NEEDS HELP

Dramatic proof of the need for aid for Chilean earthquake victims is evidenced by this Puerto Montt orphan—his only belongings heaped in a string bag—shown waiting a mercy plane trip to a refugee reception center in Santiago.

Nations throughout the world are responding to appeals for help. President Eisenhower appointed American Red Cross President, General Alfred M. Gruenther, as coordinator of U. S. voluntary relief efforts. Numerous religious and welfare organizations are engaged in the massive relief project. The Red Cross, which is conducting a nationwide fund appeal, made an initial allocation of $175,000 and provided $250,000 worth of donated medical and other supplies.

Teen-Agers Will Meet June 29 to Organize Club

The first step in organizing a local teen-age club was taken Wednesday night when about 15 boys and girls met with officers of the Community Progress Association.

Next will be an organizational meeting of all interested teen-agers next Wednesday night at 8 o'clock in the public school. Carolyn Fette and Dickie Pagel were elected as joint temporary chairmen to conduct.

All teen age boys and girls of high school age and over who wish to have their own club and recreational program are urged to attend.

Muenster Area's Biggest Harvest Nears Completion

The best grain harvest in the history of the community is practically ended. Wednesday afternoon both elevators reported that they have only a few customers left and those are expected to finish the job by the end of the week.

Weather as well as yield for this harvest season has been about the most favorable in the memory of local farmers. Scattered showers caused a few days of delay at the start, but ideal cutting conditions prevailed from then on. It is doubtful if any grain was lost because of the weather.

Likewise favorable was the mild weather before harvest. Grain matured perfectly and tests ran high through all the season.

Reports during the past week bear out early estimates of a community average of 30 bushels per acre. Probably the yield runs even higher. No fields were figured at under 20, and there were many that ran over 40, some in the fifties and sixties.

The total local crop is estimated at 100,000 bushels.

State FB Plans Tour of Mexico

Farm Bureau members of Cooke County have an opportunity to participate in a fabulous 11-day tour of Mexico sponsored by the Texas Farm Bureau.

Word received from County FB headquarters discloses that the trip results from an invitation by the Mexican minister of agriculture to J. H. West, president of the Texas FB. The tour will include places of agriculture interest along with famed sights and resorts of Mexico. The trip to and from Mexico will be made by air and travel there will be by auto and air conditioned busses. Dates are July 14 to 24.

Additional information is available at the Cooke County FB office.

New Schedule of Advertising Rates In Enterprise Effective Next Week

Effective next week advertising rates in the Enterprise will give way to the pressure of inflation. Charges will be increased on both display and classified ads in an effort to relieve the financial strain caused by steadily rising costs during the past several years.

Under the new schedule the regular rate on local display ads will be 50 cents per column inch, and standing display ads will be 40 cents per column inch. The previous rate was 40 and 35 cents per column inch. A 10 per cent discount on accounts of 60 column inches or more per month will apply as did before.

Classified ad rates have in-

Katy Applies for Hearing on Close Of Local Station

A hearing to be held in the Muenster city hall the latter part of July will determine whether or not the Katy railroad will close its depot here.

Paul Luke, local agent, said he has been informed that his company has applied to the Texas Railroad Commission for permission to close the station and expects an early announcement by the commission of a date for the local hearing. At that time local people will have an opportunity to present their reasons, if any, why the freight service should be continued here. If the commission decides then that the shut-down is justified it will grant the railroad's request.

Katy has filed similar applications for closing the depots at Saint Jo and Ringgold and their hearings will probably be scheduled at about the same time as Muenster's.

In each case, Luke said, the railroad's reason is that the station is operating at a loss. Almost all freight in the three towns is handled by truck lines.

If Katy's request is granted it will bring an end to service which has been available here for about 70 years. First settlers arriving here in 1889 found a marker and a siding beside the track which had been installed a few years before, and the depot, erected about a year later, was one of the town's first buildings. Since its completion up to a year ago Muenster had regular passenger and freight service. At that time the passenger train was taken from the line but the station remained open for freight service.

Oxygen Shortage Suffocates Fish

A freakish condition limiting the supply of oxygen in the top few feet of water is believed to be responsible for the death of thousands of fish in J. M. Weinzapfel's lake at the west city limit.

Weinzapfel said that a representative of the Texas Game and Fish Commission tested the water and found no trace of any toxic substance. He also stated that the commission is familiar with the condition, which is found more frequently in smaller farm ponds.

It was noted that practically all fish were small, the size that stays near the top of the water. Since very few larger fish were found it was assumed that the oxygen shortage did not go down to deep water and the few large fish died of other causes.

Rev. Christopher Transfers, Rev. Alcuin Is New Pastor

Rev. Christopher Paladino

Father Christopher Paladino, O.S.B., pastor of Sacred Heart Church since January 1958, will leave Muenster next Monday to take up his new duty as secretary-treasurer of Subiaco Abbey, his home monastery.

He will be succeeded by Father Alcuin Kubis, O.S.B., pastor of St. Peter's Church in Lindsay.

The two changes of assignment along with several related changes were made recently by Abbot Michael Lensing of Subiaco and were announced this week by Bishop Thomas Gorman.

Lindsay's new pastor will be Father Damien Wewers O.S.B. of St. Theresa Parish, Corpus Christi. Father Patrick Hannon, O.S.B., pastor of St. Mary's Parish, Fort Worth, and former assistant pastor here, is the new pastor at Corpus Christi. And Father Maurus Gerke, O.S.B., the former secretary-treasurer at Subiaco is Father Patrick's successor at Fort Worth.

Father Alcuin is a native of Lindsay and received his elementary education there before going to Subiaco Academy. He was ordained on May 26, 1932. From then until 1941 he taught in Subiaco Academy. Next he served at Corpus Christi Academy until 1954 as teacher and athletic director. After that he was pastor of the Scranton, Ark., parish until his assignment in 1958 as Lindsay's pastor.

Father Christopher leaves Muenster after almost seven years. He came here in August 1953 on a combined assignment of assistant pastor and superintendent and athletic coach of Sacred Heart School. He succeeded Father Louis Deuster as pastor in January 1958. From his ordination in 1939 until coming to Muenster Father Christopher was on the Subiaco Academy faculty.

A farewell party was given Wednesday night by the Muenster KCs to honor Father Christopher, their chaplain. Featuring the event were a barbecue lunch, messages of tribute by John Mosman, J. P. Flusche, J. B. Klement and Andy O'Connor and presentation of a cuff links and money clip set with $25 in cash as a parting gift.

More Sites Clear For Flood Control On Clear Creek

Flood control on the Clear Creek Watershed took another step forward last weekend when easements were cleared on sites for three more detention reservoirs. This makes a total of eight out of fifty proposed sites that are ready for the engineers.

All the cleared sites are near the head of the watershed. Six are in the Upper Elm-Red Soil Conservation District and the other two are in the Denton-Wise District.

Montague County commissioners were the first in the watershed to take over maintenance of the dams. Similar action is awaited now by commissioners of Cooke, Denton and Wise counties. Cooke county commissioners set a precedent some time ago when they agreed to maintain the structures on the Elm Creek Watershed but they have not to date taken action on Clear Creek dams.

In Montague as in Cooke commissioners were agreeable because experience has shown that the cost of maintenance amounts to less than the savings on roads and bridges protected by the dams.

In counties where the commissioners take over maintenance it will be possible to drop most of the special administrative and maintenance tax recently approved in a watershed election. Collections will be made this year as authorized to provide an administrative fund. After that it may be omitted for several years.

Schedule of Coming Events

FRIDAY, June 24, CYC meeting, election of officers, registration of new members, in the Parish Hall, 8 p.m.

SUNDAY, June 26, Meetings for St. Anne's and St. Joseph's Societies, followed by joint social, Parish Hall, 8 p.m.

WEDNESDAY, June 29, Meeting of teen-agers, Public School, 8 p.m.

NEWS OF THE SICK

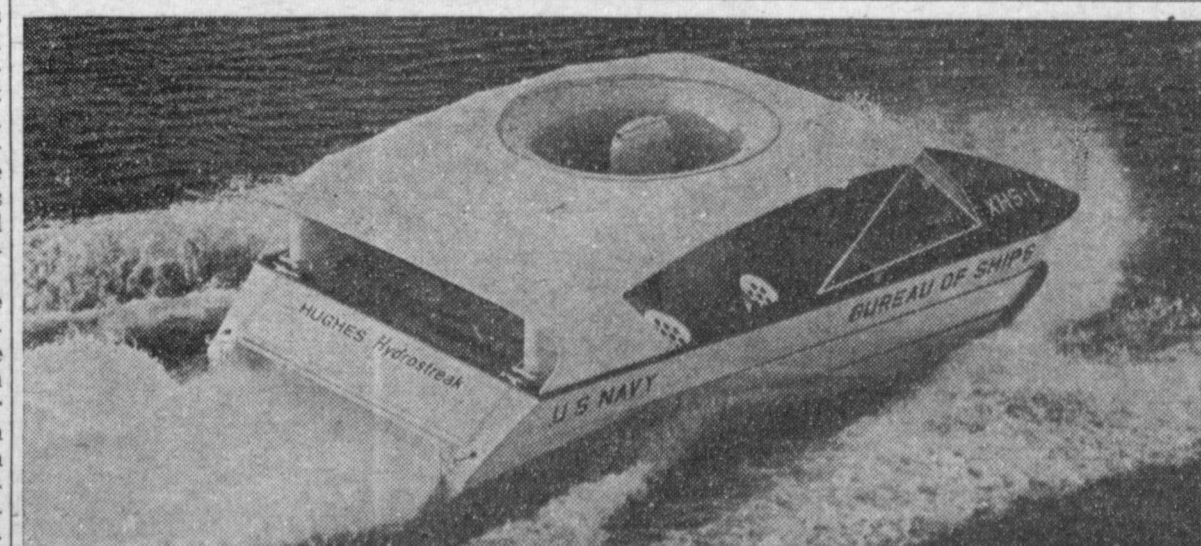

Mrs. Catherine Gehrig who went to Idaho Falls, Idaho, last week for a vacation with relatives, is spending her time in the hospital instead. Just a few days after her arrival there she became seriously ill and has been under oxygen since entering the hospital last Friday. Her daughter, Mrs. Charley Hellman, who went with her is at her bedside and the two will return home as soon as Mrs. Gehrig can travel. Her doctor thinks she will be able to leave the hospital in about a week. Meanwhile Mrs. Gehrig can enjoy greeting cards. Her address is Room 210, Sacred Heart Hospital, Idaho Falls, Idaho.

Back in Dallas Tuesday for a checkup, Carol Fette learned that her broken right arm is "doing well" — the bone specialist said — and after six weeks more of keeping the arm in a cast there'll be another checkup. Going with Carol were her mother and Mrs. Dick Cain and daughters Sandra and Debbie.

REALLY SKIMMING ALONG—This 20-foot Hydrostreak craft being tested by the Navy speeds atop the water by riding a cushion of air sucked in by fan at top.

As time passes and we appraise more calmly the real significance of the cancellation of President Eisenhower's trip to Japan, it's doubtful whether we will continue regarding it as so utterly humiliating to him and this country.

The only humiliation was suffered by the government of Japan and its decent citizens. Their nation was shamed by a mob of barbarians who violated the traditional courtesy which usually marks the behavior of Japanese people. It is a black mark on the history of their country.

As regards the president, the incident was a disappointment. He was deprived of the pleasure of magnificent receptions such as he received in so many other countries. He and we were deprived of the satisfaction of being enthusiastically hailed as the champion of freedom.

Indirectly the incident was a tribute to him. It demonstrated how desperately determined the communists were in preventing the kind of reception which has become a thorn in Khrushchev's side. Big K has reason to be jealous. Comparison of crowds and dispositions that greeted him and Ike on their travels reveals unmistakably that Ike is much more generally respected and loved. Khrush is like the dog in the manger. Knowing that he himself cannot inspire popular respect, he is determined that Ike will not receive it either.

Looking back on the president's cancelled visit to Russia, we can be sure that the real motive was the same streak of jealousy. Despite his iron fist rule over the masses, K knows that Russian people are essentially the same as others. They too love freedom and human dignity and they respect the man who stands for them. The Kremlin mob did not wish to risk the embarrassment of Ike's triumphal visit in their country, so they took steps to prevent it. The U2 incident was an excuse, not a reason. It was a convenient pretext which could be propagandized to the limit as a prelude to cancelling an invitation.

For a more accurate appraisal of the popular attitude toward Eisenhower and this country one should look to his reception on his other stops. The Philippines, Korea, Formosa and Okinawa turned out in cheering throngs. The success he would have enjoyed in Russia and Japan can also be measured by the fanatic efforts to keep him away. He and we can derive satisfaction from that thought.

At the same time we have to admit that the situation is disturbing. We cannot help wondering about the stability of the Japanese government if it is unable to cope with a small minority of rowdies doing the bidding of red organizers. Unless the leaders of that country act soon to stamp out the enemies in their midst there is grave danger of its being absorbed by the Moscow-Peking axis. If that should happen the fall of the rest of Asia would be practically inevitable, and the danger of world conquest by the reds would become greater than ever.

Now, more than ever before we should realize that it is high time for free people everywhere to start working together for their survival. We should also be aware that our country, as the acknowledged leader of the free nations, is charged with the responsibility of leading the modern crusade. It's our job to organize free people and to muster as much devotion to our cause as the reds are mustering to theirs.

First of all the situation calls for an awakening in this country. It demands official acknowledgment that there is no such thing as peaceful co-existence, that we are at this very time engaged in a global struggle which must eventually result in complete defeat for freedom or communism. We are shirking a sacred responsibility every day that we delay getting actively in this contest and striving toward annihilation of the red menace.

This doesn't mean that we have to plunge into a shooting war, even though we surely must be prepared in case one is forced on us. Far more important is a nationwide educational campaign identifying reds in our country as members of an international conspiracy, accompanied by a nation wide drive to rid the country of every

CONSTITUTION ACTION

"My generation has squandered its legacy. We were bequeathed, by our political forebears, an unearned heritage — the greatest citadel of freedom and opportunity the world has ever seen. We have failed to strengthen that heritage, or even to preserve it."

These searching, searing words are from a recent speech by Admiral Ben Moreell, head of Americans for Constitutional Action. He goes on to say:

"We have permitted its structure to be eroded and its foundations weakened to the point where we are in grave danger of losing the entire edifice. . . . Our retreat along the road back to serfdom has accelerated to a point where those noble words, . . . 'The land of the free and the home of the brave,' have been drained of meaning."

He quotes Edith Hamilton, famous authority on ancient Greece and Rome: "We are giving up the study of how the Greek and Roman . . . triumph ended. . . . In the end, more than they wanted freedom, they wanted security, a comfortable life, and they lost all — security and comfort and freedom.

There is more — enough to stir a sleeping, drifting people. For the full text of Moreell's speech, write Americans for Constitutional Action, 20 E. Street N. W., Washington, D. C.

HOW TO 'CATCH UP' WITH RUSSIANS!

One of the most effective rebuttals to the hue and cry that the United States is becoming second rate turned up the other day. It seems well worth repeating in this space, in view of the difficulty between the Soviet and free world governments.

Bryce N. Harlow, deputy assistant to President Eisenhower, in a recent speech at the Southwest Electric Conference, outlined what the United States would have to do to exchange places with Russia.

He said that in order to enjoy the glory of the present Soviet system, we would have to abandon three-fifths of our steel capacity . . . two-thirds of our petroleum capacity . . . 95 per cent of our electric motor output . . . destroy two of every three of our hydroelectric plants . . . and get along on a tenth of our present volume of natural gas.

We would have to rip up 14 of every 15 miles of our paved highways and two of every three miles of our mainline railway tracks. We'd sink eight of every nine ocean-going ships . . . scrap 19 of every 20 cars and trucks . . . and shrink our civilian air fleet to a shadow of its size.

We could cut our living standards by three-fourths . . . destroy 40 million TV sets . . . nine of every ten telephones . . . and seven of every ten houses; and then we could have to put about 60,000,000 of our people back on the farm.

And really to revel in the Soviet scheme, we would then have to assume a few military problems such as accepting aircraft carriers, overseas bases, and allies.

We would have to struggle with a hundred or so different languages, wondering all the while how many of our soldiers would have to garrison the homeland if a serious world crisis arose, and how many would really perform.

In answer to the claims that the Russians are leapfrogging us in electric power facilities, Harlow declared that if they are to catch up with us by 1980, they must, in the next 20 years, build the equivalent of a brand new Hoover dam every 21 days. They will have the formidable task of adding 390 million kilowatts by 1980 just to break even with us.

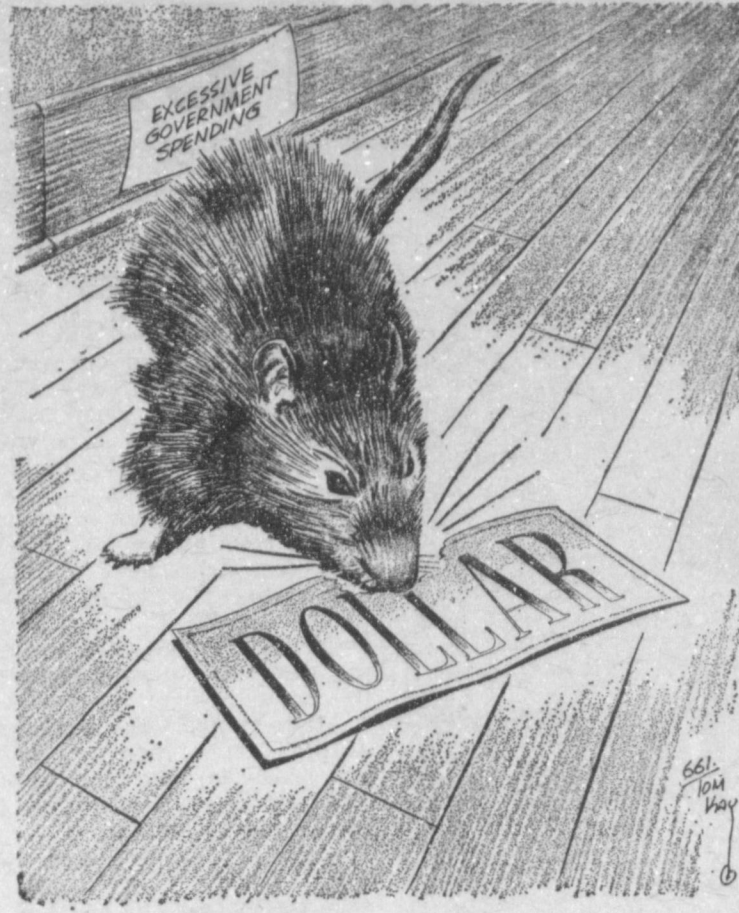

Does this sound as though Russia is about to overtake us? — Exchange

WERE LINCOLN ALIVE

Had Abraham Lincoln been alive and addressing an American audience on Memorial Day, 1960, he could have spoken somewhat as follows:

"Nine-score and four years ago our Fathers brought fourth on this continent a new nation conceived in liberty and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal.

"Now we are engaged in a great cold war with a ruthless and Godless dictatorship, testing whether this nation so conceived and dedicated can long endure. We are met here this Memorial Day 1960 to honor those who gave their lives to establish and to maintain this nation. It is altogether fitting and proper that we should do this.

The Rat of Inflation

"But in the larger sense, it is for us the living to be dedicated here to the unfinished work for which they fought and so nobly advanced. It is rather for us to dedicate ourselves to the great task remaining before us — that from the dead whom we honor here today we take increased devotion to that cause for which they gave that last full measure of devotion — that we here highly resolve to do all in our power to bring about a restoration of States Rights, of personal responsibility and of individual initiative and thrift, to stem the tide toward bigger and bigger centralized government at Washington—so that this nation, under God shall regain the liberties already lost and have a new birth of freedom — and that government of the people, by the people, for the people, shall not perish from the earth."

YOUR POWER BILL

Judging by all the controversy over public-vs-private electric power, a person who lacked factual information would be entitled to the belief that power costs are one of the biggest financial headaches in the American home and American industry.

Yet, the truth is that power is one of the extremely few items in general use which costs less now than it did in 1945.

A major utility company has told its own rate story, which is a typical one. Its average residential rate declined from 5.04 cents a kilowatt hour in 1945 to 3.98 cents in 1959, and its average commercial and industrial price went from 3.11 cents to 2.63 cents in the same period. It's true that electric bills are higher. But that's because people use much more electricity. They want the convenience it provides, and are willing to pay the modest cost. This particular company has

NUMBER ONE KILLER

By D. K. Kelly, Administrator, Traffic Safety Department, State of New Mexico

Last year 35,000 people were killed on our streets and highways. The automobile, however, does not cause this terrible slaughter. How a car performs depends on the driver. It was human error that killed those 35,000 people.

LIFE IS God's most precious gift. It is a gift which no man can create, repair or restore. Only God can create human life, but you or I can destroy that precious life in a matter of seconds by careless driving. A traffic violator is a potential killer.

The first step toward safer driving is to study our own driving habits. If we are the good citizens we want to be, we will correct any driving weaknesses we discover in ourselves.

FIVE DRIVING faults cause most accidents: Speeding without considering driving conditions. Lack of common courtesy, such as, yielding the right-of-way. Disregard of traffic laws, such as, driving on the wrong side of the road. Drinking, Driver fatigue.

Speed does not cause an accident, but speed is the killer when an accident occurs. Most wrecks happen when a driver has to make several decisions in a few seconds. Speed jams such decisions together. A good driver takes stock of unsafe conditions and lowers his speed to fit them—bad weather, heavy traffic, worn tires, even the way he may be feeling at the time. A COURTEOUS driver is thoughtful of the man in the next car. He treats pedestrians and other drivers as he would his mother and father.

Drinking mixed with driving turns loose on defenseless people a brainless, multi-horsepowered monster. Even without signs of being drunk, a person with a few drinks loses some control of mind and body. As little as 0.04% of alcohol in the blood may reduce the sharpness of one's sight as much as the wearing of dark glasses after sundown.

Driver fatigue is another cause of accidents. It sets in even before a person realizes he is now too tired to drive. All drivers are dangerous who have driven ten hours without sleep.

THESE FIVE checks—speeding, courtesy, traffic laws, drinking, and fatigue—can help you be a safer driver. Remember how precious human life is. The life of a child on the street or of the driver up ahead is sacred in God's sight—as is our own.

We value God's gift of life by avoiding needless dangers to it. Traffic violations, however, recklessly put it in danger. Such violations are no minor misdemeanors. They are serious crimes against society. They can be serious sins against God, even more serious than lying or stealing.

Air Conditioners Cool Better When Filters Are Clean

Folks, keep those filters clean. Through the hot summer months when air conditioners will be keeping you cool, there are a few important points regarding filters that should be kept in mind.

1. The filter, whether it be the throw-away or permanent type, should be cleaned periodically so it will remain effective in cleaning the air of pollen, dust and dirt.

2. A clean filter helps keep the cooling coils clean. These coils need to remain dirt-free to give off an adequate amount of cold air.

3. A very large percentage of air conditioning unit failures are caused by dirty filters.

4. Filters should be checked, cleaned and replaced periodically on both window and central air conditioning units. It is wise to keep several new filters on hand for replacement purposes.

5. Air conditioning units can be operated more economically through the use of clean filters.

And finally — most air conditioning dealers have in stock a relatively inexpensive air pressure warning indicator that can be installed on central system air conditioning ducts. This indicator shows when the unit's air pressure drops. This pressure reduction may be caused by a dirty filter.

Thomas Herr and Virgilla Schilling Say Nuptial Vows

Miss Virgilla Schilling became the bride of Thomas Herr in a ceremony performed Saturday afternoon in Sacred Heart Church with Father Martin Fischer performing the double ring ceremony and officiating at the nuptial high mass at 4 o'clock.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Schilling and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Herr. Anthony Luke was organist, the men's choir sang the mass and Miss Joaline Mollenkopf was soloist for a post-nuptial selection "On This Day" while the bride placed a white gladioli bouquet on the Blessed Virgin's altar.

Virgilla was a lovely bride, given in marriage by her father. Her wide-skirted wedding gown of Chantilly lace and sheer silk organza over taffeta was designed and made by her mother. The skirt was fashioned of multiple tiers of organza ruffles edged in lace. The fitted lace bodice had a Sabrina neckline embroidered with pearls, and petal point sleeves.

Her waist-length veil fell in tiers from a queen's crown of bridal jewels and she carried a white orchid in a cascade atop a prayer book.

Attendants
Bride's attendants were Miss Charlotte Schilling, maid of honor, and Miss Joanie Herr, bridesmaid, sisters of the couple, wearing blue embroidered silk organza bouffants with puffed sleeves and cummerbunds. Their headpieces matched their dresses and they carried baskets of pink sweetheart roses. Tiny Carla Rose Schilling, cousin of the bride, was flower girl, her costume and flowers duplicating those of the other two attendants. Virgil Henscheid was best man and Alois Pelzel of Pilot Point, cousin of the bride, was groomsmen. Dickie Pagel and Carl Schilling ushered.

Acolytes were Frank Schilling Jr., brother of the bride, John Henry Streng and Andy Klement, cousins, and John Dave Fleitman and Paul Dangelmayr.

Reception
Wedding reception was held in the parish hall where some 350 relatives and friends helped themselves at a sumptuous smorgasbord catered by Mrs. Joe Lehnertz. Kathy Pagel, Mrs. Leo Felderhoff and Arleen Malone were at the bride's book.

Table decorations featured a fountain playing over gardenias with the scene spotlighted. Mrs. Dan Luke was decorator.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Schilling wore a dusty rose lace dress with matching straw hat and other accessories in navy blue. Mrs. Herr wore a light green dress with black accessories. They had corsages of sweetheart roses and feathered carnations and so did the couple's grandmothers, Mrs. Henry Streng and Mrs. Katie Roberg.

After a dance in the VFW Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Herr left on a wedding trip to New Orleans and other points. For traveling she wore a two-piece dress of beige embroidered linen with orange accessories. They will make their home in Fort Worth at 923 Travis St.

Both are graduates of Sacred Heart High and he will soon be graduated from barber college. He has finished his tour in the service as a naval aviator.

Out Of Town Guests

Wedding guests were present from a wide area and included Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Schilling and son John of Crowell, Mrs. Joe Pelzel, the Joe Pelzels Jr., and the Carl Herts of Pilot Point; Mrs. Alfred Kuhn of Midland, the John Nehibs of Valley View, the Carl Pelzels of Ennis, Joan Roberg, Arleen Malone, and Messrs. and Mmes David Endres and Angelo Nasche of Fort Worth, Mrs. Ed Smith and children, the Jerry Henscheids, Messrs. and Mmes. DeWitt Dumas and John Phillips, and Thomas Hesse all of Dallas, the Melvin Herts, Mrs. Barbara Martini, Myra Simmons, Joe Spaeth, Mrs. Paul Connelley and Paul Jr., all of Wichita Falls, Mrs. Floyd Hoggins and Rhonda of Archer City, and Sylvester Streng of Temple in addition to a large number from Cooke County.

Pre-Nuptial Party

A pre-nuptial courtesy honored Virgilla Tuesday evening before her marriage with Miss Sarah Ann Fleitman as hostess at home for a chicken barbecue followed by home movies. Guests were former classmates and they presented the honoree a floor lamp as a joint gift.

Present with the honor guest and hostess were Dorothy Zimmerman, Lois Owen, Carolyn Cunningham, Margie Owen, Joaline Mollenkopf, Jo Ann Hess and Ruth Endres.

Scouts Make Hike To Voth Lake for Board of Review

A Boy Scout outing Sunday was a "bike hike" to Ben Voth's lake with a cook-out and board of review in which Willie Wimmer passed tests to enter second class scouting.

Board of review members were Scout Committeemen Frank Felderhoff and Joe Sicking who had dinner with the boys and Scoutmaster Nick Miller.

Scouts participating were Willie Wimmer, Sammy Endres, Tommy Fuhrmann, Joe Hartman, John Paul and Ricky Endres, and Robert Fisher. Johnny Felderhoff was there as a guest.

Endres Family Has Outing at Sherman

Mrs. M. J. Endres was with her family for a picnic dinner in Sherman where her daughters, Sister Agnes and Sister Irma, are spending the summer. Her son, Leonard Endres and family of Dallas, stopped here to take her with them.

Also at the outing were Kenneth Endres and his bride of Columbus, Ohio, spending a part of their honeymoon in Texas so the new Mrs. Endres can get acquainted with her husband's relatives. Sister Antoinette joined the group in the get-together.

Dick Endres, on vacation with his parents in Dallas since the close of classes at Ohio State, leaves July 1 for California to work during the summer on an engineering job at Edwards AFB.

Local 4-H Entries Place 4th, 7th In State Contests

Muenster's Charlotte Wolf and Janice Vogel and Lindsay's Rose Mary Hermes, Cooke County 4-H club entrants in state contests during the annual roundup at A&M College have heard how they placed.

Charlotte, individual dairy food demonstrator, was right behind the big three. She tied for fourth place. Janet and Rose Mary, working a team in dairy demonstration, were seventh in the state contests.

Only the top three winners in state competition learned their ratings while they were at the roundup. Other contestants receive their grades through the mail. Assistant Home Demonstration Agent Evelyn Trietsch wrote the girls the information after receiving it from A&M the past week.

HOW MUCH For Summer Comfort?

Have you wondered at the cost of running your air conditioner? Actually, running your air conditioner all summer costs less than an average family will spend for only one week at a mountain resort.

A comparative study of electric service bills reveals that on the average it costs 2½ cents per ton per hour to run an air conditioner... so, it's simple arithmetic to figure your own cost. Multiply the number of air conditioning tons your home has by 2½ cents and then multiply the number of hours each day that your comfort-cooling air conditioner runs.

Consult the chart below. You will notice that as the days become hotter, the cost rises... this is because your air conditioner has to work longer to keep you comfortably cool.

OPERATING COST OF REFRIGERATED AIR CONDITIONING

(Based on a study of hundreds of electric service bills.)

	May	June	July	August	September

WANTED BY THE FBI

JOSEPH CORBETT, JR.

Corbett, one of the FBI's "Ten Most Wanted Fugitives," is wanted for escape from the California Institution for Men, Chino, Calif., where he was serving a 5 years' to life sentence for murdering an Air Force sergeant. A Federal warrant was issued at Los Angeles, Calif., on March 21, 1960, charging him with unlawful interstate flight to avoid confinement for murder.

A white American, born on October 25, 1928, at Seattle, Wash., Corbett is 6 feet 1 inch to 6 feet 2 inches tall and weighs 160 to 170 pounds. He has light brown hair, hazel eyes, a fair complexion, a medium build, and has worked as a clerk-typist, laborer, warehouseman, laboratory technician, and alkyl-resin cooler for a paint manufacturer. His two upper front teeth slant inward and he wears glasses, reportedly being extremely nearsighted and capable of seeing only close objects without them. He has a mole under his chin and a C-shaped scar on his right thumb.

Corbett, once a premedical student, is interested in scientific matters, avidly reads technical and travel books, and is intensely interested in firearms and target practice. He reportedly has a superior general intelligence and generally lives quietly and neatly but becomes erratic when drinking alcoholic beverages. Convicted of second-degree murder, he is considered armed and dangerous. Anyone having information concerning him should immediately notify the nearest office of the FBI, the telephone number of which can be found on the first page of local telephone directories. 561200-11

NOTES FROM CITY LIBRARY

"Bird in the Forest" by Ethel Bangert is one of the books at City Library.

Polly Desmond, a girl of about 19 has finally gotten her father Chips a job. Chips, a very irresponsible but lovable man, decides not to take the job but that he and Polly become the caretakers of Moss Clif a huge mansion on Lake Tahoe.

Polly is very disappointed in her father but decides she will spend one day at Lake Tahoe. Her boss fires her because she takes the day off. She has no choice but to accept the position of caretaker.

The owner of Moss Clif has a very spoiled step-daughter who does things just to make life unpleasant.

Polly meets two boys. Each accuses the other of being an undesirable character. Polly learns things by spending the winter at Moss Clif that she would never have learned otherwise.

Java and Nemo were the caretakers at the mansion before the Desmonds. They stay while the Desmonds catch on.

One must read this book to enjoy all of it.

Cooke County FB To Meet Monday

Lots of Smoke But Little Damage

Muenster fireman answering a call last week Thursday at the Gus Sicking house in the south part of town found lots of smoke but no flame as a mattress and bed clothes were smouldering profusely. All they did was carry the stuff outside and soak it. No water was used inside. The only effects were loss of the bedding and a badly smoked interior.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

This year's huge wheat crop means bread for the hungry and cash for the farmer. Reports in the Muenster-Saint Jo area of the Upper Elm-Red Soil Conservation District show yields ranging upward to 40 and 50 bushels per acre with yields running ten to 20 per cent higher on wheat following alfalfa or sweet clover.

Wheat with yields such as these also presents a problem to cooperators in the area on account of the large amount of stubble left on the land. "But don't burn it! Leave it on the ground where it belongs!" emphasize technicians of the soil conservation service.

On an average, wheat yielding 30 bushels per acre produces about two tons of straw per acre. A chemical analysis of this straw will show it contains over $7.00 worth of fertilizer per ton if fertilizer were bought in the sack.

This alone is reason enough to leave the stubble on the land where it will decay and put fertilizer into the soil. Straw left on or near the surface acts as a cushion for beating rains, prevents crusting and soil losses and keeps the ground in condition to soak up water like a sponge.

Much of the nitrogen in the soil is tied up in the process of decaying this straw and is not available to the crops that are grown following small grain. If crops are to follow soon it will pay to fertilize with 30 to 40 pounds of actual nitrogen per ton of straw to help the decaying process.

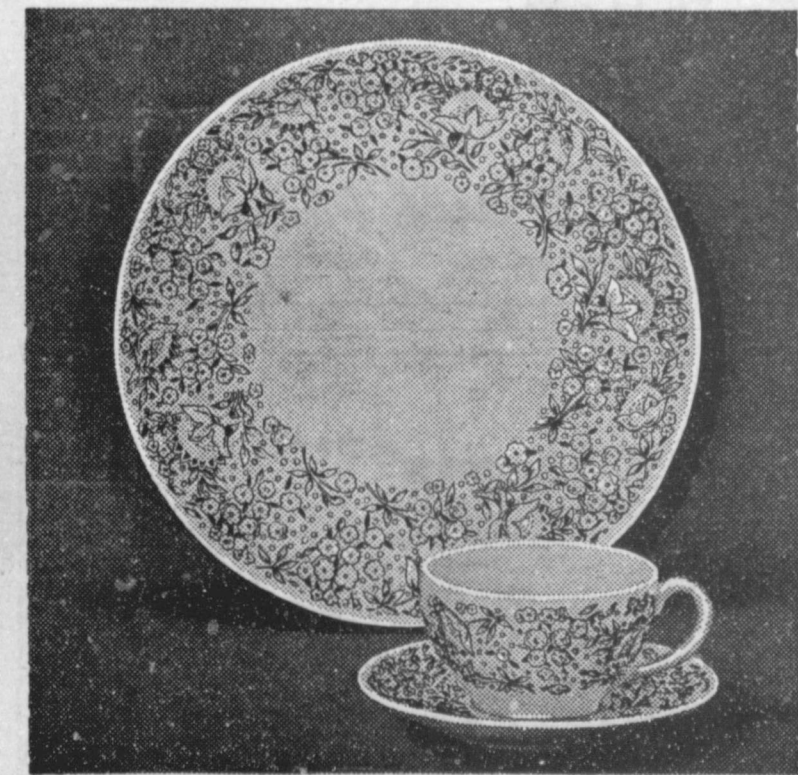

At any rate, do whatever is necessary to utilize the grain stubble. It is one of the natural ways to retain good soil condition and fertility, soil technicians point out.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

The editor of the Montello (Wisconsin) Tribune recently answered some questions he had received from readers of his weekly newspaper. Here are some of the questions and the editor's answers:

Q. Why don't you have funny papers?

A. We think we have the funniest paper in Wisconsin right now.

Q. Why don't you have an "Advice to the Lovelorn" column, like Abby Lane?

A. None of our readers have any such problems.

Q. Why do you have all those misprints?

A. They're the most entertaining part of the whole paper.

Q. Why didn't you publish the poem I sent you?

A. It was a lousy poem.

Q. Why do you always say "we" when referring to yourself in the paper?

A. We want our readers to think they're outnumbered.

Q. Why don't you put out a bigger paper, like the Milwaukee Journal?

A. We plan on it as soon as the population of Montello equals that of Milwaukee.

Q. What would you give me for writing a weekly column of moral homespun philosophy?

A. A poke in the eye with a sharp stick.

Q. Why don't you write an editorial and tell those guys on the city council what they can do to improve the town?

A. Why don't you go down to the next meeting and tell 'em yourself.

Q. Why don't you print more letters to the editor?

A. Why don't you write me one? And sign it with your name, please — don't be chicken.

Q. Why do you devote space to such trivialities as "Joe Smith is feeling poorly this week?"

A. Because good old Joe has many pals who are concerned over his health, even if you are not. Who knows, somebody might read this item and send Joe a bottle of sympathy.

Rules to Follow When Involved in Automobile Crash

Vacation time is here. As millions of people begin driving about the country, automobile accidents will occur with increasing frequency. What should a person do when involved in an accident?

At such times it is hard to keep your wits about you and know just what to do. It is therefore a good idea to plan in advance just what you would do in event of a smash-up. Here are a few simple rules that every driver should commit to memory:

1. Stop! Failure to stop can result in serious criminal consequences.

2. Render Aid. If anyone is injured: (1) Render first aid. (2) Stop bleeding. (3) Call a doctor or an ambulance or both. (4) Do not move an injured person in any way that could possibly add to his injury.

3. Protect the Scene from Further Damage. You may be liable for damages to approaching drivers, unless they are properly warned. If the highway is obstructed at night, have someone turn his headlights beams on the wrecked vehicles.

4. Call an Officer. Police-men, Highway Patrolmen, Sheriffs and their deputies are trained accident investigators whose testimony may be invaluable in establishing your civil claim for damages.

5. Gather Information...

Write it Down. Don't trust your memory. Don't guess — be specific. Measure skid marks. Step off distances. Be sure to obtain names and addresses of witnesses. You are required by law to exhibit your driver's license to the other driver — and he must do the same.

6. Be Careful What You Say. Even if you feel you probably are to blame, it is best to make no admission. You may learn later than the other driver was equally at fault, or more so. Emotional comments can be misconstrued by others, or may be misquoted. Whatever you say, make it factual.

7. See Your Doctor if there is the slightest chance you may be injured. Serious injuries do not always result in immediate pain or bloodshed.

8. Consult Your Lawyer Immediately. The sooner your lawyer is brought into the matter, the better he can advise you and protect your rights. He can obtain statements from the witnesses while their memories are fresh, and do many other things to insure that the true facts are preserved. Get your lawyer's advice before giving any interviews or statements to investigators or adjusters for the other side.

9. Inform Your Insurance Company Promptly. Failure to do so may void your policy.

10. Report the Accident to the Department of Public Safety. This is required by law if there is any injury, death, or total damages exceed $25.00.

An official accident report form may be procured from the Police, Sheriff's Dept., Highway Patrol, or State Dept. of Public Safety.

(This Column, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform — not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

School Busses In Texas Used by 400,223 Children

Austin, — Mary's legendary little lamb would have a hard time following her to school today in most Texas communities.

One Texas school child in every five now rides the school bus each day to and from the school house, the Texas State Teachers Association reported today.

Last year 400,223 Texas children rode to school in the familiar yellow buses, Texas Education Agency figures show. Total distance covered by the buses averaged 482,384 miles a day.

Stretch those miles over 175 days of instruction (the minimum school year) and you get an 85 million mile trip. That's the equivalent of almost a round trip to the moon every day.

It's 253,000 miles to the moon. To the sun its 93 million miles — so the annual ride by Texas school children would fall short of the sun about nine million miles.

These figures are a compilation of the miles driven by 7,847 school buses receiving state aid. An average school bus last year traveled 61 miles a day and carried 51 children on its route.

State transportation aid is provided for those children who live two miles or more from school where public transportation facilities are not available.

There's only one thing worse than running into debt, and that's running into the fellow you owe it to.

Dairy Cow Walks With Man Through Pages of History

College Station — The story of man is closely related to the story of the dairy cow, A. M. Meekma, extension dairy husbandman, said today in a June Dairy Month tribute to the nation's greatest industry.

It's a story that goes back to the very beginnings of civilization, as far back as recorded history. There is evidence that the ancestors of modern man followed the ancestors of modern cows from pasture to pasture many thousands of years ago.

In the oldest writings known to man, the Vedic hymns written in Sanskrit on tablets of stone, it says that the earliest known form of King was a Gopatis or Lord of the Cows. Gopatis owned the cows but milking was a sacred rite. One priest stood at the cow's head. Another held her tail. The third priest was of the highest ranking and did the milking.

Gopatis referred to the moon as the "milk goddess of the night." The stars were defined as 5-horned cattle. As Gopatis watched the cow-studded Heavens another visible proof of the holiness of the cow appeared. Across the sky there flows a great river of soft whiteness which to this day is called the "Milky Way."

The great Greek physician Hippocrates prescribed milk as a medicine 500 years before Christ was born.

Without the dairy cow more than half the colonists who first came to America's shores from England in the years 1607-1610 did not survive. They imported food but their supplies of butter and cheese were entirely inadequate. The first shipment of dairy cattle arrived at Jamestown, Virginia, in 1611.

From that time forward, says Meekma, the health and wealth of America was on the upswing. As man moved westward across the continent, the cow was tied to the tailboards of the covered wagon and her brothers, the oxen, furnished the pulling power.

Milk Is Biggest Bargain in Foods

College Station, June — Nutritionists agree, says A. M. Meekma, extension dairy husbandman, that if you were to duplicate the food elements in a quart of milk by purchasing other products, it would cost you about 43 cents.

Dr. Charles H. Mayo, late distinguished surgeon at the famous Mayo Clinic said, "Considering its cost per pound, milk offers more food for the money than any other food material available."

Meekma points out that studies of consumer food expenditures show that 18 to 20 percent of the family food budget is spent for milk and milk products. However, he states, the American family calories, 40-45 percent of their protein, 75-84 percent of their calcium, 59-76 percent of their riboflavin, 35-39 percent of their Vitamin A, 18-19 percent of their thiamin, and 5-6 percent of their iron and niacin for this money.

In terms of today's factory wages, the "real" price of a quart of milk is the lowest in history, according to the U. S. Bureau of Labor Statistics. Back in 1890 it took 26 minutes of factory work to pay for a quart of milk selling at the average price of 6.8 cents. Today it takes less than 7 minutes to earn the price of a quart of home-delivered milk figured at 25.2 cents per quart.

The older generation thought nothing of getting up at 5 o'clock in the morning — and the younger generation doesn't think so much of it either.
