VOLUME XII

MUENSTER, COOKE COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 27, 1948

NUMBER 14

Elsewhere in this paper we proudly present the news that Muenster citizens are receiving the maximum fire insurance credit for another year. This means that you and I are saving two bits on every dollar of our regular fire insurance rate simply because our neighbors have been careful about preventing fires and our volunteer firemen have acted quickly and efficiently every time a fire broke out.

It means also that a fire anywhere in town is everybody's business, and the guy who ignores a hazard because it's "no skin off his nose" is just fooling himself. It is skin off his nose after all. A heavy loss even though it affects the other man directly, affects the rest of us indirectly.

For the same reason we ought to be mighty grateful to the firemen for their swell job of checking fires. Every time they save property for somebody else they save money for us. Hereafter let's keep that in mind when the fellows come around with tickets to finance their annual big party.

Incidentally, let's not forget either that this town has a fire department to brag about. In spite of antiquated equipment the crew has reached fires early and snuffed them quick. The record of consistent rate credits for the past 8 years is proof a plenty that it is on the beam.

From the look of certain economic and political developments lately yours truly seems to have acquired a special talent for building himself up for big let downs.

When Southerners went on a rampage over the civil rights program this column hoped that at last Dixie was sufficiently fed up to do something about the step child treatment it had been getting.

The dip of commodity prices was hailed here as a most welcome sign of better times to come. Cost of living would go down, controls would not be necessary, savings would recover some of their former value, happy days were practically here again.

And then what! The Southerners find out how they really rate when Republicans add insult to the injury already inflicted by Democrats.

About the same time we discover that price decline was mostly wishful thinking, that steel jumped $5 a ton, that the CIO is hot for another wage increase, that controls are still very possible.

All of which goes to show, a person should not let his optimism and enthusiasm flow too freely. It's so much safer to figure the possibilities, divide by ten, and predict that much can possibly happen, maybe.

One of the most amazing statements of the year is that made Sunday by Philip Murray. He says his CIO is determined to seek substantial wage increases and work for anti-inflation legislation. On the one hand he wants to contribute to inflation, on the other he demands that Congress do something to keep inflation in check. Two moves, one to offset the other. Wouldn't it be simpler to forget both moves?

This makes the third time in a couple of years that the labor bosses are clamoring for higher pay. Twice wages were raised, twice the prices went up too. Apparently this time the plan is to get the wage increase but clamp on a price lid so the same thing won't happen again. Maybe the scheme will work, but we have our doubts. It's a little too much like clamping the lid on a kettle. When the pressure builds up something pops.

One of the dreariest pages in modern history is that relating to Hitler's enslavement of gallant little freedom-loving Czechoslovakia ten years ago. This week has witnessed a re-enactment of that tragic story, the only difference being in the identity of the aggressor.

Stalin goes on and on in the footsteps of Hitler and apparently is encountering even less resistance. The Nazi coup provoked at least the meeting at Munich where Chamberlain and Daladier raised a feeble voice of protest.

This time nothing at all happened. The UN, which was originally intended to restrain such moves, did not even make a loud objection. The only person to offer any resistance was President Benes, who stood pat against the demands of Stalin to the last moment and then gave in only because further resistance was obviously futile. After all, what could he expect from UN? If it could not handle the minor squabble in Palestine how would Winners have been announced in the Catholic Book Review contest sponsored by the local court Catholic Daughters of America, Mrs. J.M. Weinzapfel, grand regent advised Tuesday.

Ethel Trubenbach won first place and a cash award of five dollars on "Personality Plus" by Sheila John Daly; Betty Lue Buckley won second place on "The Captain Wears a Cross" by James Maguire, and Barbara Jean Miller was third with a report on "The Dove Flies South" by James Hylard. Second and third awards are three dollars and two dollars in cash. The three girls are juniors at Sacred Heart High school.

Mrs. Weinzapfel stated that the court is pleased with the gratifying response of students in participating in the contest. All papers submitted in the local contest have been sent to San Antonio for entry in the state contest, and winning entries there will be forwarded for competition in the national contest.

Local judges decided on the winners here. The judging committee was composed of a teacher from the public school, a teacher of the Sacred Heart school and a member of the local court.

Notes On Soil Conservation

The Werner Becker conservation group met with soil conservation service technicians Thursday night at Matt Muller's home. One hundred per cent of co-operators attended plus one visitor. Those present were Matt Muller, Arnie Muller, Gus Lutkenhaus, Bill Otto, Andrew Fleitman, Gus Taylor, Werner Becker, Lee Toothaker and Robert S. Mitchell.

The uses of sweet clover as a cash crop, soil saver, soil builder, hay crop and pasture were discussed. The importance of establishing permanent vegetation for terrace outlets and waterways was agreed.

Ten carloads and 4 truckloads of phosphate have been unloaded at Muenster since January 1. This amounts to 802,000 pounds, or enough phosphate for 4,010 acres at the rate of 200 pounds per acre. This phosphate should be applied as soon as weather permits for sweet clover.

Roy Endres, cooperator in the Bruno Fleitman group, scarified 700 pounds of clover seed with hand scarifier furnished by the soil district. The germination test on Mr. Endres' clover seed shows approximately 55% of hard seed. If unscarified hard seed is not planted by February, most of this seed will not germinate until the following year. Scarification of clover seed brings germination up to above 90% on germination tests. Early planting (February) scarification, inoculation (culture A) and application of phosphate are important steps in growing sweet clover according to J.W. Hess, chairman of the board of supervisors of the Upper Elm-Red Soil Conservation District.

Mrs. John Furbach went to Dallas Friday and was joined in that city by her husband of Amarillo for attendance at a gift and jewelry show and the purchase of merchandise for Furbach's jewelry store. They also visited with Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Schoech before returning home Monday. Mr. Furbach was here through Wednesday.

McNELLEY TO ORGANIZE AND BUILD ELECTRIC SYSTEM IN ARIZONA

R. L. McNelley, manager of the Cooke County Electric Co-operative Association, left Muenster Wednesday on a 6 months' leave of absence to organize and build the Navapache Electric Cooperative with headquarters at Lakeside, Arizona.

Robert Gruber, head book-keeper, will be acting manager until McNelley returns. The special arrangement followed a recent request from the Rural Electrification Administration headquarters in Washington. Directors of the local business cooperated by granting the leave of absence.

The area in which McNelley will begin the project is a mountainous section about 8000 feet above sea level in central Arizona. It consists of lumber camps, summer and winter resorts, small towns and the two Indian reservations after which the project was named, and the system serving it, when completed will have about 1500 miles of line with 4 to 5 thousand connections. The first section of line is due to be ready for energizing on July 1.

It is a place of cool summers and cold winters, McNelley said. The warmest is in the low seventies, the coldest gets far below zero. At this time of the year the temperature seldom if ever reaches the thawing mark.

Emory Horn Runs For Re-election As County Sheriff

Sheriff Emory Horn of Cooke county has authorized The Enterprise to announce his candidacy for reelection, subject to the Democratic primary next July.

In announcing his candidacy for a second term, the sheriff said that he had tried to make the county a good sheriff and if the voters feel that he has fulfilled his obligation, he desires their support and vote in the party primary.

Mr. Horn pointed out that he had employed sober, capable deputies who had sought to treat everyone alike and at the same time enforce the law to the best of their abilities.

The sheriff said the duties of his office would not permit as thorough a canvass of the voters as he would like, but he would appreciate investigation by the voters of his administration of the office of sheriff and that they support him if they feel his service to the county has been satisfactory.

Mr. Horn's friends feel that he has done an excellent job as sheriff and point out that it is Democratic party custom to grant a man two terms in public office if his service to the county has been satisfactory.

The sheriff has been active in the enforcement of law throughout his term, and he and his deputies have a good record in office. (Pol. Adv.)

SOIL OFFICE ENTERS THREE LOCAL MEN IN ACHIEVEMENT CONTEST

Three individuals of this community are in the running for awards in this year's "Save the Soil and Save Texas" program sponsored by the Fort Worth Press.

Robert Mitchell, director of the local soil conservation work unit stated Wednesday that his headquarters has prepared reports on Henry J. Fuhrmann for outstanding farming practices, on Al Hess for outstanding work in farm reclamation and on J.M. Weinzapfel for assistance and encouragement in soil improvement work by a business man of business concern.

STUDENTS TO ENTER ESSAY CONTEST ON SOIL CONSERVATION

Pupils of both Muenster schools are busy this week getting information on "What Soil Conservation Means to my Town", the theme of the annual soil conservation essay contest sponsored by the Fort Worth Press.

Cash prizes will be awarded to district winners and the state winner will receive an all expense paid trip to Colorado.

Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Ezzell have as their guest since Tuesday his mother from Fox, Oklahoma.

Muenster Increases Voting Strength By About 35 Per Cent

Muenster kept pace with the county in stepping up its voting strength approximately 35 per cent for this year, according to figures released this week by County Tax Assessor-Collector M. L. Helm. The report is a list of poll tax payments and exemptions for each of the 35 voting precincts of the county.

The two local boxes have a total of 640 poll taxes and 22 exemptions and the county total is 6,472 poll taxes and 206 exemptions. Last year the figures were 468 and 7 here and 5,156 and 51 for the county.

The report does not however constitute a complete list of county voters, Helm pointed out. Persons past the poll tax paying age are not required to secure exemptions, hence the tax office has no check on the actual number of qualified voters. (Continued on Page 2)

RAIN ADDS ANOTHER 1.5 INCHES OF MOISTURE TO SOAKED COMMUNITY

This community, already completely saturated by six weeks of snow, sleet, rain and mist, received another inch and a half of moisture Wednesday morning. The rain which started about midnight measured 1.43 at the city's gauge at 8 o'clock. Additional light rains and drizzles for the rest of the day added about a tenth of an inch.

Previous moisture this week has been in the form of light mist on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

The wet spell, one of the most persistent in the history of the community has kept farmers off their fields since the beginning of the year, has done thousands of dollars of damage to roads and streets, has turned barnyards into an ankle-deep mass of mud, has delayed some very urgent spring planting and tillage work.

News Of Sick And Injured

Mrs. Herman Danglmayr is well on the road to complete recovery after undergoing thyroid operations at Saint Paul's hospital in Dallas where she has been a patient since last September, members of her family reported this week. She is ready to return home but is waiting for better weather to make the trip.

Mrs. W.T. Richter is improved after being quite ill for two weeks. Little Kathleen Pagel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Pagel, sustained a fractured left arm in a fall at the family home last Thursday.

Billy Seyler fractured his right foot Sunday morning while on a hunting trip with young friends. The accident occurred when the youngsters tired of hiking and relaxed by tumbling down a hay stack at Joe Swirczynski's. The foot was placed in a cast at the local clinic and the cast will remain on about six weeks. Billy returned to classes in the fifth grade at Sacred Heart school Wednesday. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Seyler.

Miss Alvina Derichsweller was confined to her home this week suffering from rheumatism. She is a ninth grade student at Sacred Heart High, and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Derichsweller.

Steve Markham, son of Mr. and Mrs. S.N. Markham, sustained a deep gash in the back of his head Sunday afternoon when he fell, striking his head on the bumper of the family car. He was taken to Gainesville sanitarium for emergency treatment and was permitted to return home after the wound was closed by several stitches. Steve is a sophomore at Sacred Heart High school and attended classes without interruption in spite of the injury. Last year he sustained a skull fracture in a fall and the new wound is on the same place.

Mrs. J.B. Cason was a patient at Denton hospital Sunday for treatment and a checkup. She underwent major surgery there several weeks ago.

Mrs. Frank Seyler and Mr. and Mrs. Ben Seyler had as weekend guests Mr. and Mrs. Dan Forney and baby of Temple and Henry Popp of Lindsay.

PLANE CLIPS POWER LINE; REA SYSTEM POWERLESS 4 HOURS

An airplane crash that clipped a 33,000 volt power line interrupted electrical service in Muenster for 30 minutes and on the Cooke County Electric Co-op system for 4 hours Tuesday afternoon but left the pilot with only a few minor bruises.

Phillip Crammer of Durant, Okla., worker in the Olney oil field hit the power line with his BT 13 army trainer when he tried to land on Highway 82 near the Cooke-Montague line in zero visibility. He tore one wheel from his landing gear and damaged a wing. After his crash Crammer hitched a ride to Muenster and took a bus to Durant.

According to C.B. Stringer, TP & L manager, service to the rural lines had to await repairs on the power cable. Muenster service was restored promptly by cutting in at the Myra substation.

The accident occurred shortly before 1 o'clock and rural service was restored about 4:45.

D.A. Hulcy Speaks To County Scouters At Banquet Monday

D.A. Hulcy of Dallas, president of Circle 10 council, Boy Scouts of America, was the principal speaker at the annual scouters banquet Monday night in Gainesville in the Blue Room of O'Neal's Eat-a-Bite cafe. Hulcy, who is serving his third term as Circle 10 president, has been employed by Lone Star Gas company of Dallas for the past 28 years, eight years as president of the concern.

Muenster scouters at the program were Ben Seyler, J. M. Weinzapfel, Ervin Hamric, Charles Hellman, Herman Swirczynski, Dr. T. S. Myrick and Andy Hofbauer.

Mr. Hulcy's address was the closing feature of the program. The toastmaster and retiring chairman of the Cooke County Boy Scout district, Ted Herrmann asked all scoutmasters and unit leaders to stand and be recognized, and then paid tribute to J. M. Weinzapfel for his outstanding work in the Boy Scout program.

Frank Cockrell, professional scout for the district, reported on membership and objectives. The council hopes to raise the total units from 21 to 28 in this county in 1948 and raise the membership from 360 to 469, he stated.

C.B. Stringer, member of the executive board, installed officers elected for the district. They included Mr. Weinzapfel, vice chairman. The meeting was attended by more than 70 persons.

Proposed state and national legislation for veterans, especially that pertaining to a bonus, will be the subject for discussion at an open meeting for all GI's in the Gainesville Community Center building next Monday night, March 2, at 8 o'clock.

Steve Moser commander of the Muenster VFW post, made the announcement here Wednesday, adding that Roger Q. Evans, state commander of the VFW, will be the principal speaker and every veteran, whether or not a VFW member, is urged to attend.

City Gets Maximum Fire Insurance Credit 3rd Consecutive Year

For the third consecutive year Muenster citizens are enjoying the best possible credit on their fire insurance. Mayor J.M. Weinzapfel stated this week that the city has word from the State Fire Insurance Commissioner advising that the maximum credit of 25% will continue through this year.

The credit, Weinzapfel explained means a saving of 25% on every fire insurance premium in Muenster, and is actually a reward for good records of the past. It is determined by a 5 year comparison of fire losses and premiums in the area affected. Because of Muenster's consistently good record its citizens now enjoy a better insurance rate.

The good record goes back at least 8 years, Weinzapfel added. In 1940 the city had a 15% credit for the five years, '41 through '45, it had a 20% credit, and since it has had the 25% credit. There was a time, however when the record was much less favorable. In '27 and '28 due to heavy losses and inadequate fire fighting equipment, the city was considered a poor risk and premiums were penalized 15%.

COOKE AND DENTON COUNTIES GET ANOTHER HIGHWAY PATROL CAR

After March 1 traffic violators on the main highways of Cooke and Denton counties will stand twice as much chance of being caught and prosecuted. Another state highway patrol team has been added.

H.P. Berkley, state highway patrol officer at Denton, announced here this week that one pair of officers will be stationed at Gainesville and the other at Denton. Gainesville officers will patrol Highways 77 and 82, Denton officers will patrol 77 and other highways out of their city.

The pair stationed at Gainesville is Lester Robertson of Bryan and Bill Simmons of Austin. The pair stationed at Denton is Berkley and Gordon Brannum of Dallas.

The additions result from a state wide expansion of the traffic patrol force authorized by the last legislature. Seventy five recruit patrolmen have just completed special training and received their assignments to all sections of the state. Two more recruit schools of 50 or more men each will begin on Aug. 1 and Dec. 1 to complete the quota of authorized patrol personnel.

Candidates for the two final schools will be selected by examinations at district offices of the Highway Patrol in Dallas, Fort Worth, Wichita Falls and other larger Texas cities.

Required qualifications as announced by the Highway Patrol are as follows: age, 21 to 35, height 5 ft. 8 in. without shoes, weight not less than 2 pounds per inch of height nor more than 3 1/2, excellent character and physical condition, high school education or its equivalent, and resident of the state at least 1 year.

COUNTY CHEST X-RAY TOTAL REACHES 2,627

A total of 2,627 chest x-rays were made by the mobile unit of the Texas Tuberculosis Association during the eight days it was operated at Gainesville, it was announced as the unit concluded its stay Tuesday. Response of citizens was greater and more gratifying than had been expected, members of the county health unit stated.

The exact number of Muenster persons x-rayed is not known but it is known that many were disappointed after making one or two trips to Gainesville on Friday and Saturday when the machine was broken down.

MUENSTER'S QUOTA IN 1948 RED CROSS DRIVE SET AT $725

Muenster's quota for this year's Red Cross drive is $725, and the county quota is $12,500, according to figures released this week by Ancl Smoot, county chairman for this year's drive.

Officially the drive opens on March 1, however it is not known at this time whether Muenster will swing into action on the first day. Up to Wednesday no local chairman had been appointed, hence there was no one to organize the drive.

Tables Turned
It was lunch hours at the lime works, and Pat's two buddies, deciding to play a little joke on him during his absence, drew the features of a donkey upon the back of his coat. In due time Pat returned and presently hove in sight bearing the lime-decorated coat.

"What's the trouble, Pat?" asked one casually.
"Nothing much," replied Pat, equally indifferent, "only I'd loike to know which of yez wiped your face on me coat."

The greatest strength of the wolf, according to the American Wildlife Institute, lies in its jaws which are perhaps more powerful than those of any dog. They often have cut through the half-inch manila ropes used for lassoes on the plains with one clip. For this reason alone, it is believed by most hunters that no dog known can single-handedly, conquer a full-grown gray wolf.

CANARIES

Did you ever raise canaries? If you haven't you've missed something. As a hobby, it's a lot more fun than collecting match covers or saving old bottles. Further, those little feathered friends can teach us some fundamental economics.

I got into the canary-raising avocation, purely by accident. Four or five years ago, the little lady who charges things to my account at the stores, as a birthday gift, presented me with a beautiful little boy canary, complete with cage, etc. He sang beautifully, brought joy to our household.

Somewhere along life's pathway, I had learned it is not good for man to live alone. It seemed to me that what was true of man, must also apply to birds. I felt sorry for the poor little fellow, just knew he must be lonesome, so I hied me to a pet shop and purchased him a girl companion.

Came the next early spring, things began to happen. In due course arrived five cute baby canaries to swell the bird population of our domicile. Succeeding springs have brought an ever-increasing number of young 'uns, until now we literally have canaries pouring out of our ears.

But here I am getting ahead of my story. That first spring of our canary raising, it came time for mother canary to lay her eggs. She wanted raw material with which to build a nest. She tipped us off to her need by starting to pluck feathers from father canary. To save him from being completely de-feathered we rushed hair, string, paper, cotton batting and excelsior into the cage. The nest-building got under way. Back and forth she flew and bit by bit she assembled her nest.

It was a terrible looking nest — at least, that's the way it looked to me. Reasoned I, this poor little female canary has never built a nest before. She has never seen one built and there's no old experienced mother-bird around to teach her how. So I went to her rescue — I built her a nest — a beautiful nest — at least, that's the way it looked to me.

But, not to her. Did she appreciate my efforts? I'll say she didn't. While I was at work she sat on the perch scolding me, chirping her head off. I don't understand the canary language but finally I knew what she was saying. Translated it went something like this: "Listen, you palooka, these eggs are going to be mine and these little canary chicks due to arrive shortly will be my responsibility. I'll take care of the situation without any help from you. You go tend to your own knitting."

And with these few harsh words she proceeded to demolish my handiwork. She tugged and pulled until that nest was as bare as Edgar Bergen's head — the top of Edgar's head, that is. Then laboriously she proceeded to rebuild the nest. It was a good one — five healthy babies were born in it.

So there's just one of the little fundamentals canaries can teach us. They don't look to government or anything else for a hand-out, they do for themselves. It would be interesting to hear their views on "social security," "socialized medicine," "government subsidies," "make-work-projects," etc. Too bad, we can't understand the canary language.

And speaking of birds, there's another bird common to America — the cow-bird. That's the bird that is too lazy to build its own nest — the female lays her eggs in a nest built by some other species of bird — she benefits by the toil and enterprise of others, contributes nothing to the general bird welfare.

Perhaps you know a few people who are human cow-birds, who contribute nothing to the general welfare of your community — folks who won't build their own nests, just like to feather them at someone else's expense. On the other hand, you can be thankful that in your community there are some citizens, who even as the canary, do things for themselves. They make the wheels go 'round. They are the salt of the earth. Their kind, in generations past, made America what she is today — the finest nation on God's green footstool.

By all means be a canary — don't be a cow-bird.

"Can you tell me what they mean by 'selling short' in Wall Street?"

"It means buying something you can't get, with money you haven't got, and then later selling what you never had and did not pay for at more than it costs."

Watch your following distance to avoid tragic accidents. Ask yourself while you're driving, "Can I stop in time?"

"Only 60,000 students were enrolled in American colleges in 1870. In 1940, the record prewar year, 1,500,000 students were in our colleges. A survey last November showed that 2,338,226 students are enrolled in 1,753 institutions of higher learning. This is the largest enrollment in the history of the United States."

Voter— "Why, I wouldn't vote for you if you were St. Peter himself."

Candidate— "If I were St. Peter you couldn't vote for me. You wouldn't be in my district."

"How can you cure someone of snoring?"

"By good advice, tolerance, fresh air, a comfortable mattress, and stuffing an old sock in his mouth."

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Where Does Your Money Go?

Read the other day where country folks and farmers spend more money, proportionately, on their homes than city dwellers do.

Doesn't seem hard to believe when you think it over. Take the folks in our town, for instance: They're home-loving people— who'd rather spend an evening by the fire with a mellow glass of beer than go out in search of entertainment or diversion.

So it's only natural they put more into what means most to them and to their children: their homes. They may not have too much to spend— but it goes for those permanent, abiding comforts that make home a nicer place to be.

And from where I sit, that budget calls for some of the niceties of home life too—like cider and popcorn for the kids from time to time, and a friendly glass of beer for Mom and Dad... things that belong with what we mean when we say "Home."

Blonde and beautiful Matilda Nail of Ft. Worth, Texas, the cotton industry's 1948 Maid of Cotton, has begun a 35,000-mile cotton goodwill tour which will carry her to more than 40 key cities in three countries. She's pictured here in three of the 1948 cotton creations which are included in her glamorous all-cotton wardrobe. On the left, Matilda wears a romantic evening gown done in cotton chambray and organdie by Dorris Varnum. In the center, she poses in a sophisticated cotton suit with the new slim skirt done by Herbert Sondheim. And on the right the Maid of Cotton shows a modern version of the Gibson girl blouse and skirt in white cotton batiste and black poplin from Alice Stuart. The Maid of Cotton tour is sponsored by the National Cotton Council, Memphis Cotton Carnival, and the Cotton Exchanges of New York, Memphis, and New Orleans.

Young Johnny was inclined to be rather frivolous and irresponsible, and his father decided to have a serious talk with him. "Johnny," he said, "you're a big boy now and it's time you took things more seriously. Just supposing I were to die suddenly, where would you be?" "I'd be here," replied Johnny. "The question is, where would you be?"

Electronic Calculator
Rivals Lighting Speed

An electronic calculator 250 times as fast as the fastest previously made has been dedicated to the use of science by its Eastern manufacturer. Just now the machine is working out the positions of the moon for the 19th and 20th centuries. Later it probably will work on atomic energy problems. Operators say the machine can do problems up in the billions in the time it takes a camera shutter to close. In seven minutes it will do a problem that would require four hours for a man with a desk calculating machine. It takes at least two persons to operate it. A staff of 10 will be needed to prepare problems for it to solve.

"What a change has come over your husband Zeke since we persuaded him to join the church," exulted a preacher in the hill-billy country. "Have you noticed it?" "Sure have," agreed Zeke's wife. "Before, when he went visitin' on Sundays he carried his jug o' corn whiskey on his shoulders. Now he hides it under his coat."

A senator once delivered a speech in a Swedish community of northern Minnesota. Although he gave what he considered one of his greatest addresses, he was disappointed by the utter lack of enthusiasm from his audience.

When he sat down, another speaker arose and addressed the audience in Swedish. His words were received with thunderous applause.

The tactful senator also applauded lustily. Then he turned to the chairman and asked: "What was that fellow talking about? He certainly went over big!" "He was merely translating your speech into Swedish," the chairman replied dryly.

Love doesn't really make the world go round. It just makes people dizzy so it looks like it.

BABY'S CRYING PAYS

The crying of 8-months-old James Steelman, Jr., son of a Navy veteran, caused police to find a homeless family camping in a trailer on exhibit in Philadelphia, but also won a home for parents and child. By telephone, the Midwest manufacturer of the trailer learned of the family's plight. "Give them the trailer," he told the police, "— and for free!"

Mr. Finnegan, when he died, greeted St. Peter with the following: "It's a fine job you've got here."

"Well, Finnegan," said St. Peter, "Here we count a million years as a minute and a million dollars as a cent."

"Ah," said Finnegan, "I'm needing cash. Lend me a cent." "Sure," said St. Peter, "just wait a minute."

A shrewd deacon, celebrated for his powers as a sermon-tester, went to Boston to hear a noted preacher.

The preacher, who softened the points of his discourse, was not acceptable to the old farmer, used to sharp preaching.

Asked how he liked the city pastor, the farmer exclaimed: "I expect he's a smart man, right enough, but why does he rake with the teeth upward?"

At a large medical conference, one ambitious doctor leaned close to the one beside him and asked: "Where did Dr. Smith make his fortune?" The reply was brief. "Stork market!"

While the increase in population was only three-fold in the last 70 years, the national college enrollment has been multiplied by 41. The average soldier in World War I had only a seventh grade education, but in World War II the average soldier had completed ten grades.

SCIENTISTS SAY WE'LL BE WEARING CLOTHES MADE FROM GOEBERS

Washington, D. C. — The time is coming when you can purchase fabrics made from peanuts, Uncle Sam said Tuesday. In New Orleans the southern regional research laboratory of the United States Department of Agriculture has dug into the possibilities of peanuts and come up with a sackful of predictions about products the stores may be selling in a year or two. Peanut paint is the newest discovery. It has good flowing qualities, and dries thoroughly in six hours.

The protein that gives a peanut good food value also makes it suitable for manufacture into synthetic fiber, coating mixtures for paper, and cold-water paint, the goeber engineers reported.

Peanut paper was reported suitable for books and magazines. The laboratory men said synthetic peanut fiber, first developed several years ago, will be made into cloth before long.

The research men said peanut frocks will be warm as wool and feel like a combination of wool and silk. They won't shrink when wet.

NEW STAMP TO SKIP ONE $ IN MISSISSIPPI

Washington — The bureau of printing and engraving admitted today it is purposely going to misspell Mississippi on its forthcoming stamp commemorating the state's anniversary.

But it doesn't want the nation's school children to take offense. There's a reason for the mistake.

The bureau spotted the misspelling in setting up sample designs of the state's official seal. It asked state authorities to take another look at the official seal, and, sure enough, there it was: Mississippi. Only three "s's."

So that's how it will be on the new stamp too.

A one-ring circus was visiting a town in the hills. The folks there recognized all the instruments except a slide trombone.

One old settler watched the player for some time, then said, "There's a trick to it. He isn't really swallowing it."

When the colored preacher said to Brother Jones that he should give a small donation for a fence around the cemetery, Jones replied: "I don't see no use in a fence around the cemetery. Dem what's in there can't get out, and dem what's out sho doan wanna get in."

How To Please A Sponsor

(with 250 watts)

Imagine the inward satisfaction that Larry Allbritton, part owner of the Ross-Allbritton Nash Company in Gainesville, experienced one February morning recently when he stopped for gasoline in a Pauls Valley, Oklahoma service station and found the attendant listening to the Ross-Allbritton News Program over KGAF, Gainesville. Pauls Valley is 78 air miles from Gainesville.

The attendant looked at Allbritton's license plate tags which read, "Ross-Allbritton Nash Company, Gainesville, Texas," and remarked: "What a coincidence. I just heard the 7:30 o'clock news come on and it's sponsored by this company."

"This is even more of a coincidence. I am Larry Allbritton one of the owners of that company," commented Mr. Allbritton as he shook hands with the attendant.

Ross-Allbritton Nash Company has sponsored the 7:30 A. M. news every Monday morning since KGAF went on the air October 1, 1947.

A desk that does almost everything but figure percentages has been created for the busy business man.

As he pulls up his swivel chair to begin the day's work, an electric eye sets off a transcribing machine that says "good morning" and brings him up to date on appointments. ATTEND 4TH DEGREE PROGRAM AT FT. WORTH

J.M. Weinzapfel, faithful navigator of the local Fourth Degree general assembly of the Knights of Columbus, and Herbert Meurer, L.A. Bernauer and J.W. Fisher attended an initiation at the Blackstone Hotel in Fort Worth Sunday and were joined by their wives for the banquet in the evening.

Others at the event, all formerly of this city, were Mr. and Mrs. L.W. Flusche of Decatur, Mr. and Mrs. Andy Flusche of Pilot Point, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stelzer of Fort Worth. Stelzer was a candidate for the Fort Worth assembly.

The only local candidate was Rev. Thomas Weinzapfel of Dallas, who will carry his membership in Muenster.

At the banquet George Nicoud of Dallas, Master of the North Texas District, was toastmaster and one of the principal speakers. He paid high tribute to Dr. E.W. Laake of Kerrville, past Master, for work done during the time he was associated with the district, and made the presentation of a gift of luggage as a token of the assembly's gratitude. He also announced that Dr. Laake is leaving soon to do research work in South America for the Rockefeller Foundation. He will do this work while on a three months' leave of absence from his regular duties as an entomologist with the U.S. Government. Dr. Laake is the brother of Miss Angela Laake of this city.

A man was ill and wished to consult a physician. He met a friend and told him his problem.

"Well, why don't you go see my doctor friend? He charges $15.00 for the first visit, but after that it's only $3.00."

The next day the man went to see the doctor. As soon as the door was opened and the doctor came out, he said:

"Well, doc, here I am again."

Sardine item. The other day as we were struggling to get off our local bus, we fell to wondering why the rush hour always seems more crowded in winter than summer. We asked a friend who works for a transportation company and he laughed at our innocence. "Don't you realize," he said, "that passengers are ten to twenty pounds heavier and half a foot bigger around in winter?"

"No," we said. "Why?"

"Overcoats!"

Also several feather pillows. Mrs. Joe Luke, Muenster. 14-1

 it ever deal with a brazen aggression by the biggest aggressor of all time?
 The Czech tragedy has a little sidelight which should put us complacent Americans a little more on our guard. Only a few days ago the Czech ambassador to this country went on record as saying that communists in his country were Czechs first and party members second. He has just had the painful experience of learning who actually holds a communist's allegiance. We hope that fact sinks in on the average American citizen.

Passengers on trains traveled an average of 81½ miles per trip in 1946, or a little more than twice the average in 1929. To stop a train running at 60 miles an hour requires enough power to lift the train vertically to a height of 120 feet.
