MUENSTER, COOKE COUNTY, TEXAS

NUMBER 41

CONFETTI BY CON FETTE
A bulletin sent out last week by the Texas Press Association advises members of that organization not to be complacent about legislative efforts to increase the minimum wage. Don't kid yourself that there is an exemption in the bill for weekly newspapers having less than 4000 circulation... or you'll be operating under false security, says the article.

The effects of this raise would reach to all business concerns, not just those who would be required by law to pay the minimum wage. Because the excused business still has to compete with the higher wages paid elsewhere in order to hold its help.

In other words a few businesses may still be spared the red tape and regulations of complying with the minimum wage law, but no one will be spared of its effect.

Nor is that minimum rate the only source of trouble the business man will encounter. There still has to be a difference in pay to compensate for the difference in ability and value of employees. So when the minimum employee gets a raise other employees must receive corresponding raises. Which means that all wages have to be raised.

Along with that, business will encounter price increases in everything it buys. All along the line in manufacturing and handling, wage increases will have to be added to the cost of products, resulting in another substantial increase in the cost of doing business. All in all it means more inflation.

But what of the worker, for whose benefit this supposedly beneficial legislation is especially intended? To begin with, lower elements of the work force will face wholesale loss of jobs. In self-defense many firms will manage to get along with fewer workers. In time, as inflation takes hold and the comparative cost of the increased wage becomes less burdensome, more will be added to the nation's payroll, but only after the loss of much precious time.

But even then workers will be no better off than before the higher wage. A week's pay will go no farther because higher prices will have absorbed the higher pay.

Actually... and here's the real tragedy of this misguided concern for the poor working people... all will be worse off than before. The real value of their savings, in insurance, bonds or bank accounts, will have been shrunk by inflation. While their current income-expense ratio is about the same as before, workers simply have less value in their former possessions. No matter how they figure it, that amounts to a net loss.

A good report Tuesday is that the House declined to go for this scheme, so minimum wage is dead for this session of congress. Let's hope the next session will have the good judgment to let it remain dead.

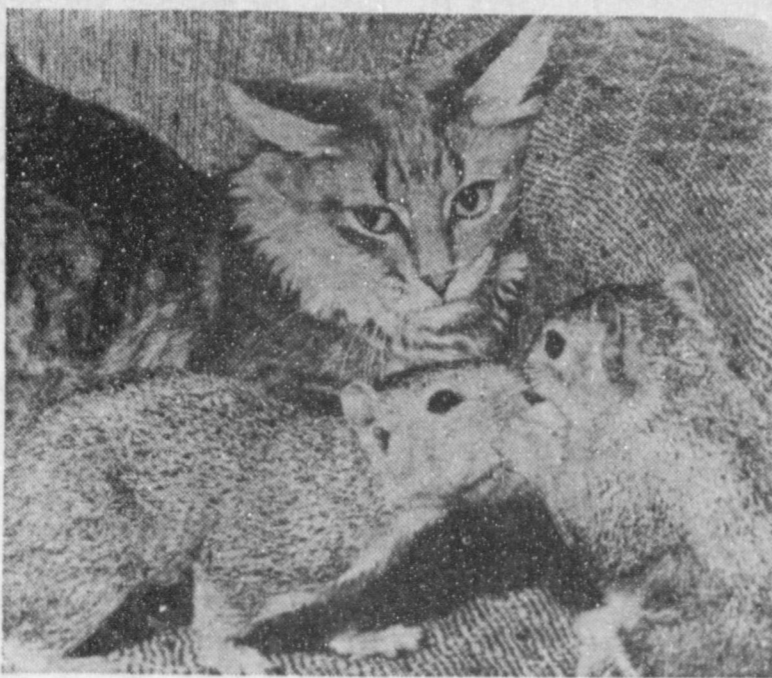

With the opening of a new school year Governor Daniel has issued a special plea to youngsters to "go back to school and remain there until graduation." He goes on to place a cash value on education, saying that to drop out of school is to cheat one's self out of a probable $50,000 in future income... the average estimated difference between what a high school graduate and an eighth grade graduate will earn in a lifetime.

The governor might have gone on to mention a few other fruits of education, such as greater value to one's community and country, and the ability to live a fuller, more pleasant, more gratifying life.

The number of Texas teenagers who decline to continue in high school is really disappointing. State records of 1955 show 118,272 ninth graders in Texas public schools, but only 71,855 remained to graduate. About 39 per cent had dropped out.

Here at Muenster, this column is proud to point out, the scholastic record is better. Classes hold up very well from the freshman to the senior year. Furthermore, a good percentage of those continue their studies after high school.

Nevertheless, we regretfully admit, some of our local youngsters do quit school. To them this column passes on a couple more thoughts offered by the governor. "In this age of swift technical advancement it is harder and harder for an unskilled worker to find a

Two Well Known Business Men of Gainesville Die

Two long-time merchants of Gainesville, well known to Muenster people for about a half century died at their homes Monday and Tuesday. They were Owen Saunders, 88, and Oral L. Blake, 70, owners of adjoining stores in the 200 block of North Commerce Street.

Saunders, operator of a retail grocery at 211 N. Commerce for the past 53 years was found dead Monday morning in his living quarters at the back of the store. His body was discovered by his son, Lloyd Saunders, who has managed the business for several years. Funeral service was held Monday afternoon in Geo. J. Carroll and Son Chapel and burial was in Fairview Cemetery.

A native of Tennessee, he came to Gainesville in 1892, worked five years for a wholesale firm then opened his own grocery store. Ten years later he moved the store to its present location.

Blake died at his home on South Dixon about 7 o'clock Tuesday morning. He had been in poor health for several years and his condition became critical Monday.

He was a Gainesville native, born Feb. 7, 1890, and grew up in that city. As a young man he started working in clothing stores, giving much of his attention to advertising. Old timers here remember him as an employee of J. R. M. Patterson and later of Manhattan Clothiers before he opened the B. B. Store at 209 N. Commerce. In recent years his daughter, Miss Helen Blake helped him manage the business.

Funeral rites were in the Geo. J. Carroll and Son Chapel at 4 p.m. Wednesday and burial was in Fairview Cemetery.

Outdoor Meeting Set for Tuesday By Progress Club

Next Tuesday night is the showdown for the two membership teams of the Community Progress Association, and the losing team will be handed the tab for eats and drinks to treat the crowd.

There are at least two other pleasant features about the meeting. President Henry Weinzapfel says. It will be an outdoor event, in the City Park, and a guest speaker will add inspiration to the program. Starting time is after Sacred Heart Church service.

Swimming Pool Closes Labor Day

Swimming season at Muenster will end next Monday, Labor Day.

George Petrus, manager said this week that the pool will close this Friday, then will be open the next three days, and that's it.

He also said that the adult swim class will not meet this Saturday.

Local Boy Scouts Resume Directing Traffic at School

Local Boy Scouts have resumed their job of directing traffic at the busy crossings near Sacred Heart School. They take up their posts daily after school to help children cross the street at the four busy spots.

One is on Sixth and one on Main at the intersection of those two streets, one is on Sixth in front of school, the other is on Main at Seventh.

For the present, assignments are being made by the Sisters. A regular duty roster will be drawn up by the boys and Scoutmaster Nick Miller at their next meeting.

His brother Robert (Pete), serving in Germany with a Missile Battalion, is getting ready to return to the states. He'll be finished with his foreign tour in less than a month.

Local FFA Sheep Are Big Winners At 2 Fair Shows
Three FFA members of the Muenster Chapter have just had two good weeks in livestock shows of two North Texas fairs. Roger Fleitman and Doug and Mark Hellman collected a fist full of ribbons plus cash awards at the Cooke County Fair and also at the Dal-Worth District Fair in Keller.

Showing first at Keller Doug Hellman and Fleitman won 8 ribbons, including four champs and a grand champ. Hellman's fat wether was first in its class and grand champ of the show and his Southdown rams won first and third on Suffolk rams, also first and third on Suffolk ewes.

At the Cooke County show the Muenster trio had 35 animals, practically half of the entire exhibit, and won $158 in prize money besides lots of ribbons. Mark Hellman, showing Hampshire sheep, had champ and reserve champ rams also champ and reserve champ ewes besides 4 first and five second place ribbons in the several classifications.

Doug Hellman showed Southdowns and Rambouilletes. In the Southdown group he had a champ and reserve champ rams, a reserve champ ewe also 3 firsts, 2 seconds and 1 third place winners. The ram was also judged grand champ of the show. His Southdowns also won more prizes in the Medium Wool show. His fat lambs won first, second, champ and reserve champ ribbons. His Ramboulette lambs were first and second in the Fine Wool show.

Fleitman took four ribbons on his Suffolk entries: a first, 2 seconds and a third.

Member Schools Of 12-B Agree on Season's Policy

Membership is changed but otherwise the 12-B football district is little different from that of 1959.

Under last year's rearrangement of schools in this area Sanger, Alvord and Chico are transferred to another loop, and the recently consolidated Sadler-Southmayd school is assigned to 12-B. This makes a six team loop... the new member along with Muenster, Callisburg, Valley View, Era and Saint Jo.

Game time again will be 8 o'clock for the first half of the season and 7:30 on October 14 and thereafter.

Admission prices are 75 cents and 35 cents. Bands and pep squads in uniform along with sponsor and bus driver will be admitted free.

In case of tie games the former custom continues. Winner will be decided on the basis of penetrations, first downs and total yardage. A statistician will be at each conference game to keep those records.

District officers this year are Randolph O'Brien, president, and Jack James, secretary. Both are from Valley View.

Fleitman 4-H Trio Winners at County Fair on Entries

Pauline Fleitman, a girl exhibitor in the Cooke County Fair's swine division, showed her Sears gilt to the champion and received two blue ribbons on her entries.

It was almost a family affair. Her brother, Gus Fleitman, took second on his Kiwanis Club gilt and won two red ribbons, and a sister, Helen Fleitman, took third place on her Kiwanis Club gilt and won two white ribbons.

The sisters are skilled in homemaking arts, also. Helen won the top prize and a blue ribbon on her butter cake in the food division and Pauline was right behind her, copping second place and a red ribbon on her butter cake.

The three are members of Sacred Heart 4-H Clubs and children of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Fleitman.

August Rainfall Measures 1.25 In.

While most of North Texas received good showers through the month of August Muenster had to get along on the skimpy measure of only 1.25 inches, less than some of the nearby areas got in a single shower.

As a result local fields are badly in need of a nice soaker to get the ground in condition for fall planting. Pastures and hay crops too are suffering.

The month, which was even drier than the traditionally dry August, follows an exceptionally wet July. A ten year record was broken then by a total of 6.26, the highest since the 7.71 of 1950.

Total moisture for the year up to now is 20.33 inches.

Odds Are Stacked Against Tigers in Tussle at Alvord

Sacred Heart Tigers playing their first football game at Alvord Friday night will find the odds stacked high against them, says the Tiger skipper, George Petrus.

According to his information the Bulldogs have back practically all of last year's team. That means lots of tonnage and lots of experience, the two categories in which the Tigers are definitely under par.

Whatever the boys accomplish, says Petrus, will have to be done mostly on spirit. They have been working hard and have made nice progress on their defense, so, they have definite notions of at least holding the score down. Meanwhile they hope that alertness and enthusiasm will be rewarded by a few breaks.

Boys due to start are Anthony Knabe and Pat Knabe, ends; Donny and Bobby Hess, tackles; Bobby Pels and Clarence Bayer, guards; Charles Knabe, center; Ted Miller, Pat Klement, Claude Bayer and James Fuhrmann, backs.

Community Picnic Marks Labor Day

Labor Day will be partly a day of labor at Muenster, partly a day of fun.

The town's program in general for the day is to keep business houses open until noon, then attend the community picnic sponsored jointly by the VFW, the VFW Auxiliary and St. Joseph's Society. The event, as well as a dance at night, will be at the parish hall.

Jerry Klement Is Assistant County Agent at Denton

Jerry Klement has been appointed assistant county agent for Denton County and has begun his new work.

Since his graduation from A&M College in January with a degree in Agricultural Education, he was with the Soil Conservation Service in Waco.

He assumed his new job the past week and is living in Denton. During the weekend he came home for a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Klement and family.

Notes on Building and Improvement

Foundation work started this week on a new home for the Clyde Fishers on West Third Street. It will be a brick house with 3 bedrooms, 2 baths, living-dining-kitchen area, central heat and air conditioning and attached double garage with a second floor for storage.

Also on West Third carpenters are near finishing their job on Clive Gobble's house. Starting with a small house moved in from an oil lease Gobble is adding two rooms, two porches and overall roof and siding.

Martin Friske has most outside work done on his new home north of Lindsay. It will be a two bedroom house.

South of town Russ Linn has dismissed carpenters and put painters to work on his new house. It features three bedrooms and attached garage.

Joe Henry Walterscheid is also well advanced on his house in North Muenster. He moved it from Main directly west one block to Elm, then added two rooms, a bath, a carport and roof and siding overall.

Gary Hess is nearing completion on a remodel and repair job on his home. A garage apartment has been worked over in panelwood wall and vinyl tile floors plus additional cabinets. The house gets central heating and remodeling to add a bathroom, finished in ceramic tile.

Remodeling work is under way on the house just bought by Bob Lutkenhaus from R. M. Zipper, on North Main. The garage is being converted into a beauty shop, to be operated by Mrs. Lutkenhaus.

Jess Shields is nearing completion on a new home at Saint Jo. It will have central heat and air conditioning, 2 bedrooms, 2 baths, kitchen, den, living room and utility, double garage, brick siding.

Repair work at Frank Needham's includes new roofs for the house and garage apartment also general interior renovating in the garage apartment.

Bob Swirczynski is dressing up his home's interior with new wallboard, paint and paper.

The former Maurice Pagel home, now occupied by the Bill Pratts, is receiving a general interior fix-up and paint-up job.

A new roof of tar and gravel has been completed on the bank building.

Joe Knauf, north of town, is painting the outside of his house.

Bearcats Favored Over Hornets in Game Here Friday

Muenster's Hornets will have their hands full Friday night when they take on the Class A Bearcats of Pilot Point in their season opener. The game will be on the Hornet field starting at 8 o'clock.

Sizing up the situation from information now on hand, Coach Bob Gay concedes that the visitors have a definite paper advantage. They have ten of last year's starters back on the lineup as compared with the Hornets' six, also they have an advantage in size and reserve strength. These factors, Gay thinks, will reverse the odds enjoyed by Muenster when it won 26-0 in last year's opener.

Besides the Hornets will be handicapped by the absence of one regular. Fullback Truman Wolf will be out with a bruised shoulder bone and Jim Wiesman will take on his assignment. Otherwise, Gay said, the team is ready mentally and physically, and is determined to upset the pregame dope.

In practice scrimmages so far with Sacred Heart and Nocona B, the Hornets have looked good. But the same can be said of the Pointers. They did well in practice with Valley View's Eagles.

Blessed Events

It's a third little boy for Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hess, a baby brother for George and Charles and a grandson for Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rauscher of Valley View and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hess. The newcomer checked in at Gainesville Sanitarium 6:15 a.m. Sunday morning, Aug. 28, weighing seven pounds four ounces.

Mr. and Mrs. Dickie Cain are proud parents of their first child, a five pound two ounce daughter named Tammy Sue. She arrived at Nocona Hospital 12:15 p.m. Saturday, Aug. 27. Welcoming another grandchild are Mr. and Mrs. Dick Cain and Mr. and Mrs. Norbert Klement. Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Hogan of Burleson and Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Klement are happy counting another great-grandchild.

It's a girl was good news for Mr. and Mrs. Dan Luke and their two boys, Ray and Damien. The little sister, named Cheryl Ann, arrived Monday at Nocona Hospital, checking in at 3:30 p.m., weighing eight pounds 12 ounces. The grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Henry Henzler of Pilot Point and Mr. and Mrs. Ben Luke.

From Fort Worth comes announcement of the birth of a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Nick Mayer Wednesday morning, Aug. 31. The seven and a half pound girl has four sisters and four brothers and is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Yosten. The paternal grandmother lives in Chicago.

Happy over the arrival of a grandson are Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Milner. The parents are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hayes Jr. of Chatsworth, California. She's the former Margaret Milner and the newcomer is a nine pound three ounce brother for Juanita. He was born August 25 and the news was promptly telephoned to Muenster.

HANDS ACROSS THE SEA

Any day now, the great, gleaming hospital ship Hope, lying at her pier in San Francisco, will start loading for her maiden tour as a floating medical center and school — in southeast Asia — and incidentally as the most impressive example yet seen of the neighborly, people-to-people aid concept. As the principal activity of the People-to-people Health Foundation, the ship is financed, not by the Government, but privately by thousands of individuals and groups, by business and industry and labor. The cost of the first year of operation is estimated at $3,500,000.

There will be a permanent medical staff of 15 physicians and surgeons, two dentists, 20 graduate nurses and 20 auxiliary personnel. Additionally, rotating groups of 35 doctors will be flown to the vessel for four-month tours of duty. The Foundation has stressed that to achieve the most effective and lasting results, Project Hope will be a teaching operation, rather than an effort at widespread treatment. Yet the scope of anticipated activities may best be visualized by the fact that 18,500 pairs of specially selected latex and neoprene surgical, examination and obstetrical gloves — the gift of the Pioneer Rubber Co., of Willard, O. — are among the mountain of medical stores now at shipside.

J. H. Gibson, president of Pioneer, explains that the selection contains larger-sized gloves for the American instructors and their assistants and many, many more smaller sizes for the small-boned Oriental hands that must be taught to take over the staggering health problems of their remote and teeming areas. In addition to their use in the clinics conducted on board the vessel, the gloves will go into the interior with the mobile teams of medical men who will train technicians, midwives, inoculationists, x-ray operators and medical aides.

Excitement over Project Hope, said Mr. Gibson, is shared by every Pioneer employee from the front office to the shipping rooms. "The good will which will result from this ambitious undertaking," he said, "should have far-reaching and profound effect throughout the world."

HOW HIGH CAN WAGES GO?

According to some of the current theories, there would seem to be practically no limit to how high wages can go. When wages go up so fast that they leave productivity far behind, all business has to do is add the increases to prices — say those who accept inflation as inevitable if not desirable. The idea is that the big unions are so powerful that inflationary wage demands cannot be resisted.

Then, so that there will be enough money to go around, at the new high levels of wages and prices, the government would further inflate the money supply. All this seems simple enough, but there are a few serious flaws in it.

First, wage increases don't help much when prices have to go up along with wages — which are the biggest part of the price of almost everything. Second, the value of insurance policies, pension funds and savings keeps going down as dollars get cheaper and cheaper.

Third — and most important — a lot of people can't or won't pay the higher prices. They won't buy, or they'll buy the lower-priced foreign goods arriving here in an increasing flow. A time then comes for many an employee when last week's high wage is just a memory. For his company has been priced out of the market and he has been priced out of a job.

A PLEASANT TWIST

Here's a pleasant twist. From all corners of this terrestrial monde in recent months we've heard that unpleasant cry of "Yankee, go home!" Therefore, it's a welcome relief to know that there is one part of the world whose citizens have been glad to have those despised (?) Yankees among them.

Yankees are going home from St. John's, Newfoundland and the Newfoundlanders are most unhappy about their departure. Reason for the Yankee exodus is that Uncle Sam is closing down the Pepperell air force supply base which was opened some 20 years ago.

And the sadness at St. John's is not induced entirely by mercenary motivation. It's true the Newfoundlanders are going to miss the $12 million a year the Pepperell base poured into the St. John's economy. But the Islanders are genuinely sorry because they are losing friends.

Yes, it's indeed a pleasant twist to know that Yankees have been welcome squatters where they made such a heap of friends that their leaving has engendered sincere

An interesting sidelight is that during the Yankee sojourn at Pepperell, 25,000 Newfoundland girls married Americans, and still more interesting, only one of this great number of marriages has busted up in divorce.

BURN OUT THE DROSS

Dr. V. Orval Watts, professor of Economics at Antioch college, a lecturer at Harvard, and the author of many books, recently came to Portland, Oregon, to speak at a School for Anti-Communists. In an interview he said: "Free enterprise, gold standard economics has become an almost underground movement in the college today. The writings have been suppressed, many of the men have been fired for teaching free enterprise economics so they have become a minority group."

"If you are not an idealist, you don't teach free enterprise economy very long. There is considerable unpopularity involved."

However, said Dr. Watts, "All truth has to go through a period of suppression and persecution to burn out the dross — to get people thinking. I am hopeful there is a change in the trend of the thinking of the young people not very far ahead, a return to the revolutionary ideas of the founding fathers."

Much of our present-day school and college teaching pays homage to alien ideas that glorify big government and promote socialism — that leave a student confused and with a feeling that there is something wrong or crooked with American business and the profit motive, and that only the "common man" (whoever he is) and the politicians have the best interests of the people at heart.

More teachers like Dr. Watts are needed to help build respect for and belief in the superiority of private property rights, personal liberty and individual opportunity, instead of more advocates of political control of the individual and "cradle to the grave" security, which means lost freedom. You can't swap freedom for security without losing both.

More Americans will die this year from insect sting than from snake bites, according to an article in Today's Health, the American Medical Association's magazine of general circulation. Most medical authorities are convinced that severe reactions to the stings are the result of an allergy. The insects that cause most of the reactions are the honeybee and the bumblebee and three kinds of wasps — yellow jacket, hornet and Polistes.

Every American, every year, receives the total output of 7.4 acres of land.

Ann Arbor, Mich., has more telephones per household than any other city.

A professor at a Western college always introduces his course in Shakespeare with these words: "In this class, ladies and gentlemen, you will meet with some earthly four-letter words regarded as not quite proper in mixed groups. One of these words you must learn to accept and live with without embarrassment. I refer to the good old Anglo-Saxon term w-o-r-k."

FROM MACHINES TO GOD

by Jean Danielou, writer and editor of the French review, ETUDES

To many people today, it seems impossible that a man of the Twentieth Century should still be religious. As technology spreads throughout the world, why do we tend to become a world separated from God?

MAN TODAY lives surrounded by big modern cities which he himself has built. Immense factories, tools and machines reflect his new-found power. They are a mirror in which he contemplates himself.

If the heavens sing the glory of God, machines sing the glory of man. And as modern man falls under the spell of his own progress, he pushes the works of God out of his mind. He wants to become master of the earth and of the world of space.

TECHNOLOGY, however, has limits. It expands the prison in which man is enclosed, but it does not free him from it. Medicine and surgery can prolong life and make death retreat. But the life thus prolonged still remains human. It still carries within it the seeds of death.

Consequently, modern man finds neither the solution to his problems nor satisfaction for his aspirations in technical civilization. Instead, he is a prey to all kinds of tensions and inner conflicts.

CHRIST alone saved man from this wretchedness of spirit. He destroyed evil at its root by dying on the cross. Thus Christ alone lifts us to a life completely free of suffering and death. He brings us a life in which it's impossible to yearn for any deeper joy.

Is it possible, however, for our technical civilization to help lead man back to God? Technology keeps religion from being confused with natural forces which less-informed men once regarded as supernatural. As technology wins for man control over the natural forces of wind and fire and the atom, it frees religion from its false-religious elements.

THE UNFOLDING universe, too, reveals to us something more than itself. In fact, nothing gives me a greater picture of God than the huge ocean of stars of which astronomy and physics give us glimpses.

In the long run, the new glory of man brings us back to the glory of God. It's not necessary to under-rate man in order to praise God. On the contrary, the greater man appears to us, the greater still will God appear. He is the One who gives man all his greatness. And God alone can give man the happiness which he so ardently seeks.

50th Jubilee of Scotland Will Be Celebrated Sept. 4

St. Boniface Parish in Scotland has issued a general invitation to attend its 50th jubilee homecoming reunion Sunday, Sept. 4, beginning at 1 p.m.

Members of the parish have been working on plans for the golden jubilee celebration for several weeks. They will serve refreshments, provide games including Little League baseball, have a variety of carnival attractions and will give away a 500-pound calf plus other prizes. A "country" supper will be served from 5 to 8:30 p.m.

Remodeling of the $8,000 St. Boniface Church at a cost of more than $20,000 is the spark that set off the plans for the big old-fashioned 50th anniversary homecoming.

Letters have been mailed to residents and former residents and the word is being spread that everybody is welcome. Hundreds are expected to congregate at the old common school turned community center which will be the scene for the golden anniversary homecoming and reunion party Sunday.

The church, a landmark for a half century, has been favored with a rebuilt spire, brick siding to replace the simulated rock sheathing, and an air conditioning and heating system.

History of the church is the history of Scotland. The town has remained about the same size as when originally settled. The business district has shrunk over the years because of the improvement in transportation but population has remained almost constant while the original 6,000 acres within the village sphere grew to 11,000.

J. H. Meurer, whose descendants still live in and around Scotland established the town. He succeeded in establishing it on a firm foundation. The 250 original families are succeeded by about 250 today and the community is as bustling a farm area now as it was in 1908 when the first land sales were completed.

Crowds at Subiaco During Weekend To See Sons Settled

During the weekend Subiaco, Ark., might well have been the reunion site for Muenster people with some from Lindsay and others from Gainesville joining them for good measure.

Families were taking their boys to the seminary and seeing them get settled. From Sacred Heart Parish were 12 new scholastics registering at Subiaco along with four returning students. Other familiar faces were there too, attending an alumni building committee meeting Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto WALTERSCHEID took their son Robert, and Cyril Yosten went with them. The Dick Trachtas and Glenn drove there to see Wayne get settled, and the Ed Endreses took their son Clinton, also James Fleitman and Charles Sicking.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnie Hess made the trip with their son Dennis and took Melvin Sicking along. Miss Helen Hess and niece Veronica Hess took their nephew and brother Dennis Hess and two returning students, Robert Fetsch and Tommy Mosman.

Mr. and Mrs. Val Fuhrmann and children Margie and Freddy drove to Subiaco to see their son and brother Tommy Fuhrmann get settled. They took Dickie Schoech along.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Kleiss and Ruthie went with Mike, and Donald Fisher went with them. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Endres and four children had a vacation trip first and stopped at Subiaco on the way home leaving John Paul there.

From Lindsay went Mr. and Mrs. Bruno Zimmerer, taking their son Tommy. Jake Bezner went with them to attend an alumni meeting Saturday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Joe Walter of Gainesville and Paul Arendt of Lindsay were there too. The men attended the alumni meeting and the Walters visited their son Jimmy who returned to school early to take part in football practice. And Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hermes of Gainesville drove his brother Pat Hermes of Mrs. Eugene Charles Luke is the former Miss Edith Faye Jackson of Bridge City. The couple's wedding was solemnized August 20 in St. James Church at Port Arthur. Since their honeymoon they are making their home in Denton and visited here with his parents, the Ben Lukes, during the weekend. The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Jackson.

Lindsay to Subiaco.

Other familiar faces at the abbey included Alfred Hoedebeck of Irving whose son James is entering the scholastic and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Flusche of Dallas, seeing their son Mike settled in his new surroundings and Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Flusche of Denison who went along for a visit with their son Father David.

Last of the local boys to leave will be Jim Gehrig, Clifford Pels and Johnny Hoberer, entering first year college. They are packed to get away this weekend. Another new seminary student this year will be Jerry Mosman who has enrolled at St. John's in San Antonio and will leave Sept. 6.

Paul Dangelmayr Has Farewell Fete

Paul Dangelmayr was honored with a farewell party before he left for Austin where he has registered as a junior in St. Edward's Academy.

Springing the surprise were his classmates of Sacred Heart High's junior class. They gathered at the home of Paul's parents, the Herman Dangelmayrs, bringing refreshments and a gift certificate as a parting present.

Mrs. Dangelmayr helped serve the 35 young people.

Both Lunch Rooms For Local Pupils Busy With Meals

Both school lunch rooms are organized and serving tasty nutritional meals to students who, this year, will consume several thousand noon time lunches at the two eating centers.

At the Public School Mrs. Al Yosten is in charge with Mrs. Bud Dennis and Mrs. Nig Wilson her staff assistants.

Sacred Heart's lunch room is headed by Mrs. Johnny Streng as manager assisted by Mrs. Andy Trubenbach and Mrs. Herbert Cunningham with Mrs. Gertrude Bayer as substitute. On the arrangements committee are Mmes. Frank Schilling, Gary Hess, George Mollenkopf and Martin Bayer.

Name Omitted

The list of new scholastics in last week's Enterprise failed to include the name of Thomas Fuhrmann, son of Mr. and Mrs. Val Fuhrmann. He is one of the classmates group of 13 entering the scholastic this year at Subiaco, Ark.

Sister Theresina Back in Muenster

Sister Theresina who spent the summer abroad is back in Muenster. Coming with her from Jonesboro, Ark. Saturday was Sister Leonarda and the staff at Sacred Heart School is complete.

Sister Theresina jetted across the Atlantic last Wednesday night and flew from New York to Memphis, then spent a day and overnight at the mother-house before boarding a train for Muenster via Dallas. Mrs. Charley Hellman and Mrs. Paul Fisher were in Dallas to meet her when she arrived there.

Still bubbling over with enthusiasm, Sister Theresina talks freely of her trip which was "out of this world" and admits it's taking a little time to "come down to earth"

Ray Wilde Heads Home-School Group As New President

Meeting for the first time this school year, members of the Sacred Heart Home-School Society Monday were confronted with election of a president to replace Norbert Koesler who was forced to resign on account of his health.

The group elected Ray Wilde to head the organization. The meeting featured a panel discussion by three of the six primary school teachers: Sisters Gabriel, Henrietta and Genevieve, detailing the advantages of the primary department's ungraded program introduced in the school this year.

They explained that in an ungraded primary there is no reference to first, second and third grades. Children are permitted to progress as fast as they are able. They are grouped according to ability. Bright students are not held back for slower ones and the slower students are not forced to keep up with the advanced children.

One of the largest groups of parents ever present at a Home-School meeting attended.

Sister Celine introduced Sister Imelda, new superior, and Sister Michael, the only two new teachers on the staff this year. Father Alcuin gave a short talk and Father Bruno announced that the diocesan insurance program for children is in effect and available for students again this year.

Another feature of the meet was demonstration of a new overhead projector and the newest type opaque projector. Charles Thompson of the Texas Education Aid of Dallas showed and explained the machines.

Testing Soil for Farm's Needs Is Good Investment

Efficient farming methods are prerequisites to maximum profits, and failure to determine the soil's need for lime and fertilizer is not efficiency. Dr. W. F. Bennett, extension soil chemist, says that the best place to determine the amount of lime or fertilizer a pasture or field needs is in the laboratory.

"A farmer or rancher gets more return on the money spent for testing and then applying recommended treatment to his soil than he does on any other money spent for crop production," Dr. Bennett points out.

Improper nutrient balance, coupled with a lack of weed, insect and disease control, greatly reduces the potential effectiveness of fertilizer. If the soil is high in acid or low in lime content, the phosphorus, potassium and some of the nitrogen is lost to growing plants, Bennett continues. Addition of agricultural limestone to such soils will result in greater use of plant nutrients, resulting in increased crop yields.

Application of limestone produces such beneficial results as providing calcium for plant food and making phosphorus more available for use. Also, soil bacteria are stimulated, the soil is easier to work, forage plants are more nutritious for livestock and toxic materials in the soil are neutralized, Dr. Bennett continues.

All of the above benefits are made available to landowners whose soil is tested to determine what is needed. Soil samples are easy to collect, and any county agent can give you information on taking and mailing them, Dr. Bennett concludes.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

Terrace construction is still moving at a rapid pace in the Muenster-Saint Jo area of the Upper Elm-Red Soil Conservation District.

Landowners know that terraces, paralled or graded, used in connection with waterways and good conservation cropping systems are a means of combatting soil and water losses and put money in their pockets.

Recently completing terrace systems are Tony Trubenbach Jr. with 1.2 miles; Charles Taylor with .8 mile and Alois Trubenbach with 1.4 miles.

Now is the time to locate sites and begin land preparation for waterways. These are the foundations of a good terrace system. Local Soil Conservation Service personnel will assist landowners with such practices.

NOTES FROM CITY LIBRARY

Among the interesting and entertaining books at City Library is "Destiny in Dallas". It is the story of Alexander Cockrell who left his Missouri home as a boy of fourteen, on his own and ready for anything. He could neither read nor write, but he was destined for success. He made Texas his land and Dallas his town; and he courted gray-eyed, level-headed Sarah Horton, the "Methody" woman who didn't hold with dancing or drinking, but who was ready to go with Alec to the ends of the earth. Their marriage was darkened by tragedy and illumined by love, and their story culminated in one dramatic day of destiny, April 3, 1858.

On this day Alec rode into Dallas early in the morning, in advance of his wagons. He had been on a trading expedition. His wife was waiting for him with their four children. Will Toomy, his construction foreman, was also waiting for him. Charley John, the Cherokee Indian who had befriended him in boyhood, was waiting for him too. The whole town of Dallas was waiting for him, because at thirty-eight Alec Cockrell was its first citizen. And, among all the rest, Andrew Moore was waiting — the town marshal, who owed Alec money and therefore hated him.

Shirley Seifert, the author, obtained her information from the library of the Dallas Historical Society and from Cockrell family records. Included in these is the collection of letters, records and photographs kept by Monroe Cockrell, the grandson of Alec Cockrell. This book is very interesting because of its authenticity.

Jim was just falling off to sleep when his wife nudged him and said the telephone downstairs was ringing. "Well, go answer it," he mumbled. She said she would but at this hour it was probably for him, and then closed her eyes. Jim rolled out of bed.

Upon returning, his wife was asleep. He woke her, "Wasn't for me, after all," he said, and waited until she had crawled out of bed and pulled on a robe to add: "It was a wrong number."

"I fail to see," said Mrs. Hawty, "Why you need two of those highballs before dinner each evening. One highball should be enough for any man."

"It is," replied her husband, "but one highball makes me feel like a different man — so I give him one too."

Bernice Hermes, David Strittmatter Say Nuptial Vows

job." And "Both the individual and the community enjoy a better life where more people have good educations."

A first class let-down was the report by Secretary of State Herter that the Big Pan-American pow-wow just completed was a wonderful success. It's hard to imagine where he gets that opinion after the OAS in general and he in particular failed in the one issue that was most important to all the American nations . . . checking the advance of Communism in this hemisphere. A few critical generalities were directed at Castro and his mob in Cuba but nothing was accomplished toward clamping down on the sorry situation. Instead, the organization made a big show of empty principle by picking on the comparatively insignificant dictator of the Dominican Republic.

What an absurd attitude! Trujillo, though a political boss, is much less a menace to his own people and no menace at all to the hemisphere. In fact, he's actually our ally in the world wide struggle with the reds. His antagonism to communism is the dominant feature of his government. For that he deserves our praise, so much so that we could well afford to overlook his faults.

All of which shows again, as in the relationship with Spain's Franco, how pathetically our official big shots fall for communist propaganda. The reds magnify Trujillo's faults as they did Franco's. So again, we mistreat the man who should be our friend but do nothing about the fiend who is determined to destroy us.
