Hospital Drive Will be Resumed After Harvest

In recent broadcasts Fulton Lewis Jr. has referred to a blueprint of action by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare if and when the federal government gets its foot into the door of American education by way of the proposed scheme of federal aid to education. The document is shocking in its revelation of a well organized plan to control the schools in direct contradiction of pious assurances given by supporters of the aid program.

Imagine! While giving their solemn word that they have no intention to meddle, these double crossers are drawing up the rules and regulations which would impose educational dictatorship on every participating institution. Their goal is to bring all policies of administration and curriculum under domination of the American Education Association, which practically determines the thinking in the government's educational circles.

The deceit and treachery in that scheme deals a severe blow to our ideals on official integrity. Such underhand procedure is what one would expect of communists, not of honorable American officials. The situation stands out as particularly alarming when we realize that individuals of that moral caliber are seeking to direct the intellectual and moral development of tomorrow's students. How does the idea impress you? Do you want your children's education to be supervised by men so completely devoid of principle?

False promise is not the only means of trying to sell the public, and congress, on aid to education. The proposition is loaded with false claims. They tell us about the pitiful shortage of schools and teachers, about the shamefully low pay teachers receive, about the inability or unwillingness of individual states to correct the faults.

But let's look at some of the facts as produced by a committee under chairmanship of Senator Styles Bridges. It has records showing that education in this country is making tremendous progress under local and state administration. There is no justification whatever for the federal government to stick in its meddling nose under pretext of helping.

For instance, during the past eight years pupil enrollment increased by 35 percent and instructional staff increased by 45 percent. The so-called experts clamor for an average of no more than 28 children per class, but during the past eight years the average has been reduced from 26.2 to 24.4. By their formula the increase of 9.7 million in scholastic population required the addition of 347,000 classrooms, but 507,500 have actually been added.

Regarding teacher salaries the record shows more of the same. During the eight years teachers' pay increased 52 per cent while average personal income increased 30 per cent and industrial wages increased 34 per cent. Though many contend that teacher pay still is not up to the proper level, an important fact nevertheless stands out. Much progress has been made and more is being made, without benefit of federal interference.

Quoting the Bridges committee report directly, the eight years "witnessed tremendous progress in improving school support, building

Home Items and Clothes Asked for Pawless Family

Friends of the George Pawless family who wish to help them with clothing, bedding, furniture and other household items are invited to leave anything they care to contribute in the City Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Pawless and their five daughters will gratefully accept any used items to help them get started again. They lost everything they had in a fire which destroyed their home at the Rock Station last week while they were out of town.

The five girls are aged two to 14. Mrs. Pawless is a size 12 and Mr. Pawless is a 36-38. Mrs. Pawless can sew and will be happy to remodel clothing to fit.

Friends sponsoring the community shower are headed by Mrs. Norris Kinsey and will pick up donations at City Hall and deliver them to the family.

After months of inactivity, the fund raising campaign for the Muenster Memorial Hospital will be resumed in the very near future. J. M. Weinzapfel, president of the hospital authority said Wednesday that the drive will be organized as soon as possible after the local harvest is complete.

It will be the final big effort, he said, with a goal of $54,000, in order to reach the original goal of $250,000. At this time the total stands at $196,000.

In spite of local inactivity, Mr. Weinzapfel said, no time has actually been lost in the campaign, because plans were not complete. "However the architect now is nearing the end of his job, and we'll be holding up the project unless we hurry and finish by the time he does. That can be done if we put sufficient enthusiasm in this effort."

Another matter facing the hospital authority is raising the cash to initiate the project. Regulations specify that one third of the total subscriptions must be available when application is made for the Hill Burton grant. All who agreed to help are urged to submit promptly.

New Building for Wilde Chevrolet Will Start Soon

Preparation for construction of this community's new Chevrolet headquarters was completed this week as ground was shaped and packed on the site just inside the east city limit on highway 82.

Ray Wilde said Wednesday that the building probably will be started early in July. Plans are in the hands of prospective bidders and the contractor should be known before the end of this month. Work should be finished by November.

The new building will have a total floor space of more than 13,000 square feet, according to dimensions given by Wilde. Its showroom and office will measure 50x56, the parts department will be a two-story section measuring 52x31, and the shop will measure 72-102. It will be a brick building. Showroom and offices will be air conditioned.

Notes on Building and Improvement

Two new homes, two new farm buildings and a flock of renovating jobs make up this community's current building activity.

Henry Felderhoff has a good start on his new house, principal features of which are 3 bedrooms, 2 baths, brick siding, attached garage, central heat.

During the past weekend Mrs. Leo Moster moved into her new home. It has 2 bedrooms, central heat, attached garage, brick siding.

The Gene Giebs are adding a bedroom and bath, remodeling the rest of the house, and putting on a new roof.

John Otto is adding a 12x14 room also changing a partition to enlarge the kitchen, and adding kitchen cabinets.

A remodeling program at Vincent Felderhoff's includes partition changes and lots of built ins for kitchen, bath and utility, followed by complete inside paint job; also outside paint and gutters.

Several houses have new outside paint jobs. They are Dick Trachta, Rufus Henschel, Jerome Pagel and Wendell Richey.

Henry Weinzapfel and Mrs. O. J. Huchton have new roofs. J. W. Fletchers have completely re-done one bedroom; new sheetrock, paint and carpet.

The Gehrig estate house is now receiving a general fix-up and paint-up job.

Mrs. Wm. Bergman has new wallpaper in four rooms.

Donald Endres has divided a room making it into a bath and a utility.

Otto Walterscheid has a sheet rock interior replacing his former wallpaper.

Robert Bayer has installed insulated siding on his home and painted the outside wood.

110 Report Here For Chest X-Rays

In the Cooke County free chest X-ray program last week a total of 807 persons had chest pictures made. Of these 110 were X-rayed in Muenster and 697 at Gainesville.

The total represents almost entirely senior citizens, past 50 years of age and includes some who had positive reaction to the skin test program conducted earlier in the county's schools.

Persons with an abnormal chest condition will be notified by letter after the X-rays are examined by the State Health Department. Those whose chests are normal will not hear at all—a case where no news is good news.

The mobile X-ray unit operated here Friday afternoon and Saturday morning in Endres Motor Company show room after being in Gainesville Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. Free X-rays are made possible through courtesy of the Cooke County TB Association and the State Health Department.

Ping Pong Fans Of Youth Club To Have Tourney

A ping pong tournament for members of the local youth club is on schedule for the early part of July under sponsorship of the Community Progress Association. Plans for it were made in a meeting of the association's officers Monday night.

Members who wish to participate are asked to contact Glenn Hellman on or before June 28 . . . in time to permit drawing up brackets before action begins.

2 Games Friday Will Open Junior Baseball League

Seventy eight eager youngsters of ages 8 through 13 reported Wednesday night to form a junior baseball league sponsored by the Community Progress Association. L. B. Bruns was chairman and supervised the division into four teams and assigned coaches to each team.

The lads begin play Friday night as all teams report for two double header games. Teams 1 & 2 start at 7 o'clock. Teams 3 and 4 play the night-cap.

A special feature of this league is the provision that everybody gets to play. With a double roster for each team that will be accomplished by playing six innings, one group for 3 innings the other group for the next 3. Though winning is an objective, it will not be accomplished by denying the less skillful boys a chance.

Another regulation concerns orderly conduct at the games. Boys not playing must be in the grandstand, not on the field. Also, boys who complete 3 innings must remain for the rest of the game unless they leave with parents. They are not permitted to wander around town.

In order to prevent extra long one-sided games a team will be limited to 5 runs in an inning. That is, its turn at bat ends at 3 outs or 5 runs.

Means are taken also to relieve sponsors of responsibility in case of injury. Each child at the meeting received a slip stating that condition and must return it Friday night with a parent's signature in order to be eligible.

On schedule are two double headers a week, on Monday and Friday. For a while at least the teams will play only each other. Later a few games may be arranged with other teams.

Boys not able to attend Wednesday's meeting may join later.

Men who volunteered to help manage and supervise the teams are Ray Otto, Wm. Walterscheid, Charley Hellman, Bill Pratt, Alvin Hartman, Vincent Felderhoff, Herbert Fette, Pat Hennigan, Frank Felderhoff, Ed Schneider, Charles Wimmer, Joe Sicking, Leo Lawson, John Otto, Paul Fisher, Speedy Reiter, Gene Schmitz, Hank Walterscheid, Bill Martin and L. B. Bruns.

Community Nears Closing Days of Bumper Harvest

The second best harvest in the memory of local farmers is rapidly tapering off this week. Most small crops are finished. Still to come in are the remainder of larger crops and of the few smaller crops that got a late start, making up about a fourth of the community's total yield.

As many jobs were being finished another short shower temporarily put the remaining combines out of business. Wednesday morning's moisture measured .33 inch, enough to keep the combines idle the rest of the day. South of town they will probably be down through Thursday. Rain in some spots there was reported up to .80 inch.

Even though the harvest is temporarily halted, farmers are pleased with the rain. Moisture is badly needed and the small occasional showers are enabling growing crops to keep going. All will be fine if this continues until a good soaker comes along.

Wheat yields this year, topped only by those of last year, are estimated to average in the low thirties, and vary from the low twenties to the mid forties. Tests are the best ever, and the local price is $1.75 per bushel.

Such figures reflect remarkable increases over those of 15 or 20 years ago when half of the present yields were considered as good crops. Among factors credited with most of the improvement are better varieties of seed, use of commercial fertilizer, better farming methods including more legumes, and modern harvesting methods. Along with all that the past few years have been favored by the weather.

Heart Attack Is Fatal to Mother Of Mrs. K. Selby

Mrs. Jessie Wilson, 66, of Woodbine mother of Mrs. Kenneth Selby, died at 2:45 a.m. Sunday in a Gainesville hospital where she was a patient since suffering a heart attack several days earlier.

Funeral services were held at 2 p.m. Tuesday in the George J. Carroll & Son Chapel with the Rev. James Thompson of Mineola officiating. Burial was in Fairview Cemetery.

Mrs. Wilson, who was Miss Vita Leona Germany before her marriage, was born at Marysville, a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Germany. She was married to Jessie Wilson of Marysville on Sept. 15, 1912. They lived there on a farm, then spent a short time in Arkansas and returned to Cooke County buying a farm at Woodbine.

Survivors are her husband; two daughters, Constance Smith of Kilgore and Prudence Selby of Muenster; three sons, James B. Wilson of Gainesville, Daniel W. Wilson of Tacoma, Wash., and Jessie Wilson Jr. of San Antonio; one brother, T. C. Germany of Gainesville; three sisters, Mrs. Eric Farsvall and Mrs. J. B. Thompson of Kilgore and Mrs. A. L. Daffiel of Bowie; and ten grandchildren including Kathy Selby of Muenster.

THE JOHN BIRCH SOCIETY

By George Peck
 Were you turned in on Robert Welch on Sunday evening, May 21, when he appeared on the "Meet The Press" program? If so, whether or not you approve of Mr. Welch and his John Birch Society, your American sense of fair play must have received a severe jolt.

If ever an American citizen faced a stacked inquisition, Robert Welch did so on that radio program. All of the panel did their level best to "pin his ears back." Their questions for the most part incorporated in them statements Welch had not made.

The reporters sounded more like so many lawyers putting forth their best efforts to confuse a witness, rather than a panel trying to get opinions from a "guest."

It was quite apparent that the members of the panel do not like Welch or his John Birch Society, and they made no attempt to hide their dislike. Not only were their questions offensive, but they practically snarled at their "guest" in asking them.

But, Robert Welch was equal to the occasion. He slugged back, toe-to-toe, keeping his temper while doing so, and in our book, he gave the panel a trouncing — a thorough trouncing.

In this column we have previously refrained from commenting on the John Birch Society. We feel that the time has come to break that silence. We have read all of the comment pro and con that has come our way, and there has been a plenty of it. No sound argument has been advanced against it. On the contrary, the very criticisms that have been levelled at it, to our way of thinking, are arguments in its favor. This, plus the type of individuals or organizations (with rare exceptions) that have raised their voices against the John Birch Society have induced this columnist to proclaim publicly that its objectives and methods being used to attain those aims, make it worthy of the support of every patriotic American.

The "Meet The Press" panel following the lead of the Communist Party and the several other subversive organizations, kept asking Robert Welch if he had stated in a confidential letter that Dwight D. Eisenhower, John Foster Dulles, Chief Justice Warren and several others were card-holding Communists. This Welch emphatically denied, and rightfully so, because he did not make any such charge in that confidential letter.

Readers may ask: "How do you know that Welch tells the truth in refuting that charge?" The answer is that Robert Welch sent us a copy of that letter requesting that we treat it confidentially and return it to him. We read that letter several times, kept it confidential as requested and returned it to him, again as requested.

We testify that nowhere in that document did Welch allege that the aforesaid Americans were card-holding Communists. What he did write was that unwittingly they were aiding the Communist cause and because of their prominence and the esteem in which they were held by their fellow-Americans, they were more helpful to Communism than card-holding Communists.

In the preamble of his confidential document, Robert Welch asked for our opinion regarding the various statements made therein. The manuscript came to us by registered first-class mail, return receipt requested. In a letter to us dated January 30, 1959, announcing that he was sending the manuscript, Welch wrote:

"This manuscript is not intended for publication at all. But I am putting it into the hands of a quite limited number of patriotic Americans — mostly close friends of mine — who can be depended on to treat it with the confidence requested, and to take reasonable precautions to safeguard the document while it is in their possession. For I believe it will give even so well-informed a man as yourself a certain amount of additional insight into some aspects of the conspiracy we face."

Can there be any justifiable quarrel with Robert Welch having sent this confidential document to his friends? We believe not.

We did not join the John Birch Society when invited. However, as a result of the inquisition to which Robert Welch was subjected on "Meet The Press," as this column is being released we are mailing our application for membership together with check. And do you know something? We have a strong hunch that an awful lot of folks who listened in on that vicious attack on Robert Welch have already done likewise.

U. S. COULD END INCOME TAX

Fantastic as it may sound, it is estimated that sale of all the federal corporate activities of the U. S. back to the people — from whom they were taken, would immediately result in a saving of about $44 billion a year.

Since individual income tax payments produced a revenue of about $37 billion in 1959, it is calculated that it would be possible for the government to stop levying taxes on personal incomes, estates and/or gifts, and still have a saving of more than $7 billion a year.

It is also estimated that in private operation, the enterprises thus sold would yield an additional 15 percent in corporate and excise taxes. The overall increase in corporate and excise tax income under this plan is estimated at close to $9 billion a year, which added to the difference between what it costs the federal government to run its business empire and what it receives in individual income taxes, would produce a saving of over $15 billion per year, not to mention the additional amounts that would be saved in other costs relating to the collection of individual income taxes.

The "Liberty Amendment" to the U. S. Constitution, which would force the federal government to sell all of its business or commercial enterprises and prohibit it from levying taxes on personal incomes, estates and/or gifts, has been approved by states of Wyoming, Texas, Nevada and Louisiana.

It is estimated that sale of the land, buildings and facilities for these activities would bring $65 billion which, applied to the national debt, would mean a saving in interest charges alone of about $1,950 million.

Saving of the annual amortization cost on $65 billion would mean an additional $1,625 million per year. Savings made by removing the free services provided by government agencies to the corporate bodies are estimated at $4,300 million while another $12,900 million would be saved in costs of goods, services and facilities.

If the amendment were to be adopted by the federal government, it would mean better than a 20 percent increase in takehome pay for the American people without changing the rate pay by a single penny.

Perhaps to better understand the proposal, it is necessary to realize that federal corporations have now taken over control of 40 percent of the land area, and 20 percent of the entire industrial capacity of the U.S.

More than half of the current federal revenue is required to pay the losses of these government corporations and defray the hidden costs of their operations, according to statistics compiled by the Liberty Amendment supporters.

Perhaps even more astonishing is the fact that these savings mentioned so far would wipe out the 1959 U.S. deficit of $12,900 million and still leave $2,507 million to apply on the national debt.

In addition to this the savings in costs of tax collections are estimated at $200 million, savings in printing costs of tax forms, etc., at $100 million and savings of franked postage on all tax mail at $40 million.

Not estimated are the savings in costs of protective lobbying, cost of ferreting out, prosecuting and incarcerating those who fail to conform to tax directives and the saving on bookkeeping, reporting, accounting fees and other impositions.

Safety Reminders In "Slow Down and Live" Campaign

As a part of its campaign to remind motorists of the fundamentals of safe driving, the Texas Safety Association has distributed thousands of "Trip Cost Record" leaflets as a handy means of keeping account of automobile expenses on vacation trips. On the back of the leaflet are listed five reminders:

1. Keep your car in top mechanical condition. Steering gear, brakes and lights are especially important. Watch your tire pressure. Improperly inflated tires plus summer-hot roads can equal blowout disaster.
2. Keep your eye on the cars behind and in front of you. Anticipating what the other fellow may do is an essential of safe driving. Keep your distance — a car's length for every ten miles of speed.
3. Stay alert at all times. On long, monotonous drives, stop every two hours for a coffee break (iced coffee is just as effective as hot for sharpening your reflexes). Get out of the car, walk around, relax for a few minutes.
4. Share the wheel if you can. Don't fight fatigue. Pull over to the side of the road and take a rest. You'll lose a few minutes . . . but perhaps save your life!
5. Know and obey all traffic regulations, especially speed laws. Speed too fast for conditions is the most common cause of fatal highway accidents. SLOW DOWN AND LIVE!

Speed, however is the greatest cause of highway accidents so the main thing to remember when driving is Slow Down and Live.

Only 13 muscles are required to smile — fifty to frown.

Miss Lutkenhaus And James Krahl Say Vows at Mass

A double ring ceremony at nuptial high mass in Sacred Heart Church Saturday at 4 p.m. united Miss La Christa Lutkenhaus and James Krahl. Father Alcuin Kubis officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Lutkenhaus and the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Joe Krahl of Gainesville.

For her wedding the bride wore a bouffant redingote effect gown of silk organza over taffeta, the overskirt sweeping into a chapel train. Lace ruffles ornamented the skirt front and lace outlined the divided overskirt. The fitted basque bodice was fashioned with a scalloped Sabrina neckline and petal point sleeves.

Her veil of double tiered tulle was attached to a queen's cap of Chantilly lace covered with sequins and crystal tear drops. Her flowers were a cascading bouquet of white carnations.

Carrying out bridal tradition of "something old, something new, something borrowed and something blue" she wore the wedding band her late grandmother, Mrs. W. T. Richter, wore 61 years ago, had a mother of pearl prayer book, a gift from the groom, borrowed a dainty handkerchief from her aunt, Mrs. Harold Walterscheid, and carried a blue crystal rosary, a gift from her brother Sheldon Lutkenhaus. Her father presented her in marriage.

Bride's attendants were Miss Patsy Krahl, sister of the groom, and Miss Shirley Walterscheid, cousin of the bride. They wore identical dresses of orchid silk organza with shirred bodice, fitted midriff and very full skirt over net, taffeta and crinolines. Their hats were veiled circlets of velvet flowers and they carried colonial bouquets of gold carnations. Their pearl pendants and matching earrings were gifts from the bride.

Sheldon Lutkenhaus and Steve Krahl, brothers of the couple, attended the groom. Another brother, George Krahl and the bride's cousin, Billy Frank Richter, ushered.

Anthony Luke, organist, and Sacred Heart choir presented music for the mass and Mrs. Rody Klement was vocal soloist.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Lutkenhaus wore a light blue dress and Mrs. Krahl, mother of the groom, wore a black ensemble. Both wore white accessories and shoulder corsages of red carnations.

A reception and buffet were held in the Parish Hall with over a hundred guests present. Dancing in the VFW Hall concluded festivities.

After a honeymoon trip to South Texas the newlyweds will be at home on route 1, Gainesville. He is a dairyman and farmer. For traveling Mrs. Krahl wore a yellow sheath dress with white accessories.

Among out of town relatives at the wedding, other than those from Cooke County, were Mr. and Mrs. Chris Jensen and son Troy, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Plumlee and Mrs. Pauline Schroeder, all of Wichita Falls; Miss Clara Richter of Dallas, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Harris and daughters Jimmie Lynn and Starla Mabelle of Oklahoma City, Ernest Prescher, Arthur Miller and Messrs. and Mmes. Paul and Robert Krahl of Scotland.

Garden Club Ends Season Planning Fall Flower Show

Sixteen members attended the Civic League and Garden Club's final spring meeting Monday night in the home of Mrs. M. J. Endres with Mrs. R. R. Endres as co-hostess. They served dessert plates and frosted drinks to members as they arrived.

Mrs. L. B. Bruns conducted the business session which featured a lively discussion on having the annual flower show early in fall and combining with floral exhibits a display of Christmas ideas, decorations and centerpieces made by members. Some of these would be for sale, others for decor only.

The organization's spring flower show had to be cancelled on account of late freezes and high winds and plans are to have a fall show.

In other reports, Mrs. Tony Gremminger told about cemetery work and thanked the community for contributions received in the semi-annual collection on June 4. Mrs. T. S. Myrick reported on City Park work.

Members were asked for suggestions of things they would like to study next year and were reminded to let these ideas be known to the yearbook committee. The program and yearbook committee will be compiling next year's programs during the summer. Otherwise the organization is disbanded until September when activity resumes and officers elected in January take office.

Two Hollywood film producers were making a war epic and decided to use armies of extras for the battle scenes, 5,000 men on one side and 4,000 on the other.

"That's colossal," said the first producer. "But when the shooting is finished, we have to pay 9,000 men. How about that?"

"A cinch," answered the producer. "In the last battle we use real bullets."

The word salary comes from "salarium" meaning salt money, since Roman soldiers received part of their pay in salt.

Livestock Men of Area Invited to Event at Dallas

Producers and others associated with the livestock industry of Cooke and adjoining counties are invited to the national 1961 Livestock Marketing Congress in the Sheraton-Dallas Hotel on June 21-24.

The public invitation is extended by Dick Cain of the Muenster Livestock Auction, a member of the Texas Livestock Auction Association, which is hosting the big 4-day event sponsored by the National Association of Livestock Auction Markets.

Of special interest will be the Livestock Industry Development Day on Friday, June 23. The program will emphasize important phases of modern livestock production, marketing and processing, also a noon luncheon in the hotel, and an outdoor barbecue at 6 p.m. followed by a performance of Jim Shoulders' world championship rodeo at Mesquite.

Cecil Ward of Gainesville, president of the National Association of Livestock Auction Markets, will be one of the speakers.

Buttons were first put on men's coat sleeves by Frederick the Great, to keep his soldiers from wiping their noses on their sleeves.

Windthorst Hosts Golden Jubilee of Abbot Edward

The Rt. Rev. Edward Burger, O.S.B., second abbot of New Subiaco Abbey, celebrated the golden jubilee of his ordination to the priesthood Tuesday in Windthorst where he served as pastor of St. Mary's Parish for 9 years — 1942-1951.

Muenster and Lindsay pastors, the Rev. Alcuin Kubis and the Rev. Damian Wewers, participated as assistants in the pontifical ceremonies which began at 10 a.m. in St. Mary's Church. The Rev. Martin Fischer of Muenster preached the jubilee sermon. Clergy from a wide area attended.

Following the mass, dinner was served in the KC Hall and a community picnic was held.

This was the jubilarian's second celebration in connection with his golden anniversary. A similar program was held in Subiaco, Ark., on June 4.

Abbot Edward became head of the Subiaco Monastery in December, 1925 and strengthened the religious spirit of his community, unknowingly preparing them for the great trial that was soon to strike.

In December 1927 as Subiaco students were getting ready to go home for the Christmas holidays, a disastrous fire virtually destroyed the main building of the monastery. It took courage to save the monastery at that time when many were saying, "Give up, the damage is too great," and invitations came to the monks asking them to go to other states and begin again.

During these trying years after the fire it was Abbot Edward's leadership that welded the monks into a strong unit determined to rebuild. From the time the ashes cooled until the present, the work of clearing the rubble, restoring, rebuilding and adding to the structure has continued. The school had to close after the fire except for the graduating class and the seminarians. And Subiaco again began to grow.

But the strains of the years of anxiety took their toll. Abbot Edward's health failed and he found it necessary to resign in the spring of 1939. He was succeeded by the late Abbot Paul Nahlen.

Abbot Edward went to Conception Abbey in Missouri for a while then spent three years in parish work in Nebraska. In 1942 he became pastor at Windthorst. For several years thereafter he was at St. Joseph's Academy, Brownsville and is now chaplain at Refugio County Hospital in Refugio.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

OUR SOIL ★ OUR STRENGTH

Another bumper wheat crop seems to be in store for the Muenster-Saint Jo area of the Upper Elm-Red Soil Conservation District.

Yields are running as high as 45 bushels an acre with yields ranging from 10 to 20 per cent higher on wheat following alfalfa or sweet clover.

This bumper grain crop also means that a large amount of straw is left on the land to be returned to the soil. In this hot weather the temptation to set fire to the straw grows with every round while plowing. Burning the straw left from the average 30 bushel wheat crop is like pitching seven to ten dollars per acre in the flames.

A chemical analysis will show it worth at least that much in plant food per ton of straw. This alone is reason enough to leave the stubble on the land where it will decay and add organic matter to the soil.

Straw, when left on or near the land surface, will decay faster. It will act as a cushion for heavy rains, prevent crusting and soil losses and keep the ground in condition to soak up water that falls.

Now is the time to plant summer legumes such as cowpeas or guar. These summer legumes add residue and nitrogen to the soil. They greatly increase the water intake and holding capacity of the land. This results in increased yields for following crops, all of which means more dollars for the pocketbook.

Janicki Family Is Back from Germany

Warrant Officer and Mrs. Jack Janicki and daughters Cheryl, Donna, Janell, Starla and Rene are here with her parents, the Jake Pagels, arriving Saturday after spending three and a half years in Germany where he was stationed at Wursburg. His new assignment will be at San Antonio and he reports for duty July 5.

The Janicki family made the ocean voyage home by boat on the Upshur, one of the Navy's new air conditioned ships.

In New York they were met by Father Ryan who was their army chaplain in Wursburg for three years . . . he was retired in May . . . and he and his sister gave them a whirlwind tour of New York City for two days showing them all the most important sights. The Janickis drove home in a new station wagon they had waiting for them.

This is Rene's get-acquainted visit with her mother's family. She was born in Germany. All the girls have learned German. The older ones also know Japanese. The Janicki family lived in Japan before living in Germany. They have many interesting things to tell about their stay overseas . . . they traveled extensively through Europe on his leaves.

Being back in the states is wonderful they think, except for the hot weather. They had nothing like this at Wursburg and were wearing woollens until they reached New York.

Mrs. Gregory Hundt resigned as president of the local NCCW Unit and is being replaced by Mrs. Ray Hermes.

Delegates apointed to attend the Catholic State League convention in Weimar July 21-24 are Mrs. John Schmidkofer and Mrs. Leonard Bengfort. Alternates are Mrs. Norbert Zimmerer and Mrs. Nick Block. Members were reminded to make articles for the mission exhibit at the convention.

Mrs. Nick Block asked a remembrance in prayer for Monsignor Schneitzner. He served as spiritual advisor for the Women's Section of the Catholic State League for 35 years until failing health forced him to resign about three years ago.

In other business, 12 members volunteered to launder the cafeteria curtains; and cards of thanks were read from the Schad family and the Sisters.

In a social hour after adjournment Mrs. Joe Bengfort won the attendance prize and hostesses Mmes Henry and Frank Kuhn and Alvin Loerwald and Miss Mary Kuhn served ice cream and cake and punch to 43 members. Spiritual Director Father Damian led the opening and closing prayers and spoke a few words of encouragement and praise for members in their worthwhile activities.

Honor Conferred On Hospital Head

Notice of election as a nominee to the American Academy of Medical Administrators was received this week by J. Blair Ferguson, administrator of Medical and Surgical Hospital of Gainesville. The honor is conferred upon those whose special qualifications in medical administration merit such recognition.

The Academy is an international society, some of the aims of which are to encourage and foster a scientific approach to medical administration; promote and conduct courses in this specialty; establish and maintain a criterion of competency in the profession; and to provide for recognition by means of fellowships, scholarships and grants to those who render noteworthy service.

new classrooms, hiring new teachers, raising teachers' salaries. . . . This is a proud record of achievement, indeed."

All of which should be sufficient to show that the claims of urgent need, as propagandized by the professional educationists, is strictly phony. Our schools are not in distress. Nor are the local and state administrations which have charge of them. The proposed federal help is unnecessary and unjustified.

Perhaps the greatest absurdity in this scheme is the assumption that, even if educational progress were inadequate, the federal government is more capable than local and state governments to make the improvements. The federal help, supposedly is to come from loans and grants. Well, why can't states and local governments borrow from other sources as well as from Washington? And why can't they raise their own tax revenue? That, after all, is the government's source of grants. In the long run the localities receiving that revenue will be better off collecting it directly than losing a big percentage as it comes through a federal bureaucracy. Who's kidding whom? A tax costs either way, only it costs more when routed through Washington.

Wanna' know why the Washington educationists are so determined to put this scheme over? They have visions of a big, fat bureaucratic empire. Thousands of new employees would be added to the department. Lots of little shots would get subordinate helpers, which would make them big shots in pay and in authority. But remember, we taxpayers would pay those extra salaries and we'd eventually feel the effects of that increased authority. In case you did not know, this federal aid to education proposition isn't really as popular as indicated by the fact that it was in both party platforms of the election campaign. Just a few weeks ago the report leaked out that it did not belong in the Republican platform. A committee to consider the subject went on record as opposing it, but wheels of the party disregarded their recommendation and included it in the platform rather than repudiate a policy of the Eisenhower administration. In other words, one party's support was based on political expediency, not on merit.
