VOLUME XXVI

MUENSTER, COOKE COUNTY, TEXAS

MCH 16, 1962

NUMBER 17

Completely baffling to this column is the Administration's proposal to reduce tariffs on foreign trade and at the same time to provide financial assistance to the firms and employees who are expected to be hurt by foreign competition. If this policy is going to cost us, why is it even considered?

The big objective, it seems, is to pursue our theories of one-worldism to the limit by creating a more favorable business climate for other nations regardless of the cost to ourselves. This could be an extension of our political theory which permits repeated surrender of our own interests for the sake of greater harmony in the big happy family of nations.

To idealists the idea may be appealing. But to realists it presents the possibility of serious trouble. First of all, what about the firms and workers concerned? When tariffs are lowered or removed American business faces direct competition with foreign business, which has the advantage of being able to produce more cheaply. Wages in those other countries are less than half of ours. And equipment, as a result of our foreign aid program since the war, is as efficient as our own. Foreigners have a big advantage over us. They can undersell us in our markets as well as theirs. Many American firms will go broke, and their workers will be out of jobs.

To offset these losses the administration proposes to help distressed firms get established in other lines of manufacture and to help train distressed workers for other jobs. But what kinds of new business and new jobs do they have in mind? You can be sure that the ingenuity behind American free enterprise is already pursuing all known possibilities, all of which are already subject to the pressure of foreign competition. Or perhaps the administration is relying on technological progress to keep developing new opportunities as fast as they are needed to keep our economy sound. But then, what's to prevent foreign competition from entering the new fields and taking business away from our new firms? It's hard to see how we can expect to win in this kind of game.

Equally puzzling is the government's apparent lack of concern with the problem it creates for itself. If business and jobs will be lost, as the government concedes, tax revenue will drop sharply. But in the face of reduced income the government proposes to take on the added expenses of supporting distressed firms and workers. How's that going to be accomplished by a government which is already operating in the red? Unless by demanding still higher tribute from taxpayers who are not wiped out by foreign competition? In which case the increased tax can become a dangerous handicap to many of the surviving businesses.

As all of us are aware, this is not how the proposal is presented by its advocates. By complicated manipulation of economic theory they expect big benefits to offset the obvious problems. But to our simple way of thinking, the problems are inevitable whereas the compensations are far from assured.

Probably the most baffling feature of this whole affair is the government's artificial approach to the world trade snarl resulting from its own economic policies. For many years it has pursued the theory that ever rising wages and salaries are essential to economic progress. With tragic shortsightedness born of political expediency, it has favored repeated demands of big labor bosses until millions of American workers priced themselves out of the world market. Now that the day of reckoning has arrived it seeks to correct its boner by subsidizing those who are hurt.

That isn't the real solution. It's only relieving the pain instead of curing the ailment. If, as the facts reveal, our high wage standard is the cause of our trouble, reason demands that we drop that standard to a competitive level. The nation's need is the method whereby business and labor can take care of themselves, not this provision for salving their wounds indefinitely.

This suggestion will seem to many as the rankest economic heresy. But only because they are convinced that big pay is essential to progress. Now the time has come for them to realize that prosperity depends on the competition of the free market.

Al Koriath Asks For Election as Representative

Denison business man, Al Koriath, has formally announced his candidacy for State Representative 49-F (Cooke and Grayson Counties), the position held for the past 6 years by his brother, Tony Koriath. Al is 33 years of age and the older son of Mr. and Mrs. Tony Koriath of Sherman.

Mr. Koriath attended Sherman High School and Austin College. He received a Medal of Commendation for his service in Korea during the Korean war. ## Parish Observes Old Tradition on St. Joseph's Day

A tradition of the Sacred Heart Parish will be followed here next Monday when the feast of St. Joseph is observed as a holy day.

History of the special observance goes back to the early days of the parish in 1894. After two churches were destroyed by storms members invoked the protection of St. Joseph, patron of builders, and vowed to observe his feast as a holy day. The tradition has been continued ever since.

Program for the feast next Monday, March 19, is mass at 6 and 11:30 a.m. and 7 p.m. After the evening mass members of the St. Joseph's society will join with the St. Anne's society for their annual dinner and social. It will be in the parish hall, catered by Mrs. Joe Lehnertz.

The day is also the time for electing officers of the St. Joseph's society. Time out from the party will be used for the regular monthly meeting and that election.

Notes on Building and Improvement

Now at the framework stage is a new house being built by Community Lumber across Sixth Street from Sacred Heart Church. It will feature two bedrooms, carport, central heat and air conditioning.

Three other new houses started several weeks ago are near completion. They are for James Hess, Victor Koelzer and Mrs. Wesley Landsfeld. Well advanced north of Lindsay is a two bedroom house for the Willie Fuhrmanns. So is Tommy Felderhoff's 4 bedroom brick veneer job at Myra.

Also at Lindsay is a good sized remodel job for Weldon Bezner. He added a bathroom, made other inside changes and refinished three rooms in panel and acoustical tile. And Charles Neu has given his home a general remodel and repair job.

Felix Becker put a new roof on his home, repaired inside and finished two rooms in panel and acoustical tile.

Jim Embry worked over the house on a farm he bought near Forestburg. He added a bath and a double garage and finished rooms in panel and acoustical tile.

Remodeling at Sacred Heart rectory has converted a former room and back porch into a downstairs bedroom, bath and storage room.

Ed Klement is building kitchen cabinets and painting the interior of his house.

Dick Trachta has replaced his single garage with a double carport and a 6x10 tool room.

And L. A. Bernauer has a new 10-room bird house.

MHS Track Team Will Compete in N. Texas Relays

Muenster's presence was hardly noticed at the Gainesville track meet last Saturday but Coach Glenn Richardson was happy to have his boys there. They got more good practice and experience and they looked fine in spite of being swamped by an abundance of class 4-A talent. Twenty seven schools were entered and only three of them were class B: Muenster, Saint Jo and Era.

Mark Hellman was the only MHS point winner. He was second in the broad jump. He got close in the 100 yard dash, being nudged out in the semi-final heat. Six other boys turned in records that, according to Richardson, should be good for points in Class C action. He's expecting a good showing in the district meet.

This week the team will compete in the North Texas Relays at Denton. Next week they will be in Saint Jo for an invitation meet and the following week they return to Saint Jo for the district track meet.

Awards Banquet at Muenster Hi Dated Wed. March 28

Annual All-Awards Banquet at Muenster High School will be held Wednesday night, March 28, one day earlier than previously announced.

The change of date was made at a banquet committee meeting this week so as not to conflict with the Interscholastic League meet in Saint Jo.

The banquet program will be open to the public and tickets are on sale at $1.50 each.

NEWS OF THE SICK

Andy Hofbauer is back at home, dismissed from St. Paul's Hospital in Dallas Tuesday, and regaining his strength following a major operation Feb. 27. He plans to be back at the store part time starting this weekend.

Johnny Knabe's left arm is knitting normally after four weeks and is out of the full length cast since Monday. A steel brace will have to stay on for about two weeks. The break is between the wrist and elbow and was an accident in the oil field.

A fall from a bicycle Saturday afternoon resulted in a broken leg for Dwayne Rohmer and made him a shut-in at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Rohmer. It's the right leg, the break is between the knee and ankle and is in a cast. Dwayne observed his sixth birthday Thursday this week in bed.

C. A. Sanders returned to his usual oil field work Monday after a ten-day forced vacation on account of a sprained back that sent him to the hospital for four days.

Old Convent and Furnishings Sold At Public Auction

A public auction here last Saturday afternoon marked the completion of the Benedictine Sisters transfer from their old to their new home. The old house, along with contents which were not moved to the new convent, were sold at a sale in front of the house. Total receipts were $1800. Many of the items were eagerly bought as antiques.

Community Lumber Company brought the house and will begin promptly at salvaging the usable materials. The change ends about 50 years of semi pioneer living for the Benedictine Sisters in Muenster. Built in the early days of the parish the house was up to date at the time. More space and modern features were added in later years, but the place was only big and rambling as well as plain, poorly arranged and uncomfortable.

The new home has all that was lacking in the other. It combines beauty, modern conveniences and the comfort of year round controlled temperature.

THE GREAT ISSUE OF OUR TIME

The great issue of our time is not economic, it's moral. The U.S.A. has many problems. But one overshadows all others. That problem is morality. We try to bribe and buy the world. America is losing its sense of moral indignation. Coexistence is immoral. America is losing its guts. Pinks are people who're too yellow to be red.

Government compulsion is essentially evil. God made men free. Without freedom morality can't survive, without morality freedom can't survive. America has a great mission to perform. To save the world from slavery; to save the world for Christianity.

What can you do? If our Republic can be saved from becoming a Socialist-welfare-dictatorship it can only be saved the same way it was founded: by rebellious patriots. By a grass-roots revolution bent on unseating, defeating, impeaching these cynical manipulators of our lives. By responsible citizens demanding a return to the Constitution, the greatest freedom document ever devised by man. What can one person do? You can stand up and be counted — else you'll soon be counted out. You can believe in your God, in your country, and in yourself — and in that order. You can go to work for God and country. Maybe one man can't save our country — but he can try.

We cannot make a deal with the devil and get by. We cannot surrender principle and character without suffering the consequences. Only the fool says there is no God. And yet America, today, by our deeds, if not by our actual words, has gone the way of the fool. We have turned away from Him who blessed us with all we have.

Any government, without God, will either fall through decay from within or attack from without — or it will deteriorate into a tyrannical dictatorship. God help America. — Exchange

STILL — "CENSORSHIP BY TAXATION"

For some years there has been much controversy over a "censorship by taxation" ruling imposed by the Internal Revenue Service. It holds that a businessman, in making out his tax returns, cannot deduct as a business expense the money he spent trying to influence legislation. It was applied to many businesses — notably the investor-owned electric industry which, for obvious reasons, has extensively used advertising and other legitimate agencies of expression in presenting its side of the life-and-death public-vs-private power issue.

Now a House Committee has tentatively decided to take steps to guarantee the right to speak without incurring heavy tax penalties. And the danger is that people may come to believe that the Committee recommendations properly and adequately take care of this manifest injustice.

They do nothing of the kind. They go only a part of the way — and a small part. Specifically, they would allow the deduction only of expenses incurred in connection with "legislative appearances" — that is, in giving formal testimony before legislative bodies. Such appearances, obviously, are a relatively minor means of reaching the public with one's views pro or con on legislation. Still non-deductible, for example, would be newspaper advertisements a businessman might take out to discuss such matters as zoning ordinances and taxes, or letters and pamphlets mailed to employees and stockholders about some issue with legislative overtones.

One bill — the Boggs Bill — would revoke the IRS ruling and really assure freedom of speech and petition. Until such a bill is passed, we will continue to have "censorship by taxation".

COURTING UNEMPLOYMENT

Demands for unreasonably short work hours and higher wages will be the incentive for the invention and use of more and more labor-saving equipment.

Will the next step be to pay some people for not working in order to reduce a labor surplus the same as some farmers are paid to not plant in order to prevent overproduction?

Our economy can stand the strain of inflation up to a point just like a balloon — then boom — and we start over. There is no hedge against a wooden nickel.

Minerva was the goddess of Wisdom.

They have 14 candidates signed up — two more than their quota — and are going ahead with plans for a formal reception ceremony Sunday, March 25. Membership was discussed at the court's meeting Friday night and the initiation will bring total number of members to 102. In other business the group discussed the state convention to be held in San Angelo in April — the 27th through the 30th. Mrs. Steve Moster, grand regent, is the delegate and Mrs. Paul Fisher is her alternate. Other members are planning to attend.

Members also heard a report on the diocesan council meeting of NCCW in Dallas last week when plans were made to hold a one-day institute in Muenster on March 23. Featured speaker will be Father John O'Rourke of Des Moines, Iowa, national director of Catholic Rural Life Conference. Mrs. Paul Fisher attended the Dallas meeting and told about it.

Candidates for membership are Mmes. Joe Galloway, Frank Felderhoff, Henry Weinzapfel, Eddie Fleitman, Don Flusche, Arnold Muller, Wesley Landsfeld, Leo Sicking, Hank Walterscheid, Felix and Henry Yosten, Martin Becker, Jerome Pagel and Ernest Medders. After adjournment those present practiced drill work for the reception ceremonies.

Col. Joe Fletcher Quits Texas DPS And Joins TSCRA

Lt. Col. Joe Fletcher, Assistant Director of the Texas Department of Public Safety for the past 17 years, has resigned to become Secretary-General Manager of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association in Fort Worth, effective March 20.

Announcement of his resignation was made jointly by Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., DPS Director, and Dolph Briscoe, Jr. of Uvalde, President of the cattle raisers association.

In his new post Fletcher will work closely with Ernest Duke, Assistant Secretary of the Association to direct the affair of the largest cattlemen's association of its kind in the nation.

Fletcher, a native of Marysville, took his first job as an automobile mechanic in Gainesville in 1922, and after several months enlisted in the U. S. Navy for a period of four years.

Upon his discharge, he worked on the west Coast until 1929 and on October 14, 1931, he joined the Texas Department of Public Safety. He served as a patrolman in several Texas areas until his assignment to the DPS Bureau of Identification and Records.

On January 17, 1945, Fletcher was promoted to Assistant Director of the DPS, in which capacity he was charged directly with the operation of all of the training schools held by the state agency, the operation of the communications bureau which involved the development of a statewide network, as well as with assisting in the administration of the entire department.

Fletcher and his wife have three children, Joe S. Fletcher, Jr., 17; Jere F. Fletcher, 11; and Carol N. Fletcher, 8.

General Lee's sword was returned to him by General Grant after Lee's surrender at Appomattox.

Standard Symbols Feature State's New Highway Map

The pioneering Texas Highway Department — originator of a proposal to standardize symbols on state maps for easier understanding by motorists — features some of the new symbols on its 1962 Official Highway Travel Map.

A four-color beauty with "See Texas" as its theme, the new map is now available free to the public.

In 1956, Texas recommended that a standard set of symbols be adopted for use on all state maps — to make the maps easier to read for motorists crossing from one state into another. This proposal was eventually adopted by the American Association of State Highway Officials and within the next few years all official state highway maps will be using these accepted standard symbols. When this standardization is effected, none of the road symbols should be "foreign" to a motorist traveling anywhere in the United States — provided the map he consults utilizes AASHO symbols.

Use of the AASHO color symbols indicating the network of Interstate, U. S. and State highways, and Farm to Market roads in Texas keynotes the major changes in the latest edition of the popular travel map.

On the new map, U. S. highways and Farm to Market roads — both formerly indicated in black — are now in a red band and a blue band respectively. Shields for U. S. highways remain red; but Farm to Market road shields, which were black, now are "boxes" in blue, too.

Officials of the Texas Highway Department said that markings for the State highways will remain a black band. Also, Interstate Highways will retain their two narrow black bands with a red center. This is the standard symbol for showing Interstate Highway System.

Multilane-divided highway miles now completed and shown on the new map total 2,131 miles. They include sections of the seven National Systems of Interstate and Defense Highways throughout Texas.

This year's map has more than 698 Farm to Market and Ranch to Market road miles added. Approximately 20,848 miles of the state's more than 33,000-mile Farm to Market road system now under maintenance are shown on the map. So are the 26,921 miles of Interstate, U. S. and State highways.

The 1962 map plots 1,828 cities and towns. It also features twelve insets, which are not city maps but maps showing major routes in the state's dozen largest cities. They are Amarillo, Austin, Beaumont, Corpus Christi, Dallas, El Paso, Fort Worth, Houston, Lubbock, San Antonio, Waco, and Wichita Falls.

Free copies of the new Texas motoring map may be obtained by writing the Texas Highway Department, P. O. Box 5064, Austin. The map also is available at the 25 highway district offices and eight Tourist Bureaus throughout the state. County tax offices have map cards for requesting copies of the map.

Distribution of the 1962 Official Highway Travel Map is estimated at 750,000 copies, but demand for this motorist's must might push the estimate near the million mark.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

OUR SOIL ★ OUR STRENGTH

Another step toward halting needless flooding on Clear Creek of the Trinity River has been taken with the completion of flood prevention sites 23, 24 and 25 which were finished last week. Sites 23 and 24 are located on the C. A. Willis ranch north-west of Forestburg and site 25 is on Charlie Poyner's land in the same area.

These three bring the number of upstream floodwater retarding structures on Clear Creek to 18 on which the dirt work is completed. The Soil Conservation Service vegetative crew has sodded common Bermuda grass on 14 of these structures to date.

With 18 sites completed and four due completion within the next few weeks, run-off water will be retarded from 39,968 acres — a little more than a third of the total drainage area in the 52 structures planned on the Clear Creek watershed.

The Upper Elm-Red SCS upstream flood prevention program is designed to get most of the water into the ground through good soil conserving practices on each farm and to prevent land losses. Water that does run off will be impounded in the 52 small reservoirs and released at a slow rate to prevent flooding the rich bottomlands.

NOTES FROM CITY LIBRARY

Muenster Public Library has received a number of interesting books since the last Notes appeared in this column and now after weeks of "too much activity to prepare a book review" library attendants have "simply taken time out" to prepare brief sketches of some of the recent additions to the library shelves.

Acquiring a filing cabinet and tending to files has been a major job the past few weeks. Moving in new shelves and getting them lined with books has also taken time and labor. This in addition to checking out books in large numbers and, of course, checking them back in on Wednesday which is Library Day.

Among new books is "Apostle of Brazil" by Helen G. Dominian. It is the first full account of the life of Padre Jose de Anchieta, the sixteenth century priest who spent his adult life among Brazil's Indian cannibals. He was nurse, surgeon, priest and friend to his beloved "Brazilis."

Born of noble ancestry, a relative of St. Ignatius Loyola, Jose in his teens suffered an accident that gave him curvature of the spine. He was sent to Brazil in 1553 for his health and remained until his death in 1597.

Besides his demanding and wide-spread work, the Padre found time to write a grammar in the Indian language, to teach Latin to his Jesuit brothers and to chronicle important events. He became the virtual initiator of Brazilian literature.

Another new book is "Courage for the Crisis" by Arthur S. Maxwell. Amid all the terrors of a disintegrating civilization some will stand unmoved. They will draw spiritual sustenance from the word of God and will find ample courage for the crisis. Reading this book will inspire one to have strength for today and hope for tomorrow; and find peace of mind and fortitude of spirit for the dangerous days ahead.

All through the ages, changing times challenge humanity to keep devotion to duty and courage for the crisis. The darkest days of history produced some of the greatest minds and made some of the most epochal scientific discoveries.

"Planet in Rebellion" by George E. Vandeman and "Your Bible and You" by Arthur S. Maxwell, recent library additions, are inspirational books to give spiritual strength during these perilous times. These two and "Courage for the Crisis" are contributions from Mr. and Mrs. Joe Linn.

Also new and waiting to be checked out to high school students, especially, are eight volumes of William M. Thackeray's works.

Muenster Public library has books for every age reader and for every desired type of reading including mystery, science, literature and arts. And always the newest magazines each month. Magazines are checked out the same way and for the same time as books.

Study Program Is Main Feature of Garden Club Meet

Muenster Civic League and Garden Club's March meeting Monday night featured a study program led by Mrs. L. B. Bruns, club president.

Members answered a set of 25 questions given them last month, and reviewed the answers in a round table discussion.

The meeting was held in Mrs. oe Luke's home with Mrs. Edd McGannon as co-hostess. A St. Patrick's Day theme was stressed in a refreshment plate served before the meeting.

Nineteen members answered roll call by naming "The Most Treasured Thing in My Garden." The club welcomed two new members, Mrs. Ernest Medders and Mrs. Arthur Bordeaux.

The club is anxious to have representation at a flower show school in Denton next month and several members indicated interest in attending.

Spring flowers which luckily escaped recent freezes were used for decorating the Luke home. The coffee table in the living room held an arrangement of daffodils, forsythia, hyacinths and fern. On the mantle was a mass of Bougainvillea and on an end table, a bowl of pansies. Spring flowering bulbs adorned the den.

Hostesses for the April meeting will be Mrs. Nick Miller and Mrs. John Mosman. The program will be highlighted by a talk by Neil Tibbets, county agent, on "Summer Care of Tomato Plants."

Lindsay News

Mrs. Jake Kuhn has been dismissed from Gainesville Sanitarium after X-rays and observation and is back at her home since Friday. She was hospitalized 16 days and says many thanks to all who remembered her with prayers, cards and other kindnesses during that time.

Infant Denise Lucy Fuhrmann was baptized Sunday afternoon in St. Peter's Church by Father John Walbe with Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Hoenig of Muenster as sponsors for their niece. She is the seventh daughter of the Erwin Fuhrmanns who also have one son. The Jerry Hoenigs and their children and the new baby's grandmother, Mrs. Sophie Stoffels, all had dinner at noon in the Erwin Fuhrmann home and the christening service was at 2 o'clock.

Lindsay 4-H Clubs won red ribbons on their two entries in the Share-The-Fun Festival Monday night when the county contest was held. A group of junior girls presented a Virginia Reel and senior girls appeared in a skit "Romance at Curveless Corner."

Four-H girls had Mrs. Evelyn Yeatts with them for their March meeting discussing the annual Dress Revue scheduled for April 7. She also discussed posture and illustrated with posters. Modern Miss pamphlets were distributed. Rosemary Hermes presided.

Thirty-three children reported at Lindsay Parish Hall Monday for the March meeting of the Craft Club. Mrs. Bob Lutz and Mrs. Norbert Rohmer worked with two groups of girls and Mrs. Johnny Arendt and Mrs. Al Bengfort worked with the boys. The group headed by Mrs. Andy Arendt and Mrs. Ray Laux postponed their meeting on account of a death in Mrs. Laux's family. They will meet later.

Betty Mae Rohmer has her right foot in a cast since a fall that resulted in pulled ligaments. She'll be off of it for about four weeks, meanwhile is getting around on crutches. Betty Mae is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norbert Rohmer.

Senior girls won a blue ribbon on two melodies - Catch a Falling Star and Mocking Bird Hill. Participants were Charlotte Wolf, Janice Vogel, Joan Kaiser, Jane Henscheid and Carol Henscheid, pianist.

Intermediate girls received their blue ribbon for singing Blue Bird of Happiness and Tell Me Why. The following joined voices in the number: Jill Swirczynski, Linda Fisher, Debbie Fette, Annette Sicking, Janie Fleitman, Linda Zimmerer, Gloria Gieb, Kathy Walter-scheid. Mary Ellen Endres was pianist. Mrs. Paul Endres is adult leader.

Sacred Heart's groups were coached by Sisters Carmelita, Richard, Canisia and Leonarda.

The fifth blue ribbon in the county went to Oak Valley community club in the senior division.

Music and drama students of Cooke County Junior College were judges. They included Judy Trubenbach.

Parents and friends attended the program in CCJC. It was a benefit event this year, the proceeds to be used to send the county's delegates to district camp at Lake Trinidad and the State Roundup at Texas A&M College later this spring.

Admission was a penny an inch of waist measure. Those who did not want to be measured were admitted for fifty cents.

A six-year-old boy, separated from his mother in a supermarket, frantically called out to her, using her first name, "Martha! Martha! Martha!"

The woman came to her boy quickly but admonished him, saying, "You shouldn't call me Martha. I'm 'Mother' to you."

"I know," he replied, "but this store is full of mothers."

Even if you don't need a new broom, every woman should know that she can now buy one with a yardstick printed on the handle.

Tigers Win Two Baseball Games From Forestburg

Between cold snaps, baseball teams of Sacred Heart and Forestburg got together Friday and Tuesday for their first games, and both were hitting sprees for the Tigers. The scores were 14-2 and 25-2.

In the first game Johnny Wolf allowed only 4 hits but frequently got himself in trouble with his walks. He gave 11 free passes to first. On the other hand he fanned 17 of the 21 batters facing him. Three pitchers for Forestburg failed to match him. Together they had 7 strikeouts and allowed 14 hits.

Leading hitters of the Tigers were Dennis Hess, a triple and 2 singles; Jerome Fuhrmann 3 singles; Johnny Wolf a single and a double; Dale and David Bayer, 2 singles each; and David Hess, 1 triple.

Next game the Tigers had a terrific sixth for 15 of their 25 runs. Johnny Wolf, pitching again, fanned 13 and gave up one hit and two runs. Forestburg's three pitchers gave up 15 hits.

Top hitters were Claude Bayer and Pat Knabe, 3 each; Jerome Fuhrman, Johnny Wolf, David Hess and Dale Bayer, 2 each. Wolf and Hess each had a double.

The Tigers have eleven more games booked and hope to add a few later in the season. Those scheduled now are

Farmers Urged to See ASCS Early About '62 Program

From now on, the Cooke County ASCS office will be increasingly busy explaining the program to farmers and helping them fill out the necessary forms indicating their "intention to participate" in the 1962 Feed Grain Program. Under the program, diversion payments are available to farmers who shift a stated percentage of their acreage formerly planted to corn and grain sorghum into an approved soil-conserving practice. By cooperating in the program, growers also qualify for price supports on their 1962 crops of corn and grain sorghum.

Farmers should get in touch with the ASCS County Office without delay if they wish further information about the 1962 Feed Grain Program. The sign-up period for the corn and grain sorghum program extends through March 30, 1962.

John Fuhrmann Is Justice of Peace

A former Lindsay resident, John Fuhrmann of New Braunfels, has been sworn in as a justice of the peace for precinct 2 in his area. It is his first public office. He is the son of Mike Fuhrmann of Lindsay.

He and his wife, the former Monica Kneupper, and their children Anna Marie and Phillip, live on Route 2, New Braunfels.

Judge Fuhrmann was appointed by the County Commissioners Court to serve in office until Jan. 1, 1963. He has also filed in the Democratic primary for election to the office for the term beginning Jan. 1, 1963.

A native of Lindsay, the new justice of peace attended St. Peter's School at Lindsay and St. Mary's High School at Gainesville. He was stationed near New Braunfels during World War II and married Miss Kneupper there in 1941. Since 1946 they live near Solms where they established a home and business.

His first action after his appointment came in connection with the truck-bus crash south of New Braunfels and he said it was a rather rugged start for a beginner.

The daily budget for two persons traveling by car on vacation is estimated at $29 by the American Automobile Association.

Confetti - - -

less on volume of money than on the ability to have life's necessities and comforts.

This column has always contended that rising wages were unjust to workers. Resultant rising prices invariably offset their gains. Meanwhile the value of savings decreased. Workers were victims of the inflation caused by their own wage increases.

By that same reasoning it follows that our nation's best way to recover from its present strain is to work toward a reduction in wages and prices. Properly handled that would retain the real value of a person's pay check while adding value to his savings.

It's true, this method presents big difficulties. Workers burdened with heavy installment payments and business with big inventories would have to make sacrifices. But still the method presents no greater problems than that proposed by the administration, which also has big difficulties ahead. And it does have the merit of restoring a good old American virtue of rewarding thrift rather than penalizing it.

ing it. Above all, this is the solution to our nation's economic woes. If pricing ourselves out of the market, both foreign and domestic, has caused our trouble, the only answer must be to get competitive again. That's the only way to keep people working. That's the only way to keep prosperous. This calls for real statesmanship on the part of government, industry and labor. For the future of our nation let's hope they will be equal to the job.
