NUMBER 21

Long Illness of Mrs. Steinberger Ended by Death

Suppose our forefathers, who went to war over the principle of taxation without representation, had foreseen the tax policies that were destined to develop in this generation, would they have revolted against Great Britain?

Obviously that question can't be answered. But it is certain that all of them would have been horrified by a preview of what is happening to us. The tribute demanded by England was peanuts compared with that now paid to the bureaucracy of Washington.

As old timers will recall, income tax started as a low percentage tax on people with big incomes. Few could find fault with it then because nobody was hurt. But money hungry do-gooders could not let it go at that. They needed more funds for their socialistic welfare schemes so they adopted a three pronged attack of confiscation. They raised rates, they reduced deductions, and they encouraged inflation to increase dollar income and thereby make a bigger part of each person's income subject to the tax bite.

For many years also they observed the old custom of requiring tax payment at the end of the year it was due. Then scheming spenders figured out that a pay-as-you-go schedule would temporarily increase the flow of revenue, giving them a fatter fund to draw from. Within a few years all taxpayers had been put on that schedule and the bureaucrats in effect had gained the income of an extra year to finance their squandering.

They used psychology to advantage also. By means of the withholding scheme they took income that the earners had never seen, hence was less painful for them to give up. They've done an effective job of that, too. They've taught people to regard only take-home pay as their wages, not the amount they actually earn. But the method, though less painful, is still confiscatory.

Social Security likewise started small and has since grown to a big burden. And now there's an effort under way to increase it further in order to support a partial plan of socialized medicine. . . . to be expanded to a full plan, of course, if the other can be put over. All that despite the fact that most people already have voluntary plans of health insurance, and also that socialized medicine has already been proved a dismal failure in other countries.

And now comes another scheme for tapping the public. That is, another version of the withholding scheme to tax dividends at their source, leaving each person with what is left after the infernal revenue collector makes his grab.

At first glance that does not seem so bad. Payment might as well be made sooner as later. But a second glance shows the unfairness and the added burden imposed by the scheme.

It's generally known that a sizeable percentage of investments are held by people of modest means to provide extra income in their old age. And the total income of those people, including dividends, is not large enough to make them subject to income tax.

But according to this scheme the Internal Revenue Service would take its specified percentage of tax from the company paying the dividend and the stockholder's dividend would be proportionately less. That imposes on old folks the extra work of filing for a refund. They have to assume the responsibility, and probably pay for having the report prepared, to claim money which was theirs in the first place. Is there any justice in that?

There are still other problems related to this asinine brain-storm. Since no firm can know the tax bracket of each stockholder, it is obvious that there is no way to make the correct tax deduction on each one's dividend. The only way would be to apply one rate to the company's entire dividend and expect each stockholder to make the adjustment on his own income tax return. What a mess! Besides all the work it imposes on the people concerned it would require the addition of thousands of employees in the tax department to do the extra paper work.

The only way to avoid all that extra work and expense is to collect a tax on all dividends.

Sixty Report as Fall Beginners At Sacred Heart

About 60 beginners will report at Sacred Heart School in September, according to attendance at a pre-registration in the school library last Sunday. About 120 parents were there to list their children and hear Sisters Henrietta and Genevieve explain details of the ungraded primary system, school policy, uniforms, etc. All received handbooks entitled "Your Parish School."

The next day brought the first taste of school life to the children. They joined the present first year primary pupils from 2 to 3:30 for a party featuring singing, reading, poetry recitation, ice cream and recess. And all went home with souvenirs.

Sisson Pledges Faithful Service As County Clerk

In asking the voters to name him as Democratic nominee for County Clerk of Cooke County on primary election day May 5, Boyd Sisson says his "platform" consists of a pledge to render faithful and continuous good service to all who would have business with the county clerk's office.

Another promise, that of courteous treatment, comes naturally, since it is one of his inherent qualities.

His long record of attention to duty and courtesy to patrons is best attested by mentioning the fact that Mr. Sisson has resided in Gainesville 35 years and during all that time has been a trusted employee of Schad & Pulte, hardware and implement firm.

He says he will take the same degree of earnestness into the office of county clerk, and operate the public business economically, promptly and honestly, as he has endeavored to do during the 35 years he has been employed in the mercantile business.

Boyd Sisson's record as a reputable citizen has never been questioned and many of his friends have given him assurance of support in his quest of the office.

He is endeavoring to see and talk with as many voters as possible and he asks any he might not contact, to investigate the record of his life in the community and his ability to handle the duties of County Clerk, hopeful that they will find this justification for voting for him on May 5.

Callisburg Wins Loop Track Meet, MHS Is Fourth

Leadership in track for this district made a sharp change Friday afternoon on the rain soaked new field at Saint Jo. Valley View and Muenster, the hot contenders for the past several years were both shoved aside in a sizzling contest by Callisburg and Era.

When counting was finished Callisburg was in front with 127 points and Era was a close second with 122 1/4. Valley View had 105, Muenster 86 and Saint Jo 32 3/4.

The contest for the lead turned out to be that of a few stars against a team with depth. Era won six first places and Callisburg only one, but the Wildcats took enough small points to nudge ahead on the total count. Valley View had 4 firsts, Muenster 2 and Saint Jo 1.

Both of Muenster's firsts were made by Mark Hellman . . . in the 100 yard dash and the 180 low hurdles. He was also second in the broad jump and the 220 yard dash and fourth in the shot put for a total individual score of 40, the second high of the meet. Top individual was Joe Roberts of Era.

Events in which the Hornets scored are the following. 100 yard dash, Mark Hellman first. 180 yard low hurdles, Hellman first. 800 yard run, Roy Monday second, Don Vogel fourth. Henry J. Luke, 69 Dies Suddenly Of Heart Attack

Henry J. Luke, who came to Muenster from Missouri when he was ten years old, died suddenly at his home about 3:30 p.m. Monday of a heart attack. He was 69.

Funeral services were held Thursday morning at 9:30 in Sacred Heart Church, Father Alcuin Kubis officiating at the requiem high mass and at graveside rites in the service men's section of Sacred Heart Cemetery. Miller Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

The husband and father John Luke had come ahead of his family at the beginning of the school term. He was a teacher in the parish school and one of the first organizers, serving for many years.

WHO'S TO BLAME?

The latest word from Cuba is food rationing. Of course, when Castro broke this word to his ever-loving public, the pre-emptive rush was on for anything and everything in the way of food that was left in Cuban grocery stores. It looks as though the food situation in Cuba is going to get a lot worse before it gets any better.

Here's one thing that has occurred to us, as it probably has to a good many Cubans; why is the supply of fish so meager when the Gulf of Mexico abounds with this type of meat? The fish are there just for the taking but the way we have it figured out, Castro won't permit Cuba's fishermen to sail away into the Gulf because this is probably the last he would ever see of them. They would forget the fish and head for Miami and freedom.

Also, the question is being asked, why is Cuba short of meat when it is well known that this country had flourishing ranches and a large cattle-growing industry? The answer — Cuba is short of meat because the ranches were turned over to commissar managers who, though they may know the party line backward and forward, don't know much about how to raise cattle. Under their mis-management, prize breeding stock was butchered and set upon the table.

Another question, why are chickens, of which there were a great sufficiency, rapidly diminishing? Because Cuban farmers have come to the same conclusion other people arrived at when Red Masters took over in other countries — namely: "Why kill myself working when the government is going to take all of the profits anyway?"

It's the same old story — remove individual initiative and hope of individual reward and you'll end up as Castro seems to be ending up — without food and fiber.

TO GET ALONG WITH DOGS

Some 600,000 people were bitten by dogs last year. Today's Health, the American Medical Association's magazine of general circulation, provides a few simple, precautionary rules: Don't give a dog to a small child — under six — unless you are prepared to be constantly on the scene when the two are together. Never allow a child to tease or abuse the dog, and see that he learns about training and care. Let the dog alone while he is eating. Remember that a dog, stimulated by running and playing, may bite from sheer excitement. Never waken a sleeping dog abruptly. Be careful in trying to separate fighting dogs — one or both may turn on you.

THOSE YOUNG RADICALS

A professor at Kansas University recently issued a public statement to the effect that he would refuse to answer any poll by students directed to the purpose of discovering the general ideological tone of the instruction in the social science fields. He referred to the members of the organization, Young Americans for Freedom, as "those young radicals."

Without meaning to do so, the professor was having his moment of truth.

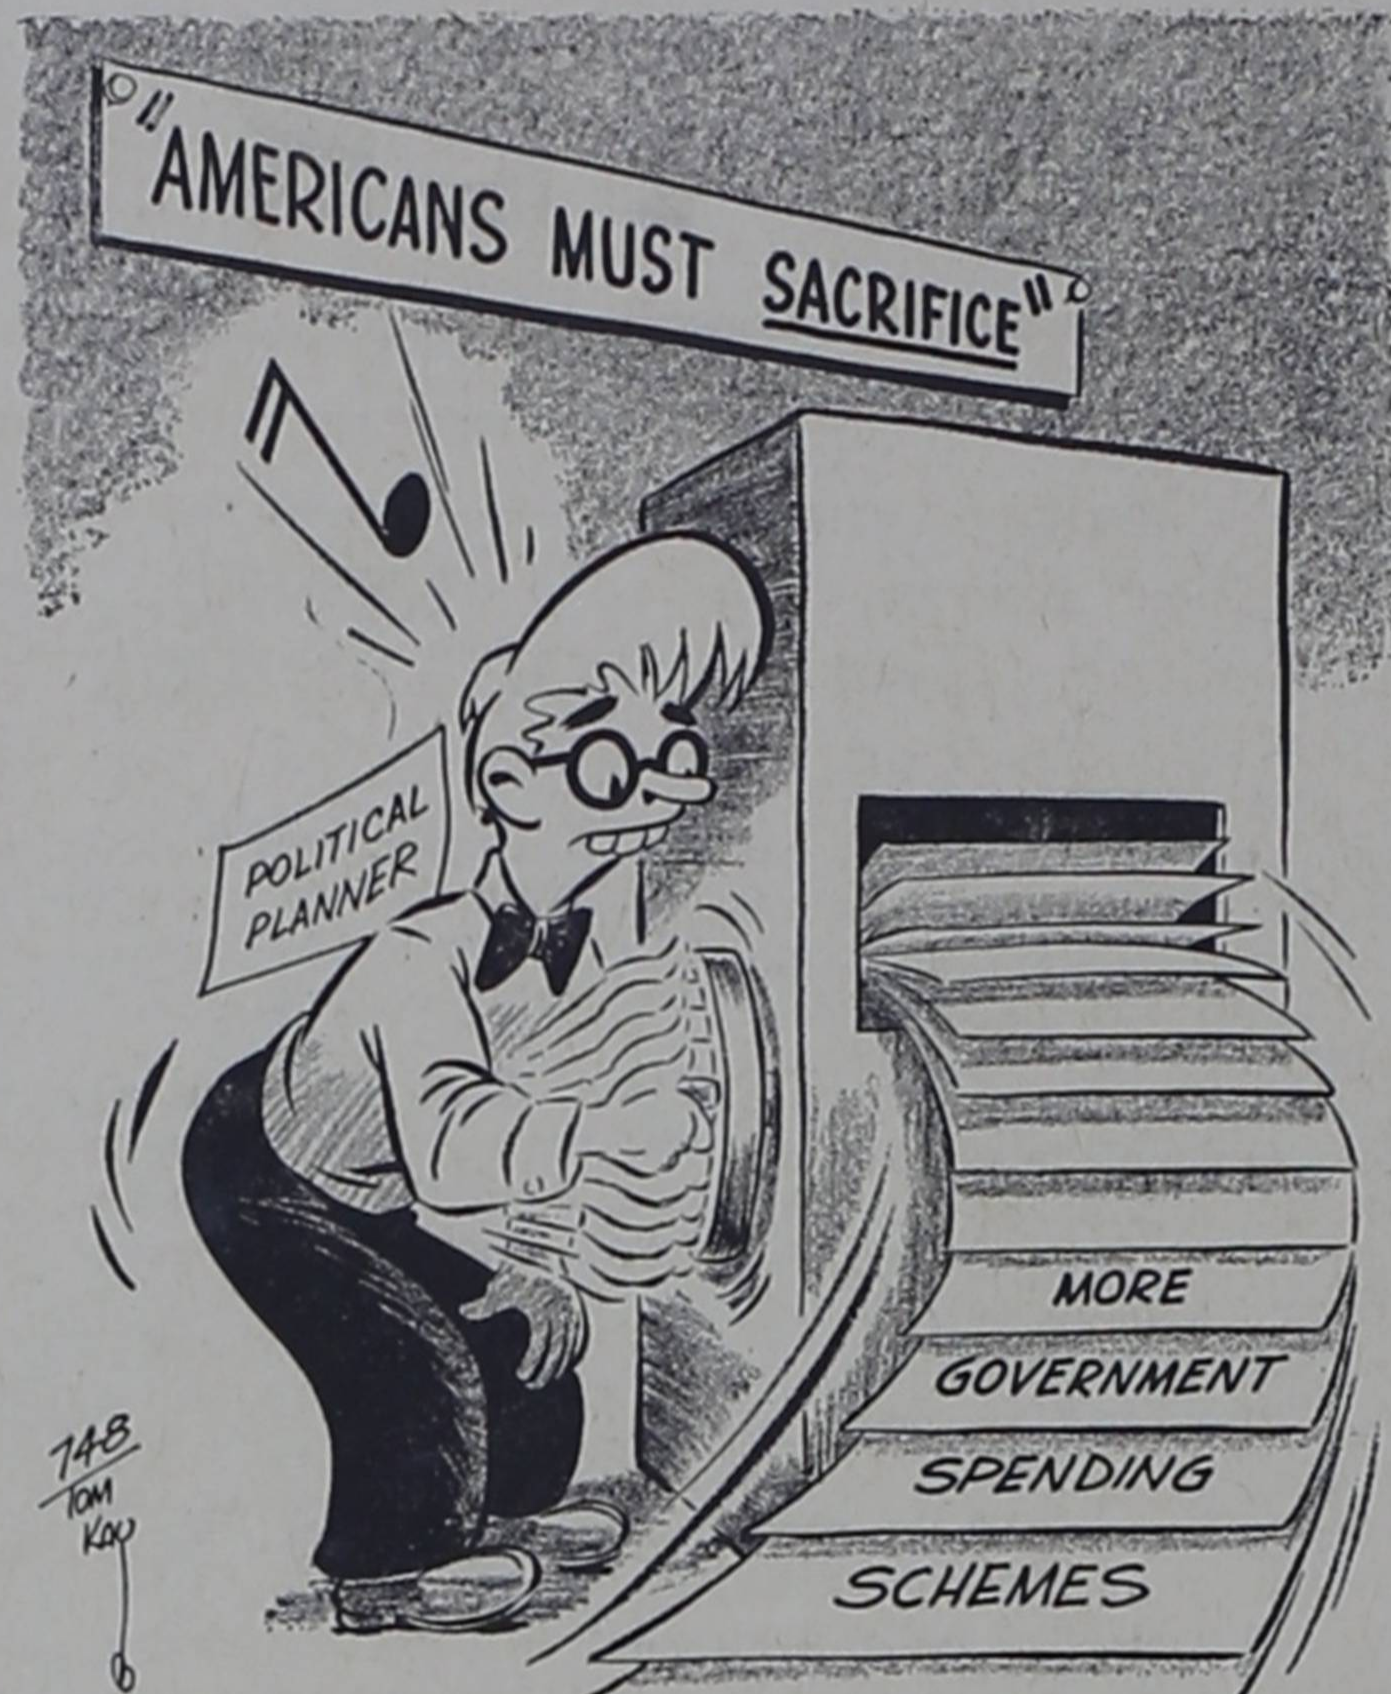

The one great radical concept of the centuries is the contention that individuals should have the right to live free of government control. All ideas about government simmer down to the same sorry picture of all-powerful government with citizens as slaves.

All this current prattle about forms of government, democracy, socialism, communism, the welfare state, and so forth is little more than empty chattering of fools. When government does for (or to) the people, in major degree, you have the age old system of government the master. Professors on any campus who play clever and prate of government doing this and providing that as if this were something daringly new or stylishly "liberal" are only serving warmed over goulash.

But for anyone to espouse the idea that individuals should be independent of and superior to their government officials, that citizens should limit the role of government to that of policeman and referee — verily, brethren, there is radicalism.

The establishment of the Republic of the United States was the greatest expression of radicalism the world ever has known. The concept was radical then; it is radical now — gloriously and wonderfully radical.

Communism is nothing more

No Sacrificing for Him

than naked power held by government over helpless citizen masses. Socialism is nothing more than a deceptively beguiling prologue to communism. Our professors of the liberal left are bedazzled by variations of the saddest and oldest story of mankind — government all powerful. To champion such is about like a drug addict championing the narcotic that holds him in bondage.

Thank heavens for the young radicals. Theirs is the echoing voice of mankind crying down through the centuries for liberty.

CAPSULE EDITORIAL

One of the phony ideas getting wide circulation in the U.S.A. these days is this: If you believe in the profit system you are not a humanitarian.

Humanitarianism is being defined as opposed to the profit system — which is pictured as greedy, selfish and evil.

But there are just two facts we ought to concentrate upon:

1. Every practical humanitarian project in the United States exhibits and thrives solely because of the profit system.
2. Every so-called non-profit enterprise in the United States operates on gifts and funds supplied by those who do make profits.

This winter is rugged enough, weather and otherwise, without exposing ourselves to another "snow job."

A GOOSE-COOKING THEY WILL GO

Steelworkers will ask for higher wages in the June 30 bargaining session and some experts expect a demand for 40 hours pay for 32 hours work, taking a cue, perhaps, from the New York electrical workers union which was successful in pulling the 25-hour week plum from the bargaining pudding.

The steelworkers should be told the facts of life. We are importing more and more finished steel mill products from low-wage countries, and exporting 25 times as much pig iron and scrap for making steel as we did a decade ago. It is obvious what would happen if the steelworkers should pull another long strike.

We can remember when John L. Lewis and his coal workers were demanding and getting more for less. You don't hear much about them any more. John L. is retired to the high end of the hog and most of the miners are on relief.

It might be well to give the steelworkers some coal facts. Unless their heads are as hard as the steel they smelt, they should be able to see they are cooking their own goose.

Tour in Spain Is Memorable Event For Local Airman

Writing from Spain where he is stationed at Zaragoza with the Air Force, Airman Lloyd Klement tells of interesting sight-seeing in connection with a tour made by the Spanish class of which he is a member. He wrote his parents, the Ray Klements, some of the highlights of the day's tour on March 27.

Principal places visited were an art museum, principally paintings, and two churches... enormous buildings. Outstanding at the Basilica of El Pilar is a statue of the Blessed Virgin with a jeweled crown and a huge halo of gold and silver and jewels. The silver section alone contains over 2000 diamonds, not counting rubies, emeralds, etc. Also seen here was a chasuble, priest's vestment, with over 32,000 natural pearls embroidered in it. This particular church has some 20 different altars.

Completely fascinating here also is a collection of precious jewels... millions upon million of dollars worth glittering inside glass cases. Most of these were donated during the rule of the monarchies.

Picture taking is prohibited but Lloyd sent a colored picture postcard of the statue.

The other church Templo de la Seo was formerly a Mosque when the Mohammedans had control of the city. It still has two holes in the roof — somewhat patched up where two bombs fell completely through during world war II but failed to explode. Both bombs are on display.

The main feature of this church is its tapestry, rated among the best in the world, dating back to the 13 century, and telling the story of Christ's passion and death.

In the museum, along with the paintings, are mosaics made in the area before the time of Christ.

The tour was especially interesting because the Spanish professor was a guide for the class and is as well versed in history as in Spanish.

Christening Party At Hamric Home

Christening of infant Michael Lewis Hamric, son of Mr. and Mrs. Burt Hamric of Edmond, Okla., was held here in Sacred Heart Church Sunday afternoon at three o'clock with Father Martin Fischer performing the baptism ceremony. Godparents for their nephew are John Wieler and Mrs. A. A. Hellams. It was the new baby's first visit in Muenster. His parents brought him for a weekend visit in his grandparents' home to get acquainted with the relationship.

Together for the christening and for noon dinner in the Hamric home were Mrs. Hellams and sons Bill and Jim of Oklahoma City, Mrs. H. C. Billingsley of Ardmore, Mrs. Anna Shelton of Denton, Mr. and Mrs. John Wieler, Mr. and Mrs. Burt Hamric, Jim Gillis of Denison and the hosts. There was a round of picture taking but baby Michael couldn't have cared less. He slept through most of the party in his honor.

Victory Rally to Close FB Drive For Membership

A victory rally ending this year's Farm Bureau membership drive will be held in the form of a picnic and pot luck supper at the Community Center building April 24 starting at 7 p.m.

Plans for the event were made April 2 in a meeting of directors and committeemen of the County Farm Bureau. At that time it was revealed that Kenneth Rivoire led the membership drive with 14 new members and Gainesville led the communities with 23.

A new project for the county FB is sponsoring a county student at the American Citizenship Seminar in Oklahoma City in July. Each high school of the county is invited to send a representative to the rally on April 24 to participate in a contest for selection of the county representative.

Local 4-H Girls Win 22 Ribbons In Dress Revue

Muenster's 4-H Club girls won honors in the annual County Dress Revue at Gainesville Junior College Monday night and came home with 22 ribbons. They gathered up 11 blue, five red and six white tags. Charlotte Wolf topped the senior division with her entry and will model her dress in district competition. Jackie Wimmer was one of the top five contestants.

Janice Vogel, Charlotte Wolf and Mrs. Paul Endres adult leader were among narrators for the show. Over 70 4-H girls from the county modeled fashions they made in their sewing projects.

Blue ribbon winners from Muenster are Charlotte Wolf, Janice Vogel, Jackie Wimmer, Shirley Klement, Janie Knaut, Cheryl Reiter, Monica Becker, Sandra Sicking, Karen Vogel, Imogene Vogel and Linda Romer.

Red ribbon entries were modeled by Sheila Hennigan, Joan Fetsch, Janice Wilde, Mary Ellen Endres and Dianne Gehrig, and white ribbons were won by Linda Zimmerer, Debbie Cain, Pauline Fleitman, Lynn Reiter, Diann Felderhoff and Ruth Yosten.

Parents and friends attended the show entitled "Spring Fantasy". Mrs. Evelyn Yeatts, assistant home demonstration agent, extended welcome and announced winners. Mrs. Gene Watts and Home Demonstration Club women were judges.

Tigers Win 11-6 Over Lindsay Hi

Sacred Heart's Tigers continued their winning streak at Lindsay Monday as Johnny Wolf marked up another nice pitching record. The score was 11-6.

Johnny's pitches plainly were too hot for the Knights to handle, and at times they were also too hot for him to control. In the seven inning game he fanned 19, allowed one hit and walked nine. Meanwhile the Tigers got seven hits from Donnie Sandmann and Roy Morisak.

Sacred Heart hits were scattered but were well grouped with walks and errors to produce runs in five of the innings.

Until the last half of the seventh the game was lop sided. Lindsay's single tally in the first was swamped by Sacred Heart's steady scoring and the count stood at 11-1. Then the Knights stamped for five scores on walks, errors and a double by Johnny Hermes.

Clarence Bayer and Johnny Wolf led the Tiger hitting with two singles each. Francis Fuhrman got a double.

Volley Teams Lose In Tourney Finals At Prairie Valley

Two Muenster volley teams got close again last week but failed to return with trophies. Muenster Mill and SH Alumni ladies both lost in consolation finals of the Prairie Valley tournament.

The Millers were edged by Bellevue in a contest that went to overtime. Previously they lost another overtime tussle to Nocona Blues, then advanced in the consolation bracket by beating Nocona Leather Goods and Ringgold.

Sacred Heart gals lost to Jacksboro in the consolation final in earlier games they lost to Holliday and beat Ringgold. Sacred Heart men lost their opener to Holliday and the next to Bellevue.

The same teams are competing in a tournament at Tioga this week, the Millers and Alumni girls going for champ and Alumni men going for consolation.

Muenster Mill beat the Untouchables of Celina in an overtime tussle and will meet Gunter's Roadrunners Thursday at 8. SH ladies beat the Farmers' Daughters of Pilot Point and play next with Dan's Mfg. of Celina at 6:30 Thursday. SH Men lost to Dan's Drug in their opener and play again at 7 Friday.

Miss Ruth Endres of Fort Worth came home Saturday to spend the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Endres.

Mrs. Charles Denny of San Antonio and Mrs. Alfred Kuhn of Lubbock spent the past week at the bedside of their mother, Mrs. Ben Luke, and accompanied her when she was admitted Saturday to a Dallas hospital.

Swing to Formby Evident in State Campaigner Says

Charles Tinney, of Denton, was a visitor in Muenster Monday campaigning for Marshall Formby, democratic candidate for Governor. Tinney, is the Northeast Texas campaign director for Formby.

Formby is a native of Hopkins County and was born in the Bethel community near Como. He is now an attorney and businessman in Plainview. He is the former Chairman of the State Highway Commission and was very helpful to this county and area in getting the vast highway program under way during the years 1953-1959.

Tinney says that there is a definite upswing throughout the state for Formby, who has been considered a 'dark-horse' in the race. He says the people are finding out that Formby is the only candidate not under domination from Washington and not dominated by a special interest or pressure group.

Mr. Tinney noted that one candidate is taken out of Washington, another candidate has the indorsement of PASO, the Spanish-speaking group, and still another candidate has the backing of the labor associations. He asserted that there is definitely no special interest or selfish group backing Marshall Formby.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

Here in the Muenster-Saint Jo area of the Upper Elm-Red Soil Conservation District the right season for seeding or sodding of grasses has all but ended.

Personnel of the SCS note that adequate moisture is now in the ground and some of the plantings which were made early are already sprouting. Many of these plantings will produce some grazing before frost and if used properly will be even better next year. Both time and money were necessary to establish this grass but many farmers will overlook this fact and will severely over-graze their struggling strands of green. The result will be an even poorer stand of grass next year and the land owner will be apt to tell his neighbor what "sorry grass" he planted. For pastures to stay vigorous and give greatest return, good pasture management is essential.

The key to good pasture management is man. It is he who opens and closes the gates. Proper use of grasses, which means leaving a part of the green, leafy plant above ground, may be obtained in several ways:

- 1 — Take some and leave some. On tame pastures this is determined by inches; on native grasses by weight. Take half, leave half. Local SCS personnel can assist in determining the amount.

2 — Rotate grazing or change pastures at regular intervals. This is done when grass reaches a predetermined height. Native grass needs a three-month rest each year and should be allowed to make a seed crop every third year.

3 — Weed control. It takes more water to produce a pound of weeds than it does to grow a pound of grass. Use a rotary mower or chemicals. Native grasses should not be mowed after July 15.

4 — Use legumes in tame pastures to improve the soil and give additional grazing. Legumes must have phosphorous and potassium and must be inoculated.

5 — Fertilize . . . more economically on tame pastures than on native grasses.

6 — Provide adequate water in each pasture.

7 — Feed salt and minerals. Locate approximately one half mile from water for best distribution of grazing.

For further information on management of grasses farmers and ranchers are invited to contact the local SCS personnel.

FILTER TIPS:

- ◆ Now is the time to check the filter on your air conditioners.
- ◆ If your filters are dirty, replace with new ones or, if you have a cleanable type, clean thoroughly.
- ◆ A clean filter improves the movement of the air . . . cuts dust and pollen to virtually zero.
- ◆ For information or assistance, call your dealer, air conditioning serviceman or TP&L.

YOU'RE MAKING A BIG MISTAKE IF YOU'RE NOT DRINKING 80 PROOF GIN!

If you think higher proof means higher quality — that's a mistake.

If you think you have to pay more money to get a better gin — that's a mistake.

If you think the gin the English drink is more than 80 proof — that's a mistake.

You should know, to begin with, that America is the only civilized country in the world that drinks high-proof gin. The British, who perfected gin, wouldn't think of it! They know that gin has an ideal taste and flavor balance at a milder, smoother 80 proof. Here's the whole story:

80 PROOF GIN TASTES BETTER

"Proof" is no measure of quality. It's a measure of alcohol content alone. (100 proof means 50% alcohol.) Alcohol itself has no flavor. The pleasant taste of gin comes entirely from the herbs with which it's distilled.

The best test of gin is to drink it straight or on-the-rocks. You'll find 80 proof gin has the big taste advantage of 80 proof mildness — with the same full flavor of higher proof gins.

80 PROOF GIN COSTS LESS

Gins are taxed by the U.S. on their proof or alcohol content, only. The lower the proof — the lower the taxes, and the lower the cost to you. When you buy an imported label, you add the cost of shipping and duties. That pushes the price even higher, without giving you 80 proof quality.

80 PROOF GIN MAKES BETTER MARTINIS

It makes them extra dry, as you like them, but not extra strong. Twenty years ago, the 3-to-1 Martini was standard. Today, with the trend to dryer Martinis, they're made 6-, 7-, even 8-to-1. As a result the modern Martini has climbed from a smooth 76.5 proof to an overwhelming 84 proof! Solution? Mix with 80 proof gin. It gives you the same full, dry gin flavor, but it returns the Martini to its original, more moderate proof.

80 PROOF GIN MAKES BETTER TALL DRINKS

When you mix a tall drink, like a Collins or a gin 'n tonic, you dilute the strength of the gin "to taste." You also mix for balance of flavor. 80 proof gin will give you better balance. You don't have to drown it to drink it.

HOW TO MAKE DRY MARTINIS MAKE MORE SENSE

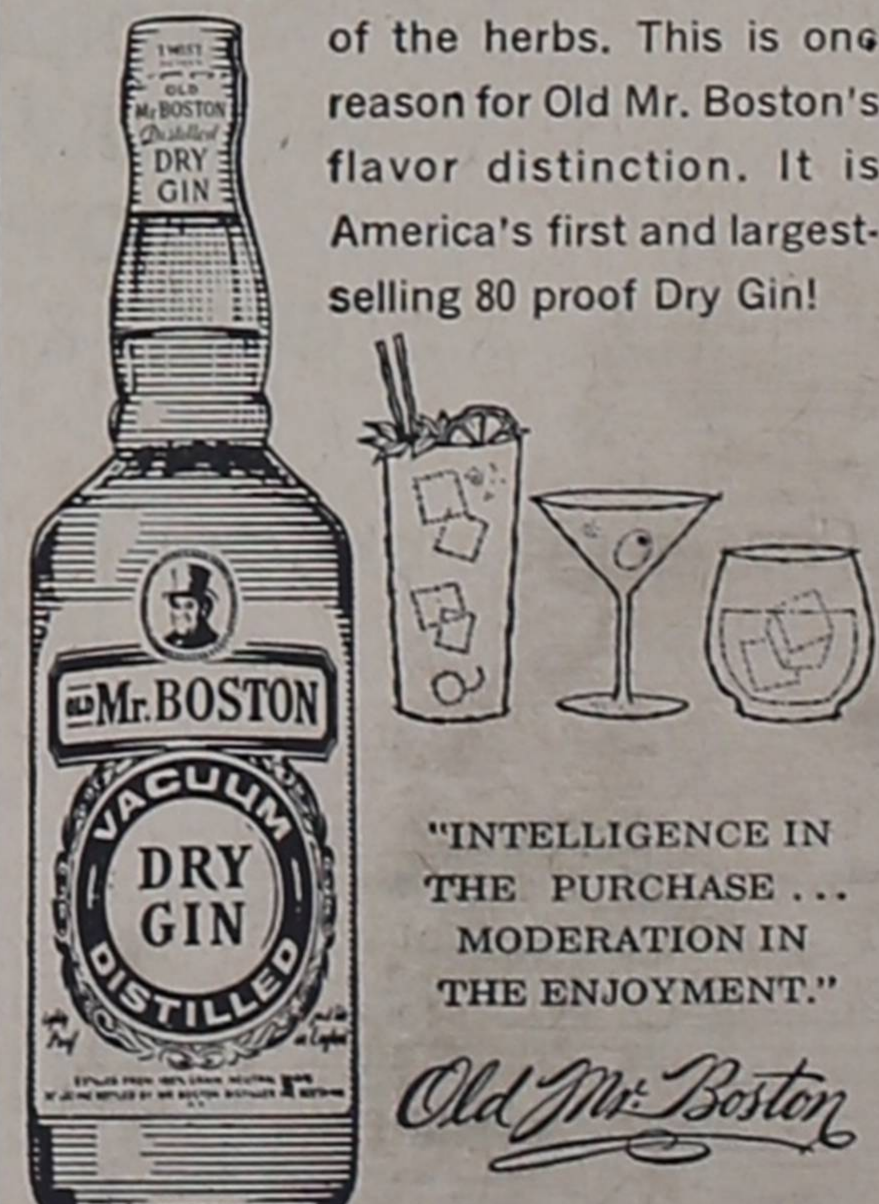

Using Standard 36 Proof Dry Vermouth	Using 80 Proof Dry Gin	Using 80 Proof Dry Gin (or Vodka)
3 — to — 1 (Traditional)	76.5 Proof	69.0 Proof
5 — to — 1 (Dry)	81.0 Proof	72.6 Proof
8 — to — 1 (Extra Dry)	84.0 Proof	75.1 Proof

(The "standard" proof for today's bottled Martinis is a moderate 67.5 proof!)

OLD MR. BOSTON IS THE FINEST GIN YOU CAN BUY

It's vacuum distilled at an unusually low temperature in special glass-lined stills. Only at such a low temperature, is it possible to capture the most delicate essence of the herbs. This is one reason for Old Mr. Boston's flavor distinction. It is America's first and largest-selling 80 proof Dry Gin!

J. A. Hyslop of the U. S. Department of Agriculture in 1938 compiled an estimate of losses caused by some 60 different kinds of insects in the United States. Total damage, including control costs, amounted to more than $1.6 billion annually.

Hyslop's estimate, however, was based on prices much lower than those of today and did not include all the injurious insects. Even so, these losses would amount to about $12 for each man, woman, and child in the country—or $1 per month per person.

The boll weevil alone has nicked farmers to the tune of $500 million in some seasons, and losses average about $200 million a year. Destruction of crops by grasshoppers amounted to more than $100 million in 1936.

Livestock pests take an annual toll estimated at $500 million, mainly attributed to wasted feed, lower meat and milk production, and damaged hides. Insects are ranked along idends and let that be the final payment. But that's unfair too. Because it would put all investors in the same tax bracket. Big income people would get by with less than their just share and poor folks would have to pay more than their share.

Any way one looks at it, this proposal is a monstrosity. And all for what? To give money mad bureaucrats a pre-mature grab at money they are not entitled to . . . and even cheating some unfortunate poor folks who fail to turn in claims for refunds.
