NUMBER 44

The case of traitorous defection to the Soviet Union by Mitchell and Martin raises again the all important question of why our government risks its security on questionable characters.

Here were two men employed by the National Security Agency, one of the most secret organizations of the government, in spite of the fact that their personnel files showed good reason to doubt their reliability. Both were known perverts. Still they were cleared for their jobs. Why? Did those who examined the records overlook that fact? Or did they naively assume that persons with such low moral standards might still have a conscience with respect to other affairs?

While denouncing the turncoats for the contemptible traitors that they are we should reserve some of our criticism for official carelessness and complacency which enables them to operate. To our way of thinking no person under even the slightest suspicion in morality or loyalty should be permitted in any position that endangers our security.

The bleeding heart sentimentalists, and more so the subversives, will not go along with that standard, of course. They make a big fuss over the principle that an individual must be presumed innocent until proved guilty, hence he cannot justly be deprived of a job because of mere suspicion.

On the face of it that seems reasonable, and it may appeal to an impractical idealist, but it doesn't hold up under practical considerations. The important fact is that the nation has no right to take chances with our security. This is a matter of everything to lose and nothing to win. Against such odds there is no justification for tolerance.

As most of us know, any applicant for an important federal job is investigated by the FBI, and his file is submitted to the person or persons who have decided on whether or not to hire him. In fairness to the applicant the FBI file is considered confidential. It is seen only by those who have a duty to see it and decide on it.

Under that arrangement it is often possible for questionable security risks to slip into a job. Suspicious details may possibly be overlooked or the real significance of the detail may not be fully understood. Or perhaps the superior is aware of reported faults but decides to take a chance on the applicant. And after the man is hired the carelessness or complacency may never be discovered. The file remains confidential unless and until there is reason to examine it again.

Nor can we ignore the possibility that the superior himself may be untrustworthy, and deliberately hires another of his kind. It's possible to have a traitor in high position. Or a weakling who can be used by a traitor.

All of which suggests that something should be done to make security clearances fool proof. Certainly the government can find a way to do that. It could appoint a board to examine every security clearance. It could authorize the FBI to rule out suspicious characters and not even permit consideration of their applications . . . a measure which should not be objectionable in view of the proven loyalty of the FBI. Another precaution is to review the case of every employee who betrays his trust and demand an accounting of the superior if it is found that the original report did not justify hiring him. Such a policy might bring more caution to the hiring procedure.

If we think these are stern measures we should also remember that the stakes are high. Our welfare, our freedom, perhaps our very existence, are jeopardized by traitors who betray us to the enemy. Under the circumstances we cannot afford to take chances, even though we feel convinced that some are loyal in spite of incriminating details in their files.

As regards the sentimental claim that some deserving people will be wronged by such a policy the obvious answer is that no person's right to a job is as great as millions of people's right to security. Furthermore, no person is really wronged if he's denied a vital job because his record shows him to be untrustworthy . . . regardless of

Tiger Cubs Open Season with 16-0 Win over Lindsay

Sacred Heart Cubs had everything their way Sunday afternoon on the Tiger field and racked up a 16-0 win over Lindsay for the season opener.

The count might have been more decisive if Sacred Heart had not failed on three other scoring opportunities. One was spoiled when a 15 yard penalty imposed too much handicap, another ended in a fumble, another just bogged down on incomplete passes.

First of the two Cub scores came in the second quarter on a 60 yard drive. Jimmy Klement went the last 7 on a sweep around right end and went over again for extra points.

The next TD came in the last period after David Hess intercepted a Lindsay pass. Roy Wimmer on a left end scot made the last 5 in a 35 yard drive, and Ray Wimmer passed to Jimmy Klement for two more points.

Throughout the game Lindsay was held for very short yardage, meanwhile Wimmer, Klement and Dale Hess stepped off gains consistently for the Cubs. Sacred Heart was forced to punt only once.

Next action for the Cubs is Sunday afternoon at 2, when they take on the Windthorst kids.

Working for a place on the junior team are John Walterscheid, Tommy Vogel, Weldon Vogel, Gary Dickerson and Larry Sparkman. On the senior team are Donny Vogel, Robert Klement, James Whitt and Choice Stephens.

Hornets Smother Warriors 44-26 In Scoring Spree

Action unlimited was the order of the evening on the MHS field Saturday as the Hornets bested the Warriors of Valley View, Wichita County, in a 44-26 scoring spree.

The first half was relatively tame, ending with Muenster ahead 14-6, but the next half produced a total of 50 points as the Hornets regularly easily mastered the Warriors, and Warriors had about as little trouble with Hornet reserves. Before it was over the teams had set up a sort of operating procedure. Holding a nice margin Coach Gay gave the youngsters a chance, and the Warriors would score. Then the Hornets got back their margin and Gay let the youngsters try again. The last six TDs were made that way.

Opening the game the Warriors lost by inches on a fourth down gamble and Muenster started its first drive. Wimmer and Harris alternated in moving 38 yards on seven plays. Harris toting for the last 13. On extra points try a holding penalty was assessed but Joe Hellman's pass to Mark Hellman paid off in spite of the 15 yard handicap.

The next drive was briefly interrupted. Six plays gained 50 yards to the Warriors 19 Then Newman stole a pass

According to the pre-game dope, the visitors are rated as strong favorites. They have topped Saint Jo and Callisburg, who are picked as leading contenders for this year's champ title, winning both games by a one-touchdown margin.

After seeing the Panther-Bobcat game last week Gay describes Newcastle as a fast, well balanced and versatile outfit that is dangerous every minute of the game. In size they are about an even match for Muenster, a 159 pound average in the line and 146 pound average in the backfield. And they're good at the aerial game using it effectively against Saint Jo last week. If the Hornets can break up those passes they will have a chance, says Gay.

With that especially in mind the MHS boys are putting in lots of practice time this week. They have definite ideas about springing an upset and they're shooting the works for a win. Physically the Hornets are ready. Not an injury on the squad, says Gay.

Southeast Part Of Town Gets Big New Water Main

A water main extension now just getting started will bring long delayed adequate pressure and volume along with fire protection to much of the area south of Highway 82 in Muenster.

It will be a 6 inch line 2105 feet long starting at the highway, following Walnut south to Cross, then going east on Cross to Pine. Two fire hydrants will be installed on it on Cross Street, at Walnut and Pine intersections.

Another improvement will be a connection with the 6 inch line it will cross on Hickory Street. This will provide a loop, allowing water to be fed from either direction and permitting continued service if trouble develops anywhere in the loop.

The line will replace a 3/4 inch line which was originally installed for a few homes. Now there are 14 homes on the line, with very little pressure when just a few use it at the same time . . . and no connection for fire fighting. The hose in some cases would have to be connected more than two blocks away. Hereafter there will be plenty of water for additional dozens of homes . . . and nearby fire protection also.

Cost of the project is estimated at $5,000. Material used is Transite pipe, a fairly recent development of cement and asbestos which is growing in popularity as a substitute for cast iron pipe. The four blocks of 8 inch pipe installed on third and Walnut Streets in February were of the same material.

Actual installation of the new line started just after midnight Thursday morning. Water Superintendent Steve Mosler and Joe Mosler connected with the main at Highway and Walnut and set a valve. While the connection was under way water had to be cut off in that area of town, so it was done during the wee hours in order to cause the least possible inconvenience.

Bills for $17,147 Sent This Week To City Taxpayers

Groans and gripes heard around town this week almost invariably can be traced to those little pink slips sent out by the City of Muenster.

It's that time again. Tax bills are out, and the total of the bill handed to city taxpayers is $17,147.43. This is $1739.78 higher than last year's total of $15,407.65. It also represents an average of about $40 for each of 428 tax bills sent out. However, it does not mean the average taxpayer gets by for that amount. Many received two pink slips, for the home and the business.

The city's total assessed valuation this year is $1,142,122. Real estate accounts for $761,515 of that and personal property accounts for $308,607. Principal items under the personal property heading are merchandise and equipment in business houses and automobiles.

Rate of taxation, set by voters of the city, is $1.50 per $100 of assessed valuation. Out of the $1.50 the general fund receives $1.30 and the sewer bond and sinking fund received 20 cents. That means $14,863.26 for the general fund and $2,284.17 for the sewer bond and sinking fund when all payments are received.

Due date for taxes is Jan. 31, 1961. After that delinquent penalty will be charged, however no discount is offered for early payment. The penalty for tax delinquency has been set by the city council at 3, 3 1/2, 4 and 4 1/2 per cent for the first four months and one per cent a month thereafter after running the penalty to 12 per cent for the full year.

Tax revenue represents less than half of the total city income. Water and sewer department receipts for 1959 amounted to $19,107.82. The combined income is used to finance such city functions as operation, maintenance and extension of the water and sewer systems, and building and maintenance of streets. It also provides and maintains equipment for fire protection.

Notes on Building and Improvement

A new home for the Hank Walterscheid is the newest development in this community's building activity. Located next to his present home, it will be a four bedroom job, central heating, brick siding, attached garage. Foundation is finished on it, framework just starting.

Clyde Fisher's new home at the corner of Third and Maple is shaped up and work is under way on the roof as well as inside and outside walls.

Just moved into is Russ Linn's new house south of town. It's a 3-bedroom job with attached garage.

A quickie expansion project is that at Eddie Krahl's. He practically doubled the size of his place by moving in another house and connecting the two.

W. M. DeBorde also moved a house in and is locating it where his other used to be, using the old foundation and adding foundation for two more rooms. When in place it will get a general interior refinish job. He's moving the old house to Forestburg.

Clive Gobbie, on West Third, has reached the painting stage. He started with a small house moved in from an oil lease, and added two rooms, two porches and overall siding and roofing.

Lou Wolf is having one room of his home refinished in panel board.

An outside paint job has just been finished at Mrs. Katie Roberg's.

EQUALITY AMERICAN STYLE

Some 16 years ago, a good friend of mine received a letter written to him by his 16-year-old daughter who was attending boarding school. She was puzzled about the meaning of "Equality," a term which she heard so often, but which no one had ever explained to her. The young lady certainly went to a good source to learn the true American concept of "Equality," when she wrote to her Dad, as you will see when you read the reply, which we are happy to pass along in this column for a second time. It follows:

The question of equality of which you wrote in your last letter is most interesting. A great many people talk about it, but very few really think about it.

Our country is the political expression of a spiritual idea. The Founding Fathers believed that man was made in the image of God and that consequently men should be free, and that they could be free only if all men were equal one to another. This obviously does not mean that men are equal in physical strength. It does not mean that they are equal in mental ability, in imaginative quality or in character. And because they are not physically and mentally equal, I cannot believe that they will ever be equal in material possessions.

Remember that the concept of equality in this country always has been a spiritual concept, never a material one; it ever has been that men were equal to one another before God, so that no man should be a ruler over his fellow men. This was a revolutionary thought coming as it did at the culmination of the period that had featured the "Divine Right of King."

In this country men were equal before the law and no man was to be an administrator or judge over his fellow men without the consent of the majority of his community, whether it was city, state or nation. Of the same importance in this idea of equality was the fact that the administrators and judges were at all times subject to the same laws as the rest of the people, from whom they came and whose interests they were selected to serve. Thus grew up in our country the belief in a government of laws, not a government of men.

But people will also say to you that there should be equality of opportunity. To the extent that all children should have as much love and happiness and education and reasonable discipline as we can give them, that is so. But opportunity is for him who takes it. Booker Washington and George Washington Carver were, I believe, born as slaves. Nearly all of us have had greater opportunity than they had, but they became two of our greatest citizens.

The realization of opportunity then does not depend on electricity or modern plumbing. The realization of opportunity depends on ability and character. And since ability without character is usually worthless, character is the final determining quality that brings opportunity to its fulfillment. Thus, it is true to a great extent that while you can offer opportunity to people, you can never give it to them. The people must have the character to perfect their own opportunities.

So it is also with freedom and democracy. You cannot give freedom or democracy to anyone and anyone who talks about doing so is either a knave or a fool. Both are the result of self-discipline which is a part of character. You can restore freedom to the Norwegians and other peoples who have previously won it for themselves, but other peoples must acquire it through self-discipline and self-control.

It is because of these facts that citizenship in the United States is so much more glorious a thing than being a slave to a totalitarian government. Here we make our own rules and we tax ourselves to enforce them. In a communist or fascist state the people are told what to do and have no free discussion concerning it, and no choice but to obey.

A self-governing people must be an adult people, able to discipline themselves. Fascists and Communists are like children who have to be disciplined from above, usually with a heavy hand.

You and I had the great good fortune to be born in a free country — free because we are equal under the law. If we are to keep it that way we must accept the responsibilities that go with it.

We liked this letter when we were privileged to read it for the first time sixteen years ago. Many readings of it over the intervening years have served to enhance our regard for it. We hope our readers will share our high opinion of this down-to-earth description of "Equality — American Style."

Let's Hear Him Answer That!

WHAT'S WRONG?

During the next Congressional session a determined effort will be made to repeal that section of the Taft-Hartley Act which authorizes the states to adopt right-to-work laws — laws which guarantee that a worker can join or not join a union, as he so chooses, without coercion from either labor or management. So far, 20 states have adopted the laws.

If the coming effort is successful, unrestrained labor monopolies will be in the saddle with a vengeance. Compulsory unionism — which means that man must join or starve — will become the rule. And this would be only the beginning. Senator Byrd of Virginia, said: "Power breeds power, and labor leaders are insatiable in their demands for special privilege and special legislation for immunity. Repeal . . . would be followed by a drive to repeal all protective provisions in the Taft-Hartley Act and other statutes in the whole labor field."

There's nothing anti-labor or anti-union in the right-to-work laws. All they do is to assert the principle that each individual has the right to decide for himself whether to join or not. As the Dallas Morning News observes, "If this is to remain a free country, what's wrong with that?"

Any substance that weighs more than the weight of the same volume of water will sink in water.

CONFUSED

Well, Congress adjourns this week and the show goes on the road. The session revealed that we have two parties in the United States — the Liberals and the Conservatives. Some of the Liberals sit on the Republican side of the aisle and some on the Democrat side. And the same goes for the Conservatives, only more so. Which is very confusing to the "leadership," especially the Texas Yankee who thought he was the Democratic leader till the Los Angeles TV show made Kookie Kennedy the Leader's Leader. Result: Jack and Lyndon have been wandering around the Senate chamber like two little boys looking for the bubble gum they dropped on the henhouse floor. Kinda confused, that is. . . .

LOOK AND SEE

By Thomas Merton, Trappist monk and author of THE SEVEN STOREY MOUNTAIN

In the late November of 1934, Europe was a sad and unquiet continent. My ship sailed quietly out of Southampton water by night — and the land I left behind me seemed silent with the silence before a storm. It was a land all shut up and muffled in layers of fog and darkness, and all the people were in the rooms behind the thick walls of their houses, waiting for the first growl of thunder as the Nazis began to warm up the motors of a hundred thousand planes. PERHAPS these people did not know they were waiting for all this. Perhaps they thought they had nothing better to occupy their minds than the wedding of Prince George and Princess Marina which had taken place the day before. I myself was more concerned with the thought of the people I was leaving than with the political atmosphere at that precise moment. And yet that atmosphere was something that would not allow itself to be altogether ignored.

I had seen enough of the things, the acts and appetites, that were to justify and to bring down upon the world the tons of bombs that would someday begin to fall in millions.

PEOPLE seem to think that it is in some way a proof that no merciful God exists, since we have so many wars. On the contrary, consider how in spite of centuries of sin and greed and lust and cruelty and hatred, spawned and bred by the free wills of men, the human race can still recover each time and can still produce men and women who overcome evil with good, hatred with love, greed with charity, lust and cruelty with sanctity.

How could all this goodness be possible without the merciful love of God, pouring out His grace upon us?

There is not a flower that opens, not a seed that falls into the ground, and not an ear of wheat that nods on the end of its stalk in the wind that does not preach and proclaim the greatness and the mercy of God to the whole world.

There is not an act of kindness or generosity, not an act of sacrifice done, or a word of peace and gentleness spoken, not a child's prayer uttered, that does not sing hymns to God before His throne and in the eyes of men, and before their faces. The quietness and hiddenness and calmness of the truly good people in the world all proclaim the glory of God.

ALL CREATURES, every graceful movement, every ordered act of the human will, all these are sent to us as prophets from God. Yet we refuse to hear the million different voices through which God speaks to us.

It is only the infinite mercy and love of God that has prevented us from tearing ourselves to pieces and destroying His entire creation long ago.

PLANNING FOR THE ATOMIC FUTURE

To assure you ample, low-cost electric service at all times, Texas Power & Light Company is constantly planning ahead.

This planning includes research to find ways to use atomic energy efficiently and economically in the production of electricity.

At the present time, the use of atomic energy as a fuel for producing electricity in this area is not feasible or practical because of its high cost in relation to use of the vast resources of natural gas and other fuels.

Looking to the future, however, TP&L and ten other electric companies in Texas, comprising the Texas Atomic Energy Research Foundation, are co-sponsoring with General Dynamics a research program concerning the use of atomic energy. In addition to participating in this joint effort in thermonuclear research, TP&L employs a full-time nuclear research scientist.

This is an example of free enterprise at work. Texas Power & Light Company, a business-managed, investor-owned, tax-paying electric utility, pledges continued efforts and planning to provide you with dependable electric service at the lowest possible cost.

TEXAS POWER & LIGHT COMPANY

For You And Your Town

No business man or woman in any town should allow a newspaper to go to press without his or her name or business being mentioned somewhere in its pages. This does not mean that you should have a whole, half or even a quarter page advertisement in each issue of the paper but your name and address should be mentioned even if you do not use more than a two line space.

A stranger picking up a newspaper should be able to tell what business is represented in a town . . . it is the best possible town advertiser. The man or woman who does not advertise does an injustice to himself or herself and definitely to the town.

Mrs. M. J. Kirk, 71 Birthday Honoree

Seventy-first birthday of Mrs. M. J. Kirk of Forestburg was celebrated with a Sunday dinner party at the home of her son and family, the J. C. Kirks northwest of Era.

Centerpiece for the table was a decorated cake baked by Mrs. Kirk's daughter, Mrs. Homer Ford.

Together for the dinner which was prepared and served by Mrs. J. C. Kirk were Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Kirk and Mr. and Mrs. Homer Ford and three daughters of Forestburg, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Burton and five children of Electra, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Brown of Fort Worth and Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Kirk and children Toni and Tracy.

Humble sponsored what may have been the world's first network telecast of a football game. The game between SMU and Notre Dame in 1949 and the network consisted of two stations.

Jerry Fleitman Is Birthday Honoree

Partying started after school when Judy, Jim and John Dangelmayr, Joey Dangelmayr and Mary Jane and Bobby Knauf came over after classes and Monica and Bobby Hartman joined them.

C. A. Fishers Mark 25th Anniversary With Family Party

Silver wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Fisher was celebrated Saturday evening with a reception at the home of Joe Fisher Sr. attended by some fifty relatives of the honor couple.

Mrs. Henry Pick, Mrs. Paul Fisher and Mrs. Charles Taylor planned the party which was postponed a week from the original date so the honorees' three daughters and their only grandchild could attend.

Daughter Mildred and her husband, the David Shenks and baby daughter Stephanie, had a five-day visit here enroute to Fort Collins, Colo., after living in Bainbridge, Md., and left Sunday afternoon.

The three daughters presided at the refreshment table. Misses Clara and Emma Fisher of Fort Worth poured punch and Mrs. Shenk served the handsome three-tier cake. Guests helped themselves to party sandwiches, chips and dips.

The refreshment table, covered with a linen cutwork cloth brought by Mrs. Taylor from the Philippines, held the crystal punch service and the cake at alternate ends and was centered with an arrangement of white mums and silver leaves combined with styrofoam wedding bells and a double wedding ring motif. The cake was topped with the bride and groom figurine which ornamented the honorees' cake on their wedding day Sept. 10, 1935.

Miss Florence Schmitz and Charlie Fisher were married here in Sacred Heart Church and with the exception of a short time in Valley View have lived here since. They engage in farming and dairying south of town. Their three daughters are graduate nurses.

In addition to the relationship from here those attending the anniversary party included Mrs. Fisher's mother, Mrs. Mary Schmitz and her brother Alphonse Schmitz of Valley View, the Joe Galloways and daughters of Wichita Falls and their guest, Miss Viola Bezner of Lindsay, and Fathers Alcuin Kubis and Martin Fischer.

and reached the Hornet 41 before being nailed. Next play Muenster recovered a fumble on the Warrior 45, and two tries . . . Wolf 15 and Wimmer 30 . . . produced another counter. A pass for bonus points failed and the count was 14-0.

Valley View then took the offense. Six plays aided by a 15 yard penalty gained 43 yards to the Hornet 25 but the next four tries netted a loss of 2 yards. Muenster kicked on the next series setting the Warriors back to their 44. Two beautiful passes then put the visitors on the scoreboard. Brown to Crumpton for 26, Brown to Newman for 30. A run for extra points failed.

For the rest of the period Muenster moved again. The drive was good for 39 yards to the 21 as time ran out.

Muenster opened the next half with a 73 yard scoring push. Nine plays did it, the pay-off being Wolf's plunge from the 11. Wimmer followed over for extra points. After the next kickoff Hornet regulars forced the visitors to kick on the first series. Then Coach Gay started his two platoon system. The reserves started fine, gaining 42 yards before fizzling out on the 19. Regulars went back for defense and three plays later Harris intercepted giving the Hornets possession on the 21, and the reserves took over again.

Three plays later Harvey Newman, the boy who made all the Warrior TDs, grabbed a pass on the 10 and raced all the 90 yards to the goal. A pass for points failed. The score: 22-12.

Back went the Hornet regulars. Harris returned the kickoff to mid field and on the next play went the rest of the way for a TD. A pass, Joe to Mark Hellman added 2 points.

The reserves return to the game. After kickoff a 15 yard penalty advanced the Warriors to the Hornet 46 and 4 runs reached the 24. Then another scoring pass, Brown to Newman.

Hornet starters again. Wimmer returned the kickoff 25 yards to midfield and stepped off 8 more. A pass to Fette gained 17, a penalty cost 15, a pass to Mark Hellman gained 19, Wolf gained 2, and Wimmer circled end for the remaining 19.

Facing reserves, the Warriors needed only the kickoff and one play for the next score. Newman took Brown's pass in the open and went all the way. A run for bonus failed.

Back in action, the regulars used seven plays on their next drive. After an attempted on-side kick they had possession on their 44. Wimmer made 29 to the Warrior 27. Two plays failed and Harris went to the 14. There a pass missed, Harris gained 4, and took Hellman's heave for the last 10.

From then on the kids had it and the visitors went on the move again. Eight plays advanced 45 yards and ended with a fumble on the 12. Muenster was in possession as the game ended.

Members of ASC Committee Named

Cooke County's 1961 community committeemen of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation program have been named, according to H. B. Newberry, ASC manager, who announced winners of the balloting last week. Community committeemen were named Friday when ballots sent to farmers in each community were returned to the ASC office.

Newberry said the man receiving the most votes in each community will meet in Gainesville for the county convention next Monday, Sept. 26. At that time the three working members of the county committee will be elected. They will administer the ASC cost-share program for the coming year. This year's members were Ed Cler, E. L. Mallecote and Harvey Watson. Winners in 15 county communities include:

Muenster — Alfred Bayer, Alphonse Hoenig and Walter Becker.

Myra-Lindsay — Al Walter, Bruno Zimmerer and Julius Hermes.

Bulcher — Ray Dowd, L. E. Branch and Weldon Dennis.

N. Gainesville — Hugo Bezner, Tony Sicking and Henry Zimmerer.

S. Gainesville — Tony Reiter, T. M. Neu and Jack O'Brien.

"Pioneers" Ride Shawnee Trail to 75th State Fair

The opening of the Diamond Jubilee exposition of the 1960 State Fair of Texas, October 8, will witness the arrival in Dallas of a group of trail-worn "pioneers". The horse- and wagon riders will cover the 90 miles from Preston Bend on Lake Texoma to Dallas in time to ride in the State Fair opening day parade.

The ride will parallel Texas' first great cattle trail north, the Shawnee Trail. It will be the first Shawnee Trail Ride, sponsored by the Dallas County Mounted Sheriff's posse.

Sidney Latham, former Secretary of State of Texas, who is wagonmaster of the Shawnee Trail ride, has released a preliminary list of some of the distinguished Texans who will make the ride. Top "pioneer" is 82-year-old T. A. Binford, former sheriff of Harris county, who will be riding his famous white mule.

Captain Tom Hickman, 74, of Gainesville is the oldest living retired Texas Ranger. He will first ride his horse from Gainesville to Texoma and then down the Shawnee Trail, about a 7-day ride in all.

In 1840, the Secretary of War of the Republic of Texas, Albert Sidney Johnston sent Captain William G. Preston to establish a cavalry post on the Red River at the cattle crossing of the Shawnee Trail. This community became known as Preston Bend and the Shawnee Trail as Preston Road. Captain Preston's grandson, Roy Preston, 72, of Grand Prairie will also ride with today's "pioneers".

Tigers Lose - - -

View launched a drive from its own 30 and gained 46 yards before time ran out. The next half started as a defensive struggle. Valley View gained a first down and lost possession on a fumble then regained it by interception. The Eagles lost possession on the 18 when a fourth down attempt fell short. Sacred Heart moved 6 yards on 3 tries and ended the series with a kick.

Then, on the Tiger 47, Sparkman broke through the line and galloped all the way. Mortindale's pass to Clifton added two points. Intercepting a Tiger aerial promptly after kickoff, the Eagles took off on another 47 yard push. Six plays reached the 20 and Martindale's pass to Alexander finished the job. Another heave, Martindale to Clifton made the count 38-0. As the last quarter opened the visitors stopped the first Tiger series and went after their last TD. It was a 62 yard drive in 7 plays, Clifton making the last 32.

Finally Sacred Heart made the grade. Claude Bayer almost got loose and was nailed on the Eagle 30 after a 55 yard romp. Short gains by Knabe, Klement and Bayer reached the 10 and Klement squirmed through for the score. Extra point attempt failed; the score 44-6.

In the closing minutes the visitors ended their first series with a kick and Sacred Heart made a first down as time ran out.

S. H. 8th Graders Form Civics Club

The eighth grade Civics Club at Sacred Heart School has organized with 48 of Sister Carmelita's students as members. In election of officers the group followed procedure of a general United States presidential election after candidates on two tickets made their campaigns. Ricky Endres headed the "Democratic" ticket with Jerry Taylor his running mate for vice president while LaVerne Otto and Theresa Fleitman tied for "Republican" nominee and the latter broke the tie on the 2nd vote. Theresa's running mate was Tommy Swirczynski and the candidates made campaign speeches. In the election, Ricky Endres was the winner.

The club president is assisted by the following who are members of his cabinet: Rita Trubenbach, secretary; Larry Reiter, treasurer; Tommy Swirczynski, sergeant at arms; Margaret Lawson, publicity chairman; Danny Wilde, finance chairman; Theresa Fleitman, recreation chairwoman; Florence Walterscheid, secretary of Interior; Marilyn Walterscheid and Jerry Taylor, co-chairmen of the Constitution committee.

Among the first business of the organization was appointment of fire drill personnel and holding a drill. Ray Wimmer is fire chief, and captains of the rooms are Donald Rohmer, James Klement, Tommy

Farm Production Rate of Increase Tops Industries

In spite of being caught in one of the most drastic cost-price squeezes in history — lower prices for what they sell, higher prices for what they buy — American farmers have increased their production efficiency at a rate far ahead of workers in industry.

One hour of farm labor in 1960 produces four times as much food and fiber as it did in 1920. Crop production is 56 per cent higher per acre. The output per breeding animal is 81 per cent greater.

Productivity of the American farmer is now increasing at a rate more than twice as high as the productivity of workers in industry. Since 1950, the output per man-hour in nonagricultural industry has risen two per cent per year. In agriculture the increase has been at the rate of five per cent per year.

In Russia, one agricultural worker produces for four or five people. More than 40 per cent of the total labor force of the Soviet Union works in agriculture and forestry. If American farmers were no more efficient than those of the Soviet Union, 22,500,000 Americans who now work in manufacturing, construction, mining, the trades, transportation and other non-farm business would be required to produce the essential needs in food, clothing and forest products.

In spite of all this efficiency, the average per capita income of the farm population is still less than half the income of non-farm population.

The average income per capita of those who live on farms in the United States in 1959 was $965 for the year — $644 from farming plus $321 from non-farm sources such as outside employment. At the same time, the per capita income of the non-farm population was $2,216.

The net income for one hour of farm work in 1959 was $1.29. One hour of work in a factory averaged $2.22. Hourly earnings of food marketing workers, those engaged in food processing, wholesale trade and retail food stores, averaged $2.10.

Farm incomes have continued to go down steadily during most of the period since World War II, while non-farm workers have had an almost steady increase in income. Since 1945, the farm value of food has risen only 16 per cent, but the marketing margin — after processing, packaging and distribution — has increased by 93 per cent.

Swirczynski, Roy Hartman and Ray Wimmer with Donald Hellman as hall captain.

File captains are Wayne Reiter, Steven Hess, Kenny Swirczynski, Dwayne Schilling and Danny Joe Yosten.

The club meets twice a month.

 Dining in a cafeteria, two men were overheard discussing automobiles. "Yes, sir," said one, "I believe the best economy is to trade every two years. That's what I've done. And do you know," he continued proudly, "I haven't missed a payment in 14 years!"

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

OUR SOIL ★ OUR STRENGTH

Soil conservation technicians keep reminding that grass waterways are to a terrace system as a good foundation is to a house. And they repeat it for good reason. Unless the foundation is adequate and well planned everything else is wasted.

A successful terrace system must have a safe grassed area on which to dump the area's runoff water following hard beating rain. Pastures often answer this need but many times the land lays in such a manner that field terraces cannot outlet onto pasture land. In these cases grass waterways or grass strips must be provided to handle the water without soil erosion.

When waterways must be planned they should be wide enough to spread the water they must carry after a storm over a wide area. A thin layer of running water has less cutting power. The wider the grass strip, the better for maintenance including such jobs as shaping. In addition, a wide trip pays off in grazing and as added pasture land.

Grassed waterways should follow natural drainage-ways as much as possible. Following a natural drain eliminates the need for shaping in many cases and also does away with puddles which will be formed by terraces if they cross the drain instead of emptying into it.

Now is the time to make plans and prepare land for waterway sodding or seeding next spring. Assistance in the work can be obtained by contacting the local Soil Conservation Service personnel.

"Well, Sam, I'll tell you how it is. You see, I married a widow, and this widow had a daughter. Then my father, being a widower, married our daughter, so you see my father is my own son-in-law."

"Yes, I see."

"Then again my step-daughter is my step-mother, ain't she? Well, then, her mother is my grandmother, ain't she? I am married to her, ain't I? So that makes me my own grandfather, doesn't it?"

The 30-Yen stamp (lower left) depicts the Embassy being greeted by President James Buchanan at the White House on May 17, 1860. The 4¢ U.S. stamp shows the famous Japanese cherry blossoms in Washington, D.C., with the Washington Monument in the background. First day sales of the U.S. stamp will be confined to Washington, D.C. on September 26, 1960.

Quality in Milk
Can Be Prolonged
By Consumer Care

College Station — To keep milk fresh until used, the consumer needs to cooperate with the dairy farmer and the milk processor, says A. M. Meekma, extension dairy husbandman.

Under today's modern handling methods milk is never subjected to the open air, but kept in a closed system. Milk travels from the milking machine through glass or stainless steel pipelines to a closed, refrigerated farm storage tank, where it is cooled and stored until delivery to the plant. Milk is transported in large, insulated tanks. It is kept cold during its trip to the store or to the home in refrigerated delivery trucks. Every precaution is taken to assure high quality milk, says Meekma, but the consumer must help to maintain this quality after the milk is in her hands.

Meekma says that the following practices will help maintain milk quality:

Don't expose milk to sunlight for any extended time

Sunlight causes undesirable flavors, particularly in homogenized milk. If milk is delivered to the doorstep, take it into the house immediately, or provide protection from sun and warm air.

Put milk in the refrigerator as soon as possible. Never let it stand at room temperature longer than necessary. Temperatures over 50 degrees hasten spoilage. When serving, pour out the amount needed and return the unused portion to the cooler. Keep containers capped tightly to prevent the milk from picking up flavors from other foods.

When milk is left unused after a meal, don't put it back in the original container. Place this unused portion in the refrigerator in a second container.

When bottles are empty, rinse in cold or warm water, then wash them. Hot water will cause milk to adhere to the surface of the container, making washing difficult.

Rust comes off knives quickly if you stick the blade in an onion for half an hour before washing and polishing.

Lindsay Knights Nipped 42-14 by Trojan Gridders

Lindsay's eager Knights, still enthusiastic about their first season of 8-man football, got a rude set-back at Windthorst last Friday. The battle-wise Trojans nicked their armor for a count of 42-14.

Windthorst's offense was too slick for the Lindsay fellows and paid off in touchdowns in every period of the contest.

However the Knights had the satisfaction of crossing the goal line twice. In the third quarter Lenny Zimmerer ended a 60 yard drive with a scoring plunge from the 4 and Henry Sandmann added two extra points.

In the fourth Sandmann put on the evening's sensational play by grabbing a Windthorst pass and racing 44 yards to the goal.

Other runs by Sandmann were good, but not good enough. His gains were long but each time he was nailed before being able to get in the clear.

Another tough one faces the Knights next week as they prepare for their 7-B conference opener with the loop's top-rated Allen. The game will be at Allen, Thursday, the 29th.

One of the drawbacks to giving money as a gift is that you have difficulty charging it.

Val Dieter Sr., 68, 65 Years Resident Of Lindsay, Dies

Val Dieter Sr., 68, a resident of Lindsay for about 65 years died at 7 p.m. Tuesday at the home of his son, Jerome, in Gainesville. His passing ended a long illness, the past year of which he was confined to bed.

Funeral services for Mr. Dieter were held Thursday morning at 9 in St. Peter Church with Father Damien Wewers officiating at the requiem mass and later at grave side services in the Lindsay cemetery.

Burial was under direction of Geo. J. Carroll and Son Funeral Home and casket bearers were Nickolas Diter, Vincent Zimmerer, Lambert and Wilfred Bezner, Francis and Leonard Wiese.

Rosary for the deceased was recited by members of St. Society Wednesday night at 7:30 in the Geo. J. Carroll and Son Chapel.

Val Dieter was born in Iowa on Oct. 27, 1891, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Nick Dieter. He was brought to Lindsay when the family moved there in 1894 as pioneers of the newly settled community, and lived there ever since. He was married on Nov. 16, 1920 to the widow Mrs. Clara Schmitz, formerly Miss Clara Wiese.

For many years the deceased was in partnership with his father in operating the Lindsay cotton gin. After his father's death he was joined by his brothers, Mike and Tony in operating the gin.

Survivors are his wife; four sons, Francis of Dallas, Val Jr. of Pasadena, Texas, Jerome of Gainesville and Rudy Dieter of Lindsay; two daughters, Mrs. Wilbert Block of Lindsay and Mrs. Al Bierchen of Weatherford; two brothers, Mike and Tony of Lindsay; one sister, Mrs. Albert Krebs of Coalgate, Okla., and 16 grandchildren.

Lindsay-Gainesville Knights of Columbus and their families will have their annual picnic in the park Sunday with a picnic dinner at noon.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Pelzel had as dinner guests Sunday his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Pelzel and family and his grandmother, Mrs. Ed Blumberg, all of Pilot Point.

Henry Hess Jr. left by car Tuesday for Hanford, Calif., to spend two months with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Schmidkofer and his cousin Gene and will help run one of his uncle's four cotton pickers. They will begin the cotton harvest next week. The cotton crop is very good in that area.

New Headquarters For WHO

Shown above is a sketch of Swiss architect Jean Tschumi's prize-winning design of the World Health Organization's future headquarters building. Tschumi, who is Professor of Architecture at Switzerland's Lausanne Polytechnical School, won out over 14 other famous architects from a dozen countries in an international competition.

His project for the new WHO headquarters calls for a ten-story building covering better than 150,000 square feet. Its "curtain" facade is to be composed of glass walls with aluminum "sun-breaks" mounted on a marble-covered reinforced concrete frame. Construction is to begin next year and is expected to be completed before 1965. The building will cost about $10 million.

It will be located in Geneva.

where WHO has its present headquarters in the old League of Nations' Palais des Nations. WHO is a specialized agency of the United Nations.

The Pan American Sanitary Bureau, operating arm of the Pan American Health Organization and WHO's Regional Office for the Americas, also hopes to begin construction of a new Washington, D.C. headquarters site within the next few years. The Bureau's headquarters operations are now housed in a number of Washington buildings.

NOTES FROM CITY LIBRARY

Father Robert W. Greene, a Maryknoll priest, tells of his experiences with the Communists in China in his autobiography entitled, "Calvary in China". Father Greene went to China as a missionary in 1937 spending most of his 15 yrs. at the Tring-an Catholic Mission Compound.

Communism was slow to penetrate this small village in South China, but once the Red soldiers entered, the effects began to be felt immediately. First the trips outside the compound were stopped; then a guard was placed on all the persons inside; the sisters were expelled on trumped up charges; the church turned into a prison, and Father Greene confined to a single room.

During his first year of imprisonment Father Greene daily watched from his window the unjust trails and executions of many of his friends and members of his church. Fear gripped everyone. These months of watching the tortures of these people and not being able to help them — other than with prayers — began to have the desired effects on Father that the Communists wanted.

The one great consolation for the priest was the daily Mass he said in the wee hours of the morning, in the dark, on a box in a place under the roof of his room. With great care he hid the wine each day and carefully refolded the vestments so the guards could not tell they had been used. Father made his hosts over an open fire outside his door, under the eyes of the Red soldiers, telling them it was his favorite food he learned to like while in America.

Later this privilege was denied him as he was placed in the church prison with hundred others — all living in unbelievable filth. Soon the weeks of his own torturing and questioning began, all aimed at breaking down Fr. Greene's resistance and to have him sign a statement that he was a false priest and a spy for the United States government. Although he was reduced to near insanity he never signed and was therefore sentenced to be hanged. For some unexplained reason at the last minute Father was expelled from China instead and returned to the U.S. in 1952. This book is factual, but never morbid. It is not only a religious adventure story, but also the inspirational journey of a man's soul. L.T.

possible change of conscience. Such a person has forfeited his right to ask for the job. Our security should never be dependent on someone who is undependable.

That standard should apply not only to future applicants but to every person now engaged in security work. The Martin-Mitchell incident has shown that the method needs an overhaul. Possibly there are more traitors who should be found and eliminated. Just being found without a serious effort to get them out is inexcusable neglect of duty.

A good idea would be to follow the example of the communists themselves in this matter . . . cracking down not only on enemies in government, but also the enemies in other occupations. That includes red organizers who stir up public demonstrations, red teachers who poison the minds of students, red propagandists who feed the communist line to our people, red agitators of racial and industrial strife.

As a nation we're proud of our record of respecting every person's right to freedom. Our fault, however, is that we tolerate the ridiculous extreme of freedom to destroy our freedom. We warn that we will prosecute anyone attempting to overthrow our government by force of arms but do nothing about the traitors and foreign agents who work daily for the gradual downfall of our country.
