

Roy H. Lanier Is New Pastor For Church Of Christ

Rev. Roy H. Lanier, of Denver, Colo., has accepted the pastorate of the Church of Christ in Brownwood, succeeding Rev. U. R. Forrest, who recently resigned, and will begin his service on November 1st. Rev. Lanier is a graduate of the Abilene Christian College. He spent two years working as missionary in Ellis county, was pastor of the Waxahachie church for two years, and then spent three years in San Antonio, having been located at Denver only one year.

FARMERS NEED A DEMOCRATIC GOVERNMENT

Discussing the political situation from an economic standpoint, and viewing it from the eyes of the southern farmer, W. R. Chambers, a farmer from near May, took up the cause of Gov. Al Smith and the Democratic Party, at a mass meeting in the District Court Room Saturday night. After an introduction by Judge C. H. Jenkins, and a few pertinent remarks regarding the opposition with whom he thought he would debate that night, Mr. Chambers held his audience of 400 for nearly two hours on the farm question. He is a fiery, convincing speaker who seems to have the economic situation well in hand.

"What is a Hoover-Democrat?" he asked at the start of the speech. "There is no such animal. Either a man is a Democrat and votes the entire ticket, or he is a Republican. Because of some misunderstanding regarding the wording of the title of the opposition, we will have no debate tonight."

Mr. Chambers first outlined the basic characteristics of the two parties, the Republican theory of being for big business, and the Democratic theory of helping first the small business, which he followed with a question asking what, in the past seven and a half years, has the Republican theory given to the people of this country, has it given them good government, has it helped them financially?

Basis of Prosperity
He answered his own questions by stating that only graft and corruption has been the rule under the Republican administration in the last seven and a half years, and from then on went into the farm problem.

"The future of all Texas cities," he said, "is in the hands of agriculture. If we fail on the farms where would the people in the cities get good food to eat? And here is how we farmers are falling:

"Since 1921 property values of farms over the United States decreased twenty billion dollars, more than the United States' share in the World War. During the same time there has been an increase in taxation of 125 per cent, and the overhead expense of the farmer has increased in that same period 300 per cent. Is that prosperity? With this in view it is an insult to ask a Farmer Man of the south to vote for Hoover."

Mr. Chambers laughed at the cry of prohibition which the bolting Democrats have taken up. He said that we are no more liable to have the open saloon with us again with Smith as President than Hoover, but even if we did, this farm economic question is far more important than the prohibition question. If there is any danger of the saboteurs coming back "we would have soldiers such as Judge Jenkins and others in this hall tonight to fight it."

"Mr. Hoover," said Mr. Chambers, "cares no more for the American farmer than British syndicates care for their Chinese coolies. Hoover is more British than American. Knowing of the relief necessary for the farmers, the men of the soil of the middle west and the northwest have been looking toward the Democratic party to find a remedy, and then they turned to the farmers of the south for aid and encouragement, and what do they find? They find the farmers divided down here on the prohibition question."

In showing the methods used by the present administration in handling relief for farmers, Mr. Chambers took one example from the endeavor of farmers to obtain lower freight rates for their products. In 1921, he said, the farmers asked for the lower rates. The proposition was investigated for two years and then turned over to the Interstate Commerce Commission. That body continued the investigation. There the commission divided itself into five commissions and compiled evidence on the case, millions of words which make a pile of books ten feet high. The last report on this question was to effect that a report will be made on it in 1929.

Cotton Situation
Mr. Chambers then reviewed the cotton situation since the war, saying that cotton was a commodity which blesses every hand that touches it except that of the farmer. Hoover's plans to aid the cotton farmer is through the tariff, which Mr. Chambers said would not touch cotton, as cotton is an export and exports are not aided in any way by a tariff. "We Democrats," he said, "are not and never did ask for a subsidy. All we want is some condition where cotton farmers can live."

In concluding his talk Mr. Chambers mentioned Muscle Shoals, which he said could be operated to give the farmer cheap nitrogen for the preservation of soils. He said that Hoover's idea about this power plant is to put it in the hands of private individuals and not operate it for the public good. According to Mr. Chambers this would be taking away, stealing from the public, just one more natural resource, such as timber and oil has been stolen and taken away from the public.

Accident Statistics
One person in every nine in the United States meets with an accident every year and one out of every ten deaths is chargeable to accidental causes, according to a survey made by the Reconstruction hospital of New York.

GRADUATES OF NURSE SCHOOL GET DIPLOMAS

"The Life of a Nurse" was the subject selected by Dr. M. E. Davis, Professor of Greek and Bible at Howard Payne College, who was the principal speaker at the graduating exercises of the Central Texas Hospital School of Nursing held Monday night at the First Baptist Church. Dr. Davis described the nurse as being an angel of mercy, seeking to alleviate suffering, as a friend of the home, as a lover of human life and as an indispensable servant to human society. Dr. Davis stated that the nurse serves the community religiously, socially and economically. "Her life is a gold mine, not measured by pence nor pounds, but measured in deeds and words, which crystallize in human character," Dr. Davis stated in conclusion.

In addition to the inspiring address made by Dr. Davis, a very beautiful and interesting program was presented to a well filled audience. The evening's program began with a recital featuring Webb Jenkins and Oswald Daugherty in piano and violin. Their numbers included, "O Thou Sublime Sweet Evening Star," from Tannhauser; by Wagner; "Ave Maria" by Bach-Gounod; and "Souvenir" by Dr. L. This was followed by the professional with members of Directors of the hospital, Staff of Doctors, Members of Alumnae, Staff of School of Nursing, Student Nurses and Graduating class, taking part. The professional was followed by the invocation by Dr. William H. Coleman, Elder of the Brownwood District Central Texas Conference of the Southern Methodist Church.

Address on Service
Dr. Davis then addressed the graduates and following this, Cameron Marshall, head of the music department, Howard Payne favored with a vocal solo.

Immediately following Mr. Marshall's solo, Miss Julia C. Kasner, Educational Secretary for Schools of Nursing, delivered a most interesting address on a "Nurses Service to Humanity." Miss Kasner briefly related the history of the nursing profession from the time of Florence Nightingale to the present time and told of the many fields of service open to nurses.

Dr. Jewell Daugherty, president of the Board of Directors, Central Texas Hospital and chief surgeon of that institution, presented diplomas to Miss Mabel Ray Winslow and Miss Mary Ketchum, of San Saba, the two graduates from the School of Nursing. Dr. Daugherty exhorted the nurses to adhere to the teachings received, the past three years, to keep their characters clean and to uphold the high standards of the nursing profession.

Miss Flora L. Bilibrey, R. N., director of the School of Nursing, presented class pins to the graduates and accepted three as members of the probation class. Rev. W. B. Gray, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, offered the benediction and with the audience still standing the recessional was played with members of the hospital staff leaving the auditorium.

GRADUATION OF CENTRAL TEXAS NURSES MONDAY

The Board of Directors of Central Texas Hospital has extended a cordial invitation to the public to attend the graduation exercises of the School of Nursing, Monday evening, October 22nd, to be held at the First Baptist church at 8:30. Rev. W. R. Hornburg, pastor of the Coggin Avenue Baptist Church, will deliver the graduating address.

Miss Mabel Ray Winslow and Miss Mary Ketchum, both of San Saba, will be graduated at the Monday night exercises. Miss Kildie Bilingual, of Dublin, Miss Ewald Wil, and Miss Vennie Lou Grisham, both of Hamilton, are graduates from the Probation Class, these three having completed class work necessary to graduation.

FRENCH PILOTS ARE RELEASED

PARIS, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Two French airmail pilots named Serre and Reine who were captured by wild tribesmen three months ago when they made a forced landing in the wild Rio De Oro region of Spanish Africa were safe today.

The Spanish Government announced that the men were with the Spanish authorities at Villa De Cienos, Rio De Oro, and were in good health.

Engine trouble forced the airmen down in the wild country as they were flying toward Dakar, Senegal, with mail for South America.

Serre and Reine were seized by tribesmen who demanded a ransom of one million pesetas (about $160,000). Other tribes, getting wind of the affair, rushed up and fought over the two captives.

While French and Spanish authorities negotiated for the release of the airmen, the pilots were dragged about from place to place and suffered numerous privations. They passed through hope and despair alternately as negotiations went on.

The negotiators faced a difficult task as the tribesmen's demands were growing daily and it was impossible to do anything to deliver the airmen because it was feared that such a move might bring about their death.

All obstacles were finally overcome by the combined efforts of Colonel De La Pena Cussi, Spanish High Commissioner, a representative of the French colonial administration and the Airmail Company. The terms of which the release was obtained were not announced.

FOX KILLER PAYS LIFE FOR CRIME

SAN QUENTIN PRISON, Oct. 19.—(AP)—William Edward Hickman was hanged today for the murder of 12-year-old Marian Parker, Los Angeles school girl, whom he kidnaped last December.

Up a flight of 13 steps, he went, preceded by Rev. William Fleming, priest, under whose spiritual guide he turned to Christianity while in the shadow of the noose. His arms were strapped to his sides. On either side and behind him marched a guard. In a semicircle were some two hundred persons who saw him die.

Apparently with no other motive than to commit such a glaring crime that he would go down in criminal annals as a master-minded criminal, Hickman climaxed a brief life of petty crimes with the fateful murder.

He obtained possession of the girl last December 15 by calling at her school, and telling a teacher that her father, Perry M. Parker, an officer in the First National Bank at Los Angeles, was injured and wished his daughter to return home. He said he was an employee in the bank.

Hickman later said he drove the girl to his apartment, and told her she had been kidnaped. He said she thought it was great fun, and seemed thrilled. That night he took the girl to a neighborhood show. Meanwhile, he said he had decided to hold her for ransom, and directed a letter to her father asking $1,500 signing it "The Fox," a pseudonym he used in subsequent ransom letters.

When Mr. Parker appeared Hickman, who was masked, collected the money, drove about a block further down the street, shoved the body out and fled. The girl's legs and other parts of her body later were found in a park miles distant.

A wave of fear swept over California for the apparent madman was, at large. Citizens nearly forgot Christmas, as they formed for the hunt. Teachers were instructed to release children under no circumstances except to parents. Some children were kept from school.

The clue came with discovery of an abandoned coupe which it later developed was stolen from a physician in Kansas City by Hickman. Bloody fingerprints were found on the windshield, and tallied with his, which had been taken where he became involved in a major forgery at Parkers' bank, where he worked for a short time.

now under death sentence for murder. Beitzel was Hickman's cell mate for a time before the latter was moved to the death cell.

The note read: "I'm very comfortable here, Russ. I'm not a bit frightened either. Tomorrow I'm going to walk up like a man. Say goodbye to my friends for me and tell them I'll see them soon."

Hickman transformed the death cell into a room of flowers and music yesterday. He asked Warden James Holohan for the phonograph which is passed around among the prisoners in "condemned row," and for flowers. A big bunch of red petunias was ordered for him from the prison garden.

The youth spent nearly half an hour arranging the bouquet, and alternately played the phonograph and wrote letters. He received a final letter from his mother, Mrs. Eva M. Hickman, who is in seclusion near Kansas City, Hickman's home.

"The letter from his mother was read eagerly by Hickman," the warden said. "He seemed to receive the greatest consolation from it. Mrs. Hickman wrote words of comfort and expressed her regret at not being able to bid him farewell. The youth read the letter several times."

Approximately 100 persons were expected to witness the execution. The kidnaping and killing of little Marian Parker in Los Angeles last December constituted probably the most diabolical and sensational crime in recent California history—it aroused the nation because of its brutality, lack of motive and utterly strange joy the killer took in basking in publicity following disclosure of the slaying.

Apparently untroubled by a conscience, the murderer William Edward Hickman of Kansas City, approached death with only a perfunctory expression of sorrow that he had taken the life and then fiendishly hacked to pieces the body of the girl whom he did not even know.

He was pronounced dead at 10:25 a. m. Before the trap was sprung, Hickman had collapsed until his head was within three feet of the scaffold floor. For this reason his fall was not as complete as it otherwise would have been. This was believed by guards to have delayed his death by two or three minutes.

Among those who witnessed the execution was George O'Brien, noted motion picture actor and son of Chief of Police Daniel J. O'Brien, of San Francisco. Another witness was D. J. Oliver, Los Angeles police officer, who was shot in the abdomen by Hickman during the holdup of the drug store of C. Ivy Toms, Rosehill, Cal., on Christmas eve, 1926.

Toms, the druggist, was killed during the holdup. Four months from today, Hickman would have been 21 years old.

SAN QUENTIN, Calif., Oct. 19.—(AP)—William Edward Hickman awoke today, his last day on earth, after a short but sound sleep. He was as indifferent as he has been during the greater part of his imprisonment, and chatted freely with the two guards.

MOODY SUPPORTING TICKET, STATES IN AUSTIN SPEECH

AUSTIN, Oct. 18.—(AP)—Governor Moody reiterated his declaration of intention to support the democratic ticket throughout at a local democratic campaign rally held here last night.

"I have always voted the democratic ticket," he said, "and in this election I will vote the ticket from top to bottom."

The governor said that before the nomination of Governor Smith he had opposed the New York governor as presidential nominee but that since he was nominated he (Moody) would "accept the philosophy of Jefferson or the will of the majority."

"I stay with my party and shall support Governor Smith as the democratic nominee," the governor said. He repeated former declarations for prohibition and expressed belief that Governor Smith could not change it.

The Governor's speech was one of introduction for former Congressman James Young of Kaufman, general chairman of the State Democratic Committee, who pleaded for party loyalty, rapped the Republican party, the Young-Salton League, Tom Love and O. B. Colquitt, prominent bolters.

It is the first national campaign speech the governor has made but it contained in substance nothing more than he has told newspapermen before.

ENGINEER TO INVESTIGATE ROUTE NAMED

AUSTIN, Oct. 17.—(AP)—The State Highway Commission gave definite orders today for bridging the notorious "Forney gap" a bad stretch on Highway 15.

State engineer G. B. Gilchrist was authorized to proceed at once on preparation of plans, secure right of way and advertise for bids. Location of the new construction was given in a motion by Commissioner Carl Johnson, as beginning at the end of the concrete slab in Kaufman county, near Forney, to intercept No. 15 to the west.

It is a waste of money for the commission to authorize the "turning and winding" of highways through small towns and villages in order to accommodate a "couple of filling stations and a hamburger stand," the commissioner Johnson observed in the course of the plan of Forney to route the road through that town. The commission's choice of a routing would miss Forney's main business section.

The commission Tuesday resumed hearings for designations seeking aid and designation after Monday having awarded $1,207,855.05 worth of contracts for work in 16 counties and granting aid to Trinity and El Paso counties. A delegation from Brown county was temporarily denied its request for designation of a highway from an intersection with highway 124 at San Saba to Cross Plains, via Brownwood. The state engineer was authorized to investigate the feasibility of the proposed route and report back with recommendations.

AUTOS BURNED GARAGES LOST

Brownwood firemen had a busy time Monday night when a three place garage with three cars were burned and two houses barely saved after catching fire from the first blaze.

A call was made by Mrs. Earl Looney to the department at 11:25 p. m. when she noticed the Looney garage was afire in the rear of 906 Avenue B. A large car belonging to Mr. Looney, one belonging to O. C. Walker who lives next door and a small one owned by the Looneys were completely demolished.

The fire had gained such headway by the time it was discovered that the firemen turned their attention to the Looney home where the side and the roof were damaged, windows broken and other damage caused by the flames from the garage reaching the house. Mr. Looney sustained, in addition to the loss of his cars and garage, about $500 damage to the house. Likewise the house of Charles W. Carter, 905 Irma, just back of the garage, was damaged about the same extent by the flames and water. The only solution as to the cause of the fire, Mr. Looney thinks will be found in a short circuit in one of the cars.

FEDERAL LAND BANK HEAD TO BE HEARD HERE

A subject of far-reaching importance to farmers, business men, landowners and bankers will be the feature of the program at the Pecan Institute to be held in Brownwood November 15-16. This number will appear under the title, "The Loan Value of Pecan Lands," and the discussion will be led by Judge M. H. Gossett, president of the Federal Land Bank of Houston.

Homer D. Wade, manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, accompanied by a number of other officials of that body, will be present to present his views on the subject. He has for the past two years been gathering data tending to show the value and earning power of land which pecan trees grow. This value has in the past been fixed on a basis of cotton production with no value allowed on pecan production.

A Forward Step

It is believed the open discussion on this subject at the approaching meeting will be the first step in gaining a recognition of the fact that pecans on any given tract constitute a tangible and definite asset. Informed pecan men have long been aware that Texas is far behind in the production of the improved or papershell varieties, whereas the state of Georgia is cited as having thousands of acres of improved pecan orchards returning a large annual income, due to intensive co-operation and orchard planting on a large scale.

UNSELFISH LEADERS NEEDED FOR FUTURE PROGRESS OF CITY

The holding the boys and girls of a community, giving them a chance to work in their own town, and making it both pleasant and profitable for them to do so, is one of the main factors in the building for the future of a city, according to Ben R. Vardaman, of Chicago, who spoke on "Patriotism in Community Cooperation" at the Soldiers and Sailors Memorial Hall on Friday night.

The meeting was sponsored by the city and followed on the heels of a "greater business and community institute" led by Mr. Vardaman. Mayor P. C. McInnis introduced the speaker by stating that in Brownwood as in many other cities there were those who wanted to do things for their city, but were unable to do so because of some who always held back on a progressive move, and that the inspirational talk by Mr. Vardaman, he hoped, would have a permanent influence for the good of the city.

The speaker emphasized the importance of business in the city, or the community center, defining that business as the system or process of keeping the city alive. He said that once the people of a community realized this fact that they would try in every way to give all their business to those in their own community.

By illustrations he showed where farm communities went to the bad following their buying away from their community center, taking the living out of the mouths of their neighbors, and showing that one's success depends much on the success of one's neighbors.

Mr. Vardaman stressed the importance of educating the boys and girls in the community and their finding something for them to do when they grow up so that when they marry they will add families to that community instead of some other part of the country. The young people will go where business is best, he said, and the only way to keep them is to provide for them in the way of pleasure and profit.

He also spoke as to the boundaries of a city, not being the physical city limits, but should be extended to include the area of influence, this area to be in size whatever the people of the city desire it to be.

He used many illustrations in explaining the best methods of getting all the people, those in the city and in the rural communities, together to work for each other. He told of boys and girls clubs, prizes being awarded for their work and given at great mass meetings.

He said he did not know the exact problems in Brownwood, but that every city should have adequate parks and gymnasiums, and complemented the citizens on taking such a forward step in bringing about the passage of road bonds.

The future of Brownwood and Brown county, he said, was in the hands of its leaders in each of the four basic elements of civilization, the church, the government, the school and business, and that it is for these leaders to say just how far Brownwood can go in the future. Cooperation, or all working together toward a common end, he said, was a patriotic duty, especially so of these leaders.

THE STATE OF TEXAS

To the Sheriff or any Constable of Brown County—Creeting: You are hereby commanded, that you summon by making Publication of this Citation in some newspaper published in the County of Brown if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not, then in the nearest County where a newspaper is published, once in each week for four consecutive weeks previous to the return day hereof, Elizabeth Smith, who residence is unknown, to be and appear before the Hon. District Court, at the next regular term thereof, to be held in the County of Brown on the 19th day of November, same being the 19th day of November, at the Court House hereof in Brownwood, Texas, then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 31st day of August A. D. 1928, in a suit numbered on the docket for said Court No. 5431, wherein C. R. Smith is plaintiff and Elizabeth Smith is defendant.

The nature of the plaintiff's demand being as follows, to-wit:

That on or about the 7th day of September, A. D. 1922, the plaintiff was lawfully married to the defendant in Detroit, Michigan, and continued to live there with her until on or about the first of January, 1927. The defendant at the time of said marriage being a single woman by the name of Elizabeth Strutz. Plaintiff alleges that during the time he and defendant lived together as aforesaid, he was kind and affectionate toward her, and provided for her support and maintenance to the best of his ability, and in a manner to their station and position in life. That soon after said marriage defendant began a course of cruel treatment toward the plaintiff, nagged and abused him, and applied to him the vilest epithets she could think of, and finally on or about the first of January, 1927, the defendant took their two children, and went away and left this plaintiff and he has never been able to locate her since. That during the time they lived together there was born to the plaintiff and defendant two children, Donald C. Smith, and Geraldine L. Smith, both of which kinds are with the defendant. That said marriage relation between the plaintiff and defendant still exist, and the defendant's conduct toward this plaintiff has rendered their living together as husband and wife insupportable.

Wherefore plaintiff prays the court that defendant be cited to appear and answer herein and for judgment dissolving said marriage relations, for costs of suit, and for such other and further relief, special and general in law and in equity, that he may be entitled to.

Herein fail not, and have you before said Court, on the said first day of the next term thereof, this writ with your endorsement thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and seal of said Court, at office in Brownwood, Texas, this, the 9th day of October A. D. 1928.

SCOUTS GIVEN PERMISSION TO CAMP IN PARK

O. E. Winebrenner, of the Howland Payne faculty with Dr. Homer B. Allen, Judge E. J. Miller and Dr. W. R. Sanderson, comprising a committee from the Brownwood Kiwanis Club, appeared before City Council Tuesday night and asked that Brownwood Boy Scout troops be granted the privilege of using the city park as a camp site and for patrol headquarters. It was stated that local troops plan the construction of a cabin in the park to be used this winter for outings and meetings of various sorts.

After some discussion City Council granted the request, but under certain conditions, one of which was that the permit to use the park would be temporary. Council explained that should the City Planning Commission, at some future date, decide to make other use of the park, the Scouts might have to seek another camp site. Should this be done, any cabins or buildings erected by the Scouts, could be moved, it was stated.

The use of the park was accepted and it is expected that local Scout troops will begin the establishment of camp sites there at an early date.

O. B. Canon, representing E. E. Wilson, of Goldthwaite, appeared before Council last night and asked that Mr. Wilson be granted a permit to erect aerials for his broadcasting station on Round Mountain, near the city's water reservoir. This request was granted and Council voted to make a five year contract with Mr. Wilson, granting him the use of Round Mountain for aerials as well as giving him the right to run lines from the aerial to a down town studio and to the various places in the city where remote control stations will be located.

Mr. Canon announced to Council last night that Mr. Wilson is now at work moving his station from Goldthwaite to Brownwood and that the station will be broadcasting from Brownwood not later than November 10. Location of a down town studio had not been made on Tuesday night.

Aldermen C. E. Boyett and W. M. Baugh were placed on a committee to consider the purchase of a new car for the Brownwood Police Department, this action having been taken following the appearance of Carl Salter, of the Loyd Jones Motor Company, before Council with an offer for a new car. It was indicated Tuesday night that Council may purchase a regular patrol wagon for the police department.

Muffle Motorcycles
Police Committee was instructed by Council Tuesday night to see that all motorcycles in Brownwood are muffled, it being pointed out that the noise from these machines is a public nuisance.

Council voted to exchange an alley located between Holcomb and Lackey streets for a strip of land, 10 feet by 180 feet on the southeast side of Lackey street. This trade will be consummated between Council and Weedon & Mallow, local realtors.

Old Gray Mare Band, of Brownwood, through Rex Galtier, one of its members, was granted the use of the City Auditorium for November 16 by Council last night. Souther's Band will give a concert here at that time, it was announced.

Tax Collectors
The collection of delinquent taxes came up for discussion Tuesday night, after Mayor McInnis had informed Council that the city had paid about $2,500 to City Attorney E. E. Lee for collecting delinquent taxes during the past year or two. Mayor McInnis pointed out that the city charter authorized the payment of 10 per cent for collecting delinquent taxes, but only when suit was brought against those owing the city back taxes. Mayor McInnis also explained that the delinquent tax rolls were kept in Judge Lee's office and that since tax payers often came to the city hall to pay back taxes, it would be better to keep the delinquent rolls at the city hall, instead of in Judge Lee's office.

Judge Lee stated to Council that, although he had filed not more than 20 suits for collection of delinquent taxes, he had been paid 10 per cent of all back taxes collected by the city. He explained that he had a contract with Council in which the city had agreed to pay 10 per cent for collecting all back taxes, regardless of whether suit was brought.

Council voted to let Judge Lee continue his work under the same contract as made a year or more ago.

Vast Open Spaced Filmed For Latest Zane Grey Story

Zane Grey knows the West. Often in the past, he has proved himself a master of the yarns of the vast, open spaces as written for motion pictures.

Once again, this prolific author reveals his talents, this time in a new type of story which has been made into a Paramount film production, "Under The Tonto Rim."

"Under The Tonto Rim" comes to the Gem Theatre today for a run of three days and presents many fine characteristics, according to all reports.

First of all, an able cast was selected to personate the various characters in the tale, the company being headed by Richard Arlen and Mary Brian, and supported by Jack Luken, Harry T. Morey, Bruce Gordon and many others.

Secondly, attractive photography is featured throughout, this feature of the picture being more interesting and entertaining than many another outdoor story that has been screened of late.

Were Not Scribes

King John of England did not sign the Magna Charta, because King John could not write. Nor did Mahomet write the Koran, for he, too, was unable to write, and was forced to dictate all of the Mohammedan Bible to scribes who could use a pen.

Tender Sprinters

Countless thousands, including men, women and children, and tiny babes in arms, raced across the field.—San Francisco Chronicle.

In all the world - - No Other Car Like This

A New and Larger Victory Six by DODGE BROTHERS

Until you have seen, experienced and passed upon Victory smartness and performance, you can't possibly realize what a great car the new Victory Six is—and why the world is so emphatically sold on its amazing value.

NEW AND EXCLUSIVE Victory Six construction sets the highest standard yet known for riding ease and roadability.

BODY AND CHASSIS are mutually designed for each other. The body is bolted directly to the chassis frame, replacing the usual body sills and eliminating body overhang.

RECENT AND VITAL improvements have been announced including still greater roominess and luxury, wider doors and windows, greater vision areas, more generous leg room and still richer interior appointments.

BRILLIANT Victory Six performance is unparalleled for quick pick-up, instant acceleration, speed and flexibility.

Three Great Driving Advantages of Exclusive Victory Construction

Lowering the center of gravity brings the weight of body and passengers nearer the ground. You feel that you are riding IN the car and not ON it. The Victory grips the road more firmly, and is safer and easier to handle on sharp curves.

Victory riding ease on all kinds of roads is nothing less than marvelous. The strength and rigidity of Victory coachwork contributes to the enjoyment of passengers by eliminating squeaks and rattles.

The perfection of Victory balance benefits all phases of performance. Steering is amazingly easy, acceleration is faster and smoother, and hydraulic four-wheel braking is extraordinarily efficient.

BOY SCOUTS PLAN FAIR AND EXHIBIT HERE IN NOVEMBER

Jack Brumberg, Boy Scout executive, returned to Brownwood Saturday evening following about two months spent in studying his work in New York state.
 Mr. Brumberg drove in from the east, and said he was a happy person to be able to get back to Texas where there is space to breathe. While in New York he attended the Boy Scout executives conference held at Ithaca and the training school for scout executives at Kitchawan.
 He has six counties with a total of thirty-five troops under him with headquarters here in Brownwood. A scout fair and exhibit in which all the troops under him will participate, will be one of the first features of his work on returning.
 This exhibit will be held in Brownwood from the evening of November 8 through that of November 10, and the exhibit will afterwards be shown in the various counties in which he has troops. The exhibits will consist of all classes and kinds of scout craft including leather craft, bird houses, archery, tackle and metal craft, prizes to be given for the best in each line.
 Saturday November 10, will be the big day for the scouts. Over 500 scouts will compete in a field day, a barbecue will be held at noon, and in the evening will be held a Court of Honor.

Minister Talks On Republican Politics
 Upholding the right of preachers to enter politics, Dr. William H. Coleman, a leader of the Methodist Church, spoke for the Republican national nominees at a meeting held in the Cross Out church Tuesday night. He said that history showed where the prophets of old took an interest in government, and that when a ruler was not ruling according to the prophets' lights, these holy men stepped in and straightened things out. He further made the statement that if the preachers in this campaign were on the side of Smith, and worked as hard for him as they are now working for Hoover, that the Democrats would not censure them in the least.
 He said that there is a crisis at hand, which to him was as important as the issues defined in the days of the Revolutionary War. "Certain factors", he said, "are trying to obtain control of the government of the United States, which would change this country into as bad times as during the Revolution."
 Rev. J. B. Weathers of Cross Out had a few words to say, as did Sam P. Sproles, chairman of the Brown County faction working for the Republicans who presided. Those present claim that all the fifty in the audience with the exception of three, stood to promise their votes for Hoover.
 The Anti-Smiths, or Republicans, as the Democrats of the county call them, will hold meetings, Thursday night at Holder; Friday night at Clio and Owens and Saturday night at Chapel Hill. They expect to import a speaker for a mass meeting to be held here the early part of next week.

Bringing Sousa Here A Big Task

The task and the financial chance elements in bringing Lieutenant-Commander John Philip Sousa and his band here November 16th, has been undertaken by one man in Brownwood, who has put this burden on his shoulders because of his love of music.
 Bringing one of the greatest attractions of the age to this city is a huge task, but Rex Gaither, manager of the municipal band, has undertaken it because he thought the people of Brownwood and Brown county would appreciate hearing the greatest composer and leader of band music in the world.

 For two performances, matinee and evening, this great leader will give to Brownwood such music as it has never had before, for this is the first appearance of Sousa in this city.
 Years and years ago men marched in uniform to the stirring swing of "Stars and Stripes Forever" and of bringing this aggregation of musicians here with their world renowned leader, is a big one.

 "This will be the first chance of the people of Brownwood to have Sousa in their city," he said, "though there are thousands here who have heard him at other places in the past. It will be a treat for young and old alike."

Some folks try to economize by using cheap, inferior feeds during this season of the year.
 The unproductive age is lengthened—pullets drag on into a fall and winter—eating—not laying. Not Paying.
 But other poultrymen say—this unproductive age is costing us money. We will cut it short.
 We will feed our pullets a growing mash that will mature them and turn them into a heavy layer in a hurry.
