NUMBER 33

One of today's big problems is what will be the final result of the Civil Rights controversy now rumbling across our country and especially in the national legislature. Considering the extreme proposals of the Administration, it's easy to understand why Southerners are determined to put up a hard fight and why many of their Northern associates are ready to join them.

Here, it seems is a case where the cure can become more sickening than the original ailment. Corrective measures carried to extreme can cause more trouble than the evil it sought to correct. If the proposed civil rights package becomes law it will not end discrimination but only switch it from one side to another. And that condition will be further aggravated by the fact that it results from official coercion rather than free choice.

Discrimination against Negroes will be subject to prosecution and stiff penalty. Because of that the person making the decision will be under pressure and will be inclined to decide so as to avoid trouble.

For instance, if a white and a colored person applies for a job. According to standards of freedom we have always known, one has a right to select as he pleases. Furthermore he owes no explanation. But if that law is passed he faces a problem. The discrimination bugaboo threatens. He knows that choosing against the Negro makes him subject to possible prosecution and penalty. On the other hand no questions will be asked if he chooses against the White.

So caution prompts him to discriminate against the White. It doesn't matter either that he thinks the White would be a better choice. He knows that the Negro can cause trouble, and he's not certain that his reasons, however good they seem to him, would stand up in court.

Regardless of what the do-gooders have to say about it, such legislation does not create equality and justice. It violates one person's right to make his free decision, and it imposes on white applicants a handicap which is as discriminatory as any practice of the past.

Discrimination under the law would apply also in other ways. A man would no longer be boss of his own business, with the right of deciding who is welcome in his store or lunch room or motel. The intention is to identify such a business as a public place which must admit Negroes whether it wishes to or not. The real problem there will be in dealing with a trouble maker. No matter how good the reason the owner would be at a disadvantage because of possible future consequence.

This kind of discrimination in reverse becomes possible because one feature of the proposed law practically gives gestapo power to the Attorney General. An offended Negro needs only to complain to the Attorney General and he has the power of the federal government behind him. And the one who offends is on the defense. Judging from the discriminatory nature of the proposed law he will need a stout case to clear himself. Even at that he has been subjected to harassment and expense and loss of time. If he wins his case he loses that much.

This entire civil rights muddle reminds one of some of the other boners that have resulted from efforts to guarantee the rights of certain groups, such as criminals and communists. We have gone to such an extreme in avoiding violation of their rights that society is now at a disadvantage in dealing with them. So we have an abundance of criminals on the loose and an abundance of reds spreading their social poison. When we overdo these notions of fairness we cause more damage than we prevent.

Many will contend that the same analysis applies to the civil rights furor. All agree that Negroes were subjected to discrimination in the past. But if we'll be honest we'll admit also that life is full of discrimination. A person who buys at one store discriminates against that store's competitor. When he hires one of two applicants he discriminates against the other. Discrimination is implied in most choices, and Whites as well as Negroes (Continued on page 8)

State Drops Tax On Subscriptions To Newspapers

Effective this week the 2 per cent state sales tax on the Enterprise no longer applies. Under revised rules for the tax decided by the last legislature the exemption applies to all papers that sell for less than 25 cents a copy, even when sold on a mail subscription or carrier boy basis. That restores Enterprise subscriptions to even money: $2.50 a year in Cooke County, $3.00 a year outside the county.

Rev. Vincent Orth Observes Golden Jubilee Sunday

Father Vincent Orth, marking the 50th anniversary of his ordination this year, will have his golden jubilee celebration Sunday at Lindsay. A religious service and a social event will observe the occasion.

He will be celebrant of a 5 p.m. mass in St. Peter's Church and afterwards will be honored at a reception for family members and school mates.

Father Vincent entered the Benedictine Monastery at Subiaco, Ark., from Muenster and said his first mass in Sacred Heart Church. Twenty-five years later he observed his silver sacerdotal jubilee by offering mass on the same altar.

The Orth family calls Lindsay home now. Remaining sisters of the jubilarian live there. They are Mmes Joe, Matt and Willie Fuhrmann. A brother-in-law, Joe Brekel, of Sterling, Colo., will also be present. Nephews and nieces and their families will attend the day's program. Everyone is invited to the mass.

Father Vincent's priestly career has been spent almost entirely in education, but he has also filled other important posts. For over 20 years he worked in the abby press and was manager much of this time. From 1923 to 1930 he was business manager of the abbey and endured the strains of the first several years after the abbey was almost destroyed by fire in 1927. From 1930 to 1936 he taught at Corpus Christi. He was recalled to the abbey in 1936 and two years later was made master of novices and director of the seminary.

From 1941 to 1950 he was back in Corpus Christi. Since then he is at the abbey on the seminary faculty. He teaches psalms and history. Father Vincent was born in Halbur, Iowa, May 25, 1888. He received his early education in Halbur and Roselle, Iowa, and in Muenster. He went to Subiaco in 1905, joined the novitiate in 1908, pronounced his vows in 1909 and was ordained in 1913.

Auxiliary to VFW Wins 2 Awards at State Convention

Highlight of the July meeting of Muenster VFW Auxiliary Monday night was showing of two awards won by the organization at the state encampment in Lubbock and Mrs. Arthur Bayer's report on the meeting. She brought back the two awards — a gold loving cup for membership and a certificate for fulfilling honor roll requirements during the past year.

In her report Mrs. Bayer mentioned that Muenster Auxiliary was one of four in the state recognized for the novel use of gold buddy poppies. They were worked into corsages for gold star mothers to wear at Memorial Day services.

Members made plans for a dance and set July 27 for the date. It will be an overall and gingham ball. Members also voted to raise annual dues from three to five dollars, effective in October. The increase is necessary, it was pointed out, to offset the larger cancer insurance program the organization has in effect to cover the membership.

A ways and means committee was appointed to tend to fund raising activities. It is headed by Mmes. Arthur Bayer, W. M. DeBorde and Paul Sicking.

Mrs. Charlie Pagel, president, conducted the business session and was refreshment hostess afterwards, serving a fried chicken supper. Sixteen members were present and Mrs. Joe Sicking won the door prize.

Refreshment committee appointed for the next three months consists of Miss Dorothy Hartman and Mrs. Al Walter.

Dr. and Mrs. Bernard Luke are at home now in Irving, where he will begin dental practice on July 15. Until then they are spending much of their time with relations and friends here and Wichita Falls.

Mrs. W.R. Linn, 61, 40 Year Resident Dies Friday

Mrs. W. R. (Russ) Linn, 61, a 40-year resident of Muenster, died unexpectedly at 2 a.m. June 28, in Gainesville Hospital following major surgery. She had been in failing health for some time and was in and out of the hospital several times the past three years.

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon at 2:30 in the George J. Carroll & Son Funeral Chapel with J. M. Chism, Church of Christ minister, officiating assisted by the Rev. T. L. Tatum, Baptist minister. Burial was in Fairview Cemetery.

As Bessie Lola Morgan, Mrs. Linn was born Feb. 2, 1902, in Kentucky. She was married on Feb. 11, 1922 to Mr. Linn in Gainesville. They lived on a farm south of town since that time.

In addition to her husband Mrs. Linn is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Ray Smith of Dallas and Mrs. Jim Minto of Peoria, Ill., two sons, Jack Linn, Rt. 2, Muenster, and Thomas Linn of Gainesville; four grandchildren; six sisters, Mrs. Claude Theobald and Mrs. Tyndal Bewley, both of Gainesville; Mrs. Floyetta Morgan and Mrs. Nannie Buchanan, both of Thackerville, Okla.; Mrs. Betty Mayfield of Collinsville and Mrs. Ollie Smith of Fort Worth; and three brothers, Arzo, Mart and Willie Morgan, all of Thackerville.

Other relatives attending the funeral included Mrs. W. B. Parker and Mr. and Mrs. Linus Morgan of Dallas and Mrs. George Womack of Fort Worth. Also nieces and nephews from Dallas and Thackerville.

Bank Anniversary Marks 4 Decades Of Outstanding Community Service

This week, on the fortieth anniversary of its founding, the Muenster State Bank can look back with satisfaction not only on its own development into a sound financial institution but also on the development of a thriving city and community.

The event is not being marked by a special observance, but it serves nevertheless as an occasion to recall four decades of achievement, in which the bank and the area it serves have worked together, each attaining a fine record of progress.

Muenster was a small and quiet town in 1923 when J. W. Meurer and J. M. Weinzapfel started mustering stockholders and depositors to organize the bank. Effects of the depression following World War I were still hanging on. Money was scarce and people were very conscious of their losses when the German-American bank failed some 18 months before.

However they were also very much aware, after a year and a half without banking convenience, that a local bank was badly needed. So the community got behind the project and the bank officially opened for business with the arrival of its charter about 4 p.m. July 2, 1923.

Next day word got around that the bank was open and depositors started coming in. By the time the day was ended there were 60 of them, and 21 of those — or surviving wife or husband — are still with the bank. By the end of the year deposits grew to $131,000.

The next year brought the area's first oil boom and deposits jumped to $230,000. As it fizzled out deposits dropped again, reaching an all time low of 63,000 during the depression year of 1933. The increase was slow but steady during the remaining thirties and the war years. In 1945 deposits reached a million dollars for the first time. They reached $2 million in 1955 $3 million in 1958 and $4 million in 1963.

Capitalization has been moving upward at about the same pace. At the opening capital and surplus was $19,250. In 1933 it was $36,000, in 1943 it was $40,660 in 1953 it was $125,000, and at this time it is over $320,000.

In 1923 Muenster was still a fairly new town — 34 years old and a population of about 350. A year before farmers had organized a local unit of the Farmers Union, which

City Decides to Enforce Old Law Banning Fireworks

Shooting of fireworks in town must stop. At its meeting Monday the city council decided that its ordinance on fireworks, which has been on the books for many years, must be applied immediately, and instructed City Officer Bill Pratt accordingly.

For a number of years fireworks in town consisted mainly of those brought in by older boys and shot on the sly. Now little fellows also have them and they are being used too freely for comfort. The council decided it is a nuisance and a hazard and said it must stop.

Parents will be held responsible for young violators. Older violators will be responsible for themselves.

Tax Assessment Hearing Brings Few Complaints

Five long nights spent on trying to equalize tax assessments in Muenster apparently paid off for the city council. There were few complaints at the tax hearing Monday night, and those few, after comparing their assessments with others' generally agreed that the council's estimates were fair.

Headed by Mayor-Pro-Tem Richard Grewing, the council this year made a special effort to see that the listing is complete and that valuations were estimated as fairly as possible. Their method was to assess buildings and equipment at 20 per cent of actual value, business lots at $200 each and residential at $100 each. Heretofore many lots were overlooked. This year the council consulted a map to see that all lots are accounted for.

Mrs. W. Bergman 84, Dies Sunday Of Heart Attack

Mrs. William Bergman, 84, a long-time Muenster resident, died suddenly late Sunday several hours after suffering a heart attack in a rest home at Kansas City where she had resided the past two years.

Local relatives received word about 5 p.m. Sunday that Mrs. Bergman had suffered a severe heart attack and her sister, Mrs. Herbert McDaniel, left at about 7 p.m. to join relatives at Ardmore to go to her bedside. They stopped at Pryor, Okla., where a son was to join them on the trip and it was there that they learned of her death. The body was returned to Muenster to Miller Funeral Home Tuesday and rosary services were held in the chapel at 4 p.m. by the Saint Anne's Society followed by a rosary by the Third Order of St. Francis. She was a member of both organizations. The community rosary was at 8:15.

Funeral services were held at 9 a.m. Wednesday in Sacred Heart Church with the Rev. Martin Fischer as celebrant of the requiem high mass. He also delivered the sermon and officiated at graveside rites in Sacred Heart Cemetery. Bearers were grandsons: Wayne, Daniel, William, Larry and John Bergman Jr. and Eugene Knoff.

The former Miss Mary Wilde was born Feb. 22, 1879, in Nebraska and was a young girl when she came to Muenster with her parents. On Sept. 5, 1899, she was married to William Bergman and the couple moved to Shidel, Okla., farming there until 1914. They returned to Muenster, farming for two years, then moved to Ardmore, Okla., where they farmed until retiring from active work in the fall of 1945. Then they moved back to Muenster. Mr. Bergman died in March 1947.

Mrs. Bergman lived alone until she went to Kansas City. She was an active, interested member in the parish societies and up until near the time she left enjoyed walking.

She is survived by nine of her 11 children, two daughters having died in infancy. The surviving children are six sons: John of Sacramento, Calif.; Joe of Kansas City, Frank of Springer, Okla., Tony of Frederick, Okla., Sylvester of Ardmore, and Barney Bergman of Pryor, Okla.; three daughters, Mrs. Bernard Knoff of Kansas City, Mrs. Joe Koestner of Denver, Colo., and Sister Beatrice of Oklahoma City; one sister, Mrs. Herbert McDaniel of Muenster; three brothers, J. B. Wilde of Muenster, H. S. Wilde of Gainesville and Frank Wilde of Amarillo, and a large number of grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

Among sights of interest enjoyed by Mrs. Harold Walterscheid and Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Wiese in Colorado were Mother Cabrini's Shrine, Mt. Vernon Canyon, Coor's Brewery in Golden City, Lookout Mountain, Buffalo Bill's Grave, Denver Mountain Park and Central City.

BIRTHS

It's a third little girl for Mr. and Mrs. Don Flusche. A baby sister for Connie and Cathie arrived Monday, July 1, 1:16 a.m. at Gainesville Hospital. She weighed six pounds 15 ounces and is a granddaughter for the J. P. Flusches, and the J. I. Taylors of Gainesville, and a great-grandchild for the Tony Ottos.

Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Henschel have announced a daughter, a seven pound six ounce sister for Stevie. Her name is Brenda Rose. She's a granddaughter for T. Miller and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Henschel. She made her debut at Gainesville Hospital Friday, June 28, 2:46 a.m.

TAKE AWAY THE ENEMY'S CRUTCH

A question which has been bothering Americans is: Why do we continue to provide aid to the Communists?
 An answer to that question should also provide a clue to why Government takes no constructive action toward eliminating Cuba as a Communist threat to this hemisphere.
 To those who maintain that the United States has "no foreign policy," we are forced to sadly admit that there definitely is a foreign policy — one of aid and comfort to the Communist conspiracy. In spite of what our State Department and others in the Administration say to the contrary, actions speak louder than words.

 The record speaks for itself. It is a sorry record of billions of your dollars to bolster Tito of Yugoslavia, Gomulka of Poland, Sukarno of Indonesia, and now — it appears that even Fidel Castro is to receive handouts from your pocket via the back door of the United Nations.
 Always the answer is the same. We must attempt to woo those nations to our side who are not totally within the "Communist bloc." The eternal verity that you can't buy friendship is ignored, as is the hard fact that men like Tito repeatedly and outspokenly pledge their allegiance to Communism. Meanwhile, American taxpayers are being "taken" along the road to financial ruin — all in the name of "Fighting Communism."

The Reds have made no secret of their intention to include the United States in their overall plans for world conquest. They constantly restate this aim, and their establishment of Cuba as a bristling military base should help to confirm their intentions to the very fuzziest of Washington's planners.
 Yet the parade of aid and trade goes on as we continue to strengthen our enemies, negotiate with them on non-negotiable matters; and generally treat them as if they were children who haven't yet learned right from wrong, rather than the coldly calculating international gangsters that they are.

munists our enemies. They accomplished that themselves. What is necessary today is that we appraise International Communism for what it is . . . a threat to our survival, and then take positive steps to end that threat. We must follow in the footsteps of the dedicated Americans before us who preserved the Republic against all of its enemies — Americans, many of whom lie today in military cemeteries, who would have been incredulous at open and flagrant appeasement of an avowed enemy.

It is being said by a growing number of people that the Communist threat is being encouraged by our government, rather than reduced. The reason given is that a visible threat to "world peace" provides the stimulus to create a world government. The question then is whether we want to remain American citizens — or simply component parts of a world order in which we would be subjected to certain Soviet domination.
 What is needed immediately is a complete about face to a position where specious reasoning for aid to Communist nations will be thoroughly rejected. At the same time, diplomatic recognition of Soviet Russia and other Red Governments must be withdrawn. For without the prestige and other benefits now afforded by U. S. recognition, the enemy will be well on the way to total disintegration.

Representative Thomas B. Curtis of Missouri says: "Regardless of the fact that our federal government is the biggest spender, the biggest employer, the biggest property owner, the biggest tenant, the biggest insurer, the biggest lender and the biggest borrower in all the world — we find a growing impatience on the part of many holding high office in our land to make government even bigger."

Actually an embroidery, and not a tapestry, the famous Bayeux Tapestry documents the story of the Norman Conquest of England, and is believed to date from the 11th century.

Farm Facts

An analysis of components included in the cost of living shows that the cost of food and clothing has risen only about 5% in the past 10 years.

Consumer durable goods—refrigerators, washers, TVs, etc.—cost less than they did 10 years ago. The big increase—over 30%—has been in the broad category of "services." This includes such items as housing, transportation, medical care, personal care, etc.

There has been an increase in the quantity and in the character of such services as well as a steady upward trend in wages and fringe benefits.

Over the past decade, taxes have risen 12%. Taxes take a larger proportion of our income than food, clothing, and medical care combined.

Food and clothing costs have risen only 5% in the past ten years.

The real rise in living costs is illustrated by the fact that a worker who earned $5,000 in 1949 would have to earn $7,870 today just to stay even with the toll taken by taxes and inflation.

U. N. PARTIES

Adalai Stevenson, who is our representative to the United Nations, was asking the government to give more money to the United Nations delegation so that they could go to and give more parties. It is claimed that there are two or three parties a day at the U. N. Stevenson claims that the small nations, who each have one vote as does the United States, count noses to see who comes to their parties.

There are 110 nations in the U. N. Two or three parties a day means that most of their time and energy must be spent in parting. Then consider that last year the United States had to advance a loan of $200 million to meet expenses. When these countries can pay their dues and they get their salaries out of a (non-repayable) loan from the United States it seems that they should omit the parties until they pay their dues.

They have a rule that unless dues are paid they can not vote but Mexico is asking for a vote to rescind that rule and we'll bet the vote on rescinding the rule is 109 to 1. On the other hand Uncle Sap is so generous and so afraid of being considered unfriendly that the vote may well be 110 to 0.

WHO'S VANISHING?

The American Broadcasting Company's national network recently presented a program called "A Vanishing Breed: Portrait of a Country Editor". During the presentation the statement was made that "There are only 2,000 country newspapers left in America."

The American Press magazine, taking exception of these figures, counted the newspapers listed in the latest edition of N. W. Ayer Directory of Periodicals and reports there are " . . . 9,319 non-daily newspapers in the 50 states. A breakdown of that list shows possibly 2,500 newspapers which might conceivably be classified as 'suburban' instead 'country'."

"That still leaves 6,819 non-daily newspapers which, so far as we can determine, could fit nowhere except in the 'country newspaper' category." Also a majority of the 1,200 dailies published in towns of under 25,000 population would fit into the same classification.

The American Press observes that "Perhaps the TV boys were miffed because, as they reported, Landon Wills of Calhoun, Kentucky, who was picked as their example of 'the vanishing breed,' doesn't believe in television and doesn't even have a TV set."

The capable and effective newspapermen who run this nation's country press are not vanishing. And since our freedom depends on a concerned and well informed citizenry, we can thank our stars that they are not. They provide written records of opinions and world events which remain for consideration and are not gone in the wink of an eye.

Congressman Durward G. Hall, of Missouri, recently scared the daylights out of his constituents with a two-page report on governmental spending, which concluded with this shocker: "In the length of time it took you to read this report, the U. S. Government spent nearly half a million dollars of your tax money — at $179,413 per minute." It doesn't make us feel too good, either.

Accidents Killed 5655 Texans in '62

The old man had been high on a ladder, pruning a pecan tree. Suddenly he was lying helpless on the ground, vulnerable to the ladder as it crashed down on his head.

He's still hospitalized. The price he paid for his back yard tree-pruning venture: both heels crushed, a broken vertebra, and a deep gash in his head. What prompted him to undertake so difficult a task when he was so obviously ill-equipped to handle it?

There is no firm answer to the question. The incident is just one of thousands which kill and maim and cripple people throughout Texas and the rest of the nation each year. Accidents, as of this moment, stand as the fourth leading cause of death among all age groups in Texas and the United States as a whole.

Even more grim is the fact that of the 5655 accidental deaths of all types registered in Texas last year, one-fourth occurred in the most cherished of all places — the victim's home.

Thorough studies into the nature of accidents show that very few happen by pure chance. They occur because a stairway was improperly lighted . . . because an electrical circuit was overloaded . . . because a threshold strip wasn't tacked down tight . . . because the rung of a ladder was loose . . . because an insecticide was carelessly stored . . . because someone was smoking in bed . . . because of an endless variety of human failings.

The National Safety Council defines accident statistics as "a single human tragedy multiplied to the point of indifference." The definition is an apt one, since accidents have become commonplace in the pattern of modern life.

Children and older people are most susceptible. Current national statistics show that 15,000 children are killed and 16,500,000 are injured each year. Persons 65 years old and over compose nine percent of the population; yet this age group experiences 74 percent of all fatal falls and 28 percent of all death from fire and explosion.

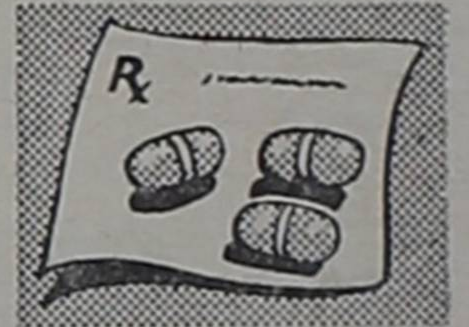

There is no reason to believe the pattern of fatal home accidents this year will vary greatly from the 1962 pattern when 1384 Texans met untimely death thusly:

Fires and explosions killed 423; falls from different levels killed 310; 180 died of falls from the same level; 83 were accidentally shot; 79 suffocated; 54 were poisoned by solids or liquids; 43 were poisoned by gases or vapors; 18 were burned to death by hot substances; and 194 died from accidents of an unspecified nature.

These figures can only be altered by massive demonstrations of public caution, stimulated by carefully organized, continuous programs of home safety in which the whole community is involved.

As of June 30, 1962 federal assets in real and personal property were valued at $299.4 billion. The national debt on the same date was $288.2 billion.

Back from Visit With Son in Colo.

Mrs. Harold Walterscheid is back from a trip to Colorado, driving out with Mrs. F. A. Wiese of Gainesville who joined her husband at Idaho Springs for the summer. He had gone ahead a few weeks earlier.

High spot of it all for Mrs. Walterscheid was seeing her son, Lambert, who is stationed at Fort Carson, Colo., and went to Idaho Springs to visit his mother while she was there and to put in some sight-seeing together.

While Mrs. Walterscheid was away, her daughter Mrs. Jim Harris and daughters Jimmie Lynn and Starla Mabelle of Oklahoma City were at the family home with Mr. Walterscheid. Jim Harris came for a weekend visit and took his family home Sunday.

Nobody told Mrs. Walterscheid that her other daughter, Shirley, of Fort Worth had an appendicitis operation on June 22. They didn't want to spoil her vacation. Shirley recovered rapidly and was maid of honor in the Otto-Schumacher wedding — a week after the operation at St. Joseph's Hospital.

Why Save Stamps? Sponsors of Drive Explain Project

The following article was written for the benefit of stamp donors, far and near, who contribute to the Sacred Heart High sophomores' perennial stamp project. The sponsors express their thanks again, as they explain their project.

Can you wonder any longer why such arduous stamp collecting sponsored by the sophomores of Sacred Heart High in behalf of the Missions?

According to the Postmaster General there are in the United States alone well over 12 million stamp collectors.

Scott's Standard Postage Stamp catalogue lists over 90,000 stamps.

In 1917 the famous Count Ferrar collection sold for $2,275,975. A single stamp in this collection, the one-cent British Guiana stamp, of 1856 was last sold for $45,000. Its owner turned down offers of $90,000. Only one exists.

And how does this bring Missions into the picture? Here's the story.

Stamps contributed to the perennial drive are sorted roughly into three categories, although some stamp marts demand as many as eight separate groups. Sister Theresina, class sponsor, and the sophomores separate stamps as follows: foreign, valuable U. S. which include all stamps except the most common ones—current issue of one, two, three, four, and five cent stamps—unless they are precanceled, that is have bars across their face which includes the name of the city and state, or are commemoratives picturing some event or person famous in the history of our country. The third group, the common ones mentioned above, are given the uncomplimentary name of "junk".

Vatican stamps and Duck stamps (hunter's license) are in a separate group because they are considered very valuable.

The stamps, after being sorted locally and trimmed neatly, are shipped to one of many Mission Societies which solicit cancelled stamps. There they are taken over by seminarians who prepare the stamps for sale. They peel the stamps off the paper, press them and possibly pack them into cellophane envelopes or bags. Then they go to stores for sale. Quite often the seminarians sell direct to stamp collectors and do not lose the commission.

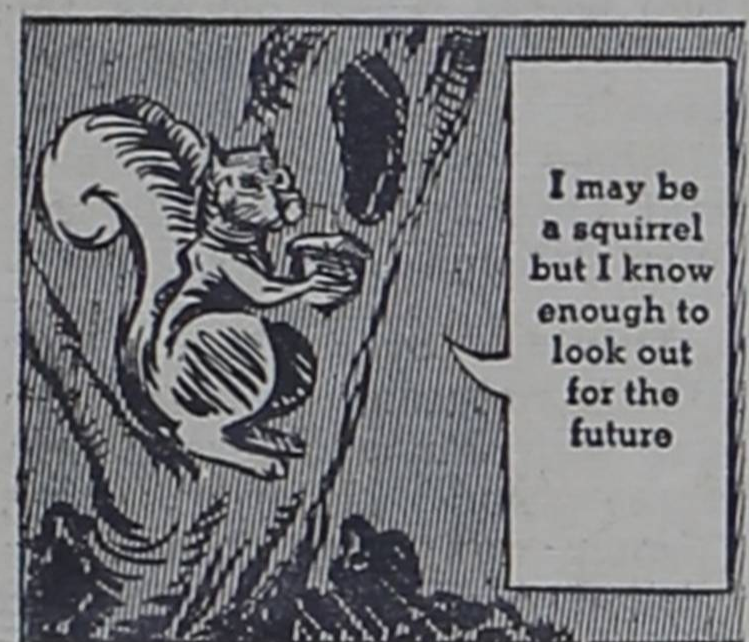

Other seminarians who cannot spare the time of sorting, peeling and packaging stamps, sell them by the pound. Such stamps are sold to collectors under the name of "Mission Mix" and contain all kinds of stamps.

Money from the sale of stamps amounts to thousands of dollars a year for the benefit of the Missions. It is gratifying to know that one is a part of such a worthwhile endeavor.

There are a few other uses to which cancelled stamps are put, but these are secondary. The dye may be extracted, or the stamps cut into pieces of various shapes and sizes and used to make delicate designs of landscapes, persons, etc., on postal cards which are sold for the benefit of the Missions.

U. S. SENATORS RALPH W. YARBOROUGH of Texas, left, and Clinton B. Anderson of New Mexico, co-authors of a bill passed by the Senate to help establish water research centers at state universities and land-grant colleges, study a chart on Texas' future water needs. The chart shows Texas population of 10 million will go up to 22 million by the year 2010; available jobs will rise from 3.5 to 8.5 million, and personal annual gross income from $14.5 to $64 billion. "While Texas needed only 2 million acre feet of water in 1958 for city and industrial use," Senator Yarborough said, "by the year 2010 more than 12 million acre feet will be required. Research can help provide more water at less cost. A total of $563 million is to be spent on Texas for 30 major new reservoirs by 1975. We need to do more research and develop exports in Texas on Texas water needs."

Today's merchant ships are a far cry from the ships of yesterday. The modernity of the N. S. (for nuclear ship) Savannah—the first nuclear-powered cargo-passenger ship—is typified by this photo of a section of the vessel's main passenger lounge. The spacious, comfortable lounge is used for formal receptions for visiting dignitaries, passenger recreation and as a movie auditorium. The Savannah's nuclear reactor has a tremendous capability. The vessel can travel 14 times around the globe without refueling. Named for the S. S. Savannah, the first vessel to cross the Atlantic using steam, the nuclear Savannah carries a 3 1/2 year nuclear fuel supply of 17,000 pounds of enriched uranium oxide. Approximately 90,000 tons of fuel oil would be needed to produce an equivalent amount of energy in a conventionally-powered vessel. The Savannah is on a port-to-port schedule that will take the vessel to major seaports throughout the United States. Developed jointly by the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission and the Maritime Administration of the U. S. Department of Commerce, the Savannah is operated by States Marine Lines as general agent for the Maritime Administration. The N. S. Savannah is a floating good-will messenger for the United States. The ship is demonstrating to nations around the world that nuclear power can be harnessed for peaceful, productive purposes. The vessel will be open to the public at the various ports of call.

Visitors from Houston, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Raines and children Chacha, Tootsie, Gracie, Jessie, James, Stephen and Betty, who were guests of the Julian Walterscheids four days last week were entertained with a number of events, something every day and night until they left Friday night.

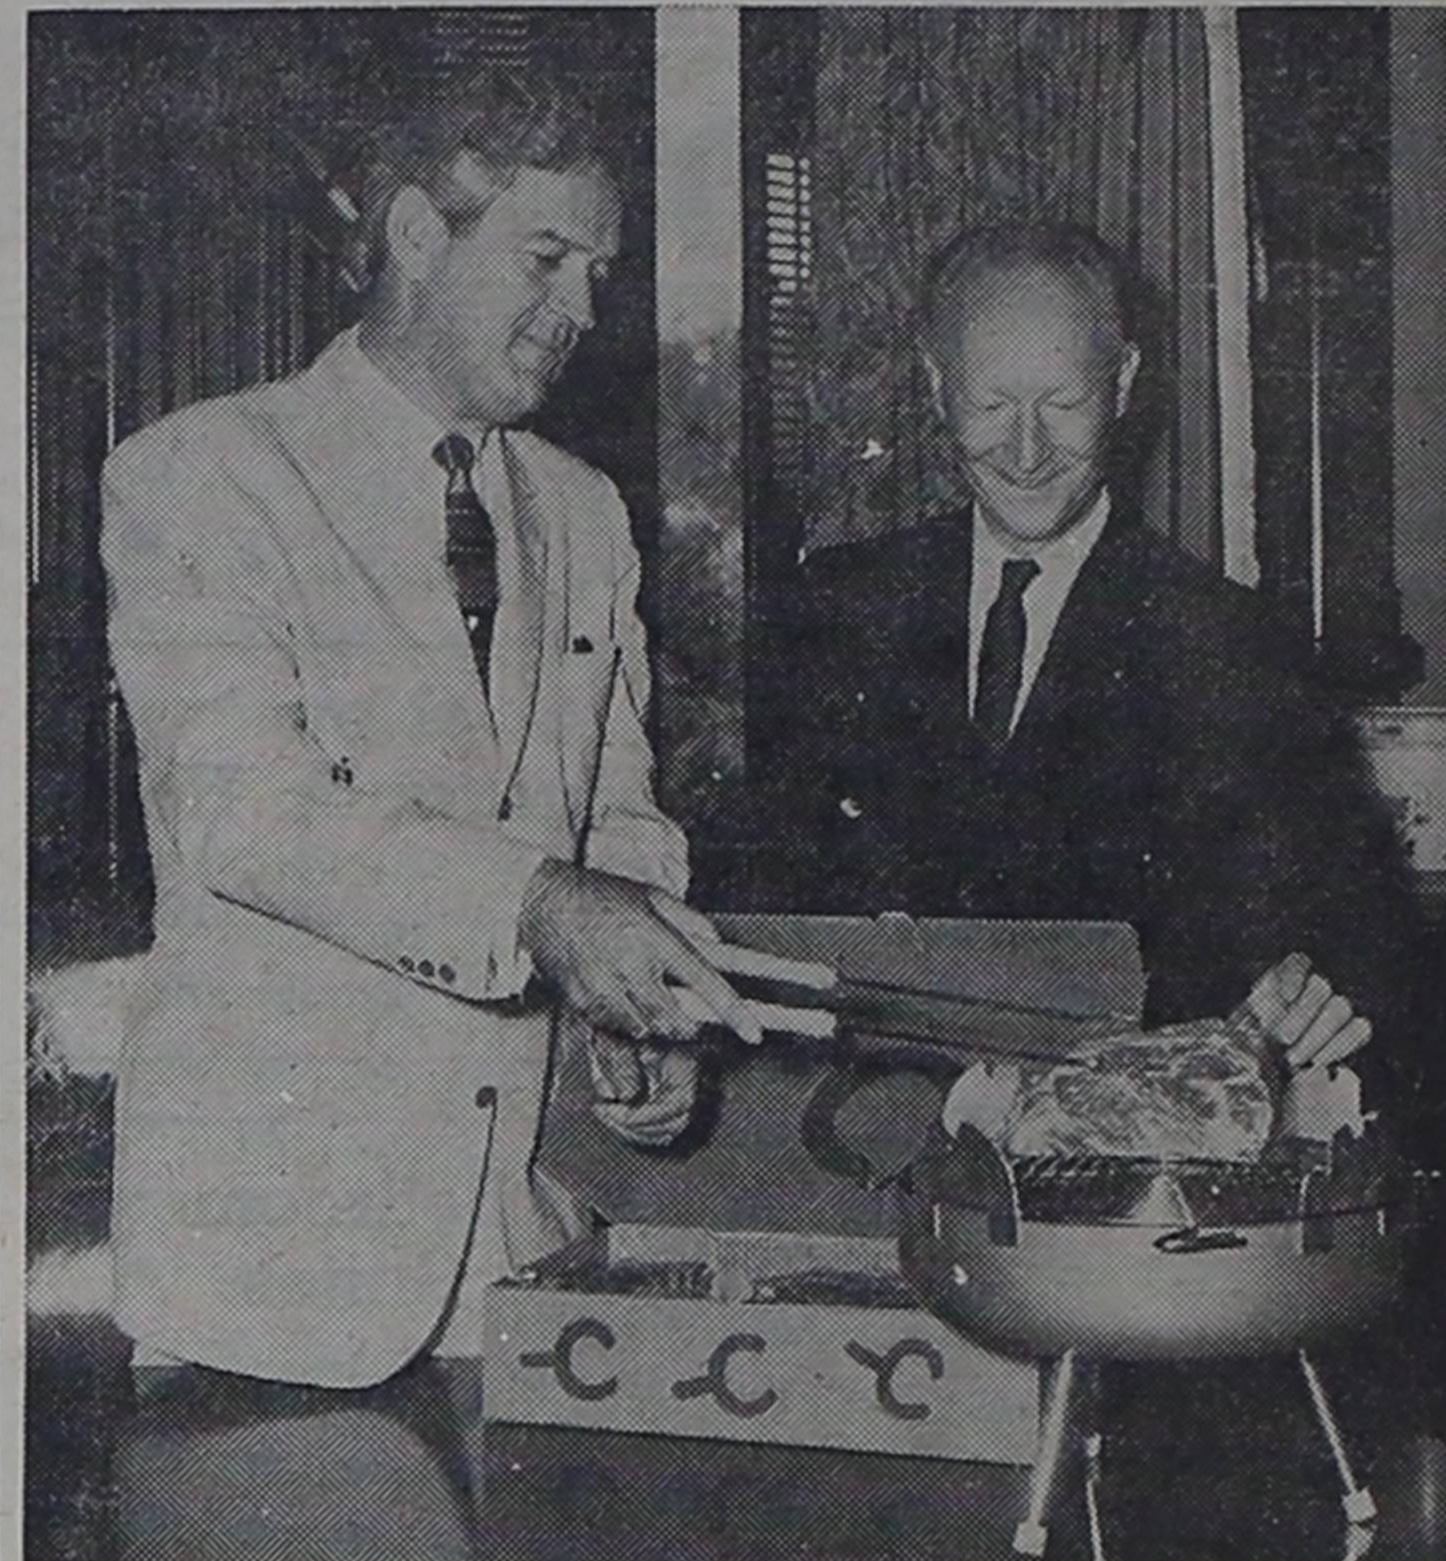

Helping entertain the visitors were the Adolph Walterscheids and Mrs. Sylvan Walterscheid. All the Walterscheids and the visitors for a total of 28 enjoyed a buffet supper in the outdoor living room at the Adolph Walterscheid home.

For the rest of the dining and partying the women and children were together while the men baled hay. Ted Raines made a good hand according to his host.

Lunch at the Sylvan Walterscheid home, swim parties and a wiener roast at City Park and a picnic dinner on an outing to hunt wild plums delighted the visitors. The city children rode a tractor for the first time, watched milking and made pets of the cows.

For the final get-together at the park the group was joined by Mrs. Rupert Hoening and sons of Carrollton who were in Münster Friday. Her husband, like Julian, was a Air Force buddy of Raines.

If we are to call the Russians' use of this technique by the name "propaganda" let us use the same name when Washington uses the same technique.

Lindsay News

Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Schimidkofer and children have moved from Lindsay to make their home at 220 Hird St. in Gainesville. They bought the property. The move puts Leroy nearer to his work. The Robert Lutz family also bought a home in Gainesville and moved from the highway near Lindsay. The Glenn Hellmans, moving from Muenster, are occupying that place. And the Albert Zimmerers are building a new brick home.

Sgt. and Mrs. Henry Fleitman have returned to Colorado Springs, Colo., where he is stationed at Fort Carson. The couple divided a three-week visit with her mother, Mrs. Paul Himmels at Windthorst and his parents, the William Fleitmans. Family members enjoyed colored slides which Henry took while with a convoy of 600 army trucks to Washington State and back. His assignment after his leave takes him to North Carolina for maneuvers. The group will make the round trip by plane.

Father John Walbe had as his guest for a week his nephew, Al Adams of Charleston, Ark. He returned home Monday.

John Neu is continuing convalescence at home after being dismissed from Gainesville Hospital where he had a gallstone operation on June 28.

Arendt Families Entertain Guests

Members of the Paul Arendt Sr. family have been together twice in reunion while Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bauer of La Feria are on a vacation visit with her parents.

They were almost all together at the Lindsay homecoming Sunday. The Ernest Arendts came from Lawton.

Monday night the Albert Herra were hosts in their home at Muenster, 24 family members attending a chicken barbecue on the patio. The hosts barbecued the chickens and others attending brought covered dishes.

Present with the hosts and their daughters were Messrs. and Mmes. Paul Arendt Sr., Vincent Zimmerer, Andy, Paul and Johnny Arendt, John Arendt, Johnny Hoberer, Ray Voth and Earl Walterscheid.

The Bauers saw other relatives and friends at the Muenster picnic on the Fourth of July and will return home this weekend.

Craft Club Group Makes Plans for Special Activity

Leaders of Lindsay Boys and Girls Craft Club met Monday in the home of Mrs. Norbert Rohmer and planned special events for the children.

Mrs. Andy Arendt announced plans for her group. They'll meet Sunday, July 7, at the Arendt farm after the second mass. Each child should bring a sack lunch for a picnic dinner.

Mrs. Ray Laux has planned her group's activity for July 14 at her home starting at 7 p.m.

Groups headed by Mrs. Al Bengfort, Mrs. Gene Owen, Mrs. Bob Lutz and Mrs. Norbert Rohmer will meet at

are disappointed by it daily. It can never be eliminated. Furthermore reasons behind it are usually quite normal. Other things being equal one chooses in favor of a relative, or a friend, or a member of his lodge or church . . . or a member of his race. Whites do it. Negroes do it. In doing so they exercise a normal human trait.

There are exceptions, of course, in which favoritism crosses lines — including color lines. Negroes and Whites living separately and harmoniously were increasing the numbers of those exceptions. Negroes were making progress. Those of ambition and merit were a credit to their race and country. They could walk with pride.

But then came the bunglers — or saboteurs — who said their progress was not fast enough. They thought that Blacks since Emancipation Proclamation ought to be as far along as Whites since Magna Carta. Hence it was time for Whites to divvy with them. The inevitable result is that many Blacks became arrogant and many Whites became resentful.

The farther this coercion goes the more arrogance and resentment we will have. The civil rights bill will bring more discord than harmony.
