VOLUME XIII

MUENSTER, COOKE COUNTY, TEXAS, SEPTEMBER 9, 1949

NUMBER 42

Crossing California from Las Vegas, Nevada, to Los Angeles is a sort of capsule size version of the ancient trek to the promised land. Barren desert most of the way and all of a sudden you realize you've reached the land of milk and honey.

Actually what happens is that you reach water. The soil they say is about the same, but that moisture makes a world of difference. It explains why bright gardens and a stretch of blank waste land are often found side by side.

California is a flower lover's paradise. Pick almost any kind of flower you like . . . it's there, bigger, brighter and more beautiful. Varieties that we nurse along as pot plants are shrub or tree size loaded with blooms. They grow as profusely as our weeds. Why? A Californian will tell you it's simply because of the better climate, which may be the real reason and also may be just native propaganda.

Sights like that are what we noticed and appreciated the second day in L A and later. Coming into the city we had little time or inclination to gaze at scenery. Driving was a full time job. Now we know what people mean by "California driving". It's every man for himself, and the speed is terrific, usually 25 to 30 mph above the posted limit. When a stranger keeps pace with that stream, watches street signs and maneuvers to the proper lane for the next turn he does a lot of driving.

After arriving however we did wonderfully. As guests of our Aunt Libby and Cousin Adolph we had an entertainment and guide service that could not be beat. Three mighty eventful days.

The first was spent on the Pacific beach somewhere south of Capistrano. That's where yours truly had his first try at surf fishing. Nary a nibble all day, but a lot of satisfaction in learning how to heave the hook. A good cast is a thrill, like a good drive in golf, and incidentally it's about as much fun to reel back an empty hook as to walk a couple of hundred yards for another golf shot. After a few hours I was getting about half a good caster's distance, and feeling proud of myself.

Returning that evening we took a scenic drive, including the old mission church of San Juan Capistrano. Besides being famous for swallows it's beautiful and has a special sentimental appeal for me because my brother Richard was married there only a few weeks before his fatal crash in a navy plane.

Back in L A that night we had a Chinese feast then spent a few hours absorbing the atmosphere of Chinatown and Elmira Street. Both are packed with curio and novelty shops, the one area having the oriental flavor and the other the Spanish flavor. Elmira St. happens to be the center of the original Spanish settlement way back when L A was founded. The old, original buildings are still there, weather beaten but picturesque. And the things they have there now! Mostly odd stuff. An astounding conglomeration of junk, trinkets and really beautiful things. Besides it's a sort of headquarters for artists. No less than a dozen were there, all sketching portraits.

Trips to Mount Wilson and Forest Lawn cemetery took up the greater part of another day. The drive up and down the mountain is picturesque and the view from the top on a clear day is said to be magnificent, but it was hazy on our day and we just looked down on some clouds. The observatory, home of a 100 inch telescope, is huge and its machinery marvelous.

So far as we were able to learn, Forest Lawn is the fanciest grave yard in the world. As a person enters it he's hardly aware that he's entering a cemetery. It looks more like a big park. Fountains, statuary, trees, flowers and velvety lawns. But a closer look reveals a different kind of lawn. Marble or bronze rectangles (Continued on Page 10)

Hornets Face Hard Tussle With Bells Here Friday Night

The Muenster Hornets are headed for a real test in their season opener with the Bells Hi Panthers on the local field Friday night at 8.

That opinion was expressed by Coach Doyle Hood Wednesday after he learned that most of the visiting team is composed of veterans from last year and also that the Bells team of last year finished in the upper bracket of the district conference race.

Nevertheless Hood is confident that his charges will come through with flying colors. He is counting on his veteran backs to give a good account of themselves and at the same time he expects his less experienced linemen to make a fair showing against anything but powerhouse opposition. The whole team is making good progress, he said, and it should play on fairly even terms with an average class B team.

Some indication of the Hornets' strength was apparent in practice scrimmages with Saint Jo Friday and Monday nights. In total gains the two teams seemed to be about evenly matched with Saint Jo marking up the longer gains and Muenster coming through more consistently for short yardage. One special incentive for the boys Friday night is their new uniforms. They are determined that their handsome red and white combinations will be broken in, in the proper way.

Co-captains for the game are Gilbert Yosten and Glenn Hellman. Others on the starting lineup are Neal Fisher, Harold Knabe, Bernard Luke, Buddy Markham, Emmet Walterscheid, Damian Hellman, Pat Stelzer, Ronald Herr and Mitchell Wolf.

Mothers of High School Athletes Form Booster Club

Feminine enthusiasm and energy was mustered in behalf of local high school athletes Tuesday night when a group of community mothers organized the Mothers' Athletic Club. The ladies' purpose is to assist the boys and girls in any way they can to make the season more successful and more enjoyable.

Activities already agreed on are to have a concession at games in order to raise money for an entertainment fund, and also to act as hostess for social events. Other means of helping the youngsters are expected to develop in future meetings.

Fourteen ladies reported for the original meeting and elected Mrs. Ray Evans and Mrs. Ervin Hamric as president and secretary-treasurer. They also decided that every mother who has a boy or girl participating in high school athletics is eligible for membership.

The charter group consists of Mesdames John Fisher, C. M. Walterscheid, S. N. Markham, Matt Muller, John Knabe, Tony Walterscheid, Ervin Hamric, Ray Evans, Lou Wolf, Herbert Meurer, Arthur Hellman, Rudy Hellman, J. M. Weinzapfel and Ben Luke.

Father Andrew is Assistant Pastor For Local Parish

Father Andrew Wewers, OSB, newly appointed assistant pastor of the Sacred Heart parish, will be delayed at least a week and perhaps as much as three weeks in his arrival for duty here.

Announcing the appointment last Sunday Father Anthony Schroeder stated that Father Andrew was expected about the middle of the week. He has since been informed that circumstances at Corpus Christi Academy, where Father Andrew is teaching, do not permit his release at this time.

Johnny Fette, 6, broke his arm Friday in a fall from a tree.

Line Improvement Expands Facilities Of Phone Company

Improvements now under way at the Muenster Telephone Company will make about 50 more lines available and provide amply for the company to continue its expansion program of the past two months.

One large cable leading outside from the central office connects with every one of the switchboard's 200 outlets. Previous wiring facilities used only about 150 of the outlets. The large cable replaces a smaller one and a maze of individual lines.

On a pole outside the office three smaller cables lead from the large one. One will have phone connections to a point west of the FMA plant then connect with individual lines. It is being installed now. An other will follow the alley a half block north of the highway, serving phones along the way, and also connecting with individual lines. It is to be installed within the next few weeks. The third cable, which has been in use for some time, leads to the north part of town.

After all the new installation is complete an old cable leading from the office up the east side of Main, and the individual wires now crossing Main to the west side will be removed.

At the present time the system has about 350 phones of which 20 were added during the past two months.

Lt. and Mrs. Pat Stelzer of Dayton, Ohio, are here visiting relatives while he is on a 23 day leave from his duties at Wright-Patterson AFB. Before coming to Muenster they visited in Dallas with his sisters, Mmes. John Chandler and Eddie Hart and their families, and they'll visit his brother, Leroy at Henrietta. They have two children, a four-month-old boy and a two-year-old girl but did not bring them on this trip to Texas.

Softball Girls Win Second Place In Alvord Tourney

The Muenster Softball Girls' hopes of winning the Alvord invitation tournament were shattered last Saturday night by a team of hard hitting Wichita Falls girls. Instead of the coveted first place honors the girls had to settle for second place.

For the Wichita Falls girls' the victory was a well earned triumph over long odds. Before entering the final with Muenster, they eliminated Alvord by a score of 4-0. Then they had to defeat Muenster twice to win the tourney.

Up to the final Muenster was the only undefeated team in the double elimination meet, winning over Denton, Ponder and Wichita Falls. Among the one-time losers Wichita came through to the finals and evened the score by defeating Muenster 4 to 3 in the first game. In the play-off contest Wichita won easily 6 to 2.

TREE FARMING—Near Escanaba, Mich., forestry agent William A. Kluender, left, shows Fred Vascolani, center, and William Sharkey, right, how to operate a tree planting machine that puts down 18,000 trees daily in precise rows. The machine has stirred farmers to a new interest in harvesting trees just like other crops. To many of them on Michigan's upper peninsula the mechanical planter means reforestation, and a way to check erosion.

Muenster Schools Gain 56; Combined Enrollment is 577

The combined 1949-50 enrollment of the two Muenster schools is 577.

Of that number 429 are in the parochial school and 148 are in the public school, according to figures given Wednesday by each institution.

The total figure represents an increase of 56 over last year's 521, while the breakdown of figures indicates a decrease of 17 at the parochial school and an increase of 73 at the public school.

One factor in particular accounts for the change of trend in enrollment. Trustees of the public school in launching an all out effort for affiliation introduced vocational courses and appealed to the community for sufficient enrollment to meet the department of education's minimum attendance requirement.

The result was that several students previously transferring out of the district arranged to remain at home and other students previously attending Sacred Heart High enrolled in the public school. Accordingly high school enrollment at the public school increased from 19 to 77 while it fell from 90 to 49 at the parochial school.

In the elementary department both schools show a substantial increase. The parochial school gained 24 for a total of 380 and the public school gained 15 for a total of 71.

As in previous years the children of both schools are participating in the school lunch program sponsored by the Sacred Heart PTA. And for the first time in the history of the schools students from both are attending classes together. Facilities of the high schools cooperated in arranging their schedules so that free periods would come at the same time and permit Catholic students of both schools to attend religious classes together.

Office-Warehouse For New School Job Under Construction

A second and final step on preliminary work for Muenster's new school building got under way on Tuesday, Sept. 6. Workmen are now erecting temporary buildings for office and storage while the main job is in process. Two weeks before bulldozers had leveled the site as the first preliminary step.

One of the temporary buildings will be for office and tools, the other will be for cement and other perishable building materials.

Next on the program is digging for the school's foundation, and it will begin as soon as a large diameter mechanical borer arrives to dig holes for the concrete piling, which will serve as the foundation. According to the building specifications the structure will rest on a heavy concrete beam which in turn will be supported by the concrete piling.

The American Way "THE ENGLISHMAN'S CASTLE?"

The story has oft been told of an American doughboy in World War I. He was going into the trenches for a period of weeks where he would receive no pay and couldn't spend it if he did. He had fifty cents in his pocket so he spent it for a money belt in which to keep his money.

There seems to be a parallel between that story and England of today. The Englishman now enjoys (?) among other things, free medical and dental care. Has he lost the teeth which God provided him, his new god, the British Government, makes him a present of a man-made denture. At the same time, this same new god periodically cuts down on his food ration, tells him to still further tighten his belt. Over here, we Americans wonder why the new teeth? What's the Britisher going to chew on?

In my column release of February 24, 1946, I led with my chin when I said in part regarding a proposed loan or gift to England:

"... If we do grant this loan or gift to England, it will be a temporary palliative which in the long run may help to destroy the British Empire. If Any erroneous reflection upon the character, standing or reputation of any person, firm or corporation that may appear in the columns of the Enterprise will be gladly and fully corrected upon being brought to the attention of the publisher.

we refuse to grant it, Mr. Attlee and his Government may not be able to carry out their socialization program. Believing as we do that a program would spell eventual ruin for the English people, then the greatest kindness we can render them is to refuse the requested loan or gift. It would be an awkward and unpleasant temporary situation, but may save England from doing herself lasting and irreparable damage."

This, as I had expected, brought a flood of letters, most of them accusing me of being an "America Firster." Frankly, I have never been able to see anything wrong about an American being for America first. I think it is much more respectable than being for Russia first, in the style of the Paul Robesons and Henry Wallaces.

Well, we made the loan or gift to England. And then we made some more. Today, England is bankrupt. Her socialist leaders kid themselves and their followers that the cure for England's socialist ills is more socialism. In other words, more poison to cure the poisoning.

The Englishman no longer can proudly sing that memorable line, "Britons Never, Never Shall Be Slaves." from "Rule Britannia." Today he is a slave of his Government, he has given up his freedom for a mess of Government doles, free medicine, free wigs, free dentures, etc.

For centuries it was the Englishman's proud boast that, "His Home Was His Castle." But not today. His home is just a roof over his head to be invaded willy-nilly by a horde of socialistic, bureaucratic snoopers.

Said William Pitt in 1783: "The poorest man may in his cottage bid defiance to all the forces of the Crown. It may be frail; its roof may shake; the wind may blow through it; the storms may enter; — but the King of England cannot enter; all his forces dare not cross the threshold of the ruined tenement."

But, on March 11, 1947, Prime Minister Attlee revealed that seventeen Ministers had power to authorize inspection invol-

AMERICAN LIFE SPAN IS 2 YEARS LONGER THAN BEFORE THE WAR

WASHINGTON. — Americans are living almost two years longer than the prewar life span, the office of vital statistics said Thursday.

The average life expectancy for white women at birth is 70.6 years and, for white men, 65.2 years, according to calculations based on 1947 death rates.

In 1946 white women had a life expectancy, at birth, of 70.3 years — for the first time exceeding the Biblical three-score years and ten — and white men could expect a 65.1 average life.

The figure for non-white women in 1947 was 61.9 and for non-white men 57.9. The average for the nation as a whole was 66.8.

ing entry into private houses and premises without a search warrant. It later was admitted that 10,916 Government Officials were authorized to carry out inspections and investigations without a search warrant.

That is the sad plight of your Englishman today. It is to our shame that we have largely contributed to the condition of servitude in which he now finds himself.

The big question that now confronts us is: "Are we going to continue to travel down the same road that has brought disaster to England?" If we don't put the brakes on wasteful governmental spending and say "NO" to all the socialistic schemes being propounded for us, one of these days, and not too far off, we will end up in the same ash-can with our British cousins.

THE LOWDOWN FROM HICKORY GROVE

My topic for today is "America". We been veering so far from the old path that the time for a "refresher course" is at hand. It is time to get America back on the main line—these blind, sweet-scented sidings we ben switching in on, are hampering us. America became a prosperous, 2-fisted and non-sissy nation and a great place to reside via using perspiration and horse sense. As we were growing into greatness we worked where we chose, for how much and for what guy. And in the course of a few or maybe several years many a lowest paid worker in his outfit became the boss-man.

And to show I am not poppin'-off through my chapeau, I just been reading about a young duck I once sorta worked with in Puget Sound. He was then selling lamps, and water heaters and electric things. And while some of us were sneaking a day off with a midiron and niblick that young feller kept on selling lamps and electric things. Now what, says Henry. Well, I says the paper says the General Electric Co. has just made this fellow its top vice-president. Those General Electric folks arc smart hombres.

The right to work and the right to benefit if you are not allergic to sweat should be preserved — or America is gonna fold-up. And that, concludes the first chapter of my refresher course.

Yours with the low-down,
JO SERRA

Tax Bill Hits New High of 54.5 Billion

WASHINGTON, — The American tax bill soared to a new record — $54,500,000,000 — for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1948.

For each person this averaged $372 — also the highest ever.

This means all taxes, federal state and local.

The Census Bureau, reporting this Sunday night, said the previous tax high was $53,000,000,000 for the year ended in mid-1945. Two years later, tax collections dropped to $49,600,000,000 or $344 per capita.

Nearly three fourths ($40,100,000,000) of the 1948 tax total or $274 per person, was collected by the federal government. States government took $53 per capita; local government the remaining $45.

The bureau's tax figures were on a net basis — after deduction of tax refunds. It said taxes accounted for 95 percent of the $57,300,000,000 total of government revenue in fiscal 1948. (Fees and other charges for services, surplus property sales, etc., provided $2,700,000,000.

ICE CYCLES OF 1949 ON LIST OF DALLAS FAIR ENTERTAINMENT

Ice Cycle of 1949, all-new edition of the internationally-famous musical skating extravaganza, has been added to a long list of stellar entertainment features for the 1949 State Fair of Texas, Oct. 8-23, Fair officials have announced.

The Fair's glittering revue will present an unforgettable ice ballet garnished with matchless individual performances of skill in the execution of dance steps and eccentric comedy routines.

Coming to the State Fair direct from a smashing four-month success in London, Ice Cycles will present to Fair visitors a top-flight group of old skating favorites and some of the most famous newcomers to the rink.

Adding England to the itinerary for the first time this year, the spectacular ice follies has broken all box office records for similar events in an engagement extended through Sept. 17.

The brilliant Ice-Cyclettes, said to be the most beautiful girls on ice, will be seen this year as Royal Canadian Mounties.

The show will play nightly during the 16 days of the Fair and will offer matinees each Saturday and Sunday, except opening Saturday Oct. 8. There will also be a special matinee Dallas Day Oct. 12.

DENTAL EXAMINATION SHOULD START WHEN TOT IS 3 YEARS OLD

AUSTIN.—Tooth decay or dental caries is a destructive, progressive disease of the teeth. A large part of a tooth may be destroyed by decay with little evidence of decay on the surface, says Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. Surveys of large groups of preschool children reveal that 50% of them have decayed teeth at three years of age, 75% at four years of age, and 90% at five years of age. Six out of ten children age 4 and 5 have as many as seven or more cavities.

Decay begins most frequently in the small pits and fissures on the chewing surfaces and at the points of contact between the teeth. Pits and fissures with structural flaws should be filled at once to prevent decay.

Dr. Cox said, "Dental examination and care should begin with the three year old child, and periodic examinations and necessary care should follow, thereafter, as often as the dentist advises. The first or baby teeth should be kept in a healthy condition until it is time for them to be lost."

"X-rays aid the dentist in finding hidden cavities, especially those between the teeth. Many of these beginning cavities are located in areas where they cannot be found in any other way. X-ray pictures are also useful in finding other conditions that require immediate attention such as abscesses, impacted teeth, broken roots, bone destruction due to pyorrhea, extra teeth and other information that is important in treatment of the case."

"With periodic dental examination and adequate dental care for each child, beginning at three years of age, the great majority of the children will reach adulthood with good dental health."

FEDERAL EFFICIENCY

From 1945 through 1947 the War Assets Administration was trying to sell a government-owned building in Baltimore, but found no buyers. While this structure sat empty, the Government Printing Office paid over $200,000 annually for equivalent but less desirable space in the same city.

The War Department paid $2,619 for rental on two tractors worth $500 each.

HOPE FOR TOMORROW—Marking one of the earliest harvests on record in England, farm workers stack the wheat high in readiness for threshing on the Appleby Farm near Bedford. With good crops, life in England may be less austere.

High Cost of Government

"In less than 20 years the U. S. government's civil employment has increased from 570,000 to over 2,000,000. It now costs more each year to pay the interest on the national debt than it did to pay the total cost of the Federal government 16 years ago."

FEDERAL AID

In other words, we raise our taxes to send money to Washington, then we raise some more taxes to match the amount we have already sent to Washington, in order to get back the amount we originally sent. That is what is known as Federal Aid.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our thanks and appreciation for the many kindnesses and the sympathy during the illness and at the death of our loved one, C. S. Walker, and for the lovely flowers.

Fisher Herd Leads County In August Milk Production

Paul Fisher's herd of 16 Jerseys and Guernseys was the top producing herd in the Cooke County Dairy Herd Improvement association for the month of August, according to the monthly report released this week. Thomas Sicking's herd of 26 Jerseys and Holsteins took second place honors.

Fisher's herd averaged 646 pounds of milk with a test of 4.7, and a butterfat average of 30 pounds. Sicking's herd averaged 651 pounds of milk testing 4.3, and having a butterfat content of 28.

Fourteen member herds were tested. Total number of cows in milk was 236 of which 33 produced 40 pounds of butterfat or more. Of these 33 cows 16 are owned by Muenster DHIA members.

Muenster members and number of cows producing 40 or more pounds of butterfat are: Paul Fisher, 6 cows, 40 to 55; Thomas Sicking, 2 cows, 40; John Knabe, 8 cows, 42 to 49.

Mildew and black spot, diseases that effect the leaves of roses, can be controlled by dusting the plants with copper sulphur, cotton dusting sulphur, phygion or spraying with Bordeaux.

RANGER TRADITION

There was a race riot in a small Texas town, and some of the excited residents telegraphed to the Governor to send the Texas Rangers to put down the disturbance.

A committee was waiting for the arrival of the Rangers, and they were astonished when one lone, tall, husky young man stepped from the train. He wore the uniform of a captain in the famous corps.

"Captain," said the mayor of the town, "where's your company?"

"Company?" replied the Ranger, "Why there ain't but one riot here, is there?"

We don't guarantee Miracles, but . . .

We have a few now and then!

For instance, we sold calves last week at 24.40 when the market top was only 22.00.

At the same sale cows sold for 15.10 and bulls sold for 16.75. And other prices were proportionately high.

Now figure in savings on shrinkage and hauling and you'll agree our sale is hard to beat.

Three County Boys Win in District 4-H Swine Show

Three Cooke county 4-H club boys who entered the Dallas district 4-H club Swine Show last Friday won two first prizes and a third prize and a total of $120.

Walter Hermes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Hermes of Lindsay, was awarded the first prize of $50 for showing the finest boar at the exhibit. His animal is a five-month old registered Duroc.

Michael Neu, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Neu, route 1, Gainesville, who exhibited a pen of three fat barrows won the first prize of $30 in the contest. It was his second time to place in the Dallas show. He won third place in the gilt division last year.

Henry Hess Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hess, route 6, Gainesville, who entered the district hog show for the first time this year, received $40 and third place for his gilt exhibit. The boys were accompanied to Dallas by their parents and B. T. Haws and S. E. McKay, county and assistant county agents.

Thirty-seven boys with 50 head of swine entered the show. They represented 15 counties in extension districts Four and Eight. Each boy's entry had previously drawn first place in a home county-wide show.

The show was sponsored by the Sears-Roebuck Foundation of Dallas.

Max Sandman and Raymond Hermes left Monday for Subiaco, Ark., to attend school. Max is a senior in high school and Raymond is taking first year college work. They are sons of Messrs. and Mmes. Ben Sandman and Ben Hermes.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hundt are the parents of an 8 pound 14 ounce son, born at Gainesville sanitarium Friday. He's their second child and first son and has been named Michael. The grandparents are Messrs. and Mmes. Clem Hermes and Jos. Hunt.

flush with the sod mark thousands of graves. Only one section of the park, that with the oldest graves, has conventional monuments, and some of them are really elaborate. It's the only section that reveals class distinction. The flat markers elsewhere are all uniform, whether the person was a millionaire or a pauper.

Another feature of the place is the almost complete lack of evidence of recent burials. One spot we noticed had a heap of fresh flowers, obviously left from a funeral that day. But the usual marker was already in place, the grave was level and sodded over. Only one thing was different. A line indicated where the sod had been cut, the size of the grave. Fifteen or twenty feet away the line wasn't even visible. Obviously the sod had been removed in one chunk and replaced after the burial.

The real fame of Forest Lawn, however, rests on its mausoleum. It's an immense building of stone and concrete with an interior of marble. In it are thousands of crypts for adult and child size caskets and recessed places for urns. Every window in the place is a piece of stained glass artwork, usually copied after some famous painting. Likewise sculpture which is found in every corridor of the building, is all copied from famous statues all over the world.

Overshadowing all this in artistry is the huge and magnificent stained glass window of the Last Supper copied from the world famous painting of Michael Angelo. Acknowledged to be one of the world's masterpieces of stained glass artwork, it is true in the smallest detail to the original masterpiece. Colors, facial expressions shaping of hands and feet, everything is complete and correct to perfection.

Considering everything, the building is an inspiring combination of beauty, reverence and cheerfulness, one that overshadows the gloom of death. The same may be said for the rest of the memorial park. The loss of a loved one seems a little less sad when final memories are associated with such pleasant surroundings.

Next on the program was Catalina Island, the place where every day is a holiday. To landlubbers like us the holiday begins with a bang as the big excursion boat leaves Los Angeles harbor. The feel of the heaving ship, the sight of liners, smaller craft and shore installations, and later the endless expanse of water made up a completely new experience. Concessions and music provided a gala picnic spirit, but that was inside, hence less appealing than facing the breeze and seeing the sights from the upper deck. Another reason for staying above is the better view of flying fish. As the ship approaches the flying fishes' waters, near the island, people begin to crowd the rail and watch. Not many appear but the few one sees are worth watching. The little fellows sail just above the surface while propelling themselves by wiggling their tails in the water . . . a combined swimming and sailing motion. The time to really see them, they say, is at night. The fish like light and come out in droves when a searchlight is played on the water.

Features of the island are marine life views through a glass bottom boat, scenic drives and boat rides, amusements galore, abundant flowers and shrubbery and more abundant shops selling practically everything a tourist or picnicker will fall for.
