VOLUME XIII

MUENSTER, COOKE COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY MARCH 18, 1949

NUMBER 17

How about the proposed minimum wage standard of 75 cents an hour? Are you for it or agin' it? No matter what side you're on, you may rest assured you have plenty of company.

A recent news release issued by the Dallas office of the U.S. Department of Labor says the higher minimum wage is going to be mighty fine for the small merchant and the farmer. Able to buy more food and clothing, the worker will give his retailer more business, which in turn will help the farmer, who produces the food as well as the raw material for clothing.

So far the idea looks swell, but along about here opponents of the proposal begin raising a few problems. For instance, what will happen to the cost of living when the millions of minimum wage workers have their pay practically doubled? The increased costs will eventually show up on the price tag. No one has any doubt about that. Then there's the strong probability of another round of wage increases. The worker who got six bits all along won't be satisfied when the unskilled worker receives as much pay as he does. He'll insist on more, after which the man above him will pop up with a similar demand. And so it goes all the way up the line, the final result being that a week's work will continue to support about the same living standard it does today.

Some opponents also think a six bit minimum would cause an immediate backfire against the workers themselves. Our neighbor on the Saint Jo Tribune had something to say on that subject last week. In his opinion a lot of employers can't afford to pay that much for the simpler jobs, with the final result that many a worker will have no pay at all instead of better pay. The Tribune scribe goes on to say that the helper in that place faces this very problem. When the wage goes to 75 cents an hour the job will not be there anymore.

Considering these things a person cannot help doubting the wisdom of the 75 cent minimum scheme even though he must admit that it is amply justified by existing conditions.

Anyone knows that a person receiving 40 cents an hour for a 40 hour week cannot get along with present price levels. However it's about time for some of our economists to realize that the price level and not the wage may possibly be out of line. And if that is the case the problem should be tackled from the other side. Something should be done to bring the cost of living in line with wages.

That has been the contention of this column all through the wage hullabaloo of the past few years. Our whole economic machine would run smoother if we tried conscientiously to do more about prices and less about wages.

The sad fact is that the American worker today is being let down by union and government leaders, the very persons who shout most loudly about their noble service to labor. His apparent gain in every pay increase is quickly absorbed by price increase. Meanwhile the value of his savings depreciates and he's actually worse off than before.

Now suppose the procedure were reversed. Suppose the leaders concentrated not on more money but on making the money go farther, and, incidentally, on restoring some of the value of people's bonds, insurance and other savings. It could be done by the simple method of giving a little more labor for the same wage. That would reduce unit costs for one thing and also build up an abundance which would be reflected in competitive prices. When things are plentiful they are available at a reasonable figure. Well, why don't the men with the power arrange to make them plentiful? And why don't the big shots in Washington arrange to reduce government expense and let us apply a little of our present tax money to the cost of living? As long as government costs more than groceries we refuse to admit that we're getting a fair deal.

All of this of course is the conservative point of view. It is based on the theory that a high level of wages and living costs is unfair because it penalizes everyone who has saved in the past. It wipes out almost half the original value of bonds, insurance and cash savings laid aside by

FMA Gets Stand-by Unit To Take Over In Power Emergency

Power failures because of ice storms are a thing of the past at the FMA cheese factory. A stand-by electric generating plant acquired in Dallas this week will enable the plant to switch to its own electrical system on a moment's notice.

The unit, powered by a 75 H.P. steam engine, is capable of producing enough current to operate the entire FMA factory and freezer plant and the city water system to boot. According to specifications given by plant manager Rudy Hellman, it has a rated capacity of 75 kilowatts. The small emergency unit recently borrowed from TP&L has a capacity of 18 kilowatts.

Installed to tie in with the FMA's 150 H.P. steam boiler the emergency power is available at the mere turn of a valve. Since steam pressure is available at any time, it can be put to work any moment it is needed. And it is not even dependent on gas pressure. A stand-by oil burner recently installed as a precaution against gas emergencies is also ready whenever needed.

The city of Muenster will also benefit from the emergency unit. Special connections with the No. 1 well and the reservoir booster pump will assure a steady flow of water to the main water tower. In the recent emergency the smaller unit handled only the No. 2 well and only while the unit was not needed at the FMA plant. What little water the city got came from the ground level storage tank under low pressure.

A separate building to house the emergency unit will be erected soon, but the exact location was not decided Wednesday. It will either join the west end of the plant or will stand alone some 150 feet farther west near the city's reservoir.

The unit, formerly used to power a large laundry in Dallas, became available when the building was occupied by another firm. J. W. Hess, Rudy Hellman and Herman Swirczynski drove down to look it over Monday and sent three of Steve Fette's trucks to pick it up Tuesday. Still in excellent condition it is good for many years of steady service or scores of years of emergency service.

Building and Improvement Notes

Two more new homes for Muenster are well on their way this week. Adjoining George Mollenkopf on Sixth, J. C. Trachta has most of the frame and roof work completed on a five room house. On Third, just inside the east city limits John Moster has finished the foundation for his five room house.

Remodeling now near completion in the hotel consists of a partition about midway in the former Owens Grocery location. The front half is a lobby, the back half an apartment.

Outside the city at least 2 buildings are known to be completed. Werner Becker has a new implement shed. Joe Hesse has a new brooder house to replace the one that burned last year while Albert Henscheid still occupied the place.

A sort of reverse building improvement in town is the final removal of rubbish left after tearing down the old Furbach building. Ben Seyler, owner of the location hauled off the junk and had the site leveled by a bulldozer. It's now the slickest vacant lot in town.

Another landscaping improvement is that at Sacred Heart rectory. Father Herman had old weather-beaten shrubbery removed to make room for new flowers and shrubs.

SADDLE CLUB SETS SUNDAY, MAY 1, FOR ANNUAL HORSE SHOW

Muenster's annual horse show will be held this year on Sunday, May 1. Members of the local Saddle Club, meeting Sunday night in the Myrick home, set the date and initiated plans for the event.

Officers of the organization have disclosed that an interesting program is being arranged for the day. They plan to have about a dozen classes of horses, a contest or two, and feature acts.

Dr. T. S. Myrick, president, and Mrs. Tony Trubenbach Jr., secretary, are organizing committees to take charge of the various details.

Andrei Y. Vishinsky, above, has been appointed foreign minister of the Soviet government to succeed Vyacheslav M. Molotov. Vishinsky is a former deputy foreign minister of Russia and chief Soviet delegate to the United Nations.

GILMER-AIKIN BILLS GET 'STEAMROLLER OK' AT TEACHERS' MEETING

Two members of the Muenster Independent School faculty, Mrs. Jesse Mitchell and Miss Elfreda Luke, witnessed a "steamroller approval" of Senate Bills 115, 116 and 117 at the annual District 5 meeting of the Texas State Teachers Association at Fort Worth last week end.

Mrs. Mitchell, a delegate to the meeting termed the Friday session as a series of eulogies delivered by enthusiastic supporters of the proposed legislation. No contrary views were discussed at the meeting.

Saturday's session she said consisted of official and speedy action on the previous day's pep talks. The delegates adopted eleven resolutions in one slate, the fourth resolution being worded as follows:

"We endorse the basic principles of Senate Bills 115, 116 and 117 and urge prompt action in passing corresponding legislation in the House of Representatives."

Referring to press reports that the meeting wholeheartedly endorsed the bills, Mrs. Mitchell commented that of 252 delegates

FATHER CYRIL LANGE JOINS PASTORS OF SACRED HEART PARISH

Since last Sunday the Muenster Sacred Heart parish has three priests. Father Cyril Lange, O.S.B. of Sublaco Abbey is co-assistant with Father John Walbe to the pastor Father Herman Laux.

No immediate change in Sunday church services will result from the increase in pastor personnel. Father Herman said this week. The schedule in effect since early January seems to accommodate the parish and will be continued until the usual summer change.

The only change was in the week-day 8:30 mass. Services are now held simultaneously in the school chapel and the parish church and adults have been asked to attend in church in order to relieve the crowd in the chapel.

Sudden Death Claims 'Cleve' Henderson While on Trap Line

The body of Charles Cleveland (Cleve) Henderson, well known Cooke County wolf trapper and farmer, was found about 7:30 a. m. Tuesday in a field on the Danglemayr ranch between Muenster and Marysville.

According to his wife, Mr. Henderson left home Monday morning to set some wolf traps. He was due back home by noon, but when night came the family had not seen or heard of him. A searching party was formed and a call was sent in to the Gainesville police for aid.

Deputy Sheriffs Archie Nichols and A. E. Cogburn went out to join the search for Mr. Henderson. Justice of the Peace G. C. Powell accompanied the deputies.

Mr. Henderson's body was found by one of his sons in a field about 200 yards from his parked car. He had a gunny sack full of bait and traps still clutched in his hand and a half smoked cigar was lying on the ground near his mouth.

Nichols said that his tracks showed that he had turned around and started back toward his car when death struck him. Justice Powell returned a verdict of death from natural causes.

A George J. Carroll & Son ambulance was called to bring the body to town.

Mr. Henderson was born in Rosston Nov. 8, 1892 and had lived there all his life. He was a veteran of world war I and a member of the Era Masonic lodge. He was married Aug. 30, 1922 in Rosston.

Survivors are his wife; three daughters, Mmes. Cleva Mae Akin, Fort Worth; Jennie Que Day, Grand Prairie; and Miss Fern Henderson, Rosston; three sons, Jack, Carl and Dickie, all of Rosston. Another son, Roland Henderson was killed in a naval training accident in 1946.

Funeral service was held in the Rosston Methodist church on Thursday at 2:30 p.m. Burial was in the Rosston cemetery under the direction of Geo. J. Carroll & Son Funeral home.

ANNUAL CITY-WIDE SPRING CLEANUP TO BE HELD NEXT WEEK

Next week, March 21 through 26 will be Annual Spring Cleanup Week in Muenster.

The city, the Civic League and the Community Council are all working together to make it the record cleanup week in this community's history. The sponsors urge full cooperation of every resident so that Muenster will look its best for the expected large crowd of visitors here for Rural Electrification Day on March 29.

It is suggested that the first three days of the week be devoted to cleaning and sacking trash and rubbish so that the last three days of the week may be devoted to hauling. There will be no charge to residents. The city will furnish the truck. Local truck owners interested in hauling the trash are asked to present their bids to the city secretary.

All trash, junk and rubbish must be boxed or sacked and placed in alleys or at the curbs for pickup by the hauler.

Vyacheslav M. Molotov, above, remains a mystery to the world. The terse Russian announcement which declared that he was to be succeeded as foreign minister by Andrei Vishinsky made no mention of any post for which he may be slated.

4 CATHOLIC SCHOOLS FORM NORTH TEXAS ATHLETIC LEAGUE

Four parochial high schools of this area solved their most pressing athletic problem at Denison Sunday by forming the North Texas Catholic Interscholastic League. Charter members of the organization are Sacred Heart of Muenster, St. Mary's of Gainesville, St. Xavier's of Denison and St. Joseph's of Sherman.

Officers elected were Charles Ingram of Denison as president and Frank Hennigan as secretary treasurer.

The principal purpose of forming the league is to help the four schools arrange athletic schedules, Frank Hennigan explained. Being outside the interscholastic league of public schools the four teams have had trouble matching games in the past. Henceforth the league schedule will take up most of their season and leave only a few more dates to be filled in.

While the league has only four member teams its football schedule will consist of a double round robin arrangement where

FOUR NAMES APPEAR ON TRUSTEE BALLOT AS DEADLINE NEARS

Reports that were rumors last week are official this week. Four persons said to be candidates for school trustees in the election of Saturday April 2 have had their names entered on the ballot. They are B. J. Sicking, Arthur Helman, Jerome Pagel, and Tony Walterscheid.

Regarding the election Herbert Meurer school board secretary, cautioned this week that the deadline for announcing on the ticket is Tuesday, March 22. Any person desiring to run for a trustee position is urged to report to Meurer on or before that date.

He also reminded that the coming election will name a trustee to the county school board, and that the only chance of getting representation from this area is to enter a candidate on the county ticket.

Outstanding Array Of Talent Awaits Electrification Day

When members of the Cooke County Electric Co-op and other hundreds of visitors gather here for Rural Electrification Day on Tuesday March 29 they will find a program packed with the most outstanding array of talent ever mustered for a single event in this community.

Letters received to date by the program committee assure the presence of three persons, either of whom could distinguish the meeting in his own right. And other notable additions are still possible.

One of the headliners is Mark Love of the public relations department of the Curtis Candy Company. He will present his nationally famous act entitled "The Romance of Uncle Sam," which is described as a blend of song and speech, laughs and tears, entertainment and inspiration, to make up a powerful pep talk on American citizenship. His message is to cherish the sacred traditions and institutions of our country and guard them against the attacks of subversive isms.

Another is R. E. Jackson of the TSCW faculty in Denton. A popular humorist and after dinner speaker, he is one of the favorites of North Texas, and his appearance rates as the leader among entertainment features of the program.

Sharing the limelight with them is A. C. Spencer, Southwestern representative of the nationwide Friends of the Land Society, a non profit organization dedicated to the conservation of land, water and man. His message will be on the urgent need of awakening national consciousness to the appalling loss of precious top soil and the enormous damage caused by floods every year.

Murray Cox who is widely known over North Texas for his daily farm program over station WFAA, has written to advise the program committee that he has a conflicting date on March 29. As guest of the Cooke County Vocational Agriculture class he is due to be in Gainesville on that day. He stated, however, that he will be in Muenster if anything should happen to change his previous plan.

GINGER PRINCE, SIX YEAR-OLD STAR OF "LAWTON STORY" FAVORS COWGIRL CAREER

HOLLYWOOD.— Anybody want a beautiful cowgirl — about 15 years from now? Ginger Prince, 6-year-old star of "The Lawton Story" has decided that's what she wants to be when she grows up. Maybe not full time — Hallmark Productions will see to it that her talents are kept busy — but she'd like to live on a ranch.

It all started when she made a trip through Texas last summer with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Prince of Alanta and Beverly Hills, Calif. Friendly Texans entertained them royally. Ginger romped with the riders of the purple sage and really made herself at home on the range.

Last December Hallmark Productions went on location in Lawton, Okla. for exterior sequences in "The Lawton Story". Ginger was charmed anew by southwestern hospitality — this time in the Sooner State.

With other Hallmark stars, Ginger will visit Texas and Oklahoma soon again. "The Lawton Story" will world-premiere in Lawton, Okla. on April 1. The film tells the story of Rev. Mark Wallock, who fathered the famed annual Wichita Mountain pageant. Entire proceeds of the premiere will benefit the pageant, with seats in two Lawton theatres bringing the highest prices in movie history — $1,000 down to $5. A crowd of 100,000 persons is expected to be on hand.

Reception ceremonies in the afternoon will be held in the Elk's hall and will be concluded with a banquet. Members of the local court will join in the afternoon program.

Candidates from here are Mrs. Heman Fette, Mrs. E. A. Schmitz, Misses Johann Seyler, Bertie Lou Baumhardt and Marian Starke.

TEACHERS MEETING

Mrs. Knauf is the former Miss Louise Felderhoff and the baby is the first grandchild of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Felderhoff. Mrs. John Knauf is the paternal grandmother. The christening ceremony took place Wednesday afternoon with Father Herman officiating and Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Felderhoff serving as sponsors. The baby's name is Mary Jane.

Washington Newsletter

By Congressman Ed Gossett

Washington, D. C., March 12.—We have let Saturday slip up on us again before writing this newsletter which means we have to send it air mail in order to reach our district papers in time. This delay was occasioned primarily by the bitter debate in the House over the extension of rent controls. We have not yet disposed of this bill on which final vote will be taken on Tuesday.

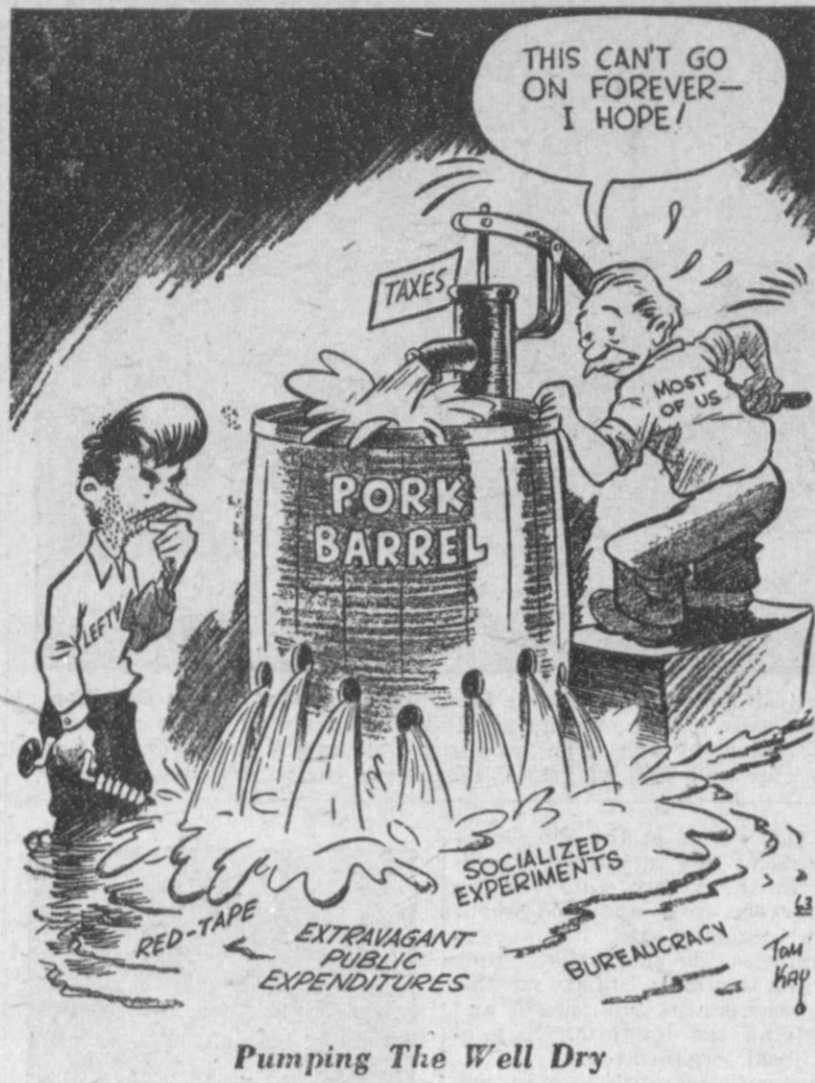

Tomorrow I am flying down to New Orleans with the Immigration Subcommittee to see the landing of the first boat load of DPs to dock in the Southwest Heretofore, all have gone into New York City. The Committee will fly back to Washington Monday afternoon. It is doubtful that we will learn much on this trip.

I have just finished examining a huge contour relief map in the main lobby of the House Office Building. This is probably the largest such map in the world. It required the work of 20 engineers and a period of 8 months to build. It depicts 50,000 square miles of land extending from Hoover Dam to the Mexican border and west from the Colorado River to the Pacific Ocean. The map contains 250 separate pieces and is built to scale. It follows closely engineering maps which took 16 surveying parties more than 4 years to prepare. The Hoover Dam is 727 feet tall and creates Lake Mead, the largest reservoir in the United States. The cost of Hoover Dam and its tremendous power plant exceeds $500,000,000. All of this cost will be repaid by the users of the water and electricity, largely people of Los Angeles and Southern California. The Imperial Valley irrigation district which gets its water from this project has a gross area of 882,788 acres of which more than 500,000 are under cultivation. Our great rivers with their gigantic dams and power projects constitute one of our most valuable natural resources.

This week I have received telegrams from organizations of Jewish war veterans asking me to support a bill pending before the Judiciary Committee to give them a national charter. This means to incorporate them similar to the incorporation of the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars, which organizations have national charters granted under laws passed by Congress. Most members of our Committee are opposed to this legislation. We do not think that the Jewish War Veterans, or the Catholic War Veterans, or the Protestant War Veterans should incorporate as such. This it seems to us, tends to create class consciousness along racial and religious lines and to be contrary to the democratic spirit which should permeate our citizenship.

This morning I had the pleasure of shaking hands with Captain James Gallagher who recently flew our B-50 non-stop around the world. Scientific development in the field of aviation, both offensively and defensively, is amazing. I am told that our scientists have recently developed a new paint which makes planes impervious to radar. In other words, planes with this paint can fly through an area of radar without being detected. Our government should keep such patents a secret and should rigidly control the manufacture of such paint. We are also told that we have guided missiles that "think". For example, it is said a photograph of a particular area is arranged in the nose of such missile and such missile seeks out the area and attacks it. When missiles are so sensitive and effective as to follow planes accurately, then planes may become very vulnerable to these ingenious monsters.

A graphic illustration of the difference between government operation of industry and private operation of industry is the history of American railroads during World War I and World War II. During World War I under government operation, the railroads operated at a loss of $1,123,000,000. During World War II under private operation, the railroads made perhaps billions of dollars. Furthermore, during World War I we had near chaos in the movement of freight, while during World War II we moved vastly more quantities of goods with no piling up or confusion. In other words, private enterprise operated vastly more efficiently and economically than did government enterprise. This is something to think about.

that these plans are to be scrapped.

This is nothing short of suicide. The complexity of modern aircraft plans and production will not permit year-to-year juggling. Airpower must be carefully planned in advance and then followed through on a business-like, rational basis.

In the opening days of the 81st Congress, Representative Carl Hinshaw (Calif.), vice-chairman of the Congressional Air Policy Board, expressed his feeling and that of other Congressmen about this threat to our national safety. Said Mr. Hinshaw:

"While all of the groups that have surveyed the problem, recommended an Air Force of 70 groups, the budget that has been given us proposes only 48 groups.

"This budget is so startling that there is very little one can say about it except to ask for an explanation. What in the international situation has justified the abandonment of the long-term plan that competent authorities have deemed so essential? How have our foreign relations improved to justify abandoning the 70-group program? What reason is there for ignoring the findings of the Air Coordinating Committee, the Senate Committee to Investigate the National Defense Program, the President's own 'Finletter Commission', the Congressional Aviation Policy Board, and the survey of Stanford University?"

"This budget means that aircraft production programs, just barely started, must be cut back. Indeed, the cutbacks with their attendant layoffs of skilled workers already have begun. In addition, large sums of money already expended for tooling, for expanded facilities and for recruiting of workers, will be wasted. Yet, we are going to waste these sums of money and toss our expansion plans out of the window. We will have to repeat the process of tooling up and expanding sometime, only it will be more costly. We will have lost time."

From all the hot arguments as to whether we require a 70-group Air Force or whether a 48-group will suffice, one thing stands out like a sore thumb—the basic necessity for long-range planning, and a following through on those plans. This nation just cannot afford to be "too late with too little" in planes, personnel and production facilities. It is true that "it's better to learn late than never," but it's awfully late right now. Write your Congressman and your two U. S. Senators to give their immediate attention to this grave problem.

Opportunity doesn't knock these days; it rings the phone and asks a silly question.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Never Too Late To Learn

Cappy Miller's young son, Squint, is forever coming up with new ideas. Now they're not all world beaters, but Cappy is usually willing to give them a try.

Seems Squint found a new way to clear brush. They take two tractors, about thirty feet apart, and connect them with a heavy chain weighted down on the ground with old iron. First they both go parallel in one direction, then they go back over the same swath in the opposite direction and up comes the brush—roots and all. Worked fine and saved time.

That's why things go so well at the Miller farm. Cappy is open-minded, tolerant of new ideas and new ways of doing. He doesn't think his way is the only way.

From where I sit, a little tolerance will make things go better for all of us. You respect my views and I'll respect yours—whether it's on farming, politics, or choosing between an ice cream soda or a temperate glass of beer.

The American Way

IT'S AWFULLY LATE

By George Peck

The Administration and Congress are flirting with disaster in their policy of "Better late than never" regarding national defense and especially about airpower.

It is agreed by the military experts that America must have top-grade airpower to maintain its safety and all are unanimous in pronouncing that to assure building that vital airpower, we must have a program covering a minimum of five years.

In 1948, after several years of study, Congress authorized the beginning of a 5-year program on a minimum basis. It appropriated enough money to inaugurate the program. It was estimated that, followed to its logical conclusion, by 1953 we would have a first-grade airpower, with good, new planes, personnel to fly and maintain them, and production facilities adequate not only to handle replacement but for quick expansion in case of emergency.

That was last year, but now as Congress digs into the new budget, this program has vanished into thin air. Originally, the 5-year program called for 70 air groups by 1953. Under the new proposals this is to be cut to 48 groups. After spending a full year arranging the business of airpower for the next five years, aiming at a safe, sure goal, our Air Force now learns

NOW IS THE BEST TIME TO DESTROY A COLONY OF CUT ANTS

COLLEGE STATION.—The time to kill a colony of cut ants is when the colonies are weakest, when there aren't any young queens, and when there are ordinarily very few young ants being produced.

The time is now. What ants are present are gathered in the central town, and the queens are found grouped together in a central cavity in this town. Since the queen's job is to add one quart of carbon disulphide (highlife). Then cover all the colony entrances in the vicinity. Gunter warns the ant killers not to set fire to the highlife. Just let it soak into the ground.

R. J. Greenshields of Wood River, Ill., tunes up the motor of the 1937-model automobile which he drove 74.22 miles on a single gallon of gasoline. His secret, he says, involved tinkering which "no car owner in his right mind" would undertake. For example, he increased the engine compression ratio, installed a special two-jet carburetor, eliminated all possible brake drag, used the lightest possible lubricants, and filed tires down to a narrow tread surface.

In either case, whichever way you decide to kill the queens, the treatment may have to be repeated in three or four weeks, says Gunter. But it isn't always necessary.

Mrs. J. M. Weinzappel joined her son, Rev. Thomas Weinzappel of Valley View, on a trip to Wichita Falls Thursday to take their sister and aunt, Mrs. S. P. Otto, back to her home after a three day visit here. While in Wichita they visited another sister of Mrs. Weinzappel, Mrs. Ed Otto, at Bethania hospital. It was the first day she was permitted to have company following a major operation. She is making a normal recovery according to reports from her family this week.

The smaller ant hills are connected to the main colony by underground passages, which may sometimes be a quarter of a mile long. It's through these subways the workers carry the cut leaves to the central town.

A two or three percent chlordane solution, made up of a chlordane wettable powder or an emulsion form, may be used in the control of cut ants, says Gunter. Pour about a half gallon of this solution down each opening of the colony.

Another good method is to dig up a shovelful of dirt at the surface opening to the passageway into the interior, then pour a barrelful of water down this passageway. As the last gallon or two runs down into the ant hill,

Softball Girls Organize

The first meeting of the Muenster girls softball team held in the ball park last Friday resulted in general agreement that there will be a team, its first practice will be held this Friday, any other interested girls are still welcome to try out, and the election of a captain was to be postponed a week to allow any newcomers to vote. They did not wait however to decide on colors for their new uniforms. The choice is blue and white.

New Plymouth on Display

Plymouth's new special deluxe four-door sedan (above). Throughout the new Plymouth line beautifully streamlined bodies are lower and narrower, seats are wider and headroom greater. At the same time overall exterior dimensions are reduced, but wheelbase has been lengthened to 118 inches and glass area is increased. Horsepower is raised to 97. Although fenders flow gracefully into the body they are detachable for ease in repair.

New Plymouth Features Beauty, Performance, Safety and Comfort

Brilliant new styling is combined with outstanding riding comfort, increased roominess, and sweeping mechanical improvements in the new line of Plymouth automobiles.

Completely redesigned, the new Plymouth has a longer wheelbase for a better ride and more road stability, but less front and rear overhang for easier parking and garaging. While the silhouette has been lowered and the width decreased, there is more head and leg room and seats are wider. Typical of Plymouth's many refinements is the ignition-starter combination, with which a turn of the key starts the engine.

The new Plymouths are sleek in appearance. New rear-end styling provides a graceful balance with the horizontal grille lines which emphasize the broadness of the front. Fenders which blend perfectly into body lines are nevertheless separate and detachable, thus avoiding sheet metal panels so costly to repair or replace.

The new Plymouth line includes nine distinct automobiles. Special deluxe and deluxe types are on a 118-inch wheelbase, one inch longer than last year's. Special deluxe models are: four-door sedan, club coupe, convertible club coupe and station wagon. In the deluxe group are the four-door sedan and the club coupe. In addition, Plymouth will build three deluxe models on a brand new 111-inch wheelbase, a two-door sedan, a three-passenger coupe, and a new body type, the Suburban.

The 97-horsepower engine has improved performance and efficiency with a new design cylinder head which increases compression ratio to 7 to 1. A new chrome plated compression piston ring reduces cylinder wear and provides greater protection during the break-in period. There are improved oil rings for greater oil economy, while a newly-designed intake manifold induces quicker, smoother engine warm-up and produces faster throttle response.

Body styling which produces greater passenger room without excessive bulk also increases visibility. V-type windshields have 37 percent more area and provide excellent vision without distortion. Windshield wipers clear 61.5 percent greater area and the rear window is 35.4 percent larger.

Dorothy Beyer drove to Sherman Sunday to visit Mrs. Bob Yosten and Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Korioth. Mrs. Yosten has been taking care of Mrs. Korioth since she suffered a stroke in November. She is recovering nicely.

Douglas John is the name of the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Martin. He was baptised Sunday, Father Herman officiating. Henry Pels and Mrs. Henry Walterscheid were sponsors. Mrs. Martin and the baby were dismissed from Gainesville sanitarium Thursday.

The junior and senior girls Glee Club of Sacred Heart school presented a fifteen minute program over radio station KGAP Gainesville, Wednesday at 1:15. Jeanette Meurer played the piano accompaniment. Time for the weekly broadcast in the future is 1:15 to 1:30.

Omer Baumhardt left early this week to begin his new work as technician for a dairy herd improvement association at Waco. Formerly working at the machinist trade in Wichita Falls, he recently enrolled in a special 10 day short course in dairy husbandry at A & M College. He completed the course last Friday and spent the weekend here.

Walter Streng who formerly lived here is now in the Marines stationed on Guam Island. He is the son of Sylvester Streng of Temple. In a letter to friends here last week he said he was fine and included regards to all his old friends. His address is Pfc. Walter G. Streng, 1083445, H. S. Co., Shore Party Bn., 1st Prov. Mar. Brig. FMF, c-o F.P.O., San Francisco, Calif.

Mrs. Joe Luke, member of the Muenster Garden Club, has received her certificate on completion of course 4 at the Flower Judging School held in Gainesville recently. Accompanying the certificate was a letter informing Mrs. Luke that her papers were included in three sets of papers sent to the National Council in New York as samples of excellent grades made.

Notes On Soil Conservation

Waterway sodding is getting more attention in the Muenster work unit area than ever before, according to officials of the local unit, who point out that this soil conservation practice is one of the jobs that is not hard to do but is hard to get started on. Every farm has one or more waterways that receive runoff water and these become eroded ditches without some sort of erosion protection. A permanent grass cover is the best possible protection. Farmers are observing that runoff water from good stands of grass is never very muddy.

Some of the farmers in the Muenster work unit area who have been sodding waterways this week are Eugene Klement, Tony Hesse, Joe and John Kleiss, Tony Walterscheid, Felix Becker, Roy Townsley, Al Schmitt, Henry Sicking, C. B. Sears and Clem Hofbauer. These farmers are using Bermuda grass sprigs and the waterways are all in cultivated land. The average size of the waterway is 4 acres and the average area contributing runoff water is 75 acres. This area, when terraced, will require an average of three miles of terraces.

F. J. Hacker has seeded a waterway to a bluestem grass mixture and will use it for meadow.

J. H. Coursey has seeded two waterways to the bluestem grass mixture.

J. A. Denison is seeding a 5 acre plot to Indian grass for seed production. He is planting the grass in three foot rows to allow for cultivation and fertilization. Indian grass is an excellent native grass and the demand for seed far exceeds the supply.

ATHLETIC LEAGUE

by each school meets each other school twice. That will give each team six games as a season starter. If and when more teams join, the league schedule will be changed to one game with each member.

Arrangements for basketball and baseball schedules will be made at another time.

The regulations adopted are similar to the Texas Interscholastic League eligibility rules with the exception of the eight semester rule. The age limit will be the same as that applying to public schools.

Eight Report On Egg Production for February

Results of the Egg Laying contest in Cooke county for the month of February show that eight flock owners in the county are participating in the program. The contest is sponsored by the A & M extension service in an attempt to improve and increase egg production.

County Agent B. T. Haws announced the owners and their records as follows: J. L. Purcell, 4250 eggs from 166 hens; Paul Fisher, 2035 eggs, 159 hens; Mrs. Tony Nehib, 2306 eggs, 94 hens; Ben Otto, 1227 eggs, 82 hens; Paul Schniederjan, 1167 eggs, 86 hens; H. N. Fuhrmann, 706 eggs, 106 hens; Mrs. Henry Hess, 2870 eggs, 250 hens; Ted Neu, 887 eggs, 141 hens; Fisher, Otto and Schniederjan culled their flocks and Mrs. Nehib, Otto, Schniederjan and Neu suffered casualties in their flocks during the month.

Charlie Winchester has recovered from an illness that confined him to his home north of Muenster for more than a week.

This Korean farmer tills the soil as his father did, with ox and wooden plow, but he is more prosperous. His father worked as a tenant, but under Korea's new land reforms the son will soon own his own land. Korean farmers can buy land for three times the annual production of its main crop. ### COUNTY FARMERS AND BUSINESS MEN FORM AGRICULTURAL CLUB

The Cooke County Agricultural Club, originated in an open meeting in the Gainesville Chamber of Commerce building a month ago, was formally organized Tuesday night with the election of 18 directors consisting of 10 farmers, 6 business men and 2 workers.

The purpose of the club, as explained at the meeting, is to promote a better and closer relationship between farmers and business men. Though mutual helpfulness is the intended objective, it is conceded that farmers are to be the principal beneficiaries. As a starter the group has resolved to give special attention to soil conservation work.

Directors elected are Jake Biffle, Jr., Willard Kemplin, W. T. Bonner, Kenneth Alexander, J. T. Biffle, Jr., Jake Bezner, Howard Springer, W. B. Hudspeth, Ted Neu, Herman Schniederjan, B. A. Dillard, Frank Morris, J. M. Weinzapfel, Ralph Couch, Johnie Wilson, Leo Kuehn, B. T. Haws and Lacy B. Wheeler.

Meeting in a session of their own immediately after the election the directors elected officers as follows: Willard Kemplin, president; Ralph Couch, vice-president; Lacy B. Wheeler, secretary-treasurer.

Collegiate homecoming celebrations originated in 1910 at the University of Illinois.

While her mother goes through customs, little Irma Rukseniene, 3, one of 467 displaced persons arriving in New York aboard the SS Marine Jumper, gets a hand-out from Red Cross canteen worker Mrs. Ely Worthman. Irma and her mother are from Kaunas, Lithuania, and will live with relatives in Naugatuck, Conn.

Wilfred Klement, Muenster 4-H Club boy, and son of Mr. and Mrs. Norbert Klement, has bought the registered Jersey female, Brampton Pinn's Pet. The animal comes from the herd owned by Mrs. J. G. Partner of Breckenridge, Texas, and adds to the steadily growing number of Jerseys in this area.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Bezner and son were dinner guests of Mrs. Walter Richter in Muenster Saturday. County Dairy Day Next Wednesday to Have Lively Program

The broadcast of Murray Cox, the appearance of at least three speakers on dairy subjects and a total of more than $400 in prizes assure a lively and interesting program for Cooke County Dairy Day to be held in the Fair Park Livestock building in Gainesville next Wednesday, March 23, between 10 and 4 o'clock.

County Agent B. T. Haws released the program here this week and also stated that the event is attracting a gratifying number of livestock entries by adults and 4-H club members. Any others who wish to compete are asked to send their entries to the county agent's office this week.

Three hundred dollars of the prize money will go to owners of the winning livestock exhibits. Another $100 will be awarded in junior and adult judging contests. Still more prize money will be distributed for the best guesses in a contest on the butter-fat production of one of the cows on exhibit. All prize money has been supplied by 20 Cooke county business firms, including the bank and the cheese factory of Muenster.

Exhibits of modern dairy equipment will also have a place at the show.

The program, as announced by County Agent Haws, is as follows:

All livestock is expected in the barn before 9 o'clock. Judging contests begin at 10 and last until lunch at 11:30.

12:15 — Murray Cox RFD will broadcast his daily farm program from the livestock building.

12:30 — Discussions by D. I. Dudley of the Denton Experiment Station on "Permanent and Temporary Pastures"; by G. G. Gibson of A&M dairy husbandry department on "The Value of Silage in a Dairy Program", and by A. F. Scheid of Whitesboro on "The Value of a Dairy Herd Improvement Association to Dairymen."

people who sacrificed and economized for many a year to assure their own security.

At the same time we have to be realistic enough to understand that the government can hardly favor a lower level. Its tremendous debt, accumulated during the depression and the war can be met only with cheap money.

Let us forget, another factor may possibly be involved. And that's communism. This isn't to insinuate that the people who guide our destinies are reds, but only to observe that industrial strife, spiraling inflation, and any other disturbing effect on the smooth operation of our national economy all fit in with communist objectives. In this connection let's be mindful that reds and pinks have always been emphatic about adjusting our economy by raising wages. And let's also be mindful that their recommendations as a rule are anything but good for the country — because they are fanatically dedicated to the overthrow of our government.

Getting back to that report from the U. S. Department of Labor concerning the proposed 75 cent minimum range, let's take a moment more to notice a very irritating characteristic, the kind that is apparent in far too much of the propaganda coming out of Washington bureaus. The story says the 75 cent minimum wage law should be of great benefit to small merchants and farmers although both groups are exempt from the law's requirements. Get the idea? Here are two groups of citizens being reminded in Washington's subtle way that they have another opportunity to get something for nothing, therefore they should support the law.

Too much of our do-good legislation is promoted by playing up the idea that certain groups will have easy pickings and other groups will be stuck with the cost. Eventually the easy pickings and the costs are both pretty well spread out, but everybody seems to notice that his own costs are far greater than his receipts.
