

MUENSTER ENTERPRISE

VOLUME XII

MUENSTER, COOKE COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY OCTOBER, 1, 1948

NUMBER 45

A bouquet to every one of those hustling Hornets for their well performance in the Saint Mary's game. Five hundred school kids and as many more grown up boosters around Muenster are thoroughly proud of them for more reasons than one.

They won their game, and that's reason No. 1 for being proud. But a better reason is that they went into the contest with enough spirit and determination to overcome the other team's advantage in experience. Average weights were about equal but the Mustangs had more veterans in the lineup. The Hornets were due for a trimming, and the result no doubt would have borne out the prediction if they themselves had been willing to accept it.

Effort and determination amounts to a very definite plus value. It can go far toward offsetting other odds and it also leaves a satisfying glow for having done a job well.

Another bouquet for sportsmanship, to both of the teams. It was gratifying to note that there was not one penalty for rough stuff. Lots of hard playing but every bit of it according to the book. As the old saying goes "It matters not whether you win or lose but how you play the game."

At last, after all these years, yours truly can boast that he shook the hand of a president. It was a distinct pleasure to be one of the group which extended an official welcome to President Truman during his half hour stop at Gainesville, and my own personal satisfaction was minimized only by the fact that he happened in this case to be more "Truman the candidate" than "Truman the president" and not my choice as a candidate. Technically, however, he is the president, so that's that.

So, in answer to some of the good natured ribbing that has been going on around town, Con hereby proclaims that he did not sell his vote for a handshake.

The speech itself was disappointing. First a bit of blarney about Texas hospitality and friendship, the kind of stuff that candidates always say wherever they are, and then a repetition of previously voiced complaints about the "do-nothing" Republican congress, which is trying to make us all the slaves of Wall Street, followed by the inevitable conclusion that the country can be saved only by voting for the Democratic nominee and other Democratic candidates all down the line.

Developments in Washington this week have provided a far better subject, and one which the people present no doubt would have preferred to hear discussed. It concerns a revelation brought out in the un-American activities investigation to the effect that certain individuals in this country continue to go unprosecuted three years after the president was informed personally that they are red spies. The audience would have been glad to hear a straight from the shoulder discussion on those cases. Why did the president and his attorney general, both of whom received official army documents exposing spy activity in atomic research, choose to prevent further investigation in the case? A straightforward explanation might have cleared a serious problem but failure to discuss it intensifies suspicion.

A man can expound political theories and pound on platform promises until doom's day, but he can't win confidence as long as the public is still wondering why he spreads his protective cloak over suspected spies.

Just why does President Truman attempt to brush off the un-American Activities committee investigations as a mere red herring? Why does he refuse to submit evidence requested by the committee?

As long as he doesn't offer a reasonable explanation nor agree to cooperate in the investigation he leaves us no alternative but to draw our own conclusions. Under the circumstances he can't blame us for thinking that the facts if exposed might prove humiliating and embarrassing to himself and very likely spoil his chances for re-election. His face would be red indeed if this "red herring" revealed that a pack of his appointees and associates were reds who played him for a sucker.

For a long time, as we recall, the New Deal has tried to use the commies for political purposes, but all the while it seems the commies were also using the

Hornets Open Season With 18-0 Win Over St. Mary's Mustangs

Muenster's spirited and hard hitting Hornets opened their 1948 football season with a bang Thursday night by upsetting the Saint Mary's Mustangs 18 to 0.

Scrapping and alert every minute of the game, they marked up a total of 16 first downs strictly on running plays while stopping the Mustang ground attack cold.

Aerial performances were completely reversed, however. In that respect Gainesville had a distinct advantage completing 6 out of 14 heaves for four of its first downs. Muenster's only attempt was intercepted and run back 35 yards.

The Hornets got off to a good start by covering a feeble kickoff on the 50 and advancing to the 30 on six plays before the Mustang defense braced and took over on downs. Gainesville snapped back with two long gains that put the ball on the 35 then failed in the next series of downs.

Taking over on the 25, the Hornets drove steadily to their first score with Wilbert Vogel and Emmet Walterscheid alternating for the long gains. Damien Hellman crossed the stripe for the first marker and a bad pass spoiled Vogel's try for extra point.

The second score came in the second period. St. Mary's took the kick, made a first down and booted when held in the next series. Muenster received on its 45 and reached the St. Mary's 32 when Virgil Walter intercepted the only Hornet pass of the game and raced back to the Hornet 33 before being hauled down. There Muenster held, received tic kick on its 48 and made two short gains before Vogel got loose on a 40 yard sprint stopping squarely on the 10. Emmet Walterscheid hit the line for 9, then plunged over as the half ended.

The third period was a seesaw. St. Mary's received the

Notes On Soil Conservation

Redman Brothers at Saint Jo have already planted 150 acres of Hairy Vetch and plan 25 acres more, 75 acres of Madrid clover and 40 acres of alfalfa. These legume crops furnished 7 months of grazing, made a seed crop or hay crop and improved the soil on their farm last year. V. C. Redman said that water runoff was very negligible where vetch had grown on the same field two years in a row. A flat area that usually stood water after a rain, failed to collect any water this year.

Joe Hoinig, whose farm is southwest of Muenster, reports 20% more grazing this year on sudan that followed a green manure crop of vetch. The increase yield was compared to an adjoining plot where sudan was planted on land that had been in wheat the previous year. Mr. Hoinig fertilized the vetch with phosphate. He reported that unfertilized vetch did not do as good.

Paul Fisher, whose farm is south of Muenster, grazed his last years vetch until June. He said he had no figures on its soil building effects but it sure produced the milk with his dairy cows. He is planting more vetch this fall.

George Bayer sodded a 150-foot wide waterway to Bermuda grass last winter and kept it mowed or grazed all year. The grass has made good growth and he is building terraces to put water off of 15 acres onto this waterway this fall. 25 acres more will be terraced next year to outlet on the same waterway. The sodded waterway furnished several months of good grazing and is necessary for the protection of his cultivated land.

Albert Knabe recently signed a cooperative agreement with the Upper Elm-Red Soil Conservation District to install a soil conservation program on his farm. 3000 feet of field terraces were staked off by the Muenster Work Unit and Mr. Knabe is building them with a one-way plow. These terraces outlet onto native meadow and a buffalo grass pasture. Before any more terraces can be built, outlet areas must be developed. These outlet areas were staked off and Mr. Knabe will prepare the land and sod it to grass this fall and winter.

Alfredo Casares and his orchestra will play typical Mexican music in the Patio of Natural Gas Building at 1:30, 3:30, 5:30 and 7:30 each afternoon and evening during Texas State Fair, Dallas, starting October nine. Decorations of the building, housing a huge display of automatic gas appliances, were inspired by the splendor, color and drama of Modern Mexico.

REPORT ON XAVIER HI INDICATES TOUGH GAME FRIDAY NIGHT

Members of the Hornet football team who felt comfortable about their coming tilt with the Saint Xavier Bombers of Denison got a sudden jolt this week in a report that the Denison lads had held the Durant, Okla., team to a 13 to 0 score.

Though nothing is known here of the strength of the Durant team, Hornets are assuming from the size of the town and its school that considerable power is needed to hold it to a two touchdown score.

Accordingly fans here can look forward to a tough tussle when the Bombers and Hornets clash on the local field at 8 Friday night.

Indications are that the visiting team will be vastly better than the squad of lightweight inexperienced youngsters which went down in a 27 to 7 defeat here a year ago. On the other hand the Hornet team, after losing most of its regulars by graduation is considerably weaker than last year. Both factors figured together should make the odds fairly even or perhaps lean slightly in favor of the Bombers.

Nevertheless Coach Frank Henigan is confident that his charges will give a good account of themselves. He is pleased with the alertness and spirit which enabled the Hornets last week to win a three touchdown victory from the heavier and favored St. Mary's Mustangs of Gainesville, and has been working them hard all week to overcome some of the faults which showed up in that game.

Three Muenster families will change their homes the early part of next week when the August Walterscheids move to town to occupy their new house. The Walterscheid farm home will be occupied by the Ferd Luttmers, and the Luttmers home will be occupied by the Ted Gremmings. The house vacated by the Gremmings has been rented by Earl Koelzer.

Building and Improvement Notes

Another new home for Muenster is the five room house begun this week for Mrs. Barney Voth on North Main adjoining the Hacker residence. On Wednesday workmen were building forms for the concrete foundation.

Other improvements in the city are new outside paint for Mrs. Lena Bernauer's home and repapering with inside and outside paint at Mrs. Isabell Fette's.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Cook had as weekend guests Mr. and Mrs. Joe Harrison of Duncan and Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Ray, their daughter and baby son, all of Healdton, Okla. The ladies are Mrs. Cook's sisters.

P-TA WILL RESUME LUNCH PROGRAM IN TEMPORARY KITCHEN

Convinced that remodeling work at the parish hall will not be far enough along to permit use of the basement annex for at least two more months, ladies of the PTA lunch program are busy this week arranging a temporary kitchen in the old basement. If they can get ready in time they will begin serving school lunches next Monday, Oct. 4.

Mrs. Rudy Hellman, PTA president, explained that the program must be operating prior to Oct. 31 in order to participate in federal aid, and since temporary measures must be adopted for a while the PTA will begin them immediately.

The arrival of supplies also influenced the decision. Mrs. Hellman said that food already on hand will become a problem if not used soon.

A small section in the southwest part of the basement will serve as a temporary kitchen until the new annex is completed. Thereafter all of the addition will become a spacious and well equipped kitchen and the dining hall will be enlarged to include the former kitchen.

President's Speech At Gainesville Draws Hundreds from Here

At least 300 persons from Muenster were among the crowd, estimated at approximately 10,000, which gathered to see and hear President Harry Truman during his 30 minute stop in Gainesville Tuesday morning.

On his last Texas stop in the current presidential campaign tour the president told his hearers "You can't afford to take a chance on election day . . . you must vote for yourself, which means voting the Democratic ticket from top to bottom."

There was a minimum of formality connected with the president's address. A moment after the 17 car special train came to a stop he and Governor Beauford Jester appeared on the rear platform and the governor made an introductory speech of less than a minute.

Addressing the crowd as "Fellow Democrats of Texas" President Truman expressed his gratitude for the warm reception given him all over the state of Texas and added a few words of tribute to the late Senator Joseph Weldon Bailey of Gainesville whom he described as "one of the greatest orators our country ever had and one who made the same fight I'm making." He declared "Bailey worked for the welfare of Texas and the United States, which are intertwined. What's good for Texas is good for the United States."

His campaign appeal began with a reminder that Gainesville, as a part of the great Red River Valley agricultural region, is currently receiving benefit of Red River flood control improvements which were started by the Democratic party.

Then he shifted to a denunciation of the "do-nothing 80th Congress" which did nothing but try to sabotage the great government power industry, the farmer, the laborer and the small businessman.

Following his speech the president introduced Mrs. Truman, their daughter, Margaret, Mrs. Beauford Jester, and Governor Roy Turner of Oklahoma. He then turned the microphone back to Governor Jester who gave a brief account of the president's tour through Texas and added his personal request for a straight Democratic vote in the coming election.

Among Muenster people attending were all public school pupils and faculty, the parochial high school and faculty, and the boy scouts.

Other important matters of interest to all members will also be discussed, Baumhardt said.

Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Walterscheid have returned from a week's vacation trip to points of interest in Colorado.

After several futile attempts to get Johnny to change the story his father finally said, 'Johnny, you know you are fibbing and I want you to kneel down and tell God your story and ask him to forgive you.'

When the boy had finished his father asked him what God had said. 'He said, "That's all right, Johnny,"' the boy replied, "Those big dogs had me fooled at first too."

Sacred Heart church was the scene Tuesday of an impressive wedding ceremony solemnized to unite Miss Edna Hartman and Thomas Gremminger. Rev. John Walbe officiated at the double ring ceremony and at the nuptial high mass at 8:30.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Hartman and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Gremminger.

As wedding guests assembled in the church, Anthony Luke, organist, played the pre-nuptial music and wedding march. He remained at the organ to assist the church choir in rendering Gregorian Chant Mass No. 8.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a gown of white slipper satin designed with fitted basque bodice, long petal point sleeves and full gathered skirt that extended into a formal length train. The gown's only ornamentation was a deep ruffle of Chantilly lace and seed pearl embroidery which joined the sheer marquisette yoke to the satin bodice and simulated the off shoulder effect. Her tiered finger-tip length veil was attached to a coronet of orange blossoms. She carried her flowers, tuberoses centered with a gardenia, on top of her white prayerbook. For something 'old and borrowed" she carried a white rosary belonging to the groom's mother and carried by her at her wedding 23 years ago.

Miss Kathryn Hartman, sister of the bride was maid of honor and Miss Marilyn Gremminger, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid. They wore frocks of pink and blue taffeta, respectively, designed on identical lines with fitted bodices and full gathered skirts. They wore shoulder length veils of net and long net mitts in pink and blue to match their dresses and carried colonial bouquets of pink and blue asters.

Attendants for the groom were his brother, Teddy Gremminger, best man, and the bride's brother, Alvin Hartman.

Mrs. Hartman wore a navy blue dress with matching accessories and Mrs. Gremminger wore a grey ensemble with grey accessories. Both wore shoulder corsages of white mums.

Breakfast for members of the bridal party in the home of the bride's parents immediately followed the ceremony. At 4 o'clock the bride's parents were hosts for an informal reception in their home to honor the couple, and at 6 o'clock some 80 relatives and friends were guests for a buffet supper. Miss Marian Gremminger presided at the guest book.

Reception rooms featured an all white decorative theme. A white linen cloth covered the bride's table centered with a three-tier wedding cake flanked with candles in crystal holders. A dance in the K of C hall at 8:30 concluded the day's festivities.

During the dance Mr. and Mrs. Gremminger left on a wedding trip not revealing their destination. The bride wore a grey spun rayon ensemble with black accessories and a gardenia corsage. When they return they will be at home in this city.

The bride is a native of Muenster and a graduate of Sacred Heart high school with the class of 1947.

The bridegroom is a native of Winthorst, moved to Wichita Falls with his parents when he was two years old, and to Muenster with them about five years ago. He attended Sacred Heart high school and during his junior year enlisted in the U. S. Naval Reserve, serving in San Diego, Charleston, S. C., and Orange, Texas. He is employed with the Cooke County Rural Electric Cooperative.

HEALTH DEPARTMENT REPORTS 414 CASES OF FLU IN ONE WEEK

AUSTIN.— The 414 cases of influenza reported in Texas last week, bring the incidence of this disease up to forty percent more than the seven year median, as shown from the figures submitted by the 181 counties sending in reports to the State Health Department.

Influenza without complications may be a fairly mild ailment, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer but, he pointed out, complications can turn this disease into a dangerous condition very quickly.

"Many cases of influenza are mild," Dr. Cox said. "Often they lend themselves to treatment readily. However, two important factors enter into the treatment of influenza, and they are, calling the family physician as soon as the first symptoms appear, and taking life very easy for a reasonable length of time after the acute stage has subsided."

Dr. Cox declared that influenza is not mass-controllable. He emphasized that maintaining the highest possible health level at all times affords an individual the best protection from contracting this disease.

"Getting plenty of sleep and rest, daily exercise in the open,

LONDON—(Soundphoto)—Romance between Princess Margaret Rose, younger daughter of Britain's ruling couple, and the youthful Marquess of Blandford has been hinted by "reliable sources". Princess Margaret Rose, recently turned 18, and the Marquess are pictured here in the Royal Box at Ascot during recent race meeting. A proposal of marriage was said to be one of the pretty Princess' birthday gifts — with official acceptance and announcement being withheld until the King and Queen return from their projected visit to Australia and New Zealand this winter.

nourishing foods, and strict personal hygiene are our best known defense against influenza," Dr. Cox said. "This applies to all respiratory diseases. A person who avoids all habits and practices detrimental to a maximum well-being and thus builds up a strong resistance to disease, is much less likely to contract influenza than is the individual who does not guard his health in this manner."

USE OF FERTILIZER IN TEXAS INCREASED 500% SINCE 1936

COLLEGE STATION.— Last year's fertilizer sales in Texas were five times those of 1936, according to Dr. J. F. Fudge, State Chemist of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

If fertilizer sales are any indication, the farmers of this state are feeding the soil to fatten the crops. For the fiscal year 1947-48, Texas fertilizer sales amounted to over 451,000 tons.

Compare this with only 85,000 tons back in 1936-37. The 1939-40 records show an increase to 116,000 tons. And just a year ago in 1946-47 the sales were slightly over 401,000 tons.

Dr. Fudge says the big increase in the use of fertilizers since 1936 is because more people are finding out that increased yields from fertilizers are paying off. When prices are up, it means a difference between profit and more profit for the farmer. But when prices are down, it means a difference between profit and loss.

The big thing that is limiting the amount of fertilizer Texas farmers will use under present conditions is the supply. Tight now, the demand is far more than can be supplied. There isn't enough to go around to everybody who wants it.

Slowly Texas is building her soil.

Mr. and Mrs. John Wieler were in Dallas Thursday for a visit with his sister, Mrs. Alfred Helms and sons.

Mrs. J. C. Trachta is driving a new 1948 gray Studebaker Commander 4-door sedan, a birthday gift from her husband.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Graf of Gainesville moved to a new address during the past week and are now at home at 530 Chestnut Street.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Linn have returned from a 5-week automobile trip to California and other points of interest along the west coast. They visited their son, Robert, in Los Angeles, and their son, Jeff and family in El Monte, making the acquaintance of their first grandchild, Carole Ann Linn. A tour of the Painted Desert and the Petrified Forest highlighted their sight-seeing.

Without a Struggle

A decrepit horse was being auctioned to the highest bidder. An old farmer watched as a young man in riding breeches bought the animal. Turning to the young fellow he said, "What on earth are you going to do with that nag?"

"Oh," replied the cocky young sportsman, "I'm going to race him."

The farmer took a second look at the animal, then eyed the young man closely. "Well," he ventured, "you'll win."

ISABELLE EBERHART
AND JULIUS STELZER
MARRY WEDNESDAY

Miss Isabelle Eberhart and Julius Stelzer exchanged marriage vows at ceremonies in Sacred Heart church Wednesday morning at 8:30 with Rev. Herman Laux, pastor, officiating at the service and at the nuptial high mass.

The church choir presented Gregorian Chant Mass No. 8, with Anthony Luke, organist, accompanying. Mr. Luke also played the traditional wedding marches.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Eberhart and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Matt Stelzer of Post, Texas.

For her wedding the attractive bride wore a dress of white bridal satin designed with long waisted bodice tightly fitted, long sleeves and round neckline. The full gored skirt featured a bustles in the back. Her veil was finger-tip length attached to a satin coronet studded with sequins, and her flowers were an arm bouquet of white gladiolas. As a bit of sentiment, to carry out the "old, borrowed and blue" theme, she wore as her only jewelry a sapphire lavalier belonging to the groom's mother.

Miss Margie Lou Eberhart, sister of the bride, and Maurice Stelzer, brother of the groom, of Post, attended the couple.

Miss Eberhart's dress was mar-quisette over taffeta in an aqua blue tone. It was made with square neckline, short puffed sleeves and bouffant skirt with lace inserts. Her headdress was fashioned of marquisette and a spray of natural white roses and she carried an arm bouquet of salmon gladiolas.

Breakfast for the bridal party at the home of the bride's parents followed the service and at noon immediate members of the two families were guests for dinner. The bride's table was covered with a lace cloth and held a tiered decorated cake. The bride's sisters, Mmes. Wm. Flu-sche and Ray Sicking, assisted with the serving.

In the early afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Stelzer left on a wedding trip the bride wearing a grey wool dress with black accessories.
When they return they will make their home in this city.

Both young people were born and reared in Muenster and attended the local schools. During the past war he served with the U.S. Marines and saw action overseas.

Attending the wedding from out of town were Mr. and Mrs.
Matt Stelzer of Post and S. Sgt. and Mrs. Bill Eberhart and son, of Camp Hood.

Starved to Death

A Northerner seeking an ideal Southern town stopped at a small hamlet and asked an old mountaineer if the place was healthy. "Healthy?" the man roared. "Why, this is the gol-darn healthiest place you ever did see. Shucks, nobody ever dies in these parts."

"That's strange," the Northerner remarked. "On my way into town I passed a funeral procession."

"Oh, that," the mountaineer grunted. "That was only the local undertaker. The fool starved himself to death."

The American Way
 By George Peck

DRAWING THE LINE

A newspaper reader writes me taking me to task and asking several leading questions. Says this reader in part: "I have read your column in the ... for some length of time. I gather that you are very much opposed to government's engaging in any sort of business. Have you taken into account that there are certain things which cannot be done by private interests; that have to be done by government? Would you have the Army, for instance, run by a private corporation? If not, then where would you draw the line between what government should do and should not do?"

To attempt to answer the questions in the order of asking, most certainly I am aware that there are certain things upon which we must take collective action, and those things are a proper function of government. Surely, it would be folly to entertain the idea that a private corporation could run our Army. As to where I would draw the line that government should not cross, let me repeat what I wrote in my column ten years ago:

"A government (federal, state or local), under our American Constitution, has no right to engage in any business or activity, of which the product made or the service rendered can definitely be charged to a specific purchaser or user."

Still believing this, the building and maintenance of armies, navies and air forces, properly are functions of government. Here we must be collectivistic. Each of us cannot maintain defense forces of our own. There is no way of apportioning the cost to individual beneficiaries except through general taxation. The same thing applies to police and fire-fighting forces. Each of us cannot maintain our own forces to keep law and order and to protect us from fire.

In the cases of streetcar, bus, elevated and subway service, these are not proper government functions. The transportation service rendered can be charged to those who use the service according to how much they use of it. It is not equitable to have the cost of maintaining such services come out of the general tax fund.

As a case in point, New York City, until recently maintaining a municipally-owned subway, charged a fare of 5c for a ride that cost the city 7c or 8c to give. The deficit was made up out of the general tax fund, collected from tax payers, many of whom made no use of the subway facilities.

For what I am now about to say, I know I will be severely castigated. By the same reasoning, the Post Office is not a proper function of government, as the cost of postoffice service can be allocated to specific users, according to the amount each individual or corporation uses thereof. It has been said repeatedly by qualified business experts that the Post Office can be run at a profit by a private corporation, with the following benefits accruing to the American people. (1. Instead of deficits to be paid out of the general tax fund, as is now the case, the private corporation would actually pay taxes into the general tax fund. (2. The postal rates would be lowered, resulting in savings to postal users. (3. The service would be stream-lined and speeded up. (4. Investors would receive dividends out of profits made. Government ownership of things not intended for its operation, is a stepping stone toward totalitarianism. This means regimentation and loss of personal freedom. We must restrict government to engaging only in those activities the cost of which cannot definitely be charged to specific purchasers or users.

In conclusion, let me express the hope that I have made it clear to my correspondent just where I would "draw the line between what government should do and 'should not do', and that he agrees with where I have located the line.

AVERAGE TAXPAYER SHELLS OUT $344.46

WASHINGTON. — Tax collections by federal, state and local governments figured out to an average of $344.46 for each of the 144,000,000 Americans during the year ended June 30, 1947.

The Census Bureau in reporting this Tuesday noted that the federal government, as usual, got the lion's share — $257.36 against $46.84 for the states and $40.26 for local government.

Total tax collections of the federal, state and local governments combined were $49,603,000,000 — nearly a fourth of the 1947 national income of $202,500,000,000. But this was $3,445,000,000 below fiscal 1945's record high tax total.

The bureau put the federal government's tax take at $37,060,000,000, down $5,541,000,000 from 1945's record high, chiefly because of repeal of the wartime excess profits taxes on corporations.

State and local government it — I just want to get in on it.

taxes partly offset the federal tax decline by climbing to new peak totals — $6,745,000,000 for the states and $5,797,000,000 for the local governments. This upward trend has continued since then.

In addition to taxes, the three government levels picked up $2,500,000,000 from fees for services of various kinds making their total general revenue $52,100,000,000 for fiscal 1947.

Your Most Important Right

Now that the bandstand has been painted, and the park re-landscaped, we have about the nicest village green in the county.

And it's all because, at the last town election, folks got out and voted—85 per cent of them! That way, they passed the amendment calling for park improvements—over those opposing it.

Reminds you again how important the right to vote is in this country. And it's a right we can retain only by exercising it! ... like all the other individual liberties—from freedom to enjoy a glass of beer or ale, to a woman's right to vote along with men.

Folks can thank themselves that on summer evenings they'll be able to listen to band concerts in a well-kept park ... enjoying a bottle of beer or soda pop (whichever they prefer). Because from where I sit, that's a freedom they've earned by exercising a still more important freedom: Voting!

T.J. HOFFMAN MARRIES
WICHITA FALLS GIRL
SATURDAY MORNING

Miss Rosa Elizabeth Simmons became the bride of Thomas John Hoffman Saturday morning, Sept. 25, in a double ring ceremony in Sacred Heart church Wichita Falls, at 8 o'clock. The Rev. Bernard Loughrey, assistant pastor, officiated at the exchange of the vows and was celebrant of the nuptial mass.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Simmons of Wichita Falls and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Hoffman of Muenster. The bride wore a wool jersey robin-egg blue ballerina length dress designed with a plain jewel neckline and three-quarter length sleeves. Black veiling fell from her white fur felt hat and she carried a white prayer book topped with gardenias and bouvardia.

Miss Jewel Marie Hoffman, sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor wearing a dusty rose wool jersey frock styled with high neckline, bracelet length dolman sleeves and full skirt featuring unpressed pleats. She wore harmonizing accessories and a corsage of American Beauty rosebuds.

Earle Otto was best man. A breakfast party at the Holt Hotel immediately followed the ceremony and from 3 to 5 o'clock an informal reception honored the couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Hoffman will reside in Wichita Falls after a tour of South Texas. For traveling the bride wore a black crepe and taffeta ensemble with matching accessories.

Mrs. Hoffman graduated from Wichita Falls high school and Hardin Junior college with a degree in business administration. She is employed by the Wichita Falls city water department.

Mr. Hoffman graduated from Rhineland high school and attended Hardin college. He holds a position as claim agent for the Fort Worth and Denver, City Railroad company. During the war he served with the army air forces as a radar technician in the Seventh Air Force, with overseas duty in the Southwest Pacific.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hoffman and family and Earle Otto left here Friday afternoon and returned Saturday night after attendance at the wedding. They attended a rehearsal party on Friday night.

Radiant Heat for the Modern Home: A Gift
From Ancient Rome and Our Poultry House

By HENRY CONKLIN
Engineering Commentator

Radiant heating—a system that can perform such revolutionary feats as junk-yarding the radiator and hot air grill, and even the furnace and chimney—is finding an increasingly wider acceptance among today's home builders.

The system, which cashes in on the heating principle of the sun itself, is not new. It was first used, crudely, by the ancient Romans 2,000 years ago to heat their baths.

The present system of radiant heat for homes stems from a discovery, made about ten years ago by American scientists during experiments in poultry-raising, described as the most important since introduction of the incubator.

With radiant heat, children can play on the floor, dressed only in diapers.

Chick Death Rate Lowered

Armed with the automatic electric thermostat and further results of intensified research, the scientists found that radiant heat would eliminate drafts and dampness—that it would cut the death rate of chicks as much as from 15 per cent to 1 per cent. Each bird would gain an average of a pound more in three months. Fuel costs, too, would be reduced.

Because Old Sol's method provides a maximum of heat transfer, the engineering achievements were extended to the home. Radiant rays, moving like light at the rate of 186,000 miles a second, were harnessed to provide the utmost in comfort, cleanliness and health.

No Air Currents, No Dirt

Unlike conventional convection heating, radiant heat rays skip through the air in a room and warm only objects—your body, for example. Traveling in straight lines, the rays create no air currents. Thus, no dust or dirt movements. And no drafts, or dried-out air, or stuffiness, which cause colds and other common ailments.

Comfortable heat can be maintained at air temperatures of 65 to 68 degrees, compared with the usual demands of 70 to 72 degrees. Also possible is even heat throughout each room, including the floors, with the heat in the different rooms tailor-made to serve each room's natural functions.

Radiant heat can be utilized with hot water or hot air pipes, installed in ceilings, walls, floors or baseboards, to eliminate radiators or grills.

Exit: Furnace and Chimney

With electrical installations, there is no need even for furnaces or chimneys. One of the latest developments of the electrical manufacturing industry is a rubber that conducts electricity, instead of insulating it, as is the normal practice. It is installed in ceilings in standard quarter-of-an-inch-thick panels of 4 x 4 feet, with connecting, power-carrying wires.

This system can be used best in those parts of the country favored by mild climates and where a plentiful supply of power goes hand in hand with low rates. Some builders, however, are contending that it is economical anywhere, provided the homes are properly designed and insulated.

RECEPTION COMPLIMENTS
MR. AND MRS. JOE FISHER SR.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Fisher Sr., recently married couple, were honor guests at a reception in their home Sunday afternoon from two to five o'clock. The courtesy was a surprise affair extended by the Fisher children.

Decorations in the party rooms stressed an all white theme, and the refreshment table, laid with white linen, held an arrangement of white mums. Mrs. C. A. Fisher presided at the crystal punch service while Mesdames John, J. W., Paul and Earl Fisher and Mrs. Henry Pick welcomed the guests and served cake. Miss Ruth Fisher presided at the guest book. About 80 persons attended the reception and others who were unable to be present sent gifts.

During the afternoon little Theodore and Norma Jean Walterscheid presented a musical program featuring accordion and vocal numbers.

Mr. and Mrs. Fisher were married on Sept. 14, in Saint Joseph's church in Wichita, Kansas, the Rev. Francis J. Tobin officiating. Mrs. Fisher, the former Mrs. Theresa Bauernfeind, is a native of Wisconsin.

Among out of town guests at the reception were Dr. and Mrs. C. W. Yetter and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hoover of Saint Jo; Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Felker of Hood; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Address, Myra; Messrs. and Mrs. Leo Schmitz, Joe Pulte, Tony Nehib, Ed Pulte, Charles Pulte, Douglas Hobbs, Walter Pulte, Mrs. Fred Pulte, Bill and William Pulte, Robert and Misses Ruth and Louise Pulte, and Dr. and Mrs. Vincent Cirone, all of Gainesville.

Henry Fleitman returned home Friday following a three-week vacation trip to Indiana and Nebraska. In Fort Wayne he visited his sister, Sister Flora Bertha, and in West Point he visited cousins.

ENJOYS SOCIAL THURSDAY

Mmes. Clarence Hellman, Joe Hoening and Jake Horn Jr. were hostesses for the regular monthly social of Catholic Daughters of America last Thursday night in the K of C hall.

Progressive 42 and bingo entertained the guests and the hostesses served delicious refreshments.

In the games Mmes. John Streng, Frank Kaiser and C. J. Kaiser were award winners in 42 for high, low and galloping, respectively, and Mmes. Paul Fisher and Ben Hellman in the bingo, respectively.

OAKLAND, CALIF.—(Soundphoto)—Oakland police unwound a case of impersonation so perfect that they had to inform a 17-year old "wife" that she had been married for two years to a woman. Police Inspector Clarence Covill is shown (left) as he made this disclosure to Roberta Lawson Nelson. Strange tale was uncovered as police sought Robert Stewart Nelson (right), 25, part-time book-keeper at a wholesale grocery, believed to have absconded with $900 of company funds. Police say FBI records showed Nelson had posed as a man and husband since "her" marriage in 1946. Records also showed Nelson had been arrested in 1944 as a draft evader, but was released after examination showed she was a woman. Search for Nelson now is centered in the Los Angeles area.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Williams of Lafayette, Oregon, visited here during the past week with her brothers, Joe and Russ Linn. Mrs. Williams is remembered as the former Miss Jettie Linn. The visitors went from here to Dallas to see her mother, Mrs. J. D. Linn, then to Oklahoma to visit relatives and back by way of California.

Mrs. Joe Swirczynski returned home Tuesday after a month's visit with her children. In Emporia, Kansas, she visited her daughter, Mrs. Alex Knauf and family, and was joined by Mr. and Mrs. Knauf on the trip to Bode, Iowa, where they visited Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Erpelding for a week. Mr. and Mrs. Erpelding drove her mother to Pochontas, Ark., to visit Sister Helen, and to Jonesboro to visit Joan Swirczynski. After another visit in Bode Mrs. Swirczynski returned home by way of Fort Worth where she visited her son, Ed and wife, who drove her to Muenster and spent Tuesday here with relatives.

Blessed Events

Mr. and Mrs. Werner Yosten announce the birth of a son at Gainesville sanitarium Sunday. The baby weighed 10 pounds. He is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Yosten, Muenster, and Mr. and Mrs. John Bengfort, Lindsay.

Mr. and Mrs. Meinrad J. Koelzer of Hereford are the parents of a daughter, their first child, born September 18. Her name is Vicky Jean and she is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Koelzer, formerly of Muenster.

Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Linn of El Monte, Calif., announce the arrival of their first child, a daughter named Carole Ann. The baby is the first grandchild of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Linn of Muenster and the first great-grandchild of Mrs. N. T. Clark of Bonham. She is Mrs. J. D. Linn's 38th great-grandchild.

The chorus girl was telling the other girls in the dressing room about her birthday party.

"You should have seen the cake," she told her companions. "It was marvelous. There were seventeen candles on it — one for each year."

There was a disbelieving silence for a moment or two, then her best friend smiled.

"Seventeen candles, eh?" she purred. "What did you do—burn them at both ends?"

A college girl with a high-fashion I.Q. models a date dress that scores tops for evening extracurricular activity. Designed by Louella Ballerino in blue grass velveteen and picolay calico print, the three-piece cotton costume has a quaintly-styled blouse and wrap-around skirt, split to reveal a petticoat pocket above the dust ruffle. The petticoat becomes a skirt itself when the velveteen skirt is removed.

"I was so cold last night I couldn't sleep."
"And did your teeth chatter?"

RADIO SERIES WILL DRAMATIZE WORK OF MISSIONARY PRIESTS

The heroic labors of missionary frontiersmen of the church will be dramatized in a series of four radio broadcasts to be heard over Station KGAF (1580) of Gainesville at noon the first four Saturdays of October, according to an announcement this week by the radio station.

Presented in the public interest by the Farmers Marketing Association, the series is prepared by the Society for the Propagation of the Faith as a special observance for Mission Sunday, October 24. They are 15 minute programs beginning at 12 o'clock.

Each is a separate story telling of adventure, sacrifice, suffering or martyrdom by missionaries in spreading the word of God. They describe experiences in the Philippines, Mongolia, China and the polar regions of Alaska and Canada . . . with suspicious natives and treacherous communists.

When it comes to handling bulls, every week is National Farm Safety Week at the Curtiss Candy Company farms in northern Illinois.

All outdoor bull pens on the Curtiss farms are constructed to allow a 2-foot open space between the fencing or railing and the ground. As shown in the top picture, this feature enables a man to roll out of the pen almost instantaneously should he be attacked. Too many farms still build solid fences which prevent escape from an enraged animal. The bull in the background behind the rolling man is Curtiss Candy Levity Heir, undefeated two-year-old Guernsey bull at 1946 shows.

The left bottom picture shows a special chain attachment hooked onto the ring in the bull's nose, passing up his face and thrown around his horns. Even though an individual is knocked down and the bull's head lowered for a charge, a man can readily grab the chain and gain immediate control of the animal from a prone position on the ground. The bull wearing the chain is Curtiss Candy Signal Ned, grand champion Brown Swiss bull wherever shown in 1947.

Another important safety feature is the self-opening door on the bull barn shown in the lower right picture, with Signal Ned making his exit. By means of this door, which is pivoted above the center and protected below with metal sheathing, the bull can enter and leave his quarters without the necessity of having his keeper operate the door for him. Besides this obvious safety feature of eliminating the possibility of contact between the animal and a person, it also saves the farmer the necessity of letting the bull in or out of his barn when the time might be entirely inconvenient for him owing to other duties elsewhere.

LINDSAY SOIL GROUP AND GI CLASS INSPECT CONSERVATION WORK

Several farms on which waterways were established this past spring were recently visited by members of the North Lindsay Conservation Group of the Upper Elm-Red Soil Conservation District and the Lindsay Veterans Vocational Class.

On the Ed Schad farm the group saw a waterway sodded to Bermuda grass this year which has already been utilized as an outlet for terraces protecting an adjoining cultivated field. Waterways sodded to Bermuda which have not yet established sufficient cover for terraces were seen on the Vincent Zimmerer and Jake Kuhn farms. An excellent stand of Buffalo grass established on eroded cultivated land was also observed on the Kuhn farm.

Members of the North Lindsay Conservation Group present on the tour were: Tony Hermes, Walter Nortman, Ed Schad, Joe and Gregory Hundt, Vincent Zimmerer, Jake Kuhn, Robert Loerwald and Al Walter. All members of the Lindsay Veterans Vocational school were present, along with their instructor, Lacy Wheeler. The tour was conducted by Jack McFerran, Work Unit Conservationist, Soil Conservation Service, Gainesville, and Paul Kenner, Work Unit Engineer, assisting the Upper Elm-Red Soil Conservation District.

I hope somebody will save this country from some of the people in it who are trying to save the world. — Representative Frank Matthews of New Jersey.

PORT ARTHUR, TEX.—Former Texas Ranger Stirling O. "Sod" Durst, aged 65, makes his last rounds before retiring as a guard at the Gulf oil refinery here. Durst was commissioned a Ranger in 1918, serving on the Texas border patrol. He joined the refinery guard force immediately after Pearl Harbor. A protection system, only slightly relaxed from that used in wartime, is still maintained at this refinery, country's largest in point of production, to safeguard petroleum resources so critical to both the national defense and economy.

Among out of town guests at the wedding of Miss Edna Hartman to Thomas Gremminger Tuesday were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Butler and children, Pauline and Frank J. of Olney; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Thoele, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Osterman and son, Albert, of Windthorst; Mrs. Guy Short, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Martini and sons and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Long of Wichita Falls.

Hornets Win---

Kickoff, failed to gain and punt-ed. Muenster received on its 41, advanced to the Mustang 27 and lost on downs. St. Mary's made two long gains back to the Hornet 34, and lost on downs. Muenster then started the steady march for its third touchdown with Vogel and Walterscheid doing most of the toting. Vogel plunged across the marker shortly after the last period started.

After that the game was mostly an exchange near midfield, the Mustangs threatening constantly with their passes but unable to score.

In spirit and sportsmanship both teams made a creditable showing. They played hard on defense and offense but finished the game without a single personal foul. The only penalties were those assessed against St. Mary's for one offside and one delay in a huddle.

Average weights were about equal but the Hornets held the edge in coordination and hustle. Their plays clicked better and they were more consistent at smearing opposing plays.

In general, the entire Hornet performance indicated that despite the heavy toll at last year's graduation the team has an excellent chance to develop into an efficient, smooth working machine.

Julian Walterscheid, Pels and Reeves, the only lettermen back in the line, are towers of strength accounting for most of the forward wall's good showing. Vogel, the only veteran back, continues his fine record from last year and Emmet Walterscheid former line-man, is going strong in his new position as back. Both are consistently good on offense and defense while Damien Hellman and Ronald Herr, playing their first year, are making fine progress.

Outstanding performers on the Mustang team were Schumacher, Schniederjan, and Walter, the two huskies figuring in power plays and little Walter shining as a pass snatcher and defensive end.

Confetti---

New Deal for subversive purposes. The president has been out-foxed and he hates to admit it.

But the sad fact is that we are the losers. It was our national security that he gambled in his game with the Kremlin card sharps . . . which, after all, isn't a very nice thing to admit to the American public.

A highly successful business man fell in love with a singer and decided to marry her, but with his usual business sense, he first employed a detective agency to prepare a report of her life. The report read: "The lady has an excellent reputation, her past is without a blemish and her friends are of best character. The only breath of scandal is that lately she had been seen a great deal in the company of a business man of doubtful reputation."
