MUENSTER, COOKE COUNTY, TEXAS

NOVEMBER 2, 1962

NUMBER 50

Seldom if ever in the history of this state has a non-presidential general election generated as much interest and enthusiasm as the one now approaching. For the first time Republican strength has gained sufficiently in several races to become a threat to the long entrenched political domination of the Democratic party.

Technically it's proper to refer to this contest as one between those two parties, because those are the labels under which the candidates are running. But practically speaking it is more proper to regard this as contest of Liberals and Conservatives. Those are the terms which apply generally to the political convictions of the opposing candidates. And even more definitely, those are the terms applying to the policies which result from the success of one party or the other. A Republican victory will be regarded by both the public and the politicians as a repudiation of New Frontier liberalism. A Democratic victory will be regarded as an endorsement of liberalism.

For voters of this area that issue is predominant in four races, those of Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Congressman at Large and Congressman of the 13th District. The outcome will not only reveal the state's over-all attitude to national policies of the past two years, but also determine whether our chosen representatives will lean to conservatism or liberalism in carrying out their duties.

Before going farther, it's a good idea to clear some of the confusion that may result from claims of conservatism. Democratic candidates say they are conservative, too. As a matter of fact there is much truth in their claim, because all of them are less liberal than opponents they defeated in their own party primary. Furthermore it's smart politics for them to make that claim, because it enables them to appeal to conservatives even while they are sacking up the assured votes of liberals. In that regard this column would draw the line by classifying the four Republicans as definitely more conservative.

It might be noted also that records help to indicate the leanings of the candidates. Connelly can be judged from the fact that he was a member of the Kennedy administration and is a protégé of LBJ, who is going right along with New Frontierism. He reveals his real political color by the company he keeps. Cox, on the other hand leaves no doubt as to where he stands. Formerly a Democrat, he left the party because he could not reconcile his convictions with its policies.

Purcell is one who talks conservatism to the people at home but fails to back up that claim in his voting record, as compiled by Americans for Constitutional Action, a conservative non-partisan organization. Only 40 per cent of his votes in the 87th Congress were rated as conservative.

Here are some of the bills he supported. Federal aid to education, nuisance withholding tax on interest and dividends, aid to Communist Poland and Yugoslavia, tighter and expanded farm controls, trade tariffs (which John L. Lewis calls the "Job Destruction Act") increasing national debt, increased foreign aid, $10 million aquarium in Washington D.C.

Purcell's claim to conservatism apparently is not strong enough to withstand the pressure of his New Frontier associates in Washington. And people who do not approve of his switch in loyalty can best express themselves by voting for Meissner whose outlook as a practical business man as well as his political beliefs lean strongly to conservatism. It can be added also that Meissner, on arriving in Washington, would not be greeted by LBJ and other liberals intent on influencing his decisions.

In the race for Congressman at Large this column can say little about Pool except that he lost to Bruce Alger two years ago and defeated an odd character in the last Democratic primary. Aside from affiliation with the liberal party, there's the very important fact that he is a poor second to Barry in ability. Barry is the man who catapulted to national fame a few years ago by defeating the giant Teamster's union and subsequently giving the testimony in congressional hearing which led to the Landrum-Griffin bill assuring protection to labor against unscrupulous union bosses. He has the gumption and energy, plus the personal integrity and political philosophy, to make this state

Monday Set for Kickoff in Local 1962 UF Drive

This year's United Fund drive in Muenster will open next Monday at 7 a.m. with a kickoff breakfast at the Center Coffee Shop.

Henry Weinzapfel, who is serving his second year as community chairman, said that organization of the drive is under way this week and about thirty workers are expected at the breakfast . . . also that any others willing to help will be welcome.

On the breakfast program are talks by County Chairman Don Howeth and a representative of Community Service Bureau, a fund raising organization which has assisted with the county drive the past several years. Afterwards workers will receive contact cards for the calls they are to make. Special emphasis will be placed on making contacts early so that this year's drive can be finished in record time.

The community goal, Weinzapfel said, is $1400, and the county goal is $45,950. Last year the community gave $1241 and the county's total was slightly over $40,000.

In asking for generous local response Weinzapfel pointed out that the greater part of local donations will come back home. Muenster participates directly in youth activity and the annual FFA show besides sharing in county wide benefits through Red Cross, Boy Scouts, Campfire Girls and 4-H.

NEWS OF THE SICK

Bill Kathman entered the VA Hospital in McKinney Friday for a checkup and observation. He'll be there about two weeks. He's in Ward 64. Taking him to McKinney were his wife and their nephew, Harold Lutkenhaus.

Mrs. Charlie Randall is back at her home in Myra dismissed from Gainesville Hospital after treatment for one broken and two collapsed vertebrae, the result of a fall. She'll be getting around in a walker for some time.

Richard Wimmer returned to work this week, recovered from an appendicitis operation.

Mrs. Werner Endres expects to be dismissed from Gainesville Hospital this weekend to continue convalescing at home. She has been a patient since Oct. 10 when she suffered a heart attack.

A card from Mrs. Rudy Hellman, a patient at Methodist Hospital in Dallas, to The Enterprise gives this information: "It is very difficult to write with one hand but I would love to have you let all the good folks know how very much I've enjoyed the cards and letters. I'm sure I've received 1500, every one saying a prayer. It will be at least two months before I am able to write as I am in a cast from hips up."

Memorial To Our Pioneers

The early citizens of our community have gone to their eternal reward, but the fruits of their labors are still with us.

Their lives were devoted to the development and progress of this area. Through the years they were staunch supporters and ardent workers for the many blessings which now enrich our lives.

Now that they are no longer able to apply their energy and devotion for a better Muenster, it remains for us who follow to continue their good work.

The New Hospital, now under construction, is such a project. It will be an important addition to their many achievements and its cost will be met principally by their descendants.

It is a permanent and appropriate means by which those descendants can honor their memories. Contributions to the hospital can be designated as memorials to them, living on to inspire their descendants of future generations.

They did so much for us. Surely we can do this much for them.

Hoedebeck Elected On City Council

Gene Hoedebeck was elected by a light but unanimous vote in Tuesday's special election of a city council member to fill the vacancy resulting from the death of Rudy Hellman.

Only 45 votes were cast and not one of them was scratched.

Muenster and Era Will Clash Here Thursday Night

Muenster's Hornets will be out to bump off a loop leader Thursday night when they take on the always-rugged Era Hornets on the local field. In its conference games to date Era has decisions over Saint Jo and Collisburg . . . as well as visions of another 10-B championship title.

All signs point to a real contest when the two Hornets outfits get together. Comparative records to date rate them as about even, with Muenster possibly getting the benefit of a doubt. Against the teams that both have played Era looked better in one comparison, Muenster looked better in two. Era ran over Chico 40-0 whereas Muenster won 18-0. On the other hand Muenster beat S&S, which tied Era, and Muenster had the better score in their games with Callisburg.

Regardless of signs, however, it can be assumed that Era will come here well fortified by its old time fighting spirit, and Muenster will be determined to add another win to its record. The game should be a dandy.

The report from Coach Glenn Richardson is that all his boys are physically ready for action. Virgil Swirczynski is back after a foot infection. Donnie Vogel is practically over the bruised side he had in last week's game.

Tigers Will Host Greenhill Hornets At Homecoming

The Tigers can win but they have a big job ahead in their homecoming battle Friday night with the Greenhill Hornets of Dallas.

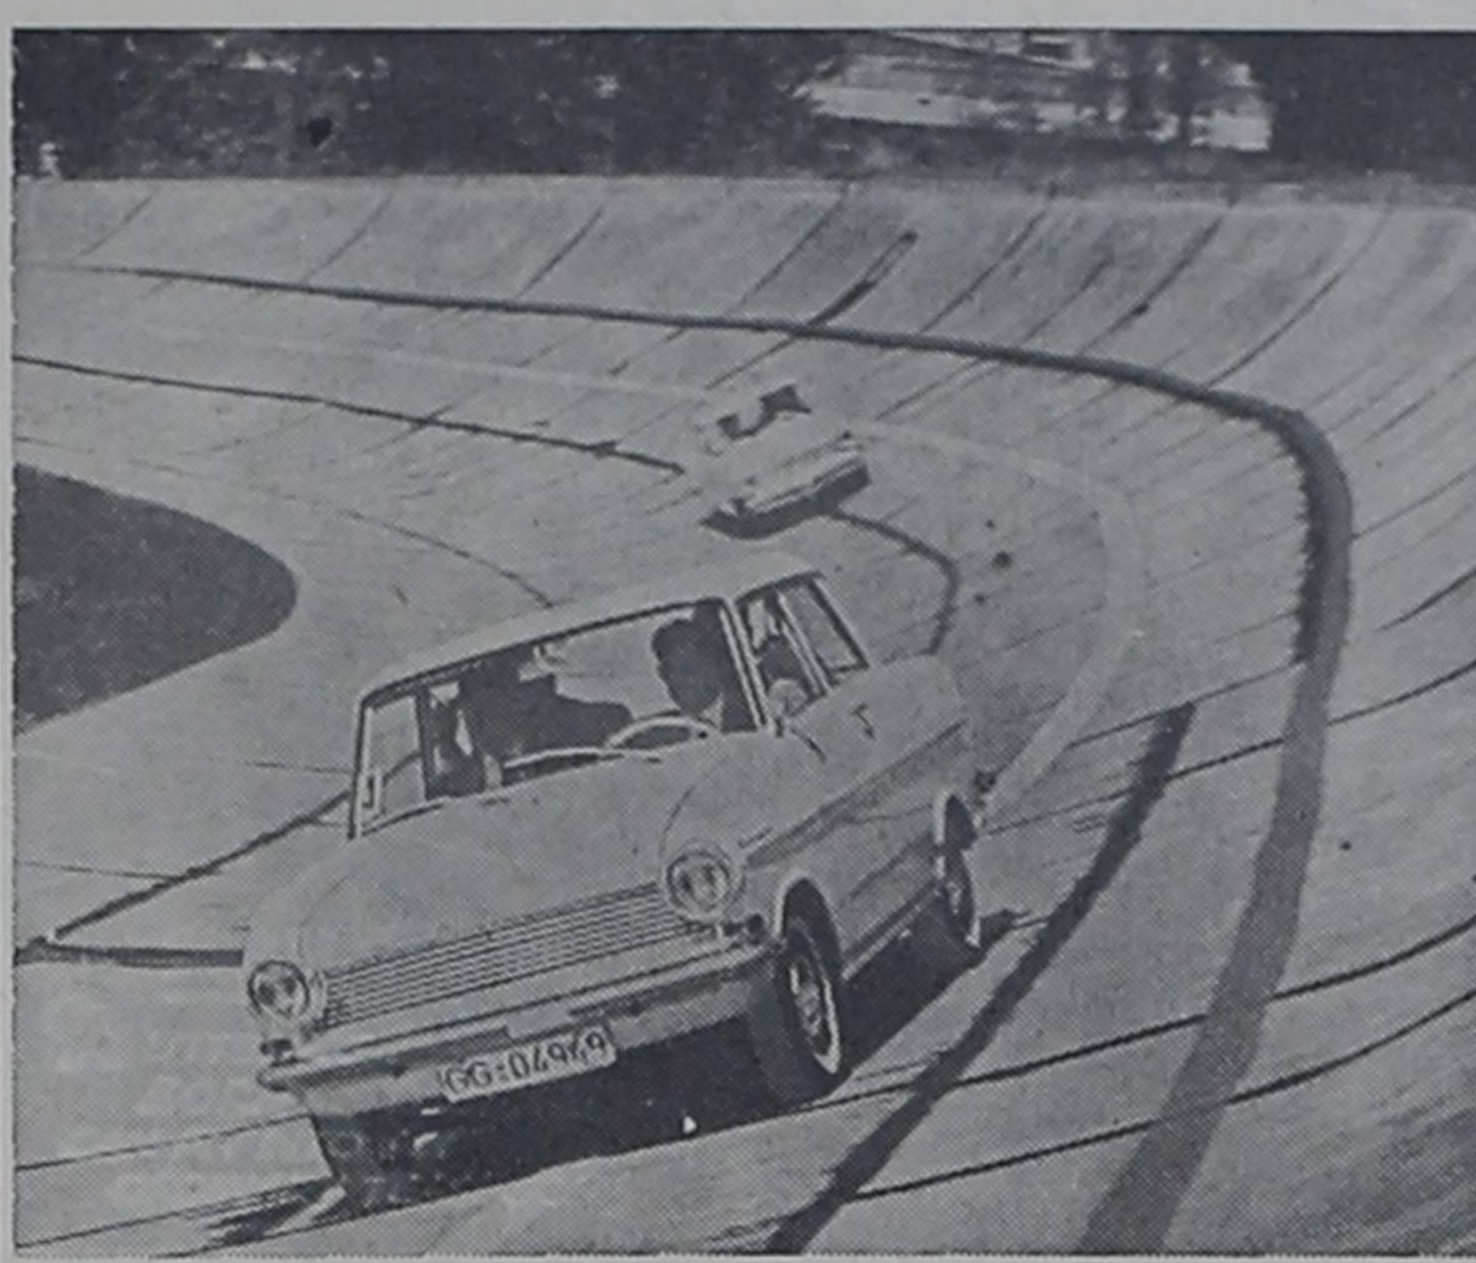

That's the opinion of Coach Adam Wolf based on a report of Greenhill's 22-13 victory over Fort Worth Christian. Considering the Tigers' 6-0 win over the Christians, it seems that Sacred Heart and Greenhill are fairly well matched. However Wolf finds other factors which seem to favor his boys.

Tiger offense was actually better than the score showed in the Christian game. And since Greenhill allowed the Christians two TDs Wolf does not expect them to hold Sacred Heart.

On the other hand there's the fact that Greenhill made three touchdowns against the Cowtowners. It indicates an offense that may give the Tigers trouble. A husky quarterback who's good at running and passing is a constant threat.

The game is due to start at 8 o'clock following crowning of the homecoming queen at 7:30.

Wolf has no boys on the injured list this week so the full squad of Tigers will be on hand to take on the visitors.

'ROUND THE BEND—Setting a pace on a test course is a new addition to the small car market. Front mounted engine has four short-stroke cylinders. It is shown here traveling 75 miles per hour in Russelsheim, West Germany.

Kenneth Rivoire Heads County FB

Heading Cooke County Farm Bureau for a new year is Kenneth Rivoire of Gainesville. He was elected president during the group's annual county convention.

Other officers elected at the October 25 meeting are R. F. Hassenpflug of Valley View, first vice president and Tony Sicking of Gainesville, second vice president.

The three will assume their new duties during the November meeting of the Farm Bureau Board of Directors.

In other business, five delegates to the state Farm Bureau convention in San Antonio Nov. 11-14 were named. They are Rivoire, David Schneiderjan, J. T. Cole, Joe Bauer and R. F. Hassenpflug.

Outgoing president J. T. Cole, announced that the Farm Bureau now has 507 farm family members. The Bureau's goal is 510 and members hope to exceed that number.

Monday, Nov. 5, is the next regular meeting of the board of directors at the business office starting at 7:30. New officers will be installed, new board members introduced, and delegates to the state convention will be briefed.

Tigers Romp to 33-14 Win over Big G Red Devils

The Tigers of Sacred Heart went on another scoring spree last Thursday night and trampled the Gainesville B Red Devils 33-14.

Both teams were badly cramped by fumbles and interceptions as Sacred Heart lost possession six times and Gainesville lost it five times. In total gains however the Tigers were well ahead with 328 as compared with the Red Devils' 149.

At the start it seemed to be a bad night for the Wolf Brothers' proteges. They fumbled the kickoff after which Gainesville made 21 yards to the goal in four seemingly easy plays. Brent Felker scored from the 3.

The Tigers were quick to knot the score, however. On the first play after kickoff Dennis Hess broke through the line and scooted 57 yards. Try for extra points failed and the count was 6-6.

The rest of the quarter was a defensive standoff as Gainesville kicked three times and Sacred Heart kicked twice and fumbled once. Then the Tigers took inspiration from a Red Devil fumble and got going. Four tries made the 31 yards and Pat Klement made the last 9.

After kickoff Gainesville completed one series and snarled on the next, and Sacred Heart launched a 57 yard (Continued on page 4)

Rain Measures .99

This community's moisture condition is fine again, thanks to the .99 inch of rain during the past week.

Following record rainfall for the month of September, sub-soil moisture has been abundant but surface moisture was needed for the top soil, which dried out during cultivating an planting. This rain was needed for newly planted grains and it also gives a fine boost to pastures and earlier grain.

The rain was recorded in two readings on the city's rain gauge, .72 on Sunday and .27 on Monday. That brings the month's total measure to 1.67 and the year's total to 36.69.

Patsy Klement to Reign as Queen at SH Homecoming

Miss Patsy Klement, winner of the Tiger Queen's crown for 1962, will reign over homecoming festivities at Sacred Heart High Friday night.

The pre-game coronation will follow a pep rally and parade starting about 7:15. Ceremonies will conclude in time for the kickoff whistle promptly at 8. This year's homecoming game has the Tigers pitted against old rivals, the Greenhill Hornets.

Co-captains Johnny Wolf, Virgil Hess and Pat Klement will participate in the royal routine in which the queen's three princesses play supporting roles. They'll be flower bearer, crown bearer and football bearer. Princesses for 1962 are Misses Rita Noggler, Gloria Haverkamp and Mary Frances Knabe.

The pep squad will give an exhibition in pre-game activities and will conclude by forming a giant UF to call attention to the current United Fund campaign.

A dance in the Parish Hall is the concluding event on the homecoming program.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Sicking have announced an eight pound daughter, a baby sister for Ronnie, Kathy and Darell. She arrived 11:28 a.m. at Gainesville Hospital, Richey Street, on Friday, Oct. 26. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hennigan are the grandparents and Mrs. Mathilda Wimmer is great-grandma again.

She makes two girls and two boys in the family. The other children are Tim, Chris and Peggy. Mr. and Mrs. Ben Luke are the paternal grandparents and Mr. and Mrs. Stanley O'Neal of Whittier, Calif., are the maternal grandparents. Mr. and Mrs. Ben Luke went to Arlington Tuesday afternoon to see the newborn and Mrs. Luke remained for a longer visit.

Attend Funeral of Uncle in Houston

Mr. and Mrs. Lou Wolf and Bernard Wolf were in Houston Monday to attend the funeral of their uncle, Ernest A. "Loach" Wolf, 85, who died Saturday. He was a long-time resident of Houston and old-timers will recall that he visited here years back with his brother Henry Wolf. Surviving are his wife, three sons, four daughters and two sisters.

The Muenster trio visited with the Lou Wolfs' son, Mitchell Wolf, while in Houston.

All's Ready for Bazaar, Bake Sale Sponsored by CDA

Members of Muenster Court Catholic Daughters of America have shifted into high gear for the last week of preparation for their annual benefit bazaar, a three-day event on the calendar for November 6, 7 and 8.

Members are being reminded to take their finished handwork to Mrs. Frank Yosten's home as soon as possible, and not later than Nov. 3 so that the items can be priced and packaged and arranged for display.

The bazaar will be held in the former Youth Center building on Main Street and the ladies are setting up tables and chairs so they can serve coffee and sweet rolls to visitors who'd like to spend their coffee break time with them.

Meanwhile CDAs are inviting everybody to stop and look, register for a door prize and see the displays.

A bake sale will be in progress all three days with fresh baked goodies each day and there'll be a white elephant sale . . . non-members with white elephant items are invited to make contributions also. CDA members have been working for months on hand made articles, stuffed animals, children's clothing, doll clothes, aprons, and an assortment of fancy work suitable for Christmas and all-occasion gifts.

Proceeds from the benefit are used for the court's various charitable projects.

MHS Loses 13-6 To Power Packed Tribe of Sanger

The Hornets had a bigger job than they could handle at Sanger last Friday night and went down 13-6 in their second game of the District 10-B schedule.

That puts Muenster beside Sanger with a 1-1 record for the season to date. Valley View and Era are in front with two wins each, and Callisburg and Saint Jo have two losses each.

While the Hornets lost at Sanger, Valley View trampled Saint Jo 45-8, and Era shaded Callisburg 12-7. Despite a terrific disadvantage in weight, the Hornets gave the Indians a real tussle, playing them on even terms until the final minutes when the second Sanger TD practically put the game on ice. Up to then they were almost even on rushing yardage, and that difference was more than offset by the Hornets' 80 yards score on a kickoff. Besides, the Hornets were hurt by penalties, some of which stopped their drives and one that spoiled a fat scoring opportunity.

That heartbreaker came early. Sanger kicked to end its first series. Muenster made the yardage for a first down but a penalty nullified part of the gain and forced a kick. On that kick the ball bounced wild and in the resulting scramble Muenster covered it on Sanger's 2. But an offside penalty rubbed out the play and Muenster's set-up. At the end of the next play the ball was Sanger's on the 39 instead of Muenster's on the 2.

Finish Recruit Training

Ted Kathman and Dickie Pagel completed recruit training at the Naval Training Center in San Diego, Calif., on Oct. 26. During the nine-week indoctrination, recruits are trained in physical fitness, basic military law, military drill, customs and etiquette of the naval service, swimming and survival, first aid and basic shipboard routine. Both boys have opportunity for a leave at home before transfer or at Christmas. Dickie has chosen to take his leave now and is expected here next Thursday. Ted was planning on the Christmas vacation at last report.

Home For Christmas

Counting down the days until Christmas are the Tony Wimmer family and their man in the service, Army Sergeant Charles Wimmer, who has written from Korea to tell that he leaves for the states by boat on November 17 and is scheduled to arrive in California on Dec. 3. And home after that as soon as possible. His reassignment in the states will be in Washington.

Big Vote Urged Next Tuesday in General Election

A big day is expected at the two Muenster voting boxes next Tuesday as local people report to cast their ballots in the nation-wide general election.

Assuming that interest here is up to normal for a general election, the total number of voters will probably be near 600, which is about 75 per cent of the community's maximum voting strength.

That is the reason the election judges are appealing to people to come earlier than usual. As explained by Joe Luke, voting normally is slow for the greater part of the day and gets crowded near the end. Completing the count and making out the report normally takes more than an hour after the polls close, and Muenster is delayed that long in getting its report to headquarters.

Voting hours here will be from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. The north box will be located in the basement of the K of C hall under supervision of Joe Luke. The usual location in the public school is not in use this time because the conflict with classes would be disturbing to both students and voters.

The south box, supervised by Paul Fisher, will be in its usual location at the entrance to the city park.

The ballot for this election is extra large, almost the size of a newspaper page. It includes the full list of state and local candidates in five columns under the headings of Democratic, Republican, Constitution and Independent parties and another for write-ins. And at the bottom of the ballot are fourteen proposed constitutional amendments.

Special caution is recommended in casting ballots so that votes will not be discarded as invalid. Since the accepted method in Texas is to scratch out all candidates but one for each office the voter must be careful to leave only one. For instance the governor's race has three candidates. Many voters deciding only between Democratic and Republican may forget the Constitution Party candidate and scratch only the Democratic or Republican candidate. That would leave two votes for the same office and make that part of the ballot invalid. Political leaders of both major parties have urged special caution in this matter because so many votes were lost that way in the last general election.

Another item for voter consideration is the "loyalty pledge" on ballots of the Democratic primary. Price Daniel, while attorney general, declared that a voter is not legally obligated to support Democratic candidates after voting in the party's primary. Anyone has the right to vote as he pleases in a general election.

Former Resident Dies in Oklahoma

Mrs. Johnny (Carmeta) Fisher, 43, a former Muenster resident died suddenly Friday night at her home in Lindsay, Okla., after suffering a brain hemorrhage.

Funeral services were held in Lindsay at 2 p.m. and burial was at Ardmore.

Surviving are the husband and three sons, Johnny Dwayne in overseas military service, Donald Joe in the Air Force in Alabama and Chris at home.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Evans attended the funeral.

Proposed Amendments

In the general election of November 6 the voters of Texas will have the opportunity of deciding on 14 amendments to the state constitution. For the convenience of people who would like to know the basic provisions of the 14 proposals, the Enterprise offers a brief expansion of each. This series, presented by the Texas Manufacturers Association, is not intended to endorse or criticize any amendment, but only to inform.

AMENDMENT NO. XII DELEGATION OF ZONING POWERS TO CERTAIN COUNTIES

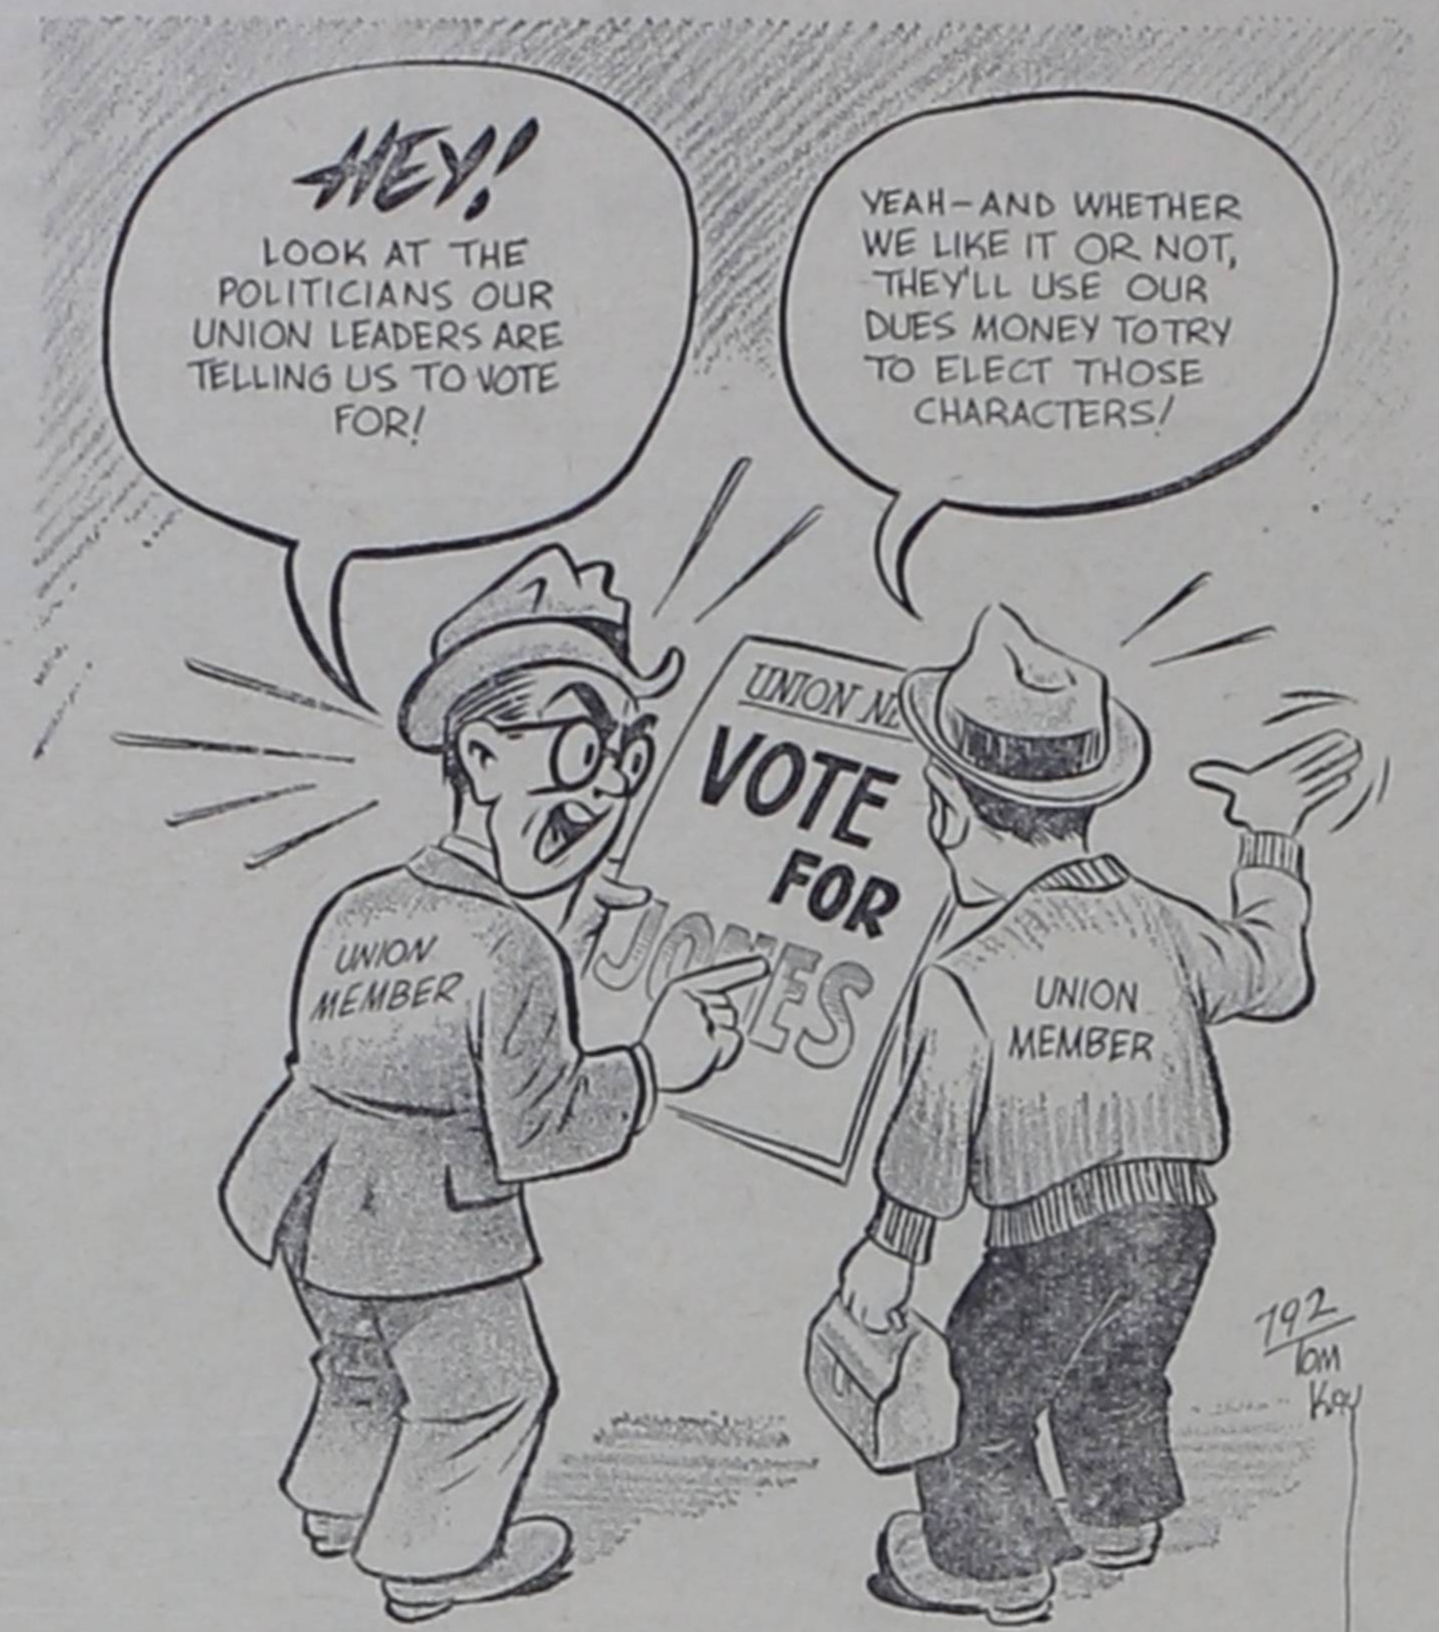

For or Against:
 The constitutional amendment authorizing the legislature to delegate limited zoning powers to any county bordering on the Gulf of Mexico or the tidewater limits thereof.

The resolution would permit the Legislature to authorize counties bordering on the Gulf of Mexico, or the tidewater limits thereof, regulate and restrict the speed, parking, and travel of motor vehicles on beaches available to the public by virtue of public rights and the littering of such beaches. The resolution specifically states that it would not increase the rights of any riparian or littoral land owner.

Apparently the amendment is proposed for the regulation of traffic on public beaches for the protection of the general public who seeks to use those beaches.

AMENDMENT NO. XIII DALLAS COUNTY SCHOOL DISTRICT FINANCING

For or Against:
 The amendment to article VII

The Irony of It!

of the constitution of Texas, by adding thereto section 3-b providing that taxes or bonds previously voted in any independent school district, the major portion of which is in Dallas County, shall not be abrogated, canceled or invalidated by change in boundaries and authorizing the continuance of the levy of Taxes after such change without further election.

The resolution proposes an addition to Article VII of the Constitution which would provide, in substance, that school taxes voted and bonds voted, but unissued would not be cancelled or invalidated because of a change in boundary of such district; authorizing the levy of taxes after such boundary change without further election in the district; and excepting from its provisions the situation where there is an annexation or consolidation of whole districts.

This amendment would be purely local in nature and would facilitate an annexation of adjacent areas to a school district in that it would not require repeated elections on the same subject because of boundary changes. It would, however, still require that where there is a consolidation of two whole districts there would be an election to approve the joint assumption of the bonded indebtedness of the respective districts.

AMENDMENT NO. XIV DE NOVO APPEALS FROM ADMINISTRATIVE AGENCIES

For or Against:
 The constitutional amendment granting the legislature power to provide for trials De Novo on all appeals from actions, rulings, or decisions of administrative or executive agencies of government.

The resolution provides that the Legislature may enact legislation requiring that any administrative agency may be "de novo" as that term is understood in appeals from Justice to County Courts in Texas. This is not a self-enacting amendment as it depends on subsequent legislative action.

The nature of the problem involved is substantially this—most of the administrative agencies of the state today are vested with the authority of the "first forum" on matters under agency jurisdiction. Included in that power is the responsibility of finding facts and applying the law to those facts. A party to a hearing may appeal to the appropriate court; however, in most agencies when that appeal is taken, the court is bound to proceed on the facts as found by the agency if there is "substantial evidence" to support such finding of fact. For all practical purposes this leaves the court jurisdiction of the application with the customary appellate of the law to the facts found by the agency. The court does have authority to set aside capricious finds of fact, but for the most part their function is applying law to facts already determined.

The arguments of the proponents of the resolution are basically that administrative procedure denies the right of trial by jury. The argument of the opponents of the resolution is basically that administrative agencies deal with a narrow field of a complicated economy; that experts would be better equipped to ascertain the facts surrounding a controversy in that limited field; and that the appeal "de novo" would render the agency ineffective to perform its regulatory function.

A SOUND PROPOSAL FOR CUTTING TAXES

A great many plans have been advanced for cutting income taxes. The House Ways and Means Committee has been studying tax reform for some time; the President has suggested a tax cut next year; and the Herlong-Baker bill (to cut taxes to a minimum of 25 per cent) has been picking up steam.

We salute all of these efforts to give the poor taxpayer a break. But we feel compelled to point out one salient weakness that exists in all of them. Since none of them include provisions for cuts in government spending, the tax cuts must be made up by some alternative tax.

Of what value is an income tax cut, if new excise taxes raise the cost of the things we buy? Even if no revenues are enacted, the inflation resulting from the inevitable deficit will be just as great a tax to pay. So we see little sense in redistributing the tax load, when the actual size of government remains the same.

One proposal for tax reform does meet our requirements. Since it is a proposed Constitutional amendment, it cannot be retracted by government the day after it is enacted — as can a simple act of legislation.

We are speaking of the "Liberty Amendment." Its first section says: "The Government of the United States shall not engage in any business, professional, commercial, financial or industrial enterprise except as specified in the Constitution." Since the government could not engage in any activity not specified by the Constitution, it would automatically eliminate the farm subsidy program, foreign aid, and many other federal grants and subsidies. It would not interfere with national defense, the post office, or other activities authorized by the Constitution.

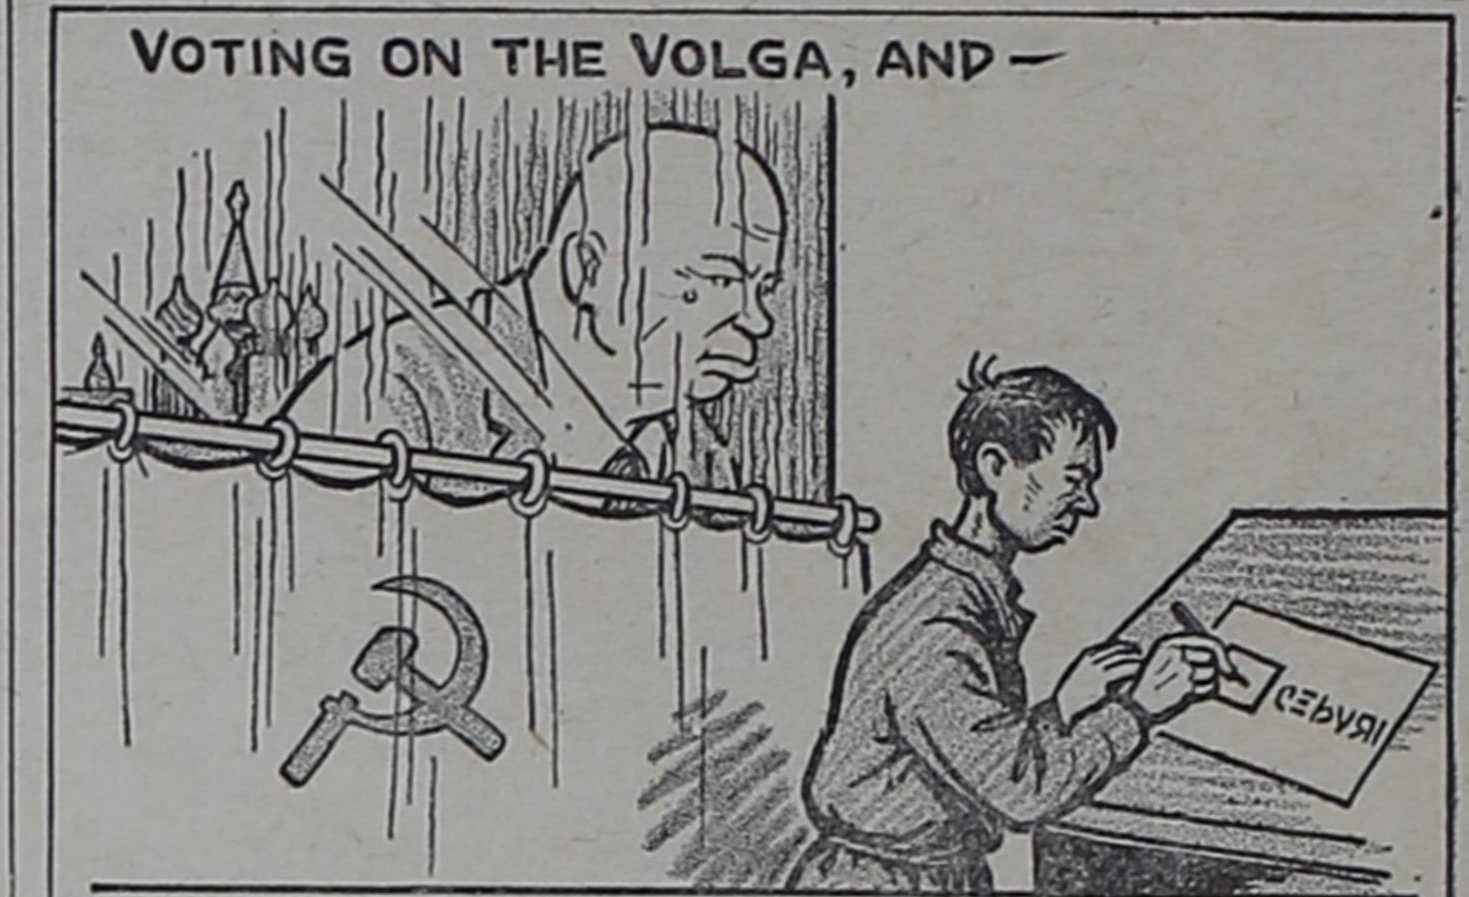

The savings to the American people would amount to over $40 billion per year, which is actually more than is collected by the government in personal income taxes.

The amendment requires the government to sell any unauthorized facilities within three years. At the end of the three year period, the personal income, estate, and gift taxes would be realed and Congress would be Constitutionally prohibited from ever taxing incomes again.

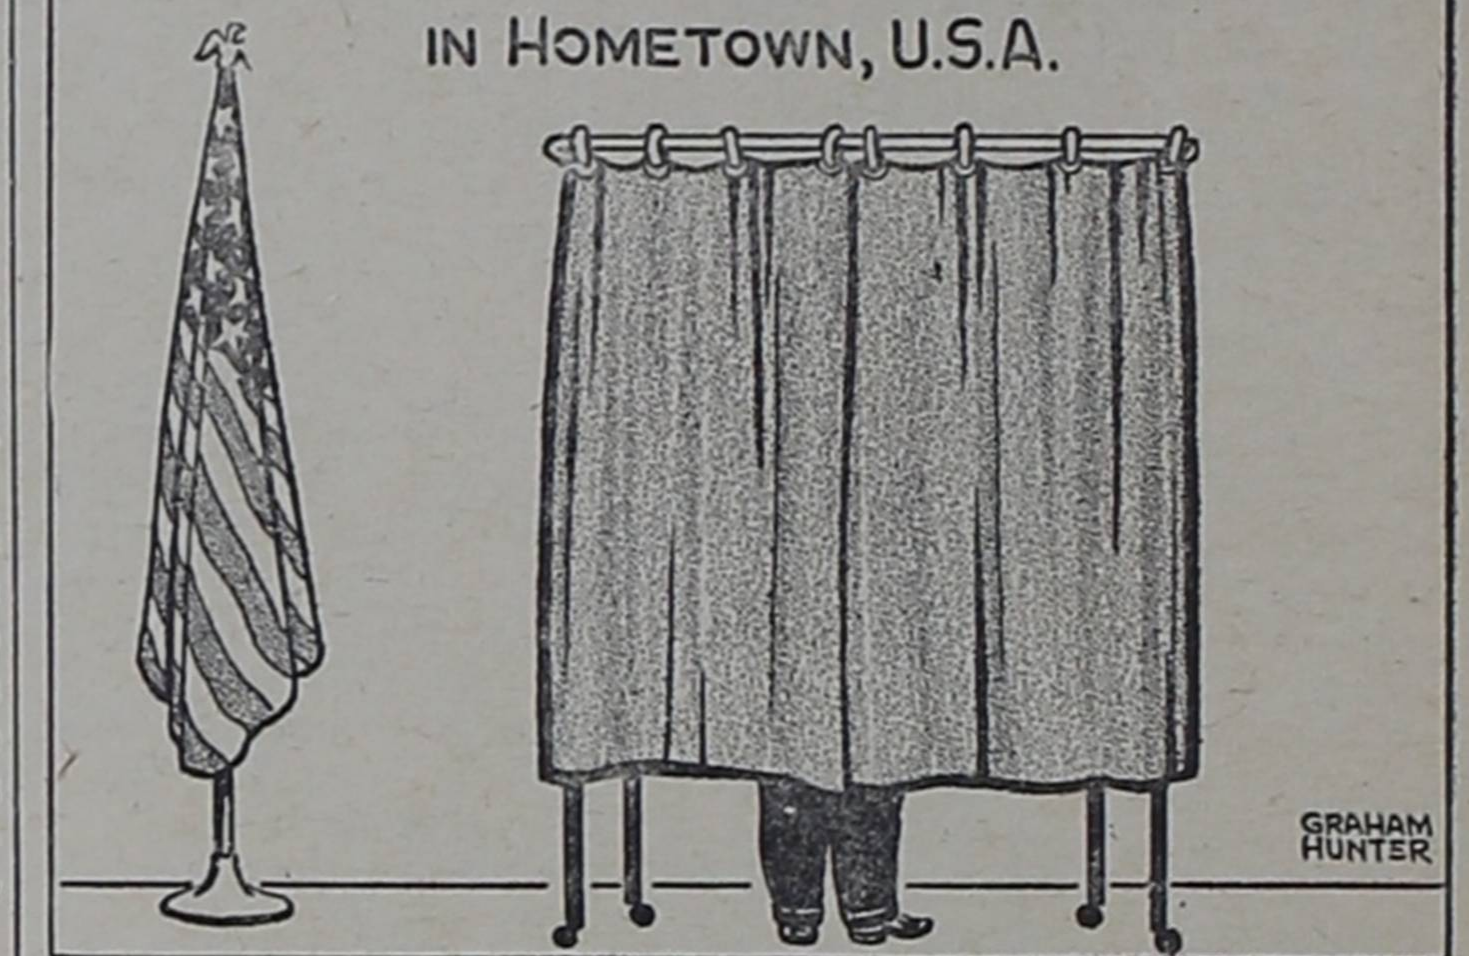

Six states have already proposed that Congress submit the Liberty Amendment for ratification, and many more will consider it next year. We like this approach being first. We like it because it will restore the Constitution to its place as the supreme law of the land. And we like it because it will "get the economy moving again."

HOW DID HE KNOW?
 Didn't we see in the news the other day that the Federal government was asking the steel companies how much it costs to produce a ton of steel? If the government doesn't know, it is reasonable to assume that President Kennedy doesn't know. And if he doesn't know production costs, how was he so sure that the $6 increase in steel prices was not justified? — Montrose, Calif., Ledger

Betty Dangelmayr Donald Trubenbach Say Vows at Mass

Honeymooning at an unrevealed destination are Mr. and Mrs. Donald Trubenbach who were married Saturday, Oct. 27. The bride is the former Miss Betty Ann Dangelmayr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Dangelmayr, and the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Martin Trubenbach, all of Muenster.

The couple exchanged vows at an 11 a.m. nuptial mass in Sacred Heart Church, Father Alcuin Kubis officiating and performing the double ring ceremony.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father who gave her in marriage. She wore a lovely original creation of diamond white pure silk satin, Victorian inspired with fitted basque bodice and long sleeves. A slightly rounded neckline was framed with a bias fold of self material that extended across the shoulders to give a yoke effect. A deep yoke of lace embellished with seed pearls and sequins stemmed from the fold. The voluminous skirt was gathered at each side for a softly belled front and a half pouf accented the back of the skirt which swept into

Tiny Tots Charm PTA Membership With Stage Show

First and second graders of Muenster Public School charmed the PTA membership Monday night when the youngsters presented a program to spark the organization's regular meeting. Mrs. Bessie Miller directed the stage show.

"Discovering America" was a clever skit in which the pupils benefitted by learning history. Columbus was portrayed by Charles Arend. Charlotte Foster was Queen Isabella of Spain. Phillip Russell was King of Portugal and Ricky Allen was the King of France. Dwayne Hellman was the messenger and Ricky Ramsey the merchant.

Little boys and girls represented the high seas, the tides, the years, the sailors and the ships. Participating in these roles were Debby Allen, Susan Sloan, Barbara Davidson, Kathy Selby, Laneta Reid and Paula Brewer. Billy Pratt was borrowed from the third grade to represent the land. Mrs. Miller finished the narration and most of the show was in pantomime. Some of the main characters had speaking parts.

For the next number, a Halloween song, the children were in costumes representative of Halloween and the final number was by the rhythm band, including the full enrollment of first and second graders.

Business was routine and held to a minimum. President Paul Fisher presided, and committee chairmen reported. The library committee headed by Miss Dianne Henzler, library chairman, is studying library needs preparatory to purchasing books. The membership also okayed repairs to the concession stand.

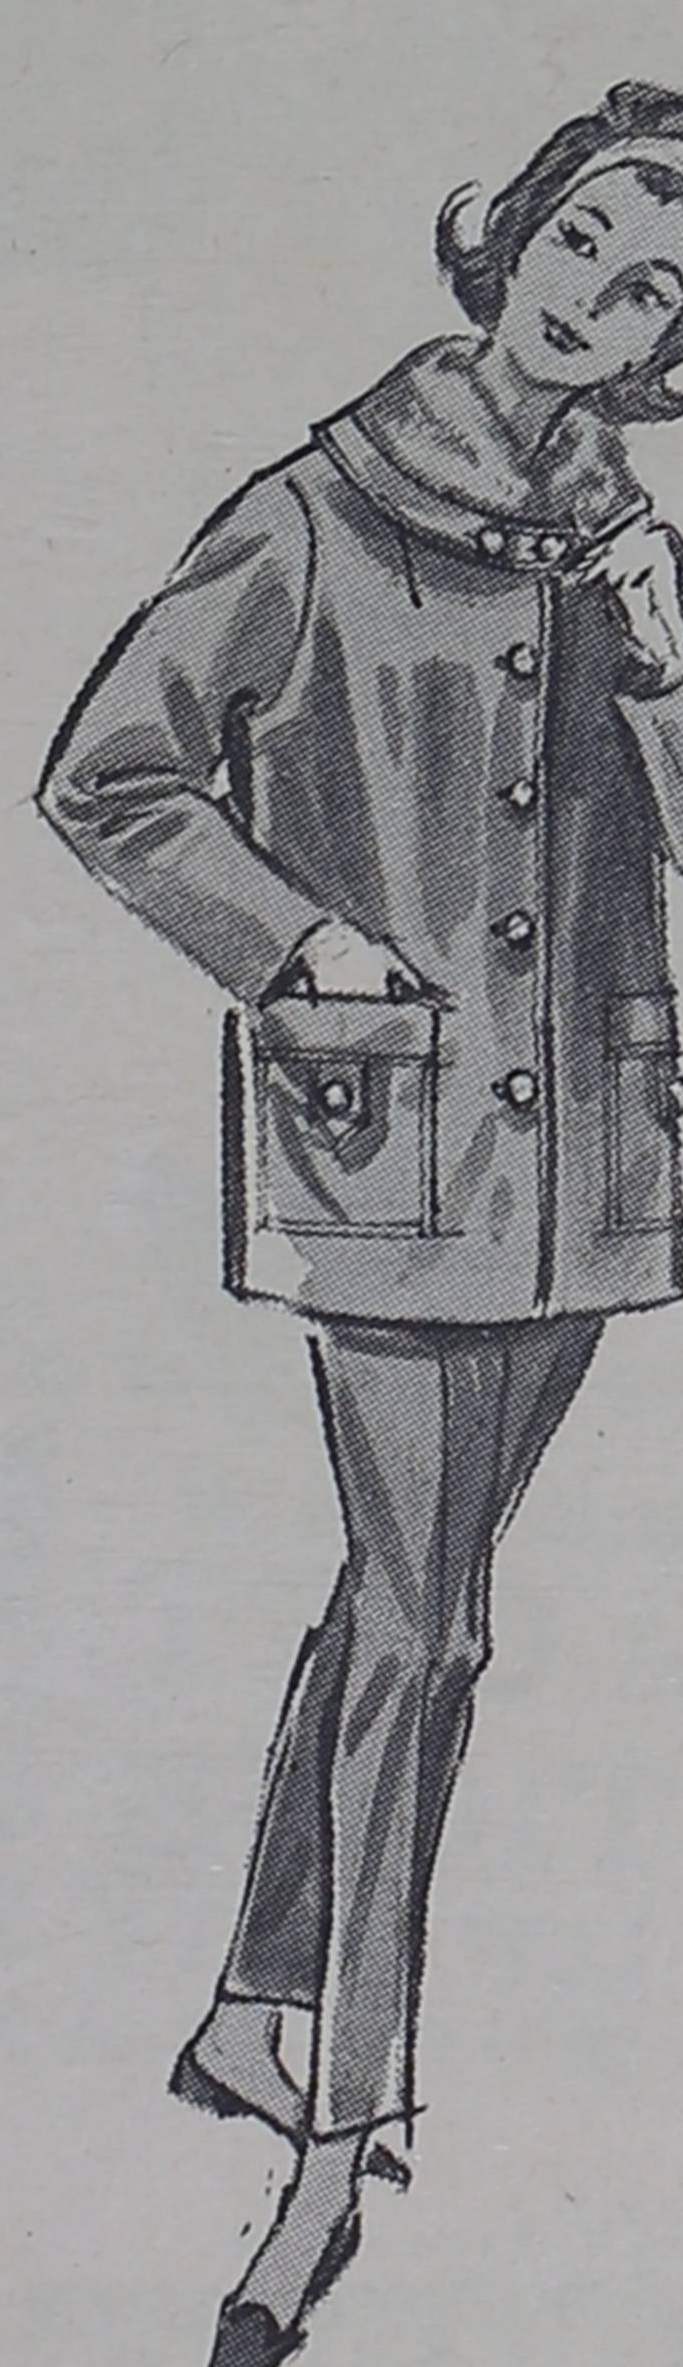

As a woman approached her car in a crowded downtown parking lot, a policeman stopped her.

"Your license plates are on upside down," he said. "I know," she said. "This way I don't have to wander all over the parking lot looking for my car."

drive. Eight plays went the distance with Klement scoring from the 11. Virgil Hess kicked for an extra point.

A fumble by the Red Devils on first play after kickoff seemed to start the Tigers again but their fumble spoiled the effort on the 16. Gainesville moved back to the 36 where Dennis Hess intercepted and a pass from Johnny Wolf to Jim Otto three plays later was good for 32 and the score. That made the count 25-6 at half time.

Opening the second half Tiger reserves had their chance and the Red Devils moved steadily for 72 yards to their second TD. Bill Mayes went 2 for the score and Felker followed over for bonus points.

For the rest of the third quarter and well into the fourth Sacred Heart made scattered gains but failed to keep moving. Finally, with 4 minutes to go they made their successful bid for another score. They went 25 yards for the counter and Wolf made the last 5. Virgil Hess ran for the two extra points.

2 Groups Return From Deer Hunts

Two groups of deer hunters have returned home after hunting trips, all agreeing that hunting was harder this season than usual. But the animals are some of the finest they ever got.

On their annual expedition to Valejo Park in New Mexico were Henry Felderhoff, Clyde Muller, Richard and Walter Grewing, Mrs. Richard Grewing and Mrs. Clyde Muller also made the trip. Others were in the party from Gainesville including Joe Tempel and Leo Felderhoff. Each hunter got a buck.

In another party were Tommy and Gussie Felderhoff, Billy Joe Miller and Bernard Swirczynski. They camped near Durango, Colo. The weather was beautiful with bright sunshine and hunting was bad. They got one buck and one bear.

Student Program Presented at HS Meeting Tuesday

Members of Sacred Heart Home-School Society were treated to an entertainment program as an added attraction to their monthly business meeting Tuesday night.

Business was routine with committee reports and announcements. Ray Sicking, president, presided, and Father Bruno Fuhrmann directed a few well chosen remarks to the assemblage. Eighty parents were present. Father Alcuin Kubis and the Benedictine Sisters attended.

There were three numbers on the program. Three fourth grade girls, Donna Marie Rohmer, Debbie Yosten and Laurie Wimmer, as "Three Buffalo Hunters" did a song and dance routine. Eighth graders sang a Spanish song and did the Mexican Hat dance; and Jill Swirczynski and Janie Fleitman did the cha-cha. Musical accompaniment for the numbers was by Mary Ellen Endres and Gloria Gieb, pianists, Douglas Martin, guitar and Doris Lutkenhaus, castinets.

City Plans Early Start on Expansion Of Water System

Improvements in the city's water system resulting from voter approval of a bond issue is likely to begin in about two months. In the opinion of Water Superintendent Steve Mosler the several steps between election and bond issue should be complete by then, and the city's intention is to start as soon as money is available.

In a special meeting last week the council completed all forms for application to the Attorney General for approval of a local bond issue. While awaiting the approval and actual bond issue the city is preparing a list of material to be used for extending water mains. Bids will be invited on the list and an order will be placed as soon as the first money is on hand.

Buying in this way will save the city about 20 per cent on its material cost Mosler said. About a year's needs will be included in the one volume order. The work will be done by city employees.

moved 61 yards to their first score, their drive featured by a 19 yard pass and a 26 yard run. Moorman scored from the 2 and Holder kicked an extra point.

The Hornets got their TD on the kickoff that followed. Wimmer received and headed for a huddle with several other Hornets. Coming out of that huddle Weldon Vogel bootlegged the ball to perfection and slipped through before the Indians were aware of what had happened. Total distance from the point the kick was received was about 80 yard. The try for extra points failed and the Hornets trailed 7-6.

Late in the second quarter Muenster hit its stride but ran out of time. The push gained 59 yards to the 21.

A Hornet fumble opening the second half gave Sanger a good opportunity but Hornet defense was equal to the test. Sanger moved one first down to the 9, lost 2 yards on two plays and tried two passes, the second of which was intercepted by little Tommy Flusche. A short time later Flusche snared another to stop a Sanger threat on the 24.

From then until the 4 minute signal both teams held. That's when Holder suddenly busted through the line and raced 51 yards for Sanger's second score.

prescription drug manufacturer

It is not by chance that your pharmacist has the proper drug ready for you when your physician prescribes it. The American people today enjoy a level of health far higher than ever before, and a large part of it may be attributed to the dramatic advances made by the "health team": pharmacist, physician and prescription drug manufacturer.

We call the complex process by which a drug moves from manufacturer to patient "the miracle of drug distribution." The teamwork of prescription drug manufacturer, drug wholesaler and pharmacist assures that you will receive the medicine you need. This miracle of drug distribution—the fact that the medicine you need is in your community pharmacy when you need it—is just one reason why prescriptions are today's best bargains.

SIGNS OF THE TIMES — Climbers in Chicago may find these signs amusing, but they offer sound advice, especially for those who are getting on in years.

Halloween Fete Draws Big Crowd In Spite of Rain

In spite of inclement weather, ghosts and goblins — near 100 of them — in various sizes arrived at the Parish Hall Sunday afternoon to participate in the costume parade at 4 o'clock. It was a feature of the annual Halloween bazaar sponsored by Sacred Heart School. Halloween characters and those dressed in unusual costumes donned their make-up to win the prize money at stake. Judging was by a trio from Lindsay: Mmes. Gene Pelzel, Edward Sandmann and Billy ward Sandmann and Billy Zimmerer who "had to sweat it out" selecting winners because all were win-worthy. Prizes in each of the two divisions were cash: $2.50, $1.50, and $1.00. Shirley Becker was first in group one as Miss Halloween. Estelle Martin placed second as "Corn Shucks," and Mark Schmitt won third as an Indian boy.

In the second division, featuring unusual costumes, Tommy Hennigan copped first as a little donkey, Doris Schmitt was next as a little old grandma, and a brother and sister pair, Billy and Janet Krahl walked off with third. They were little darkies. Excitement ran high at night too, as the Talent Show got under way. There were 19 entries and judges wished they could have awarded a prize to each one. They had to settle for three awards. Judges were Mmes. T. S. Myrick, Adolph Walterscheid and Andy Hofbauer. The Sisters coached their students for the acts.

A circus performance won top prize. Sister Genevieve's beginners Vickie Haverkamp, Lou Ann Swirczynski and Tommy Hennigan were the actors . . . Tommy was a donkey. They performed to Yankee Doodle March. Sister Henrietta's first grade group was a close second. The little boys gave a splendid rendition of Ten Little Indians. And Sister Alberta's Junior high group won third on their unique fashion show, displaying "out of this world" creations. Cash awards were three, two and one dollar, in that order. In the audience, among the full house, were Sister Alberta's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Krebs, weekend visitors from Oklahoma.

Grownups joined the youngsters in the carnival fun of games, contests, eats and drinks that were on the program after-noon and night. Proceeds of the annual Halloween event benefit the school.

A motorist was once driving in the country when suddenly his car stopped. He got out of the car and was checking the spark plugs when an old horse trotted up the road.

The horse said, "Better check the gas line," and trotted on.

The motorist was so frightened that he ran to the nearest farm house and told the farmer what had happened.

"Was it an old horse with a flopping ear? inquired the farmer.

"Yes! Yes!" cried the frightened man.

"Well, don't pay any attention to him," replied the farmer, "he doesn't know anything about cars."

The issue is clear cut in this election. A vote for these candidates is a vote for conservative principles of government with emphasis on fiscal responsibility, state's rights with less interference from Washington bureaucrats, and greater reliance on personal initiative through the free enterprise economic system.

A vote for them is a vote against New Frontier liberalism marked by deficit spending and rising national debt, welfare state socialism, centralization of government, foreign aid to our enemies and betrayal of our friends.

NEGOTIATING WITH LIARS

Let's be more realistic about what we can expect to accomplish through negotiation with the Russians. Let's recognize the fact that we are dealing with the biggest and most efficient liars in the world. Throw in the fact that they're also the biggest thieves and run a close second to Hitler for murder on a mass scale, and then consider the value of Khrushchev's signature on an agreement among nations.

TP&L Announces Change of Rate

Texas Power & Light Company has put into effect a special rate for commercial and industrial customers who use both electric heating and electric air conditioning.

The new rate will become effective in November and apply during the six winter months each year. It will make the use of heat pumps or electrically driven cooling units with resistance heating quite attractive, Company officials said.

The new rate covers both large and small businesses, provided the customer is electrically heating the same area which is electrically cooled, they added.

A similar rate covering residential service in the TP&L area has been in effect three years.

66-4 Vote Okays Lindsay Bond for Water System

By the overwhelming vote of 66-4 people of Lindsay last Saturday approved a bond issue to finance a municipally owned waterworks system.

The election authorizes the Town of Lindsay to issue revenue bearing bonds in the amount of $51,000 for the project, which will include well, reservoir, pressure pump and the water mains. The pressure pump system is being used because its cost is much lower than that of a gravity system with elevated tank.

Funds for payment of the bonds will come out of the earnings of the water system. Mayor Joe Bezner said Tuesday that 60 customers had signed for connections and more are expected before installation is finished.

He also said that the project will probably be ready for use next spring. Bids can be invited thirty days after election and the contract should be awarded about thirty days after that.

Financing was assured by a provision which was made prior to the election. A loan has been approved by the Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency which guarantees sufficient funds for the system. That gives the town a choice of using either private money or government money, whichever will ask the lower interest rate.

Lindsay News

Leaders of Lindsay Boys' and Girls' Craft Club are reminded of their November planning session on Monday, Nov. 5, 2 p.m. in the Parish Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Block joined Mr. and Mrs. John Kuntz and son Mark and Al Kuntz in Valley View for a trip to Fort Worth to attend the 8 a.m. mass at Holy Name Church and see a grandson and nephew, Steven Kuntz, in First Communion services. After mass they were all guests at the Al C. Kuntz home.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Neu and daughters Dianne, Janelle and Pamela are leaving Lindsay this week to make their home in Madill, Okla.

Paul Arendt and Jake Bezner were in Subiaco, Ark., over the weekend attending an alumni business meeting. They made the trip with Muensterites Mr. and Mrs. Otto Walterscheid who went to see their son Robert and Mrs. Dick Trachta who visited her son Wayne. While Mr. Arendt was away, Mrs. Arendt visited in Muenster with her daughter and family, the Albert Herts.

St. Peter's Parish will have its annual visit to the cemetery Sunday afternoon with services beginning at 2 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Schmitz of Houston spent the weekend with his mother, Mrs. Joe Schmitz, visited other relatives and attended the Dangelmayr-Trubenbach wedding in Muenster.

Big Attendance at Lindsay Carnival

Lindsay's annual Halloween Carnival Sunday night was a howling success — literally — as scores of children had the time of their lives and their parents joined in the fun.

Games and prizes, eats and drinks, and a costume contest were carnival highlights. Carol Felderhoff won the door prize, a cake; Mrs. Freddie William Neu and Michael Bezner won teddy bears and Leo Bodovsky of Gainesville won the camera.

In the costume contest, Mary Kay Bezner, daughter of the Rufus Bezners, won honors as the prettiest and Marilyn Hundt copped the prize for costuming the tackiest. She's the daughter of the Gregory Hundts.

Roommothers and other PTC members engineered the carnival as a school benefit. It was held in the Parish Hall.

Mrs. George Spaeth Birthday Honoree

Birthday celebration for Mrs. George Spaeth came a day early, on Sunday, with her children and their families gathering at her home and bringing covered dishes for a noon feast. They brought gifts, too, and Mrs. Walt Barry and son James brought the decorated cake with them from Dallas. It was Mrs. Spaeth's 78th.

Others present were Miss Frances Spaeth of Denison, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Spaeth and children of Longview, and the group from Muenster, Gainesville and Valley View.

Only ones missing were Mr. and Mrs. Mark Kuta and children who recently moved from Crockett, Texas, to Tucson, Arizona.

Another celebration, this on her birthday Monday, greeted Mrs. Spaeth when old-time friends gathered at her home. They brought gifts and Mrs. Fred Luebbert brought a decorated cake. It was served with other refreshments after an afternoon of visiting.

Knights Trample Tom Beans 56-16

Lindsay Knights trampled the Tomcats of Tom Bean last Thursday in their determined march to the District 9 8-man title. The score was 56-16.

As of now Lindsay has one more game to go and is a strong favorite to win that.

Before going on their scoring binge the Knights got a shock, however. The Tomcats started the game with a 55 yard touchdown drive and Lindsay trailed 8-0 in the opening minutes. But the tension did not last long. Lindsay tied the score in a hurry and kept on scoring. Tom Bean got only one more touchdown.

Lindsay divided evenly between ground and air plays for its touchdowns... four of each. Leon Neu went over twice from the 3 and once from the 20 and Morisak made it from the 4. Morisak threw two touchdown passes, to Tommy Zimmerer for 55 and to Donny Sandmann for 25. Billy Schmitz also threw twice for TDs, to Robert Fleitman for 16 and to Morisak for 56.

Extra points followed four of the touchdowns. Morisak went over for one and passed to Zimmerer and Fuhrmann for two more. Sandmann made the other 2-pointer.

an outstanding representative in Washington. And he chose to enter politics as a Republican because, in his opinion, that party harmonized more closely with his conservative convictions.

Regarding the race for Lieutenant Governor this column can say only that two good men are running and that voting is a matter mostly of party choice. In general, a Democratic vote supports the liberal cause and a Republican vote supports the conservative cause.

That choice, in fact, is a very important one to consider in all of the races. A Republican vote can be regarded as repudiation of reckless spending, socialism, increasing bureaucracy, softness to communism, aid to enemies, and other liberal policies prevailing in Washington. A Democratic vote is an endorsement of those policies.

By electing conservatives this state and nation can hasten the return to better government... partly by sending more conservatives to power, partly by serving notice on the administration that we the people do not favor its ways.

During the past week many Democrats have gloated that the President's courageous ultimatum to Khrushchey has stolen a campaign issue from the Republicans. It's true his action merited and received nation wide approval. But that does not change the fact that he permitted an awful mess to build up before he acted... that he actually deserves less credit for his decision because he delayed until the nation-wide protest, ringing in his ears, practically forced him to it... and until political repercussions from the delay were becoming apparent.

Even now we have cause to wonder whether the deal is going to our satisfaction. Why was it necessary to call off the blockade for two days? Why permit negotiations suddenly to be confined to missiles in Cuba? How about planes and other offensive weapons? How about our intention to get Castro and communism cleaned out and give the country back to Cubans? It seems we have retreated more than advanced during the past week. The political issue may not be dead after all.

Vote Against Amendment 14

De Novo Appeals from Administrative Agencies

This amendment, if approved, would authorize passage of a law requiring that any appeal from the action of an administrative agency would be subject to "trial de novo", which completely disregards the reasons and decision of the administrative body concerned. It would affect cities, counties, school boards, water and hospital districts and state agencies, making them subject to court decisions and nullifying the authority of administrators in their properly assigned positions.

Outstanding business, professional and political leaders all over the state recommend voting AGAINST the amendment for the following 14 reasons. It would:

1. Transfer control of local government from the people to the courts.
2. Destroy a fundamental principle of government — the balance of power between legislative, judicial and executive branches of government.
3. Subordinate the judicial and executive branches of government to the legislative branch.
4. Force judges to become executives and administrators.
5. Swamp the courts with law suits.
6. Permit appeals to courts for the sole purpose of harassment and delay.
7. Increase the cost of government by as much as one-third.
8. Endanger the basic freedoms of all Texans.
9. Create chaos in established democratic processes.
10. Render ineffective established and essential executive functions of government.
11. Stymie local improvements and invite Federal financial aid and control.
12. Permit a lone disgruntled person to appeal and nullify important decisions relating to education, health, safety and welfare.
13. Make Texas the only state to abandon the American system of checks and balances.
14. Discourage qualified candidates from seeking public office or accepting appointment to administrative posts.
