's meeting in Waco.

"Infringement on private ownership of land by non-profit organizations and government entities will be one issue that delegates will be giving serious consideration to on December 1 and 2," Smyer observed.

Smyer also pointed out that county Farm Bureaus expressed a Christmas...

"Runaway spending at both the state and national level is of grave concern to all of us," Smyer added.

Finding the means to finance public education while at the same time curbing rising administrative costs will be of major interest to the delegates," Smyer pointed out.

Smyer cited the following issues as among the many proposals delegates will consider at Corpus Christi:

- *Term Limits.
- *High speed rail.
- *The North American Free Trade Agreement with Mexico
- *GATT negotiations.
- *Taxes.
- *Plant variety protection act.
- *Animal health care

State resolutions adopted in Corpus Christi will become policy for the TFB membership in 1993. National recommendations are forwarded to the American Farm Bureau Federation for consideration at the 73rd annual meeting Jan. 10-14 at Anaheim, Calif.

AUSTIN — Lawmakers went home early for Thanksgiving last week — leaving behind a disappointed governor and disgruntled lieutenant governor — after House Republicans rejected a proposed compromise school finance bill.

Gov. Ann Richards and Lt. Gov. Bob Bullock, their own "Fair Share Plan" roadblocked by the GOP caucus, had asked Republicans to offer their own plan.

Although cynicism abounds in this special session, hopes rose briefly when freshman Rep. Steve Ogden, R-Bryan, steered his bill through committee.

But after the House Republican Caucus abandoned the Ogden bill as too expensive, lawmakers went home, leaving Ogden to fine-tune it over the holidays.

Nothing Accomplished
 "For all practical purposes, there's no way we can accomplish what we wanted. This session is just as good as over," said Rep. Hugo Berlanga, D-Corpus Christi.

Democrats, who hoped to resolve the issue before more GOP troops arrive in January for the regular session, blamed the failure on the Republicans.

Bullock blasted House Republicans, saying they are playing hardball politics with the state's schoolchildren and the state's $14 billion education system.

"They get an 'F' in leadership and an 'F' on their plan," said Bullock, who presides over the Senate.

Bullock said it was clear to him that some Republicans came to the special session intent on "trying to embarrass Gov. Richards." If the session fails, Bullock said, "we ought to send the Republicans a bill for $500,000 for wasting taxpayer money."

Governor's Mistake?
 Rep. Tom Craddick of Midland, leader of the 58-member GOP caucus, said Republicans are not trying to be spoilers. He said GOP members choked on the Ogden bill when they saw its $15 billion price tag. He said the bill would require about $1 billion in new state money — significantly more than the Democrat-backed plan.

Craddick said Richards was told last spring that Republicans would not support any bill until told precisely how funds would reach each school district.

"Without an agreement in hand before the session, I'd say it was a waste for the governor to call the session," Craddick said.

Compromise Possible
 But Richards said the Senate Education Committee is expected to take up a bill to deal with public education spending this week. She did not have specifics about the new proposal, but House Speaker Gib Lewis said Sen. Bill Ratliff, R-Mount Pleasant, is expected to file a new bill on school finance.

Two Seek Hury's Seat
 Secretary of State John Hannah has certified that Democrat Patricia Gray and Republican Cynthia Tauss will appear on the Dec. 12 special election ballot for the Texas House District 23 seat.

Gray was elected Nov. 3 to fill the unexpired term of James Hury, who vacated the seat to join the law firm of Fulbright & Jaworski. Hury died two weeks after leaving office in an airplane crash in Houston.

The special election will determine who will serve the next two years as the representative from the Galveston County district.

Auto Insurance Discounts
 The State Board of Insurance has authorized insurers to offer three types of car insurance discounts, including rate relief for parents of students living away from home.

By a vote of 3-0, the Board approved discounts for drivers with anti-lock brakes and for drivers with good records when renewing policies that have been in force at least six months.

Each discount will be optional with insurance companies and will not be subject to a percentage or dollar limit.

Treasurer's Staff Reduced
 State Treasurer Kay Bailey Hutchison said a recent story in the Houston Post, which stated that her staff has increased 16 percent is "totally incorrect."

"When I took office in January of 1991, the agency had 274 employees. It now has 253. This represents an eight percent reduction," she said.

"The budget I have submitted to the Legislature for the next biennium is for a five percent reduction from my current funding level. This will include further staff reductions, which will be accomplished through attrition," Hutchison said.

 ■ The U.S. Navy will close Chase Field in Beeville on Feb. 1, two months earlier than planned. Jobs for approximately 90 to 100 civilian employees will end Jan. 19, said Ensign Brenda Malone of Chase's public affairs office.

Gov. Richards asked President Bush to declare Harris County a major disaster area in the wake of tornadoes and thunderstorms that caused more than $100 million in damage on Nov. 21. If approved, the designation could provide financial assistance to individuals and business owners, said Ed Laundry of the state division of emergency management.

 Dow Theory Forecasts

Looking for a bullish sign for this market? Over the last few months scores of companies have been announcing stock buybacks.

Ironically, the buybacks come when many analysts believe that, based on conventional valuations such as P-E ratios and dividend yields, stocks are overvalued. The number of buybacks would indicate otherwise.

Stock buybacks are perceived as favorable for several reasons.

First, a company buying back its stock lowers the number of shares, which boosts per-share profit results.

Second, if the company sees its stock as a good value for corporate dollars that's an indication the stock is attractively valued.

Third, a company buying back its stock is, in effect, acting as a prop for the price of the stock.

"Smart Jobs" will help Texas compete

BY CATHY BONNER
Executive Director
Texas Department of Commerce

The fastest growing job classification in our state during the last decade was janitors and cleaners. Projections show the service industry—not the manufacturing industry—will continue to see the fastest job growth at least until the year 2000.

Texas cannot afford to continue to lose industrial manufacturing jobs and expect to compete in the 21st century. The erosion of our state's manufacturing base leads to the erosion of our entire economy. We must reverse this trend. Low-skill, low-wage jobs will not build a strong Texas economy and a strong future for our children.

With decreased defense spending on the federal level, thousands of defense industry workers in Texas are finding themselves with skills we once thought would always be in demand. The end of the Cold War meant an end to economic development as we knew it. The tools of yesterday won't create the jobs of tomorrow. With the passage of the North American Free Trade Agreement, Texas will be situated in the geographic center of the world's largest free trade zone. Texas will literally be at the crossroads of worldwide trade and commerce.

In the global marketplace, competition for new jobs is on a higher level than Texas has ever experienced. To win new jobs, we must increase the competitive position of Texas businesses by upgrading the skills of Texas workers and simultaneously increasing the number of high-skill, high-wage jobs available.

Studies have shown that the average worker today will change jobs at least five times in his or her lifetime, requiring retraining each time. Our state and our nation are ill-prepared to offer that level of training. Retraining and new skills development is the road to higher skills and higher wages.

The Texas Department of Commerce knows a well-trained work force is vital to the Texas economy. In 1991, Commerce and the Texas Industrial Development Council conducted a research study of 350 CEOs around the nation. This study showed that of all the factors determining where a company will locate, by far the most important factor was the availability of a skilled and trained work force.

In addition, a 1992 study for the Texas Department of Commerce and the Texas Employment Commission by the Texas Research League showed that 89 percent of Texas businesses surveyed believe having training available is important to their business. Clearly, Texas business owners think worker training and retraining is critical to their success.

These surveys, combined with more than a year's worth of research, have made it clear to the Department of Commerce that new tools are needed. The status quo won't create the jobs of the future—the high-skill, high-wage jobs that can lead this state toward increased prosperity and global competitiveness.

In response to the needs of Texas businesses, the Texas Department of Commerce developed an innovative proposal to assist Texas businesses in training the work force of the future and provide financial incentives to create new high-skill, high-wage jobs for Texans. We call this proposal the "Smart Jobs Fund."

The Smart Jobs Fund would be created by using one-tenth of 1 percent from the state's Unemployment Insurance Trust Fund. This would create a $50 million fund for training and retraining purposes. This small percentage will not compromise the integrity of the Unemployment Insurance Trust Account because funds will be available only after the Trust Fund's solvency is ensured.

The Smart Jobs Fund will not raise tax rates. If adopted by the Texas Legislature, the Smart Jobs Fund will help train Texas' existing employees to be the most competitive in the world. The Fund also will offer new companies moving to Texas a financial incentive that is truly an investment in our future.

The Smart Jobs Fund proposal is a broad outline at this point. There is a great need for Texas business' input on the proposal before it takes its final shape. The Texas Department of Commerce is eager to hear its customers' views on this proposal. If you would like to comment on the concept or need more information on the Smart Jobs Fund, contact Carolyn Smith at 512/320-9800, extension 1845. If your organization would like to learn more about the Smart Jobs Fund proposal, please contact Richard Hall, Deputy Director of Policy Coordination, at 512/320-9672.

PROTECTION FROM THE ELEMENTS

It has been said in the Lone Star State that there is nothing between Texas and the North Pole but a barbed wire fence. That certainly gives you the idea that in Texas you're not given much protection from the cold North wind.

There are times when you might think there is no protection and comfort afforded from the hardness and cruelty of the world. But there is a buffer between you and the world. This help and protection is the church. As members of the church, you are with good people of like minds who love you, pray with you, comfort you and assist you. They are the ones who "by love serve one another." (Gal. 5:13)

We invite you to attend the church of your choice this week. You will find a warm welcome there.

"And this commandment we have from him, that he who loveth God love his brother also."

1 John 4:21

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Tips for Happier, Healthier Holidays

North American Precis Syndicate

'Tis the season to be jolly—but how can you have the holiday spirit if you're not getting the sleep you need?

Many people get minor aches and pains, and nighttime leg cramps can be one of the painful results of a tiring day during this hectic time of year. The causes are many: standing in long lines to buy holiday gifts and get them wrapped—then carrying the heavy packages home; waiting on line so the youngsters can see Santa; standing at holiday parties; cross-country skiing and other winter sports; and especially trudging through the snow, which takes a lot of effort.

If you suffer from nighttime leg cramps, you know how painful they can be and how they can dramatically interrupt a sound night's sleep. Plus sleeplessness can affect your mood and you may wind up taking it out on a store clerk or someone close to you—and that's no way to spread holiday cheer!

A good way to deal with nighttime leg cramps, doctors say, is with an over-

LOUISA'S LETTER

I have a two year old daughter and she has a habit of saying a bad word when anything goes wrong. When I say anything to her about it she says "Mommy, I just said ---." Do you think I should ignore her or what? My three year old got a word from a little girl friend and I told her I was not going to let her play with the little girl so she quit using it. But I have a problem with my two year old.

--D.F.N.J.

Answer:
Little children pick up words they hear and have no idea what they mean. When they say something which causes a stir they get attention and that is what many children like. The best thing to do in such a situation is to remain calm and say that you don't think that is a pretty word for a little girl to use. Then suggest some words and make a game of it. The next time she comes out with the old word--and she will--pay no attention to her. Spanking is not the answer to this problem but lots of patience and understanding will usually solve it, if given time.

Family Physicians Urging Patients To Quit Smoking

Nearly one-fourth of smokers advised to quit by their family physicians make significant changes in their smoking habits, according to a study published in the November issue of Texas Medicine.

A survey of 1,292 family physicians shows that 97 percent of family physicians always or usually advise their smoking patients to quit. And, physicians report that 22 percent of patients they counseled made significant changes in their smoking behavior.

The study was carried out by Jack L. Franklin, Ph.D.; Anna Fay Williams, Ph.D.; G. Michael Kresch; Joseph T. Painter, M.D.; Karen Torges; Jim White; and Owen Grossman, M.D. Franklin, Williams, Fresch and Painter are with The University of Texas M.D. Anderson Cancer Center in Houston. Torges is with the Texas Chapter of the American Cancer Society in Austin. White is executive director of the Texas Academy of Family Physicians in Austin and Grossman is an Odessa physician who serves on the TAFP Executive Committee. Texas Medicine is the official news magazine of the Texas Medical Association.

"On the basis of their own evaluations, family physicians in Texas are having an impact on smoking cessation, even with minimal activities," the authors write.

The survey, which was conducted during the winter of 1989-90, polled TAFP members on their smoking cessation activities. Ninety-nine percent of respondents said they ask patients if they smoke cigarettes and 82 percent said they ask about use of other tobacco products. Ninety-two percent said they record tobacco use in patients' medical charts.

Physician efforts in assisting patients in smoking cessation were most likely to include suggesting specific steps, encouraging patients to set goals, engaging patients in discussion and bringing up the subject of smoking at later visits.

"Physicians have contact with approximately 70 percent of all the smokers in the United States," the authors state. "Thus, the physician's potential to reduce the prevalence of smoking is high."

Texas Medical Association is a professional organization of more than 31,000 physician and medical student members. It is located in Austin and has 118 component county medical societies around the state. The Association represents 82 percent of the doctors of medicine licensed and residing in Texas and 96 percent of the state's allopathic medical students. TMA's key objective is to improve the health of Texans.
