NOVEMBER 25, 1960

The climax in this community's $250,000 hospital building campaign is at hand. Final preparations are under way this week for the kickoff dinner and rally to be held Saturday night in Muenster High School to start the actual drive which has been building up for more than a month.

NUMBER

The event will begin at 7:30 when some 400 campaign workers gather in the gymnasium for the dinner. After that, between 8:15 and 8:30, they will go to the auditorium for a stage show and the campaign program. Outstanding attraction of of the evening is an act by Gillette and Richards of Dallas, professional entertainers who have performed in the leading clubs of New York and Chicago as well as other large cities both here and abroad. They are a husbandwife team, bringing their act here without charge as a contribution to the hospital campaign. Realizing that campaign workers will not fill the auditorium, hospital directors are extending invitations to others to come and see the show. They will be welcome, as accommodations allow, after campaign workers have been seated. Visitors are also encouraged to remain longer and hear more about the proposed hospital, its importance to the community, and the urgency of success in the campaign. A part of that story will be told by William Goforth, administrator of the Atoka Memoriol Hospital, Atoka, Okla. He will be the featured speaker, explaining how the 26-bed Atoka Hospital, open less than a year, is already operating profitably and rates as a leading community asset. One such emergency came to our attention only a few days ago. A serious and painful injury resulting from a fall could have been treated much earlier if a hospital had been here. There have been other emergencies in the past. There will be more in the future. Perhaps an accident. Perhaps a heart attack or a stroke. Perhaps a ruptured appendix or some other critical illness in which minutes are important. No one knows when or to whom the time will come, but the law of averages tells us that more of these cases can be expected. And when they come we will be deeply grateful for the saving of precious time made possible by the nearness of our hospital.

The emergency factor is not Newcastle Beats the only incentive, however. health department show that hospital facilities in this area are inadequate. Construction of our hospital will bring direct relief to that condition in this immediate locality, and indirect relief to the surrounding area by reducing the strain on other hospitals.

While considering the current shortage of medical service we come to another thought that deserves attention. The need is going to be met, either by us or by others. But too many are not willing to favor it with a comparable measure of their personal responsibility. They shirk what their conscience tells them should be accepted as an obligation. Their attitude is equivalent to saying "I'm for it, but let George do it."

Now is a good time to respond to the good advice given by the bishops in their statement of last week. There is an urgent need for more people to come forward and endorse the dictate of their reason with responsible action. Muenster needs a revival of the old time spirit which inspired its people to give enthusiastic and dium as Newcastle bombarded cooperative support to worth while projects.

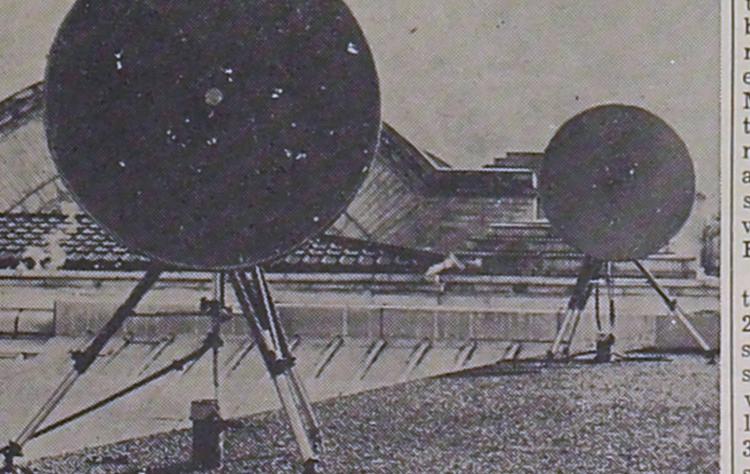

An awakening of personal responsibility is the only ingredient necessary to assure the success of this undertaking. The merit of the project is self evident. Available energies and funds are abundant. The job will be easy if reason is supported by willingness to work and to give. THAT LONG, HIGH LOOK-Early morning motorists in downtown Miami, Fla., were surprised when they found a Navy Neptune bomber blocking a heavily traveled highway. The plane, a gift to the city's children, was en route to its resting place in a municipal park, but didn't beat the rush-hour traffic.

Christmas cards, after the holiday season, get-well cards after recovery, and other occasion cards do double duty when the receivers send them on to be used in the hospitals and missions at home and Hoenig, until Monday when abroad.

Seeking cards, and gratefully accepting them, are three places which have published their addresses for that purpose. They are:

series and the study was on "Confirmation." One club held its first meeting studying "Baptism," and one group met for the third time with the lesson on "Holy Eucharist." One group meets regularly on Friday instead of Sunday, and another club meets on the fourth Sunday rather than on the third. Fifteen clubs are active.

The study was organized for the first sessions in September, then all but one dispensed with the meeting in October on account of mission services. Some of the groups will postpone December's meetings until January on account of holiday activity.

A brief resume on Sunday meetings shows that the club headed by Mrs. Arnold Rohmer met in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alois Rohmer with 11 members present and concluded the evening with visiting over coffee and cookies after the study period.

Mrs. Joe Hoenig's group met in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Bindel. Eight couples followed the study with games, coffee and cookies. Seven couples reported at the meeting in the home of the Andy Schoechs with Mrs.

32 Page Brochure Advertises Texas To Tourist Trade Austin, Texas - Like a debutante daughter in bouffant gown, Texas' many charms have been wrapped in a lavish, full-color booklet and presented for the attraction of free-spending visitors.

First of its kind ever published in Texas, the 32-page brochure was compiled by the State Highway Department and is being distributed free. First printing of 400,000 copies is being sent to travel agencies, clubs, newspapers, anywhere that it may be used to draw tourists to Texas.

It is one of the first big steps in a program to reverse Texas' decline in tourists revenue.

Texas is "twenty years behind the times" in advertising tourists attractions, says Tom H. Taylor, director of the Travel and Information Division of the Highway Department. Next goal is to get the Legislature to appropriate $300,000 to be used for media advertising over the country, as other states do.
