

For a while it appeared that American voters this year would have a real problem deciding between the two presidential candidates. Promptly after Democrats came out with a ticket and a platform that rivaled their strongest ever in liberalism, the Nixon-Rockefeller huddle started people wondering whether Republicans would be offering more of the same.

But the trend of the GOP convention started pointing up basic differences. When staunch conservatives such as Herbert Hoover, Barry Goldwater and Walter Judd appeared in policy shaping speeches it became apparent that Rockefeller liberalism would not be a dominant feature of the party. And on the final night acceptance speeches by Nixon and Lodge again leaned to the conservative side.

As regards the Democratic ticket, liberalism adopted by the convention has been intensified since then. Kennedy's position, if ever in doubt, is becoming more apparent as a result of his meetings with Reuther, Meany, McDonald and Stephenson. Still another indication is the announced Democratic strategy of cramming an abundance of liberal legislation through Congress during the final weeks.

From now until November the American people will hear plenty about each party's program. It will be up to them to decide which they like best. Will they go for continued welfare expansion as emphasized by the Democrats, or will they prefer the combination of conservatism and firm foreign relations as stressed by the Republicans?

At last the drags of Cooke County seem to have a fairly even fight on their hands. Their cause in the local option election now shaping up at Gainesville doesn't appear near as hopeless as it was at Muenster and Lindsay. This contest is conceded to be a close one whereas the other two were cinches to go wet by substantial majorities.

And early activity by the drags indicates a mighty determination to stop the election before it is even started. The first step is to intimidate possible signers of the local option petition in the hope that it will not get a sufficient number of endorsements to warrant ordering the election.

A clear indication of that intent was revealed Monday by the Gainesville Register in its explanation for refusing to publish an ad submitted by the drags. Executive personnel of the paper said the ad not only sought to identify persons signing the petition but also included thinly veiled threats of boycott. It was definitely libelous, said the Register spokesmen, and they would have nothing to do with it. And no wonder. The paper could have been held legally responsible.

All of which goes to show how twisted some people's thinking can be. Fired up with belief in the rightness of their cause they don't seem to notice the wrongness of their methods. It's a modern version of witch burning, a return to the long discredited principle that the end justifies the means.

It is unfortunate that dry leaders resort to sound and fury and coercion instead of simply presenting their case on its merits. Surely they should realize that theirs is not the fair way, nor the American way.

Or is it because they are aware of the weakness of real merit in their argument? They know that prohibition has been proved a failure, that it has not kept drunks from getting their drinks. The old plea of preventing drunkenness never did and never will stand up.

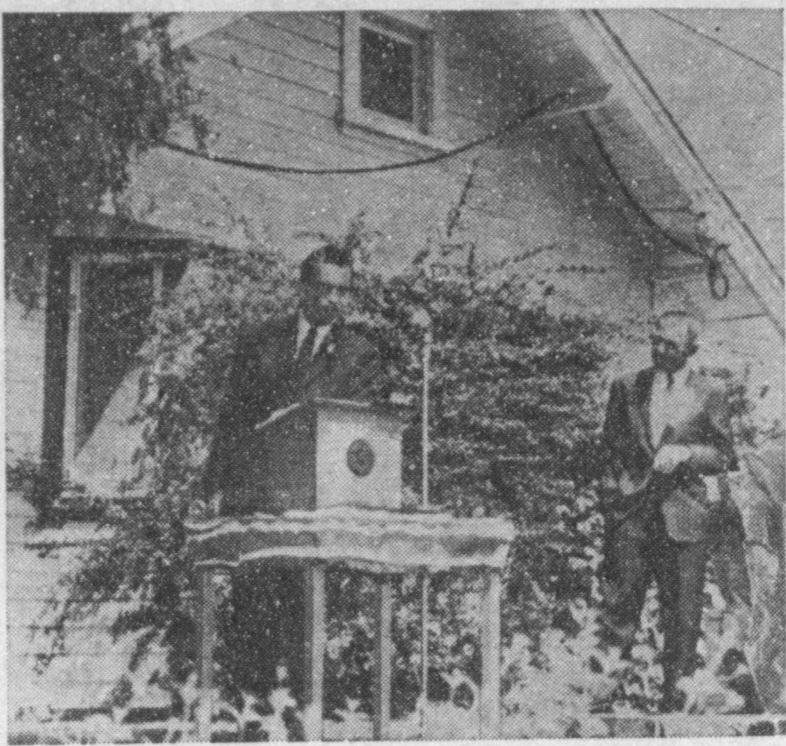

As regards the old contention that it is wrong to drink, it can be said that millions of other people are equally sincere in their belief that it is not wrong. Since there is no agreement of conscience on this point it follows that people who advocate prohibition are seeking to impose their opinions and convictions on the others.

In this regard it can also be said that sensible drinkers vastly outnumber those who make fools of themselves. Depriving them because of the few is about as reasonable as taking away all driving licenses because of the relatively small number of reckless drivers.

In other words, taking a drink is a person's right. Like every right it has correspond-

WHERE IT BEGAN—For John F. Kennedy life began on May 29, 1917, in this frame house on Beals St., Brookline, Mass. His father, Joseph P. Kennedy, borrowed the down payment on the $6,500 home, which today is owned by Mrs. Louis Pollack.

WHERE IT BEGAN—For Richard Nixon it started on Jan. 9, 1913, in this frame house at Yorba Linda, Calif. Perched on a knoll above an irrigation ditch bordering a lemon grove, the dwelling was built by Nixon's father. The town purchased the birth home as a historical site. Turkish Man Ends Local Studies in Soil Conservation

Nihat Karol of Turkey, who has been working with technicians of the Upper Elm Red Soil Conservation District for the past seven months, spent his last day with local personnel Wednesday.

While assigned to the Nocona work unit, Karol has frequently worked with the Muenster unit and also with other units of the district. Tuesday was his last day with the Nocona group.

The young man is a member of the Turkish soil conservation service and is spending a year in the United States on an exchange program provided by the International Cooperative Administration to study conservation methods in this country.

When he arrived he was assigned to the Upper Elm Red District because conditions here were more nearly similar than others to the conditions of his native country. He chose the Nocona zone as the part of the district most like his country.

Leaving the local district Karol has two more assignments before returning to Turkey. From here he goes to McKinney, then to Big Spring.

Fifteen Blocks of City Pavement Get New Surface

Fifteen blocks of city pavement are receiving a new surfacing job this week. The project will consist of a 1-coat surface course of asphalt and crushed rock at a width of 18 feet on 14 blocks and a full curb to curb width on the remaining block.

The work schedule, as outlined Wednesday by the contractor, H. M. Scott & Son of Denison, consists of the application of asphalt and crushed rock on Thursday, and brushing and rolling for the next two days.

Estimated cost of the entire job is about $2,000, according to City Manager Steve Moster. This is figured at the rate of 20 cents a square yard on about 10,000 square yards of surface. This estimate also includes additional work at the four corners of each intersection to provide good surface for turning corners, as well as to protect pavement edges at the corners.

Streets favored are as follows: North Oak, 1 block of curb to curb width from 8th to 9th. All the other streets are 18 feet wide. Fourth Street, 4 blocks from Maple to Oak; Oak Street, 6 block from highway to 6th; Fifth Street, 1 block from Main to Elm; Third Street, 1 block from Main to Oak; First Street, 1 1/2 block west from Oak; Second Street, 1/2 block east from Oak.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Hoedbeck and children spent the weekend in Derby, Okla., visiting her mother, Mrs. Joe Sanchez.

W. J. Luke Heads Local Agency for Ford Farm Tools

Within a few days changes in name, ownership and management at Muenster's Ford tractor and implement agency are due to become effective. Details of the change-over have been under way for about a month.

Under the new set-up the firm will be a corporation with J. M. Weinzapfel and Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Luke as stockholders. The corporation charter has been applied for and is expected within a few days. On its arrival the firm will be officially in business under the name of Muenster Equipment Company.

Before applying for charter the firm applied for a franchise as dealer for the Ford line of farm equipment. Official notice of the appointment was received early this week from J. L. McNabb, vice president and general manager of The Stewart Company, distributor of Ford farm equipment.

Wilmer J. Luke, manager of the business, is a native of Muenster. After serving in World War II he attended Texas Tech and received a degree in mechanical engineering in 1951. For the past nine years he has been employed as a petroleum engineer with Pan-American Petroleum Corporation, formerly Standard Oil and Gas Co.

NTPA Reports 5 Per Cent Rise In Milk Volume

An increase of about 5 per cent in volume set a new all time high record in milk production for the North Texas Producers Association last year.

That information was reported by Manager J. O. Woodman in the organization's annual general meeting held in Arlington last week Wednesday.

He said that NTPA marketed 914,218,941 pounds of milk for a total of $44,347,137, making the past year the biggest ever in the cooperative's history.

Class 1 sales on the North Texas market also topped all previous figures. The total was 702,214,671 pounds, an increase of about 15,000,000 pounds and 2 1/2 per cent. Average price paid for class 1 milk during the year was $5.51 per 100 pounds, almost the identical average for the previous year.

Directors of the association voted by acclamation to hire Woodman on a two year contract as general manager of NTPA. Since he was previously employed on a year to year basis, the 2 year contract was regarded as a special vote of confidence in the man who helped found the association and guided it through 11 years of steady growth.

Other officers named by the directors were W. T. Crouch of Arlington, president; Leroy Hay of Gainesville first vice president, Jack Cornelius of Antlers, Okla., second vice president; J. O. Woodman, secretary-treasurer.

About 40 Muenster members helped to account for the county's attendance of about 140 members at the meeting.

NEWS OF THE SICK

On July 30 the Dave Trachtas felt like they'd had it. That was the day they made three trips to Gainesville to the doctor with three children. Tommy Joe broke his left arm, both bones at the wrist, in a fall. Has it in a cast and a sling. Jim dislocated his left shoulder at work and had to have it put back in place... has his left arm in a sling... and Sharon who had just previously had bandages removed from her burned hands got an infection in her left hand and had to have treatment and re-bandaging.

When Andy O'Connor was in Fort Worth for a routine checkup of his left arm, the doctor said it was doing so well he's considering removing the pin in four or five months, something the doctors earlier said Andy would have to live with the rest of his life. Mr. and Mrs. O'Connor were in Dallas Thursday to visit their daughter and family, the Bill Frys and Mrs. Fry went with them to the doctor Friday.

City, County Sign Contract on Rural Fire Protection

Rural fire protection is again being offered by members of the Muenster fire department.

Mayor Herbert Meurer disclosed Wednesday that he had just received his copy of a contract between the city and county commissioners providing that the local fire department furnish a tank truck and personnel to answer rural fire calls in this area for one year beginning on August 15.

That date is specified as the next meeting of the commissioners court, at which time payment of $1,000 for the year's service will be made to Muenster. However, as far as Muenster is concerned, the agreement is effective now, Meurer said.

The contract also solves another important problem for Muenster. It provides immunity from liability to the city, and members of the city council and fire department in case of an accident while on a country fire run. As of now such accidents are in line of official duty. Before, firemen were on their own when outside the city limits.

In its contract with the county the city agrees to provide a tank truck and fire fighting personnel for rural fires. As a starter it has repaired its old unit, however it hopes to continue renewing the contract year after year and use the annual payments to get and maintain a more efficient rural fire fighting unit. Several years of such payments would be needed to pay for that kind of unit, but the city could arrange to finance it after only a few payments.

Football Practice At Local Schools Begins August 15

Football practice for Muenster's two Class B teams is only ten days away. George Petrus, coach of the Sacred Heart Tigers disclosed Wednesday that all Class B schools are authorized to start working on that date.

Petrus also set Wednesday, August 10, at 8 in the gymnasium as a preliminary meeting date for all boys who are interested in being on the Tiger squad. Purpose of that get-together is to check equipment and plan a practice schedule.

Practice plans for the Muenster Hornets still await the assignment of a coach. Superintendent L. B. Bruns is at a coaching school in Dallas this week hoping to hire a combination coach and math teacher for the job.

Coach Petrus also said that pre-school practice this year will be held at night, as before, and will probably continue at night for the three days following school opening on Wednesday, Aug. 24. The Tigers will play their first game at Alvord on Sept. 2.

Members also urged widespread help and encouragement of the M Teens in their effort to organize and maintain their own club. The progress association, sponsors of the M Teens urged adult attendance at the youth's benefit dance Thursday night at 8:30 in the VFW hall.

The meeting also took note of an arrangement by which the City of Muenster provides rural fire protection in this area, and voted its thanks to the city council and the mayor for making the protection available.

WHERE ARE THE TOPS

We've just read that in a Texas town they have an annual top-spinning contest, in which men, women and children compete. We hadn't thought of it for years, but we wonder: Where are the tops? Or, for that matter, where are the marbles? Or, mumble-dy-peg? Or the dozen other things that made a long, lazy summer a heaven for boys?

And suddenly, we know. The boys are busy being entertained by adults in "supervised recreation." And we're inclined to be a bit curious why the term "juvenile delinquency" had never been thought of when the kids were so neglected that they went to the devil playing run-sheep-run and shinny and one-o-cat.

Some of the more venturesome among them hunted wild strawberries, came home with a large pan of berries and a sense of accomplishment. A lot of them picked cherries on shares and brought home their share for mom to can. Widow ladies never needed to worry about their lawn-mowing. There were a dozen boys in the neighborhood ready to do the job for a quarter. And it had better be done right or some other kid would get the job next time.

But we suppose it was not good. There were no child-labor laws which said a kid couldn't work without getting permission from the school authorities. The Government had not yet decreed that everybody should be paid a dollar an hour. There was no social security. No forty-hour week. No time-and-a-half. No income taxes.

In short, there had been no social progress. But, somehow, all the kids grew up to be self-reliant citizens. And they built a great nation. And they now read that the Russians are working harder than we are and their leader has promised them they can bury us.

The thing we don't know, and we'd like very much to know, is whether the Russian kids are spinning tops.

SEVEN-TENTHS OF A SECOND

There is a chilling report in Motor magazine on what happens in the first second when an auto speeding at 55 m.p.h. crashes into a tree. Researchers, particularly those at the University of California and Cornell, have been studying various types of auto collisions and the auto-tree variety has produced findings that argue strongly for avoiding it.

Here they are.

In the first tenth of the fatal second, the front bumper and grille collapse.

The second tenth finds the hood crumpling, rising and striking the windshield as the spinning rear wheels lift from the ground. Simultaneously, fenders begin wrapping themselves around the tree and, although the car's frame has been halted, the driver's is still going 55 m.p.h. Instinct causes the driver to stiffen his legs against the crash and they snap at the knee joint.

During the third tenth of the second, the driver's torso lunges from the seat, broken knees smashing into the dashboard. The steering wheel starts to disintegrate and the steering column aims for the driver's chest.

The fourth tenth of a second finds two feet of the car's front end wrecked while the rear end still moves at 35 m.p.h. and the driver's body still travels at 55.

In the fifth tenth the driver is impaled on the steering column and blood rushes into his lungs.

The sixth tenth finds impact built up to the extent that feet are ripped out of tightly laced shoes. The brake pedal breaks off; the car frame buckles in the middle, and the driver's head bangs into the windshield as the rear wheels, still spinning, fall back to earth.

In the seventh tenth, hinges rip loose, doors spring open and the seat breaks free, striking the driver from behind.

But he doesn't mind because he's already dead and the last three-tenths of the second mean nothing for him.

INTOXICATION

Americans are suffering from a severe and prolonged case of intoxication. It afflicts everybody in the nation. Ten years ago, all government was collecting $367 for every individual American. This year the tax will amount to an estimated 631 per person.

The average American spends the first two hours of each working day earning money withheld as Federal or State income tax — money he works for but never sees. He works an additional hour or so each day to pay county and city taxes, gas taxes, excise taxes, and all the hidden taxes included in the price of every item he buys.

There is only one way to cure intoxication. That is to call Doctor Common Sense and let him apply the old-fashioned and effective remedy of governmental economy.

EYE OPENERS

A spokesman for the Citizens Public Expenditure Survey has pointed out some tax facts which should be eye-openers of potency.

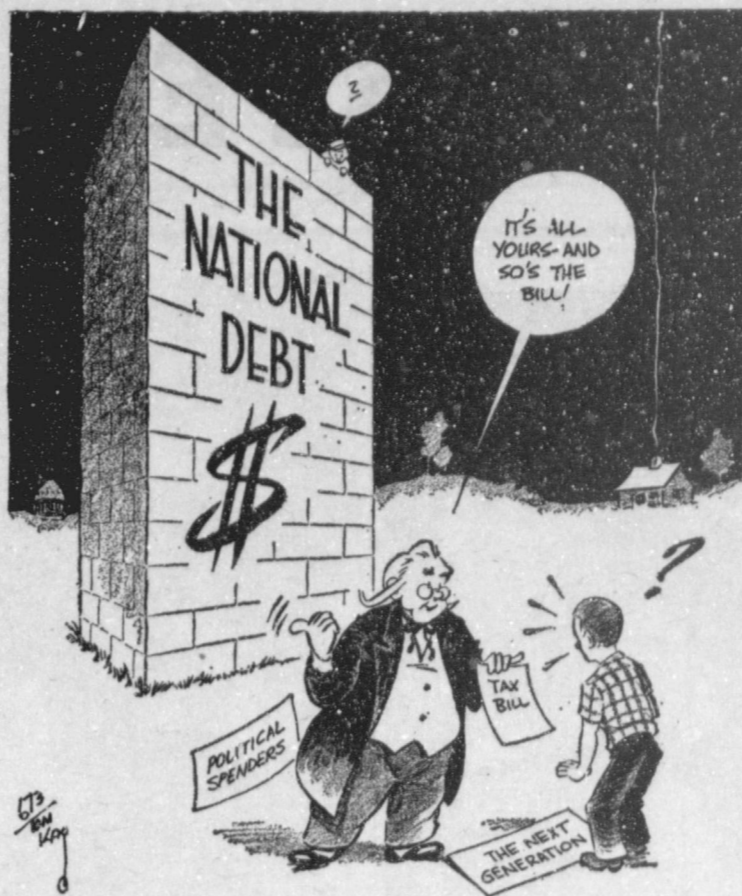

Here's one: If you work 40 hours a week and earn $4,500 a year you spend more time working for the tax collector than you do working for your food and clothing.

Here's another: If the federal government does not start paying off the present debt, in the next 30 years we will pay taxes for interest charges equal to the $290 billion principal of the debt — and still owe all of it.

Waste and unnecessary spending by government flattens the pocketbook of all of us — even the so-called "common man" for whom the politicians weep.

At a recent political meeting a well-known Republican was speaking. He remarked that his method of obtaining votes for the Republican Party was to give every taxi driver a large tip, then tell him, "Vote Republican."

"I think my way is better," gave them no tip and tell them, "Vote Democratic."

Junior's Legacy

OLD SAYING, REWORDED

"Millions for defense but not one cent for tribute," said Representative Robert Goodloe Harper in 1798. And little did he know that by 1960 it would be billions for defense, with a good hunk of it going down the rathole.

The Wall Street Journal recently carried a long list of the ridiculous places our money goes after the military spenders get their hands on it. It would be funny if it weren't so expensive — and so frightening.

The newspaper quotes a top government official as saying that installing a few standard good management practices in the defense department would save $2 to $3 billion a year, and produce a better defense effort besides.

There has never been any secret about the waste involved in military spending. Most people have simply looked upon it as inevitable, which it is not. At a time when the country is going deeper and deeper into debt to keep up its gigantic defense establishment, military waste comes close to sabotage or treason.

"Billions for defense," we say, "but not one cent for waste."

Why Divorce Doesn't Work

By Joan Mitchell

I SHOULD have hated the word "divorce." Divorce took my parents from me when I was a child, during those freedom-seeking days after the First World War, when God's law against divorce became unfashionable.

But for a long time divorce seemed like a sensible practice to me. It is only with mature reflection that I realize the tragedy of the broken home.

THE REASON for her unhappiness then dawned on me. In both marriages my friend had been concerned only with her happiness, and happiness was now impossible to her in any marriage. Divorce wasn't a change; it left her exactly as she was before—selfish to the core.

So often divorce is the way out for people like my friend. They never learn the lesson that in marriage (as in everything human) joy comes only out of sacrifice and hard work. Even when people find themselves in marriages that were "wrong," mistakes from the beginning, they can work at love. With God's help they can take the "liking" that brought them together and turn it into love.

THE ARGUMENTS for divorce can sound very logical: "Why live with a faithless or imprudent or just incompatible spouse?" or "Nothing is worse for a child than to be caught in the crossfire of his parents' conflicts." But these arguments for divorce do not stand the test of experience, or the greater logic behind God's law.

I had a friend whose husband went from surliness and bad temper to idleness and heavy drinking. My friend managed as best she could for a while, but finally her spirit snapped, and taking the baby with her, she divorced him. She was married a few years later to a successful business man. They lived in an exclusive suburban neighborhood, had cars and servants, but she still wasn't happy.

THE GREATEST tragedy about divorce is what it does to children. A child is the strongest proof that there once was love in a marriage—a love to build on—and the good of the child is the fundamental reason for God's law against divorce.

My thoughts often go back to my empty childhood. If my parents had loved me they would have stayed together—for they could have. I was the living image of their former love, and which in my image had never died. Yes, they should have stayed together. Not only for my sake, but for their's too. For like others, they found divorce the blindest alley!

Diary From Rome, Latest Report of Sister Theresina

Diary from Rome — jottings from Sister Theresina — high points of her sojourn in Rome to all her friends in Muenster and elsewhere arrived Monday.

"I shall write details later," she notes. "I think I am the happiest creature on earth. And there is no time for writing here. An ordinary day begins at 5:30 a.m. and ends at 11 p.m., more or less."

July 23: Left Zung, Switzerland at 4 a.m. by bus for Rome.

July 24: Assisi, Visited Portiuncula, San Damiano and Santa Clara. Saw the habit of St. Francis, his rule, his handwriting, the horn with which he summoned his brethren, the dark passage in which he hid before his enraged father, the room in which he died; the body of St. Clare, locks of her hair cut off by St. Francis, dormitory and dining rooms of St. Clare and her nuns, the hunger bell which was rung only after St. Clare and her Sisters had not eaten anything for four days.

Since I was the only one in our group by the name Clara, I was allowed to ring the little bell. Saw the cell of St. Francis which was so low he could not stand erect and where he lived for two years; the head of St. Agnes, virgin and martyr.

Imagine, this same day I was summoned to the telephone during supper. It was a welcome greeting from a second cousin who is in the Swiss Guard.

July 25: Today I saw St. Maria Sipra Minerva with the tomb of St. Catherine of Siena, the church of San Ignazio with the tombs of the young Jesuit Saints John Berchmans and Aloysius Gonzaga, the Pantheon which is the best preserved of all the classical structures of ancient times and which was converted into a Christian Church in 609 by Boniface IV under the title of Mother of God and All Martyrs. I could write on this alone for a long time.

A musician played Guno's Ave Maria in the Pantheon to show the wonderful acoustics of the place. Here we also saw the tomb of the great painter Raffael.

Then we admired the Dome of St. Peter which baffles all description, at least from my pen. The great obelisk in front was pointed out as of special interest. It took 900 men to put it in place in 1586, under the penalty of death if anyone dared speak because of the seriousness of the event. A sailor, however, who saw that through friction the ropes were smoking and might burst into flame shouted, "Water the ropes." He was pardoned and to this day, as a reward, his descendants may bring palms on Palm Sunday.

July 26: This afternoon the catacombs. Tomorrow the beloved Holy Father. To be continued as soon as possible. Sister M. Theresina, O.S.B.

South Texas Trip Features Vacation

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Owen, daughters Margie and Lois, and son Jimmy spent a week's vacation seeing relatives and enjoying the Galveston beaches.

First stop after leaving Muenster was at Buffalo, Texas, with Mr. Owen's sister Mrs. Nina Pickens and daughter Sophia who went with them to Houston to visit Mrs. Pickens' son, Grady Holmes, his wife and two sons. From there the group went to Texas City to visit other relatives and the young people commuted to Galveston every day.

Among Galveston sight-seeing the group enjoyed a tour of Lipton Tea Company and in Houston, Hermann Park Zoo was an added attraction.

Another visit was in Pasadena when Mrs. Pickens' daughter and family, the J. T. Waltons entertained with a dinner party for them.

Home Saturday, and Lois left again Sunday for one more week of vacationing in Dallas with her sister and family, the Jerry Henseheids. They were here for the weekend and she accompanied them home. Rita Sue Owen also went along for a week's vacation.

Fishing Trip Good For Rainbow Trout

Pecos River fishing was real good. That's the report from Mr. and Mrs. Ed Endres and their children Leon, Stanley, Connie and Nancy who spent a week with the Frank Hennigans at Albuquerque.

Together the two families 13 in all, spent three days on a camp-out in the mountains. Their fishing brought them lots of Rainbow trout . . . for fish fries there and for food in the locker here.

The Endreses also enjoyed seeing Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hennigan who are former Muenster residents.

Mass and Dinner Feature Reunion Of Mosser Family

Reunion of the Mosser families, descendants of the late Mr. and Mrs. Nick Mosser, was a happy day-long event Saturday at Lindsay. It was the first such gathering in many years with some one hundred of the kinfolk together, first for mass in St. Peter's Church, then for dinner and on through supper with the Parish Hall as the meeting place.

Father Alois Fuhrmann of Little Rock, Ark., officiated at the mass for which Leon Fuhrmann, Joseph Hartman and Tommy Fuhrmann were servers. Sister Michael Marie Fuhrmann played the organ and other family members made up the choir.

Only one daughter of the Nick Mossers is still living — Sister Frances Helen of Ennis — and she received special recognition at the dinner.

Others were present through the fifth generation from a wide area. Some were seeing each other for the first time, some were renewing acquaintances and others were introducing new babies. Family groups wore badges identifying them as such. Pictures were taken.

The gathering was, for some time, in the planning stage with Henry N. Fuhrmann as chairman and Mrs. Joe Shelton of Carlsbad, N. M., as secretary. Informing the relationship of the reunion plans, she wrote scores of letters.

Reminiscance and after dinner talks recalled olden times with Sister Frances Helen as the main speaker. A complete family tree was reviewed and honor was given the oldest person present, Mike Fuhrmann of Lindsay, 80, (his wife was the former Mary Mosser) and the youngest, his great-grandson Bill Bauer of Hallettsville.

Members of the family in religious life were recognized and so were all those who served in the armed forces through the years. Henry N. Fuhrmann was master of ceremonies. His daughter, Sister Mary Helen, was missing from the gathering. She is in Canada attending summer school.

The family history revealed that Nick Mosser was married in 1881 to Miss Sophie Halter in New Hamburg, Mo. Both were natives of Germany. She died in 1887 leaving three children.

Shortly afterwards Nick Mosser returned to his homeland for a visit, and on his return to the states, aboard ship, met a young lady from Alces coming to America. Durton the 15 to 20 day trip they came good friends. At parting they promised to write each other. Two years later they were married and Barbara Frohn became Mrs. Mosser.

In 1892 they migrated to Texas settling at Lindsay. They were among the earliest colonists and were present for the celebration of the first mass in the infant community.

They picked Lindsay sight unseen through an ad in a German newspaper asking for settlers, moving principally because doctors recommended a change of climate for Mrs. Mosser. She lived to be 71, rearing 8 children, helping in parish work and spending "spare time" crocheting. The altar piece used at the reunion mass was some of her handwork donated to the church many years ago. Mr. Mosser died 16 years before his wife. Both are buried at Lindsay and family members at the reunion paid their respects to them by visiting their graves.

In addition to Sister Helen and Mike Fuhrmann, the following widows of Mosser men were present: Mrs. Joe Mosser of Durant, Mrs. Louis Mosser of Slaton and Mrs. Leo Mosser and Mrs. Albert Mosser of Gainesville. Mrs. Nick Mosser of Andrews was unable to attend and Mr. and Mrs. John Mosser are both deceased.

Sister Henry Ann Fuhrmann of Denison was the third nun in the group and priests present in addition to Father Alois were Father Damian Wewers of Lindsay, Father Joseph Fuhrmann of Fort Worth, presently in Muenster, Father Gregory Kehres of Subiaco, at Lindsay the past week, and Father Emil Gerlich of Gainesville.

Others registered in the guest book included Joseph Hartman of Elmhurst, Ill., the Henry N. Fuhrmanns and family, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Klement, the Erwin Fuhrmanns and children of Lindsay, the Val Fuhrmanns and family of Muenster, Mrs. Ray Lewis and three children and the Eugene Krebs family of Dallas, John Fuhrmann and Anna Marie and Philip of New Braunfels, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Mosser of Durant, Mr. and Mrs. Emmanuel Mosser of San Antonio.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Shelton and son Mike and Leonard Mosser of Carlsbad, N. M., the Carl Kayzers and family, the Hugo Mossers and family, the Walter Mossers, the James R. Mossers and the Paul B. Mossers, all of Slaton, Mr. and Mrs. Don Gaitner of Midland.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Mosser and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Burton of Lubbock, Mr. and Mrs. Cletus Bauer and Paula and Bill of Hallettsville, the Virgil Mossers of Irving, Mr. and Mrs. David Endres of Fort Worth, the Freddie Dulocks and family, the Leroy R. Cases and family, the Richard Klements and Norbert Mosser of Gainesville.

Marysville News

By Mrs. B. G. Lyons

MARYSVILLE — First visit in 42 years was a treat for friends Saturday when the W. F. Davidsons were guests of schoolmates, Rev. and Mrs. S. C. Irwin at Malikoff. Mr. and Mrs. Davidson made the trip with their daughter and son-in-law, the Bill Roes and daughters Elizabeth and Reba of Westview.

Word has been received here that Mrs. Lizzie Wright, a former resident, is seriously sick in Wichita Falls General Hospital where she has been a patient for some time.

Weekend visitors with Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Lyons were their granddaughter Miss Dolores Grant of Denton, also their daughter Mrs. W. C. Stiles and her granddaughter Marinell Pace, and Edd Eastin, all of Gainesville.

Visiting the John Richeys for two weeks is their young niece, Donna Barnes of Gainesville.

John Richeys and Kin Enjoy Outing

An overnight campout during a weekend visit with relative in Oklahoma was a lot of fun for the John Richeys and their niece Donna Barnes who joined other relatives on the outing.

Saturday, the Richeys, accompanied by the Tom Binfords of Gainesville visited the Ralph Budlongs and children Annette and Terry at Duncan.

Dianne Binford who had spent a week with the Budlongs and Annette Budlong, accompanied the Richeys and Binfords on the trip to Mt. Scott and the campout.

Sunday they climbed mountains, visited the Easter Pageant grounds and the government park where the children enjoyed seeing deer, buffalo and longhorn cattle.

While there they met up with some former Cooke County friends, Mrs. Claude Cravens and son and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Cravens of Wichita Falls, along with two other couples. Mrs. Earl Cravens is remembered as the former Marie Reeves, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Reeves.

Rev. Gregory Sees Muenster for First Time in 20 Years

Seeing Muenster for the first time in over 20 years and visiting old friends made a three-day visit here real enjoyable for Father Gregory Kehres of Subiaco, Ark. There was much for him to see.

Father Gregory was a frequent visitor here during Father Frowin's pastorate . . . is remembered as a talented musician, organist and composer. At an early-day convention of the Catholic State League here he played, and the choir sang, a mass of his own composition. Recently he has been writing a biography and doing translations. He has the distinction of being the first native born Arkansas priest among the Benedictines at New Subiaco Abbey.

Father Gregory was here this week after being at Lindsay last week . . . sort of a vacation before going to Fort Worth to relieve pastors, there for their vacations.

He left Wednesday, making the trip with Father Joseph Fuhrmann who returned to Fort Worth after being here while Father Alcuin was away. Father Alcuin's vacation itinerary was arranged to get him back in Muenster sometime Thursday after being in Canada and Colorado.

Some people are more even-tempered than others . . . they're mad all the time.

David went by train with his aunt, Miss Joan Zipper of Dallas, joining her at Gainesville. Joan will spend a week's vacation with her sister and family, the Jim Stockmans. Seeing David off, and visiting with Joan at the train, were Mr. Zipper, Joanie Kaiser and Joyce Haverkamp.

Waving her grandchildren off at Dallas airport Wednesday was Mrs. Ruth Needham as Mike, Karen and Jackie Needham and their mother boarded a jet for the first lap of their trip to Formosa. On a lay-over in San Francisco the travelers will get to see her brother before boarding another jet for Tokyo. The final flight will be from there to Formosa.

The Southwest Graduate School of Banking at SMU, Dallas, had two from Muenster State Bank enrolled for the two-week course, Henry Weinzapfel and Earl Fisher. The Morris took their company to Amarillo and Borger for sight-seeing in those areas. Mrs. Kathman and David returned home Saturday.

Sister Francesca ended a three-day visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. August Walterscheid and family, Wednesday and returned to Fort Worth. NOTES FROM CITY LIBRARY

"Romance At Courtesy Bend" by Marjory Hall is a new book for teenagers on the shelves of City Library.

A cloud has overshadowed Quincy Brandford's life. This summer between high school and college, her last real vacation before plunging into a new and unknown world, should have been happy and carefree. But Prue Shaw, Quincy's best friend, is leaving with her family on a trip, and Curt, her steady boy friend, is going to work on his uncle's sheep ranch out West. Worst of all, Sandy Harbor, her beloved home town on Cape Cod, is being invaded by a newcomer — a raw, new motel. It's built at Courtesy Bend, a spot along the river where in the old days drivers of horses and wagons turned out from the road when the river was high, waiting for others to get across a flooded stretch of sand.

Quincy can't puzzle out her feelings about the motel that now bears the name of Courtesy Bend. Torn between resentment at the violation of her formerly unspoiled home neighborhood and her desire to share the beauties of Sandy Harbor with outsiders, Quincy tries to ignore the motel. But when she does an act of neighborliness for the two owners of the new building, the elderly and apprehensive Misses Trent, she finds herself actually offering to help out for the summer in the motel itself.

With the moment of her personal interest in Courtesy Bend, Quincy's summer changes dynamically. She learns a lot about people and a great deal about herself, her own family, and her neighbors. When an emergency develops and Quincy has to run the motel almost singlehanded, she discovers that help can come from very unexpected sources. Several attractive new interests keep romance alive during the summer, and Quincy gets a new perspective on her friendship with Curt.

When the summer closes, this happy-hearted girl from Cape Cod is quite ready and eager to go from high school to college with confidence about the future.

Miss Hall's writing career has led this popular author into the fascinating fields of advertising and publishing. She has written many books and articles for teen-agers.

The Carl Herrs move to Pilot Point and enter the grocery business there. Mr. and Mrs. Ed Endres announce the birth of Dianne.

10 YEARS AGO

Early start on new Sacred Heart Church seems likely. Wettest July on record brought 7.71 inches of rain. Firemen's picnic will be held Sunday, rain or shine. Public School gets $6,300 for sale of old buildings. Registrations at Public School begin next week. Awards in waterway contest, sponsored by Bank and Mill, go to Paul Fisher, H. N. TEN COMMANDMENTS FOR GOOD SLEEPING

1. Go to bed at the same hour every night.
2. Try to get at least one hour of sleep before midnight. (Yes, you can!)
3. Eat no more than a glass of milk or a small bowl of cereal before retiring. Leave those cakes alone.
4. Never eat or drink cold foods before retiring. Ice cream is the worst kind of midnight snack.
5. Never listen to the radio in bed. (The radio can put you to sleep, but it can also wake you up.)
6. Never, positively never, read in bed.
7. Provide a regular schedule for the hobby, dog, wife or husband who interferes with your rest.
8. When you go to bed, close your eyes and go to sleep.
9. If that doesn't happen try to remember what position you awake in the next morning. Then take that position when you go to bed that night.
10. Relax every nerve, muscle and thought. Patience won't kill you; sleeping pills may. — American Mercury.

Weimar resident, Mrs. L. G. Ringgenberg, says "GLADIOLA is a must for yeast baking"

Mrs. L. G. Ringgenberg, Weimar, Texas

Encouraged by friends who tasted her delightful Glazed Raisin Loaf, Mrs. L. G. Ringgenberg, Route 3, Weimar, Texas, entered her recipe in the GLADIOLA'S "yeast bread" Baking-Recipe-of-the-Month Contest.

Upon learning that her recipe had won first prize, Mrs. Ringgenberg exclaimed, "I've never won anything in my life . . . and now here I am, the big winner."

One of the secrets of Mrs. Ringgenberg's yeast baking is GLADIOLA Special Hard Wheat Flour . . . with natural strength and character that guarantees uniform good texture whenever yeast breads are baked.

Mrs. Ringgenberg, who looks forward to baking the recipes found inside GLADIOLA flour packages, says, "I really love GLADIOLA flour, and it isn't just talk . . . I've tried almost every brand of flour and I always go back to GLADIOLA. I use it in all of my baking."

GLADIOLA SPECIAL HARD WHEAT FLOUR

Sharing the GLADIOLA first prize award is the First Methodist Church of Weimar to which Mrs. Ringgenberg has donated one-half of her prize.

The GLADIOLA people are convinced that the tempting appeal of Mrs. Ringgenberg's "Glazed Raisin Loaf" will be a winner with everyone who enjoys tasty yeast baking.

GLAZED RAISIN LOAF (1 LOAF)

Gladiola's Baking-Recipe-of-the-Month

MRS. L. G. RINGGENBERG'S GLAZED RAISIN LOAF

1 cup seedless raisins	1 teaspoon salt	1 cake compressed yeast
1/4 cup soft butter	1/2 cup scalded milk	1/4 cup lukewarm water
1/4 cup sugar		2 eggs, well beaten

4 cups (about) sifted GLADIOLA Special Hard Wheat Flour

Combine raisins, butter, sugar, and salt in mixing bowl; add scalded milk, stir well, then cool to lukewarm. Dissolve yeast in lukewarm water. Add yeast, eggs, and 1 cup flour to cooled raisin mixture and beat until smooth; add remaining flour gradually, beating well, to make a medium soft dough. Cover and let rest 10 minutes, then knead on lightly floured surface until smooth and elastic, adding more flour as necessary to prevent sticking. Place dough in a greased bowl, turn to grease surface of dough, cover and let rise in a warm place until double in bulk. Punch down and let rest 10 minutes; shape into a loaf and place in a greased 9 x 5 x 3-inch loaf pan. Cover and let rise until almost double in bulk. Bake in a moderate oven (375 degrees) about 30 minutes or until done. When loaf is sufficiently brown, cover lightly with foil to finish baking. Cool and glaze top with thin powdered sugar icing.

Clip this recipe and paste on file card.

stituting for the baby's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Al Hess of Muenster who are away on vacation visiting the Leo Schmitts in Mabton, Wash. Susan's christening dress was the one made by her grandmother Hess and worn by her mother and all other children in the Hess family at their baptisms. The blue ribbon and bow in honor of the Blessed Virgin is beginning a custom to become a tradition in the Leroy Schmidkofer family.

Nuns from Lindsay In Highway Crash

Four Catholic Sisters from Lindsay, two of them teachers in the Lindsay school and two visiting nuns, were hurt in a car crash about 5:50 p.m. Wednesday on a drive to Oklahoma. The accident happened just north of Red River bridge on Hy. 77 and Southern Oklahoma.

The Sisters' car, traveling north, was struck from behind by a truck traveling north. A George J. Carroll and Son ambulance took the injured nuns to Gainesville Sanitarium.

Sister Victorine, Lindsay superior, received only minor injuries and was dismissed. Sister Ruth, Lindsay teacher, sustained six fractured ribs. Sister Brendan and Sister Joan of San Antonio suffered severe head injuries and Sister Brendan also sustained a fractured collar bone.

Rites Monday for Paul Neu Infant

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Neu of Lindsay was dead at birth at 5 a.m. Monday in a Gainesville hospital.

Funeral services were held at Lindsay at 5 p.m. Monday with burial in St. Peter's Cemetery. Rev. Damian Wewers, pastor, officiated and George J. Carroll and Son Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Survivors in addition to the parents are three brothers, Paul, James Edward and Stephen Mark; a sister, Janice all at home; and grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Matt Neu of Lindsay and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Heitzman of Gainesville.

Muenster relatives at the services were Mr. and Mrs. Roy Endres Jr. and son Tim, Mrs. Gene Gieb and Mrs. Joe Trubenbach.

Schad Family Has Reunion for Kin

Mrs. Sophie Schad and her children and grandchildren were together the past week for family gatherings honoring their visitors, the Rev. Sylvester Schad of Corpus Christi, Sister Liboria, Sister Alma Sophie and Sister Vera, of Our Lady of the Lake Convent in San Antonio — all permitted a visit at home on account of their mother's ill health.

The visitors came together with Father Sylvester who stopped at San Antonio for them, also took them back with the exception of Sister Alma Sophie who rode as far as Dallas, visited there with Sister Dorothy Therese Zimmerer, and went on to her school assignment in Las Cruces, N. M.

While they were visitors the guests were joined by the Ed Schad family and the John P. Steng family of Muenster for their reunion.

Sister Helen Margaret, another of Mrs. Schad's nun daughters was unable to make the trip at this time, being mistress of novices at St. Andrew's in San Antonio, and will have her visit next month. Brother John Schad, another son, had his vacation here earlier.

Sister Liboria's new assignment is in Broussard, La., previously she was at Norman, Okla., and Sister Vera returns to Fredericksburg for another school term.

Since the Raden dress factory closed at Gainesville some of the employees from there have been transferred to the Muenster factory. Among them are Mrs. Sophie Stoffels and Miss Marie Zimmerer.

ing responsibilities . . . to be moderate and to behave. Whoever fails in those responsibilities should be held accountable. At the same time the person who lives up to his responsibility cannot justly be deprived.

Getting back to the original topic . . . the expected closeness of the contest . . . this column predicts that drys, if they win, will be indebted to wets for their small deciding margin. That's because many who think and drink wet are satisfied to have drinks available a few miles away. It would be a different story, however, if Gainesville depended on this election for its drinks. And maybe it will be a different story in spite of conditions. Drys may still find themselves in the minority.

A woman in the back seat of a car was haranguing her husband who sat behind the wheel. "And furthermore, Henry," she finished, "when we are driving, it is not necessary to preface every remark you make with 'Pilot to Navigator'."

"No license, lady?" growled the traffic cop. "Don't you know you can't drive without one?"

"That explains everything," said she. "I thought it was because I was nervous and near-sighted that I hit two cars and ran into a fire hydrant."
