TOO MUCH FOR OUR WHISTLE!

One day, as a boy, Ben Franklin found himself with a pocketful of pennies. At the store, he was so fascinated by the sound of a certain whistle that he laid all the pennies on the counter. Not until later did he realize that he had paid far too much for his whistle.

The liberty to buy and sell in the open market at whatever price we can get or are willing to give is, of course, a priceless heritage of competitive free enterprise. If we don't like the price, we can go elsewhere with our cash. Yet, foolishly, like young Franklin, many of us, indeed, "pay too much for our whistle."

Not simply in money, though we do that, too. Our worst bargains are at a deeper level, and we should take a look at them.

For instance, financial success at the price of integrity and principle, a gay escapade at the price of happiness at home, a begged favor at the cost of independence and self-respect, the victory of gaining an advantage at the cost of the respect of our friends.

And then that rash of bad bargaining in which America is engaged: the selling of freedom for security, fiscal solvency for political expediency, and the philosophy of "peace at any price."

Maybe it's time to start asking, "Are we paying too much for our whistle?"

TIME FOR STABILIZATION.

This country's largest farm organization, the American Farm Bureau Federation, deserves a bouquet for a resolution approved at its recent meeting in Chicago. The resolution amounts to solid opposition to a proposed bill which would expand social security benefits to include medical and hospital care for recipients.

Here's the resolution the delegates voted for: "Old age and survivor's insurance should not be designed to replace individual thrift but rather to protect against hardship in advanced years and to protect dependents against tragedy resulting from premature death of the family breadwinner.

"Constant pressures for increased and expanded benefits have resulted in the original law being liberalized six times in the past 20 years. . . . Increased tax rates are now scheduled every three years instead of five. During the next decade the tax rate will almost double.

"These increased costs are becoming a serious financial burden upon American citizens. We therefore recommend that the social security program be stabilized. We are opposed to legislation which would increase social security taxes or benefits."

The social security concept, obviously, could be broadened and broadened until it covered every conceivable human contingency from cradle to grave. Then, of course, we'd all be working for the government, at least in effect — the cost would reach unimaginable proportions. If we want to avoid that dreary and deadly prospect, stabilization is the answer.

FIT FOR A KING

Anyone who thinks Congress will be careful with his tax dollar without prodding from the homefolks needs only to look at Capitol Hill to be disillusioned.

The House of Representatives is going ahead with a new $84 million office building which will house only part of its members. This figure has been worked out at $192,000 a room, and each Representative will have three rooms.

And so each Representative's quarters will cost about as much as three dozen new homes that his constituents might build to house their families — if they could afford it.

Of course, it's unfair to compare office building costs with home building costs, so look at it another way. For little more than half what Congressmen are spending on their quarters ($46 million) Union Carbide is putting up a block square 52-story office building on New York's plush Park Avenue. But, we suppose such austere quarters wouldn't be good enough for our lawmakers.

It seems they must function amid splendor in the capital, even though the old front porch may be good enough office quarters back home.

When Congress is so indifferent to prodigal spending which it can view from the windows of the capitol, is it any wonder that federal money wanted in far-off Oregon or Laos fails to excite our lawmakers.

It looks like the voters are the ones who will have to get excited.

TAX-MAN SAM SEZ:

There are three different income tax forms you can use. The Form 1040 can be used by any individual. The 1040A can be used for salary and wages up to $10,000 a year. The new 1040W can be used on salary and wages of any amount and you can itemize your deductions. There is usually a sign in the post office that tells you about each form. Get the one you need.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover reports that the annual cost of crime in the United States amounts to approximately $128 for every person in the nation, or $506 for every family.

"BUT I'M TOO YOUNG TO DIE!"

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

Suppose you come home to find a group of vandals ransacking your house and molesting your family. Your impulse is to rush in to drive the vandals out, but the police forbid you, saying you'll get hurt. To protect you, they let the vandals finish. Only after the vandals go are you free to go in.

Outrageous? Of course, but how does it differ in principle from the thing that happened at the Wilson Company strike in Albert Lea, Minnesota? There, in order to prevent picket-line violence, the Governor sent state troopers to help the pickets keep other employees out. Nobody is free to work until the pickets quit.

An ironic twist is noted in the fact that the Governor's name is Freeman, and the town is in Freeborn County. It somehow reminds of the startling remark by Senator Wayne Morse when the steelworkers were ordered back to work: "Stripped of legalism, it means that supposedly free workers have been sentenced for 80 days to a form of economic peonage!"

And so freedom has come to mean "by permission of the unions!"

Strange things are happening to the once-proud name of freedom, but the strangest is the freedom to use it for anything you please — like the cry 25 years ago of the Hitler youth: "At last we are free of freedom!"

LINCOLN SPEAKS NOW

By Carl Sandburg, poet and biographer of Abraham Lincoln

COULD LINCOLN tell us anything now in these troubled days? Perhaps I could deal with that question that I've been asked across the years, finding myself as time went on a little more able to answer it.

In December of 1862 he sent a message to Congress in which he proposed that Congress should enact measures for buying the slaves in the border slave states, and giving them freedom.

IN THAT MESSAGE to Congress, which refused to enact his plan, he had the little sentence: "In times like these the present men should utter nothing for which they would not willingly be responsible through time and in eternity."

Further on in that message he wrote: "The stormy present... is piled high with difficulty, and we must rise with the occasion. As our case is new, so we must think anew and act anew. We must disenthrall ourselves."

LINCOLN was asking that Congress and the nation should break themselves loose from all the unholy bonds that tied them down. He himself did this not only by opposing the slavery of human beings, but also by desiring to live always as a willing instrument in the hands of God.

A minister in a delegation meeting Lincoln said he hoped "the Lord is on our side."

Lincoln: "I don't agree with you." There was amazement. Lincoln continued: "We know that the Lord is always on the side of right. But it is my constant anxiety and prayer that I and this nation should be on the Lord's side."

THAT HE WAS a man of deep religious belief was conveyed to large numbers of people by unmistakable expressions in his speeches and messages.

One man formulated a creed from Lincoln's own words. Here are some of Lincoln's convictions:

"I BELIEVE the people of the United States, in the forms approved by their own consciences, should render the homage due to the Divine Majesty, for the wonderful things He has done in the nation's behalf.

"I believe in His eternal truth and justice.

"I believe the will of God prevails. Without Him all human resistance is vain. Without the assistance of that Divine Being I cannot succeed; with that assistance I cannot fail.

"I BELIEVE I am a humble instrument in the hands of our Heavenly Father. I desire that all my works and acts be according to His will; and that it may be so, I give thanks to the Almighty and seek His aid."

Former Local Man
Father of 8 Girls
Gets in Spotlight

Arrival of his eighth daughter recently brought former Muensterite Virgil Zipper out into the spotlight. Newspaper reporters interviewed him and took pictures and Associated Press used an interview as a wire story. The Zippers live in Dallas.

It's all because the 37-year-old father is the only man in a household of women — his wife and eight daughters. And reports say he doesn't mind a bit living in an all-female world. "This way I'm boss" he says.

Regarding the latest addition to the all-girl family, Zipper said: "I heard the doctor talking to a nurse as they came out of the delivery room. He told her, 'I'm not going to tell him — you'll have to.'"

"They're getting to know my wife pretty well at St. Paul's and the folks there were kind of pulling for her to have a boy. Like everyone else we wanted a boy, but we're happy to take what the Lord gives us. When she comes from the delivery room I always ask first how she is, then what the baby is." Peggy Jean is the latest to join the all-girl brood. The others are Dorothy Ann, 15, Sandra Lee, 13; Patricia Carol, 10; Judy Elaine, 7; Connie Darlene, 3; Cindy Marie, 2; and Shirley Ann, 1.

What's it like to live around so many womenfolk?

"I don't know, I've never lived any other way," Zipper admits. "We're all satisfied. It's a pleasure to have the girls around — one doing this, the other that."

Mrs. Zipper, the 35-year-old mother, who doesn't sew, thinks providing eight young ladies with fetching frocks may become more of a problem as they grow older.

And speaking of future dilemmas: What about the evening when eight young men line the front porch to pick up their dates?

Right now there are more immediate difficulties, like keeping track of everyone. When the girls were assembled around Mrs. Zipper to have their picture taken by a Dallas News photographer, the father gave them a quick glance and said, "Is this all? Count off kids."

Mr. and Mrs. Zipper have been married 16 years and have lived in Dallas since 1946. He is a contractor. Their home address is 10207 Plummer. A son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Zipper, former residents here, Virgil and his twin sister, Virginia were born in Muenster.

Muenster Dealer Given Award for Driver Training

J. B. Wilde Chevrolet, authorized new car dealership in Muenster, this week was awarded a Certificate of Merit for lending an automobile and a pickup in the high school driver training program.

The Texas Automotive Dealers Association, statewide association of factory authorized new car dealers whose members have for the past 11 years loaned motor vehicles to high schools for "behind the wheel" driver education, made the award. Dealers loan vehicles without charge as a public service.

The local company loaned an automobile and a pickup to Muenster Public School and Forestburg Public School which has instructors qualified to teach both classroom theory and actual in-car fundamentals of driving.

Present-day drivers who have participated in high school driver training programs in the past have better than average safety records, according to national studies on the subject.

Over $2 million is invested by authorized new car dealers in more than 800 automobiles on loan to schools throughout the state, according to Tom J. Crooks, Manager of the dealer association. Many of these cars are equipped with dual controls, permitting the instructor to maintain maximum safety control during the training procedure.

The shortage of qualified "behind the wheel" instructors prevents many other schools and new car dealers from participating in this program, Mr. Crooks said.

Visitors from Kansas have been guests of the Hoenig, Flusche and Koelzer families this week. Mr. and Mrs. Odolo Koelzer of Daileyville, Kansas, arrived Monday for a four-day visit. They were house guests of Messrs. and Mmes. Joe and Alphonse Hoenig and visited with all their Cooke County relatives. They are enroute to California to visit other relatives.

The groom's attendants included his brothers, Reynold Herr of Hereford and Erwin Herr of Syracuse, N. Y. Little Patricia Herr of Hereford was flower girl for the bride.

YOU CAN'T WIN
If a man's after money, he's money-mad; if he keeps it, he's a capitalist, if he spends it, he's a playboy; if he doesn't get it, he's a ne'er-do-well; if he doesn't try to get it, he lacks ambition. If he gets it without working for it, he's a parasite; and if he accumulates it after a lifetime of hard work, people call him a fool who never got anything out of life.

Experimenters in Texas have come up with a dwarf hybrid grain sorghum that is about 18 inches tall, compared with regular combine-type sorghum standing 2 1/2 to 3 feet tall. The new sorghum yields as abundantly as do regular combine types, but the distance between joints on the stalk is shorter. Advantages of the new dwarf sorghum include easier combining and better "stand up" ability in high wind — especially when grown under irrigation.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

Some conservation farmers tend to slack off when their waterways are established and terraces have been completed on their cropland fields. Surely these are the foundations of the conservation plan for a farm, but the true conservationist must, and does, go beyond the step of laying the foundation. He must start thinking about the cropping system that will pay the biggest dividends and at the same time protect and improve the soil.

When this kind of thinking begins, sweet clover inevitably comes into the picture. The reason? Sweet clover has proven itself to be one of the best soil building legumes adapted to this area. Sweet clover is adapted to soil containing lime. This we have in our Grand Prairie soils.

Clover has a strong tap root that will penetrate plow pans and permit more water and air to enter the ground. Sweet clover will add from 20 to 100 pounds of nitrogen per acre, valued at from ten to 15 dollars an acre when seed is inoculated and plants are managed correctly. After the clover roots decay this nitrogen can be used by crops such as maize, corn and small grains. Land that has been in clover is easier to plow because clover leaves the earth in honey-comb condition.

It is estimated that to do this conservation job right there is an annual need for ten to 15 thousand acres of sweet clover in the Muenster-Saint Jo area.

Are you doing your part? Ask soil conservation technicians. Why not overseed that oats field with sweet clover this spring? Especially the field that has only about half a stand following the freezing weather recently.

Back to the foundation of that conservation plan. There is still time this spring to get those waterways planted.

4-H Campaigns For Traffic Safety

Safety knows no party—everyone's platform calls for improving the nation's highway traffic record.

Leaders in the campaign include the eight national winners of $400 General Motors scholarships for outstanding 4-H farm, home and highway safety activities.

Urging the unanimous election of Mr. Traffic Safety in every community throughout the country, the 4-H safety specialists recently told newsmen in Chicago that "a vote for safety is a vote for a longer and better life for all of us."

The national winners and all state safety winners received all-expense trips to the 4-H Club Congress from General Motors in recognition of their house-to-house, bell-ringing efforts to have Mr. Safety represent everyone.

Typical of the group is Caroline Ware, 16-year-old national winner from Benevolence, Georgia, who received a commendation letter from her town's mayor for her safety efforts.

"With all the nation's youth—especially the 2,250,000 4-H members—waving banners, making speeches, parading and campaigning for a safer America, we hope Mr. Safety gets everyone's vote every day of the year," she said.

General Motors is in its 16th year of sponsoring awards in the 4-H safety program which is conducted by the Extension Service of state agriculture colleges and the United States Department of Agriculture. More than 900,000 4-H members participate annually in the safety program.

Other national winners include: Theresa Criscio, 17, West Springfield, Massachusetts; Patricia Kallio, 18, Chisholm, Minnesota; Lawrence Klepcko, 17, Golden, Colorado; Carol Rae Larson, 16, Lusk, Wyoming; Raylene Scott, 17, Rozel, Kansas; Wesley Spear, 19, Oakes, North Dakota, and Ronald Ullom, 18, Valier, Montana.

Their recommendation to all voters: GO SAFETY—VOTE FOR SAFETY IN '60!

Americans Own 56 Million Cars

The automobile was such a novelty in 1896 that the Barnum and Bailey Circus displayed one as its main oddity.

Today there are more than 80 million passenger cars traveling on the world's roads, according to World Book Encyclopedia. And about 56 million are owned by Americans. That's enough cars to take every man, woman and child in U. S. for a Sunday drive at one time... with room left over for all the people of Great Britain and France. And even then, there would be 15 million empty seats.

Here are some other interesting facts about automobiles:

England tried to discourage the use of cars 1865 by passing the Red Flag Law. The law required that someone carrying a red flag in the daytime and a lantern at night walk ahead of any steam carriage traveling on the highways.

The first president to ride in a car was William McKinley. He was taken to a hospital in an electric ambulance after being shot by an assassin in 1901.

A Cadillac was driven up the steps of the Capitol in Washington, D. C., in 1905 to prove the car's power.

The average car lasted 6.5 years in 1925. Today it lasts more than 12 years. The average 1925 car traveled 25,750 miles before it was scrapped. The average car today travels 110,000 miles.

Private passenger cars in the U.S. travel more than 500 billion miles a year... a distance greater than 2,700 round trips to the sun.

Farm Facts

We have never been so well fed for so little despite more people in the U.S. and fewer farmers to feed them.

TAX-MAN SAM SEZ:

One of the things the tax folks are perturbed about is tips. Some folks forget to include their tips and a few just plain don't want to pay tax on tips. When the tax folks get to looking it pays to have them look at somebody else. Don't forget to put in your tips.

Stella Bengfort, Anton Hess Say Vows at Lindsay

Saint Peter's Church in Lindsay was the scene of nuptial high mass and double ring ceremony uniting in marriage Miss Stella Bengfort, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bengfort of Lindsay and Anton Hess, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hess of Muenster.

Rev. Alcuin Kubis officiated at the service Saturday morning at 9 o'clock. Acolytes were Ronald Zimmerer, nephew of the bride, and Johnny Hermes and Doyle Voth. St. Cecilia's choir presented the music with Mrs. William Schmitz at the organ. The pre-nuptial and post-nuptial vocal selections were given by Mrs. Bruno Zimmerer and Mrs. Ben Hermes. They also sang a duet at the offertory.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. For her wedding she chose a gown of imported French lace and bridal satin, the wide skirt forming a chapel length train. Iridescent and seed pearls outlined the Sabrina neckline and long sleeves tapered to petal points over her hands. The bride designed her dress and her sister, Mrs. Norbert Zimmerer and Pete Stoffels, sewed it.

The skirt of bridal satin, gathered up in front and jeweled with pearls, revealed an underskirt of lace over ice blue satin. The waist length veil of tulle cascaded in tiers from a jeweled tiara, and she carried a white prayer book topped with a purple throated white orchid. Her jewelry, a single strand of pearls and matching earrings, were gifts from the groom.

For something old she carried a lace handkerchief, a gift from her sister, Sister Josephine Elise, and for something borrowed and blue she had a rosary belonging to her sister, Mrs. Charles Stoffels.

Miss Dorothy Bengfort was her sister's maid of honor and the groom's niece Miss Veronica Hess and the bride's cousin Ethel Sandmann were bridesmaids. They wore bouffant dresses in three shades of blue. Miss Bengfort's was electric blue, Miss Hess was sky blue and Miss Sandmann's sapphire blue. Fashioned of silk organza over crinolines they were designed with moulded bodices, off-shoulder effect necklines and bracelet length sleeves. They wore matching gauntlets and veiled crown-shaped hats. Their flowers were heart shaped bouquets of red carnations.

Eddie Joe Schmitt, nephew of the groom, was best man and Jimmy Sandmann, the bride's cousin, and Johnny Knabe were groomsmen. Bill Hess of Lawton, Okla., and Wilfred Bengfort, brothers of the couple, ushered.

After mass the bride placed carnations on the Blessed Virgin's altar as Mmes. Zimmerer and Hermes sang "Mother at Your Feet."

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Bengfort wore a French blue costume with blue and black accessories. Mrs. Hess, mother of the groom, wore black with beige and black accessories.

Wedding day festivities were held in the Parish Hall. Brunch was served to the bridal party and immediate family members and at 5 o'clock a reception began with about 375 guests attending. Carol Hess and Louise Hermes were at the bride's book and Mrs. Al Hess and Mrs. Eddie Schmitt cut and served the wedding cake. Mrs. Joe Lehnertz catered the buffet dinner.

The hall was decorated in the bride's chosen colors with red hearts added to carry out a Valentine theme.

When the newlyweds left on a honeymoon trip she was wearing a blue tweed suit with navy and white accessories. They will make their home on a farm north of Muenster.

Among out of town wedding guests were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hess and family of Lawton and Mr. and Mrs. Max Sandmann and Mr. and Mrs. Barney Sandmann of Dallas.

SANDRA SCHMITT a senior student of Sherman High School was honored as Girl of the Month at a recent luncheon program of the Sherman Soroptimist Club. She is a member of the SHS basketball team and is prominent in school and 4-H activity besides raising registered Angus cattle as a club project. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Schmitt of Dorchester, and a granddaughter of Mrs. Otto Schmitt of Lindsay.

a bombshell from Secretary of State Herter, in the form of a suggestion that we drop the Connally amendment of the Senate's 1946 approval of U. S. participation in the World Court. As set up, the Court does not claim jurisdiction over any country's "domestic affairs", but the Court decides what is domestic. When America's participation was considered Texas' own Tom Connally authored a reservation, which received 51-12 approval, that in our case our government and not the Court would decide whether an issue is "domestic."

Most other nations leave that decision to the court, and now some of our one-worlders, in their panicky efforts to cooperate with other countries, are trying to let the World Court decide which of our issues it can take charge of.

In a way it seems they are trying to correct an arbitrary attitude of this government, but they're overlooking a most important point. It makes no difference that the Soviet group of countries lets the Court decide, because none of them live up to decisions that displease them. They can defy the court and get by with it because there is no enforcing power. Nations are bound by honor to abide, but that means nothing to a nation that has no honor.

United States, on the other hand, has a record of living up to the court's decisions, and it feels bound by honor to live up to future decisions. And let's remember also that those decisions could be handed down by judges who are appointees of the Soviet countries. Many of the 15 judges are picked by Moscow.

Under such conditions, imagine what could happen. Suppose that, under red influence, Panama were to demand that we leave the Canal Zone, or Cuba were to demand that our navy leave its base there. And suppose red stooges of the Court should decide that these issues are international rather than domestic, then proceed to hand down a typical red verdict, which is determined by communist politics rather than justice. We'd be faced with the dilemma of surrendering our sovereignty or defying the Court, either of which violates our principle. Such possibilities and many others make it clear that we would play into the communist hand if we discarded the wise provision made by Connally.

The more we see of communist dealing and communist schemes to undermine our sovereignty the more we are convinced that we should have less to do with them and their one-world shenanigans. As Tom Anderson of Farm and Ranch recommends, "Let's get U. S. out of the U. N., and U. N. out of the U. S."
