NUMBER 39

Governor Nelson Rockefeller's solicitude for the Republican party is amusing. Repeatedly he comes forward with tear jerking pleas to dump Barry Goldwater because he is being taken over by the radical right. Rocky sees his chance at the '64 nomination fading fast, so he's swinging wildly in a futile effort to stay in the fight.

His big trouble, which he doesn't seem to realize, is that he doesn't hit anyone. He's only shadow boxing. No persons or organizations of importance seem to fit that label of "radical right".

Most likely the intended target in his wild swinging is the conservative element of the country. To a man of his far left leanings it is possible that all such persons appear as radical rightists. In that case the term has a meaning to him, but these are very few of the millions of sincere conservatives who feel he is hitting anywhere near them.

Rockefeller's biggest blunder is in thinking that he has something to offer the country. But few other folks see it that way. He's as liberal as the Kennedys. His political policies are mostly carbon copies of those already being applied. And since that is the case, why should rank and file voters be interested in him? Electing him would only be a matter of choosing the same dish with another name.

To Rocky and his cronies that would make a big difference, of course. The change of party would put him and his appointees in the top jobs. But that's not what we're interested in. We think rather about the course of our nation — the official attitude on such matters as government spending, increasing debt, racial and industrial relations, bureaucracy, federal snooperism, socialism, softness toward communism in domestic and foreign dealings. Those are the issues which have a solid bearing on the nation's destiny. Those are the issues America wants to consider in making its decision, not which of two names or two parties will carry on in the same way.

For many years we have been aware that it is next to impossible to make a clear distinction in party labels. Democrats have their liberal and conservative elements. So do the Republicans. In an election there's always a big hullabaloo about voting for this or that party but when it's over the issue of liberal or conservative applies more than the party line.

As things are looking now, it seems that we can expect a more realistic division of the political lineup. Republicans practically forced to tie their presidential aspirations to the conservative cause. And the growing popularity of Barry Goldwater presents a strong possibility that issues of conservatism and liberalism will become more important than party labels. Republicans can do the country a big favor by nominating him.

Furthermore they might also do themselves a big favor. The trend to conservatism is increasing. People are wondering and worrying about the outcome of present policies — beginning to realize that our best hope lies in the return to old time solid principles on which our nation grew and prospered and merited the respect of the world. They are learning that there is something wrong in a fiscal policy that penalizes thrift, in a bureaucratic policy that centers more and more power in Washington, in a foreign policy that tolerates endless insult from Castro and allows our sworn enemy to keep advancing his plan of global domination, in a give-away policy that sustains communism.

If Goldwater becomes the GOP nominee we can be sure that all those issues and many more will get a thorough airing. And it is just possible that his presentations will lead to a clearer and more general understanding of the serious problems facing this country. By the time his campaign is ended liberalism will have been shorn of much of its appeal — and very likely there will also be a change in administration.

Just another thought about Rocky and his swings at the "radical right". Why doesn't he show some concern about the radical left? That is the element this country really

Readiness Tests For SH Beginners Set Monday, 19th

All beginners at Sacred Heart School are asked to be present for the placement test on Monday, August 19, from 8:30 to 11:00 a.m. Any child in the parish who will be six by September 1, 1963 is eligible to take this placement test. The parents are asked to have the children at the Elementary School building promptly at 8:30 so the test can be started on time.

The Metropolitan Readiness Test is given in order to group the children according to their needs. Parents should not be overly concerned about the results of this test as the children are regrouped throughout the school year if the periodic testing or classroom performance shows a change. This initial placement test is given primarily to enable each child to have an equal chance to learn the basic skills in order to be successful in his school career.

Football Practice At Both Schools To Begin Monday

Football players of Muenster, like those of practically all Class B schools of the state will report next Monday to start practice for their 1963 season. That's the first day on which practice is allowed for teams abiding by Texas Interscholastic League regulations, and local players, like most others, will not lose a single day.

Furthermore they will start with two sessions a day. Coach James Polk of the Muenster High Hornets said he will be out with the boys at 7 a.m. and 6 p.m. And Coach Adam Wolf of the Sacred Heart Tigers likewise will have his crew together at both ends of the day. Both teams will have a few days of calisthenics and footwork to toughen up before going into contact work.

The issue of equipment, scheduled for the first day, will include something new this year. Every boy will receive a mouthpiece of plastic and rubber, like those used by boxers. New regulations of the Interscholastic League require that it be worn in all practice and competition for the players' protection.

Band Will Get New Uniforms

Band members of Muenster High School will be stepping out in new uniforms this year.

The school board at its meeting last Thursday instructed Superintendent L. B. Bruns to begin inquiries immediately on prices and styles and arrange to have a representative here for taking measurements shortly after the band is organized.

It is assumed that the suits will be delivered a few weeks after the order, and that band members will be wearing them at games toward the end of the football season.

Denison NCCW Is Host at Deanery Quarterly Meet

Members of the Sherman Deanery National Council of Catholic Women gathered at Denison in the KC Hall for the quarterly meeting on August 8 with NCCW of St. Patrick's parish as hostesses and Father Anthony Gajda of Valley View as speaker.

Father Gajda, who is chaplain of the State School for Girls at Gainesville, gave an entertaining account of his activities there, also explained various courses available for the girls to make them self-sustaining when they leave the school, and thanked those who helped in any way through donations of clothing and religious articles. He mentioned that while he teaches religion classes in English, Joe Walter of Gainesville teaches religious classes in Spanish.

Mrs. T. L. Anderson of Gainesville, deanery president, conducted the business session and members elected her as delegate to the diocesan convention of NCCW in Wichita Falls October 13-15.

Father John Duesman opened and closed the meeting with prayer and gave his usual timely comments after the meeting.

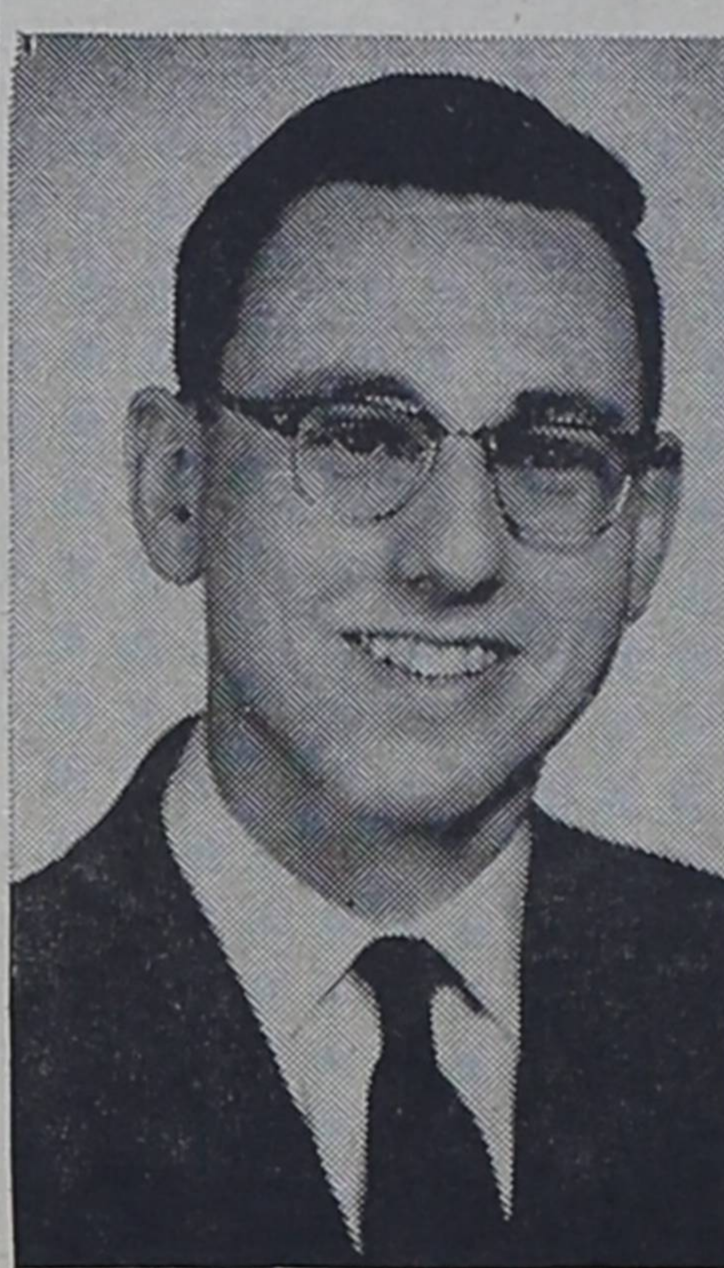

Denison won the traveling statue of the Blessed Virgin for having the most members present. Sherman relinquished the Madonna after having it since the previous meeting.

Before the meeting the women attended Benediction in St. Patrick's Church, and after adjournment the hostesses served punch and cookies.

Attending from Sacred Heart Parish were Mmes. Paul Fisher, Al Hess, Herb McDaniel, Frank Herr and Tillie Barrier. Present from St. Peter's Parish, Lindsay, were Mmes. John Schmidtkofer, Joe and Herbert Schmidtkofer and Charles Stoffels, and Father John Walbe.

Before the general meeting, deanery officers had a program planning session in the home of Mrs. M. J. Reesby. They drew up a program of speakers and activity for the coming year and chose Mrs. Lawrence Zimmerman of Lindsay to take charge of details in connection with getting the new year books ready.

Under his advisership, the 1962-63 edition of Mosaics received first class honor rating by the National Scholastic Press Association.

Scouts and Dads Enjoy Camp-out At Lake Texoma

Muenster Boy Scouts and their dads had a weekend camp-out without rain, much to their delight, while everybody else was hoping for a cloudburst to relieve the drought. The Scout camp-out in July was practically rained out.

Eighteen Scouts, a number of little brothers, and their dads enjoyed a weekend of fishing, swimming, eating and playing. Mothers and other family members joined them Sunday for a field mass with Father Alcuin Kubis as celebrant. Other vacationers at the lake swelled the mass attendance.

Scoutmaster Ed Schneider and committee men Ray Voth, Donald Endres, L. B. Bruns, Herman Hartman, Frank Felderhoff and Carl Walterscheid stayed with the boys over night and Bill Miller joined them Sunday.

Scoutmaster Schneider has announced that the local troop will get back to business at a re-organization meeting on September 9. Summer activity has been confined to fun.

Henrietta Winner, Muenster Next in Baseball Tourney

Muenster Jaycee sponsored baseball tournament ended Sunday with Henrietta as the champ. Muenster won runner-up honors and Bowie was the consolation winner.

Five teams participated. Six were lined up but Marietta failed to show up. Henrietta, matched with Marietta for the first game last Thursday won by forfeit.

Friday night Muenster beat Gainesville and Bowie beat Anna.

In Saturday night play Henrietta beat Ann. In Sunday games Bowie beat Gainesville, and Henrietta beat Muenster.

Registration Set Next Thursday at Muenster Schools

Next Thursday, August 22, begins the new scholastic year at both Muenster schools.

According to schedules announced by Father Bruno Fuhrmann and L. B. Bruns, superintendents of the parochial school and the public school, registration will be held on Thursday and classwork will start on Friday.

The first day will be a short one. Buses will run an hour behind usual schedule, getting the students to school about 9 o'clock. The plan is to finish registrations about 11 and dismiss students in time to get home for their noon meals. Lunch rooms will not be open the first day.

Friday will be a full day. Buses will run at the regular time, and meals will be served at the lunch rooms.

For public school teachers the year will begin on Tuesday, the 20th. That's the date of their first faculty meeting, starting at 9 a.m.

A common bus service again will serve students of both schools. In accordance with an agreement made several years ago, the bus system operated by an independent corporation and supported jointly by the schools. That arrangement avoids the needless expense of operating two separate systems over the same routes.

Visiting Nuns To Be Honored Sunday With Open House

At least 13 visiting nuns — all from Holy Angels Convent in Jonesboro, Ark. — will be at home for a short visit with their families, coming this weekend when family members return from the convent's annual August 15 ceremonies.

To give the visitors an opportunity to see former classmates and other friends, parents of the nuns are inviting all who wish to see them to attend an open house at the KC Hall Sunday afternoon from 2 to 5 o'clock. Everyone is welcome.

Honored at the open house will be three pairs of blood sisters; the George Bayers' daughters Sisters Lucille and Carmella; the Paul Fishers' daughters Sisters Irene and Cynthia; and the Felix Yostens' daughters Sisters Estelle Marie and Olivia.

Also Sister Virginia, daughter of the Charley Hellmans; Sister Yvonne of the Ted Gremminger family; Sister Kathleen, daughter of the Ed-die Schmitts; Sister Jacinta of the Alphonse Reiter family; Sister Clare, daughter of the Leo Sicking; Sister Del Rey of the Paul Fetsch family; and Sister Silvaria, daughter of the Raymond Zimmerers.

Local Guardsmen Back From Camp

Life got back to normal Monday for Muenster's National Guardsmen and other men of North Texas units of the 49th Armored Division, Texas National Guard, following the division's first period of active duty since the Berlin Crisis.

The battle-garbed citizen-soldiers spent the first week in garrison at North Fort Hood, moving to the field Monday, Aug. 5, following the traditional mounted review on Aug. 3. The 4th was a day of rest, some of them were given weekend passes, others were visited by family members and friends.

The units returned to garrison Friday morning the 9th and began preparing for the trip back home which began early Sunday.

Muenster men in the maneuver were Donald Bayer, Billy Joe Dangelmaier, Donnie Trubenbach, William Fisher, Harvey Schmitt, Jim Voth, Roger Taylor and Dr. J. W. Middleton.

Muenster Gals Beat Gainesville

Muenster Little League Mothers and Jaycee Wives softballers walloped the Gainesvilleettes in a game at Leonard Park Monday night. The score was 20-12.

TOO MANY LAWS ALREADY

Self-proclaimed representatives of the American Negro are today demanding not just equal but preferential treatment in hiring practices and in housing.

The preference, they say, is to repay the Negro for some two centuries of unfair treatment — including a long period of slavery.

From the picture being presented, one might never know that the highest paid star in baseball today is a likeable Negro, Willie Mays; that the sports and entertainment worlds are well supplied with Negro personalities who are enjoyed by hosts of fans — both Negro and White.

And, isn't it true that in any Negro community in the North or South, the number of doctors, lawyers, dentists and teachers are found in about the same proportion as will be found in White communities?

The point is that opportunities for the Negro to achieve the finer things of life are not absent, in most cases, as their self-appointed spokesmen would have us believe. The many who have succeeded have recognized that success is a matter of individual achievement and responsibility, not one of legislating brotherhood and approval for those unwilling to look for opportunities and then act upon them.

The objective Negro can look about him and see just as many Whites who apparently are content to vegetate in a state of poverty while blaming not discrimination, but oppression by the Big Money class. It appears to be so easy to blame one's own failure in life on some nebulous "they."

In the matter of housing, the Negro complains that once he has secured a home in a previously all-White neighborhood, the area soon become a Negro ghetto. Whose fault is it that the White families move away? Is it necessarily blind "discrimination" — or is it our traditional freedom of choice in action? And why is it that the White prefers the association of other Whites rather than of Negroes?

This is the question that the Negro should ask himself rather than condemning the White man for being biased or bigoted. How can the Negro make himself welcome in White society? By demonstrating? By threatening? By intimidating? By demanding preference? By changing the White man?

We would say no to all of these questions. Threats and violence have never solved problems for anyone. Complacency may be secured in this manner, but respect and admiration must be earned.

The Negro is not the only minority group in this country. Others, such as the Japanese and Chinese, have earned the respect of their White neighbors through intra-group programs of social education and the acceptance of "civil rights" as being something far broader than just "racial rights."

Responsible Negroes have said that there are enough laws on the books right now to protect the legal "rights" of all, regardless of color. We would go a step further and say that there are so many laws, especially those enacted by the Federal Government, that the rights of all have been drastically curtailed.

For a good example, if it were not for the hodge-podge of rules and restrictions placed upon business by the Federal bureaucracy today, there would probably be jobs for every qualified individual — regardless of race, color or creed.

ACTUAL FEDERAL WASTE GETS A TOAST

FAR, FAR-OUT FEDERAL EXTRAVAGANCE

If you believe that you heard all the "far-out" wasteful expenditures of taxpayers' money by the federal government then consider these new examples of appropriations for studies which were cited recently by Rep. Homer F. Abele (R-Ohio):

- $17,500 for modification of alcohol preference in rats.
- $15,200 for a study of society and demography in ancient Babylonia.
- $36,800 for social behavior of ants.
- $2,100 for behavior patterns of the barren-ground caribou.
- $16,800 for social behavior of termites.
- $20,600 for communication signals in birds.
- $16,900 for revision of the classification of earthworms.
- $13,700 for social structure in Madagascar.
- $29,300 for mammal fauna of the highlands of Ethiopia.
- $65,400 for behavior and ecology of the wandering albatross.

Congressman Abele is to be commended for having ferreted out these truly shocking instances of wild extravagance. Anyone who has ever attempted to plough through the voluminous, intricate and "cover-up" phraseology of the federal budget knows that it really takes patience and expertise to spot the flagrant spending abuses.

It is to be hoped that Rep. Abele's labors will not have been in vain; that something is done to stop these giveaways, and fast.

TEST BAN TAKES TERRIBLE CHANCE WITH NATION'S SECURITY

The international propaganda mills have begun to spin furiously again, grinding out a new batch of grist for a crisis-weary world that would like nothing better than a return to the type of peace that is a stranger to two generations.

Surely all of us would welcome suspension of the Cold War and a lasting accord among honorable men so that the plain people could go about their business and rear their families without fear that one day everybody will be blown to kingdom come in a nuclear holocaust.

We might find some surcease in these Moscow reports if it weren't for the fact that our negotiator is W. Averell Harriman, who recommended the troika government for Laos, now almost completely a Communist plum.

There also might be some encouragement if there were no grim reminder of what really may be concealed beneath the Moscow test ban talks, as pointed to by Rear Admiral Chester Ward, USN, (Ret.).

We have the text of a speech by Admiral Ward, former judge advocate general of the Navy, before the Hawaii Foundation For American Freedoms a few weeks ago. What he had to say in the state that was the target of the sneak attack that ignited World War II makes the newest Moscow pronouncements downright terrifying, not reassuring.

"It's a terrible, terrible gamble that we are taking. We are going to rely on trusting Russian promises instead of United States strength to insure our security. . . ."

"There was only one way in which (the arms) race could be won. Khrushchev knew he had to trick the United States into stopping, while the Soviets secretly raced ahead. It took a brilliant mind to conceive a method

GIANT GOVERNMENT

Giantism has become one of the major problems of our time here in America. According to the Tax Foundation, one out of every 29 of the nation's employed workers is now on the civilian payrolls of the federal government. Yes, it is a fact that the federal government in Washington is the largest employer in the nation. The civilian employment of our government alone is just under 2½ million persons.

Do you have any idea how much property is owned by the federal government? With the exception of the Soviet Union, the United States Government is the largest land owner, the largest property holder in the world. Last year the House Government Operations Committee in Washington came up with findings useful in determining how much the federal government owns. The dollar figure given to these holdings by the Committee on Land and Buildings is $205 billion. It includes 788 million acres of land, one-fifth of the land surface of the United States.

Most of us are aware of the fact that when it comes to both debts and taxes, our federal government knows no equal at all. When we take a look at governmental storage facilities, we find the totals staggering, for here again the United States Government is the largest warehouse in the business. With 2½ billion square feet of floor space, much of it is covered with useless or surplus items for which the taxpayers have been gouged repeatedly.

Consider this statement by a former director of the Bureau of the Budget:

"The federal government is among other things the largest electric power producer in the country . . . the largest insurer . . . the largest landlord and the largest holder of grazing land, the largest holder of timberland . . . the largest shipowner . . . and the largest truck fleet operator. For a nation which is the citadel and the world's principal exponent of private enterprise and individual initiative, this is an amazing list."

It is, indeed, an amazing list. The implications are appalling, for it shows how very far we have strayed from the sound idea of strictly limiting the functions and power of government. The history of human liberty is the history of the limitations placed on governmental power.

Spend Vacation in N. M., and Arizona

Six-day visit in New Mexico was a happy vacation for Alex Lutkenhaus and his daughter, Miss Linda Lutkenhaus. They came home with a collection of rocks for his hobby and Linda bought a handsome western outfit at the Winrock Shopping Center in Albuquerque.

They spent two nights with Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hennigan after spending the first night away in Nazareth, Texas, with relatives.

In Gallup, N. M., the vacationers saw an Indian ceremonial and visited an art gallery. Natural scenic beauty was provided by the Painted Desert and Petrified Forest.

Mrs. Gene Hartman Is Party Honoree

Mrs. Gene Hartman of Denton was honoree at a gift shower Sunday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Mike Schilling with Mrs. Denis Hofbauer and Mrs. Arnold Wimmer as co-hostesses.

A pink and blue color scheme was stressed in the party rooms and the gift table was centered with a stork. A bassinette with baby doll was also used in the decor.

The hostesses presented the honoree with a pink carnation corsage and directed two paper and pencil games. Mrs. Teddy Gremminger won both contests and Miss Debbie Cain won the door prize. They handed their awards to the honor guest.

About thirty guests were present including Mrs. Bill McCollum of Dallas, Mrs. Teddy Gremminger of Garland, Mrs. Walter Wolf, Mrs. Herman Richey and Miss Linda Richey of Gainesville.

Refreshments were assorted cakes and coffee, nuts and mints. Miniature storks were plate favors.

Two Couples Make Trip to Colorado

West Texas and Colorado were vacation spots for Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Reiter who made the trip with Mr. and Mrs. Richard Schumacher of Gainesville. They had a week of visiting and sightseeing.

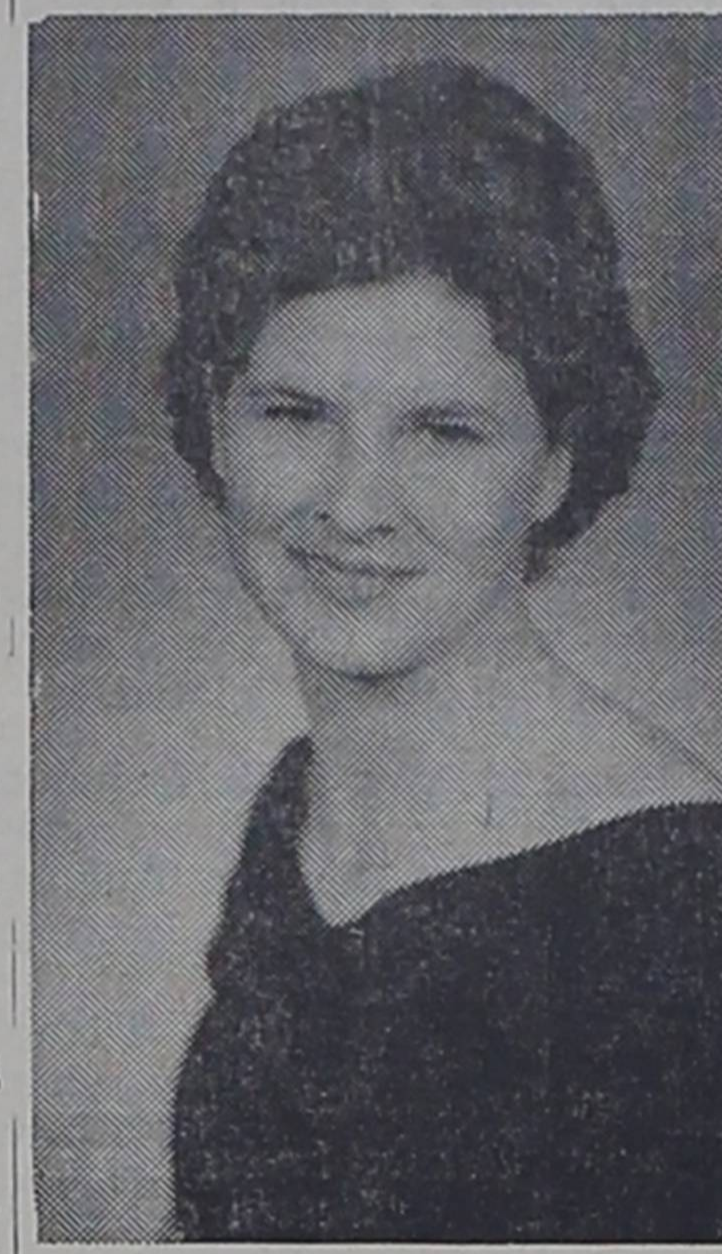

Colorado Springs and Denver furnished the scenery and they managed to see all the principal attractions for tourists. They also enjoyed dog races in Denver.

Pop calls and visiting were at the Charlie Berends and Adolph Knabes at Hereford, Paul Schniederjans at Bushland, Andy Schumachers at Nazareth and the Bill Schroeders at Windthorst. At Hereford they saw the Joe Devers of Valley View who were on a vacation trip.

In Colorado Springs they visited former Muensterites, the Alex Knaufs, and at Fort Morgan they saw the Ray Webers. A stop in Tulia, Texas, gave Wilfred Reiter an opportunity to see a former school mate, Albert Lange. They were at Subiaco, Ark., together.

My uncle started to build a new kind of car. He took the hub caps from a Cadillac, a radiator from a Rambler, rear lights from a Ford— And what did he get? Two years.

Weekend vacation in Arkansas was crowded with visiting and sight-seeing for Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Vogel and children Carla Sue, Jimmy and David. Nicest of all was seeing Sister Gemma, the Vogel's daughter, at Jonesboro. They had all day Saturday to spend with her. Sister Gemma leaves this weekend for Lake Arthur, La., where she will teach this term.

At Holy Angels Convent they also saw former local girls and former teachers including Sister Georgia Felderhoff, Sister Agatha Knauf, Sister John Seyler and Sister Thomasina Walterscheid, enjoyed visiting with them and with Sister Bertha, also with Father Louis Deuster and Miss Maggie Simons.

In Subiaco on the way home the Vogels stopped at the Benedictine Abbey and Father Paul Hoedebeck took them through the abbey, the new guest house and the church. They came home Sunday night.

Longest foot race ever staged was the 1929 trans-continental run from New York to Los Angeles, won by Johnny Salvo who took 79 days to complete the course.

CDAs Continue Charity Work at Home and Abroad

As a part of their various charitable activity, members of Muenster court Catholic Daughters of America at their August meeting Friday night voted to support an "untainted" child of Korean lepers. Now's the Time to Have Soil Tested For Fall Planting

Now is the time to have your soil tested in preparation for fall planting, says William F. Bennett, soil chemist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Early soil sampling is encouraged by the chemist to avoid the fall rush that crowds the state's three testing laboratories. Samples being received now are mostly from pastures, fall-seeded crops and lawn or flower beds, he says.

The number of samples received during May and June was about normal for this period at all three labs. In May 839 samples were tested and 495 were examined in June.

The A&M College lab led in the number of samples received, with the High Plains lab second and the Baylor County facility handling the lowest number. Harris county topped the list of those submitting samples with 55, while Henderson county had 42 and Hale county submitted 27 samples.

Bennett reminds that established legume pastures are among the crops that will need fertilization this fall. An increasing number of acres are being seeded to vetch, Crimson and White clover and since fertility needs of these crops vary, soil samples should be taken, he says.

One element of special importance to East Texas and Coast Prairie farmers is lime, points out Bennett. He says that three-fourths of the East Texas soils and one-half of the eastern Coast Prairie soils need lime, and it should soon be applied to them for fall plantings.

For more information about soil testing and for instructions on the method of taking and submitting soil samples, contact your county agricultural agent.

DO IT BETTER Electrically!

COOK flamelessly!

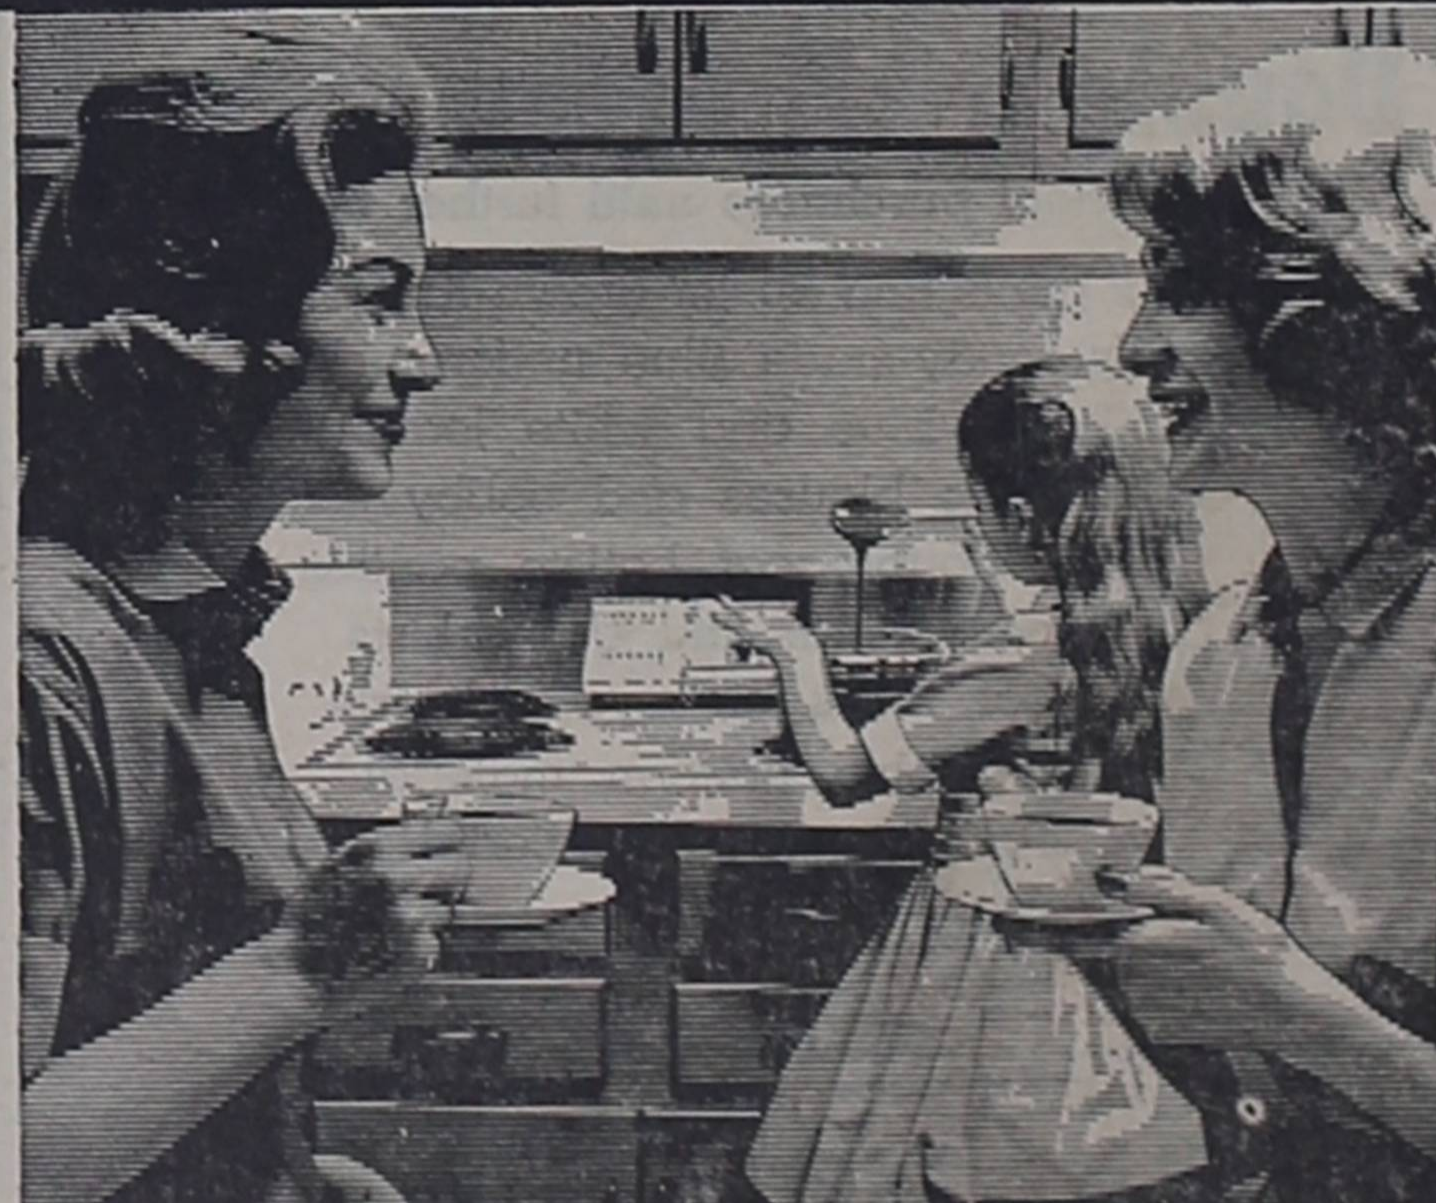

"Really, Martha, the first time you cook with an electric range you'll wonder why you waited so long to see what it's like!"

This bit of conversation is typical of that you'll hear from the thousands of housewives who have made the change to flameless electric cooking. And, it's easy to understand when you consider that with electric cooking simple controls provide recipe-exact temperatures... top elements are in direct contact with utensils so that very little heat "spills" out into your kitchen... and, with no flame, pots and pans and your entire kitchen stay cleaner.

Only Oil Exceeds Texas Farm and Ranch Production

The value of Texas' farm and ranch production is exceeded by only one other raw material, oil. The value of the state's total yearly agricultural production exceeds the payroll for manufacturing, or the total of construction awards or the payroll for retail trades, points out John McHaney, extension economist.

Farm and ranch production each year has a total value of just under 2.5 billion dollars, but, explains McHaney, agriculture adds much more to our total economy than just income from the sale of products. Business firms which assemble, process, distribute, transport wholesale and retail the products of Texas' farms and ranches employ about 20 percent of the labor of the state and add about 3.9 billion dollars to the agribusiness economy. Their primary concern is to get the agricultural products to the final consumer in the desired form and at the right place and time.

Simple addition, says McHaney, shows that the sale of agricultural products plus the costs of processing and distributing them annually adds to the state's economy about $6.3 billion. The economic destiny of most Texas counties, the economist adds, hinges primarily on the agribusiness economy.

The honeymoon is usually over when the bills and coos begin to be mostly bills.

Fix-up Paint-up To Greet Students At Public School

Lots of fix-up and paint-up awaits the students of Muenster Public School when they report for registration on the 22nd.

Conspicuous at the front of the school is a bright treatment of 2-tone green to cornices. The higher level cornice under the auditorium roof got a complete new job — replacement of all woodwork and then the paint. At the lower level, under porch roofs, new paint was sufficient.

Inside, all of the cement floors got a new coat of gray. That includes the gym entrance, boys' and girls' dressing rooms, the concession area between elementary wing and shop, and the lunch room floor. Shower stalls and woodwork in the dressing rooms were also painted, and so were exterior doors.
