

In case you've been wondering how your financial status today compares with that of the individual back in '29, here are a couple of sets of figures to shed a bit of light on the subject.

The average annual income now is $1,100. In 1929 it was $640. On the other hand the comparative dollar values in 1929 and now are $1.00 and 59.2 cents. In other words there is very little difference in real incomes then and now. Today's average income computed in terms of full sized dollars amounts to $651.20.

From the looks of that it seems as though the New Deal and the Republican politicians are about breaking even on their arguments about which were the better times. The New Dealer says "our dollars are more plentiful" and the GOPer says "our dollars were worth more". Both are correct, and it is interesting to notice that neither can brag about a more favorable ratio of income to cost of living.

But there's another angle to this monetary problem on which Republicans have all the advantage. And that concerns the value of savings. Millions of people in this country have life insurance, bonds, and savings accounts that were laid aside in 1929 or thereabouts and have depreciated sadly since then. Take the fellow who had a $10,000 life insurance policy. Figured in terms of today's dollar value it is worth only $5,920. The same applies to other forms of negotiable savings. People of 1929 who put something aside for the rainy day have been gypped.

Therein lies the real tragedy in this monetary mixup. The kind of people who made this country great, those who toiled and sacrificed and saved, are compelled to bear the economic strain brought on by the spendthrift theories of others.

Lots of things have been said about what the new era has done for the common man. But do those claims stand up under examination? As far as the current flow of money is concerned the men of '29 and '48 are about even. Their real incomes are about equal. So there's no gain there. However savings have depreciated 40 per cent.

Now add those factors and look at the result. That common man who has been the subject of so much solicitous ballyhoo is definitely a loser.

Getting down to strict technicalities there's also room for legitimate complaint about our failure to increase the individual's real income since 1929. Until that year the history of American industrial progress reveals a constant rise in individual income as mechanical improvements increased the efficiency of workmen. Those improvements have continued but the corresponding increase in individual income has not continued. The living standard of today's average man is no better than it was 20 years ago.

What's the reason? Not being handy with complex economic problems, few of us would attempt to offer a dogmatic explanation, but we suspect nevertheless that some very obvious current tendencies have a definite relation to the subject.

Exorbitant tax, for instance, has its depressing effect on living conditions. When the national tax bill is higher than the national food bill we readily see how conditions could be improved by reducing tax. Perhaps the attitude toward work is another factor. People work fewer hours and do less per hour. Judging from the final result we are led to believe that personal efficiency has decreased about as much as mechanical efficiency has increased.

Whether or not those factors have any bearing on the problem, the fact remains that our improvement in living standards has not kept pace with mechanical improvements. It's a regrettable condition, one that most of us would like to see diagnosed and cured.

Lots and lots of people nowadays are offering solutions on how to reduce the cost of living. Under the circumstances perhaps this column can be excused for airing just one more opinion.

First of all let's admit that we're not hurting desperately. We're pinched trying to make ends meet, but we could be made very comfortable by spreading a fairly small percentage of improvement over the whole nation.

Well, why not let that improvement be shared by at least three and maybe more separate groups. Suppose the government were more economical and reduced taxes accordingly. There's the first relief to the cost of living. Then suppose all providers of (Continued on Page 10)

Hornets Lose 19-13 In Tough Game With St. Xavier Bombers

The St. Xavier's Bombers of Denison were too much for Muenster's scrapping Hornets here Friday night. True to the pregame dope they entered the game with a clear advantage in weight and training and took their expected victory by a score of 19 to 13.

However the Hornets likewise made good their promise to give the visitors a real run for their money. By sheer fight they chalked up more gains and first downs than the Denison lads did on smoothly coordinated plays. In one drive after another they pushed down to within reach of pay dirt but only two of these drives were rewarded by scores. That part of the game is best described by the record of first downs which finally added to 17 for Muenster and 9 for Denison.

Every boy on the Hornet team fought gallantly. Hard hitting little linemen made a habit of tearing holes into the opposing wall to open the way for the charging backs but it was Wilbert Vogel who stood out as the team's inspiration and real ground gainer. His power house drives, often carrying two or more tacklers, accounted for more than half of the Hornet's total yardage.

Denison hit hard in the opening minutes of the game with two beautiful plays netting 33 and 30 yards to place the ball on the 12 and then cross the line four plays later. An attempted run for the extra point failed.

The Hornets' return was no less spectacular. Receiving on the 20 they stormed their way for 80 yards, Ronald Herr taking the ball over for the score. Vogel's run for extra point was short.

Receiving the pigskin the Bombers renewed their attack reaching the Hornet 41 before losing the ball on a fumble. The Hornets fought back to the 23 and lost on downs then held the Bombers for downs, returned the kick to the 30 and fumbled.

From there the visitors moved to their second score on two runs and a 15 yard pass across the line. Another attempted run for the extra point failed.

As the half ended the Hornets had reached mid-field on another steady push. Vogel opened the second half by returning the kickoff 38 yards to the visitors' 47 and sparked a drive to the 7 before the ball went over on downs. The Bombers advanced 14 and kicked. The Hornets came back from their 31 to the Bomber 42 and again lost on downs.

As the final quarter opened Denison completed a first down on Muenster's 43 and then romped to the goal on a perfectly coordinated play. A run was good for the extra point.

Muenster retaliated by another march featuring Vogel's drives and Herr's final plunge for the score. Vogel ran across for the extra point.

In the final minutes the Hornets missed another chance to score. Pinning down the visitors after the kickoff they took a kick on the 26 but lost on downs. As the game ended the Bombers were in possession of the ball.

HORNET AND PANTHER TILT SHAPING UP AS ANOTHER THRILLER

All indications this week point to another treat for Muenster football fans here Friday night when the Hornets take on the Saint Jo Panthers.

So far as can be figured from their performances in early games, the teams are about evenly matched. Each enters the fray with a .500 average, Muenster winning one out of two and Saint Jo winning two out of four.

Prospects for a hot contest are further intensified by the traditional rivalry of the two teams. The Panthers, with victories in the past two annual tilts, will be battling to hold the perfect record while the Hornets will be equally determined to avenge the former defeats.

According to reports Wednesday, each team will have to get along without the services of its outstanding performer. Wilbert Vogel is still nursing a knee sprain received in last Friday's game and Saint Jo's fleet-footed quarterback has been lost by transfer to a West Texas school.

Mrs. John Knabe and Mrs. Herman Luttmer returned Monday from a visit in Glenrose for their health. Mrs. George Lutkenhaus remained for an additional ten days.

BERLIN—So anxious were the Soviets to make their communist rally a success, they set up soup kitchens, hot dog stands and free beer dispensaries in the Lustgarten, expecting to attract 400,000. The rally, ostensibly in memory of concentration camp victims, was actually to be a resounding answer to the anti-communist demonstration that ended in shooting a few days before. It was a flop—barely 100,000 showed up and many of those were delegations from satellite countries. Here is one of the free beer stands.

McNELLEY RESIGNS TO BECOME MANAGER OF ARIZONA COOPERATIVE

Seven years to the day after he took over management of the Cooke County Electric Cooperative, R. L. McNelley resigned to accept a similar position with the Navapache Electric Cooperative of Lakeside, Arizona. He submitted his resignation at a special meeting of the board of directors Friday night, Oct. 1.

As manager of the Arizona cooperative McNelley continues the work he had been doing on a leave of absence from the local organization. More than a year ago, at the request of REA officials in Washington, he took over the construction and organizational task for the newly formed project. After he finished that work directors asked him to continue as permanent manager.

McNelley came to Muenster as maintenance man shortly after the local line was energized. He became manager in 1941 when J. H. Flood, an army reserve, resigned to enter the service. His record at both management and construction led to his rating as one of the most versatile managers in the REA system.

McNelley returned to Arizona Sunday. His wife intends to join him there in about a week.

FRANCIS WIESE OPENS JEWELRY STORE HERE

A jewelry and watch repair shop is the latest addition to Muenster's business section. Francis Wiese, a native of Gainesville, who recently completed an 18 months course in jewelry repair work at Hardin College, Wichita Falls, has set up his equipment in the north front of the building formerly occupied by the Muenster VFW post. He shares the location with E. A. Schmitz who has just moved his furniture and appliance business from the Home Art Shop.

Wiese does all kinds of jewelry repair work and engraving. That department of the business is already under way and a stock of new jewelry will be added as soon as merchandise and show cases arrive.

Building and Improvement Notes

Another new home for Muenster will be Clarence Owen's on North Main street adjoining the R. R. Endres new home on the south. Work is expected to get under way this week with the moving in of a two room structure purchased from Reeve Cooke. It will be enlarged by the addition of three rooms and a sleeping porch, and refinished inside and outside.

At the home of Tony Trubench Jr., a new double garage has been completed. The Joe Otto and C. J. Kaiser homes received redecoration this week.

Thirteen MK&T Oil Cars Crash and Burn Monday at Lindsay

Thirteen tank cars filled with crude oil burned Monday afternoon after 16 cars of the 42-car MK&T train derailed and piled up at Lindsay, disrupting rail traffic for about 20 hours. Regular traffic was restored at 9 a.m. Tuesday after wrecker crews from Denison and Wichita Falls cleared away the wreckage.

A raging fire, visible for many miles, started when the oil ignited immediately after the wreck and continued through most of the night. A unit of the Gainesville fire department extinguished the blaze early Tuesday.

The east-bound train left the rails just west of Lindsay and piled up after striking a siding. No one was injured in the wreck. Katy officials have not set an estimate of the damage, but disclosed that 10 of the cars and their contents were complete losses. Three cars can be partially salvaged and three were only slightly damaged.

Jake Bezner and his son, James, pulled 14 cars out of danger with their tractor, and the locomotive of an east-bound freight train pulled away two more cars.

Beans Schmitz Changes Name and Location of His Furniture Business

This week E. A. "Beans" Schmitz changed the name and location of his business. Moving from the Home Art Shop to the former VFW building he adopted the name "E. A. Schmitz Furniture and Appliances".

In making the double change Schmitz secured a larger, better location and also ended the confusion that has persisted ever since he sold the woodworking department of the Home Art Shop to Jake Horn Jr.

Horn will continue to use the old name as well as the east section of the building and he and Schmitz will use the west section jointly for storage space.

SCOUT COMMITTEE SETS TUESDAY FOR WIND-UP OF '48 FINANCE DRIVE

With approximately $215 now in the local fund for the 1948 Circle Ten Boy Scout drive members of the Scout executive committee this week urged all solicitors to complete their contacts and submit contributions on or before Tuesday of next week.

Frank Cockrell, Cooke County field representative for the scouts stated he is preparing a letter to each of the solicitors who has not completed his collections.

He also stated that persons wishing to help the scout program and not contacted in the drive may make their contribution at the Muenster State Bank.

HIGHWAY DEPARTMENT ADVERTISES FOR BIDS ON MUENSTER ROAD

Another definite step toward the building of that farm to market road north of Muenster has been taken.

Substantiating a report given about three months ago the State Highway Department placed advertisements on Oct. 1 requesting bids on the road building contract.

The contractor will be designated when bids are opened late this month.

NEW HOMES ACCOUNT FOR $668 INCREASE IN CITY ASSESSMENT

If every taxpayer in Muenster forks over this year the city will receive exactly $7,800.25, which represents an increase of $668.14 over last year's possible tax revenue. Those figures were disclosed Monday night at the city council meeting by Mrs. Nick Miller, tax assessor-collector.

The increased revenue is accounted for almost entirely by the addition of new homes. According to the council little if any of the property was rendered at a higher valuation than last year.

Comparative figures for the years 1947 and 1948 are as follows: Real estate, $311,202.50 and $344,152.50. Personal property, $164,197.65, and $176,135.00. Total taxable property, $475,400.15, and $520,287.50. General fund assessments, $4,516.86, and $4,903.68. Sewer fund assessments, $2,615.25, and $2,896.75.

CITY WILL INSTALL 7 MORE STREET LIGHTS

Locations favored by the improvements are: Second and Oak, Fourth and Oak, Sixth and Oak, Second and Pecan, Fourth and Pecan, Fourth and Elm and Sixth and Elm.

Funeral services with military ceremonies will be held at 9 a.m. in St. Peter's church, Rev. Conrad Herda, pastor, officiating. Reburial will be in Lindsay cemetery under direction of George J. From there his training with a tank division took him to Fort Knox, Ky., Camp Polk, La., Camp Rice, Calif., and Camp Pickett, Va. He sailed for overseas duty from Indiantown Gap, Penna., and was stationed in England before entering the field of action. Early in January, 1945, he was reported missing in action. ## COOPERATIVE HOSPITAL VENTURE ENDS WITH 100 PER CENT REFUND

Muenster's cooperative hospital venture officially folded up on Wednesday Oct. 6 when directors of the organization meeting in the Muenster State Bank passed a resolution instructing the treasurer to return all money paid in by the members.

Another resolution passed by the directors authorized the resale of lots purchased for the hospital site to the original owner at the original price as agreed at the time of the purchase.

With the sale of those lots, President J. M. Weinzapfel stated, the entire fund will be intact permitting a 100 per cent return of the original subscription.

Several factors influenced the directors' decision. One was the discouraging response to all efforts at securing doctors and nuns for the medical and managing staffs. Another was the inability to get federal aid for building and equipping. And still another was the growing impatience of members who wanted either the hospital or a refund.

FLORENCE HAVERKAMP, RICHARD SCHUMACHER, WED HERE WEDNESDAY

Miss Florence Haverkamp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Al Haverkamp, and Richard Schumacher, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schumacher of Gainesville, were united Wednesday morning in a pretty ceremony performed in Sacred Heart church here at 8:30.

Rev. John Walbe officiated at the double ring ceremony and at the nuptial high mass. White gladioli decorated the altar before which the vows were exchanged and baskets of seasonal flowers adorned the communion railing.

Anthony Luke, organist, presented the traditional wedding marches and assisted the choir in rendering the Gregorian chant Mass of the Angels.

Given in marriage by her father the bride was beautifully gowned in white slipper satin. The dress featured a fitted, pointed basque bodice, long petal point sleeves and a full gathered skirt which extended into a formal train. A wide lace ruffle joined the sheer marquisette yoke to the satin bodice and the same kind of lace edged the entire train. Shearing at the center front of the bridal gown revealed a be-ruffled lace petticoat.

The tiered bridal veil fell from a crown of orange blossoms and the bride's jewelry consisted of a single strand of pearls, a gift from the groom, and a birthstone ring for "something blue". For "something old and borrowed" she carried her mother's sterling silver rosary. The bride's maternal grandfather, the late George Spaeth, brought the rosary with him from Germany.

An orchid surrounded with white gladioli and showered with stephanotis formed the bridal bouquet.

Miss Olive Haverkamp, sister of the bride, was maid of honor wearing a bouffant frock of baby pink marquisette over taffeta. She completed her costume with a picture hat of pink net and carried an arm bouquet of pink carnations with blue and pink satin streamers.

Melvin Schumacher of Gainesville, brother of the groom was best man. Paul Wiesman and Andrew Schoech were ushers.

The bride's mother wore a dark green dress with black accessories. The groom's mother, and the bride's maternal grandmother, Mrs. George Spaeth, wore black costumes. Each wore a corsage of white mums.

Breakfast, immediately following the ceremony, honored the bridal couple in the home of the bride's grandmother in Lindsay. Immediate members of both families were guests for a dinner at noon in the home of the bride's parents and at three o'clock Mr. and Mrs. Haverkamp received guests in their home for an informal reception, and a buffet supper at 6. About 130 guests registered in the bride's book at which Mrs. Ray Lueb presided.

The bride's table was covered with a white linen cloth and held a large, three-tiered wedding cake on a mirror reflector surrounded with fern and tube roses, and flanked with white tapers in crystal holders.

In the early evening Mr. and Mrs. Schumacher departed on a wedding trip not revealing their destination. The bride wore a grey suit with black accessories and an orchid corsage. When they return they will make their home on a farm five miles southwest of Gainesville.

The bride graduated from Sacred Heart High school in 1946 and during the past year had been employed in the bookkeeping department at the FMA store. The groom is a graduate of St. Mary's High school in Gainesville with the class of 1943.

Tips on Wiring for Better Lighting
In Study, Play Room and Workshop

When convenience outlets are spaced every twelve feet along the wall, lamps can be placed near play and study tables. Well-spaced outlets eliminate the need for unsightly extension cords and make it possible to rearrange furniture where desired. For the type of activity shown, adequate light is insured when the floor lamp is supplemented by illumination from ceiling, wall or valance fixtures.

Two pin-up lamps over a desk will supply adequate study light if general illumination is provided elsewhere in the room. A light-colored board behind the desk prevents eye-tiring contrasts and concentrates light on book and desk. Wiring tips: Install a triple outlet, or two duplex outlets, near the desk to serve the lamps and radio. Outlets in the study, or bedroom, should be spaced every 12 feet.

Ideal wiring for recreation rooms includes a ceiling outlet for every 150 square feet of space, plus outlets for supplementary wall or valance lighting. A convenience outlet should be placed every 20 feet when a wall is unbroken by a door, and in every space between doors when it is over three feet long.

For glare-free, uniform light over large areas, electrical specialists recommend outlets for several fluorescent fixtures. Other wiring musts in the workshop include duplex outlets for the electric drill, soldering iron, power saw, lathe, planer, etc., and a 20-ampere circuit to provide ample current for the tools.

Mr. and Mrs. Justin Jezek of Celina; Mr. and Mrs. Al Yosten and children. Mr. and Mrs. Greenwood of Celina joined the group for Sunday dinner.

The American Way

By George Peck

DO WE WANT DICTATORSHIP?

Most certainly we want no dictatorship in America. Nevertheless, the trend here has been toward totalitarianism, despite our having had ample opportunity to witness its devastating effects on the countries which have adopted it or had it forced upon them. How can this be?

We know or should know certain things about our own American System of Free, Competitive Enterprise; that over the long pull competition has been the greatest assurance to the consumer of reasonable prices and high and ever-improving quality of product.

Under Free Enterprise, competition has been developed to a high degree giving the workers an ever-increasing share of the dollars they produced and more and better goods for those dollars.

The profit motive of Free Enterprise is the vital, actuating force in encouraging, creating efficiency and stimulating effectiveness in industrial operations. It is indispensable. In addition, and constituting a further stimulus to initiative, is the constant threat that without efficiency, instead of profit, there will be loss.

Money invested in Free Enterprise, in the main, represents what Americans have saved out of wages and salaries through thrift and self-denial. These investments in business and industry are in part "venture capital" which has been risked in enterprise in the hope of profit.

The investors are entitled to profit commensurate with the hazards involved. Millions of Americans have a stake in business and industry, held either directly in the form of stocks and bonds, or indirectly in the form of saving bank deposits and equities in life insurance policies.

Knowing all these things and many others about Free Enterprise and what it has done for us, why have we marched along the road toward totalitarianism in recent years? Why have we permitted ever-increasing centralization of power in the hands of a few bureaucrats at Washington? Can it be that we have lost faith in ourselves and in the economic system which has made us the most prosperous nation of the world?

Free Enterprise has not failed us. True, the system is not perfect and not all of the executives who manage it are paragons of virtue. Rather than turn our backs on the system that has done so much for us, why not continue to improve it so that it will go on to even greater accomplishments for owners, workers and consumers?

On next November 2 we are going to elect 435 members to the House of Representatives and 36 U.S. Senators. All candidates for these important offices should be asked whether they are for continued and expanded competition of Federal Government with private ownership, or favoring turning business back to the business men under reasonable, fair, non-hampering government regulation.

Be they Democrats or Republicans, the candidates who declare unequivocally for Free Enterprise and against further meddling with business by government, should get our votes. If we elect such candidates to Congress, we definitely will have demonstrated that we want no dictatorship here in America and will bring to a halt this nation's march toward totalitarianism.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Get The Truth!

Called on my good friend "Cappy" Miller, who edits the County Bee, the other day. And hanging up on the wall of Cappy's office is this slogan for his paper:

"Remember there are two sides to every question. Get both sides. Be truthful."

A good slogan . . . not just for a newspaper—for people, too. Because there'll always be two sides to every question: the side of those who vote one way, and those who vote another—the side of those who enjoy a temperate beverage like beer or ale, and of those who swear by nothing but cider.

And from where I sit, once you've got both sides—and faced them truthfully, you realize that these differences of opinion are a precious part of what we call Democracy—the right of the individual to vote as he believes, to speak his mind, to choose his own beverage of moderation, whether beer or cider.

KC COUNCIL APPROVES RENOVATION PROGRAM FOR HALL BASEMENT

A proposed renovation program for the K of C hall basement got the council's approval at a regular meeting held Wednesday night.

Included in the general fix-up job are re-wiring, ceiling, plaster for the walls, a kitchen and a snack bar, a cold drinks counter and tables.

The bowling alley, which has seen very little use in the past several years will be removed to make room for the improvements.

COMMISSIONER HALL IDENTIFIES FIRES AS MOST DANGEROUS RED

AUSTIN.— Marvin Hall announced today that the most dangerous "red" in Texas has been under investigation by his State department for years.

Fire Insurance Commissioner Hall accused this "enemy" with the deaths of 200 Texans, the torturing of twice that number and the destruction of nearly $15,000,000 in property since January of this year.

He declared this No 1 foe to be fire.

"Last year fire caused the greatest destruction in the history of the nation as well as in Texas," Hall stated. "Nearly 700 million dollars in property went up in flames in the United States and over 22 million was lost in our state."

Texas is breaking that record this year by a slight edge. Through August of this year our losses totaled $14,777,900. During the same period last year they reached $14,287,000. For the whole year of 1938 losses were $8,813,945.

Fire took 557 lives in Texas in 1947, not including the Texas City disaster figures. About 11,000 people were burned to death in the U. S. last year.

"These figures do not include the suffering of the maimed and injured that total twice the number of deaths from fire," Hall remarked, "and the 22 million does not include the 'wasted' use of valuable materials to rebuild businesses and homes, the paychecks lost from work being burned-out of the higher insurance rates to make up for excessive losses.

"Over 85 per cent of our fires are preventable. If the people of Texas remove fire hazards, study the things that cause fires, then observe safety practices, our losses could be at least cut in half.

"Fire Prevention Week, October 3-9 is the best time to start cutting down fire losses. The twin objectives of the Week are to rid our homes and communities of hazards and to focus attention on the careless habits which take such a high toll of life and property."

Three contestants from Texas carried off honors in Plymouth Motor Corp.'s Second International Model Plane Contest at Detroit. They competed against 540 of the world's leading model flyers who were invited to the meet because of their outstanding records. Left to right are: David E. Webb, Jr., 15, 3515 Colgate, Dallas; Maurice J. Stanglin, 18, 3826 Holmes, Dallas; and Russell C. Snyder, 18, 1301 Rosario, Laredo, Texas. They are shown being congratulated by F. W. Yale, Plymouth Regional Manager of Philadelphia, and the Chief Timer for the contest.

PORTER BEARS DOWN ON TIDELANDS AND CIVIL RIGHTS ISSUES

Jack Porter, the Republican candidate for the U. S. Senate seat now occupied by W. Lee O'Daniel, and the first Republican to wage an aggressive campaign for election in Texas, has taken a clear-cut and definite stand on the vital issues confronting the people of Texas.

A business man who has never before sought public office, Porter was unanimously brought forward as the Republican senatorial candidate to claim the Senate seat which two other candidates for the office on the Democratic ticket battled for in the state and federal courts.

Porter, in his opening speech, stated that he was for decentralizing the powers taken over by the federal government and returning them to the states. He said he would irrevocably oppose the so-called Civil Rights Program advocated by Truman, as well as the F.E.P.C. Porter has long fought for the rights of the states to retain their tidelands and to keep for the school children of Texas the many hundreds of millions of dollars which go into the school fund from state tidelands revenue.

Porter said that he would work to rid our government of the communists and fellow travelers who have infiltrated into some of our nation's most important agencies.

He appealed to the individual voters in Texas, asking that they put the welfare of the country before party politics. Porter pointed out that if he is elected to the U. S. Senate, he will be seated without question.

VFW Occupies New Home

The new home of the Muenster VFW Post is the former John Kathman home adjoining Waples Painter Lumber Co. Purchased several weeks ago when Kathman moved to his new house, the building has been worked over to make it suitable as a club room. Most of the change consisted of removing partition walls to make a large main room. The rest was painting, papering and decorating.

Besides a VFW club house the building will be the official meeting place for the VFW post and the VFW Ladies Auxiliary.

NEW LOOK KITCHENS FEATURE COLORS AND CONVENIENCE DETAILS

Three modern, colorful all-gas kitchens that housewives have seen only in national magazines can be seen in reality in the Natural Gas Building at the Texas State Fair, Dallas, October 9-24.

Faithfully reproduced from McCall's, Ladies Home Journal, and Better Homes and Gardens by Lone Star Gas Company, these kitchens were selected as the most outstanding designs of the year.

Natural birch cabinets, gay snack-lounges, handy snack-bars, and practical planning desks are some of the newer elements that appear in the reproductions.

Each kitchen will occupy its own booth in the Natural Gas Building, with one wall cut away, providing fair-goers with an unobstructed view of all features.

Pamphlets will be available about each kitchen so that interested Fair visitors can carry home floor plans and descriptions of the features which may be incorporated into their own building or remodeling ideas.

KAISER AND SEARS DISCUSS MAIL ORDER AUTOMOBILE MARKET

DETROIT.— The Kaiser-Frazer Corporation and Sears Roebuck Company are in the preliminary stages of a deal which would permit the mail order house the right to distribute Kaiser and Frazer automobiles, a spokesman for the auto concern disclosed Monday. He said the deal was "in the early stages" and probably would not be completed for at least two months.

It was the first revelation that Kaiser-Frazer Corporation and Sears were engaging in conversations along this line. "Sears has long been interested in marketing passenger cars through its retail outlets as well as by catalog," the spokesman said, "and Kaiser-Frazer has also shown interest in such a tieup."

Should the deal be successful it would be the first time that automobiles have been marketed on mail order catalog basis, the spokesman disclosed.

MRS. WEINZAPFEL ELECTED DEANERY DELEGATE AT LARGE

Mrs. J. M. Weinzapfel was elected a delegate at large for the Sherman deanery at the diocesan convention of the NCCW in Dallas last week. Six delegates were elected, one from each deanery in the diocese. The election automatically made Mrs. Weinzapfel a member of the diocesan board of directors which is composed of diocesan officers, committee chairmen and delegates at large. During the convention Miss Olivia Stock served on the nominating committee by appointment, one member from each of the six deaneries in the diocese serving on the committee.

Abilene was chosen as next year's convention city. In addition to Mrs. Weinzapfel and Miss Stock, Miss Adeline Bindel attended the convention.

tion for a thriving enterprise that gives work to hundreds.

In 1938 Elsie Frankfurt designed a maternity gown for her sister, Mrs. Edna Ravkind, of Dallas. It won so much praise that the sisters decided to make them for sale.

With $500 capital, they hired two seamstresses and opened a retail shop. Within a year their business had grown so much that manufacture was transferred to a loft. They opened branch stores in San Francisco, Los Angeles, and Indianapolis. They sold to New York shops.

Soon they had 75 seamstresses. Another sister, Louise Frankfurt, joined the firm. Business grew to more than $1,000,000 a year.

Now the partners are ready to build their own factory, increasing production 50%. They have a new idea too — for making maternity dresses that can readily be re-converted for ordinary wear.

Children, as well as adults, who are suffering from a cold should be put to bed, and if complete rest, light food, and plenty of liquids do not improve his condition in a short time, the family physician should be called. Dr. Cox further advises that dressing properly for the weather, sensible eating, plenty of rest, and avoiding persons with colds can be helpful in preventing your own infection. Colds are costly in time, health, and money, the Doctor said, and added, "Prevent them if possible."

raw materials reduced prices just a little. That would mean that the entire manufacturing process could offer a slightly better price on its products from minerals, timber, coal, oil, grains, and many, many other materials. Then comes the laborer. Let his contribution be in the form of a little more work at the same weekly pay he receives now.

Now figure all those things together. There can't be any doubt that things could be produced cheaper. And they would stay cheaper because they would become more abundant and competition would hold the price down. Add to that the individual's increased purchasing power because of tax savings and you have the combination of more money and lower prices . . . . . which, after all, is the very thing we're crying for.
