

Official Washington got all excited again when the Tass news agency of Moscow published its recent batch of Khrushchev's unofficial threats. Some of our big shot politicians, who might also be ranked as small time statesmen, expressed their inclination to take all of the indirect threats at face value and get busy on another round of appeasement as continuation toward satisfying the insatiable greed of the Number One red monster.

We can be thankful, however, that lots of others were not only less impressed, but decided that the Tass article should inspire us to greater determination in dealing with the Russian-Cuban situation according to the dictates of national security and honor.

Through his unofficial mouth-piece Big K warned us of the dire consequences that may result if we interfere with his aggressive designs in Cuba. Bombs may start falling on American cities.

Seasoned observers of the cold war procedure have noticed that method many times in the past. It is Khrushchev's way of feeling our diplomatic pulse. If we register the fear that he wants us to proceed with his plan. If we show a readiness to call his bluff he simply does nothing about it, taking the convenient exit that he provided in the first place. After all, the Tass threat was not official. K did not give an ultimatum. He doesn't have to back down from a statement he did not make. But he enjoys the comfortable advantage of being able to follow up if the statement has the desired effect.

The trick is very similar to another he has used frequently. He arranges friendly meetings with American notables visiting over there, and during the course of genial conversation drops confidential hints of the terrible retaliation he may be forced into if our country keeps picking on him. The remarks are not open threats but too often they have the desired effect when discreetly repeated to our state department or president by the returning visitors.

They say all's fair in war, so we can hardly blame Khrushchev for using the trick. It's been effective. But we can blame the people of our government who obligingly cringe every time he sends out such an unofficial threat. They are the people at fault. They are the ones who respond by proposing another round of negotiations.

Another discouraging factor about the trickery is the needless emphasis on the disturbance caused in our government by the veiled threats. According to reports, Washington was quite shaken, which must have been music to Khrushchev's ear. This column, for one, still believes that most of our folks up there are not disposed to back down. In fact it knows that many reacted with an even firmer determination to start promptly on cleaning up the Cuban mess. Our national news agencies could have served the country better if they had emphasized only the courageous reactions and completely ignored the cowardly ones. At least we of this country deserve the comfort of more confidence in the integrity of our leaders.

According to strict diplomacy it might be said that a threat such as the Tass report does not rate a reply. Still it seems that the only proper way to deal with it is an official statement advising the red boss that we fully intend to get his stooges out of Cuba and to resist, by arms if necessary, any attempt to spread the red operation to other countries of this hemisphere. At the same time we should let him understand that any other nation trying to interfere will be an aggressor and completely responsible for whatever consequence that may follow.

Self preservation demands that we come to our senses soon. If we don't accept the responsibility of getting at this most vital job we may as well admit that our days are numbered.

Some people, it seems, are still staking their hopes on the belief that the communist conquest will fail because of its inherent evil and weakness. But they fail to realize that even such evil and weakness can succeed if its opponent is a pushover, as this country has been.

We can still win, but not by continued backing up. We have to take the offensive if we're going to survive.

Stroke is Fatal to R. J. Loerwald, 81, Lindsay Pioneer

Robert J. Loerwald, 81, pioneer resident of Lindsay who lived in Gainesville since retiring from farm work 16 years ago, died Monday at 11:10 a.m. in Gainesville Hospital a week after suffering a stroke at his home.

Solemn requiem mass for him was celebrated at 9 a.m. Wednesday in St. Mary's Church. The Rev. Fred Mosman of Dallas was celebrant assisted by the Rev. Richard Sokolski as deacon and the Rev. John Walbe of Lindsay as sub-deacon.

Burial was in St. Peter's Cemetery at Lindsay with George J. Carroll & Son Funeral Home in charge of arrangements. Rosary was recited in the Carroll Chapel Tuesday at 8 p.m.

Mr. Loerwald was born in Germany May 19, 1881, and came to the United States with his parents in 1888. They settled in Westphalia, Iowa, before moving to Lindsay 68 years ago. He was a farmer all his life until he moved to Gainesville.

Mr. Loerwald married Miss Cecilia Mosman at Lindsay on Nov. 22, 1904, and they celebrated their golden wedding anniversary in 1954.

Survivors are his wife; three sons, Frank Loerwald of Gainesville, Alvin of Lindsay and Walter of Albuquerque, N. M.; three daughters, Mrs. Al Bayer of Gainesville, Mrs. Jake Kuhn and Mrs. Henry Kuhn, both of Lindsay; one sister, Mrs. Joe Schmitz of Lindsay, 21 grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren.

S H Cubs Will Play Windthorst Kids Here Sunday at 2

Junior football at Sacred Heart School is due to get off to a hot start Sunday afternoon at 2 as the Tiger Cubs take on Windthorst. The game will be played on the Sacred Heart field.

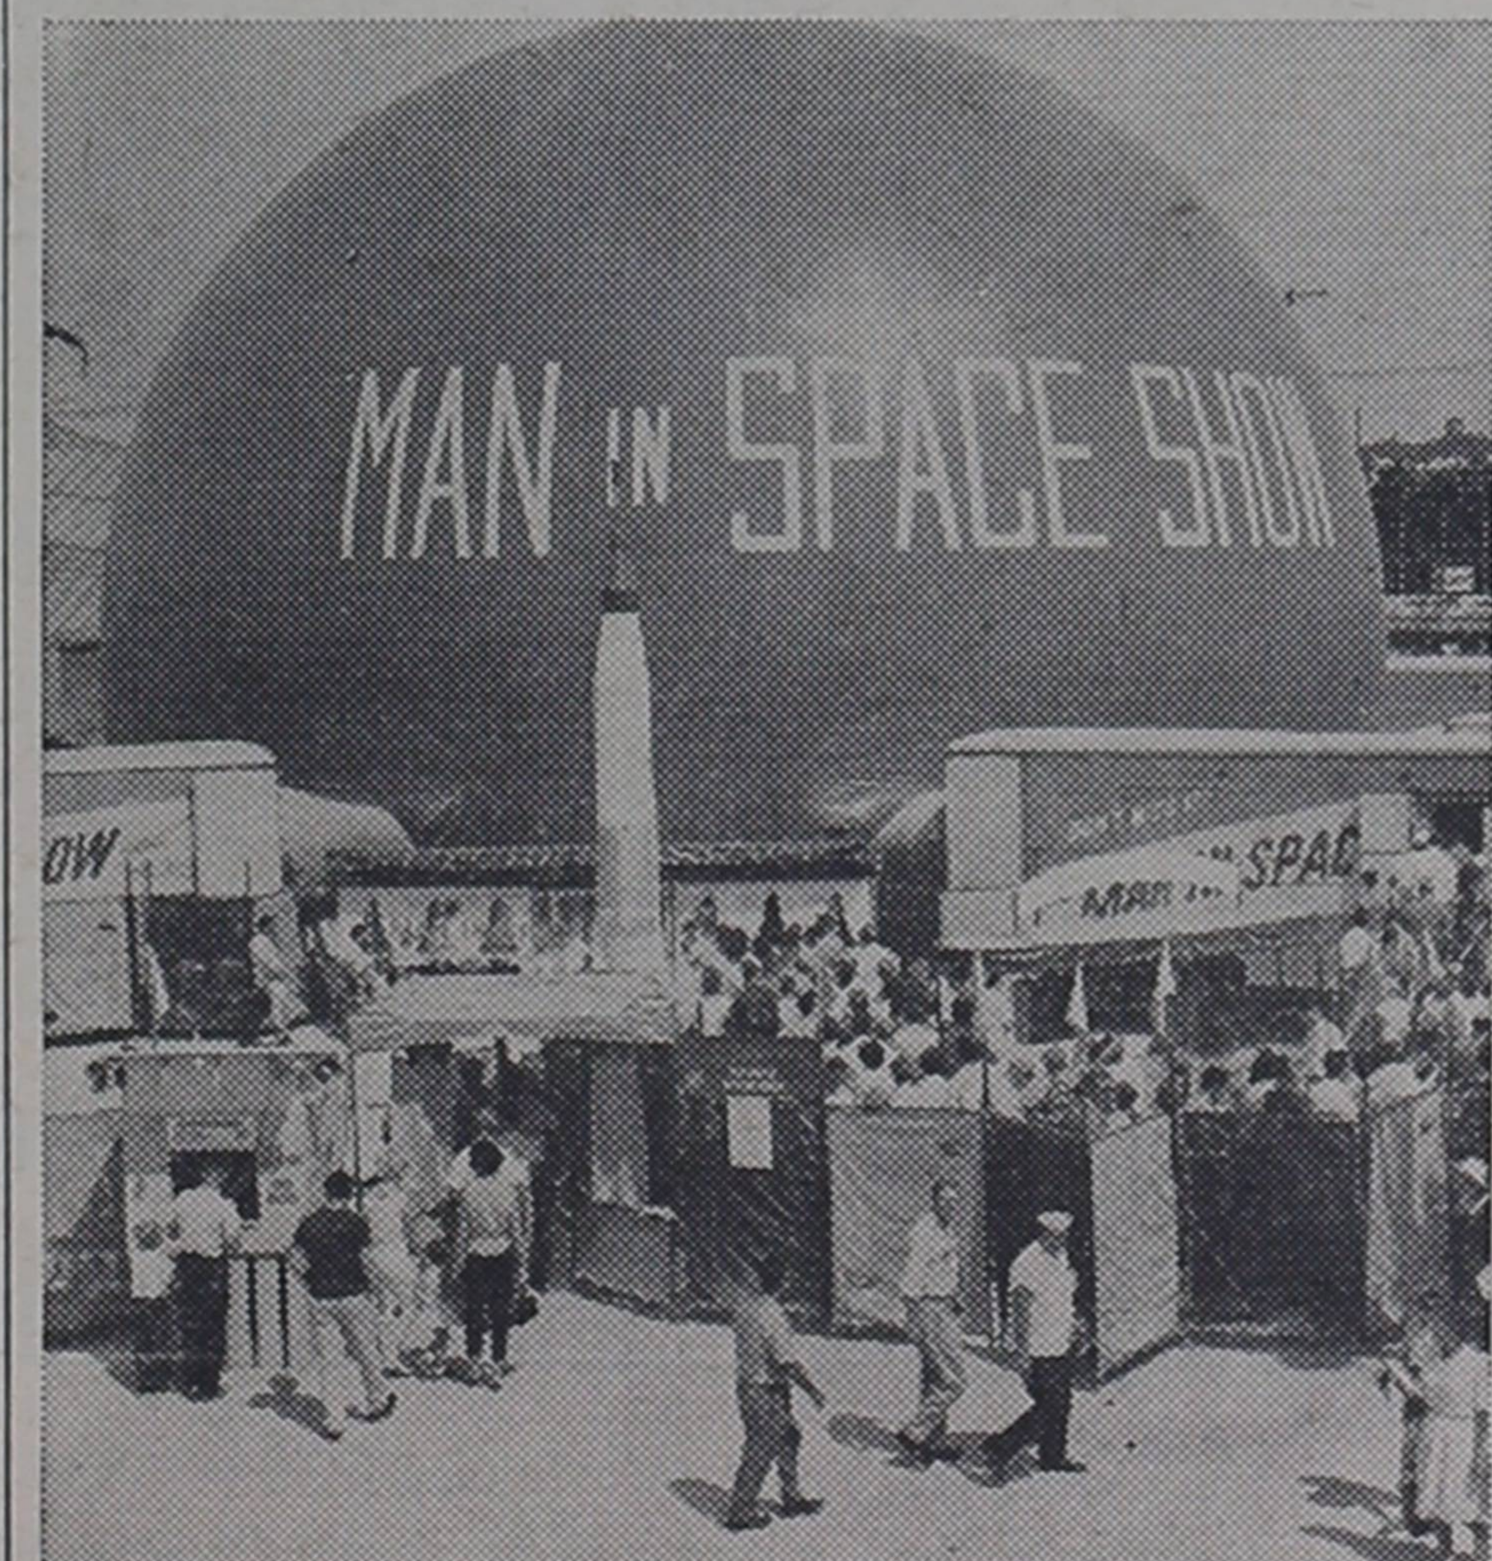

This year again the Cubs are members of the North Texas Parochial League, with Windthorst, Lindsay and St. Mary's of Gainesville as the opponents. Their season will consist of a double round robin schedule, each team meeting each opponent twice. Possibly another game or two will also be matched for the Cubs.

Adam Wolf is coaching the kids and has high hopes for them. Thirty two are out for practice, about evenly divided between seventh and eighth graders. Four of them were starters on last year's Cub team.

Gets Greetings

Basil Reiter who just completed work for his Masters Degree in Mathematics at Lexington State University in Kentucky and who planned to teach there this term had his plans changed by greetings from Uncle Sam. He has orders to report for the army on Sept. 19. Meanwhile he's visiting his parents, the Clem Reiters.

A gigantic red sphere will house the Man in Space Show at the State Fair of Texas in Dallas, October 6 through 21. Warning Issued On Illegal Passing Of School Busses

The Texas Department of Public Safety announced an intensified enforcement program against motorist who illegally pass a school bus stopped to take on or discharge children.

Captain W. J. White, commanding officer of this district of the Highway Patrol, warned motorists that patrolmen would issue arrest citations for this violation.

"The law is very clear as to a driver's responsibility," the Captain said. "It requires the driver of any vehicle, upon meeting or overtaking from either direction, any school bus which has stopped on the highway for the purpose of receiving or discharging any school children, to stop the vehicle immediately before passing the school bus. After stopping, the driver may then proceed past the bus at a speed which is prudent and not in excess of 10 miles per hour. Even then, the driver must use due caution for the safety of the children." The statutory fine, prescribed by law for violation of this act, is one dollar to two hundred dollars, plus cost of court.

"During the first six months of this year, Texas had three persons killed and 122 injured in accidents involving school busses," White said. "This is tragic and useless. School buses are plainly marked and motorists know that they carry a priceless cargo — human lives."

Tigers Slip Past Favored Bulldogs By Count of 6-0

Four tries were needed to overcome their goal line jinx but the Tigers finally made good and sacked up a 6-0 win over Alford's Bulldogs as the opener of their new football season.

Like other games that night all over North Texas, the Tiger-Bulldog tussle was played in a downpour. The field was completely surfaced with a solid sheet of water. Nevertheless good grass provided fairly good footing, at least better than is often found on muddy fields.

The win was well earned by the Tigers, especially considering the added advantage a wet field gives to the heavier team. Sacred Heart's boys were far short on tonnage, nevertheless, in spite of weather, they made up for the difference by deception and speed.

They were decisive winners on the basis of statistics. They made 12 first downs to Alford's 4 and gained 220 yards by rushing as compared with Alford's 55. They completed 4 of 8 pass attempts for 45 yards. The Bulldogs completed 1 of 6 attempts for 15 yards.

The big trouble, though, was that the good work seemed to end inside the 10 yard line. The Tigers reached the 8, the 5 and the 2 yard stripes and had their chances blasted all three times by 15 yard penalties.

Finally in the last quarter they finished the job. The successful push started with Johnny Wolf's 25 yard kick return to the Bulldog 20. A pass gained 5 yards and Pat Klement scooted through for the final 15 yards.

Rural Carriers Distribute Cards For Farm Survey

Postmaster Arthur Endres announced today that Rural Mail Carriers will begin distributing 1962 Acreage Survey Cards to patrons on their routes about September 13.

The Post Office Department assists U.S.D.A. in making this survey each year. These reports, directly from farmers, are the basis for official estimates for Texas acreage of all crops harvested in 1962.

To be sure this community is well represented in the survey, Postmaster Endres urges each patron receiving a card to fill it out and return it to his mailbox.

MHS Seniors Set Bake Sale Saturday

Seniors of Muenster High School will sponsor a bake sale Saturday with headquarters at Fisher's Market from 9 a.m. until close out time.

This is the seniors' first benefit venture of the term and they promise plenty of home-baked goodies. The sale will feature light bread, coffee cake, sweet rolls and doughnuts.

The Golden Rule is of no use whatever unless you realize it's your move.

Community Soil In Fine Condition For Grain Seeding

With plenty of moisture soaked into their land, farmers of this community are anxiously waiting to get their grain crops into the ground. And the weather so far has been ideal to get the grain off to a good start.

The soakers, adding to almost 9 inches in an 8 day period, followed by balmy growing weather, have been just right to bring up weeds, grasses and volunteer grains. Pre-planting cultivation now should clean the fields thoroughly leaving them in perfect condition for the plantings to follow afterward. Signs are favorable for fast early growth providing good winter grazing as an extra dividend from the grain.

Pastures likewise are growing profusely and if favorable weather continues there may be some late cuttings of hay. The 8-day period was one of the wettest here in several years. Starting with the first of month, the rain added to 5.49 by last Thursday morning. Readings on Friday and Saturday were 1.32 and 2.18. That makes 8.99 for the month to date and 32.90 for the year, already topping eight of the full year measures of the past decade. The only higher totals were 51.80 in 1957 and 33.36 in 1959. Last year's total was 30.91 inches.

Keep SS Posted On Address to Get Checks Regularly

"Paying social security benefits to 17 million people involves the Government's largest check-writing operation," Gus Jones, District Manager, Sherman Social Security Office, said today, "and we strive constantly to improve our check-writing and mailing procedures."

"But, no matter how much we improve, no matter how modern our equipment is, we still need the cooperation of the beneficiary," he said. "Too often we get a phone call saying, 'My social security didn't come today and I need it badly.'"

They usually come in during the first of the month, Jones explained. "Usually the person has changed his address and we haven't been notified." Jones urged any social security beneficiary who plans to move to report his new address as soon as it is known. Changes reported early in the month will be shown on the next check. Otherwise the check will go to the old address and there may be a delay in forwarding.

Many social security checks are returned every month to the Treasury Department marked "Undeliverable" or "Moved — left no forwarding address," Jones said. This happens when neither the post office nor the Social Security Administration has been notified of a new address. To be sure a check is not returned, beneficiaries should send a notice to both agencies.

To change an address on a social security check, write a brief message in a letter or on a post card and show your full name, the claim number, and new address. For your protection, the Social Security Administration requires that changes of address be signed by the payee. The report should be mailed to the social security payment center, or to the district office, Box 848, Sherman, Texas.

Rudy Hellman, 55, Killed; Wife Critically Injured In Highway Accident

Rudolph J. Hellman, 55, was killed instantly and his wife, Alice, 51, was critically injured about noon last Saturday in an accident on Highway 66 ten miles east of Lebanon Mo.

The tragedy, which shocked and saddened this community, occurred when the trailer truck in which they were riding skidded on wet pavement and crashed into an embankment. He was pronounced dead at the scene and she was taken to a Lebanon hospital.

At her request their son, Dr. Monte Hellman of Dallas was notified immediately and he flew promptly to Lebanon to assist in caring for her. He also arranged for the transfer of his father's remains by air to Gainesville.

On Monday he assisted in moving his mother by hospital plane to Methodist Hospital of Dallas, where he serves as a staff member. At last report Wednesday her condition was still considered as critical. Her injuries were described as multiple fractures of the chest, back and limbs.

The Hellmans had their accident while on a combined business and pleasure trip to Milwaukee, Wis. The local North Texas Producers Association plant, of which he was manager, was sending the milk tank trailer to a Milwaukee factory for servicing and was to receive another trailer which had been serviced. Mr. and Mrs. Hellman were making the trip because it offered a convenient opportunity to spend the weekend with their daughter, Mrs. Richard Syverson, and his brother Dr. Hugo Hellman in Milwaukee.

The accident deprived Muenster of one of its most active and widely known citizens. Besides being manager of the local NTPA milk processing plant, Rudy was a member of the city council, a director of Muenster State Bank, a member of the Muenster K of C council, and a director of the Cooke County Fair.

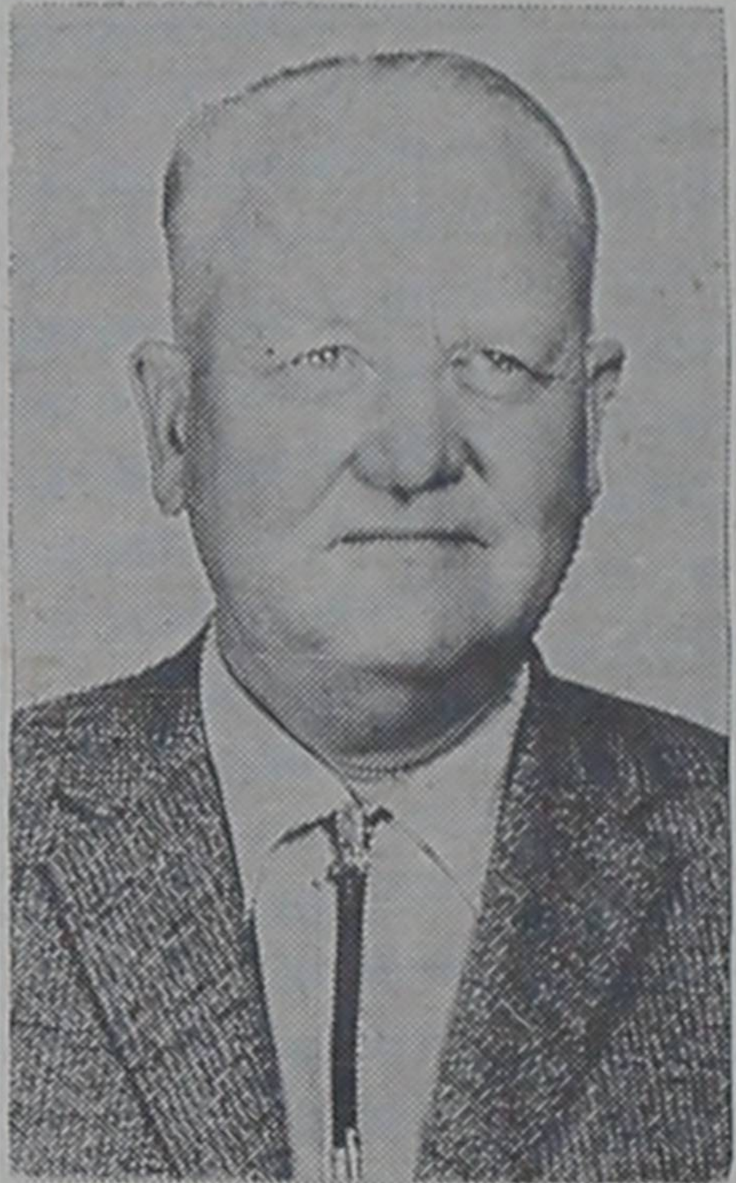

He has been credited with saving one of this city's principal industries. After managing the local FMA cheese plant for many years he saw that the Grade B milk market was shrinking and the Grade A market was growing fast under direction of North Texas Producers Association. Principally through his efforts the FMA interests were sold to NTPA, thereby saving investments for local farmers and jobs for local workers. Since then the plant has been greatly enlarged.

Rudy Hellman was born in Muenster on Jan. 27, 1907. He attended Sacred Heart grade school and the high school department of St. Mary's College, Kansas. He was married on Dec. 26, 1929, to Miss Alice Trubbenack and the couple lived in Muenster ever since.

Rosary service for the deceased was held four times at the Miller Funeral Home; at 8 p.m. Sunday and at 4, 8 and 8:30 p.m. Monday.

Hornets, Bearcats In Scoreless Tie On Sloshy Field

Muenster's Hornets and Pilot Point's Bearcats sloshed out a scoreless tie last Friday night in the wettest football game ever played at Muenster.

The field was not a sea of mud, as the old saying goes, but rather a shallow lake. Rain fell constantly and its off-flow was retarded by the turf, the result being a thin layer of water over all. When the ball or a player hit the ground it splashed. However rain was slowly draining off the field. Reserves on the sideline were more than ankle deep in water. And in the background frogs were croaking their delight.

Still, there was a redeeming factor. The temperature was mild. Even though soaked spectators were not cold. And the players thought it was real fun.

MHS boys also had another reason for enjoying the game. It was a moral victory to them, and would have been an actual victory if penetrations and first downs had been counted to break the scoreless tie.

Though outraged and outweighed, the Hornets rose up and dominated the play all the way. One time, in the opening minutes Pilot Point was inside the Hornet 35. From then on it did not get across the midfield stripe.

Muenster received the kick-off and failed a fourth down try on its first series. Four plays later it took possession in midfield after blocking a kick. After that the Hornets made two first downs but their next series bogged down. For the rest of the half the Hornets made two more first downs and the Bearcats one.

The stalemate was even more complete in the second half. Neither team made a first down. Both tried passing as the end neared but that too failed to pay off. Pilot Point connected on two for short yardage and lost possession twice on interceptions. Muenster had one interception and no completions.

A CASE IN POINT

Some people have no trouble at all getting money out of the U. S. Treasury. The Communist Yugoslavs and Poles, despite senate reluctance, are still on the presidential approved list for massive foreign aid.

The Indians, under the leadership of neutralist Premier Nehru, have probably done better than anybody. But the American Indians aren't nearly as lucky.

Take the Crow Tribe, for example, of whom there are 4400, confined on reservation in Montana. Many of them are destitute.

Some years ago the Crows sued the U. S. government for compensation for the seizure of their lands. After a long and complicated court battle, the Crows were awarded a settlement of $9,500,000. Compared to the amount annually distributed abroad under the foreign aid program, the sum is very modest, and represents only a fraction of a cent per acre of land.

Now the Crows are trying to collect. A delegation of the Crow chiefs, led by 72 year old Robert Yellow Tail, went to Washington recently to confer with Secretary of the Interior Stewart Udall. They're not happy with their reception.

"Mr. Udall gave us an audience," Chief Yellow Tail told members of the House Interior Committee, "but when we outlined our modest needs and asked for $1,000 each — from our own money — for the destitute Crows over 65 and $300 for those under, he jumped up angrily and ordered us out of his office."

Payments of $1,000 to the aged, and $300 cash, plus $700 for home improvements, for those under 65, the Crow delegation pointed out to the committee, would help relieve real distress on the reservation, and in total would consume only half of the $9,500,000 due the Crows under court decree.

Udall, however, has different ideas on how the money should be used. He intends to spend it, he told the Indians, on roads and recreational facilities. It is Yellow Tail's contention that hungry Indians have no need for playgrounds and are not even interested in touch football.

OUR GREATEST NEED

For thirty years we have been aping the Socialistic governments of Europe whose failure is responsible for the dole our citizens are handing out in the form of foreign aid. These systems have failed everywhere else but our vote-buying politicians have used its schemes to undermine the free enterprise system that has brought us the highest standard of living known to man. Theoretical economists have done their utmost to scrap a proven, practical economy for pure theory and poor theory at that. For anyone knows that when people get something for nothing, all incentive to work is destroyed. We do not envy the places of the men in history who have debauched the citizens of America and made panhandlers of many of them.

It is vital to the continued existence of this nation, that our youth be taught the great heritage that is theirs; that this is a land of opportunity under the free enterprise system, not a land of security under slavery. In fact, our only security lies in facing up to the knowledge that our past offers the only sure path to the future.

We need a revival of the tug at the heart strings when we behold the Stars and Stripes under whose folds men have died that it might continue to wave. We need a rekindling of the fires of patriotism in the souls of our people.

Then we would see to it that our country is led by men who are patriots, not appeasers. Men under whose leadership, Communists in Cuba could not have happened; men under whom the Berlin wall could not have been built; men who would not have authorized a no-win war in Korea in fear of Russian reprisal; men who today are committed to a victory in the cold war.

We all need the invigorating spirit that makes us stand tall and proud in the designation — "I am an American."

WHICH IS FOLLY?

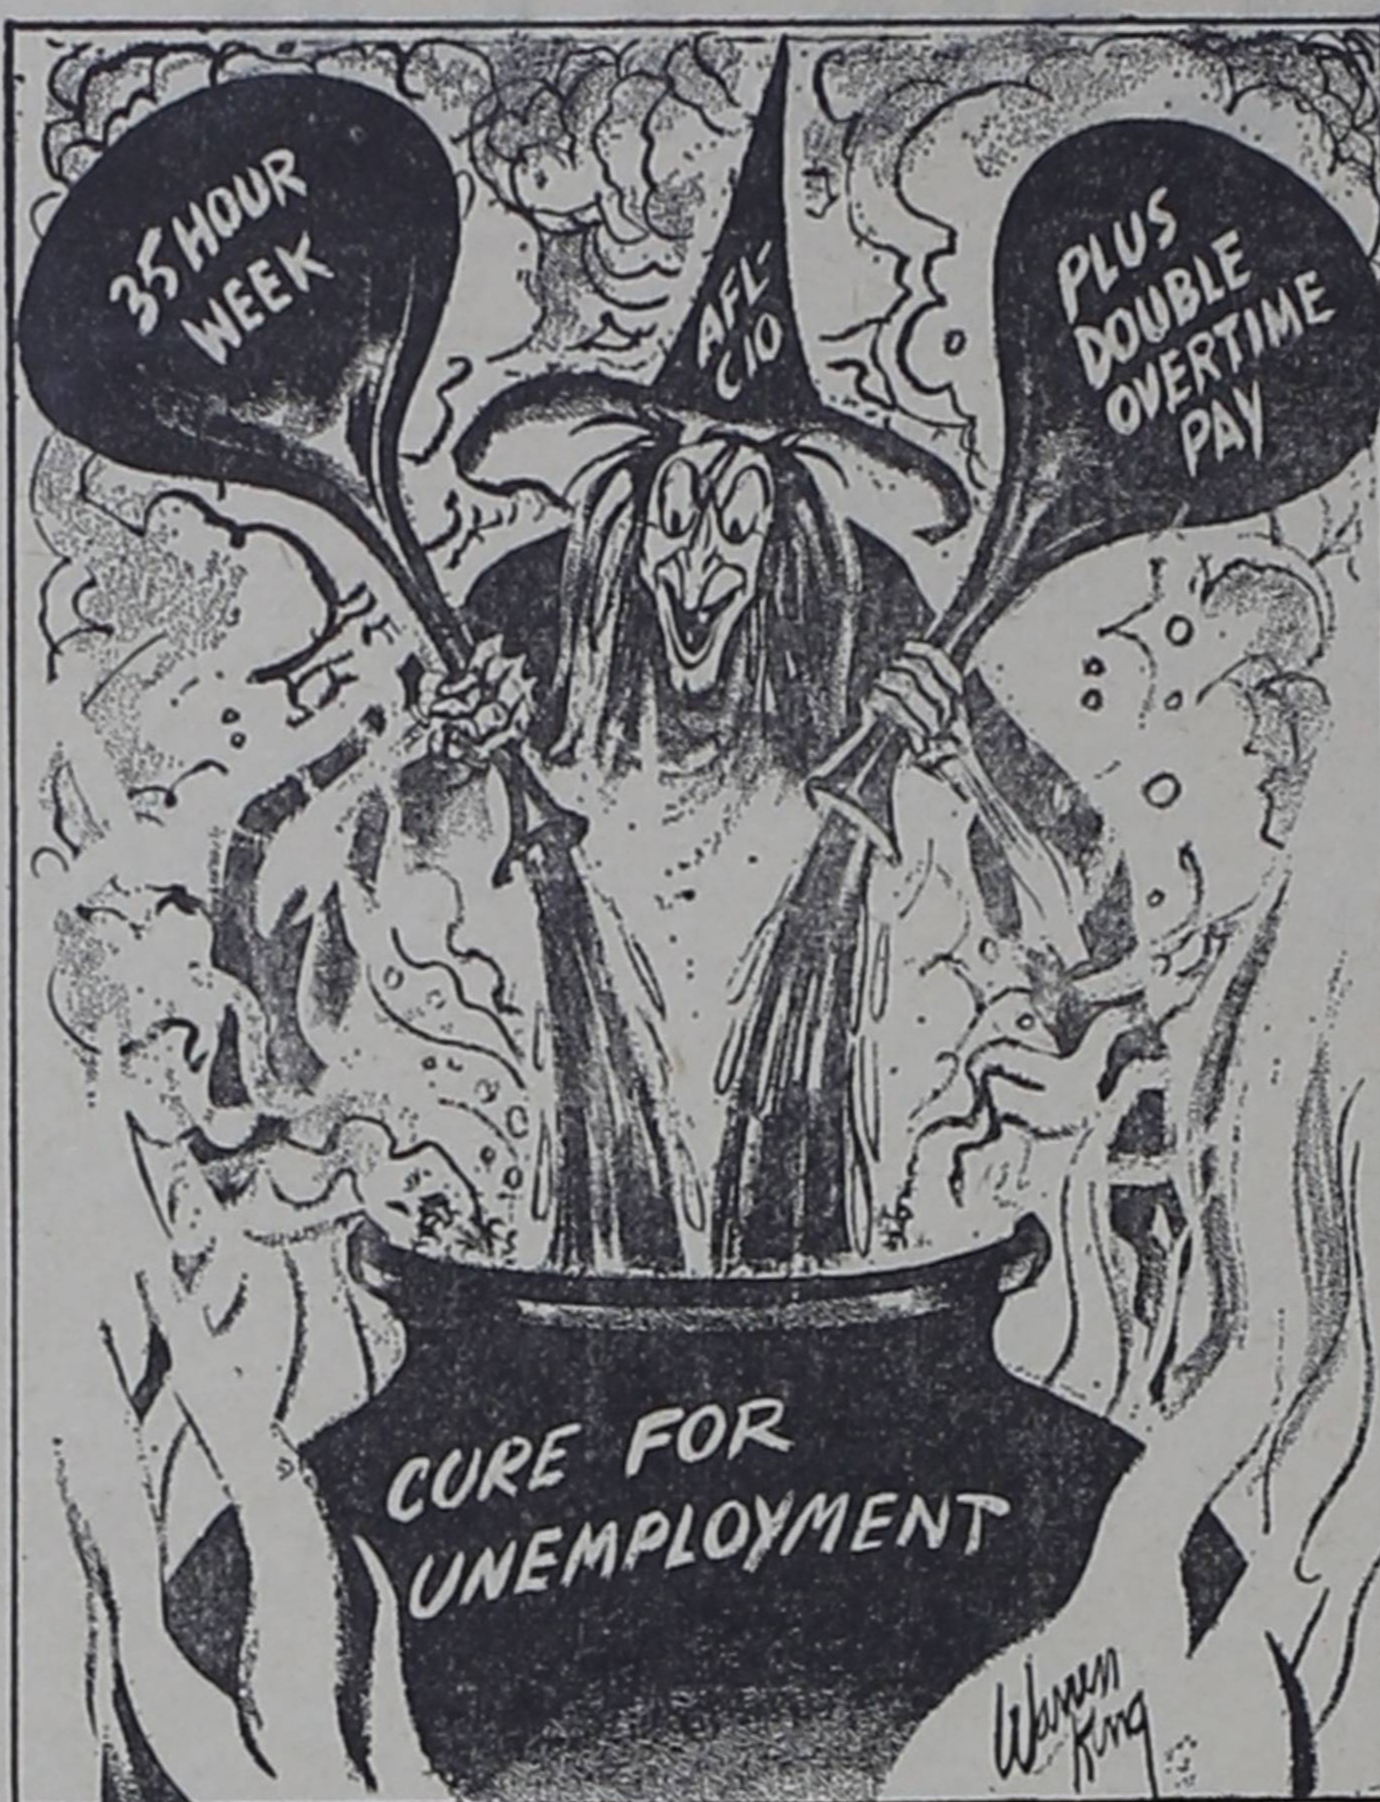

There is no need for this Congress to appropriate a thin dime for foreign aid.

Rep. Otto E. Passman, Louisiana Democrat and chairman of the House Appropriations Subcommittee on Foreign Aid, declared, amid applause from both sides of the aisle:

"The fact of the matter is that if the Congress should adjourn sine die without even passing a foreign aid appropriations bill, sufficient funds are on hand from prior years' appropriations to operate this world-wide program at the present rate of expenditure full-steam-ahead for 25 painful and expensive months for the overburdened US taxpayers."

While President Kennedy castigated a foreign aid cut as "the height of folly", this would seem to describe a foreign aid appropriation more accurately.

"TOIL AND TROUBLE"

CARNIVAL PITCHMEN?

The Russians seem to have collected some of the old-time Carnival pitchmen to funnel their information in to the West.

Their claim that they brought two Space capsules in for safe landing within six minutes of each other and a few miles apart is a big pill to swallow.

They state that their first two astronauts got out of their space capsules and rode to earth in conventional parachutes. This time they left that out as the Americans had shown the difficulty of getting out of the capsule. Even on deck Col. Glenn had to blow the hatch. So this time they claim that the first man to greet the astronaut was a scientist of the greeting party.

No television of this? He knew just where they had no television? With that accuracy they could have had a permanent installation to record the event.

The big pitch was that they had television abroad and they could talk to Mr. K. and to each other. In fact Mr. K. said he could see him so plain he could read the insignia; but in 64 passes over the United States they did not say hello to those down below or send tv shots of Times Square or Washington!

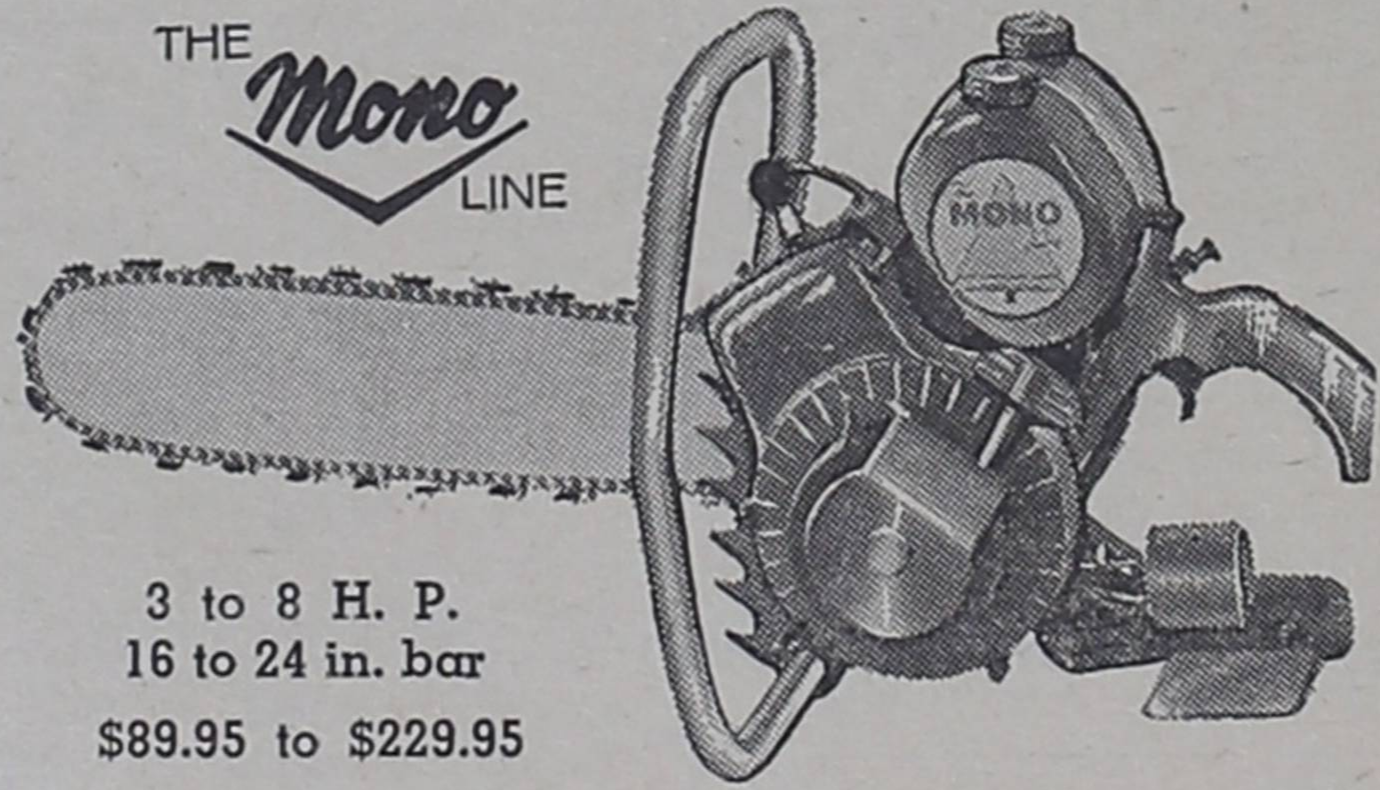

The news reports were "they are eating sandwiches" and "they are going to sleep now." Apparently neither one wanted to stay up a few minutes longer to get another look at the coast of Siberia (he might be going there?), or Moscow.

When Carpenter was coming in for re-entry he hesitated a few seconds and missed a thousand mile recovery area by 300 miles. We have allowed all to inspect the capsule, but the Russians would not let the United States take the space capsule of Col. Glenn to Moscow. Hadn't anyone seen one? Shades of Rasputin — Barnum was right.

LEAVE US A LOAN

Some people who don't care to be bothered simply tell others:

"Leave us alone."
 Many foreign governments change the wording a bit, in dealings with the United States. They tell President Kennedy:

"Just leave us a loan."
 And President Kennedy has been most generous with the taxpayers' money in "leaving them a loan" — which, as everybody knows, amounts to a giveaway.

They'll accept the millions and then change wording back to "Leave us alone" — until it comes time for more money. Then will come the words: "Leave us a loan." Judging from past performances, our Government will quickly return to its generosity, regardless on which side of the Cold War fence the nation may be.

NO MATERNITY BENEFITS

Shortly after the medicare amendment was killed by the Senate, Sen. Jim Pearson received a post card from a constituent. The card read:

"Dear Senator: So glad medicare bill was killed! I was against it because it did not provide maternity benefits for citizens over 65!"

The hotel clerk was losing his patience and so was the gentleman trying to get a room. "Look, Mr. Weller," said the clerk, "I've told you a dozen time already, we don't have any rooms. We're full!"

"If President Kennedy walked in," Weller persisted, "you'd have a room for him, wouldn't you?"

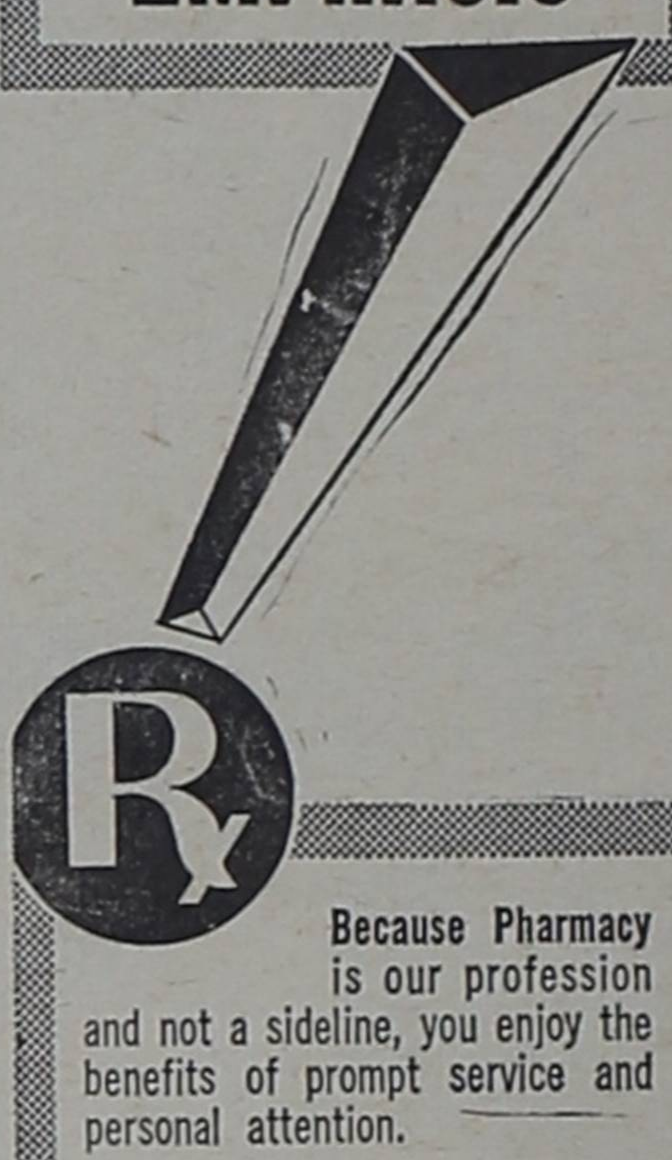

"Why, of course," the clerk admitted.

"Then let me have his room," said Weller, "he's not coming."

Betty Jean Klement And Harold Bindel Say Vows at Mass

Miss Betty Jean Klement became the bride of Harold Bindel in Sacred Heart Church at nuptial mass Saturday, Sept. 8, with Father Alcuin Kubis officiating and performing the double ring ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. John A. Klement and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bindel.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her father who gave her in marriage. She was radiant in a floor length gown of white Chantilly lace and tulle over satin, the wide skirt featuring tiers of lace ruffles at the back with an over-all sprinkling of tiny sequined flowers. The fitted bodice had a Sabrina neckline edged in sequins, and long tapered sleeves.

Her veil was elbow length cascading in tiers from a crown of sequins and pearls and she carried a purple-throated white orchid atop a white prayer book borrowed from the groom's mother. Her only jewelry was a crystal necklace, a gift from the groom.

Mrs. Dick Schleicher of Fort Worth was her sister's matron of honor and Miss Della Wimmer was bridesmaid. They wore bouffant dresses of powder beige embroidered silk organza with matching sashes at the waist and short sleeves. Air Trip Takes 2 Couples to Alaska And World's Fair

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Luke are back from their vacation, an air trip of over 9000 miles covering a wide territory and filling 15 days with sight-seeing. Going with them were Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Stone, cousins, from Robstown. They left from the Dallas airport on Aug. 26 for Fairbanks, Alaska.

On the Alaskan tour they went above the Arctic Circle at Katzebeue and visited Eskimo Land. In Nome they saw the gold fields and Joe retrieved a very small gold nugget. In Anchorage they visited Matanuska Valley and went to Portage Glacier . . . seeing the huge ice bergs floating down the river was one of the highlights.

After Alaska, Seattle and two days at the World's Fair.

From there they made an excursion to beautiful Victoria and Vancouver, British Columbia, then visited Portland, Ofegon, where Mr. and Mrs. Stone left for home and Mr. and Mrs. Luke went on to Newport, Oregon, for a visit with a niece, Sister Emma Marie, seeing points of interest along the coast.

In Portland they toured the famous Rose Garden in Washington Park and visited the Shrine of the Mother of Sorrows. They returned by air, arriving in Dallas Sunday morning.

Surprises Greet Father Alcuin at S. H. Choir Treat

Choir members of Sacred Heart Parish, their wives and families, had their annual picnic at Walnut Creek resort, Lake Texoma, Sunday making an all-day event out of it. Some 80 were in the group.

Buses left here at 8:30 and Father Alcuin Kubis had a field mass at the site at 9:30. Food for the noon meal was prepared by Mrs. Joe Lehnertz, Mrs. Conrad Jostwerner and Mrs. Gertrude Bayer and was delivered by them and Mr. and Mrs. Larry Yosten.

A surprise highlight of the picnic dinner was observance of Father Alcuin's birthday which was Sunday. The group sang the happy birthday song, set out a big decorated cake and presented him a gift. The choir also joined in other songs.

Boat riding was the afternoon's diversion until the cake was cut and served with other refreshments.

He'll be in Fort Worth the next four weeks working for the company and after that Mr. and Mrs. Hartman will move to Jackson to reside. Willard's visit at home, after nine weeks away, coincided with Carol's birthday and made it especially happy. He flew in to Dallas Friday night, met there by his wife and Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Hartman and children Monica and Bobby. While he was in Jackson, Willard enjoyed may pleasant visits and dinners with the Dick Graf family. Mrs. Graf was Miss Catherine Fisch before her marriage and is formerly of Muenster.

Joe Linns Spend Vacation in Calif.

Seeing their sons and families was the highlight of a two-week vacation for Mr. and Mrs. Joe Linn in California and seeing places of interest in the Los Angeles area with them added to vacation fun. The Linns were guests of their sons Jeff and Robert Linn at El Monte and Covena.

The two families took the men's parents sight-seeing including Knott's Berry Farm, Disneyland and the beach. They also toured the boiler manufacturing plant where Jeff works and the wholesale grocery house where Robert is employed. The bus trip provided scenic interest.

The couple returned last Thursday morning and had visitors in the afternoon. Mr. Linn's nephews and nieces were guests. They were the Albert Williamsons of Oklahoma City, the Lester Williamsons and three children of Los Angeles, and the men's sister Alice of Salem, Oregon. From here the Williamsons went to Saint Jo to visit an uncle and aunt, the Sam Williamsons.

"Some people are like wheelbarrows — they stand still unless they are pushed."

The workman received an extra dollar in his pay envelope and said nothing. The next week, the paymaster discovering his error, deducted $1. "Say," the workman said, "I'm $1 short." "Well," said the paymaster, "you didn't complain last week when you were a dollar over." "Yes, but a guy can overlook one mistake; when it happens the second time, it's time to complain!"

Garden Club Is Reorganized After Summer Recess

Muenster Civic League and Garden Club reorganized for the coming season Monday night after a summer recess. The meeting was held in the Ben Luke home with Mrs. Ben Luke Mrs. Dan Luke as co-hostesses. They were assisted by Mrs. Anthony Luke in serving refreshments to 14 members and five guests as they arrived.

Miss Charlotte Wolf presented the program giving the demonstration on which she won top state honors in 4-H competition. She prepared a school child's box lunch stressing dairy foods and invited members to sample the finished products.

For the business session Mrs. Dan Luke presided in the absence of Mrs. L. B. Bruns and members answered roll call by telling: "This is what I brought from my garden this month."

Mrs. Dick Cain reported on the plaque for the Dr. Myrick Memorial. It will mark a live-oak tree at the new hospital site. The handsome bronze plaque was donated by A. E. Souter of Dallas and the club is grateful for this contribution.

Miss Doris Vavra described the club's exhibit at the County Fair and Mrs. Tony Gremminger reported on cemetery care during the summer months. The club voted to send a donation to the Garden Club Headquarters Fund for the Blind and discussed sponsoring a benefit event sometime before Christmas to add to the club's hospital pledge.

The hostesses used pink roses on the refreshment table and vari-colored zinnias in the living room. The guests were Mrs. John Fisher, Miss Elizabeth Herr, Mrs. Lou Wolf and Charlotte and Mrs. Anthony Luke. Mrs. Fisher was welcomed back as a member before the meeting adjourned. October club hostesses will be Miss Doris Vavra and Mrs. Henry Weinzapfel. The program will feature slides on "New Trends in Landscape Design."

Instruction Class
At Sept. Meeting

Muenster VFW Auxiliary members conducted a school of instructions as a part of their honor roll requirements for September and also fulfilled the month's other essentials to maintain their perfect honor roll record.

They contributed toward school activity by furnishing funds for one month's school lunches for two needy children, one at each local school, the school superintendents to select the students. And they contributed from treasury funds fifty cents per member for the annual Veterans Hospital Pledge, designating the donation for the VA Hospital in McKinney. There are 82 paid-up Auxiliary members.

This was the principal activity at the organization's meeting Monday night with 17 members present.

Mrs. Charlie Pagel, president, presided, the group discussed final plans for the annual Halloween dance and heard routine reports. Members were reminded that 1963 dues are payable now and that new members are welcomed for a reception ceremony to be held next month.

We regret to report that progress is not our most important achievement — that is, when it's applied to our growing tax burden.

We've just been in touch with the Tax Foundation, which has come up with some fabulous figures, to wit:

Federal, state and local governments collected nearly $55 billion in taxes in fiscal 1950, the government accounting year ending just before the Korean War.

In fiscal 1962 ending June 30, Tax Foundation estimates total tax collections will reach $143 billion.

On a per family basis, taxes have increased $1,380 to a new high estimated at $2,530 this year.

Thought you'd like to clip this and send to your budget-minded (?) Representatives.

Anger is only one letter short of danger.

A pollster recently made his own survey of our ailing public school system. His results:

"The trouble is the teachers are afraid of the principals, the principals are afraid of the superintendents, the superintendents, are afraid of the school boards, the school boards are afraid of the parents, the parents are afraid of the kids, and the kids know it."

Local News BRIEFS

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Acker and children Randy and Dayna ended a week's vacation here with her parents, the Al Walterscheids, Friday and are spending this week visiting his family in Nazareth and relatives in Hereford before returning to their home in Midkiff.

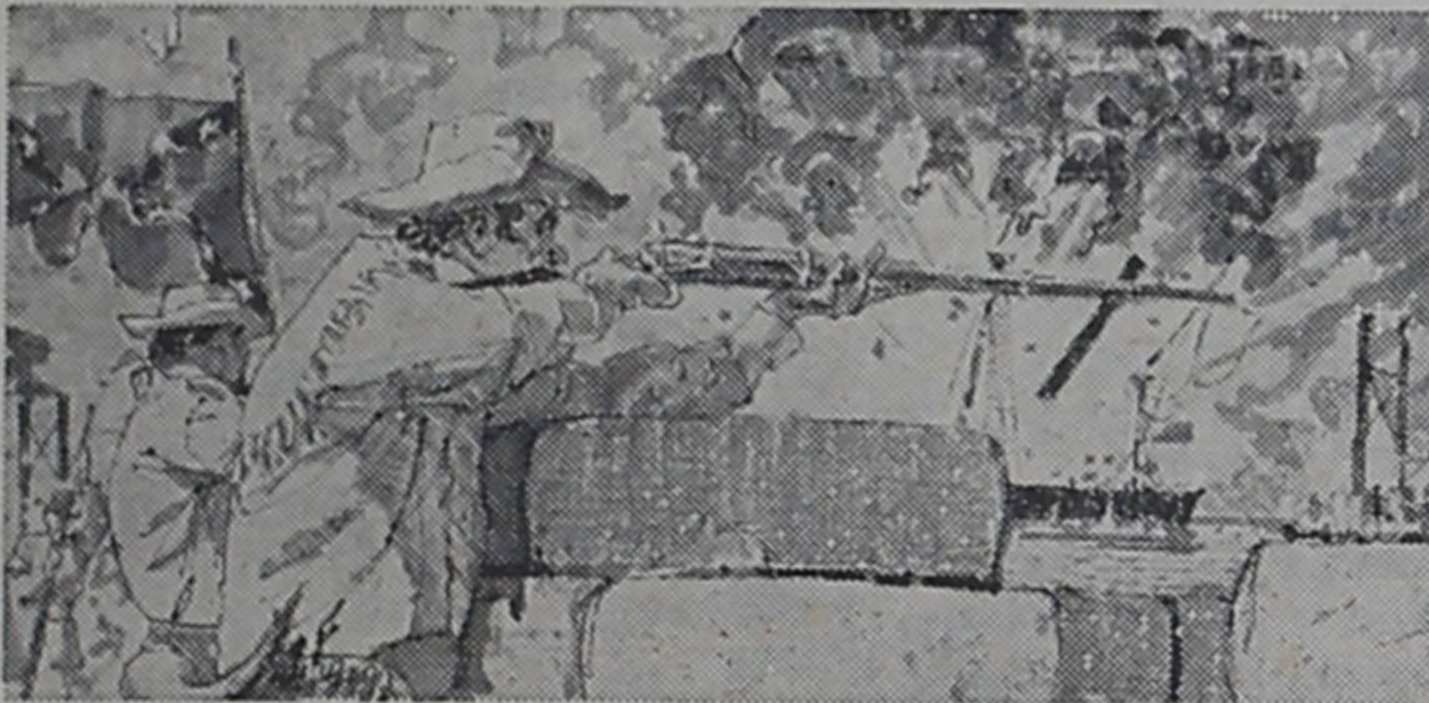

Visitors here a few days the past week were Mr. and Mrs. Hans Rasch and baby daughter Margaret Ann of Houston. They were guests of his relatives, Mrs. Tony Gremminger, the J. M. Weinzapfels and the Henry Weinzapfels. The Rasches were introducing their little girl to Muenster relatives. It was her first visit here.

Father Joseph Weinzapfel of Dallas had a two-day visit with his family here the past week.

Miss Carol Wimmer who enrolled last week as a student at St. Paul's School of Nursing was home for the weekend and told her family, the Lawrence Wimmers about being granted a partial scholarship for study. Miss Joyce Hacker, also a student at St. Paul's, was at home with her family, the John Hackers. Both resumed classes Monday.

The oldest incorporated trade association in the country, the United States Brewers Association, was organized in 1862 . . . the same year that

IN TEXAS . . . near Galveston, Confederate General J. B. Magruder piled cotton bales on the decks of little river boats. These famous "cotton clads," manned by the 26th Texas Cavalry, trounced the Federal war fleet then holding Texas' largest port. As the war ships hastily departed, the event was toasted in good Texas-brewed beer.

For then, as now, beer was the traditional beverage of moderation—light, sparkling refreshment that adds a touch of Southwestern hospitality to any occasion. Texans have always enjoyed the good fellowship that goes with every glass.

TODAY, in its centennial year, the United States Brewers Association still works constantly to assure maintenance of high standards of quality and propriety wherever beer and ale are served.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

OUR SOIL ★ OUR STRENGTH

Many cooperators in the Upper Elm-Red Soil Conservation District got caught with their terraces down when the big rains came last week. Others, of course, got caught once again with no terraces at all to help control the rampaging runoff that carried literally tons of precious topsoil away.

A survey by the SCS personnel resulted in these finds as to why the existing terraces failed: the one biggest cause of terrace breaks proved again to be lack of maintenance on the outlet ends where they empty onto grassed waterways or pastures.

Flow from terraces in the past had deposited silt at the outlets, raising the channels and reducing the effective height of the terraces. And they broke over at their weakest point in the field.

Other than lack of terraces or lack of maintenance on existing terraces, much damage was caused by lack of cover on the ground. Fields had been plowed in preparation for fall planting and, in most cases, were completely bare of cover either living or dead.

Fields plowed so that stubble was left on or near the soil surface suffered much less damage. The straw acted as a cushion for the falling rain drops and helped the soil to soak up moisture like a sponge. Relatively little runoff occurred on the land with straw or other cover. And less damage occurred on fields left rough from plowing instead of chiseled or harrowed. Soil surface that had been smoothed off seared over soon after the first rain and runoff started almost immediately taking soil with it.

These things can be done to prepare for such rains in the future: plan for and establish grassed waterways, terrace all sloping cultivated fields, maintain terraces at least annually, and keep as good a cover on the land surface as possible.

Joe, the ineffectual but talkative worker, spent most of his time complaining that fortune seemed to smile at everyone else, but merely sneered at him. Another employee with less seniority was promoted. He headed for the boss' office.

"It's the same old story," he moaned. "Other guys get all the breaks, but how come my ship never comes in?"

The boss looked up at Joe and said, "Maybe you haven't discovered that steam has replaced wind."

Meurers See D. C. And Va. Highlights On Vacation Trip

Back from their vacation trip, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Meurer tell of having a fine time in Washington, D. C., where they saw a number of celebrities and in Alexandria, Va., where they saw their granddaughter which was the most important person of all.

Going, the Meurers stopped at Fort Gordon, Ga., to see their son, Soldier Robert Meurer, and he got a three-day pass to accompany them to Alexandria to visit the Kenneth Wiesmans and little Klair, and to go sight-seeing in D. C. When his leave was up he flew back to camp.

Miss Martha Sue Meurer who had spent the summer with her sister and family and had an office job in Washington, accompanied her parents home after joining them in sight-seeing.

While they were in the nation's capital the Meurers had a special tour of the White House and capitol building, were guests of Congressman and Mrs. Graham Purcell for luncheon in the House of Representatives restaurant and saw President Kennedy at close range when they attended a press conference.

They visited the Smithsonian Institute, Arlington Cemetery and the Immaculate Conception Shrine, other places of interest in D. C., and the Naval Academy at Annapolis.

On their return home they made an over night stop at Bristol, Va., and met up with Murlin Joe Evans . . . a surprise meeting for all of them. He travels a five-state territory as a salesman out of Dallas.

In Sacred Heart Cathedral, Dallas, Sunday, Miss Joan Kupper received the top junior award presented to a nursing student at St. Paul's Hospital. The award is a senior class pin, gift from the senior class, presented once a year to the outstanding student entering her senior year of nursing.

Bishop Thomas K. Gorman made the presentation in ceremonies at which 19 nurses received graduate diplomas.

Joan, now a senior student, is president of the student council at St. Paul's. Attending the program were her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Kupper of Valley View and her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Walterscheid of Muenster.

It is small wonder that this nation is sliding so swiftly into the musky waters of collectivism. Some of its most ardent spokesmen for freedom and free enterprise prove by their actions and words to be in favor of collectivism when it is the other folks who are to be looted and when they are to share in the loot.

Something else inspires the Knights in this their second encounter of the season. They had a big night last Saturday, mauling Collinsville by a score of 22-0 and an equally one-sided set of statistics. Lindsay was ahead 14-2 in first downs and 275-46 in total yardage.

They started moving the first time they got possession but weakened at the goal line and lost on downs on the 6. Next time they made good, ending a 40 yard push with Dan Sandman's 6 yard plunge and adding two more points on a pass to Tommy Zimmerer.

Next TD came in the second quarter. Leon Neu made it from the 3.

Again in the third period they got going and Morisak finished the job by making 12 on a keeper play. Don Sandmann followed over for bonus points.

The story of

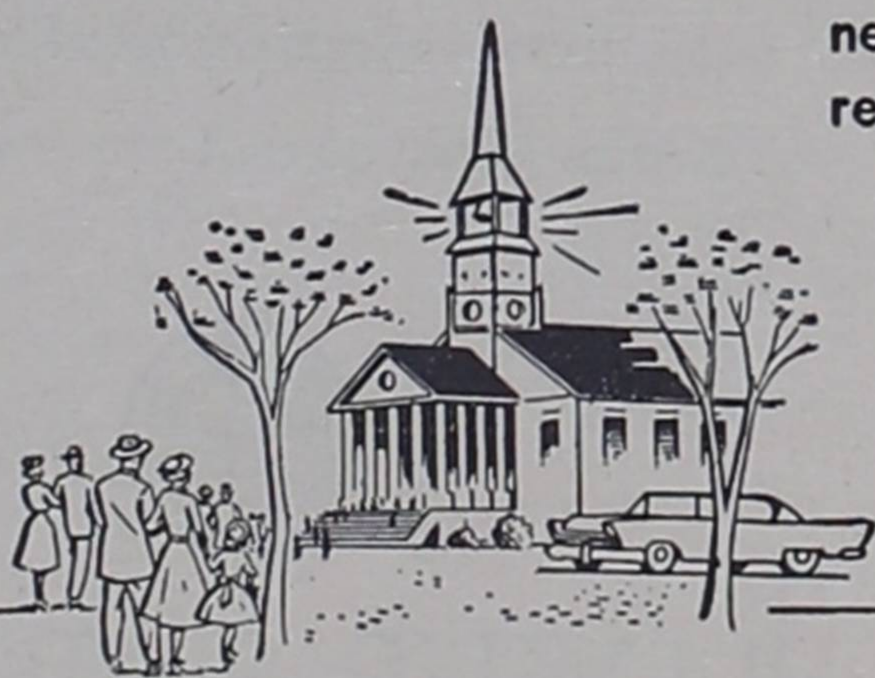

WILLIAM ALLEN WHITE and The Church Bell

"I don't need to advertise," an established merchant in Kansas once told William Allen White, renowned publisher of The Emporia Gazette. "Everybody knows me and knows what I sell."

"In that event," replied the thoughtful publisher, "we can dispense with the oldest advertising medium for the oldest institution in the world. See that church down the street," continued Mr. White, pointing to one of Emporia's oldest and most beautiful structures, "That church has been established here for many years. Everyone knows what it is and what it does. In the tower of the church is a bell and every Sunday it rings out to remind folks to come to church.

"Shoppers go where they are invited and stay where they are well treated," concluded the publisher.

"Regardless of how well established a firm may be, newspaper advertising is a repeated invitation and a reminder to come and do business with that store."
