LET'S END THE CUBAN CRISIS — PERMANENTLY!

The controversy over Cuba is at a high pitch again. The Kennedy administration is once again being criticized for "doing nothing" about the Soviet build-up.

The situation is almost identical to the one just prior to the November elections. Constant criticism at that time produced a blockade policy — one that was never fully carried out, and when quickly called off. This time, of course, there are no elections coming up.

Unfortunately, no one is proposing a solution. A few people are calling for an invasion, but most critics are simply arguing that Cuba is a military threat, and that the government should "do something" about it. But what?

We'd like to make some observations and suggestions in that regard. First, Cuba is not the cause of our problems — it is just one more effect. Psychologically it is depressing — because for two years, our government has guaranteed that we'd never tolerate a military base in Latin America. Now our inaction makes us look ridiculous.

But outside from the embarrassment, Cuba is no more, nor less, dangerous than any Communist base — which is very dangerous. We should realize that and start treating the core of the disease — instead of the latest symptom.

Let's recognize first of all that this latest threat hasn't changed the enemy, our problem, or the solution. No matter what happens — whether the Soviets increase or decrease their troops in Cuba — our job is the same.

Once we realize that, we can "do something" about Cuba. We can use it as the turning point in the war, the springboard from which to take the offensive and start rolling back the Communist tide. We suggest:

1. The President should announce that we'll now back up our pledge to keep Soviet bases out of the hemisphere.

2. He should state that henceforth we will withdraw diplomatic relations, foreign aid, and trade from any country that continues to trade with, recognize, or aid the Communist government of Cuba.

3. To back up this policy, our Navy will intercept any ships headed for Cuba — regardless of the cargo. This is an act of self-defense — as the Communists have already initiated force against us, by expropriating American property and holding American prisoners in Cuba.

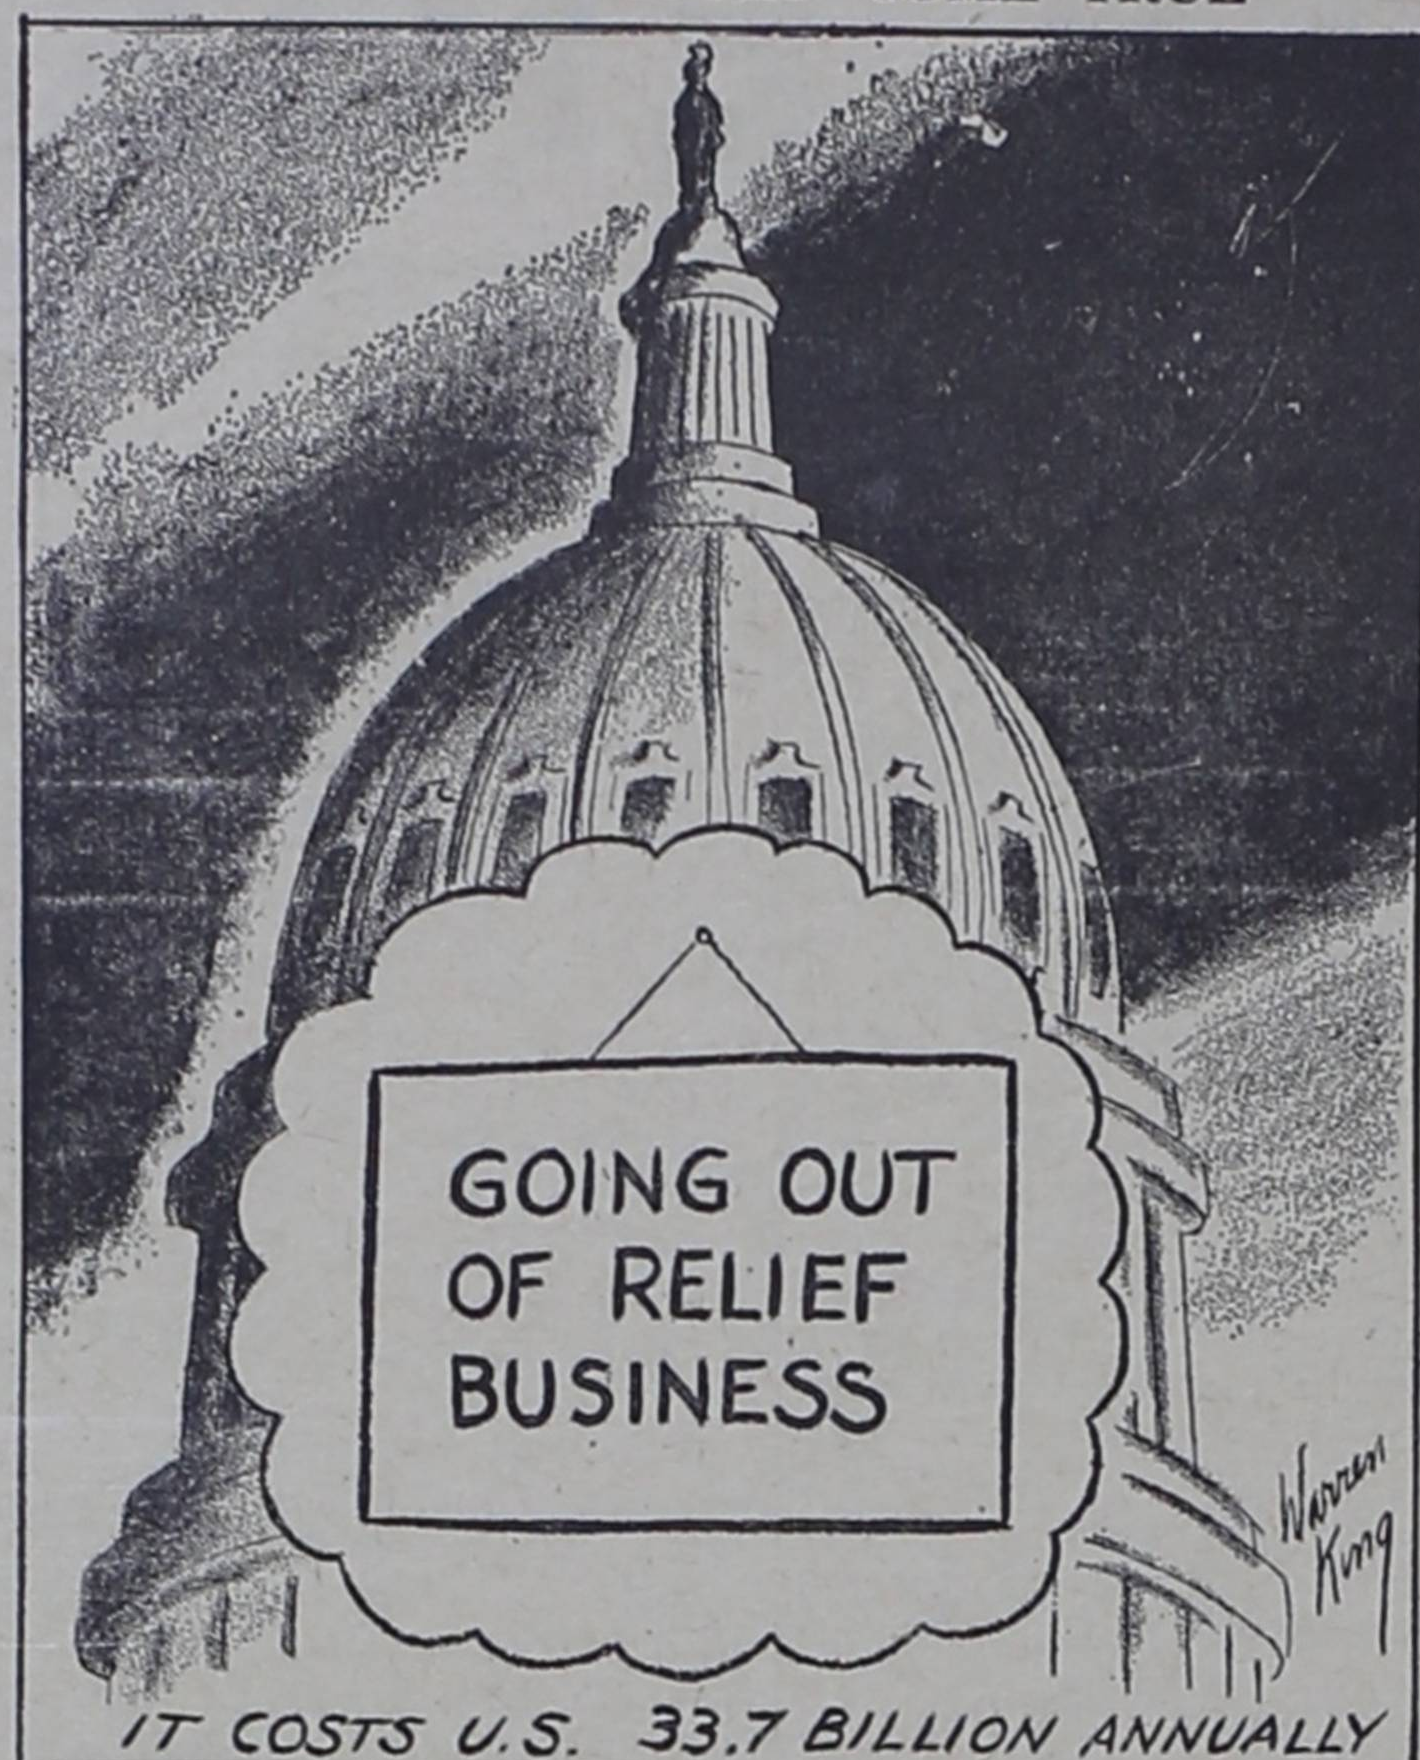

Khrushchev will then be forced to make a decision. He knows — better than we do — that the Communist governments cannot survive without our help. He'll have to make a choice: either he lets go of Cuba or his own government will collapse — which is certain if he loses contact with the U. S.

Within six months, Castro would be out. We can then use this as the precedent to push onward — isolating all Communist countries, with the same inevitable result.

Yes, we should "do something" about Cuba. We should make it the first great offensive for freedom. By applying the normal pressure we have historically used against any enemy, we can and should end the Cuban crisis — permanently.

West Bend, Wisc., "President John Kennedy is preparing to ask Congress for pay hikes for top-federal employees. . . . The truth is though few bureaucrats will admit, it, that the benefits of government service are far greater than the usual benefits of private employment, in retirement benefits, in sick pay, in fringe benefits and in working hours. . . . At a time when we are headed toward another large deficit, certainly the time is inopportune to propose bigger top-bracket federal salaries."

IF DREAMS COULD COME TRUE

EVEN FDR URGED ENDING RELIEF

"The lessons of history, confirmed by the evidence immediately before me, show exclusively that continued dependence upon relief induces a spiritual and moral disintegration fundamentally destructive of the national fibre.

"To dole out relief in this way is to administer a narcotic, a subtle destroyer of the human spirit. It is in violation of the traditions of America. Work must be found for able bodied but destitute workers. The federal government must and shall quit this business of relief."

You are bound to be surprised when you learn who made the above statement. It was President Franklin D. Roosevelt. But ever since he made it in 1935 the federal government has pursued the opposite course by getting deeper into the "business of relief." Welfare expenditures today are 10 times what they were in 1935.

During the last 11 years, alone, these payments skyrocketed from $4.9 billion annually to $37.3 billion a year. Washington should lose no time in getting the government out of the relief business by restoring welfare responsibilities to states and communities.

MORE THAN MEETS THE EYE

Those of us who were born too soon to join the Young Americans for Freedom, now more than 20,000 strong and with over 300 chapters in the 50 states, can nevertheless join them in their opposition to the White House proposal for a "domestic peace corps" and agree that this is "the most expendable item in an already unbalanced budget."

National Chairman Robert E. Bauman, a law student at Washington's Georgetown University, sees in this raving "elite corps" of 5,000 Federal do-gooders "the beginning of the end of private charity and voluntary social service."

Such implementation of the cynical, politically-oriented Robert Kennedy report would usurp all private and local responsibility, outlaw tax deductibility of all gifts to charity, and reject the Good Samaritan services of 20 million private volunteers.

FEDERAL SNOOPERS

"If you operate a business how would you like to be 'inspected' by a government bureau representative deliberately hunting for violations who has been instructed to regard anything you may say as only 40 percent true?"

"That's what is happening to Texas newspapers.

"The Department of Labor has inspectors out checking for violations of the wage and hour laws among Texas Newspapers. One of the new 'fair' labor standards instructions that has come down from Washington is that the inspectors shall make their interpretations 60 percent in favor of employees, and the employer shall be regarded as only 40 percent correct in his statements.

"In other words, under these 'rules,' you're 60 percent guilty automatically.

"Another nutty rule dreamed up by the crackpots is this: If we print a letterhead for a local business, and it is mailed by them out of state, we — the ones who printed it — are in interstate commerce during the week that printing was done.

"It sounds too stupid for even Washington chair-warmers to concoct, but it's true. And it's an example of how little freedom all of us actually have, regardless of how we may continue to insist that this is still a free country."

Houston County Courier

The only purple colored animal in the world is the blebok, a small South American antelope.

Nile crocks have rocks in their bellies. This information comes from the Zoological Society of London, which reports that the beasts swallow about 10 pounds. Reason? Crocodiles are top-heavy and wallow in water like empty cargo ships. Stones act as ballast.

The average cow last year produced 7,211 pounds of milk, products to slightly more than enough to provide a year's supply of milk and other dairy products to 11 Americans.

Sharon McGowan Wed in Oklahoma To Bill E. Heath

Making their home in Davis, Okla., are newlyweds Mr. and Mrs. Bill Edouard Heath II. She is the former Miss Sharon Elizabeth McGowan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. McGowan of Gainesville, formerly of Muenster. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Bill E. Heath of Sulphur.

The Rev. Bill Bruster of Hennepin, Okla., officiated at the double ring rites in the auditorium of First Baptist Church at Sulphur. Pedestal baskets of lilies and palms formed a setting for the ceremony.

Tony McGowan, cousin of the bride, organist, played a program of wedding music and accompanied another cousin, Bil McGowan, soloist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a bouffant floor length gown of white peau de soie fashioned with a fitted bodice featuring a scoop neckline and bracelet length sleeves. Her illusion veil cascaded from a petal headpiece of peau de soie. She carried an arrangement of white orchids atop a white Bible.

Sisters of the bride were her attendants. Miss Kathy McGowan was maid of honor and Miss Jean McGowan was bridesmaid. They wore identical dresses of American beauty satin brocade with matching hats and carried white satin muffs holding red carnation

Hornets Swamped At Track Meet

Not much recognition but good time and experience. That and Weldon Vogel's fifth in broad jump are all that Muenster entries got out of the Iowa Park track meet last Saturday. Coach Glenn Richardson said his boys were badly outclassed. Schools participating were mostly 3-A and 4-A. Although MHS was clobbered by the tough competition it did all right by comparison with last year's records. Richardson is pleased.

More fast competition is expected this weekend as the Hornets mingle with big schools at Gainesville. Again Richardson is looking for experience rather than points.

Water Shortage Relieved
Progress on water main extension on West Third Street is relieving an exasperating water shortage in that area. Four homes formerly sharing the output of a three-fourths inch line now have a three-fourths inch line for each. Similar conditions in other parts of town have been or will be corrected in the present waterworks improvement program.

On a certain island there was a garrison of marines and a garrison of sailors with two senior officers.

The wives of the garrison officers each laid claim to a special pew in the little island church. After much dispute, in which each asserted her right, and appeal was made to the governor.

The governor accorded a patient hearing to each of the claimants. He gave his decision that the pew should be occupied by the elder of the two.

Ever after that the special pew remained unoccupied.

LUXURY CAR: RIDES, RESPONDS AND LOOKS LIKE IT OUGHT TO COST A RANSOM

You're looking at our Impala Super Sport Convertible which, along with its cousin the Sport Coupe, absolutely embarrasses higher priced cars.

That special trim and those front bucket seats merely hint at the comforts you find built into every Impala Super Sport.

Performance? It's remarkable, an understatement we can afford when there are 7 engines to choose from. One of which is the popular 340-hp Turbo-Fire 409*, a wizard in traffic and a joy on the open road. And others all the way up to 425 hp*.

If you want an extra flourish or two, mull over extra-cost options like floor-shift four-speed manual or Powerglide transmission, Positraction, fade-resistant sintered-metallic brake linings, and a tachometer to relay what's cooking up front.

Just before you rush off to your Chevrolet dealer, may we remind you that both Impala Super Sports offer the new Comfortilt steering wheel*. You adjust it to suit your driving style, flick it out of the way for easy entry and exit.

All three Chevrolet series—Biscayne, Bel Air and Impala—deserve a long look. Super Sports demand it.

Super Sport equipment* available on both Impala Convertible and Sport Coupe.
*Optional at extra cost.

For many kind and thoughtful deeds during our recent illness we are grateful. The thoughtfulness of friends, neighbors and clergy, the get-well cards, prayers, food and long distance calls meant much to us. — Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hacker.

Our heartfelt thanks to all who extended comforting sympathy and help in our recent sorrow. We are deeply grateful for the floral offerings, spiritual tributes, the beautiful service, and many other kind and thoughtful deeds. — The family of Mrs. Henry Luke.

YOUNG TEXAN OF THE YEAR — An 18-year-old Austin College theology student, Robert Jeffrey Caswell, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Caswell of Dickinson, has been named Young Texan of the Year and recipient of the Fourth Annual Troy V. Post Award. Announcement of Caswell's selection was made in Dallas at the annual Young Texan awards banquet honoring the eight Young Texan of the Month finalists. U. S. Supreme Court Justice Tom C. Clark, featured speaker at the banquet, presented Caswell with the tri-sided trophy symbolizing outstanding leadership, citizenship and scholarship. The Troy V. Post Award is the highest youth achievement honor presented in the state, carrying with it a $2,000 college scholarship and an expense-paid, one week celebrity tour of Washington, D. C. for the winner and his father. The Young Texan program is co-sponsored by the Optimist Clubs of Texas and the Troy Post Foundation.

The City Water and Sewer Superintendent and/or the City Secretary is hereby authorized and directed to advertise for bids for the improvement work herein described, the advertising receiving and opening of such bids to be handled in a manner prescribed by law. Upon the receipt and opening of the bids for such improvement work, the said Water and Sewer Superintendent and/or City Secretary is directed to prepare and file with the City Council an estimate of the total cost of the improvements herein referred to, and the total amount of the part of the costs thereof to be paid by the City of Muenster in accordance with the provisions outlined in Article 1105b, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, and in accordance with the instructions given by the City Council.

When the improvements herein ordered for any street herein designated have been completed and accepted by the City of Muenster, the amount of the assessment against each property abutting thereon and the real and true owners thereof shall be and become payable in full. Such installments to be made to the City Treasurer each month.

improvements in each and every other street unit or portion of street. The assessments to be levied for the improvements in each such street unit shall be separate and distinct from the assessment to be levied in every other street unit, and in making and levying assessments against property for the improvements in one unit or portion of streets, no matter or circumstance in connection with any other unit or portion of street shall be considered, all as fully and to the same extent as if separate contracts were executed and separate proceedings had with reference to each such street unit or portion of street. And this assessment shall apply whenever such improvements are made as ordered by the City Council, whether the same be for curb and gutters or the paving of said street or streets or portions thereof. It shall be the same whether the liens are directly taken by the contractor or contractors or whether the liens are assigned to the City and that the holder of said liens shall be the person, persons or firms entitled to said liens as security for the improvements done, and the liens shall be fixed by the filing of this Ordinance with the County Clerk of Cooke County, Texas. Upon payment in full, releases may be executed by the Mayor and City Secretary of the City of Muenster, removing such liens from record. All unpaid liens shall bear interest as allowed by law and no liens are authorized to be released with the full and final payment of the amounts due by the abutting property and the true and legal owners thereof.

SECTION 7. The City Secretary is hereby directed to cause to be prepared a Notice of enactment of this Ordinance and to file said notice with the County Clerk of Cooke County, Texas, among the deed and lien records of said County.

Farm Facts

Aircraft have been used to aid agriculture for nearly 40 years, but growth of the business was slow until the end of World War II. Now an average of more than 50 million acres annually receives aerial treatment.

With planes large areas can be covered in a short time, application can be carried out when the ground is wet, and the growing crop is not liable to damage from the transit of the aircraft as from ground-application vehicles.

Almost 1.6 billion pounds of dry and liquid materials were dispensed from aircraft in 1960. Insecticides, both dry and liquid, accounted for over 45% of the total weight and fertilizers represented over 20%.

Planes permit speedy application of insecticides during critical periods and are employed against pests which infest crops, orchards, rangelands, oaks, and forests and against insects like mosquitoes and flies.

Fungicides to destroy plant diseases such as wheat stem

Planes apply chemicals to more than 50 million acres a year rust and herbicides to kill weeds and brush also are applied from the air. Planes are playing a more and more important role also in the fertilization, defoliation, and seeding of crops.

"They tell me, Jones, that you pushed a wheelbarrow down the street last night after our company party. Is that right?" the superintendent asked.

"Yes, sir, I was pretty drunk, I guess," admitted the machine operator.

"Well, how do you think I feel over the possible loss of prestige that your actions may have brought upon our business?" the superintendent asked.

"Gee, boss, I never thought to ask you. You rode in the wheelbarrow."

should not provide a convenient excuse which enables him to blame others for his misdeeds.

In all irregularity of behavior, from the mischief of a child to the crime of an adult, the important fact is that the one who did the wrong is responsible in conscience and in fact. There are few exceptions to that rule, and most of our troubles could be eliminated if there were fewer excuses allowed to the wrong doers.

Another possible aid in bringing up the younger generation is a better example from the older generation. We hear daily about crimes of theft, murder, immorality and imbecilliment, in which getting caught is regarded more of a fault than the crime itself. Oil men caught drilling slant wells, a congressman caught squandering public money and cheating on his income tax excuse themselves with "Everybody does it."

We're rightfully concerned about the red threat to our nation. But we should be more concerned with the moral decay which could make this country easy plucking for an outside enemy.

Our way to survival, and to a long career of prosperity and greatness, is to revive the virtues which make a good Christian and American — the virtues of truth, honesty, integrity and decency. Inherent in this is revival of the idea that individuals, young and old, can and must be held responsible for their deeds.
