

Anthony Luke Opens Garage In H-5 Building

Anthony Luke, one of the cordial youths at Herr Motor Company for the past two years, is the new manager of the H-5 Service Station, to be opened this weekend under the name of A. F. Luke Garage and Service Station.

Immediately after the leasing Anthony began on a remodeling program that he expects to have under control sufficiently by the weekend to permit him to begin business.

Lee Jennings, well known here for his excellent body and fender work, has been engaged to work in the new station. Mr. Jennings leaves Ben Saylor after two and one-half years.

Wilmer Luke is on the job as front man.

Anthony will handle a complete line of Texaco products, gasolines, oils and lubricants, and will probably carry a complete line of parts and accessories for the three popular makes of cars, Chevrolet, Ford and Plymouth.

H. S. Wilde, owner of the building, and former manager, has moved his business to Gainesville.

Anthony was in Dallas Tuesday to buy new tools and equipment for his shop.

PURCHASE RECORDS MUST BE KEPT BY ALL COTTON BUYERS

Cooke County cotton buyers, who are required by the 1940 marketing quota provisions of the Agricultural Adjustment Act to keep accurate records of all purchases from producers, will be able to do this as a part of their routine work.

A record of purchases from producers with white marketing cards was not required in past years. This year such a record must be maintained in addition to the records and reports which buyers during the past 2 years made for purchases from producers with red and blue marketing cards, and which they are also required to make this year.

Pointing out that no special records are required for white marketing cards, J. T. Biffle, Jr. said that, as a general rule, the business records ordinarily kept by the buyer will contain all the information necessary, with the possible exception of the serial number of the producer's marketing card.

The regulations under the act require that the cotton buyer's records contain the following information: (1) the name and address of the producer; (2) date of purchase; (3) original gin bale number; (4) weight of the bale or the lot of cotton purchased; (5) amount of the penalty collected, if any; and (6) the serial number of the marketing card or certificate by which the cotton was identified when marketed.

"It is preferred that the buyer make no change in his regular record-keeping system, other than to record some necessary information, which he previously did not enter on his accounts, ledgers, or other records," J. T. Biffle, Jr. said.

Any buyer who desires to keep a separate record of the information required, however, can obtain the necessary forms from the county AAA office.

"The buyer must always examine the marketing card, J. T. Biffle, Jr. said. "If the producer does not show his card, the buyer must make a report to the county AAA office and remit with his report the marketing penalty of 3 cents a pound on the entire amount sold. If the card serial number is not on the record, it is assumed that the buyer did not see the card and he will be required to submit the report and to pay the penalties due."

Fall Market To Depend On Well Finished Turkeys 25,000,000 Pounds Of Birds In Cold Storage From Last Year

Albert Brient, County Agent It is only two months from now until we will be marketing our first crop of 1940 turkeys. For your information there is still a large carry over of turkeys in cold storage. At the present time there is approximately 25,000,000 lbs. of turkeys still in storage but these birds are moving into the channels of trade very nicely.

The market is going to demand a well finished turkey this year in order to be able to dispose of the turkeys at a reasonable price to the producers. Unfortunately in the past we here in Texas have not been producing as good quality turkey as we can produce. Most of the turkeys still are range turkeys and during the late summer the range is pretty well depleted and the turkeys do not have sufficient amount of feed and especially green feed.

The Texas Poultry Federation, composed of Texas poultry producers, hatcherymen, feed manufacturers, buyers of poultry products and others, is definitely interested in carrying out a program this year that will enable Texas turkey producers to place on the market this fall the best quality turkeys that have been sold from this state.

It is very important that we start a fattening program for these turkeys now. Before they are placed on a fattening feed, it is good management to see that these birds are thoroughly treated for intestinal parasites so that they can be placed on a fattening feed and get maximum results.

MUENSTER BAKERY RESUMES OPERATION

The Muenster Bakery resumed operations Monday, after being inactive for several months, and according to Joe Hirschy, manager, will be running on full time schedules by the end of this week.

While he is putting out a limited supply of bread at the present time, in connection with rolls and pastries, Hirschy said his complete line of breads will not be on the market until this weekend. He is waiting for the arrival of a new kneading machine that will assure a finer textured loaf.

The bakery now occupies the old bank building one-half block west of the bank.

Work On Sewer Line Progressing Steadily, To Add More Laborers Soon

Work on the sewer line is going forward at a steady pace and within the next several days will be stepped up by the addition of from 40 to 50 more laborers, W. C. Douglas, assistant project superintendent, stated Wednesday. This will make approximately 100 men on the job.

Frames at the disposal plant have been completed and concrete will be poured next week. The project was inspected Tuesday by Howard Parker, area engineer, of McKinney, and Mr. Gates of the Ward Engineering firm at Wichita Falls. Both were well pleased with the work and commented favorably on its progress.

RUINS AT POWDER PLANT WHERE SCORES DIED

KENVIL, N. J.—It looks like a war scene at Kenvil, N. J., Sept. 13, the day after a series of explosions literally blew the Hercules powder plant off the face of the earth, killing at least 41 persons and injuring at least 200, 83 of whom are still confined to hospitals. Rescue workers are going through the ruins of the plant seeking more bodies. It is believed that the death toll in the nation's worst munitions disaster will reach 50. The company was working on $2,800,000 worth of U. S. Government orders. Federal agents are investigating possibilities of sabotage.

Impressive Ceremonies Formally Install Officers Of Catholic Daughters

An impressive ceremony, directed by Mrs. M. J. Endres, past grand regent, to formally install new officers, was the feature of Friday night's meeting of the Catholic Daughters of America. The rites installed officers to serve during the 1940-41 term.

After the ceremonies the usual business meeting was held during which it was decided that the Daughters will sponsor a card and bingo party, the proceeds to go into the new church building fund. September 29 was set as the tentative date, and Mesdames M. J. Endres, J. W. Fisher, Joe Swirczynski and Ben Hellman were named members of the committee in charge of arrangements.

Miss Theresa Luke was appointed hostess for the monthly social. She will entertain on September 26 at the K C hall.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Flood and sons and her mother, Mrs. Tom Reece, spent Friday in Dallas. From there Mrs. Reece returned to her home in Waco. She had been visiting her daughter and family for several weeks.

"BULBS" IS SUBJECT OF PROGRAM AT GARDEN CLUB MEET

With "Bulbs" as the subject of the program, the Civic League and Garden Club enjoyed an interesting meeting Friday afternoon when a regular monthly session was held at the public school.

Mrs. Herbert Meurer, as the principal speaker, discussed "Bulbs for Spring Bloom." She told about the proper planting and care of bulbs in general, with special mentions on the tulip, narcissus, daffodil, hyacinth, Madonna lily and tiger lily, which grow well in this vicinity, and then cited her own experiences in the culture of tulips.

Mrs. M. J. Endres gave a paper on "Bulbs for Winter Forcing," with instruction on the three methods usually employed, of which the pebble and water method is the most widely adapted.

During the business session, preceding the program, committee reports were given and the treasurer's report was heard. The city clean-up, sponsored during the weekend, was also discussed.

New yearbooks for the 1940-41 term were distributed at this meeting. The books were completed last week by members of the yearbook and program committee.

For this year's horticultural project the group decided to plant a red iris. These will be ordered for the next meeting and each member, after planting the iris, will keep notes on its growth, etc., and will exhibit specimens of the blossoms at the annual flower show.

Fourteen members were present and membership was extended to Miss Mary Wiedeman.

1941 CHEVROLET TO BE DISPLAYED BY J. B. WILDE SATURDAY

J. B. Wilde of the J. B. Wilde Chevrolet Company today received word that the new 1941 Chevrolet will be formally introduced locally and nationally, Saturday, September 21.

Mr. Wilde said he was not in a position to confirm any advance information on the new Chevrolet car, but indicated that it will be much bigger inside and out, than last year's model. Vacuum-Power Shift, original Chevrolet feature, will be standard equipment on all 1941 models at no extra cost, and the new car will have an even sturdier and more modern valve-in-head engine.

"Chevrolet has led in motor car sales for nine out of the past ten years," Mr. Wilde said, "and with this better-than-ever 1941 car, we certainly should repeat again."

J. B. Wilde Chevrolet Company expects a big fall upturn in new car sales, indicated by the large number of advance orders already placed by those who want to be sure of early delivery.

SCHAD AND PULTE HAS AGENCY FOR CLUB ALUMINUM

For the first time in Cooke county the famous Club Aluminum Hammercraft Waterless Cookware is on sale. This popular line is sold by only a few stores in each city, and Schad and Pulte at Gainesville has been selected as the distributor.

All this week daily demonstrations are being given by Miss Lillie Ward of the Club Aluminum Test Kitchen, Chicago. Her cooking demonstrations will be concluded Saturday evening. Miss Ward also gives advice and free consultation on cookery problems.

In connection with the demonstration this week special prices on the aluminum are in effect. A complete set is being featured at less than half the former home demonstration prices, and a wide assortment of individual items at about half.

This club aluminum with its lustrous Hammercraft finish on the outside and satin finish on the inside is noted for saving flavors, vitamins, minerals and other valuable food elements, because everything cooks over low heat and with little or no water. It is also noted for convenience, economy and lifetime wear.

While the Schad and Pulte store will continue to sell Club Aluminum at about half the former price, extra special prices are in effect for a limited time only.

35 Parochial Pupils To Defend Attendance Record Set Last Year

Muenster school children, elementary and high school students, numbered 340 Monday, the first day of the 1940-41 scholastic year. This total is one above last year's first day registrations.

At the parochial school 299 reported for classes on the first day, one short of last year's number which was an even 300. At the public school the total of 41 shows a gain of two pupils over last year's enrollment.

Principals at both schools conceded that quite a number of pupils did not register the first day but will be at their classes within a few weeks. Cotton picking, for one thing, is detaining several.

Contrary to the general rule, which placed Sister Anastasia of the parochial school first grade in first place with the largest enrollment, Sister Bertha boasts the greatest number of scholars in the 2nd grade this year. Her number is 42.

The decline of first grade pupils this year is attributed to the new ruling, in effect for the first time this season, that all children must have passed their 6th birthday by September 1st.

Mass to the Holy Ghost preceded registrations at the parochial school. Father Frowin was celebrant and songs were sung by the children who were present in full number.

35 Parochial Pupils Defend Record

Thirty-five parochial school pupils began classes Monday with a perfect attendance record from last year, Sister Lucy, grade school principal, announced this week. The names of these pupils are preserved on a permanent roll of honor at the school.

The names vary only slightly with those on the honor roll the previous year. Because of sickness and severe weather there were several who missed only one or two days.

Last year's honor roll is as follows:

- Dolores Lehnertz, Billie Joe Miller, Edna Margaret Hartman, Adeline Bindel, Teresa Walter, Rosalee Miller, Marian Gremminger, Clyde Fisher, Joseph Weinzapfel, Gertrude Bindel, Daniel Luke, Vincent Walterscheid, James Bayer, Robert Dean Reiter, Ruth Lee Fisher, Emma Lou Gehrig, Mary Evelyn Hofbauer, Virginia Walterscheid, Alvin Hartman, Herbert Pettie, Anna Marie Schilling, Bernice Haverkamp, Dolores Gremminger, Mary Ann Felderhoff, Olive Haverkamp, Neil Fisher, Harold Knabe, Bernard Luke, Floyd Lehnertz, Mitchell Wolf, Leonard Bindel, Donald Mueller, Celine Felderhoff, Dorothy Walterscheid, Daniel Haverkamp.

Twenty-two children were on the honor roll the year before.

NO EXCUSE FOR NOT BEING AT FIREMEN'S BALL—SAYS FIRE CHIEF

Everybody's getting ready for the firemen's ball next Tuesday. There will be excuses for hardly anybody in and around Muenster not to get a foot in the festivity. Tickets went on sale early this week and members of the local department have been publicizing the affair by trips to surrounding towns and visits with other departments.

The local boys are confident they will have a large crowd. Fandy Sandifer and his Texas Wesleyan College Orchestra will furnish the music which is in itself a drawing card. The reputation of the dance floor at the K of C hall is also widely known.

Besides that the volunteer department feels that its own good record in Muenster will draw a large crowd of local business people, who don't otherwise "go" for dances, but who will be there this time to show their appreciation for what the Muenster department has done.

The city received 20 cents reduction of its insurance rate which is one-fifth of the key rate, since the volunteer department has been organized here, besides a 3 per cent cut for sending members to the annual firemen's drill school.

TEXAS OUT-O-DOORS

JAVELINAS ARE INCREASING

AUSTIN, Texas, Sept. 18.—Javelinas, also called Collard Peccary, the only native North American wild hog, are increasing in Texas, reports of game managers to the executive secretary of the State Game, Fish and Oyster Commission, indicate.

The increase is largely due to the protection given this game animal by a state law which went into effect last year. It is now unlawful to shoot peccaries except during the opening season of Nov. 15 to Dec. 31. It is permissible to kill two during a season.

Javelinas are more common in Southwest Texas counties. They formerly ranged in far more areas than they do now, but the killing of them for meat, for their hides and for their bristles threatened the extinction of these animals.

Judging from requests for information concerning javalina hunting received by the Game Department, a large number of hunters from other states will invade Texas seeking javelinas during the open season. Their heads are regarded by many sportsmen as a finer trophy than deer heads.

DOE BATTLES COYOTE

A battle between a doe deer, seeking to protect her young fawn, and a coyote, was witnessed by a cowboy on the McAllen ranch in northern Hidalgo county recently. It is reported to the Game Department by Mr. Argyle Allen, owner of the ranch. The cowhand came upon the doe and coyote while the battle for the life of the fawn was in progress. Every time the coyote made a rush for the young deer, the doe struck out sharply with its hoofs and the fur flew from the coyote. The battle was interrupted when the cowboy made his presence known. The coyote ran into the brush, but the doe and her fawn took their time about leaving the scene of the skirmish. The doe was bleeding slightly.

PROLIFIC PAIR OF DOVES

The most prolific pair of mourning doves yet reported in Texas raised six pair of young in a rose arbor in the yard of H. A. Stuermer of Cuero last year and at the last report had raised three pair this year and were on the job with a fourth, according to report from the Cuero Standard.

STORM HIT MUSKRATS

A recent storm in Southeast Texas did considerable damage to muskrats and the extent of the damage is being studied by the Texas Game Department game manager for that region. Muskrats provide the livelihood for many trappers in the Lone Star State.

MAY HAVE SET FISH RECORD

A sawfish measuring 14 feet, 9 inches was caught recently in Texas Gulf waters by E. F. Reid, Houston automobile dealer and it is believed his haul is a new world's record for sawfish landed on rod and reel. Reid battled the huge denizen of the deep three hours and ten minutes before bringing it to gaff. Reid also landed a sawfish which measured fourteen feet. He brought the smaller one to the rocks in two and a half hours. Quite a day's work!

TALK ABOUT TOUGH FISH

A catfish so tough that the steaks had to be pounded like they were pieces off a Longhorn steer was caught recently by Timothy Gray of Bandera, Texas. The huge cat weighed 45 1/2 pounds. It's the first time we have ever heard of a fish so tough steaks from it had to be pounded before being palatable.

DOVE DONT'S

AUSTIN, Texas, Sept. 8.—With dove hunting under way pertinent DONT'S which, if followed, will save sportsmen considerable trouble with state and federal game wardens have been formulated by the Texas Game Department's executive secretary. They include:

Don't shoot doves before sunrise nor after official sunset.
Don't shoot from a car or from, or along a public road.
Don't shoot doves with any gun except a shotgun larger than ten gauge.
Don't forget to plug your gun to three-shell capacity.
Don't forget your hunting license if you leave the county of your residence.

Don't kill more than 12 doves per day and do not have more than 12 in your possession, white wings and mourning doves.
Don't forget to clean your gun well before taking that first hunting trip of the season.
Don't shoot when you cannot see; there might be another hunter behind those trees.

Don't leave gates open and always get permission to hunt on private land; the trespass law is rather severe.
Don't forget that the quail season does not open until December 1.

mum results from the feed consumed. If you have a small flock of turkeys you may be interested in giving them individual worm capsules to rid them of the intestinal parasites or if you have a large flock you will perhaps be interested in using a flock worm treatment in the mash. You can secure poultry worm capsules or poultry worm powders through your local feed dealers, hatcherymen, or drug stores. If you are unable to get these from these parties you can contact your local county agent or vocational agriculture teacher. I would like to just mention in this connection that there are a number of very reputable concerns putting out poultry remedies. These are licensed companies and handle their products through local dealers. There are a few peddlers of poultry remedies that are not put out by reputable concerns and I would make certain that the product I use does come from a manufacturer with an established reputation and I would be very leary of buying from house to house peddlers that are handling poultry medications.

After the turkeys have been thoroughly treated for intestinal parasites then I would put them on a good fattening ration. This may either be commercial or home mixed. If you are using a commercial fattening feed, then I would utilize all of the home grown grains that I have. In finishing the turkeys it is best to confine them a small enclosure of an acre or so of land, depending of course upon the number of birds to be finished. I would keep the fattening mash before them in open hoppers and keep grain before them in open hoppers and in addition to this, see that they have plenty of oyster shell and grit (turkey size). Also see that they have plenty of clean fresh water. The water has a tendency to become sour where the birds are consuming mash and there is a large sediment of mash in the bottom of the water container. See that the containers are cleaned at least once a day and often it is necessary to clean them twice a day to prevent any condition such as this from occurring. If you are interested in formulas for home mixed fattening rations, you can secure these from your local county agent.

There will be a number of small under developed birds that are not ready to start on a fattening program at the present time. These birds should be kept on a growing mash until a later date and then put on a fattening feed and marketed at Christmas and New Year's, depending upon the age and condition of the bird.

In marketing the turkeys select the breeding stock first to see that none of these breeder birds are sold. Then go through the rest of the birds and see that those are well fleshed, fat, and free of pin feathers. If the toms are not matured and free from pin feathers, I would hold these birds for the later market. If we follow a program of this kind, there is no reason why the quality of Texas turkeys cannot compare favorably with the turkey from other sections and the producers will not be penalized too severely as a result of the crowded market condition as it now exists.

TREATMENT IS FOUND TO CURE DYSENTERY

ATLANTA, Ga.—Sulfathiazole, a baby member of the amazing sulfanilamide family, is bidding strongly for recognition as the long-sought, effective weapon against dysentery bacilli, rugged pest equally at home in nursery or army camp.

At Henrietta Egleston Hospital for Children, physicians have watched this drug score repeated, spectacular victories over acute dysentery in children 1 to 3 years old.

The hospital staff is unwilling yet to say positively that thiazole is the long-needed curative agent for this ancient ill, but it definitely is encouraged.
The drug was first made available for experimental use about a year ago and Egleston was among the first to receive supplies of it. Sulfathiazole was designed primarily to attack staphylococcal infections, as sulfanilamide deals with the dread streptococcus.

Sulfathiazole was used in treatment of pneumonia and did its work here with fewer unfavorable reactions than sulfapyridine but, the real "kick" came from the dramatic outcome of the first test in a virulent dysentery infection.

This disease heretofore has been fought without the aid of any specific curative agent. Serums and various forms of medication have been tried without consistent or extensive results.

THE PUBLIC, NOT THE LEADER

As usual when the presidential race gets under way, we begin to hear some wonderful things about both candidates. Listen to either side's claims for just a little while and we see prospects of a millenium. Political theories, all of them fine and noble, are already pointing a way to the land of milk and honey.

There's going to be a heap of disappointment. Human weakness, the one principal factor so frequently overlooked, will be a severe handicap to either man's administration. It is high time for us to wake up and realize that the American public, not the man in the White House will control the destiny of our next four years. If we all try to do our share in making this a better country it's going to be a better country. But if we continue our present selfish policies of demanding more than we contribute we shall continue to recede.

The principle fits in all phases of our national life. There was a time when industry exploited labor, now labor is making most of the unreasonable demands; either extreme is wrong, and there should be a happy medium. We have numerous cases of demands for federal projects representing more than our share of the tax burden. We have drones who demand a living even though they loaf at every opportunity. We have unscrupulous men who take advantage of others. To sum it all in one expression, we are lacking in justice.

What many of us do not appreciate is that democracy and Christianity run hand in hand, that our constitution is based on Christian principles. The one professes the dignity of man and demands such virtues as justice, honesty, decency and brotherly love, the other acknowledges the dignity and gives free rein to the virtues in its guarantee of liberty. Weaken those virtues and emergencies arise, our government must restrict our liberties, we begin drifting toward dictatorship—toward slavery. It is inevitable.

When men refuse to obey their conscience they invite some outside force to demand obedience of them. We see it in every law of the land. When people failed to control themselves, when they resorted to unfairness of any kind, the government had to set up regulations.

Theories of government are meaningless without the moral background which supports them. No matter who our next president is, we will have trouble unless the improvement comes from the people. Perhaps one man is more competent than another to cope with the difficulties, but lasting success will depend on the people.

After all, the president is only a leader doing the best he can with a bungling public that is a severe handicap on the best laid plans and the most capable administration.

Broadway Casanova says the trouble with getting stuck on some other guy's gal is that you're liable to get stuck with her.

Add literary lace, the authorship of which eludes us now: "A political platform is just like the one on the back of the street car—not meant to stand on, just to get in on." . . . E. Cane's: "When you see the Vermont hills you look at God Himself!" . . . A truck driver's sassy retort to a pedestrian who yelled curses for almost being run down: "Take it easy, Greasy!" . . . Senator Tyding's comment in congress about conscription: "I would rather have it and not need it, than need it and not have it!"

Here's How News Story Would Read If Editor 'Considered All Angles'

Herbert J. Pate, editor of the Johnston County Capital-Democrat at Tishomingo, gave his readers an illustration of what newspaper stories would be like if an editor considered every angle of a story too thoroughly before printing it, says an article in a recent issue of the Sooner State Press.

Under the heading, "Suppose Heads Were Like This: SOMEBODY DID SOMETHING," Pate printed the following story on June 8:

If stories were written on the basis of the effect on a newspaper in its many phases: (Editor's Note: Any actual resemblance of this story to anybody, the reader knows is a strange coincidence as it was just written to fill up space.)

A Washington correspondent tells us that John L. Lewis may form a third party. The Republicans could tell him there's not enough business for two yet.

If John L. was elected he probably wouldn't live in the White House because it wasn't built by union labor.

Senators and representatives would have to show their union card before they could enter.

Instead of using a gavel, John L. would use a steam whistle to sound adjournment of congress.

We wonder if the Senators would be classed as skilled or unskilled laborers.

We know one group that won't vote for John L. It's the barbers —

If Shrubs Are Bare Look For Bag Worms

COLLEGE STATION. — Shrubs with a denuded look from loss of foliage may be infested with bagworms. And if they are, immediate precautions will save a lot of grief.

as well as a lot of foliage.

"The bagworm seems to prefer to feed on arborvitae and cedars," according to Sadie Hatfield, specialist in landscape gardening for the A. & M. College Extension Service. This pest carries with it a spindle-shaped case or bag about two inches long, made of silk and scraps of twigs and foliage. The head of the caterpillar protrudes from the bag at feeding time, but when disturbed the worm retreats inside the bag and draws the opening shut.

Recommendations of the Extension Service for control of the bagworms place handpicking and burning as the most effective method of control.

The bags which contain large masses of eggs, should be gathered and placed in a box covered with screen. Parasitic insects which are present in the nests will destroy any bagworms which ordinarily would hatch in the spring. Boxes or barrels in which the collected nests are placed should be protected from the rain to prevent drowning of the parasites.

The specialist also points out that the damage which bagworms are going to do this year is already done, but these precautions should be taken for next year.

Since the pests eat the foliage a spray of arsenate of lead can be applied with good results when they first hatch. Two or three level teaspoonful to one gallon of water is recommended. "Be sure to spray thoroughly," Miss Hatfield warns. "Careless spraying is like applying salt with a spoon instead of a shaker."

TEXAS HIGH SCHOOLS WILL OFFER COURSE IN PROPER DRIVING

AUSTIN.—Driver training courses for instruction of Texas high school students in traffic safety will be offered next September with one-half credit allowed toward graduation, it has been announced by the Texas Safety Association.

Incorporation of safety education in the school curriculum recently was approved by the State Education Committee on Accreditation and successfully climaxed the efforts of the Texas Safety Association, the public safety department, and the state education department to secure its adoption.

The course will be an elective one designed for students approximating the legal driving age of sixteen who will receive driver's licenses upon passing it. Unique among driver training courses of other states is the home project feature of the Texas course which will permit behind-the-wheel instruction in driver operation under the supervision of the pupil's parents.

"The need for training youngsters in the principles of safe and sane driving has long been recognized," said George Clarke, executive secretary of the association. "Not only are these youngsters the drivers of tomorrow, they are to a most important extent the drivers of today."

"Statistics of the public safety department reveal that youthful drivers constitute 30 per cent of all drivers involved in fatal traffic accidents and 26 per cent of the total number of drivers involved in non-fatal accidents.

"The driver training course will not only teach the mechanics of operating a motor vehicle safely but of equal importance will indoctrinate the student with the safety concept that his driving rights are secondary to his driving responsibilities."

Texas has more than 5,000 common schools and more than 1,100 independent school districts. Much of the revenue for the support of the school system is derived from the great oil resources of the state.

Checking Crime

with Checks

One of the best possible ways to check crime and discourage hold-ups and robberies is to travel light financially.

Do not run the risk of carrying large sums of money about with you. It is unnecessary, foolish, and dangerous. Carry a check book instead. If it is stolen it is of no use to the thief. If you should lose it the bank can give you another.
