MUENSTER, COOKE COUNTY, TEXAS

NUMBER 20

Proposed as a revolutionary approach for solving the stalemate over government aid to parochial schools is a cooperative plan called "shared time." Under this arrangement pupils of church schools would receive courses of a non-religious nature from public schools and courses that are related to religion from their church schools.

Apparently the method is intended to get around the current hassle by offering help indirectly to parochial schools. That is, by relieving them of some of their curricular burden and helping public schools in taking on the greater number of pupils.

The suggestion is that subjects like science, math, vocational studies, physical education, etc., which are not related to religion, be taught in the public school. And that children be permitted to attend their church schools for subjects related to religion and morals, such as literature, economics, history and civics.

Prominent churchmen and educators... Protestant, Catholic and Jewish... have endorsed the idea, while admitting it has its merits as well as its problems. A very important merit is relieving church schools of some of their financial burden and allowing children to share in benefits that their parents are paying for in taxes. An obvious problem is the daily transfer of students especially if the two schools they are to attend are far apart. Otherwise to set up schedules for attendance so many weeks at each school.

In principle this proposal appears to be fine. And the interest of Protestants and Jews is gratifying because it seems to indicate their growing awareness of the need for religious and moral background in the social studies. It would be wonderful if greater emphasis were placed on the fact that morality and religion are the first essentials to sound citizenship. By all means, let's have church schools of all denominations to supplement the ill advised godless standard imposed on public schools by the unfortunate and senseless application of ideas on separation of church and state.

This column is heartily for it in principle but deplores that a good idea is being "used" as an expedient to support federal aid to education. Why not adopt the shared time idea, but still say no to the extra cost and snooperism of federal bureaucracy?

The boxer who died after a brutal pounding in the ring nine days before may be remembered for a long time as the outstanding martyr to the cause of eliminating barbarism in prize fighting. Public indignation was running high for several days following his tragic injury and is certain to continue with greater intensity since the injury proved to be fatal.

The sad effects of prize fighting have been known for a long time. Far too many have been reduced from fine specimens of young manhood to human derelicts. In fact there are very few, no matter how skillful, who escape that pitiful fate if they stay with the fighting game long enough. As they gradually lose their speed and timing they take more punishment. Their heads get the kind of pounding that a delicate organism like the brain certainly is not intended to endure. It reaches the point where courage and determination, normally praiseworthy virtues, become liabilities... because rather than quit they take the punishment until beaten to insensibility. That's what happened in the case of the recent victim. As seen by millions on TV he was brutally beaten long after he was plainly out of the fight.

Just what can be done to correct the situation is a big problem, but it seems altogether proper that people in the boxing profession should be given an ultimatum of eliminating the brutality or going out of business. Maybe padded helmets, such as used in training, is the answer. Give a man the same protection in a fight that he gets in practice. It would necessarily result in more decisions on points and fewer on knockouts, which would not appeal to the brutal instincts of some fans, but it would eliminate the main cause of injury. That is reason enough to justify the change, whether fans like it or not. After all, the fighter, too, is entitled to consideration.

There may be even a better solution. Whatever the answer (Continued on page 10)

Muenster Bank Leads County in Percentage Gain

In percentage of gain for the past year, Muenster State Bank again is far in front of the other banking institutions of Cooke County, according to statements of condition as of March 26, required of banks by the state banking commission.

Deposits here increased $549,982, from $3,039,679 to $3,589,662, which figures to a gain of almost 18 per cent. In volume of gain Muenster State was topped by Gainesville National. The increase there was $600,541, which is slightly more than 8 per cent gain.

Together those two banks account for about 93 per cent of the total gain in all banks of the county during the past year. Gainesville National's share is near 50 per cent, Muenster State's was over 43%.

Total gain of all the banks for the year was $1,261,623, bringing total deposits to an all time high of $27,764,131.

Loans in the banking institutions likewise made a substantial gain during the year. They are up $1,002,800 for a present total of $15,166,456. Muenster State Bank, with an increase of $268,054, accounts for more than 26 per cent of that gain.

A breakdown of deposits at the local bank reveals that time and saving deposits make up the greater part of the gain for the year. Their increase was $335,664 whereas demand deposits increased $214,318.

Hefton Submits Statement in Race For Legislature

Rep. Don Hefton has formally announced his candidacy for a full term as State Representative District 49-F. Hefton, who was elected 3 months ago to fill the remaining part of the term that his predecessor resigned, served in the 30 day Special Session of the Legislature in January. During the Session, Hefton supported the Farm to Market Road Maintenance bill, Election Law revisions, and water Commission reforms. He opposed new expenditures while the State is still $80 million in debt.

Born in Sherman 34 years ago, Don is the younger son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Hefton. He graduated from Sherman Public schools and from Austin College in 1949. He has been employed in Sherman and in Dallas as an IBM accountant. During the latter part of World War II, Hefton served in the Army.

Hefton stated that he is for law which allows the greatest possible freedom of choice for the individual — not continuously more government restriction. He favors the free enterprise system of economics and a balanced budget in government — not socialism and deficit spending.

In regard to two important specific issues, Hefton is for revising the Sales Tax law so that it will be less confusing and burdensome to both the retailer and the customer; and Hefton is for a reasonable Small Loan law that will stop loan shark abuses but will allow a sufficient return to the honest lender so that this source of credit for some of our citizens will not be cut out.

"I respectfully ask the vote and support of the citizens of District 49-F in electing me to a full term as your Representative. My desire is to serve you well."

Construction Due To Start in July On Local Hospital

Construction on the Muenster Memorial Hospital is likely to begin in July. That's how the time table looks now, J. M. Weinzapfel, was informed this week by the architect, J. R. Killbrew of Wichita Falls.

He said the plans will be submitted for final approval in a few days. After that, assuming a normal schedule of progress, bids can be requested early in May, the contractor can be selected about a month later, and work should begin about a month after that.

One Local Team Wins Trophy in Tournament Here

One of the six trophies remained in Muenster at the close of last week's volleyball tournament sponsored by Sacred Heart Alumni. CYC won the ladies consolation beating O'Neal's of Nocona in the final of that bracket.

In the ladies' champ bracket the winner was Whizzers of Gainesville and the runner up was Bellevue.

Nocona had two trophy winners in the men's division, Nocona Blues and O'Neal. In the champ final it was the Blues as winner and Sivells Bend as runner up. O'Neal beat Corley's, another Nocona team for the consolation prize.

Candidates for 3 Boards Appear On School Ballot

Voters who report for the school trustee election here will get to vote on membership to three separate school boards without touching a pencil to the face of the ballot. There will be five names on the ticket, all unopposed.

Candidates for the local school board are Charley Hellman and Ray Wilde, both seeking re-election. J. G. Biffle Sr. is candidate for re-election as trustee at large on the county school board. Boyd Ware and Paul Campbell are candidates for re-election on the board of Cooke County Junior College.

The election here will be held in the public school from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. with Glenn Hellman as election judge.

District Track Meet Postponed Twice by Rains

Rain, as scarce as it has been this year, is turning out to be a big problem to at least one group of people in the area. District track teams have postponed their annual spring meet twice.

Last Saturday the new track at Saint Jo was too sloshy for satisfactory action, so the meet was postponed to Thursday. Thursday it was postponed to Friday. But it can't be delayed much longer. The regional meet is set for the 14th and this has to be finished to determine who will represent the district at the regional.

It will be held this weekend, says Superintendent Bruns, regardless of the conditions.

Walterscheid and Grewing Elected On City Council

Muenster's city election Tuesday turned out as expected. Richard Grewing was re-elected by write-in for the position which had no candidate on the ballot and William Walterscheid had clear sailing as the only candidate for the other position.

Balloting was about the lightest in the city's history. Only 24 votes were cast with 21 each going to the two winners. Henry Weinzapfel and David Traхта were other write in candidates.

Woodie Chapman 57, Dies Sunday Of Heart Attack

Woodie Chapman, former local resident, died at 9 a.m. Sunday in a Gainesville hospital about an hour after suffering a heart attack at his home in that city. He was 57.

Funeral services were held Tuesday at 2 p.m. in the First Presbyterian Church with the pastor the Rev. Leal Dobesh officiating and the Rev. Wilbur Mix, pastor of First Christian Church, assisting.

Burial was in Odd Fellows Cemetery at Denton following Masonic graveside rites. George J. Carroll and Son Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Chapman was born in Waxahachie, Nov. 25, 1904, and had been an independent oil producer in Cooke County for many years. He and his family lived in Muenster until they moved to Gainesville. He was a member of Myra Masonic Lodge.

Survivors are his wife; three sons, Kenneth of Sherman and Norris and Milton of Gainesville, one brother and five sisters.

Man Who Exposed Red Pilots Story Will Talk Monday

The threat of communism in this country, especially the reasons behind its growth and the best way of dealing with it, will be the subject of an address next Monday night, April 9, at 7:30 in the Cooke County court house.

Speaker will be Major Henry Knickenbocker of Dallas, who got national wide attention several months ago after calling attention to the training of communist fighters at Perrin Air Force Base.

New in the meat department at Hofbauer's is Arnold Henschel, a native son who has been away since he entered the armed forces twenty years ago. Arnold's family will continue living in Amarillo until the end of the school year.

Interest Revives In Bridge Over River at Bulcher

Interest in an old project vital to this area, a bridge over Red River north of here, came to life last Saturday night in a meeting at Wilson, Okla., sponsored by the Highway 76 and 74 Improvement Association.

About 200 persons attended and indicated their desire to have the bridge located south of Leon, Okla., a site which also is regarded as desirable to the several communities that would be affected this side of the river.

The proposed site is about a mile north of Bulcher, which is already connected by pavement with Muenster and Saint Jo and is also conveniently accessible to Nocona and Gainesville. At this time pavement in Oklahoma extends south of Leon, which is about four miles north of the river.

The association's long range plan is a direct route from Oklahoma City to Fort Worth. J. M. Weinzapfel and J. P. Flusche represented Muenster at the meeting.

So did William Fisher and Roger Taylor who finished training at Fort Knox but reported to Fort Polk before coming home.

'62 Beginners at SH School Will Register Sunday

Spring registration for children entering Sacred Heart school in the fall is scheduled for Sunday, April 8 at 2:00 p.m. in the High School Library. Any child who will be six before September 1, is eligible for this registration.

It is important that both parents of the child be present for this registration as the Primary Program will be discussed and school regulations will be explained. Uniforms will be on display and uniform accessories will be available at this time.

The children are not to come to this registration however, but are invited to the Round-Up Party at the school on April 9 from 2:00 to 3:30 in the afternoon.

ASCS Extends '62 Feed Grain Sign-up

There's still time for farmers to sign up for the 1962 feed grain program for corn and grain sorghums. A notice sent out this week by the Cooke County ASCS office advises that the sign-up period is extended to April 16.

Farmers who missed the previous deadline are reminded that they can participate in the current year's program if they will report to the ASCS in the Federal Building at Gainesville no later than 5 p.m. on the 16th.

Local FFA Boys Prep for Annual Show of Projects

Members of the local chapter of Future Farmers of America are preparing about 75 head of livestock this week for their annual project show on Saturday.

The miniature stock show will be held in the FFA stock pens east of the public school under supervision of Edgar Dyer, chapter adviser. Animals are due to be in place at 10:30 and judging will begin at 1 o'clock. Animals will remain on the ground until 3:30.

Dr. A. C. Hughes, head of the Technical Agricultural Department of East Texas State College, will be the judge. He will classify animals according to a standard rather than competitively. So it will be possible for more than one entry in a class to receive a blue ribbon, or if all are below standard none will get a blue ribbon. This year again every entry will be recognized and will share in the prize money. This is in keeping with the policy of rewarding everyone who brings in an animal. Prize money, expected to be about $200, will be provided by Cooke County United Fund.

Four classes of animals will be entered: sheep, swine, dairy cattle and beef cattle.

Crops Look Better Than Expected After Hard Winter

A dandy rain of 1.40 inches during the weekend, plus more of it Wednesday is brightening local crop prospects wonderfully. The general attitude of farmers now, as seen by soil conservation personnel on their regular contacts, is that conditions are far more promising than seemed possible after two hard winter freezes.

For a while after the January cold wave it was taken for granted that oats was mostly gone. People assumed it could not survive a temperature drop to zero. But good warm growing weather a few weeks later showed that the loss was much lower than expected. Another drop below the danger point, three nights at or near 10 degrees, revived the former worry. And again damage was much less than expected. Today it's conceded that there has been some loss, but with the breaks it can still be a fair crop.

Wheat of course was not hurt by weather and the crop is described as equal to any of past years at the present stage. Another bumper yield is possible if weather cooperates from now on.

Other reports also are good. Pastures are doing fine. Corn has a good start, however it is later than usual and can be hurt more than usual by a normally hot and dry summer. Still, it too has possibilities if favored by a little more moisture and a little less heat.

Everything considered, signs are good as of now. Good weather in the coming months can give local farmers another good year.

Rain for Wednesday and early Thursday, as shown at the 7 a.m. reading was .70, making a total of 2.10 for the week. Total for the year so far is 4.07 and the total through March is 3.37.

Late Rally Wins 4-2 for Tigers At Windthorst

Sacred Heart Tigers and Coaches Adam and Walter Wolf salted away a real morale boosting win Tuesday when they nipped the ever tough Windthorst Trojans 4-2. It was their seventh out of eight so far this season.

The game had a story book ending to boot. For five innings the Tigers trailed then finally grouped hits in the sixth and seventh to claim the game.

Four walks in the first gave the hosts their first run and a triple in the second their only hit of the game, brought in another.

Tiger hits, 10 of them in all, were scattered and ineffective until the sixth when Jerome Fuhrman's single came just right to score two and put Sacred Heart ahead 3-2. Three more hits for another run the next frame made the count 4-2.

Top hitters were Clarence Bayer with 3 and Johnny Wolf and Francis Fuhrman with 2 each. Wolf pitched all the way and the Trojans used two hurlers.

Dale Klement Has Grand Champ Hog At 4-H Stock Show

Dale Klement exhibited the grand champion hog in the 4-H Livestock Show at Gainesville Saturday after winning two blue ribbons on his Hampshire entries. He is a member of the Sacred Heart Intermediate club, an eighth grader and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Klement.

Other local boys winning ribbons were Don and Joe Hartman who had blue ribbon winners in the fat steer show. The brothers are sons of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Hartman. Also in the steer show, Jimmy Dangelmayr's entry won a red ribbon. The Albert Dangelmayrs are his parents.

Forty-nine animals were exhibited in this first annual all 4-H Livestock Show at the county fairgrounds. The animals represented projects of 35 Cooke County 4-H members. Each exhibitor will receive some premium money according to the ribbon their entry won. The prize money is made available through the United Fund. The animals will also be shown in the 4-H and FFA Stock Show slated for Friday this week.

Grand champion and reserve champion in the steer show were exhibited by Mike Padic, and Roy and Sue Purcell had the champ and reserve champ in the fat lamb division.

THE TEXTBOOK SITUATION

The current hassle over textbooks for Texas schools reveals a picture that smacks of the Russian influence — no regard for facts in many instances, and a slanting away from the American spirit of individualism in others.

Seems the Text Book Board reads only the sub-titles of the selections it makes, for a careful reading would disclose things that the casual reader finds after the books are adopted.

This writer, a former teacher, has long thought that the modern textbooks from the first grade through high school are written so as to require a minimum of effort and thinking on the part of the student. In plain words they are too easy. This applies especially to the arithmetic texts. The modern seventh grade arithmetic, which ends the child's instruction in this subject unless he takes commercial arithmetic in high school, is about on the level of the fourth grade text of twenty-five years ago.

The faults most frequently cited lately, however, are in the history and economics texts. For instance, one of the adopted supplementary books in history states that the United Nations won World War II, which took quite a bit of doing, even in the author's vivid imagination, for the UN was formed after the war had ended.

Now history deals with facts and specific dates, and errors such as this make history of no account. What possible use could a student have for false information in this field? The Russian children are taught that Ivan invented the electric light and that one of Ivan's forebears discovered America. When the Russian child finds out that all the remainder of the world teaches otherwise, what have the Russian authorities gained?

For some time our colleges and universities have been crammed with long-haired professors who never had enough to eat until they landed jobs in the said colleges, who are teaching what is wrong with the free enterprise system that has made America the greatest country in the world. Why don't they teach what is right about America? Why don't they teach their classes that there is no higher standard of living on the face of the globe than exists here? Why don't they tell their classes that people from everywhere in the world try to make their way to this country of freedom and prosperity. No half-baked economic system in theory can stand up to the facts which are all on the side of the American system.

It would seem the modern texts and teachers of economics are in league with the people of the world who are trying to destroy us.

If this kind of error persists, there will be nobody left to set the record straight. The country will be full of citizens who do not know the real facts of history.

As to the history books, they should relate facts. That is the only excuse for teaching history. The author of the book which says the UN won World War II, probably thinks the Boy Scouts won the Civil War. The UN has never won any kind of war and never will. Neither has it prevented war, which is its primary function.

Papas and Mamas, you had better start reading the books used as a part of your child's education.

FOR and AGAINST

for CHRIST-against COMMUNISM

BY BILLY JAMES HARGIS, LL.D.
 FOUNDER CHRISTIAN CRUSADE

What is "State-Monopoly Capitalism?"

Most Americans have never heard of state-monopoly capitalism because this is a term created by the international communist conspiracy. In his lengthy speech to the 22nd Congress of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union during October 1961 Nikita Khrushchev said: "In the U. S. state-monopoly capitalism is highly developed. But what good has it done the country? It is in the U. S. where under-capacity operation of plant is most acute . . . hopes pinned on state-monopoly capitalism are essentially groundless . . ."

The Draft Program of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union which was adopted during July 1961 listed a number of things which "have all made inevitable the downfall of capitalism and the transition to a higher type of social economy (communism)." Among these developments which the communists were told make their victory inevitable was "the replacement of free competition by state-monopoly capitalism." This Draft Program of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union also told conspirators around the world that, "state-monopoly capitalism . . . aggravates the contradictions of capitalism and undermines its foundations," and that "State-monopoly capitalism is the fullest material preparation for socialism."

What is this system of government which the communists call state-monopoly capitalism, and which they claim is "the fullest material preparation for socialism." Communist leaders discuss it at length in the new basic textbook "Fundamentals of Marxism-Leninism" which was prepared in Moscow. They claim that under state-monopoly capitalism the power of the "capitalist monopolies" is united with the power of the state for mutual benefit and oppression of the people. The communists call attention to the "substantial" government business available to the "big corporations" through this type government.

Actually, the system of government which the communist refer to in this textbook is a system through which the state exercises ever-increasing control over all business. In this type government a favorable attitude towards government power is created through handouts to the people. Big corporations profit from ever-expanding government orders. In their draft program the Soviet communist ridicule the attitude of free nation leaders who think that this form of government will help maintain freedom, and they clearly identify "state-monopoly capitalism" as what our fabian liberals call a "welfare state."

Left-wingers may think the welfare state is at odds with the communist plot against our nation but the communists know better. They know it will lead to America's destruction.

BEHOOVES US TO LEARN FROM ALASKAN WOLVES AND LOSS OF BLOOD

As obsessed as we are in this way and age with relying upon Uncle Sam for this, that and the other thing, we are reminded of the Alaskan wolves.

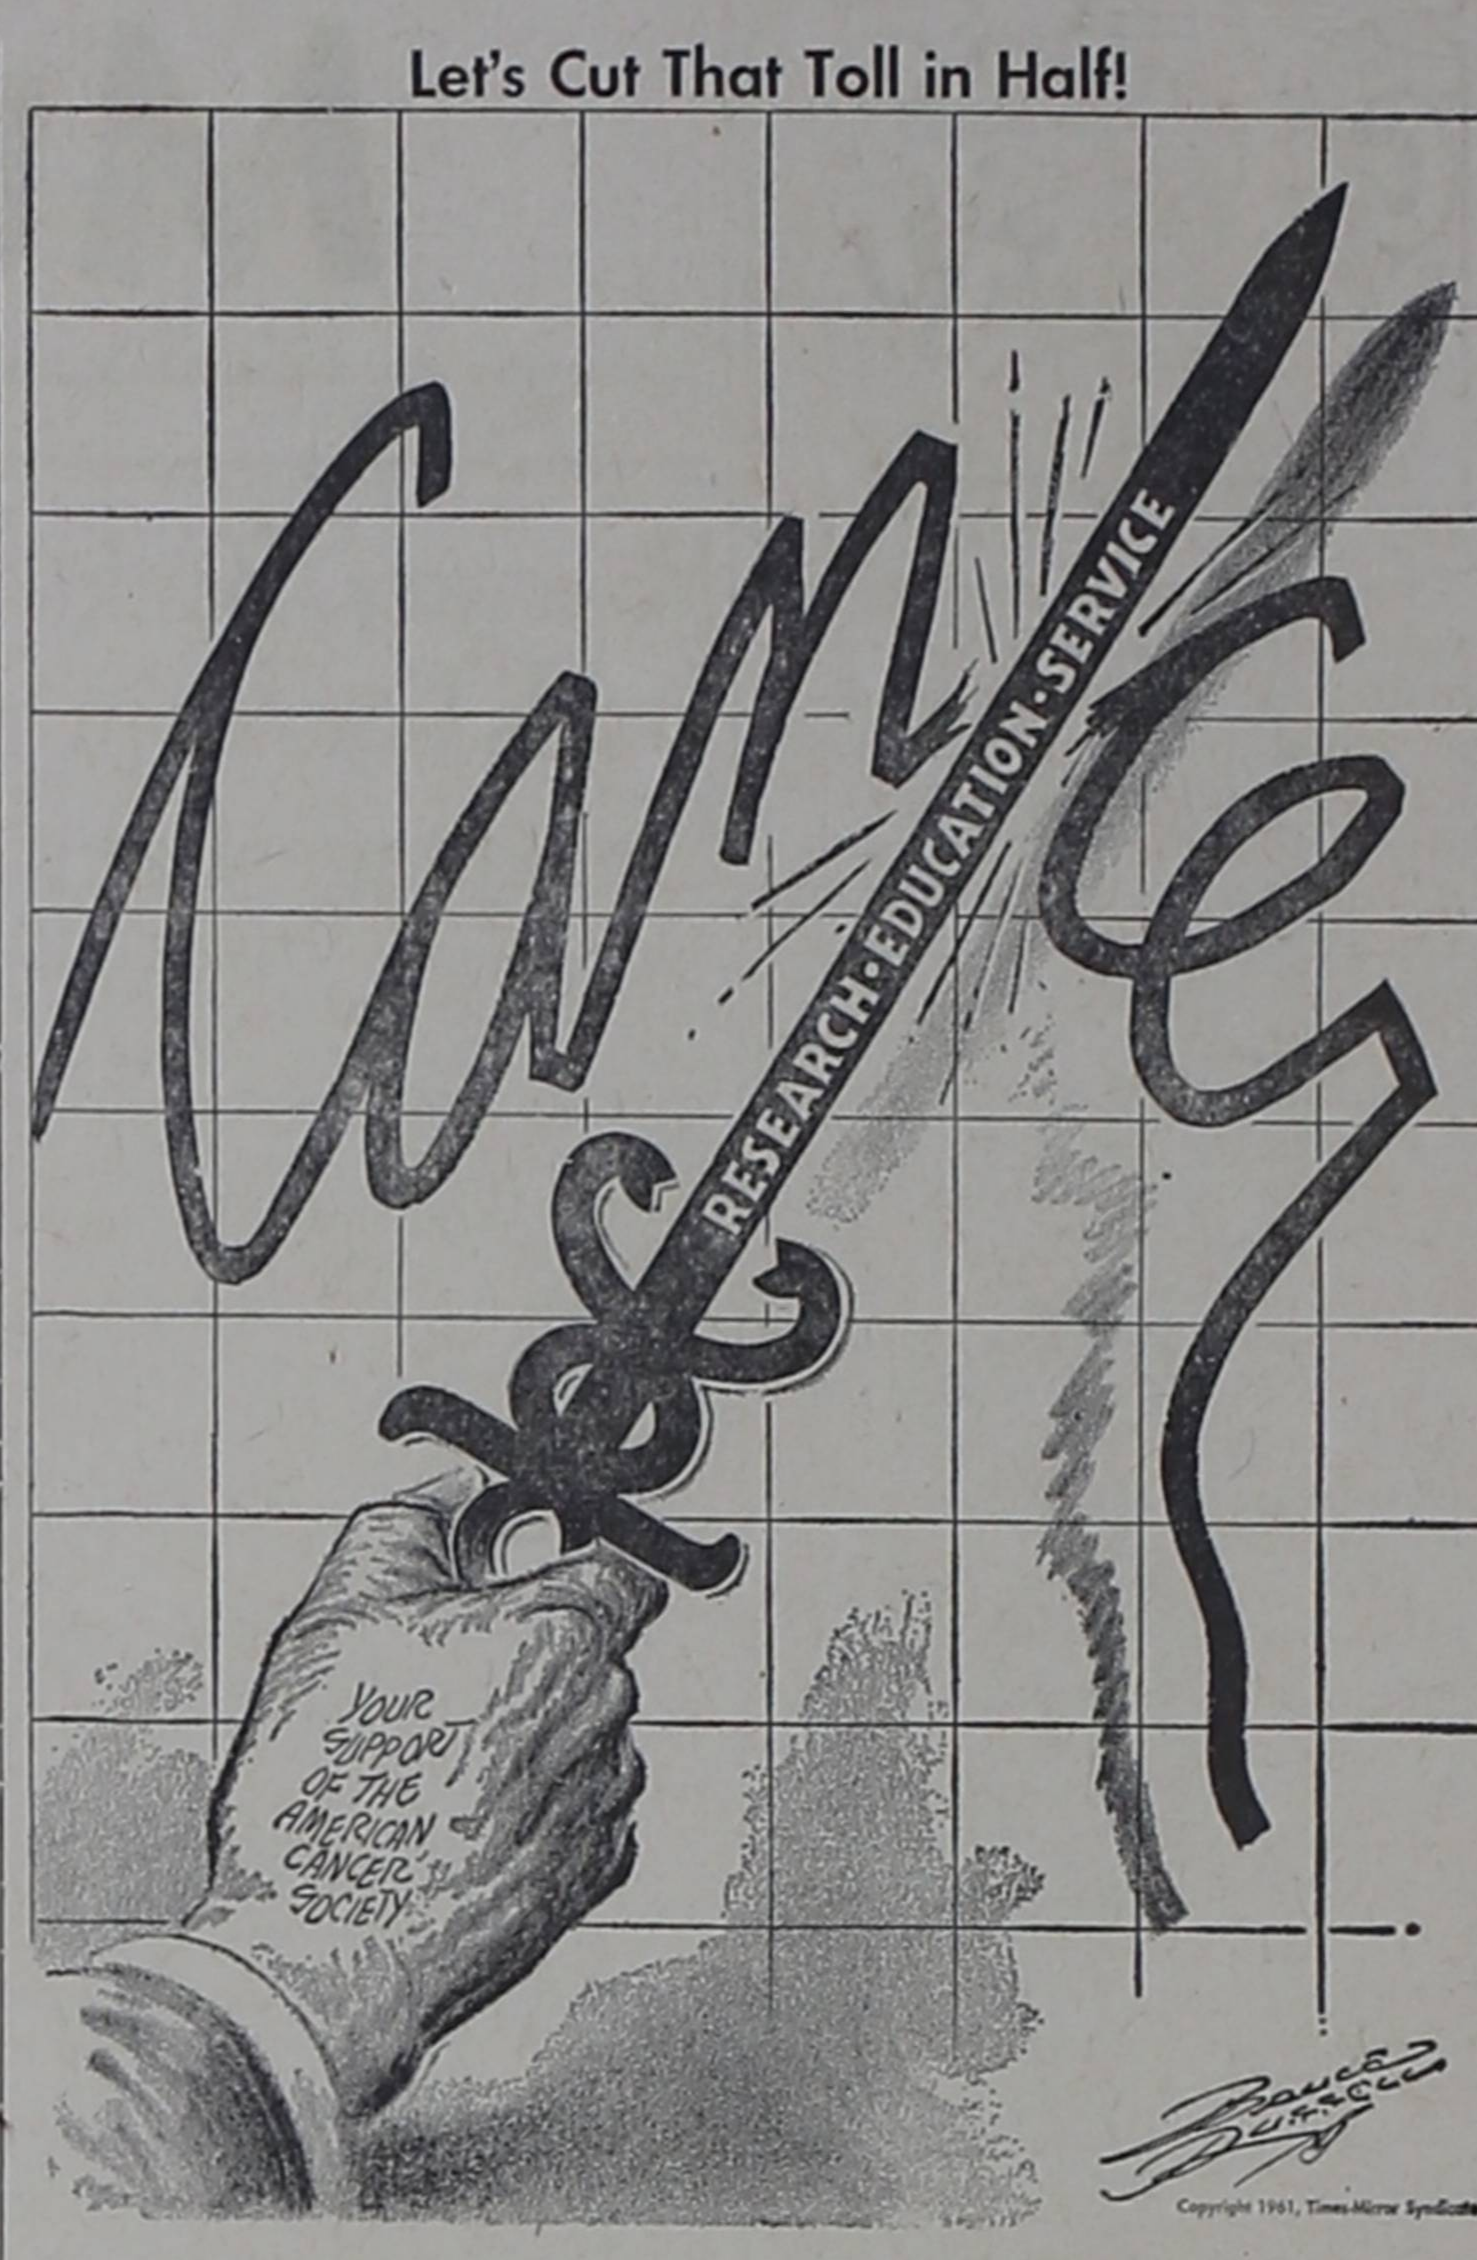

The Eskimos take knives, dipped in the blood of a seal, and imbed them — their razor-sharp edges surface side up — in the ice. The wolves, attracted by the blood, greedily lick the knives, lacerating their tongues.

The ravenous critters become so delighted with the seemingly inexhaustible supply of blood that they lick until they collapse from the loss of it. Then they freeze to death.

A right clever maneuver on the part of the Eskimos. don't you agree? Before one jeers at the stupidity of the wolves, however, he'd better do some sober reflecting.

For years we Americans have been falling, hook, line and sinker, for a similar trick. The politicians propose "staking out" federal support and aid of sundry sorts. They will empty the federal treasury at our feet.

We should know that whatever is therein we have placed.

The treasury is our tax dollar — our blood if you will. No more than the wolves can we be nourished or can we thrive on our own blood.

But we have purchased this very kind of government — and it isn't all in Washington either. Today the Iowa farmer, and the city dweller as well, is taxed to subsidize the electric bill of a Tennessee plumber. In turn, the Tennessee plumber is taxed to subsidize the Hawkeye farmer.

Now if that isn't trying to nourish ourselves with our own blood, what is it? How long before we, gullible and indifferent, will fall in a heap from loss of blood — and "freeze" to death? — Maquoketa (Iowa) Jackson Sentinel

During a visit to his home town, the young intern called on the old family doctor.

"I suppose you intend to specialize," remarked the elder.

"Oh, yes," answered the youth. "In the disease of the nose. I'd prefer avoiding the ears and throat."

After a short pause, the old physician inquired: "And which nostril are you concentrating on?"

St. Anne Society Hears Reports and Dates Reception

April business meeting of the parish St. Anne's Society Sunday night featured reports on the district convention of the Catholic State League in Windthorst, on the NCCW Institute held here, and the quarterly NCCW meeting held in Gainesville.

Mrs. Alphonse Hoenig, society president, told about the Windthorst meeting; Mrs. Paul Fisher, general chairman of the Institute, presented highlights of that event and Mrs. Adolph Walterscheid reported on the quarterly meeting.

It was announced that a reception for new members will be held Sunday, April 29, at 3 p.m. All parish women who do not have membership in the organization are invited to join.

Another announcement concerned the resignation of Mrs. Herb McDaniel as parish NCCW president.

Members discussed plans for the state meeting of the Catholic League here in July and Mrs. Frank Herr read a list of items that will be welcomed for the mission exhibit.

Father Martin, spiritual director, led the opening and closing prayer and Mrs. Hank Walterscheid won the attendance prize.

"Tell me, friend," said a sympathetic man to a panhandler, "how did you ever get yourself into such destitute circumstances?"

"Well," replied the derelict, "when I had the world by the tail, I let go to reach for the moon."

This beautiful statue of the Immaculate Heart of Mary holds a vantage spot in the main hall of Sacred Heart High School and is a tribute to the memory of Sister Mary Celine who taught in Sacred Heart Parish for ten years. The statue is hand carved by the Bavarian Woodcarvers. It is five feet tall, made of sugar pine and tinted. It is an original of the Immaculate Heart of Mary. This work of art was purchased by the newly formed Sodality of the Blessed Virgin at Sacred Heart High as their first project. Families and friends of the students helped with contributions.

One of these days somebody's going to come up with a book on "How to Get Out of Doing It Yourself." He'll make a fortune.

Pagel's Store Adds New ProTen Tendered Beef

Pagel's Store has added Swift's new ProTen beef . . . the trademark for meat produced by the new scientific process that develops the natural tenderness of beef before the animal is slaughtered.
 Imagine beef so tender that chuck steak can be boiled like sirloin without sprinklings of special tenderizers. Now all cuts of beef are tender. Look for Swift's ProTen label in Pagel's meat department.
 Pagel's will continue handling the usual full line of top grade meats. ProTen is an added extra. It's the beef that's so miraculously tender throughout that no one need ever encounter a tough cut of beef again. There is no increase in price, just increased tenderness in every cut.
 Try the latest, the newest in beef. Cooking time charts and explanatory leaflets distributed with purchase. This beef cooks in less time.
 A new era in meat cooking begins with Swift's ProTen Tendered beef. Look for it at Pagel's Store. (Adv.)

Tips From Your Hatchery

Soon as the ground temperature gets to 65 or above, better get one of those Weedez bars. You just affix it behind your lawn mower and it rids your lawn of weeds. Or the lady of the house can just pull it around by itself. I guess it takes a lady to do the job, cause that's the way it's shown on the package. So, fellows, get your wife a Weedez bar and relax.
 Got a new Bermuda and Johnson Grass killer, too. Also have those famous Green Thumb gloves for the lady gardener. They are vinyl treated, washable, and outwear canvas many times over. Got 'em in large sizes, too.
 Sure wish the gentlemen who borrowed our crank type telephone from our brooder house would return it. That old box saved the missus and me many extra steps each week. Clive

Tranquilizers help livestock gain weight.

Tranquilizing drugs are proving as useful to animals as they are to humans. Not only are they used to quiet nervous, upset, or wild animals, but also to get better gains in normal animals by cutting down waste motion and minimizing effects of mild stresses.

In one experiment, steers administered tranquilizers in their feed gained weight 15% faster with a 10% saving of food. In commercial feed lot trials at Iowa State College, tranquilizers were added to the feed of sheep and a 17% increase in daily gain was attained with a 6.5% saving in feed costs.

Not too much luck has been attained with tranquilizers to achieve weight gains in hogs. Tranquilizers, however, may prove useful in large breeding operations. Tests indicate tranquilized boars get along without fighting. The drugs, too, may be useful in cutting down nervousness in gilts before breeding or during farrowing.

Tranquilizers have been used with a great deal of success to quiet animals during shipment. The change in surroundings, feeding schedules, and temperatures — along with the lack of feed to which they're accustomed — results in weight losses. Tranquilizers help reduce them.

Officers Installed By VFW Auxiliary At April Meeting

Installation of new officers featured the April meeting of the Muenster VFW Auxiliary Monday night in the VFW Hall with Mrs. Ray Swirczynski, a past president, conducting the ritual.

Before the ceremony, Mrs. Arthur Bayer, retiring president, was in charge of routine business. After the installation, Mrs. Charlie Pagel, new president presided.

Honor roll requirements for the month were met. They include a contribution to the Cancer Crusade . . . the Auxiliary contributing ten dollars . . . and holding a school of instructions.

The school of instructions followed the business session and consisted of floor work and a question and answer session.

Planned as a social event for the Sunday after Easter is a supper party honoring new officers of the Auxiliary and of the VFW Post, the ladies entertaining for both organizations and husbands and wives of members. Plans were discussed and final details turned over to a committee.

The Auxiliary favored renewing its cancer insurance policy on a group plan when the premium is due.

Mrs. Bayer thanked members for their help and cooperation during her two terms in office. In appreciation for her leadership, members presented her a parting gift. Mrs. Swirczynski, installing officer, also received a gift from the membership. TWENTY-FIVE YEARS OF CANCER PROGRESS

Today, millions more Americans have annual checkups than they did 25 years ago. Millions more know Cancer's Seven Danger Signals. Early detection and prompt treatment of cancer is the keynote of the American Cancer Society's public education program.

In 25 years, the death rate from uterine cancer has dropped 50 per cent. Dr. George N. Papanicolaou developed the "Pap" smear, a technique for detecting uterine cancer in its earliest, most curable stage. This has helped save thousands of lives.

Research has led to improved treatment by surgery and radiation, and to new life-prolonging drugs. Today, over 1,000,000 Americans are cured of cancer. Only 160,000 had been cured 25 years ago.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO ONLY ONE CANCER PATIENT IN SEVEN WAS SAVED. TODAY IT IS ONE IN THREE. IT IS POSSIBLE TO SAVE ONE IN TWO, SAYS THE AMERICAN CANCER SOCIETY.

FHA Represented At Area Meeting

Miss Doris Vavra and FHA Chapter members Sandra Cler and Joyce Rumley attended the annual FHA meeting at TWU in Denton Saturday.

Twenty girls of the area were recognized for State Future Homemakers degree. They were introduced to the other 3,642 delegates assembled in TWU main auditorium.

Among those honored were Margie Samek of Era and Janet Rogers of Whitesboro, receiving homemaker degrees and Mrs. Gloria Phillips of Saint Jo, homemaking teacher, who received an honorary FHA membership.

Annie Matthews of Sherman headed the slate of new area officers installed for 1962-1963.

A famous athlete who had recently escaped from behind the Iron Curtain, was asked why the satellite countries excelled in marathon running.

He replied: "We use the border for the finish line."

He — "I hope we'll agree after we're married."
She — "Maybe you won't at first, but you'll soon learn to."

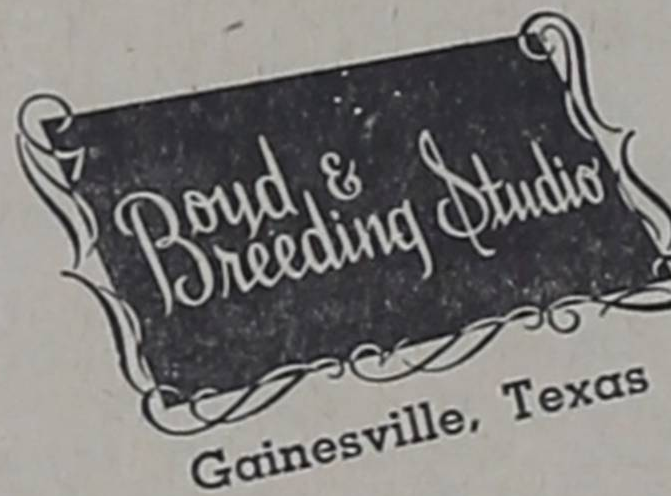

Garden Club Will Hear County Agent

April meeting of the Muenster Civic League and Garden Club Monday will feature County Agent Neil Tibbetts as guest speaker. His talk will be on "Summer Care of Tomato Plants."

The meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. John Mosman with Mrs. Nick Miller as co-hostess. Starting time is 8 p.m. Members are reminded to bring an insect to the meeting and to tell whether it is a helpful or a harmful insect.

The husband said contendedly to his wife, "You know dear, our son is really a very nice little boy."

A backwoodsman was leaving home for a trip of several days. His wife wasn't happy about it. "Ike," she complained, "you're goin' away for near on a week, and there's not a single stick of wood cut for the stove."

"So," Ike countered logically, "I ain't takin' the ax."

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

Soil Conservation technicians of the Muenster work unit have a little poem, timely enough to pass on to farmers:

Spring has sprung,
The weeds have riz,
Wonder where the grass is,
The technicians readily admit the poem is on the silly side and the grammar leaves much to be desired, but in all sincerity they wonder "Where is the grass?"

Right now pastures are green. Some of that comes from panicums, rescue grass, needlegrass, Texas winter windmill grass, weeds etc. These annuals make early production but they also mature early. And by July the cows — beef and milk animals — will be wondering "Where is the grass?"

This points out that it takes more than color to make "good" grass. Suppose a farmer plows up one of the needlegrass fields and sprigs it to Bermuda grass. The soil is very poor as indicated by the presence of needlegrass. If the necessary elements are not added to the land there will be little grazing on Bermuda grass by July. And here's the key: Fertilizer.

Fertilizer has been a dirty word for too many years. Here are three reasons why fertilization is a must. 1 — An inch of water produced 660 pounds on well fertilized fields as compared to 160 pounds where land was not fertilized. 2 — After the first few weeks of the growing season the protein content of well fertilized grass was double that of unfertilized. 3 — $16 worth of fertilizer gave an increase of 3.3 tons of hay — a cost of $4.80 per ton.

Almost everyone has a suggestion of what fertilizer to use. Some useful factors to consider are: soil condition, climate, crops to be grown, and the purpose of each crop. There are some 20 elements used by plants for growth and reproduction. These are found in the soil, air and water and are generally adequate to produce normal healthy growth.

Fourteen of these 20 elements are essential. This means that the absence of any one will prevent normal growth and reproduction. This indicates that almost any fertilizer will do "some" good.

Generally speaking a complete fertilizer (10-20-10) nitrogen, phosphorus and potassium will provide all the essential elements if used in adequate amounts. Recent information from the Texas Research Foundation, Renner, Texas, showed a return of $2.81 for every one dollar invested in fertilizer. From here it seems no one can afford not to fertilize.

A rocket is a simple engine with only two main parts: the tube and the nozzle.

One Crying In the Wilderness
"Our economics prof talks to himself. Does yours?"
"Yes, but he doesn't realize it — he thinks we're listening."

Young lady motorist — It's snowing and sleeting and I'd like to buy some chains for my tires.

Clerk — I'm sorry — we keep only groceries.

Motorist — How annoying! They told me this was a chain store.

Huctons Tell of 'Roughing It' in Argentina, S. A.

With eggs a dollar and a half a dozen, living in South America can run the grocery bill up in a hurry, according to Murphy and Sid Huctons who, with their sons Ken, Don and Joe, are living in Tierra Del Fuego, Argentina, while he works for an oil company.

But it's a great experience, they write. When the days and nights are almost all daylight the boys almost have to be "threatened" to get to bed "because it isn't night." They attend school and never seem to miss Texas like their parents do. During long days in the summer it gets dark about 11 p.m. and light again around 3 a.m., but never real dark. Folks live by the clock alone.

One learns early that grocery stores featuring delivery service deliver groceries about a week later. And the customer carries everything home himself if it is to be used within a week . . . carrying it in shopping bags . . . except flour and sugar which are bought in big amounts.

There is not much in the line of entertainment except fishing and not much sight-seeing, only the ocean and it is worth watching when the tides come in.

However, the climate seems to agree with the whole family. All are well and the boys have gained weight. And while they are enjoying life in a "different world" they are counting down the days until July when they start heading back to Texas.

Alligators cannot swallow unless completely submerged.

"No, I'm afraid you can't interest me in a vacuum cleaner. Try the lady next door — I always use hers and it's absolutely terrible."

Why is it that a woman will spend $15 for a beautiful slip — and get mad when it shows?

How come whispered compliments are usually overheard?

Twist is very much in the news now, and it was in Grandpa's day. In those days, it was Granger, a brand of chewing tobacco.

SPLINT PERSONALITY—Sandy a 2-month-old puppy, became center of attention in her neighborhood in Arlington, Tex., after fracturing her leg. Her cast is autographed.

Rotating President Favored by Craft Club at Lindsay

In the annual election of officers for the leaders group of the Lindsay boys and girls craft club Tuesday night the leaders agreed on a rotating presidency for the coming year. Each leader as she hosts the planning meeting in her home will serve as president for that session.

Other officers are Mrs. Gene Owen, re-elected secretary; Mrs. Robert Lutz, new treasurer; and Mrs. Norbert Rohmer, re-lected Gold Bond Chairman and reporter. Mrs. Ray Laux continues as chairman of the telephone committee. She served as president the past year but declined another term. The meeting for election was open to all parents of club members and Father John Walbe gave a short address after the opening prayer. Minutes of previous meetings were read and the treasurer's report was heard.

Explanation of the Gold Bond project was given. The club benefits from the stamp book covers which are turned in to them after being validated following redemption of stamps. Just ask the redemption center to validate the covers and turn them over to the club. Muenster and area residents may deposit their validated covers in a box at Trachta Drug Store.

Next leaders meeting in May will be held in the home of Mrs. Johnny Arendt and she will preside as president. Mrs. Bengfort with whom the leaders met for April is president this month.

Leaders express thanks to all who attended the meeting and also to those who are helping in the Gold Bond project. The premiums secured by the club will be band saws, jig saws and other woodworking tools as they accumulate enough points.

Lindsay 4-H Boys Win on Animals

Lindsay 4-H Club boys showed ribbon-winning animals in the stock show at Gainesville Saturday, getting their ribbons and premiums in the swine division.

Doyle Voth and Mike Bezner won red and blue ribbons; William Bezner won a blue ribbon and Jimmy Flusche won a red ribbon.

They will show their animals again this Friday in the 4-H-FFA Fat Stock Show at Gainesville.

Lindsay News

Crutches for foot trouble are getting to be routine for the Norbert Rohmer family. No sooner was daughter Betty Mae off crutches after a right foot injury when Mr. Rohmer hurt his left foot in an oil field accident and will be on crutches four to six weeks. His foot was badly bruised by falling pipe. Betty Mae's injury was the result of a fall that pulled ligaments.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Schmidtkofer and children Judy, Stephen, Joyce and Janet joined other relatives Sunday in the home of her parents, the Conrad Flusches at Decatur for a complete family reunion. The Flusches and son Jerry had as weekend guests S.Sgt. and Mrs. James Flusche and daughters Kathy, Paula and Cindy of Fort Polk, La., and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hurley and son Michael of Wichita Falls. The Hurleys and the James Flusches were seeing three-week-old Janet Schmidtkofer for the first time.

Lindsay branch of GMFAA Insurance was represented at the annual spring meeting in Palmer Saturday. Attending were Joe Bezner Jr., Anton Laux and Ed Schad.

Pvts. Melvin Fleitman and Paul Sandmann came from Fort Polk, La., for a weekend visit with their families.

Mr. and Mrs. Anton Laux and Mr. and Mrs. William Fleitman joined other family members in a reunion of the Fleitman brothers and sisters in Dallas Sunday at the home of Mrs. Hilda Self.

Leaders of Lindsay's boys and girls craft club met Monday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Al Bengfort to plan a program of activity for the children at their meeting Monday, April 9. All groups will meet in the parish hall except those who are headed by Mrs. Ray Laux and Mrs. Andy Arendt. Those meetings will be in the leaders' home. Time for all is 3:30 to 5.

Confetti - - -

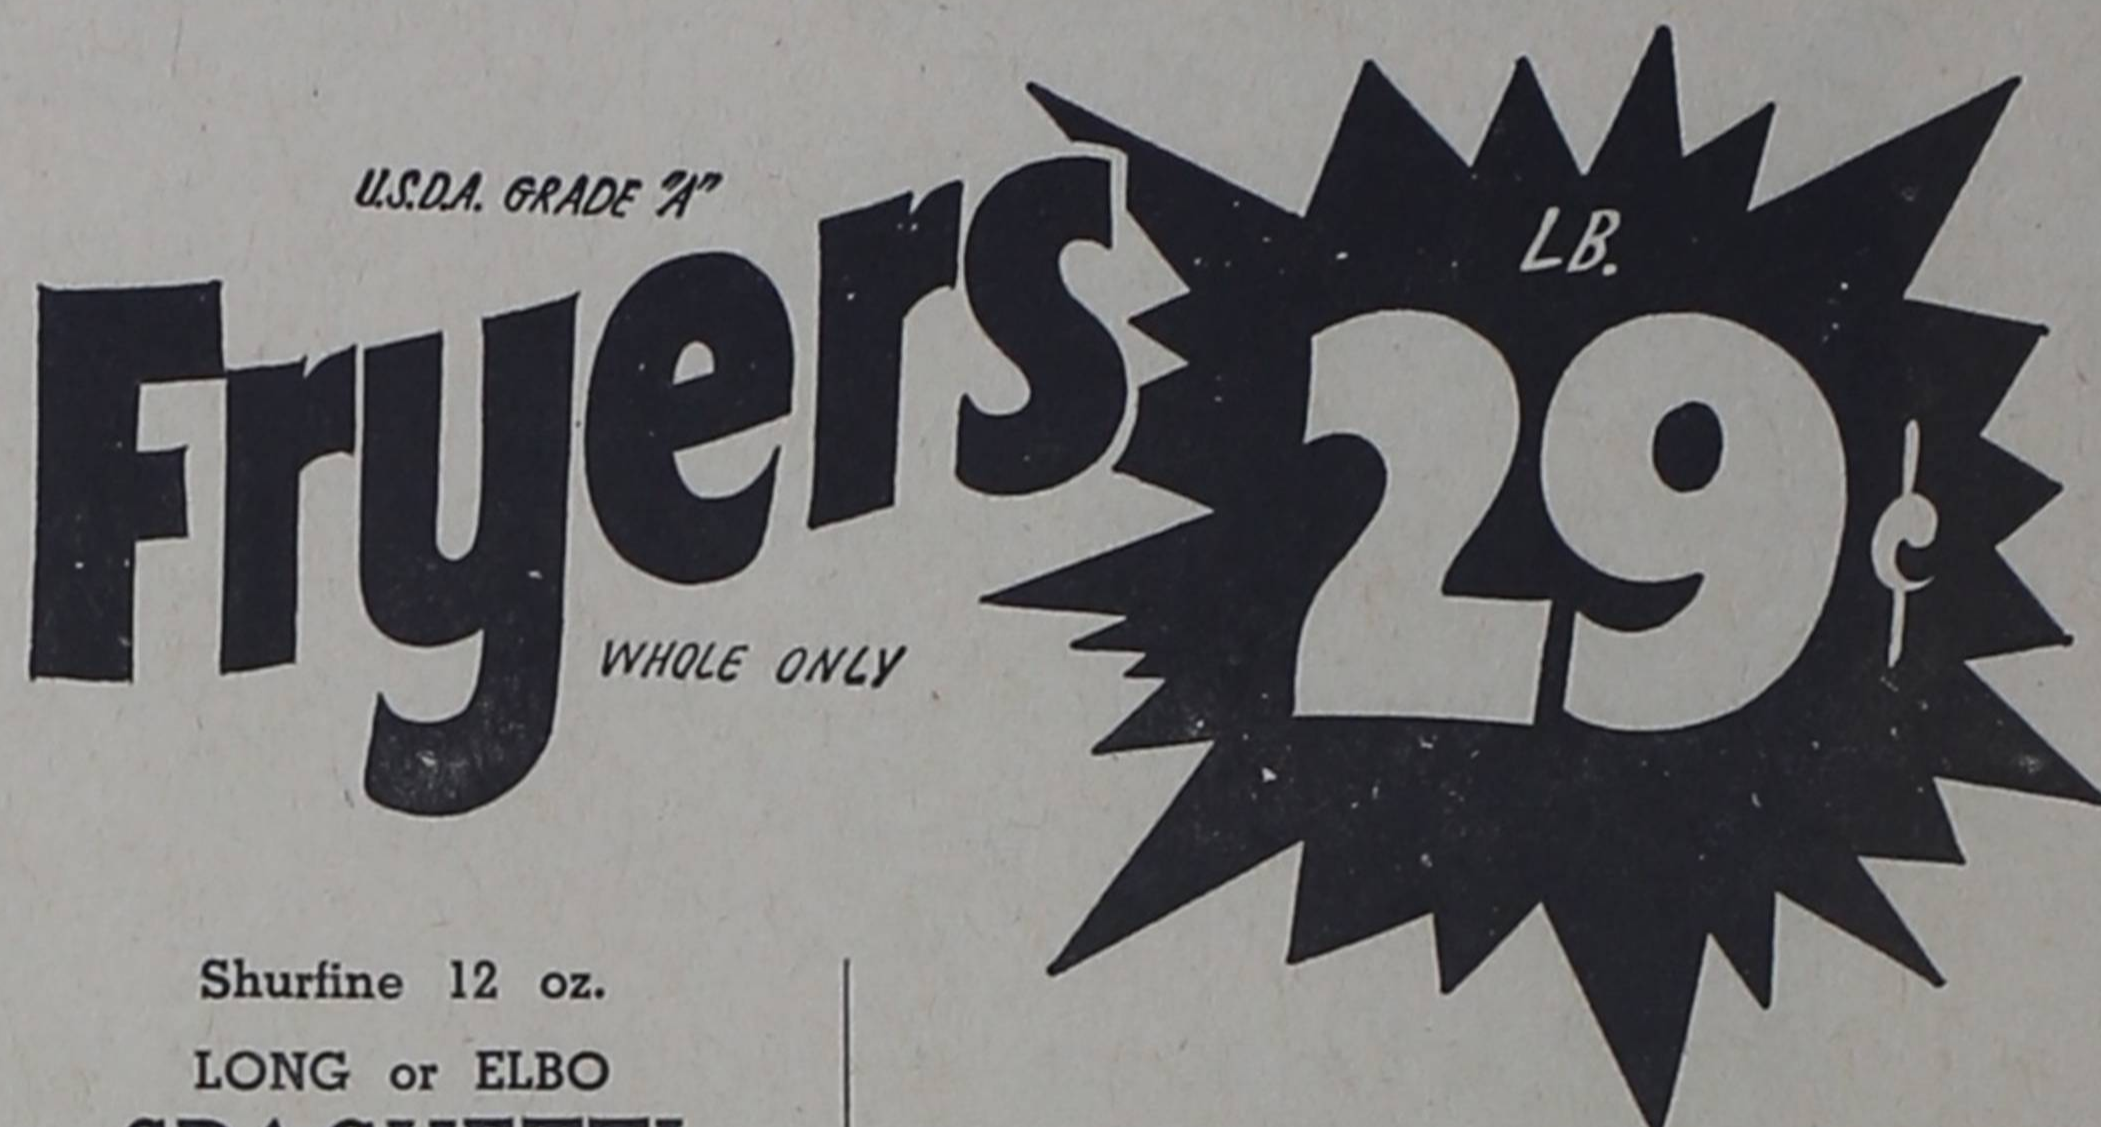

the point is that boxing should be refined . . . somewhat like sword fighting was. Fencing is the civilized method of that once fatal form of combat.

Skillful and properly regulated boxing can also replace brutal fighting.

It's ironical that cock fighting and bull fighting are outlawed in this country on grounds of brutality. But we have no law preventing two human beings from beating each other to insensibility; often to permanent or even fatal injury.
