

As most of us will recall, one of the inducements mentioned in the school bond campaign was the possibility of better business opportunities as a result of a better school system. Quite logically we assumed that when more people regard Muenster as the center of their scholastic, athletic and recreational activities more will be inclined to regard it also as the center of their business activity.

But before going too far in our enthusiasm let's bear in mind that some of that school promotion logic also applies to our town. To have and hold more students we need a better school. To have and hold more customers we need a better town.

In other words, it's a good idea to begin thinking about what we can do to improve the town. It's not that we should be ashamed of what we have now. In fact if we will compare merits and faults we'll find that we really have more reason to brag than to apologize. But that doesn't alter the fact that quite a few improvements are in order... big things and little things which are as vital to civic welfare as the anticipated school advancements are to scholastic welfare.

To do those things requires planning and cooperative effort. It requires also an active, progressive organization in which members can determine their projects and a way to achieve them.

Well, such an organization already exists. It's the Community Council, which, in spite of its limited membership has done a splendid job, and if given a more general backing can do wonders for the progress of the community. At its meeting last week only 28 persons were present. There might have been five or ten times that number. But too many are not interested and too many others have the mistaken idea they can't help anyway. Their attitude is depriving themselves and the community of some very desirable progress.

Suppose instead a large number were interested and active in community welfare. Suppose they all attended the council meetings, discussed community needs, adopted a course of action, then did their part to achieve the desired results. There's practically no limit to the good that can be done by such a group.

Anyone interested in making Muenster a better place to live and make a living ought to think over those possibilities and the extent of help he can give by adding his influence and effort to the Community Council.

Circumstances created by the favorable school bond vote offer a fine opportunity. Now let's arrange to make the most of that opportunity... and to supplement it by coordinated activity along other lines. Some mighty nice possibilities are in sight but we will need system and effort to reach them.

It looks now as though Uncle Sam will be able to save face after all in that Gerhart Eisler case... but his face is plenty red. Thanks to the cops of Scotland Yard the fugitive communist was stymied in his attempted stowaway escape on a Polish ship, and unless the Iron Curtain schemers succeed in some sort of tricky maneuver he is due to return here and face the music.

Eisler's escape last week was the last and most humiliating of a series of insults that grew out of this country's poor judgment in extending leniency to a double crossing scoundrel.

Eisler has two prison terms hanging over him. A year for contempt of a congressional committee and two and a half years for conviction on passport frauds. He should have been in prison as a matter of ordinary justice to serve out his sentence as 99 per cent of the other convicts have to. He should have been in prison also as a matter of policy because of all our convicts he is among the least to deserve leniency. The harm he does by spying, subversive activity and preaching while enjoying his freedom is more serious and far reaching in its evil effects than the charges on which he was sentenced.

Still Eisler was allowed to go free on a bond of $23,500. And while enjoying his undeserved and ill advised freedom, how did he occupy himself? By conducting a lecture tour in which he advocated the overthrow of the United States government. He collected from the nation's dopes and traitors who listened to his

Bromfield May Be Speaker For Next Electrification Day

Interest in next year's Rural Electrification Day got an early start in the Community Council's meeting last Thursday night when Louis Bromfield, internationally famous author and conservationist, was mentioned as a possible speaker for the occasion.

J. M. Weinzapfel, referring to his visit with Bromfield at Fort Worth on April 30, said the noted speaker expressed his willingness to appear if the engagement is made far enough ahead to fit in his schedule. With that in mind, Weinzapfel said, the council should remember to plan months in advance.

Dick Cain, chairman of this year's program, suggested also that the event be combined with the annual horse show for a two day program. Exhibitors especially are interested in the plan because it gives them more time to justify the expense and trouble of setting up a display.

A special feature of the meeting was the distribution of award certificates for outstanding achievement in soil conservation to Al Hess, Tony Felderhoff, Frank Bayer and J. H. Otto. The certificates were given by the Fort Worth Press in connection with this year's "Save the Soil and Save Texas" campaign.

Current progress on the Butterfield Trail road project received attention in connection with the proposed South Muenster road. Members of the road committee pointed out that by securing an 8 mile extension to the South Muenster road this community can have a direct route to Decatur and Fort Worth.

In his remarks to the group Chairman J.B. Klement reported that the new school will be built with the least possible delay but is not likely to be ready for use any time during the next school year. Nevertheless the school will begin its improvement program immediately by engaging as many additional teachers as present facilities will permit.

He also mentioned that the council has just completed its first year and named a nominating committee to recommend candidates for an election of officers at the next meeting.

Notes On Soil Conservation

J. P. Embry, south of Saint Jo, has 60 acres of vetch and rye that he plans to harvest for seed. The vetch is about waist high and looks good. 20 acres of volunteer vetch is furnishing good grazing for 10 head of dairy cattle. Mr. Embry said the vetch grazing gave his milk production a boost.

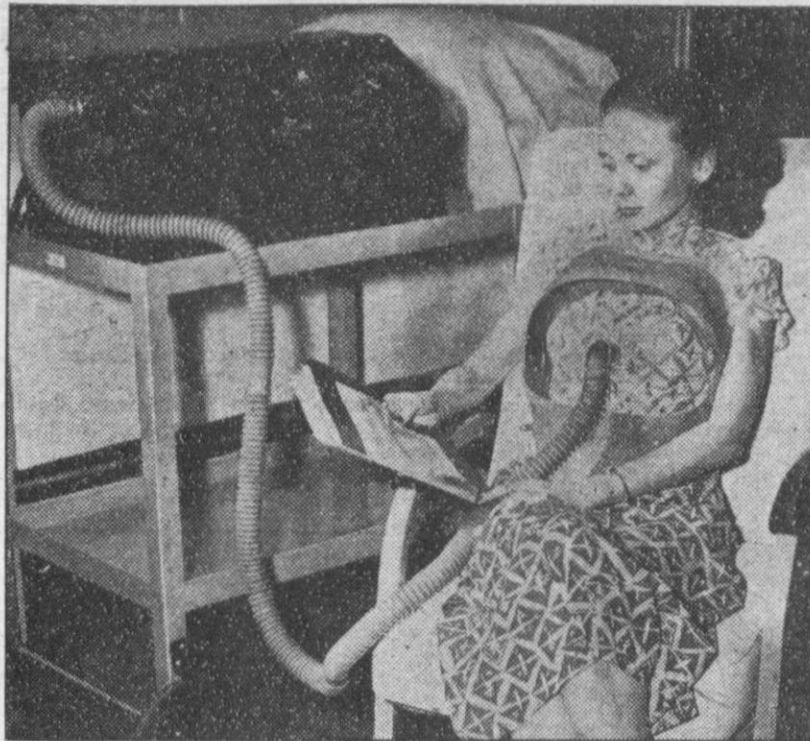

Jim Dennison, north of Saint Jo, has a 5 acre plot of love grass that is making a good seed crop. A 5 acre plot of Indian grass planted in March of this year is up to a good stand. This plot will be managed for seed production. Mr. Dennison has the rest of his cultivated land in alfalfa, vetch or sweet clover. He says that these crops pay him more in grazing, hay and seed than the small grains he has been planting. The soil is getting more productive each year too.

Harry Fisher's bees should do all right on the clover, vetch and alfalfa blooms this year. These crops produce good honey and the bees aid in pollinating the legume flowers for good seed production. In fact, bees are essential for the production of a good seed crop. One stand of bees per acre of sweet clover is the desired stocking rate.

Leonard Hartman planted a field of clover on the John Hartman farm and phosphated part of it. Mr. Hartman was walking over the farm last week and noticed what looked like two different crops. One of the crops was a plot of madrid clover that was growing good. He asked Leonard what the other crop was and found that it was madrid clover too. It just did not get an application of phosphate and is making poor growth by comparison.

Oscar Walter phosphated part of his madrid clover and says it is easy to tell where the ground was fertilized. The clover is growing best where the land was phosphated.

Walter Klement says his best oats is on his poorest land. The oats on the poorer land is following a crop of sweet clover.

Claudia Rice, of Topeka, Kan., demonstrates a new portable plastic "lung" for polio sufferers, designed to replace the cumbersome and more expensive "iron lung" now in use. The new device takes only about 30 seconds to put on, and chest unit weighs only about a pound.

Len Endres Named Assistant Manager of Armour, Huron, S.D.

Leonard Endres, son of Mrs. M. J. Endres, this week became the assistant manager of the Armour Company plant at Huron, S. D.

Visiting here Wednesday he disclosed that he received his new assignment Tuesday and intended to leave Thursday to get acquainted with his new work and find living quarters. He expects to move his family and furniture within a month.

Len has been an employee of Armour for 13 years. After a year in the Dallas plant he worked as traveling sales representative until 1942 when he moved to Fort Worth to work in the beef sales department. For the past two years he has worked in almost every department of the Fort Worth plant as an apprentice for the new work he is beginning now.

On his drive to Muenster Len was accompanied by his uncle Bert Fisch. Both of them took time for a bath before returning to Fort Worth's depleted water supply.

M. H. GRAMMER'S AGED FATHER DIES FRIDAY AT TOM BEAN, TEXAS

N. R. Grammer, 85, father of M. H. Grammer, passed away Friday morning at Tom Bean, Texas. Funeral services were held there Saturday afternoon at the Church of Christ and burial was in Holloway cemetery.

A native of Arkansas, Mr. Grammer had lived in Texas 49 years. He is survived by his wife, four sons, one daughter, 16 grandchildren, 24 great-grandchildren and one great, great-grandchild.

Messrs. and Mmes. M. H. and Harvey Grammer attended the funeral services.

GIRLS WIN 6-5 AT GAINESVILLE; BOYS LOSE 5-4 AT ERA

Standings of this community's two ball teams remain unchanged since last week. The girls are still undefeated and the boys still have not won a game.

Because of rain each team was held down to 1 game. The girls won 6 to 5 at the Gainesville Training School and the boys lost 5 to 4 at Era.

Both games were thrillers. Thursday afternoon the training school girls made a strong start and held the lead until a 3 run rally in the fourth put Muenster ahead 5 to 6. The balance of the game was scoreless.

At Era Friday night the boys' team was the victim of similar luck, but in reverse order. A homer with 1 on in the fifth wiped out the close lead Muenster had held from the first inning and completed the game's scoring at 5-4. It was well played from the opening pitch, both teams performing well in the field and at the bat, but Muenster's hits were not well enough grouped. Gene Schmitz and an Era man shared honors for homers.

If weather permits the boys and girls will both play here Friday night in a double header. Their opponents, the training school and Lois.

Games cancelled because of rain are Valley View there Monday night and Beznor Chicks here Wednesday night.

CDA to Sponsor Booth At Parish Benefit Bazaar

At their regular meeting Friday night Catholic Daughters of America initiated plans for a "Novelty Booth" to be a feature of the annual Fourth of July parish picnic. As announced by the pastors, all funds derived from the picnic-bazaar will benefit the new church building fund.

Members chose Mmes. Bernard Wolf, Joe Kathman, Joe Fisher, Sr., and Frank Yosten as a committee to take charge of arrangements for the booth.

MEMORIAL SERVICE AND DEDICATION TO HONOR WAR VICTIMS

Muenster's war dead will be twice honored on Sunday May 29, the day picked for this community's observance of Memorial Day.

The ceremony will begin with special prayers in church at 2:30 o'clock and continue with a memorial program by parochial school children and memorial services by a VFW detail at the service men's section of the cemetery.

From there the group will proceed to the ball park to dedicate the memorial plaque and live oak trees presented to the community by the Ladies Civic League and Garden Club in memory of those who gave their lives in World War II.

School Trustees Designate Location For New Building

The new Muenster public school to be built on this district's recently approved $300,000 bond issue, will be located on Seventh Street approximately due north of the parochial school.

Members of the school board in a special session Monday night agreed unanimously on the site.

Ever since the school improvement program was introduced several weeks ago the area was regarded as the most desirable in town. It is near enough to the parochial school to permit convenient use of joint facilities such as lunch room, athletic field, auditorium, gymnasium and buses. Besides it is away from heavy traffic and adjoins vacant acreage which can possibly be used for vocational agriculture projects.

Members of the board also reported on desirable features of building design observed on their inspection tour of several North Texas schools last Thursday.

CLINIC DESIGNATES MONDAY-TUESDAY AS IMMUNIZATION DAYS

Next Monday and Tuesday are immunization days at the Muenster clinic.

Announcing the dates this week Dr. T. S. Myrick urged all parents to take this opportunity to bring their children up to date on immunization.

The immunization treatments, which are given in cooperation with a state-wide health department program consist of the Schick test for diphtheria, shots for diphtheria and typhoid and vaccination for smallpox.

In connection with the immunization Myrick also recommends shots for tetanus. Though serums are not furnished by the state, he said, the treatment is especially valuable in rural areas. For the past several years, he added, his requisitions have included tetanus serum and he hopes some day to receive it in his allotment.

Surface Work on Pavement Project Begins This Week

That long awaited pavement for Main Street and the North Muenster farm to market road is likely to be ready before the end of this month.

According to employees of the Cooper and Woodruff contracting firm the job will require about 10 days of work and should be complete by next week end unless the weather interrupts. Actual work started Wednesday after two days delay because of the rain Monday.

All equipment and workmen are here now. Crushed rock for the surface is also here and asphalt delivery is assured for the date needed.

The job consists of reshaping, soaking and rolling the gravel base, which was built in December, into the proper condition for topping, then applying a double coat of asphalt and crushed rock for the surface.

Cooper and Woodruff, the original contractor will prepare the base. Reese and Riley of Abilene has a sub-contract to apply the surface.

The wheels of the truck passed over her body and head. Treads of the truck tires were visible on her forehead and body when frantic witnesses picked her up. The only apparent injuries, however, were minor bruises and small cuts from gravel on her head. The Jacksons live in Fort Worth.

PFC Robert Reiter is hospitalized at the Rapid City Air Force Base hospital in Weaver, S. D., since he cut and broke the fingers of his left hand while he was operating a wood saw. He is the son of the Clem Reiters.

While the ponies thunder around northern tracks during their peak season, Hialeah is being planted with peas, okra, cucumbers, corn and watermelon. 2.78 INCH SOAKER PUTS LOCAL LAND IN TOP CONDITION

This community's best rain so far for 1949 fell Monday and early Tuesday. Beginning as a heavy downpour about 3 o'clock it brought approximately an inch and simmered down to a light drizzle until about 8 and then rained steadily until the early hours of Tuesday. The measure at 8 Tuesday morning revealed a total of 2.78.

It was a thorough soaker. Practically all but the first heavy shower had ample time to seep into the soil.

Added to the 2.53 inches a week earlier the rain left local farms in fine condition. Grain crops have enough to carry on to maturity. Row crops have an excellent starter. Alfalfa and pasture grasses are thriving.

Carrying a strike sign, Tommy Thompson, president of the UAW-CIO Local 600, takes a place in the picket line surrounding the Ford Motor Company's River Rouge plant in Detroit. More than 62,000 workers walked out over an alleged assembly line "speedup."

Mmes. Ray Evans and Ervin Hamric spent Monday in Dallas.

PAROCHIAL SENIORS' CLASS PLAY GETS BIG HAND SUNDAY NIGHT

Sacred Heart seniors' three act comedy drama, "Dear Son" showed to a full house Sunday night in the K of C hall. The witty dialogue continued without interruption on the part of the actors for more than two hours and showed the capable direction of Sister M. Theresina, and the efforts of the cast.

Character impersonations were splendidly enacted by the ten participating students. Julian Walterscheid was outstanding for his excellent portrayal of Sid Daniels, "the arm of the law." Proceeds from the play went into the new church building fund.

Mary Evelyn Hofbauer gave the welcome address and introduced the players. Between acts the Muenster Band, directed by John Hoffman, presented selections.

The story centered on Lee Sheridan, the "dear son", played by Henry Pels, whose mysterious actions and imaginary family brought criticism from all members of the boarding house managed by Mrs. Linton, played by Emma Lou Gehrig, that is, by all except her niece Jean, enacted by Betty Lue Buckley, who defended the young impersonator and wound up by getting herself a steady boy friend.

When stolen jewels were found in young Lee's possession and the strong arm of the law reached out things looked black for the hero until Mr. Davidson, played by Wilbert Vogel, helped solve the mystery and then adopted the orphaned Lee.

Ruth Fisher, who as Amy Swain tried to tell the law what to do, provided her share of the comedy

MORE HIGH SCHOOLS WILL OFFER DRIVING COURSES NEXT YEAR

FT. WORTH.—Thousands of Texas students will learn safe driving next school year as the result of a series of teacher-training courses to be offered in colleges and universities this summer, it was announced here today by Mr. W. A. Meacham, Regional Director for School Safety in the Texas Safety Association.

Eleven courses in seven schools will be available to prospective driver training teachers, Mr. Meacham said.

"The organized safety program is rapidly eliminating the two obstacles that have stood in the way of driver training in the secondary schools," Mr. Meacham said. "Schools have not had qualified teachers or money to provide automobiles. These courses will qualify from 200 to 300 new teachers. And members of the Texas Automotive Dealers Association are furnishing cars free to schools having qualified teachers."

The series will begin May 23 with a five-day short course for college professors at the University of Texas, Austin. Two short courses for high school teachers will be held simultaneously at the University of Texas and at Baylor University, Waco, beginning May 30.

Semester courses for high school teachers will be offered at East Texas State Teachers College, Commerce, beginning June 6 and July 18; at the University of Houston, June 9; North Texas State Teachers College at Denton, June 8 and July 19; Sam Houston State Teachers College, Huntsville, June 6 and July 18; and Stephen F. Austin State Teachers College, June 3.

Teachers may earn either graduate or undergraduate credit in the courses. Co-sponsors are the State Department of Education, Department of Public Safety, Highway Department, and the Texas Safety Association.

JUNIOR-SENIOR PROM IS FORMAL FESTIVE AFFAIR

The junior-senior prom, the most formal and most festive event on the calendar of end-of-the-term activities for Sacred Heart High school was held Tuesday night in the K of C hall.

Elaborate decorations carrying out the senior class colors of green and silver, and the class flower, red rose, along with lovely formal frocks and corsages presented a pretty picture. About 150 students and their guests attended.

Chaperones were Messrs. and Mmes. John Fisher, Al Walterscheid, Clem Hofbauer, Mmes. Catherine Gehrig and Frank Kaiser and Rev. John Walbe. The decorating committee consisted of Emma Lou Gehrig, Kathryn Hartman, Doris Hellman, Virginia Walterscheid, Pauline Yosten, Ethel Trubenbach and Ann Herr.

Bill Tanner's orchestra provided the music.

Washington Newsletter

By Congressman Ed Gossett

Washington, D. C., May 14. — One gets tired at times of committee hearings, of congressional debates, and of the eternal tug-of-war that goes on hereabouts over numerous controversial matters. One can usually rest his mind by exploring some of the historical spots in and around Washington.

Among the spots enshrouded with the secrets of a near-forgotten past, is a plot now trash-strewn and covered with underbrush. It is known to historians as "The Valley of Chance" a half mile beyond the District line, in Maryland. They say that spot is soaked with enough blood to do justice to a battlefield. Many dramatic chapters in Washington's history were written there — the old dueling grounds where men met to avenge their names, and in defense of honor.

The first man to be wounded there was a congressman, Barent Gardenier of New York, in a duel with Rep. George W. Campbell of Tennessee in March 1808. The match stemmed from a verbal battle on the House floor, and Gardenier was seriously, though not mortally wounded. After that fracas, Mr. Gardenier was re-elected to Congress and Rep. Campbell was appointed Minister to Russia.

Five years later, Lt. Col. Thomas Flournoy, of Andrew Jackson's army, fought a duel at the same place and wounded his opponent. Shortly after that, Ensign Edward Hopkins, whose home was in sight of the Valley, was mortally wounded while engaging in the "Code Duello" there.

But the place was not nationally known until General Armistead T. Mason, an ex-Senator from Virginia and Col. John M. McCarty, first cousins, settled a long-standing quarrel in 1819.

They met in a violent snowstorm and faced each other only 12 feet apart. Both fell. Mason was dead and McCarty seriously wounded.

It was the historic duel between Commodores Stephen Decatur and James Barron, in which Decatur was killed, that made The Valley of Chance world-known. That occurred in 1820 — March 22.

In 1826, Senator Randolph made a speech on the Senate floor accusing Henry Clay, then Secretary of State, of forging a letter from the Mexican Minister to Washington. Clay promptly challenged the Senator to a duel and they met in The Valley of Chance. Shots were exchanged but neither was wounded. Clay demanded a second firing but Randolph refused. The Secretary then advanced to shake hands, exclaiming "I trust in God, my dear sir, that you are untouched! After what has happened, I would not have harmed you for a thousand worlds!" "You owe me a coat, Mr. Clay," replied Randolph, smiling, as he showed a bullet hole through his cloak. The two exchanged cards the following Monday and were warm friends after that.

Congress finally passed an anti-dueling bill for the District in 1839. But duels continued at The Valley of Chance. As late as 1847, two lieutenants blasted away at each other in a dawn battle there. But by the 1850's public opinion had changed. No longer was a man considered a coward if he declined a challenge or if he apologized.

The saga of duels at The Valley of Chance finally ended in 1868 when Gen. Lawrence, U.S. Minister to Costa Rica and Baron Kusseron, Secretary to the German Legation, met and exchanged fire but without results.

Folks over in Maryland still hope a suitable marker will be erected at The Valley of Chance before the site is obscured forever.

This week the President brought the matter of increased taxes and the public debt again to the forefront. Just how much we should be guided by the admonitions and philosophies of the Founding Fathers is, of course, questionable. However, Mr. Thomas Jefferson had the following to say concerning public debt. "I place economy among the first and most important virtues, and public debt as the greatest of dangers to be feared. To preserve our independence, we must not let our rulers load us with perpetual debt. We must make our choice between economy and liberty, or profusion and servitude. If we run into such debts, we must be taxed in our meat and drink, in our necessities and in our comforts, in our labors and in our amusements. If we can prevent the government from wasting the labors of people under the pretense of caring for them, they will be happy. The same prudence which in private life would forbid our paying our money for unexplained projects, forbids it in the disposition of public money. We are endeavoring to reduce the government to the practice of rigid economy to avoid burdening the people and arming the Magistrate with patronage of money which might be used to corrupt the principles of our government."

The American Way FOR FREE

By DeWitt Emery

The something for nothing idea still persists in Washington, its most recent manifestation being the determined effort now under way to sell Federal Aid to Education (Senate Bill 246) to the people on the basis that it's all "for free", doesn't cost anyone anything.

The "do-gooders" and the big spending bureaucrats would have you believe that just as soon as Congress passes and the President signs this bill, Uncle Sam will reach up and pull the $300,000,000 out of the air; then everything will be all set and everyone, especially the bureaucrats, will be happy.

Actually, this money will have to come from the same source as all the other money our Federal Government spends; that is, out of your pocket, out of my pocket, and out of the pockets of all other taxpayers.

So much for the "for free" angle. Now let's take a look at the need for federal aid to education.

It was in 1936 that the first ballyhoo for federal aid to "save our schools" broke across this country. The "do-gooders" and the "bleeding hearts" all of a sudden had discovered that the school systems of the several states were about to come apart at the seams, and if the Federal Government didn't immediately start kicking in three hundred million dollars a year, half or more of the kids in the country, in a very short time, wouldn't have any place to go to school. So, in 1936 a "save our schools" bill was introduced in Congress, setting up an annual appropriation of $300,000,000.

Now, thirteen years later, the same bill — it's almost worn out, it's been introduced so many times — is again presented to Congress. In the meantime, what has happened to the schools in the several states? Have they come apart at the seams? Are half or more of the children in the country roaming the streets all the time because there isn't any place for them to go to school? You can answer that. What's the situation in your community, in neighboring communities and throughout your state? Are your schools better, just the same, or worse than they were thirteen years ago?

I, of course, do not know what has happened in the past thirteen years in the schools in every city, town, village, hamlet and rural district in the country, but I do know what has happened nationally.

The records of the U. S. Office of Education show that from 1936 to 1947 — he last year for which figures are available — the states, including the subdivisions thereof, increased the financial support of their schools from $1,656,798,938 to $3,124,550,345. That's an annual gain of $1,467,751,407 or almost exactly five times the $300,000,000 it was said Uncle Sam would have to put up each year, starting in 1936, to keep our school system from falling apart.

If the states have been able to not only take care of, but actually double the financial support of their schools since agitation for federal aid started in 1936, isn't it entirely reasonable to assume that they can continue to handle their own school situations without any help from the Federal Government? I think it is. If you agree, then by all means express your views to your Congressman and both of the Senators from your state. The bureaucrats are putting plenty of pressure on Congress to pass S. 246, and if you don't do your part to counteract their propaganda, they may win by default. It's up to you, Mr. and Mrs. America.

Who owns American business? The University of Notre Dame has found that 70 per cent of all dividends go to people making less than $5,000 a year!

HEALTH DEPARTMENT URGES IMMUNIZATION SHOTS FOR DIPHTHERIA

AUSTIN.— With 14 reported cases of diphtheria within the past week, and a total of 397 cases reported in the first 19 weeks of this year, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, is urging Texas parents to have their immunized children Schick tested to determine immunity, and if inoculation is necessary, to have it done immediately.

"There is a widespread belief that once immunity is established, it lasts forever," the State Health Officer said. "This is not always true. In some cases it diminishes and finally dies out, and reinoculation is necessary in order to protect the child.

"Every child who will enter school next term should be inoculated or Schick tested now, because it takes from three to nine months for immunity to be completely established after the injection is administered."

As long as cases of diphtheria occur, a child is in danger unless protected by immunization. The germs throw off a powerful poison which goes all through the body. It is particularly harmful to the heart, blood vessels, nerves and kidneys, and serious complications often accompany the disease. Some of the more dangerous complications are bronchopneumonia, to which the patient is particularly susceptible; paralysis, which may last for days or for as long as 3 or 4 months; or permanent injury to heart, nerves or kidneys.

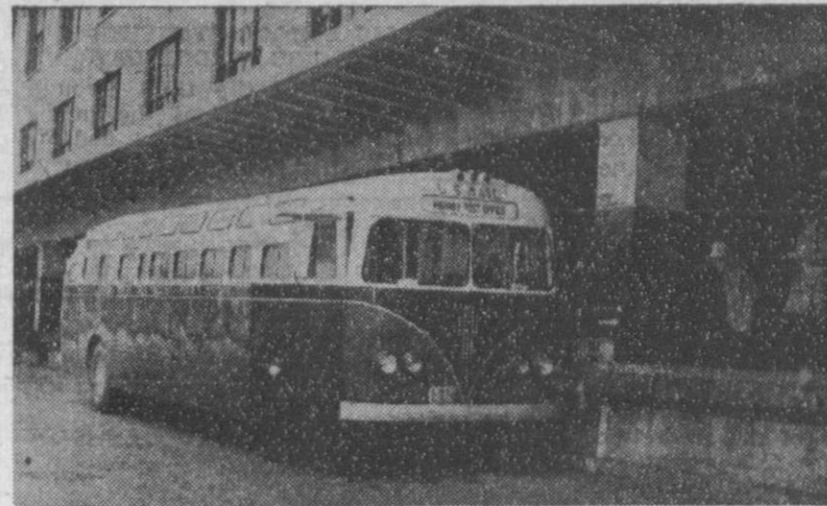

"The best thing to do with diphtheria, is to stop it before it starts," Dr. Cox said. "When toxoid is injected under the skin, the system manufactures a disease-fighting antitoxin which can successfully resist the disease. Children of school age should be inoculated or Schick tested now, so that immunity will be established or nearly so, before the opening of the next school term."

Discussion centered on plans for services to be held on May 29 at 3:30 p.m. when the bronze plaque at the entrance of the city park will be dedicated. Members of the Muenster VFW post will conduct the services. Other discussion was on the art of staging a flower show.

Mrs. Joe Luke, flower show chairman and an accredited judge, explained the necessity of knowing the rules of staging flower shows and offered her home for the club's flower show this year. It will be held sometime in June.

Members agreed that gladioli be used for the horticultural arrangement at the show and that other arrangements be exhibited but that each such arrangement be of one color only.

An interesting account of the accomplishments of the Muenster work unit in soil conservation was read by Mrs. Steve Moster, secretary, in the absence of the soil conservation chairman, E. M. Helton, work unit conservationist prepared the article.

For the pilgrimage members visited rose gardens in the park and spent some time driving through the city looking at flower gardens.

Mrs. J. M. Weinzapfel won the corsage which is presented each month by Mrs. Joe Luke.

It was announced that the June meeting will feature the election of officers and a film on soil conservation.

First Bottled in Bond Whiskey Since The War Will Be Out This Fall

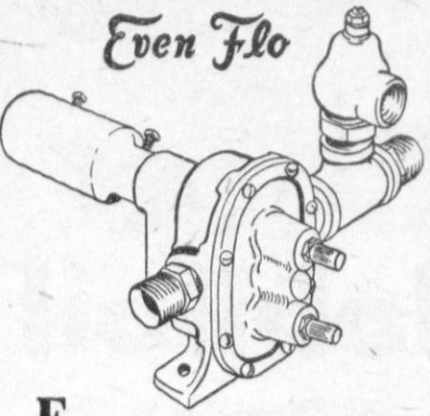

WASHINGTON. — The first wave of postwar-made whiskey will nearly double the nation's "aged" stock this fall — putting a damper on prices. Whiskey distilled after V-J Day then will begin reaching the age of four years, meeting the industry's description for bottled-in-bond labels.

The fall flood of 4-year-old whiskey will be about 51,000,000 gallons strong, Internal Revenue Bureau records showed Thursday. Total stocks of aged whiskey on hand now are only about 55,000,000 gallons.

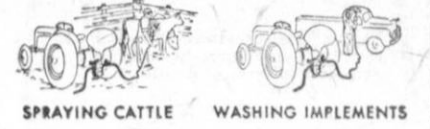

The 51,000,000 figure allows for about 25 percent loss from leakage and evaporation from 68,000,000 gallons put into bonded warehouses in the fall of 1945.

THE ROMANCE OF TWINE

Cutting raw material from which International baler and binder twine is made. On Harvester plantations in Cuba native workers cut only choice henequen leaves.

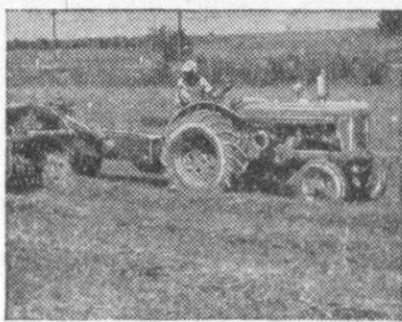

Fiber is extracted from henequen leaves in a decorticating mill, dried in the sun, then baled and shipped to twine mills in Chicago and Hamilton, Ontario, Can.

Combing the "silver" on one of 8 combing machines in the twine mill. The "silver" is made by a careful blending of just the right amount of selected hard fibers.

Putting on crisscross binder twine cover allows farmers to use the ball to the end without its collapsing. All International Harvester twine is treated to resist mildew, rot, insect and rodent damage.

Hay baling uses a larger proportion of total twine production every year. Here triple-testing for strength, length and weight pays off in fast, smooth baling operation.

The development of the self-tying binder required a uniform, dependable, easy-running binder twine, and created a new demand for hard fibers. Thus began the Romance of Twine.

Saturday guests of the Dick Cains were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Sims and family of Okla. Guests of the Jess Mitchells the latter part of last week were Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Ledbetter and children of Artesia, N. M.

DON'T BURN LEAVES, MAKE A COMPOST, A&M GARDEN EXPERT SAYS

COLLEGE STATION. — Don't burn the leaves.

Instead, turn them into a leaf mold or a compost. By burning the leaves, you lose the value of organic matter and kill off the grass that's already growing.

"Other plant refuse besides leaves works fine in a compost too, such as clippings, weeds, and vegetable tops, says Sadie Hatfield, extension landscape gardening specialist of Texas A. & M. College.

Nature is constantly making soil fertilizers. Dead wood, old leaves, and other plant materials make acid which releases mineral plant food already in the soil. When released, this matter can be used by plants and tree roots.

A simple enclosure of scrap lumber, brick or stone should be provided to hold the compost together. In sections of the state where high winds are a daily thing, a compost pit is preferable — almost a necessity, says Miss Hatfield. If a pit is available, spread a thin layer of soil over its contents, after adding the leaves or grass clippings. In the dry part of the year when there isn't much rainfall, it's a good idea to wet the entire pit once or twice a month to insure a well-rotted compost.

GAS REFRIGERATOR PRICES TAKE DROP

A drastic reduction in the price of Servel Gas Refrigerators ranging from $10 to $65 per model was announced today by Chester L. May, vice president of Lone Star Gas Company, distributor and dealer in this area.

"These price reductions," Mr. May said, "will be effective immediately on both the eight cubic foot models, the two six cubic foot models, and the W-700 model. The only Servel refrigerator which is not affected by the price cut is the small four cubic foot apartment house refrigerator."

Servel, in making their part of the reductions on their wholesale prices stated — they are not a result of any reduction in current costs, but an anticipation of increased labor efficiency and a greater sales volume resulting from the price reductions.

Accidents are the greatest single menace to the lives of American children at the preschool ages. Each year about 5,000 youngsters at ages 1 to 4 are killed in accidents in the United States.

INDUSTRY USES OVER HALF THIS NATION'S SUPPLY OF KILOWATTS

That industrial consumers use more electricity than all other customers put together and that residential customers rank next? Although large industries account for less than one per cent of the total number of customers, they consume 52 per cent of the electricity sold. Residential users, comprising 82 per cent of the number of customers, consume 20 per cent of the electricity sold.

Customers in the commercial grouping (smaller stores, shops, offices, factories, hotels, filling stations, theatres, recreation services, etc.) are third on the list and account for 18 per cent of the kilowatt hours sold.

Railway and railroad power sales include electricity sold to street and interurban railways as well as to electrified steam railroads for the propulsion of cars and incidental uses, and total 3 per cent of electricity sold.

The remaining 7 per cent is accounted for by local, state and Federal authorities, and street and highway lighting.

DICK CAIN Owner and Auctioneer

Brownie, a seafaring dog of dubious ancestry, has caused quite a stir in the maritime world. Believed accidentally deserted by a crew member of a visiting tanker, Brownie has faithfully kept watch for weeks at the Esso Refinery docks in Linden, N. J., for the return of his master. Radio messages have been sent to ships at sea in an attempt to find the dog's owner. Meanwhile, dock guard Herman Kohl, above, feeds Brownie in front of the doghouse built by refinery employees to make the pooch's vigil more comfortable.

Typical of hundreds of boys throughout the nation at this time of year is this youth working on a miniature automobile of his own design for entry in the annual competition of the Fisher Body Craftsman's Guild. He is Robert Epperson of Indianapolis, Ind., first place state winner in the Guild's 1948 competition who is back again this year with a new model in hope of winning one of the eight university scholarships offered as national awards. He has until July 1 to complete it.

CENTURY PLANT KEEPS GROWING, BUDDING, STILL DOESN'T BLOOM

That century plant at Clarence Wilson's is still shooting up and putting on buds, but not a single bloom has popped open to date.

By Wednesday it had reached a total height of 10 feet 10 inches and had 10 clusters out in the open. Assuming that the plant will continue its growing habits it should put on at least two more clusters and attain a total height of at least 12 feet. The formation at the tip indicates that two more clusters are due and the spacing between stems on the main stalk indicate the last two buds will require at least another foot of height. After waiting almost two weeks for the first buds to break into bloom, the Wilsons are beginning to think they will have no flowers until all the buds are out. But then they expect to have flowers for a long time. According to one report reaching them a similar plant held its bloom for 3½ months.

COMMUNITY HAS HAD 15.79 INCHES OF RAIN SINCE FIRST OF YEAR

Believe it or not Muenster has had more moisture to date in 1949 than it had in the corresponding period last year. According to Steve Moser's official U. S. Weather Bureau records the total rainfall since January 1 is 15.79 inches. From January 1 through May 31 in 1948 the total was 13.33.

Last year's total rain measurement was 26.88 inches. The record by months is as follows: Jan. 1.48, Feb. 4.19, Mar. 1.28, Apr. 1.47, May 4.91, June 6.02, July 5.14, Aug. .08, Sept. .33, Oct. 1.29, Nov. .27, Dec. .40.

Rainfall to date this year is as follows: Jan. 4.88, Feb. 1.63, Mar. 2.53, Apr. 1.22, May 5.53.
